JERSEY CITY DOCTOR WINS.

Files His Certificate and Prevents the Loss of a Suit.

Dr. John D. McGill, who is a brother of Chancellor McGill, has been a practicing physician of Jersey City for twenty years. He is also President of the local Police and Health Boards. Yesterday he brought suit in the Hudson County Circuit Court against Capt. Daniel McWilliams of Madison Avenue, for $126.44 for professional services and interest on the account. When the case was called Norman L. Rowe, counsel for Capt. McWilliams, asked for a nonsuit on the ground that Dr. McGill was practicing medicine illegally. He said that the law of 1880 required every physician in the State to file a certificate with the County Clerk. This, Mr. Rowe said, Dr. McGill had never done, though he had filed a certificate with the County Health Board.

Tennant & Queen, Dr. McGill's lawyers, called Dr. McGill to the stand. He testified that he filed the required certificate with the County Clerk last Saturday. He said his counsel learned that the defense proposed to spring a trap at the trial, and by dint of a little detective work managed to learn the nature of the pit into which he was expected to fall. They at once notified him to file his certificate with the County Clerk, which he did. He said the law of 1880 was not in operation when he began to practice.

Mr. Rowe then asked leave to amend his bill. This Judge Nevius refused, and directed the jury to render a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed, Mr. Rowe having no other defense to offer.

Blaze in the Hoffman House.

Some excitement was caused on Broadway shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the appearance of the Fire Department in the neighborhood of the Hoffman House. It seems that a flue of the kitchen range in the Hoffman House had caught fire and burned out. Somebody sent in an alarm, but the services of the firemen were not needed. There was no excitement among the guests, as the existence of the fire was not known until it had been extinguished.

St. Francis Xavier Alumni Dine.

The Alumni Association of the College of St. Francis Xavier held its twenty-first annual dinner last night in the Savoy Hotel, with about fifty members present. Charles G. Herbermann, President of the association, presided and made his annual address. He said the association had made great progress in the last few years, and that its policy had been that of the Nation and of New York City—expansion.

TROLLEY CAR CUTS OFF A LEG.

Private Detective the Victim of an Accident in Brooklyn.

Cornelius J. Mahoney, a private detective of 296 Sackett Street, Brooklyn, was run over last night by a trolley car at Ninth Avenue and Fifteenth Street, that borough, and seriously injured. He was removed to Seney Hospital, and it was found necessary to amputate his right leg at the knee. After the operation he rallied a little, but his condition is critical.

Mr. Mahoney was driving across the car tracks in a buggy when Car 169 of the Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad, which wes being pushed by another car, struck his vehicle, and, after demolishing it, ran over him. S. W. Robbins of 47 Smith Street, motorman of the rear car, was arrested.

EXPLOSION NEAR DEWEY ARCH.

Commotion in Manhole Frightened Shoppers and Horses.

The thousand or more shoppers who were in the vicinity of Fifth Avenue and Twenty-third Street at 5 o'clock last evening were startled by a loud report, the result of an explosion that had occurred under the street pavement in a manhole of the Edison Illuminating Company at that corner.

Several horses jumped to one side, many women were frightened, and clerks ran from stores to learn the cause of the commotion.

A driver sitting on his cab near the manhole was pitched to the sidewalk by the explosion, but was only slightly bruised. He refused to give his name or receive medical treatment, and went home.

Near where the explosion occurred is a column of the Dewey arch. A small piece of the plaster of paris was broken off by the concussion.

PREVENTED A PRIZEFIGHT.

Police Captain's Curiosity Interfered with Amateur Pugilists.

Capt. Cooney of the West Thirty-seventh Street Police Station prevented a prizefight which was planned for last night in Vogel's Hall, Fortieth Street and Tenth Avenue. The Captain's curiosity was aroused by seeing many men entering the place. Observing three men approaching with large bundles, he arrested them. They said they were William Gibbons, eighteen years old, of One Hundred and Fiftieth Street and Amsterdam Avenue, an amateur pugilist; his backer, William Broderick, of 544 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, and William Greely of One Hundred and Forty-first Street and Eighth Avenue, Gibbons's trainer.

Their packages were found to contain gloves and a whole outfit for a fight. They were held as suspicious persons. A little later the police of the West One Hundred and Fifty-second Street Station notified Capt. Cooney that Gibbons and John Leonard, his antagonist to be, and 150 of their friends had started down to his precinct. Leonard, who lives at One Hundred and Fifty-second Street and Amsterdam Avenue, was not found. The up-town police said the men had been training for two weeks in "Carroll's old house," One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street and Amsterdam Avenue.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Sun rises	7:10	Sun sets	4:33
		Moon sets	8:43

High Water This Day.

	A. M.	A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook	9:54	Gov. Isl'd	10:11
		H. Gate
	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
S. Hook	10:31	Gov. Isl'd	10:46
		H. Gate	12:07

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY. (WEDNESDAY,) DEC. 6.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Beverly, Inagua, &c	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Caracas, La Guayra	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Comanche, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
El Paso, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Finance, La Guayra	9:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Germanic, Liverpool	9:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Matanzas, Tampico	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Noordland, Antwerp	10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Orizaba, Havara	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Patria, Naples	.....	.....
Prins Willem IV., Haiti, &c	10:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
San Marcos, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
St. Paul, Southampton	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Trinidad, Bermuda	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

THURSDAY, DEC. 7.

El Mar, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Hubert, St. Lucia	4:00 A. M.	.....
La Champagne, Havre	9:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Saratoga, Nassau	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Tordenskjold, Progresso	2:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8.

Iroquois, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Origen, Jamaica	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick	.....	3:00 P. M.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9.

Grenada, Trinidad	11:00 A. M.	.....

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, Japan, and China, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 18, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Coptic. Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 18, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies, (except West Australia, which go via Europe, and New Zealand, which go via San Francisco,) Hawaii, and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Nov. 25 and up to Dec. 9, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Warrimoo.

†Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Postmaster Van Cott announces that mails from China, Japan, and Hawaii of the following dates: Hongkong, Nov. 4; Shanghai, Nov. 9; Yokohama, Nov. 16, and Honolulu Nov. 25, which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Coptic, and the mails from Australia, which arrived at Vancouver, are due to arrive in New York on Dec. 7.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (WEDNESDAY,) DEC. 6.

Canadia, Stettin, Nov. 18.
Chalmette, New Orleans, Nov. 30.
Indraghira, London, Nov. 22.
Jerseymoor, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Lyell, Gibraltar, Nov. 21.
Mayfield, St. Michael, Nov. 24.
Pawnee, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Salerno, Newcastle, Nov. 16.
Seminole, Jacksonville, Dec. 1.
Willehad, Bremen, Nov. 25.

THURSDAY, DEC. 7.

City of Washington, Havana, Dec. 3.
Charing Cross, Gibraltar, Nov. 23.
El Dorado, New Orleans, Dec. 2.
Galileo, Hull, Nov. 25.
Manica, Shields, Nov. 23.
Trave, Bremen, Nov. 28.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8.

Palatia, Hamburg, Nov. 27.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Nov. 26.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9.

Bordeaux, Pauillac, Nov. 27.
Cuzco, Glasgow, Nov. 25.
Lucania, Liverpool, Dec. 2.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 2.

SUNDAY, DEC. 10.

El Sud, New Orleans, Dec. 5.
La Gascogne, Havre, Dec. 2.
Manhattan, London, Nov. 28.
Paraense, Ceara, Nov. 28.
Tainui, Glasgow, Nov. 27.

MONDAY, DEC. 11.

Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Nov. 30.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 1.
Heathdene, St. Michaels, Nov. 30.
Mesaba, London, Dec. 11.

Arrived.

SS Knickerbocker, Post, New Orleans, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle.

SS Friesland, (Belg.,) Nickels, Antwerp Nov. 25, with mdse. and passengers to the International Navigation Company. Arrived at the Bar at 3 A. M.

SS City of Kingston, (Br.,) Mader, St. Ann's Bay, Rio Novo, and Orocabessa Nov. 29, Port Maria and Port Antonio 30th, with fruit to the United Fruit Company. Arrived at the Bar at 2:15 A. M.

SS Bramble, (Br.,) Mackenzie, Guinoco Nov. 23, with crude asphalt to the New York and Bermudez Company. Arrived at the Bar at 3 A. M.

SS Bovic, (Br.,) Jones, Liverpool Nov. 24, with mdse. and passengers to the White Star Line. Arrived at the Bar at 12:41 A. M.

SS Burma, (Aust.,) Mikulicich, Probolingo Sept. 29, Padang Oct. 5, Perim 23d, Port Said 31st, Oran Nov. 4, Gibraltar 11th, Bermuda 30th, and Delaware Breakwater Dec. 4, with sugar to order; vessel to master. Arrived at the Bar at 4 A. M.

SS Havana, Stevens, Havana Dec. 2, with mdse. and passengers to James E. Ward & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 9:20 A. M.

SS Auguste Victoria, (Ger.,) Kaempff, Genoa Nov. 23 and Naples 24th, with mdse, and passengers to the Hamburg-American Line. Arrived at the Bar at 9:15 A. M.

SS Hamilton, Dole, Newport News and Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

SS Eskdale, (Br.,) Dower, Pekalongan Oct. 1, Singapore 5th, Colombo 14th, Suez Nov. 1, Port Said 2d, Algiers 10th, St. Michael 18th, and Delaware Breakwater Dec. 4, with sugar to Barber & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 11 A. M.

SS Excelsior, (Ger.,) Muller, Rotterdam Nov. 22, in ballast to Philip Ruprecht. Arrived at the Bar at 12:15 P. M.

SS Venus, (Dan.,) Nielsen, Copenhagen Nov. 14, and Shields 18th, with mdse. and passengers to Furness, Withy & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 12:50 P. M.

WIND—At Sandy Hook, N. J., Dec. 5, 9:30 P. M., west, gentle breeze; clear.

Sailed.

SS Bulgaria, (Ger.,) for Hamburg.
SS Aller, (Ger.,) for Bremen.
SS Trojan Prince, (Br.,) for Genoa, &c.
SS Hevellus, (Belg.,) for Pernambuco, &c.
SS Tauric, (Br.,) for Liverpool.
SS Llandaff City, (Br.,) for Bristol.
SS Jefferson, for Norfolk and Newport News.
SS El Paso, for New Orleans.
SS Prins Willem IV., (Dutch,) for Haiti and Venezuelan ports.
SS Comanche, for Charleston and Jacksonville.
SS Beverly, (Br.,) for Inagua, Port au Prince, &c.

Spoken.

SS Queen Olga, (Br.,) Capt. Harris, from New York for Adelaide, &c., was spoken Nov. 7 in latitude 26 south, longitude 11 east.

By Cable.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—SS Picqua, (Br.,) Capt. Brown, from Messina, &c., for New York, passed Gibraltar to-day.

SS Genesee, (Br.,) Capt. Scott, from New York, arr. at Manchester yesterday.

SS Tartar Prince, (Br.,) Capt. McFarlane, from New York for Genoa, &c., arr. at St. Michaels yesterday for coal.

SS Ontario, (Br.,) Capt. Huby, from New York, arr. at Hull yesterday.

SS Stalheim, (Nor.,) Capt. Hilt, from New York for Reval, arr. at Portland Dec. 4.

SS Pennsylvania, (Ger.,) Capt. Spleidt, from New York for Hamburg, arr. at Plymouth at 8:45 A. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Spartan Prince, (Br.,) Capt. Adamson, for New York, sld. from Naples Dec. 2.

SS Kaiser Wilhelm II., (Ger.,) Capt. Hogemann, from Genoa and Naples for New York, sld. from Gibraltar at 8 P. M. yesterday.

SS Menominee, (Br.,) Capt. Robinson, from New York for this port, passed Scilly to-day.

SS Stuttgart, (Ger.,) Capt. Koenemann, from Bremen for New York, passed the Lizard to-day.

SS Arkansas, (Dan.,) Capt. Jespersen, from New York, via Copenhagen, arr. at Stettin Dec. 2.

SS West

IN THE BOWLING ALLEYS.

In the Bank Clerks' League series, at Reid's alleys last night, the Sub-Treasury team won two games, defeating the Hanover National Bank team and the first team of the Chase National Bank. In the game against the latter the Sub-Treasury bowlers made a score of 879, the record score of the tournament. The Hanover Bank bowlers were beaten in the second game by the Chase National Bank team. Jenkins of the Sub-Treasury team carried off the individual honors with an average of 185 for two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Sub-Treasury—Jordan, 144; Oakley, 122; Bird, 144; Copeland, 150; Jenkins, 179. Total, 739.
Hanover National—Wright, 175; Niemann, 148; Field, 113; Thompson, 135; Spence, 124. Total, 696.

SECOND GAME.

Chase National No. 1—Haynes, 194; Martin, 143; Freed, 185; Mitchell, 167; Linson, 139. Total, 778.
Hanover National—Wright, 128; Niemann, 161; Field, 124; Thompson, 102; Spence, 133. Total, 648.

THIRD GAME.

Sub-Treasury—Jordan, 197; Oakley, 173; Bird, 153; Copeland, 180; Jenkins, 191. Total, 879.
Chase National No. 1—Linson, 135; Martin, 146; Freed, 159; Mitchell, 164; Haynes, 140. Total, 744.

The Royal Insurance Company bowlers were beaten in two games in the Fire Insurance League at Reid's alleys last night. The German-American Company team defeated the Royals in the first game and in the third game the Royals were again beaten by the Norman Union team. The latter bowled in poor form against the German-American team in the second game and were easily beaten. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

German-American—Schopp, 141; Barnett, 133; Markes, 124; Ormsbee, 179; Elston, 166. Total, 743.
Royal—Bergen, 158; Suydam, 130; Booth, 107; Wells, 118; Hendricks, 138. Total, 651.

SECOND GAME.

German-American—Schopp, 157; Barnett, 132; Markes, 154; Ormsbee, 136; Elston, 180. Total, 759.
Norwich Union—Phillips, 121; Morris, 112; Olmstead, 132; Porter, 140; Ohl, 146. Total, 851.

THIRD GAME.

Norwich Union—Phillips, 170; Morris, 102; Olmstead, 120; Porter, 154; Ohl, 185. Total, 731.
Royal—Bergen, 129; Suydam, 137; Booth, 116; Wells, 141; Hendricks, 139. Total, 662.

The Empires were easy winners in two games in the Columbia League last night. The bowling of Stoff of the Empires was a notable feature of the series. He turned out scores of 222 and 255. In the third game the Empires made 994, three men rolling scores of 200 or over. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Premier—O. Moses, 134; Ullman, 169; E. Moses, 149; Davidson, 172; L. Moses, 210. Total, 834.
Audubon—Brand, 140; Brickett, 131; Stinman, 146; Mott, 133; Smith, 178. Total, 727.

SECOND GAME.

Empire—Schiman, 212; Stoff, 222; Howell, 127; Young, 170; Arnold, 171. Total, 902.
Audubon—Brand, 159; Brickett, 177; Stinman, 152; Mott, 179; Smith, 149. Total, 816.

THIRD GAME.

Empire—Schiman, 200; Stoff, 255; Howell, 179; Young, 144; Arnold, 216. Total, 994.
Premier—O. Moses, 145; Ullman, 148; E. Moses, 149; Davidson, 157; L. Moses, 140. Total, 739.

The Oradell team defeated the Stragglers and Bleeckers in the Arlington National tournament last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Straggler—Grief, 157; Dickson, 134; Gaynor, 155; Browne, 134; Hosinger, 137. Total, 720.
Bleecker—Bonneau, 125; Nahmens, 144; McConnell, 139; F. Busch, 153; Rosenberg, 126. Total, 690.

SECOND GAME.

Oradell—Schmidt, 114; Beimler, 116; Kaempf, 155; Dippel, 145; Reichard, 179. Total, 709.
Bleecker—Bonneau, 134; Nahmens, 139; McConnell, 134; F. Busch, 143; Rosenberg, 144. Total, 694.

THIRD GAME.

Oradell—Schmidt, 221; Beimler, 130; Kaempf, 168; Dippel, 165; Reichard, 182. Total, 864.
Straggler—Grief, 171; Dickson, 134; Le Touzel, 176; Browne, 127; Hosinger, 179. Total, 787.

The Rosedale, Park, and Calamity Clubs bowled in the Arcade head-pin tournament last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Rosedale No. 3—Greschen, 64; Wellbrock, 75; Kroger, 70; H. Frercks, 53; Meinken, 78. Total, 341.

SECOND GAME.

Park Club—Gahn, 70; Kapp, 63; Dittrich, 94; Hume, 71; Bissenger, 60. Total, 358.

THIRD GAME.

Calamity—Lehmann, 46; Steinman, 77; Meyer, 72; Bernett, 79; Cosgrove, 82. Total, 356.

FOURTH GAME.

Park No. 2—Fetsch, 72; Hummel, 42; Hoffman, 85; Werweckar, 51; Schwamb, 73. Total, 273.

The Corinthians suffered their first defeat in the American National tournament last night by being beaten by the Germanias in the third game. The Corinthians won the first game from the Bleeckers, and the latter defeated the Germanias in the second game. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Corinthian—S. Walter, 152; Baker, 205; Niles, 154; Holden, 185; Schaefer, 103. Total, 859.
Bleecker—Beam, 161; Wragge, 196; Dorland, 167; Schlichte, 174; Ritter, 110. Total, 817.

SECOND GAME.

Bleecker—Beam, 178; Wragge, 166; Dorland, 157; Schlichte, 169; Ritter, 204. Total, 874.
Germania—W. Sauer, 170; L. Sauer, 179; Clauss, 146; Chesterfield, 169; C. Sauer, 163. Total, 836.

THIRD GAME.

Germania—W. Sauer, 186; L. Sauer, 169; Clauss, 153; Chesterfield, 205; C. Sauer, 181. Total, 899.
Corinthian—S. Walter, 165; Baker, 146; Niles, 157; Holden, 186; Schaefer, 162. Total, 816.

The Williamsburg Wheelmen won two close games last night in the tourney of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island on the Elephant Club Alleys, Brooklyn. The other winner was the Carroll Park Wheelmen, which had no trouble in disposing of the Montauk team. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Williamsburg Wheelman—Dietlen, 94; Campbell, 118; De Graaf, 88; Meyer, 179; Schroeder, 154. Total, 633.
Carroll Park Wheelmen—Bee, 136 Keiser, 109; Wyatt, 102; Nash, 125, Degenhart, 136. Total, 608.

SECOND GAME.

Carroll Park Wheelmen—Bee, 136; Keiser, 110; Degenhart, 160; Nash, 139; Spellman, 103. Total, 648.
Montauk Wheelmen—Grimm, 187; Holzinger, 93; Miller, 144; Hellmich, 105; Baer, 120. Total, 649.

THIRD GAME.

Williamsburg Wheelmen—Dietlein, 134; Campbell, 91; De Graaf, 124; Meyer, 142; Schroeder, 158. Total, 649.
Montauk Wheelmen—Grimm, 120; Holzinger, 126; Miller, 128; Hellmich, 123; Baer, 145. Total, 644.

Fort Greene Council was twice a winner in the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum tournament on Trainor's alleys last night. Brevoort Council took a drop in the league race by losing two games. Fallon Council broke even. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Fort Greene Council—Ruff, 135; Snow, 194; Wallace, 134; Diehl, 115; Otis, 180. Total, 758.
Brevoort Council—Whitbeck, 124; Walker, 170; Reynolds, 113; Dalton, 169; Meht, 172. Total, 748.

SECOND GAME.

Fulton Council—Lovell, 185; McDonough, 137; Selveira, 171; Herbert, 135; Ferndach, 161. Total, 789.
Brevoort Council—Whitbeck, 145; Walker, 129; Reynolds, 138; Dalton, 135; Meht, 163. Total, 713.

THIRD GAME.

Fort Greene Council—Ruff, 142; Snow, 173; Wallace, 151; Diehl, 170; Otis, 166. Total, 802.
Fulton Council—Lovell, 138; McDonough, 88; Selveira, 157; Herbert, 153; Ferndach, 192. Total, 728.

The Boulevards did the best bowling in the Harlem League series at the Palace alleys last night, winning two games. They gave an interesting exhibition in the third game, making thirty-four spares. Only four breaks were made, two of which were due to difficult spares. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Boulevard—Dumble, 157; Graves, 171; Howard, 158; Wanderer, 164; Vetter, 185. Total, 835.
Colonial—O'Brien, 179; Bell, 135; Hedley, 135; Kilmer, 145; Vogel, 130. Total, 724.

SECOND GAME.

Knickerbocker—Meyer, 211; La Forest, 145; Snyder, 202; Pump, 135; Lehrbach, 101. Total, 894.
Colonial—O'Brien, 141; Bell, 155; Vogel, 178; Kilmer, 125; Hedley, 208. Total, 802.

THIRD GAME.

Boulevard—Dumble, 176; Graves, 170; Howard, 194; Wanderer, 205; Vetter, 190. Total, 935.
Knickerbocker—Meyer, 183; La Forest, 203; Snyder, 182; Pump, 151; Lehrbach, 101. Total, 910.

The Knickerbocker and New York Athletic Club teams bowled their first series in the Athletic League at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club last night. The home team won two of the three games played. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Knickerbocker Athletic Club—Davis, 142; Roll, 157; Parker, 164; Shepard, 191; Stone, 170. Total, 824.
New York Athletic Club—Carter, 154; Armstrong, 122; Bell, 108; Booth, 189; Klingelhoffer, 157. Total, 821.

SECOND GAME.

Knickerbocker Athletic Club—Davies, 165; Roll, 148; Parker, 175; Shepard, 176; Stone, 181. Total, 845.
New York Athletic Club—Carter, 128; Armstrong, 164; Bell, 154; Booth, 167; Klingelhoffer, 166. Total, 778.

THIRD GAME.

New York Athletic Club—Carter, 164; Armstrong, 190; Bell, 209; Booth, 171, Klingelhoffer, 158. Total, 895.
Knickerbocker Athletic Club—Davies, 168; Roll, 187; Carter, 154; Shepard, 165; Stone, 177. Total, 851.

Tournament Games To-night.

American National—Rosedale, Empire, Central.
Harlem League—Corinthian, Premier, Riverdale.
Columbia League—Corinthian, Village, Columbia.
Royal Arcanum League—Defendam, Knickerbocker, Colfax.
Arlington National—Gotham, Manhattan, Edison.
Brooklyn Royal Arcanum—Bushwick, Fraternity, Philadelphos.
Brooklyn Arcanum, Sub-Tournament—Bedford, De Long, Long Island.
Life Insurance League—Equitable, Prudential, Mutual Life.
Twenty-sixth Ward Tournament, Brooklyn—Eccentric vs. Atlantic, at Steinheuser's Alleys.
Bank Clerks' League—At Reid's Alleys.
Archdiocesan League—At Starr's Alleys.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINS ELECTED.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 5.—F. Gordon Brown was elected to-night Captain of the Yale football eleven of 1900. Brown is a member of the present junior class of the Academic Department. His home is in Flushing, L. I.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 5.—Quarterback Daly was elected Captain of the Harvard 'Varsity football eleven to-night.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 5.—At a meeting held to-night the seventeen men who played in the 'Varsity Harvard-Yale and Harvard-Pennsylvania games this season elected Charles Dudley Daly of the junior class as next year's Captain by a unanimous vote. Reid and Hallowell, the only other men considered, withdrew before the election.

BEAT YALE AGAIN AT HOCKEY.

Victory of the New York Club Gained by Fine Playing.

The Hockey Club of New York by brilliant playing, scored another victory, last night, at the St. Nicholas Skating Rink, in a match with the Yale hockey team. The victors netted three points.

The line-up:

Yale.	Positions.	Hockey Club.
Smith	Goal	Ellison
Cox	Point	Cunningham
Sturgis	Cover Point	Phymester
Campbell	Forward	C. Phillips
Inman	Forward	Leo
Bronson	Forward	B. Phillips
Cuckwalder	Forward	Casanova

CLASS B AMATEUR BILLIARDS.

Cutler, Hendrick, and Threshie the Latest Tourney Winners.

In the opening game of the evening session of the Class B amateur billiard tournament, which took place last night at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, Albert G. Cutler of Boston defeated Dr. A. B. Miller of New York in the fifty-seventh inning after a very exciting finish. The score:

Cutler—22 2 0 0 21 0 22 16 11 4 7 0 0 1 1 0 9 0 0 0 7 0 7 11 5 29 22 8 10 0 10 9 4 0 3 1 3 14 11 4 0 0 0 0 2 0 3 0 0 0 4 0 0 14 0 2 1 4 Total, 300. Average, 5 15-57. High runs, 22, 22, 29.
Miller—0 3 1 0 3 0 1 0 28 11 4 1 1 7 13 0 11 11 4 0 2 2 2 2 7 0 1 4 1 35 15 9 7 2 0 0 0 10 3 12 7 5 0 8 1 20 4 12 8 1 0 0 2 0 0 1 1. Total, 283., Average, 4 55-57. High runs 28, 35, 20.

J. A. Hendrick of New Haven defeated Dr. Walter G. Douglas of the New York Athletic Club in the final game by a score of 300 to 229. Hendrick's average was 4 12-72 and his best run 23. Douglas averaged 3 16-71, his best run being 20.

Charles Threshie of Boston defeated L. A. Servatius of New York yesterday afternoon.

The score:

Threshie—0 7 1 0 0 29 16 28 1 6 0 4 0 3 3 1 0 12 1 1 2 9 1 4 1 0 7 4 1 2 5 1 14 10 9 8 10 19. Total, 300. Average, 8 4-37. High runs—29, 28, 16, 7 4, 14, 19.
Servatius—14 2 1 0 2 2 2 2 4 2 3 4 5 0 16 0 6 0 0 0 3 1 1 3 0 1 6 3 1 2 0 5 0 0 3 3. Total, 97. Average, 2 25-36. High runs—14, 16.
Referee—Mr. Foss.

Servatius will meet Heyner in the afternoon game to-day. In the evening Smith will play Miller and Threshie will meet Heyner.

INTER CITY AND CLUB BILLIARDS.

Crescent A. C. Expert Defeats St. George Lyceum Rival.

Frank A. Keeney of the Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn, defeated Arthur Townsend of St. George's Lyceum in the evening game of the inter-city and inter-club handicap amateur billiard tournament at Maurice Daly's Academy last night. The score:

Keeney, (280)—9 12 23 25 16 0 5 3 11 0 0 14 8 0 0 0 3 2 6 10 2 21 1 0 5 1 20 5 0 26 0 5 3 3 2 7 16 0 5 0 1 10. Total, 280. Average, 6 16-44. High runs, 23, 25, 26.
Townsend, (280)—0 1 8 7 0 2 17 5 3 2 0 0 10 17 10 1 9 0 1 0 7 2 9 0 2 3 0 1 1 3 19 2 2 2 2 12 1 2 7 6 0 0 21 2 0. Total, 229. Average, 5 9-44. High runs, 29, 19, 21.

J. Byron Stark of Wilkesbarre, Penn., who last year won the Class B billiard tournament of the Amateur Athletic Union, bids fair to win the tournament.

In his game with William J. Arnold yesterday afternoon, he made an average of 10 29-28, which is the best average of the season for an amateur. The score:

Stark—47 6 4 2 14 4 0 0 0 12 20 1 4 1 7 9 13 6 2 2 49 0 0 8 15 10 0 44. Total, 300. Average, 10 20-28. Highest runs, 47, 20, 22, 49, 44.
Arnold—1 0 5 0 6 3 19 1 10 10 1 1 1 0 3 3 0 2 0 0 3 5 0 0 0 18 3. Total, 95. Average, 3 14-27. Highest runs—19, 10, 10, 18.
Referee—Mr. McLaughlin.

The games to-day will be between Muldaur and Townsend in the afternoon and Poggenburg and Arnold in the evening.

TROTTING ASSOCIATION RULES.

National Body's Board of Review Considering Alleged Infractions.

The hearing of testimony as to alleged infractions of the rules of the National Trotting Association occupied the attention of that organization's Board of Review, which began its annual meeting yesterday at the Murray Hill Hotel. The members present were P. P. Johnston, Lexington, Ky., President; David Bonner, New York, Vice President; Charles D. Palmer, Lowell, Mass.; George W. Archer, Rochester, N. Y.; William R. Allen, St. Louis, Mo.; Frederick S. Gorton, Chicago, Ill., and W. H. Gocher, Hartford, Conn.

The most prominent of the cases brought up yesterday were those of Theodore Coleman, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, charged with receiving conditional entries in trotting races, and John Ramsey of Boston, Mass., charged with "ringing" the horse Dandy O.

No decisions were made. The meeting will last through to-day and possibly to-morrow.

Racing Results at Tanfaran.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Tanfaran results:

FIRST RACE.—Six furlongs; selling. Dunblane, 109 pounds, (Spencer,) 2 to 1, won; Decoy, 112, (Thorpe,) 4 to 1, second; Tar Hill, 110, (Bullman,) 6 to 1, third. Time—1:15. Silver Tail, The Scot, Wallenstein, Racetto, Hindoo Princess, and Maid of the Hills also ran.

SECOND RACE.—Eleven-sixteenths of a mile; selling. Good Hope, 104 pounds, (Bullman,) 8 to 5, won; Saintly, 104, (Vittatoe,) 7 to 2, second; Sir Urian, 104, (D. Jones,) 5 to 1, third. Time—1:08¼. Rosalbra, Lucid, Jim Brownell, St. Isidore, Cymamo, and White Fern also ran.

THIRD RACE.—One mile; selling. Espionage, 103 pounds, (Vittatoe,) 7 to 2, won; Casdale, 107, (Bullman,) 8 to 5, second; Stromo, 99, (Fountleroy,) 20 to 1, third. Time—1:43¼. Montanus, Glengarber, Rainier, Rio Chico, Master Lee, Oraibee, and Ulm also ran.

FOURTH RACE.—Seven furlongs; purse. Napamax, 112 pounds, (Thorpe,) 2 to 1, won; True Blue, 107, (Henry,) 25 to 1, second; San Venada, 107, (J. Martin,) 7 to 2, third. Time—1:28¾. Daisy F., O'Connor, Olinthus, Terrene, and Ventoro also ran.

FIFTH RACE.—Eleven-sixteenths of a mile; selling. Sweet William, 109 pounds, (Bullman,) 25 to 1, won; Raciyan, 104, (Phelan,) 12 to 1, second; February, 109, (Conley,) 6 to 1, third. Time—1:08½. Skirmish and Carter H. Harrison, Jr., also ran. Elsalado and Peddler left at the post.

SIXTH RACE.—Eleven-sixteenths of a mile; purse. May W., 109 pounds, (Bullman,) 1 to 2, won; Timemaker, 112, (Thorpe,) 5 to 2, second; Flamora, 92, (J. Walsh,) 20 to 1, third. Time—1:07. King Carnival, Monda, and Spike also ran.

Dobbs Knocked Out by Walcott.

"Joe" Walcott of Boston and "Bobby" Dobbs who returned recently from England where he defeated almost all of the pugilists in his class were to have fought twenty-five rounds at 140 pounds at the Broadway Athletic Club last night, but the fight came to a sudden termination in the sixteenth round by Walcott knocking Dobbs out. Both are colored men, Walcott, short and stockily built, and Dobbs tall and thin. Both knew how to box well, and they weighed about the same, but Dobbs might just as well have been pitted against a heavy-weight, for every blow that Walcott landed had a lot of force behind it.

PATERSON MAY HAVE A STRIKE.

Machinists May Tie Up the City's Entire Iron Industry.

PATERSON, N. J., Dec. 5.—A general strike among the five hundred or more machinists here is expected within the next twenty-four hours. Such a strike would tie up the entire iron industry of the city. An advance of from 25 to 30 cents per day was given in some cases, but the men want the standard rate of $2.50 per day for all. The demand was made ten days ago.

National Organizer O'Connell is expected to confer with the manufacturers, and the strike question hinges upon the result of this conference. The manufacturers have refused to accede to the demands of the machinists. It is understood, however, that the advance asked for has been granted by the molders and core workers.

The brass workers have also started a movement for an increase in wages, and President Lynch of the International Union of Brass Workers, will be here to-morrow to confer with the manufacturers.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—United States Supreme Court:

393—Henry Bollin, plaintiff in error, vs. the State of Nebraska. Argument continued by C. J. Smyth for the defendant in error, and concluded by Joel W. West for the plaintiff in error.

225—Shirley T. High et al., appellants, vs. F. E. Coyne, as collector, &c., et al.

387—Eben J. Knowlton et al., executors, &c., plaintiffs in error, vs. Frank R. Moore, United States Collector, &c.

451—The Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, executor, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. Penrose A. McLain.

458—George Murdock, executor, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. John G. Ward, United States Collector, &c.

459—George D. Sherman, plaintiff in error, vs. the United States. Argument commenced by A. M. Pence for the appellants in No. 225, and continued by Wheeler H. Peckham for the plaintiffs in error in No. 387; by Richard C. Dale for the plaintiffs in error in No. 451, and by Charles H. Otis for the plaintiffs in error in No. 387.

Day call for Wednesday, Dec. 6—225 and 387, 451, 458, and 459, 59, 4, 70, 36, 73, and 74, 79, 21, 53, 81.

Calendars for Wednesday, Dec. 6.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens in Room 124, Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M.

80—Hills Bros. vs. United States.
81—Neal vs. Steamtug Nathan Hale.
82—United States vs. Richard.
1—Bannerman vs. Sanford.
3—Florida Central R. R. vs. Am. Surety Co.
4—Hunt vs. Fidelity & Casualty Co.
8—Morrin vs. Edison E. Ill. Co.
9—Morrin vs. Lawlor.
10—Morrin vs. Edison Elec. Ill. Co.
34—Am. Sugar Refining Co. vs. United States
35—Same vs. same.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J.—Opens in Room 43, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Jury calendar.

136—Whelen vs. Man. Ry.
128—Fairbanks vs. Met. St. Ry.
9—Lanier vs. Rowell.
68—Sansol vs. Compagnie Generale Transatlantique.
114—Dwyer vs. Nixon.
113—Anderson vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.
73—Gazzam vs. Simpson.
75—Prunier vs. Ash.
82—Schiffer vs. Trus. Columbia College.
132—Canada Bank vs. Waydell.
140—Slaughter vs. La Compagnie Francaise des Cables Telegraphiques. Kennedy vs. Ryan.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 66, Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M. in bankruptcy.

1200—In re James Brangan. Discharges.
1603—Charles Rubinger.
1540—Max Silverman.
1577—Joseph Berkowitz.
1587—William M. Earl.
1578—Ernest L. Walker.
1559—Rodolphus P. Crapser.
1596—Karl Kohler.
1601—Mike Marticelli.
1598—Chs. S. La Yoke.
1606—Harris Abrams.
1548—Nelson Cubberley.
1568—Benj. Tannenbaum
875—Robert M. Grant.
1455—Bernard Barrie.
1592—James O'Toole.
1585—Richard Thompson
1574—Louis Bock.
1424—Meyer Hecht.
1651—J. B. Malevinsky.
1423—Bernard Hecht.
1271—Frank I. Gray.
1564—John F. Dickinson.
827—Ernest W. Hofstadter.
1451—Morris Levy.
1607—Nathan Goldberg.
884—P. & H. Feigenbaum.
4195—Andrevetta vs. Andrevette.
4199—Sommerfield vs. Sommerfield.
3961—Anderson vs. Anderson.
3891—Wicks vs. Wicks.
3635—Miller vs. Miller.
3276—Goldberg vs. Goldberg.
4190—Sealey vs. Sealey.
4193—Bogart vs. Bogart.
4196—Bingham vs. Bingham.
1716—O'Hara vs. O'Hara
3592—Segalman vs. Segalman.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Day calendar—To be called in Part IV. Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases will be assigned to the several parts of Special Term for trial. Law and fact.

4364—Jeffries Glass Co. vs. Solen.
2680—Shemmiel vs. Morse.
2681—Same vs. Bowery Sav. Bank.
3536—Elliott vs. McCrosker.
2258—Conlon vs. Starbuck.
2869—May vs. Carleton.
3751—Kastor vs. Ketchum.
4038—Charlton vs. Charlton.
4060—Coddington vs. Duffy.
4085—Jaeger vs. Muller.
4095—Paul vs. City of New York.
3725—Plunkett vs. Fee.
4070—Call vs. Blumenthal.
1472—Person vs. Blumenthal.
1211—Glen Cove Granite Co. vs. Costello.
3678—Pinkey vs. Mayor, &c.
3714—Warner vs. Schweitzer.
3741—Engelbach vs. Engelbach.
4027—Livingston vs. Eq. Life Assur. Socy.
4054—Willet vs. Sheehan
4056—Robinson vs. Adams.
4059—Durant Lamp Imp. Co. vs. Farmers' L. and T. Co.
4061—Mackentosh, vs. Mackentosh.
4123—Rogers vs. Berger.
4145—Demmerle vs. Demmerle.
3734—Zarig vs. Starin.
3851—McClenahan vs. Golacen.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 4204.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—Truax, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Sewell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—Russell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Beekman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—(Criminal Term.)—Fursman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre, Hennessy, and Schwarzkopf for the People.

1—Daniel McPeak.
2—Michael Dooley.
3—David E. Anthony.

SUPREME COURT—Extraordinary Trial Term—Held in Criminal Court Building—Werner, J.—Opens at 10 A. M.

1—Daniel Feinberg.
2—William Blunt.
3—Samé.
4—Joseph Moritz.
5—Joseph G. Simmons.
6—Thomas J. Reilly.
7—Max Lang.
8—William Lewis.
9—Same.
10—Hyman Waters.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—McAdam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Preferred cases.

9222—Pendleton vs. Overton.
9361—Graham vs. Cassel berry.
6918—Demuth vs. Selig.
10171—McBride vs. Stokes.
10187—McKean vs. Campbell.
10137—Perkins vs. Campbell.
9846—McGovern vs. Keating.
9494—Heilbron vs. Heilbron.
8415—Simpkins vs. City of New York.
8416—Same vs. same.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar.—To be called in Part III. Room at 10:15 A. M. Cases will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts III., IV., V., and VI., for trial.

10299—Ward vs. St. Vincent's Hospital.
6273—Lynn vs. City of New York.
8949—Moore vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
4759—Lacs vs. James Eversard's Breweries.
5736—De Lemos vs. Moran.
5957—McHugh vs. Manhattan Ry. Co.
6772—Peck vs. Schoen.
6883—Winnick vs. Johnson.
5835—Gillmartin vs. McInerney.
1092—Tiehr vs. Consol. Gas Co.
5935—Bennett vs. Geo. Borgfeldt Co.
4021—Gribben vs. 2d Av. R. R. Co.
2936—Lewis vs. Conn. Mut. Life Ins. Co.
4095—Mussadeth vs. Met. St. Ry.
5439—Johns vs. Ruben.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 7166.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:15 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Andrews, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VII. Room, at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VII., IX., X., and XI. for trial.

Inquest, 5877—Hunt vs. Acton.
Inquest, 5893—Jamison vs. Coles.
6411—Kelly vs. Naughton.
5048—Ficken vs. Pulitzer
1063—Lichtenstein vs. Dunmeyer.
3385—Migdalsky vs. Gross.
578—Rinn vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
6538½—Flagler vs. Hearst.
4627—Beattie vs. O'Neill.
7052—Balheimer vs. Manhattan Yeast Co.
7056—Good vs. Rumsey.
2220—Towers vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
8464—Kelly vs. same.
4672—Townsley vs. Life Ins. Co.
8097—Cunliffe vs. Cram.
869—Sewall vs. Security Ins. Co. of N. H.
2429—McAuliffe vs. 42d St., &c., R. R. Co.
2295—Smith vs. Union Ry Co.
3063—Speilman vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1926—Rosengarten vs. same.
6379—Schwarzbaum vs. same.
6715—Greer vs. Kraft.
6936—Linkert vs. Muller.
2268—Jay vs. International Nav. Co.
4067—Hart vs. McLaughlin.
—Pogose vs. Armstrong.
4765—Foss vs. Seibert.
2674—Conolly vs. Smith.
1826—Carr vs. Ebling.
2812—Ullmann vs. Chambers.
4994—Kayser vs. Becker.
4289—Hope vs. French Co.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—Bischoff, Jr., J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned until Dec. 11.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IX.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part X.—Dugro, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XI.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XII.—Adjourned until Dec. 18.

SURROGATE'S COURT—Chambers — Fitzgerald, S.—Case on at 11 A. M.

1506—Contested will of Mary Louisa Ritter.
Wills for probate at 10:30 A. M.
Andrew Dunn.
Soloman Denzer.
Mary A. Norton.
Bertha Tietjen.
Joseph Schmecker.
Elizabeth Buck.
Lawrence H. Quinn.
William H. Webb.
Nancy Kuehne.
Henry Wessels.

SURROGATE'S COURT—Trial Term—Held in Surrogate's Court, Trial Term, Ground Floor, in County Court House—Varnum, S.—Opens at 10:30 A. M.

Contested wills:
1501—Abby G. Solomon.
1497—Henry Carey.
1498—Edward Lynch.

CITY COURT—General Term—Adjourned sine die.

CITY COURT—Special Term—Opens at 10 A. M. Held in Brownstone Building (Chambers Street.) Motions must be made returnable at 10:30 A. M. Defaults on motions will be taken at 11 A. M.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Conlan, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Case on.

3540—Berrick vs. Sturm.
1149—Manda vs. Elliott.
1509—Shanahan vs. Walker.
413—Brown vs. 3d Av. R. R.
1116—Deutsch vs. Mandel.
3494—Edelson vs. Met. St. Ry.
1631—Anderson vs. Met. St. Ry.
3286—Raphael vs. Thalmesinger.
1841—Lee vs. 3d Av. RR.
851—Lambert vs. Docharty.
1300—Shea vs. De Rago.
1636—Rosenthal vs. Jacobson.
1392—Richter vs. Koster Bial & Co.
1053—Baumann vs. Healey.
1354—Baumann vs. Thomas.
1299—Dowd vs. Krall.
1580—Krippes vs. 3d Ave. RR.
693—Rockman vs. Friedman.
1353—Engel vs. Silicox.
3026—Carasnola vs. Met. St. Ry.
1401—Goldberg vs. Gilles.
1507—Kraus vs. Guntzer.
1446—Prince vs. Uhren.
678—Bachman Brewing Co. vs. Hecht.
1462—Amabile vs. Moran.
1340—Knapp vs. Grafola.
320—Feist vs. Alden.
607—Siegel vs. Weir.
546—Pollock vs. 3d Av. R. R.
1153—Gustavison vs. Titus.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—Fitzsimons, C. J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

1847—Hall vs. N. Y. & T. Co.
1826—Westinghouse Church, Kerr Co. vs. O'Connor.
1829—A. L. & J. J. Reynolds Co. vs. Getz.
1832—Cahnmann vs. Met. St. Ry.
1835½—McGloin vs. Kane.
957—East vs. Gray.
1800—Cohen vs. Met. St. Ry.
1801—Rosenthal vs. same.
1864—Peace vs. Pell.
1138—Rubel vs. Smith Dairy Farm Co.
1823—Wheatley vs. Met. St. Ry.
1824—Frawley vs. same.
1848—Leonhardt vs. Neuhaus.
1474—Cassidy vs. Spingarn.

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—McCarthy, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. Calendar clear.

1725—Loughlin vs. Met. St. Ry.
1745—Doyle vs. Met. St. Ry.
1750—Glynn vs. Met. St. Ry.
1752—Thompson vs. Elec. Exhibition Co.
1757—Markowitz vs. Met. St. Ry.
1748—McGregor vs. Well.
1759—Del Rosso vs. Met. St. Ry.
1766—Crosse vs. same.
1771—Wyckoff vs. Fangel.
151—Nolan vs. Baird.
1772—Hampton & Branchville R. R. & Lumber Co. vs. Siger

CITY COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Hascall, J.—Held in Brownstone Building, (Chambers Street.)—Opens at 10 A. M. All cases must be tried when reached. Calendar clear. Short causes.

3260—Hearn vs. Myberg.
3554—Briedenbach vs. McCarthy.
3618—Michel vs. Taylor.
3648—Liese vs. Frankel.
3631—Eisenberg vs. Hart.
3623—Gross vs. Schnitzler.
3622—Schlomowitz vs. same.
3678—Klugman vs. Blumenthal.
2812—Held vs. Zimmermann.
3585—Warner vs. Greater N. Y. Amuse. Co.
8472—Leach vs. Durant.
3616—Kachelmacher vs. Dimock.

Highest number reached in regular call, 1910.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part I.—Cowing, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Townsend and Cowan for the People.

1—Virgilio De Nino.
James Damiano.
2—Louis Friedman.
3—Michael Phillips.
Martin Rogers.
4—Walter L. Dickerson.
5—Mary O'Brien.
6—John O'Keefe.
7—James Hughes.
8—Henry Mortier.
Isidore Gordon.
Edward Rosenthal.
9—Edmond Dantes.
10—Michael Kelly.
11—Wm. J. Fitzpatrick.
12—William Egan.
13—Charles Krumm.
14—Martin J. Conway.
15—Mandus Johnson.
16—Henry L. Gerber.
17—William Sager.
18—Wm. H. Harris.
19—Leon Quinto.
Pleadings.
1—Charles Stewart.
2—George Knecht.
3—Michael Shea.
4—Harry Pell.
5—Nellie O'Connor.
6—William Burnett.
7—John Dowd.
8—Alfred Higgins.
9—Tony Fero.
10—Leonardo De Preta.
11—Aaron Mart.
12—Thomas Goss.
John H. Graeser.
13—Rachel Dultz.
Isaac Dultz.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part II.—November Term Continued.—Goff, R.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. District Attorney Gardiner and Assistant District Attorneys Osborne, O'Connor, and Collins for the People.

1—Roland B. Molineux.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Part II.—Blanchard, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McClelland and Honey for the People.

FINANCIAL DIRECTORY.

Chemical National Bank
270 Broadway.

National Bank of Commerce
CAP. AND SUR. $5,500,000.
31 Nassau St.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $1,000,000. Surplus and profits, $2,500,000
7 and 11 Nassau St.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

Phenix National Bank
49 Wall Street.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $1,500,000.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Continental Trust Company
30 Broad St.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Real Estate Trust Co.,
30 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, Surplus, and Undivided Profits $900,000.
Receives Deposits, Allowing Interest.
Acts as Trustee. Transfer Agent, Registrar, &c.

PHILADELPHIA.
Fourth Street National Bank
Capital, $1,500,000. Surplus, $1,500,000.

BANKERS' CARDS.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Transact a general banking business; act as Fiscal Agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies. Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Branch Office: 65 State St., Albany.

Chester B. Lawrence, Jr.
Member Consolidated Stock Exchange.
Orders solicited for the purchase or sale of
STOCKS in any amount from 10 SHARES UPWARD.
WHEAT
In lots of from 1,000 BUSHELS UPWARD.
ACCOUNTS ACCEPTED IN AMOUNTS AS LOW AS $100.
Interest charges never to exceed six per cent. in any money market.
BRANCH OFFICES:
1,300 Broadway, Cor. 34th St.
621 Broadway, Cor. Houston St.
Main Offices: 32 & 34 Broadway.
SPECIAL LADIES' DEPT. AT BRANCHES.
Very Correct Market Letters Issued Daily.
OUT OF TOWN ORDERS A SPECIALTY.
Call or send for our SPECIAL REPORTS on our favorite stocks.

Holmes & Co.,
EMPIRE BUILDING,
71 Broadway, New York.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange. N. Y. Cotton Exchange. Chicago Board of Trade.
Branch Office:
Lakewood Hotel, Lakewood, N.J.

The Corn Exchange Bank,
William and Beaver Sts., New York.
WILLIAM A. NASH, President.
Capital and Surplus . . $3,000,000.00
Deposits 20,000,000.00
BRANCHES:
Broadway Branch, Broadway & Spring St.
Hudson River Bank, 42d St. & Columbus Ave.
Astor Place Bank, Astor Place.
Queens County Bank, Borough of Queens.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS,
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission. DEAL IN High-Grade Investment Securities.
Lists of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS, GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

36 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK.

Fisk & Robinson
BANKERS
Investment Securities
HARVEY EDWARD FISK,
GEORGE H. ROBINSON.
Member New York Stock Exchange.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD FOR CASH AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

Hurlbutt, Hatch & Co.,
BANKERS.
MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
71 Broadway, N. Y. City.
STOCKS and BONDS bought and sold for cash or on margin.
Interest allowed on deposits subject to check.
Telephone No. 1239 Cortlandt.

New York Telephone, 4914 Cortlandt. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & Co
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
37 William St., New York. 298 Montague St., Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

A. J. DE KANTSTEIN & CO.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange.
30 West 23d St.
STOCKS and BONDS bought and sold for cash and carried on margin.
SPECIAL LADIES' DEPARTMENT.
DAILY MARKET LETTER ON APPLICATION.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

"OUTSIDE" SECURITIES
DEALT IN.
DAVID PFFEIFER 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL.

23 Wall Street.
New York, October 12, 1899.
To the Holders of the
First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF THE
PITTSBURGH & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY

(DATED JULY 1, 1887):

Referring to our notice of December 14, 1898, we have to announce that holders of more than 80 per cent. in amount of the First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the Pittsburgh and Western Railway Company have deposited these bonds with us in accordance with the terms of said notice.

We have further to announce that we have made arrangements with the Reorganization Managers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company whereby, in case they issue any Plan of Reorganization of the Pittsburgh and Western Railway Company prior to December 14, 1899, they undertake to give all our depositors whose bonds shall not have been sold to them for cash, as stated in the next paragraph, an option for at least thirty days after such Plan is issued, to take par and interest in cash, or to have their bonds included in the Plan on the basis of new securities. They also agree that at the expiration of such option they will purchase from us for cash at par and accrued interest up to the time of delivery all bonds held by us in respect of which the option to take new securities shall not have been exercised, we agreeing to sell them such bonds. If no Plan shall have been issued by that date, the foregoing arrangements will continue in force thereafter until said Reorganization Managers terminate the same by notice to us.

If any holder of our receipts or certificates, rather than await such Plan, desires and shall elect to sell his bonds for cash, (thereby losing his right of election to take either cash or new securities after issuance of the Plan,) said Reorganization Managers further agree that, at any time prior to December 14, 1899, (and also thereafter until notice from them to us,) such holder may present his receipt or certificate at our office for proper annotation of such election thereon, and that, at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such annotation, he shall receive par and accrued interest in cash therefor at our office upon surrender of his receipt or certificate properly indorsed.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.

Produce Exchange Trust Company.
STANDARD OIL BUILDING,
26 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.
Capital . . . $2,500,000
Surplus & Undivided Profits, $2,630,334
Solicits the accounts of Merchants, Corporations, Estates and Banks.
PAYS INTEREST ON BALANCES.
Is designated by the Banking Department as a legal depositary for Savings Banks, State Banks, and Bankers; and is a depositary for funds of the City and State of New York.
Lends money on approved collateral; acts as Trustee, Registrar, and Transfer Agent, and accepts all Trust Company business.

TURNER A. BEALL, President.
EDWIN GOULD, THOMAS A. McINTYRE, S. D. SCUDDER, } Vice Presidents.
S. L. CHAMBERLAINE, Sec'y & Treas.
WILLIAM M. LAWS, Asst.Sec'y & Treas.
TRUSTEES:

Charles P. Armstrong,	Henry A. McGee,
Amzi L. Barber,	W. Willis Merrill,
Frank Brainard,	J. W. Middendorf,
Turner A. Beall,	Edward A. Maher,
George R. Bidwell,	S. D. Scudder,
Charles A. Deshon,	John A. Shibley,
A. Goepel,	John P. Truesdell,
Edwin Gould,	C. M. Warner,
H. Irvine Keyser,	John Skelton Williams,
Edward R. Ladew,	E. F. C. Young,
Thomas A. McIntyre,

Provident Savings Life Assurance Society,
ORGANIZED 1875.
346 and 348 Broadway.
EDWARD W. SCOTT, President.
Issues All Desirable Forms of Policies.
Assurance in force $100,000,000
Paid Policyholders $16,500,000
Assets to Liabilities 132½ per cent.

Central Realty Bond and Trust Company,
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
Frederic P. Olcott, James Stillman, Augustus D. Juilliard, James N. Jarvie, Frederick Southack, Hugh J. Grant, Henry Morgenthau.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R. R. CO., 120 BROADWAY.
New York, November 24, 1899.
Pensacola & Atlantic R. R. Company 6% Mortgage.

In accordance with the terms of the mortgage of the Pensacola & Atlantic Railroad Company, the following forty-five (45) bonds have this day, in the presence of the Trustees, been drawn for the sinking fund, viz.:

55, 172, 216, 351, 617, 630, 685, 698, 741, 840, 841, 853, 859, 991, 1057, 1068, 1078, 1135, 1146, 1313, 1314, 1399, 1581, 1622, 1630, 1710, 1777, 1861, 1884, 1965, 2009, 2086, 2105, 2112, 2374, 2388, 2405, 2573, 2585, 2625, 2639, 2707, 2712, 2724, 2833.

The interest on the same will cease February 1, 1900, and the principal of the bonds will be redeemed at this office on and after that date, plus 10 per cent. premium.
A. W. MORRISS, Assistant Treasurer.

N. Y. SECURITY & TRUST CO.
46 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus . . . $3,000,000
CHARLES S. FAIRCHILD, President.
Wm. L. Strong, 1st V.P.; Abram M. Hyatt, 2d V.P.; Osborn W. Bright, Sec.; Zelah Van Loan, Asst. Sec.

The Trust Co. of America,
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $5,000,000.
ASHBEL P. FITCH.....President.
WILLIAM H. LEUPP, Vice-President. WILLIAM BARBOUR, Vice-President.
RAYMOND J. CHATRY, Secretary. HENRY S. MANNING, Vice-President.
ALBERT L. BANISTER, Treasurer. LAWRENCE O. MURRAY, Trust Officer.

Haskins & Sells,
Certified Public Accountants,
NO. 30 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS, AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6TH, 1899,
At 12½ o'clock, at the N. Y. Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway,
(By order of Executors.)

500 shs. Canadian Pacific Ry.
100 shs. Coney Island & B'klyn R. R.
250 shs. Brooklyn Union Gas Co.
10 shs. Elizabeth Library Ass'n.
$5,000 Coney Island & B'klyn R. R. 5 p. c. Cfs. of Indebtedness, 1903.
$70,000 International & Great Northern Ry. 2d Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1909.
$25,000 Brooklyn Union Gas Co. 1st Cons. Mtge. 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1945. (Regstd.)
$8,000 State of Arkansas 6 p. c. Funded Debt. Bds.
$3,000 City of Elizabeth, N. J., 4 p. c. Adj. Bds., 1922.
400 shs. Stuyvesant Fire Ins. Co.
(By order of Dan'l B. Childs and Geo. M. Walgrove, Ex'rs. of the Estate of Margaret Inglis, dec'd.)
$8,000 Canada Southern R. R. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1908.
$7,500 Central R. R., N. J., Genl. Mtg. 5 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1987.
$3,000 Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. 1st Cons. Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$10,000 Chic., Bur. & Quincy R. R. 5 p. c. Sink. Fund Bds., (Iowa Div.), 1919.
$6,000 Chic. & Northwestern R. R. 7 p. c. Cons. Sink. Fund Bds., 1915.
$8,000 Chic., Rock Island & Pac. R. R. 1st Mtg. 6 p. c. Bds., 1917.
$7,000 Chic., St. Paul, Minn. & Omaha R. R. 1st Cons. Mtg. 6 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1930.
$3,000 Chic., St. Paul, Minn. & Omaha R. R. 1st Cons. Mtg. 6 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1930.
$4,000 Kings County El. R. R. 1st Mtg. 4 p. c. Bds., 1949.
6 shs. Brooklyn Rapid Transit R. R.
$5,000 Michigan Cent. R. R. 1st Cons. Mtg. 7 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1902.
$15,000 Michigan Cent. R. R. 1st Cons. Mtg. 5 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1902.
$5,000 Morris & Essex R. R. 7 p. c. Convt. Regstd. Bds., 1900.
$4,000 New York Cent. & Hudson River R. R. 4 p. c. Deb. Bds., (Ctfs. Extd.), 1905.
$5,000 Pitts., Shenango & Lake Erie R. R. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1940.
$5,000 St. Paul, Minn. & Manitoba R. R. 2d Mtg. 6 p. c. Regstd. Bds., 1909.
$6,000 Wabash R. R. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$2,500 West Shore R. R. 1st Mtg. 4 p. c. Reg. Bond, 2361.
$10,000 Western Union Tel. Co. Coll. Trust 5 p. c. Bds., 1938.
(By order of Trustee.)
$2,000 Coney Island & B'klyn R. R. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1902.
(For account of whom it may concern.)
80 shs. German Alliance Ins. Co.
$15,000 Railroad Equipment Co. 6 p. c. Bds., 1903.
$10,000 Railroad Equipment Co. 6 p. c. Bds., 1902.
50 shs. Manhattan Trust Co.
25 shs. Franklin Trust Co.
$6,000 Staten Island Elec. R. R. 1st Mtg. Con. 5 p. c. Bds.
$500 Staten Island Elec. R. R. scrip.
215 shs. N. Y. & Staten Island Traction Co. pfd.
$1,000 Nash., Chatt. & St. Louis Ry. 1st 7 p. c. Bd., 1913.
5 shs. International Bkg. & Trust Co.
8 shs. Home Insurance Co.
25 shs. Empire City Fire Ins. Co.
10 shs. International Bkg. & Trust Co.
$6,000 Atlantic Coast Elec. Ry. 1st 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1945.
10 shs. Corn Exchange Bank.
6 shs. Natl. City Bank.
10 shs. Manufacturers' Trust Co.
25 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
10 shs. Morton Trust Co.
50 shs. International Bkg. & Trust Co.
5 shs. Bankers' Trust Co.
9 shs. Trust Co. of America.
30 shs. Chatham Natl. Bank.
125 shs. The Arizona Copper Smelting Co.
25 shs. Westchester Trust Co. of Yonkers.
$1,000 Dry Dock, East B'way & Battery R. R., 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bond, 1932.
100 shs. Jos. Ladue Gold Mining & Dev. Co. pfd.
25 shs. Colonial Trust Co.
10 shs. Guaranty Trust Co.
$25,000 United Traction & Elec. Co., Prov. & Paw. St. Ry. 1st Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1933.
100 shs. Union Traction & Elec. Co.
100 shs. Trust Co. of America.
8 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
300 shs. Depew Improvement Co.
2 shs. City Trust Co.
100 shs. United States Trust Co.
50 shs. 12th Ward Bank. (Hypd.)
10 shs. Bank of Manhattan Co.
10 shs. Merchants' Natl. Bank.
6 shs. Bank of America.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
$1,000 N. Y., Lack. & Western R. R. 1st Mtg. Reg. 6 p. c. Bd., 1921.
40 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
35 shs. Title Guarantee & Trust Co.
$15,000 Evansville & Terre Haute R. R. Gen. Mtg. 5 p. c. Bds., 1942.
$18,000 Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. 1st Cons. 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1934.
100 shs. Fourth National Bank.
3 shs. Bankers' Trust Co.
10 shs. Trust Co. of America.
30 shs. Tilden State Bank of Tilden, Neb., (Hypd.)
30 shs. 1st National Bank of Douglas, Wyoming, (Hypd.)
165 shs. Commercial Bank of Moscow, Moscow, Idaho, (Hypd.)
160 shs. Central Coal & Coke Co. Prefd., (Hypd.)
75 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.

CONSOLIDATION COAL COMPANY
(OF MARYLAND)
First Mortgage Bonds dated January 1st, 1897.

Notice is hereby given, as provided in the mortgage of the above-named company to the undersigned as Trustee, dated December 15th, 1896, that bonds of the following numbers have been drawn for the Sinking Fund and will be paid on presentation on and after January 1st, 1900, at the office of the GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, at 105½, with accrued interest to that date, after which interest on each of the said bonds will cease:

76	140	290	331	354	477
77	145	293	332	355	556
83	185	316	353	475	559

Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.
GEO. R. TURNBULL, 2d Vice Prest.
Dated New York, December 1st, 1899.

Before Investing in mining stocks write us. We have inside information with regard to several good gold and copper stocks, which can be bought cheap. The Kendrick Promotion Co., Denver, Colo. Highest References.

I WILL INSURE YOU AGAINST LOSS IN stock speculations. Address OPERATOR, 1,242 Broadway.

DIVIDENDS.

Rubber Goods Manufacturing Co.

The Directors have this day declared a quarterly dividend (No. 3) of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. on the Preferred Stock of this Company, out of the earnings, payable on the 15th day of December, 1899, to stockholders of record on December 8th, 1899. The Transfer Books will be closed December 8th, at 3 o'clock P. M., and will reopen December 15th, at 10 A. M.

Checks will be mailed to registered holders on the 14th day of December, 1899.
BARING, MAGOUN & CO., Transfer Agents.
New York, Dec. 1st, 1899.

Columbus, O., November 24, 1899.

A dividend of One and One-half Per Cent. has this day been declared on the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable January 10, 1900, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 4, 1899.

The Preferred Stock transfer books will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, New York, at 3 P. M. on Monday, December 4, 1899, and will reopen at the same place at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, December 13, 1899.
THE HOCKING VALLEY RAILWAY CO.,
By N. MONSARRAT, President.

NATIONAL GRAM-O-PHONE CORPORATION,
874 Broadway, New York, Dec. 5th, 1899.
Twenty-sixth Consecutive Monthly Dividend.

THE USUAL MONTHLY DIVIDEND (No. 26) of ONE PER CENT. on the capital stock of this corporation has this day been duly declared by the Board of Directors, payable December 16th. Transfer books close December 6 to 16, inclusive.
O. D. La Dow, Secretary.

New York and Honduras Rosario Mining Co.,
No. 18 Broadway, New York, Dec. 5, 1899.
Dividends Nos. 61 and 62.

The Trustees of this Company have this day declared a dividend of Ten Cents per share, and also an extra dividend of Ten Cents per share on its capital stock, payable December 16th, 1899.

The transfer books will be closed from December 6th to 16th. WM. H. POWER, Treasurer.

Leather Manufacturers' National Bank
29 Wall St.
New York, December 4th, 1899.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors will be held at the banking room on TUESDAY, January 9th, 1900, from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
GATES W. McGARRAH, Cashier.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

THE PEOPLE'S BANK
of the City of New York,
393 and 395 Canal St.
November 27th, 1899.

ELECTION.—The annual election for Directors of this Bank and Inspectors of Election will be held at the banking house, Nos. 393 and 395 Canal St., on Tuesday, December 12th, 1899, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M. By order of the Board of Directors.
WILLIAM MILNE, Cashier.

THE BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.
New York, Dec 4, 1899.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held at the Banking House, 33 William Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and noon.
R. L. EDWARDS, President.

NATIONAL BANK REPORTS.

[No. 1,000.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL BANK OF THE REPUBLIC,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, Dec. 2, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$14,315,877.63
Overdrafts		32,441.54
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		1,250,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits.		1,000,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		193,765.66
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,181,525.56
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		637,084.16
Other real estate and mortgages owned		31,505.00
Due from National banks	$1,354,981.65
Due from State banks and bankers	387,882.72
Checks and other cash items	89,487.37
Exchanges for Clearing House	683,445.50
Notes of other National banks	46,795.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	199.73
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie ..$3,880,900.00
Legal tender notes.. 835,964.00
U. S. ctfs. of deposit for legal tenders. 90,000.00
	4,806,864.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treas'r, (5 per cent. of circulation).	56,250.00
		7,375,855.97
Total		$26,018,655.52

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,500,000.00
Surplus fund		500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		474,139.90
National bank notes outstanding		1,116,810.00
Dividends unpaid		16,544.00
Due to other National banks	$12,045,595.91
Due to State banks and bankers	3,351,921.42
Individual deposits subject to check	5,124,291.33
Demand certificates of deposit	6,305.10
Certified checks	45,423.44
Cashier's checks outstanding	90,124.42
United States deposits.	997,500.00
		21,661,161.62
United States bond account		750,000.00
Total		$26,018,655.52

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, CHARLES H. STOUT, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
C. H. STOUT, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of December, 1899. A. S. HOUGHTON, Notary Public, New York County.
Correct—Attest:
ANSON R. FLOWER, WM. BARBOUR, OLIVER S. CARTER, } Directors.

[No. 1,370.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE MERCHANTS' NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$12,152,272.25
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.		4,538.80
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		178,578.33
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		995,257.34
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		786,742.85
Due from State banks and bankers.		142,378.69
Checks and other cash items		48,223.13
Exchanges for Clearing House		975,098.79
Notes of other National banks		4,528.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		901.48
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,341,181.48
Legal-tender notes	1,246,010.00
U. S. certificates of deposit for legal tenders	150,000.00
		3,737,191.48
Total		$19,075,716.09

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$2,000,000.00
Surplus fund		500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		662,452.62
Due to other National banks	$6,548,968.68
Due to State banks and bankers	3,596,249.07
Dividends unpaid	1,403.50
Individual deposits subject to check	5,552,045.02
Demand certificates of deposit	844.00
Certified checks	140,330.61
Cashier's checks outstanding	72,822.59
		15,913,263.47
Total		$19,075,716.09

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of December, 1899. C. E. LANGDON, Notary Public, Kings County.
Certificate filed in New York County.
Correct—Attest:
JOHN A. STEWART, DONALD MACKAY, ROBERT M. GALLAWAY, } Directors.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.
New York, December 2, 1899.

To the Stockholders of the New York Loan & Improvement Company:

A Special Meeting of the Stockholders of the New York Loan & Improvement Company will be held on Tuesday, the second day of January, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon, at the office of said Company, Rooms 306-308, No. 71 Broadway, in the City of New York, for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to reduce its capital stock from Two million one hundred and eighty-nine thousand three hundred Dollars, consisting of Twenty-one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three shares of the par value of $100.00 each, to One million nine hundred and seventy thousand nine hundred Dollars, consisting of Nineteen thousand seven hundred and nine shares of the par value of $100.00 each.

C. T. BARNEY, H. F. DIMOCK, JOHN A. McCOOK, J. O. BAKER, FRANCIS L. SILL, H. B. COCHEU, JAMES R. HAY, } A Majority of the Directors.

UNION SQUARE BANK,
8 UNION SQUARE.

The annual election for Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12TH, 1899, at the Banking House, between the hours of 1 P. M. and 3 P. M.
JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier.

NOTES OF INSURANCE INTERESTS

The Illinois Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents has obtained a settlement of the Danville (Ill.) agency difficulties, which recently threatened a disruption of the local board.

The Board of Directors of the Merchants' Insurance Company of Newark has authorized the removal of the Eastern agency department to this city, the New York office to be under the supervision of Assistant Secretary Edward C. North.

The insurance on the property of Jacob Nestler, at 2,235 First Avenue, which was considerably damaged by fire Monday, was distributed as follows: On stock and fixtures, British America, $5,500; Hamburg-Bremen, $2,500; Hartford, $2,000; American of New York, $2,000; Liverpool and London and Globe, $2,000; New York Underwriters', $2,000; Home, $2,000; Westchester, $2,000; American of Philadelphia, $1,500, and London Assurance, $1,500. On household furniture, Firemen's of Baltimore, $1,000. Ettinger, Rosenthal & Co. will adjust the loss.

New York managers yesterday commented unfavorably on the proposed question submitted by the Fire Underwriters' Eastern Union to the companies in regard to the exclusion of New Jersey from the commission agreement, although there were suggestions of the expediency of regulating brokerage on business in Newark and in the six New Jersey counties which were formerly controlled by the Suburban Underwriters' Association, on account of the inapplicability of the New York Exchange rule to business in unrated outside territory.

President F. C. Moore of the Continental Insurance Company sent an open letter to the members of the New York Fire Insurance Exchange yesterday, announcing that he would present the following resolution to the Exchange at its meeting to-morrow: "Resolved, That the solicitation of large lines of insurance by a minority of the members of this Exchange, for the purpose of reinsuring the excess with other members of such minority, and with the result of preventing a fair distribution of the business throughout the entire membership by way of direct lines, is in violation of the spirit of the Exchange agreement and in conflict with the unwritten law of good-fellowship, which clearly involves equality of service in co-operation. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be held to prohibit or discourage reinsurance in any company whose assets are less than $1,000,000; and, further, that we will furnish semi-annually to the manager a statement of the total amount of premiums paid during each six months for reinsurance to members of the Exchange, such reports to be preserved by the manager and open to the inspection of any member desiring to examine them."

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks weak.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 5	507,704
To date this year	156,463,616
Corresponding date last year	102,233,246

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 5	$1,210,500
To date this year	$793,600,190
Corresponding date last year	$814,509,190

Money rate: Collateral loans on hand, 5½ @8 per cent.; at three months, 6 per cent.; at six months, 6 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 5½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Consol. Gas	1	U. S. Leather	⅝
Met. St. Railway	1

Stocks Declined.

Am. C. & F. pf.	½	General Electric	3½
Am. Ice	1	Great North. pf.	⅝
Am. Linseed	1½	Hocking Valley	1½
Am. Linseed pf.	2¾	Hock. Valley pf.	⅞
Am. Malt. pf.	3	Illinois Central	⅝
Am. Smelt. & Ref.	1	Int. Paper	½
Am. Steel & Wire	¾	Iowa Cent. pf.	1½
Am. Steel Hoop pf.	1½	Kanawha & Mich.	1
Am. Sugar Ref.	1½	K. C., P. & G.	½
Am. Tin Plate pf.	1	Louis. & Nash.	1⅝
At., T. & S. F. pf.	⅝	Manhattan Con.	⅝
Anaconda Copper	1⅝	Mo., K. & T. pf.	1
Balt. & Ohio	1⅛	Missouri Pacific	⅝
B'klyn Rapid Transit	1½	National Steel	1¼
Brunswick City	½	Nat. Steel pf.	1
Canadian Pacific	½	North American	⅞
Cap. Traction	⅝	Northern Pacific	½
Chi., B. & Q.	⅝	Pacific Coast	⅝
Chi. & East. Ill.	⅝	People's Gas, Chi.	1⅝
Chi. G. W., deb.	1⅞	Peoria & East.	½
Chi., L. & W. pf.	1⅛	Pullman Car	2
Chi., M. & St. P.	⅛	Reading 2d pf.	1
Chi. & N. W.	1	Rep. Iron & Steel	½
Chi., R. I. & Pac.	¾	Rio Grande West.	1
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	1½	Southern Pacific	1½
C., C., C. & St. L.	¾	Southern Ry. pf.	½
C., C., C. & St. L. pf.	3	Stand. R. & T.	½
Col. Mid. pf.	2	Tenn. Coal & Iron	½
Col. So. 1st pf.	1½	Third Avenue	4½
C. & H. C. & I.	¾	Union Pacific	1
Cont. Tobacco	1¼	U. S. F. M. pf.	10¼
Dul., S. S. & A. pf.	½	U. S. Rubber pf.	¾
Erie 1st pf.	¼	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	1¼
Federal Steel	1⅝	W. & L. E. 2d pf.	½
Federal Steel pf.	¾	Wis. Cent. pf.	⅝

***

Net changes in bonds of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Ill. Cent. 4s, 1952	2	P., C., C. & St. L. 4½s, D.	1
Int. & G. N. 1st	1
Mil., L. S. & W. 1st	1

Bonds Declined.

C., M. & St. P., So. Minn. 6s	1	Mo., K. & T. 2d	1½
C., M. & St. P., C. & M. R. 5s	1	Mo., K. & T. ext. 5s	1¼
Col. Mid. 2-4s	1	Tol., St. L. & K. C. 1st, t. r.	1

MARKET CONDITIONS.

Uncertainty as to the tenor of the President's then unpublished annual message to Congress kept the market at the opening yesterday weak and hesitating; and, the message published, uncertainty as to the exact interpretation to put upon that particular part of it which referred to trusts and combinations aided to bring about a demoralization of prices which extended very generally over almost the entire list. Not unnaturally, selling by London and the fact that call money during the afternoon was in demand at even 7 and 8 per cent. aggravated the situation and removed whatever spirit of buoyancy the market might otherwise have been tempted to take on. The truth, however, is that at best that spirit would have been only temporary, for the market was for the most time well under the control of the professional traders and bear element, who took advantage of the generally apprehensive and uncertain feelings of timid holders and by skillful manipulation and a more skillful playing upon the emotions of these divers fearful individuals succeeded in shaking out not a little stock. Lower prices were the natural and logical consequence.

While the Street was in its early waiting mood, the bears, as on the previous day, were zealously busy in disseminating harum-scarum forecasts of what the President's message would say in way of condemnation of "trusts." Total extinction, annihilation, forfeiture of charter, sudden corporate death—each in its turn was predicted as the probable consequences to the trusts, one and all, as a result of the message. When, therefore, the message was put out, and it was seen not only that the word "trust" occurred in several places, but that the subject received extended attention, some people in the Street immediately jumped to the conclusion that the death knell of all industrial corporations and of all consolidation of financial interests had been sounded, and forthwith proceeded to sell such of their holden stocks as they thought fell, or as might by any stretch of the imagination appear to fall within the trust limits. Strong interests, prepared for just such a show of nonsensical haste, therewith bought in the precipitately sacrificed stock, and by their buying checked any serious depression in prices.

Later, when more deliberate attention was given the President's message, its financial and currency suggestions—generally satisfactory to the Street—heeded, and the rather general expressions in respect to the trusts more carefully weighed, those who had parted with their holdings were strongly inclined to wish they had made haste more slowly. It was then, however, too late, for the infection of increasing doubt had spread, and, aided by short selling and the higher money market, the quotations continued downward, with the closing figures generally the low ones for the day. Probably over night these later doubters will have sufficient time to digest the President's paragraph on trusts, and see that even yet a consolidation of various interests into one company and under one corporate head may legally be effected.

***

Undoubtedly, the fact that the so-called attack upon the trusts followed so closely upon the decision in the Addyston case was a factor in adding weight to the talk of the professional calamity howler and the capitalizer of hope. Indeed, as an aftermath of that decision the decline in General Electric may be cited. That stock fell off more than 3 points on rumors that agreements which the company is said to have made with the Westinghouse Company fell within the law of the Addyston case. The fact that these rumors were rumors only, of course, did not affect the situation.

***

But the illogical logic of the Street was evidenced in other ways. For instance, not even the most rampant bear pretends to say that a railroad company is a trust. Yet, though only the most favorable news was heard in respect to the five railroad companies whose excellent and increased earnings are elsewhere published—St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Southern Railway, Chicago Great Western, and Louisville and Nashville—each one of those stocks showed a decline for the day, in several cases of more than a point. One need not look further for proof of the Street's irresponsibility at times.

***

Pacific Mail was the only conspicuous stock to show logical strength, appreciating a fraction of a point—due, undoubtedly, to the President's reference to the Merchant Marine.

***

There was some calling of loans yesterday—an indication that the banks purpose to strengthen their position more. Firm rates here, too, minimize the, at best, highly improbable chance of gold exports. The making provision at this time for January disbursements is also a factor in the money situation.

PROSPERITY THAT

1¼ to 102¾; Dominion Coal, 3, to 49½. The close was decidedly heavy.

The rate between the banks at the Clearing House was 6 per cent., and New York funds sold at 5 and 10 cents discount. Call money generally was quoted at 6 per cent., with loans, however, made as high as 7, and with a few special cases where 5½ per cent. was quoted. In time money, renewals were made at 5 per cent. on four months, where the loans were particularly strong, both as to names and collateral. Good loans, however, passed at 6 per cent. on four to six months. In commercial paper only exceptionally strong names passed under 6 per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	6	6¼	Old Colony	4½	5¼
Allouez	3	3⅜	O. Dominion	27	27½
Arcadian	29	29½	Osceola	78	79
Arnold	6¼	7	Parrot	39¾	41
Ash Bed	..	1	Pioneer	2¾	3
Atlantic	27	32	Quincy	150	155
Baltic	23	23½	R. Island	5½	5⅞
B. & C. C.	25	30	Santa Fé	6¾	7
B. & Mont.	310	312	S. Ysabel	9½	10
Butte & B.	..	70	Shoe	33	33½
Cal. & Hecla	755	765	Tamarack	213	220
Centennial	20½	21	Utah Con	34½	35
Franklin	16½	17	Washington	1⅞	1⅝
Humboldt	1½	2	White Knob	12	14
Isle Royale	29	31	Winona	7	8
Mohawk	18	19	Wolverine	39	40

Railroad Stocks.

Boston & A.	250	252	C. Mass. pf.	..	70
Boston & L.	241	..	Fitchburg pf.	120	..
Boston & Me.	203½	..	N. Y. & N.	..	..
Boston & P.	..	300	E. 6s	111	112½
Boston Elev.	102⅜	103½	N. Y. & N. E. 5s	..	..
Bost'n & S. 5s.	85	86	E. 7s	115¼	116⅝
Con. Mass.	..	17	West End	92½	93

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. Bell T.	347	348	Mex. Tele	3⅛	3¼
Chi. Stk. Y.	145¾	148	N. E. Tel.	..	144
Dom. Coal	49	49½	U. S. Oil	40	41
D. Coal pf.	118	..	West. Elec.	43½	44½
Erie Tel	107	108	W. Elec. pf.	66	..

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New-York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The market for Linseed stock scored a further decline to-day. From an opening at 13¾ the common went off and closed at 13, while the preferred broke 2½ points, to 55 on the sale of about 2,000 shares. Around those prices some inside support made its appearance, with the result that just before noon quite a rally was seen, particularly in the preferred, but it closed at 55. The Union Traction shares were quiet to-day, and prices for them were held on about yesterday's level. There was a revival of interest in Metropolitan securities, particularly the preferred stock, which opened at 81⅝, and after selling off ⅛ advanced to 83, closing at 82½. The certificates closed at 29, a loss of ⅝ during the day. The bonds brought 95¾.

	High.	Low.	Close.
3,395..Linseed	13⅝	13	13
450..Linseed pf	57½	55	55
830..Strawboard	32½	32	32
85..Tin Plate	33	32⅝	32⅞
185..Tin Plate pf	83	83	83
35..Chicago Brew	2¼	2⅛	2⅛
720..Chicago Union Traction	32⅝	32	32
10..Chicago U. Traction pf	82	82	82
95..Chicago City Railway	286	286	286
36..International Packing	5	5	5
160..Lake St. Elevated	16½	16	16½
15..Lake St. Elevated pf	15½	15½	15½
420..Metropolitan Elevated	29⅝	29	29
2,421..Met. Elevated pf	83	82½	82½
260..National Biscuit	40¾	40½	40½
300..National Biscuit pf	94	93⅝	93⅝
441..National Carbon	18	17	17
10..National Carbon pf	83¾	83¾	83¾
200..National Steel	46⅜	45	45
11..South Side Elevated	104	104	104
10..Street's W. S. C. L.	22½	22½	22½
20..Union Elevated	104½	104½	104½
100..West Chicago	117¾	117¾	117¾

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Local stocks were almost at a standstill to-day, and those that moved drooped. There was, however, no radical weakness, except in the case of the long-inactive General Electric Automobile, which sold at 4¾; last March it sold at 22. Choctaw preferred, paying 5 per cent., sold at 44 for the first time in many weeks, but very little of the stock came out. Except for weakness in Pennsylvania Steel and special strength in Tidewater, the steel stocks were neglected and practically unchanged. Union Traction was down to 41 on profit taking.

Closing bid and asked:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry. Lt.	21½	21¾	Phila. Trac.	96¼	96½
Choctaw	36	37	Union Trac.	40¾	40⅞
Ci. Co. of Am.	14½	14¾	U. G. & I.	159¾	161
Lehigh Val.	26½	26⅝	Welsbach Lt.	46	47
Marsden	13¾	13⅞	W.N.Y. & P.	5⅞	6

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows:

	Tuesday.	Monday.
Alta	.06	.06
Alpha Con	.04	.04
Andes	.14	.14
Belcher	.30	.29
Best & Belcher	.46	.47
Bullion	.05	.05
Caledonia	.61	.58
Challenge Con	.23	.21
Chollar	.22	.23
Confidence	.84	.80
Con. Cal. & Va	2.00	2.00
Con. Imperial	.01	.01
Crown Point	.22	.20
Gould & Curry	.17	.18
Hale & Norcross	.39	.40
Julia	.02	.02
Justice	.09	.09
Kentucky Con	.03	.01
Lady Washington Con	.06	.06
Mexican	.52	.54
Occidental Con	.17	.17
Ophir	1.00	1.05
Overman	.16	.16
Potosi	.28	.27
Savage	.17	.16
Sag Belcher	.05	.05
Sierra Nevada	.57	.42
Standard	2.75	2.75
Syndicate	.06	.06
St. Louis	.06	.06
Union Con	.37	.38
Utah Con	.08	.08
Yellow Jacket	.17	.18
Silver Bars	58⅞@59	58⅝@58⅞
Mexican Dollars	47½@48¼	47½@48¼
Drafts, sight	..	.07½
Telegraph	.12½	.12½

Special to The New York Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Dec. 5.—Gardner & Co. report closing quotations as follows:

	Tuesday. Bid.	Asked.	Monday. Bid.	Asked.
Acacia	39⅝	40	40¾	41
Alamo	12⅞	13⅜	12¾	12½
Anaconda	44½	46	45	46
Anchoria	80	85	80	85
Argentum	19½	20¼	19⅞	20
Bankers'	13⅝	14	13⅝	14½
Battle	36¼	36½	36⅜	36½
Blue Belle	12	13	12¼	12½
Coin	230	240	230	240
Columbine	20¼	21	20	21
Consolidated	..	17½	17	17½
Damon	29⅜	29⅝	29⅞	30
Elkton	116¼	116½	116	116½
El Paso	31	35	31	35
Findlay	14¼	15	14½	15
Fleece	30	35	25	31
Garfield	20	20½	20	20½
Gibson	23	28	24	28
Gould	36½	38⅜	38¼	38½
Isabella	143	143½	143½	144
Independence	49½	50	50	50½
Jackpot	62⅜	63	63	64
King	93	98	93	98
Moon Anchor	50	55	98	99
Matoa	29	30	29½	30
National	15	15½	14⅜	16
Ophir	62	64	62	64
Pharmacist Con	15¼	15½	14⅞	15
Pinnacle	30⅜	31	31⅜	31¾
Portland	245	246	244	248
Raven	74½	75	74½	75
Rawlings	32	35	34	36
Rose	41½	45	41½	45
Sovereign	15⅞	16	16¼	16⅜
Tornado	49½	50	49⅝	50
Union	35⅜	35½	35	35¾
Vindicator	154¼	156	150	153⅝
Work	31¼	31⅝	31⅛	31¼
Zenobia	20	22	21	22

RAILWAY STATEMENTS.

The following railways reporting yesterday gross earnings for the fourth week in November showed increases:

Alabama Great Southern	$8,089
Canadian Pacific	129,000
Central Branch (Mo. Pac.)	21,000
Chesapeake & Ohio	63,077
Chicago Great Western	21,392
Denver & Rio Grande	31,000
Louisville & Nashville	141,346
Minneapolis & St. Louis	17,267
Missouri, Kansas & Texas	24,193
Missouri Pacific	77,000
N. Y., Ontario & Western	22,104
Ohio River	8,178
St. Louis Southwestern	1,300
St. Paul	180,045
Southern Railway	76,578
Wabash	65,108
Total increase, 16 roads	$887,277
Increase previously reported	170,130
Total increase, 30 roads	$1,057,407
The following showed decreases:
Fort Worth & Rio Grande	$5,619
Mexican National	13,175
Total decrease, 2 roads	$18,794
Decrease previously reported	533
Total decrease, 3 roads	$19,327
Net increase	$1,038,080

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Trading yesterday in the market for outside securities was much more active than on the previous day and prices also were firmer. Further declines were recorded in some sections of the market, but as a whole conditions were better, and closing quotations showed some substantial advances. Most of the day's business was supplied, as has been the case for some time past, by a very few issues.

STORAGE POWER was most prominent. Opening sales were made at an advance of more than half a point over the previous day's close, and the early strength was well maintained. Trading in the stock was quite heavy, and commission brokers, as well as traders, were active in it. Top price for the day was 12¾, and the stock, after a slight reaction, closed at 12 bid, a net gain of 1⅛ points. Friends of the company say that important developments may be announced in a day or two.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was active, and showed only little change from Monday's figures. It was somewhat weak early in the day, but showed more strength at the close. Final bids for the common stock showed a net loss of one-quarter of a point, while the preferred showed a net gain of three-quarters of a point, closing at 32¾ bid. Common stock was offered to a much larger extent than the preferred, of which, at the close, little was found in the market. The common stock, which closed at 9¼ bid, was offered quite freely at 9½.

AMALGAMATED COPPER was weak. Little demand has appeared for this stock for some time past, and the offerings made within the last two days showed that the market yielded easily to selling pressure. It sold down to 85, and was offered at this figure at the close, with 84¾ bid, a net loss of 1⅛ points. Trading in Amalgamated Copper amounted to only a few hundred shares. Some of the other copper stocks showed strength, notwithstanding the decline in the most important of the copper stocks dealt in on the curb.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER sold in small lots up to 11¼, and closed at 10¾ bid, an advance of 1¼ points.

NEW AMSTERDAM GAS, common, opened at 26½, which was the highest price for the day. It closed at 26 bid, a loss of half a point from Monday's final bid. The preferred stock was at one time during the day 51 bid, but later stock was offered at this figure with very light demand for it.

INTERNATIONAL PUMP, common, was traded in to the extent of several hundred shares. It went as low as 17, and ended the day at 16 bid, a decline of 1 point.

ELECTRIC AXLE was steady and only fairly active. It sold at 6⅜ and closed at 6⅝ bid, against 6¼ bid on Monday. No news has been had for some days in regard to the progress being made in the company's business, but it is said that much has already been accomplished that promises well for the company's future.

BUFFALO GAS bonds, which on Monday sold down to 72, recovered sharply and changed hands as high as 79. Buying of the bonds seemed to be for account of interests closely connected with the company.

ELECTRO-PNEUMATIC was active for the first time in many weeks. On transactions amounting to about 1,500 shares, it first advanced to 4⅜ and then fell back to 1. A good deal of stock was offered at this figure at the close, and ⅝ was the best bid, a net loss of ⅞ of a point.

NEW YORK HEAT, LIGHT, AND POWER 5 per cent. bonds were active at 102⅝. They showed no net change for the day, closing at 102¾ bid.

GENERAL ELECTRIC AUTOMOBILE sold for the first time in a long while. Only 100 or 200 shares changed hands, the first sale being made at 6½.

Closing quotations were as follows:

ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Gas Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Bay State Gas	1¾	1⅞
New Amsterdam	26	26½
New Amsterdam pf	..	51
New Amsterdam 5s, with interest	96	96½

Industrials.

American Agricultural Chemical	36	37
American Agricultural Chemical pf	79	80
American Bicycle	15	20
American Bicycle bonds	90	91
American Bicycle pf	56	60
American Hide & Leather	..	35
American Hide & Leather pf	..	80
American Woolen Goods	24½	25
American Woolen Goods pf	80	81
American Writing Paper 5s	87	..
Beet Sugar	..	28
Beet Sugar pf	76	79
Distilling Company of America	9¼	9½
Distilling Company of America pf	32⅝	34
Electric Axle Light & Power	6⅜	6½
Electric Boat	24	26
Electric Boat pf	42	45
Havana Commercial	18½	19½
Havana Commercial pf	60½	61½
International Pump	16	18
International Pump pf	66	68
National Gramophone	72	76
National Salt	47	48
National Salt pf	79¼	80
National Tube pf	47	47½
National Tube pf	95¼	95½
Otis Elevator	..	27
Otis Elevator pf	92	93¾
Pittsburg Coal subs	96	..
Royal Baking Powder	34½	35
Rubber Goods Mfg.	30	31
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf	83	..
Sloss-Sheffield	35½	37
Sloss-Sheffield pf	74½	75½
Standard Oil of New Jersey, ex div.	466	468
Union Steel & Chain	20	25
Union Steel & Chain pf	60	65
U. S. Pneumatic Horse Collar	⅝	½

Miscellaneous.

Amalgamated Copper	84¾	85
American Air Power	45	50
American Cotton	..	50
Arizona Lead	9⅞	10¼
Asphalt Company of America	14⅜	15
British Columbia Copper	10⅜	11¼
Chicago & Alton sub	108¼	108½
Chicago & Alton 3s, (new)	95	96
Electric Vehicle	..	75
Electric Vehicle pf	..	95
*Electro-Pneumatic, assessment paid	⅝	1
Flemington Coal & Coke	27	..
General Carriage	180	..
Illinois Transportation	3	3½
Manhattan Light & Heat	2	5
*Markeen Copper	8	9¼
Mexican 5s	98	99
New England Transportation	7	7½
New York Gas & Electric 4s	90½	91
New York Gas & Electric 5s	102¾	103
New York Transportation	12	13
Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie	22¼	24
St. Louis subs	..	131
St. Louis common, when issued	26	31
St. Louis preferred, when issued	..	93
St. Louis, as when issued	..	94¾
Storage Power	12	12¾
Tennessee Copper	14	16
Trust Company of America	226	228
*Union Copper	..	28
Virginia Coal, Iron & Coke	30	31
Whipsaw Copper	12¾	13½

*Selling dollars per share. Par value, $10.

LESS ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Street Railways.

	Bid.	Asked.
Broadway & Seventh Avenue	230	240
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 1st	104	105
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 2d	110	112
Broadway Surface 1st 5s	115	117
Broadway Surface 2d	104	105
Brooklyn City Railroad	238	240
Brooklyn Park, N. & E. River	102	103
Central Park, N. & E. River	195	..
Central Park, N. & E. River 7s	107	109
Chicago Union Traction	28	28⅝
Chicago Union Traction pf	78	79½
Columbus Railway	22	22½
Columbus Railway pf	86	90
Con. Traction of N. J.	64	65
Con. Traction of N. J. 5s	112	113
Eighth Avenue Railroad	400	410
Kings County Elevated 4s, (new)	90	94
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av.	72½	77½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 1st	116¾	118
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 2d	89	91
Nassau Electric 4s	94	95
Nassau Electric 5s	110	113
New Orleans Traction	30	..
New Orleans Traction pf	104	..
Ninth Avenue Railroad	190	205
North Jersey Street Railway	32½	..
North Jersey Street Railway 4s	92	94
Orange & Passaic Valley bonds	103	104
Steinway Railway Co. 6 p. c. 1st	117	118
Second Avenue Railroad consols	115½	117
Sixth Avenue Railroad	215	230
Syracuse Rapid Transit	12	18
Syracuse Rapid Transit pf	25	35
Union Railway 1st 5s	115	117
Union Railway stock	190	200
United Traction, Providence	112	113
Worcester (Mass.) Traction	30	32
Worcester (Mass.) Traction pf	104	107

Gas Companies.

Buffalo (N. Y.) stock	7	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st, with interest	78	80
Central Union 5s guaranteed	103½	106
Consolidated Gas of Newark	56	..
Consolidated Gas of Newark bonds	105	106
Consolidated bonds of N. J.	87½	89½
Consolidated Gas of N. J.	20½	21½
Consumers' Gas (Jersey City) bonds	102	103
Denver Gas	43½	44½
Denver Gas 5s	84½	85½
Essex & Hudson Gas	42	45
Fort Wayne Gas	42	47
Fort Wayne Gas 6s	..	95
Indianapolis Gas	102	108
Indianapolis Gas bonds	103	105
Lafayette Gas Co.	42	50
Lafayette Gas Co. 1st, 6s	64	70
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas	42	46
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas 6s	64	70
Mutual Gas of New York	300	..
Madison (Wis.) stock	81	83
New England Gas & Coke	25	27
New England Gas & Coke bonds	77½	78
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st	110	113
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con	109	112
N. Y. Suburban Gas Co. con	102½	103½
North Hudson L., H. & P. Co	55	56
North Hud. L., H. & P. Co. bonds	107	109
Ohio & Indiana	42	48
Ohio & Indiana 1st 6s	64	67
St. Joseph (Mo.)	40	46
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s	96	98
St. Paul Gas stock	58	61
St. Paul Gas bonds	89	91
Standard Gas, New York	112½	115
Standard Gas, New York, pf	142	..
Standard Gas 1st	116	118
Syracuse Gas stock	14	16
Syracuse Gas 1st 5 per cent. bonds	85	90
Western Gas	106¾	107½
Western Gas 1st 5s, with interest	105	106½

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	30	33
Hoboken Ferry, (new)	67	69
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s	94	95
Metropolitan Ferry 5s	110	112
Union Ferry	41¾	43
Union Ferry bonds	101½	102½

Industrials.

American Ginning	20	22
American Type Founders	52⅜	54
Anderson Tobacco Company	10	12
Barney & Smith	22	25
Barney & Smith pf	98	..
Barney & Smith bonds	105	107
Consolidated Rubber Tire	5	7
Consolidated Rubber Tire pf	35	45
Cramps' Shipyard	84	88
General Chemical	59	..
General Chemical pf	97½	100
Hudson River Telephone	110	115
Lorillard Company pf	116	117
Standard Coupler	38	42
Trenton Potteries	6	10
Trenton Potteries pf	45	55
Union Typewriter	27½	28½
Union Typewriter 1st pf	114	115½
Union Typewriter 2d pf	120	122
Worthington Pump pf	109	110

Miscellaneous.

American Bank Note	47	50
Central & South American Tel	110	112
Iron Steamboat	3	5
Iron Steamboat bonds	50	60
Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis	6	8
Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis pf	23	25

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

	1899.	1898.	1897.
ALABAMA GREAT SOUTHERN—
Mileage	310	310	310
4th week Nov.	$53,864	$45,775	$61,449
Month	198,125	159,843	174,657
From July 1	907,826	749,826	725,293
CANADIAN PACIFIC—
Mileage	6,952	6,678	6,547
4th week Nov.	887,000	758,000	725,000
Month	2,941,000	2,447,000	2,537,000
From Jan. 1	26,223,416	23,390,362	22,723,340
CENTRAL BRANCH, (MISSOURI PACIFIC)—
Mileage	388	388	388
4th week Nov.	44,000	23,000	30,000
Month	125,000	97,000	99,000
From Jan. 1	1,743,774	1,192,185	1,028,000
CHESAPEAKE & OHIO—
Mileage	1,445	1,445	1,360
4th week Nov.	351,832	288,155	304,176
Month	1,106,251	1,020,123	938,806
From July 1	5,562,950	5,127,711	4,841,265
CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN—
Mileage	930	930	930
4th week Nov.	155,053	133,661	137,678
Month	531,972	475,772	473,542
From July 1	2,800,994	2,453,735	2,392,307
DENVER & RIO GRANDE—
Mileage	1,673	1,673	1,666
4th week Nov.	278,700	247,700	252,500
Month	909,900	831,600	784,900
From July 1	4,321,100	3,949,100	4,172,113
FORT WORTH & RIO GRANDE—
Mileage	146	146	146
4th week Nov.	14,936	20,555	23,644
Month	49,861	73,650	70,779
LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE—
Mileage	2,988	2,988	2,985
4th week Nov.	786,905	625,559	570,265
Month	2,446,225	2,099,004	1,826,650
From July 1	11,740,476	9,837,259	9,133,537
MEXICAN NATIONAL—
Mileage	1,266	1,219	1,219
4th week Nov.	180,130	193,305
Month	583,378	552,516
From Jan. 1	6,305,829	5,567,905
MINNEAPOLIS & ST. LOUIS—
Mileage	507	366	370
4th week Nov.	71,504	54,237	55,325
Month	257,026	222,665	201,822
From July 1	1,322,520	1,024,073	1,056,897
MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS—
Mileage	2,200	2,197	2,197
4th week Nov.	365,727	341,534	402,143
Month	1,303,505	1,201,309	1,441,304
From July 1	6,047,732	5,717,668	5,860,114
MISSOURI PACIFIC—
Mileage	4,938	4,938	4,936
4th week Nov.	896,000	819,000	870,000
Month	2,750,000	2,530,000	2,469,000
From Jan. 1	25,467,545	24,253,369	22,436,000
MOBILE & OHIO—
Mileage	879	879	687
Month (Nov.)	572,000	431,309	396,550
From July 1	2,530,350	1,903,304	1,730,954
NEW YORK, ONTARIO & WESTERN—
Mileage	431	481	481
4th week Nov.	133,533	111,429	110,213
Month	411,114	337,859	340,177
From July 1	2,251,291	1,808,840	1,861,769
OHIO RIVER—
Mileage	224	224	224
4th week Nov.	26,985	18,806	18,569
Month	114,172	80,601	81,421
From Jan. 1	1,082,126	882,246	878,348
ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN—
Mileage	1,223	1,223	1,223
4th week Nov.	184,300	183,000	164,126
Month	596,300	557,700	556,496
From July 1	2,605,895	2,530,406	2,360,634
ST. PAUL—
Mileage	6,272	6,154	6,153
4th week Nov.	1,174,054	994,009	945,165
Month	4,022,684	3,590,447	3,378,445
From July 1	18,990,947	16,826,068	15,683,195
SOUTHERN RAILWAY—
Mileage	6,252	6,246	4,827
4th week Nov.	808,471	731,893	534,169
Month	2,794,557	2,522,904	1,839,641
From July 1	13,142,269	11,744,432	8,645,648
WABASH—
Mileage	2,326	2,326	1,936
4th week Nov.	426,763	361,655	310,991
Month	1,410,457	1,212,450	1,061,229
From July 1	7,218,632	6,176,728	5,757,563
BROOKLYN HEIGHTS RAILROAD for the quarter ended Sept. 30—
Gross earnings	2,775,838	1,664,932	1,415,186
Oper. expenses	1,790,186	959,046	818,773
Net earnings	985,652	705,886	596,413
Prop. op. exp. to gross	64⅜	57 3-5	57⅞
Other income	86,293	21,971	61,600
Total income	1,071,945	727,857	658,013
Charges	985,262	530,856	566,455
Net income	76,683	197,001	91,558
BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT system (including Kings County "L") reports for the month of November—
Pass	912,149	820,257	762,356
Other earnings	25,700	30,503	34,258
Total gross	937,849	850,760	796,614
Gross, 5 months	4,775,349	4,616,441	4,094,559
July 1 to Dec. 1, (including Kings County for October and November)—
Pass	4,617,061	4,491,051	3,956,122
Other earnings	158,288	125,390	138,437
Gross, 5 months	4,775,349	4,616,441	4,094,559
CHICAGO TERMINAL TRANSFER RAILROAD for October—
Gross earnings	110,073	101,714	97,830
Oper. expenses	46,421	40,288	33,705
Net earnings	63,652	61,426	64,125
Prop. op. exp. to gross	42 1-5	40¼	34⅔
Gross, 4 months	417,034	403,431	364,139
Net, 4 months	260,584	247,223	249,292
MEXICAN CENTRAL for October—
Gross earnings	1,411,848	1,236,907	1,085,183
Oper. expenses	933,253	787,543	746,456
Net earnings	478,595	449,364	338,727
Prop. op. exp. to gross	66⅝	63½	74⅝
Gross, 10 months	12,629,613	10,974,722	10,491,975
Net, 10 months	4,039,869	3,372,164	3,142,516

EFFECT OF WAR ON GOLD.

German Bankers Say World's Supply Will Not Suffer Permanently.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—A high official of the Reichsbank, in the course of an interview to-day, said:

"The war in South Africa may have a slightly disturbing effect on the money market for a short time, but it will have no great or permanent effect upon the world's gold supply. This is so large and is increasing so rapidly elsewhere—in America, Australia, and the Klondike, for instance—that a short stoppage in South Africa will be comparatively unimportant.

"The Reichsbank does not contemplate raising the rate of discount now, but it may be necessary to do this later. No gold is leaving Germany as yet. On the contrary, last week a small quantity came from England. It is the rising tendency of London exchange that causes concern."

An official of the Deutsche Bank gave expression to similar views; adding that the chief damage would come to England.

ELECTRIC LIGHT COMBINATION.

United Illuminating Company of New Haven to Take Over Five Concerns.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 5.—Announcement was made to-day that the United Illuminating Company of this city, known at the time of its incorporation last Spring as the New Haven Illuminating Company, will shortly take over the properties of the New Haven Electric Light Company, the Bridgeport Electric Light Company, the Bridgeport Illuminating Company, the Stratford Gas and Electric Company, and the Westhaven Power Company.

In a short time the United Illuminating Company will take over other companies of a like nature. Overtures have already been made to the New Haven Gas Light Company, and a meeting of the stockholders of the company will be held here soon to consider the proposition.

The new deal embraces a proposition to consolidate companies whose combined capital stock is over $1,500,000.

The United Illuminating Company was chartered under the State laws last Spring with a minimum capital stock of $200,000. The incorporators were James E. English, President of the New Haven Electric Company; John W. Alling, of the law firm of Alling, Webb & Morehouse, and Herbert C. Warren of the banking house of H. C. Warren & Co.

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Statements as to their condition are announced by the Merchants' National Bank and the National Bank of the Republic.

Dividends are announced by the National Gramo-phone Corporation and the New York and Honduras Rosario Mining Company.

President Ashbel P. Fitch announces that the Trust Company of America has been designated by Frederick D. Kilburn, Superintendent of Banks, as a depository for the lawful money reserve of the banks of this State.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Tuesday, Dec. 5, 1899.

—Closing.— Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
15½	15⅝	10	Am. Car & Foundry	16¼	16¼	16¼	16¼	.....
61½	62	1,353	Am. Car & Found. pf.	62	62½	61¾	61¾	— ½
33¼	33⅜	400	American Ice	33⅜	33⅜	33	33	—1
76	78	50	American Ice pf	75½	75½	75½	75½	.....
34½	35	475	American Cotton Oil	35	35½	35	35½	+ ½
12¾	13⅜	410	American Linseed	14	14	13¼	13¼	—1½
55¼	55⅞	2,375	Am. Linseed pf	58¼	58½	55	55	—2¾
145	149	15	American Express	149	149	149	149	.....
9⅜	10	250	American Malting Co.	9⅞	9⅞	9⅜	9⅜	— ¼
41	42	1,100	Am. Malting Co. pf	42¾	43	41	41	—3
3½	4	200	American Spirits Mfg.	4	4	4	4	.....
38½	38¾	2,765	Am. Smelt. & Ref.	39	39	38¼	38¼	—1
89⅝	90	930	Am. Smelt. & Ref. pf	90	90⅞	90	90⅜	— ⅛
46¼	46½	7,390	American Steel & Wire	47¼	48	46¼	46½	— ¾
95	95½	850	Am. Steel & Wire pf	95

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Dealings by Brokers—The Alliance Realty Company—Park Avenue Apartment House Brings $235,000.

N. Brigham Hall has sold for Mrs. Julia C. Blagden the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 32 East Twenty-second Street, between Broadway and Fourth Avenue, 26.3 by 98.9.

Douglas Robinson & Co. have sold for Charles Gulden the plot, 54 by 100, on the north side of Seventy-seventh Street, 100 feet east of Madison Avenue. The buyer will erect thereon two high-class dwellings.

Subscriptions for stock in the newly organized Alliance Realty Company have been coming in rapidly, and the success of the venture has been assured. Among the principal subscribers are Frederick P. Olcott, James Stillman, Percy R. Pyne, William A. Nash, Henry O. Havemeyer, John E. Parsons, Frederick Ayer, Archibald D. Russell; Clarence H. Kelsey, Charles A. Peabody, Jr., William Allen Butler and William Allen Butler, Jr., Henry Lewis Morris, Justice M. J. O'Brien, Cord Meyer, C. H. Tenney, the Hon. Jefferson M. Levy, Vermilye & Co., G. Seidenberg & Kraus, Spencer Trask & Co., and Frederick Potter.

The Frank L. Fisher Company has sold to C. F. Yeager the five-story Americanbasement dwelling 40 West Ninety-sixth Street, 17 by 60 by 100.

According to a report published by other newspapers yesterday morning, Leo Wise had sold the apartment house at the northwest corner of Seventy-fourth Street and Park Avenue. Mr. Wise never owned that property. He has, however, sold the apartment house at the southwest corner of Seventy-fourth Street and Park Avenue, 40 by 102, for about $235,000.

Douglas Robinson & Co. have sold for W. W. & T. M. Hall the new private stable at 77 East Seventy-seventh Street, on a lot 25 by 100.

W. P. Eno is the buyer of the lot at the southwest corner of Broadway and Sixty-ninth Street. Mr. Eno already owned the lot adjoining on the south, as well as the two abutting lots at the southeast corner of Amsterdam Avenue and Sixty-ninth Street.

N. Brigham Hall has sold for Mrs. Julia G. Blagden, to a near-by business firm for investment, 32 East Twenty-second Street, a four-story and basement high-stoop brownstone dwelling, on a lot 26.3 by 98.9.

John McLaughlin has sold the two five-story flats 65 and 67 East Eighty-seventh Street, 25.6 by 100.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought from the McDonald estate the four four-story dwellings, on a plot 63 by 90, at the northwest corner of Broome and Varick Streets.

William J. Roome has sold to Boehm & Boehm the property 218 and 220 West Twenty-first Street, being a plot 47 by 106.

A. L. Gruenzner has sold for T. Sullivan the two-story dwelling 408 East One Hundred and Fifty-first Street, 25 by 118.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

7 and 9 Abingdon Square, begins at the southeast corner of Bleecker Street and Eighth Avenue, runs northeast along Eighth Avenue 44.11 by southeast 40 by east 17.2 by south 25.5 by west 76.9 to Bleecker Street by north 21.7, seven-story brick flat, with stores; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, the Citizens' Savings Bank $70,000

332 East Thirty-eighth Street, 25 by 98.2, five-story brick tenement; foreclosure sale, to W. H. Dixler..... 21,000

By James L. Wells.

Monroe Avenue, Twenty-fourth Ward, east side, 300 feet north of Columbia Avenue, 25 by 100, two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Henry S. Trenchard 2,200

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co.

497 Broome Street, 20.10 by 88.5, four-story brick building; executor's sale, to S. T. Flannery 9,550

66 West Ninety-third Street, 19.2 by 100.8, five-story stone-front flat; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Abraham B. Odell; executor 10,000

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

156 and 158 West Ninety-eighth Street, each 20 by 100.11, two five-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to C. A. Loughlin. 43,880

312 and 314 East Ninety-first Street, each 25 by 100.8, two five-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Gustav F. Taussig 38,090

Thirteenth Street, William's Bridge, north side, 171.8 feet east of Second Avenue, 33.4 by 114 two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to Charles T. Toppin... 3,081

8 Seventh Street, Wakefield, 27.6 by 105, two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to Louise B. Coitus..... 2,610

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Morris Cukor, referee, One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, north side, 98 feet west of Courtlandt Avenue, 50 by 101, vacant. Due on judgment, $3,950.

By Bryan L. Kennelly, foreclosure sale, Myron H. Oppenheim, referee, 64 Grand Street, north side, 75 feet west of Wooster Street, 25 by 100, seven-story brick building. Due on judgment, $8,221; subject to another mortgage for $20,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., executor's sale, 523 West Fifty-first Street, north side, 300 feet west of Tenth Avenue, 25 by 100.5, four-story brick and stone tenement.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Charles D. Olendorf, referee, 507 West Twenty-seventh Street, north side, 125 feet west of Tenth Avenue, 25 by 98.9, six-story brick tenement, with stores. Due on judgment, $3,995; subject to other mortgages for $23,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Nelson J. Waterbury, referee, 1,513 Madison Avenue, east side, 26.11 feet north of One Hundred and Third Street, 20 by 70, five-story brick single flat. Due on judgment, $16,912.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., public auction sale, 301 West Twelfth Street, north side, 94.6 feet east of Hudson Street, 23 by 80, four-story brick dwelling.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Bathgate Avenue, east side, 141 feet north of Tremont Avenue, for a three-story brick stable, 45 by 81.5; Elizabeth L. Cox, of One Hundred and Seventy-eighth Street and Park Avenue, owner; John E. Kerby of 722 Tremont Avenue, architect; cost, $20,000.

Clinton Avenue, east side, 99 feet south of One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, for two two-story frame dwellings, 19 by 55, Joseph P. O'Donnell of 2,003 Washington Avenue, owner; J. E. Kerby, architect; cost, $10,000.

Clinton Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, for a three-story frame dwelling, with stores, 20 by 75; Joseph P. O'Donnell, owner; J. E. Kerby, architect; cost, $7,500.

One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, 25 feet east of Clinton Avenue, for three two-story frame dwellings, 20 by 55; Joseph P. O'Donnell, owner; J. E. Kerby, architect; cost, $15,000.

One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, 94 feet east of Clinton Avenue, for three two-and-one-half-story frame dwellings, 20 by 45; Joseph P. O'Donnell, owner; J. E. Kerby, architect; cost, $13,500.

Boston Avenue, west side, 93.3 feet north of Tremont Avenue, for three one-story frame dwellings, with stores, 50 by 75 and 80; F. A. Becker of 1,861 Boston Avenue, owner; John E. Kerby, architect; cost, $9,000.

No. 1,966 Arthur Avenue, for a two-story frame stable, 20 by 14; Louise Schultz of 758 Tremont Avenue, owner; Arthur Boehmer, architect; cost, $350.

Jackson Avenue, west side, 100 feet south of Cedar Place, for four three-story frame tenements, 16.8 by 65; James G. Patton of 823 Forest Avenue, owner; James Barrett, architect; cost of each, $3,500.

Nos. 92 and 94 Cherry Street, for a six-story brick tenement, with stores, 32.4 by 84; Barney Isaacs, owner; Max Muller of 3 Chambers Street, architect; cost, $32,000.

Nos. 527 and 529 East Twelfth Street, for two six-story and basement brick tenements, 25 by 80.7; M. H. and I. I. Kempner of 55 East Sixty-first Street, owners; G. F. Pelham, architect; cost of each, $25,000.

No. 310 West Eightieth Street, for a seven-story brick and stone flat, 50 by 92.2; Michael Tully of 210 West One Hundred and Fifth Street, owner; J. E. Ware & Son, architects; cost, $125,000.

Nos. 533 and 535 East Eleventh Street, for two six-story and basement brick flats, with stores, 25 by 89.7; Elias Kempner of 55 East Sixty-first Street, owner; G. F. Pelham, architect; cost, $50,000.

Greene Avenue, west side, 50 feet south of Fifth Street, Westchester, for a one-story frame shed, 14 by 25; R. Brouss, premises, owner; W. M. Ronzee, architect; cost, $100.

Main Street, west side, 102 feet north of Ditmars Street, for a one-and-a-half-story frame stable and shed; Joseph Reggendo, owner; W. M. Ronzee, architect; cost, $250.

Alterations.

No. 37 to 43 Greene Street, to a six-story brick store and lofts; Julius Kayser of 467 Broadway, owner; Alfred Hopkins, architect; cost, $8,000.

One Hundred and Ninety-fifth Street, south side, 90 feet east of Marion Avenue, rear, to a one-and-a-half-story frame stable; Harriet S. Lum, owner; J. J. Vreeland, architect; cost, $150.

Forest Avenue, northwest corner of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, for a one-story extension to a three-story frame dwelling; Mamie Flomer, premises, owner; W. C. Dickerson, architect; cost, $1,500.

Greene Avenue, north side, 350 feet east of Manes Avenue, to a two-story frame dwelling; Miss M. Charless, owner; John F. McShane, architect; cost, $150.

One Hundred and Seventieth Street, south side, 85 feet east of Stebbins Avenue, to a two-story frame dwelling; Christiana A. Sproessig, owner; A. Boehmer, architect; cost, $900.

No. 1,099 East One Hundred and Seventieth Street, to a three-story frame flat; Charles Hacker of 922 Tinton Avenue, owner; A. Boehmer, architect; cost, $350.

No. 390 Broadway, to a five-story brick store; estate of Alexander M. Bruen of 41 Park Row, owner; Jardine, Kent & Jardine, architects; cost, $22,500.

No. 464 Wales Avenue, to a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling; Mary E. Jones of 464 Wales Avenue, owner; J. E. Kerby, architect; cost, $3,000.

New York Yacht Club Mortgage.

Among the mortgages recorded yesterday was one for $240,000 made by the New York Yacht Club in favor of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and covering the site of the club's new house on the north side of Forty-fourth Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues. The mortgage, which is for a period of three years at 4½ per cent. interest, is in the nature of a building loan, to be used in carrying forward the work on the new house.

Recorded Real Estate Transfers.

Tuesday, Dec. 5.

ALEXANDER AV, w s, 75 ft s of 134th St, 25x100; Rose Daly to George B. Campbell 24,500

CLARKE PLACE, s s, 255.5 ft w of Sheridan Av, 50x95; Edmund Coffin to Mathew Sheedy 1

CLIFF ST, s s corner of John St, 51.8x21.3x45.8x20; Albert Schierenbeck to William E. Dodge and another 100

CROMWELL AV, n e corner of 165th St, 197.3x66x irregular; Cromwell Av, s e corner of 165th St, 116.5x56.7x38.5x86.7; J. Schuyler Anderson and others to Hasbrouck Du Bois 1

EAST HOUSTON ST, 354, n s, 20.9x62.3x 20.10x61.2; Sarah A. Hadley and others to Regina Greenbaum 14,000

FRONT ST, 36, 28.6x67x28.8x67; Alfred Wagstaff to Benjamin A. Mason 1

FRONT ST, 36, 28.6x67x28.8x67; Benjamin A. Mason to Alfred Wagstaff 1

GREEN HILL ST, 116, 22x53.10x21.8x 55.10; Anna M. Schulz, individually and as executrix, and others to Lester C. Taylor 1

HALL PLACE, w s, 74.11 ft s of 167th St, 25x105x26.2x106.9; Hall Place, w s, 99.11 ft s of 167th St, 25x103.5x25.2x105; Mary Daly to Ellen Dowling 1,000

LOT 488, Block D, amended map of the Mapes estate; Hudson P. Rose to Gustav Knorr 500

MADISON AV, 1,315, s e corner of 93d St, 20.8x74; Agnes A. Brown to Ida Katzenberg 32,000

MERCER ST, 9, 11, and 13, w s, 50.9x 100x56.8x109; Frederick Konig to Bertha F. Achelis 1

MONROE ST, s s, 75.7 ft w of Rutgers St, 32.3x17.3x31.3x17; Henry P. Botty to Abraham Ginsburg 1

PARKER AV, s w corner of Glebe Av, 103.6x208x106.5x208.2; Lyon Av, n s, Lots 3 and 4, Block H, map of the Dore Lyon property, 50x100, Westchester; Parker Av, e s, Lots 9 to 11, Block H, and 10 to 19, Block D, map of the Dore Lyon property; Anna E. Lyon to Anna M. Scherding 1

SOUTHERN BOULEVARD, 827 and 829, 50x100; Charles L. Ritzmann to James M. Stanton 1

ST. NICHOLAS PLACE, e s, 275 ft n of 150th St, 50x100; Isabella M. Van Rensselaer and another to Mabel Suydam... 1

ST. NICHOLAS PLACE, e s, 225 ft n of 150th St, 50x200x irregular; Maunsell Van Rensselaer and wife to Mabel Suydam... 1

STANTON ST, n s, 45 ft e of Allen St, 21x95; Bernhard Adler to Charles Fenn 1

WATER ST, 28, n w s, 28x35.9x31.2x35.10; Mary Hennessy to Johanna L. Ritzmann. 1

WEBSTER AV, e s, 59.10 ft s of 173d St, 20x90; Richard L. Trefflurth and wife to Jonas C. H. Tupper 1

WEST END AV, w s, 23 ft s of 89th St, 20x89; Thornley Dickson to Sanford H. Steele 1

2D AV, 2,116, e s, 17 ft s of 109th St, 17 x66; Mary A. Cahill to Charles F. Cahill and another 1

57TH AV, e s, 50.9 ft s of 32d St, 28x150; Le Grand B. Cannon to Johnston Livingston 1

5TH AV, 925, e s, 21x100; John W. Stimpson and wife to Mary E. W. Terrell 1

7TH ST, n s, 249.8 ft w of Avenue C, 33.4x97.6; Lena Riech to Bernard Reich. 1

20TH ST, 42 and 44 West, 57.8x92; William C. Strange and wife to Isabella M. Van Rensselaer and another 1

25TH ST, 40 and 42 East, 50x98.9; James W. Golden to the Barrington Realty Company 100

25TH ST, 40 and 42 East, 50x98.9; Frank E. Martin to James W. Golden 1

28TH ST, n s, 75 ft w of 2d Av, 22x73.9x irregular; Edward F. Denner and wife to Barbara J. Bonn 27,500

29TH ST, s w s, 60 ft n w of 8th Av, 25x54.9, leasehold; Charles D. Olendorf, referee, to the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company 3,100

29TH ST, s w s, 80 ft n w of 8th Av, 20x irregular, leasehold; Charles D. Olendorf, referee, to the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company 3,000

31ST ST, 220 East, 19.3x98.9; Thomas H. Riley to Catherine Frech, executrix 12,750

31ST ST, 220 East, 19.3x98.9; F. H. White and another, executors, to Thomas H. Riley 100

37TH ST, n s, 500 ft w of 10th Av, 25x 98.9; Nellie A. Murphy and another to Charles L. Ritzmann 1

55TH ST, s s, 303.1 ft e of 7th Av, 21.10 x100.5; Loomis L. White to Andrew Freedman 1

71ST ST, n s, 563.9 ft w of West End Av, runs n 105, e 20.10, s 186 to street x w 38.9; John H. Rhoades, executor, &c., to George F. Johnson, correction deed... 25

75TH ST, n s, 88.4 ft w of 4th Av, 20x 102.2; the Collins Building and Construction Company to Bella Meyer 33,000

75TH ST, 47 East, 21.8x102.2; Iwan von Arno to Elizabeth N. Outerbridge 1

83D ST, s s, 340 ft w of West End Av, 60x irregular; the Metropolitan Improvement Company to Clarence F. True 100

92D ST, 325 East, 25x100.8; Mary Briel to Mary C. Schinard, quit claim 1

95TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Madison Av, 70x100.8; James Kilpatrick to William H. Langley ..... Exchange

112TH ST, s s, 125 ft w of 1st Av, 50x 100.11; Peter Reid to Fred V. V. Shaw. 1

113TH ST, n s, 125 ft e of Lenox Av, 26.3x 100.11; Henry Acker and wife to H. M. Loewenstern and others 100

113TH ST, s s, 116.8 ft w of 8th Av, 16.8x 100.11; Warren W. Foster, referee, to Joseph A. Dean and others, trustees..... 12,300

117TH ST, n e s, 200.8 ft s e of 1st Av, 37.6x100.10; Davis Karp to Edward Herrmann 1

122D ST, s s, 125 ft w of Mount Morris Park West, 20x100.11; Ella C. Earle to Frances F. Kent 23,000

126TH ST, n s, 300 ft w of 7th Av, 25x 99.11; Anna M. Scherding and another to Anna E. Lyon 1

137TH ST, n s, 150 ft e of Willis Av, 50x 100; Furman V. Gaines and others to Joseph Karl and another 1

138TH ST, n s, 281.6 ft e of Alexander Av, 50x200 to 139th St; Herman Koenenberg and Samuel Kapelansky to Caliman Rouse 1

139TH ST, n s, 305.10 ft e of 3d Av, 25x 100; Lena M. Stark and another to Simon McNally and another 1

Recorded Leases.

CLARK, George R., to C. Bartsch and another; Amsterdam Av, 792, 3 5-12 years. 780

COHN, Abraham, to Julius Tuchman; Pike St, 3 years 2,050

CORN, Henry, to the Thompson Company Clothiers; Broadway, 838 and 840, s e corner of 13th St, 10 years 13,250

LYMAN, William, to A. Mullen; 5th Av, s w corner of 137th St, 5 years...$1,000, 1,400

RUCK, John M., to F. T. Bougartz; 88th St, 303, n e corner of 9th Av, 5 years.. 1,800

SCHERMERHORN, William C., to Solomon Appel and another; Fulton St, 18 and 195 Front St, 5 3-12 years 3,500

WHITE, Elizabeth D., executrix, to Frederick Sinnauer and another; Gold St, 102, 5 5-12 years $1,200, 1,500

Recorded Mortgages.

ADLER, Arnold, to Mary E. Smith and another; 2d Av, e s, 25.11 ft s of 104th St, 3 years 12,000

AIKEN, Anna R., and others, to Benjamin F. Frisbie; Washington Av, n e corner of 164th St, 3 years 3,000

ANSPACHER, Herman, to Joseph L. Heymann; 720 Lexington Av, 2 years 3,000

ARMSTRONG, Helen, to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 110 West 26th St, 1 year $8,000

ASHMEAD, Catharine A., to Nathan L. Ely; 3d Av, e s, 82.2 ft n of 82d St, 1 year 2,000

AST, Charles, to Paul J. Exner; 112th St, n s, 100 ft e of Lenox Av, 3 years.. 22,000

BONN, Barbara J., to John Denner; 28th St, n s, 75 ft w of 2d Av, 2 years..... 4,500

BROGAN, Charles, to Anthony Futternecht; 3,806 3d Av, 2 years..... 2,000

BROGAN, Charles, to John C. Handte; 3,804 3d Av..... 2,500

DAVIS, Barbara J., to Caecilie Ettinger; 574 East 155th St, 1 year..... 1,500

DEGENAIS, Annie, to Frederick G. Thornbury; 1,870 3d Av, 3 years..... 2,000

DEGENAIS, Annie, to Edwin A. and Warren Cruikshank, trustees, &c.; 1,870 3d Av, 3 years 15,000

DONNEGAN, Anna, to Sarah C. Loughlin; 915 Trinity Av, 1 year..... 500

DONNELLY, Patrick, to William C. Arnold; Anthony Av, or Prospect Av, e s, at n w corner John Cormany's plot, and 200 ft n of Warren St, 3 years..... 1,500

EGGERS, Hermann G. and Diedrich, to Bowery Savings Bank; Willis Av, e s, 25 ft n of 144th St, 5 years..... 12,000

EGGERS, Hermann G. and Diedrich, to Hermann Flottmann and wife; Willis Av, e s, 25 ft s of 144th St, 2 years..... 5,000

EICKWORT, Louis, to Bernard F. Sarton; Anthony Av, w s, 100 ft s of Popham St, 2 years 3,000

FLAGG, George W., to Robert W. Todd; Anthony Av, n w corner of Bush Street; also Anthony Av, w s, 83.4 ft n of Bush St, 1 year 1,000

GOETZ, Joseph, and wife to Bowery Savings Bank; Willis Av, e s, 76 ft n of 143d St, 5 years 12,000

GREENBAUM, Regina, to Sarah A. Hadley and others; 354 Houston St, 5 years.. 11,000

GRIGGS, Isaac, to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 55th St, s s, 143.1 ft w of 3d Av, 1 year 7,000

HENDERSON, Jane E., and others to Charles F. Wille; 14th St, n w corner of Avenue C, Unionport, 3 years..... 1,000

HERTER, Peter J., to City Mortgage Company; 228 West 4th St, 1 year..... 27,500

HERTER, Peter J., to City Mortgage Company; Charles St, s s, 137.6 ft e of Bleecker St, 1 year..... 37,500

HERTER, Peter J., to City Mortgage Company; 74th St, 224 East, 1 year.. 20,500

HORNE, Louther S., and wife to Charles H. Darmstadt; 165th St, s w corner of Stebbins Av, 1 year..... 4,000

JOHNSON, George, of the trustees of the Peabody Education Fund; s s of 72d St, 525 ft w of West End Av, 5 years..110,000

JUDSON, Spencer C., to John F. Corney; Broadway, e s, 40.4 ft s of 109th St, demand 10,000

KARL, Joseph, and wife to Furman V. Gaines and another; 137th St, n s, 150 ft e of Willis Av, 1 year..... 1,250

KATZENBERG, Ida, to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 1,315 Madison Av, 6 years 20,000

KEARY, Patrick J., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Webster Av, n e corner of 184th St, 226x193.5 to w s Park Av, x217 to 184th St x182.5; Webster Av, n w corner of 184th St; 184th St, w s, 94.4 ft from s s Lot 27 map of Rebecca Bassford and lot adjoining, 1 year..... 9,500

KENT, Frances F., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 122d St, 6 West, 5 years 12,500

KENT, Frances F., to Ella C. Earle; 122d St, s s, 125 ft w of Mount Norris Park Av, 5 years 5,500

LEWIS, Elizabeth, to Isabella S. Hoe; 153d St, s s, 335 ft w of Amsterdam Av, leasehold, 3 years..... 3,000

LIVINGSTON, Johnston, to Le Grand B. Cannon; 5th Av, e s, 56.9 ft s of 12th St, 3 years 150,000

LUYSTER, Cornelius W., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 76th St, s s, 175 ft w of Central Park West, 1 year..... 50,000

LUYSTER, Cornelius W., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 75th St, s s, 150 ft w of Central Park West, 1 year..... 50,000

MARRIN, Patrick, to Mutual Life Insurance Company; 522 and 524 1st Av, 3 years 15,000

MASON, Benjamin A., to John Webber and another, trustees, &c.; 36 Front St, 1 year..... 8,000

MAY, Benedict P., to Frances Kappes, as guardian, &c.; Bay Av, s s, 210 ft w of Main St, City Island, 4 years..... 2,000

McLEAN, Julia, and others to Elizabeth H. Birss; Elton Av, n w s, 50 ft n e of 155th St, 1 year..... 5,000

McDERMOTT, Michael M., to Lawrence Drake; Broadway, n w s, Lot 31, map of 240 lots in Twelfth Ward, 3 years... 1,000

MONSKY, Morris, to Rachel Weinstein; Scammel St, s e corner of Madison St, demand 2,000

MORRILL, Frank T., to Elizabeth D. White and another, executors, &c.; 102 Gold St, 3 years 30,000

NEWLAND, David J., to Ida A. Hawley; 323 Bleecker St, 1 year..... 1,200

OLMS, William, to the D. M. Koehler & Son Company; Riverdale Av, s w corner of River St, 5 years..... 1,400

PEYSER, Nathan, to Peter Otten; 99 Stanton St, 2 1-3 years..... 2,500

REILLY, Peter, to John E. Shaw; 112th St, s s, 125 ft w of 1st Av, 1 year..... 1,155

RILEY, Thomas H., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 31st St, 222 East, 5 years 9,000

RITCHIE, Mary Y., and Andrew, to Alfred H. Tompkins; 139th St, n s, 231.6 ft e of Alexander Av, 8 years..... 4,000

ROSENTHAL, Samuel, to New Jerey Agency Company; 39 and 39½ Forsyth St, installments 33,000

SCHLICKWEIN, Christian, to Christian F. Schaue; 2d Av, w s, 45.11 ft n of 121st St, 3 years..... 1,600

SCHNUGG, Francis J., to Minna Fahrenholz; 127th St, s s, 225 ft e of Columbus Av, 2 years..... 2,000

SHARPE, William W., to Elizabeth P. Ingraham; 133d St, s s, 50 ft w of 8th Av, 3 years..... 8,000

SHEEDY, Matthew, to Edmund Coffin; Clarke Pl, s s, 255.5 ft w of Sheridan Av, demand 2,000

SHEEDY, Matthew, to Edmund Coffin; Clarke Pl, s s, 255.5 ft w of Sheridan Av, 1 year..... 2,000

SHEEDY, Matthew, to Edmund Coffin; Clarke Pl, s s, 280.5 ft w of Sheridan Av, demand 4,500

SHEEDY, Matthew, to Edmund Coffin; Clarke Pl, s s, 280.5 ft w of Sheridan Av, 1 year..... 1,500

SHEVLIN, Michael, to George Ehret; 526 West 45th St, saloon lease, demand..... 435

SICKELS, Eleanor M., and Maud Stephens to Union Dime Savings Institution; 131st St, s s, 164.7 ft e of 5th Av, 1 year..... 530

SKELLY, Alice G., and another to Robert P. Lee and another, executors, &c.; Henry St, s s, 119.3 ft e of Scammel St, recorded, 3 years..... 14,500

SUYDAM, Mabel, to Edward S. Clark; St. Nicholas Av, e s, 223 ft n of 150th St, 1 year 65,000

TAYLOR, Arthur, to Charles E. Appleby; 7th Av, n w corner of 57th St, 1-5 part, 3 years 3,000

THE NEW YORK YACHT CLUB to Equitable Life Assurance Society; 44th St, n s, 370 ft e of 6th Av, 75x100.5, 3 years..... 240,000

TOELBERG, John, to Caroline Mautte; 902 East 165th St, 3 years..... 4,250

TREFFURTH, Richard L., to Jonas C. H. Tupper; 732 Broadway, leasehold, installments 5,500

TRUE, Clarence F., to Metropolitan Improvement Company; 83d St, s s, 340 ft w of West End Av, 1 year..... 35,000

VAN RENNSSELAER, Maunsell, and wife to Jessie T. Phillips; 42 and 44 West 20th St, ¼ year..... 10,000

VREELAND, Charles W., and others to the Empire City Savings Bank; Fordham Road, s e corner of Tiebout Av, 1 year.. 5,000

WILDER, Samuel, to Bertha Tim; Chrystie St, w s, 125 ft n of Grand St, 5 years 18,000

WISE, Leo, to William Vogel; 74th St, s w corner of Park Av, ¼ year..... 20,000

WOLFE, Anzonetta B., and others, executors, &c., to Seamen's Bank for Savings; 80 and 82 William St, n e corner of Liberty St, — 72.8 ft to Maiden Lane, 1 year. 24,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

BROWN, Ronald K., and another, trustees, to Rose T. Mosher..... Nom.

BENZIGER, Nicholas C. and Louis G., executors, &c., to Bruno S. Benziger... 20,000

CHAPIN, Edwin L., trustee, to Phebe Q. Donnelly, (three assignments)..... Nom.

DAVIES, J. Clarence, to John B. Callard. 4,000

GEORGE, Francis, trustee, to Nathaniel George, trustee..... Nom.

HENCKEN, William F., to Greater New York Savings Bank..... 2,000

MANNING, William D., to William H. Hall..... 1,280

PALEN-THOMPSON CORPORATION to Newbury D. Lawton..... Nom.

WEAVER, A. C., trustee, &c., to George E. Sterry and others, trustees..... Nom.

FORSCH, Ferdinand, to Max M. Stern... 6,500

THOMPSON, Maud B. and Alex R., to Charles F. Bishop..... 1

BROUWER-ANCHER, Gerard P., to Frederick Stillwell..... 100

REA, Andrew L., to John L. Thomas.. Valuable consideration

WELLS, Pierson L., to Clark W. Dunlop.. 1,500

Mechanics' Liens.

1ST ST, s w corner of 104th St, 100x125; Fritz & Perelberg against Pepi Wertheim, owner; Herman & Pepi Wertheim, contractors $3,250

40TH ST, 445 West; Henry F. Robinson against Otto Elterich, owner and contractor 561

80TH ST, 118 and 120 West; A. J. Ellis & Co. against Samuel Johnpole and Harry L. Weiss, owners and contractors.

8TH ST, 319 to 325 East; Maxwell & Dempsey against George Hoffman, owner and contractor..... 1,538

8TH ST, 319 to 325 East; Jacob Fehlinger against George Hoffman, owner and contractor 445

168TH ST, s e corner of Brook Av, 50x200; Joseph Mattoni against Frank Walker, owner; John Meletti, contractor..... 43

8TH ST, 319 to 323 East; J. Caro & Son against George Hoffman, owner and contractor 468

1ST AV, e s, 50.8 ft n of 91st St, 100x34; John Phillips against Wolff Reiss, owner; Sternberg & Halpern, contractors..... 889

100TH ST, n s, 70 ft e of Columbus Av, 20x80; Morris Grossman against Carlo Luckes, owner; Louis Colangelo, contractor 73

WOOSTER ST, 24 and 26; Isaac Moritz against Samuel Eiseman, owner; Charles A. Steuerwald, contractor..... 380

LORING PLACE, w s, 350 ft n of Hampden, or 183d St, 50x100; William O'Brien against Mary D. Wheeler, owner; Barent M. Gray 46

118TH ST, 417 and 419 West; Oakley & Keating against John Robertson and William Gammle, owners; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, contractor 412

11TH ST, 610 to 616 East; George W. Cranwell & Son against Harris Goldberg, owner and contractor..... 1,450

140TH ST, s s, 125 ft e of St. Ann's Av, 100x100; Allerton-Clarke Company against Meyer Beyer, owner and contractor..... 378

EAST BROADWAY, 54 and 56; Henry Kurth against B. Ratkowsky, owner and contractor 100

13TH ST, 535 and 537 East; Mattie Ligouri against Arthur McQuade, owner; Diehl & Welgand, contractors..... 186

ORDERS UNDER CHAPTER 418, LAWS OF 1897.

AMSTERDAM AV, n w corner of 69th St, —x—; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on the New York Realty Company, to Suzette Tuck $671

9TH ST, 7 East; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on Sturgis & Hill and another to Suzette Tuck..... 1,295

56TH ST, 8 East; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on William M. Aitken to Suzette Tuck 450

59TH ST, n s, 150 ft w of 9th Av, —x—; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on Alfred Beinhauer, to Suzette Tuck 275

118TH ST, 417 and 419 West; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on Robertson & Gammle, to Suzette Tuck... 145

131ST ST, n s, between Lenox and 5th Av; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on Charles H. Brown, to Suzette Tuck..... 200

115TH ST, 533 West; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, on Young Men's Christian Association, to Suzette Tuck 400

Lis Pendens.

BAYARD ST, 2 and 4; Hyman Gruft against Leopold Hellinger and others, (action to recover possession, &c.;) attorneys, Stern & Singer.

WATER ST, 78; William F. Vause against Catherine Dellamore and another, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, F. St. John.

47TH ST, s s, 400 ft e of 7th Av, 37.6x100.5; John C. Barr against John H. Burchell and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Merrill & Rogers.

171ST ST, s s, 75 ft e of Park Av, 75x100; Kate Newschaffer and another against Raymond Vingiplora, (foreclosure of mechanics' lien;) attorneys, Menken Bros.

MADISON AV, w s, 52.10 ft n of Samuel St, 52.10x60.2x irregular; John B. Callard against Ellen M. Chambers and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. Kuhn.

109TH ST, s s, 100 ft e of Columbus Av, 75x 100.11; Bella Metzger and others, executors, &c., against Arthur E. Moore and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, J. H. V. Arnold.

57TH ST, n e s, 200.ft n w of 1st Av, 40x100.4, two actions; the German Savings Bank against Frederick Krutina and others, (foreclosure of two mortgages;) attorneys, Schell, Auerbach & Elkus.

16TH ST, s s, 212 ft w of 7th Av, 75x103.3; Frank Boyle and others against Charles M. Velbinger and others, (foreclosure of three mechanic's liens;) attorneys, Mooney & Shipman.

163D ST, 403 West; Annie W. Palmer against Marie Friedel and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. H. Williams.

135TH ST, 4 West; Herman Strauss against Emil Haas and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Rose & Putzel.

WHITE PLAINS ROAD, e s, Lot 19, Map No. 1, South Vernon Park, Cranford property, Bronx; Malinda G. Mace and others, trustees, &c., against James D. Burton and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Noble & Camp.

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH PRICES FOR STAPLES.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.73¾
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.40¾
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.29¾
Flour, Minnesota patents	$3.90
Cotton, middling	.07¾
Coffee No. 7 Rio	.07
Sugar, granulated	5.18
Molasses, O. K. prime	.36
Beef, family	12.75
Beef, hams	23.75
Tallow, prime	.04¾
Pork, mess	9.50
Hogs, dressed, 100 lb	.05¾
Lard, prime	5.60
Iron, Northern No. 1 foundry	23.00
Butter, Western creamery	.27

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Flour easy; No. 3 Spring wheat, 62½@63¾c; No. 2 red, 66¾@67½c; No. 2 corn, 30¼@30¾c; No. 2 yellow, 30½@33c; No. 2 oats, 22¾@23c; No. 2 white, 25½c; No. 3 white, 24½@25¼c; No. 2 rye, 54c; No. 2 barley, 37½@44c; No. 1 flax seed, $1.39; prime timothy seed, $2.40@2.50; mess pork, per barrel, $8.10@9.75; lard, per 100 lb, $4.90@5.25; short ribs, sides, (loose,) $4.55@5.25; dry, salted shoulders, (boxed,) 5¾@5½c; short clear sides, (boxed,) $5.25@5.35; whisky, distillers' finished goods, per gallon, $1.23½. Sugars, cut-loaf, unchanged; long contract grade, $7.75.

COTTON.—The market for cotton futures did not exhibit any special feature of interest. The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 20 points, and, while there were occasional periods of steadiness, the general trend was downward under almost total absence of speculative support. Finding the market in a somewhat heavy condition, timid holders unloaded shortly after the call, thereby adding to the depression. Room bulls for a time at the start offered feeble support, but later became indifferent. The English cables were disappointing as a whole, but were counteracted in effect by light receipts and reiterations from the South of pronounced firmness in spot markets. Southern spot markets were officially reported by wire as follows: New Orleans, 7 1-16c; Mobile, 7½c; Savannah, 7 15-16c; Charleston, 7¾c; Wilmington, 7¼c; Norfolk, 7¼c; Baltimore, 7¾c; Memphis, 7 7-16c.

Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
December	7.37	7.37	7.37	7.35@7.36
January	7.48	7.49	7.42	7.42@7.43
February	7.51	7.51	7.45	7.44@7.45
March	7.54	7.54	7.47	7.47@7.48
April	7.53	7.53	7.48

PUBLIC NOTICES.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, No. 57 Chambers Street, (Stewart Building,) New York, December 2d, 1899.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all persons who have omitted to pay their taxes for the year 1899 to pay the same to the Receiver of Taxes at his office in the Borough in which the property is located, as follows:

Borough of Manhattan, No. 57 Chambers Street, Manhattan, N. Y.;

Borough of The Bronx, corner Third and Tremont Avenues, The Bronx, N. Y.;

Borough of Brooklyn, Rooms 2, 4, 6, and 8, Municipal Building, Brooklyn, N. Y.;

Borough of Queens, corner Jackson Avenue and Fifth Street, Long Island City, N. Y.;

Borough of Richmond, Richmond Building, New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.;

before the first day of January, 1900, as provided by Section 919 of the Greater New York Charter, (Chapter 378, Laws of 1897.)

Upon any such tax remaining unpaid after the first day of December, 1899, one per centum will be charged, received, and collected in addition to the amount thereof, and upon such tax remaining unpaid on the first day of January, 1900, interest will be charged, received and collected upon the amount thereof at the rate of seven per centum per annum, to be calculated from the second day of October, 1899, on which day the assessment rolls and warrants for the taxes of 1899 were delivered to the said Receiver of Taxes, to the date of payment, pursuant to Section 916 of said act.

DAVID E. AUSTEN, Receiver of Taxes.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

BAILEY, DEBORAH ANN.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against DEBORAH ANN BAILEY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers hereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Willis Benner, 141 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 6th day of March, 1900.—Dated New York, the 6th day of September, 1899. CHARLES BENNER, WILLIAM H. BAILEY, WILLIAM E. FROST, Executors. WILLIS BENNER, Attorney for Executors, 141 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. s6-1aw6mW

BALDWIN, SUSAN T.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against SUSAN T. BALDWIN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of Jared G. Baldwin, Jr., 33 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before February 7th, 1900.—Dated New York, July 19, 1899. JARED G. BALDWIN, Executor. JARED G. BALDWIN, Jr., Attorney for Executor, 33 Wall Street, New York City. jy19-1aw6mW

BOTHNER, DOROTHEA J. E.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Dorothea J. E. Bothner, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of Hyde & Leonard, No. 141 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 28th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 31st day of August, 1899. GUSTAV O. BOTHNER, Administrator. HYDE & LEONARD, Attorneys for Administrator, 141 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. au16-1aw6mW

BURCHARD, THOMAS H.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against THOMAS H. BURCHARD, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of their attorneys, No. 31 Nassau Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 1st day of January next.—Dated New York, the 10th day of June, 1899. WILLIAM J. LEEDS, ROSWELL B. BURCHARD, Executors. VAN DUZER & TAYLOR, Attorneys for Executors, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. je21-1aw6mW

COX, ELIZA.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELIZA COX, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, No. 31 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 20th day of April next.—Dated New York, the 16th day of October, 1899. ISABELLA VACHE COX, Executrix. MARY ELIZA COX, Executrix. WM. H. HOPKINS, Attorney for Executrices, 31 Nassau St., N. Y. City. o18-1aw6mW

FRIES, JOHN CHARLES.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOHN CHARLES FRIES, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Jno Alex. Beall, their attorney, No. 150 Broadway, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the first day of May, 1900.—Dated New York, the 25th day of October, 1899. LOUISA FRIES, LOUIS A. RODENSTEIN, Executors. JNO. ALEX. BEALL, Attorney for Executors, 150 Broadway, City of New York, Borough of Manhattan. o25-1aw6mW

GLOVER, THOMAS JAMES.—The People of the State of New York by the grace of God free and independent, to Louisa T. Glover, Thomas G. Barry, Edward B. Barry, James A. Glover, Wilthe M. Reynaud, Edward A. Glover, Henry W. B. Glover, Frederick R. Glover, Louisa T. Glover, John M. Glover, Agnes Glover, and Mary Benedict, the widow, heirs, and next of kin of THOMAS JAMES GLOVER, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Louisa T. Glover of the City of New York has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing and two codicils thereto, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of Thomas James Glover, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office, in the County of New York, on the 30th day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament. And such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto [L. S.] affixed. Witness, Hon Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 30th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN, Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

T. G. BARRY, Atty. for Petitioner, 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City. n15-1aw6mW

GREMMLER, JOSEPH.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOSEPH GREMMLER, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at their place or transacting business, the office of Coleman & Donohue, No. 203 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 23d day of February, 1900.—Dated New York, the 15th day of August, 1899. CHARLES HEFS and LOUIS RUPP, Executors. COLEMAN & DONOHUE, Attorneys for Executors, 203 Broadway, N. Y. City.

HAWLEY, RAVAUD K.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against RAVAUD K. HAWLEY, late of the County of New York and State of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, No. 32 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 18th day of December, 1899.—Dated June 8th, 1899. CHAUNCEY S. TRUAX, L. DEAN HOLDEN, Executors. ROGER A. PRYOR, Attorney for Executors, No. 52 Broadway Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. je14-1aw6mW

HUME, WILLIAM H.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WILLIAM H. HUME, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of Charles E. Lydecker, No. 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the seventh day of June, 1900.—Dated New York, the 20th day of November, 1899. ELIZABETH HUME, Executrix. CHARLES E. LYDECKER, Attorney for Executrix, 120 Broadway, (Manhattan,) New York, N. Y.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF HON. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York:

Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JACOB BAIZ, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Cardozo & Nathan, their attorneys, No. 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 16th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 5th day of August, 1899.

ADOLPH PEREIRA, EMILY M. BAIZ, Executors.

CARDOZO & NATHAN, Attorneys for Executors, 120 Broadway, Manhattan Borough, New York City.

JANE REDFIELD TURNURE.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JANE REDFIELD TURNURE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of Coleman & Donohue, No. 203 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 23d day of December next.—Dated New York, the 12th day of June, 1899. LAWRENCE TURNURE, JR., JEANNIE TURNURE MALLORY, GEORGE E. TURNURE, Executors.

FABRIKIE, BURRILL & MURRAY, Attorneys for Executors, 21 Broad Street, New York. je14-1aw6mW

THE DEAF CURED FREE

next Friday, 2 and 8 P. M., at Carnegie Lyceum, 57th St. and 7th Av.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

LOGUE, ELIZABETH A. C.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELIZABETH A. C. LOGUE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, viz., the office of Darling & Jenkins, No. 206 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 31st day of March next.—Dated New York, the 25th day of September, 1899. JOHN LOGUE, Administrator. DARLING & JENKINS, Att'ys for Adm'r, 206 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, N. Y. a27-1aw6mW

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of New York, plaintiffs, against MARY L. McGILL, George W. McGill, her husband, and Minnie E. Usher, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the fourth day of October, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, and the City of New York, on the 28th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, Auctioneer, the premises in the said judgment mentioned and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land situate at Riverdale, City and County of New York, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the premises hereby intended to be described on the westerly side of Palisade Avenue at a point thirty-three feet northerly of the north line of land now, or late, of William H. Appleton, and on the northerly line of South Avenue; and running thence along the westerly line of Palisade Avenue and north seventeen degrees east four hundred and fifty-six feet to the corner of land now, or late, of Albert G. Hyde; thence along said Hyde's land at right angles to Palisade Avenue, and passing fifty feet northwardly from the northeasterly corner of the house built upon said premises, north seventy-three degrees, west three hundred and forty feet to the easterly side of an alley, thence along the easterly side of said alley, south fifteen degrees and one hundred and seventy-five feet to the northerly side of South Avenue; thence along the northerly side of South Avenue, south sixty-four degrees and fifteen minutes east, one hundred and twenty-nine feet; thence still along the north side of South Avenue, on a line parallel with and thirty-three feet distant from the aforesaid William H. Appleton's land; south ten degrees west two hundred and thirty-six feet; thence still along the north side of South Avenue on a line parallel with and thirty-three feet distant from said Appleton's land, south twenty-three degrees and forty-five minutes east, one hundred and seventy-eight feet to the place of beginning, containing two acres and five hundred and fifty-seven one-thousandths of an acre of land, be the same more or less.

Together with all the right, title, and interest of the parties of the first part, of, in, and to the streets, avenues, and alleys adjoining said premises to the centre line thereof, and also the right and privilege of passing over and through said alley above mentioned in common with the other owners of land adjacent thereto.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

DANIEL P. INGRAHAM, Referee.

DAVIES, STONE & AUERBACH, Attorneys for Plaintiff, No. 32 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $24,198.91, with interest from the 2d day of October, 1899, together with the costs and allowances amounting to $326.23, with interest from the 4th day of October, 1899, and the expenses of sale.

The approximate amount of taxes and assessments or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $475 and interest.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

DANIEL P. INGRAHAM, Referee.

d5-2aw3wT&F&D26

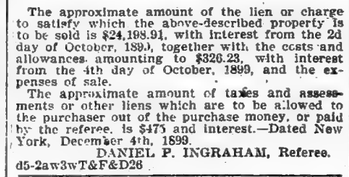
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —MARY H. MYER, as trustee of the estate of Clark L. Sharpsteen, deceased, plaintiff, against FRANK LEON SMITH and others, defendants.—Action No. 1.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the first day of December, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 27th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., Auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described, as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City, County, and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Ninety-sixth Street, distant two hundred and four feet easterly from the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Ninety-sixth Street with the easterly line of Columbus Avenue, running thence northerly and parallel with Columbus Avenue one hundred feet eleven inches to the centre line of the block between 96th and 97th Streets; thence easterly along said centre line and parallel with 96th Street 20 feet 8 inches; thence southerly and parallel with Columbus Avenue one hundred feet eleven inches through a party wall 100 feet 11 inches to the northerly side of 96th Street; thence westerly along the northerly side of 96th Street 20 feet 8 inches to the point or place of beginning. The said premises being situated in Block 1,822, in Section 4, in the Land Map of the City of New York.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

CLIFFORD W. HARTRIDGE, Referee.

JOHNSTON & JOHNSTON, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 8 and 10 Centre St., Manhattan Borough, New York City.



The street number of said premises is 49 (old No. 57) West 96th Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $22,225.00, with interest thereon from the 1st day of December, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $334.66, with interest thereon from December 1st, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $2,048.21 and interest.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

CLIFFORD W. HARTRIDGE, Referee.

d6-2aw3wW&F&d27

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—WILLIAM G. CRANE, plaintiff, against HENRY M. TOSTEVIN and others, defendants.

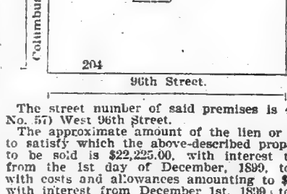
In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the thirtieth day of October, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the sixth day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Bryan L. Kennelly, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon, situate, lying, and being in the City, County, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Grand Street distant seventy-five feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of Grand Street with the westerly side of Wooster Street; running thence northerly parallel with Wooster Street one hundred feet; thence westerly parallel with Grand Street twenty-five feet; thence southerly parallel with Wooster Street and part of the distance through a party wall one hundred feet to Grand Street; thence easterly along Grand Street twenty-five feet to the point or place of beginning. The above-described premises lie in Section 2, Block 475, on the land map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, November 3, 1899.

MYRON H. OPPENHEIM, Referee.

LYON & SMITH, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 34 Nassau St., New York city.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $7,855.52-100, with interest thereon from 13th day of October, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $305.28-100, with interest from November 9, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee, is $1,823.51-100 and interest. The premises will be sold subject to a first mortgage for $54,000 and interest thereon from February 1, 1899, at five per cent.

Dated New York, November 9, 1899.

MYRON H. OPPENHEIM, Referee.

REFEREES' NOTICES.

NOS. — EAST 94TH STREET.—New York Supreme Court, County of New York.—AMERICAN MORTGAGE COMPANY, plaintiff, against MICHAEL M. KEEHN et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 11th day of December, 1899, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises described in said judgment as follows, viz.:

All that certain piece or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, bounded and described as follows:

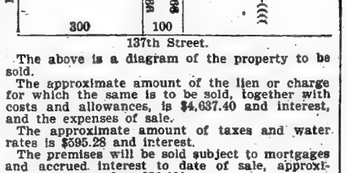
Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Ninety-fourth Street distant two hundred and seventy-five feet easterly from the northeasterly corner of Third Avenue and Ninety-fourth Street, running thence northerly and parallel with Third Avenue ninety-eight feet eight and one-half inches; thence on a southeasterly line about ten feet and six inches to a point distant eighty-eight feet eight and one-half inches northerly from the northerly line of Ninety-fourth Street; thence northerly, parallel with Third Avenue, twelve feet; thence easterly and parallel with Ninety-fourth Street thirty-nine feet and six inches; thence southerly and parallel with Third Avenue one hundred feet eight and one-half inches to the northerly side of Ninety-fourth Street; and thence westerly along the northerly side of Ninety-fourth Street, forty-nine feet and six inches, to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, November 18th, 1899.

EDWIN BALDWIN, Referee.

BOWERS & SANDS, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

The following is a diagram of the property referred to in the foregoing notice of sale:



The approximate aggregate amount of the plaintiff's lien upon the premises, with interest, costs, and disbursements, is $10,790.98, and of taxes, assessments, and water rates, $200.91.

EDWIN BALDWIN, Referee.

BOWERS & SANDS, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

n29-2aw3wM&W&d11

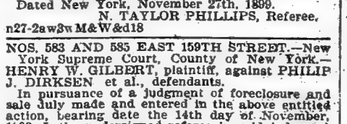
SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—WILLIAM T. HOOKEY, plaintiff, against WILLIAM R. KITCHEN et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, bearing date the 24th day of November, 1899, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesrooms, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 19th day of December 1899, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by Herbert A. Sherman, auctioneer, the premises in said judgment mentioned and therein described as follows: All those four certain lots of land situated on the northerly side of 137th Street, distant three hundred feet easterly from the northeasterly corner of Lenox Avenue and 137th Street, and running thence northerly and parallel with Lenox Avenue ninety-nine feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between 137th and 138th Streets; thence easterly along said centre line of the block one hundred feet; thence southerly and parallel with Lenox Avenue ninety-nine feet and eleven inches to the northerly side of 137th Street, and thence westerly along the northerly side of 137th Street one hundred feet to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, November 27th, 1899.

N. TAYLOR PHILLIPS, Referee.

PHILLIPS & AVERY, Plaintiff's Attorneys, 154 Nassau Street, Manhattan, New York City.



The above is a diagram of the property to be sold.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge for which the same is to be sold, together with costs and allowances, is $4,637.40 and interest, and the expenses of sale.

The approximate amount of taxes and water rates is $595.28 and interest.

The premises will be sold subject to mortgages and accrued interest to date of sale, approximately aggregating $56,100.

Dated New York, November 27th, 1899.

N. TAYLOR PHILLIPS, Referee.

n27-2aw3w M&W&d18

NOS. 583 AND 585 EAST 159TH STREET.—New York Supreme Court, County of New York.—HENRY W. GILBERT, plaintiff, against PHILIP J. DIRKSEN et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action, bearing date the 14th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Wednesday, the 6th day of December, 1899, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, Auctioneer, the premises described in said judgment as follows:

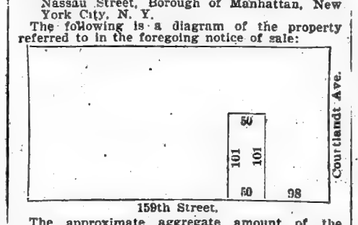
All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, with the building thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the Borough of the Bronx, in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a point on the northerly side of One Hundred and Fifty-ninth (159th) Street, distant ninety-eight (98) feet westerly from the northwesterly corner of said One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street and Courtlandt Avenue; thence running northerly parallel with Courtlandt Avenue, one hundred and one (101) feet; thence westerly, parallel with One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, fifty (50) feet; thence southerly again parallel with Courtlandt Avenue, one hundred and one (101) feet to the northerly side of One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, and thence easterly along said side of One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, fifty (50) feet, to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, November 14th, 1899.

MORRIS CUKOR, Referee.

BOWERS & SANDS, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

The following is a diagram of the property referred to in the foregoing notice of sale:



The approximate aggregate amount of the plaintiff's lien upon the premises, with interest, costs and disbursements, is $3,949.56, and of taxes, assessments and water rates $162.18. The approximate aggregate amount of prior liens upon the premises, with interest, is $19,805.

BOWERS & SANDS, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

MORRIS CUKOR, Referee.

n15-2aw3wW&S&d6

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW York, County of New York—Place of Trial.—ERNEST EHRMANN, Plaintiff, against DANIEL J. MURPHY and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the twenty-ninth day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on the 27th day of December, 1899, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by Philip A. Smyth, Esq., auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that plot of land in the City and County of New York, bounded and described as follows:

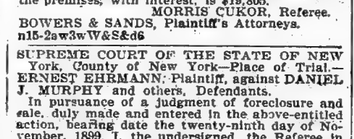
Beginning at a point in the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Street, distant one hundred (100) feet westerly from the intersection of the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Street and the westerly side of Amsterdam Avenue, and running thence southerly, parallel with Amsterdam Avenue, one hundred and sixty-one (161) feet six (6) inches, more or less, to land late of Bogardus, deceased; thence westerly along said land one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet; thence northerly, parallel with Amsterdam Avenue, one hundred and sixty-one (161) feet, more or less, to the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Street; and thence easterly along the southerly side of One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Street one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet to the point of beginning; said premises being those which were conveyed to the said Daniel J. Murphy by the said Ernst-Marx-Nathan Company.

Dated New York, December 1st, 1899.

JOHN PROCTOR CLARKE, Referee.

LACHMAN & GOLDSMITH, Attorneys for Plaintiff, No. 35 Nassau Street, New York City, Borough of Manhattan.

The following is a diagram of the premises referred to in the foregoing notice of sale:



The approximate total amount of the liens or charges to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $84,529.27, with interest thereon from the 21st day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowance, amounting to $390.43, with interest from the 29th day of November, 1899, together with the expenses of sale.

The approximate amount of taxes and assessments is $1,511.02, with interest, the amount of the water rent for 1899, which is not fixed, not being included herein; such sums to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the Referee.

JOHN PROCTOR CLARKE, Referee.

d6-2aw3wW&S&d27

REFEREES' NOTICES.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff, against LURY ANN MOORE, Carl Gutmann, and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 16th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 14th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, Auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Park Avenue, distant one hundred and seventeen feet five and one-half inches northerly from the corner formed by the intersection of said easterly side of Park Avenue with the northerly side of Ninety-second Street; running thence easterly parallel with Ninety-second Street, and part of the distance through a party wall, eighty feet; thence northerly parallel with Park Avenue, sixteen feet nine inches; thence westerly again parallel with Ninety-second Street, eighty feet to the easterly side of Park Avenue; thence southerly along said easterly side of Park Avenue sixteen feet ten inches to the point or place of beginning.

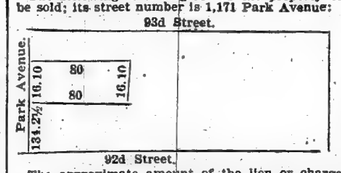
The premises above described are situated in Section 5, Block 1,521, upon the land map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, November 21st, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff in Person, 18 Wall Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 1,171 Park Avenue:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $13,433.33, with interest thereon from the 10th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowances, amounting to $406.83, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $255 and interest.

Dated New York, 23st day of November, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

n22-2aw3wW&F&d14

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—GEORGE S. HAMLIN, plaintiff, against LURY ANN MOORE, GEORGE SCHAETTLER, and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 16th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 14th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Park Avenue, distant one hundred and seventeen feet five and one-half inches northerly from the corner formed by the intersection of said easterly side of Park Avenue with the northerly side of Ninety-second Street; running thence easterly parallel with Ninety-second Street, and part of the distance through a party wall, eighty feet; thence northerly parallel with Park Avenue, sixteen feet nine inches; thence westerly again parallel with Ninety-second Street, eighty feet to the easterly side of Park Avenue; thence southerly along said easterly side of Park Avenue sixteen feet ten inches to the point or place of beginning.

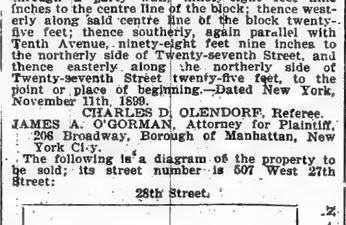
The premises above described are situated in Section 5, Block 1,521, upon the land map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, November 21st, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff in Person, 18 Wall Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 1,171 Park Avenue:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $13,433.33, with interest thereon from the 10th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowance, amounting to $406.83, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $255 and interest.

Dated New York, 21st day of November, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

n22-2aw3wW&F&d14

507 WEST 27TH STREET.—Supreme Court, County of New York.—MARY CONLON, plaintiff, against LAURIDS C. SORENSEN et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date 11th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 14th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Twenty-seventh Street distant one hundred and twenty-five feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of Twenty-seventh Street with the westerly side of Tenth Avenue; running thence northerly, parallel with Tenth Avenue, and part of the way through a party wall, eighty-eight feet nine inches to the centre line of the block; thence westerly along said centre line of the block twenty-five feet; thence southerly, again parallel with Tenth Avenue, ninety-eight feet nine inches to the northerly side of Twenty-seventh Street, and thence easterly along the northerly side of Twenty-seventh Street twenty-five feet, to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, November 11th, 1899.

CHARLES D. OLENDORF, Referee.

JAMES A. O'GORMAN, Attorney for Plaintiff, 206 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 507 West 27th Street:

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $8,704.25, with interest from 9th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $291.07, with interest from 9th day of November, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $255 and interest.

Dated New York, 23st day of November, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

n22-2aw3wW&F&d14

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY of the City of New York, as guardian, &c., plaintiff, against JOSEPH K. E. POYNTON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the twenty-second day of November, 1899, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the twenty-fourth day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the twenty-fifth day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

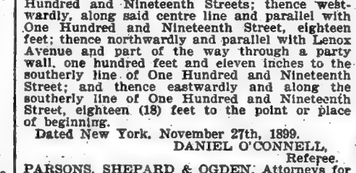
All that certain lot of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street distant three hundred and seven feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street with the westerly line of Lenox Avenue, running thence southwardly and parallel with Lenox Avenue and part of the way through a party wall one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Eighteenth and One Hundred and Nineteenth Streets; thence westwardly along said centre line and parallel with One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighteen (18) feet; thence northwardly and parallel with Lenox Avenue one hundred feet and eleven inches to the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street, and thence eastwardly and along the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighteen (18) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, November 27, 1899.

DANIEL O'CONNELL, Referee.

PARSONS, SHEPARD & OGDEN, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 111 Broadway, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold is $15,712.50 with interest thereon from the 13th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $227.06 with interest from the 24th day of November, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $370.30 and interest.

Dated New York, November 29, 1899.

DANIEL O'CONNELL, Referee.

n29-2aw3wW&S&d20

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, as trustee

Silks.

15,000 yards Printed Foulards,—24 inches wide,—medium shades, black and white, or colored figures on white grounds, 55 cents per yard;
Former price $1.00.

Lengths, suitable for separate waists or skirts, of various colored and black novelty silks.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Ostrich Feather Boas.

GRAY.

45 inches long, - $9.25.
54 inches long, - $11.25;
Value $13.50.

BLACK.

45 inches long, - - $7.75.
54 inches long, - $8.75;
Value $11.50.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Silk Lined Overcoats,

cut and made on the lines of the costliest made to order coats.

Kerseys, $24.

Meltons & Soft Cheviots, $25.

Elysians, Kerseys and Soft Cheviots, $30.

Montagnacs & Soft Cheviots, $35.

Carr's Meltons, $40.

Kerseys and Vicunas, $40.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

Three BROADWAY Stores. | Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers.

TUNNELS AGAINST BRIDGES

Advocates of the Latter Control the Board of Estimate.

MR. COLER PROTESTS IN VAIN

The Controller Argues on Grounds of Economy and Utility, but the Mayor Has the Votes.

Mayor Van Wyck and Controller Coler had a lively tilt at the meeting of the Board of Estimate yesterday over a suggestion made by the Controller to delay action in issuing bonds for the two proposed bridges over the East River until the question of the advisability of constructing tunnels in lieu of bridges could be thoroughly investigated and discussed. The Mayor opposed the Controller's suggestion and impugned Mr. Coler's motives, and succeeded finally in having the pending bond issue passed. It was immediately sent to the Council, where, after Mr. Oakley, the Tammany leader, had said, "The Mayor wants this put through to-day," it was adopted.

Mr. Coler has all along favored the construction of tunnels on the grounds of economy and better service. He had discussed the matter with the Mayor, and the latter, realizing that the Controller would have expert opinions on the subject to back up his argument, determined to be reinforced in a similar way. So he sent to Chief Engineer Probasco of the Department of Bridges, C. C. Martin, chief engineer of the Brooklyn Bridge, and Chief Engineer Buck of the new East River Bridge, ordering them to prepare reports on the tunnel scheme. Consequently, when the subject was taken up by the Board of Estimate yesterday, both sides were prepared for the fray.

The matter came up on the introduction of a resolution authorizing a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the preliminary work on the proposed Manhattan-Brooklyn Bridge and another of the same amount for the projected Manhattan-Queens Bridge. When this resolution was read, Mr. Coler submitted a report, in which he urged delay for two reasons, which he set forth as follows: "First, because the application is premature and no real saving of time can be gained by acting thereon at this meeting; and, second, because I believe that a much speedier, better, more economical, and more efficacious method exists for solving the problem of intercommunication between the several boroughs of the city than by the building of these bridges." In speaking of the advantages of tunnel building over bridge building Mr. Coler said:

"The general public is, I believe, wholly uninformed as to the extent to which the former has supplanted the latter in England as a means of crossing navigable streams. Only the few who have actually traveled in the tunnels under the Thames and the Mersey realize the enormous advantages of this means of transportation.

AN EXAMPLE NEAR HOME.

"To cite an example nearer home, however, it will doubtless surprise most people to learn that the tunnel under the East River, constructed by the East River Gas Company, is ten and a half feet in diameter, which is four inches more than that of the City and South London tunnel now in daily use for transportation purposes in the City of London. The East River Gas Tunnel, besides holding the large mains of the company, contains a railroad track regularly used by freight cars. This tunnel could be duplicated to-day for considerably less than $500,000, or, say, between $800,000 and $900,000 for two such tunnels, one for east-bound and one for west-bound trains.

"The Long Island Railroad Company has recently made application for permission to construct at its own expense, for general railway purposes, a tunnel under the East River, owing to its great length, especially in the Borough of Brooklyn, a comparison cannot fairly be made between its cost and the cost of either tunnels or bridges which merely serve to connect the river fronts of the two boroughs. Nevertheless, the cost of this tunnel throughout its entire length will only be between five and six millions of dollars. This is about one-third of the cost of one of the proposed bridges.

"Tunnels can be constructed much quicker than bridges. In the actual work of constructing the East River gas tunnel it was found possible to advance 100 feet per week. At this rate, working from both ends, it would be possible to construct one mile of tunnel in six months, and it seems reasonably certain that a tunnel between Manhattan and Brooklyn or Manhattan and Queens could be ready for operation within two years from the letting of the contract.

"Bridges over the East River at a height of 155 or 160 feet require long approaches, for which enormously expensive pieces of private property must be acquired by purchase or by condemnation proceedings. Tunnels can be constructed wholly within the lines of city streets, and interfere scarcely at all with vested property rights.

ACCOMMODATION OF TRAVEL.

"The greatest advantage of tunnels over bridges, however, is, in my judgment, yet to be stated. Tunnels can be constructed in practically any locality, and can therefore be planned to run to and from such points as will best serve the natural tide of travel. Bridges, on the contrary, must be constructed at the arbitrary locations necessitated by the topography of the city and the configuration of the river. It is at least an open question whether the new bridge planned between the boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn will accommodate travel to and from the most necessary points. It will doubtless serve to relieve the pressure on the old Brooklyn Bridge, but to some extent its purposes and results will duplicate those of that structure. The needs of the most rapidly growing district in Kings County—South Brooklyn—will not be met at all.

"In offering these remarks it is far from my intention to criticise the action of the Bridge Department, which, I understand, could scarcely have acted otherwise than it has in the preparation of these plans, since a bridge to relieve South Brooklyn was, in view of the engineering and financial difficulties, a practical impossibility. A tunnel to the South Brooklyn district, however, is entirely feasible.

"If this $30,000,000 were to be spent in tunnels, from four to six times as many passengers could be carried as the two proposed bridges would accommodate, the tunnels would be ready for use long before the bridges, the people would be carried to and from the places where and whence they wanted to go, and not deposited in inaccessible localities, and the present congested condition of the principal thoroughfares of Brooklyn would be relieved. In all probability much less than $30,000,000 would accomplish this result. But if, on the other hand, this $30,000,000, being the last dollars that the city now has to spend for any purpose, be largely wasted on two bridges, which admittedly will not satisfy the demands of the people of Brooklyn, the Treasury will be exhausted and the city rendered helpless to afford any further improvement in transit facilities."

REPORTS OF THE ENGINEERS.

Mr. Coler then offered a resolution calling upon the Board of Public Improvements to investigate the relative merits of bridges and tunnels and their comparative cost, and to report to the Board of Estimate within thirty days.

In connection with his own report the Controller submitted reports made to him by William Barclay Parsons, engineer of the Rapid Transit Commission, and Jacobs & Davies, who built the tunnel under the East River used by the New Amsterdam Gas Company. The latter firm declared that a double-track tunnel to carry the same number of passengers as could be carried on the Manhattan-Queens Bridge could be constructed for $1,900,000, whereas that bridge will cost $13,000,000, and another tunnel, to cost $2,250,000, could take the place of the Manhattan-Brooklyn Bridge, which will cost $15,000,000. They suggested, in place of both bridges, four east and west tunnels, as follows:

1. From West Street, along and below Canal, Sullivan, and Grand Streets, to and below the East River to Kent Avenue and under that Street to Flushing Avenue, near Wallabout Market. This line would be three and one-half miles long and cost $7,750,000, complete with stations.

2. Crossing Fourteenth Street from the North River to and under the East River to and under North Ninth Street, Brooklyn, with terminus at Union Avenue, a total length of three and one-half miles, and cost $4,850,000.

3. Crossing from west to east on Fifty-seventh Street and under Blackwell's Island and streets of Long Island City to a point of connection at Jackson Avenue with surface and Long Island Railroad lines. Distance, three miles; cost, $4,700,000.

4. From Eleventh Avenue, under Manhattan Avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, under the Harlem River and Randall's Island, Sunken Meadow, and East River to Astoria, so as to connect with surface lines to be built on old Bowery Road. Distance, 3½ miles; cost, $5,250,000.

All of these tunnels, as suggested by Jacobs & Davie, would have street connections at necessary points. They also pointed out the advantages the construction of these tunnels would present in connection with the rapid transit system.

Mr. Parsons, in his report, said that tunnels would be more economical in cost of construction and in cost of maintenance than bridges. Tunnels, he pointed out, would require no purchase of expensive land for approaches, and would thus avoid the withdrawal of valuable real estate from taxation.

When these reports had been read, the Mayor called for a report from Chief Engineer Martin, who said that the construction of tunnels would entail a great expense for approaches; the stations would be 100 feet under ground and would require the construction of elevators, which would make necessary the destruction of costly buildings. Mr. Buck's report, which was also in favor of bridges, was to the effect that subaqueous tunnels would be expensive experiments and that they would be damp and practically inaccessible to team traffic and could be useful only to railroads on Long Island.

THE MAYOR ATTACKS MR. COLER.

"About a year ago," said the Mayor, "this board by unanimous vote committed itself to the building of these two bridges, and that included the vote of the Controller, the only elective officer on this board from the Borough of Brooklyn, and we certainly thought his vote was sincere. If he desires to retrace his steps and walk backward, there is nothing here to show why we should do so. We should carry out our pledges that we made to the people, and this board stands committed to the building of these two bridges and to the construction of underground rapid transit in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, and has no right to retrace its steps.

"When this board adopts a resolution it should be known to the people of New York that it means it and it is going to stand by it, regardless of any outside influence. These tunnels are only to accommodate the railroads, and if the Long Island Railroad and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit are opposed to the building of these bridges and want the tunnels, let them build them. We appropriated $50,000 a year ago for the preliminary expenses of those bridges. I didn't go to the Long Island Railroad Company for my information."

"I am very anxious to have this matter of intercommunication among the boroughs settled," said the Controller, "and I think the tunnel scheme is the best."

"Why not have both bridge and tunnels?" President Guggenheimer inquired.

"If we had the money it would be all right," the Controller replied.

"Why don't the Long Island Railroad build its own tunnel?" Mr. Guggenheimer asked.

"It never will if the city can be induced to build it," the Mayor answered.

"There's no use making these appropriations now," Mr. Coler suggested. "The War Department has first to approve the plans."

"Oh! I suppose you'll go to Washington now and get the War Department to disapprove the plans," the Mayor said.

The Controller paid no attention to this thrust. Mr. Coler's resolution was defeated, and the bond resolutions were adopted by a vote of 4 to 1 in each case.

TAX ON RAILROAD FRANCHISES.

Board of Estimate Raises the Rates Fixed by the Municipal Assembly.

The Board of Estimate yesterday fixed the compensation to be paid by the Metropolitan Street Railway and Third Avenue Railroad Companies for the franchises to be granted to the King's Bridge Railway and the Fort George and Eleventh Avenue Railroad. According to the resolution fixing this compensation, the companies must pay to the city annually 4 per cent. of the gross receipts of the two lines for the first five years, 6 per cent. for the second five years, 8 per cent. for the third five years, and 10 per cent. for the remaining years of operation. The resolutions granting the franchises on these terms now go to the Municipal Assembly for concurrence.

When the applications for the franchises were made to the Municipal Assembly last Summer, that body recommended that the minimum rate of 3 per cent. of the gross earnings for the first five years and 5 per cent. for the remainder of the term be adopted as the compensation of the city. The proposed franchises are for twenty-five years, at the end of which time they are to be reappraised. A second term of twenty-five years under the new valuation is permitted, and then the franchises revert to the city.

Edward Lauterbach appeared yesterday for the railroad companies. He said that the compensation demanded was too great, and that if enforced it might prevent the construction of the roads.

"Didn't you bid 38 per cent. for this franchise once?" asked the Controller, referring to the franchise asked for by the Third Avenue Railroad Company.

"Yes," said Mr. Lauterbach, "but there was no intention of paying it. The Metropolitan bid more than we did."

"The Third Avenue doesn't pay the city anything now, does it?" the Controller inquired.

"No," said Mr. Lauterbach, "but we have an iniquitous franchise tax, and we can't tell what we'll have to pay."

The companies have divided the territory between them. Their cars will run on the same tracks on upper Broadway, but the Metropolitan will go only to One Hundred and Seventy-first Street, while the Third Avenue will go to Yonkers, and must transfer to the Metropolitan and Third Avenue cars down town for one fare.

MAY BID FOR TUNNEL ROAD.

The National Street Railway Construction Company Is Making Examinations and Estimates.

It was announced yesterday that a bid for the construction and operation of the underground rapid transit railroad probably will be submitted by the National Street Railroad Construction Company, a corporation organized some time ago with that special object in view. The corporation has now a capital stock of only $5,000, but has the privilege of increasing it should it be decided to enter the competition for the tunnel railroad contest.

H. M. Littell, who has an office in the banking house of J. & W. Seligman & Co. and has been employed by that house as an expert in railroad matters, is the representative of the capitalists who are behind the National Street Railway Construction Company. He has had large experience in street railway construction and operation, having been connected at various times with the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, the Nassau Railroad Company of Brooklyn, and railway companies in Louisville and New Orleans. He declined yesterday to disclose the names of his principals. In regard to their plans he said:

"We have been anxious to avoid the publication of anything about the company's intentions. However, I may say that certain men of wealth who are behind the company have asked me to take charge of the matter of fully investigating the question of making a bid for the construction of the tunnel. We now have engineers at work making examinations and estimates, and it is not unlikely that we shall make a bid."

One of the men interested in the company is James P. McQuaide, Treasurer of the National Conduit and Cable Company of this city. This company manufactures electric cables such as would be used in the transmission of the current for the operation of the underground trains, and Mr. McQuaide has been figuring on the cost of this feature of the equipment of the tunnel.

From the fact of Mr. Littell's association with J. & W. Seligman & Co. it was surmised in some quarters that this banking house would furnish the financial support for the proposed bid. This was denied yesterday on the authority of the house.

HID HER MONEY WHILE ASLEEP.

Mrs. Mary Coleman of 512 Jersey Avenue, Jersey City, asked Chief of Police Murphy last Sunday to find a one-thousand-dollar gold certificate she had lost. It was part of her late husband's life insurance policy of $1,900, which had been paid to her on Saturday. Only the certificate had disappeared from a bureau drawer, in which all the money had been placed.

Detective Doyle, after making a profitless search, said to Mrs. Coleman:

"I think you have risen in your sleep, taken the note from the bureau, and hidden it somewhere else. Try to-night if you can't dream where you put it."

Mrs. Coleman again called on Chief Murphy yesterday.

"I did as Mr. Doyle told me," she said. "I went to sleep thinking of the note. I dreamed that I had put it under a corner of the carpet in the front room, and there I found it this morning."

Thanking the Chief for his congratulations, Mrs. Coleman left the station to carry out his suggestion to put the money in a savings bank.

TROPHY FOR THE SIXTY-NINTH.

A handsome bronze trophy was presented to the Sixty-ninth Regiment last night by Edward Kemp. Preliminary to the presentation the regiment was reviewed by Brig. Gen. George Moore Smith. Major Putnam Bradlee Strong, who saw service in the Philippines, was on Gen. Moore's staff.

The trophy is a bronze group and about 3 feet in height. It is called "Defense of the Flag." Mr. Kemp presented many trophies to the Seventh Regiment after its return from the civil war, but as it did not go to the front in the Spanish war he transferred his affection to the Sixty-ninth.

During the evening Lieut. Col. John L. Donovan of the regular army, and a former officer of the Sixty-ninth, entered the armory. He was wounded in the Philippines, and walks with the aid of crutches. His appearance was the signal for a tremendous demonstration on the part of the regiment and the great crowd of spectators.

Besides being so effective with the worst colds, another good feature is that it is safe for the tenderest infant—JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.—Adv.

The slightest rubbing shows on a very fine rough overcoat; so when it comes to a daily battle with the sharp edges of life, the old standby, kersey, steps into the breach, best fitted to bear the brunt — a good brushing removes all trace of the encounter.

A smooth, closely woven fabric, with a glossy finish; in blue, black, brown, Oxford.

All the other good kinds, rough or smooth; $15 to $55.

ROGERS, PEET & Co.

350 Broadway, cor. Leonard.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
Thirty-second and Broadway.

Registered Trade Mark.

For Holiday Gifts

Table Cloths and Napkins

Put up in Boxes bearing the Seal of

"The Linen Store."

The most notable productions in design and workmanship of Irish, Scotch, Barnsley, Flemish, French, German and Austrian manufacturers. Cloths to suit any table. We quote for a popular size. Cloth, 2x2½ yards, with 1 doz. Dinner Napkins to match, at $4.75, 5.75, 6.75, 7.75, 8.50, 10.00, 12.00, 15.00, 16.50, 18.00, 20.50 and upwards.

James McCutcheon & Co.
14 West 23d Street, N. Y.

FURS.

SCARFS.
Alaska Sable,—8 tails, $5.00 to $10.00

Mink,—8 tails, $10.50 to $15.00

Blue Lynx,—full close fur with cluster of 8 tails, $18.00

Sable Fox,—with head and brush, $11.00 to $18.00

COLLARETTES.
Electric Seal with Sable collar and tails, $8.00 to $20.00

Various furs with high storm collars, $8.00 to $45.00

COATS.
Near Seal,—box front, storm collar, $42.50 to $45.00

Near Seal,—with Alaska Sable, Persian Lamb, or Stone Marten collar, $55.00

MUFFS.
Alaska Sable . $7.50 to $10
Persian Lamb . $9.00 " $15

THIS SALE INCLUDES THE PURCHASE OF A MANUFACTURER'S STOCK; AND THE PRICES ARE ONE-THIRD LESS THAN WHOLESALE FIGURES.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

What Christmas Bells Say.

Just as Whittington heard the bells of London, we can hear the coming Christmas chimes saying:

"Give, give!—give to please!
—give to please for years to come!"

You cannot help obeying, if you choose gifts here. For instance, an Oriental Rug pleases any one who has a room he calls his own, and our furniture gathers fascination and richness, as a rock gathers lichens. Moreover, by beauty of design and workmanship, it is invested with a charm far more subtle and intimate than any other form of art, because no other is so closely connected with one's daily life.

Every style to suit every taste, at only factory prices, as you

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

Geo. C. Flint Co.
43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

EARL & WILSON'S

Trade E & W Mark

Dress Shirts

Are the Best.

PERFECT

in every detail.

CORRECT IN FIT.

Sale of Dress Lengths.

To-day, December 6th.

IN THE BASEMENT.

500 Dress Patterns, all wool Venetian Twill,—dark colors, $3.00 each.

800 Dress Patterns,—Rough Cheviots in mixtures of Gray, Brown, Olive, Blue and Garnet, $3.25 each.

1,000 Dress Patterns,—imported silk and wool Plaids, $3.50 each.

Dress Patterns,—fine wool, Melton Mixed Cloth, — 54 inches wide, $4.50 each.

Waist Lengths,—corded silk and wool Plaids in Scotch and other bright color combinations, $1.00 per waist length.

Dress Patterns of Cheviot, Serge, Henrietta, Drap d'Eté, Homespun, Camel's Hair, striped, checked and fine novelty materials,—the remainder of this season's stock, 50, 75, 95 cents per yard.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

SALE OF UMBRELLAS.

1,000 Men's 28-inch and Women's 26-inch.

Made of pure twill silk, with paragon frame and steel rod. 28 inch are all Black. The 26 inch are Black, Navy, Garnet and Myrtle.

Handles:—Sterling silver,—silver mounted horns and ivories, and finest selected English furze and boxwood.

Prince of Wales, Opera and Princess shapes with wide hand loop and tassel and silver monogram plate, $1.95 Each;
Value $3.00 and $3.50

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

Handkerchiefs

For Men and Women.

Initial Handkerchiefs, all linen, half dozen in box,

25c., 35c., 50c. Each.
$1.45, $2.00, $2.95 Box.

All linen, plain hemstitched, all-width hem,

12½c. to $1.00 Each.

Women's Embroidered Hemstitched, scalloped, and Lace trimmed Handkerchiefs,

25c. Each up.

Women's Initial Handkerchiefs, all linen, half dozen in box,

75c.

Daniell's, Broadway, 8 & 9 Sts.

ARMY SURGEONS SEEK RELIEF.

Acting Assistants Organise for Bettering Their Contracts.

At a meeting of active and retired Acting Assistant Surgeons of the United States Army, held in the Seventh Regiment Armory yesterday for the purpose of formulating a plan to obtain from the Government certain privileges and payments claimed to be due them, a permanent organization was formed under the title of The Association of the Acting Assistant Surgeons of the United States Army in the Spanish War. Dr. Arzel Ames of Massachusetts, who led the movement, was elected President. The other officers chosen are: Vice Presidents—Drs. Timothy Leary, A. R. Jarrett, and T. B. Buffons; Secretary—Dr. J. P. Warbosse; Historian—Dr. W. S. Terriberry; Treasurer—Dr. Charles M. Brewer.

The relief to be sought at the present session of Congress is to give to each the assimilated rank, pay, and emolument of a First Lieutenant, (staff;) full payment for properly granted leaves of absence; commutation of quarters when Government quarters are not found; mileage and travel pay; same rights and eligibility to pensions and to land and other emoluments that attach to Assistant Surgeons of the United States regular or volunteer army; same allowance of extra pay that was given to officers and men of the United States volunteers in the late war, and preference for appointment over those who have not had previous service in the Medical Corps of the army and navy, and the Marine Hospital Corps of the United States.

The association is also intended to be a social and patriotic league to keep alive the memory of the conspicuous services rendered by volunteer medical men in the war against Spain. The present complaints are due to the contracts under which the Acting Assistant Surgeons went into the army.

When the time came to draw pay it was announced by the Treasury officials that the salaries of Acting Assistant Surgeons were affected only by the act of Congress that provided for them the amount of $150 per month; that they were not entitled to extra pay provided by Congress for volunteer officers and enlisted men because they were attached to no regular regiments. It appeared after the war that these officers were neither regulars nor volunteers, and the contracts and subsidiary agreements with the Surgeon General's department were practically annulled.

Book News. | Book News.

O'Neill's.

BOOKS! BOOKS!

The largest and best selected stock of the new Holiday Books in New York—Books for the young, Books for the old.

Books of Fiction, Poetry, Travel, Biography, History, Religious Books, Cook Books, Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Bibles, Hymnals, Prayer Books, etc.

A Few Popular Books and Their Prices:

Vanity Fair, Becky Sharp Edition	1.88	Mr. Dooley in the Heart of His Country	88c
Modern Daughters, by Alexander Black.	1.88	The Orange Girl, by W. Besant	1.08
The Grandissimes, by G. W. Cable	4.98	The Land of the Long Night, by Du Chaillu	1.44
More Colonial Homesteads, by Marion Harland	2.25	The Black Wolf's Breed, by H. Dickson	1.08
Cupid and the Foot Lights, by James L. Ford	1.08	The Foreigner, by B. Harraden	1.08
The Square Book of Animals	1.08	That Fortune, by Charles D. Warner	1.08
The Education of Mr. Pipp, by C. D. Gibson	3.61	Old Chester Tales, by M. Deland	1.08
The Letters of Robert L. Stevenson, 2 vols.	4.75	The Market Place, by H. Frederic	1.08
Hugh Wynne, 2 volumes, illustrated	3.61	Prisoners of Hope, by M. Johnston	1.08
The Golden Ages, by Graham	1.88	Red Pottage, by M. Cholmondeley	1.08
Among English Hedgerows, by Clifton Johnson	1.85	The Many Sided Franklin, by Ford	2.25
When Knighthood Was in Flower	95c	Oom Paul's People	1.08
		The Martyrdom of an Empress	1.88
		The King's Mirror, by Hope.	1.08

Some Very Special Bargains for This Week's Selling!

Drawings by Granville Smith. Publisher's price 5.00	2.98	A Garrison Tangle, by Capt. King. Publishes price 1.25	48c
Drawings by Hulstrup. Publisher's price 5.00.	2.98	Trumpeter Fred, by Capt. King. Publishes price 1.25	48c
Drawings by Johnson. Publisher's price 5.00	2.98	The Hall of Pains, by Parker. Publisher's price 50c.	18c
Lest We Forget—selected Art Centres from Truth. Publisher's price 5.00	2.98	In His Steps, by Sheldon. Publisher's price 50c	25c
An Army Wife, by Capt. King. Publisher's price 1.25	48c	The Little Minister. Publisher's price 75c.	35c
Fort Frayne, by Capt. King. Publisher's price 1.25	48c	Cheap Book Stories. Publisher's price 1.25	35c
		Catalogue of all the new Holiday Books upon application.

Special Attention and Liberal Discount Given to the Clergy and Sunday School Committees
MAIL ORDERS RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st St.

A Great Tonic.
Horsford's Acid Phosphate
Invigorates and strengthens the system, relieves nervousness and headache, and creates a good appetite.
Genuine bears name HORSFORD'S on wrapper.

AMUSEMENTS.

CARNEGIE HALL.
Boston Symphony Orchestra — Wed. aft., Dec. 13, at 2:30. Programme: BEETHOVEN, Overture, "Egmont"; DVORAK, Concerto for violoncello; BERLIOZ, three movements from "Romeo and Juliet"; LISZT, Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Soloists: Mr. ALWIN SCHROEDER. Thurs. Evg., Dec. 14, at 8:15. Programme: MENDELSSOHN, Overture to the Legend of "The Fair Melusina," Op. 32; LOEFFLER, Concerto for violin; "Nights in the Ukrain," (first time;) R. STRAUSS, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," Op. 28; BEETHOVEN, Symphony No. 2, in D major, Op. 36. Soloist, Mr. Gericke / Schroeder / Kneisel — Mr. FRANZ KNEISEL.
Tickets $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and at Tyson's (Fifth Avenue Hotel) at regular prices. Admission, 50 cents.

MUSICAL ART SOCIETY
SEVENTH SEASON.
Two Concerts—Dec. 21 and March 15.
FRANK DAMROSCH.....Director
CHORUS OF 60 ARTISTS.
Works by PALESTRINA, CORNELIUS, BRAHMS, &c.
Subscription tickets now on sale at SCHUBERTH'S, 23 UNION SQUARE

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St.....at 8:15
Daniel Frohman.....Manager
Matinées WED. and SAT.
TO-DAY, 2. | DANIEL FROHMAN'S STOCK COMPANY, FIRST ANNUAL SEASON at this theatre, HENRY ARTHUR JONES'S COMEDY,
The Maneuvers of Jane

LYCEUM. 4th Av. & 23d.....at 8:30
Daniel Frohman.....Manager
Matinées Thursday & Sat., 2.
FOURTH MONTH.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
Annie Russell in Miss Hobbs

ST. NICHOLAS
SKATING RINK
West 66th St., near Columbus Av.
Open to the public daily except Mondays.
HOCKEY MATCH
FRIDAY, DEC. 8TH, at 8:15 P. M.
N. Y. Athletic Club vs. Columbia University.
Admission 50 cents. Skates free.

AMERICAN 42ND & 8TH AVE CASTLE SQ. OPERA CO.
Entire First Act FIDELIO followed by
CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA.
Evs. 8:15. 25c. to $1. Mat. To-day, 2:15. Adm. 25c.
Nxt. wk, Mon., Tues., Il Trovatore. Wed. Mat. & Ev., Romeo & Juliet. Thu. Fri. Carmen. Sat. Mat. Ev. Aida

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Madison Av.
Evenings, 7:45. Saturday Matinée at 2.
MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD.
FAREWELL WEEK. CYRANO DE BERGERAC
Week of Dec. 11, BEAU BRUMMELL Seats Ready To-morrow.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
TO-MORROW (THURSDAY) AFT., Dec. 7, at 3.
Song Recital by
MR. DAVID BISPHAM
kindly assisted by
MR. WALTER DAMROSCH
Reserved seats, $1.50, now on sale at Schuberth's.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
To-Night at 8:15. | Second Pianoforte Recital by MR. ARTHUR WHITING
Res. seats $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

KNICKERBOCKER B'way & 38th St. Evs., 8:20. Mats., 2.
MR. KENDAL MATINEE TO-DAY.
MRS. Regular Mat. Sat.
In Their London Success, The Elder Miss Blossom.

5th Ave Theatre. B'way and 28th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. To-day & Sat. at 2
Mrs. Fiske in Becky Sharp
Mon., Dec. 11th—101st Time—Souvenirs.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Ev'gs, 8:20. Matinées, 2:15.
Matinées To-day and Saturday.
JOHN DREW | THE TYRANNY OF TEARS

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs, 8. Mat. Sat.
"A GREAT SUCCESS."—HERALD.
In His New Play, Wm. Gillette Sherlock Holmes

Charles Frohman's Criterion Theatre B'way & 44th St Ev'gs, 8:15.
Matinées To-day and Saturday.
JULIA MARLOWE | BARBARA FRIETCHIE
Dec. 11—50th Time, Julia Marlowe Pictorial Souv.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. 24th St. & B'way.
Last 4 nights. Mats. To-day & Sat.
Ev'gs, 8:30. Mats., 2:15. MAKE WAY FOR THE LADIES.
Dec. 11—"Wheels Within Wheels."

BROADWAY Theatre. 41st St. & B'way. Evs. at 8. To-day & Sat. Mats. 2.
THE GREAT SUCCESS, BEN-HUR
Seats on sale for every perf. to March 1st.

PROCTOR'S 23d St. MARIE TAVARY.
15, 25, 50c. Mov'g Pictures (new) DE FORREST'S, WILSON FAMILY, &c. Cont. Perf.

PALACE 58th and 3d Av. EZRA KENDALL.
15, 25, 50c. HALL & STALEY.
Moving Pictures, Clarice Vance, others. Cont. Perf.

AMUSEMENTS.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM.
7th St. and 7th Ave.
Marvelous Exhibition, Wonderful Demonstration, Illustrated Lecture, Deaf Cured Free
Friday, December 8, 1899, Afternoon and Evening, at 2 and 8.
Admission Free.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
Fri. aft., Dec. 8, at 2 P. M. Sat., Dec. 9, at 8:15 P.M.
Programme: Overture, "Freischuetz"—Weber; Concerto in D flat maj.—Liszt, Mr. MARK HAMBURG; Symphonic Prologue, "William Ratcliff," conducted by the composer, F. VAN DER STUCKEN; Symphony, A minor,—Mendelssohn.
Box office open daily from 9 to 5.

CARNEGIE HALL. 27th Season. 1899—1900.
ORATORIO SOCIETY
FRANK DAMROSCH.....Conductor
Fri. aft., Dec. 29, at 2, and Sat. Evg., Dec. 30, at 8
"THE MESSIAH."
Thursday Evening, April 5, at 8.
BACH'S MASS IN B MINOR.
Subscription Sale now open at box office.

PADEREWSKI
CARNEGIE HALL, 57TH ST. & 7TH AV.
Dec. 12, 16, Jan. 6, 20, at 2:30.
SEATS $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1.00.
At Schuberth's, 23 Union Square.
Steinway Piano used.

CASINO! TO-NIGHT, 8:15. MAT. SAT. AT 2
Souv. Ngt., Dec. 22. 100th Performance
7TH WEEK! ALICE NIELSEN OPERA COMPANY
THE LONGED for The Singing Girl!

Weber & Fields' MUSIC HALL, Matinées B'way & 30 St. Tues. & Sat.
Whirl-I-Gig & Last night of The Other Way.
To-morrow Eve., (Dec. 7.) First Production of BARBARA FRIGETTY.

Theatre Comique Broadway and 29th St. Mat. Every Day. Orch. 50c.
A TERRIFIC HIT.
Our own Stock Burlesque Co. & Chorus of 40, in Hoddy Dotty

KEITH'S CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE. FELIX MORRIS & CO. in "KERRY."
THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. | Evgs. 8:15 sharp.
33d & B'way. | Sat. Mat. only.
ANNA HELD in PAPA'S WIFE.
BUY NOW FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

WALLACK'S. Broadway and 30th St. Evgs. 8:15. Mat. Sat. 2:15.
In Victor Herbert's New Comic Opera, FRANK DANIELS in THE AMEER.

KOSTER & BIAL'S. Mat. to-day 50c to all parts of house. | "Round New York" & Sherlock Holmes Burlesque. JEFFRIES & SHARKEY in living pictures ap Gladiators.

THE NEW YORK. Evs., 8:15. Popular Prices.
MATINEE DAILY at 2:15. | BIOGRAPH PICTURES.
JEFFRIES-SHARKEY CONTEST

THE DEWEY. Weber & Fields' Matinee To-Day. HURLY-BURLY CO.
East 14th St. Mgr. Alcide Capitaine, Binns & Binns, &c.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl.
The Great Rural Drama, "WAY DOWN EAST"
Prices 25-50-75-1.00. Mats. To-day & Sat. 2. Ev. 8:10

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH.
EDEN MUSEE
NEW GROUPS. CHARMING MUSIC.

BIJOU. B'way & 30th St. Ev. 8:15. Mat. Sat. only.
Phone 2224 Mad. Sq.
MAY IRWIN IN SISTER MARY
Biggest hit of all.

HAMMERSTEIN'S VICTORIA To-night, 8:20. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
42d B'way-7th Av. | ROGERS BROS. in WALL STREET

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Mat. Sat.
The Great HOFGUNST (at Court.)

Harlem Opera House. Louis Mann & Clara Lipman in The Girl in the Barracks | Evs. 8:15 Matinée Sat. 2:15

MURRAY HILL THEA., Lex. Av. & 42d St.
MATINEE EVERY DAY, 25c.
3 WEEK—THE CHARITY BALL.

HERALD SQ. THEA. Evs. 8:15. Mat. To-day, 2:15.
Great London Success A GREEK SLAVE.

14th St. Theatre cr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
LAST TIMES of the Quaint Rural Drama, THE DAIRY FARM

GRAND Matinée To-day, 25 & 50c. JAMES O'NEILL in THE MUSKETEERS.
OPERA HOUSE. Saturday Night, MONTE CRISTO.

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM, 10c. to all. BIJOU MIDWINTER CIRCUS.

THE DEAF CURED FREE
next Friday, 2 and 8 P. M., at Carnegie Lyceum, 57th St. and 7th Av.

DAILY, ONE CENT. SUNDAY, THREE CENTS.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER. Fair, fresh north to east winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1899, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. XLIX...NO. 15,573. NEW YORK, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1899.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT in Greater New York; Elsewhere, and Jersey City. TWO CENTS.

THE NEWS CONDENSED.

Stocks irregular.

Cash wheat, No. 2 red, 73¾; cash corn, No. 2 mixed, 40⅝; cash cotton, 7 11-16.

CONGRESS.—Eight hundred bills and resolutions were introduced in the Senate at Washington yesterday. It was announced that there would be a meeting of the Senate Committee on Elections to-day to consider the contests in the cases of Quay of Pennsylvania, Scott of West Virginia, and Clark of Montana. It is said that the Republicans of the Senate have inaugurated a movement to reduce the Democratic representation on the committees. Senator Mason introduced a resolution of sympathy for the Boers. The Roberts case will be taken up by the special committee appointed to consider the seating of the Utah Representative-elect. A caucus of Republican House members was held yesterday to consider the Currency bill. The measure was slightly amended and approved in a resolution urging speedy consideration and passage. It is probable the debate on the bill will begin Monday. The Senate Currency bill was introduced yesterday. The reciprocity treaties negotiated during the Congressional recess were yesterday sent to the Senate.—Page 6.

FOREIGN.—News from Ladysmith is to the effect that the Boers have mounted another big gun at a range of 5,000 yards, and are hurling shells into the town with deadly accuracy. Gen. Joubert, the Boer Commander in Chief, it is announced from Pretoria, is ill. A number of European army officers left Lisbon yesterday to aid in defending Pretoria. Gen. Methuen has not resumed his advance since the battle of Modder River. The President's message has attracted great interest in Germany, France, and England. The Kaiser is particularly pleased with Mr. McKinley's attitude toward Germany. Count von Buelow says he regards the message as of great import in the development of German-American friendship. The repeal of the German law against workmen's associations is announced. The Russian duty on petroleum has not been reduced. Queensland's Labor Ministry, only a short time in office, has resigned. It is reported the Pope is suffering from a sudden cold. Count Tolstoi is reported seriously ill.—Pages 3 and 9.

Page 1.

Henry G. Hilton has effected an agreement with the other heirs of his father's estate, and has withdrawn his contest of the will.

A self-confessed negro murderer was taken from officers at the Court House in Maysville, Ky., by a mob and burned at the stake.

Collis P. Huntington and his wife have given $50,000 to the Tuskegee Industrial Institute.

The talk of W. J. Bryan being named to succeed Senator Hayward of Nebraska was revived in Washington yesterday, but it is not believed that the silver leader would accept.

A burglar attacked a clergyman and his wife at their home in Racine, Wis., and shot both of them. Their condition is critical.

At the trial of Roland B. Molineux yesterday William J. Kinsley, the handwriting expert, furnished an opportunity for much wrangling between the lawyers.

Page 2.

The striking silk weavers in Summit, N. J., caused much trouble yesterday, when twenty-five non-union hands arrived to take their places.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission listened yesterday to arguments favoring and opposing the granting of further time for equipping railway lines with safety appliances.

After a personal examination of the workings of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system yesterday, Chairman Cole of the State Railroad Commission expressed the opinion that there was room for improvement.

Page 3.

C. Oliver Iselin, managing owner of the yacht Columbia, sailed for Europe yesterday.

The President yesterday sent to the Senate the name of Gen. Leonard Wood to be a Major General of Volunteers.

The legal fight in Kentucky which is in effect for the Governorship began before the State Board of Election Commissioners.

James W. Eaton, private secretary of Seth Low, and several friends were in grave peril and suffered much while adrift at sea in a launch the machinery of which had broken down.

Edgar Burnz confessed to Capt. McClusky yesterday he had murdered and robbed Herbert P. Fellows, the station agent at Scarsdale.

Page 4.

John Heinschon of First Avenue and Thirty-sixth Street, Manhattan, was crushed to death by a lumber pile that toppled over on him in a Brooklyn lumber yard.

Bishop William C. Doane of Albany spoke strongly on the evils of divorce yesterday at the second day's session of the National Reform Convention at the Broadway Tabernacle.

The steam engine at the end of the nineteenth century and the question of the revision of the code governing the testing of steam boilers were the principal subjects of discussion at yesterday's session of the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Because of alleged anti-imperialistic utterances it is said that an effort may be made to prevent the Rev. Peter McQueen, an ex-army Chaplain in the Philippines, from lecturing in Bronxville to-morrow night on "The War of the Tagalos."

Page 5.

The Mazet Committee held no session yesterday, no quorum being present.

No new light was shed yesterday on the whereabouts of W. F. Miller of Franklin Syndicate fame.

Page 11.

Corporation Counsel Whalen yesterday sent to the Rapid Transit Commissioners a petition signed by residents of the Bronx protesting against the termination of the rapid transit road at West Farms.

The plans made by the Department of Docks and Ferries for the improvement of the East River water front were adopted by the Sinking Fund Commissioners yesterday. Site for new Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory approved.

The Board of Public Improvements yesterday adopted resolutions asking the Board of Estimate to appropriate money to defray the cost of investigating the subject of intercommunication among the various boroughs by means of tunnels.

Page 13.

Richard Deeves of 58 West Eighty-third Street was thrown from his horse in Central Park yesterday and severely injured.

Ezril Silberman, a plumber, of 151 Allen Street is afflicted with a nose which on two occasions has been the barrier between him and matrimonial bliss.

Dr. S. Schechter, one of the greatest European scholars in Jewish science, has accepted the call to the Presidency of the Jewish Theological Seminary in this city.

A spirited debate arose in the meeting of the Manhattan School Board yesterday over the question of the right of the board to compel Superintendent Jasper to make a written report of his reasons for reporting against the renewal of the license of a teacher who had been accused of failure to enforce discipline.

Page 14.

The State Civil Service Board has taken steps to compel the custodian of the Grant cottage at Mount McGregor, who is paid from a State fund annually granted to the Mount McGregor Memorial Association, to take a civil service examination.

Page 16.

Dr. De Costa, who has left the Episcopal Church to become a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church, has written an article for church papers explaining his reasons for his action, stating in effect that he believes the Reformation to have been based on false foundations.

Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 13.
Amusements.—Pages 6 and 7.
Business Troubles.—Page 14.
New Corporations.—Page 11.
Court Calendars.—Page 13.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 2.
Insurance Notes.—Page 11.
Weather Report.—Page 2.
Losses by Fire.—Page 2.
Legal Notes.—Page 16.
Real Estate.—Page 14.
Railroads.—Page 2.
Markets.—Page 14.
Society.—Page 9.

Hotel Metropole. Table d'hote a la Russe, 6-9 P. M., $1.00. Music. Restaurant a la carte all hours. Golden Rod Rathskeller Deutsche Kueche.—Adv.

HILTON WILL CONTEST OFF

Agreement Between Henry G. Hilton and Other Heirs.

FATHER LEFT HIM $25,000

He Stops Litigation in Return for Concessions from Principal Legatees—Terms Withheld.

The contest of the will of ex-Judge Henry Hilton instituted by his son, Henry G. Hilton, who was cut off with the interest of $25,000, which he was to share with his wife, has been abandoned. This was learned on indisputable authority last night. Mr. Hilton's attorneys, A. H. Hummel and John R. Dos Passos, have effected a settlement on his behalf with the other heirs, by the terms of which he withdraws his objection to the probate of his father's will. The necessary steps to carry out the agreement will be promptly taken, and the witnesses to the document—Henry H. Rice, Robert G. Smyth, and Herbert Anstey—will present their affidavits, and nothing will then stand in the way of the proving of the will. Thus litigation over the distribution of the Hilton millions is no longer in prospect.

The terms of the settlement, which end this contest, are at present withheld, and it is by no means unlikely that they may be kept permanently from public knowledge. In response to Henry G. Hilton's wish, the lawyers in the case refuse to discuss this matter. It is a subject for conjecture merely whether Mr. Hilton has to content himself with a few thousands more than the sum left him by the terms of the will, or whether he gets anything like that share in his father's estate of $6,000,000 which he has emphatically claimed was his due.

Ex-Judge Horace Russell, son-in-law of the late Judge Hilton, and one of the executors of the will—Edward D. Harris being the other—is also counsel for the members of the Hilton family outside of Henry G. Hilton. Judge Russell admitted last night that an agreement had been effected and the contest called off, evidencing some surprise that the facts had been made known. He absolutely refused to say a word about the terms of the settlement, and declared that he never would disclose them.

John R. Dos Passos also, as intimated, declined to state the terms, or even whether or not his client was to get over $25,000, though he did not deny the effecting of an agreement which ended the contest. "I never discuss professional affairs," said he.

Mr. Hilton himself is at present ill at his home on Sedgwick Avenue, near East One Hundred and Seventy-seventh Street, and not in condition to receive visitors.

The estate of Judge Hilton was valued at $6,000,000, of which $5,000,000 was in real estate and $1,000,000 in personal property, according to a statement accompanying the will, when it was filed for probate on Sept. 1. The document was notable particularly for three things: It was devoid of any charitable bequest, it left the entire estate in trust, and it cut off Henry G. Hilton, whose previous career had not been pleasing to his father. It was said, with the sum of $25,000, to be held in trust for him and his wife. Furthermore, it was provided that the executors might distribute the use of this sum between Henry G. Hilton and his wife, Agnes, in just such proportions as they saw fit.

The will left $50,000 to each of the testator's other children—Cornelia H. Hughes, Josephine H. Russell, Edward B. Hilton, and Albert B. Hilton, and $10,000 to each of his grandchildren. To the testator's brother J. H. Hilton of Iowa, $5,000 was left, while one of his sisters, Mary A. Brown, got $5,000, and Eliza Hilton, the other, got $10,000. The residue of the estate was divided into twelve parts, of which four went to his daughter, Josephine H. Russell, four to his son, Albert B. Hilton, two to his daughter, Cornelia H. Hughes, and two to his son, Edward B. Hilton. The document was in the testator's own handwriting, and it contained the provision that any one of the heirs who should contest the will was to lose his or her share, which was then to go to the children of the testator's daughter, Josephine H., and of his son Albert.

Henry G. Hilton, who is about forty-two years old, met his wife, who was then a cashier in her father's Fulton Street furnishing goods store, in 1881. Their courtship was brief, and Judge Hilton gave them a good-sized check with which to start their married life. Later he was forced to retire from the firm of Hilton, Hughes & Co., receiving $125,000 for his share. He was once for a short time special partner in a Wall Street firm.

When the terms of the will were announced, and it was found that Henry G. Hilton was cut off with a small bequest, he lost no time in declaring his intention to make a fight. It was thought at first that the provision of the will cutting off entirely the heir who should contest it, and which was alleged to be aimed directly at him, would deter him from instituting litigation. But that did not weigh with him. "I would rather be cut off without a dollar," said he, as reported, "than take $25,000. I do not want to make a contest unless I'm forced to. I have money enough to live on, but I'm not satisfied with $25,000 out of that estate."

A few weeks later he filed the papers in a contest of the will.

BIG GIFT TO TUSKEGEE.

Collis P. Huntington and His Wife Give $50,000 to the Industrial Institute.

As a result of the meeting held in Madison Square Garden Concert Hall Monday evening in the interest of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, at Tuskegee, Ala., several gifts have been made besides the conditional subscription of $25,000 from a woman in the West for the endowment fund.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Huntington yesterday made a gift of $50,000 toward the endowment fund of the institute.

Further subscriptions of gifts may be sent to William H. Baldwin, Jr., 32 Nassau Street, or to Booker T. Washington, whose address will be Grand Union Hotel, this city, for a week, afterward Tuskegee, Ala.

FIGHTS TO GO TO COLLEGE.

Young Man Selects Hobart—Court Helps Him Go There.

Special to The New York Times.

GENEVA, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Henry Reuter entered Hobart College this week after a novel legal contest in which he was victorious in winning a suit he brought against his executor and trustee, which compelled him to allow Reuter to enter Hobart and to pay all his expenses while there.

Reuter lived in Norwalk, Conn., and while attending a preparatory school met S. S. Partridge of Phelps, this county. An intimate friendship resulted, and both became greatly attached to each other. Partridge subsequently entered Hobart, and desired Reuter to do likewise. Reuter was anxious to do so, but his guardian and trustee objected. He said he would send Reuter to Cornell, Yale, Harvard, or any of the larger colleges he might choose, but to Hobart he refused to send him.

Reuter thereupon went to court claiming that there was no good reason why he should not be allowed to go to Hobart, and asked the Court to direct his guardian to so send him and likewise to compel him to pay all expenses.

A decision has just been handed down granting Reuter's demands, and the young man has just been enrolled among the Hobart students and is again with his old chum Partridge.

Alone at the Front.

The Pennsylvania Railroad stands conspicuous at the front of the railroads of the world. Fast and famous trains to Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Cleveland, Toledo, and Detroit. See time table.—Adv.

BRYAN TO SUCCEED HAYWARD?

Subject Is Discussed, but It Is Doubtful If the Silver Leader Would Enter the Senate.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Since the death of Senator Hayward of Nebraska there has been a revival of the talk about William J. Bryan's possible appointment to this place. It is pointed out that Mr. Bryan has broken all his engagements without apparent reason, and gone into retreat, so that he could not be accused of influencing Gov. Poynter if the latter should appoint him. G. M. Hitchcock will, however, be the Senator from Nebraska, unless the authorities on the politics of that State are widely astray. There is no doubt that if Mr. Bryan chose to put himself forward as a candidate Gov. Poynter would name him, but he has not done this, and the Governor is known to favor Hitchcock.

There is only one other person whose name has been mentioned, and he is ex-Senator William V. Allen. The Populist Party would prefer the appointment of Allen, but he would be willing to accept, but it is said by those who are in a position to know that the Governor will decline to consider him on the ostensible ground that he has recently been elected by the people to a judicial office. The real reason is, however, that Mr. Allen is persona non grata to Gov. Poynter.

With Mr. Bryan out of the way, this leaves only Mr. Hitchcock. He is editor of The Omaha World-Herald. He is a Democrat, but he has always advocated the fusion movement in Nebraska, and his appointment is urged on the ground that it would tend to harmonize the Democrats, Populists, and Silver Republicans. Mr. Bryan's reasons for not becoming a Senator at this time are easily understood. A new Legislature will meet to elect his successor in 1901, immediately after the Presidential election. If he should be appointed now and should not be elected President, he will have to stand for re-election to the Senate then, and it would be simpler to wait till then and run for the full term.

On the other hand, if he is to be elected President, a few troublous months in the Senate prior to his election would not present any attractions for him. Besides, by curbing his ambition for a year he will be in no danger of crippling his political chances by Senatorial mistakes. A consideration which probably has no weight with Mr. Bryan, but which is coupled with every mention of his candidacy here, is that no man has ever been elected President while serving in the United States Senate, from which there has grown up a superstition that nobody ever will be.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 6.—The Democrats of the State, besides urging the appointment of G. M. Hitchcock of Omaha to succeed Senator Hayward on the ground that they have not received their proportion of the offices under the fusion deals of the past few years, also urge that the next Legislature which must permanently fill the vacancy will have two Senators to select, the Hayward successor and one to succeed Senator Thurston, whose term expires one year from next March. The Populists insist upon the naming of ex-Senator Allen. It was reported that Allen had stated he did not desire the appointment, but a telegram from him denies this.

The Populist members of Congress from Nebraska have telegraphed Gov. Poynter urging Allen's appointment, and this has been supplemented by telegrams from the Populist and free-silver Senators from other States and some of the Congressmen. Gov. Poynter refuses to, publicly at least, discuss the matter until after the funeral of Senator Hayward, which will be held at Nebraska City to-morrow afternoon.

COLLIDED WITH A LIGHTSHIP.

The Lampasas Arrives at Boston with Large Hole in Her Bow Caused by a Mysterious Accident.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The steamer Lampasas arrived at the wharf of the Eastern Railroad in East Boston this morning with a hole fully 15 by 5 feet in her starboard bow. It was caused by a collision last night with the Pollock Rip Lightship. A large piece of canvas was stretched over the bow of the steamer to prevent the water gaining access to the forward compartment.

Capt. Staples reported to the Lighthouse Board in this city that the accident was caused by the breaking of the steering gear of the Lampasas. As soon as the report was received a telegram was sent to Capt. Howes of the lighthouse tender Verbena at Wood's Hole, directing him to proceed at once to ascertain the extent of damage to the lightship and to give assistance if necessary.

The Lampasas, which plies on the Mallory Line, had a cargo of 5,625 bales of cotton from Galveston. Capt. Staples declined to say more about the affair than that the steering gear of the Lampasas was out of order. The second mate, he said, went below immediately after the collision and made things right.

"What was the trouble with it?" was asked.

"Oh! it was out of order," the Captain replied.

"In what way?"

"Well, it was out of order, that's all I shall say."

"And as soon as you cleared from the lightship it came into working order again?"

"Well, it was out of order, I tell you; that's all I am going to say about it."

MUSKRATS TIE UP A CANAL.

Cause a Break in the Bank and the Water Must Be Let Out.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 6.—Muskrats have caused a break in the bank of the Delaware and Raritan Canal near this city which makes necessary the emptying of the canal in order to repair the damage.

The work of letting the water off was begun this morning, and it will require several days to complete the work. In the meantime all navigation on the canal must cease.

PLAN TO FIGHT TOBACCO TRUST.

New York State Jobbers Object to Threat of Cigar Combine.

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 6.—Fifty members of the New York State Tobacco Jobbers' Association, representing the leading jobbing firms of the State, met here to-day, and it is understood that plans were discussed to inaugurate a fight against the American and the Continental Tobacco Companies, announcement having been made that the latter intended taking up the manufacture of cigars. It was said that J. B. Duke is to organize a new company through New York firms. Mr. Duke was quoted as saying he could control one-third of the cigar business the first year.

This and a proposition of the Continental Company to cut the jobbers' commissions precipitated a lively discussion. No decisive action was taken, it being understood that the matter was to be held open for investigation and the completion of plans.

TWO RAILWAY MEN INDICTED.

Alleged They Discharged a Man Because He Belonged to a Union.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Among the indictments returned by the United States Grand Jury here to-day were bills against Almon L. Ackley, Superintendent of the Taunton Division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and Hugh J. Hill, train dispatcher at Taunton.

The indictments are based upon the allegation that the men were instrumental in securing the discharge of Patrick J. Galligan, a telegrapher, because he was a member of the Telegraphers' Union.

Known Quantities on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Safety, speed, and comfort. The realization of the ideal in railway trains. The "Pennsylvania Limited" daily to Chicago, and other big cities in the West. See time table in this paper.—Adv.

NEW PLACE FOR H. C. FRICK?

He May Be the Head of the Union Steel Company—Rumored Disagreement with Carnegie.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Dec. 6.—It is reported that H. C. Frick, whose practical retirement from the Carnegie Steel Company was announced here last night, will become head of the new Union Steel Company, chartered some weeks ago.

A combine between the Union, Oliver, Jones & Laughlin, and other companies will be formed, it is asserted, to fight Carnegie. It is said Frick's retirement is due to a disagreement with Andrew Carnegie.

MRS. TABER'S CASE IN COURT.

Witnesses Charge the Actress's Husband with Great Cruelty.

Special to The New York Times.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 6.—In the divorce case of Julia Marlowe Taber against Robert S. Taber, in the Lamoille County Court, yesterday, testimony was introduced in an effort to show that Taber first became jealous of his wife on account of more favorable reports by the press of her acting than of his. From that time, which was in 1896, it was claimed that he began to show a dislike for her, which continued to increase until September, 1898. On two different occasions Mr. Taber became so enraged, it was stated, that he seized his wife by the throat and choked her severely. One witness testified that at another time, in Atlanta, Ga., he was so enraged on reading the compliments paid her by the newspapers that he overthrew a table at which they were eating breakfast and offered her other indignities.

Neither Mrs. Taber nor Mr. Taber was in court, and most of the evidence was submitted by affidavit. Miss Daley, who has been Mrs. Taber's maid for several years, was present in court, and testified to seeing Mr. Taber seize Mrs. Taber by the throat, choking her severely, while they were in Utah.

An agreement was filed between the parties that in case the bill was granted Mrs. Taber should receive an alimony of $3,000. The decision of the Court has not yet been announced.

LONG-LOST PURSE IS RETURNED.

Found Here Seven Years Ago and Sent Back to Chicago Yesterday.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Capt. Shippy of the South Chicago Police Station to-day received an anonymous letter from New York accompanied by a purse containing $2 and a pass issued to Dr. G. J. White, formerly of Windsor Park and dated June 16, 1892. The letter states that the writer found it near Manhattan Beach in 1892. He did not explain the delay of seven years.

SCHOOL TEACHER TO BE TRIED.

Accused of an Assault on One of Her Girl Pupils.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 6.—The town of Kent, in Putnam County, is much exercised over a trial which will take place at the village of Farmer's Mills next Saturday afternoon, when Emma Duncan, the eighteen-year-old teacher of the village school, will be tried before a Justice of the Peace for alleged assault upon one of her pupils some days ago. The victim was a thirteen-year-old girl nearly as large as the teacher. Friends of the school teacher are taking an active interest in her defense and have engaged James G. Meyer of Matteawan to defend her.

BLAME FOR BERKELEY'S DEATH.

Grand Jury Is Investigating the Drowning of Cornell Student.

Special to The New York Times.

GENEVA, N. Y., Dec. 6.—The Seneca County Grand Jury is in session at Waterloo, the county seat, and has taken up the investigation of the drowning of Edward F. Berkeley, the Cornell student who lost his life during the preliminaries of initiation into the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

It was thought that the explanation of the students had settled the matter to the satisfaction of the authorities, and his investigation is somewhat of a surprise. The District Attorney has announced that he intends to sift the matter to the bottom to find out if any crime was committed, and, if so, to punish the offenders. He is subjected to considerable criticism by citizens of the county for prosecuting the case, as they declare it a needless expense to the county, which, they say, will avail nothing.

It is believed Mr. Berkeley, the father of the drowned student, is investigating the matter. It was given out after his visit here that he was satisfied that the drowning was purely accidental and that no one could be blamed, but it is now said that he does not feel entirely reconciled and wants the authorities to push a formal investigation. The District Attorney says there has been a demand on the part of a large number of citizens to sift the case to the bottom.

It will be remembered that Berkeley was sent to pin a paper on the Lehigh Valley bridge, near Seneca Lake, by Philip S. Dickinson, a fellow student. As he went to perform the act in obedience to his upper classman, he came to the canal and, plunging into the water, was drowned.

FOR A NATIONAL MILITIA.

Gen. Butterfield Submits a Bill for Government Reserves.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—Gen. Daniel Butterfield to-day submitted to the Governor for his examination a bill which is to be introduced in Congress providing for the organization of the United States Reserves. Gen. Butterfield was a member of the delegation appointed by Gov. Roosevelt to attend a conference called by the Governor of Florida, of the representatives of the several States with a view of outlining a plan whereby the States could the better and more speedily aid the Government for purposes of defense in time of war.

The bill prepared provides for the uniform organization and instruction of the militia of the United States. It declares that there shall be organized from among the male citizens between eighteen and forty-five years of age who are residents of their respective States, a force to be composed of the militia of the several States which shall constitute a second line of defense for the United States in time of war, and shall be designated as the United States reserves.

The reserve shall be established by law in each State, and shall constitute a component part of the State Militia, not to exceed 2 per cent. of the enrolled membership of the State Militia. The reserve in each State shall be commanded by officers selected by the Governor, and shall be exercised and trained by such officers in accordance with such system of discipline and instruction as may be prescribed by the President, with the consent of Congress.

The non-commissioned officers, artificers, musicians, and privates of the reserve shall be enlisted in the manner prescribed by law in the State in which such enlistments are made, though in addition each commissioned officer and enlisted man shall take the oath prescribed for the United States Army.

Uniforms, arms, and equipments shall be similar to those of the regular army. There are to be inspections once a year.

Western Insurance Company Absorbed

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—At a meeting of members of the Northwestern Life Association, held in the Association Building this morning, it was unanimously voted that the entire business, amounting to about $2,000,000, be transferred to the Northwestern Life Assurance Company of this city. The absorbing association has been in operation several years. The reason for the transfer is that new business was hard to secure.

Take the Latest Train to St. Louis and the Southwest via New York Central, Big Four Route. Leaves Grand Central Station every day at 9:20 P. M.—Adv.

NEGRO BURNED AT A STAKE

Self-Confessed Murderer Put to Death in Kentucky.

THOUSANDS OF MEN IN THE MOB

Prisoner Taken from Sheriff's Guard at Court House and Killed in the Daytime.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 6.—Richard Coleman, colored, the confessed murderer of Mrs. James Lashbrook, wife of his employer, expiated his crime in daylight to-day by burning at the stake after suffering torture and fright beyond description, at the hands of a mob of thousands of citizens.

The dreadful spectacle occurred on the peaceful Cricket Grounds on the outskirts of this, one of the oldest and among the proudest cities of Kentucky. The barbarities inflicted upon this young negro are almost beyond belief, and can only be accounted for by the intense horror created by long consideration of the atrocious crime of which full confession had been made by Coleman.

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Just two months ago, Richard Coleman, the trusted employe of Farmer James Lashbrook, murdered in a manner peculiarly atrocious the woman who had befriended him. Coleman was not only employed on the farm, but had been installed as a house servant, and was trusted implicitly by both Mr. Lashbrook and his wife. On the day of the murder Mr. Lashbrook was at work some distance from the house, of which Coleman was left in charge. Mrs. Lashbrook had driven to Maysville and returned, when Coleman asked her to enter the cabin to look at some work on which he had been engaged. The negro locked the door on the inside. Mrs. Lashbrook became frightened and screamed. Coleman struck her on the head, knocking her down, but not stopping her cries. He then seized a razor and cut her throat. He picked up the bleeding body and placed it on the bed. He then left the room, but returning and hearing her groaning, he struck her repeatedly on the head with an axe until he was sure she was dead.

Without any show of alarm or remorse, the negro washed the blood from his hands and clothing and went to where Mr. Lashbrook was at work in the field and told him that he had better come to the house as some one had killed his wife. Mr. Lashbrook did not take the matter seriously until Coleman insisted that his wife was dead. Even then, so great was the confidence of Mr. Lashbrook in Coleman, that no thought occurred to him that the negro was the murderer. It was not until after the officers arrived that suspicion was directed against Coleman. Blood spots had been found on his clothing, but he accounted for them by saying that he had been killing chickens. That night, however, at Maysville, a partial confession was obtained, knowledge of the result of the facts should become known, the officers quietly took him to Covington, Ky., for safe keeping. He was indicted for the murder.

NEGRO CONFESSES THE MURDER.

Soon after his incarceration at Covington, Coleman made a complete confession to the jailer. The story of his revolting crime, including worse than murder, was told without any appearance of feeling by the prisoner. This confession becoming public roused a feeling of indignation against the prisoner among the relatives and friends of the victim, which made it almost certain that the officers of the law would be powerless to prevent a summary vengeance at the first opportunity. Still, the authorities at Maysville did not act upon that knowledge. There was no call upon the Governor for troops to protect the prisoner.

On Tuesday, Sheriff Perrine, under orders of Judge Harbeson, with four assistants, went to Covington expecting to return with Coleman on Tuesday night, but after reaching Covington the jailer at Maysville wired him not to attempt to bring the prisoner into Maysville at night.

The trial was set for to-day. Sheriff Perrine determined to leave Covington by the Chesapeake and Ohio train, which started at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning from Cincinnati. Coleman had been told Tuesday night to prepare to return to the scene of his crime. He was furnished with fear, and begged piteously to be permitted to remain in Covington until after his trial. He said he expected to die, but he dreaded the vengeance of a mob. When he was handcuffed on leaving the jail in Covington he was almost paralyzed, and had to be assisted to the patrol wagon. The crowd about the jail there and at the Covington station added to his fear. On entering the train he seemed unable to sit down, until one of the guards forced him into a seat. It developed that in the crowd at Covington, at even on the train, there were some of the relatives of Mrs. Lashbrook, ready to convey information if any attempt was made to secrete the prisoner.

THE MOB TAKES THE PRISONER.

The prisoner with his escort arrived at 10:20 o'clock. Sheriff Perrine, while en route to Maysville, had been informed that a mob was awaiting the arrival of the train at the station, and he hastily prepared for the swearing in of deputy Sheriffs. As the train pulled slowly into the old station the mob formed on both sides. Armed men stationed themselves at the platforms of all the cars and warned the frightened passengers to remain quiet and not to interfere. The Sheriff and his assistants were strongly armed, and there was some resistance as the leader of the mob jostled roughly against them and demands were made from the outer fringes of the crowds for the prisoner.

Sheriff Perrine made a bold movement and started walking swiftly, but with no indications of panic, from the car. A step behind him followed the officers, with Coleman among them, seeking to conceal himself behind the forms of his protectors. As the officers proceeded, the number of men in the mob was constantly swelled by new arrivals, and through the down-town business streets to the Court House they were closely followed. Hundreds of stones and other missiles were thrown, and revolvers and rifles were freely displayed. The prisoner was frequently struck, and he presented a frightful appearance, blood streaming from wounds on his face and head.

At the Court House a mob of over 2,000 men, headed by James Lashbrook, the husband, had been hastily formed. A demand for the prisoner was made, accompanied by threats from the leaders. There was a brief struggle, in which weapons were hastily drawn by the officers, and then the Sheriff and his assistants were overcome by force of numbers, and the prisoner was pulled from among them. Up through the centre portion of the town the mob marched, the prisoner being held by the vanguard and dragged along with the aid of ropes loosely attached to his body. He was the target of hundreds of missiles, and several times he sank half conscious to the ground while the crowd pressed forward, striking at him with clubs, sticks, and whips until his head and body were scarcely recognizable. More dead than alive, he was dragged along and forced to his feet. Scores of women joined the men. High above the noise, the wretch could be heard pleading for his life. This spectacle continued until the grounds were reached where the final work of the mob was accomplished.

COLEMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

The place of execution had been selected weeks ago, in accordance with all the other arranged details of the programme mapped out by the leaders of the mob. The prisoner was dragged to the sapling and strapped against the tree, facing the husband of the victim. Large quantities of dry brush and larger bits of wood were piled around him while he was praying for speedy death. James Lashbrook, the husband of the victim, applied the first match to the brushwood. A brother of the victim struck the second match. Some one with a knife was slashing at the prisoner's chest. By a sort of cruel concurrence of action on the part of the mob not a single shot was fired. The purpose seemed to be to give the wretch the greatest possible amount and duration of torture. As the flames arose Coleman's horror increased and he made vain efforts to withdraw his limbs from the encroaching fire. The ropes securing him to the tree were burned and his body finally fell forward on the burning pile. Even then, although it was not certain whether he was living or dead, the vengeful purpose of the crowd led them to use rails and long poles to push his body back into the flames. It is not certain how long life lasted.

NO EFFORT AT CONCEALMENT.

During the process, while his voice could be heard, he begged for a drink of water. At the end of three hours the body was practically cremated. During all that time members of the family of Mrs. Lashbrook had remained to keep up the fire and keep the body in a position where it would continue to burn. It is said that on the march through the city the prisoner's eyes had been burned out by acid thrown in an egg-shell. In all the thousands who constituted the mob there was not a single effort made to disguise or conceal identity. No man wore a mask. All the leaders of the mob are well known and there are hundreds of witnesses who can testify to their participation in the tragedy. They are leading citizens in all lines of business and many are members of churches.

County Judge Harbeson will empanel a special grand jury at once to make a speedy investigation and return indictments against the leaders. The statement from Frankfort that Gov. Bradley proposes to offer a reward for the apprehension of members of the mob does not excite much fear that the reward will be claimed. There is a strong feeling that no punishment will result from this tragedy.

CHILDREN KEPT UP THE FIRE.

The Coroner held an inquest on the charred remains of Richard Coleman and rendered the simple verdict, "Death at the hands of a mob." The body was left lying there. Relic hunters took away teeth and bones and flesh and every fragment of the body that they could lay hands on. All the afternoon children, some of them not more than six years old, kept up the fire around the blackened body by throwing grass, brush, bits of boards, and everything combustible that they could get together. This they kept up until dark.

THE VICTIM'S EYES PEPPERED.

It is related that Coleman, before committing his crime, threw pepper into his victim's eyes from a pepper box. One of the mob used that same pepper box to-day to throw pepper in Coleman's eyes as soon as he was lashed to the stake. To make sure of a good job he held open one eyelid after the other, and peppered them successively, then drew the eyelids.

In this city the action of the mob is universally approved, even enthusiastically, by women, who think that hereafter they will be safer in consequence. Some men deprecate mob law, but say this case was an exception to all rules.

The latest report to-night is that Coleman's mother is on the way here to take charge of the ashes of her son.

BURGLAR USES A REVOLVER.

Attacks a Clergyman and His Wife in Their Home and Wounds Both of Them.

RACINE, Wis., Dec. 6.—The Rev. David Cheney of the First Baptist Church, and his wife were shot by a burglar to-day at their home on Lake Avenue. Mrs. Cheney was shot in the breast. The ball glanced downward, and is believed to have lodged in her left lung. Mr. Cheney was shot in the abdomen, and in the centre of the breast. Both are in a critical condition. The burglar escaped, but a large posse of police officials and private citizens is scouring the country for him. The city is all excitement. If he is caught, it is believed the law will be powerless to prevent his being lynched.

After his wounds were dressed, the Rev. Mr. Cheney made a statement. He said he was sitting in his library at about 10 o'clock when he heard his wife scream. He rushed to the door and was met in the hall by a young man who he immediately surmised was a burglar. He did not see that the man had a revolver in his hand, and immediately grappled with him. The man pushed his revolver against the clergyman's abdomen and fired, and then, when the minister was lying on the floor, fired at him again. The second bullet entered the centre of the breast. The man then fled.

Mr. Cheney said that he next tried to rise, but was unable to do so, and crawled on his hands and knees to his wife's room. He found her in the hall, wounded. He then got down stairs and summoned help.

Mrs. Cheney, though very weak, also told her story. She said that she was in her bedroom. She heard some one enter the room, and, turning, was confronted by a young man, who, pointing a revolver, commanded her to throw up her hands. Instead of doing so she called her husband and shouted for help. Immediately, without saying a word, the man fired at her, and then rushed from the room. She staggered to the door and tried to get outside to give the alarm, but she was too weak, and fell in the hall.

The Rev. David B. Cheney is one of the best known Baptist preachers in the State. He has occupied pulpits at La Crosse and Superior, and for several years was President of the A. P. A. of the State.

A reward of $500 is offered for the capture of the burglar, dead or alive.

A BURGLAR WITH A DIARY.

Jail Breaker Caught in Greenwich Carries Evidence of Guilt.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Dec. 6.—Sheriff James H. Fitzroy arrested to-night at the Greenwich Station one of a gang of burglars who have been engaged in several jobs about East Norwalk this Fall. He is James Tanner, aged nineteen, a native of Norwalk. The Sheriff happened tobe at the station and recognized Tanner from a description sent out by the Norwalk police a month ago. He accompanied the officer to the lockup.

Tanner and two other young men of his age were connected with several jobs in Norwalk and were arrested. They filed their way out of the lockup there and nothing had since been heard of them.

In Tanner's clothes was a book giving a history of his life and furnishing evidence which will help convict him of the crimes of which he is accused.

SAVED HIS LIFE BY WHISTLING.

Naval Apprentice Lost at Sea and Reported Dead Was Picked Up.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Max Hemeyer, an apprentice on the United States ship Alliance, surprised his parents here to-day when he appeared before them after an absence of many months. They had heard that he had been washed overboard when his ship was 100 miles off the Island of St. Thomas and mourned him as dead.

He said that he had been washed overboard at night, but had attracted the attention of the men on board a ship by continually whistling until he was picked up.

Train at Montclair Killed Him.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Dec. 6.—Thomas McManus, thirty-five years old, of this place, while crossing the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at Bloomfield Avenue this afternoon, was struck by a passenger train and so badly hurt that he died to-night. The train tossed him about 100 yards, breaking his left leg, cutting off his right foot, and fracturing his skull. He was removed to the Mountain side Hospital. He was unmarried.

Next G. A. R. Reunion in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec.

Weeks. After Heiles had testified that he held five different and distinct positions, Mr. Weeks started in to ask him some pointed questions, the drift of which, when they became familiar, caused some amusement in the courtroom, although the counsel for the defense did not have this in mind when he made his points.

Mr. Osborne in his opening address built up a Frankenstein-like, a man who, he said, was the poisoner. He constructed him out of various elements. As he himself put it, he cut the garment close, and then summed up by saying that in every minute particular the garment fitted the prisoner at the bar. Molineux, he said, was the man thus created, and no one else could be found who answered the description.

TRIES TO MAKE THE SUIT FIT HEILES

Mr. Weeks started in to show that there was another man who might in a general way fit these elements, and that man was Heiles. He attempted to show that Heiles lived partly in Newark and partly in New York; that he could have been at the Post Office at the times named; that he knew where certain articles could be purchased in Newark; that he had an admitted hatred for Cornish and Harpster; that he was approximately thirty-one years old, and measured 37 inches in the chest and 32 in the waist; that he had certain connections with the New York Athletic and the Knickerbocker Athletic Clubs; in short, that it might have been Heiles who sent the poison to Cornish.

As a climax he passed up to Heiles a package the supposed shape of the one containing the poison received by Cornish, and asked him to write the address on it. Heiles responded with good-natured alacrity. But there were two points on which Mr. Weeks slipped up, to the amusement of the Court and the audience.

He could not prove that Heiles contemplated matrimony during last year, as it has been proved that Molineux did, nor yet could he prove the witness was in need of such a medicine as it is alleged Molineux wrote to a firm in Cincinnati for. So that while Mr. Weeks struggled valiantly to overcome the impression made by Mr. Osborne in his opening, the results show that he hardly succeeded, and while he confused Heiles at various times he did not in any way shake the force of his testimony.

The court convened promptly at 10:30 o'clock. At that hour the Recorder was on the bench and the jurors in their seats. Mr. Weeks and Mr. Battle, attended by a corps of bearers with piles of baggage and law books, sat at the counselors' table. Mr. Osborne, his square face showing confidence and determination, was ready for the struggle.

With the counsel for the defense was Gen. Molineux and Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the latter armed with all sorts of queer looking chemical apparatus and delicate weighing machines. As usual, lawyers, jurors, and audience rose when the crier announced: "His Honor the Recorder, Judge of the Court of General Sessions," and remained standing until the white-haired Recorder had bowed to them and taken his seat on the bench.

Molineux, jaunty of step and manner, entered the courtroom when his name was called, and after shaking hands with his father and counsel, listened attentively to the evidence. He does not smile so much as usual, his manner is more reserved, and his bearing more grave.

A number of women who will figure as witnesses were in court. They included the women who are employed by various patent medicine firms, and who found the letters asking for remedies and alleged to have been written by Molineux; Mrs. Bellinger, who kept a boarding house on West End Avenue, in which the defendant and his wife lived, and Miss Agnes Evans, who found the Burns letter, which will figure in the case. During the morning session, Judge-elect Warren W. Foster occupied a seat on the bench with the Recorder, and during the afternoon Justice Fursman, who is sitting in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, was on the bench as a spectator.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF HEILES.

Rudolph F. Heiles took the stand at the opeing of the session, and the cross-examination by Mr. Weeks began.

"In what capacity were you employed at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club?" asked Mr. Weeks.

"As cashier."

"For how long?"

"Two years."

Prior to that the witness said he was in the employ of Ballantine & Co. of Newark for fifteen years. He said he knew Barnet, and that while he (the witness) was in the club Harpster had been a clerk in the bank. Besides his employment by Sidenberg & Co. in this city, the witness said he was also confidential bookkeeper for Charles Cooper & Co., chemists, of Newark.

"Did Herbert Ballantine put you to work in the club?"

"He did."

"Do you know that Harpster obtained a bond while he was in the club?"

"Yes, and he had a great deal of trouble in getting it."

"Did he tell you that?"

"He did, indirectly."

"Did you know why he had trouble?"

"I heard it was on account of his recommendations and character."

"From whom did you get that information?"

"I heard from him in October, 1898, that he had lost his place in Detroit."

"Did you see him after the death of Mrs. Adams?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him that you had written to Detroit to find out about him?"

"I did not."

"Why did you leave the Knickerbocker Athletic Club?"

"Because of a difficulty."

"Who made trouble for you?"

"Cornish and Harpster."

THE LETTERS ABOUT HARPSTER.

"Did you see Jacobs & Co. sign the letter introduced in evidence yesterday?"

"I did not."

"Who handed you the answer to that letter which you say you destroyed?"

"Charles Jacobs."

"Where did you show it to Molineux?"

"At the New York Athletic Club."

"Did you show it or speak about it to any one else?"

"I did not."

Mr. Heiles said he first spoke to the District Attorney about his testimony in October, after Mr. Osborne had found out that he wrote the letter signed "Jacobs & Co." to Stearns. He said the purpose of getting the reply was to show it to Mr. Ballentine and thus injure Harpster, who was then in the employ of the firm. Mr. Weeks showed the witness several scraps of writing, which he identified as his own. He said he also was familiar with Harpster's writing and identified a letter written by him.

"Does your wife shop in Newark?" asked Mr. Weeks.

"No; she does her shopping in this city."

"Do you know the firm of Plum & Co. there?"

"They are stationers. When I was with Ballentine we had an account there."

It was in this store or in the store of Hahne & Co. in Newark that the prosecution alleges the crested blue paper was bought.

"Did you ever buy Christmas presents in Newark?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever buy silverware?"

The witness saw the drift of the questioning for the first time and laughed. He said he never bought any articles of silver and did not know of the existence of the store of Hartdegen & Co., where the silver bottle holder was bought, although he had lived in Newark thirteen years.

"Did you ever write the address on the poison package?"

"No."

DEFENSE'S FIRST EXHIBIT.

Mr. Weeks handed up an oblong package and asked the witness to write the address on it. Heiles complied without any apparent nervousness of manner. Mr. Osborne stood over him and watched the operation. It was then marked for identification, forming the first exhibit for the defense.

"I will consent to this being marked in evidence," said Mr. Osborne.

Mr. Weeks objected to the remark and the Court sustained him. Mr. Osborne smiled grimly and sat down.

Mr. Weeks went over at great length the conversations between Molineux and the witness. He tried again and again to shake his evidence but did not succeed. Then Mr. Weeks made the point that it would have been useless for Molineux to again write to Stearns for Harpster's record when he knew that Heiles had it.

"You kept the letter from Stearns until March last?" asked Mr. Weeks.

"Yes."

"And you destroyed it when you heard that Harpster had lost his place?"

"Yes."

"Who told you of that?"

"Felix Gallagher."

"You say Molineux knew you had this reply?"

"He did."

"And he could have had it from you at any time until you destroyed it?"

"Yes."

Mr. Osborne then took up the redirect examination. Heiles said he had never studied chemistry; had never written on blue paper with a crest of three entwined crescents on it, and was friendly with Barnet up to the time of the latter's death.

"How long have you been married?"

"Thirteen years."

"Then you did not contemplate matrimony in 1896?"

"Not much," said the witness, with a laugh.

"Have you any children?"

"Two boys."

"Then it's quite evident that you didn't need any remedies from Cincinnati?" The question went unanswered.

MOLINEUX SAW WEEKS IN JANUARY.

Mr. Heiles said he had been to the office of Mr. Weeks long before he had seen the District Attorney.

"Did you see Molineux at Mr. Weeks's office?"

"Once."

"When?"

"I think it was Jan. 4 or 5."

"Who was there?"

"Mr. Molineux, Mr. Carvalho, Mr. Weeks, and myself."

"That was before Molineux's arrest?"

"Nearly two months before the arrest."

"Did you and Molineux talk together that day?"

"Yes."

The witness said that he told him then all he knew about Mrs. Adams, Cornish, and every one else.

"At whose request did you go to the office?"

"At Mr. Molineux's. He telephoned to me and asked me to be there."

"Did you ever have anything to do with a letter box at 1,620 Broadway?"

"No."

"Or on Forty-second Street in a place kept by Nicholas Heckman?"

"No."

"Did you ever buy anything for Molineux?"

"No."

Mr. Osborne then handed to Heiles one by one about forty letters written by the defendant to various persons. Heiles said he was perfectly familiar with Molineux's handwriting and recognized the chirography in each. Most of them were only marked for identification, but some were offered in evidence against the protests of Mr. Weeks, Mr. Osborne holding that they were relevant to the matter in hand. One of them was without date and was as follows:

Mr. Dear Sadie: I am to be married on Tuesday next. Think of that. So you will excuse me from the next Sunday, will you not? It is all very sudden. A romance, in fact, and I am so happy! We go to the Astoria, our new home, and announcement cards will be sent out from there. Excuse my haste. I know you will join me in my happiness. Yours most cordially,

ROLAND.

This letter was written on New York Athletic Club paper. The letter was addressed to Mrs. William Scheffler, 72 West Eighty-eighth Street.

Another letter was addressed to a patent medicine firm, and read:

"Dear Sir: Please find inclosed 25 cents, for which send remedy, and oblige

"ROLAND MOLINEUX,

"6 Jersey Street, Newark, N. J."

DISLIKE FOR CORNISH.

These missives were introduced to show the contemplation of marriage and the physical condition of the defendant. Two others to show the state of mind of Molineux against Cornish were also put in evidence. They are as follows:

"My dear Scheffler: I do not remember that I have ever shown to you the inclosed. It gives the reason for my leaving the K. A. C. Do you think Cornish should be allowed to write such a letter in reference to an official of a friendly athletic club in this way? Ballantine thought Cornish was O. K., so Cornish is in and I am out. Please show it to some of your friends. I would like to hear your opinion. Show it to some of your friends. It may interest you at this time, when the whist club is being formed. Please return, and oblige very cordially, ROLAND MOLINEUX."

"Newark, N. J., Dec. 24, 1897.

"My Dear Adams:

"Although I have resigned from the K. A. C., do not for a moment suppose that I wish it other than success. I entertain the highest personal regard for its officers. But I have been a disturbing element in its councils, because (and with the very best intentions) I have opposed who and what I am confident is a very wrong policy, that of allowing an employe to use the club for personal advertisement and to get even with gentlemen who displease him.

"This I am not in sympathy with. Believe me it is best that I resign, which I do regretfully. I hope you will show this to Mr. Ballentine, that he may know how I stand in the matter. Wishing you all the compliments of this happy season,

"I am, yours most cordially,

"ROLAND B. MOLINEUX."

Mr. McLaughlin was then put on the stand to identify the replies in the Stearns letter book to the Jacobs letter and the bogus Cornish letter. It developed that the first was signed by D. M. Gray, a Director in the Stearns corporation, and the latter by Mr. Stearns. The Recorder refused to allow the witness to testify further, and it was here that Mr. Osborne made his admission of error in not having had the first reply identified by Heiles.

Mr. Weeks refused to cross-examine Mr. McLaughlin on his testimony in its present shape, and so the witness whom Mr. Osborne was so anxious to have return to his Detroit home will have to remain here until Heiles can be brought back to the stand again and the matter straightened out.

MR. KINSLEY ON THE STAND.

Mr. Kinsley was the only other witness examined during the day, and Mr. Osborne explained that he put him on the stand only for one specific purpose, and that was to identify the letters already offered in evidence, especially the bogus Cornish letter to Stearns.

The longest legal wrangle of the trial ensued, with the result that Mr. Weeks succeeded in staving off the answer of the witness for at least another day.

After the point of the witness's testimony as a lay witness was concluded, as already detailed, he was questioned as an expert. He told the story about making the defendant use two special pens with which to write and of slanting the paper while he was writing.

"Why did you do that?" asked Mr. Weeks.

"Because I wanted vertical writing."

"What was the reason you wanted it vertical?"

"Because the other writing with which it was to be compared was in that style."

"You said that the first writing on Feb. 17 was not satisfactory, did you not?"

"Yes."

"Had you not been examining the handwriting of the defendant for about fifty days?"

"I had."

"How many samples of his writing had you?"

"About twenty-five."

Mr. Osborne then asked the witness to state whether in his opinion the bogus Cornish letter and the copy made of it by Molineux in the witness's office were by the same hand. Mr. Weeks made an objection. He said that the writing was not the accustomed and normal writing of the defendant and he objected to its use as a standard of comparison.

"Do you mean to say that this copy is made in an assumed hand?" asked the Recorder.

"I say that it is not his free and unconstrained handwriting," answered Mr. Weeks.

"Answer my question!" thundered the Recorder, roused for the first time.

"I will answer it in no other way," said Mr. Weeks quietly, "and I object to your Honor's questions."

Before there could be a ruling or an answer by the witness the court adjourned until to-day at 1 o'clock. The Recorder explained the change of the convening hour by stating that he desired to allow Juror No. 6, Mr. Edgar, to attend the funeral of his business partner.

After the adjournment Mr. Weeks called Mr. Osborne to account for having failed to make good his statement made on Tuesday that he would call none except witnesses to prove the corpus delicti until that was established.

Mr. Osborne angrily replied that he had not promised, and that if he had circumstances were liable to arise which would call for a change of programme. He said that unless it was necessary to do otherwise he would to-day proceed with the establishment of the corpus delicti.

"He That is Angry Is Seldom at Ease."

This is true, also, of the person who has rheumatism, which is a most annoying and painful disease. Fortunately, however, it may be completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has given ease and comfort to thousands who once suffered from rheumatism.

Rheumatism—"I had rheumatism three or four years. Could not dress nor undress. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me good and I am now able to do all my work." Fannie L. Derricotte, Athens, Ga.

Be sure to get Hood's and only Hood's Sarsaparilla, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Never Disappoints

MR. COLE SEES FAULTS.

Railroad Commissioners Make a Personal Examination of the Workings of Brooklyn Rapid Transit.

Chairman Ashley W. Cole and Commissioner F. M. Baker of the State Railroad Commission, with Charles E. Barnes, electrical expert of the commission, yesterday made a tour of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system with a view of seeing for themselves what facilities were afforded for transportation from Brooklyn to Manhattan and between different points in the first-mentioned borough.

The Commissioners met at 7 o'clock in the morning at the terminus of the Fifth Avenue line of the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad, at Third Avenue and Sixty-fifth Street. There they were joined by President Rossiter and General Superintendent Wheatley of the Rapid Transit Company, James P. Farrell of the Thirtieth Ward Citizens' Protective Association, and Harry A. Hanbury of the Eighth Ward Association. An hour and a half was spent at this point, the Commissioners watching the operation of the transfer scheme and questioning passengers.

Mr. Hanbury and Mr. Farrell pointed out to the Commissioners the features of the system of which complaint has been made. The Commissioners expressed the opinion that conditions prevailing at this terminus were unsatisfactory.

Mr. Rossiter stated that the company intended to build an incline at this point, so that the trolley cars from the suburbs might be run up on to the elevated structure, and thus save passengers the hard climb up the stairs.

The Commissioners went down the road toward Fort Hamilton and boarded an incoming car. They questioned a dozen or more of the passengers regarding the compulsory transfer at Sixty-fifth Street.

In answer to a question by Mr. Hanbury as to why the company could not make the transfer between the surface and elevated roads optional instead of compulsory, Mr. Rossiter said that the elevated roads were acquired by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to divert long-distance travel from the surface, so as to relieve the congestion on the trolley lines and to give better accommodations to short-distance riders on the surface. The elevated roads in Brooklyn, he said, answered the same purpose as the Subway in Boston. Mr. Hanbury said that Brooklynites cared nothing about the Boston Subway, and Commissioner Cole remarked, incidentally, that, in his opinion, the Boston Subway was a failure.

From Sixty-fifth Street the party went to the transfer station at Fifth Avenue and Thirty-sixth Street. The Commissioners watched the working of the transfer system at this point, and then went to Eighty-sixth Street and Fifth Avenue. The need of a shelter for passengers at this place was pointed out to the Commissioners, and it was promised that one would be provided. From this point the party went to Ridgewood, and from there to Corona and Flushing to look into the complaints of residents in those sections.

Commissioner Cole, talking with the reporters, said that he was satisfied that some improvements should be made in the system, but had not determined what his recommendations would be in this connection.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

KLIPKNOCKIE RAILROAD.

To Run Seven Miles from the Quarry in Allegany County.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—The Klipknockie Railroad Company was incorporated to-day, with a capital stock of $100,000, to operate a steam railroad line of standard gauge from a point on the line of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern Railroad Company, at Centre Station, Birdsall, Allegany County, to Klipknockie quarry, Almond, Allegany County, a distance of seven miles. The principal office will be in New York City.

The Directors are Frederick Mollenhauer, George S. Bixby, C. Walter Artz, Henry F. Granger, Simon M. Ayers, S. Hanford Ayers, F. J. Ficker, Guy Wellman, and George B. Shepherd of New York City.

RATE WAR CONTINUES.

Two Railways Agree to Call a Meeting to be Held in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fé Railroads have agreed to call a meeting of passenger officials of all trans-continental lines to consider the California rate war. It will be held in Chicago as soon after Dec. 15 as possible.

The rate war is progressing. A party of three secured tickets from Chicago to California to-day at a net rate of $40 for second-class, which is $12.50 between tariff. A rate of $14, first-class, from St. Paul to New York is being made by the Sioux City and Northern and Canadian Pacific lines. This probably will be met by the Chicago Great Western and Grand Trunk, which will lead other lines into the trouble.

Import Freight Rates Withdrawn.

Commissioner Goddard of the Trunk Line Association yesterday announced that the reduced tariffs issued in November by the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Pacific on import freight have been withdrawn and will be canceled at the end of the year. This does away with the import rate difficulty which for a time threatened to be serious, inasmuch as competing lines were not only meeting the reduced rates, but were planning to offer greater concessions for next year. It is said that it had in fact been decided to reduce the import commissions from 20 cents on high-grade classes to 15 cents, and from 15 cents on lower grades to 10 cents.

TROLLEY CAR KILLS A DRIVER.

Charles Alexander of Manhattan Meets Death in Brooklyn.

Charles Alexander, twenty-one years old, who lived on Delancey Street, Manhattan, was killed by a trolley car on De Kalb Avenue, near Stuyvesant, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon.

Alexander was employed as a driver by a Manhattan portrait company. He was returning to his wagon on De Kalb Avenue, after delivering a portrait, when he was struck by a De Kalb Avenue car. The forward wheels passed over his body. When he was taken from under the car he was dead. The motorman was arrested.

GOLF CLUB MANAGER'S SUICIDE.

Frederick B. Russell of the Pelham Manor Links Shoots Himself.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Frederick B. Russell, manager of the Pelham Manor golf links and formerly a real estate broker, with an office at 19 Liberty Street, Manhattan, shot and killed himself to-day in Alderman Daniel D. Brady's hotel here. He had been connected with the golf club about two months. He had a room there, and took table board at the home of a relative at 451 South Seventh Street, Mount Vernon. Business troubles are supposed to have led to the suicide.

According to Henry Dreyfus, proprietor of the Dreyfus House, who made a statement to the police, Mr. Russell was worried over his inability to raise $65, which he desired to pay to the club.

Mr. Russell was about forty years old, and had been employed with Davis, Collamore & Co., glassware, up to about three years ago. William C. Findlay, attorney for the Russell family, said that Mr. Russell had not been well of late, and he knew of no reason for the suicide unless ill-health had brought about despondency. Mr. Russell came originally from Hudson, N. Y.

CONNECTICUT AGAINST BRYAN.

Special to The New York Times.

NORWICH, Conn., Dec. 6.—The interview with the Hon. Thomas M. Waller printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES has destroyed the last hope of Alexander Troup and his silver followers for controlling the May convention that will elect delegates to the National Convention. In all political circles the interview is of great interest. Especially is this true among the Democrats in all sections of the State. Not the Gold Democrats, but those Democrats who believe in being regular and voting for whoever the convention gives them. At least 40,000 of those who voted for Bryan in 1896 did so because they had to do so or not vote at all, and now that Mr. Waller has had the courage to speak out boldly they will look to him to lead them on to victory in the coming State Convention, and if he will lead there will not be even a murmur of 16 to 1 in the convention.

Waller for Governor is now the cry, and while it is doubtful if he would allow his name to go before the convention great pressure will be brought to bear to have him accept the nomination.

J. B. Shannon of this city, S. O. Bowen of Eastford, John L. Hunter of Willimantic, Robert Vance, and a number of others are mentioned for State offices on a silver platform.

Tiffany & Co.

Christmas Greeting

The many Christmas purchases already made and held for future delivery, prompt us to again remind patrons that they will consult their own interests by making early selections, while the stock is rich with many choice and dainty objects that cannot be duplicated later.

UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK

THE SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE.

Miller and Waller Still Leading the Second Pair by One Lap—Special Contests.

The Score at 2 A. M.

Teams.	Miles.	Laps.
Miller-Waller	1,453	1
Maya-McEachern	1,453	0
Gimm-Pierce	1,452	9
Fischer-Chevalier	1,452	6
Stevens-Turville	1,452	4
Babcock-Stinson	1,452	3
Schineer-Forster	1,448	9
The-Pastaire	963	9
Walthour, (individual)	739	0

Interest in the six-day international bicycle race at Madison Square Garden continued unabated all day yesterday. The crowd of the night before had dwindled to a few hundred men and boys and an occasional woman when daylight broke yesterday morning, but they were not left alone long after that in possession of the Garden. Soon after breakfast the vanguard of ordinary working hour bicycle cranks made its appearance, determined to lose as little as possible, consistent with some degree of rest, of the contest.

After this contingent, the more leisurely ones began to drop in, so that by afternoon several thousand were on hand, cheering the various contestants. In the evening fully 4,000 persons were present.

The race has now dwindled down to eight teams and an extra, the odd man being Walthour, whose partner, Eaton, has dropped out discouraged in the prospect of gaining a money prize. Walthour is still pegging away, confident of bringing down one of the individual prizes. The race so far is very close so far as the six leading teams are concerned.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock Waller slipped and went down, carrying with him Gimm and Babcock. Before Waller could rise and mount again, the others had gained a lap and a half, and Gimm lost two laps. Waller, however, began to sprint, being paced by little Walthour, and soon regained his lead.

The Miller-Waller team was 141 miles ahead of the record at midnight.

During the afternoon and evening the management gave variety to the contest by adding several special races. In the five-mile unlimited pursuit Albert Champion, who was being paced by Henri Fournier of Paris on a motor cycle, fell at the second mile.

J. P. Jacobson, the fifty-mile amateur champion of New Haven, and John H. Lake of the Harlem Wheelmen began an unlimited pursuit race. Lake overtook Jacobson at the finish of the eighth lap in 1:45 2-5. Next came an exhibition race by W. Smith of Brooklyn, paced by Fournier on his motor cycle. Smith closed the mile in 2:07. Fournier later in a motor cycle exhibition made a mile in 1:53 2-5.

Henry Myers, champion of Holland and England, and winner of last Saturday's international one-mile race, started off at 10 o'clock in a five-mile pursuit race against Fournier. Myers kept right behind the motor, sometimes even touching the rear wheel, until just after the eighth lap, when he fell. He received only slight injuries.

The five-mile paced race by Edouard Taylore of Paris, middle-distance champion of the world, was made in 11:17 3-5. Fournier was pacemaker.

SAFEGUARDS FOR RAILWAY MEN

Inter-State Commerce Commission May Grant But Short Time for Supplying Them.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Representatives of 100 railroads and of various labor organizations appeared before the Inter-State Commerce Commission to-day to attend the hearing of the application made recently by a number of transportation lines asking for an extension till March 2, 1903, of the time in which to equip their cars and engines with safety appliances.

John K. Cowan, President of the Baltimore and Ohio, representing as Chairman eighty-eight other roads having 80,000 miles of line, made the opening argument. He said that June 1, 1899, 211,268 freight cars out of 2,268,000 engaged in inter-State commerce were not equipped with safety appliances. Since that time the number had been reduced to between 40,000 and 175,000. The argument of the railroads asking for an extension, he said, was based upon the showing made by the roads since the last application. The showing demonstrated that the railroads had done as well as could be expected. Some of the cars not equipped were old and would go out of service within the coming year. The present withdrawal of the 175,000 unequipped cars, he said, would practically paralyze inter-State commerce.

Mr. Hamlin, on behalf of the Boston and Maine, said that his road would have complied with the law by Jan. 1, 1900, but it felt impelled to join in the application because other roads had not complied.

Wayne MacVeagh, representing the Pennsylvania and affiliated lines, joined in asking for the extension. They had equipped 148,000 out of 160,000.

E. E. Clark, President of the Order of Railway Conductors, said he had no desire to embarrass the commission or the railroads. He only desired to express the consensus of opinion of men engaged in the engine and train service of railroads.

He called attention to the great number of railroad employes injured last year, and urged haste as a means of saving men from injury and death.

It seems probable as a result of the hearing to-day that the commission will grant the railroads a further extension of six months within which to comply with the Safety Appliance act.

TWO TRANSPORTS SAIL.

The Sherman Carries Troops and Archbishop Chappelle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct, 6.—The transports Sherman and Centennial sailed for Manila to-day. The Sherman carried the remaining battalions of the Forty-ninth Infantry, under command of Major Kirkham, and 157 recruits. The Centennial carries horses.

Mgr. Chappelle, Archbishop of New Orleans, and Apostolic Delegate to the Philippines, was a passenger on the Sherman.

Fourth-Class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The following fourth-class Postmasters were appointed to-day:

CONNECTICUT—Mianus, Alfred Poindexter.
NEW YORK—Hallesborough, Miss. Delight Coats; Wantagh, J. J. Fussell.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

CAMDEN, Me., Dec. 6.—Fire to-day in the Camden Woolen Mills caused a loss of about $15,000

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Two buildings in the block bounded by Ohio, Wabash, and Mackinaw Streets, owned by the Mutual Life Insurance Company and occupied by the Buffalo Maple Flooring Company and the Central Casket Company, were burned this morning. The total loss was $23,000, partly insured.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., Dec. 6.—The Carbon County Improvement Company's electric light plant, wagon works, foundry, facing mill, ice plant, and machine shop, at Weissport, were destroyed by fire to-day. The loss is estimated at $100,000; amount of insurance not ascertained. The improvement company consists largely of Philadelphia capitalists.

SONS OF ST. NICHOLAS DINE

Recorder Goff Speaks About the Misrule of the City.

AN OLIGARCHY OR MOBARCHY

Predicts One or the Other If the Intelligent Citizens Play Golf Instead of Vote.

The St. Nicholas Society held its sixty-fifth annual dinner last evening at Delmonico's with the customary quaint ceremonies. The banquet hall was decorated with orange streamers, and the arms of the society, with four great American flags, decked the wall in the rear of the dais, which, like the doors of the room, was guarded by coal black negroes in picturesque Knickerbocker costume of orange and black.

F. De Peyster Foster, President of the society, presided, and among the 360 members and guests present were George Gray Ward, President of the St. George's Society; Tunis G. Bergen, President of the Holland Society; Thomas L. James, President of St. David's Society; Morgan J. O'Brien, President of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick; Frederick J. De Peyster, Governor of the Society of Colonial Wars; Alexander Maitland, Second Vice President of the St. Andrew's Society; Austin B. Fletcher, Vice President of the New England Society; John Rutgers Planten, Consul General of the Netherlands; Recorder Goff, District Attorney James M. Beck of Philadelphia, Stuyvesant Fish, the Rev. John Wesley Brown, John A. Taylor, Surrogate James M. Varnum, John H. Starin, and Carlisle Norwood.

When the coffee, cigars, and the long pipes, which are one of the features of the society's banquets, had been served, the sound of a trumpet was heard, and a trumpeter, dressed as Father Knickerbocker, entered, followed by J. Hansen Rhoades, Hamilton W. Pierson, Evert Jansen Wendell, Howland Pell, and Paul G. Thebaud, the Stewards, bearing the weather vane that once adorned the Stadt House of New Amsterdam, and which was presented to the society by Washington Irving, and the ancient municipal mace.

At the same time President Foster donned the old-fashioned three-cornered hat. The vane was placed on the table before him, with the rooster pointing north, and the President then delivered a brief address, in which he commented upon the unparalleled prosperity of the society, whose coffers, he said, were full to overflowing. He concluded with a tribute to the worth of Cornelius Vanderbilt and other members who had died during the year, and then proposed the toasts, first of "The President of the United States," and then of "The Governor of Our State," which were greeted with cheers, and the former with hearty singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

The Rev. Dr. John Wesley Brown responded briefly to the toast of "St. Nicholas." District Attorney Beck was then called upon to speak to the toast of "Our Country." He responded eloquently, dwelling upon the stupendous development of the United States during the past century, and endeavoring to picture what in the light of this progress the Nation will be a hundred years hence. Speaking of the relations of the United States with foreign countries, which were now based on the dictum of Jefferson, "Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations, and entangling alliances with none," he said he trusted they would not be diverted from this basis by exigencies of foreign policy in the coming century.

Recorder Goff responded to the toast of "Our City" in a manner that partook of the character of a lecture to his hearers. "You have been living under the shadow of a saint who does not pertain to the category of saints to which St. Nicholas belongs," said he, "and whose war paint exceeds in gorgeousness the colors of the sunset across the Jersey meadows. You have bowed beneath the tomahawk he has held over your heads. You have voluntarily abdicated the position occupied by your ancestors, and abandoned the trust handed down to you through successive generations into the hands of persons whose ability to hold it is open to very grave question.

"If we reflect on the way things are run in this city we must examine the cause thereof. We must see the reason why this city now differs from New Amsterdam, when there were no scandals. There were no officials to reproach for lack of honesty and want of local pride. This city is vastly different from New Amsterdam. Constantinople was once said to be the polyglot city of the world, but this is now the real polyglot city of the world.

"The question is how to govern the people of so many ideas, different thoughts, and methods of life. It remains for you, members of St. Nicholas, and other citizens like you, to answer this question. You must say whether people of ability and integrity shall govern this city." At this point Recorder Goff paid a tribute to Gov. Roosevelt and pointed out his efforts to secure honesty in the city government through State intervention.

"We have the kind of a city government that you want to have," he continued. "Just so long as the banker, broker, and merchant stay out of the city on election day and play golf, just so long will the same kind of people secure the control of this city's government. I have more respect for the coal heaver or laborer who remains at home to vote and do his duty than the merchant, broker, or banker who shirks his duty in this respect.

"This city pays more taxes than any other in the world and has less to show for it. People talk about the architecture of New York, yet we have not got a public building equal to any in any tenth-rate city of Europe.

"You hear much about home rule. There is no such thing. It is a shibboleth. It don't exist. We are citizens of a State. And in the performance of our duty as citizens we act as a political part of the State. Now, so long as any political majority in any city carries on its affairs of government of that city for its own welfare so long will the minority look to the State for its protection.

"But we have got just the government we are entitled to for neglecting the duties of citizenship. If the intelligent men in the community continue thus indifferent to the welfare of the city and evade their duties as citizens the result will be either the establishment of an oligarchy or of a mobarchy, and I don't know which would be the greater affliction."

Frederic J. de Peyster spoke to the toast of "Holland," and Carlisle to that of "Our Guests."

The St. Nicholas Society has decided to raise funds for the Boer Red Cross, the money being also intended for the relief of the British wounded taken prisoners by the Boers.

MR. COLER SPEAKS IN BROOKLYN.

St. Nicholas Society of the Island of Nassau Celebrates.

The St. Nicholas Society of the Island of Nassau held its annual dinner last night in the Germania Club on Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn. A number of speeches were made on the Boer question, the sentiment of which was anti-British.

Tunis G. Bergen, President of the society, acted as toastmaster. The Rev. Dr. T. F. Terhune, State Senator Coggeshall, Supreme Court Justice Goodrich, and Controller Bird S. Coler spoke. Mr. Coler's topic was "Greater New York," and he told of the difficulties which the city had to contend with in adjusting finances since consolidation.

The city, he said, was about to spend from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 on rapid transit, and he thought it would be an excellent scheme to spend from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 on tunnels so that Brooklyn might reap some benefit out of the project. This would make it possible to get from the Borough of Brooklyn to the Bronx without change of cars. He thought tunnels would be much more satisfactory than bridges, though he believed in having both.

Mr. Coler then took up the subject of better docks, to be owned by the city. A great dry dock, he said, capable of accommodating any ship that enters the harbor, should be built, so that vessels would not be compelled to go to Newport News or some British port for repairs.

Justice Goodrich said the Hague conference would likely prove a failure by reason of England's act in precipitating a war in South Africa. He said England had absolutely recognized the independence of the Boers, and that the present war was unjust, unreasonable, and unfair.

Peru's Cabinet Cannot Quit.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 6.—President Romana has refused to accept the resignation of the Cabinet, and public opinion approves the President's course.

SUMMIT STRIKERS RIOTOUS.

Silk Weavers Resent the Importation of Non-Union Hands.

SUMMIT, N. J., Dec. 6.—The strike of the weavers at the Summit Silk Mills, which has been in progress for nine weeks, developed a lively row this morning between the strikers and twenty-five non-union men brought here by the company to take their places. The police while protecting the new men had to draw their revolvers and fire into the air.

The new hands arrived here at 9 o'clock. A police escort was in waiting at the railroad station to give them safe conduct to the mill. As soon as the men alighted from the train they were surrounded almost instantly by strikers, among whom were a number of women.

The police and the new hands pushed their way through the crowd, and started on a dog trot through Morris Avenue. They were pursued by the strikers, who began to hurl stones at them. Policemen Britt and McNamara pulled their revolvers and fired into the air and the crowd fell back for a moment, but quickly took up the pursuit again. When the mills were reached the strikers swarmed about the new hands, and it was found necessary to place several of them under arrest.

Police Captain Stewart, who arrived at the mills during the excitement, drew up his men and charged upon the crowd, which retreated. The women weavers urged the men to stand and fight, and taunted them because they were intimidated by the police. Councilman Day was called, and summoned a number of other citizens to aid in restoring peace.

The Board of Fire Wardens was to-night called out to act as special policemen and aid in preserving the peace. Everything is now quiet in the city, but the strikers are restless, and it is feared another attempt to bring in outside weavers will result in more trouble.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF—H. C. Michell, London; A. G. Clark, London; Andy Evans, Durango, Mexico; Samuel Parker, Honolulu; F. C. Wheeler, London; Robert Percival, London; S. H. Wicks, London.

PARK AVENUE—C. W. Rhodes, London; President J. D. Dreher, Roanoke College, Va.

MURRAY HILL—Bishop W. H. Montague, San Francisco.

CAMBRIDGE—A. Ermen, Venezuela.

HOLLAND—J. H. Hobson, Paris; R. T. Baylis, London; M. E. Curwen, London; Col. Samuel P. Colt, Providence; ex-Gov. David B. Hill, Albany.

FIFTH AVENUE—Ex-Senator Charles J. Faulkner, West Virginia; Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, Rhode Island.

SAVOY—J. W. Perry, Paris; Duke de la Torre, Paris.

PLAZA—Gerald N. Stanton, Lawrence, L. I.

NETHERLAND—Frank C. Wheeler, London.

ALBEMARLE—S. A. Stanton, United States Navy; J. W. Cocksedge, Paris; Mrs. P. Lorillard, Jr., Tuxedo.

HOFFMAN—J. W. Bownie, London.

IMPERIAL—Lieut. E. L. Butts, United States Army; S. H. Wicks, London; Capt. T. King Muir, London.

GRAND—Dr. G. M. Magruder, United States Marine Hospital Service.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Shepard, Norwell & Co., Boston, Mass.; Miss M. Katon, corsets, 377 Broadway; Hotel Normandie.

Howe & Stetson, New Haven, Conn.; J. R. Gallagher, upholstery goods, 52 Franklin Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Gamble-Desmond Company, New Haven, Conn.; J. F. O'Connell, domestics and white goods, 487 Broadway; Morton House.

Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Company, Rochester, N. Y.; H. A. Dutton, silks; W. P. Briggs, crockery; 454 Broome Street.

Barnard, Sumner & Putnam Company, Worcester, Mass.; W. D. Merton, dress goods; 82 Franklin Street.

Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, Mass.; A. B. Wallace, dress goods; 2 Walker Street.

Murray-Blanchard-Young Company, Providence, R. I.; H. A. Young, stationery; Grand Hotel.

Posner Brothers, Baltimore, Md.; S. Fleishman, cloaks, suits, ladies' and infants' wear; Hotel Albert.

Shartenburg & Robinson, Pawtucket, R. I.; C. H. Whitney, carpets; 52 Franklin Street.

Hyman, H., Denver, Col.; clothing; Hoffman House.

Schaffner, L., Cleveland, Ohio; woolens; Hoffman House.

Kann, S., Sons, & Co., Baltimore, Md.; L. Kann, dress

HARD FIGHT AT KIMBERLEY

Major Scott-Turner Killed Leading a Fierce Sortie.

TRENCHES RUSHED UNDER FIRE

Armored Train and Machine Guns Hold in Check the Boer Forces, of Whom Twenty-eight Are Captured.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The sortie from Kimberley on Nov. 25 appears to have been much more serious than had been supposed. Details are now arriving of a reconnoissance in force by mounted troops under Major Scott-Turner, at dawn, in the direction of a ridge near Carter's Farm, where the Boers were strongly intrenched. Finding the Boer pickets asleep, Major Scott-Turner proceeded along the ridge under cover and rushed the Boer redoubts at 5:25 o'clock in the face of a hail of bullets.

The Boers hoisted a white flag and fired at the British under its protection before surrendering. Owing possibly to the exhaustion of their ammunition, the British were unable to follow up the attack and to seize a large Boer laager about 300 yards ahead, especially as Boer reinforcements were seen approaching and the enemy was keeping up a heavy fire from the shelter of the thick bush.

During the sortie an armored train reconnoitred north and south, while a considerable force of British, with field guns and Maxims, advanced toward Spytfontein, holding the Boers in check in that direction.

Ten guns were engaged simultaneously, and, viewed from the conning tower, an artillery duel seemed proceeding in every direction, except toward Kentlworth, the fusillade being terrible. At 8 o'clock, having no force sufficient to hold the position he had stormed, Major Scott-Turner began gradually retiring his men. He had a horse shot under him, and a bullet went through the fleshy part of his shoulder. Several men had terrible wounds.

It is alleged that the Boers used Martinis and explosive bullets, and that they frequently fired at the British ambulance wagons. The British captured twenty-eight of the enemy.

There appears to be some doubt as to whether this was the reconnaissance in which, according to the announcement of the War Office, Major Scott-Turner was killed, or whether that officer met his fate in a subsequent sortie.

The War Office, however, has received a list of casualties, said to have been suffered by the British at Kimberley on Nov. 28, as follows: Killed—Major Scott-Turner of the Black Watch, Lieut. C. Wright of the Kimberley Light Horse, and twenty non-commissioned officers and men.

Wounded—Capt. Walleck, Lieuts. Clifford and Watson, and twenty-eight non-commissioned officers and men.

This seems to indicate clearly that the death of Major Scott-Turner occurred in the sortie of Nov. 28.

Dispatches from Ladysmith, dated Dec. 2, say: "The hottest bombardment of the siege took place last Thursday. The Boers got a new big gun in position on Lombard's Kop, completely commanding the town, and shelled our camp that day and yesterday, planting shells with great accuracy in the camp of the Gordon Highlanders and the Manchester Regiment, where there were many narrow escapes.

"To-day the enemy resumed the bombardment, doing some very effective shooting. Several of our guns have been shattered by the Boer big guns."

Modder River dispatches say that the Boers are encamped amid the hills half way to Kimberley; but it is also asserted that a large body of the enemy has gone in the direction of Jacobsdal. It is possible, therefore, that Lord Methuen may endeavor to clear his right flank as far as Jacobsdal before continuing his advance. He is still waiting at Modder River for stores, guns, and ammunition.

From Queenstown, Cape Colony, comes word that the Boers have become very active in the country around Stormberg Junction, to which Gen. Gatacre will make his next move. The telegraph lines have been cut in various places, and communication with Steynsburg, Dordrecht, and Maraisburg has been severed.

It is believed here that the beleagured garrison at Ladysmith is suffering from confinement, restricted diet, and the increasing volume of the Boer artillery fire, especially that of the additional heavy-calibre gun placed in position 5,000 yards from the western defenses. The dispatches relate that the Boers had discovered the most vulnerable points of the garrison and that the shelling was becoming disagreeably effective. The rations had been reduced and there was a great deal of sickness.

Nevertheless, the troops of the garrison were in every way preparing to meet the assault which it was anticipated the Boers would carry out in a final effort to reduce the city. The belief was current in Ladysmith that the Boers were preparing for a retrograde movement after another attack. Several bodies of burghers were reported to have been seen Nov. 28 moving in the direction of the Drakensburg range, while, Nov. 29, detachments were observed journeying northward with wagons. Discord between the Transvaalers and Free Staters was also reported. There was no indication, however, that the Boers were preparing to dismantle their gun positions. But the idea was prevalent in some quarters of Ladysmith that the continued shelling of the place was intended to cover the retirement of other Boer forces toward the Transvaal frontiers.

A dispatch from Frere dated Sunday, Dec. 3, reports that in Col. Lord Dundonald's reconnaissance near Colenso, fifteen Boers were killed and many were wounded. The road bridge across the Tugela River is intact.

The same message reports that President Krüger is anxious that the burghers leave Ladysmith in order to oppose the British marching in the direction of Pretoria from the west.

Advices from Putter's Kraal, the headquarters of Gen. Gatacre's division, dated Saturday, Dec. 2, say the Boers entered Dordrecht that morning. This, it is added, is probably Gen. Grobler's force of 1,500 men from Stormberg.

There is a possibility, if Gen. Buller asks for further reinforcements, that a brigade of militia will be sent to South Africa, with the view of conciliating the militiamen, who think that branch of the service has been slighted in favor of the reservists.

In compliance with a requisition signed by Messrs. W. Redmond, John Clancy, and others, the Lord Mayor of Dublin's locum tenens has called a meeting of the Corporation for Dec. 11 to dispose of a motion in which the Corporation will deplore the "infliction on the South African Republics of this lamentable, cruel and unnecessary war" and protest against a policy "involving loss of life and enormous expenditure."

BOERS INSULT AN AMERICAN.

Passport Not Recognized and the Flag Treated with Disrespect.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Times prints a letter from an American citizen who left Johannesburg because he was liable to be impressed, and who had learned that the United States Consul was unable to protect him.

He complains bitterly that the American flag was not respected in Pretoria, that his passport was not recognized, and that his position was practically unbearable.

BOERS ARE LEAVING LADYSMITH?

Free State Troops Said to Have Abandoned Siege.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Frere Camp, dated Dec. 5, says:

"It is rumored that 6,000 Free State troops have left Ladysmith, entertaining the gravest fears as to the safety of their own country."

BOER LOSSES ARE UNDERSTATED.

Gen. Buller Charges Them with Distorting the Figures.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The War Office has received the following from Gen. Buller:

"PIETERMARITZBURG, Dec. 5.—It is very difficult to make any statement in regard to the enemy's loss. For instance, at Belmont eighty-one of their dead were accounted for. The enemy gave fifteen as the number of killed. There is every reason to believe that the enemy's loss in the fight at Ladysmith Nov. 9 was over 800 killed and wounded. Information from a trustworthy Boer source shows that at Hildyard's fight Nov. 23 the enemy lost 30 killed and 100 wounded. It is impossible to say how far these numbers are correct, but it is evident the enemy does not admit a tenth of the losses suffered. Intercepted dispatches to Joubert from a commander show that even the official dispatches contain decidedly inaccurate information in this respect."

MASON FAVORS THE TRANSVAAL.

Illinois Senator Would Have Congress Express Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Mr. Mason of Illinois, in the Senate to-day, offered the following resolution, which he asked be allowed to lie upon the table until he should call it up:

"Whereas, From the hour of achieving their own independence the people of the United States have regarded with sympathy the struggles of other people to free themselves from European domination; therefore,

"Resolved, by the Senate of the United States, That we watch with deep and abiding interest the heroic battle of the South African Republic against cruelty and oppression, and our best hopes go out for the full success of their determined contest for liberty."

GEN. JOUBERT IS INDISPOSED.

Announced from Pretoria that He Is Under Treatment.

PRETORIA, Dec. 2, via Lorenzo Marques, Dec. 4.—Gen. Joubert is indisposed, and has arrived at Volksrust, across the Transvaal border, (not far from Charlestown, in the extreme north of Natal,) for medical treatment.

A dispatch from the head laager, where Gen. Schalkburger is in supreme command during the absence of Gen. Joubert, announces that a council of war was held Dec. 2 with reference to assaulting Ladysmith. The State Attorney has arrived at the camp to advise the Boer commanders. Everything is quiet at Ladysmith.

Dispatches from the West report that there was a heavy artillery duel at Mafeking during the morning of Dec. 2.

All is quiet at Kimberley. Comfortable wood and iron houses have been erected at Waterfall, a few miles from Pretoria, for the rank and file of the British prisoners.

Count Deville Leblois, a Colonel in the French Army, has joined the Transvaal forces as an authorized military attaché.

BOERS STILL IGNORE MACRUM.

Continue to Refuse to Let the American Consul Act.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—It is reported from Cape Town that the Transvaal Government still refuses to acknowledge the right of the United States to interfere regarding prisoners in Pretoria, insisting that Great Britain must inquire through Commandant Gen. Joubert.

CONSUL MACRUM HEARD FROM.

American Representative Tells of Conditions in the Transvaal.

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio, Dec. 6.—Letters received from Charles F. Macrum, United States Consul at Pretoria, who has resigned his position, by friends in this city, his home, are of interest in view of the recent dispatches from Washington regarding his experience in the Transvaal as representative during the war of the interests of the subjects of Great Britain in the South African Republic. Letters from his wife also give a graphic picture of the condition of affairs in Krüger's capital. Consul Macrum writes:

"We are in the midst of it. The shooting has commenced. Gen. Cronje has taken the railroad at Mafeking, blown up some trains, and taken some prisoners, ammunition, &c. The Boers want to make a good fight of it, and will be a mighty hard lot to beat.

"The British who have not been granted permits to stay have been ordered out by Wednesday, and the Lord help those who are not gone at that time. I suppose they will all go on time. The Government has provided for their transportation if unable to pay.

"We will be cared for, so you need not worry. The Government is more friendly to me now than before, even since I took over the British interests."

Mrs. Macrum writes:

"You thought it terrible during the Spanish-American war. Well, you know nothing about it. I cannot describe affairs here. Every citizen between the ages of sixteen and sixty has gone to the front, and now there is nothing for these women in the South African Republic to do but to sit and watch developments. On the Boer side there will be no backing down. There is a great deal of distress, especially in Johannesburg.

"Everybody here would like to be an American citizen."

European Officers to Aid the Boers.

LISBON, Dec. 6.—Two Russian Colonels, a French General, and a French Colonel, who have been engaged by Dr. Leyds to assist in the defense of Pretoria, left today for Lorenzo Marques. They were escorted to the steamer by the Secretary of the French Legation here.

British Wounded Reach London.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The first batch of wounded soldiers from South Africa, numbering 133 men, arrived in the Thames today on board the British transport Sumatra, which left Table Bay about Nov. 15.

Americans Presented to the Queen.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Ronalds and Mrs. Blow of the American Ladies' Hospital Ship Committee, were presented to the Queen yesterday by Lady Randolph Churchill.

THE OCEANIC SHOWS SPEED.

Run from Queenstown Made in 5 Days 20 Hours and 42 Minutes.

The White Sar Line steamship Oceanic, which arrived yesterday, made a trip which suggested that she is beginning to show a reserve power not developed on earlier trips. She made the run from Queenstown in five days, 20 hours and 42 minutes, covering a course of 2,778 nautical miles at an average speed of 19.74 knots.

Her days' runs were 474, 514, 489, 498, 478, and 352 nautical miles. She had moderate weather throughout.

ADRIFT AT SEA IN A LAUNCH.

Peril and Suffering of Seth Low's Secretary and His Friends.

BABYLON, L. I., Dec. 6.—James W. Eaton, private secretary of Seth Low, who is Superintendent of the Episcopal Sunday School here, left this place with a party of friends yesterday morning in Mr. Eaton's naphtha launch Clip, for a trip to sea. The boat's machinery broke down when it was several miles off the coast. It drifted about for the rest of the day out of sight of land.

It was finally anchored for the night near the Romer Shoals, between Sandy Hook and Coney Island, having been carried there by the tide. The wind blew almost a hurricane, and the launch nearly filled with water.

The party suffered greatly from the cold and exposure. With much difficulty the party managed to navigate the boat to New York this morning.

C. OLIVER ISELIN SAILS.

Has Not Yet Decided to Take the Columbia Abroad.

C. Oliver Iselin, managing owner of the yacht Columbia, and Mrs. Iselin were among the passengers of the steamship St. Paul, which sailed for Southampton yesterday morning. Mr. Iselin declined to divulge what plans he had considered for Columbia, and said that his object in making the voyage was solely for pleasure, and was not significant at all from the viewpoint of a racing yachtsman.

"Have you given orders to have the Columbia sent abroad?" was asked.

"I have not made up my mind yet," he replied. "The Columbia was built with the understanding that she might go abroad if she defeated Shamrock, but whether or not the rules that prevail on the other side will be too great a handicap for a craft of her depth and form, I am unable to say at present. I can say, however, that the subject of taking her across has been widely discussed.

"I have read a great deal about the Distant Shore, Charles Rose's new ninety-footer, and have also heard of another new Watson boat that is expected to be a flyer. Neither of these craft troubles me in the least, and if I conclude to take Columbia to the other side, I will enter her in every race in which she is eligible. I expect to go to London as soon as I land, and will, of course, meet Sir Thomas Lipton and probably other yachtsmen."

TIFFANY
FAVRILE GLASS

This new glass possesses limitless range of color and variety of texture, and every piece is initialed or signed by Louis C. Tiffany.

Many pieces, many prices
TIFFANY STUDIOS
333 to 341 Fourth Avenue

NO NEWS FROM GEN. YOUNG

Gen. Otis Reports No Word Has Been Received Since Nov. 29.

THE NIGHT ATTACK AT VIGAN

Sick and Footsore American Soldiers Drove Out a Superior Force of Rebels—Killed Forty.

MANILA, Dec. 6.—Lieut. Col. Parker of the Forty-fifth Infantry commanded at Vigan, Province of South Ilocos, when that place was attacked Monday, Dec. 4, by a force of insurgents. The American force consisted of Company B of the Thirty-third Regiment and 150 sick men, many of whom shared in the first attack, which was made at 4 o'clock in the morning and lasted until 8 o'clock.

The Filipinos, who were estimated to have numbered about 800 men, and were commanded by Gen. Mino, came from the outskirts of the town to the port. The fighting was from house to house and almost hand to hand. The Americans captured eighty-four rifles and several prisoners. The official report says that three men were wounded.

Col. Bisbee is sending reinforcements to Vigan on board the gunboat Wheeling.

Col. Parker praised the bravery of the sick American soldiers. Every man who was able to stand handled a rifle during the attack.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Gen. Otis to-day cabled the War Department that he has had no word of Gen. Young for a week. This is taken to indicate that Gen. Young is continuing his hot pursuit of Aguinaldo and probably is in a country where he regards it as unsafe to use couriers. Gen. Otis's dispatch, which follows, also gives an official account of Lieut. Col. Parker's engagement at Vigan:

"MANILA, Dec. 6.

"Gen. Young, with thirteen companies of infantry and nine troops of cavalry, not heard from since 29th ult. He was then about twenty miles south of Vigan, and most of the troops marching to his support; but then had with him three troops of cavalry, a battalion of the Thirty-third Infantry, and Macabebe scouts. One company of Thirty-third Infantry sent by boat to Vigan to reinforce navy there.

"Lieut. Col. Parker, Forty-fifth, reports from Vigan 5th inst. that he has not heard from Young for a week. Insurgents 800 strong made attack on his force, consisting of B Company and 153 sick and footsore men of the Thirty-third Infantry, at 4 o'clock on morning of the 4th, entering city in darkness; severe street fighting ensued, continued four hours; enemy driven out, leaving behind 40 dead, 32 prisoners, including many officers, and 84 rifles; now on outskirts intrenching.

"Parker says can hold out indefinitely; plenty rations and ammunition. His loss 8 enlisted men killed, 3 wounded. One hundred and sixty men now being transported from San Fabian to his relief; Young must be in vicinity with large force."

Where Last Fighting Took Place.

Vigan, the scene of the recent fierce fight between American troops and attacking Filipinos, is situated on an island in the estuary of the River Abra, 110 miles north of Dagupan, on the west coast of Luzon. The city is more than ninety miles from Bayombong, the first-reported objective point of Aguinaldo's flight, and twenty-two miles west of Bangued, the city in which American prisoners are supposed to be held.

DOUBT REBEL'S DESIRE TO QUIT.

Officials Do Not Believe Aguinaldo Can Be Induced to Surrender.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Relative to the rumor from Hongkong that Aguinaldo is willing to surrender to United States Consul Wildman, it is learned that, though the Consul himself has cherished that belief for some months past, the Government here has been without any assurance of the soundness of his conclusion.

Mr. Wildman is not the only official representing the United States in the Far East who has expressed confidence in his ability to persuade Aguinaldo to cease hostilities, but for some reason the Administration has always been skeptical as to these undertakings.

This report from Hongkong is believed to be nothing more than a revival of some of the old rumors.

GEN. GORDON ON THE PHILIPPINES.

Says that He Is Not in Favor of Pulling Down the Flag.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—Gen. John B. Gordon of Georgia, Commander in Chief of the Confederate Veterans of America, made a declaration on the Philippine question today. He said:

"My sympathies go out to the men who are fighting under the Stars and Stripes wherever they are, and I am not in favor of pulling down the flag. I guess that shows where I stand."

GEN. LEONARD WOOD PROMOTED

Nominated by the President to be Major General of Volunteers—Other Officers Advanced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The President to-day nominated Brig. Gen. Leonard Wood, United States Volunteers, to be a Major General of Volunteers. He also nominated Col. Edgar R. Kellogg of the Sixth United States Infantry, Col. Gilbert S. Carpenter of the Eighteenth United States Infantry, Col. William A. Kobbe of the Thirty-fifth United States Volunteers, and Col. J. Franklin Bell of the Thirty-sixth United States Volunteers to be Brigadier General of Volunteers.

According to the officials of the War Department, the promotion of Gen. Wood to the grade of Major General of Volunteers is not likely to cause any immediate change in his present station and duties as commander of the military Provinces of Santiago and Puerto Principe. Gen. Wood had an interview with Secretary Root at the War Department to-day, and at its conclusion said that he expected to return to Santiago in a few days, but that it was possible he might be allowed to spend the Christmas holidays in this city. As Major General of Volunteers, Gen. Wood will be the second ranking officer in Cuba, his single military superior being Major Gen. Brooke, commanding the division, who is a Major General in the regular establishment.

Gen. Wood's advancement gives him rank above Gens. Wilson, Lee, Wheeler, Bates, Young, Chaffee, and Ludlow, all of whom were senior to him in the volunteer army. Although all the officers named were Major Generals of Volunteers during the Spanish war, they at present hold only the rank of Brigadier General. Counting Gen. Wood, there are now eight Major Generals in the army, including Gens. Miles, Merritt, and Brooke of the regular army. The other volunteer Major Generals are Shafter, Otis, Lawton, and MacArthur.

Gen. Wood's appointment is made under authority of the statute allowing an officer of that rank for every 12,000 men in active military service. Including the 35,000 volunteers recently enlisted for service in the Philippines, the present strength of the army is in round numbers 100,000 men.

Col. Kellogg of the Sixth Infantry and Col. Carpenter of the Eighteenth Infantry, who were nominated as Brigadier Generals in the regular army, will be placed on the retired list immediately. Both held the rank of Brigadier General in the volunteer establishment during the Spanish war. Col. Carpenter is now in command of his regiment in the Philippines. Col. Kellogg started to the Philippines with his regiment, but was taken sick en route, and was compelled to return to the United States from Honolulu. He was twice brevetted for gallantry and meritorious action during the civil war.

MOVEMENTS OF TRANSPORTS.

PORT SAID, Dec. 6.—The United States transport Meade, formerly the American Line steamer Berlin, from New York Nov. 16 for Manila, with 1,110 men of the Forty-third Regiment on board, has arrived here.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The arrival of the transport Meade at Port Said with the Forty-third Infantry was announced to the War Department to-day. No casualties are reported.

The War Department has also been informed of the arrival at Malta to-day of the transport Logan. She has on board the Forty-first Infantry, Col. Richmond, and reports all well.

Capt. Chadwick Relieved.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Capt. Chadwick, who was Chief of Staff of the North Atlantic Squadron, at his own request has been relieved of the command of the New York by Capt. Snow, who has just returned from Puerto Rico, where he commanded the naval station. The change will take effect on the 12th inst., and Capt. Chadwick will go on leave of absence.

The Nashville Arrives at Colombo.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The Nashville arrived at Colombo, Island of Ceylon, yesterday on her way to Manila.

BURNZ CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

Tells Capt. McClusky How He Murdered Herbert P. Fellows, the Scarsdale Station Agent.

Edgar Burnz, who killed Herbert P. Fellows, station agent at Scarsdale, Monday night, and who was captured at 2 o'clock yesterday morning at the Madison Square Garden, made a confession to Chief of Detectives McClusky during the day and was taken back to the scene of his crime, where an inquest was held over the body of the station agent. A woman with whom he boarded for a week at Scarsdale testified at the inquest that the boy fell off a house two years ago and that she has always considered him irresponsible for many of his wild actions.

Burnz's story to Capt. McClusky related almost every detail in connection with the murder and was told in a cool and rather bragging fashion. He said he was born in New York City and lived until about a week ago with his father and mother. He had some difficulty with his father and left home. He claims not to have had any intention of murdering Fellows when he went to the railway station, and talked with him Monday night.

When the station agent closed up his station the boy walked toward his home with him. When they reached a dark place in the road he says he was seized with an uncontrollable desire to kill and rob Fellows. He drew his revolver and fired. As the man fell forward with the ball in his brain the boy says he grabbed a satchel containing $75 and a pocketbook which was in his hip pocket containing about $30. He left the man to die and ran away.

Taking the money from the pocketbook and the satchel he threw them into a clump of bushes and boarded a train for this city, going directly to the bicycle race at the Garden. He stopped there until daylight, and then went to the Metropolitan Hotel, where he took a room and slept until 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Then he purchased a pair of shoes, a clean collar and necktie, and took dinner.

He went to the race again in the evening, and about midnight visited a Tenderloin resort, where he met Ella Smith and took her to the Garden. They remained together until he was captured by a local detective, assisted by detectives from Scarsdale.

At the inquest, which was held in the home of the murdered man, Burnz was held for the action of the Grand Jury, which meets Monday, and he will probably be tried at once. It is thought he will not make any defense. Mrs. Fellows, the wife of the murdered man, is ill in bed from shock. The satchel and pocketbook were recovered where Burnz said he threw them in the bushes, and when the wife identified them she kissed them.

MOTORMAN KILLED BY HIS CAR.

Fell to His Death While Leaning Over the Dashboard.

CARLSTADT, N. J., Dec. 6.—Clarence W. Smith, thirty-two years old, a motorman employed by the Newark and Hackensack Traction Company, was instantly killed by his own car to-day. Smith was leaning over the dashboard on the front platform trying to examine the headlight when he lost his balance and fell from the rapidly moving car.

He struck on his head between the rails and the wheels of the car passed over his body. The accident occurred near the power house in East Rutherford. He leaves a wife and two children and resided here.

TELEPHONE CO-OPERATION.

The Federal Company Waiting for New York Lines to Work West.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 6.—At a meeting of the capitalists interested in the Federal Telephone Company held here it has been decided to co-operate with the Telephone and Telegraph Company of America as soon as the lines of the latter company have been constructed westward to the borders of Ohio.

The East is not developed nearly as completely as the Middle West, it is said, and according to President Henry Everett there will be no consolidation until the Eastern people extend their system to the borders of Ohio.

"We shall go ahead and develop the State of Ohio," said Mr. Everett, "as we started out. We will inform the Eastern people that when their lines reach this State we will be very glad to co-operate with them."

Amethyst Brooches.

Our stock of Amethysts is unexcelled for purity of color and richness of settings.

Amethyst Brooches, set with pearls, $12.00 to $100.00

Amethyst Brooches, set with diamonds, $50.00 to $450.00

Theodore A. Kohn & Son
JEWELERS
56 West 23d Street

LEGAL FIGHT IN KENTUCKY

State Board Hears Arguments on Its Powers.

GOVERNORSHIP IN THE BALANCE

Democrats Claim that Returns Made in Obedience to an Order of Court Should Be Rejected.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 6.—The State Board of Election Commissioners heard arguments to-day in the contested election cases. In behalf of Taylor, the Republican candidate for Governor, it was argued that the board had no right to go behind the returns received from the county election officers; the attorneys for Goebel, the Democratic candidate, opposed this proposition.

In deciding the course of argument, it was arranged that the Democrats should have the close. The Republicans agreed to open, and D. W. Farleigh spoke for them. He claimed that no State in the Union permitted a State Election Board to go behind the returns of the County Canvassing Boards, saying that the matter had been decided in all the courts of the United States from the Supreme Court of the Nation down. He then cited authorities in support of his position. If it had been the intent of the statute that the Canvassing Board had the right to go behind the returns, he said, why should there have been anything in the statutes providing for the creation of a Contesting Board.

Commissioner Ellis asked if the decisions did not show that the Court of Appeals had decided that canvassing boards had judicial power. Mr. Farleigh then entered upon a long argument designed to prove that they did not.

Judge Pryor, Chairman of the Commissioners, during a pause in Mr. Farleigh's argument, said:

"I would like to invite the attention of counsel on both sides to this proposition, and I would like to hear arguments upon it: Suppose this board does undertake to examine returns, as the statutes say it shall have the power to do, how far does its power extend over the statutes?

Mr. Farleigh replied: "That is a most important question, and I was just about to enter upon it."

He then advanced arguments based upon the assertion that the right of the board of examiners to canvass the returns gave it no power to alter the certified returns of the county boards. He quoted authorities to show that the board had no right to examine anything but certified returns, as anything outside of that was only hearsay evidence, and therefore not admissible. Mr. Farleigh concluded his argument at 11:45 o'clock, saying it was simply a plain statement of the Republican position.

He was followed by R. F. Peak, for the Democrats, who argued that the board was more than a counting machine even while sitting as a Canvassing Board as well as a Board of Contests. He claimed that the State Board had more power than the county boards.

"You appoint them," he said, "and you surely have more power than those you appoint."

Mr. Peak claimed that the State Board had the right to determine whether the returns before the board are genuine. "Some of the returns before this board," he said, "are not returns at all." He claimed that in the case of Knox County, where the returns were made under the stress of a power of a mandamus, the board had a right to review and throw it out as not being the voluntary act of the officers of the election.

Mr. Peak argued that a return made under such circumstances was clearly in the revisionary powers of the board, and he asked that the board go behind the returns and declare the vote void, on the ground that the certificate was the act of a partisan Judge and not the work of the county officers. The word "examine" in that portion of the election law defining the power of the board was then brought up by the speaker.

"Why," he asked, "if this board was meant to be nothing but a mathematical machine, what was the necessity of inserting the word 'examine' in the law?"

Under the old law, Mr. Peak said, the powers of the board were defined as being "to meet and open the returns." The word "examine," he claimed, had the effect of giving the board the right to go behind the returns on the county certificates. Mr. Peak closed his address by a vigorous argument that the board had every right to do so, and to accept the evidence regarding alleged frauds in the City of Louisville, which Secretary of State Finley declined to receive.

After a recess Mr. Willson, for the Republicans, took up the election troubles in the "passed counties" and went over the allegations in each case in detail. The word "examine" in the statute defining the powers of the board, he declared, meant that the board should examine the statement of votes cast and not enter into the method of their being cast. He concluded his argument with Nelson County.

A recess of twenty minutes was taken on account of the illness of Commissioner Poyntz, who was overcome by the heat and close air of the Senate chamber.

Lewis McQuowen of Bowling Green, for the Democrats, opened with a discussion of the proper construction to be put on the word "examine" in the election law, which meant, he declared, far more than that the Commissioners should perform the simple physical act of looking at the returns.

The argument at the night session was opened by Judge Alexander P. Humphrey on the Taylor side. He said the two principal issues involved were as to what the powers of the Board of Election Commissioners are, and as to what record this body has before it. His contention on the former point was that the board is merely a canvassing body without judicial powers, and on the latter that the supplemental returns from several counties and the record on which the Louisville contest is based are not legally before the board and cannot be considered.

Turning to the question of the vote of Louisville, Mr. Humphrey said it was proposed to throw out the entire vote of Louisville. This was proposed to the Election Commissioners of Jefferson County, but they declared they had no power to do it.

"Am I right, Judge Harris?" he said to the senior Democratic counsel.

"They did not say it in that form," replied Judge Harris.

"Did they say it in substance?" said Mr. Humphrey.

"Yes; they did," replied Judge Harris.

"And," continued Mr. Humphrey, "they certify to this board a mass of evidence they could not hear themselves."

Commissioner Ellis put to Mr. Humphrey the same question he had put to others during the day:

"Would the fact that ballots perfectly transparent were used in an election render that election void?"

"Not unless it is pronounced so through the course of a judicial inquiry," was the reply.

The board adjourned at 9 o'clock to meet at 9:30 to-morrow.

Call for a Silver Convention.

The State Committee of the Chicago Platform Democrats, an organization which grew out of the "Dollar Dinner" given in honor of William Jennings Bryan in April last, has issued a call for a State convention, to be held the first week in March, 1900, at which time they will declare their "adherence to the Chicago platform, elect and select delegates to the next National Convention of the Democratic Party who represent and will represent the Democracy of the State of New York." In the call, which is signed by James R. Brown, as Chairman, the State Committee makes it apparent that it is still at war with the men who are generally believed to be the leaders of the party in the State.

King Leopold of Belgium

Appointed JOHANN Hoff as Honorary Member of the Sanitary College at Brussels, in consideration of the highly nutritious and beneficial action of the Genuine JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

More strength in one dozen bottles of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract than in a cask of ale or porter, without their deleterious effects.

Ask for the Genuine JOHANN HOFF'S MALT EXTRACT.

IT MAKES FLESH AND BLOOD.

THE BIG STORE A CITY IN ITSELF
SIEGEL COOPER CO.
SIXTH AVE. 18TH & 19TH STS.
NEXT DOOR TO THE FOUNTAIN

Books for the Holidays. Our gathering this year in a library in itself—a library containing the choicest literature of other days and other times as well as of to-day—a library from which all minds can make a selection and of which all purses can afford to buy. You will make some Christmas presents, of course, to your home folks or your intimate friends. You couldn't select anything better than a good book, nor anything that will cost you less in proportion to its real value. Here are a few selections which will give you an idea of some of the good things that await you and the low prices which prevail throughout the department generally:

BOOKS FOR BOYS & GIRLS.
Over 200 titles to select from, published at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00; our price, per vol. 35c

A few of the titles:
A Sailor Boy with Dewey.—Bonehill.
The Boat Club.—Optic.
Now or Never.—Optic.
Lost in Samoa.—Ellis.
Red Rose and Tiger Lily.—Meade.
The Children's Pilgrimage.—Meade.
The Little Lame Prince.—Muloch.
Sundown Songs.—Laura Richards.
A Hole in the Wall.—Louisa M. Alcott.
The Cottage Neighbors.—Nora Perry.
Nonsense Songs.—Lear.
Off for Hawaii.—Bonehill.
Life of Kit Carson.—Ellis.
The Man Without a Country—Hale.
The Blue Fairy Book.—Lauge.

Bound Volume of Harper's Round Table, 1899, published at $2.50; our price . . . 1.25

Chatterbox for 1899, published in cloth at $2.00 and in boards at $1.25; our price, in cloth, $1.10, and in boards . . . 65c

The Gypsy Series, by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, 5 volumes, containing Gypsy's Cousin Joy, Gypsy Breynton, Gypsy's Sowing and Reaping, Gypsy's Year at the Golden Crescent, published at $2; our price . . . 1.15

Complete Works of William Shakespeare, Handy Volume Edition, illustrated with steel engravings, good print, 13 vols., bound in flexible cloth, published at $7.50; our price . . . 3.45

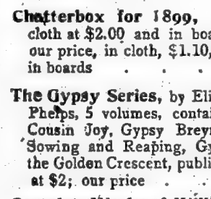
The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, Riverside Handy Volume Edition, bound in flexible cloth, gilt top, published at $1.25; our price . 35c

The Dutch and Quaker Colonies in America, by John Fiske, 2 volumes, published at $4.00; our price . . . 3.00

The New Illuminated Holy Bible, Teachers' Edition, self-pronouncing, with marginal references, concordance, maps and numerous helps and nearly 600 original illustrations, bound in flexible leather, divinity circuit, round corners, with red under gold edges, published at $2.50; our price 1.25

Smokers' Articles.
The largest variety of smokers' articles in New York is to be seen at the Big Store at the present time, any of which would make exceedingly appropriate Christmas presents to such of your friends as are smokers. On sale at our Cigar Department, also at the Smokers' Stand, in the Main Aisle, back of the Fountain, at these low prices:

Imported Weichsel Pipes, with flexible stem, sold elsewhere at 25c. each; here to-day at . . . 10c



Smokers' Stands (like illustration, worth 50c., here to-day at . . . 25c

Tobacco Jars, latest imported novelties, value up to $1.00, here to-day, your choice for . . . 50c

Cocoa Nut Tobacco Jars, those funny fellows, just the thing to keep tobacco in good condition, your choice for . . . 1.25

The True Mother Goose, a new edition from the original text first issued in 1719, charmingly illustrated by Blanche McManus; bound in canvas; published at $1.50; our price . . . 50c

Holiday Edition of Poetry, from the Riverside Press. Each volume 16mo, gilt top, with engraved title and frontispieces and other illustrations; bound in dark blue silk cloth; published at $1.25; our price . . . 35c
Comprising the following titles:
Lady of the Lake—Scott.
Enoch Arden—Tennyson.
Childe Harold—Byron.
Lay of Last Minstrel—Scott.
The Princess—Tennyson.

A Beautiful Holiday Edition of well-known books, bound in cloth with gold stamping, profusely and charmingly illustrated from half-tones and printed on the best paper, each volume in a box. Published at $2.00; our price . . . 1.10
Title, as follows:
Leaves from the Life of a Good-for-Nothing. Translated from the German of Joseph Freiherr von Eichendorff by Mrs. A. L. Wister. Illustrations by Philip Grot Johann and Prof. Edmund Karo'dt.
A Sentimental Journey Through France and Italy, by Laurence Sterne; with 220 Drawings, by Maurice Leloir.
Lamia, by John Keats. Illustrated by Will H. Low.
The Sketch Book, by Washington Irving. Illustrated with 120 Engravings on wood from original designs.

Teachers' Bible—Contains new helps, new Concordance, 350 illustrations, maps, &c., bound in flexible leather, divinity circuit, red under gold edges; special price . . . 65c

Prayer Book and Hymnal, Protestant Episcopal, bound in leatherette; special price . . . 75c

Key of Heaven, bound in leatherette, gold edges; special price . . . 25c

Catholic Child's Prayer Book, bound in cloth . . . 9c

Diaries for 1900—A complete assortment; price from 12c. up to . . . 1.85

Calendars—A handsome assortment for 3c. up to . . . 4.00

A Musical Department Special.
A people musically inclined love the sweet music of the zither. The one we offer for sale to-day is a very good instrument and very low priced. Just the thing for a Christmas present—almost anybody would be glad to get it.

$5.00 Columbia Zithers at $1.25.

This is the No. 1 Columbia Zither, with 31 strings; tuned to the key of C, with 4 chords; complete with instruction book, 3 pieces of music and music stand, pick and key. Nothing so good or so cheap has been offered for a long time in the musical line.

Violin Outfit, containing one-half or three-quarter size violin, bow and rosin, all put up in a case with lock and key; very special for to-day at 2.25

Sold on Main Floor, rear.

Obesity.
Corpulency.
The efficiency of "APENTA"
The Best Natural Aperient Water, in removing fat and corpulency is proven by experience.
FOR REPORTS by Professor Liebreich, Berlin, Professor Bogoslowsky, Moscow, Professor Althaus, London, and American Authorities, Address,
United Agency Co., 5th Ave., cor. 42d St., New York.
Sole Agents of THE APOLLINARIS CO., Ld., London.

WANTS $300 TO MARRY HER.

Queer Case Comes Up Before Magistrate Meade.

Ignate Tracer, twenty years old, is a shirt operator, living on the lower east side, and so is Jennie Ehrlich. Accompanied by some of the young woman's friends they went yesterday to the Essex Market Police Court and asked Magistrate Meade to marry them. He refused, and they went to the office of a lawyer, where Alderman Minsky prepared to perform the ceremony.

Tracer hopped up suddenly and demanded $300 from the bride. She called him a deceiver and demanded $75 she said she had loaned him. A scramble followed, in which the bride-elect lost her hat, and then friends and spectators separated them, and they went again before Magistrate Meade. The bride-elect wanted the young man prosecuted.

"I thought you wanted to be married," said the Magistrate.

"But I want my $300 first," said the young man, "I'm a greenhorn. I get for a week's work $3."

"Won't you take 10 or 15 per cent. off the $300?" asked the Magistrate.

"Not a cent off I take," replied Tracer. "Business I start with the $300 maybe. Anyhow, work she have to."

"Oh," said the Magistrate, "you're a greenhorn, but you are going to make your wife work?"

"Why," spoke up the bride-elect. "I gave him $20 to bu

WANAMAKER'S WANAMAKER'S WANAMAKER'S

Helps to Your Comfort

TOO warm in the store? Not a bit of it—we've thermometers everywhere and competent men to see that the temperature is safe and that the air is kept as pure as modern facilities make possible.

We have the health of our helpers to guard.

Lay off your street wraps—you will find ample checking room on the Main Floor near Fourth avenue.

If you come from a distance—stay all day—if early, take breakfast here—50c, very dainty, scarcely a penny of profit to us. A satisfying midday luncheon, in course, at 35c. We'd make it all free if it wasn't for the abuse of it.

Store full? Yes, indeed, but comfortable. There's no need for any good natured person to lose temper—and somehow or another, the throngs at Wanamaker's are pleasant folks.

Things to see—

At 10:30 or 11:30 a.m. or 3 or 4:30 p.m.—H. Halsey-Stirling's Art Exhibitions—"Half Hours at the National Gallery in London." Mr. Halsey-Stirling refused $1,000 for a three weeks' exhibit at a New York play-house. He is here for two weeks—and newspapers and artists say the exhibition is marvelous.

The permanent Art Gallery, Fifth floor, has been re-hung, and the great painting, "End of the Siege of Saragossa," is added.

Tissot's pictures of The Christ and the Holy Land—Fifth floor.

Seventeen Christmas Tableaux—dreams of real and mythical folks—Rotunda.

Furnished House—Fourth floor.

Half-acre Toy Store, full of life and music—Basement.

An exhibit and sale of Angora Cats—Fifth floor.

And dear old Santa Claus a-smiling from every conceivable corner.

Guides are at the service of any one who asks for them, and Interpreters make it easy for those who speak French, Spanish, Portuguese or Italian. Stationed on Second floor, central.

To-day's Programme

Gevartius, Picture Sir Anthony Van Dyck.
Flatford Mill on the Stour, John Constable, R. A.
Beata Beatrix, - - Dante Rossetti.
Philip IV of Spain, - - - Velazquez.
Christ Disputing with Rabbini, - Luini.
Mrs. Siddons, - - Gainsborough.
A Hopeless Dawn, Frank Bramley, A.R.A.
Portrait of Himself, - Frank Dixon.
The Dweller in the Innermost, George Frederick Watts, R.A.
Sic Transit Gloria Mundi, George Frederick Watts, R.A.
Jonah, - George Frederick Watts, R.A.
Hope, - George Frederick Watts, R.A.

PIANO RECITAL AT 3 TO-DAY

Mr. Conrad Wirtz presiding.

Selections from Beethoven, Chopin, McDowell, Litolff, Martucci, Lassen-Liszt and Liszt's "Rhapsodie No. 2."

These recitals are being most graciously received, and are tendered with our compliments. Krell Elite Grand Piano used. Fifth floor.

China News---Dinner Sets

This china store is more like an exchange—we own no potteries, we are wedded to no one potter, but it is a fair field for every china worker and decorator in France, Germany, England and America.

Resident experts are going from pottery to pottery all the time, while two (and soon there'll be three) of our home managers make frequent extended journeys to the china centres of the world.

We get the pick—we get right prices; for no other retailer needs to buy so largely, thanks to you.

Let's look at two or three things—

These Haviland china Dinner Sets have 113 pieces, including soup tureen and the large meat dishes. Handles are gilt; general decoration is of blue flowers. $16.50. Any man that knows would call it fine value at $22 or $23.

Here are other sets from Limoges—not the Haviland potteries—101 pieces; embossed festoon shape; pink flowers, gold handles, $20, though fairly worth $27.50.

Haviland china sets, 113 pieces, six floral decorations; topped off with gold, $45—worth usually a third more.

Do you catch the spirit of this fine basement store? The best; with safe economy. Finest dinner set is $575; cheapest is $6.

Basement.

Floor Coverings of Various Furs

Even if there's no present need of these, or desire for ownership, you can't well afford to miss the display we've arranged. A central piece is the skin of a huge Polar Bear—it's $450. Another at $350. Some fine Grizzlies at $150 and upward. Beautiful Tiger skins at $85 to $350, and Leopards at $45 to $85. Skins of Wolves, Foxes, Wild Cats and Goats—an exceptional good collection of the latter. Black, white, gray, brown and combinations of those colors. These goat-skins are popular—not expensive. $2.25 and $2.50 for the unlined; $2 to $7.50 for the lined, according to size.

Third floor.

Shoes and Slippers Necessary and negligee footwear of high grades, in large assortments. Styles of to-day. Prices to your liking. A few items, not taken at random, nor yet selected as best. They are safe criterions by which to judge this shoe store.

There are shoes for men at $3.50, of specially selected kid, of calf, of enameled grain leather. A single sole of Texas oak leather twice as thick as the ordinary sole and twice as durable. Those with tan and black boarded calf we guarantee not to break within a year. We cannot warrant the kid and enamel, but all three kinds are equal to the usual $5 kinds. $3.50 for these.

Over one hundred sorts of slippers for men—40c to $5. It would be strange if your fancy were not in so large a collection.

And for women, shoes at $3. An excellent sort for skating. These are of calfskin with stout welted soles, full round toes; buttoned or laced.

Women's felt slippers at $1—Romeo cut, with fur trimming, and some with silk braid trimming, at $1.50. Both kinds are very neat, warm and comfortable.

Fourth avenue and Ninth street.

The Gentleman from Indiana Haven't read it? That's fine. You've a pleasure in store. A love story of the middle west, but so strong in plot and characters that no matter how grum you are it will hold your attention. It's a book for women and men, for anybody who can appreciate the story of a college-bred man who failed in life till he struck rock—and a lot of wrong-doers, and met a charming girl in Indiana, when he became editor and owner of the Carlow County Herald.

Booth Tarkington deserves great credit for writing such a book—strong, good English that shows the scholar without the utterance of a pedantic word.

It's quite a big book of 384 pages; published at $1.50. We sell it for $1.10, and the postage is 12c extra.

Book Store (both sides of Ninth street till after Christmas).

Candy Sugar Wafers—simple as taffy—taste like butter taffy but with pure flavorings added. 20c a pound.

The Christmas Mixed Candies at 20c are still more unusual.

Basement.

Diamonds This jewelry store is like a rose bud—complete, but not unfolded. It hasn't room to take a long breath—and we cannot find more room just now. It is the one section of the store that shines by refracted brightness from Philadelphia, where in two years the new Jewelry Store has stepped to the rank of one of the nation's four completest establishments. The same organization with added helpers, controls this bijou corner. Why tell all this? Because we sell gems as carefully and as knowingly as we sell silks, fabrics, furs and suits. And the Wanamaker ideas of price fairness make this a store you ought to know, but which must be known by its stored-up facilities.

DIAMOND BROOCHES

Single-stone Coils, $24 to $110; Scrolls, set with 5, 6 and 7 diamonds, $70 to $135; Sunbursts, $100 to $250; Crowns, $100; diamond and pearl Crowns, $105; Hearts, $160 to $230; Hearts with open centers, $110 to $140; Crescents, $50 to $150; pearl Sunbursts with diamond centers, $18 to $46.

DIAMOND SCARF PINS

Fleurs-de-lis, $32; Horse Shoes, $25 to $35; Oak Leaves of diamonds and pearls, $35; turquoise and diamond Clusters, $48; emerald and diamond Clusters, $75; pearl and diamond Clusters, $57; opal and diamond Clusters, $39; ruby and diamond Clusters, $62.50; diamond Crescents, $33; pearl and diamond Crescents, $40.

Broadway, and Tenth street.

Celluloid Articles We've brought from Europe some of the cutest workings in celluloid—boxes for powder, soap, salve, hair pins, moustache brushes in case, pocket mirrors, and so on. All the pieces have raised figures of some sort for ornamentation. This pin box has the most perfect fly and lady-bug, in color, apparently just alighted. The pieces 25c and 50c.

Main floor, Tenth street.

Hand-Colored Photographs These are pictures that sell usually at $4 unframed. About sixty are here at $2.25 each—with ornamental gilt frames about 23x28 in. They'll be found in the handsome new picture store, fifth floor—been there but a day. All good subjects—about two dozen in all.

If you have any framing to do you'll find our service prompt and satisfactory—cost moderate.

The boy or girl who gets a real grown-up-folk's Typewriter for a Christmas gift will have received a wonderful business impulse—for the typewriter is a foe to slovenliness. There are several fine machines at $100, and the Wanamaker-Wellington, peer of them, at $60.

Basement.

Pretty Things of Leather We found unusually handsome leather work in Paris and Vienna and Frankfort and Berlin last summer—some in London. Here's a piece that looks like sealskin with dreamy autumn colors painted on—never mind what it really is; it's leather and beautiful—a handkerchief case closing with green silk cord. $9.25.

There are some very complete Dressing Cases (maybe "toilet cases" would sound less like furniture), and the combs and brushes and other articles are really good. The cases are elegant examples of leather work. One before us is marked $18. There are finer pieces, up to $25, and little pieces for 50c and so on. Glove boxes, paper weights, calendars, picture frames—a jolly jumble of really novel, beautiful things.

Interested? We only brought a few of a sort—thought you'd thank us for keeping them rather select.

Tenth street side.

Have you our 1900 Book Catalogue, and our Picture Catalogue of the Wanamaker series of Calendars? Yours for the asking, and a postal card is sufficient to ask on.

Women's Jackets at $10

Yesterday these very ones were $15 and $16. Why reduced? We've a mind never to tell that any more—just one reason, to hurry out lagging twos and threes from large regular lots—a hundred all told—all sizes findable among them—fabrics are unfinished worsteds and kersey. All the jackets are full lined with either silk or satin.

The finest jacket here is $63; the finest long wrap is $180.

And the fashion writers depend on Wanamaker's for half their news.

Second floor.

950 Very Interesting Dolls

The doll population here runs into the score of thousands to-day—what fun it must have been to help form their beauty over in those funny German workshops, for the toy chief decided on blondes and brunettes and the eyes and tresses. He decided something more—that every doll that came to Wanamaker's should be plump and well-formed. There's a trickery by which "stretched" dolls are palmed off—you hear of a 26-in. doll at a price and find it, too; but it is a malformation, with poor head and scraggy limbs. Well. In taking the great regular lots we found some quite special ones. These for you to-day—at least they all should be sold to-day—

26-inch Dolls, plump and rosy; full-size bisque head; full jointed body; flaxen hair—One ($1) Dollar.

19-inch Dolls—same sort and same liberal proportions—Fifty (50c) Cents.

Dressed Dolls, 17 in. high; cloth body, bisque head, papier mache arms, 25c.

Basement.

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co., JOHN WANAMAKER Broadway, Fourth Ave., Ninth and Tenth Streets.

BISHOP DOANE ON DIVORCE

Hope of Creating a Public Opinion Fatal to It.

DUTY OF CHURCH AND STATE

Cites Instances of Personal Condemnation as More Efficacious Than Law—A "Successive Polygamy."

Important addresses by Bishop William C. Doane of Albany, Bishop Walters of Jersey City, the Rev. W. I. Wishart of Allegheny, Penn.; Anthony Comstock, and others, were delivered at the second day's session of the National Reform Convention at the Broadway Tabernacle yesterday, which, with an intermission for luncheon, lasted from 9 o'clock A. M. to 5 P. M. The Rev. Dr. S. F. Scovel, President of the association, presided in the morning, and the programme of the afternoon session was carried out under the direction of the Rev. Dr. R. M. Sommerville. The leading paper of the day was by Bishop Doane upon "Our Marriage and Divorce Laws—The Danger and Remedy," in which he spoke very plainly upon the question.

"Since the practical toleration of polygamy, which the United States law forbids, in Utah, is lifting its hideous head and smilingly asking acceptance in our non-Mormon society, demanding recognition by what the Mormons call the 'Gentile' courts, and expecting toleration by the Christian Church," said the Bishop, "it is high time that the matter should be ventilated and discussed in the open. Indeed, the hope of our day, when laws are loose and the comity of States makes them still looser, and when the sinners in this direction scorn all religious remonstrance, the only hope seems to me to be in the creation of a wholesome public opinion in whose atmosphere the thing cannot live.

"Two striking instances of what I think ought to be the habit of people in dealing with men and women who commit this sin are in my mind. One, a young girl who, accidentally meeting a man who had divorced his wife unlawfully, at the house of a friend, barely bowed her head when he was presented; to whom afterward one of the man's family said first: 'How could you treat him so cruelly? If you knew all, you would know how good a man he is,' and then, recovering herself, added: 'If the leaders of society would treat sinners of this sort as you have treated this man to-day, there would be less of the sin.'

AMERICAN WOMAN'S REBUKE.

"And only the other day, on the other side of the sea, a young American woman, whom one of these people who had gone through the mock ceremony of marriage after the pretense of divorce, approached with a jaunty certainty of recognition, looked carefully to make sure who the person was and then turned away without the slightest acknowledgment even of her presence.

"This is the kind of thing which, if men and women only had the courage of their convictions and the conviction of their own security, would be worth all the societies and all the sermons, and, I was going to say, all the improvement of laws in the world.

"The total number of divorces in the United States in the twenty years from 1867 to 1886 was 328,716, and the worst of all the showings is that they increased each year steadily and regularly in the most alarming ratio, the divorces of the last year, 1886, being three times as many as the divorces of the first year, 1867.

"The Cardinal Archbishop of Baltimore defines the difference between this business and Mormonism by saying: 'Mormonism consists in simultaneous polygamy, the law of divorce practically leads to successive polygamy. Divorces now amount to about 25,000 a year.

"If the State is to be responsible for the character of this civil contract, she ought to hedge it about with what I think I may call dignified difficulties. There ought to be a license required for every marriage, as well as the record of every marriage, in some official record of the State. The age of consent ought to be fixed, and ought to be uniform. The witnesses should be required to know the parties and to be known by the official who performs the ceremony. And the ceremony ought to be so far public, at least, as not to be evidently clandestine and concealed.

"In spite of the theory that the agreement before witnesses constitutes a marriage, and that the parties marry each other and so cannot be said to be married by the official, I do object to the extreme secularism of the statement in the New York State certificates, 'Married in my presence,' as if the person who officiated was virtually only one of the witnesses, and I do object; also, to the vulgar, bad English which describes the parties to the ceremony as 'bride and groom,' as though the husband had become a hostler.

"From the merely human point of view, I think the State ought to lay down certain impedimenta dirimentia, as the Roman canonists call them, of carefully considered hygienic laws; that some rule should be made as to the most patent and uniformly recognized improprieties of marriage, because of certain relations of kindred or affinity, and that all marriages should be accurately recorded and the records preserved. And then, I think, every Christian man ought to do all in his power to lift, to execute, to enforce, the State laws.

THE DUTY OF CLERGYMEN.

"There can be no question that no clergyman can be compelled or ought to be willing to take part in the solemnization of a marriage against the laws of the religious body which he represents; and, further than that, that no clergyman ought or can be forced to admit to the sacraments those who are married otherwise than as his communion holds God's word and will to allow. Besides this, the Christian Church (I mean by that the great company of Christian believers of all names) can and ought to do all that in them lies to safeguard the marriage tie. The publication of banns, the clear knowledge, either personally or through the witnesses whom the clergyman knows) of the parties proposing to marry, the consent of parents and guardians, the publicity of ceremony—these, I think, ought to be insisted upon. The runaway marriage is prima facie a suspicious case. And a marriage asked to be performed late at night in the parson's house had better be left over until the next morning and performed by a magistrate. And it is the bounden duty of every Christian minister to satisfy himself, not by hearsay or the careless assurance of unknown parties, but by positive evidence, that no obstacle, legal or canonical, exists.

"So far as I know the Church laws are inadequate and incomplete about these matters. So far as I know, too little pains is taken to make what laws there are known generally to the people. So far as I know, the churches and the clergy do not instruct their people as they ought to about what Christian marriage is.

"We are free from the foreign abomination of the 'mariage de convenance.' The marriage of commerce has found its place among us, by which the woman is sold, soul and body, to a fortune or a title, and the man buys the heart of the woman to break it, or to find none there. I make my appeal especially to the young people of to-day to beware of this other marriage of carelessness and childishness and thoughtlessness and frivolity. I have no doubt that we ought to go as far back as this, and even further, in our attempt to restore marriage to its rightful position.

"The State's dealing with divorce is perhaps the most serious question we have to face. I cannot avoid the thought that the distinction ought to be insisted on more than it is between separation and the dissolution of the bond. A woman ought to be protected from cruelty, from the indignities of drunkenness, from the need to bear the name of a man who has dishonored it, and from the exposure of her children to the awful influence of the example of a wicked man. And a man ought not to be compelled to support, to live with, and to keep his children under the influence of a wicked woman. These, of course, can be relieved by a decree of separation.

TO RESTRICT DIVORCE.

"I think there ought to be everywhere on the part of Christian men an effort to reduce the civil and legal causes for divorce to the one only cause of uncleanness before or unfaithfulness after marriage. There are, of course, practical reasons why this affects the woman more than the man; so also there are practical reasons why, logically, it seems more reasonable to let the incontinent party remarry. But there is no safety, it seems to me, except in the State confirming the divorce a vinculo to the one only possible ground which has the faintest show of warrant (and I think it a very faint one) in the New Testament Scriptures.

"The Church has no possible power to grant divorces. Its assumption of it or its exercise of it is a great wrong. I do not care much which way the attempt is made by ecclesiastics to intrude the Church in this function, it should be fowned down.

"The Church's concern really is with the question of a possible remarriage after divorce. There may be two, there cannot, it seems to me, be more than two, opinions about this. I confess I hold myself to the most stringent interpretation."

"The Purity Movement" was the first subject discussed, and it was spoken to by Anthony Comstock, Mrs. Whittemore of the Door of Hope, Mrs. Barrett, and Mrs. J. C. Martin.

Mr. Comstock dealt with the evils which from his experience he found beset the youth of this country on every hand. Recently, in University Place, he raided, he said, a gambling place connected by a subterranean passage with an annex disorderly house. This place, he had been credibly informed, was owned by a member of the State Legislature. It was also notorious, he said, that a member of the Legislature of this State was proprietor of a place frequented by degraded women.

Bishop Walters, colored, spoke on "The National Problem of Lynch Law." He denounced in strong language "the fiendish, revolting atrocities" that had marked the putting to death of many men of his race in the South by lawless mobs, and declared that lynching would have to be suppressed if the State was to be saved from ruin. He spoke of the aspirations of the colored portion of the population and appealed for a public sentiment that should result in insuring to negroes that "perfect equality with their white fellow-citizens to which they were entitled.

MR. M'KINLEY CRITICISED.

"President McKinley, in his message yesterday," the speaker said, "was very solicitous about the lynching of some Italians, and discoursed about it at length, but he hadn't one word to say about the lynching of his own subjects."

Bishop Walters's plea met with a sympathetic response from the audience, who warmly applauded him.

The Rev. W. I. Wishart's address was on "The Quickening of the Public Conscience." In it he took occasion to inveigh against the Sunday newspapers, "with their society scandals, trashy stories, and business advertisements," and the saloons, "which for a pecuniary consideration the State allows to remain open to blight the homes and damn the souls of its citizens."

This was the opening of a concerted attack by members of the association upon the Sunday newspaper, which will be carried on to-day at the final sessions of the convention, when the leading topic of discussion will be "Our Danger from Seven-Day Journalism."

COFFEE TRADE PETITION.

Santos Ships Held at Quarantine to Go to Boston—Attitude of Sugar Interests.

All sugar interests ridiculed yesterday a story that the "war" was at an end or about to end because the American Sugar Refining Company and Arbuckle Brothers had joined with other coffee importers in asking that coffee in ships from Santos be allowed to land. The denials came from the Arbuckles, the Sugar Trust and the Mollenhauer, National and Doscher refineries. Of the joining of coffee interests to influence President Murphy of the Board of Health, an officer of one of the most important concerns said:

"This does not mean that 'Lion' and 'Arlosa' have buried the hatchet or are going to. A situation has arisen where the policy of comity of interest is evident and there has been a joint representation by the coffee men to the President of the Health Department. It affects in no way the sugar situation. It is of course possible that we may seek legal redress. If President Murphy adheres to his decision not to let the Santos coffee land he will furnish a striking commentary on himself. As Chairman Dargin of the Health Department of Boston says: 'A vessel and cargo certified by Dr. Doty, Health Officer of New York, as having been disinfected, would be allowed to dock and land at this port without further treatment. If such vessel and cargo should arrive here from Santos at the present time we should discharge her cargo, disinfect it and the vessel at quarantine, and then permit the docking of the vessel and landing of cargo."

A petition to Mayor Van Wyck and President Murphy which yesterday received the signatures of nearly every member of the coffee trade said:

We, the undersigned merchants of New York, interested in the export and import trades of the City of New York, respectfully petition your Honor and your Board of Health to reconsider the present prohibitory orders placed on the landing of the cargoes of the coffee steamers now down the bay, and consistent with the protection of the public health, that sanitary and scientific measures be adopted that, while accomplishing the first, will permit of a continuance of the commerce of this port."

Collector Bidwell said yesterday that he would issue an order for the removal of the cargoes of the Roman Prince and Ragusa to the public stores, the masters of them having failed to deliver them to the agents within forty-eight hours after arrival at this port. This, as in the case of the J. W. Taylor, is done to give the cases a legal status and to avoid technical entanglements. In the case of the Taylor, Surveyor Croft was directed not to act on the general order issued on Tuesday.

The statement of the Boston health authorities above referred to was in a letter to A. C. Lombard & Co. of this city.

As soon as it became known that the vessels from Santos would be permitted to dock in Boston and to land their cargoes there, the agents here of the steamships Roman Prince and Ragusa announced their intention of sending those vessels to Boston. This being the case, it is expected that Collector Bidwell, on being notified, will not enforce the order for the removal of the cargoes to the public stores.

Dr. Doty yesterday completed a bacteriological examination of the dead rats taken from the hold of the steamer J. W. Taylor. No bubonic plague germs were found.

The seven lighters containing the coffee from the Taylor were released from Quarantine yesterday, but President Murphy refused to permit them to land the coffee, and they remained off Quarantine. He said that he would hold a public hearing at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and hear what the coffee merchants have to say, but that they may talk only of such of the vessels as have had no sickness aboard.

Two lighters and a Chapman wrecking tug yesterday lay alongside the coffee steamship Lassell, which was wrecked near Clifton after she was run into by the steamship Friesland on Sunday. A considerable part of the coffee was transferred to the lighters, and the wrecking boat was engaged pumping her out. The wreckers said that the coffee was swelling from being wet, and had already caused one of the decks to buckle.

GET AUTOMOBILE LICENSES.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt and H. P. Whitney Among Those Examined.

The Steam Boiler Inspector's Bureau, where persons must go and pass examinations before they can operate automobiles within the limits of the city, is located on the second floor of the Police Headquarters building. Within the past few weeks several prominent men have been examined and licensed to operate their motor carriages on the public streets and their vehicles have been tested according to law.

Among those who have received licenses are: Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Harry Payne Whitney, Charles E. Proctor, A. R. Shattuck, the son-in-law of ex-Mayor Strong; A. I. Barber, and E. H. Lyons.

EX-ARMY CHAPLAIN OPPOSED.

Lecture of Mr. McQueen, Alleged Anti-Imperialist, May Be Stopped.

An effort may be made at the Gramatan Club at Bronxville to-morrow night to prevent the Rev. Peter McQueen, pastor of the Day Street Congregational Church, Boston, and until recently an army Chaplain in the Philippines, from lecturing at the club on "The War of the Tagalos." Mr. McQueen, seven years ago, was pastor of the Bronxville Reformed Church. In that church, according to the original plans, the lecture was to be given.

That arrangement, however, was blocked by ex-Assemblyman Alfred E. Smith, one of the Trustees of the church. Several weeks ago Mr. Smith read an interview in which the Rev. Mr. McQueen was alleged to have expressed anti-imperialistic views, to have attacked Gen. Lawton, and to have pronounced the war a crime. To this Mr. Smith's opposition was due.

Having been refused the use of the church building, Mr. McQueen has obtained the Gramatan Club's quarters, and there he expects to lecture to-morrow night. Mr. Smith, it is said, will go to the clubhouse at that time and seek to prevent Mr. McQueen from doing so.

"It is all the result of a misunderstanding," said Mr. McQueen to a TIMES reporter, at the Murray Hill Hotel last night, "and I am at a loss to understand Mr. Smith's course. Gen. Lawton is one of my warmest friends and I am in sympathy with the colonial policy of the Administration. I am not a theorist but a historian, and I purpose to lecture on Friday in Bronxville, no matter what Mr. Smith's views may be in the matter."

B. Altman & Co.

Fur Department.

Silver Fox Skins, suitable for Muffs and Boas.

Russian Sable and Hudson Bay Sable Sets of Muff and Scarf.

Fine Broadtail, Sets of Muff and Collar.

Real Chinchilla Muffs.

Sealskin and Broadtail Jackets,

Fur Lined Capes, Long Garments and Paletots.

Fur Trimmings.

Chinchilla, Broadtail and Mink by the single skin or dozen.

Fur Rugs and Mats, Carriage Robes, etc.

W. & J. Sloane

Special Clearance Sale of

Oriental Rugs

250 Persian, Turkish, and India Carpets;
300 Antique Rugs, various sizes;
700 Daghestans;
750 Soumaks, Kazaks, and Bokharas.

Marked irrespective of cost.
Prices will interest all purchasers.
To facilitate selections, bring dimensions required.

Broadway & 19th Street.

MEETING OF ENGINEERS

Discussion on Steam Engines and Boiler Test Rules.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Papers on Progress and Reform in Their Work by Mechanical Experts.

Ten papers were read and discussed at yesterday's sessions of the twentieth annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, which were held in the library of the society's house at 12 West Thirty-first Street. Seven of these were read during the morning session, the most important being, "The steam Engine of the Nineteenth Century," by R. H. Thurston, and the report of the committee on the revision of the code relative to the standard method of conducting steam boiler trials. The feature of the evening's session was the paper entitled "Education of Machinists, Foremen, and Mechanical Engineers," and was read by Mr. P. Higgins.

The morning sitting began at 10 o'clock with the business session, which included the reports of the various committees. The following officers were elected: President—Charles H. Morgan; Vice Presidents—E. D. Meier, George R. Stetson, B. H. Warren, Jesse M. Smith, Stevenson Taylor, David Townsend; Treasurer—William H. Wiley; Secretary—F. R. Hutton.

The committee having charge of the matter of boiler trials reported that during the last thirteen years the methods and instruments used for testing boilers had materially changed, and that at present some form of calorimeter in which coal is burned in an atmosphere of oxygen gas is to be preferred. This committee, consisting of Charles E. Emery, William Kent, George H. Barrus, Charles T. Porter, Robert H. Thurston, Robert W. Hunt, F. W. Dean, J. S. Coon, and William B. Potter, recommended "that, as far as possible, the capacity of a boiler be expressed in terms of the number of pounds of water evaporated per hour from and at 212 degrees. It does not seem expedient, however, to abandon the widely recognized measure of capacity of stationary or land boilers expressed in terms of 'boiler horse power.'"

The committee determined to accept the Centennial standard, and to recommend "that in all standard trials the commercial horse power be taken as an evaporation of 30 pounds of water per hour from a feed-water temperature of 100 degrees Fahr. into steam at 70 pounds gauge pressure, which shall be considered to be equal to 34½ units of evaporation; that is, to 34½ pounds of water evaporated from a feed-water temperature of 212 degrees Fahr. into steam at the same temperature. This standard is equal to 33,305 thermal units per hour."

The report concludes with several rules for conducting boiler trials, which include provision for a thorough examination of boiler and equipment previous to the test, recommendations for, a knowledge of the character of the coal to be used, uniformity of conditions, quality of steam, &c., and insistence on the importance of keeping a record of every event connected with the progress of the trial. The methods of calculating the efficiency of the boiler were also defined, based both on the combustion and coal. The consensus of opinion was that the plan outlined by the committee was a wise one.

Prof. R. H. Thurston of Cornell University followed with a paper on "The Steam Engine at the End of the Nineteenth Century." He said, in part:

"The end of the nineteenth century is that of one which will always remain preeminent in history as the age in which the steam engine took shape in the hands of Watt and Sickles, and Corliss and Greene, of Porter and their successors, and thus brought in the factory system and all our modern methods of production, with their resultant effects in the reduction of costs of production, in the improvement of the condition of the people and in all the material advancement in the industrial arts which has made the century distinctively one of supremacy of the mechanic arts.

"The close of the century finds the steam engine, though threatened with displacement by other motors, in the view of many writers, nevertheless the great motor of the age. Substantially all of the power employed by the civilized world is supplied by this great invention—consisting of inventions rather—the product of a series of improvements, of an evolution, effected during the hundred years or more just past. The limit to be possibly attained in its development and perfection will always remain a subject of intense interest to the profession and to the world.

"The twentieth century will very probably see a change in the curve of our lines, if not, in some respects, a decided halt or a reversed curvature, and it is perhaps even more probable that the field of the steam engine will become greatly restricted by the introduction of other heat motors, as well as by the general employment of electricity as a medium of extensive power distribution from hydraulic and pneumatic prime movers."

Other papers read during the morning session which was followed by a luncheon, were "The Berthier Method of Coal Calorimetry," by C. V. Kerr; "Test of Two Pumping Engines at St. Louis Water Works," by J. A. Laird; "New Graphic Method of Constructing the Entropy-Temperature Diagram of a Gas or Oil Engine," by H. T. Eddy, and "Pressure in Pipe Due to Stopping of Flowing Liquid," by George M. Peek.

The principal paper of the evening session, which began at 9 o'clock, was read by M. P. Higgins of Worcester, Mass., and was entitled "Education of Machinists, Foremen, and Mechanical Engineers." The object of the paper was primarily to outline a scheme for a special school for the training of boys to fill the successive grades of mechanics from machinists to engineers.

Mr. Higgins spoke of the incomplete work of the present technical schools, and called attention to the difference between theory and practice. He referred also to the oversupply of polytechnic engineers, who have entered the field without the preliminary training in the shops that he held was of vital importance.

Other papers that attracted attention during the session were "Compression and Liquefaction of Gases," by Arthur L. Rice of Brooklyn, and a description of a curved glass blue-print machine read by Paul Mellen Chamberlain.

A movement has been started by the association to raise a fund to erect a suitable memorial to mark the grave of Robert Fulton in Trinity Churchyard, and subscriptions are now being solicited from its members for this purpose; up to last night $925 has been received. The relatives of Mr. Fulton and the Trustees of the Trinity Cemetery are co-operating with the society.

VICHY CELESTINS

IS A Natural Mineral Water, known for centuries and imported ONLY IN BOTTLES, For Disordered Stomach and Indigestion.

Its value has been testified to by thousands.

So-called Vichy in Syphons Is Not Vichy.

Get the Genuine.

Your physician will recommend it. General Agency, 220 Broadway, N.Y.

Edwd. Ridley & Sons.

Millinery, Ribbons, DRESS GOODS, GLOVES, HOLIDAY GOODS.

TOYS! DOLLS!! BOOKS!!!

MAIL ORDERS SOLICITED.

309 to 321 GRAND STREET NEW YORK

84 Pages is the size of HOLIDAY NUMBER Town Topics. Out To-Day.

It beats all records for QUALITY, QUANTITY and BEAUTY.

Wheatena

The Best HEALTH FOOD for BREAKFAST

Sold by ALL GROCERS.

THE DEAF CURED FREE

TO-MORROW NIGHT FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

CRUSHED UNDER LUMBER PILE.

John Heinschon Meets a Sudden Death in Brooklyn.

John Heinschon, a lumber handler, forty-two years old, met death yesterday in Alexander E. Orr's lumber yard, at Java and West Streets, Brooklyn. He was crushed under a pile of yellow pine timber. Heinschon lives at First Avenue and Thirty-sixth Street, Manhattan. He was at work yesterday alongside a lumber pile, which toppled over on him when a piece of timber fell from a derrick against it.

After the lumber had been removed Heinschon was found to have been badly hurt. While waiting for an ambulance from St. Catharine's Hospital, Heinschon asked for his wife and children. He told of his wife's premonition that he would meet with a tragic death, and asked his fellow-employees to convey to her and their eight children a message of love.

Heinschon died just as a doctor appeared. His right side had been crushed, and his right leg and arm broken in half a dozen places.

In Aid of Telegraphers' Relief Fund.

The annual entertainment of the New York Telegraphers' Aid Society for the benefit of the relief fund will take place tomorrow evening at the Lexington Opera House. The entertainment will be given by amateurs, members of the fraternity, and by high-class vaudeville actors. Dancing will follo-

Wanamakers

CUT OFF THIS CORNER
Fill in the blank and mail it TO-DAY to the Wanamaker Store.

John Wanamaker, N. Y.
Send me illustrated booklet of specimen pages of The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas, including sample of maps, terms of purchase and description of the bindings, etc.
Name.....
Address.....
T 7.....

THIS COUPON ENABLES YOU TO SAVE FROM $37 TO $89.

Add YOUR Name to This List of Owners of The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas

Use the Coupon in the Corner.

Hon. William McKinley, President of the United States.
Hon. Grover Cleveland, ex-President of the U. S.
Hon. Melville W. Fuller, LL. D., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the U. S.
Lew Wallace, author of "Ben Hur," &c.
Hon. Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury.
Nelson A. Miles, Major General U. S. A.
Charles W. Eliot, LL. D., ex-President of Harvard University.
Chauncey M. Depew, U. S. Senator from New York.
Cardinal Gibbons, Cardinal's Residence, Baltimore, Md.
Sir Percy Sanderson, British Consulate General, New York.
John Hay, Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.
Richard Olney, LL. D., ex-Secretary of State, Boston, Mass.
Hon. T. B. Reed, ex-Speaker of the House, New York.
John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy.
Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, Bishop of New York.
Hon. Justice Shiras, U. S. Supreme Court.
F. L. Patton, D. D., LL. D., President of Princeton University.
General Wesley Merritt, United States Army.
Hon. George F. Hoar, Senator for Massachusetts.
William T. Harris, LL. D., Commissioner of Education.
The Very Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, D. D., rector of Catholic University, Washington, D. C.
Seth Low, LL. D., President of Columbia College.
David J. Brewer, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.
William K. Vanderbilt, railroad magnate.
John Fiske, LL. D., author of "The American Revolution."
George F. Edmunds, ex-Senator from Vermont.
James B. Angell, LL. D., President of the University of Michigan.
W. J. Rolfe, A. M., editor of Shakespeare's plays.
Charles Tiffany, jeweler, New York.
J. Pierpont Morgan, banker.
Andrew Carnegie, capitalist.
J. D. Rockefeller, President of Standard Oil Co.
John B. Hamilton, Surgeon General, U. S. Marine Hospital.
Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., editor of Christian Advocate.
Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, rabbi Sinai Congregation, Chicago, Ill.
Hon. Levi P. Morton, ex-Vice President of the United States.
Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., rector of Trinity Church.
Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Governor of New York.
Rudyard Kipling, author.
P. D. Armour, capitalist, Chicago, Ill.
S. Weir Mitchell, LL. D., physician and author, Philadelphia.
Geo. W. Elkins, capitalist, Philadelphia.
P. A. B. Widener, capitalist, Philadelphia.
John Wanamaker, merchant.
J. C. Strawbridge, merchant, Philadelphia.
Rev. C. T. Brady, archdeacon, Philadelphia.
Hon. C. F. Warwick, ex-Mayor, Philadelphia.
Col. A. K. McClure, the Philadelphia Times.
Wm. R. Harper, LL. D., President of the Chicago University.
Daniel C. Gilman, LL. D., President of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore.
Hon. Joseph Choate, Ambassador to Great Britain, London.
Hon. Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, New York.
The library of the President, White House.
United States Supreme Court.
United States Court of Claims.
The Department of Justice.
Office of the Secretary of State.
Office of the Secretary of the Treasury.
Office of the Secretary of War.
Office of the Secretary of the Navy.
Office of the Secretary of the Interior.
Office of the Secretary of Agriculture.
The Senate Library.
And every educational institution of prominence.
H. R. H. the Duke of York.
The Rt. Hon. Viscount Curzon.
Sir William Birt (3 copies).
The Very Rev. the Dean of Rochester.
The Piccadilly Club.
Rev. Dr. Parker.
The Rt. Hon. Earl Grey.
Commander J. S. Clarke, R. N.
Sir William Onslow, Bart.
Rev. Canon Temple.
Sir Edgar Vincent (2 copies).
The Hon. Sir A. MacKenzie.
The Lord Chief Baron of Exchequer in Ireland.
Sir Robert Moncreiffe, Bart.
The Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Portsmouth.
The Rt. Hon. Lord Strathcona.
H. E. the Rt. Hon. Sir Edmund Monson.
H. H. the Chakore Saher of Gondal.
The Government of New South Wales.
Lieut. Col. J. E. Burton-MacKenzie.
Sir David Stewart.
The Anglo-American Club, Dresden.
The Very Rev. the Dean of Worcester.
Sir Benjamin Whitney.
The Right Rev. the Bishop of Waterford.
The Norwich Library.
Major General W. Spottiswoode-Trevor.
The Chief Justice of Hong Kong.
Mr. W. S. Gilbert.
Captain the Hon. Randolph Stewart.
Sir William T. Lewis, Bart.
The Hon. Edward St. Aubyn.
The Rt. Hon. Lord Justice Sir J. Rigby.
Major General Sir Robert Hughes.
The Very Rev. Canon J. Brady.
H. B. M.'s Consul at Samoa.
The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Berkeley.
Mr. Kyrle Bellew.
The Hon. Sir David Tennant.
The Yokohama Specie Bank.
Babu Baen Krishna Maitia.
Rev. Dr. Woods, head master of Harrow.
The Hounslow Public Library.
The Ossece Public Library.
The Albemarle Club.
The Press Club, Cairo.
Paymaster of Natal Police.
Rt. Hon. Lord Llangattock.

"I have come to regard my Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia as so indispensable that I would not know how to get on without it."
GROVER CLEVELAND.

"I am constantly and successfully appealing to it to meet my current needs, and appreciate its merits very highly."
RICHARD OLNEY, LL. D., Ex-Secretary of State.

"The Century is of great service to our students in our reference library, and is the standard at Chautauqua."
GEO. E. VINCENT, The Chautauqua System of Education.

"The Century has first place on my shelves, and is indispensable to me. Formerly it was my last 'Court of Appeal' when in doubt; now it is the first and last."
LEW WALLACE, Author of "Ben Hur."

"I should say to everybody who reads or writes:—'Buy the Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas, no matter what else you buy.'"
PROFESSOR A. W. GRABAU, Mass. Ins. of Technology.

"Constant use of The Century has taught me to value it highly. In the new edition you have certainly added greatly to its merits."
CHAS. W. ELIOT, LL. D., President Harvard University.

"I regard The Century as the best medical and botanical dictionary and cyclopedia I have ever seen, to say nothing more of its various excellencies."
PAUL R. BROWN, Major and Surgeon U. S. Army.

"The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas is a masterpiece of condensation. Its constant use has filled me with a strong sense of the care bestowed to insure accuracy."
JAMES A. BRYCE, Author of "The American Commonwealth."

"I was an early subscriber for The Century at the full price. It is an invaluable work, being exactly what it professes to be—an authority which to any student or investigator is indispensable. To all such I cordially recommend it."
E. BENJAMIN ANDREWS.

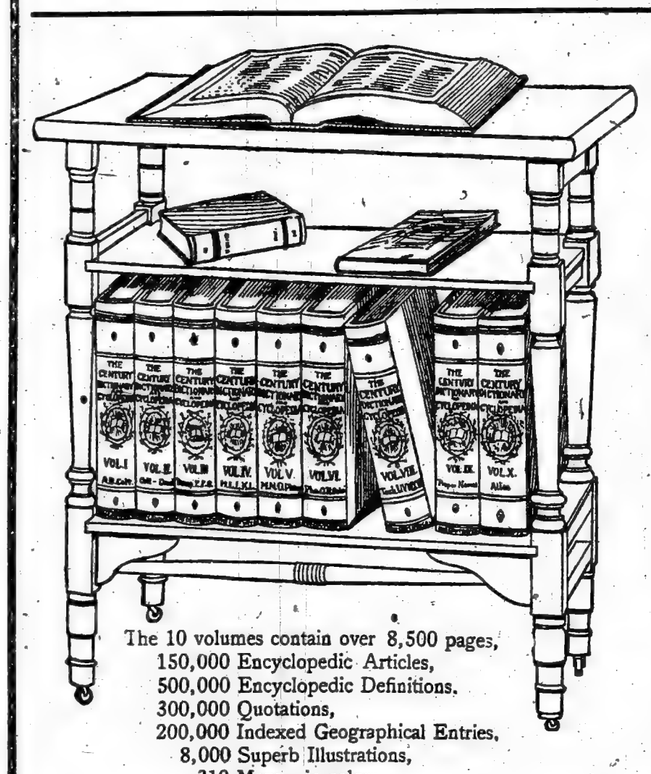
"I find myself continually referring to The Century for information and guidance, but in addition to this I take it up and read it with pleasure and constant entertainment, independent of its bearing on my studies and literary work."
MORGAN DIX, Rector Trinity Church, New York.

"This combination of dictionary and cyclopedia, gazetteer and atlas and biographical dictionary, &c., has been prepared with so much care and painstaking, by such learned and accurate men, and on such a wise plan, that it will never be superseded by another work."
DANIEL C. GILMAN, LL. D., President Johns Hopkins University.

"The better acquainted that I become with The Century the better I like it. I am pretty well provided with reference works, but I find myself consulting The Century oftener than all others put together. It is the best Law Dictionary in existence, and the best dictionary for a lawyer."
LEE MONTGOMERY, LL. D.

"The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas represents the subdivision of all knowledge by words. It contains the knowledge of encyclopedias, fused, refined, and recast into shapes that, with its endless cross-references, place all knowledge at one's command, though the question be started by a single word."
J. S. PILLSBURY, the Flour King.

Ask any of these "Century" Owners, they'll tell you of its daily help to them.



YOU

can give this best-of-all Christmas Present, and only pay $1 of your Christmas money. The balance afterward in easy payments monthly. Use the coupon above.

The 10 volumes contain over 8,500 pages,
150,000 Encyclopedic Articles,
500,000 Encyclopedic Definitions,
300,000 Quotations,
200,000 Indexed Geographical Entries,
8,000 Superb Illustrations,
310 Maps—in colors.
$1,500,000 was spent in producing the first set of ten volumes.
$5,000,000 worth, at retail, sold already in this country alone.
$150,000 worth sold in England during the first 30 days of sale.

Address New York

JOHN WANAMAKER.

QUAY HAS A HARD FIGHT

Democratic Votes Necessary to Give Him His Seat.

PENNSYLVANIAN'S CHANCE SLIM

Contests in the Cases of Clark of Montana and Scott of West Virginia Taken Up by the Senate.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—It is evident to friends of ex-Senator M. S. Quay that the canvasses reported of the division of the Senate, on the question of Quay's admission on the appointment of Gov. Stone, have been published without careful ascertainment of the standing of the applicant with the Senate. Mr. Quay's case is in the hands of the Committee on Privileges and Elections. Before it can reach the Senate to be voted upon by that body it must have a report.

If it had been known that the committee would report in his favor, there might have been some ground for confidence and the hope that the Senate would approve the report. Senator Chandler is Chairman of the committee. He is very friendly to Quay, and has said that he intends to vote to seat him. Senator Hoar and Senator Spooner are also in favor of Quay. Senator Pritchard, who voted against Corbett, an appointed Senator who was refused admission on grounds upon which Quay may be kept out, and Senator Burrows are believed to be opposed to seating Quay.

Last session the committee had five Democratic members. Senator Harris of Kansas has been added to the committee to take the place formerly held by a Democrat. Caffery, Pettus, and Turley, Democratic members, are against Quay. The report that Senator Harris will oppose seating Quay makes the outcome seem threatening to Quay.

As one of his friends on the committee said to-day:

"Mr. Quay cannot get out of the Elections Committee except by the aid of Democratic votes. Should he secure a favorable report, he will go to the Senate with a plausible case. Should he then hold all the votes obtained in Corbett's favor, he would still be short. The Senate is now composed of eighty-five Senators. In order to obtain his right to sit, Quay must have forty-three votes. Although reports have been published purporting to show how he is to be seated by a majority, it has been noticed by those opposed to him that while claiming to have more than forty-three votes in his favor, he was not here to press at once for a decision of his case, and to be sworn in at the opening with the help of his companions."

Mr. Quay will gain one vote that was given by a Republican in opposition to seating the man appointed by the Governor of a State after that State had refused to elect. Penrose of Pennsylvania, Quay's former colleague, voted to keep out Corbett of Oregon, but he will vote to admit Quay. It is explained that Mr. Penrose will choose to be inconsistent rather than to manifest ingratitude to the man to whom he is indebted for political advancement. Frye, Hoar, Spooner, and other Republicans will vote for Quay, but they have been in favor at all times of admitting Senators nominated by Governors. So far as can be learned, the Democrats are about solidly opposed to him.

Harris of Kansas, who gains a place on the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and who is accounted as in opposition to a report for Quay, was with the majority that voted not to seat Corbett. There appears to be only conjecture to support the statement that Carter of Montana will vote for Quay. Shoup of Idaho, placed on the Quay side in some canvasses, voted against Corbett, and will not say how he intends to vote in the Quay case.

In the Senate to-day Mr. Jones (Dem., Ark.,) offered a resolution that Senator N. B. Scott of West Virginia is not entitled to a seat in the Senate. The resolution, together with a memorial of John T. McGraw on the subject, was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

A meeting of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections has been called for to-morrow to consider the protest against the seating of Senator Quay, and the memorial urging the unseating of Senator Clark (Dem., Mont.,) and Senator Scott, (Rep., West Va.,) because of alleged irregularities in their respective elections. It is not improbable that an order will be made for the taking of testimony in the Clark and Scott cases, and that there may thus occur some delay in their consideration. No evidence will, however, be taken in the Quay case. Only legal points will be considered, and both sides of the controversy will be represented by counsel.

NO NEW LIGHT IN MILLER CASE.

Fixing the Blame for His Escape—Trust Company Has $2,200 of His.

No new light was shed yesterday on the whereabouts of William F. Miller of Franklin Syndicate fame. The police officials are, however, using all available means to locate him, fix the responsibility for his escape from Brooklyn, and discover those who were behind the syndicate.

The investigation by the Committee on Rules and Discipline into the manner of Miller's escape was continued behind closed doors. President York, who presided, promises to soon make a statement which, he says, will satisfy the public as to the thoroughness of the probing. Three women and half a dozen men, former employes of Miller, were examined. Besides these, Deputy Chief Mackellar of Brooklyn and Detectives Donovan and Finn, who were "tailing" Miller on the day of his escape, were before the committee.

In connection with the attachments obtained here ten days ago against Miller, the Sheriff has received a certificate from the Knickerbocker Trust Company that it has $2,200 belonging to Miller, Wells Fargo & Co. have not yet reported the amount in their hands belonging to Miller.

WANT NEW CABINET OFFICE.

Internal Revenue Collectors Say Their Worth Is Not Recognized.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The Internal Revenue Collectors of the United States are organizing a movement to have a new department of the Government established and a new Cabinet position created. A meeting will be held in January to form an association with this end in view.

Collector Coyne of Chicago says the internal revenue branch of the Federal service ought to be taken out of the Treasury Department and made a department by itself. One of the chief reasons given is that under the present system the bureau gets no credit for what it does.

"We hear a great deal," says Mr. Coyne, "about the men behind the guns, but nothing of the men behind the men behind the guns, notwithstanding they do the work. This was practically illustrated during the Fall festival in Chicago, when orators talked of the Post Office, the customs, and the Judges. Not one word was said for the internal revenue."

At that time the movement for an association of collectors and agents was started. The collectors who were here gave a dinner in honor of George W. Wilson, their chief, at Washington. F. E. Coyne of Chicago, Charles H. Treat of New York, Frank McCord of Cleveland, and Charles Sapp of Louisville were appointed a committee to promote the scheme. Mr. Coyne is working the Western States, Mr. Treat the Eastern, Mr. Sapp the Southern, and Mr. McCord the central. The meeting to organize will be held either at Chicago or Washington, and the association probably will be made permanent.

NO MAZET COMMITTEE SESSION.

The Mazet Investigating Committee held no session yesterday, no quorum being present. Chairman Mazet and Messrs. Hoffman and Costello were the only members present at 10:30 o'clock and after waiting an hour adjourned until 2 p. m. When Mr. Mazet announced adjournment in the afternoon he said the next hearing would be at the call of the chair and he was unable then to set a date.

Mr. Moss announced his eagerness to go on to-day, but Mr. Mazet replied that some of the members of the committee had engagements for the remaining days of this week and could not be counted upon to be present. Mr. Moss said he expected to take up some important matters in the Register's Department and, in addition, school teachers' salaries, the sewer department, Croton Aqueduct, East River bridge and some ends of the Police Department.

It was the intention of the committee to adjourn at the end of this week until Dec. 28, but the lack of a quorum yesterday and the various engagements of the members of the committee have materially changed the plans. Mr. Moss says he thinks the hearings of the committee are over.

IN THE BOWLING ALLEYS.

Three interesting games were decided in the Life Insurance League at Starr's Tournament Hall last night. The Equitable Life team scored a double victory. The Prudential won a game from the Mutual Life bowlers, winning by ninety pins and making the best score of the night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Equitable—Rudd, 159; Lowe, 136; Haubner, 159; Dey, 184; Burgess, 164. Total, 752.
Prudential—Austin, 141; Baldwin, 148; McGarrett, 142; Bonn, 166; Green, 119. Total, 711.

SECOND GAME.

Prudential—Austin, 152; Baldwin, 148; McGarrett, 149; Bonn, 162; Green, 201. Total, 812.
Mutual—Vredenburgh, 150; Garrison, 158; Widmer, 151; Slape, 128; Miller, 135. Total, 722.

THIRD GAME.

Equitable—Rudd, 166; Lowe, 161; Haubner, 154; Dey, 165; Burgess, 123. Total, 769.
Mutual Life—Vredenburgh, 152; Garrison, 154; Widmer, 137; Slape, 140; Miller, 149. Total, 732.

The Colfax Council team easily won two games in the Royal Arcanum League at the Tennis Club alleys last night. The Knickerbocker Council did not present a full team in either game. In the second game Defendam Council only had three men on its team, but managed to win by more than 100 pins from the Knickerbockers. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Colfax—Dormagen, 147; Hinds, 129; Hodges, 162; Walter, 149; Meier, 164. Total, 751.
Knickerbocker—Fruhan, 133; Schwartz, 99; Kreager, 137. Total, 369.

SECOND GAME.

Defendam—Warner, 175; Frank, 127; Henrich, 162. Total, 464.
Knickerbocker—Fruhan, 115; Schwarts, 77; Kreager, 126. Total, 318.

THIRD GAME.

Colfax—Dormangen, 178; Hinds, 138; Hodges, 136; Walter, 161; Meier, 169. Total, 782.
Defendam—Warner, 144; Frank, 143; Mastin, 126; Burdett, 140; Henrich, 165. Total, 718.

Six games were bowled in the Archdiocesan League at Starr's last night. The Holy Cross Wheelmen and Loyala Union teams each won two games. The Spalding's second team and St. Mary's team also won games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Holy Cross—Morrissey, 116; Reynolds, 136; Hennessy, 117; Doran, 134; Galvin, 110. Total, 643.
Columbus No. 2—Kelly, 167; Smith, 94; Brady, 121; Slevin, 128; Daly, 132. Total, 632.

SECOND GAME.

Loyola—Monaghan, 138; McKay, 158; Hanley, 126; Meagher, 162; Golle, 163. Total, 747.
Spalding No. 2—Markey, 120; Henriques, 168; Clancy, 118; Devlin, 158; Powers, 122. Total, 656.

THIRD GAME.

Loyola—Monaghan, 130; McKay, 150; Hanley, 113; Meagher, 160; Golle, 199. Total, 752.
Columbus No. 1—Ferrill, 161; Boyle, 132; Fox, 111; Hayes 114; Garvey, 163. Total, 741.

FOURTH GAME.

St. Mary's—Holden, 112; Murphy, 135; Giesler, 137; Spahn, 177; Stumpf, 132. Total, 693.
Columbus No. 2—Kelly, 102; Smith, 128; Brady, 146; Slevin, 143; Daly, 150. Total, 664.

FIFTH GAME.

Spalding No. 2—Shannon, 156; Moran, 104; McAdam, 122; Devlin, 167; J. Powers, 144. Total, 693.
Columbus No. 1—Ferrill, 175; Boyle, 133; Fox, 138; Hayes, 116; Garvey, 130. Total, 692.

SIXTH GAME.

Holy Cross—Morrissey, 103; Reynolds, 234; Hennessy, 160; Doran, 160; Galvin, 185. Total, 824.
St. Mary's—Holden, 157; Murphy, 145; Giesler, 169; Spahn, 143; Stumpf, 172. Total, 786.

The Corinthians and Riverdales were the victors in last night's games in the Harlem League, the former winning two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Corinthian—S. Walter, 191; C. Mulford, 174; T. Walter, 153; W. Mulford, 181; Landman, 160. Total, 855.
Premier—L. Moses, 176; Levy, 199; E. R. Moses, 161; Ullman, 159; Davison, 154. Total, 849.

SECOND GAME.

Riverdale—Monahan, 203; Schlusing, 178; Brouwer, 144; H. Ebling, 205; E. Ebling, 202. Total, 934.
Premier—Ullman, 155; Levy, 178; E. R. Moses, 160; L. Moses, 148; Davison, 156. Total, 806.

THIRD GAME.

Corinthian—S. Walter, 146; C. Mulford, 180; T. Walter, 185; W. Mulford, 188; Landman, 189. Total, 866.
Riverdale—Monahan, 136; Schlusing, 146; Brouwer, 171; H. Ebling, 158; E. Ebling, 179. Total, 790.

The Morningsides defeated the Village team in the Columbia League last night in one of the closest games of the year. The Village team had an advantage up to the time that G. Coleman, the last man, took his turn. Coleman missed an easy three-pin spare, which lost the game for the Village team by one pin. The Mephistos only presented four men, and were easily beaten by the Village and Morningside teams. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Morningside—Ayers, 134; Heymer, 165; Dohn, 182; Doncourt, 158; Demmler, 170. Total, 809.
Village—Schenck, 141; Powers, 164; R. Coleman, 139; Faulke, 204; G. Coleman, 160. Total, 808.

SECOND GAME.

Village—Schenck, 147; Powers, 176; R. Coleman, 190; Faulke, 187; G. Coleman, 140. Total, 840.
Mephisto—Greentree, 162; Jacobs, 163; Apple, 142; Vogel, 151. Total, (for four men,) 618.

THIRD GAME.

Morningside—Ayers, 149; Heymer, 156; Dohn, 167; Doncourt, 143; Demmler, 147. Total, 762.
Mephisto—Greentree, 131; Jacobs, 103; Apple, 128; Vogel, 180. Total, (for four men,) 542.

The Krakehlia and Oregon Clubs competed in the Arcade head pin tournament last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Krakehlia—W. Meyer, 70; H. Meyer, 63; E. Meyer, 84; Smith, 82; Zachgo, 73. Total, 372.

SECOND GAME.

Oregon—Lair, 72; Warn, 38; Burns, 98; Hauschild, 74; Kuntz, 51. Total, 333.

Bedford Council was twice a winner last night in the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum subtournament on the Elephant Club alleys. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Bedford Council—Brooks, 127; Anderson, 150; W. Sheffield, 166; E. Sheffield, 176; J. Anderson, Jr., 150. Total, 775.
De Long Council—Rosener, 140; Coolidge, 133; Hodgson, 117; Healy, 163; Tamlyn, 141. Total, 694.

SECOND GAME.

Long Island Council—Judge, 150; Henninger, 155; Wheeler, 147; Bloss, 147; Egelhoff, 157. Total, 756.
De Long Council—Rosener, 156; Coolidge, 130; James, 115; Healy, 153; Tamlyn, 152. Total 706.

THIRD GAME.

Bedford Council—Brooks, 161; Anderson, 110; W. Sheffield, 151; E. Sheffield, 169; J. Anderson, Jr., 181. Total, 762.
Long Island Council—Judge, 152; Henninger, 143; Wheeler, 138; Bloss, 155; Egelhoff, 156. Total, 744.

As was expected in the series of games in the American National tournament last night, the Empires won two games. The Centrals furnished the surprise of the night by their victory over the Rosedales by 4 pins. This is the Central's first victory in the tournament this season. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Empire—Linden, 171; Howell, 157; Williamson, 181; Diederick, 174; Helles, 177. Total, 860.
Rosedale—Sievers, 168; Mesloh, 176; Bellmer, 135; Nessler, 177; Lehrbach, 172. Total, 828.

SECOND GAME.

Central—Scher, 160; Ward, 151; Kuehn, 159; Behmer, 201; Kahlsdorf, 190. Total, 860.
Rosedale—Sievers, 205; Mesloh, 152; Bellmer, 175; Kessler, 177; Lehrbach, 147. Total, 856.

THIRD GAME.

Empire—Linden, 184; Howell, 143; Williamson, 235; Diederick, 202; Helles, 188. Total, 952.
Central—Scher, 151; Ward, 187; Kuehn, 151; Behmer, 182; Kahlsdorf, 157. Total, 828.

A large crowd saw Bushwick Council lose its first game of the season last night in the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum tournament, on Trainor's Alleys. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Brunswick Council—Corrigan, 182; Scharfenberg, 208; Buehler, 161; Miles, 189; Baker, 174. Total, 914.
Fraternity Council—Lee, 176; Higgins, 139; Brown, 133; Myerle, 166; Griffin, 156. Total, 770.

SECOND GAME.

Philadelphos Council—Martin, 189; Medicus, 146; Vanderkar, 102; Bierschenck, 149; Jenkins, 146. Total, 792.
Fraternity Council—Lee, 176; Higgins, 134; Brown, 146; Myerle, 145; Griffin, 161. Total, 762.

THIRD GAME.

Philadelphos Council—Martin, 192; Medicus, 165; Vandekar, 180; Bierschenck, 156; Jenkins, 145. Total, 838.
Bushwick Council—Corrigan, 138; Scharfenberg, 152; Bucken, 133; Niles, 181; Baker, 166. Total, 770.

Reese of the Edisons took the lead for the individual high-score prize in the Arlington National tournament last night by rolling a score of 223 in the second game, in which his club defeated the Manhatta team. The Gothams made the best showing, winning two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Gotham—Helles, 157; Dannenfelser, 127; Bachman, 161; Schwack, 156; Schlichte, 170. Total, 771.
Manhatta—Daly, 168; Wiltse, 98; Turner, 114; Thode, 118; Witte, 158. Total, 656.

SECOND GAME.

Edison—Rae, 106; Rothe, 173; Wenzel, 141; Holme, 171; Reese, 223. Total, 874.
Manhatta—Daly, 148; Waltse, 153; Turner, 113; Thode, 116; Witte, 138. Total, 668.

THIRD GAME.

Gotham—Helles, 169; Dannenfelser, 136; Bachman, 166; Schwack, 161; Schlichte, 162. Total, 794.
Edison—Rae, 137; Rothe, 161; Wenzel, 149; Holme, 148; Reese, 147. Total, 742.

Three interesting games were rolled in the championship tournament of the Twenty-third Regiment last night at the armory, corner of Bedford and Atlantic Avenues, Brooklyn. Company H won two straight games and increased both their team and individual averages. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Company H—Robinson, 142; Despard, 175; Muller, 147; Rust, 163; Kreppendorpf, 159. Total, 791.
Company G—Brooks, 156; Linsey, 170; A. W. Bates, 93; R. V. Bates, 115; Trimble, 131. Total, 665.

SECOND GAME.

Company C—Webb, 117; Peck, 176; Stokes, 137; Mayhew, 144; Butler, 178. Total, 752.
Company G—Brooks, 180; Linsey, 91; A. W. Bates, 115; R. V. Bates, 120; Trimble, 106. Total, 572.

THIRD GAME.

Company H—Robinson, 126; Despard, 150; Muller, 99; Rust, 153; Kreppendorpf, 137. Total, 665.
Company C—Webb, 133; Peck, 98; Stokes, 155; Mayhew, 105; Butler, 133. Total, 624.

Seven games were bowled in the Thirteenth Regiment tournament last night, and some good scores were made. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Company D—Case, 126; De Bredtes, 113; Newman, 155; Craig, 77; Meekes, 127. Total, 908.
Company M—Prendergrast, 100; Hedges, 126; Clarke, 38; Rosen, 82; C. Olumbi, 111. Total, 457.

SECOND GAME.

Company C—Beal, 109; Treibund, 83; Ford, 115; Davis, 80; Johnston, 114. Total, 501.
Company B—F. Hubbs, 128; Beltbeam, 96; Williams, 112; G. Hubbs, 94; Robertson, 159. Total, 588.

THIRD GAME.

Company C—Ford, 149; Beal, 97; Newkirk, 66; Davis, 110; Johnston, 175. Total, 597.
Company A—Vickers, 111; Reynolds, 118; Goodwin, 125; George, 112; Hutchinson, 138. Total, 604.

FOURTH GAME.

Company B—F. Hubbs, 116; Repam, 133; Williams, 144; H. Hubbs, 124; Robertson, 127. Total, 644.
Company A—Vickers, 158; Reynolds, 137; Goodwin, 104; George, 147; Hutchinson, 137. Total, 632.

FIFTH GAME.

Company E—Younie, 126; Bresher, 165; Michael, 102; Capt. Smith, 118; Rowan, 113. Total, 624.
Company F—Morris, 109; Graham, 120; Hilliard, 110; Mosscrop, 198; Warnes, 97. Total, 634.

SIXTH GAME.

Company E—Rowan, 123; Younie, 143; Michael, 123; Bond, 79; Beecher, 109. Total, 577.
Company M—Roseh, 71; Schmaltz, 89; C. Olumbi, 124; Hedges, 81; Prendergrast, 107. Total, 472.

SEVENTH GAME.

Company M—Hedges, 120; Rosen, 76; C. Olumbi, 103; Schmaltz, 75; Prendergrast, 97. Total, 471.
Company F—Morris, 100; Hilliard, 153; Palmer, 109; Warnes, 91; Mosscrop, 139. Total, 592.

Tournament Games To-night.

Columbia League—Standard, Oriental, Enterprise
American National—Orchard, Morningside, Columbia.
Harlem League—Standard, Friendship, Phoenix.
Arlington National—Amity, Holschea, Welcome.
Fire Insurance League—Home, Underwriters, Union.
Bank Clerks' League, at Reid's alleys.
Brooklyn Royal Arcanum League—Iolanthe, Washington Irving, East New York.
Brooklyn Arlington National—Monarch No. 2, Arlington, South Paw No. 1.
Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island—Brooklyn, Tamaqua, Nassau.
Twenty-sixth Ward Tournament of Brooklyn—Glenmore, Belmont, Van Siclen.

TROTTING ASSOCIATION ACTS.

National Body's Board Disposes of Alleged Violations of Rules.

The Board of Review of the National Trotting Association, which continued its session at the Murray Hill Hotel yesterday, spent most of the day in secret session, considering the cases in which evidence was heard on Tuesday. Many of the cases were of slight importance and the decisions reached of interest only to those immediately concerned.

G. W. Roxbury, Philadelphia; Ira Ryerson, Goshen, N. Y.; O. D. Wescott, Milford, N. Y.; G. W. Brown, Greenfield, O.; Jacob Cook, Charlottesville, Va.; P. L. Church, Port Hope, Ontario; E. Bowdoin, Hartford, Conn.; Palmer Cleveland, New York; A. Forell, Sanford, Me.; C. H. Cook, Hamden, Conn., and Allan Risk, Willimantic, Conn., were temporarily reinstated by the board.

E. F. Crane, Watkins, N. Y., charged with "ringing" the horse Col. Macey under the name of Gallitin Boy, was reinstated. In the case of M. Geismann, New York, against the Empire City Track, which was an application by Geismann for a release from a fifty-dollar fine, the application was refused.

D. L. Case, Wardburn, N. Y.; A. Goodrich, Brookfield, Mass.; Eugene Keeler, Hudson, Mass.; Edward Calden, Hudson, Mass.; A. Gloddy, Lowell, Mass.; C. A. Clark, Salem, Mass.; J. G. Walcott, Salem, Mass.; E. Baldwin, Hurtsville, N. Y.; P. Mory, Albany, N. Y.; John Ramsey, Boston, Mass., and James O'Brian, Boston, Mass., were expelled for alleged complicity in cases of "ringing."

Tiger Eleven Makes Pell Captain.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 6.—At a meeting of the Princeton 'Varsity football team this afternoon Henry Williamson Pell, 1902, was unanimously chosen Captain of next year's team. Pell played left tackle in the team this year. He is eighteen years old, weighs 187 pounds and is 6 feet 2 inches tall.

Columbia's New Football Captain.

The members of the Columbia College football team had their annual dinner at the Murray Hill Hotel last night. Twenty-eight members attended and Manager Mitchell presided. After the dinner Thomas Simons was elected Captain of the eleven.

Minor Planet Discovered.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 6.—The European Union of Astronomers announces through Harvard College Observatory the discovery of a minor planet of the tenth magnitude by Charlois. The discovery position is the following: Dec. 4, 377 Greenwich mean time, right ascension, 4 hours 37 minutes 56 seconds; declination, north 14 degrees 13 minutes. The object has a motion of minus 14 minutes in right ascension and 4 minutes north in declination.

Registered by U. S. Patent Office.

"ESPECIALLY THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATER of Virginia." FOR Albuminuria AND Chronic Bright's Disease.

Samuel O. L. Potter, A.M., M.D., M.R.C.P., London, Professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, San Francisco, a recognized authority wherever medical science is known, in his handbook of Pharmacy, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, under head of ALBUMINURIA, page 600, 7th edition, in the citation of remedies, says: "BUFFALO LITHIA WATER of Virginia is highly recommended."

Under head of CHRONIC BRIGHT'S DISEASE, page 601, same edition, in the citation of remedies, he says: "Mineral Waters, ESPECIALLY THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATER of Virginia, which has many advocates."

Dr. William H. Drummond, Professor of Medical Jurisprudence, Bishop's University, Montreal, Canada: "In the Acute and Chronic Nephritis [BRIGHT'S DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS], of Gouty and Rheumatic Origin, as well as in graver Albuminuria of Pregnancy, I have found BUFFALO LITHIA WATER to act as a VERITABLE ANTIDOTE, and I know of NO OTHER NATURAL AGENT POSSESSING THIS IMPORTANT QUALITY."

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is for sale by Grocers and Druggists generally. Testimonials which defy all imputation or questions sent to any address, PROPRIETOR. BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS, VIRGINIA.

Collar shape and finish the same in either brand, but of different grades of linen. You pay only for material and workmanship.

Cluett "Wastic" 25 cts. each.

Arrow "Velsor" 2 for 25 cts.

Cluett BRAND 25¢ EACH WASTIC.

ARROW BRAND 2 FOR 25¢ VELSOR.

"Correct Attire for Men" the fashion report for Autumn and Winter, sent to those who ask. Address 5 Union Square W. New York City.

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO. ...MAKERS...

THE DEAF CURED FREE

TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

FOUND AFTER THREE YEARS.

Man Left Home Because He Disliked His Mother-in-Law—His Supposed Body Buried Three Months Ago.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Three years ago Robert Earl disappeared from his home in Rochester and no trace could be found of him. Last September a man was found dead in an icehouse in Rochester and Mrs. Earl identified the body as that of her husband. The body was buried and a small amount of insurance placed on Earl's life was collected.

Several days ago a friend of Mrs. Earl, while visiting this city, met a man who so strikingly resembled Earl that on his return to Rochester he notified the supposed widow of his discovery.

To-day Mrs. Earl came to Buffalo accompanied by a Rochester detective and, being brought to a police station where the double of the supposed dead man had been summoned, Mrs. Earl at once identified him as her husband. A reconciliation took place and the couple returned to Rochester to-night.

Earl's only explanation for his absence is that he did not like his mother-in-law.

AGAINST WATER PLANT DEAL.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Taxpayers' Alliance of the Borough of the Bronx, held last night, Louis F. Haffen, President of that borough, attacked a resolution offered favoring the purchase by the city of the plant of the Westchester Water Company. He charged the company with getting a large part of its water from the city, and retailing it at a large profit. He said he is in favor of the city owning its own water supply plant, but he does not want to see it purchase the plant of this company. The resolution was defeated.

The Committee on Rapid Transit reported that the State Railroad Commissioners will hold another hearing in the Fifth Avenue Hotel next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. All persons having anything to propose relative to the extension of the Manhattan Railway into the Bronx were urged to be present.

A letter was received by the alliance from Chief Engineer Briggs of the Bronx, in which he said that the proposed Grand Boulevard and Concourse, which it was estimated would cost $8,000,000, can be completed for $1,800,000. The alliance will urge its immediate completion.

MR. GAGE REPORTS ON COUNTRY'S FINANCES

Present Strength of the Treasury Never Before Equaled.

ADVOCATES GOLD STANDARD

Urges Amendments to National Banking and Currency Laws.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage in his report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, shows the revenues of the Government from all sources (by warrants) to have been $610,982,004.35; the expenditures for the same period, $700,093,564.02, showing a deficit of $89,111,559.67. As compared with the fiscal year 1898 the receipts for 1899 increased $116,048,050.60. Of this amount some of the principal increases were: Internal revenue, $102,536,520.02; customs, $56,553,419.40; profits on coinage, bullion deposits, &c., $1,407,786.53; tax on sealskins and rent of seal islands, $1,116,911.34; part payment Central Pacific Railroad indebtedness, $11,798,314.14. (there was no payment in 1898;) Postal Service, $6,008,765.02.

Under the head of expenditures the Secretary notes an increase of $161,703,597.05, the principal items in the civil establishment being $20,000,000 payment to Spain for the taking over of the Philippines under the treaty obligations in 1898; War Department, for salaries and expenses, $650,352.22; Treasury Department, $1,962,000; Interior Department, $362,206. In the Post Office Department a deficiency in postal revenues of $2,292,470.34 is noted. In the totals of the civil establishment the net increase is set down at $22,670,750.73.

In the military establishment Secretary Gage gives the net increase as $137,849,254.18. The principal items are: Pay Department, $48,145,449.23; Subsistence Department, $11,280,926.63; Quartermaster's Department, $62,951,019.22; Ordnance Department, $8,690,889.41. The net increase in the navy was $5,118,119.45. Here the chief expenditures are chargeable to the Bureau of Construction and Repair, $4,365,049.28.

FISCAL YEAR 1900.

For the fiscal year 1900 the revenues of the Government are estimated upon the basis of existing laws, as follows:

From customs	$225,000,000.00
From internal revenue	290,000,000.00
From miscellaneous sources	25,000,000.00
From Postal Service	100,958,112.00
Total estimated revenues	$640,958,112.00

The expenditures for the same period are estimated as follows:

For the civil establishment	$100,000,000.00
For the military establishment	150,000,000.00
For the naval establishment	55,000,000.00
For the Indian Service	11,000,000.00
For pensions	144,000,000.00
For interest on the public debt	40,000,000.00
For Postal Service	100,958,112.00
Total estimated expenditures	$600,958,112.00
Or a surplus of	$40,000,000.00

FISCAL YEAR 1901.

It is estimated that upon the basis of existing laws the revenues of the Government for the fiscal year 1901 will be:

From customs	$235,000,000.00
From internal revenue	300,000,000.00
From miscellaneous sources	25,000,000.00
From Postal Service	107,773,253.92
Total estimated revenues	$667,773,253.92

The estimates of appropriations required for the same period, as submitted by the several executive departments and offices, are as follows:

Legislative establishment		$4,559,028.05
Executive establishment—
Executive proper	$257,140.00
State Department	162,430.00
Treasury Department	9,928,781.00
War Department	2,326,360.00
Navy Department	734,181.26
Interior Department	4,976,454.00
Post Office Department	977,139.00
Department of Agriculture	4,106,257.00
Department of Justice	231,050.00
Department of Labor	172,980.00	23,872,778.86
Judicial establishment		692,120.00
Foreign intercourse		1,805,348.76
Military establishment		128,170,583.54
Naval establishment		58,425,334.82
Indian affairs		6,800,526.52
Pensions		145,230,230.09
Public works—
Legislative	$1,194,400.00
Treasury Department	7,697,329.53
War Department	50,988,271.49
Navy Department	15,819,974.32
Interior Department	401,050.00
Department of Agriculture	200,000.00
Department of Justice	55,000.00	76,416,025.34
Miscellaneous—
Legislative	$4,182,820.74
Treasury Department	14,976,838.53
War Department	4,926,630.00
Interior Department	12,345,961.30
Department of Justice	5,210,000.00
District of Columbia	7,657,773.31	49,300,952.88
Postal Service, including $3,004,546.08 deficiency in postal revenues		110,777,800.00
Permanent annual appropriations—
Interest on public debt	$40,000,000.00
Refunding—customs, internal revenue, &c.	7,244,000.00
Collecting revenue from customs	5,500,000.00
Miscellaneous	26,968,220.00	79,712,220.00
Total estimated appropriations, exclusive of sinking fund		$685,853,448.78
Or an estimated deficit of		18,080,194.86

The Secretary then says:

Since the expenditures of the current fiscal year will probably not exceed $600,958,112, it is confidently believed that Congress, in reviewing the requirements of the various executive departments for the fiscal year 1901, now placed at $685,853,448.78, will be able to reduce the estimates submitted to such a point as will bring expenditures within the estimated revenues of $667,773,253.92, and leave in fact a fair and substantial margin for surplus."

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

In speaking of the operations of the Treasury, as shown by the report of the Treasurer of the United States, the Secretary refers to them as transactions of unusual magnitude, the net ordinary receipts having been exceeded in any like period but once, in 1866, and the net ordinary expenditures but thrice, in 1863, 1864, and 1865. The Secretary goes on to say:

"Inclusive of the amounts involved in the issue and redemption of bonds, notes, and certificates, the gross receipts, under warrant, were $1,038,451,340.18, and the gross expenditures $946,222,148.83. There was, in consequence, an addition of $92,229,191.35 to the general Treasury balance, which increased from $775,751,398.11 to $867,980,589.46. These operations were conducted through the offices of the Treasury, numbering 10; those of the mint, increased during the year from 11 to 12, and the depositary banks, of which there were 172 at the beginning of the year and 357 at the close. The aggregate of money handled by the Treasury offices alone was $2,393,199,747 in the receipts and $2,371,283,629 in the disbursements.

"While there was a deficiency of $89,111,559.67 in the ordinary revenues, the excess of receipts over disbursements on account of loans was sufficient to realize a net surplus of $100,791,521.35 as the result of the fiscal operations of the year. This substantial addition to the available resources, together with the steady advance of the receipts from taxation to an actual excess over current needs, has relieved the Treasury of all danger of difficulty from sudden emergency. Nor was the growth of the available cash balance, which stood at $284,488,516.20 at the close of the year, more wholesome than the improvement in the character of the assets, which were converted into gold as far as statutory and other limitations would permit."

The war loan receipts, Mr. Gage says, extended from June, 1898, to April, 1899, although the bulk of the subscriptions was paid within the first four months. Of the total of nearly $200,000,000, upward of $125,000,000 were remitted by checks on banks in all parts of the country. The tenders of gold exceeded those of any form of paper and amounted to more than one-third the total cash payments. He further says:

"Important changes took place during the year in the composition and distribution of the stock of money. The amount of notes and silver certificates in circulation was increased by $43,828,386, reducing the paper holdings of the Treasury to the minimum required for the transaction of business. The outstanding Treasury notes of 1890 were cut down, by cancellation on redemption in silver dollars, from $101,207,290 to $93,518,280. This process, however, did not involve a contraction of the currency, since the coins paid out for the notes either remained in circulation or were redeposited in the Treasury for silver certificates. As the volume of the paper currency is fixed by limitations, the depletion of the Treasury holdings made it necessary to refuse many requests, most of them for small denominations, where the application was not accompanied with a tender in kind. Precaution had, however, been taken to provide a liberal supply of small notes, and they were always sent out when desired in redemption of unfit currency."

By Sept. 30 of the fiscal year the continued demand for standard silver dollars had carried the total in circulation to $68,755,243, the highest amount ever reached. Similar activity prevailed in the call for subsidiary silver coins, until at the close of the year the Treasury holdings amounted to only $6,070,497. The amount estimated to be in circulation on Sept. 30 was $74,045,762. In reference to gold Mr. Gage has this to say:

THE RECEIPTS OF GOLD.

"The receipts of gold at New York from customs amounted for the fiscal year to 78.5 per cent. of the whole, as compared with 20.4 per cent. for 1898. For the first quarter of 1900 they rose to 84.5 per cent. In the aggregate operations of the Treasury, the receipts of gold in 1899 amounted to 37.6 per cent. of the whole, and the disbursements to 35.37, as compared with 10.03 and 11.83, respectively, in 1898. For the quarter ended Sept. 30 the percentage of gold receipts was 38.5 and of the disbursements 35.2. While so large a part of the Treasury's business was transacted in gold, and while large additions were made to the coin in outside circulation and are estimated to have reached $702,060,459 on July 1, 1899, the gold holdings of the Treasury have exceeded all previous records, both in the aggregate and in the net amount above outstanding gold certificates. On Sept. 30 the gross amount of gold coin and bullion in the Treasury was $353,002,380, and the net $254,288,821. The maximum net gold was $258,051,565 on Oct. 12. The highest previous records for the end of any month were $232,551,306 and $218,818,253, respectively, the former in September and the latter in March, 1888. The gross on Oct. 31 was $379,817,316."

Reference is also made to silver quotations. The highest for silver 0.925 fine during the year in the London market was 29d., equal to $0.63571 in United States money, per ounce, fine; the lowest quotation was 27d., equivalent to $0.59187. The average price for the year was 27.6697 pence, equivalent to $0.60658. The bullion value of the United States standard silver dollar, at the highest price for the year, was $0.49168, and the lowest $0.45771, and at the average price, $0.46912.

The commercial ratio of gold to silver at the average price was 1 to 34.08.

The number of grains of pure silver at the average price that could be purchased with a United States silver dollar was 791.36, equivalent to 1.64 fine ounces.

The estimated production of gold and silver during the calendar year 1898 was: Gold, 3,118,398 fine ounces, of a commercial and coining value of $64,463,000; silver, 54,438,000 fine ounces, of a commercial value of $32,118,400 and a coining value of $70,384,485. For the same period the world's production of gold was 13,904,363 ounces, valued at $287,428,600; silver, 165,295,572 ounces, with a commercial value of $97,524,300 and a coining value of $213,715,400. The total metallic stock and uncovered paper in the world as estimated on Jan. 1, 1899, was: Gold, $4,631,700,000; full legal-tender silver, $3,102,400,000; limited tender silver, $733,700,000; uncovered paper, $2,836,300,000. Total, $11,304,100,000.

LEGISLATION RECOMMENDED.

Under this head Secretary Gage renews the recommendation made last year that Congress relieve the Treasurer of the United States and the San Francisco, Philadelphia, New Orleans, and Carson Mints of the bullion deficits in their accounts. Recommendations are also made that Congress provide for increasing, from $50,000 to $200,000, the maximum amount the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to transfer to the credit of the Philadelphia Mint for the purchase of metal for minor coinage; that the restriction for the manufacture of minor coins to Philadelphia be removed and authority given for the coinage of the five-cent nickel and one-cent bronze piece at the New Orleans and San Francisco Mints; that $440,000 be appropriated for the public equipment of the Philadelphia Mint; that the construction of a suitable building for the Assay Office at Seattle, Washington, be authorized.

In reference to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing the report says that the aggregate number of sheets delivered during the fiscal year was 112,161,122 and the aggregate expenditures $1,884,111.39. More room is required to prevent the working of overtime and it is therefore recommended that at least $100,000 be appropriated for an extension to the building. An estimate will also be submitted for the construction of a fireproof outbuilding.

NATIONAL BANKS.

Touching upon national banks, the Secretary says that during the existence of the system, up to June 30, 1899, 5,301 banks have been organized. On the latter date 3,589 banks were in operation; 1,247 had been placed in voluntary liquidation by shareholders, and 365 placed in charge of receivers. There was a net loss of one bank from June 30, 1898. The authorized capital stock of the banks on June 30 last was $607,871,245, and on June 30, 1898, $630,025,205, showing a decrease during the year of $22,154,050. The national bank circulation outstanding on June 30, 1899, aggregated $241,268,636, of which $205,204,094 was secured by bonds on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States and $36,064,602 by lawful money deposited on account of liquidating and insolvent associations and those reducing circulation. The increase of circulation during the year was $13,451,994.

The capital stock of the 73 banks organized during the year aggregated $14,825,000.

LOANS AND CURRENCY.

The interest-bearing debt July 1, 1899, included unmatured United States bonds outstanding in the amount of $1,046,010,920. This is an increase of $108,684,970 over the amount outstanding July 1, 1898, and is caused by the issue of the 3 per cent. twenty-year loan authorized by act of Congress approved June 13, 1898, amounting to $198,678,720, and by the conversion of refunding certificates of the act of Feb. 26, 1879, into bonds of the 4 per cent. loan of 1907, amounting, principal and interest, to $6,250.

The changes in the amounts of the several kinds of money in the United States, outside the Treasury, between Nov. 1, 1898, and Nov. 1, 1899, are shown in the following table. The estimated population of the United States Nov. 1, 1898, was $75,059,000, and the per capita supply of money outside the Treasury was $24.87. The estimated population and per capita supply of money Nov. 1, 1899, were 76,699,000 and $25.60, respectively.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION.

	In circulation Nov. 1,1898.	In circulation Nov. 1, 1899.	Decrease.	Increase.
Gold coin	$649,846,727	$634,656,733	$15,195,994	.....
Standard silver dollars	63,487,255	71,361,740	.....	$7,824,485
Subsidiary silver	88,876,952	96,173,164	.....	7,294,212
Gold certificates	35,338,909	127,508,519	.....	92,254,610
Silver certificates	391,177,575	394,976,239	.....	3,798,664
Treasury notes, act July 14, 1890	96,569,780	88,893,894	7,675,886	.....
United States notes	306,301,620	317,264,666	.....	10,963,046
Currency certificates, act June 8, 1872	20,035,000	13,735,000	6,320,000	.....
National banknotes	224,969,964	239,067,193	.....	4,097,229
Total	$1,886,575,782	$1,963,716,148	$29,191,880	$126,332,246
Net increase				$97,140,366

FOREIGN COMMERCE.

The commerce of the year has been marked by three especially notable characteristics: First, a continuation of the phenomenal exports of last year; second, a moderate increase in importations, and, third, the combined imports and exports form the largest total ever shown by a single year in the history of our foreign commerce.

The total imports of merchandise during the year were $697,148,489, as compared with $616,049,654 in the fiscal year 1898, and $764,730,412 in the fiscal year 1897, being less than in any fiscal year since 1887, except 1894, when importations were being held back to obtain advantage of an expected reduction in tariff, and 1898, when they were abnormally low because of excessive importations in the preceding year in anticipation of an increased tariff. The exportations of 1899 were $1,227,023,302, as against $1,231,482,330 in the fiscal year 1898, and $1,050,993,556 in 1897, being the fourth year in our history in which the exports exceeded a billion dollars, and falling but $4,459,028 below those of the phenomenal year 1898, when the supply of breadstuffs abroad was unusually short, and that of the United States unusually large. The total of our foreign commerce for the fiscal year 1899 thus stands at $1,924,171,791, or $66,491,181 greater than in any preceding year.

PHENOMENALLY LARGE EXPORTS.

Speaking of the volume and growth of exports, Mr. Gage says:

"In exportations the record of the fiscal year 1899 is especially gratifying. The phenomenally large exports of 1898, due in a considerable degree, as it was believed, to the shortage of crops in other parts of the world, and the consequently large demand and high prices enjoyed by the producers of the United States, seemed to justify the expectation that the year 1899, with bountiful crops in other parts of the world and the consequent fall in prices and in demand upon the United States, would fall materially below 1898 in its exportations. But this expectation has not been realized. The exports of the fiscal year 1899 were but $4,459,028 below those of 1898. The fact that the exportations of the year just ended have reached a figure so nearly equal to that of the extraordinary year which preceded it, and that this has occurred in the face of a large reduction in export prices of grain and a material reduction in the demand for our breadstuffs, justifies a somewhat detailed analysis of the year's exports, compared with the preceding and earlier years. Agricultural products, as was expected by reason of the plentiful supply of food stuffs abroad, fell off in exportations from $853,683,570 in 1898 to $784,776,142 in 1899, and formed but 65.19 per cent. of the total exports, against 70.54 per cent. in 1898, forming a smaller percentage of our total exports than in any year since 1870. The fact that our total exports continue far above those of any earlier year excepting 1898, in the face of this reduction in agricultural exports, is thus especially interesting and suggestive."

INTERNAL REVENUE.

As to internal revenue the report indicates that the total tax receipts during the fiscal year were $273,484,573.44, an increase of $102,617,754.08 over 1898. Distilled spirits yielded $99,283,534.16, an increase of $6,736,534.30. The total receipts from the taxes on tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, snuff, &c., were $52,493,207.64. The receipts from the same sources for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, were $36,230,522.37, showing an increase of $16,262,685.27 for the year ended June 30, 1899.

Since the date of the last report work has been prosecuted on thirty-two public buildings, including extensions, of which twelve have been completed and occupied. There were fifty-six new buildings and fourteen extensions authorized at the last session of Congress. For these new buildings thirty-nine sites have been selected.

OUR IMMIGRATION LAWS.

In the matter of the exclusion of the Chinese the Secretary shows how the provision relating to aliens in the Sundry Civil Appropriation Act of August 18, 1894, has been rendered null and void in certain cases of jurisdiction on the part of the United States Courts and Commissioners, and the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws is taken away from this Department, except in the cases of Chinese who are willing to acquiesce in the decision of the Collector of Customs or the Department denying them admission. Congress is urged to provide legislation more clearly defining the authority of the Department in this class of cases.

The report, in referring to the provision of the exclusion laws admitting mechanics, artisans and the like as a concession for an exhibition, goes on to show liability of the abuse of the privilege and where, in the Secretary's judgment, it was grossly abused. He says that if similar privileges are hereafter granted by the Congress, it is recommended that in each case the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to fix and limit the number of Chinese so to be admitted, and to make regulations providing for their ultimate deportation.

YELLOW FEVER.

With regard to yellow fever, attention is invited to the report of the commission of medical officers of the Marine Hospital Service detailed by direction of the President to make an investigation into the cause of this disease. They verify the findings of Sanarelli in his discovery of the bacillus icteroides. They further demonstrate that this disease is received into the human system through the respiratory tract and indicate the probability of a protective and curative serum similar in its use to that now employed in the treatment of diphtheria. While this discovery gives ground for hope of amelioration in the matter of yellow fever in the future, the Surgeon General calls attention to other measures deemed highly essential.

REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE.

Attention is called to the Revenue Cutter Service in the desire to raise the personnel to the highest standard of excellence. It is shown that the personnel has become depleted because of advanced age and physical disability and the inadequacy of the law to meet the demands of the service in the way of appointments. Legislation is asked in this respect and attention called to a bill pending. As to pensions, the recommendations of the last two annual reports are again brought forward, it being urged that the enlisted men of the Revenue Cutter Service be put under the same regulations and restrictions as now provided for enlisted men of the navy.

VESSELS AND TONNAGE.

From the report of the Commissioner of Navigation the Secretary shows that on June 30, 1899, the merchant marine of the United States, including all kinds of documented shipping, comprised 22,728 vessels, of 4,884,238 gross tons. On June 30, 1898, it comprised 22,705 vessels, of 4,749,738 gross tons. These vessels and tonnage are distributed as follows: Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, 16,275 vessels, with 2,614,809 gross tons; Pacific Coast, 1,970 vessels, with 539,937 gross tons; northern lakes, 3,162 vessels, with 1,146,348 gross tons; Western rivers, 1,321 vessels, with 263,084 gross tons.

The report states:

"The total tonnage on June 30, 1899, was the greatest recorded since 1865, and the output of our shipyards during the fiscal year was the largest of any year, except 1891, in the past quarter of a century. For the first time in our history the tonnage of our steam vessels exceeds that of all other documented craft, and our steamships registered foreign trade, in number and tonnage, surpass our former records. The current fiscal year opened with our shipyards fully employed on commercial and naval construction, and while the high price of steel may prevent so large an output this year as in that year, the indications favor the continuance of present prosperity in shipbuilding for an indefinite period.

SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS.

"In the last annual report several specific recommendations were submitted, drawn in the main from the current practices of our maritime competitors, raising no diplomatic difficulties, and believed to be adequate to our needs. The situation is the same now as then, and the necessity for action has become more pressing. The same propositions, accordingly, are again submitted:

"First—A remodeling and extension of the act of March 3, 1891, relating to the carrying of ocean mails in American steamships, so that it shall meet requirements which have arisen since the law went into operation.

"Second—The establishment of a system of graded bounties upon the mileage navigated by registered American vessels while engaged in the foreign carrying trade as compensation for the training of seamen available for the National defense, the system to have regard also to the construction of vessels which may be promptly and economically converted into cruisers, transports, colliers, and supply ships for the use of the Government. Special provision should also be made for vessels and men engaged in the deep-sea fisheries.

"Third—Extended application of the principle of the act of May 10, 1892, by virtue of which the St. Louis and St. Paul were constructed in this country upon the registry of the foreign-built steamships New York and Paris, this extension to continue for a short term of years and to be so guarded as to preserve the coasting trade to American-built vessels.

"Fourth—A moderate increase in the rates of our tonnage taxes, equalizing them with the corresponding charges at present imposed at the leading European seaports.

"Fifth—The restriction of trade between the United States, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii and the coasting trade of those islands to vessels of American registry.

"The relations of merchant shipping to the common defense and the general welfare raise propositions for its encouragement above the plane of industrial or class legislation and entitle them to the careful consideration, not only of the seaboard States, but also of the great producing sections of the country which require increased transportation facilities to foreign markets.

"The collections from tonnage taxes for the year were $834,087, compared with $846,771 for the previous year, and $731,770 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1897. Changes in our laws relating to tonnage taxes are recommended by the Commissioner of Navigation.

"Large rafts of timber in tow on the Pacific and very long tows of barges on the Atlantic are becoming a menace to navigation, and a reasonable regulation of these trades may soon be necessary. To be effectual, such regulation may require the co-operation of the Canadian Government.

COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY.

The United States has recently signed, in co-operation with the other leading nations, an international agreement for the measurement of the figure of the earth. At a meeting of the association which took place in Stuttgart last October the importance of permanent magnetic observatories in different parts of the earth was especially commended to the attention of the various nations composing the association, and the attention of the United States was particularly invited to the fact that the Hawaiian Islands, now a possession of the United States, are particularly adapted for the establishment of a permanent magnetic observatory.

The knowledge of the variation of the compass in the Pacific, which is destined to be more than ever important to American shipping interests, is still most imperfect.

METRIC SYSTEM.

The acquisition of the Philippines and Puerto Rico and our desire to extend our commerce with Mexico, Central and South America, in all of which countries the metric system has been established, leads the Secretary to call the attention of Congress to the desirability of reform in our system of weights and measures. He points out in general that the international commercial rivalry of nations should impel this step on the part of Congress, as it is bound to cause less friction in foreign trade. This country pledged itself in 1890 to the introduction of the metric system, and he holds that its fulfillment would immensely facilitate international commercial transactions.

STANDARD OF MONEY.

In treating of the money standard, banking, and currency, the report states:

"The state of the Treasury, as shown in its proper place, exhibits a degree of financial strength never before equaled. It places the Government in a position, more favorable than has before existed, to take any steps Congress may consider wise toward inaugurating needful improvements in the currency or judicious modifications in the banking laws. There are two points to which public attention has long been directed and upon which legislative action has been earnestly desired. These are, first, the money standard, and, second, a better adaptation of our currency system to the requirements of expanding trade and industry. Both of these questions are of prime importance to our well-being as a people and demand the consideration which their importance justifies. Upon these two questions I feel it my duty to speak with earnestness.

"First, as to the money standard. Gold now constitutes that standard. It is now, and for many years has been, the standard by which the values of all commodities, whether foreign or domestic, have been measured or declared. It is the standard to which reference has been had in all contracts or undertakings involving the future payment of money. It is the standard which tests the quality or value of the intermediate currency with which wages are paid and all, or nearly all, of the minor business affairs of the people are carried on. The debate over the relative merits of gold and silver as the true and proper money standard has been long and exhaustive; but while the discussion has continued the advanced nations of the earth, one after the other, with hardly an exception, have adopted gold as the more suitable for commercial needs.

"It has long been the desire and hope of many intelligent and patriotic citizens to secure needful and enduring stability in the money standard by an international agreement in regard to gold and silver, which would be effective to that end. The realization of that desire and hope seems now too remote to justify present consideration; but if there who still cherish it shall offer it no objection to the action above proposed, it is a sufficient answer to say that stability on the gold standard is the only stability now possible to us, and if the time should come when international agreement offers a safe and desirable substitution, the freedom of our representative form of government will give to our people the liberty of choice.

BANKING AND CURRENCY.

"In the beginning, law took no cognizance of banking. It grew into being as, in a free condition, the arts and trades and divisions in labor have grown. When society reached a stage where man could put confidence in man, credit was born. The producer or owner of property became willing to pass its ownership to another, against the buyer's promise to pay its equivalent value at a future time. Thus an enormous step forward was made. Brain and brawn, united to character, could then gain the use of the tools of production, and with their aid could win from the reluctant soil the value for the repayment of their cost. Ability, borrowing capital, could create capital. Thus the accumulations of society advanced from the rule of addition to that of multiplication. The men who desired the power which credit gave increased in number, and under the same law which developed the division of labor and the specialization of industry, the dealer in credit became specialized from the dealer in goods.

"The man thus distinctively separated became known as the banker. Of necessity he was a man of property and of acknowledged responsible character. His obligation was effective for the exchange of goods, and those of lesser repute or standing found it to their advantage to borrow his credit in exchange for their own. Possessed of financial resources of his own, represented largely in cash or money, it became natural for him and advantageous to the community that he should pay for local products at the point where they were produced, to take his reimbursement at some distant point to which they might be shipped and sold. He further became a natural temporary repository of the idle money of others, and this aided him to perform in a larger way his particular function. The above describes all he did then. It describes all he does now.

"Summarized, he exchanges his effective credit for the less effective, or elsewhere ineffective, credit of those with whom he deals. He makes payment for goods in one place and takes his pay in another. He carries in his money chest a percentage of all the obligations thus evidenced sufficient to enable him to meet the calls for cash from such of his creditors as may require that form of payment. To such as could be well accommodated thereby he formerly gave his notes of hand, convenient in size and denomination.

"To this list of operations carried on by the banker nothing can be added. It comprehends all his functions. It will be observed by the thoughtful that in no one of these is he able to operate, except in compliance with the desires of those with whom he deals. He is powerless to take the initiative in any of them. Whoever deals with him does it of choice, and not in obedience to any power of coercion the banker can exercise. Of all the members of the community, he is the one the most dependent. In the degree that he operates his function, to that degree he becomes a debtor, with all his liabilities immediately payable. He is under the highest bonds of self-interest to so carry himself as to win and retain the respect and confidence of his constituents and dealers. A failure on his part in this respect means disaster to his business and ruin to himself.

"It would appear, then, that the banker as a private person might be safely left to pursue his calling without interference from the law, because it is evident that his own interest, if wisely considered, will guide him in those directions which it would be the policy of good laws to direct him to take.

LIMIT OF INDIVIDUAL RISKS.

"To limit their individual risks, they sought authority from the law-making power to incorporate, with the limit of personal liability strictly defined. In this respect they followed the example set by associated efforts in many other forms of enterprise and industry. In this way only could the full power of association be utilized. Now, when the banker was thus given partial exemption as to responsibility, it became the duty of the law to put proper and just limitations upon "the exercise of his natural prerogatives." Exempted to a degree from the perils of ruin by the limitation of personal liability, it was right that this exemption should be accompanied by such limitations of his powers as the interests of the public should require. With limited responsibility, he was properly limited in the risks and hazards he might assume. The justice of this will nowhere be denied. The question for examination is not whether limitations and prohibitions should be laid, but whether they are wisely and sufficiently imposed.

ON NATIONAL BANKS.

"The development of our legislation during the last thirty-six years, which covers the history of the National Banking act and all amendments thereto, has thrown upon Congress a large responsibility for the effective working of that agency known as the bank. There seems to be, in some directions, an opinion that by the grace of government these institutions are established as a privilege to certain persons so favored; that they have no real occasion to be; that at best they are parasitical plants, drawing life and nourishment from the industrial tree to which they are attached, and to the well-being of which they contribute nothing. If this were true, no duty could be more immediate than to repeal all laws which give them existence, and, by one sweeping prohibitive act, forbid the exercise of their function. Whether it was wise for the General Government to legislate at all concerning them, it would be useless now to discuss. It is sufficient that this has been done, and by action, permissive in certain particulars and prohibitive in others, there have been evolved some 3,500 National banking institutions. Like other agencies which time has developed and made operative in the natural relations of men to each other, banks are valuable for the service they perform for the social whole. They are to be considered in this light alone. They ought neither to be made recipients of public favor or bounty, nor unduly constrained in those particulars where a proper liberty will insure to them a needful power for useful service.

"Important as is the establishing of our money standard upon a safe and enduring basis, important as is the guarding of the National demand obligations by adequate reserves, these alone will still leave our financial system exposed to evils which ought to be cured. These evils arise out of our situation as it relates to the currency.

"While stability in the currency should be safely guarded, flexibility—the power of needful expansion—must also be provided. The exercise of this power, with proper limitations and restrictions, must be intrusted to the bank. There is no other agency that can wisely and efficiently execute it. In fact, the banks do exercise that power now in regard to the largest part of that element which, rightly understood, really constitutes the currency. It is a popular delusion that the bank deals in money.

"Money is an incident in its dealings—an important incident, no doubt—but, truly speaking, an incident only. The bank deals in credits. For a consideration, varying according to time, place, and circumstance, it gives to the public with whom it deals its own debt obligations in exchange for the debt obligations of its dealers and customers. The obligations of the bank thus created are generally evidenced by a credit upon its books to the dealer, who has a right to draw upon it by his checks or drafts, as his convenience may be served.

"The constant interchange of credits between the bank and its dealers, with the enormous volume of checks and drafts constantly passing between buyer and seller, constitutes in the broadest sense the currency of the country. It is these instruments which trade uses in much the larger part of all its operations. Money—real money, gold or silver—plays but a small part in the multitudinous exchanges. The total money of the country—metallic and paper—is less than two thousand millions, and

No Other Soap in the World

HAS EVER BEEN MADE

Without Combining Fats, Grease or Oil, With an Alkali.

NOTHING CAN PREVENT

These Ingredients from Clogging the Pores or Drying and Roughing the Skin.

HYOMEI SOAP

Made from the Fresh Green Leaves of the Tasmanian Blue Gum Tree,

IS UNLIKE ANY OTHER.

It contains none of the fats, grease, oil and alkali which form the base of all soaps from the cheapest laundry to the finest toilet. Instead it has all the well-known healing, purifying and refreshing qualities of the Tasmanian Blue Gum Tree. As a toilet soap it is simply perfect in every respect; skin diseases cannot exist where it is used.

Sold by all Druggists or sent by mail. Price, 25c.

THE R. T. BOOTH CO., Ithaca, N. Y.

"THE 'SALT' OF SALTS."

Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

An invigorating tonic, the daily use of which gives health.

It cures indigestion—tastes more like a beverage than a medicine.

25c., 50c. and $1 per bottle.

All druggists.

There are some people who never do anything until they have to. Don't be one of them. Take care of your health while you have it. Retain your health by the daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

Doulton Delft

WEDGWOOD,

Royal Meissen,

Dresden, Sevres,

Minton, Copeland,

Royal Worcester,

Coalport,

Crown Derby China,

Bronzes, Clocks, etc.,

10% to 20% Discount

FROM

WHOLESALE PRICES.

Le Boutillier & Co.,

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS,

18 East 17th St., Near Broadway.

Look out for BUBONIC PLAGUE COFFEE

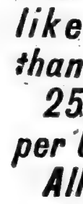
Coming in ships from infected ports. Cauchois' coffee comes overland from Mexico.



"MOCHA COFFEE NEVER COMES TO THIS MARKET. JAVA COFFEE IS GETTING POORER EVERY YEAR."

The Finest Coffee Grown Comes From the "PRIVATE ESTATE" Of The President of Mexico.

WHOLE OR GROUND 32¢ PER POUND AT

CAUCHOIS'

42d ST. & 1st. OPPOSITE DEPOT

BASTINE'S

Absolutely Pure and Full Weight.

FLAVORING EXTRACTS

Highest Grade Made. Ask Your Grocer.

"BUY CHINA & GLASS RIGHT"

HIGGINS & SEITER

FINE CHINA · RICH CUT GLASS

ALL PRICES LESS THAN ELSEWHERE. 50-54 West 22d St. WEDDING GIFTS A SPECIALTY.

BLISS CARMAN

Has a great poem in HOLIDAY NUMBER

Town Topics.

OUT TO-DAY.

THE DEAF CURED FREE

TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

Court Calendar Error Makes Trouble.

Justice Gildersleeve, in the Supreme Court, yesterday set aside a judgment obtained by default against Albert Morris Bagby in favor of Archer W. Andrews. Bagby gave a promissory note for $2,500 to Francis C. Groble, which was transferred to Mr. Andrews, who sued and obtained judgment, while the attorney for Bagby was out of town. The lawyer's clerk let the case go by without notice, owing to a misspelling of the name Bagby on the court calendar.

CURRENCY BILL APPROVED

With Two Amendments the House Caucus Accepts the Measure.

URGES SPEEDY CONSIDERATION

An Effort Will Be Made to Begin the Debate on the Bill, Under Special Rule, Next Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The Republican members of the House of Representatives gave their unanimous approval to-day to the House Financial bill recently introduced, and recommended its immediate consideration and passage. This was accomplished at the caucus held in the hall of the House during the forenoon by the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That House Bill No. 1, entitled 'A bill to define and fix the standard of value, to maintain the parity of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States, and for other purposes,' be and the same is hereby approved, and its immediate consideration by the House, and passage after a reasonable debate, is recommended and urged."

In pursuance of this resolution, Mr. Overstreet, (Ind.,) who introduced the bill, and is in general charge of it, will to-morrow submit a resolution asking that a special rule be reported for the immediate consideration of this measure. The terms of this special rule are practically agreed upon, and provide that the debate will begin next Monday, with a final vote at the close of the week.

The unanimous approval given to the bill came after two hours of discussion, and the adoption of two amendments approved by the framers of the bill. When the meetings began, Mr. Cannon (Ill.) surrendered the chair to Mr. Hepburn, (Iowa,) in order to present his views on some modifications he thought desirable.

These related to the National banking features of the bill, and Mr. Cannon gave it as his individual opinion that this branch of the subject might better be modified or omitted. He distinctly stated, however, that he supported the bill as a whole and would vote for it, and this was further shown when he voted for the resolution of approval. Mr. Cannon's suggestions did not take the form of amendments, and were not pressed.

The main amendment was proposed by the framers of the bill to clear up some ambiguity of the present law. It is to be a new section, numbered nine, and is as follows:

"Sec. 9. That Sec. 10 of an act approved July 12, 1882, entitled, 'An act to enable National banking associations to extend their corporate existence,' be and the same is amended so as to read as follows:

"Sec. 10. That upon a deposit of bonds, as described in Sections 5,159 and 5,160 of the Revised Statutes, the association making the same shall be entitled to receive from the Controller of the Currency circulating notes of different denominations in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, not exceeding the par value of the United States bonds so transferred and delivered, and at no time shall the total amount of such notes issued to any such association exceed the amount at such time paid in of its capital stock, and the provisions of Sections 5,171 and 5,176 of the Revised Statutes are hereby repealed."

Another amendment is to Section 4 of the bill, inserting the word, "redemption" before "fund," to make more plain that our redeemed notes and certificates are to be held.

Mr. Warner (Illinois) offered an amendment relating to that feature known as the impounding of the greenbacks, but he was satisfied from examinations that the amendment was not essential, and it was withdrawn. There were some other suggestions and tentative amendments, but none of them were pressed, and the resolution of approval was then unanimously adopted.

Mr. Overstreet and his associates, who framed the bill, were warmly congratulated on having been able to command such complete unanimity and approval, which is regarded as giving assurance that the bill will be passed before the Christmas recess.

H. H. HANNA ON CURRENCY BILLS.

Says Their Passage by Respective Houses Should Be Encouraged.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—H. H. Hanna, Chairman of the Indianapolis Monetary Committee, speaking to-day of the financial bills before Congress, said: "The bills prepared by the Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee and by the caucus committee of the Republicans of the House have so much that is courageously comprehensive of the needs for eliminating all doubt as to gold being the standard and unit of value of our monetary system that it is wise to encourage the passage of these bills by the respective houses and reserve all suggestions for additions or changes until the conferrees of the two houses take up the subject.

"The bills are splendid expressions of the purpose to fulfill the pledge for gold standard legislation and should greatly encourage the President to believe that all proper revision of our monetary laws is possible of accomplishment. Both bills contain provisions for gold reserves and their maintenance. The gold reserve provided by the Senators is ample for maintaining the interchangeability of all Government moneys, and the changes in denominations of paper currencies are safe and important aids to its feasibility and easy accomplishment.

"If such full interchangeability can be included, it would perfect the establishment of the gold standard beyond risk of change except by the deliberate action of the law-making Government."

Senate Currency Bill Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Mr. Aldrich, Chairman of the Finance Committee, had the distinction of introducing the first bill at the present session of the Senate. It was what is known as the Senate finance measure, and is, to affirm the existing standard of value of all forms of money, to refund the public debt, and for other purposes." It was referred to the Committee on Finance.

MANY BILLS IN THE SENATE.

Over Eight Hundred Are Introduced, Many of Them Old Measures.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Nearly 800 bills and joint resolutions were introduced in the Senate to-day. Many of them related to local and personal interests, and many were old bills coming over from the last session. The most important were the following:

A concurrent resolution adopted by the Legislature of Michigan was presented by Mr. McMillan, (Rep., Mich.) The resolution protested against the policy of the Russian Government toward Finland, and was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. It expresses "profound and heartfelt sympathy for the downtrodden people of Finland in their present hour of darkest trouble," and urges President McKinley to express to the Government of the Czar the serious concern of the Government of the United States because of the abrogation of the act of assurance of Alexander I., the abolition of the Finnish Constitution and the consequent destruction of Finnish autonomy.

Mr. Spooner (Rep., Wis.,) presented resolutions of the Legislature of Wisconsin urging Congress to take action looking to the advancement of American shipping interest.

Mr. Lodge, (Rep., Mass.)—A resolution requesting the President, if not incompatible with public interests, to inform the Senate as to the proposed sale of the Gallapagos Islands by Ecuador to Great Britain and to communicate any such information concerning the proposed sale as might be in possession of the Government. Adopted.

Mr. Chandler, (Rep., N. H.)—A concurrent resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three Senators and two members of the House to make arrangements for the unveiling of the statue of Daniel Webster in this city on the 18th of January next. Adopted.

Mr. Chandler, (Rep., N. H.)—Applying the customs and internal revenue laws of the United States to the Islands of Cuba and Puerto Rico, after Jan. 1, 1900. Goods between the islands and the United States to be exchanged as between the States.

Other bills and resolutions were as follows:

Mr. Stewart, (Silver, Nev.)—For the regulation of election of United States Senators; for the revision of the mining laws and for the regulation of desert lands.

Mr. Warren, (Rep., Wyoming)—For the cession by the general government of 5,000,000 acres of arid lands to each of the arid land States, being the same measure favorably reported last session, and for the indemnification of the public land States for school lands proving to be coal lands.

Mr. Lodge, (Rep., Mass.)—For amendment of the immigration laws.

Mr. Hoar, (Rep., Mass.)—For the regulation of the election of United States Senators.

Mr. Platt, (Rep., New York)—For the amendment of the civil service law, and to extend the time for the completion of the bridge now in course of construction across East River, New York.

Mr. Clay, (Dem., Ga.)—Resolution for the election of Senators by the people.

Mr. Chandler, (Rep., N. H.)—To prohibit Senators and Representatives in Congress from receiving free railroad passes.

Mr. McEnery, (Dem., La.)—For a deep waterway through Southwest Pass.

Mr. Perkins, (Rep., Cal.)—Concerning the government of Alaska; extending the immigration laws of the United States to Hawaii.

Mr. Carter, (Rep., Mont.)—Making further provision for the civil government of Alaska; to provide for uniform divorce laws.

Mr. Nelson, (Rep., Minn.)—To subject National banks to the usury laws of the States in which they may be located.

Mr. Frye, (Rep., Me.)—Several measures for the regulation of shipping and the revenue service in addition to his substitute for the Hanna-Payne Shipping bill, and a bill for the establishing of a Government Department of Commerce and Industry.

Mr. Pettigrew, (Silver, S. D.)—For the free coinage of silver and to enable the Government to secure control of new telegraphic devices.

Mr. Hale, (Rep., Me.)—For the construction of a Pacific cable by the Navy Department, to be operated by the Post Office Department, and appropriating $11,000,000 for this purpose. The bill provides that the cable shall start at San Francisco and be laid by way of Honolulu, Midway Islands, and Guam, to Manila, and be connected with Iloilo.

Mr. Kyle, (Ind., N. D.)—For the establishment of postal savings banks and a Government telegraphic system; for the restriction of immigration, and a joint resolution for a Constitutional amendment for the regulation of marriage and divorce.

Mr. Harris, (Pop., Kan.)—Joint resolutions for Constitutional amendments authorizing the imposition of an income tax and for the election of Senators by the people.

Mr. Cullom, (Rep., Ill.)—To provide a form of government for Hawaii; to pension war veterans over seventy years of age.

Mr. Pettus, (Dem., Ala.)—To repeal the War Stamp act.

Mr. Chandler, (Rep., N. H.)—To prohibit Senators and Representatives from performing the functions of the Executive; to prohibit the issuance of railroad passes.

TO CHANGE SENATE COMMITTEES.

Republicans Plan to Reduce Democratic Representation.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A proposition is under consideration by the Republican leaders in the Senate for the reduction of the Democratic representation in the standing committees. One of the principal Republican ends to be achieved by such an action is the capture of the Finance Committee, which is now in the hands of the silver men. At this time, when currency legislation is to be pushed through, the Republicans are determined to secure control of this committee. The Republican members of it are Senators Aldrich, Allison, Platt of Connecticut, Wolcott, Burroughs, Platt of New York, and Jones of Nevada. The Democrats are Vest, Jones of Arkansas, Daniel, and Chilton. There are two vacancies. Wolcott and Jones of Nevada are silver Republicans. Under the old custom of allowing the minority one less member that the majority, the Democrats would naturally get both the places which are to be filled.

The Republicans are likely to displace Senator Jones of Nevada on the ground that he is no longer a Republican. There is, however, no likelihood that Senator Wolcott will be displaced. The silver men are uneasy about Wolcott, and there is a belief among some of them that he will vote for the Currency bill.

"Mr. Wolcott has always faithfully supported Republican Party measures," said a leading silver Senator to-night, "and I think he will vote for this one whether he likes it or not."

Senator Allison, Chairman of the Republican caucus of the Senate, to-day announced the committee which the caucus authorized him to appoint for the allotment of committee places in the Senate. The list is as follows: Senators Aldrich, (Rep., R. I.,) Cullom, (Rep., Ill.,) McMillan, (Rep., Mich.,) Hansbrough, (Rep., N. D.,) Lodge, (Rep., Mass.,) Perkins, (Rep., Cal.,) Elkins, (Rep., West Va.,) Spooner, (Rep., Wis.,) and Platt, (Rep., N. Y.)

WILL RUSH ROBERTS'S CASE.

House Committee Is to Meet To-day to Determine a General Line of Action.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Representative Tayler of Ohio, Chairman of the special committee to investigate the case of Mr. Roberts of Utah, has called a meeting of the committee for 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. Mr. Tayler says this initial meeting will be to determine upon a general line of action. He could not say how soon the committee would be able to report, although Mr. Tayler expressed the opinion that the inquiry would proceed with all due expedition, as the claimant was entitled to an early decision. While the Chairman would not speak for the committee, he said he had no doubt that Mr. Roberts would be allowed to be present, with counsel if he desired, and would be afforded the usual facilities to have his side presented.

There are a number of witnesses here and some in Utah, but it is probable that the committee will not leave Washington, although there are some precedents for extending an inquiry to other points. Mr. Tayler said the arguments in election cases were usually open to the public, but he had some doubt as to whether the hearings, particularly such parts as involved family matters, should be open. These details will be determined by the committee, Mr. Tayler saying that the essential question was to secure a calm and unprejudiced consideration of the eligibility of the claimant.

Mr. Roberts was about the House during the day. There was no session and he was engaged most of the time in chatting with groups of members and visitors, who showed a friendly disposition toward him. He said he had no comment to make on the course of the House. He probably will look after his interests in person before the committee of inquiry.

Whether the pay of Mr. Roberts of Utah is stopped as a result of the action of the House in refusing him a seat has not been passed upon by the House officials and will not directly arise until the January pay certificates are issued by Speaker Henderson, by which time it is expected that the case will be permanently settled. Mr. Roberts drew his pay up to December 3, the day before Congress assembled, on the certificate of Clerk McDowell that he was a member-elect. With the opening of Congress the issuance of certificates devolves on the Speaker, the monthly certificate reading that there is due the member a stated sum "as a member of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-sixth Congress." Whether this certificate could be issued to Mr. Roberts, as a member, is open to doubt, but it is believed that the final action of the House in the case will remove all doubt before Jan. 3, when the next certificates are issued.

ROBERTS CASE IN THE SENATE.

Senator Rawlins Introduces a Resolution Demanding an Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Rawlins (Utah) offered the following resolution and asked that it be considered immediately:

"That the Committee on Judiciary is hereby instructed to inquire into and report to the Senate:

"First.—To what extent polygamy is practiced or polygamous marriages entered into in the United States or in places over which they have jurisdiction.

"Second.—Have polygamists, or persons reputed to have more than one wife, been elected to office by the people of Utah, and, if so, has such election been for the purpose of encouraging polygamy or in violation of any compact between said State and the United States?

"Third.—Have polygamists, or persons reputed to have more than one wife, been appointed to office by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, or in cases where the concurrency of the Senate is not required; and if so, have such appointments been made in aid of polygamy or in violation of the compact between the United States and the State of Utah with reference to that subject?

"Fourth.—What, if any, steps should be taken or measures enacted for the prevention of polygamy in the United States and in places in which they have jurisdiction?"

Mr. Wolcott (Col.) objected to immediate consideration, and the resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Kyle, Mr. Kean, and Mr. Wolcott presented a number of petitions against polygamy.

Bill to Pension Capt. Gridley's Widow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A bill was introduced by Mr. Penrose (Penn.) to-day to pension Mrs. Gridley, wife of the late Capt. Gridley of the Olympia, at $160 per month.

Root's Appointment Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The Senate, in executive session to-day, confirmed the appointment of Elihu Root as Secretary of War. Mr. Root's nomination was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and immediately reported back and confirmed. There was no opposition to immediate action.

LIEBIG

COMPANY'S EXTRACT

OF BEEF

(Note Blue Signature, J. v. Liebig, across Label)

SAVES DOCTORS' BILLS

Consul at Mannheim Named.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The President to-day nominated Heaton W. Harris of Ohio to be Consul at Mannheim, Germany.

TRADE TREATIES SUBMITTED.

Reciprocity Agreements Made During Recess Go to the Senate—Reductions Allowed to France.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The reciprocity treaties negotiated during the Congressional recess were transmitted to the Senate to-day and in the executive session were ordered printed and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The most important of these treaties is that between the United States and France for reciprocal reductions of tariff rates. The terms of this and the other treaties are not yet officially made public, either by the State Department or the Senate, but it is understood that the French treaty items are substantially as follows:

Reductions Allowed France—Glass bottles 15 per cent.

Five Per Cent.—Cut-glass bottles, decanters, &c.; tinsel, braids, galloons, &c.; chicory, roasted or ground; cotton goods mixed with silk; cotton cloth; plush and cotton velvet; cotton stockings; cotton suspenders; cotton lace; jewelry; silk goods under Schedule L; buttons.

Ten Per Cent.—Alcoholic perfumery, toilet water, &c.; glue; glycerine; paints, colors, and varnishes; potash in various forms; medical preparations; cosmetics without alcohol; soap; soda and compounds; bricks, tiles, &c.; cement, window glass; spectacles, eyeglasses, &c.; opera glasses; magnifying glasses; cutlery; metallic pens, not gold, and penholders; metal articles not otherwise specified; wooden furniture; macaroni, &c.; vegetables, prepared or preserved; preserved fruit; prunes; liqueurs; shirts, collars, and cuffs; linen lace, handkerchiefs, and weavings; woolen hats; letter, copying, blotting, and sensitive papers; envelopes; blank books; albums; imitation jewelry; straw braid for hats; brushes; buckles; fans; gloves, except gloves called "Schauschen."

Fifteen Per Cent.—Olive oil; spikes, tacks, and needles; watch and clock movements; amber articles; articles of bone; articles of ivory or mother of pearl; musical instruments; pipes and smokers' articles.

Twenty Per Cent.—Coal tar dyes or colors; plants, seeds, &c.; nuts; toys.

Sparkling wines receive the same benefits accorded to other European countries.

The reductions aloiwed the United States are understood to comprise all the articles of the French minimum tariff list, with the following exceptions:

Horses, stallions, mares and colts, eggs, cheese, sugar, honey, cloverseed and luzerne, sugar, chicory root, feed, type, porcelain, cardboard, tanned hides, leather soles, boot and shoe uppers, boots, shoes, belting, dynamo electric machines, machinery tools, parts of dynamos, and electric machines.

The reciprocity treaties negotiated with Great Britain are four in number, for Jamaica, Guiana, Barbados, and Bermuda, the Trinidad treaty having been withdrawn. In the main the concessions to the colonies are on food products, while reductions on manufactured goods, flour, &c., are understood to be the chief advantages given to the United States.

RECIPROCITY TREATY HELD UP.

Agreement with Trinidad Upset by the Island Government.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A noticeable omission in the list of reciprocity treaties transmitted to the Senate by the President along with his message yesterday was the treaty concluded last Summer between Mr. Kasson, representing the State Department, and a delegation from the Island of Trinidad, British West Indies. This particular treaty was framed generally on the lines of the arrangement made with the other British West Indian colonies. But at the last moment the Trinidad Government notified Mr. Kasson that it was obliged to withhold its final approval of the treaty. Consequently this convention was not submitted along with the others to the Senate.

The reason assigned by the Trinidad Government for this action was the probable inadequacy of the customs receipts of the island to maintain the Government under the application of the reciprocity treaty. The reduction proposed in the treaty would, it was estimated, reduce the total receipts below the necessities of the Government of Trinidad.

ANNUAL REPORT ON OKLAHOMA.

Gov. Barnes Recommends the Opening of Wichita Reservation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Gov. Barnes of Oklahoma, in his annual report, estimates the present population of the Territory at 375,000, fully 90 per cent. of whom are American born. He says that within the past year incoming settlers took up nearly 750,000 acres of Government land. The school population has increased over 12 per cent. The Territory's real taxable valuation is placed at $75,000,000.

The Governor says that it is best to wait for Statehood a reasonable time until a union of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory can be effected, as with its present boundaries Statehood would double the expenses without commensurate benefit.

The opening of the reservation occupied by the Wichita and affiliated tribes, to settlement this year is urged.

WASHINGTON MEMORIAL.

Public Schools to Note Centennial Anniversary of His Death.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The George Washington Memorial Association has made public a request that on Dec. 14, 1899, the centennial anniversary of Washington's death, all the schools in the land will suspend the regular order of exercises at 11 o'clock A. M., and devote twenty minutes to a memorial programme, including a brief eulogy of the life and character of the first President, George Washington.

Notice to New York Schools.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles R. Skinner has issued the following to the public schools of the State: "Dec. 14 will be the centennial anniversary of the death of George Washington. I recommend a suitable observance of the day by brief and simple exercises in all the public schools of the State, commemorative of this important incident in our Nation's history, thus bringing to the attention of our youth the great services which Washington rendered to our common country."

Fire Destroys Mattress Factory.

A mattress factory of three stories at 562 and 564 West Thirty-fourth Street was destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon. It was owned by Cornelius Daly and occupied by Joseph Golding. Twenty-five employes, fifteen of whom were Italian women, made their escape in safety. Several of the employes lost their street wraps. The damage to the contents of the building is placed at $2,000. The damage to the building is estimated at $7,000. The loss is covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A Tiffany Box.

Tiffany has one thing in stock that you cannot buy of him for as much money as you may offer: he will only give it to you. And that is one of his boxes. Recently a woman who wanted to send a choice piece of her own jewelry to a friend in another city, went to Tiffany's to buy a box in which to put it. The refusal was courteous, but firm. The salesman explained that the rule of the establishment was ironclad, never to allow a box bearing the name of the firm to be taken out from the building except with an article which had been sold by them and for which they were responsible. Experience has taught them the necessity of this. Otherwise a great many persons, in sending gifts to their friends, would buy inferior articles at any irresponsible place, and put the guarantee of the Tiffany name upon it by simply purchasing a box at their store. And so the stock of precious stones in the great establishment is no more carefully guarded than the stock of cases in leather, satin, and even in pasteboard. Therefore, when some one gives you a Tiffany box, be sure you are getting a Tiffany gift.—N. Y. Evening Sun.—Adv.

WORK OF THE CITY CLUB.

Report of the Council Adopted—Refers to Charges Against Members—Legislation Planned.

The City Club met last night at the clubhouse, No. 19 West Thirty-fourth Street. The report of the Council, covering the work done since last Spring, was presented and, after some discussion, was adopted. After telling the result of the efforts of the Committee on Legislation last Winter, the report says:

"The club's important amendements to the election law, which were introduced in the Senate this year by Senator Elsberg, will be again introduced in the Legislature, and will be pushed by the Legislation Committee as the principal affirmative measure to be advocated by the club. Experience with the present cumbersome and unworkable law has done much to empuasize the club's contention that it must be radically amended.

"The Legislation Committee is preparing a bill to prohibit the payment of political assessments by candidates for judicial office, as well as the receiving of political contributions from such candidates. The bill will be introduced in the Legislature of 1900. Through the efforts of the City Club the political organizations which this year united upon judicial candidates in New York County committed themselves and their candidates to advocacy of such legislation, and it is not improbable that the proposed bill will become law."

The question of municipal government is also freely discussed in the report, which, in part, is as follows:

"This committee brought to the attention of the Assembly Investigating Committee, and repeatedly urged that committee to investigate, the subject of political assessments of judicial candidates, and the related subject of political influence upon the courts. Even the very considerate examination of the Judges before the investigating committee, an examination commonly believed to have evoked only a small part of the facts, gave excellent ground, when coupled with some of the testimony of Mr. Croker, for the demand for legislation such as the City Club now proposes. The Municipal Government Committee also brought before the investigating committee several other matters which developed interesting testimony.

"Among these was the matter of the great number of increases in salaries in the city departments under the present Tammany administration. It was shown not only that the aggregate amount of these increases was very large, but also and very specifically, by the testimony of the secretary of the club's council, that The City Record, published daily by the city at great expense for the purpose of giving information about the operation of the City Government, does not contain the information about changes in the departments which the charter makes it the express duty of the heads of departments to furnish promptly for publication in The Record.

"This testimony, based upon an elaborate examination of The Record conducted for several weeks in the office of the council, established a strong presumption of a conspiracy to conceal from the public the immense number of appointments, removals, and changes in salaries in city departments."

Regarding the subject of a building code, the report tells of the work of the club in opposition to the present code, which was of no avail. The report makes the following comment: "The result is that the city has fastened upon it for an indefinite time a body of law affecting the character of all new buildings and portions of old buildings, drawn in such a way as to make possible, and, under lax administration, to encourage, abuses of a character to threaten the public health and safety."

The following resolution was adopted by the club: "Resolved, That the thanks of the City Club of New York be extended to Mr. Simon Sterne and Mr. Boudinot Keith for the public service which they are performing in the matter of accusations against two members of this club, accused of criminal charges made in a manner and under circumstances which constitute, in effect, an attack upon the integrity of the Municipal Government Committee of the City Club."

The two members referred to in the resolutions are Fulton McMahan and Edward L. Heydecker, charges against whom are now pending.

Before the meeting Lemuel E. Quigg, President of the Republican County Committee, had a long talk with Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, Chairman of the council. Neither would say anything about the subject of their discussion.

BOSTON'S MAYORALTY FIGHT.

Democrats Are Split and Republicans Expect to Win.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The open split in the Democratic Party in this city, which has resulted in bitter recrimination being hurled back and forth between the two sides, has suddenly change the aspect of the present municipal campaign from one of lethargy to the warmest and most sensational that has taken place in Boston for many years.

For the nonce, the Republicans are watching the state of affairs in the ranks of the opposition with tranquillity and satisfaction, believing that their candidate for Mayor, Mr. Hart, will have no difficulty in winning next Tuesday, providing Mr. Murphy, who has bolted the Democratic ticket, is successful in carrying with him the thousands of voters who supported him in the Democratic caucuses last month, when he was beaten by Mr. Collins.

On the other hand the members of the Collins campaign appear cheerful, and not at all cast down by the threatened disruption in the ranks of the party.

Mr. Murphy's manifesto last night, declaring his intention of supporting the Republican nominee for Mayor was answered to-day by Mr. Collins in such scathing terms that it forced a rejoinder from the other side to-night, in which Mr. Murphy was equally bitter in his language. In the latter statement Mr. Murphy accuses Mr. Collins of being false to the Democratic Party, in bolting Mr. Bryan last year, as well as other regular party nominations in years past.

The fierce reply made to-day by Mr. Collins has made the fight between the two Democrats bitterly personal, so that the situation at present seems a serious one for the Democrats, while it certainly seems highly satisfactory from a Republican standpoint.

AT RIVAL BILLIARD TOURNEYS.

Many persons attended the games of the rival amateur billiard tournaments yesterday. The afternoon game in the A. A. U. tournament for the championship of Class B was won by Hevner. Smith and Threshie were the winners of the evening contests.

In the intercity and interclub handicap tournament held at Maurice Daly's Academy the afternoon game went to Muldaur. Poggenburg won the evening contest.

J. De Mun Smith of St. Louis defeated Dr. A. B. Miller, the Knickerbocker Athletic Club expert, in the opening game of the evening session. The score:

Smith—0 2 3 1 18 5 3 14 0 10 3 29 0 0 0 7 1 2 1 14 0 0 26 20 0 3 4 0 2 11 1 21 12 0 2 0 15 0 11 11 15 2 0 21 1. Total, 300. Average, 6 24-46. High runs, 29, 26, 21.

Miller—0 8 3 0 0 5 3 10 11 0 0 0 2 2 0 0 0 17 22 31 8 4 0 1 0 1 2 0 0 16 3 4 0 1 0 0 2 13 1 14 0 13 2 0 24. 3. Total, 226. Average, 4 42-46. High runs, 22, 31, 24.

Referee—George Moulton.

In the final game Threshie defeated Herner by 300 to 200. Threshie averaged just 6, and his highest run was 48. Herner made an average of 4 13-49, and his best run was 32.

Herner won from Servatius in the afternoon game. The score:

Hevner—0, 21, 13, 5, 6, 5, 7, 15, 0, 0, 3, 2, 3, 2, 5, 0, 0, 0, 3, 5, 1, 4, 16, 1, 12, 0, 4, 23, 0, 0, 4, 3, 2, 8, 1, 2, 15, 6, 0, 3, 5, 4, 12, 0, 8, 1, 0, 0, 1, 5, 0, 6, 2, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0, 16, 1, 3, 0, 1, 5, 2, 1, 3, 5, 6. Total, 300; average, 4 24-69; high runs, 21, 16, 23.

Servatius—0, 4, 5, 10, 0, 0, 4, 3, 5, 2, 3, 2, 6, 0, 0, 3, 0, 7, 0, 4, 0, 1, 10, 0, 3, 3, 16, 0, 13, 3, 3, 0, 18, 0, 5, 1, 5, 0, 4, 1, 38, 33, 0, 3, 1, 5, 1, 1, 8, 2, 0, 3, 1, 0, 0, 8, 0, 1, 0, 0, 1, 0, 13, 0, 1, 0, 0, 1, 1. Total, 260; average 3 59-69; high runs 18, 38, 33.

Ferdinand Poggenburg of the Liederkranz won his second game in the present tournament last night by defeating William Arnold. The score:

Poggenburg, (300)—0 0 1 40 0 0 11 8 0 23 1 10 14 2 26 4 1 0 11 20 2 0 2 18 16 8 12 16 5 0 1 2 0 0 0 0 6 3 0 1 12 0 1 3 4 3 0 0 1 1 0 9 2. Total, 300. Average, 5 35-53. High runs, 40, 23, 26.

Arnold, (220)—5 0 0 3 4 2 2 5 5 16 0 0 0 1 2 14 10 1 6 17 0 0 1 0 0 4 0 2 8 0 6 1 0 9 0 10 11 0 0 3 1 0 0 1 2 1 1 0 0 0 0 1. Total, 155. Average, 2 51-52. High runs, 16, 14, 17.

Referee—Edward McLaughlin.

Mark H. Muldaur won the afternoon game from Arthur Townsend of St. George's Lyceum. The score:

Muldaur, (220)—0 0 2 4 0 0 1 14 9 2 31 2 15 2 2 14 7 5 15 1 1 9 3 6 1 0 9 4 1 8 0 18 1 5 0 0 2 2 1 1 6 3 3 8 3. Total, 220. Average, 4 40-45. High runs, 31, 15, 18.

Townsend, (280)—0 12 0 1 0 3 15 22 0 8 3 1 1 1 7 2 1 0 0 6 2 11 14 2 4 2 17 3 0 8 0 13 5 0 1 0 0 0 0 4 0 0 1 14 6. Total, 200. Average, 4 20-45. High runs, 15, 22, 17.

Referee—Edward McLaughlin.

It will be ladies' night to-night in the tournament in progress at Daly's Academy.

At the formal opening of the Imperial Billiard Academy last night, Schaefer and "Tom" Gallagher played an exhibition game, the former making an average of 40 in a 200-point game.

Carnegie Lyceum

57TH STREET AND 7TH AVENUE.

Marvellous Exhibition—Wonderful Demonstration—Illustrated Lecture—Deaf Cured Free.

Friday, December 8, 1899.

AFTERNOON AT 2. - - - - - EVENING AT 8

ADMISSION FREE TO ALL.

Those who are fortunate enough to obtain seats, or even standing room, in the Carnegie Lyceum on the above date, either afternoon or evening, will witness one of the most marvellous and interesting entertainments ever seen upon any stage since the history of the world began.

Streams of fire will be seen emanating from living human beings, while from their eyes, ears, nose and mouth there will appear to grow beautiful and highly colored bouquets of flowers. Artificial thunder and lightning will be produced by the juggling of millions of volts of electricity. This section of the exhibition may well be termed electrical pyrotechnics, fireworks.

The wonders of the great Edison X-Ray will also be exhibited. This is the only genuine Edison X-Ray ever operated for exhibition purposes in New York. All other so-called X-Ray machines are but toys as compared with this monster machine, which enables any one to see clearly all the bones of the human skeleton while yet in the flesh.

Wagonloads of machines, electrical devices and the more than wonderful Biochymic Generator, a mammoth machine used only for the cure of deafness and blindness, will be exhibited and used in the remarkable demonstration illustrating how disease, and especially deafness, may be almost instantly cured by scientific mechanism.

Dr. Wilson, the inventor and perfector of the only treatment that ever cured deafness and who is at the head of the National Association of Physicians and Surgeons with offices at 240 Fifth Ave., New York, and 18 Boylston St., Boston, who has succeeded in giving hearing and speech to hundreds of deaf mutes born without hearing, and restored perfectly the hearing to thousands of totally deaf people, has on this single occasion consented to not only explain in a lecture why it is that so many people are becoming deaf, and how deafness and disease may be prevented, but also to show the audience, by actual demonstration, how to cure deafness. His entire working plant with every machine and implement used in the treatment of deafness, will be placed upon the stage, in full view, where the most hopelessly deaf people of the audience will be treated free, many if not all of whom will be made to hear quite perfectly within the hour. Each one treated on this occasion will be entitled to five treatments free, at either of the above named offices, should it be desired or required to make the cure permanent.

Dr. Wilson will tell how many troublesome diseases may be prevented and cured by the sufferers themselves, without having to buy medicine or pay doctors' bills.

Don't fail to be present, as the knowledge there to be obtained may prevent you from becoming deaf, or cure you if you are now deaf.

Admission free. Doors open an hour previous to each lecture.

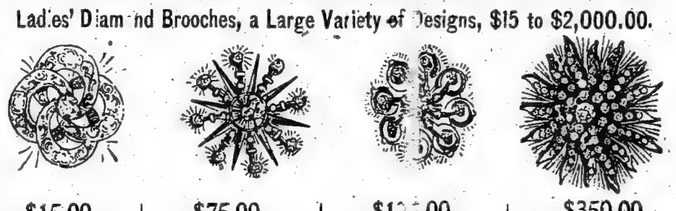
DIAMONDS

Have advanced over 30 per cent. within the last few months I bought my stock before the syndicate raised the price and can sell at least one-third cheaper than dealers who did not know or could not take advantage of this. Diamond Jewelry of every description MOUNTED IN SOLID 14-KARAT GOLD. I make a specialty of Diamond Rings from $10 to $50.00. Full value allowed within one year.

LADIES' DIAMOND RINGS, $10 to $1,000.00.
All Sizes, Fine Quality.

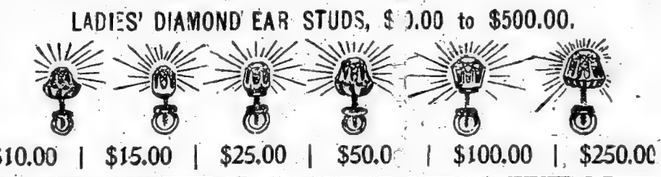
$10.00 | $15.00 | $25.00 | $40.00 | $75.00 | $150.00

Ladies' Diamond Brooches, a Large Variety of Designs, $15 to $2,000.00.



$15.00 | $75.00 | $125.00 | $350.00

LADIES' DIAMOND EAR STUDS, $10.00 to $500.00.



$10.00 | $15.00 | $25.00 | $50.00 | $100.00 | $250.00

KEENE'S 14 Fulton St., New York, (Near Nassau St)

OPEN EVENINGS during December until 9 o'clock; Christmas Week 12 o'clock. Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

The Only Reason

why physicians don't prescribe silk underwear for everybody is, that it is too dear for the average purse.

It is anti-rheumatic; soothing to the nerves; warm, light, pleasing to the touch and eye,—in a word it presents every desirable attribute, save that of low cost.

KOTEDSILK

is within the reach of moderate purses. The wearer for the first time realizes luxury in underwear.

KOTEDSILK UNDERWEAR CO., MILLBURY, MASS.

76 Leonard St., N. Y. City, and All Leading Stores.

TO PROTECT GAME FISHES.

Commission Will Try to Amend Laws at Albany This Winter.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—Gov. Roosevelt has received from the State Fisheries, Game and Forestry Commission a reply to the letter sent by him to that board complaining that mills in the Adirondacks are discharging sawdust and chemicals into

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, DEC. 7, 1899.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
LONDON: Trafalgar Buildings. Trafalgar Sq., W. C.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: F. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.
GERMANY, Mainz: Saarbach's News Agency, Agency for Germany and Austria.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
SATURDAY, with Review of Books and Art, per Year	1.00
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES

THE COMING QUESTION.

Would the Supreme Court declare unconstitutional an act of Congress establishing a civil Government and a system of laws in Puerto Rico and the Philippines, but treating them, not as integral parts of the Union, but as dependent possessions? The determination of the political status of those islands is one of the most important questions of National policy now before the people. It can hardly be said, indeed, that the question is as yet before the people. It is in the preliminary stage of discussion. But it is destined to become what we call an "issue," perhaps a dominating issue in our politics.

Judge H. G. CURTIS of the Insular Commission has made up his mind on the subject and gives the public his conclusions in an article printed in the December Forum. So long as the President is permitted to keep the government of Puerto Rico and the Philippines in his hands, exercising the military authority without the interference of Congress, they will remain "simply parts of the possessions of the United States—merely the property of the United States, without State or Territorial rights." The precedent of New Mexico justifies this conclusion. Gen. KEARNEY, with the approval of the President of the United States but without any sanction of Congress, set up and for five years maintained a government in that possession, where he was the commanding General of the army of occupation. The Supreme Court held that the government set up by Gen. KEARNEY was lawful and that its constitutionality was beyond question.

But once let Congress interfere, says Judge CURTIS, and the status of the new possessions is transformed at once:

> Let it be borne in mind, however, that the first step toward the erection of these present military possessions into Territories is taken when Congress enacts general legislation in their behalf, for then they become "integral parts" of the United States. The path along which this initial step would lead us is already plainly marked out by our Constitution. If a Legislature is to be created under any system of franchise, or laws passed directly by Congress, it must keep the Constitution in full remembrance, and not withhold any of the personal privileges guaranteed to any people of the United States. It must provide a government republican in form. It must insure trials by jury for all criminal offenses and civil cases involving $20, and a Grand Jury for all felonies. It must see that no privilege of any citizen is abridged. Tariff barriers must be destroyed; for, under the Constitution, all duties must be uniform in all parts of the United States, and no duties can be charged on imports from any State. Malays, Chinese, and Tagalogs, as well as the Puerto Ricans, can freely enter our ports; for it is the right of any citizen to migrate from one part of the United States to any other part. The Judges of the courts must be appointed for life.
>
> All these guarantees of the Constitution must be incorporated in the legislation which Congress would enact for these islands. This is no random statement; it is a principle which has been repeatedly asserted whenever laws enacted by Congress for the District of Columbia and the Territories have come before the courts for judicial construction. The right of suffrage however, is not included, as that is not a guarantee of the Constitution.

Repeated assertion of a principle of constitutional interpretation by the Supreme Court may very well be held to impart the quality of permanence. Many writers of very high authority as constitutional lawyers have expressed the opinion that the new possessions would become integral parts of the United States and subject to all the provisions of the Constitution as to uniformity of tariffs, imposts, and taxes, the moment the territory was "annexed" to the Union. The question to be settled is, Will Congress "annex," will it leave the government of the newly acquired territory to the President indefinitely, or will it, believing that "new times demand new measures," venture to place upon the statute book an enactment dealing with the question before it according to the light of wisdom and the National welfare, according to the principles of justice alike to ourselves and to the people of the islands we have taken over, leaving the Supreme Court to determine, in passing upon the constitutionality of the act, whether the Constitution, like the Monroe doctrine, "was intended to apply to every stage of our National existence" or must be treated as a rigid instrument incapable of constructions which will recognize and sanction the conditions incident to the growth of the Nation?

It was Chief Justice MARSHALL (McCULLOCH vs. Maryland) who said:

> We admit, all must admit, that the powers of the Government are limited, and that its limits are not to be transcended. But we think the sound construction of the Constitution must allow to the National Legislature that discretion, with respect to the means by which the powers it confers are to be carried into execution, which will enable that body to perform the high duties assigned to it in the manner most beneficial to the people. Let the end be legitimate, let it be within the scope of the Constitution, and all means which are appropriate, which are plainly adapted to that end, which are not prohibited, but consist with the letter and spirit of the Constitution, are Constitutional.

The doctrine of implied powers is, of course, wearisomely familiar to every tyro in constitutional law. All over the land they will rise to their feet to tell us that the establishment of the status of dependent possessions for the Philippines and Puerto Rico would transcend the limits of the legislative power, and that we must make them an integral part of the Union, with the full expectancy of Statehood, if we attempt by Congressional enactment to define their civil status.

It is profitless to discuss the probable action of the Supreme Court upon a case involving the constitutionality of a law that has not yet been passed. But we cannot forbear to point out that Judge CURTIS's theory of the Constitution shuts him up within a pretty narrow and barren field of National policy. He insists that we must not abandon our new possessions, either to another power or to the perils of an attempt at government at their own untried and incapable hands. Then we must either bring them within the limits of the Union, a step which would be unsafe and utterly unacceptable to the American people, or else leave them to be governed in perpetuity as military territory by the President as Commander in Chief of the army. We think foreign observers will look with wonder, and we ought to look with apprehension upon the situation which will be created if it shall prove that our Constitution and our courts impose upon us inflexible conditions which make it impossible to discharge creditably and with justice obligations inevitably accruing in the historical development of every living nation.

TUNNELS AND BRIDGES.

It is impossible, in considering the procedures of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment on Tuesday upon the question of bridges as opposed to tunnels as a means for crossing the East River, not to feel rather sorry for the Mayor. Nobody can really suppose the Mayor to be engaged in any corrupt scheme of which the erection of the proposed bridges is part, and from the execution of which he is to derive some corrupt profit. For our own part, we acquit him at once of any such motive. And yet, that he was guided by such a motive would be so complete an explanation of his behavior at the meeting in question that we cannot wonder that some of our contemporaries have hastened to suggest it as the true explanation. It is quite true that that is an explanation which would explain, so far as this particular transaction is concerned, to an observer who had no other knowledge of the Mayor than what this transaction gave him. But the imputation of corrupt motives to the Mayor is really no more excusable than was his imputation of corrupt motives to the Controller. Whoever has had occasion to watch the Mayor since his election to the office which has for the first time made him visible to the great body of his fellow-citizens will see that it is not necessary to resort to any such supposition. When we take into consideration the inadequacy of his intellectual equipment to the place he holds and to the large discussions which belong to that place; when we consider the infirmities of temper with which this defect is accompanied, and which have so often been exhibited; and when we additionally consider the effect upon such a mind and temper as the Mayor's of the demonstration that the Controller is making a great deal more political capital out of the municipal administration than its official head; then we can readily understand how the Mayor could have allowed himself to suggest that the Controller was the agent of some private interest, without upon that account concluding that the Mayor was himself guilty of the offense with which he so wantonly and absurdly charged his associate.

Of course, this little exercise in psychology has nothing to do with the merits of the question which the Controller brought up. The board was, as the Mayor remarked, committed by its own action to the construction of the proposed bridges across the East River. When the action was taken it did not appear, at least to a majority of members of the board, that there was any other way of attaining the same result. The importance of the result, the easier and readier intercommunication of all the parts of the greater city, was clear then, and is even less disputed now. But in the interval the Controller has been led to believe that it might be more cheaply and readily attained. What he said in the Board of Estimate by no means indicated that he was wedded to the scheme of communication by tunnels rather than by bridges. But he had been brought to believe that the system of communication by tunnels was worth investigating. He took professional advice before even suggesting any official action. And he gave to the Board of Estimate, for its judgment, the expert opinions which had put him in doubt.

In all this there is nothing that is not entirely to the credit of the Controller as a faithful public servant. The natural inference from the statement made by the Controller was that there should be an exhaustive and authoritative investigation by which the final action of the board should be, if not determined, at least enlightened. Our readers are aware that we have been inclined to believe, from the evidence available, that the solution of the problem of inter-borough communication is to be looked for rather through tunnels than through a multiplication of bridges. But it behooves everybody to keep his mind open on this point for the reception of further evidence. A deliberate and impartial constitution, by the Board of Estimate, of a tribunal for bringing more evidence to bear was the best service that, upon this subject and at this stage, that body could render to the public and to the Public Treasury.

That was the object, or at any rate that was the natural result of the Controller's motion in the board. It is not unfair to say that the expert evidence was all on one side. Because, admitting all the engineers whose reports were given in to be of equal weight and authority, the Controller's experts were really, or at least, comparatively, disinterested experts, whereas the Mayor's experts were engineers already in the service of the city whom the Mayor had the power of annoying and obstructing in their professional work, or who were liable by a stoppage of work on bridges to be put out of their "jobs." Evidently such a contest is not equal. Evidently the city has not the weight of professional authority which it ought to have for the course to which it has committed itself.

The Mayor ought not to allow the Ramapo job to be repeated, even if he has the power to repeat it. It is not good for him, nor good for "the organization" that that showing should be given over again. So far as the Board of Estimate is concerned, the Mayor has shown that he has the power to "jam through" the pending bridge scheme. For that purpose he commands even the vote of Mr. GUGGENHEIMER, much to our surprise, and we hope equally to that of Mr. GUGGENHEIMER when he comes to think about it. In the Board of Public Improvements it was a question first of "slipping through" and then of "jamming through" a scheme which would not bear the light at all. Upon that question the schemers have not pretended to offset the authority of the Controller's experts by any equal authority on their own side. And it will scarcely be pretended that the Mayor's experts offset the Controller's in the later case. We by no means intimate that the project of the new bridges is a "job" in the same sense as the Ramapo job. On the contrary, it seemed to every layman when it was first broached, the best solution of the problem, and it may still turn out to be so. But the Controller has adduced evidence to show that it is not so. The just conclusion seems to be that there should and must be an exhaustive and authoritative investigation before the scheme is put into execution, and that the Controller is entitled to the public gratitude for delaying the scheme to that extent. It also seems that the Mayor owes to the Controller an apology, as public as his offense was, for impugning the Controller's motives in a matter in which they were evidently pure and public. And this apology the Mayor owes not only in his own interest, but equally in that of "the organization."

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

While the trial of MOLINEUX for a capital offense, at present going on in this city, was still in the preliminary stage of selecting a jury, a newspaper published in "the vicinage" was complained of by one of the lawyers in the case. His complaint was founded on what he alleged to be the fact, that this particular, or not at all particular, newspaper had been publishing remarks about the case of which the apparent purpose and the evident effect, so far as they had any, was to prejudge it. And this before the jury to try it according to law had even been selected. Recorder GOFF expressed his entire acquiescence in this view and his sympathy with it, and assured the counsel that if he would put his complaint into proper form, and adduce legal evidence to sustain it, the court would do what in it lay to sustain its own dignity and the orderly administration of justice. Apparently the protesting counsel concluded that an admonition of this kind would suffice to secure an observance thereafter of the requirements of public decency and of elementary justice. At any rate, nothing was done about his obviously just complaint.

But, now that the trial has actually begun, the nuisance and the outrage are worse than ever. Yesterday the bulletin board of one newspaper bore, as an appetizer for the buyers of its reports upon the case, the large legend, "An Omen of Death." Another, not to be outdone, put forth an edition upon the first page of which, in the largest type at its command, was set forth: "Bad for MOLINEUX! WEEKS Not Able to Shake HEILES."

It does not require any knowledge of the law, not even that degree of knowledge with which all men, except Judges, are charged, to see that this is conduct calculated to interfere with the administration of justice according to law, and to imperil the interests of a man on trial for his life. The very reckless persons who are engaged in it are without doubt aware that they are engaged in actions which are not only indecent, but which expose them to punishment. They must be resting their hopes of impunity upon the impunity which their kind has too long enjoyed. Of course, it is not they who are really to blame, or whose punishment would be most exemplary, but their superiors and employers, who persist in ordering them or allowing them to violate public decency after an express warning has been given to them.

Evidently it is high time that an example should be made, and an example of the really responsible malefactors. If a complaint should now be made to the Recorder, and the Recorder should be moved to vindicate the dignity of his court and the sanctity of the administration of justice according to law, or even if he should proceed to those ends "proprio motu," there would be a general thanksgiving, not only among law-abiding citizens who are aware of the extent of the offense against justice, but also among all lovers of decency and of civilization.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

BAYARD TAYLOR said of Kaiser WILHELM I. that he had only a moderate respect for Constitutional forms and the will of the people. The present German Emperor faithfully continues and upholds the Hohenzollern traditions. The Divine right of Kings has seldom been more frankly proclaimed than in the Kaiser's contribution to a portrait and autograph album published at Leipsic:

> From God's grace comes the King, therefore he is responsible to the Lord alone. He must choose his way and his action from this standpoint alone. This awful, heavy responsibility, which the King bears for his people, gives him also a right to loyal co-operation on the part of his subjects. Therefore, every one among the people must be filled with the conviction that he is personally responsible with him for the welfare of the Fatherland.
>
> WILHELM, I. R.

If this is sound doctrine and is actually the Kaiser's rule of conduct, the Constitution of the German Empire is a piece of audacious blasphemy. It presumes to impose limits to the power of a sovereign appointed by GOD's grace and responsible to Him alone!

Article 17 declares that "the orders and decrees of the Kaiser will be issued in the name of the empire and require for their validity the countersignature of the Imperial Chancellor, who thereby assumes the responsibility." This means that the Kaiser's signature doesn't "go" until the Chancellor has graciously consented to put his validating autograph beside it. And the Kaiser, who is "responsible to the Lord alone," weakly turns over his responsibility to the Chancellor. We submit that this is flagrantly inconsistent with the doctrine of Divine right.

Article 11 declares that the Kaiser may declare war, but "the assent of the Bundesrath is necessary to a declaration of war in the name of the empire, except in case of invasion." And the assent of the Bundesrath and the approval of the Reichstag are necessary to the ratification of treaties of commerce.

Here is a "King" clattering about his kingdom with a Constitution tied to his heels, for all the world like a humble President or mere worm of a Governor. It is plain that Kaiser WILLIAM used the word King in its broad sense of ruler or potentate, not intending to differentiate himself in his capacity of King of Prussia from himself in his more august capacity of German Emperor. The imperial Constitution is, therefore, the instrument with which his pretensions are most conspicuously in conflict. What is going to be done about it? The incongruity is shocking. It must be intolerable to a proud King to be fettered by a paper Constitution that impudently sets bounds to his God-given powers. It ought to be intolerable to a reverent people to hear a sovereign with limited powers talking about his responsibility to the Lord alone—unless he is right about it, in which case they ought to tear up their Constitution at once.

Which is it? Is the Constitution guilty of Majestätsbeleidigung, or is the Kaiser guilty of Verfassungsbeleidigung? Or was the Kaiser merely mumbling over an absurd and outworn creed when he wrote his sentiment for the Leipsic album?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—A highly commendable beginning and a more highly reprehensible ending marked the effort made by Capt. F. NORTON GODDARD this week to vindicate the proud claim that respectable women, even though unattended by male escorts, can traverse the streets of New York, or at least most of them, and at most hours, in perfect safety. While walking along Fifth Avenue the Captain saw three gilded youth annoy and frighten two young women by persistently forcing upon them uninvited attentions of insulting familiarity. Aroused to manly indignation by this outrageous spectacle, the Captain, at some personal risk, interposed between the well-dressed blackguards and their victims, and by the use of voice and fists raised enough commotion to bring a policeman to the scene. The scoundrels were arrested, and Capt. GODDARD accompanied them and their captor to the police station. There he told the story of his adventure to the Sergeant with all proper emphasis, and there was every prospect that a piece of cowardly ruffianism would for once meet with deserved punishment. When, however, the Sergeant announced that it would be necessary to make a complaint against the prisoners in court next morning, Capt. GODDARD's righteous ferocity waned and disappeared. He remembered an appointment with the Governor which he could not keep if he went to court at the hour when in the natural course of events the case would come up, and, a little shamefacedly, it is to be hoped, he announced that he would push the case no further. In other words, the good citizen gave place to the politician, and the three scoundrels went scot free. Presumably Capt. GODDARD kept his appointment, which he seems to have regarded as of more importance than the performance of an obvious duty. What he wanted to discuss with or ask from the Governor we do not pretend to know, but we are sure that with so good an excuse as the Captain had for failure to appear in Albany at the moment fixed he would have lost nothing by a little delay. Indeed, knowing that Gov. ROOSEVELT is a careful reader of the papers, we are half inclined to believe, and more than half inclined to hope, that in this particular case promptness was an expensive virtue.

—Since his arrival in Brooklyn, the Rev. Dr. NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS has said curiously few things that either demanded or suggested newspaper comment, but his remarks on the subject of Christian Science, so-called, are surprising enough, considering the history of the pulpit from which they were uttered, to inspire a few words of criticism. For while Dr. HILLIS showed plainly enough that he denies every important claim made by the Eddy woman and her agents and dupes, he yet treated this blasphemous combination of fraud and folly with something amazingly like respect. He dwelt at length on the never-questioned and wholly irrelevant circumstance that Christian Scientists do accomplish a considerable number of cures, but he said not a word about the vastly more numerous cases in which they ruin health or kill outright. He praised as "very beautiful" their methods of training children, and yet he asserted that children thus trained are utterly unfitted for meeting the ordinary conditions of life. Dr. HILLIS's leniency with these people is beyond comprehension; his condemnation of their system is weakened by too many needless mitigations. The "Christian Scientists" are right or wrong. If they are right in the Plymouth pastor's opinion, let him substitute Mrs. EDDY's book for the Bible as a source of inspiration and guidance; if they are wrong, let him denounce them as public enemies. We do not see how he can hesitate after he has denied the truth and utility of all that sets these pseudo-scientists apart from the rest of the world.

—It was with sincere regret that we were compelled to contradict the assertions made by several of our neighbors in regard to the immediate establishment in this city of a cheaper and better telephone service than that furnished by what is known as the Bell Company. That a rival corporation of sufficient financial and political strength seriously to imperil the existing monopoly is in process of formation need not, and, indeed, cannot, be doubted, and the "official denials" that the consolidation of the independent companies is as yet little more than a matter of discussion may safely enough be interpreted as meaning only that the interested capitalists are not yet ready to make formal announcement of their plans. It seems to be a fact, however, that the end of the period of negotiation and preparation is not yet in sight, and that the Bell people are safe from serious competition for much longer than the single month hastily announced as the limit of their unmitigated power. But relief from the present extortionate rates is certainly on the way, even if it is not at hand. Then will come a great struggle, on the one side to retain, and on the other to obtain, the patronage which at half or less than half the present prices will be profitable enough to content any ordinary greed for gain. Electricity, a paper usually well informed, is confident that "healthy competition" will be the outcome of the plans now maturing, but it adds: "Just when the citizens of the metropolis will be relieved of the exorbitant charges that have all along been made by the existing company, a lessee of the Bell, it is impossible to say, but in view of the fact that no less than three independent companies are entering the field, well equipped, not only financially, but what is still more important, politically, to contend against the monopoly, the day of emancipation should not be far off."

—Quotations from the poets are so rarely used nowadays for the ornamentation of Congressional speeches that Representative TAYLER should not be surprised if the verses with which he closed the Roberts debate on Tuesday should attract more attention than all the rest of his argument. The lines had more than unexpectedness to recommend them, for they were not only an excellent specimen of humor, but amazingly apt for the purpose to which the Ohio statesman applied them. Mr. TAYLER was wrong, however, in dating them back to the time of CHARLES I. Written by JAMES BRAMSTON, an obscure eighteenth century poet, they paraphrased a speech made in Parliament in 1681 by a supporter of the bill excluding the Duke of YORK from succession to the throne, then occupied by CHARLES II. What the orator, one Col. TITUS, said was: "To trust expedients with such a King on the throne would be just as wise as if there were a lion in the lobby, and we should vote to let him in and chain him, instead of fastening the door to keep him out." This, in his "Art of Politics," BRAMSTON recorded as follows—Mr. TAYLER did not give it quite correctly:

But TITUS said, with his uncommon sense,

When the Exclusion bill was in suspense:
"I hear a lion in the lobby roar;
Say, Mr. Speakcr, shall we shut the door
And keep him there, or shall we let him in
To try if we can turn him out again?

No neater quotation has been made in Congress since the memorable day when, after that eminent economist, HOLMAN of Indiana, had pleaded for an appropriation in which his own son was interested, a member arose and solemnly remarked:

'Tis sweet to hear the watch-dog's honest bark
Bay deep-mouth'd welcome as we draw near home.

MAJOR GARDINER'S ANCESTORS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

As nothing relative to our picturesque District Attorney falls of public interest, especially at the present time, I am venturing to trust that you may find room for the following in your esteemed columns, particularly as (in your issue of Dec. 3, 1895,) you printed a letter from me on the same general quest.

In stating (in his letter to Gov. Roosevelt, answering certain charges, &c., &c.,) that his family had been citizens of this city "since the days of Gov. Van Twiller," I am loath to believe that Major Gardiner deliberately intended to mislead his Excellency. I prefer rather to suppose that the gallant Major had forgotten that, in your columns of Dec. 5, 1895, he addressed you a letter, in which he says:

"The Gardiner family of Rhode Island, from which I have the hoonr to be descended, and which has been settled there since 1638," &c.

Now, as the days in New York City (New Amsterdam) of Gov. Van Twiller cover the years 1633-7, and as the State of Rhode Island was only settled in 1636, it is hard to see how Major Gardiner's family, which (he tells THE TIMES) settled in that State in 1638, could have been citizens of the City of New York since 1633, (unless the distinguished Major used the phrase "since, &c.," in the sense of the old apple woman, who claims that her apple stand had stood in one spot "since the flood," it being apparent that its date there was not "before the flood.")

THE TIMES, in its editorial, "Raising the Flag," (Nov. 23, 1895,) endeavored to throw some light on this—it seems—perennially recurring question of our gallant District Attorney's ancestry by suggesting that he may have been a descendant of Ezekiel Gardner, (without the I,) who, from 1708 to 1769, kept a tavern at Yaphank, L. I. But in his letter, (printed by you Dec. 5, 1895,) Major Gardiner distinctly repudiates this lineage by declaring that he "went into court and proved" his Rhode Island lineage in 1888, and thereupon changed his name from Gardner to Gard-i-ner. So far, so good. And the vexed question might have remained laid had not an uncle of the Major, in your issue of Oct. 31, 1897, declared that he, John B. Gardner, and his brother Asa only occupied the premises known as Fraunce's Tavern, on Broad Street, this city, in 1837, 200 years after Gov. Van Twiller's day, and that in this tavern, in 1839, young Asa Gardner, Jr., (our present District Attorney,) was born, the son of Asa aforesaid.

But now, to even this complication comes complication more exasperating! For, versatile as he undoubtedly is, and equal to every possible situation as he surely is, even Col. Asa Bird Gardiner could not have been born simultaneously in Rhode Island and New York City, or have been at once "of the Gardiner family of Rhode Island," (see TIMES, Dec. 5, 1895,) and "of a family resident in New York City since Van Twiller's day," (see letter to Gov. Roosevelt.)

Possibly a clear statement from the gallant Major as to who his grandfather was; said grandfather's name, residence, date, &c., might clear up matters, and dispose at one fell swoop of the shade of Ezekiel of Yaphank, (without the I.) of "the Rhode Island Gardiners," and so leave our illustrious District Attorney where he should be left in the hearts of his fellow-citizens as a real, simon-pure, original Jacobs, scion of a family resident in this city "since the days of Gov. Van Twiller," as he now declares to be the case.

HENRY B. SMITH.
27 West Twenty-ninth Street, New York, Dec. 3, 1899.

Correction in Mr. Hill's Article.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In the last line of the article which I contributed to The Sunday TIMES on Dec. 3 there was a typographical error which completely changed the meaning of the final paragraph, which should have read, "Finally it may be said that any investment that is carefully made, with a due regard to planning and execution, will prove decidedly remunerative at present rents, even if costs increase 25 per cent. above those of two years ago." May I request that you will publish this correction?

GEORGE HILL.
New York, Dec. 5, 1899.

Pin Money Women Workers.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I want to thank you for the editorial in this morning's TIMES replying to a "Slap-Dash Sociologist." It is a fact that the most trying competitor the self-supporting woman has to contend against is the woman who pays no board, but merely works to get what she calls "pin" money. E. E. W.
New York, Dec. 4, 1899.

The Roberts Case.

Written for THE NEW YORK TIMES by

The Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott.

It has been assumed in certain quarters, and was so assumed by Mr. Roberts in his letter in THE NEW YORK TIMES a week or two ago, that the Constitution defines the qualifications of members of Congress, and that Congress has no right to exclude any one who possesses these qualifications. I think a careful reading of the Constitution will show that this assumption is not well founded. There are two clauses in the Constitution which bear upon this subject. The first is in Article I., Section 2. This article confers on the people of the several States authority to elect members to the House of Representatives, and then limits their power by the following clause:

> No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

This is not the same as saying that every person who possesses these qualifications shall be entitled to be a Representative. What qualifications may be required to represent the Nation in the National House of Representatives is determined by another clause in the Constitution, namely, Article I., Section 5:

> Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members.

This clause confers general power upon Congress to determine what qualifications must be possessed by any one applying for a seat, except as that power is limited by the preceding section. This is made more evident if the Constitution is read in the light of the British Constitution, from which so much of ours was borrowed. The House of Commons was the absolute and unqualified judge of the qualifications of its own members. It might admit a man under twenty-five, though he were not a citizen of Great Britain, and not an inhabitant of the district which he represented. The latter it did continually. This general power is also, I believe, exercised by the legislative body in all or nearly all representative Governments. By our Constitution it is expressly conferred upon our House of Representatives, subject to the limitation that no Representative can be admitted unless he possesses the qualifications designated in Article I., Section 2. This view is further confirmed by the fact that the Representative represents not merely the State, but the entire Nation, and the Nation ought to have the power of protecting itself against unworthy Representatives who may chance to be elected, in spite of their manifest unworthiness, by a special locality.

If ever there were a case where this power of exclusion should be exercised the present is such a case. Mr. Roberts has been tried and convicted of a crime under a Federal statute, which explicitly declares that one convicted under that statute is made ineligible for any office or place in the Government of the United States. He committed this crime with full knowledge of the statute and of the public opinion which called it into existence. He continues to this day openly, avowedly, and defiantly in continuance of the acts so declared criminal. For the House to admit him to a seat under these circumstances is for the House to set at naught a statute adopted by both the House and the Senate and approved by the President, a course of action which it would seem impossible to justify except upon the ground that the House has no constitutional power to carry that statute into effect by judging that such a convicted criminal has not the necessary qualifications to represent the Nation in the National Congress. And a careful reading of the Constitution shows that there is no good ground for denying to our House this power possessed by the popular House in most if not all representative governments.

LYMAN ABBOTT.
Conwall on Hudson, N. Y., Dec. 5, 1899.

NUGGETS.

Pets.

"Does your wife love yets?"

"Absorbingly. I never go home but I find her in one."—Boston Courier.

Grounds for Suspicion.

"What makes you so sure he is not a successful man?"

"He hasn't enough enemies."—Chicago Post.

Man of His Word.

Physician—Why don't you settle that account I have against you? You said when I was treating you that you could never repay me for my efforts.

Mr. Broke—I meant it, Doctor.—Baltimore American.

Slow-Footed Fame.

"Cheer up," said the disconsolate poet's friend. "Your name will be well known to posterity."

"Perhaps," was the answer. "Maybe some of my descendants will be good football players."—Washington Star.

Misunderstood.

Stranger—I don't suppose you know a man living in this town by the name of Spoopendyke?

Resident—Oh, you don't suppose I do, don't you? Say, how much do you get going 'round telling folks how much you suppose they don't know?—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

"THAT MY MA USED TO MAKE."

From The Minneapolis Journal.

How sweet to my nostrils the smell from the oven,
That greets them whenever I enter the room;
An odor more grateful than attar of roses,
Or violets shedding their dainty perfume.
It carries me back to the days of my boyhood
When stub-nosed and freckled, a wart o'er each eye,
I moseyed around and each day got a licking—
This odor that comes from a baking mince pie.
That mince pie so luscious, so rich, so delicious,
The mince pies like those that my ma used to make.

Those mince pies of mother's—how can I describe them,
As out of the oven they came, smoking hot?
How grateful they were to my vacuous stomach,
And how they were sure to go straight to the spot.
With hands black and grimy I'd grab up a quarter,
And down my oesophagus quickly 'twould fly;
I used to regret that I wasn't built bigger,
So that I could hold more of mother's mince pie.
That mince pie so tasty, so juicy, so pasty,
The bully mince pie that my ma used to make.

I've knocked around some since the days of my boyhood,
At times have gone hungry, at others lived high;
But never as yet in my peregrinations
Have I found anything that could equal that pie.
I haven't much money, but I'd give five dollars,
And never let loose even one tiny sigh,
If I could get next, just to-night for my dinner,
To one big, hot chunk of my mother's mince pie.
That pie so delicious, so juicy, so lucious,
The mince pies like those that my ma used to make.

MUSIC HEARD YESTERDAY.

Mr. Francis Rogers of Boston Heard in a Song Recital at Mendelssohn Hall.

Mr. Francis Rogers, a baritone who is well known in Boston, gave a song recital yesterday afternoon in Mendelssohn Hall. Mr. Rogers has sung in this city in private salons, but, so far as we can recall, not before the public. The fact that he was known to the attendants at musicales in many residences accounted for the size of his audience, which was a high compliment to him both in its number and its quality. His programme was one designed to reveal the full measure of his ability as a singer of song. The list consisted of these numbers: Carissimi's "Vittoria," Caccini's "Amarilli," Martin's "Plaisir d'Amour," Bach's, (or more probably Giovanni's,) "Willst du dein Herz," Secchi's "Love Me or Not," Franz's "Im Herbst," Schumann's "Schoene Wiege," Schubert's "Meeres Stille," Brahms's "Von ewiger Liebe," McCunn's "Oh, White's the Moon," Handel's "Oh, Come and Trip It," the old English song "Go Celia," Hatton's "To Anthea," Tosti's "Ninon," Johns's "Les deux Amours," Nevin's "The Rosary," and Damrosch's "Danny Deever."

In regard to the latter song it may be noted that the text was omitted from the pamphlet on which those of the other songs were printed. Mr. Rogers in a note informed the audience that, in view of the many controversies anent the publication of anything from the pen of Mr. Kipling, he had written to the publishers of that author for permission to print the text, and had received "from them a reply so sphinxlike in character" that he thought it wise to let the verses alone. This may be regarded as one of the amusing incidents of a season which has not been wholly devoid of humor in several ways.

Mr. Rogers proved himself an agreeable visitor. He possesses a voice of pleasant timbre, albeit it is neither perfect in the matter of smoothness nor endowed with the indescribable something that makes dramatic feeling easily conveyable. It might be called a thoroughly gentlemanlike voice, and if it were not for the suspicion of a conceit, or the singing might be summarized with the same adjective, Mr. Rogers's singing is distinguished chiefly by refinement and polish. He sings with charming taste and with every evidence of careful study of his songs. Here and there one may find a bit of phrasing which is open to question, but in general the style is admirable in its fluency and its polish. In enunciation Mr. Rogers is a model. He treats the text with the respect which it should always command, but too often fails to receive from singers, and for this he deserves gratitude. The nature of his powers may be judged from the fact that he sang "Im Herbst" in a manner which left nothing to be desired but a fuller publication of its emotional content, while his delivery of Brahm's "Von ewiger Liebe" was delightful in sentiment, but deficient in intensity in the climax. However, singers who possess such taste as Mr. Rogers, and who reveal so much intelligence in their work, are not so numerous that we can afford to dismiss him with scant courtesy, and it will not be a hardship to hear him again.

MR. SCHULZ'S CONCERT.

The Third Morning Musicale at Carnegie Lyceum.

The third of Mr. Leo Schulz's morning musicales at Carnegie Lyceum took place yesterday in the presence of an audience which continued to arrive at the hall till after the concert was over. Hardly a number was performed without the pounding of the heavy feet of the ushers in the aisles and the banging of seats for the accommodation of persons who entered late. The utter disregard of the rights of those who go early to hear music at Carnegie Hall has passed the bounds of toleration, and it is time that a strong protest was made against it. No one can listen peacefully to music in a place as noisy as the Lyceum was permitted to be yesterday morning.

Perhaps there were some persons in the audience who were not seriously annoyed by their inability to hear the music with clearness. The entertainment began with a performance of the F minor sonata of Locatelli by David Mannes, violinist, and Madeleine Mannes, pianist. Mr. Mannes is one of those players whose friends are constantly stating of his powers and lamenting the fact that he never does himself justice when he plays in public. Let it be recorded then, that, true to his record, Mr. Mannes "did not do himself justice" yesterday morning. It is to be hoped that at some time in his career this violinist, who plainly has musical instincts, will be able to "do himself justice." When that time arrives he will undoubtedly stop sliding from one position to another and producing a portamento effect highly popular with German opera singers and feline serenaders.

The vocalist of the morning was, as usual, a newcomer. One would almost think that these concerts were designed to introduce unheard singers to the metropolis. Mme. Anita Rio, who sang yesterday, disclosed a voice of lovely quality and the almost inevitable lack of wisdom in its use. When she did place her tones correctly they were beautiful. But it was really unnecessary to sing Eliza Lehmann's "You and I," particularly with such a plentiful use of the voce bianca. The result was in the nature of vocal pap for musical babes.

MR. WHITING'S SECOND RECITAL.

Good Piano Music Performed in Mendelssohn Hall.

Mr. Arthur Whiting, a pianist, gave his second recital in Mendelssohn Hall last night. There was an audience of good size, but the merits of the entertainment deserved a warmer recognition. Mr. Whiting is not a sensational player, and perhaps that is the reason that his hearers are not more numerous. When piano playing is as thoroughly understood as some of the other forms of music are in this community, this artist will be heard by as many persons as the call will hold. But at present what is generally called virtuosity reigns supreme, and piano playing which does not obtrude itself between the composer and the hearer has little chance except when the pianist is one of world-wide reputation.

Mr. Whiting's programme, as usual, was made largely of the music of Brahms. This master was represented by his rhapsodies in G minor and E flat major, his B minor capriccio, romance in F major, and intermezzo in E major. The other numbers were the "Davidsbündler Tänze" of Schumann and the pianist's three waltzes, Opus 14, and fantasia in B flat minor. The waltzes proved to be charming pieces of piano music, thoroughly modern in style and spirit. The fantasia was played for the first time in this city, though the composer has already performed it in other places. It was very effective, and was well received. The Brahms numbers Mr. Whiting played with his usual clear insight into the thought of the master, and the Schumann composition was given an appreciative reading.

GAIETY "BECKY SHARP" PERFORMANCE.

Souvenirs for Its One Hundred and First Presentation.

Mrs. Fiske's one hundred and first performance of "Becky Sharp" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre will be observed on Monday night by the distribution of a souvenir, consisting of an illustrated book of the play.

It will give a detailed story of the dramatization of "Vanity Fair," and contain on the title page a picture of Mrs. Fiske as she appears in the third act of the play. The other illustrations will consist of other characters and scenes from the play.

Mrs. Fiske will terminate her New York engagement on Saturday, Dec. 23, and after a week at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, she will begin a tour, visiting ten of the larger cities.

THE SUPREME COURT VACANCY.

Likely that Judge Houghton Will Be Appointed.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—From present indications it is probable that County Judge Houghton of Saratoga County will be selected by Gov. Roosevelt to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench in the Fourth Judicial District caused by the death of Justice Putnam.

There are other candidates mentioned, but it is practically conceded that the appointment should go to Saratoga County, which is the home of Judge Putnam, and as there is no other candidate from that county it is likely that Judge Houghton will be selected.

EUROPE ON THE MESSAGE

The President's Attitude Toward Germany Pleases the Kaiser.

COUNT VON BUELOW SPEAKS

French Press Discusses Question of Alliances—British Papers Refer to Currency Declarations.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The German Government and press almost unanimously welcome President McKinley's message to Congress. Even the Agrarian papers, always opposed to things American, grudgingly admit that the message is fair and honest. The drift of private comment is virtually the same. In the lobby of the Reichstag to-day similar sentiments were expressed without reserve by members of every shade of political conviction.

Emperor William, it is reliably reported, had a long consultation this afternoon with Count von Bülow, the Foreign Minister, and expressed himself as very much pleased with President McKinley's attitude toward Germany. It is also reported that his Majesty discussed the best mode of giving official voice to the feelings of the Crown and the Government. In any event, on Dec. 12, the day fixed for the first reading of the budget, Count von Bülow will seize the opportunity of showing Germany's high appreciation of the friendly tone of the message.

Late this evening Count von Bülow authorized the following statement of his impressions of the message to be sent to the United States:

"I regard the message as an enunciation of great import in the development of German-American friendship. The warm tone in which the President speaks of our mutual relations has created here the best impression, and one may be sure that the sympathies exhibited by the President for Germany are here sincerely reciprocated.

"Politically everything between the two countries is serene, and there is nothing that disturbs the entente cordiale. Economically considered, the contents and tone of the message strengthen the hope that the United States, with their increasing exports to Germany, will make fair concessions to German trade, and that the reciprocity negotiations will be further conducted in a friendly spirit to a good end."

The press particularly rejoices at the announcement regarding alliances, despite many previous asseverations to the same effect. The semi-official Berliner Post says:

"President McKinley has put a stop to such rumors and guesses, and has placed in lieu of fiction the solid fact that the relations between the United States and the German Emperor are of the most cordial character. His message will not fail to produce by its pacific tone the best effects everywhere, and not least in Germany.

"Formerly we were accustomed to meet everywhere abroad an inimical attitude toward our colonizing efforts; but President McKinley's words indicate that he knows and appreciates Germany's cultural mission and is ready to assist."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "Experience has taught us, although we gratefully acknowledge the present warm tone of President McKinley, that Uncle Sam is as quick to hate as to love, and too often in the past he has allowed himself to be prejudiced against us by his cousin on this side of the Atlantic."

Discussing the meat problem, the Vossische Zeitung welcomes the proposed commission of experts, inferring that this will be in the interest of cheaper meat and food here, and welcomes also the continuance of friendly relations with the United States.

The Berliner Tageblatt, which discusses the message chiefly in its economical aspects, concludes as follows:

"We heartily join in the wish that this fair spirit may dominate in the treatment of all controversial points, which will show that a genuine effort is being made to regulate German-American relations."

The Boersen-Courier says: "It is significant that a Presidential message, probably for the first time, should devote so much space to foreign affairs. The improvement in German-American relations is largely attributable to the skill of Count von Bülow."

The Norddeutsche Allegemeine Zeitung and the Kolnische Zeitung briefly record their satisfaction with the message. The Kreuz Zeitung, the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, and the Stattsbuerger Zeitung express joy that the alleged alliance does not exist.

The Boersen-Zeitung says: "We can unreservedly declare our satisfaction, hoping that the times will not return when American policy will glide into paths leading to unnatural discord between the two nations."

Herr Barth, in the Nation, will say: "The most important thing in the message for the economic interests of the world is the proposition to put the United States more squarely on the gold standard. It is the last kick to bimetallism."

The National Zeitung says: "President McKinley's words, in referring to Germany plainly show a favorable revulsion of sentiment toward us. In Germany the friendly words of the American President will be appreciated at their full value. Germany also earnestly desires to maintain the best relations with America and the fullest mutual loyalty and friendship in economically competing."

The Boersen Zeitung and other financial papers express gratification at President McKinley's references to the currency question.

The Vossische Zeitung remarks: "His references to Germany are as cordial as could be expected in an official document."

The Post expresses great satisfaction at the fact that President McKinley "openly showed his appreciation of Germany's efforts at colonisation, and recognized the strength of her colonizing influence," adding:

"President McKinley's kindly words will find a joyful echo in Germany."

FRENCH OPINIONS.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The Temps says it finds "want of decision" in President McKinley's message to Congress, "which must be disconcerting for the country, which needs an unequivocal, firm statement."

Referring to the paragraph on foreign affairs the Temps says: "After Mr. Chamberlain, it was President McKinley's turn, and he has shown himself tactful. He speaks warmly of friendship, but does not breathe a word of alliance. These are shades of language which say much for the fragility of the ties of sentiment between the two countries. His allusion to the failure to reach an agreement with Canada is very clear. Alliances may be talked of, but a difference of secondary importance cannot be settled amicably.

"Referring to South Africa, President McKinley held the balance level between the two belligerents, and even inflicted on Mr. Chamberlain and the pretentious imperialists the cruel word 'mediation.'

"In short, the message will little please the noisy champions of the alliance; which it ignores, while it will give satisfaction to all wise friends of a good understanding between the two great Anglo-Saxon nations."

The Liberté says: "We cannot but congratulate ourselves on the good feeling shown towards us by President McKinley. France is always ready to promote commerce and industry between the two republics."

The Journal des Débats notes that President McKinley reiterates that the traditional policy of the United States is to avoid alliances, and places all the powers on the same footing. The paper adds that, if anything, he selects France and Germany for the kindliest references. Continuing, the Journal says:

"We cannot but be touched by President McKinley's allusion to the historic ties between France and the United States, which have never been interrupted. His were not mere words of courtesy, but real truth. There never existed the slightest desire for hostilities, whatever may have been said during the Spanish-American war, which were merely press criticisms, occasionally carried too far.

"In order to understand one another, the two nations ought to have much mutual indulgence and good will. The opportunity for the exercise of the last named offers itself at the present moment in the submittal of the Franco-American Convention to both Parliaments. We may hope that the protectionists at Washington will not give it a bad reception, and that our Deputies and Senators will not prevent by their blindness the conclusion of an agreement so precious to our amicable relations with the United States."

BRITISH SENTIMENT.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The amount of space devoted here to President McKinley's message to Congress evidences the widespread interest in the document. The afternoon newspapers, in long editorials on the subject, particularly refer to the currency declarations, and solace themselves with the idea that the good relations between the United States and Great Britain are so well known as not to have required emphasis, as in the case of Germany.

The Pall Mall Gazette sees in the message an unmistakable reproof of Mr. Chamberlain's Leicester speech.

The Globe thinks the document is weak in higher statesmanship, and that on foreign policy, as elsewhere, it is tinctured with opportunism.

The Westminster Gazette, discussing the reference to Canada, says: "When discussing the relations between Great Britain and the United States it ought always to be remembered that there are very material interests which must be dealt with on business, and not on sentimental grounds. Graceful concessions are not seen in the same light by the daughter as by the mother."

THE MESSAGE SATISFIES CUBA.

Even the Leaders of the Extreme Party Admit that All Classes Are Pleased.

HAVANA, Dec. 6.—President McKinley's message to Congress has been received by Cubans of all classes with much satisfaction. Even the leaders of the Extreme Party admit this, and the announcement that there will be no American Civil Governor has cleared away most of the clouds that had been hanging over the Cuban political situation. The Lucha alone among the papers still favors a Civil Governorship. Gen. Collazo says:

"The message will pacify the country. President McKinley's statements are not very concrete; but if Congress guarantees the independence of Cuba we need not ask for any specification as to time or for the removal of the American troops, although everybdy would be glad to see the black troops go, because of the excesses they commit.

"Cubans fear the Administration, but they do not fear Congress. The Administration represents the trusts. Although Cubans are as good business men as Americans, they could not compete with the enormous power of the trusts, which, by creating monopolies, would eventually enslave the workingman. We wish to see each man owning some property, at least enough to make it worth his while to behave as a good citizen should, instead of going to the woods."

Gualberto Gomez says:

"I had expected the message to be encouraging, but I had not expected such clearness of thought. Congress will go further and will justify the hopes of the Cuban people."

The Discusion says:

"President McKinley's message will fill the hearts of all lovers of Cuba with joy. His words, 'Whatever be the outcome, we must see to it that free Cuba be a reality, not a name,' should be written in letters of gold over the door of the Cuban White House. The Cuban Republic will be bound to Lincoln and McKinley by indissoluble bonds of love."

The Patria says:

"Hurrah for President McKinley!. He could not have spoken in clearer tones. It is impossible for the giddiness of conquest to overpower the deep, natural impulse of a noble and democratic people."

The Cubano says:

"The message contains the clearest words yet spoken by President McKinley, and shows that justice is the guiding principle at Washington. Our hearts, hitherto bowed down by tremendous skepticism, are now relieved, and we may expect Congress to speak still more clearly."

FRENCH CONSPIRACY CASES.

Witness Says a Federation of Various Leagues Was Proposed.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—In the Senate, sitting as a high court, to-day, several police officers testified that an understanding existed between the Anti-Semites and the Nationalist and Socialist leaders.

Superintendent Puybaraud deposed that a committee for a federation of the various leagues had been proposed.

During the presentation of this testimony M. Guérin and other prisoners frequently interrupted with vehement protests.

M. Puybaraud, however, maintained that his evidence was correct, adding that at one meeting the question of a triumvirate had even been discussed. M. Déroulède, he said, was to have been one of this triumvirate, but he considered it inexpedient to mention the names of the other two.

This testimony evoked violent exclamations from the prisoners and their counsel, and the court thereupon adjourned.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: "Judging from the disclosures before the High Court, M. Dupuy, the former Premier, was a tacit accomplice in the outrages against President Loubet at Auteuil and other places. He repudiates the suggestion, but the suspicion will seriously damage his political prestige."

For a Statue of Count de Rochambeau.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The Council General of the Department of the Seine has voted 200f. to the fund being raised by the committee proposing to erect in Washington a statue of Count de Rochambeau, who commanded the French forces during the war for American independence, and whose army, with that of Gen. Washington, compelled Lord Cornwallis, the British commander, to surrender at Yorktown in 1781.

German Political Club Law Repealed.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The Imperial Chancellor, Prince von Hohenlohe, announced in the Reichstag to-day that the Federal Governments had assented to the repeal of the law prohibiting workmen's associations. Later the Reichstag passed the first and second reading of the bill repealing this law. It was opposed by the members of the Right.

American Mails Sent Via Boston.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 6.—On account of the withdrawal from the regular trans-Atlantic service of the White Star Line steamer Majestic, which has been chartered by the British Admiralty to convey troops to South Africa, to-day's American mails will go by the Dominion Line steamer New England, sailing from this port for Boston.

Queensland's Labor Ministry Resigns.

BRISBANE, Queensland, Dec. 6.—As foreshadowed in a dispatch sent Dec. 1, the Labor Ministry here has been short-lived. Premier Dawson to-day announced the resignation of the Ministers, and Robert Philip, formerly Treasurer and Secretary of Mines, has undertaken the task of forming a new Cabinet.

The Pope Has a Cold.

ROME, Dec. 6.—The Pope is suffering from a sudden cold and experiences some difficulty in breathing. Dr. Lapponi, his physician, his ordered him to keep his bed, and the usual audiences have been suspended. The condition of His Holiness, however, is not regarded as alarming.

Baron Weds an American Singer.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Baron de Bush and Pauline Joram, the American prima donna, were married to-day at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster.

Russian Petroleum Duty Not Reduced.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 6.—The reported reduction in the duty on petroleum is authoritatively denied.

TO MAP OUT LEGISLATION.

Governor to Confer with Senator Platt and Chairman Odell.

Gov. Roosevelt will come down from Albany this afternoon and in the interval between the time of his arrival and Saturday night he will hold two important conferences with Republican leaders. The more important will be that with Senator Platt and State Chairman Odell, which will take place on Saturday morning at the home of the Governor's brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, 500 Madison Avenue.

It is expected that the Republican legislative programme for the coming session will be mapped out. The question of the introduction of a State Constabulary bill and proposed tax legislation, in which the Governor is deeply interested, will, it is understood, form the principal topic of discussion.

Chairman Odell returned last night from Washington, where he went to have a talk with Senator Platt. Mr. Odell intimated that Saturday's conference would be productive of far-reaching results.

100 Best Holiday Books.

A selection from this year's publications, with short descriptive reviews, and an introductory essay on books as gifts, past and present. See THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART of this week, Dec. 9.

In these lists History is represented by 20 books; Biography by 18; Poetry and Essays by 9; Drawings and other illustrations, by 8; Religion by 3; Outdoor Books by 4; Travel and Adventure by 3; Fiction by 19; Miscellaneous by 5, and Books for the Young by 11.

Among the contributors of special articles will be RUSSELL STURGIS, JOEL BENTON, and Col. RICHARD J. HINTON, and among the special features outside these holiday lists will be articles on Rubens, Emerson, Lanier, Elbert Hubbard, and the Roycroft Shop, India, Burma, and Manila, and new works of fiction by BRET HARTE, HOPKINSON SMITH, JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, and ISRAEL ZANGWILL.—Adv.

ARRIVAL OF PADEREWSKI.

The Pianist Glad to Return to America —His Plans for This Season and His Opera.

Ignace Paderewski arrived here yesterday on the White Star liner Oceanic, and will be heard for the first time since his last visit three years ago at the Carnegie Music Hall on Dec. 12. The pianist was accompanied on the voyage by his wife, who, shortly after her arrival, left for Boston, where she will remain with some friends until her husband's entire tour in this country is completed.

M. Paderewski, shortly after his baggage was taken care of, drove to the Manhattan Hotel, where he was seen by a TIMES reporter. "I have had a delightful voyage," he said "and I enjoyed the sea air immensely. I am glad to get back to this country, and when I say this I am honest and certainly look forward with keen anticipation to greeting my American friends, of whom I have many.

"On our last night out we had a recital, at which selections from Chopin, Liszt, and Beethoven were rendered by me, and I think a fairly good sum was realized for the benefit for which the recital was given.

"Regarding the new opera I have written and which I have been working on for the last four years, all I can say is that it will undoubtedly be produced for the first time in Dresden upon my return to Europe and under my own personal direction.

"Since my last visit here I have gained a little in weight and can say that I am in the best of health. I have spent a great deal of my time traveling in Germany, Italy, and France."

"I have brought very few new compositions with me, as the demand for my old selections is so great that my repertoire will be largely confined to them. I will, however, play a Beethoven sonata, Op. 54, which I think has never been played by any pianist in this country."

Paderewski will open his tour at Carnegie Music Hall, as stated, on Dec. 12, and will then go to Philadelphia, where he will be heard on the 14th, returning again to this city, giving his second concert on the 16th. The itinerary of the remaining part of the tour so far as it has been planned is as follows: Richmond, Va., Dec. 18; Boston, Dec. 22 to 30; Washington, Pittsburg, Louisville, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, San Francisco, and New Orleans.

MATINEE HAD TO BE ABANDONED.

Miss Dorothy Morton Refused to Sing at Herald Square Theatre.

Miss Dorothy Morton, who plays the part of Maia in "A Greek Slave," now being presented at the Herald Square Theatre, placed her manager in a most perplexing position yesterday afternoon by absolutely refusing to appear at the matinée performance, and thereby causing a fairly good-sized audience to be disappointed. It had been announced that the first of the Wednesday matinées would be given yesterday, and all of the company excepting Miss Morton were prepared to give the performance. It was not discovered that Miss Morton was not in her dressing room until about the time for the curtain to be raised.

Telephonic communication was immediately had with Miss Morton, who informed the management that she was not supposed to sing at Wednesday matinées, and under the circumstances would not. She was urged to change her mind, but replied that if members of the company were at the theatre that they could go ahead and give the performance without her. The management then informed the audience that no performance would be given, and the theatre was soon deserted. Miss Morton appeared at the evening performance.

COURSE OF MODERN PLAYS.

Second of John Blair's Productions to be "Ties."

The second production in the John Blair course of modern plays will be made at the Carnegie Lyceum on the evening of Dec. 20, when a play from the French of Paul Hervieu entitled "Lese Tenailles," which was originaly given at the Théâtre Française Sept. 25, 1895, will be presented.

The leading female role will be assumed by Miss Florence Kahn, while Mr. Blair will be seen in the role of Robert Fergan. The English version will be called "Ties," and is the work of George Peabody Eustis and Paul Kester.

To Play Present Role in London.

Miss Josephine Hall, who is appearing in the title rôle of "The Girl from Maxim's," has made arrangements with Charles Frohman to appear in this same part when the play is produced at the Criterion Theatre, London. She will leave for London early in March.

Weber & Fields's New Burlesque.

"Barbara Fidgety," the new burlesque, will be produced at Weber & Fields's Music Hall to-night. The entire stock company will be enlisted in this skit.

MR. HESS ON THE TENDERLOIN.

His Speech at a Complimentary Dinner Given by Republicans of the Twenty-fifth District.

The Republicans of the Twenty-fifth Assembly District tendered a complimentary dinner last night to Charles A. Hess, the leader of the district, at Morello's, 4 West Twenty-ninth Street, "in recognition of his services to the Republican Party," as was stated in the invitations. Mr. Hess was presented with a loving cup by the members of the district organization.

McDougall Hawkes, Vice-President of the Republican County Committee, made an address. Among other things he advocated the abolishment of the central office of the Board of Public Improvements. He said that the local officers in the various boroughs should have charge of all improvements and each borough should be taxed for its own improvements.

President Lemuel E. Quigg of the Republicna County Committee, spoke in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard, and praised the Administration for its policy concerning the Philippines, which, Mr. Quigg said, should be kept at all hazards.

Assemblyman-elect John A. Weeks, Jr., and Alderman-elect Herbert Parsons spoke in terms of praise of Mr. Hess's leadership.

Mr. Hess responded to the demands of his friends and talked about his district, the Tenderloin. Police Capt. Price was one of the diners, and listened to Mr. Hess's remarks about the precinct over which the Captain has command. Mr. Hess said:

"We are sometimes referred to as 'the Tenderloin District.' It is true we have a polyglot population, made up of almost every known nationality and creed, but at the same time we boast of a class of people who, for education, refinement, and culture, cannot be excelled. There are many other things of which we can boast, but usually do not speak of in public. But for your edification and information I want to say that you can come into our district and have more real genuine sport than in any other in the United States. In that respect we plead guilty to the charge that we are a 'Tenderloin District.'

"You can, if you desire, indulge in almost every kind of revelry, sometimes called fun and sport. You can gamble at the wheel, or cards, and bet on horse races; you can make the acquaintance of beautiful women and bunco men; you can run foul of the pickpocket and thug; you can indulge in opium smoking in parlors furnished with Turkish embellishments, the like of which cannot be equaled even in the Khédive's harems. Manicure and massage parlors are mere common ordinary incidents in the every-day life of the Tenderloin, where the stranger can go to have himself cleaned up and oftentimes cleaned out. We have dance halls and dives galore.

"Our district is the headquarters of the prominent agents of the Irish, Scotch, and Canadian whiskies. You can get full on whisky or on wine, and you can have yourself arrested by one of the 'finest,' and indulge in the luxury of having yourself bailed out by that distinguished business man, 'Bob' Nelson, whose business card is in the possession of every well-disciplined guardian of the peace."

Among those present were Gen. Francis V. Greene, Job E. Hedges, Senator John Ford, Henry Birrell, Assemblyman Frederick A. Ware, Alderman Elias Goodman, Edward Lauterbach, Julius M. Mayer, George R. Manchester, John Reisenweber, Harry Ralston, John Sabine Smith, Edward H. Healy and most of the Republican district leaders.

Mechanics and Tradesmen's Society.

The annual election of officers of the Society of Mechanics and Tradesmen held last evening resulted as follows: President—Stephen M. Wright; First Vice President—Frank E. Conover; Second Vice President—William H. Olivcr; Secretary and Treasurer—Richard T. Davies. A feature of the meeting was the reading of the minutes of a meeting of the society held Dec. 26, 1799, containing resolutions deploring the death of Washington.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

The advent of Winter weather and the first of the season's dances have brought people to town in larger numbers during the past few days, and there are evidences on every side that the season is at last under way. The Avenue was crowded yesterday afternoon with people hurrying to and fro, shopping, calling, and attending the fair for the benefit of the Cuban orphans at the Astoria, and Miss Evelyn K. Parson's debut, and several "at homes." So numerous are the cards for coming receptions and "at homes" that society devotees have found it necessary to prepare a special list for each day. The task of attending these affairs grows greater each succeeding Winter and much regret is expressed by fashionable women that the excellent idea of The Social Register, that women living in the same districts should have the same "at home" days, was not adopted this year. With the distances that any one with a long visiting list now finds it necessary to traverse, even with one's own carriage, to attend the many receptions and at homes, the task is growing too great. The old idea of a clearing house where the women of New York society could settle their social balances through and by the interchange of cards, at some central meeting place once or twice a week, is again being discussed.

Mrs. William Barclay Parsons introduced her granddaughter, Miss Evelyn K. Parsons, daughter of Mr. Schuyler Parsons, at her residence, 505 Fifth Avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Parsons's long and intimate acquaintance with New York society and the position which she had held in it for so many years made yesterday's reception in some ways the most notable event of the opening season, and her parlors were thronged, not only with the younger men and girls in society, friends of her débutante granddaughter, but with representative older men and women, some of whom are not now often seen in the more exciting whirl of this newer day. Several of these older men and women expressed their gratification at being present to welcome a third generation of the well-known Parsons family, represented by the débutante. With Mrs. Parsons and Miss Evelyn K. Parsons there received Miss Helena J. Parsons, Miss Marian Fish, Miss Helen Kountze, Miss Edith Clark, Miss Anna Dodge, Miss Josephine Williams, and Miss Marie Moran. Mrs. Parsons wore black silk trimmed with white lace, and Miss Parsons a gray embroidered crepe de chine and white lace, while the débutante was in white chiffon. The flowers used in the parlors where the reception took place were chiefly yellow chrysanthemums. A list of the guests present would be merely a selection from The Social Register of the men and particularly the women who are now going out, or who were in former years prominent in New York society.

***

Receptions were given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Philip A. Brown, Miss Brown, and Miss Carter of Cooperstown, at Mrs. Brown's residence, 170 West Seventy-second Street, and by Mrs. Arthur Bissell of 69 East Fifty-sixth Street. Mrs. Bissell was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. Sanford Bissell. The recital given by Mr. Francis Rogers, the baritone, who made a deserved reputation at the musicales of last Winter, and also last Summer at Bar Harbor and Newport, at Mendelssohn Hall, was also a special attraction of the afternoon, which brought together many well-known people. Mrs. John Hone gave a large dinner at her residence, 7 West Thirty-eighth Street, last evening, and the annual anniversary dinner of the St. Nicholas Society at Delmonico's, the story of which is printed in another column, brought together the usual assemblage of well-known men.

***

A fair in aid of the Cuban Orphan Society, of which Gen. Francis Vinton Greene is President, and in which many prominent society women are interested, was held in the small ballroom of the Waldorf yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Winthrop Cowdin was Chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, and to her exertions its success was largely due. Mrs. Cowdin was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Brannan at the basket table, Mrs. Henry F. Osborn at the art table, Mrs. W. B. Beeckman at the Cuban table, Mrs. James Benkard at the fancy table, Mrs. A. L. P. Dennis at the household table, and Miss C. S. Leverich at the cake and candy table. With Mrs. Brannan at the basket table were Mrs. Edward King, Mrs. J. W. Poor, Miss Blodgett, Miss A. M. Vail, and Mrs. Harold de Raasloff. Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Miss Mary Gardiner, Mrs. William J. Schieffelin, Miss Mary Lewis, and Miss Huntington were at the art table with Mrs. Osborn, and Miss Rosalie Francke was with Mrs. Beeckman at the Cuban table. Mrs. Duncan Wood, Miss A. M. Maxwell, and Mrs. R. Bacon assisted Mrs. A. Benkard at the fancy table, and Miss Belle Gurnee was with Mrs. A. L. P. Dennis at the household table, while Miss Louise Hollins, Miss Margaret Leverich, Miss Margaret Stimson, and Miss Julia L. Delafield sold cake and candy under Mrs. Leverich's direction. The flower table was surrounded at all times, as it was most attractive, with it array of blooms, most of them from Gov. Roosevelt's conservatories at Albany. Mrs. Douglas Robinson, a sister of Gov. Roosevelt, was in charge of this, and was assisted by Mrs. Henry Parish, Mrs. J. A. Murray, Miss Margaretta Stone, Miss L. B. Gurnee, and Mrs. Van Rensselaer. Mrs. M. W. H. Draper, assisted by the Misses Martha and Alice Draper and Miss Evelyn Sloane sold artistic sofa cushions, and Mrs. J. Le Baron Johnson, with Mrs. Charles D. Dickey, Mrs. Edward C. Post, Miss Johnson, Miss Van Rensselaer, and Mrs. S. A. Coats, had charge of the tearoom. There was also a glassware table, in charge of Mrs. John Wilkie, the bride, who was married a fortnight ago in Boston.

***

A special feature of this fair was the children's department. "The House that Jack Built" was a tiny house, to which the children stepped up, pulled a bell, and the door opened and a live Jack popped up, who handed out a present on receipt of 10 cents. Another feature was a big goose, that moved in a lifelike manner, opening its mouth for money, and then presenting a package. There was also a Klondike, where children dug in sand about a big polar bear for gold and silver bricks. Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard had charge of this department. Mrs. J. C. F. Gardiner and Miss Davenport ran "The House that Jack Built." The goose was managed by Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. G. B. Preston, and Miss Wood. There was also a Cuban and Pan-American express office, where children paid a quarter and received packages done up in red, white and blue wrappings, addressed to them. Miss Isabella Fanshawe and Miss Swayne attended to this, while Mrs. Alexander Mercer Pell and Mrs. E. P. Hatch superintended the Klondike. Though only a few private schools were asked to contribute, 1,200 gifts were received from them. There was a large attendance of little folks as well as of grown people yesterday afternoon and evening.

***

The American Association of Allied Arts held a members' sale in the East Room of the Astoria Hotel yesterday afternoon and evening. The various arts and crafts represented by the membership of this society made the sale instructive as well as interesting. There were oil and water-color sketches, miniatures, useful and decorative pieces of china in overglaze and underglaze, table china, examples of wood carving, photography, and embroidery displayed and sold. A number of society people were present to meet the Advisory Board, among whom are Mrs. E. M. Scott, Miss Rhoda Holmes Nichols, Miss Louise McLaughlin, Mrs. L. A. Southwick, and Messrs. Auguste Franzen, W. Merritt Post, and Charles Niehaus.

***

To-day will bring two coming-out receptions, those given by Mrs. Beverly Robinson of 42 West Thirty-seventh Street, to introduce her daughter, Miss Pauline Robinson, and by Mrs. C. Du Bois Wagstaff of 15 West Twenty-first Street, to introduce her daughter, Miss Mary Wagstaff. Mrs. Henry Gribble, who was Miss Wagstaff, will receive with Mrs. Wagstaff and her daughter. Mrs. Lemuel Bolton Bangs, who was Miss Isabel Hoyt, will give a reception this afternoon at her residence, 41 East Forty-fourth Street, and Mrs. James Speyer, who was Mrs. Lowery, will give a musicale this evening at her residence, 257 Madison Avenue, at which Miss Clara Butt and Mr. David Bispham will probably sing. The old and popular Thursday Evening Club will hold its first meeting of the season at the residence of Mrs. James H. Dunham, 37 East Thirty-sixth Street. Miss Gertrude Bennett will give a dramatic recital in the East Room of the Astoria Hotel at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Miss Bennett will recite from Austin Dobson, Anthony Hope, and Rudyard Kipling. She will be assisted by Miss Louise C. Courtney, soprano, and M. André Destampes, basso.

***

Mrs. Robert Hoe of 11 East Thirty-sixth Street has issued cards for a reception for her daughters, Mrs. Samuel Morley Adams and Miss Ruth Lawrence Hoe, on Thursday, Dec. 14. Mrs. Frederic Gallatin has organized a series of dances for her daughter, Miss May Gallatin, and several débutantes of the season, notably Miss Gladys and Miss Beatrice Mills, Miss Ruth and Miss Florence Twombly, and Miss Gwendoline Burden. These dances will be given at the Metropolitan Club on Saturday evenings during the season.

***

Among those who arrived yesterday on the Oceanic, and whose names have not already been published in this column, were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Baylis, Miss Rose E. Cleveland, W. B. Fitts, Hon. P. C. Lounsbury, Mrs. and Miss Lounsbury, W. A. Prime, William von Sachs, George William Sheldon, Mrs. F. D. Stickney, Miss A. L. Stickney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. George Ward and family, and Miss R. Wilson. La Champagne, sailing for Havre to-day, has booked, among other passengers, Mrs. M. S. Lawrence, Capt. E. Perrot of the French army, and Vicomte de Polignac.

***

Miss Laura Swann, whose début was made on Monday at the Bachelors' german in Baltimore, has been the recipient of much attention in that city. On Tuesday evening a large theatre party was given for her by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sherlock Swann. Two boxes at the Academy of Music were filled with guests, among whom were Miss Charlotte Latrobe, the hostess, another débutante, Miss Munnikhuysen, one of the most beautiful of the Baltimore buds; Miss Doris Stewart, Miss Mary Peter, and Messrs. Harry Lehr, William Lehr, Max Muller of the British Legation in Washington, Mac Pope, Hollis McKim, and Howard Harvey. Miss Swann's Baltimore début is entirely under the auspices of her father, Mr. Donnell Swann.

***

Wedding invitations have been received in Philadelphia for the marriage of Miss Ethel Hill Hart and Ledyard Hecksher. It will take place on Dec. 18, at Holy Trinity. Mr. Hecksher is a cousin of the New York and Orange Hecksher, and his uncle married Miss Tappan of New York. The Alexander Van Rensselaers have returned to Philadelphia after a stay in New York, and have opened their house, at Eighteenth and Walnut Streets, for the season.

***

The début of Miss Lillie Bowen Pleasanton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Pleasanton, was another feature on Tuesday in Philadelphia social life. The Pleasanton house, on Spruce Street, nearly half a century old, was the scene of the entertainment, which took the shape of a large tea. Miss Ronald Stewart of this city was one of the débutantes who received with Miss Pleasanton. After the reception the receiving party went to the Broad Street Theatre, where they occupied all the boxes in the house and three rows in the parquet. After the play there was a dance and supper.

***

Mrs. Dexter Hawkins and Miss Hawkins, having just returned from Europe, will give several large luncheons and dinners at their residence, 5 West Thirty-fourth Street. Mrs. James Wilson Clark and Miss Clark, 46 East Fifty-third Street, have cards out for a dance at Dodworth's on Tuesday evening, Jan. 2. This evening Miss Rockefeller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, 4 East Fifty-fourth Street, will give a musicale. This is the first of a series of Thursday evening musicales which the Rockefellers will give this Winter. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edward Ballard will give a reception for their daughter, Miss Grace Kinsale Ballard, Dec. 14, to be followed on Dec. 28 by a large dance at Sherry's. Mrs. Walter S. Gurnee, Jr., has cards out for a large reception on Saturday afternoon to introduce her daughter, Miss Gurnee.

***

The only charitable entertainment for tomorrow is the fair of the Throat, Nose, and Lung Hospital in the grand ballroom of the Astoria. There will be music by a Hungarian band and a beautiful display of fancy work and trinkets for Christmas gifts. Among the novelties promised are a specially designed portfolio given by Mrs. Amelia E. Barr, the author of "Trinity Bells," a tea room, a cook book souvenir, and the services of Zoza Kenelworth, the palmist.

***

The Meadow Brook pack of hounds will be shipped to Aiken at the end of the week. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., will be Master of the Hounds there until early Spring. The last hunt of the Meadow Brook pack took place on Tuesday.

***

A fair for the benefit of the New York Diet Kitchen Association will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria to-day from 11 A. M. until 6 P. M. This society supplies food free of charge to the sick poor upon presentation of physicians' certificates. At the tables where articles will be offered for sale, a number of well-known women will preside, among them Mrs. Henry Villard, Mrs. Charles M. Raymond, Mrs. Adolph Rusch, Mrs. George F. Baker, Mrs. August Lewis, Mrs. Mark Plummer, Mrs. Frank Russak, Mrs. Isaac Platt, Mrs. John Degerner, and Mrs. Joseph W. Tilton.

***

A Thanksgiving dinner was given last evening by the managers of the New York Exchange for Women's Work to the managers, the Advisory Board, and a few guests at the new rooms of the Exchange, 334 Madison Avenue. The guests included Miss Susan Herriman, Miss Katherine Lambert, Mrs. Frederick Peterson, Mrs. Cornelius Agnew, Mrs. George F. Baker, Mrs. William G. Choate, Mrs. Janvier le Duc, Mrs. Charles E. Miller, Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith, Mrs. W. Gilman Thompson, Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, Mrs. William T. Wardwell, Miss Louise Rollins, and Messrs. William G. Choate, George F. Baker, George Hoadly, E. Ellery Anderson, Jordan Rollins, Edward Mitchell, George G. Story, William T. Wardwell, and Dr. Frederick Peterson. At the conclusion of the dinner some of the gentlemen spoke briefly and some statistics of the Exchange's work were given. In the last five and a half years there have been 3,600 applications to the Exchange from gentlewomen for positions, for 1,900 of these positions have been obtained, and of this number none has held places for less than six months.

A DAY'S WEDDINGS.

Maguire—Toothe.

Miss Clara Schlager Toothe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Toothe, was married to Mr. J. De Smet Maguire last evening in the grand ballroom of the Majestic. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Taylor, pastor of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, performed the ceremony. The maid of honor was Miss Mabel Coe of Meriden, Conn., and the bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Schlager of Scranton, Penn.; Miss Jessie Wood of Newark, Miss Jessie Mygatt, Miss May Dobbs, Miss Marie Wilson, Miss Gertrude Chase, and the Misses Ernestine and Carlotta Knopf. The best man was Mr. Ashton Deveraux of Philadelphia, and the ushers were Edward Toothe, a brother of the bride; C. D. Coyle of Alton, Ill.; Robertson C. Ward of Newark, Abram Bassford, and C. H. Tangman of Brooklyn, and Mr. Parton Swift. The decorations of the ballroom and banquet hall suite were of white and green. A reception and supper followed the ceremony.

Martin—Wilson.

Miss Rena Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson of 205 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, and Arthur Inglis Martin, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. James Crowell of Philadelphia officiated. Miss Delano of Marion, Mass., was maid of honor, and a brother of the bridegroom, James Martin, acted as best man. After a honeymoon trip the couple will live in Brooklyn.

Strebeigh—Pierce.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—The Church of the Advent at noon to-day was filled with a fashionable audience for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Pierce, daughter of Edward H. Pierce of this city, and M. Harold Strebeigh, son of the late Robert Strebeigh of New York. Henry Brevoort Kane and Charles L. Bininger of the Union Club of New York, Theakston De Coppet of the Racquet Club of New York, and Josiah Baker, Jr., acted as ushers. Fenelon C. Cattus of New York was best man, while Mrs. Alfred Quincy Cole of Newtonville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The Rev. Robert Codman, Jr., of St. John's Church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Strebeigh will make their home in New York, where the groom is a member of both the University and Racquet Clubs.

McClure—Cassin.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Dec. 6.—At noon to-day, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cassin of Rensselaer, Miss Anna Austin Cassin was married to Archibald Jermain McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. McClure of Albany. The Rev. Father John Walsh of Troy, uncle of the bride, officiated.

ALONE, ILL IN HIS HOME.

George W. Hinchman Found Suffering from Paralysis, His Thanksgiving Dinner Uneaten.

George W. Hinchman, fifty-five years old, was found by the Brooklyn police about midnight last night lying unconscious and in a dying condition on his dining room floor at 967 Gates Avenue, where he lived alone.

He was fully dressed, and his Thanksgiving dinner was on the table untouched. The man, it is thought, had been lying there since dinner time Thursday.

At St. Mary's Hospital, where he was taken, it was said last night that he had had a stroke of apoplexy, and would probably die. He is wealthy, and lived away from his family.

Neighbors, who had not seen Mr. Hinchman about his house since last Thursday, notified the police, who forced an entrance.

Count Tolstoi Seriously Ill.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A special dispatch from Berlin says that Count Tolstoi has been seriously ill

FINANCIAL DIRECTORY.

Chemical National Bank
270 Broadway.

National Bank of Commerce
CAP. AND SUR. $5,500,000.
31 Nassau St.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $1,000,000. Surplus and profits, $2,500,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $1,500,000.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G.
222 B'way.

Continental Trust Company
30 Broad St.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

PHILADELPHIA.
Fourth Street National Bank
Capital, $1,500,000. Surplus, $1,500,000.

BANKERS' CARDS.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS,
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members of N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general Banking Business.
Interest allowed on deposits.
Orders executed for cash or on margin.
Investment Securities
A SPECIALTY.
LIST SENT ON APPLICATION.

Holmes & Co.,
EMPIRE BUILDING,
71 Broadway, New York.
Members { N. Y. Stock Exchange. N. Y. Cotton Exchange. Chicago Board of Trade.
Branch Office:
Lakewood Hotel, Lakewood, N.J.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St. NEW YORK.
Investment Securities.
Foreign Exchange.
Loans made against approved collateral.
Interest allowed on deposits.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

Geo. E. Armstrong & Co.,
BANKERS & BROKERS,
MEMBERS OF
New York and Boston Stock Exchanges.
44 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
146 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.
231 MAIN ST., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Ward, Armstrong & Co.,
20 Gt. WINCHESTER ST., LONDON.

New York Telephone, 4914 Cortlandt. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & Co
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
37 William St., New York. 298 Montague St., Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

TUNSTALL & CO.,
MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
52 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Stocks and Bonds bought and sold for cash or carried on margin.
Market Letter on Application.
Telephones No. 1492 and No. 830 Broad.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
58 WALL STREET.

FINANCIAL.

KNICKERBOCKER TRUST CO
234 FIFTH AVE., 66 BROADWAY.
OFFERS ITS SERVICES IN THE MATTER OF
Taking entire charge of Mortgages on Real Estate,
Collecting Interest, paying the taxes, and insuring buildings. Collecting Coupons and Dividends.
If Mortgages are paid off proceeds will be reinvested or held subject to check.
And all Trusts accepted in conformity with the laws of any State or of U. S.
CHARLES T. BARNEY, President.
FRED'K L. ELDRIDGE, 1st Vice-Presdt.
JOSEPH T. BROWN, 2d Vice-President.
ALFRED B. MACLAY, Sec. and Treas.
FRED'K GORE KING, Ass't Sec. & Treas.

Cincinnati, November 1st, 1899.
THE UNDERSIGNED SINKING FUND COMMISSIONERS, under the C., I., St. L. & C. consolidated 6 per cent. mortgage, hereby certify that we have this day made a drawing of bonds to be applied to Sinking Fund account of November 1, 1899, in accordance with provisions of mortgage, and that bonds bearing numbers as follows, viz.: 695, 489, 346, 49, 1083, 1036, and 544 have been drawn for such purpose and that interest on said bonds shall cease from and after the first day of May, 1900, and the bonds taken up at 105 per cent. and accrued interest to said date.
HERVEY BATES,
GEORGE T. BLISS,
M. E. INGALLS,
Sinking Fund Commissioners.

"OUTSIDE" SECURITIES
DEALT IN.
DAVID PFEFER IF18 Wall St.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS, AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

AUSTIN R. MYRES,
STOCKS—WHEAT - - - 60 BROADWAY
Highly Important Market Letter Sent Free.

I WILL INSURE YOU AGAINST LOSS IN stock speculations. Address OPERATOR, 1,242 Broadway.

THE DEAF CURED FREE
TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

Deposits for Transfer by Wire.

Notice was given at the Sub-Treasury yesterday that deposits of gold certificates not to exceed in the aggregate $1,000,000 will be received for telegraphic transfer to be paid in paper currency (United States notes, silver certificates and Treasury notes of 1890) by the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New Orleans. The charges for such transfers are to be bankers' rates from New York at 75 cents per $1,000. In addition a charge of 75 cents for each telegram will be collected.

FINANCIAL.

United States Mortgage & Trust Co.
59 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK.
CAPITAL $2,000,000
SURPLUS $2,000,000

BANKING, TRUST, MORTGAGE, AND FOREIGN DEPARTMENTS.
Interest allowed on Deposits subject to check.
Legal Depositary for Court and Trust Funds.

OFFICERS.
GEORGE W. YOUNG ..... President
LUTHER KOUNTZE ..... Vice-President
JAMES TIMPSON ..... 2d Vice-President
ARTHUR TURNBULL ..... 3d Vice-President
CLARK WILLIAMS ..... Treasurer
WILLIAM P. ELLIOTT ..... Secretary
RICHARD M. HURD ..... Asst. Secretary
CALVERT BREWER ..... Asst. Treasurer
ALEXANDER PHILLIPS ..... Man'g For'n Dept

DIRECTORS.
Samuel D. Babcock.

Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr.,	Gustav E. Kissel,
Frederick O. Barton,	Luther Kountze,
E. Ledyard Blair,	Charlton T. Lewis,
Dumont Clarke,	Richard A. McCurdy,
Charles D. Dickey,	Theodore Morford,
William P. Dixon,	Robert Olyphant,
Robert A. Granniss,	Charles M. Pratt,
G. G. Haven, Jr.,	James Timpson,
Charles R. Henderson,	Eben B. Thomas,

George W. Young.

REDEMPTION NOTICE NO. 7

GEORGIA PACIFIC RAILWAY CO.

EQUIPMENT MORTGAGE BONDS, DATED JULY 17, 1889.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that fifty (50) of the Equipment Mortgage Bonds of the Georgia Pacific Railway Company were this day drawn for the Sinking Fund in accordance with the requirements of Article Three of the Trust Mortgage, numbered as follows, viz.:

63	266	365	531	680	811	920
84	295	368	549	714	812	923
103	296	383	552	716	819	931
153	305	406	553	721	837	932
164	327	463	607	725	874	937
221	350	516	668	770	917	993
252	351	522	675	787	918	995
259

All future interest of any of the bonds so designated ceases with the coupons due February 1st, 1900, in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
By E. F. Hyde, 2d Vice President.
New York, November 1, 1899.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the fifty bonds were designated by lot in our presence as above stated.
FRED C. RANDALL,
With Central Trust Co. of N. Y.
R. D. LANKFORD.
Of Georgia Pacific Railway Co.
FRANK B. SMIDT,
Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

In accordance with the foregoing certificate, said mentioned bonds, and the coupons therefrom maturing February 1st, 1900, will be paid at this office on or after the first day of February, 1900, at par.
Central Trust Company of New York, Trustee,
By E. F. Hyde,
Second Vice President.

DIVIDENDS.

The Chicago and Alton Railroad Co.
New York, Dec. 6, 1899.
A dividend of $2.25 per share on the Preferred Stock, and a dividend of $3 per share on the Common Stock of this company have been declared payable at the Assistant Treasurer's Office, Equitable Building, 120 Broadway, New York, on and after December 27, 1899, to the holders of Preferred and Common Stock of record at the close of business December 16, 1899.
The Stock Transfer Books will close for the purpose of these dividends at the close of business December 16, 1899, and reopen December 28, 1899. ALEX. MILLAR, Secretary.

Columbus, O., November 24, 1899.
A dividend of One and One-half Per Cent. has this day been declared on the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable January 10, 1900, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 4, 1899.
The Preferred Stock transfer books will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, New York, at 3 P. M. on Monday, December 4, 1899, and will reopen at the same place at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, December 13, 1899.
THE HOCKING VALLEY RAILWAY CO.,
By N. MONSARRAT, President.

NATIONAL GRAM-O-PHONE CORPORATION,
874 Broadway, New York, Dec. 5th, 1899.
Twenty-sixth Consecutive Monthly Dividend.
THE USUAL MONTHLY DIVIDEND (No. 26) of ONE PER CENT. on the capital stock of this corporation has this day been duly declared by the Board of Directors, payable December 16th. Transfer books close December 6 to 16, inclusive. O. D. La Dow, Secretary.

The American Thread Company.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that with a view to the preparation of the half-yearly dividend on the Five Per Cent. Gold or Sterling Preferred Shares of this Company, payable 2d of January next, either in New York or London, the Transfer Registers will be closed on the 5th of December and will reopen on the 2d of January, 1900.
By order of the Board of Directors,
T. M. IVES, Treasurer and Secretary.

Office of Welsbach Commercial Company,
40 Wall St., New York, Nov. 9th, 899.
The Directors have this day declared a dividend of one (1) per cent. on the Preferred Stock, payable Dec. 9th, 1899, to stockholders of record at the close of business Nov. 29th. Transfer books of the Preferred Stock will be closed from Nov. 30th to Dec. 9th, both inclusive. Checks will be mailed. EDWARD C. LEE, Treasurer.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

UNION SQUARE BANK,
8 UNION SQUARE.
The annual election for Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12TH, 1899,
at the Banking House, between the hours of 1 P. M. and 3 P. M.
JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier.

Leather Manufacturers' National Bank
29 Wall St.
New York, December 4th, 1899.
The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors will be held at the banking rooms on TUESDAY, January 9th, 1900, from 12 M. to 1 P. M.
GATES W. McGARRAH, Cashier.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF THE REPUBLIC.
New York, December 7th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking House on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M. C. H. STOUT, Cashier.

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The statements of the following local National banks as to their condition at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899, will be found in another column: Seaboard, Western, Hanover, Bank of Commerce, City, Broadway, Shoe and Leather, New York National Exchange, Continental, Gallatin, New York County, East River, Mechanics', Merchants', Irving, Park, Seventh, Importers and Traders', Garfield, Second, Leather Manufacturers', Lincoln, Phenix, Astor and the Bank of New York, N. B. A. The following statements of State banks in this city also appear: Bank of the Manhattan Company, Greenwich, Riverside, Mechanics and Traders', Colonial, Germania, New York Produce Exchange, German Exchange, and People's. The following statements of Philadelphia banks also appear: Fourth Street National Bank and the Bank of North America.

ELECTRIC ROADS FOR HAWAII.

Johnson Syndicate to Build Roads in Honolulu.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 6.—A syndicate, headed by Tom L. and Albert Johnson, the street car men, will build a street railroad in Honolulu and on Oahu Island, on which the capital of the Hawaiian Islands is situated. Electric lines will not only be built within the city limits, but suburban lines will be constructed leading to the different points of interest and business nearby. A line will be built to the volcano for the convenience of tourists.

The syndicate has absorbed the present horse car lines in Honolulu. Ferryboats will also be operated by the new company between the various islands of the group. The company, it is said, will have a monopoly of the street car business in Honolulu.

Bank President Sentenced.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Dec. 6.—William Weir, President of the defunct Ville Marie Bank, convicted of furnishing a false statement of the bank affairs to the Government, was sentenced to-day to two years, less one day, imprisonment.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks irregular.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 6	654,181
To date this year	157,117,797
Corresponding date last year	102,552,801

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 6	$1,847,600
To date this year	$794,947,790
Corresponding date last year	$820,106,730

Money rate: Collateral loans on hand, 3@8 per cent.; at three months, 6 per cent.; at six months, 6 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 5½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Ice	⅝	General Electric	⅞
Am. S. & Ref.	½	Great North. pf	1
At., T. & S. F. pf	¾	Int. Paper	½
Balt. & Ohio	⅝	Lclede Gas	1
Balt. & Ohio pf	1¼	Louis. & Nash.	¾
Brklyn Rapid Transit	⅝	Morris & Essex	1½
Ches. & Ohio	½	North American	1
Chi., B. & Q.	½	Northern Pacific	½
Chi. G. W. pf., B.	1½	Penn. R. R.	½
Chi., I. & L.	⅝	Southern Pacific	⅞
Chi., I. & L. pf.	1	Southern Ry. pf.	½
Chi., M. & St. P.	⅝	Tenn. C. & I.	⅞
C., C., C. & St. L.	½	U. S. Leather	1⅜
Col. So. 1st pf.	¾	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	½
Federal Steel	⅝

Stocks Declined.

Am. Express	¾	Del. & Hud.	½
Adams Express	⅔	Del., L. & W.	2
Am. Car & Fdy.	⅝	Evansv. & T. H.	⅝
Am. C. & F. pf.	⅔	Glucose Sugar	⅔
Am. Ice pf.	½	Glucose S. pf.	1
Am. Cotton Oil	⅝	Hocking Valley	⅝
Am. Linseed	⅞	Illinois Central	½
Am. Smelt. & Ref. pf.	1¼	Nat. Biscuit	2
Am. Steel & Wire	1¼	Nat. Lead	⅝
Am. S. & W. pf.	1¼	Nat. Steel	⅔
Am. Tin Plate	⅔	Nat. Steel pf.	½
Am. T. P. pf.	2	N. J. Central	⅞
Am. Tobacco	1	Pac. Coast 2d pf.	1½
Am. Steel Hoop	1	Pacific Mail	½
Am. Steel H. pf.	1	Pressed Steel Car	⅔
Canada South	⅝	Rep. Steel pf.	1
Canadian Pac.	⅝	Rio Grande Western	½
Chi. & East. Ill.	½	Rio G. W. pf.	⅞
Chi. G. W. pf., A.	⅞	St. L. & S. F. 1st pf.	½
Chi. & N. W.	2	St. Paul & Duluth	⅔
Chi. Term. Trans.	1	Third Avenue	⅞
Chi. Term. T. pf.	½	Twin City R. T. pf.	⅞
Col. Fuel & Iron	½	Union Bag & Paper	⅞
Col. So. 2d pf.	1	Union B. & P. pf.	⅞
Cont. Tob. pf.	⅝	U. S. Rubber	⅔

***

Net changes in bonds of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Declined.

C. Br. U. Pac. 4s	⅔	Lehigh & W. B. con.	1
Chi. T. T. 4s	1	L. Isl. Fy. 4½s	2
F. & P. M. 6s	½	Stand. R. & T. 6s	1

There were no advances.

MARKET CONDITIONS.

Stock Exchange quotations were weak yesterday, Wall Street continuing to worry over the new discovery that President McKinley is intent upon restraining trusts To the Wall Street view any industrial property is a trust; and, on theories so founded, the speculators yesterday pitched into the entire industrial list, marking most of the issues down a point or two apiece. The iron and steel group had to stand an especially vigorous pounding, though bearish attention was not at all restricted.

Just before the close of the day's business, however, a rally took place and final net changes for the day were not as bad as earlier, the recovery being attributable chiefly to covering of shorts, for throughout the day only professional speculators seemed to find interest in the course of prices. Neither buying for investment account nor forced liquidation showed in any quarter.

***

Money on call on the Stock Exchange ruled as high as 8 per cent. and as low as 3 during the day, with most of the business at the legal rate. There are indications of preparation on the part of the banks for the making of New Year's disbursements which this year will run tens on tens of millions of dollars beyond example, dividends and interest coming due at the beginning of 1900 from quarters that have not for some years past been thus productive. Wall Street's disposition to affect to regard preparations for New Year's disbursements as liable to cause money market disturbance can only be rated as puerile in face of the fact that funds so absorbed are to be paid out almost immediately.

Of course, as usual—and this year much more than has been usual—moneys received through the New Year's distribution will be largely reinvested in securities, for the financial situation of the collectors of such revenues is now much easier than has at any time in recent years been the rule.

***

No change occurs in the uniformity of business reports being good reports, and especialy are railway traffic returns continuing favorable. What must before long be the sequel of such records as are being made will be dividend increases. Yesterday the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé's Directors opened the way toward this sort of development by lifting their preferred stock's rate somewhat, it being semi-officially announced at the same time that when next dividend day comes round the preferred stock rate will be fixed at 5 per cent. per annum.

Northern Pacific common will this month go upon a 4 per cent. basis, and other similar prominent properties are scheduled for like encouraging action. Nowhere in the railway world is there found any authority who expresses doubt that the present era of good business is to continue—even to extend and grow much larger. The real managers of the railroads are more confident of the maintenance of continuing prosperity than are Wall Street speculators.

***

Among the industrial stocks next month will be notable probably for the establishment of many common shares upon a dividend basis, the Federal Steel decision ceasing at that time to be an interference. Coincident with declarations of dividends upon their common stock there will be more official detailed statements of earnings and expenses, assets and liabilities, and the general condition of a large number of new industrial corporations than Wall Street expects. Less of blind pool performances and more of open business management will be disclosed.

INCREASED DIVIDEND.

Wall Street was agreeably surprised yesterday by the action of the Directors of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, who declared a dividend on the preferred stock of the company of 1½ per cent., making an increase of one-quarter of 1 per cent. from the last dividend in June, which itself had been a like increase over the January dividend.

At the conclusion of the meeting Chairman of the Board Aldace F. Walker prepared for THE NEW YORK TIMES this statement:

"The dividend of 1½ per cent. declared to-day was appropriated from the surplus earnings of the last fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1899. The earnings of the company as shown by reports published during the present fiscal year, both gross and net, have been larger than for the corresponding months in the previous year. Gross earnings for the months June to October inclusive increased $1,096,856.49, and net earnings, $2,100,688.96. The company's net income from operation for those months, after deducting taxes and rentals, was $5,065,537.62. November figures will not be received until Dec. 26, but business for that month was good, and the surplus for the first five months of the present fiscal year will not be greatly short of the amount required to pay interest charges for the whole year on its entire funded debt, including both general mortgage and adjustment bonds."

A Director of the company is quoted as saying that in June next the preferred stock will be put on a regular 5 per cent. basis by the declaration at that time of a 2½ per cent. semi-annual dividend.

THE FINANCIAL COMMUNITY AND THE CURRENCY MEASURES.

(From a Special Contributor.)

Inquiry among the practical financiers of the city leaves no doubt of their decided preference for the House Currency bill prepared by the Republican Caucus Committee over that prepared by the Republican members of the Finance Committee of the Senate. Upon one point they are practically unanimous. The essential thing to accomplish at the present time is the establishment beyond all question or equivocation of the gold standard, the absolute security of the redemption fund from any drain through the Treasury, and the reissue of Government notes once redeemed only for their equivalent in gold. They have appreciated the importance of this so long and are so cheered by the prospect of getting it, that they dread the peril that may come from associating it with other provisions not strictly germane to it and calculated to beget differences of opinion and therefore opposition to the bill. Most of them would prefer to see these Treasury provisions dealt with apart upon their sole merits.

Another point upon which there is very little disagreement is the advantage of the provision of the House bill for a separate Division of Issue and Redemption in the Treasury Department, to hold the redemption fund, or reserve, and to direct the operations connected with it. The Senate bill, without this feature, gives the Secretary the power to maintain the fund and make redemption secure, but it leaves a loophole for running redeemed notes into the "general fund," while the House bill gives the Treasury no power to impair the fund. Moreover, the House bill is simpler and more explicit in its requirements for the redemption of all Government obligations in gold.

These same financiers are practically unanimous in favor of providing for greater ease and freedom in the issue of notes by National banks, by permitting them to take out circulation to par of the bonds deposited for security, and by a material reduction of the tax. Even those who would prefer to see these provisions in a separate measure are decidedly in favor of their adoption, as doing away with restrictions which are not only antiquated and unnecessary for their original purpose, but injurious under existing conditions. Here again they prefer the House bill to that prepared for the Senate, and the only objection they find to the former is the transfer of this tax from circulation to the "value of the franchise," or capital and surplus. A simple reduction of the tax would be much more satisfactory and the change proposed in the bill would work unequally. It would be a material lessening of the tax for banks with small capital and surplus and with circulation well up to their capital, while it might increase the tax for a bank with large capital and larger surplus and a relatively small circulation. As a tax, it would have no logical relation to the privilege of issuing notes.

The scheme for refunding Government bonds at 2 per cent. finds no favor at all as part of the currency measure. There is much difference of opinion as to its wisdom or feasibility at present, but even those who think it would be well to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to refund at 2 per cent., and who believe that the plan would meet with a fair measure of success, concede that these provisions should be embodied in a separate bill, if pressed at all. They are linked with the bank circulation provisions in the Senate bill by giving a preference in the matter of taxation to the banks which deposit the new bonds to secure their note issues. This is a discrimination which nobody seems to favor or defend.

There has been no time for many years when the financial community has been so hopeful of seeing the currency of the country made absolutely sound and safe, and this is a consummation which they so devoutly wish that they dread the effect of complicating it with measures of mere improvement in the system. They wish to see the foundation made stable and secure now, and are willing to wait for greater strength and symmetry in the superstructure rather than risk delay or defeat in the essential thing. A. K. F.

New York, Dec. 5, 1899.

SUGAR TRADE DEVELOPMENTS.

Developments yesterday in the sugar refining situation led Wall Street to incline even more strongly to the opinion that the end of the war between the trust and the independent companies is certainly in sight.

A meeting of the American Company was held during the day, when the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent. on the common stock was declared and of 1¾ per cent. on that part of the preferred stock entitled to quarterly dividends and 3½ per cent. on that part entitled to semi-annual dividends. It was also announced that an advance of 1-16c on the price of granulated sugar had been decided upon, and also a withdrawal of all concessions on soft sugar at New York.

Putting two and two together, the Street took the actions of the Directors as especially significant. Instead of the regular dividends, rather free predictions had recently been made that the dividends would be passed, while it was also intimated that a further cut in sugar prices might be made. Results proved how utterly without foundation both of these "sure" predictions were.

When approached on the subject of the sugar war, President Havemeyer refused to discuss the matter. Opinion seems to be, however, that the first of the year will witness a general advance in sugar prices.

SALE OFFICIALLY DENIED.

In reference to the reports from San Francisco of the purchase by the Huntington-Speyer syndicate of 140,000 shares of Southern Pacific stock from Gen. Hubbard, it was stated at the office of Speyer & Co. yesterday that this was not the case; that the syndicate had made no such purchase, and that, in fact, no purchase had been made since the transfer of the Stanford holdings.

During the day the impression seemed to prevail on the Street that the purchase had actually been made, but that it had been carried through prior to the Stanford sale. The direct statement, however, that the syndicate had made no such purchase would seem effectually to set at rest that theory.

From official sources it is learned that the November net earnings of the company will prove very gratifying.

STORAGE POWER.

Directors of the Storage Power Company met yesterday afternoon after the close of the market and elected officers and transacted other business of importance. Henry L. Sprague, who was temporarily acting as President of the company, became Vice President, and William Seward Webb was elected in his place. The other officer chosen was Edward Barr, who was named Secretary and Treasurer. Friends of the company say that it is closely allied with the New York Central Railroad, and point to the election of Mr. Webb as indicating the amicable relations existing between the Storage Power Company and New York Central interests.

Arrangements were made at the meeting to build a number of superheated water motors, and it was said after the meeting that the work on the motors already under construction was being pushed as rapidly as possible, and will probably be completed in the course of a few weeks. It is expected by the friends of the company that the new apparatus will prove very much more efficient than the experimental one, tests of which were made some time since on the tracks of the New York Central. With that engine a car was moved at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and it is said that much greater speed can be attained when the improved apparatus is put in operation. It is said that the preliminary tests were so satisfactory that the officers of the New York Central who have given attention to the matter feel little doubt of the success of the motors which are now being built at their suggestion.

The Storage Power Company intends to extend the use of superheated water engines to vehicles of various kinds, present plans contemplating among other things, the building of an autotruck for use in city streets. Those interested in this new form of power claim for it many advantages over other forms of stored energy, and say that not only is it more convenient than storage batteries, but also much less expensive. It is also said to be more practicable than compressed air; but the Storage Power Company owns a number of patents covering compressed air devices, and can use this power should it be found desirable for low-power motors. Apparatus used in the generation of superheated water and in charging the tanks used in connection with the motors are said to be very simple and inexpensive.

An officer of the company stated yesterday that a number of offers had been received by the company, many of them very favorable ones, looking to the acquisition from it of local rights for the use of the company's motors. These offers, it was said, are now under consideration.

DEALINGS IN STEEL STOCKS.

Notwithstanding the declaration yesterday of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent. on the preferred stock of the National Steel Company and the report that the earnings of the company were very satisfactory, the quotation for the preferred declined one-half point, and for the common a full 2½ points.

But as a matter of fact the stocks of nearly all the steel companies, though these companies are enjoying exceptional prosperity, seem to be under pressure at present. In the case of American Tin Plate, for instance, the common stock at one time yesterday fell below its listing price of 30, while the preferred went as low as 75, closing at 80, its listing price was 90.

The sensible people in the Street feel, however, that when the present illogical alarm over "trusts" and the misapprehension as to what may rightly be termed "a combination in restraint of trade" pass away, the iron and steel stocks will take the place to which by their remarkable prosperity and earnings they rightly are entitled.

RECOVERY IN PRICE.

Until the last hour of trading yesterday Brooklyn Rapid Transit was persistently hammered, until at one time the price touched 81⅛, and the talk was that before the week was over the 75 mark would easily be reached. Shortly before the close, however, the stock became much stronger, and on covering by shorts advanced to 83⅜, a net gain for the day of three-fourths of a point. There was absolutely no news in respect to the property.

UNION PACIFIC TUNNEL.

President Burk of the Union Pacific Railway is expected in the city to-morrow in company with a number of other officials of the road, and in connection with his visit it is intimated that the Directors will be asked to consent to tunneling Sherman Hill, in Wyoming, a distance of some eight miles. Officers in this city will not talk of the matter.

COTTON MOVEMENT.

That the cotton movement from the South is at last beginning in earnest is evident from the statement that within the last three days there have been $700,000 currency transfers at the Sub-Treasury for Southern account—and understood to be principally for cotton planters and dealers. This, of course, will mean a further increase in our favor in the balance of trade.

To offset Southern remittances, money from the West continues to come in.

THE BOND OFFERINGS.

The total disbursement for bonds at the Sub-Treasury yesterday was $2,496.42, paid out for 4's, offered in three lots.

In connection with the small offerings yesterday and the day previous it is said in some parts of the Street that holders are now unwilling to part with their bonds since learning of the proposal to refund outstanding bonds at 2 per cent. with a cash payment of the premium on them at the time of refunding.

COAL PRICES MAY ADVANCE.

It was said on the Street yesterday that perhaps to-day, and almost certainly this week, an advance in the small sizes of anthracite coal would be announced, of from 15 to 25 cents per ton. No confirmation of the report could be had, but it was said that there was, and had been for some weeks, a shortage in the small sizes.

HIGH PRICE FOR A SEAT.

A seat in the Stock Exchange was yesterday sold to F. T. Goldsmith of Goldsmith & Wolf, members of the Produce Exchange, for $40,000. This is the highest price ever paid for a seat in the Stock Exchange. Two seats recently sold commanded $39,000 each.

BUCKET SHOPS SUSPECTED.

During the last hour an increased supply of money made its appearance, and all securities enjoyed a substantial advance. The bulk of the loans was made at 6 per cent. In fact, it was noticeable that the advance took place on much lighter transactions than were necessary to secure the decline, and the advances were most pronounced in the stocks in which the bear attacks had been most aggressive. This gave some color to a report that the steel stocks and Brooklyn Rapid Transit had been attacked in the interests of a syndicate of bucket shops, whose clientele were heavily long of these stocks. Whether there is any truth in this rumor or not it is difficult to say, but it is a well-known fact that bucket shops are always willing to get their customers heavily long on slender margins of stocks which are comparatively easy to depress. The reason is obvious and needs no explanation.—Price, McCormick & Co.

WALL STREET FORGERY.

In a recent paragraph this bureau noted what was apparently an unscrupulous effort of some speculative interests to depress the cotton market by sending from New York night dispatches to the leading newspapers of the South, reading: "Reported here cotton market heavily overbought by South on slim margins and crash looked for. Can you confirm?" These dispatches were signed "J. B. King, 30 Broad Street." The only "J. B. King" at that address is John B. King, special agent of the United States for the Department of Mines and Metallurgy to the Paris Exposition of 1900. Mr. King has been absent from the city on business, and on his return to-day he emphatically and indignantly repudiated all connection with the dispatches referred to. The unauthorized use of his initials, name, and address is regarded as decisive proof of the outrageous character of the recent attempt to manipulate cotton prices, and regret is general that Mr. King's name should have been given publicity in such fashion.—New York News Bureau.

IRON AND STEEL.

Discussing the condition of the iron and metal trades, The Iron Age will to-day say:

As is natural after so long a period of the intensest activity, the iron and steel markets have quieted down considerably. A number of causes contribute to bring this about. Prominent among them is the circumstance that a large part of the requirements in many lines has been covered, not alone for the first half of 1900, but also for a part of the second half. This is notably true of Bessemer pig, and largely true of foundry irons. It is true also of steel rails, but to a more limited extent only of steel billets and sheet bars. Some of the large consuming interests for billets have covered pretty well into the Spring. Others, on the other hand, have been in the market for very considerable blocks for the first half, but profess to have views as to prices which sellers are quite unwilling to entertain. Billets, like a number of rolling mill products, have had an appearance of weakness lately, which is really nothing but a readjustment in prices. The days of high premiums to procure immediate delivery are over for the present, and values are on a more conservative and sounder basis, taking costs into consideration.

Another reason for the lull is closely connected with the season. A good deal of outdoor work in many sections of the country ceases altogether. Thus in building, and in many municipal improvements, consumption falls low. Usually manufacturers employ the dull time to accumulate stocks for the Spring trade, usually the largest from the point of tonnage of all the seasons. Even with the sharp lessons of the present year, manufacturers may be expected to be chary about filling their warehouses with goods into which relatively high-priced raw material must go. Nor are merchants, wholesale and retail, likely to stock up liberally at to-day's range of values in the face of possible adverse contingencies. Until there is clear evidence that the Spring trade will develop as well as the general prosperity of the country would seem to justify, buying is apt to be cautious.

***

The effect, if it develops at all, will take the form probably of increasing promptness of deliveries on the part of sellers, and later on of some desire on the part of consumers to have shipments deferred. An intermediate stage may be that consumers will find it convenient to accumulate some stock as a safeguard against the harassing delays to which they have been subjected.

It is believed, too, in the trade that the powerful influence of the great consolidations will be exerted toward preventing any serious fluctuations.

While costs have advanced all along the line, there are many wide differences in the influence of that factor. To many producers the full effect will not tell until we enter the second half of next year.

While export shipments continue in good volume, the great bulk of the material going out is on contracts taken long ago at low prices. For months in many leading lines new transactions have been small and infrequent. Still, even at the present level of values for the export trade some business is being done and more is pending. Thus we understand that a big block of cast-iron pipe is being figured on.

In the metal trade dullness is the general feature. Copper hovers nominally around 17 cents. Tin has been declining as seems only natural considering the fact that consumption has been dropping off. Spelter has advanced slightly in price.

COUNTRY CHECK COLLECTIONS.

During the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association at Cleveland last September a conference of Clearing Houses was held in the same city. It was attended by representatives of Clearing Houses throughout the United States, but this city was not officially represented. At the conference this committee was appointed to formulate recommendations in regard to the collection of country checks: F. W. Hayes, President of the Preston National Bank of Detroit, Chairman; Isaac G. Lombard, President America National Bank, Chicago; L. O. Cox, President Union National Bank, Louisville; Gilbert G. Thorne, cashier Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, and George S. Russell, cashier Bank of Commerce National Association, Cleveland. The committee held several meetings, the last one at the Union League Club, Chicago, and it has agreed on the following by-law, and recommends its adoption by Clearing Houses:

The Clearing House Association shall have power to establish rules and regulations regarding collections by members of the association, or banks, or trust companies, or others clearing through such members, and the rates to be charged for such collections, and also providing for the enforcement of the same. It may, from time to time, make any additions to or changes in such rules and regulations as it deems judicious. Any rule or regulation upon the subject must receive a majority vote of all the members, and when once established it shall not be altered until it has been in force at least three months, and then only by a majority vote of the Clearing House Association.

Chairman Hayes invites Clearing Houses to discuss this and to appoint sub-committees to confer with him. Officers of the New York Clearing House Association said last evening that it had not considered the subject, and did not know what course would be taken.

The committee says of its last conference in its report:

Not only the committee, but all the Chicago bankers invited to call upon the committee and express their views upon the whole subject, were unanimous in approval of the first resolution, (that the practice of charging exchange for handling out-of-town items was just and proper,) and all were agreed in the opinion that a great evil exists, which should be corrected in some way, and thereby save to the banks the losses now suffered from present methods.

After the full investigation made by your committee of conditions now existing in Chicago and other Clearing House cities, we are convinced that no plan can be evolved by this committee at the present time which will be effective in all the reserve cities of the United States on account of differing local conditions. Therefore, for the purpose of a thorough exposition of the subjects, your committee ask that each Clearing House Association discuss the matter and appoint a committee to confer with and furnish this committee, through its Chairman, Frederick W. Hayes of Detroit, such information as will be a benefit in solving the important question under discussion. Your committee also recommend that at such meeting of your Clearing House Association you give notice of an amendment to your constitution, in accordance with the recommendation of the conference.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Declaration of the regular Sugar dividends.

New York, New Haven and Hartford to issue $245,000 additional four per cent debenture bonds and $231,000 stock, the proceeds of which will be used mainly in paying for the Groton extension of the Norwich and Worcester division.

City of Baltimore to advertise for bids for $1,000,000 city stock, the greater part of which will be used to refund the loan covered by the third mortgage bonds of the Western Maryland Railroad guaranteed by the city.

Decrease of $16,262 in St. Joseph and Grand Island's surplus net earnings for October, but increase of $36,871 since July 1.

Conference between freight agents of the railroads in the Middle States and representatives of the trunk lines looking to a general advance in commodity rates.

Arrangements made for the completion of the organization of the Pere Marquette Company and transfer to it of the properties forming the consolidation.

Increase from 1¼ to 1½ per cent. in the semi-annual dividend rate on Atchison preferred stock.

Incorporation at Albany of the Columbia Long Distance Telephone Company with a capital of $50,000.

Withdrawal of all concessions on soft sugars by the American Sugar Refining Company.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call was 3@8 per

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Liquidation caused a number of declines yesterday in the market for outside securities, and although in some quarters of the market strength appeared, closing figures were generally lower than those of Tuesday. In very few stocks were the day's transactions in large volume, but little disposition was shown to buy and offerings of stock brought about more or less substantial recessions. Some few issues, however, including the most active ones, were notably strong and ended the day materially higher than Tuesday's close. Nearly all the business was supplied by Storage Power, Electric Axle, and a few other issues, while the majority of the list was very dull and in many cases stocks were offered down without sales.

STORAGE POWER was very active, and after an irregular course closed strong with a large net gain. It opened up from the previous day's closing bid, and on large sales advanced from 12 to 16¼. From this figure the stock fell back to 13. It was offered down by traders, who profited by the certain amount of profit taking to establish lower prices for the stock. This was the explanation offered by the friends of the company, who viewed the decline merely as a natural reaction after the large advance which had occurred during the last few days. It was found that not much stock was offered, and it very quickly recovered over 2 points. It closed at 15¾ bid, a net advance of 2¾ points over the previous day's closing bid.

AMALGAMATED COPPER was traded in only to the extent of a few hundred shares, and on these transactions sold from 85⅞, the opening sale, to 84⅛, the last price of the day. It closed at 84½ bid, a net loss of one-quarter of a point. No general interest was shown in the stock, for recently the copper stocks have not been active enough to attract much attention. Other copper stocks were very little changed.

ELECTRIC AXLE sold up to 7⅛ and closed at 6⅞ bid, a net gain of one-half a point. It was in good demand throughout the day and displayed much more strength than it has shown in some days. No news in regard to the company was had, but friends of the stock still attribute its strength to the progress being made in the company's business, and say that it will not be long before developments of interest will be made public.

NEW AMSTERDAM GAS was very weak at the close. Trading in these issues was very light. Sales in the bonds were made early in the day at 96¼, but late in the afternoon no better bid than 95 was had. Closing prices showed a net loss of three-quarters of a point in the common stock, while the preferred stock was offered down several points to 48½, and the best bid was 45. These declines seem due to selling by certain holders of the stock, who feel that the ultimate outcome of the local gas war has been put in much doubt by the long delay which has occurred in the efforts to bring about a cessation of the struggle between the several city gas companies.

HAVANA COMMERCIAL common was offered down to 10¾ and closed at 10 bid, a decline of about 2 points. Offerings of the preferred stock were had at the close at 60½ with 60 bid, which showed only a slight recession from Tuesday's closing bid. No special reason appeared for this decline, and it seemed due to the general condition of the market which resulted in a lack of demand for practically all issues other than those that have shown much activity recently.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was offered freely at 9¼ and the preferred stock sold down to 32, closing at 31 bid, a loss of nearly 2 points.

GENERAL CARRIAGE was not traded in at all and no bids were heard for the stock.

Closing quotations were as follows:

ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Gas Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Bay State Gas	1⅝	1¾
New Amsterdam	25¼	25¾
New Amsterdam pf	45	48½
New Amsterdam 5s with interest	95	96¼

Industrials.

American Agricultural Chemical	35	36
American Agricultural Chemical pf	78	79
American Bicycle	15	20
American Bicycle bonds	90	91
American Bicycle pf	..	60
American Hide & Leather	..	35
American Hide & Leather pf	..	80
American Woolen Goods	24	25
American Woolen Goods pf	80	81
American Writing Paper 5s	37	..
Beet Sugar	28	28
Beet sugar pf	..	79
Distilling Company of America	9	9½
Distilling Company of America pf	31	33
Electric Axle Light & Power	6⅞	7¼
Electric Boat	20	24
Electric Boat pf	42	45
Havana Commercial	16	16¾
Havana Commercial pf	60	60½
International Pump	16	18
International Pump pf	65	67
National Gramophone, ex. div	70¾	74
National Salt	47½	..
National Salt pf	78	79½
National Tube	..	47
National Tube pf	95	96
Otis Elevator	..	27
Otis Elevator pf	92	93½
Pittsburg Coal subs	96	..
Royal Baking Powder pf	94	98
Rubber Goods Mfg	30	30
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf	82	83
Sloss-Sheffield	35	35½
Sloss-Sheffield pf	..	74
Standard Oil of New Jersey, ex div	467	469
Union Steel & Chain	20	25
Union Steel & Chain pf	60	65
U. S. Pneumatic Hose Collar	..	½

Miscellaneous.

Amalgamated Copper	84½	84¾
American Air Power	45	50
American Cotton	..	50
American Lead	10¼	10¾
Asphalt Company of America	14¾	15
British Columbia Copper	10¾	11
Chicago & Alton subs	108¼	108½
Chicago & Alton 3s, (new)	95	96
Electric Vehicle	..	75
Electric Vehicle pf	100	105
*Electro-Pneumatic, assessment paid	1	1⅝
Flemington Coal & Coke	27	28¼
Illinois Transportation	3	3½
Manhattan Light & Heat	5	5
Markeem Copper	8	9¼
Mexican 6s	..	93½
New England Transportation	7	7½
New York Gas & Electric 4s	90¼	91
New York Gas & Electric 5s	102¾	103
New York Transportation	12	13
Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie	23¼	24
St. Louis subs	131	..
St. Louis common, when issued	26	31
St. Louis preferred, when issued	..	93
St. Louis 4s, when issued	..	94¾
Storage Power	15¾	15¾
Tennessee Copper	15	16
Trust Company of America	226	230
*Union Copper	..	28
Virginia Coal, Iron & Coke	30	31
Whipsaw Copper	12¾	13½

*Selling dollars per share. Par value, $10.

LESS ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Street Railways.

	Bid.	Asked.
Broadway & Seventh Avenue	230	240
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 1st	104	105
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 2d	110	112
Broadway, Surface 1st 5s	115	117
Broadway Surface 2d	105	107
Brooklyn City Railroad	238	240
Brooklyn, Bath & West End 5s	102	103
Central Park, N. & E. River	195	..
Central Park, N. & E. River 5s	107	109
Chicago Union Traction	28	28¾
Chicago Union Traction pf	73	73½
Columbus Railway	22	23½
Columbus Railway pf	88	90
Con. Traction of N. J.	64	65
Con. Traction of N. J. 5s	112	113
Eighth Avenue Railroad	400	410
Kings County Elevated 4s, (new)	87½	88½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av	72½	77½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 1st	116½	118
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 2d	89	91
Nassau Electric 4s	94	95
Nassau Electric 5s	111½	113
New Orleans Traction	30	..
New Orleans Traction pf	104	..
Ninth Avenue Railroad	190	205
North Jersey Street Railway	32½	..
North Jersey Street Railway 5s	95	94
Orange & Passaic Valley bonds	103	104
Steinway Railway Co. 6 p. c. 1st	117	118
Second Avenue Railroad consols	115½	117
Sixth Avenue Railroad	215	230
Syracuse Rapid Transit	12	18
Syracuse Rapid Transit pf	25	35
Union Railway 1st 5s	115	117
Union Railway stock	190	200
United Traction, Providence	112	113
Worcester (Mass.) Traction	30	32
Worcester (Mass.) Traction pf	104	107

Gas Companies.

Buffalo (N. Y.) stock	7	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st, with interest	78	80
Central Union 5s guaranteed	103¼	106
Consolidated Gas of Newark	56	..
Consolidated Gas of Newark bonds	105	106
Consolidated bonds of N. J.	87½	88½
Consolidated Gas of N. J.	21½	23½
Consumers' Gas (Jersey City) bonds	103	..
Denver Gas	43½	44½
Denver Gas 5s	84½	85½
Essex & Hudson Gas	42	45
Fort Wayne Gas	42	47
Fort Wayne Gas 6s	63	65
Indianapolis Gas	102	108
Indianapolis Gas bonds	103	105
Lafayette Gas Co.	42	50
Lafayette Gas Co. 1st 6s	64	70
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas	42	48
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas 6s	64	70
Mutual Gas of New York	200	..
Madison (Wis.) stock	81	83
New England Gas & Coke	25	27
New England Gas & Coke bonds	77½	78
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st	110	113
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con	100	112
N. Y. Suburban Gas Co. con	102½	103¾
North Hudson L., H. & P. Co.	55	56
North End L., H. & P. Co. bonds	107	109
Ohio & Indiana	42	48
Ohio & Indiana 1st 6s	64	67
St. Joseph (Mo.)	40	46
St. Joseph (Mo.) 6s	96	98
St. Paul Gas stock	58	61
St. Paul Gas bonds	89	91
Standard Gas, New York	112½	115
Standard Gas, New York, pf	140	..
Standard Gas 1st	116	118
Syracuse Gas stock	14	16
Syracuse Gas 1st 5 per cent. bonds	85	90
Western Gas	106½	107½
Western Gas 1st 5s, with interest	105	106⅝

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	30	33
Hoboken Ferry, (new)	67	69
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s	94	96
Metropolitan Ferry 5s	110	112
Union Ferry	41½	43
Union Ferry bonds	101⅜	102½

Industrials.

American Ginning	20	22
American Type Founders'	52⅜	54
Anderson Tobacco Company	10	12
Barney & Smith	22	25
Barney & Smith pf	98	..
Barney & Smith bonds	105	107
Consolidated Rubber Tire	5	7
Consolidated Rubber Tire pf	38	45
Cramps' Shipyard	84	88
General Chemical	59	..
General Chemical pf	97½	100
Hudson River Telephone	110	115
Lorillard Company pf	116	117
Standard Coupler	38	42
Trenton Potteries	6	10
Trenton Potteries pf	45	55
Union Typewriter	27½	28½
Union Typewriter 1st pf	114	115½
Union Typewriter 2d pf	120	123
Worthington Pump pf	107	109

Miscellaneous.

American Bank Note	47	50
Central & South American Tel	110	112
Iron Steamboat	3	5
Iron Steamboat bonds	50	66
Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis	6	8
Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis pf	23	25

SECURITIES AT AUCTION.

Adrian H. Muller & Son sold yesterday at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, the following securities:

500 shares Canadian Pacific Railway Company, $100 each, 93⅜ to 93¾.

100 shares Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company, $100 each, 332.

250 shares Brooklyn Union Gas Company, $100 each, 197.

16 shares Elizabeth Library Association of Elizabeth, N. J., $25 each, $10 lot.

$5,000 Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad 5 per cent. certificates of indebtedness, due July 1, 1903, interest January and July, 103⅝.

$70,000 International and Great Northern Railway Company second mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due Sept. 1, 1900, interest March and September, 90.

$25,000 Brooklyn Union Gas Company first consolidated mortgage 5 per cent. gold registered bonds, due May 1, 1945, interest May and November, 110½ and interest.

$5,000 Arkansas State 6 per cent. funded debt bonds, dated Jan. 1, 1870, January, 1873, coupons on, coupons January and July, $35 lot.

$3,000 Elizabeth City (N. J.) 4 per cent. adjustment bonds, due July, 1922, interest January and July, 102.

400 shares Stuyvesant Fire Insurance Company, $25 each, 70½.

$8,000 Canada Southern Railroad first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1908, coupons January and July, $1,000 each, 108.

$7,500 Central Railroad of New Jersey 5 per cent. general mortgage registered bonds, due 1987, interest January, April, July, and October, 1 of $5,000, 2 of $1,000 each, and 1 of $500, 48¾.

$3,000 Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad first consolidated 5 per cent. bonds, due 1939, coupons May and November, $1,000 each, 116¼.

$10,000 Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad (Iowa Division) 5 per cent. sinking fund bonds, due 1919, coupons April and October, $1,000 each, 112⅝.

$6,000 Chicago and Northwestern Railroad 7 per cent. consolidated sinking fund bonds, due 1915, coupons February, May, August, and November, $1,000 each, 142⅝.

$8,000 Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1917, coupons January and July, $1,000 each, 131⅝.

$7,000 Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad first consolidated 6 per cent. bonds, due 1930, coupons June and December, $1,000 each, 134.

$3,000 Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railroad first consolidated registered 6 per cent. bonds, due 1930, interest June and December, $1,000 each, 133⅝.

$4,000 Kings County Elevated Railroad first mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, due 1949, coupons February and August, $1,000 each, 87½.

6 shares Brooklyn Rapid Transit Railroad Company, $100 each, 90.

$5,000 Michigan Central Railroad first consolidated 7 per cent. registered bonds, due 1902, interest May and November, $1,000 each, 108¼.

$15,000 Michigan Central Railroad first consolidated 5 per cent. registered bonds, due 1902, interest May and November, $1,000 each, 103½.

$5,000 Morris and Essex Railroad 7 per cent. convertible registered bonds, due January, 1900, interest January and July, $1,000 each, 102½.

$4,000 New York Central and Hudson River Railroad 4 per cent. debenture certificates, extended, due 1905, coupons May and November, $1,000 each, 101½.

$5,000 Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie Railroad first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1940, coupons April and October, $1,000 each, 112½.

$5,000 St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad second mortgage 6 per cent. registered bonds, due 1909, interest April and October, $1,000 each, 119¼.

$6,000 Wabash Railroad first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1939, coupons May and November, $1,000 each, 114.

$2,500 West Shore Railroad first mortgage 4 per cent. registered bonds, due 2361, interest January and July, two of $1,000 each and one of $500, 110⅝.

$10,000 Western Union Telegraph Company 5 per cent. collateral trust bonds, due 1938, interest January and July, $1,000 each, 113¼.

$2,000 Coney Island and Brooklyn Railroad Company first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due July, 1903, 104.

$15,000 Railroad Equipment Company 6 per cent. bonds, (special car trust loan,) secured by mortgage made by the Canda Cattle Company, due February, 1903, "Series D-6," interest quarterly, February, 50.

$10,000 Railroad Equipment Company 6 per cent. bonds, (special loan,) secured by lease warrants issued under contract to Consolidated Cattle Car Company, due November, 1902, "Series B," interest May and November, 27.

$6,000 Staten Island Electric Railroad first mortgage consolidated 5 per cent. bonds, November, 1898, coupons on, 21½.

$500 Staten Island Electric Railroad first mortgage consolidated 5 per cent. bonds, November, 1898, coupons on, scrip, 3.

5 shares International Banking and Trust Company, $100 each, 160.

8 shares Home Insurance Company, $100 each, 375½.

25 shares Westchester Trust Company of Yonkers, $100 each, 187.

$1,000 Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery Railroad Company 5 per cent. mortgage gold bond, due Dec. 1, 1932, interest June and December, accrued interest from Dec. 1 to be charged to the purchaser, 117½.

10 shares International Trust Company, $100 each, 160.

10 shares Morton Trust Company, $100 each, 2,121.

6 shares Bankers' Trust Company, $100 each, 214⅞.

9 shares Trust Company of America, $100 each, 230.

125 shares the Arizona Copper Smelting Company, $10 each, $1001 lot.

100 shares United States Trust Company, $100 each, 1,650.

25 shares Colonial Trust Company, $100 each, 305½.

3 shares Trust Company of America, $100 each, 226.

5 shares International Banking and Trust Company, $100 each, 161.

2 shares City Trust Company, $100 each, 391.

10 shares Bank of Manhattan Company, $50 each, 252¼.

10 shares Merchants' National Bank, $50 each, 175½.

50 shares American Surety Company, $50 each, 200¼.

25 shares Title Guarantee and Trust Company, $100 each, 400.

$1,000 New York, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company's first mortgage 6 per cent. registered bond, due 1921. Interest January and July, 137.

$18,000 Minneapolis and St. Louis Railroad first consolidated 5 per cent. gold bonds, due November, 1934. Interest May and November, 112⅝.

10 shares Tilden State Bank, Tilden, Neb., (hypothecated,) 80.

20 shares First National Bank of Douglas, Wyoming, (hypothecated,) 80.

185 shares Commercial Bank of Moscow, Moscow, Idaho, (dypothecated,) $45 lot.

160 shares Central Coal and Coke Company, preferred, (hypothecated,) 60.

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows: Wednesday. Tuesday.

Alta	.06	.06
Alpha Con	.04	.04
Andes	.13	.14
Belcher	.31	.30
Best & Belcher	.46	.46
Bullion	.05	.05
Caledonia	.61	.61
Challenge Con	.22	.23
Chollar	.21	.22
Confidence	.85	.84
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.25	2.00
Con. Imperial	.01	.01
Crown Point	.22	.22
Gould & Curry	.17	.17
Hale & Norcross	.39	.39
Julia	.02	.02
Justice	.03	.03
Kentucky Con	.01	.03
Lady Washington Con	.06	.06
Mexican	.50	.52
Occidental Con	.18	.17
Ophir	1.00	1.00
Overman	.17	.16
Potosi	.26	.28
Savage	.15	.17
Sag Belcher	.05	.05
Sierra Nevada	.59	.57
Standard	2.75	2.75
Syndicate	.06	.06
St. Louis	.08	.06
Union Con	.37	.37
Utah Con	.08	.08
Yellow Jacket	.18	.17
Silver bars	58⅞@59	58⅞@59
Mexican dollars	47½@48¼	47½@48¼
Drafts, sight	.17½	.07½
Telegraph	.12½	.12½

TREASURY BALANCES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—To-day's statement of the condition of the Treasury shows:

Available cash balance	$286,225,346
Gold reserve	238,065,588
Net silver	9,768,425
U. S. notes in the Treasury	15,549,813
Treasury notes of 1890	1,210,883
Total receipts, this day	1,055,709
Total receipts, this month	10,693,139
Total receipts, this year	248,727,528
Total expenditures, this day	1,510,000
Total expenditures, this month	8,705,000
Total expenditures, this year	233,326,000
Deposits in National banks	32,701,273
Silver bullion	134,111
National banknotes received for redemption	368,791
Government receipts: From customs	880,490
Internal revenue	931,884
Miscellaneous	143,544

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Wednesday, Dec. 6, 1899.

—Closing.— Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
112	114	140	Adams Express	112	112	112	112	−2⅝
15½	15⅝	580	Am. Car & Foundry	15½	15½	15⅛	15¼	− ⅝
61	62	1,140	Am. Car & Found. pf.	61½	61½	61	61	− ¾
33¼	33⅝	230	American Ice	33⅜	33⅜	33⅜	33⅜	+ ⅛
76	78	100	American Ice pf	76	76	76	76	− ½
34¼	34⅝	1,280	American Cotton Oil	34¼	34½	34	34⅜	− ⅛
95	96	300	Am. Cotton Oil pf	95	96	95	96	.....
12½	12¼	990	American Linseed	13	13	12	12¼	− ⅜
54½	55	1,025	Am. Linseed pf	55⅜	55⅜	54	54⅜	+ ⅛
145	148	100	American Express	145	145	145	145	−3⅝
9¾	10½	750	American Malting Co.	10	10	9½	9¾	.....
43½	45	280	Am. Malting Co. pf	41	41	41	41	.....
38¾	39	1,650	Am. Smelt. & Ref.	38½	39	37⅞	38⅝	+ ½
89¼	89½	1,280	Am. Smelt. & Ref. pf.	90⅜	90⅜	88⅜	89½	−1⅛
45¼	45½	20,435	American Steel & Wire	46⅝	46⅝	45¼	45½	−1¼
94	94½	795	Am. Steel & Wire pf	95	95	93½	93⅞	−1¼
152	152½	96,684	Am. Sugar Ref. Co.	152	153	149⅝	152	+ ⅝
118	119½	100	Am. Sugar Ref. Co. pf.	118⅝	118⅝	118⅝	118⅝	.....
96	99	107	Am. Tel. & Cable Co.	98½	98½	97	97	.....
29½	30	5,260	American Tin Plate	32	32	28⅜	30	−2¼
79	80	2,030	Am. Tin Plate pf	81	81	75	80	−2
113⅞	114½	23,510	American Tobacco	115	115	113¼	114	−1
45½	46	6,310	Am. Steel Hoop	46	46	42¼	45½	−1
82¼	82½	3,100	Am. Steel Hoop pf	82½	82⅝	81½	82	−1
43¾	44	2,210	Anaconda Copper	43½	43½	42⅝	43	− ⅛
22¼	22½	4,075	At., T. & S. F.	22¼	22½	22	22¼	− ⅛
64⅞	65	19,579	At., T. & S. F. pf	64⅜	65⅛	64⅜	65	− ⅛
56	56½	2,153	Baltimore & Ohio	56⅜	56⅞	55⅝	56	− ⅛
82	82¼	7,489	Baltimore & Ohio pf	81½	82	80½	82	+1⅛
83⅜	83½	74,144	Brooklyn Rapid Tran.	83	84	81½	83⅜	+ ⅛
138	139	300	Brooklyn Union Gas	138½	138½	138¼	138¼	− ⅛
..	..	240	Brunswick City	15	15⅞	15	15⅞	− ⅛
53	54	375	Canada Southern	53¼	53⅞	52⅝	52⅝	− ⅛
94	94½	200	Canadian Pacific	94	94	94	94	− ⅛
93	95	200	Capital Traction	93	93	93	93	− ⅛
30½	30⅝	11,730	Chesapeake & Ohio	30½	30½	30	30½	+ ⅛
132½	132⅞	12,327	Chi., Bur. & Quincy	132½	133	131¼	132⅞	+ ⅛
96½	96	200	Chicago & Eastern Ill.	96¼	96¼	96	96	− ⅛
14	14½	3,150	Chicago Great West.	14	14½	14	14½	− ⅛
81½	82	530	Chi. Gr. West. pf. A.	81⅞	81⅞	80½	81½	−1⅛
39½	41	110	Chi. Gr. West. pf., B.	40⅝	40⅝	40⅝	40⅝	+1⅛
90½	91½	550	Chi. Gr. West., deb.	90⅞	91⅞	90⅞	91⅝	.....
15	15½	200	Chi., Ind. & Louis.	15	15	15	15	+ ⅝
49	49½	115	Chi., Ind. & Louis. pf.	49	49	49	49	+1
123½	123¾	5,690	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul.	123½	123⅞	122⅞	123¾	+ ⅝
167	169	150	Chicago & Northw.	166	166	166	166	−2
202	205	14	Chi. & Northw. pf.	201	201	201	201	.....
112¼	112¾	3,050	Chi., R. I. & Pac.	112½	112½	111⅞	112⅝	+ ⅜
12	12⅛	870	Chi. Term. Trans	12	12½	12	12	−1
39	40	875	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	41	41	39	39	−1¼
62½	62⅝	2,210	C., C., C. & St. L.	62¼	62⅝	62¼	62⅜	+ ⅛
12	15	200	Cleve., Lor. & Wheel.	14½	15¼	14½	15¼	+ ½
53⅞	54¼	3,200	Colorado Fuel & Iron.	53⅜	54½	52½	53¾	+ ⅛
9¾	10	1,000	Colorado Midland	9¾	10¼	9½	10	+ ⅛
22¾	23	210	Colorado Midland pf.	22½	23	22½	23	+ ⅛
6⅜	6¼	1,400	Colorado Southern	6⅜	6¼	6	6	− ⅛
47	47½	437	Col. Southern 1st pf.	47	47½	47	47½	− ⅝
18	18	125	Col. Southern 2d pf.	18	18	18	18	−1
192	193	2,383	Consolidated Gas	192	193	191	192	.....
39½	40	10,690	Continental Tobacco	39½	40	38½	39⅝	+ ⅛
91¼	91¾	1,015	Continental Tobac. pf.	91¼	91¼	90½	91	− ⅛
120	120	1,520	Delaware & Hudson	120	120	118¾	119½	− ½
187	187	2,380	Del., Lack. & West.	187	187	185	185½	−2
205	205½	1,950	Denver & Rio Grande.	205⅜	205⅜	201½	201½	− ⅛
72¾	74	40	Denver & R. G. pf.	72¾	73¼	72¾	73¼	.....
15½	16½	300	Dul., S. S. & At. pf.	15¼	16	15¼	16	.....
37	37¼	500	Erie 1st pf	37	37	37	37	− ¾
44⅜	44⅝	300	Evans. & T. H.	44⅜	44⅝	44¼	44¼	− ⅝
90	91	200	Evans. & T. H. pf.	90	90	90	90	.....
60⅜	60½	46,555	Federal Steel	60½	60½	58⅝	60½	+ ⅝
80½	80¼	3,300	Federal Steel pf	80½	80¼	79	80½	.....
125	126	2,950	General Electric	125	126	124⅝	125⅞	+ ⅞
50½	51	625	Glucose Sugar Ref.	50⅞	50⅞	49½	49½	−2⅝
98	100	180	Glucose Sugar Ref. pf.	99	99	99	99	−1
176¾	177½	1,200	Great Northern pf.	177	177½	176	177	+1
32	34	100	Hocking Valley	33	33	33	33	− ⅝
63⅝	64	319	Hocking Valley pf.	64	64	63⅞	64	+ ⅜
114	114¼	1,012	Illinois Central	114⅜	114⅜	114	114	+ ⅛
21½	22½	500	International Paper.	21½	22	21¼	22	+ ½
68	69	365	Internat. Paper pf.	69	69	69	69	.....
13½	14	10	Iowa Central	13¼	13¼	13¼	13¼	.....
56½	57	400	Iowa Central pf	56	56⅝	56	56½	+ ⅝
9½	10¼	400	K. C., Pitts. & Gulf	9½	9½	9½	9½	+ ⅛
82½	83	2,200	Laclede Gas	82	85	82	83	+1
20⅜	20⅝	300	Lake Erie & West.	20	20	20	20	.....
80	80½	20	Lake Erie & West. pf.	79¾	79¾	79¾	79¾	.....
84	84⅞	8,135	Louisville & Nashville.	83⅝	84¼	83⅜	84	+ ¾
103¾	104	23,195	Manhattan Con	104¼	102⅝	104	104	− ⅛
80½	82	433	Met. St. Ry. El., Chi., pf	80¼	82	81¼	82	.....
192½	192¾	2,120	Met. Street Railway	192¼	192⅜	191½	192⅜	− ¼
12⅜	13	310	Mexican Central	12⅜	12⅝	12⅜	12⅜	− ⅛
4⅝	4¾	420	Mexican National ctfs.	4⅝	4⅝	4½	4⅝	− ⅛
66	66½	500	Minn. & St. Louis	66	66½	66	66½	− ⅛
96½	98	50	Minn. & St. L. 2d pf.	98	98	98	98	.....
38½	38¾	2,700	Mo., Kan. & Texas pf.	37⅞	38⅛	37½	38⅛	+ ⅛
47¼	47½	6,600	Missouri Pacific	46¾	47½	46¾	47¼	+ ¼
182	184	158	Morris & Essex	182	182	182	182	+1½
39	39½	980	National Biscuit Co.	38	39	37½	39	−2
93	94	10	Nat. Biscuit Co. pf.	94¼	94¼	94¼	94¼	.....
29	29¼	1,000	National Lead Co.	29	29½	28¾	29¼	− ⅛
43	43⅜	6,565	National Steel	45½	45½	41	43¼	−2¼
93	94	1,043	Nat. Steel pf	94	94	93	93¼	− ⅛
119⅝	120	2,000	New Jersey Central	120½	120½	118¾	119½	−1½
133⅝	133¾	5,700	New York Central	133¼	133½	132⅜	133¼	− ⅛
4⅞	5	9,258	N. Y. Central, rights	4⅞	5	4⅞	5	+ ⅛
215	218	200	N. Y., N. H. & H.	215	215	215	215	.....
25	25¼	4,840	N. Y., Ont. & West.	25	25½	24⅞	25¼	+ ⅛
26¼	26½	3,370	Norfolk & Western	26⅜	26⅝	26	26⅝	+ ⅛
70¼	70¼	942	Norfolk & West. pf.	70⅜	70½	70	70⅛	.....
14⅞	15⅜	3,100	North American	14⅞	15⅜	14⅝	15⅝	+1
55⅜	55⅞	9,980	Northern Pacific	55⅝	55⅞	55¼	55⅝	+ ½
76¼	75⅞	3,720	Northern Pacific pf.	76	75⅞	75½	75⅞	+ ⅛
50	51	400	Pacific Coast	50½	50½	50½	50½	.....
87	90	100	Pacific Coast 1st pf.	86	86	86	86	−1½
47½	47¾	4,435	Pacific Mail	48¼	48⅜	46⅞	47¼	− ½
134½	134⅜	3,812	Pennsylvania R. R.	134¼	134⅜	133⅜	134⅜	+ ½
111⅜	111½	3,310	People's Gas, Chicago.	111¼	111½	111¼	111½	+ ⅜
..	..	485	Peo., Dec. & Evans	3⅞	4	3⅞	3⅞	+

BANK STATEMENTS.

[No. 3,415.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF SEABOARD NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$8,605,847.93
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		67.22
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		100,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		10,264.47
Stocks, securities, &c.		863,888.12
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		874,557.30
Due from State banks and bankers		50,299.89
Checks and other cash items		4,773.22
Exchanges for Clearing House		621,895.00
Notes of other National banks		9,195.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		607.10
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,089,061.50
Legal-tender notes	936,900.00
U. S. certificates of deposit for legal tenders	200,000.00
		3,225,961.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer (other than 5 per cent. redemption fund)		10,000.00
Total		$14,479,526.75

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$500,000.00
Surplus fund		500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		129,547.08
National bank notes outstanding		44,110.00
Due to other National banks		5,024,337.35
Due to State banks and bankers	2,583,493.27
Individual deposits subject to check	4,226,294.50
Demand certificates of deposit	12,484.50
Deposits held for acceptances	277,302.14
Cashier's checks outstanding	236,957.91
United States deposits	95,000.00
		13,305,869.67
Total		$14,479,526.75

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, S. G. BAYNE, President of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. S. G. BAYNE, President.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of December, 1899. W. K. CLEVERLEY, Notary Public, Kings Co. Cert. filed in New York Co.

Correct—Attest:
DAN'L O'DAY,
FRANKLIN QUINBY,
STUART G. NELSON, } Directors.

[No. 3,700.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE WESTERN NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$25,121,800.93
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		127,461.10
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		540,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		52,487.84
Stocks, securities, &c.		866,397.14
Other real estate and mortgages owned		656,506.30
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		1,146,119.33
Due from State banks and bankers		113,512.37
Checks and other cash items		22,376.95
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,583,901.66
Notes of other National banks		26,105.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		18.24
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$5,538,557.00
Legal-tender notes	1,841,511.00
		7,400,068.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund		198,000.00
Total		$37,887,604.86

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$2,100,000.00
Surplus fund and undivided profits, net		1,292,780.13
National bank notes outstanding		44,997.50
Dividends unpaid		959.00
Individual deposits subject to check	$11,865,660.61
Demand certificates of deposit	7,022.19
Certified checks	65,217.16
Cashier's checks outstanding	127,580.20
		12,065,480.16
Due to other National banks	$17,631,936.28
Due to State banks and bankers	9,641,821.35
		27,273,757.63
United States deposits		4,075,337.15
United States bond account		3,765,880.00
		$51,793,332.41
United States bonds borrowed		901,000.60
Total		$55,877,980.74

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, WM. HALLS, Jr., Cashier of the Hanover National Bank of the City of New York, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. WM. HALLS, Jr. Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this sixth day of December, 1899.
ELMER E. WHITTAKER, Notary Public, Kings County.
Certificate filed in New York County.

Correct—Attest:
ELIJAH P. SMITH,
JAS. T. WOODWARD,
ISIDOR STRAUS, } Directors.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE HANOVER NATIONAL BANK, of the City of New York, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec 2d, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$26,408,569.15
Overdrafts		1,570.90
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		1,000,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure deposits		4,147,100.00
U. S. bonds on hand		98,260.00
Premium on U. S. bonds		112,724.22
Stocks, securities, etc.		4,279,059.54
Banking house		1,350,000.00
Due from other National banks		1,192,647.41
Due from State banks and bankers		597,841.01
Checks and other cash items		24,880.69
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,624,164.12
Notes of other National banks		32,110.00
Nickels and pennies		237.86
Specie		9,519,277.50
Legal-tender notes		1,359,290.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer		45,000.00
		$51,793,332.41

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		2,200,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		511,918.47
National bank notes outstanding		900,000.00
Dividends unpaid		959.00
Individual deposits subject to check	$11,865,660.61
Demand certificates of deposit	7,022.19
Certified checks	65,217.16
Cashier's checks outstanding	127,580.20
		12,065,480.16
Due to other National banks	$17,631,936.28
Due to State banks and bankers	9,641,821.35
		27,273,757.63
United States deposits		4,075,337.15
United States bond account		3,765,880.00
		$51,793,332.41
Total		$85,877,980.74

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, W. C. DUVALL, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. W. C. DUVALL, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. WARREN C. FRENCH, Jr., Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
CHARLES LANIER,
G. G. HAVEN,
JOHN S. KENNEDY, } Directors.

[No. 733.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$20,084,032.81
Overdrafts		74.30
United States bonds to secure circulation		2,000,000.00
United States bonds to secure United States deposits		1,201,000.00
Premiums on United States bonds		122,928.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		2,053,502.97
Real estate		2,274,800.00
Due from National banks		2,195,909.60
Due from State banks and bankers		68,481.97
Checks and other cash items		38,318.55
Exchanges for Clearing House		3,552,858.41
Notes of other National banks		48,340.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		2,284.73
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$897,584.40
Legal-tender notes	1,247,865.00	2,145,449.40
Redemption fund with United States Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		90,000.00
Total		$85,877,980.74

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$5,000,000.00
Surplus fund		2,000,000.00
Undivided profits less expenses and taxes paid		1,778,778.89
National bank notes outstanding		1,788,130.00
Due to other National banks		5,605,836.39
Due to State banks and bankers		6,916,848.48
Dividends unpaid		4,786.00
Individual deposits subject to check		10,250,549.15
Demand certificates of deposit		9,825.00
Certified checks and acceptances		344,588.36
Cashier's checks outstanding		12,640.07
United States deposits		1,232,656.47
Deposits of United States disbursing officers		32,391.93
United States bonds borrowed		901,000.60
Total		$85,877,980.74

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, WM. C. DUVALL, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. W. C. DUVALL, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. IRA HARRIS, Notary Public, Kings Co., N. Y. Co. Certificate filed in N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
JAMES H. HYDE,
SIDNEY F. TYLER,
BRAYTON IVES, } Directors.

BANK STATEMENTS.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NATIONAL CITY BANK
OF NEW YORK,
At New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, December 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$60,903,540.74
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		2,494.82
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		900,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		13,755,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		905,017.27
Stocks, securities, etc.		11,470,221.12
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		200,000.00
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		4,157,104.36
Due from State banks and bankers		178,332.60
Checks and other cash items		352,358.92
Exchanges for Clearing House		5,936,219.12
Notes of other National banks		16,930.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		536.45
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Gold	$26,801,671.00
Legal tenders	2,701,558.00
		29,503,229.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation)		40,500.00
Total		$128,315,484.40

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock		$1,000,000.00
Surplus and undivided profits, (net)		4,938,665.51
National banknotes outstanding		770,550.00
Dividends unpaid		1,370.00
Provident reserve fund	$30,000.00
Individual deposits subject to check	71,906,915.84
Demand certificates of deposit	3,599,667.50
Certified checks	470,461.59
Cashier's checks outstanding	255,904.09
	$76,472,949.02
Due to other National bk's.	$16,933,042.35
Due to State Banks and bankers	6,429,650.51
	23,362,692.86
United States deposits	13,739,257.01
		113,574,898.89
United States bond account		8,030,000.00
Total		$128,315,484.40

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, GILSON S. WHITSON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. G. S. WHITSON, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, his 5th day of December, 1899. EDWIN F. COREY, Notary Public, New York County.

Correct—Attest:
WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER,
JACOB H. SCHIFF,
CLEVELAND H. DODGE, } Directors.

[No. 687.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL BROADWAY BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$5,703,717.17
United States bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		159,952.38
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		700,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		332,432.74
Due from State banks and bankers		16,650.29
Checks and other cash items		60,945.06
Exchanges for Clearing House		171,898.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		310.18
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$961,497.65
Legal-tender notes	158,410.00
		1,119,907.65
Redemption fund with United States Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Due from United States Treasurer, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund		9,159.74
Total		$8,336,153.21

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		624,805.97
National bank notes outstanding		45,000.00
Due to other National banks	$1,290,389.79
Due to State banks and bankers	28,825.76
		1,319,215.55
Dividends unpaid		3,033.39
Individual deposits subject to check	$4,315,992.08
Demand certificates of deposit	1,931.00
Certified checks	24,151.87
Cashier's checks outstanding	2,523.35
		4,344,598.30
Total		$8,336,153.21

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, CHARLES J. DAY, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. CHAS. J. DAY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. LINCOLN A. STUART, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
ADOLPH RUSCH,
DAVID S. WALTON,
GEO. J. FERRY, } Directors.

[No. 917.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NATIONAL SHOE AND LEATHER BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,236,652.53
United States bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Premiums on United States bonds		6,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		175,197.50
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		490,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		369,892.61
Due from State banks and bankers		42,534.07
Checks and other cash items		13,720.31
Exchanges for Clearing House		268,130.21
Notes of other National banks		2,070.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		2,040.49
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$706,333.00
Legal-tender notes	248,695.00
		955,028.00
Redemption fund with United States Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Total		$5,613,515.72

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		105,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		65,098.86
National bank notes outstanding		45,000.00
Due to other National banks	$568,643.30
Due to State banks and bankers	172,361.78
Dividends unpaid	112.00
Individual deposits subject to check	3,565,228.96
Demand certificates of deposit	19,084.97
Certified checks	55,862.67
Cashier's checks outstanding	17,128.18
		4,398,416.86
Total		$5,613,515.72

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, JOHN I. COLE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. JOHN I. COLE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. E. J. ANTHONY, Notary Public, Kings Co., No. 8. Certificate filed in N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
JOS. S. STOUT,
WM. C. HORN,
JOHN M. CRANE, } Directors.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
NEW YORK NATIONAL EXCHANGE BANK,
At the close of business, December 2d, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,075,719.13
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		153.40
United States bonds to secure circulation		110,000.00
Premium on United States bonds		11,200.00
Stocks, securities, etc.		16,695.00
Furniture and fixtures		5,400.00
Real estate owned		10,000.00
Due from National banks	$219,004.43
Due from State banks and bankers	17,267.97
Checks and other cash items	10,068.10
Exchanges for Clearing House	174,752.17
Notes of other National banks	2,900.00
Nickels and cents	311.13
Specie	344,104.00
Legal-tender notes	250,007.00
Redemption fund with United States Treas. (5 per cent. of circulation).	4,950.00	1,023,264.80
Total		$3,252,432.33

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000.00
Surplus fund		50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		28,063.96
Dividends unpaid		72.00
National bank notes outstanding		99,000.00
Due to other National banks	$441,548.90
Due to State banks and bankers	83,724.21
Individual deposits subject to check	2,219,860.65
Demand certificates of deposit	532.00
Certified checks	26,833.29
Cashier's checks outstanding	2,797.32	2,775,296.37
Total		$3,252,432.33

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, LEWIS E. PIERSON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. LEWIS E. PIERSON, Cashier.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 6th day of December, 1899. F. M. BURGER, Notary Public, No. 261.

Correct—Attest:
JAMES ROWLAND,
JAMES M. DONALD,
HUDSON HOAGLAND, } Directors.

BANK STATEMENTS.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK,
New York, at the close of business on the 2d day of December, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,890,216.03
Overdrafts		66.81
U. S. bonds		356,100.00
U. S. bonds to secure deposits		100,000.00
Other stocks and bonds		359,101.77
Premiums		58,693.50
Real estate, banking house		1,000,000.00
Other real estate		250,000.00
Specie	$1,263,693.10
Legal tenders and bank notes	198,536.00
Due from Treasurer of U. S.	15,750.00
Exchanges for Clearing House	127,186.21
Due from banks	152,545.07
Other cash items	24,363.66
		1,782,074.64
Total		$7,791,252.75

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		31,622.44
Circulation		305,440.00
Dividends unpaid		1,391.50
Deposits:
Individual	$3,262,524.34
National banks	1,884,181.18
State banks	649,697.82
Acceptances	29,241.66
Certificates of deposit	21,344.10
Cashier's checks	5,809.71
		5,852,798.81
U. S. deposits		100,000.00
Total		$7,791,252.75

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, ALFRED H. TIMPSON, Cashier, of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. ALFRED H. TIMPSON, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. J. PROVOST MASON, Notary Public, N. Y. County.

Correct—Attest:
CHARLES H. MARSHALL,
BENJAMIN PERKINS,
EDWIN C. STURGES, } Directors.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE GALLATIN NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$5,746,473.30
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		29.22
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		1,000,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		49,778.10
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,044,820.25
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		500,000.00
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		192,011.45
Due from State banks and bankers		10,989.18
Checks and other cash items		58,425.65
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,238,693.06
Notes of other National banks		27,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		145.33
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$1,130,755.25
Legal-tender notes	482,702.00
		1,613,457.25
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation)		45,000.00
Total		$11,526,322.79

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		718,589.72
National bank notes outstanding		877,510.00
Due to other National banks		1,863,165.14
Due to State banks and bankers		719,015.18
Dividends unpaid		493.00
Individual deposits subject to check		4,977,081.67
Demand certificates of deposit		4,001.41
Certified checks		366,440.72
Cashier's checks outstanding		25.95
Total		$11,526,322.79

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, SAMUEL WOOLVERTON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. SAMUEL WOOLVERTON, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. H. L. BRAYNARD, Notary Public, Westchester Co. Cert. filed in New York Co.

Correct—Attest:
F. D. TAPPEN,
W. EMLEN ROOSEVELT,
A. H. STEVENS, } Directors.

[No. 1,116.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NEW YORK COUNTY NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, 2d December, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,843,501.75
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		2,680.72
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, etc.		1,365,575.01
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		60,000.00
Other real estate and mortgages owned		79,479.21
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		140,748.94
Checks and other cash items		46,502.12
Exchanges for Clearing House		213,510.18
Notes of other National banks		47,344.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		12,548.45
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$793,183
Legal-tender notes	55,333
		848,516.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treas'r, (5 % of circulation)		2,250.00
Total		$4,712,656.98

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$200,000.00
Surplus fund		40,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		373,568.66
National bank notes outstanding		45,000.00
Due to State banks and bankers		430,276.44
Individual deposits subject to check		3,372,892.53
Demand certificates of deposit		12,232.00
Certified checks		37,042.24
Cashier's checks outstanding		1,645.11
Bills payable		200,000.00
Total		$4,712,656.98

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, FRANCIS M. BREESE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. FRANCIS M. BREESE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. LEWIS L. PIERCE, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
C. B. WEBSTER,
HOBART J. PARK,
ISIDOR STRAUS, } Directors.

[No. 1,105.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE EAST RIVER NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$929,955.30
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		549.92
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		250,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		284,771.88
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		100,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		116,105.83
Due from State banks and bankers		9,167.05
Checks and other cash items		11,271.08
Exchanges for Clearing House		78,511.32
Notes of other National banks		2,670.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		970.92
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$326,772
Legal-tender notes	81,763
		408,535.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		11,250.00
Total		$2,223,764.34

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$250,000.00
Surplus fund		50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		98,190.08
National bank notes outstanding		222,000.00
Dividends unpaid		5,198.06
Individual deposits subject to check		1,584,771.83
Demand certificates of deposit		89.26
Time certificates of deposit		13,515.11
Total		$2,223,764.34

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, Z. E. NEWELL, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. Z. E. NEWELL, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2d day of December, 1899. G. H. PEARSALL, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
DAVID BANKS,
JOSEPH ROGERS,
RAYMOND JENKINS, } Directors.

[No 1,250.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE MECHANICS' NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$9,431,897.29
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		496.30
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		424,096.83
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		545,796.92
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		525,017.95
Due from State banks and bankers		29,075.44
Checks and other cash items		290,520.46
Exchanges for Clearing House		865,338.51
Notes of other National banks		2,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		92.12
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,214,444
Legal-tender notes	231,000
U. S. certif's of deposit for legal tenders	440,000
		2,885,444.00
Total		$15,058,770.91

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$2,000,000.00
Surplus fund		1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		1,197,141.88
Due to other National banks		2,903,149.02
Due to State banks and bankers		680,552.56
Dividends unpaid		4,308.64
Individual deposits subject to check		7,129,719.88
Demand certificates of deposit		18,750.20
Certified checks		132,945.33
Cashier's checks outstanding		7,203.40
Total		$15,058,770.91

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, GRANVILLE W. GARTH, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. C. E. LANGDON, Notary Public, Kings Co. Certificate filed in New York Co.

Correct—Attest.
Signed.
A. E. ORR,
HENRY HENTZ,
WM. B. BOULTON, } Directors.

BANK STATEMENTS.

[No. 1,370.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE MERCHANTS' NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899.
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$12,152,272.25
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		4,338.80
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		178,578.33
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		200,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		978,088.33
Due from State banks and bankers		53,714.83
Checks and other cash items		2,960.93
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,159,515.66
Notes of other National banks		13,205.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		901.48
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$5,497,000.00
Legal tender notes	579,600.00
		6,076,600.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treas'r 5 per cent. of circulation		2,250.00
Due from U. S. Treas'r, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund		3,000.00
Total		$19,075,716.09

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$2,000,000.00
Surplus fund		500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		662,452.62
Due to other National banks	$6,548,968.68
Due to State banks and bankers	3,596,249.07
Dividends unpaid	1,408.50
Individual deposits subject to check	5,552,045.02
Demand certificates of deposit	844.00
Certified checks	140,930.61
Cashier's checks outstanding	72,822.59
		15,913,263.47
Total		$19,075,716.09

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of December, 1899. C. E. LANGDON, Notary Public, Kings County.

Certificate filed in New York County.

Correct—Attest:
JOHN A. STEWART,
DONALD MACKAY,
ROBERT M. GALLAWAY, } Directors.

[No. 1,357.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE IRVING NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,397,431.81
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		105.66
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		250,000.00
Bond collateral		173,500.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		3,750.00
Stocks, securities, etc.		455,427.90
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		130,000.00
Other real estate and mortgages owned		16,488.85
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		438,170.08
Due from State banks and bankers		88,923.20
Stamp tax		775.02
Checks and other cash items		24,999.59
Exchanges for Clearing House		301,449.24
Notes of other National banks		4,500.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		552.24
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$510,392.50
Legal-tender notes	418,017.00
		928,409.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		11,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, (other than 5 per cent. redemption fund)		31,855.85
Total		$6,257,588.94

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$500,000.00
Surplus fund		250,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		839,462.24
National bank notes outstanding		44,997.50
Due to other National banks	$16,971,186.65
Due to State banks and bankers	7,077,889.96
Dividends unpaid	1,050.00
Individual deposits subject to check	27,811,392.29
Demand certificates of deposit	156,964.92
Certified checks	255,278.07
		52,273,742.09
Total		$57,658,201.83

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, GEO. S. HICKOK, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. GEO. S. HICKOK, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. W. A. MAIN, Notary Public, Kings County.

Certificate filed in New York.

Correct—Attest:
EDWARD E. POOR,
GEO. FRED'K VIETOR,
AUGUST BELMONT, } Directors.

[No. 998.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE SEVENTH NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899:
RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,742,112.54
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		66.76
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		250,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		28,410.75
Stocks, securities, &c.		349,919.94
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		16,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		209,180.42
Due from State banks and bankers		60,409.35
Checks and other cash items		13,015.26
Exchanges for Clearing House		510,521.18
Notes of other National banks		2,450.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		928.96
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$806,214.45
Legal-tender notes	275,452.00
		1,084,666.45
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund		3,000.00
Total		$5,312,931.61

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000.00
Surplus fund		150,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		50,307.86
National bank notes outstanding		45,000.00
Due to other National banks	$750,420.83
Due to State banks and bankers	203,479.17
Individual deposits subject to check	2,905,102.78
Demand certificates of deposit	585,670.63
Certified checks	25,712.96
Cashier's checks outstanding	20,655.94
United States deposits	276,581.74
		4,767,623.75
Total		$5,312,931.61

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, GEORGE W. ADAMS, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. GEO. W. ADAMS, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899. W. A. KENNY, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
JOHN A. SULLIVAN,
W. H. KIMBALL,
F. S. H

BANK STATEMENTS.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE GERMAN EXCHANGE BANK, at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$2,477,699.29
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers and brokers	646,901.05
Banking house and lot	125,000.00
Stocks and bonds	68,600.00
Specie	135,000.00
United States legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	294,029.18
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges $295,709.46
Other items carried as cash 12,989.37	282,720.09
Assets not included under any of the above heads:
Deposited in Colonial Trust Company	100,000.00
	$4,178,549.59

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	500,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	85,397.05
Due depositors	3,386,768.02
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	6,114.52
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	270.00
	$4,178,549.59

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

M. J. ADRIAN, President, and CHAS. L. ADRIAN, Cashier, of the German Exchange Bank, New York, a bank located and doing business at No. 330 Bowery, in the city of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chapter 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.

M. J. ADRIAN, President.
CHAS. L. ADRIAN, Cashier.

Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 6th day of December, 1899, before me.

[Seal of Notary.] EDMUND F. SWANBERG, Notary Public, No. 240, New York County.

[No. 1,196.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE LEATHER MANUFACTURERS' NATIONAL BANK, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, December 2, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$2,470,851.17
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	21.90
U. S. bonds to secure circulation	500,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds	40,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.	635,018.13
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures	350,000.00
Other real estate and mortgages owned	7,300.00
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)	249,937.44
Due from State banks and bankers	26,208.96
Checks and other cash items	19,009.50
Exchanges for Clearing House	184,715.35
Notes of other National banks	2,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	380.61
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $1,072,224.95
Legal-tender notes 110,549.00	1,182,783.95
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)	22,500.00
Total	$5,690,725.01

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$600,000.00
Surplus fund	400,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	105,279.38
National banknotes outstanding	438,087.50
Due to other National banks	369,327.97
Due to State banks and bankers	607,864.84
Dividends unpaid	2,267.00
Individual deposits subject to check	3,055,759.59
Demand certificates of deposit	23,583.08
Certified checks	37,114.72
Cashier's checks outstanding	51,142.33
Total	$5,690,725.01

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, G. W. McGARRAH, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

G. W. McGARRAH, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899.

CHARLES F. AUKAMP, Notary Public, Kings County.

Certificate filed in New York County.

Correct—Attest:
WM. H. MACY, Jr.,
WM. C. STURGES,
GEO. W. QUINTARD,
Directors.

[No. 1,393.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE BANK OF NEW YORK, N. B. A., at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$11,850,948.97
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	1,581.97
U. S. bonds to secure circulation	50,000.00
U. S. bonds on hand	39,000.00
Stocks, securities, etc.	799,290.92
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures	250,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)	731,511.31
Due from State banks and bankers	193,808.86
Checks and other cash items	52,085.12
Exchanges for Clearing House	2,732,985.49
Notes of other National banks	40,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	725.47
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $2,037,000.00
Legal-tender notes 796,200.00
U. S. certificates of deposit for legal tenders 10,000.00	2,843,200.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)	2,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund	350,000.00
Total	$19,937,383.11

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$2,000,000.00
Surplus fund	1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	999,235.89
National banknotes outstanding	45,000.00
Due to other National banks	4,007,122.84
Due to State banks and bankers	1,961,736.24
Dividends unpaid	1,425.00
Individual deposits subject to check	9,180,605.12
Demand certificates of deposit	332,940.98
Time certificates of deposit	14,000.00
Certified checks	224,055.55
Cashier's checks outstanding	171,256.49
Total	$19,937,383.11

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, CHARLES OLNEY, Cashier of the abovenamed bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

CHARLES OLNEY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899.

HANSON C. GIBSON, Notary Public N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
ANSON W. HARD,
CHAS. D. LEVERICH,
E. S. MASON,
Directors.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE PEOPLE'S BANK, at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$1,628,212.85
Overdrafts	24.56
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers $356,249.21
Due from approved reserve agents 200,000.00	556,249.21
Banking house and lot	76,500.00
United States bonds	100,875.00
Other stocks and bonds	235,912.50
Specie	455,974.11
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	204,620.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges $194,804.43
Other items carried as cash 124,445.81	319,250.24
Total	$3,637,627.47

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	250,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	48,391.25
Due depositors	3,107,914.65
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	30,945.32
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	376.25
Total	$3,637,627.47

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

SCOTT FOSTER, President, and WILLIAM MILNE, Cashier, of the People's Bank, a bank located and doing business at Nos. 393 and 395 Canal Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.

SCOTT FOSTER, President.
WILLIAM MILNE, Cashier.

Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 6th day of December, 1899, before me.

EDW. L. WATERBURY, Notary Public, No. 23, N. Y. Co.

THE DEAF CURED FREE

TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

An Old Convict Dies.

FISHKILL LANDING, N. Y., Dec. 6.—John Layman, aged seventy-one years, a convict for forty-two years in the Matteawan State Hospital, died there to-day. He was convicted of murder in Brooklyn.

PHILADELPHIA BANKS.

Fourth Street
NATIONAL BANK OF PHILADELPHIA

DECEMBER 2, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$17,950,375.75
Due from banks	1,375,053.59
Exchanges for Clearing House	869,271.47
Cash and reserve	7,146,015.23
	$27,340,716.04

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$1,500,000.00
Surplus and net profits	1,620,684.37
Circulation	669,700.00
Deposits	23,550,331.67
	$27,340,716.04

R. H. RUSHTON, Vice President.

STATEMENT OF
THE BANK OF NORTH AMERICA
PHILADELPHIA, DECEMBER 2, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and investments	$7,886,051.16
Due from banks and bankers	788,879.57
Exchanges for Clearing House	736,180.18
Cash and reserve	2,667,510.44
	$12,078,621.35

LIABILITIES.

Capital	$1,000,000.00
Surplus and undivided profits	1,700,954.91
Circulation	84,017.50
Deposits	9,293,648.94
	$12,078,621.35

JNO. H. WATT, Cashier.

TO DIRECT JEWISH SEMINARY.

A Noted European Scholar Accepts the Presidency of a Local Theological School.

Dr. S. Schechter, who is recognized as one of the greatest European scholars in Jewish science, has accepted the call extended to him some time ago to assume the Presidency of the Jewish Theological Seminary in this city, in succession to the Rev. Dr. Sabato Morais, who died about two years ago. Dr. Schechter is at present a lecturer at the University of Cambridge in England, and is also a professor in the University College of London.

Since the death of Dr. Morais the Jewish Theological Seminary in this city has been practically without a head, and its usefulness was becoming impaired on this account. The Board of Trustees determined to make an effort to obtain the services of Dr. Schechter and extended to him a unanimous call. The Jewish community in London were loath to part with the learned professor, and an interesting struggle ensued which excited orthodox Jewery in England and America.

Although Dr. Schechter had visited this country and had expressed great pleasure at his reception and treatment here, he hesitated a long time before concluding to sever his connection with Cambridge and the University College of London, in which latter institution there are always many Jewish students, and where his loss will be very keenly felt. Finally he determined to come to America, and a few days ago Judge Mayer Sulzberger of Philadelphia, who had been one of the most persistent advocates of Dr. Schechter, received a letter from him announcing his acceptance of the call. The doctor will take charge of the seminary in this city in February next.

Dr. Schechter, while a Roumanian exile, has a marvelous command of the English language, as was shown in his "Studies in Judaism," which is recognized as a standard work in Hebraic literature. His editions of the Talmud and Midrash are in use in the principal colleges of England and the Continent of Europe.

He was sent by the University of Cambridge to the Orient in search of old Hebrew manuscripts, and succeeded in unearthing at Cairo a great collection of old volumes and scrolls of inestimable value, and which are now catalogued and stored at Cambridge. The doctor was also fortunate enough to discover at Cairo the Hebrew original of the "Ecclesiasticus," which had before no more authoritative original than the Greek text. It is intended that Dr. Schechter shall have the supervision of the translation of the Scriptures from the Hebrew into English, a task which has been undertaken by the Jewish Publication Society of America. The advent of Dr. Schechter will, it is confidently believed, presage a revival of orthodox Judaism in this country.

NOSE COST HIM A WIFE.

Made of Rubber, It Had a Peculiar Habit of Falling Off at Inopportune Times.

Esril Silberman, a plumber, of 151 Allen Street is afflicted with a nose which has caused him much trouble. On at least two occasions it has been the barrier between him and matrimonial bliss, and a few days ago led him almost into a law suit.

Silberman met with an accident some years ago which necessitated the removal of part of his nose, and he had it patched with a portion of a flesh-colored rubber nose. From an artistic standpoint the job was a success. Yet at critical times the rubber nose would drop out of place and cause Silberman no end of annoyance.

Silberman prospered in business, and about a year ago he decided to get married. He carried on his courtship without a mishap. His nose stuck to him until the very moment when he asked his sweetheart to become Mrs. Silberman, and then it began its pranks. Silberman was in the act of sealing the promise with a kiss, when his nose slid from its place and bounded to the floor. With a scream the young woman fled, and with his nose in his hand Silberman returned home, bewailing his fate.

Having outlived this embarrassing episode, Silberman two weeks ago decided again to marry. He sought an east side shatchen, and the following day was introduced to Miss Suline Singer of 117 Chrystie Street. It was a case of mutual love at sight. Silberman thought he had full control of his refractory nose, and did not confide his affliction to Miss Singer.

A marriage contract was drawn up, both Silberman and Miss Singer depositing $200 in the hands of a banker, the agreement being that in case one of the contracting parties failed to carry out the provisions of the contract the other was to receive the entire $400.

Silberman was unusually attentive to his prospective bride, and gave her among other things a gold watch and chain and a diamond ring. Things went along smoothly for a week. Then the plumber proposed to his sweetheart an evening at the theatre.

The couple visited a Bowery theatre and bought seats near the stage. The funny man of the play came out. He made a remark which caused the audience to laugh heartily. Silberman laughed louder than any of the others, and in the midst of the mirth his nose fell off and dropped into his sweetheart's lap. He made a desperate clutch for it and slapped it to his face in the hope of replacing it before his facial defect was discovered. He was not only too late, but in his haste placed the rubber nose on awry.

This was too much for Miss Singer, who returned home alone. She refused to carry out her part of the marriage contract, and Silberman applied to the banker for the $200 Miss Singer had deposited, and found that it had been attached. He endeavored to secure the presents he had given Miss Singer, without success, and as a last resort placed his case in the hands of lawyers. A settlement was reached yesterday, when Silberman agreed to take his presents and allow Miss Singer to retain her $200.

May Close Up Jersey Central Ferry.

President Guggenheimer of the Council yesterday called the attention of the Sinking Fund Commission to the fact that the Central Railroad of New Jersey is operating a ferry from Communipaw to the foot of Whitehall Street without paying for the franchise. On motion of Mayor Van Wyck the Corporation Counsel was requested to apply for an injunction restraining the company from operating its ferry until it had leased a terminal in this city.

SUPT. JASPER SUSTAINED

Refused Written Report in Woman Teacher's License Case.

DEBATE OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

A Charge that Influence Was Employed to Soften the Decision Against Miss Banks.

There was a spirited debate at the meeting of the School Board for Manhattan and the Bronx yesterday afternoon over the question whether or not the board had the right to compel Borough Superintendent Jasper to make a written report of his reasons for reporting against the renewal of Miss Caroline M. Banks's license to teach in the public schools of this city.

Miss Banks came here from Philadelphia a year ago and was appointed to teach in the girls' department of School 19, in East Fourteenth Street. She had previously taught twelve years in a Friends' school in Philadelphia. Her license to teach here expired on Oct. 1. In June last her class was visited by one of the Assistant Superintendents, who reported that she did not keep her pupils under proper discipline. The Assistant Principal of the school, in the absence of the Principal through illness, made the same report. On these two reports Borough Superintendent Jasper recommended that her license be not renewed, and accordingly City Superintendent Maxwell refused to renew it. Miss Banks alleges unjust treatment in that she was not notified of the refusal to renew the license until Sept. 29, only two days before the license expired.

Commissioner Burlingham offered the resolution calling for a report from Superintendent Jasper on the case. He said he offered it because he understood that both the Associate Superintendent and the Assistant Principal had revised their original statements. Owing to the Principal's illness, Miss Banks in June last had not received the benefit of his advice. Otherwise her discipline might have proved satisfactory. If she had known in July that the Associate Superintendent's report was to be adverse to her she might have arranged to get other employment by the time her license expired. Miss Banks went to the Borough Superintendent and asked his assistance in having the case reviewed. The matter went to the Committee on Teachers, which decided that the Associate Superintendent had viewed her case with unusual severity. The Borough Superintendent himself thought Miss Banks should have another chance.

"This question of recommending the renewal of a teacher's license," said Mr. Jasper, in reply to Mr. Burlingham, "is one that is left entirely to the discretion of the Borough Superintendent. It is not within the right of this board, or any member of this board, to compel me to tell his reasons for such action. I based my report on the reports of the Associate Superintendent and Principal, and they were supposed to be right until the persons were seen. Since then the reports have been twice changed. I, however, have not changed. I am perfectly satisfied that Miss Banks should apply again for license. Although she taught in a Philadelphia Quaker school for twelve years, she was an utter failure in School No. 19, despite the fact that she taught in its female department and the school was under good discipline. If the Associate Superintendent's report was unjust then he, not I, should be blamed."

"After Mr. Jasper's statement," said Mr. Burlingham, "my resolution seems all the more proper. If the Associate Superintendent reported first adversely, then favorably, and then again adversely, I think we should know the reasons. To make Miss Banks undergo another examination is to make a new rule in such cases. If the Associate Superintendent has been 'seen,' if he can be 'seen,' the sooner that it is officially reported to the board the better. This board has as much right to that knowledge as Mr. Jasper has."

Ex-Judge Van Hoesen said he understood that discretion in these matters was lodged with the Borough Superintendent and that the board had no power of supervision over him. President Little said that was his understanding also.

"Then," said ex-Judge Van Hoesen, "it seems unwise to call for such a report unless the intention is to make it the foundation for charges of misconduct or malfeasance against the Borough Superintendent. We have no evidence that he has done any wrong. It seems an appeal was made to the Principal, and this led to a change in the original report. Personal appeals often take the form of importunities and finally have the desired effect. Either the Associate Superintendent and Principal had or they had not reason to make their original reports. If they had no reason they are the ones to be proceeded against. Does this Commissioner intend to charge the Borough Superintendent with malfeasance? If not, what use is there in offering such a resolution?"

"It seems to be a very serious matter," said Mr. Burlingham, "that in a case of this kind a Principal or Assistant Principal should make a report, then change it, and then change it again. I had no thought of charging the commission of wrong. My sole intention was to prevent this teacher from becoming a victim of some office between the Borough Superintendent and the City Superintendent. It is not alleged that in this teacher's case there is any weakness on the scholastic side. If the heart beats in sympathy with her and wishes to give her another chance, we can afford to smother any pride of opinion or of office. In conversation the other day it was suggested to me by Mr. Jasper, or an Associate Superintendent in his hearing, that a way out of the difficulty would be to have City Superintendent Maxwell exempt her from examination. That is a back-door plan."

Commissioner Eustis said he hoped the resolution would pass, so that they would know whether or not the Borough Superintendent and Associate Superintendents were or were not creatures of the board. Commissioner Richardson said that, as a member of the Teachers' Committee, he felt called upon to say that the Associate Superintendent in question had not changed that part of his report which said Miss Banks was a poor disciplinarian. After further debate Mr. Burlingham's motion was lost by a vote of 4 ayes and 8 noes.

On motion of Commissioner Stern, it was decided to place the flags on all the public schools on Dec. 14, the one hundredth anniversary of Washington's death.

TEACHERS' SUITS FOR PAY.

Contents of the Test Cases Submitted in Manhattan.

Copies of the complaints in the suits for withheld salaries brought by the public school teachers against the Corporation Counsel and the Controller, were served on those officials on Tuesday afternoon, but the contents of the papers were not made public until yesterday afternoon. The answers are returnable within twenty days from Dec. 5. Assistant Corporation Counsel Hill, to whom the cases have been referred, said yesterday that he did not know when they would be entered for trial.

The suits are based on affidavits by Anna I. Mathews and Catharine M. Forde, teachers in the boys' department of Public School No. 1, on Henry Street. Miss Mathews has had four years' service as a teacher, and her suit is based on the schedule adopted by the School Board on May 17, equalizing salaries.

Miss Forde, who has been teaching for fifteen years, sues for $110, the amount she says she is entitled to for October under the provision of the Ahearn law, which makes $1,200 the minimum salary for fifteen years' service, and the $120 added to this minimum by the May schedule.

The complaints allege that the School Board when it adopted the May schedule had sufficient funds to pay all the salaries for the remainder of the year, and that "such moneys are lawfully applicable for that purpose, and have been duly appropriated and set aside for the purpose by and pursuant to law." The complaints also allege that the city has a fund of $1,166,966.59, paid to it under Section 4 of the Consolidated School law, and "exclusively applicable to the payment of teachers' wages for the current year."

AUDITOR MUST SHOW CAUSE.

Order Obtained by the Brooklyn Teachers Is Served.

Copies of the order, issued on Tuesday evening by Justice Gaynor of the Supreme Court of Kings County, calling on Auditor Henry R. M. Cook of the the Board of Education to show cause to-morrow at 10:30 o'clock A. M. why he should not audit the payroll for Public School 23 of Brooklyn for October, based on the Harrigan schedule adopted by the Brooklyn School Board on July 5 last, were served yesterday on Mr. Cook, and Mr. Carr, the Corporation Counsel's assistant in Brooklyn.

Justice Gaynor's order was issued on a petition from the Brooklyn Teachers' Association and Class Teachers' Association, of that borough, asking for a peremptory writ of mandamus on the same grounds as advanced by the teachers of Manhattan and the Bronx in their suits, namely, that the State school fund, received by the Board of Education, should be used exclusively to pay teachers' salaries and is sufficient to do so.

RICHARD DEEVES INJURED.

Thrown from His Horse While Riding in Central Park.

Richard Deeves, senior member of the building firm of Richard Deeves & Son, was thrown from his horse while riding in Central Park yesterday morning and severely, though not dangerously, injured. At his residence, 58 West Eighty-third Street, it was stated last night that Mr. Deeves was resting easily. The attending physicians pronounced his injuries to be a slight fracture of the hip bone, in addition to several severe bruises. It was thought he would not be confined to his bed for more than a week or ten days.

Mr. Deeves was taking his customary early ride through the Park when the accident occurred. He was mounted on a spirited young horse, which he had recently purchased. While cantering along the West Drive near Ninetieth Street, the animal suddenly reared, dropping his rider heavily to the ground. A few minutes later an acquaintance rode past, and, discovering Mr. Deeves, who had been considerably dazed by his hard fall, sent for a cab, which conveyed the injured man to his home.

In the meantime the horse that had caused the accident was perplexing the Park police. The riderless animal, fully saddled and bridled, was seen by one of the mounted policemen about a half hour after the accident leisurely grazing in defiance of the prohibitive signs near the Bridle Path, at Eighty-second Street. An alarm was sent out and an unavailing search for the missing rider instituted. The mystery was cleared up for the police when shortly before noon Mr. Deeves's coachman inquired of them for the fractious animal, which had been sent to a near-by livery stable to be kept until claimed by its owner.

Mr. Deeves is well known as the builder of the Manhattan Life and Mutual Reserve Buildings. He is also prominent in club circles, being a member of the Republican, Up-Town, Lotos, New York Athletic, Colonial, and other clubs.

Consulted Drug Clerk at Own Risk.

Justice McLean, in the Supreme Court, yesterday dismissed the complaint in a suit brought by Ferdinand Roth, a butcher, against Arnemann & Behrens, druggists at 570 Eighth Avenue, to recover $10,000 damages, because one of the firm's clerks treated his injured finger and made it worse. Justice McLean held that druggists and drug clerks have no license to practice medicine and surgery and that the complainant sought advice from the clerk in this case at his own risk.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Sun rises...7:11	Sun sets...4:33	Moon sets...9:52

High Water This Day.

A. M.	A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook...10:47	Gov. Isl'd...11:02	H. Gate... ...
P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
S. Hook...11:26	Gov. Isl'd...11:45	H. Gate...12:58

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (THURSDAY,) DEC. 7.

Mails Close. Vessels Sail.

El Mar, New Orleans	...	3:00 P. M.
Hubert, St. Lucia	4:00 A. M.	...
La Champagne, Havre	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Saratoga, Nassau	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Tordenskjold, Progreso	2:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8.

Iroquois, Charleston	...	3:00 P. M.
Origen, Jamaica	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick	...	3:00 P. M.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9.

Alene, Jamaica, &c	10:00 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Auguste Victoria, Naples, &c.	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
British Empire, Antwerp	...	...
Cherokee, Turk's Island, &c.	1:00 P. M. *1:30 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
El Norte, New Orleans	...	3:00 P. M.
Grenada, Trinidad	11:00 A. M.	...
Havana, Havana	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Knickerbocker, New Orleans	...	3:00 P. M.
Launenburg, Nuevitas, &c.	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Lampasas, Galveston	...	3:00 P. M.
Marquette, London	...	9:00 A. M.
Ohio, Hull	...	...
Pagusa, Pernambuco	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Pretoria, St. Thomas, &c.	9:30 A. M. *10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Pretoria, Hamburg	...	9:00 A. M.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Salerno, Newcastle	...	...
Semmole, Charleston	...	3:00 P. M.
Tainui, Glasgow	10:00 A. M.	12:00 P. M.
Umbria, Queenstown and Liverpool	6:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, Japan, and China, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 8, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Coptic. Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 8, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies, (except West Australia, which go via Europe, and New Zealand, which go via San Francisco,) Hawaii, and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Nov. 28 and up to Dec. 19, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Warrimoo. Mails for China, Japan, and Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 16, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship America Maru.

(Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (THURSDAY,) DEC. 7.

Canadia, Stettin, Nov. 16.
Charing Cross, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
City of Washington, Havana, Dec. 3.
El Dorado, New Orleans, Dec. 2.
Galileo, Hull, Nov. 25.
Indraghira, London, Nov. 22.
Jerseymoor, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Lyell, Gibraltar, Nov. 21.
Manica, Shields, Nov. 22.
Mayfield, St. Michael, Nov. 24.
Pawnee, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Trave, Bremen, Nov. 28.
Willehad, Bremen, Nov. 25.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8.

City of Augusta, Savannah, Dec. 5.
Palatia, Hamburg, Nov. 27.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Nov. 26.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9.

Bordeaux, Pauillac, Nov. 27.
Lucania, Liverpool, Dec. 2.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 2.

SUNDAY, DEC. 10.

El Sud, New Orleans, Dec. 5.
La Gascogne, Havre, Dec. 2.
Manhattan, London, Nov. 28.
Paraense, Ceara, Nov. 28.
Tainui, Glasgow, Nov. 27.

MONDAY, DEC. 11.

Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Nov. 30.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 1.
Heathdene, St. Michael's, Nov. 30.
Mesaba, London, Dec. 11.
Wordsworth, St. Lucia, Dec. 4.

TUESDAY, DEC. 12.

Bath City, Swansea, Nov. 28.
Chateau Lafite, Havre, Nov. 29.
Dunblane, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Karamania, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Southwark, Antwerp, Dec. 2.

Arrived.

SS Oceanic, (Br.,) Cameron, Liverpool Nov. 29 and Queenstown 30th, with mdse. and passengers to the White Star Line. Arrived at the Bar at 4:40 A. M.

SS Rotterdam, (Dutch,) Voege, Rotterdam Nov. 22, in ballast to C. H. Randebrock. Arrived at the Bar at 7:35 A. M.

SS Chalmette, Blasland, New Orleans Dec. 1, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle.

SS Iroquois, Kemble, Jacksonville Dec. 3, and Charleston 4th, with mdse. and passengers to William P. Clyde & Co.

SS City of Philadelphia, Curry, Baltimore, with mdse. and passengers to H. C. Foster.

SS Athos, (Br.,) Lund, Colon Nov. 29, with mdse. to the Panama Railroad Steamship Company. Arrived at the Bar at 9:45 A. M.

SS Winifred, Laughrane, New Orleans Nov. 28, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle.

SS Guyandotte, Hiller, Richmond and Newport News, with mdse. and passengers to the Old Dominion Steamship Company.

SS Benefactor, Swain, Philadelphia, with mdse. to William P. Clyde & Co.

SS Salerno, (Br.,) Bearpark, Newcastle Nov. 17 to Sanderson & Son. Arrived outside the Bar at 5:38 P. M.

SS Cherokee, McKee, Charleston Dec. 4, with mdse. and passengers to William P. Clyde & Co.

SS La Grande Duchesse, Hanlon, Savannah with mdse. and passengers to the Ocean Steamship Company.

SS Trave, (Ger.,) Christoffers, Bremen Nov. 28 and Southampton 29th, with mdse. and passengers to Oelrichs & Co. Southeast of Fire Island at 9:50 P. M.

WIND—At Sandy Hook, N. J., Dec. 6, 9:30 P. M., west; fresh breeze; clear.

Sailed.

SS Evelyn, for New Orleans.
SS Cluden, (Br.,) for Rotterdam.
SS Washington, (Ger.) for London.
SS St. Paul, for Southampton.
SS Trinidad, (Br.,) for Bermuda.
SS Asiatic Prince, (Br.,) for Santos.
SS Archimede, (Ital.,) for Genoa, &c.
SS Noordland, (Belg.,) for Antwerp.
SS Germanic (Br.,) for Liverpool.
SS Agnes, (Nor.,) for Norfolk, &c.
SS Austria, (Br.,) for Singapore, &c.
SS Eidsvild, (Nor.,) for Philadelphia, &c.
SS Princess Anne, for Norfolk and Newport News.
SS Old Dominion, for Newport News and Richmond.
SS Orizaba, for Havana, &c.
SS Finance, for Colon.
SS Caracas, for San Juan, La Guayra, &c.
SS Barbara, (Br.,) for Norfolk.
SS Hekla, (Dan.,) for Copenhagen, &c.
SS Frieda, (Br.,) for Lisbon.
SS Matanzas for Tampico.
SS Kansas City, for Savannah.

Spoken.

Bark Springbank, (Br.,) Capt. Boyd, from New York for Anjer, was spoken Nov. 20 in latitude 13, longitude 26.

Notice to Mariners.

NORTH BROTHER ISLAND LIGHT STATION.—Notice is hereby given by order of the Lighthouse Board that, on Nov. 29, 1899, the intensity of the light at this station, on the southerly end of North Brother Island, East River, was increased by changing it from sixth to fourth order. No change was made in the characteristic of the light.

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, 1899," Page 68 No. 333, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Third Lighthouse District, 1899," Page 62.

WINTER-QUARTER SHOAL LIGHT VESSEL.—Notice is hereby given by order of the Lighthouse Board that, on or about Dec. 16, 1899, Light Vessel No. 45 will be replaced on her station, about nine miles from the coast of Virginia, and about 3¼ miles southeasterly from Winter-Quarter Shoal, and Relief Light Vessel No. 45 temporarily marking the station will be withdrawn. No change has been made in Light Vessel No. 45 as to characteristics of light, fog signal, or general appearance. (Lighthouse Board Notice to Mariners No. 182 of 1899.)

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, 1899," Page 102, No. 517, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Fourth Lighthouse District, 1899," Pages 13 and 45.

BLOODY POINT RANGE FRONT LIGHT.—Notice is hereby given by order of the Lighthouse Board that, on or about Dec. 10, 1899, the front light of this range, (a fixed red reflector light,) on the southerly part of Daufuskie Island, and to the northward of the mouth of the Savannah River, will be moved to and established in the square, pyramidal, skeleton, iron structure, painted white, recently erected on the present range line, 60 feet nearer the rear light of the range than the temporary wooden structure from which the front light is now shown. In the new structure the focal plane of the light will be 27 feet above mean high water. (Lighthouse Board Bulletin No. 102, Paragraph 13.)

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, 1899," Page 130, No. 727, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Sixth Lighthouse District, 1899," Page 31.

KENNEBEC RIVER, PETTIS ROCKS SPINDLE.—Notice is hereby given by order of the Lighthouse Board that a black spindle, 32 feet high, surmounted by a black cask, has been erected on the most southerly of the Pettis Rocks, Kennebec River. Bearings and distances of prominent objects from the spindle, as taken from Chart No. 314 of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, are: Ram Island Tripod, NNE. 1-16 E., ⅜ mile; left tangent to Lee's Island, SW. by W. ⅛ W., ⅜ mile; right tangent to Lee's Island, N. ⅛ W., nearly ½ mile. Bearings are magnetic and given approximately; miles are nautical miles.

This notice affects the "List of Beacons and Buoys, First Lighthouse District, 1899," Page 94.

By Cable.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—SS Teutonic, (Br.,) Capt. McKinstry, from New York for Liverpool, arr. at Queenstown at 8:14 A. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Neustria, (Fr.,) Capt. Sagois, from Naples for New York, passed Gibraltar to-day.

SS Victoria, (Br.,) Capt. Bridges, from Leghorn for New York, arr. at Palermo yesterday.

SS Anchoria, (Br.,) Capt. Wilson, from New York for Glasgow, arr. at Moville to-day and proceeded.

SS Mannheim, (Ger.,) Capt. Ockelmann, from New York, arr. at Cuxhaven to-day.

SS Strathgyle, (Br.,) Capt. Cummings, from New York for Hongkong, arr. at Singapore today and proceeded.

SS Miramar, (Br.,) Capt. Waite, from Rio Janeiro for New York, sld. from Victoria Dec. 2.

SS Standard, (Ger.,) Capt. Schleemilch, for New York, sld. from Shields yesterday.

SS Patricia, (Ger.,) Capt. Bauer, from Hamburg for New York, sld. from Plymouth at 2 P. M. to-day.

SS Belfor, (Br.,) Capt. Hoskins, from Hals for New York, passed Beachy Head to-day.

SS Clan Monroe, (Br.,) Capt. McPherson, from New York, via St. Vincent, C. V., arr. at Cape Town Dec. 1.

SS Coleridge, (Br.,) Capt. Fisher, from New York for Rio Janeiro, arr. at Pernambuco Dec. 4.

SS Sahara, (Br.,) Capt. Cave, from New York, via Port Chalmers, &c., arr. at Brisbane Dec. 4.

SS Charing Cross, (Br.,) Capt. Mills, for New York, sld. from Seville Nov. 30.

SS Bufton, (Br.,) Capt. Ohls, for New York, sld. from Rio Janeiro Dec. 2.

SS Italia, (Ital.,) Capt.

A CIVIL SERVICE DISPUTE.

State Board Eager to Examine Custodian of Grant Cottage, Who Is Paid from a Legislative Fund.

The State Civil Service Board is now taking cognizance of a case which it thinks demands action on its part, though this opinion is disputed. It is that of the man who keeps the cottage at Mount McGregor, N. Y., where Gen. U. S. Grant died, and who has hitherto pursued his peaceful way untrammeled by thoughts of competitive examinations and eligible lists. The board now threatens to examine him. Defenders have arisen, however, to protect him from the ordeal, and there is a chance for his escape.

The custodian is O. P. Clark, a veteran and a Grand Army man. He has been keeping tidy the cottage at Mount McGregor and exhibiting relics to admiring visitors since the year 1889, for $1,000 a year, out of which he has paid for the necessary painting and repairs. He holds the post by virtue of the designation of the Grand Army of the Republic, which for a number of years paid him his stipend. But in 1896 the Legislature passed a law giving $1,000 a year to the Mount McGregor Memorial Association, which controls the Grant cottage property as trustee, for the care and maintenance of said property, and giving the Grand Army the right to name the man who should be hired as custodian.

Mr. Clark remained at his duties, secure in the belief that the machinations of the Civil Service Board could never injure his proud and unexaminable custodian of the Grant cottage, and the Mount McGregor Association shared his view. In the early part of last month, however, some unknown cause stirred up the Civil Service Board to take notice of this case, and it sent to W. J. Arkell, President of the association, a letter, in which it told him the office of the custodian had been suspended pending an examination into the eligible lists and an investigation of the conditions under which an examination might be held.

Mr. Arkell replied as follows, addressing the Secretary of the board:

Nov. 18.

The Hon. Clarence B. Angle, Albany, N. Y.:

Dear Sir: Your favor of Nov. 14 received, and I must admit that it made me smile.

The civil service rules are in such a state today that if we are not careful it will be like having too much religion; we will all become daft on the subject.

Mr. Clark is an excellent man, and I do not know of any one who could fill the position of custodian of the Grant cottage as well as he, and if there is anybody who can pass the civil service examination in connection with the Grand Army, he is the man.

I cannot see, however, why it is necessary for a man whose duties are to build fires, lock the doors, and keep the relics from being stolen out of the cottage, to tell what islands there are in the Mediterranean or give the definition of "hypothesis," which would probably would be some of the questios propounded.

At any rate, it is necessary that the Grant cottage be taken care of, and I have asked Mr. Clark to remain there until arrangements can be made for his examination. Yours truly,

W. J. ARKELL.

The reply to this from Secretary Angle informed Mr. Arkell that the board had, at its meeting on Nov. 22, passed a resolution appointing Mr. Clark temporary custodian of the cottage pending the preparation of an eligible list. He answered this letter on Nov. 28, taking the view that Mr. Clark was exempt entirely from the board's examinations.

"The custodian of this property," said he, "is not an employe of any department of the State Government; he is not subject to the control of any officer of the State Government; the power of employment to the position held by him is vested by law, as you well know, in a Board of Trustees, of which I am President. I think it will appear also, when looked into closely, that he is not in the employ of the State."

Mr. Arkell went on to say that the cottage came to the association as a gift from the late Joseph W. Drexel, and that by the acts of 1889 and 1898, under which it was incorporated, the Board of Trustees thereby constituted received full power as to the management of the property. "They may not sell it," said he, "but must keep it always open to the public, but they are given the sole power to appoint 'such officers and servants as may be required in such care and management.'" He then instanced Chapter 667 of the Laws of 1896, which directed the State Treasurer to pay to the association, upon the warrant of the Controller, the sum of $1,000 yearly "for the use and maintenance of the property." The regular Appropriation bill of last Winter, he pointed out, recited this act as the law under which this appropriation was made. Mr. Arkell held that the money, having been appropriated for the purpose specified in the act under which the appropriation was made, became the property of the association, to be administered at its discretion. The letter ended with a request that it be laid before the Attorney General and the State Civil Service Commission.

The letter has not yet been answered, and Mr. Clark, who faced Confederate guns for his country, may yet have to face the guns of civil service examiners for his position. Should this be the case, Mr. Arkell declares, he does not see why all the Trustees of the association, although they serve without pay, might not be also forcibly examined by the civil service authorities. "If they do subject us to the examinaoion," he remarked yesterday with a smile, "I am very sure that not one of us will be able to pass."

STRANGLED BY COLLAR OF ICE.

Man Fell Head First Into Frozen Stream and Was Killed.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—William Harherson, aged sixty-seven years, formerly a well-to-do contractor of this city, met death in a peculiar manner to-day. While walking to his home he became benumbed with cold and fell down a railroad embankment into a small stream which was frozen over. Harherson's head went through the ice, which formed a collar about his neck and strangled him to death.

John W. Harper Resigns a Position.

John W. Harper, who, until the election a month ago of G. B. M. Harvey to that position, was President of the corporation of Harper & Brothers, has resigned as a Director of the Manhattan Company of 40 Wall Street. His resignation was announced at the meeting of the company held on Tuesday, and was accepted.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Riverside Drive Dwelling Sold for $85,000—Other Dwellings and Sales at Auction.

Charles E. Schuyler & Co. have sold, for W. W. & T. M. Hall, for about $85,000, the new five-story American basement dwelling, 150 Riverside Drive, 25 by 100. The name of the buyer is withheld.

Greene & Taylor have sold for J. H. Taylor, for about $60,000, the four-story brownstone-front dwelling, 11 West Forty-sixth Street, 21.6 by 100.

Charles Wolinsky has bought from the Trinity Church Corporation the lot, 156 Reade Street, 25.6 by 53. The buyer owns the building and the purchase is made in accordance with the provisions of a lease just expiring.

Max Hart has sold to Mrs. David Yuengling, for $50,000, the dwelling at the southeast corner of West End Avenue and One Hundred and Second Street, taking in exchange the property 277 and 279 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street.

Duff & Conger have sold for Merrill & Rogers, attorneys for a client now abroad, the three-story and basement dwelling 1,085 Lexington Avenue, on private terms.

Ghomes & Losere have sold to William Rabenstein, the two-story and basement brick house 695 Union Avenue, 21.4 by 100, for $6,500.

A. S. Lamphear has sold for a client the new six-story elevator apartment house, 306 West Ninety-third Street, 37.6 by 148.

Joseph W. Stern & Co. are the buyers of 32 East Twenty-second Street, the sale of which was reported yesterday.

Charles —W. Langford has bought the three-story dwelling, 48 Hamilton Terrace, 17 by 100.

It is reported that the Chisholm estate has sold the four-story brownstone-front dwelling, 15 East Sixty-fifth Street, 31 by 100.5.

Henry Gucker has sold for Sarah T. Horner the dwelling 130 East Nineteenth Street.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, north side, 98 feet west of Courtlandt Avenue, 50 by 101, vacant; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Henry W. Gilbert.....$10,000

By Bryan L. Kennelly.

64 Grand Street, 25 by 100, seven-story brick building; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, William G. Crane..... 63,425

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

523 West Fifty-first Street, 25 by 100.5, four-story brick and stone tenement; executor's sale, to Dora Rodenbach..... 15,000

507 West Twenty-seventh Street, 25 by 98.9, six-story brick tenement, with stores; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Mary Conlon..... 24,430

1,513 Madison Avenue, 20 by 70, five-story brick single flat; foreclosure sale, to Earl Douglas..... 16,000

By E. H. Ludlow & Co.

301 West Twelfth Street, 28 by 80, four-story brick dwelling; public auction sale, to George B. Dean..... 12,750

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, partition sale, Herbert S. Ogden, referee, 29 and 31 Ridge Street, west side, 61.6 feet south of Broome Street, 40 by 75, two three-story brick tenements, with stores. Subject to mortgages for $16,300.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Edward W. S. Johnston, referee, 124 to 130 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, south side, 275 feet west of Lenox Avenue, each 20 by 100.11, four three-story stone-front dwellings. Due on judgment, on each, $19,278.

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co., foreclosure sale, Arthur D. Truax, referee, 126 East Eighty-fourth Street, south side, 67.2 feet west of Lexington Avenue, 25.6 by 102.2, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $2,416; subject to another mortgage for $15,175.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Lansing W. Walsh, referee, 33 Bowery, east side, 25 feet north of Bayard Street, 25 by 31.4 and irregular, six-story stone-front building. Due on judgment, $34,826.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Frank M. Holahan, referee, 58 West One Hundred and Fourth Street, south side, 227.4 feet east of Columbus Avenue, 38.4 by 100.11, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $40,943.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, William L. Turner, referee, 598 Courtlandt Avenue, east side, 148 feet north of One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, 29.8 by 100, five-story brick flat, with stores. Due on judgment, $23,044.

By John T. Boyd, foreclosure sale, Louis Hanneman, referee, Brook Avenue, east side, 236 feet south of One Hundred and Sixty-eight Street, 75.3 by 104.5 by 75 100.6 three four-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $6,174; subject to other mortgages for $19,916.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Street, north side, 50 feet west of Marimon Avenue, for a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, 21.6 by 38; Cecelia Buttikofer, premises, owner; Charles S. Clark, architect; cost, $3,800.

Elsmere Place, north side, 200 feet west of Marmion Avenue, for a two-story frame dwelling, 18 by 32; James and Anna Ellis of 805 Third Avenue, owners; C. S. Clark, Architect; cost, $3,500.

Belmont Avenue, west side, 91 feet south of One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Street, for six two-story frame dwellings, 18 by 32; Katharine Merritt of 722 Tremont Avenue, owner; C. S. Clark, architect; cost, $21,000.

Prince Street, southeast corner of Mulberry Street, for a six-story brick flat, with stores, 25.4 by 65 and 70; Otto Wagner, owner; Kurtzer & Rohl, architects; cost, $19,000.

No. 25 Rutgers Place, for a six-story brick tenement, 26 by 105.6; Morris Goldstein, owner; C. B. Meyers, architect; cost, $25,000.

One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Street, south side, 125 feet east of Fulton Avenue, for a two-story frame dwelling, 18 by 32; A. Williams, owner; C. S. Clark, architect; cost, $3,500.

No. 474 Grand Street, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 84.10; Adelson & Slone of 95 Liberty Street, owners; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $25,000.

No. 177 Forsyth Street, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 87.3; M. M. Grossman of 102 Orchard Street, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $25,000.

Forest Avenue, east side, 37.6 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-first Street, for a three-story frame tenement, 20 by 65; Marie Dodge of 906 Forest Avenue, owner; William Werner, architect; cost, $6,500.

Trinity Avenue, west side, 125 feet north of Cedar Place, for a two-story-and-basement brick and frame dwelling, 22 by 50; A. Stecker of 828 Trinity Avenue, owner; C. F. Lohse, architect; cost, $4,500.

Dawson Street, southeast corner of Leggett Street, for a five-story brick flat, 25.1 by 86; Frederick McCarthy of 1,044 East One Hundred and Fifty-sixth Street, owner; W. C. Dickerson, architect; cost, $22,000.

Crotona Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street, for a three-story frame dwelling and store, 22 by 88; Charles V. Halley, owner; W. C. Dickerson, architect; cost, $7,000.

Alterations.

Two Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street, south side, 140 feet east of Keppler Avenue, to a two-story frame dwelling; Annie E. Hartshorn, owner; W. R. Dickie, builder; cost, $500.

One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, northwest corner of Fox Street, to a three-story frame dwelling and store; Ernest Schade, premises, owner; G. Schwarz, architect; cost, $700.

No. 408 West Thirty-fifth Street, to a four-story brick dwelling and store; G. V. N. Baldwin of 32 Nassau Street, owner; J. S. Maher, architect; cost, $1,500.

Nos. 868 and 870 Washington Avenue, to two two-story frame dwellings; C. Smallen, premises, owner; J. H. Amsler, architect; cost, $1,600.

Nos. 341 and 343 East Twenty-ninth Street, to a five-story brick storage house; H. Koehler & Co. of 501 First Avenue, owner; Brun & Hauser, architects; cost, $3,000.

Nos. 231 and 233 East Sixty-fourth Street, to a two-story brick store; G. H. Roberts of 71 Front Street, owner; Newman & Duncan, architects; cost, $150.

Recorded Real Estate Transfers.

Wednesday, Dec. 6.

ARNOLD AV, w s, 300 ft s of Libby St, runs w 200 ft to e s of Hughes Av x s—x 178 to avenue x; n 150; Morris Hayman and others to Isaac Hessberg..... 100

ARNOLD AV, w s, 300 ft s of Libby St, runs w 200 ft to e s of Hughes Av, x s → to Westchester Creek x s — x178 to Arnold Av x n 150; Isaac Hessberg to Nathan Lewis..... 100

BAINBRIDGE AV, e s, 110.2 ft s of 184th St, runs e 74 ft to w s of 184th St, x s 16.8x w 75 ft to av x n 16.8 ft; Annie E. Schreiner to Charles Keary, quit claim..... 1

BANK ST, 51 and 53, n w corner of 4th St; Edward H. Fallows and another, receivers, to Winslow E. Buzby..... 1

BROADWAY, 1,098 and 1,100, 39x74.2x 33.10x85.9; Francis George to Mary J. George..... Gift.

BROADWAY, w s, 101 ft n of 52d St, 25.2 x12.4x25x15; New York Realty Company to John N. Golding..... 100

BROOK AV, n w corner of 149th St, 49.4x90x40.5x90.5; Jonas Well and others to Albert Rothermel..... 1

BROOK AV, e s, 100 ft n of 149th St, 25x100; Leopold Hutter and wife to Jonas Well, one-half part..... 1

BROOME ST, s s, 60 ft w of Attorney St, 40x75; Jacob Pomeranz to Isidor Ginsberg 1

DECATUR AV, n e corner of Eclipse St, 110.5x50.6x101.3; also, Parkside Place, w s, 154.11 ft n of 207th St, 50x 90; John H. Eden to Mary Madden.. 1

DENMAN PLACE, n s, 146.11 ft e of Union Av, widened, 24.9x77.4; Elizabeth and Valentine Corell to Cyrus Hitchcock. 50

GRAND ST, 360, 22.3x75.1; Thomas D. Hogg to Horace S. Ely..... Gift.

GREENE LANE, s e corner of 5th St, 25x 100; Isaac Hessberg to Nathan Lewis.. 1

HOME ST, s s, 233.7 ft w of Barretto St, 22x69.6x32.7x45.5; David Lachenbruch and wife to Jacobina Kaufman..... 1

HOUSTON ST, s s, 90 ft w of Goerck St, 20x50; Bernhard Cohen to Herman Hollender..... 1

KATONAH AV, n w corner of Hyatt Place, 25x85; John Lyman, by attorney, to Joseph A. Lynch..... 1

LOT 161, second map of Neill estate; Edward M. Neill and another, executors, &c., to Jacob and Caroline Keller..... 700

MACY PL, s s, 183.11 ft e of Prospect Av, 25x120.7x irreg; Theodore E. Macy and others to William A. M. Streeter.. 7,200

MADISON ST, n e corner of Gouverneur St, 63.2x73.8x62.9x74; Pincus Lowenfeld and others to Barnet Hamburger..... 1

MARCHER AV, e s, 200.5 ft s of 169th St, 50.1x103.5x60x105.11; William D. W. Russell and others to William Grau and wife..... 2,650

MAYFLOWER AV, w s, 725.5 ft from Pelham Road, 50x100; Edward H. Fallows and another, receivers, to Winslow E. Buzby..... 21

MORRIS AV, n w corner of 150th St, 59.2x100; Leopold Hutter and wife to Albert Rothermel..... 1

ROOSEVELT ST, 71, 73, and 75, and 13 Oak St; Robert Boyd and wife to Rosario Lentino..... 1

SETON ST, n e corner of 2d St, 250x100x irregular; Seton St, n w corner of 2d St, 250x100x irregular; Frederick A. Budde and wife to Elise Ahlbrecht..... 1

SETON ST, n e corner of 2d St, 250x100x irregular; Seton St, n w corner of 2d St, 250x100x irregular; Elise Ahlbrecht to Furman V. Gaines and another..... 1

ST. ANN'S AV, 596, 25x125.5x25x121.8; Mary Madden to Mary D. Eden..... 100

ST. NICHOLAS AV, 100, n e corner of 115th St; Edward H. Fallows and another, receivers, to Winslow E. Buzby.. 1

SOUTH 5TH AV, e s, 125 ft s of Broome St, 22x100; Francis George to Mary J. George, quit claim..... Gift.

STANTON ST, 325, s s, 29.10x81.3x29.7x 81.4; Barnet Hamburger and wife to Pincus Lowenfeld and another..... 1

TINTON AV, 1,228, being lot in rear, 22x 32; William H. Wright to Nathan Birchell..... 1

WASHINGTON ST, w s, Lot 445, map of Unionport, 100x216 to Jackson St; Francis George to Mary J. George, quit claim.. Gift.

WATTS ST, n s, 289.4 ft e of Varick St, 21.6x75.9; Thomas S. Fuller to Elizabeth A. Fuller, ¼ part..... 1

WEST BROADWAY, n w corner of North Moore St, 52.11x—x61.6x13.9; Francis George to Mary J. George..... Gift.

WESTCHESTER AV, s s, 61.9 ft w of Eagle Av, 29.4x85.9x29x90.5; Albert Rothermel to Jonas H. Well..... 1

2D AV, 1,575, w s, 19x61.9; Albert Freund and another to John J. Hoff..... 1

5TH ST, n s, 108.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 20x 100; 5th St, n s, 123.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 173.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 223.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 50x100; 5th St, n s, 273.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 323.11 fe e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 373.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 398.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 423.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 448.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 25x100; 5th St, n s, 473.11 ft e of Greene Lane, 24.9x102x34.7x 100; Isaac Hessberg to Nathan Lewis.... 100

8TH ST, 331 East, n s, 24.9x93; George Steller to Pincus Lowenfeld and another. 1

8TH ST, 331 East, n s, 24.9x93; Louisa Henkel to Pincus Lowenfeld and another..... 1

19TH ST, s s, 81.9 ft w of w line of Lot 6, map of lots of William R. Cook, 19.4x 72x irregular; Sarah O'Connor to George Ehret..... 1

25TH ST, n s, 185 ft e of 3d Av, 25x98.9; Edward Rinaldo to Joel and Harry Rinaldo..... 100

27TH ST, n s, 125 ft w of 10th Av, 25x 98.9; Charles D. Olendorf, referee, to Mary Conlon..... 1,000

27TH ST, 244 to 248 West, 80.5x98.9x62.2x 98.9; Allen L. Smidt, referee, to Lawrence P. Kerr..... 57,737

27TH ST, s s, 290.6 ft e of 9th Av, 16.6x 98.9; William Bawden, executor, and others, trustees, to John L. Hamilton and others..... 10,500

28TH ST, n s, 125 ft e of 5th Av, 25x98.9; Ellen T. Melcher to Juliet M. Hotchkiss, one-half part..... 100

28TH ST, s s, 180.2 ft w of 7th Av, 16.8x 98.9; Nannie E. Turner to Louis Silverman..... 1

28TH ST, 125 ft e of 5th Av, 25x98.9; Juliet M. Hotchkiss to Abraham Goldsmith..... 1

28TH ST, 3 East, 25x98.9; George Hoadly and others, trustees, to Juliet M. Hotchkiss..... 22,000

62D ST, 219 West, 25x100.5; Hilda J. Kohler to Joseph Mathews..... 1

38TH ST, 332 East, 25x98.2x — x101.1; Eugene H. Pomeroy, referee, to James A. Lee..... 21,000

39TH ST, n s, 100 ft e of 11th Av, 25x98.9; Sarah Rogan and others to Margaret Houlihan..... 1

51ST ST, 21 West, 25x100; George L. Day and others, executors, to George L. Day and others, trustees..... 1

51ST ST, 19 West; George L. Day, as executor, to George L. Day and others, executors..... 1

58TH ST, 440 West, 25x100.5; Nathan Lewis to Isaac Hessberg..... Exch.

63D ST, 161 West, 25x100.5; Ruth F. Field to Ahrend and Sophie Meyer..... Exch.

68TH ST, s s, 460 ft e of 3d Av, 16.8x 100.5; Henry Rice, executor and trustee, to Abraham Strouse..... 9,250

82D ST, 156 East, 16.8x87; Martha McIntosh to Henry B. Stacey..... 100

82D ST, 156 East, 16.8x87; Henry B. Stacey and wife to the Collins Building and Construction Company..... 100

86TH ST, 5 West, 25x100.8; John C. Umberfield to James W. Halstead..... 19,500

87TH ST, s s, 175 ft w of Central Park West, 18x100.8; Richard W. G. Welling, referee, to Nathan Mayer..... 30,000

87TH ST, s s, 130 ft w of Central Park West, 20x100.8; Richard W. G. Welling, referee, to Nathan Mayer..... 36,000

98TH ST, n s, 337.9 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 15x33.2x irreg; Daniel Hoffman and wife to Myron H. Oppenheim..... 1

98TH ST, n s, 295.6 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 15x33.2x irregular; Daniel Hoffman and wife to Myron H. Oppenheim..... 1

98TH ST, n s, 379.6 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 18x30.6x irregular; Daniel Hoffman and wife to Myron H. Oppenheim..... 1

104TH ST, 64 West, 31.4x100.11; John Foley to Orrin D. Person..... 1

104TH ST, s s, 131.4 ft e of Columbus Av, 31.4x100.11; Sidney J. Cowen, referee, to John Foley..... 3,175

107TH ST, s s, 250 ft e of 2d Av, 50x 100.11; William P. Franklin to Jacob Antopolsky..... 16,000

107TH ST, n s, 125 ft e of 2d Av, 125x 76.10; Jacob Oppenheim and wife to Abraham L. Dworsky..... 100

112TH ST, s s, 175 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 25x100.11; Isabella R. Tiffany to Melvena McBride..... 100

112TH ST, s s, 150 ft w of 7th Av, 17x 100.11; William M. Hoes, referee, to Nathan Mayer..... 14,000

137TH ST, 861 West, 27.6x100; S. Gertrude Palen to William Fulton..... 1

137TH ST, n s, 200 ft e of Willis Av, 50x100; Furman V. Gaines and others to Frederick A. Budde..... 1

138TH ST, s s, 116.8 ft w of Boulevard, 16.8x99.11; Frank D. Arthur, referee, to Emily Beamont..... 9,000

143D ST, 698 East, 25x100; Robert Wallace to Edward Stolte..... 100

142D ST, 517 West, 17x99.11; William L. Youngman to Julia M. Youngman..... 1

Recorded Leases.

ASTOR, William M., to Caroline Martens; Avenue A, 62, 20 years..... $1,050

BAGGOT, Atmore L., to Charles B. Schaidner; 3d Av, 2,282, n w corner of 124th St, 4 years..... 1,020

BEAMS, Joseph H., to Charles H. Meyer; 3d Av, 2,551 to 2,555, 15 years..... 3,000

FLEISCHMAN, Julia, to S. Elk; Madison Av, 1,846, s w corner of 120th St, 2 years..... 1,600

FLEISCHMAN, Julia, to John Wulff; Madison Av, 1,832, n w corner of 119th St, 1 year..... 1,300

LOUIS, Charles H., to Antonio D'Anbrosio and another; Mott St, 104, 3 years.. 2,550

McNAMARA, Mary, to Peter J. Lavelle; Mulberry St, 224, 226, and 228, 5 years.. 3,700

SCHMID, Josephine, to Charles F. Duffy; 6th Av, n e corner of 98th St, 5 years... 3,100

Recorded Mortgages.

ANTOPOLSKY, Jacob, to William P. Franklin; 107th St, s s, 250 ft e of 2d Av, 1 year..... $1,500

ALBRECHT, Elise, to Frederick A. Budde; Seton St, n e corner of 2d St; also Seton St, n e corner of 2d St, extends to 3d St, Bond; 3 years..... 5,000

BONN, Barbara J., to Edward F. Denner; 28th St, n s, 75 ft w of 2d Av, 1 year.... 3,500

BORMANN, Henry and wife, to Hermina Halfmann and another, executors, &c.; 184 East 80th St, 3 years..... 1,200

BROWN, Louisa A., to the Union Surety and Guaranty Company; 137 West 23d St..... Secures indemnity

BUDDE, Frederick A., to Christina Haase; 673 East 137th St, 2 years..... 4,000

BUDDE, Frederick A., to William J. and Herman M. Haase; 675 East 137th St, 2 years..... 4,000

BULTMAN, Albert H., to Seamen's Bank for Savings; Madison Av, n e corner of 76th St, 3 years..... 140,000

CARTER, Emily J., to the Popular Banking Savings and Loan Association; 419 West 45th St, installments..... 100

COSTELLO, Mary A., to George Hewlett; Briggs Av, s s, 122.8 ft e of Southern Boulevard, 3 years..... 4,500

COSTELLO, Mary A., to George Hewlett; Briggs Av, s s, 100 ft e of Southern Boulevard, 3 years..... 4,500

COWIE, James, to Edmond R. Smith, executor, &c.; 332 East 38th St, 3 years. 16,000

DUFFY, Charles F., to Bernheimer & Schmid; 1,170 5th Av, demand..... 6,200

FOLEY, John, to William P. Sanford; 64 West 104th St, 1 year..... 2,250

GEARTY, Mary A., and Mary E., to Leopold Frank; 317 West 18th St, 6 years.. 6,000

GLICK, Minnie, to United States Trust Company; 150 Clinton St, 5 years..... 23,000

GOLDING, John N., to the New York Realty Company; Broadway, w s, 100.11 ft n of 192d St, 1 year..... 3,000

GORSCH, Arthur and Sophia, to Herman Wendt; Broome St, 14 and 16, and 18½ and 20 Mangin St, 1 year..... 20,000

HAMBURGER, Barnett, to Pincus Lowenfeld and another; 321 to 325 Madison St, 1 year..... 9,250

HAMILTON, John L., to William Bawden and others, trustees, &c.; 27th St, s s, 290.6 ft e of 9th Av, 5 years..... 8,000

HANSON, Joseph G., to Fannie K. Koss; 86th St, n s, 222.6 ft e of 3d Av, 5 years..... 5,000

HOFF, John J., to Albert Freund and Julius Stich; 1,575 2d Av, 1 year..... 620

HOFMANN, George, to James J. Larkin and another; 310 to 325 East 85th St, demand..... 7,850

HOFMANN, George, to John C. Orr; 310 to 325 East 85th St, demand..... 6,262

HOFMANN, George, to Pincus Lowenfeld and another; 310 to 325 East 85th St, demand..... 500

HOLLANDER, Herman, to Bernard Cohen and another; Houston St, s s, 90 ft w of Goerck St, installments..... 6,000

HOTCHKISS, Juliet M., to Ellen S. Melcher; 3 East 28th St, 1 year..... 17,500

HOTCHKISS, Juliet M., to George Hoadley and others, trustees; 3 East 28th St, 1 year..... 17,500

HOULIHAN, Margaret, executrix, &c., and another, executor, to Mary Dymock; 39th St, n s, 100 ft e of 11th Av, 8 years. 2,500

HUNTER, William C., to Frederick G. Potter; 119th St, n s, 325 ft w of 7th Av, 100.11x158.2 to St. Nicholas Av, demand. 2,427

HUSE, Carrie and Theresa Josephthal; 53d St, 154 West, 5 years..... 13,000

KAPP, Davis, to Edward Barbig; 113th St, s s, 55.6 ft w of Park Av, ½ year.... 1,000

KEE, David C., and Martha Beck to Adaline L. Cheney; 171st St, n s, 100 ft e of Audubon Av; also 171st St, n s, 120 ft e of Audubon Av, 3 years..... 4,000

KELLER, Jacob and Caroline, to Edward M. Neill and another, executors, &c.; Lot 161, second map of Neill estate, 3 years..... 450

KRUMENAKER, Albert, and Katie, to George Ehret; 512 and 514 East 166th St, 1 year..... 2,000

LENTINO, Rosario, to Robert Boyd; 71 to 75 Roosevelt St and 13 Oak St, 5 years..... 71,000

LEWIS, Nathan, to Isaac Hessberg; Arnold Av, w s, 300 ft s of Libby St, 200 ft to Hughes Av, 5 years..... 2,000

LOWENFELD, Pincus, and another to Louisa Heinsheimer, 7th St, n s, 189 ft w of Avenue C, 2 years..... 12,000

MADDEN, Mary, to Maud J. Eden; Lots 85 and 86, map of Norwood, 5 years..... 1,000

MASSETT, Stephen F., to James Mc-Clenahan and others, executors, &c.; 34th St, s s, 195.10 ft e of 10th Av, 5 years..... 10,000

MATHEWS, Catherine M., to Jacob C. Rosenblum; 1,006 East 137th St, ½ year. 1,500

MATHEWS, Catherine M., to Jacob C. Rosenblum; 1,008 East 137th St, ½ year. 1,500

MAY, Morris, to the Metropolitan Savings Bank; 165 Allen St, 3 years..... 17,500

McBRIDE, Melvena, to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 112th St, s s, 175 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 1 year..... 6,500

PETERS, Henry H., to Edward F. Browning; 7th Av, 283 and 285, 3 years. 20,000

POILLARD, Alfred E., to Augustus C. Fransioli; St. Nicholas Av, w s, 101.3 ft s of 141st St, demand..... 1,130

REHNISCH, Emma, to Walter F. Kingsland; Trinity Av, n e corner of 183d St, 3 years..... 4,000

RINALDO, Edward, and wife to Paul Hellinger; 25th St, n s, 210 ft e of 3d Av, 1 year..... 1,500

ROTHERMEL, Albert, to Jonas Well and another; Brook Av, n w corner of 149th St; also Morris Av, n w corner of 150th St, 1 year..... 14,000

ROTHERMEL, Albert, to Simon M. Straus; Brook Av, n w corner of 149th St, 1 year..... 5,500

ROTHERMEL, Albert, to Edward M. Burghard; Brook Av, n w corner of 149th St, widened; also Morris Av, n w corner of 150th St, 1 year..... 2,000

RUNGE, Minnie C., and Dora Westfall to Hewlett Scudder, Jr.; 1,492 Lexington Av, 5 years..... 14,000

SEE, Milton, to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Amsterdam Av, w s, 99.11 ft s of 198th St, 3 years..... 3,000

STACEY, Henry B., to Susan E. Blodgett; 156 East 82d St, 5 years..... 8,000

STANTON, James M., to Edward Dougherty, individually and as trustee, and another; 827 and 829 Southern Boulevard, 1 year..... 8,000

STOLTE, Edward J., to J. William Kaiser; 143d St., s s, 375 ft e of Willis Av, demand..... 1,000

STOLTE, Edward, to Elizabeth Keim, executrix; 143d St, s s, 375 ft e of Willis Av, 3 years..... 13,000

STREETER, William A. M., to Theodore E. Macy and others; Macy Place s s, 183.11 ft e of Prospect Av, 5½ years.. 1,900

TREBING, August J., to Anna E. Haas; 83d St. s s, 150 ft e of Park Av, demand. 1,750

TREBING, August J., to Anna E. Haas; 83d St, s s, 175.3 ft e of Park Av, demand..... 1,750

WEINSTEIN, Charles L., to Wilson M. Powell; 198 East 7th St, 5 years..... 27,000

WILCOX, Elizabeth A., to Jacob and Meyer Bloch; 128 West 83d St, 1 year..... 4,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

ARKELL, William J., trustee, to Lucy W. Drexel, trustee, &c..... Nom.

ARKELL, William J., trustee, &c., to Lucy W. Drexel, trustee, &c..... Nom.

ARKELL, William J., trustee, &c., to Lucy W. Drexel, trustee, &c..... Nom.

ARKELL, William J., trustee, &c., to Lucy W. Drexel, trustee, &c..... Nom.

COLYER, Mary E., to Sarah H. Powell.. 10,000

DREXEL, Lucy W., trustee, to Josephine W. Drexel..... Nom.

DREXEL, Lucy W., trustee, to Josephine W. Drexel..... Nom.

DREXEL, Lucy W., trustee, to Josephine W. Drexel..... Nom.

DREXEL, Lucy W., trustee, to Josephine W. Drexel..... 1

FEINBERG, William, to Joseph Polstein. Nom.

FEINBERG, William, to Joseph Polstein. Nom.

FEINBERG, William, to Jacob Polstein.. Nom.

FRANSIOLI, Augustus C., to Raymond Jenkins..... Nom.

FULLER, Euphemia B., to R. Elizabeth Putney..... 1,000

GEORGE, Francis, trustee, &c., to Mary J. George..... Nom.

HESSBERG, Isaac, to Arthur Beis..... 2,000

HOOKEY, William T., to Simon Adler and another..... Nom.

LEWIS, George W., and another to Nathan Lewis..... Nom.

LEWIS, Nathan, to Isaac Hessberg..... 3,000

MORAN, Dennis W., to Catherine Madigan..... Nom.

POLSTEIN, Joseph, to William Feinberg. Nom.

POLSTEIN, Joseph, to William Feinberg. Nom.

SCHMÖHL, William H., to Harriet L. Kapp..... 3,700

SCUDDER, Hewlett, Jr., to the Lawyers' Title Insurance Company..... 21,000

SIEBEL, Josephine, to Marie Maritz..... Nom.

STRIKER, James A., to Letitia M. Striker..... 1,000

Mechanics' Liens.

AMSTERDAM AV, s w corner of 86th St, 100x100; George C. Murphy against Mark E. Stevens and Arthur C. Searles, owners and contractors..... $1,934

BROADWAY, s e corner of 23d St, 100x 100; Dimock & Fink Company against Fred Sims, as contractor..... 2,255

CENTRAL PARK WEST, w s, 66.3 ft n of 94th St, 108x100; the National Iron Company against Emory F. Dodson, or William Call, owner; E. F. Dodson & Co., contractors..... 1,191

EAST BROADWAY, 26, and 13 Division St; Bohland & Alkier against Lena and Samuel Michelson, owners and contractors..... 453

LEWIS ST, 88 and 90; Bohland & Alkier against Lena and Samuel Michelson, owners and contractors..... 500

ST. NICHOLAS AV, n e corner of 113th St, 118.5x144.2x100.11x82.3; Chautauqua Planing Mill Company against Emily L. Felt, owner; Johnson & Peterson, contractors..... 444

7TH AV, s w corner of 149th St, 175x100; G. L. Schuyler & Co. against William C. Bolton, owner and contractor..... 410

3D ST, 352 to 356 East; Bohland & Alkier against Samuel Michelson, owner and contractor..... 395

8TH ST, 319 to 323 East; White Van Glahn & Company against George Hoffman, owner and contractor..... 429

8TH ST, 319 to 323 East; C. Vernon & Co. against George Hoffman, owner and contractor..... 2,763

8TH ST, 319 to 323 East; Lorenz Eichner against George Hoffman, owner and contractor..... 1,200

20TH ST, 220 West; Walker and Chambers against Joseph Leavy and Lewis Kohn, owners and contractors..... 150

89TH ST, 118 and 120 West; Bradley and Currier Company against Samuel Johnpole and Harry L. Weiss, owners and contractors..... 356

91ST ST, 253 West; the Brooklyn Asphaltum Paint Company against Charles S. Sentell, owner and contractor..... 20

100TH ST, n s, 90 ft e of Broadway, 60x100; G. L. Schuyler & Co. against P. V. Morton, owner; A. Waldron, owner and contractor..... 38

100TH ST, 209 West; Thomas P. Sinnott against Alfred Waldron, owner; John Darragh, contractor..... 500

100TH ST, n s, 90 ft e of Broadway, 60x51.10; Henry Brown & Son against Alfred Waldron, owner and contractor.. 725

112TH ST, n e corner of 1st Av, 100.11x 100; Benedetto & Perliano against Bernard Isaacs, owner; Davis Carp and Edward Barbig, contractors..... 1,700

112TH ST, s s, 100 ft w of 5th Av, 150x 100.11; Schneider & Herter against Isidor J. Deitz, owner; Seglin Brothers, owners and contractors..... 400

114TH ST, 74 East; Henry Reiner against Blazius Ryer, owner; John O'Brien, contractor..... 87

144TH ST, n s, 115 ft w of Brook Av, 50x 100; John W. Rapp against Adolph Wexler, owner; Morris O. Cohen, owner and contractor..... 30

171ST ST, s s, 75 ft e of Park Av, 75x 100; John W. Rapp against R. Vingaprova, owner and contractor..... 84

BUILDING LOAN UNDER CHAPTER 418, LAW

PIANOS.

HARDMAN PIANO

"The Only Piano that Improves with Use."

See the new Hardman Baby Grand

HARDMAN, PECK & CO.,
136 & 138 Fifth Ave., New York.

ANDERSON & CO.,
470 Fulton St., Brooklyn Representative.

NEW STYLES.

We now have a complete stock of our elegant, new designs in Upright Pianos, in various fancy woods, at our warerooms.

The discontinued styles we will dispose of at greatly reduced prices, cash or monthly payments. Call and examine, or send for ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE. Pianos to rent.

KRAKAUER BROS.,
WAREROOMS, 113 EAST 14TH ST.

THE OPERA PIANO.

New and elegant designs also several slightly used
WRITE FOR BARGAIN LIST.

Warerooms, Broadway, Cor. 47th St.

BOARDERS WANTED.

38TH ST., 40 EAST.—Large second floor room, with board; parlor dining room; reference.

* FURNISHED ROOMS.

82D ST., 120 WEST.—Large, comfortable room in private house; all conveniences; rent moderate.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALES.

AMERICAN DIST. TEL. CO.

NO EXTRA CHARGE.

Ring your Messenger Call Box or leave your Advertisements at any American District Telegraph or Postal Telegraph Office. Charges same as at Publication Office.

Cooks.

COOK.—By thoroughly competent young woman; good family cook; wash and iron; small family; city reference. M. R., 259 West 67th St., third flat.

COOK, &c.—By a young Canadian woman as good cook and laundress in American family; apartments preferred; personal reference. 218 East 65th St.

COOK and COARSE WASHING.—Protestant; excellent baker; city or country; best references. Mary, 753 6th Av., (store.)

COOK and LAUNDRESS.—By a respectable young girl in a private family; lady can be seen. 425 West 50th St.

Day's Work.

DAY'S WORK.—By a colored woman; day's work or family washing at home; first-class reference. Shea, 538 West 50th St., top floor, back.

Dressmakers.

DRESSMAKER.—Competent to handle any part of lady's wardrobe; retrim finest work; willing to assist in shopping; by the day or week. Reasonable. Advertising Agency, 59 8th Av.

DRESSMAKER.—First-class French dressmaker, elegant work wishes more customers; out by day. Louise, 45 West 98th.

Governesses.

GOVERNESS, &c.—Swedish lady, graduated from the Royal Superior Training College in Stockholm Sweden, having vast experience of teaching in lyceums and families, is now ready for new engagement as governess or other suitable position; highest references. H. L., Box 13, Erie, Penn.

Housekeepers.

HOUSEWORK.—By reliable woman; general housework; small family; city, country; good city reference; no cards. 361 West 30th St., second floor.

Laundresses.

LAUNDRESS.—By a first-class, thoroughly competent laundress; best of city references. S., Box 296, 1,260 Broadway.

LAUNDRESS.—By a first-class laundress by the day or month. 1,162 3d Av.; ring Higgins's bell.

Nurses.

INFANT'S NURSE.—By reliable young Protestant; North of Ireland; experienced infant's nurse; take entire charge; bring up on bottle; best city reference. Hetherington, 31 Columbus Av.

Seamstresses.

SEAMSTRESS.—By a thoroughly competent seamstress; does all kinds of family sewing, curtains, cushions and also repairing dresses, finishing, and alterations. Seamstress, 773 Amsterdam Av.

SEAMSTRESS.—By first-class children's dress and cloak maker; years with Thurn, 5th Av.; will call and take measure; no fitting. Mrs. Williams, 147 East 39th St.

Waitresses.

WAITRESS.—By an experienced English Protestant; permanent or for Winter. G. L., Box 294, 1,269 Broadway.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALES.

Butlers.

BUTLER—VALET.—By an Englishman, just disengaged; city or country; good city references; wages moderate. G. M., 981 6th Av., care Simpson.

BUTLER.—By a first-class butler; good city references; 7 years; 2 years last place. 141 East 43d St.

BUTLER.—Thoroughly competent; faithful, strictly sober, neat; willing and obliging. Butler, 129 West 24th St.

Coachmen.

COACHMAN.—By coachman; understands his duties; 8 years' personal references. Apply Duncan-Menzies, care Flandrau & Co., Broome St.

Gardeners.

GARDENER.—Understands greenhouse work and care of horses. Peter Hausen, Mills Hotel No. 1, Bleecker St.

Miscellaneous.

ARE YOU GOING TO EUROPE? Educated Englishman (35) desires to engagement as courier-traveling servant to ladies, gentlemen, or family; 14 years' experience in European and North African travel; personal reference. Travel, 1,269 Broadway.

OFFICE WORK, &c.—Man, 26 years old, of good habits and address, who has had considerable experience in offices of a large railroad company; also in a hotel; thoroughly competent to hold any position of trust and responsibility; can give excellent references from well known as to my ability; &c. J. D., 1,269 Broadway.

STRONG BOY IS DESIRES OPPORTUNITY to learn plumbing and steamfitting trade. Roth, 81 East 113th St.

THE TRADES.

MATTRESSES REMADE AT CUSTOMERS' residences in three hours a specialty; new tickings and hair supplied; sole users of own patented oscillating hair carding machines and only tangible benches. THE MATTRESS RENOVATORY, 946 9th Av., 55th and 56th Sts. Telephone 967 Columbus.

HELP WANTED—FEMALES.

WANTED—A refined young woman not over thirty years of age as nurse and companion to invalid lady; trained graduate nurse preferred; references required as to character and respectability; salary $12 per week. Jones, Box 159 Times.

HELP WANTED—MALES.

WANTED—Salesman with good records contemplating change on Jan. 1 may make very satisfactory arrangements with a good house in high-grade teas and coffees; duties confidential. GUATEMALA, Box 180 Times.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of VALENTINE G. HALL, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Valentine G. Hall of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Valentine G. Hall was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Nathaniel A. Prentiss, referee in bankruptcy, 120 Broadway, New York City, on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1899, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS, Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 6th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of GEORGE S. HARRAL, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of George S. Harral of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 2d day of December, A. D. 1899, the said George S. Harral was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Nathaniel A. Prentiss, referee in bankruptcy, 120 Broadway, New York City, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS, Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 6th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of HENRY J. LENZ, Bankrupt.—In bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Henry J. Lenz of the City and County of New York and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Henry J. Lenz was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of F. K. Pendleton, referee, No. 44 Broadway, in the City and County of New York, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1899, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. F. K. PENDLETON, Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 6th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ABRAHAM MENKE and JULIUS MENKE, Bankrupts.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Abraham Menke and Julius Menke of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Abraham Menke and Julius Menke were duly adjudicated bankrupts; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Nathaniel A. Prentiss, referee in bankruptcy, 120 Broadway, New York City, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupts, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS, Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 6th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of LEAH R. PLOTZKA, Bankrupt. No. 1,526.

To the creditors of Leah R. Plotzka of the City and County of New York and district aforesaid, bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 5th day of December, A. D. 1899, the said Leah R. Plotzka was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, Number 71 Broadway, in the City of New York, on the 18th day of December, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. STANLEY W. DEXTER, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated December 6th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ELIZABETH K. SATTERLEE, individually and as a member of the firm of D. R. Satterlee & Co., Bankrupt.—No. 1,797.

To the creditors of Elizabeth K. Satterlee, individually and as a member of the firm of D. R. Satterlee & Co., of the City and County of New York and district aforesaid, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the first day of December, A. D. 1899, the said Elizabeth K. Satterlee was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 71 Broadway, in the City of New York, on the 22d day of December, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. STANLEY W. DEXTER, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated Dec. 6, 1899.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN District of New York.—LOUIS SCHLESINGER, Bankrupt.—No. 1,675.

Notice is hereby given that Louis Schlesinger, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 16th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts and liabilities, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon. JOHN J. TOWNSEND, Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, December 6, 1899.

SUMMONSES.

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW York, County of New York.—JACOB ROTHSCHILD, Simon Ottenberg, and Mary Goldenberg, as executors and trustees under the last will and testament of Simon Goldenberg, deceased, plaintiffs, against MARY GOLDENBERG, Joel Goldenberg, Zipora Gross, Emelia Strauss, Henrietta Strauss, Clara Ulman, Hannah Marcus, Rebecca Katz Stiefel, Augusta (Gusta) Kantor, Henriette (Yettchen) Katten, Herman Goldenberg, Johanna Katz, Augusta Seligman, Paula Bamberger, Theodore Goldenberg, Hannah Fischer, Helen B. Wise, Augusta (Gussie) Simonson, Samuel L. Goldenberg Lannah Ottenberg, Joel K. Goldenberg, Benjamin Goldenberg, Minnie B. Wise, Meier Katten, Paula Katten, Adolph Katten, Hermann Katten Mandel Katten, Johanna Sanchen Katten, Jacob H. Fleisch, Jacob H. Schiff, Julius Goldman, M. Warley Platzek, Isaac Wallach, Jacob Rothschild, Simon Ottenberg, Joel Goldenberg, and Louis Seeberger, defendants.—Summons. Trial desired in the County of New York.

To the above-named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiffs' attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated New York, July 18th, 1899.
CHARLES H. BRUSH,
Plaintiffs' Attorney.
Office and Post Office address, No. 30 Broad Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To the defendants: Zipora Gross, Emelia Strauss, Clara Ulman, Hannah Marcus, Rebecca Katz Stiefel, Augusta (Gusta) Kantor, Henrietta (Yettchen) Katten, Johanna Katz, Augusta Seligman, Paula Bamberger, Theodore Goldenberg, Samuel L. Goldenberg, Meier Katten, Paula Katten, Adolph Katten, Hermann Katten, Mandel Katten, and Johanna Sanchen Katten:

The foregoing summons is served upon you without the State of New York, pursuant to the order of the Hon. Francis M. Scott, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 27th day of October, 1899, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in said county, on the 31st day of October, 1899.

Dated New York, October 31st, 1899.
CHARLES H. BRUSH,
Plaintiffs' Attorney.
30 Broad Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—EMMA J. BENT, plaintiff, against WILLIAM WAHLE, Anna Elizabeth Wahle, James Owen, Mary E. Burslem, Godolphin F. Burslem, Stephen G. Williams, and Priscilla Williams, defendants.—Summons.

To the above-named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated November 22, 1899.
MORNAY WILLIAMS,
Plaintiff's Attorney, Office and Post Office Address, No. 59 Wall St., N. Y. City.

To the defendant, James Owen: The foregoing summons is served on you by publication pursuant to an order of the Honorable Miles Beach, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 5th day of December, 1899, and on the 6th day of December, 1899, filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of New York County, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City, County, and State of New York, which said complaint was originally filed on the 25th day of November, 1899.

Dated December 6, 1899.
MORNAY WILLIAMS,
Plaintiff's Attorney, 59 Wall St., N. Y. City.
d7-law7wTh

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—PLAYA DE ORO MINING CO., plaintiff, against GEORGE B. NIXON and JOHN NICHOLS, (the Christian name John being fictitious,) and the Mesa name unknown to plaintiff, as copartners, organized and doing business under the firm name and style of "Successores de George Chambers & Co.," defendants.—Summons.

To the above named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated New York City, October 9th, 1899.
SEWARD, GUTHRIE & STEELE,
Attorneys for Plaintiff, Office and Post Office address, No. 40 Wall Street, New York City.

To the above named defendants: The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Miles Beach, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 6th day of December, 1899, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York.

Dated New York, December 6th, 1899.
SEWARD, GUTHRIE & STEELE,
Attorneys for Plaintiff, Office and Post Office address, 40 Wall Street, New York City, N. Y.

THE DEAF CURED FREE

TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

BRUSSEL, JAMES.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JAMES BRUSSEL, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, No. 67 Murray Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the first day of May next.—Dated New York, the 25th day of October, 1899. JOSEPH BRUSSEL, HUGO CAHN, Executors. WISE & LICHTENSTEIN, Attorneys for Executors, 50 and 52 Exchange Place, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. o25-law6mTh

CAMBRELENG, JOSEPHINE GRAHAM.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Nicholas Cambreleng, Nieve Cambreleng and Josephine Cambreleng, the husband and only heirs and next of kin of JOSEPHINE GRAHAM CAMBRELENG, deceased, send greeting: Whereas Henry L. Sprague of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing, dated the 5th day of December, 1892, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of Josephine Graham Cambreleng, late of Tenerife, Canary Islands, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the twenty-second day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, at half-past ten o'clock, in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at the County, the 27th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
STETSON, JENNINGS & RUSSELL, Attorneys for Henry L. Sprague, Petitioner, 15 Broad Street, N. Y.

DE LA VERGNE, JOHN C.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOHN C. DE LA VERGNE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers, at the office of transacting business, at the office of Ashbel P. Fitch, No. 33 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 20th day of December next.—Dated New York, the 13th day of June, 1899. JACOB RUPPERT, CAEHARINE A. DE LA VERGNE, Executors. ASHBEL P. FITCH, Attorney for Executors, 33 Nassau Street, New York City. je15-law6m&120

GRAFF, PETER A.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. John H. V. Arnold, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PETER A. GRAFF, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business at Johnstown, Fulton County, State of New York, on or before the 10th day of March next.—Dated New York, June 28th, 1899. STEPHEN GRAFF, Executor. WILLIAM KING HALL, Attorney for Executor, 149 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. je28-law6mTh

HIGGINS, ELIZABETH P.—Pursuant to an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELIZABETH P. HIGGINS, late of the City and County of New York, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of James T. Lewis, his attorney No. 120 Broadway, New York City, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the 23d day of December next.—Dated New York, June 21st, 1899. ELIZ HARRIS, Executor. JAMES T. LEWIS, Attorney for Executor, 120 Broadway, New York City, Borough of Manhattan. je22-law6mTh

JONES, MARTHA R.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Clara L. Thomas, Albert H. Jones, Emily M. Dodd, Charles G. Dodd, Howard M. Dodd, Clarence P. Thomas, Ida C. Berry, Henry P. Jones, Juliet Ketchum, Mary C. Beach, Matilda Force, Caroline A. Ohlman, Mary L. Cook, and to Aaron S. Thomas and said Clara L. Thomas, as trustees for said Mary L. Cook, and to all persons interested in the estate of MARTHA R. JONES, late of the County of New York, deceased, as creditors, legatees, next of kin, or otherwise, send greeting: You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' Court of said county, held at the County Court House, in the County of New York, on the 15th day of December, 1899, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend a judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of Aaron S. Thomas and John M. Dodd, Jr., as executors of the last will and testament of said deceased, and such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of said county, at the County of New York, the 30th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
[L. S.]
n2-law6wTh

ROBERT R. McBURNEY.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ROBERT R. McBURNEY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 47 Cedar Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 10th day of March next.—Dated New York, the 6th day of September, 1899. CEPHAS BRAINERD, Executor. TIMOTHY DAVENPORT, Atty. for Executor, 47 Cedar Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. s7-law6mTh

SCHWAB, MICHEL, or MICHAEL.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against MICHEL, or MICHAEL SCHWAB, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, No. 320 Broadway, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the 23d day of February, 1900.—Dated New York, the 8th day of August, 1899. SAMUEL M. SCHWAB, Jr., NOAH SCHWAB, LEO SCHWAB, Executors. JAY C. GUGGENHEIMER, Attorney for Executors, 320 Broadway, City of New York. au17-law6mTh&f15.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW York, by the grace of God free and independent.—To AUGUSTA S. HOCHSTAETTER, Louise M. Peckham, and Ellen C. Goldschmidt, individually and as executrices of the last will and testament of RICHARD TIGHE, deceased, Sir Francis Chapman, Maria Lady Chapman, Lina Lady Chapman, Lina Tighe, (now Jane Tongue,) Francis Roden, Ellen Vignoles, Emily Featherston Haugh, Cecil Featherston Haugh, Howard Featherston Haugh, Frederick Featherston Haugh, Herbert Featherston Haugh, Florence Lambarde, Richard Featherston Haugh, Rupert Featherston Haugh, Benjamin Chapman, Doris Chapman, Sir Montague Chapman, Harriet Massy, Margaret Featherston Haugh, Thomas T. Chapman, Catharine Arthur, Annie Donahue, Edmund Green, Carrie Carter, Harriet G. Davenport, Annie Stephens, Frances Isabella Dowd, Howard Wainwright, Stuyvesant Wainwright, J. Mayhew Wainwright, Richard Tighe Wainwright, Henry Stuyvesant, and Margaret C. Catlin, the executrices, heirs, next of kin, devisees, and legatees of Richard Tighe, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas Thomas A. Tighe of the City of New York has filed a petition in the Surrogate's Court of our county praying that an instrument revoking the probate of the alleged will of Richard Tighe admitted under an order made in said court by Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of said court, on the 20th day of October, 1898, and for other and further relief, therefore,

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before the Surrogate of our City and County of New York, at the Surrogate's Court of said city and county, held at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 27th day of December, 1899, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause why said probate should not be revoked.

And such of you as are under the age of 21 years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or, if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, Surrogate of said city and county, at the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, the 23d day of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

[Seal.] J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN, Clerk.
CAMPBELL & HANCE, Attorneys for Petitioner, 220 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. n9-law6wTh

TIMMERMANN, KAROLINE.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against KAROLINE TIMMERMANN, nee Ammann, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 11 Avenue A, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the first day of February, 1900, next.—Dated New York, the 25th day of July, 1899. JOHN TIMMERMANN, Administrator. EMILE A. HASSEY, Attorney for Administrator, No. 11 Avenue A, New York City. jy27-law6mTh

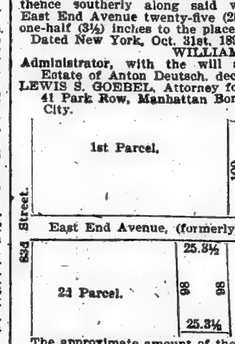
VAIL, ALBERT D.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ALBERT D. VAIL, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, No. 31 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 5th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 27th day of July, 1899. JANE ROMER VAIL, Administratrix. GEORGE LEWIS PRENTISS, Attorney for Administratrix, No. 31 Nassau Street, New York City. au3-law6mTh

LEGAL SALES.

SURROGATE'S COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the application of Charles Riederer, a creditor, for the disposition of the real property of Anton Deutsch, deceased, for the payment of his debts.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to a final decree, entered in the above-entitled proceeding, bearing date the 10th day of August, 1899, I, the undersigned, will on the 22d day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, by Bryan L. Kennelly, auctioneer, sell at public auction the premises directed by said decree to be sold and therein described as follows:

FIRST PARCEL: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of East End Avenue (formerly Avenue B) distant fifty-one (51) feet and five (5) inches northerly from the northeasterly corner of East End Avenue (formerly Avenue B) and Eighty-second Street, which point is at or nearly opposite to the centre of the westerly end of a party wall, and running thence easterly parallel with Eighty-second Street part of the way through said party wall one hundred (100) feet; thence northerly parallel with said East End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet and six (6) inches to a point opposite or nearly opposite to the centre of another party wall; thence running westerly parallel with Eighty-second Street, part of the way through said party wall, one hundred (100) feet to the easterly side of said East End Avenue, and thence southerly along the easterly side of said East End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet and six (6) inches to the place of beginning.



The approximate amount of the liens or charges to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $9,200.60, with interest thereon, together with the costs, allowances, and disbursements of the proceeding and expenses of the sale.

Parcel No. 1 is to be sold subject to a mortgage for $18,000, with interest thereon from February 17th, 1898, at five per cent. per annum, and taxes, assessments, and water charges amounting approximately to $1,193.17.

Parcel No. 2 is to be sold subject to a mortgage for $14,000, with interest thereon from February 17th, 1898, at five per cent. per annum, and taxes, assessments, and water rates amounting approximately to $1,030.67 and interest.

WILLIAM DEUTSCH, Administrator.
n9-law6wTh

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—MARY H. MYER, as trustee of the estate of Clark L. Sharpsteen, deceased, plaintiff, against FRANK LEON SMITH and others, defendants.—(Action No. 1.)

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 2d day of December, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 28th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., Auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described, as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City, County, and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Ninety-sixth Street, distant two hundred and four feet easterly from the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Ninety-sixth Street with the easterly line of Columbus Avenue, running thence northerly and parallel with Columbus Avenue and part of the distance through a party wall one hundred feet eleven inches to the centre line of the block between 96th and 97th Streets; thence easterly along said centre line and parallel with 96th Street 20 feet 8 inches; thence southerly and parallel with Columbus Avenue and part of the distance through a party wall 100 feet 11 inches to the northerly side of 96th Street; thence westerly along the northerly side of 96th Street 20 feet 8 inches to the point or place of beginning. The said premises being situated in Block 1,832, in Section 7, on the Land Map of the City of New York.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

CLIFFORD W. HARTRIDGE, Referee.
JOHNSTON & JOHNSTON, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 8 and 10 Centre St., Manhattan Borough, New York City.

The street number of said premises is 49 (old No. 57) West 96th Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $22,225.00, with interest thereon from the 1st day of December, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $334.66, with interest from December 1st, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $2,048.21 and interest.—Dated New York, December 4th, 1899.

CLIFFORD W. HARTRIDGE, Referee.

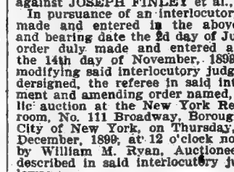
29 AND 31 RIDGE STREET.—New York Supreme Court, County of Kings.—CATHARINE FINLEY, an incompetent person, by Maria Cronin, committee of her person and estate, plaintiff, against JOSEPH FINLEY et al., defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 2d day of June, 1899, and an order duly made and entered and bearing date the 14th day of November, 1899, amending and modifying said interlocutory judgment, I, the undersigned, the referee in said interlocutory judgment and amending order named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Thursday, the 7th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, Auctioneer, the premises described in said interlocutory judgment, as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, which is bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Ridge Street, distant sixty-one feet six inches southerly from the southwesterly corner of Broome and Ridge Streets; running thence westerly parallel with Broome Street seventy-five feet; thence southerly parallel with Ridge Street, forty feet; thence easterly and parallel with Broome Street seventy-five feet to the westerly side of Ridge Street; and thence northerly along the westerly side of Ridge Street forty feet to the point or place of beginning; said premises being known as Nos. 29 and 31 Ridge Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

Dated New York, November 16th, 1899.
HERBERT S. OGDEN, Referee.
BOWERS & SANDS, Attorneys for defendant Lilienthal, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



Said premises are now subject to the lien of a certain mortgage, the approximate aggregate amount of which mortgage, with accrued interest, is $16,877.58. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, and water rates upon said premises is $1,160.46.

Dated New York, November 16th, 1899.
HERBERT S. OGDEN, Referee.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE BENAI BERITH CLUB, a domestic corporation, having its principal office and clubhouse in the City, County, and State of New York, will apply to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to be held in and for the County of New York, at Special Term of said court, in Part I. thereof, at the County Court House in the county aforesaid, on the 29th day of December, 1899, at 10:30 A. M. of that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for an order authorizing said corporation to change its name to the FRATERNITY SOCIAL CLUB.—Dated New York City, November 15, 1899. BENAI BERITH CLUB, by Adolph Hirsh, President. JACOB LEVY, Attorney for Petitioner, 302-304 Broadway, New York City. n16-law6wTh

REFEREES' NOTICES.

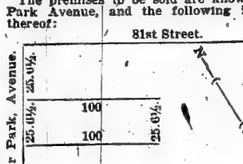
SUPREME COURT—CITY AND COUNTY OF New York.—THE GIRARD LIFE INSURANCE, ANNUITY, AND TRUST COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, as Trustee for Neilson Brown, under the will of Alexander Brown, deceased, plaintiff, against WILLIAM B. POPE et al., defendants.—Notice of sale.

In pursuance of the judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action on the fourth day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment appointed, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, on the 28th day of November, 1899, at twelve o'clock noon of that day, by Peter F. Meyer, Auctioneer, the premises in said judgment mentioned and therein described as follows, to wit:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the Nineteenth Ward of the City of New York, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Fourth Avenue distant twenty-five feet six and one-half inches southwardly from the southeastwardly corner of Eighty-first Street and Fourth Avenue, running thence eastwardly, parallel to Eighty-first Street, and part of the way through a party wall, one hundred feet, thence southwardly, parallel to Fourth Avenue, twenty-five feet six and one-half inches, thence westwardly, parallel or nearly so with Eighty-first Street, one hundred feet to the easterly side of Fourth Avenue, thence northwardly, along the easterly side of Fourth Avenue, twenty-five feet six and one-half inches to the point the place of beginning; being the same premises conveyed to William B. Pope by William H. Ransom and wife by deed dated September 10th, 1886, and recorded September 13th, 1886, in Liber 1,987 of Conveyances, Page 141. Together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining, and the reversion and reversions, remainder, and remainders, rents, issues, and profits thereof.—Dated New York, November 6th, 1899.

JOHN H. ROGAN, Referee.
ADAMS & COMSTOCK, Plaintiff's Attorneys, 36 Wall Street, New York City.

The premises to be sold are known as No. 933 Park Avenue, and the following is a diagram thereof:



The approximate amount of the

DR. DE COSTA'S APOLOGY

Says that His Change in Belief Began Long Ago.

HE ARRAIGNS PROTESTANTISM

The World, He Declares, Is Forced to Choose Between Rationalism and the Catholic Church.

The Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. De Costa, whose reception into the Roman Catholic Church took place last Sunday, has written an article which is to be published in Catholic papers in which he explains his reasons for the step he has taken. Following is an abstract of the article:

In beginning Dr. De Costa thanks God for giving him "grace to overcome the deep prejudice implanted by false education," and declares that his change of belief is not the work of a day or year, but began very long ago. "The sad, fallen estate of post-Reformation belief," he adds, "has forced upon me a reconsideration of principles, the result being the conviction that the Reformation was not based upon any true foundations."

Dr. De Costa then alludes to "the passing of studious Anglicans over to the Catholic Church." "The current," he says, "is as steady as the flow of the Gulf Stream," and he refers to Cardinal Newman and others who forsook Protestantism for the Church of Rome. He declares, however, that "if the gifted author of 'Lead, Kindly Light,' had never spoken, and if Manning, Faber, and Wilberforce had never lived, my own mode of thinking must infallibly have led me to my present faith."

The writer declares that the higher criticism forms "simply a sop to the Cerberus of unbelief, strengthening the appetite it would appease, creating a demand for still more preposterous propositions, and piling difficulty upon difficulty, Pelion upon Ossa." Reformation Christianity, he says, is deemed intellectually bankrupt by discerning men, and is rapidly approaching a catastrophe. Forty-two out of sixty-two millions of the people of the United States are outside any religious organization.

"I do not, however," says Dr. De Costa, "propose to offer any apology for entering the Catholic Church. Standing in the midst of modern religious systems toppling to their fall like columns in the Temple of Karnac, no defense need be offered for accepting a firm and unshaken Catholic faith."

Dr. De Costa then goes on to speak of the position of the Scriptures in the teaching system of the Catholic Church. He declares that "the Church of Rome stands before English-speaking people and Protestants everywhere as the unique and solitary defender of the Bible in its integrity and entirety."

"Yet," adds the writer, "legitimate criticism is welcomed in Catholic schools, and the study of Holy Scripture is encouraged by the Encyclical of Leo III., 'Providentissimus Deus,' which presents the most powerful motive for entering upon the work, beginning with the study of the Oriental languages and the art of criticism. It is recognized that there is a vast field for study, and that much is to be learned in respect to interpretation. It is said that not infrequently interpretations have been placed on certain passages of Scripture (not belonging to the rule of faith and morals) which have been rectified by more careful investigations. This result has never been gained by the denial of inspiration, or the elimination of books or parts of books. The higher criticism now attacks entire books, and efforts are made to explain away the words of our blessed Lord in His references to Old Testament characters and events."

"The Church," proceeds Dr. De Costa, "never changed her method of dealing with science. In this connection a scholar should not allow his mind to become befogged. The issue is not simply one of science or simple interpretation. Hermeneutics may be involved, but, primarily, it is the mystery of the incarnation that criticism puts on trial. The case is dogmatic. It means a revision of the incarnation to accommodate a revision of the Bible. This the Holy Catholic Church will never approve. It is not in the slightest degree probable that she will allow her children to believe that our blessed Lord was ignorant of the real character of the sacred writings, or that, with a full knowledge of those writings, He stooped in the most solemn connections to the trivialities and literary accommodations of the ordinary Eastern teacher, deliberately sending forth to all ages fiction as fact, suffusing the centuries of the life and thought of the Catholic Church with allegory and legend, leaving an astonished world to wake from its long Oriental dream and realize that human thought, through the ages, has been simply the subject of illusion, the victim of what, at least approximately, approaches too closely the nature of a world-encircling jest. All this may be in keeping with what Leo XIII. felicitously styles the inept method dignified by the name of 'higher criticism'; but it cannot be seriously entertained. It is incipient Socinianism."

Dr. De Costa denies, however, that the authorities of the Catholic Church are unfavorable to the circulation and use of the Bible, saying that it is the duty and privilege of Catholic scholars to study the Bible thoroughly in the original tongues. The writer goes on to point out that tradition is also valuable.

Proceeding to speak of the question of Papal infallibility, Dr. De Costa says:

"It is time for candid non-Catholics to learn that the notion that it (infallibility) interferes with individual liberty is as true as that the mariner's compass renders the sailor an abject slave."

In conclusion Dr. De Costa says:

"On the Protestant theory there is no visible church, the only body being a mystical body in the air. On this theory Christianity has failed. The empire that triumphed over the Roman Empire has perished. This is simply pessimism run mad. Reformation religionism, therefore, offers no moral or intellectual outlook for coming generations, and leaves the world forced at last to choose between rationalism and the Catholic Church. I believe in the Holy Catholic Church and the life everlasting."

LEGAL NOTES.

THE CIVIL SERVICE LAW.—James C. Strahan, who had been one of the Deputy Tax Commissioners in the former City of New York since 1876, was at the time of the consolidation under the Greater New York charter receiving a salary of $2,700 a year, and his position was in the classified service. The present Tax Commissioners, finding that the Deputies were in one rank, and receiving a uniform salary, and that the extension of the city limits by the consolidation had brought within their jurisdiction certain localities where the work required of these officials was not as important and did not demand as much attention, in June, 1898, adopted a plan by which there was a division of the Deputies in five classes, with salaries ranging from $3,250 for the first grade, to $1,500 for the fifth grade. Mr. Strahan, though a resident of Manhattan Borough, was placed in the fifth class and assigned to perform duties in the Borough of Richmond. The reasons for the reduction of the salaries were not reduced to writing and filed with the head of the departments and no opportunity was afforded to make an explanation. Justice Scott, in Supreme Court, Special Term, on application for a writ of mandamus, gave a decision yesterday holding that Strahan was entitled to be restored to the position from which he was removed, with a salary of $2,700 a year, and that he should be paid the difference between that salary and that which he actually received since his reduction. Justice Scott said the statement that Mr. Strahan was assigned to the Borough of Richmond, "in which his experience and intelligence could be utilized," could scarcely be accepted as the real reason for his reduction and transfer, for the record showed that his whole experience had been as a deputy performing duties in the Borough of Manhattan, an experience which could scarcely have been of much value when he was called upon to assess real estate values in the Borough of Richmond. "So far as restoring him to any particular grade is concerned," Justice Scott said, "I do not find any warrant for classifying the Deputy Tax Commissioners into grades, and do not understand from the papers before me that such classification by the Commissioners means anything more than a division into classes, depending upon the amount of salaries received."

***

QUESTION OF NEGLIGENCE.—A verdict obtained by Rasmus Black for damages for injuries he received in alighting from one of the cars of the Second Avenue Railroad Company has been set aside by the First Appellate Division. Mr. Black, a carpenter, thirty-six years old, on the morning of April 11, 1897, boarded a north bound car of the company, at Thirtieth Street and First Avenue, to go to Sixty-eighth Street. He had with him a tool chest weighing about fifty pounds, which, when boarding the car, he was told to take to the front platform. He did so, and remained with it until the car approached the Sixty-eighth Street crossing, when, in attempting to alight from the car, he either fell or was thrown from it. Black's testimony was that after the car passed five feet beyond the north crossing, it came to a full stop, and he took his tool chest and attempted to alight. While he was in the act of so doing, with one foot on the ground and the other on the step of the car, it was suddenly, without warning to him, started, and he was thrown to the street and injured. Six witnesses called for the defendant swore in direct opposition to the plaintiff as to the location of the car. The driver testified that when the car was between Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth Streets Black told him he wanted to get off, and at the same time took up his box. The driver said he told him to hold on until the car came to a full stop. He then put on the brake, and while the speed of the car was slackening Black slipped or stepped from it and fell. The driver stopped the car as soon as he could, and when it stopped it was several feet south of the north crossing at Sixty-eighth Street. The driver at the time called attention to the fact that the car when it stopped was between the two crossings. Justice McLaughlin, giving the opinion of the Court, said that when the testimony of the plaintiff was contrasted with that for the defendant it at once became manifest that the jury could not have reached the conclusion which they did from a fair consideration of it; that their verdict was not based upon the evidence, but that it was rather the expression of passion, prejudice, or mistake. Presiding Justice Van Brunt and Justice Barrett concurred with Justice McLaughlin, while Justices Rumsey and Ingraham dissented.

***

COURT OF APPEALS JURISDICTION.—Edward M. Mundt brought an action in the Supreme Court, as administrator, to recover damages growing out of the death of his son, Martin M. Mundt, by the alleged negligent act of the defendant, Gertrude Glockner, doing business in this city as druggist and pharmacist. It was charged that when the decedent, on June 25, 1892, applied at defendant's drug store for ten grains of quinine, there was delivered to him ten grains of morphine. The young man swallowed a portion of the contents of the package, supposing it to be quinine, and died soon after. The father and sole next of kin of the deceased died in May, 1895, before the trial of the action, and Sigmund M. Mundt, as administrator de bonis non, was substituted as plaintiff. At the trial the complaint was dismissed on motion of defendant's counsel, on the ground that the action had abated because of the death of the only party for whose benefit the statute authorized a recovery of damages. The First Appellate Division ordered a reversal and new trial. Mr. Glockner then appealed to the Court of Appeals from the order of reversal, but the notice on appeal did not stipulate for judgment absolute in case of affirmance. The Court of Appeals has now dismissed the appeal, holding, unanimously, in an opinion by Judge O'Brien, that it had no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal without such stipulation, even though leave to appeal was granted by the Appellate Division and the order granting the application contained a certificate stating that a question of law was involved which should be reviewed by the Court of Appeals.

***

AGED TESTATRIX GIVING HER PROPERTY TO AN ATTORNEY.—Emeline Gallup, by her will, executed in 1893, after bequeathing a legacy of $300 to Greenwood Cemetery, gave her residuary estate, amounting to about $14,000, to Robert Wilson, who had been her trusted friend and business adviser. Having survived him, about five weeks after his death, and when in the ninetieth year of her age, Mrs. Gallup executed a codicil by which she gave her residuary estate to Lauren Redfield, an attorney, "to be by him accepted and received as full compensation for any and all services by him rendered and to be rendered to me in my lifetime and in the settlement of my estate after my decease." Mr. Redfield guided the testatrix's hand while she was signing the codicil, which was witnessed by two persons whom she had never seen, and whom the attorney brought into her presence. It did not appear that the testatrix had known the attorney until after the death of the previous residuary legatee, or that he had rendered any services to her other than to draft the codicil. The Second Appellate Division recently reversed a decree of the Surrogate of Kings County admitting the codicil to probate, and directed the trial by a jury of the questions of fact involved; holding, by Justice Willard Bartlett, that the codicil was not shown to have been the voluntary and intelligent act of the testatrix.

Staff Appointments in the 71st.

Col. William G. Bates of the Seventy-first Regiment announced his first appointments as commandant of the regiment yesterday. William H. Whittal, who was Battalion Quartermaster of the One Hundred and Seventy-first Regiment, has been appointed to the same position in the Seventy-first, and a similar position has been tendered to John H. Beatty. Drs. Van Wagonen and Lewald have been appointed Assistant Surgeons, with the rank of Captain. The Battalion Quartermasters have the rank of Lieutenants. Capt. Van Wagonen went to Manila as a contract surgeon last Spring, and was with Gen. Lawton in his Spring campaign. Capt. Lewald has been engaged as examining surgeon in the recruiting branch of the United States service. Lieut. Beatty served with the Seventy-first in the Spanish war, participating in the Cuban campaign.

RUNAWAY SIGNALS IN THE PARK

Physician Proposes a System to Lessen the Danger.

Dr. N. A. Sawyier of 242 West One Hundred and Fourth Street sent a letter to the Park Board yesterday proposing a system of signals in the Park that will do away with much of the uncertainty regarding runaways. He suggests that at the reservoirs there be stationed alarm bells which will ring under certain conditions, and that they be electrically equipped and connected with various stations along the different roads.

At each station will be detailed a saddle horse and a rider, probably from the Department of Police, and as soon as the bell rings a lever will be loosened so that the horse is ready for action, something similar to the Fire Department system. The passengers in carriages and horseback riders will then be warned by the ringing of bells at the different stations so that they can get out of the way of danger. The letter will be acted on.

American Pictures at Auction.

One hundred and fifty paintings by American artists, now on exhibition at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries, will be sold there at auction this and to-morrow evenings by Mr. James P. Silo. The pictures have been honestly selected, and, while not especially important, are on the whole fair average examples of the artists whom they represent. Six landscapes are by J. Francis Murphy, six Venetian scenes by Walter Blackman, no less than fifteen landscapes by that always good painter, Charles Warren Eaton; ten landscapes, which will well represent Edward Gay; a figure piece by Louis Moller, five of J. M. Hart's cattle pieces, ten landscapes, two of them strong ones, by Arthur Parsons; a good Bogert, twelve fairly good H. P. Smiths, four fair Dolphs, and four of Marie R. Becket's interesting and characteristic studies, are those canvases which are most worthy of attention. To collectors of American pictures desirous of securing examples of these well-known artists at presumably reasonable prices, this sale offers an excellent opportunity.

CHIDED RAINY DAY CLUB.

H. K. Bush-Brown, the Sculptor, Told Members They Lacked Courage—Attacked Modern Gowns.

The members of the Rainy Day Club yesterday listened to a talk by H. K. Bush-Brown, the sculptor. He astonished them somewhat by the knowledge he displayed of the niceties of feminine apparel. He eulogized the bonnet and anathematized the gown of the day. He recommended the destruction of the fashion plate and the encouragement of simplicity and good taste in home and attire.

"The very title of the club," he said in beginning his talk, "shows that even here women are shy, timid creatures. You have the idea without conviction—a movement at reform without courage. You are in the hands of the enemy and obey laws made by people who have something to sell.

"Are skirts that sweep the streets healthful or cleanly? And certainly the ugliness of the practice of holding them up does not warrant the custom. You follow each other like sheep, because you do not like to be on one side of the fold of fashion alone. You are afraid. If you do make the attempt, you do it in a half-hearted way and call it the Rainy Day Club.

"Bonnets, it seems to me, have been raised to a plane of high art. They are wonderful, and I may say beautiful. A gown in good taste is no more expensive than one that is not. A gown for my lady should be made to suit her individuality, it would be for permanent use, and she would wear it as long as there was a shred of it—an evening dress for two or three years.

"If the Rainy Day Club means anything, let it stand for simplicity in clothes and in the house, and this will work for the better morals and preserve the integrity of the home."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Colored Dress Goods.

Fine quality serge, 46 to 54 inches wide,—shrunk and sponged ready for use.

Colors:—blue, brown, heliotrope, cardinal, beige, and grey. Suitable for tailor gowns,

85 cents per yard;
Value $1.25

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Upholstery Dep't.
Fourth Floor.

LACE CURTAINS.

About 400 single Lace Curtains, (foreign samples),—including hand-made French Renaissance, Point Arabe, Marie Antoinette and Cluny.

These Laces, in many novelty combinations of design, are mounted on finest quality net. White, cream and ochre. 50 to 60 inches wide, 3 to 4 yards long,

$3.75, $5.00 & $7.50 each;
Value $5.00 to $30.00.

Imported Velour Portières,—richly embroidered. Empire red, burgundy, moss, nile, rose and sapphire, $13.75 per pair;

Usual price $19.50.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

THE DEAF CURED FREE
TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, 2 and 8 P. M., at CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. and 7th Ave.

Sale of Linen
Handkerchiefs.

67.5 dozen,

Ladies' All Linen hemstitch'd (sheer or heavy),
10 cts. each.

Ladies' Hand Embroidered, Initial—sheer linen—
12½ cts. each

Ladies' Hand Embroidered Wreath and Initial Handkerchiefs, 25 cts. each.
value 38c.

Real Duchesse—with Point Lace—Handkerchiefs,
$5.95,
value $10 & $12.

Lord & Taylor,
Broadway & 20th St.

Are you a walker?

Our medium weight overcoats are made on the same principle as is the well known light but warm Harderfold underwear.

While the cloth weighs many ounces less to the yard than that in the ordinary Winter overcoat, a light weight interlining between it and the regular silk lining provides two air spaces betwixt your body and the outer world. It's as warm as a heavy weight; it's the sensible coat. $16 to $32.

Heavy ones, of course, $15 to $55.

Also the Harderfold underwear.

ROGERS, PEET & Co.
350 Broadway, cor. Leonard.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
Thirty-second and Broadway.

FF FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

THE CHRISTMAS BLUE-STOCKING.

From the receiver's standpoint, everything found in his Christmas stocking may be divided into things wanted and not wanted.

Perhaps it is the blue-stocking who, rarest of all, finds "things wanted." Yet here are plenty.

For instance, Morris Chairs—a special lot at $7.00 each, in Flemish or Golden oak or mahogany finish, the cushions covered with tapestry. A wonderfully handy student's table with a broad tabletop and underneath a bookshelf within easy reach.

Beautiful bookcases, fitted with cupboards and portfolios for rare books and prints. Writing chairs in great variety and writing desks, whose conveniences will surely show the royal road to composition. Exquisite little hand-painted papeteries in old Adam's style.

What stocking would not be a blue stocking to be filled with things one may receive if the giver would only

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.
43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

SILK PETTICOATS.

Made of Taffetas Silk, medium and dark shades,—with deep corded flounce,

$3.75;
Value $6.00

Fine Taffetas Petticoats,—a very extensive variety of shades,—with 3 ruffles and dust flounce,

$6.75;
Value $10.00

JAMES McCREERY & CO.,
Broadway and 11th St.

Knitted to fit.
Winter Underwear,
(natural wool),
$1.50 a garment,
never crawls or wrinkles—light, soft, comfortable, healthful, economical.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.
Three BROADWAY Stores.
Cor. 13th St.
Cor. Canal St.
Near Chambers.

West 14th St.
ESTD 1807.
COWPERTHWAIT'S
TRADE MARK
"RELIABLE"
CARPETS

"Yet my good-will is great, though the gift small."—PERICLES.

However small a gift you choose here it carries good will because of its beauty and lasting quality.

Our special bargains give helpful suggestions for useful Christmas presents.

SILK RUFFLED SOFA PILLOWS,
$1.35.

Embroidered Persian satin and hand-painted sofa pillows—Oriental designs—$8.00.

"Long Credit" says you need not pay for even small gifts till the New Year's purse has had time to refill.

CASH or CREDIT
COWPERTHWAIT & CO.
104 106 and 108 West 14th St.
NEAR 6TH AV.
Brooklyn Stores: Flatbush Av. near Fulton St.

O'Neill's,

Exceptional Values in Women's Suits, Jackets, and Furs.

Suits.

SUITS of Black and Blue Serge, also in Homespun with Fly-Front Walking Coat, notched collar, side pockets, full lined with Taffeta. Habit and Plaited back skirt, Percaline lined and bound with velveteen,
REGULAR VALUE 9.98 TO 12.00.
Special, 6.98.

SUITS of Rough finish Cheviot, Tight-fitting double-breasted Jacket and saddle back skirt, strictly men tailored and perfect in fit, finish and workmanship, lined throughout with good quality Taffeta.
REGULAR VALUE 25.00 TO 30.00.
Special, 18.00.

Jackets.

Kersey Jackets in Brown, Tan, Black and Navy, finished with pearl buttons, men's shape collar, lined throughout with extra quality of Taffeta.
Special, 7.50.

Fur Garments & Scarfs.

COLLARETTES.
Canada Seal Collarettes, with Stole Fronts, finished with tails.
Special, 5.98

ALASKA SABLE NECK SCARFS.
6.50, 7.98 and 9.98.

ELECTRIC SEAL COATS
in the correct shape, beautifully matched skins.
29.75 upward.

MACKINTOSHES FOR XMAS.
Double Texture Mackintoshes, with Military Cape. Skirts extra wide, packed in fancy boxes, suitable for Christmas Gifts.
Special, 4.98 each.

EIDERDOWN WRAPPERS
in fancy checks, wide skirts, collars and cuffs finished with Satin Girdle around waist.
Special, 2.98.

MAIL ORDERS RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.
Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st St.

STERN BROTHERS

direct attention to a very extensive assortment of

Imported Silk Mufflers

Heavy Twills and Mat grounds, at $5.25
Figured Brocades and Twills, at $2.95
Figured Baratheas and Fancy Checks, at $2.25
Fancy Plaids and Stripes, at $1.10
Plain and Figured Black or White, $1.50 to $6.45

Full Dress Protectors

Peau de Soie, Silk and Satin, plaited collars, at $3.25
Silk or Satin, $1.65 with roll collar, $1.95

West Twenty-Third Street

Lorgnettes
Opera Glasses
Field Glasses
Thermometers
Barometers
Spectacles
Eyeglasses

Opera Glasses

A variety of fine glasses in special designs and at low prices. Optical experience insures reliable goods of this character.

GaNun & Parsons, 13 West 42d St., bet. 5th & 6th Avs. 310 Columbus Av 74th & 75th Sts.

AMUSEMENTS.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St.....at 8:15
Daniel Frohman.....Manager
Matinées WED. and SAT.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S STOCK COMPANY, FIRST ANNUAL SEASON at this theatre, HENRY ARTHUR JONES'S COMEDY,
The Maneuvers of Jane

LYCEUM. 4th Av. & 23d.....at 8:30
Daniel Frohman.....Manager
Matinées Thursday & Sat., 2.
FOURTH MONTH.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
Annie Russell in Miss Hobbs

AMERICAN 42ND & 8TH AVE. CASTLE SQ. OPERA CO.
Entire First Act of Beethoven's FIDELIO at 8:15.
CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA. at 9:30.
Evs. 8:15. 25c. to $1. Mat. Wed. & Sat., 2:15. Adm. 25c.
Nxt. wk. Mon., Tues., Il Trovatore. Wed. Mat. & Ev., Romeo & Juliet. Thu. Fri. Carmen. Sat. Mat. Ev. Aida

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Ev'gs, 8:20. Matinées, 2:15.
Matinées Wednesday and Saturday.
JOHN DREW | THE TYRANNY OF TEARS

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs. 8. Mat. Sat.
"A GREAT SUCCESS."—HERALD.
Wm. Gillette In His New Play, Sherlock Holmes

Charles Frohman's CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St Ev'gs, 8:15.
Matinées Wednesday and Saturday.
JULIA MARLOWE | BARBARA FRIETCHIE
Dec. 11—50th Time, Julia Marlowe Pictorial Souv.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. 24th St. & B'way. Last 8 nights. Last Mat. Sat.
Ev'gs, 8:30. Mats., 2:15. MAKE WAY FOR THE LADIES.
Dec. 11—"Wheels Within Wheels." Seats Ready.

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Madison Av. Evenings, 7:45. Saturday Matinée at 2.
MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD.
FAREWELL WEEK. CYRANO DE BERGERAC
Week of Dec. 11, BEAU BRUMMELL Seats now on sale.

HOTEL WALDORF-ASTORIA.
Friday Eve., Dec. 8, at 8:30 o'clock,
MR. POULTNEY BIGELOW
Will Lecture on
"THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA."
Tickets, $1.00. On Sale at WALDORF-ASTORIA.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.
Sunday Evening, December 10th, at 8:15, Wolfsohn's Grand Sund. Concerts at popular prices Schumann-Heink, Vladimer de Pachmann, Campanari, Walter Damrosch, and his Symphony Orchestra of 75. Admission 50c. Box office now open.

HAMMERSTEIN'S VICTORIA 42d St. B'wy-7th Av. To-night, 8:20. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
No smoking or drinking at matinées.
THE ROGERS BROS. in WALL STREET
50c ADMISSION TO PROMENADE 50c

Theatre Comique Broadway and 29th St. Mat. Every Day. Orch. 50c.
"Clean and wholesome fun."—Sun.
Our Own Stock Burlesque Co. & Chorus of 40, in Hoddy Dotty

BROADWAY Theatre. 41st St. & B'way. Eves. at 8. Next Mat. Sat. at 2.
THE GREAT SUCCESS. BEN-HUR
Seats on sale for every perf. to March 1st.

THE DEWEY. East 14th St Weber & Fields' Matinee To-Day. HURLY-BURLY CO.
Mlle. Capitaine, Binns & Binns, Cook & Sonora.

5TH AV. Theatre. B'way and 28th St. Eves. at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2
Mrs. Fiske in Becky Sharp
Mon., Dec. 11th—101st Time—Souvenirs.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl.
The Great Rural Drama, "WAY DOWN EAST"
Prices 25-50-75-1.00 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8:10.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. JAMES O'NEILL in THE MUSKETEERS. Saturday Night, "MONTE CRISTO." Nxt. wk., "Sporting Life."

HERALD SQ. Thea. Evs. 8:15. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
Great London Success A GREEK SLAVE.

HARLEM OP. HOUSE Louis Mann & Clara Lipman in The Girl in the Barracks. 8.15 Sat. Mat. 2.15
Nt. Wk.—Denman Thompson—The Old Homestead.

AMUSEMENTS.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, at 2 P. M.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, at 8:15 P. M.
PROGRAM.
Overture, "Freischuetz".....Weber
Concerto for Piano; E flat major.....Liszt
MR. MARK HAMBOURG.
Symphonic Prologue to Heine's "William Ratcliff" (first time in N. Y.) conducted by the composer;
R. FRANK VAN DER STUCKEN.
Symphony, No. 3, A minor, "Scotch".....Mendelssohn
Tickets at Carnegie Hall and Tyson's. Seats 75 cts. to $2; Boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

PADEREWSKI
CARNEGIE HALL, 57TH ST. & 7TH AV.
Dec. 12, 16, Jan. 6, 20, at 2:30.
SEATS $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1.00.
At Schuberth's, 23 Union Square.
Steinway Piano used.

CARNEGIE HALL.
Boston Symphony Orchestra
MR. GERICKE.....Conductor
Wed., Dec. 13, at 2:30. Thurs., Dec. 14, at 8:15.
Soloist, Soloist,
Alwin Schroeder. Franz Kneisel.
Tickets at Box Office and Tyson's, (Fifth Avenue Hotel,) at regular prices.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
THIS AFTERNOON AT 3,
Song Recital by
MR. DAVID BISPHAM
kindly assisted by
MR. WALTER DAMROSCH
Reserved seats $1.50, at Schuberth's. Admission, $1.

TO-NIGHT AT 8:15.
WANDA KRAMER-GLOMB and the KASTENBORN Quartet.
MENDELSSOHN HALL, 119 W. 40th St.
1st SONG RECITAL.
Tickets, $1.50; Balcony, $1.00; General Admission, $1.00.
At Schirmer & Schuberth's.

KNABE HALL. 20th St., cor. 5th Av.
To-night at 8:15.
NEW YORK STRING QUARTET assisted by
Reserved seats, $1.50 and $1. Constantine von Sternberg, Pianist
Direction VICTOR THRANE. Knabe Piano Used.

PROCTOR'S 23d St. MARIE TAVARY, 15, 25, 50c. Mov'g Pictures (new)
DE FORREST & WILSON FAMILY, &c. Cont. Perf.

PALACE 58th and 3d Av. EZRA KENDALL, 15, 25, 50c. HALL & STALEY.
Moving Pictures, Clarice Vance, others. Cont. Perf.

INTERNATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION. At AMERICAN INSTITUTE Nos. 19 and 21 West 44th St. America, England, France and Germany Represented.
Open Daily, 10 A. M. to 10 P. M., Dec. 4th to Dec. 24th

CASINO! TO-NIGHT, 8:15. MAT. SAT. AT 2
Souv. Nght, Dec. 22. 100th Performance
THE LONGED WEEK! ALICE NIELSEN OPERA COMPANY in The Singing Girl!

WALLACK'S. Broadway and 30th St. Evgs. 8:15. Mat. Sat. 2:15.
In Victor Herbert's New Comic Opera, FRANK DANIELS THE AMEER.

KNICKERBOCKER B'way & 38th St. Eves., 8:20. Mats., 2.
MR. KENDAL. Extra Wed. Mat. Dec. 13
MRS. In Their London Success, The Elder Miss Blossom.

KOSTER & BIAL'S. 50 Mat. Sat. to all parts of house. "Round New York" & Sherlock Holmes Burlesque. JEFFRIES & SHARKEY in living pictures as Gladiators.

KEITH'S CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE. FELIX MORRIS & CO. in "KERRY." THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR.

THE NEW YORK. Eve., 8:15. Popular Prices.
MATINEE DAILY at 2:15. BIOGRAPH PICTURES.
JEFFRIES-SHARKEY CONTEST

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evgs. 8:15 sharp. Sat. Mat. only.
ANNA HELD in PAPA'S WIFE.

BIJOU. B'way & 30th St. Ev. 8:15. Mat. Sat. only.
MAY IRWIN IN SISTER MARY
Phone 2224 Mad. Sq. Biggest hit of all.

Weber & Fields' MUSIC HALL, B'way & 30 St. Matinées Tues. & Sat.
Whirl-I-Gig & To-night, first time, Barbara Fidgety.

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH.
EDEN MUSEE
NEW GROUPS. CHARMING MUSIC.

14th St. Theatre cr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
LAST TIMES of the Quaint Rural Drama, THE DAIRY FARM

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Mat. Sat.
The great HOFGUNST (at Court.)

MURRAY HILL THEA. Lex. Av. & 42d St.
MATINEE EVERY DAY, 25c.
LAST WEEK—THE CHARITY BALL.

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM. 10c. to all.
BIJOU MIDWINTER CIRCUS.

DAILY, ONE CENT. SUNDAY, THREE CENTS.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER. Fair, brisk southwesterly winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1899, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. XLIX...NO. 15,574. NEW YORK, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1899.—FOURTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York and Jersey City. Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

THE NEWS CONDENSED.

Stocks Irregular.

Cash Wheat, No. 2 Red, 74⅝c; Cash Corn, No. 2 mixed, 29½c; Cash Cotton, 7 11-16c.

CONGRESS.—The Republicans in the House plan to push the Currency bill to a vote by Dec. 18. The Senate Committee on Elections will consider the Quay case Dec. 16. Senator Chandler introduced a bill yesterday to substitute football for mathematics and language at West Point and Annapolis. Bills were introduced yesterday to provide for the digging of the Nicaragua Canal and to control ticket scalpers—Page 5.

FOREIGN.—Gen. Buller and staff have left Pietermaritzburg for the front. This is taken as indicating that all is ready for the relief of Ladysmith. Kimberley sends word that the town is provisioned for forty days. Native runners claim that Ladysmith was assaulted Dec. 5 by the Boers, who were repulsed with heavy loss. This is not credited in London. President Kruger is anxious to go to the front, but is restrained by his councilors. In the French Chamber of Deputies the Socialists were unsuccessful in their opposition to the passage of the credits for the Ministry of Public Worship. It is probable that a new Peruvian Cabinet will be appointed to-day. At the French treason trial M. Lepine testified that the three leagues, members of which are accused, acted in concert. A movement has been initiated to found a commercial museum in Berlin on the lines of that in Philadelphia.—Pages 3 and 7.

Page 1.

Powder works near Sumneytown, Penn., exploded, killing three men. Five buildings were demolished.

As a result of the gas war, the Directors of the Standard Gas Company at their meeting to-day will pass the dividend.

One, and possibly three, persons were killed and fifty-seven injured in a fire at Reading, Penn., yesterday.

Roberts of Utah yesterday issued an address to the country, in which he takes the ground that his unseating would be a menace to the liberties of the people.

Robert Mortimer, six years old, son of James Mortimer of Hempstead, L. I., died yesterday from injuries due to a fall upon the point of a sharp lead pencil.

In the Molineux trial the "Harpster" letter signed "H. Cornish," sent to a Detroit firm, was declared by Expert Kinsley to be in the prisoner's handwriting. Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre was called as a witness.

Page 3.

A serious fire in the buildings 577 and 579 Broadway yesterday afternoon did damage to the amount of $75,000. There were several narrow escapes from death.

It is said that Register-elect Howe of Brooklyn has decided to run his office on the co-operative plan and let his employes fix the salaries.

It is expected that the State Board of Election Commissioners of Kentucky will give certificates of election to Taylor and the other Republican candidates to-morrow.

Page 4.

The Jockey Club at its first meeting in January next will be urged to adopt several amendments to the racing rules which are intended to materially change them.

Page 5.

A man answering the description of Miller, the Brooklyn syndicate manager, was seen at Monterey, Mexico, but left when suspicion was aroused.

Page 7.

The convention of the National Reform Association closed yesterday with strong denunciations of the Sunday newspaper and a formal resolution against it.

The session of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church appointed a committee to consider further the call to the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of London. The committee is expected to report to the congregation next Sunday.

Page 8.

Appeals for Indian missions were the burden of the addresses made before the Women's Auxiliary of the Niobrara League yesterday in connection with its "Missionary Week" endeavors.

Page 10.

The State Land Board granted 16.31 acres of land under water to the Astoria Light, Heat and Power Company. The land must be improved within five years.

Page 11.

The plague ship Taylor has transferred all her cargo to lighters and will sail in ballast for Queenstown.

The inter-State League of Building and Loan Associations is holding its fifth annual convention in this city.

The United States cattle quarantine at Garfield, N. J., must seek a new location because the Council of that place has decided to open streets through the property.

Page 12.

George M. Hinchman, sixty-five years old, who was found unconscious in his home in Brooklyn, having been stricken with apoplexy, died in St. Mary's Hospital.

May Harley, eighteen years old, of Brooklyn, a typewriter operator, fell down an elevator shaft at her place of employment in Manhattan yesterday, and died as a result of her injuries.

The teachers of Queens Borough have obtained an order against city officials requiring them to show cause why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not issue for the payment of October salaries.

Page 14.

At the December meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday resolutions favoring reform in the charter were adopted.

At the third day's session of the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association, several expulsions and reinstatements were made.

Isaac Waldheim boarded the North German Lloyd steamship Trave yesterday to welcome home his wife, who was a passenger. He found that she had died at sea.

A bill providing for a bi-partisan Police Board in all cities in New Jersey where a Police Board is a part of the Municipal Government, has been prepared by Hudson County Republicans.

Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 8.
Business Troubles.—Page 12.
Amusements.—Pages 6 and 7.
New Corporations.—Page 11.
Insurance Notes.—Page 11.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 2.
Weather Report.—Page 2.
Court Calendars.—Page 8.
Losses by Fire.—Page 2.
Legal Notes.—Page 5.
Real Estate.—Page 12.
Markets.—Page 12.
Society.—Page 7.

BRIDEGROOM SAVIN IS DEAD.

Baltimore Man Who Married Miss Ethel Tomlinson Last Saturday Expires Suddenly.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 7.—The marriage last Saturday evening of Thomas Savin of this city and Miss Ethel Tomlinson, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Tomlinson of New York, which was a great surprise to their friends, was followed this evening by the sudden death of Mr. Savin from acute gastritis. The fact that he had not been in good health for some time, and that the friends of the couple knew nothing of their engagement, made their marriage all the more surprising.

Mr. Savin was a well-known man about town. Miss Tomlinson was his second wife. A child by his first wife is heir to a fortune. Mr. Savin's mother is wealthy. Miss Tomlinson was to have been the guest of honor at the theatre party last Saturday evening, but she surprised her friends by dropping in upon them just as they were about to start for the theatre and informing them that she had been married to Mr. Savin.

Since the evening of the marriage Mr. Savin, on account of sickness, has scarcely been able to leave the hotel at which they were stopping. Mr. Savin was over forty years of age. His widow is but twenty-three, and a beautiful woman. Mr. Savin was formerly engaged in business in New York.

Good Fellowship
is promoted by a bottle of Evans' Ale.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland! Poland!
Is the purest natural spring water in the world. —Adv.

STANDARD GAS TO PASS A DIVIDEND

Russell Sage Plans a New Move in the War of the Companies.

TWO POSSIBLE EXPLANATIONS

May Mean Harder Fighting or Be a Move to Head Off Legislation.

New moves are to be made in the New York gas war. When, a fortnight ago, official announcement was made of an advance by the New Amsterdam Company from 50 cents to $1.10 per thousand, there was a hasty conclusion, not only upon the part of investors and speculators in Wall Street, but by householders throughout the city, that the gas war was over. Some financial authorities were for a time, indeed, explicit in their declarations that the New Amsterdam plan was part of a policy to which all the gas-supplying companies were agreed. Results much differ from these prophecies. The New Amsterdam Company, in levying a higher charge upon its customers, has found its territory coincidentally invaded by canvassers seeking to make cut-rate contracts for the Consolidated and Standard Companies.

One gas authority who greeted the New Amsterdam movement to increase price as "natural and sensible and sure to be followed by the other companies" was Russell Sage. Mr. Sage is the chief owner of the securities of the Standard Gas Company, but before his Directors met, with the action of the New Amsterdam Company before them, there was a meeting of the Consolidated Gas Company. The Consolidated Company clashed offhand with the optimism of Mr. Sage by ignoring the New Amsterdam movement utterly—except to issue a statement which referred to some of its rivals as galloping toward bankruptcy. When the Standard Company's board did meet, Mr. Sage and his confrères followed the example of Mr. Rockefeller and his colleagues of the Consolidated in sticking to the cut rates, which Mr. Sage then and ever since has insisted, however, represent doing business at a loss.

To-day the Standard Gas Company is to emphasize that declaration by officially passing its dividend. This is Russell Sage's own forecast. Such action will provoke surprise in many quarters and on many accounts. It may be construed as recognition upon the part of Mr. Sage and his party of a hopeless prospect of anything else than continuing and even bitterer fighting; or, it may be cynically regarded as a preliminary move toward heading off adverse action at Albany, for there is some apprehension in financial circles that only by the making of poor mouths can legislative penalties be escaped. Wall Street will feel sure at any rate of one thing—Russell Sage does not forego dividends as a pastime.

MOVEMENTS OF GAS STOCKS.

William Rockefeller and other financiers in control of the Consolidated Company do not at all hesitate to admit that Consolidated earnings have decreased tremendously because of the rate war, and they have recently been equally explicit in averring that dividends from this time forward will be paid on Consolidated Gas stock "only out of earnings." Consolidated Gas sold on the Stock Exchange yesterday above $193 per share. Last month, when Wall Street was counting enthusiastically on the New Amsterdam advance being followed, it was quoted above 200. That represented a gain of from 40 to 50 points in the market value of Consolidated Gas shares in the face of the gas war. Last Spring Consolidated Gas dividends were on an 8 per cent. basis; in June they droped to a basis of 6 per cent., and since then have gotten down to a 1 per cent. quarterly payment.

Consolidated Gas authorities, in explanation of the phenomenal rise in market quotations while dividends have been cut down, can be quoted to the effect that a group of clever speculators, having New Amsterdam relations, went into the open market some months ago and loaded up with Consolidated stock, acting on the theory that the bringing about of a gas-war settlement would naturally boom Consolidated shares, the only active New York gas property on the Stock Exchange; and thus, so proceeds the explanation, the New Amsterdam contingent planned to recoup losses on their own securities by profits on Consolidated. If this interesting story be well founded, the New Amsterdam traders are in small need of pity, for if their purchases of Consolidated aggregated 50,000 shares, as represented, they have at present quotations somewhere from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 profit—provided, of course, they are able to find a market for their big accumulations.

On "the curb," where New Amsterdam securities are traded in, there was weakness yesterday in both the bonds and shares of the New Amsterdam Company, though on the surface there seemed to be indications of what speculators call "support." The common stock got down around $25 per share, not much over two-thirds of what it sold at when recent notice was given of increased price—the notice that Wall Street mistakenly rushed to regard as the signal of a gas war settlement.

Standard Gas securities are listed on the Stock Exchange, but both the common and preferred issues are practically tied up in a pool, and transactions are made in them rarely. Occasionally, however, sales are made in the outside market. Yesterday some offerings of common shares were disclosed, but bids were only nominal. Owners of the majority of the stock seem content to retain what they have, and they make no offers to sell, but neither do they bid for what outsiders may have. Thus nominal quotations at the close of business yesterday were 112½ bid and 115 asked for Standard common and 140 bid for the preferred. The last actual transactions on the Stock Exchange were in January, 1898, when the common sold for $147 per share and the preferred brought $144.50.

MR. SAGE AGAINST A DIVIDEND.

At his home, 506 Fifth Avenue, Russell Sage, discussing the proposed passing of the Standard Gas dividend, said, last evening:

"The matter will undoubtedly be brought up at the meeting to-morrow. I have very strong views on the subject, and I shall express them freely. If they meet with approval, as I believe they will, the board will be in the future, as it has been in the past, unanimous.

"There can be but one view to be taken in such a situation as that which has grown out of the gas war—certainly but one view, after candid discussion. All the companies are losing money; there is no use of disguising that fact. Gas oil has advanced 40 cents a barrel within the last six months, its last advance being just the other day. Some people thought there would be a reaction in this advance, but there has been none, and so far as I can see there is no present indication that there will be any. Yet, in spite of the higher prices for the oil, the gas companies have gone deliberately along in their policy of cutting one another's throats and of reducing their pocketbooks to a very diminished state.

"What then should be the policy of sound, conservative officials, who have a sense not only of financial responsibility, but of a duty to the shareholders whom them represent? It seems to me that that policy should be not to pay out money when it has not been earned, but rather, instead of making a bad matter worse, to save their surplus in order the better to be prepared for the worst contingencies. Understand me: I am not saying what is to be done at our meeting to-morrow. That will be for the Directors to say; it will be a subject for discussion. But I am pointing out how the matter seems to me, and I do not say that I am not in favor of passing the dividend.

"Take the case of the Consolidated Gas Company. Why, even it has reduced its dividend, which formerly was 8 per cent., until at the last meeting only 1 per cent. was declared. As for the New Amsterdam, its recent declaration of a dividend was rather astonishing, to say the least. It seems to me that it is a policy of financial suicide to pay money out merely for the sake of paying it, and when you aren't earning anything, but instead are losing.

BLAMES THE OTHER COMPANIES.

"The whole gas situation at present is very disquieting, though I suppose eventually it will be settled. The officials of the other companies seem to be unwilling to meet the thing in a business-like way. If we were wise we would get together and in half an hour settle the whole matter. The Standard Company has been ready to adjust the matter from the outset, but the trouble is the New Amsterdam and Consolidated people didn't see it in the right light, and things have gone from bad to worse. For my part I don't see what the companies will do.

"The illogical state of the situation is plain on the surface. We were all in harmony to seek to induce the Legislature not to fix the price of gas below $1.15. Then, suddenly, notice came by the Consolidated fixing the price at 65 cents per thousand feet, and then came the New Amsterdam, putting the price down to 50 cents. Of course we were obliged to follow, for we couldn't lose our customers for the reason that we expect to stay right in business and see this thing out in the end until it is adjusted on a paying basis, as undoubtedly it sooner or later will be; for there is a limit to all things.

"Our company, I may say, is in a snug condition, and can manufacture gas as cheaply and of as good quality as any. They have always given us credit for that. We have kept up with all improvements, both as to quality and as to lower cost, and we intend to do so for the future. I, for my part, am going to hold on to all my interest in the company to the end. I haven't sold a share of stock, and a like statement is true of the stockholders generally. Less of our stock has changed hands than probably any stock of any company in New York State.

"This war, to me, seems like a railroad rate war. The companies agree to disagree, and for the gratification of their feelings for the time being proceed to destroy their property. As a result, the public is not as well, as reasonably, or as conscientiously served as when there was no war. The policy of our company has been, and always will be, so long as I am in it and the present management prevails, to give the people the best service at the least possible cost.

GAS WAR MEANS RUIN TO ALL.

"As to what a continuation of the gas war means—well, it means ruin to everybody who perseveres in it. And the Consolidated company, being the biggest concern, is the biggest loser."

Frank Tilford, one of the Directors of the Standard Company, said last night: "There has been no talk yet about the dividend or whether it is to be passed, as we cannot tell what to do until we have our figures for the year. I do not know anything about what action will be taken. We shall have the figures to-morrow, and then we shall act, as the December meeting is the time when we usually declare the dividend. I do not know how there could be an idea on the Street that the dividend was to be passed. You cannot tell what twelve men will do at a meeting until the meeting is held."

Rumors in regard to the New Amsterdam Gas Company were as rife as ever yesterday. They hinged mainly on the payment of the interest on its bonds on Jan. 5, 1900. Frank S. Hastings of the New Amsterdam Directorate said: "There has never been any suggestion of defaulting on interest by New Amsterdam. A broker has issued this notice, and will stand by it: 'In order to satisfy the parties that claim that the New Amsterdam Gas Company will not pay its January coupons I am authorized to contradict the same, and will buy the coupons less 6 per cent. annually.'"

POWDER WORKS EXPLODE.

Three Men Killed and Several Injured Near Sumneytown, Penn.—Five Buildings Demolished.

POTTSTOWN, Penn., Dec. 7.—The powder works of James S. Miller, near Sumneytown, were wrecked by an explosion to-day. Three men were killed, and several others were injured. The dead are William Baer, aged twenty-five years, Superintendent of the works; Allen Schneck, forty-six years, and John Schwager, twenty-four years. Frank Schaeffer, aged twenty-four years, was probably fatally injured, and Raymound Faust was seriously burned and bruised.

There were two explosions, the first occurring in the glazing house. The other explosion followed within thirty seconds, and the entire five buildings which comprised the works, were demolished. Baer and Schwager were in the glazing house when the explosion occurred, and Schneck was at work in the mixing house. Their bodies were horribly mangled. Schaeffer and Faust and five other men were working in other parts of the works when the shock came, but all escaped serious injury except the two named.

The shock of the explosion was terrific, and considerable damage was done to the houses of the workmen, which are located near the works. The cause of the explosion cannot be definitely ascertained.

Within the past dozen years there have been five explosions at these works, three of which resulted in fatalities.

WASHINGTON TELEPHONE WAR.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Samuel Ross, President of the Washington Telephone and Telegraph Company, has sent a letter to the Chairman of the Committee on the District of Columbia informing him that the Washington Telephone and Telegraph Company has been formed, and that it was proposed to give a first-class metallic circuit service, with unlimited calls, at the rate of $48 per annum for a business and $36 per annum for a residence service. These rates mean less than 10 cents a day for a residence, and a little over 13 cents a day for a business house.

A bill will be presented in Congress asking a franchise enabling the company to do business in the District. It is the purpose of the company to go before Congress with contracts signed by Washington business men and others, so that it may be able to demonstrate the fact that this franchise is desired by the public.

Stewart Says Quay Will Be Seated.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator Stewart of Nevada said to-night that none of the canvasses on Quay's admission to the Senate were worth anything, because they were based upon a wrong conception of the theory upon which the Senate acts. Precedents do not indicate, he said, that Quay would not be seated. "The fact is," he added, "the Senate has always voted to seat the man it liked, and voted not to seat the man it disliked. The Senate likes Quay; it will seat him. It did not like Corbett, and it found a reason for not seating him. That's all there is to it."

Pennsylvania Limited.
Daily via Pennsylvania Railroad to Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo, and Detroit.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland! Poland!
Try it. Poland Water Depot, 3 Park Pl., N. Y. —Adv.

Through Pullman Sleeper to Cleveland
Via Pennsylvania Railroad leaves New York daily, West 23d St., 7:55 P. M., Cortlandt and Desbrosses Sts., 8:00 P. M.—Adv.

LIFE LOST IN A MILL FIRE.

One Killed and Fifty-seven Women and Girls Injured in a Burning Reading (Penn.) Factory.

READING, Penn., Dec. 7.—Fire in the extensive hosiery mill of the Nolde & Hoist Company to-day destroyed the plant, and caused the death of one person, besides injuring fifty-seven other employes of the company. A badly burned corpse was recovered from the ruins this afternoon. It was probably that of Louise Clay, forty-eight years old. Of the fifty-seven persons who were injured, thirty—all women and girls—are seriously hurt.

Among those injured were seven who were badly hurt internally, while sixteen suffered from fractured legs or ankles. A number sustained fractures of the arms, while many had faces and hands burned.

The remainder of the fifty-seven had hands and faces burned, limbs bruised, or otherwise injured.

The hosiery building was a large four-story structure, and nearly 600 persons were employed, most of them being women and girls. The fire was discovered about 11 o'clock, and in a few moments the girls were panic-stricken. They made a dash for the fire-escape and the stairs, but found that the latter means of escape could not carry all of them down at the same time. Several hundred of the girls then made a rush for the windows, and appealed to those in the street to save them. Ladders were brought into use, and many girls were taken from the burning building safely. Most of them, however, jumped and were seriously injured.

For a few minutes from every window on the second and third floors girls leaped one after the other. Some lodged in the arms of those below, but many struck the ground. They were picked up and rapidly removed to hospitals or their homes. Many of the girls who escaped by the stairways and fire escapes were badly burned, but none of them was, it is believed, seriously injured. It is not known how the dead met their fate, but it is believed they fainted and were then burned to death. The fire traveled with great rapidity, owing to the inflammable stock in the building. By those who saw the progress of the fire, it is considered miraculous that there was such a small loss of life.

There is much criticism among the employes because of the fact that the screens in the windows, except those at the fire escapes, were securely nailed to the window-sills. The girls had to break the screens before they could get out to leap to the ground. Some of the employes say that the doors were locked, as a rule, after the employes were in the building.

The fire was caused by the explosion of gasoline. The loss is estimated at about $275,000, on which there is an insurance of $150,000.

RESCUE COSTS HIM HIS LIFE.

Michael Doyle Saves His Employer, but Is Killed Himself.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWBURG, Dec. 7.—Frank Timoney, one of the best-known brick manufacturers along the Hudson, was seriously injured this morning on the tracks of the New York Central Railroad near Timoneyville. Michael Doyle of Newburg, employed at the Timoney brick yards, who was standing a few feet from Timoney, was instantly killed.

Doyle was stationed on the New York Central track at the Timoney yards. His duties were, on the approach of trains, to remove pieces of wood laid down between the rails on which bricks were wheeled. This morning Timoney stood conversing with Doyle when the Empire State express came along. Doyle had picked the piece of wood from the track upon the approach of the train, and the theory is that he saw Mr. Timoney standing in the way of the express and pushed his employer out of the way of the train, but was too late to save himself. A part of the engine struck him and he was hurled against Timoney with such force as to render the latter unconscious, in which condition he was found.

Timoney has a bad scalp wound and a number of bruises. He is one of the oldest brickmakers in the business and has amassed a large fortune. He has just completed a new church, St. Francis's, at Timoneyville for the use of brick yard employes.

PENCIL POINT KILLS A BOY.

The Victim, a Son of James Mortimer, Fell Upon It.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., Dec. 7.—Robert Mortimer, six years old, son of James Mortimer, who has frequently served as a judge at the dog shows in Manhattan, died yesterday from injuries due to an accident.

He was sitting in a high chair last Saturday and held a sharp lead pencil in his hand. The boy fell from the chair and the point of the pencil penetrated his temple to the brain.

WITNESS DEFIES THE COURT.

Refuses to Answer a Question and Compels Its Withdrawal.

Special to The New York Times.

MERIDEN, Conn., Dec. 7.—In the City Court here to-day George Rockwell, Auditor for the International Silver Company, defied Judge and attorneys in his refusal to answer a question and compelled the withdrawal of the question and the striking out of his entire testimony. The suit was that of Walter R. Bristol to recover $271.77 for one month's salary as traveling salesman from the C. B. Rogers & Brothers Company, silver manufacturers, a rival of the International Company.

Mr. Rockwell was called as an expert to prove the value of the plaintiff's services, and was asked on cross-examination to give the name of salesmen for whom he had audited an account to which he had testified, and the amount. He refused to answer. Attorney Davis insisted upon a reply, but the witness declared that as confidential man for the International Silver Company he would not divulge the secrets of the cost of selling goods.

"You must answer or go to jail for contempt of court," Judge Platt declared. "I still decline to answer," persisted the witness, and further threats of immediate arrest were of no avail. Attorney Davis then proposed that if the plaintiff's lawyer would withdraw the witness and strike out his testimony entirely he would withdraw the question. After a conference with the plaintiff's attorney this was agreed to, the recalcitrant witness leaving the stand with a smile of triumph.

TO PAY FOR THE FOSCOLIA.

Bill Introduced to Settle for British Ship Sunk by the Columbia.

Special to The New York Times.

AWSHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Gen. Meyer of Louisiana, member of the Committee on Naval Affairs, has introduced a bill for the relief of the owners of the British ship Foscolia, and cargo, sunk by collision with the United States cruiser Columbia, near Fire Island, May 23, 1898.

"The bill gives jurisdiction to the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York to consider the case. This measure was favorably reported in the last Congress.

Barnard Going to Europe for a Lens.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Prof. Barnard, astronomer at the Yerkes Observatory, left Williams Bay to-day. He intends to sail from New York on Saturday for Liverpool. He goes to see about a lens for the proposed Bruce photographic telescope. The completion of the instrument has been delayed on account of the difficulty of getting the exact style of lens to produce the best results. The lens is to have a ten-inch aperture and a short focal length. Many experimental lenses have been made, but have not proved satisfactory. Mrs. Barnard accompanies the professor on his trip.

In sickness and in health, it can't be beaten—"OLD SARATOGA," Rosskam, Gerstley & Co.'s famous whiskey, Acker, Merrall & Condit sell it.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland! Poland!
Pure, sparkling, delicious. Telephone 118 Cort. —Adv.

ROBERTS TO THE COUNTRY

Denounces the Methods Used to Bring Him to Trial.

SAYS FREEDOM IS AT STAKE

Warns the Public that His Unseating Will Establish a Precedent that May Work Untold Evils.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Brigham H. Roberts of Utah, who was not allowed to be sworn in as a Representative in Congress of that State, has issued an address to the American people. It contains much that was said by Mr. Roberts on the floor of the House and by Mr. Richardson, who opposed the resolution of Mr. Tayler of Ohio. After reviewing the facts and proceedings resulting in the appointment of the committee, he says:

"The member from Utah is not allowed to take the oath of his office, and a committee is appointed to try him as to his alleged guilt of the offenses charged. Nay, even more is granted than was asked, at least more than was asked upon the floor of the House. For a hostile committee has been appointed to inquire into the case. Its membership is made up entirely of those who voted to adopt the method of procedure. Not one who voted against it was allowed to find a place upon that committee, and if the creation of such a tribunal for such a purpose be allowed there is no reason why the committee should not be made up of members of one political faith—for the majority may do as it pleases about that.

"I ask the American people to stop and think what that may mean to this country in times of high political excitement and party strife and passion.

"First—A formidable minority in the House may be reduced either to a very insignificant minority, or even blotted out of existence.

"Second—The representative to which a State is entitled on the floor of the House may be denied to it—as in this Utah case—for any length of time this committee may elect to deny it such representation. Suppose that in this case the committee shall see proper to proceed with reasonable expedition to consider the questions involved, but what is there to hinder it delaying its action under one pretext or another as long as it pleases? It may take a week, a month, or a year, to make its investigations, for it is authorized to send for papers and persons, to examine witnesses, and is not even instructed to report at as early a date as possible. It can prolong its investigations for two years as well as a month, or a year, if it so chooses, and meantime deny to a State representation, and may defeat altogether the expressed will of a people of a State as to their choice of a representative.

"If the present House can thus deprive Utah of her representation, there is no reason why it could not deny Virginia hers, even though she has ten representatives, for ten representatives as easy as one can be turned away from the bar of the House, and one State as well as another if a bare majority in the House chooses to have it so. And if the present Republican House can do this in the case of Utah or Virginia, there is no reason why the next Democratic House could not proceed in like manner with representatives from Republican States under this new and unprecedented rule of procedure.

HITS AT THE CONSTITUTION.

"Third—This new precedent also strikes down the Constitutional guarantee of a right to one accused of crime to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State wherein the crime shall have been committed. The proposition is not to deprive me of my seat in Congress by the presentation of records of conviction for crime before courts before which I have been found guilty, under the due forms of the law. The proposition is to try me before the committee of the House, to send for persons and papers and witnesses to ascertain my guilt or innocence of an alleged misdemeanor, reported to have been committed in Utah. It will be useless to deny this statement by saying that in the charge against me which resulted in the appointment of this extraordinary committee of investigation, it is said that a transcript of the proceedings of a court in Utah evidences the fact that the member from Utah pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor in the year 1889, twelve years ago, and when Utah was a territory. Whatever political disabilities were created by that event were removed by the sovereign State of Utah when, in the adoption of her State Constitution in 1895, she by her sovereign power declared what should be the qualifications of her electorate, and I possess them all. I defy my enemies to produce any court record of conviction of crime at any time since the misdemeanor of 1889, and the House has no right to proceed on any other evidence than such court records.

"I deny the existence of the lawful power of the House to prevent me from being sworn in on the presentation of the same evidence of prima facie right upon which others are admitted to membership.

"I deny the right of the House of Representatives to resolve itself into a Justice of the Peace court, to try me for a misdemeanor, alleged to have been committed, in order to find grounds of expulsion or exclusion from the high office to which I was elected.

"I deny its right to confer any such power upon its committee.

"If I were guilty of the misdemeanor charged—even flagrantly so, here in the capital—I could not even be arrested for the offense, so slight is it considered under the law. The Constitution gives the members of Congress immunity from arrest for misdemeanors, except for breach of the peace, and yet for an alleged misdemeanor for which I could not be arrested while in attendance upon the House, or while going to and from it, I am deprived of the right to take the oath of office, my final right to my seat is in jeopardy, the people of one of the sovereign States is denied representation, so long as it shall suit the purpose of the committee to have it so, and the expressed will of the people of a State is in danger of being defeated.

LIBERTY IS THREATENED.

"But why this appeal to the American people? Because violence is threatened to the safeguards of your liberties. Because the right of the rule of the majority in one of the sovereign States in the Union is being denied the safeguards of the rights and liberties of the individual, and of the States, are being broken down, and many of your representatives are too cowardly to even make a protest against such proceedings, because they fear they would endanger their chances for re-election if they voted against the high-handed measures now taking place.

"It is true that the representative from Utah is a 'Mormon,' and just now against the Mormon people a wave of popular sentiment, created by falsehood, chiefly by the charge that Utah has broken her compact with the United States in the matter of polygamy; that her people contemplate the revival of polygamous marriages; that the seating of Utah's representative would be regarded by her Mormon population as an indorsement of polygamy, and would be a menace to the American home. Upon my honor as a Representative from the State of Utah a man in whom the State of Utah has reposed its confidence, both non-Mormons as well as Mormons, I solemnly deny those charges. They are not true. The only thing chargeable to some few men in the State of Utah is that they have not deserted the plural wives they married years ago previous to the settlement of the polygamy question between the Government of the United States and the State of Utah, by which 'polygamous or plural marriages are forever prohibited' in the State of Utah, a penalty affixed by constitutional provision, and the whole made unrepealable without the consent of the United States, and the consent of the people of Utah.

"Even continuing the relations formed before this settlement of the question, though their disruption was neither demanded by the enabling act, nor contemplated in the provisions of the State Constitutions—are under the law a misdemeanor and punishable; but it has not been regarded as necessary to good morals or public policy to prosecute people for this offense, and neither by the Republican Party or by Democrats has the existence of such relations been considered a bar to political preferment until the political and religious enemies of the present representative from Utah thought proper to urge them against him. But such men have been elected to offices of high honor in the State of Utah, and others against whom such charges were made by affidavit were appointed to Federal offices in the State, notwithstanding such objections were urged against them.

"I submit to you the question whether it is worth while for your representatives in the Lower House of Congress to break down the safeguards which protect both the rights of individuals and the rights of the States, and which menaces representative government itself in the States. I ask is it worth while to countenance procedure involving dangers herein set forth, in order to reach one man charged with a misdemeanor under the laws of his own State, and which is in the eye of the people an offense so slight that under the rights guaranteed to him and his constituents he could not be arrested for it while in attendance upon his duties in Congress?

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AT STAKE.

"American citizens, it is a Mormon who is the object of the popular clamor to-day; may it not be the Catholic or the Methodist or the freethinker to-morrow? If the rights of the Representative from Utah and of his State cannot be safeguarded by the provisions of the Constitution and the laws from the frenzy of popular fury, set on fire by falsehood and distortion, what guarantee have we that any one's rights are secure? And is it true that this mob law by indirection is to reach within what should be the sacred precinct of the House of Representatives itself? I shall do all I can to maintain my rights, and indirectly yours, too, under the Constitution. I stand alone, save for the very few who gave me their very guarded support by voting against the monstrous proceedings that prevent me from taking the oath of office. I am without a dollar at my command except the salary attached to my office, with which to fight the battle now pending before the special committee. I am without legal counsel, except for the kindly suggestions of here and there a word from a lawyer, acquaintance, or friend. And, indeed, I prefer it to be so now, for my case is so firmly rooted in justice that it needs but a plain statement of the facts and a fair application of the law to them in order to make my right to my seat apparent; and I want the condition here named to stand as a refutation to the sensational charges that have been made about the Mormon Church standing behind me with any amount of money for legal counsel and the maintenance of a lobby in Washington. But it is possible in the present state of public sentiment that sophistry and special pleading, adroitly put, may be accepted for the law, and many of your representatives, influenced by the fear they have of your disapproval of their acts, may vote against what are clearly the Constitutional rights in the case.

I know not whether in this fight I shall win or lose, whether justice shall triumph or malice bear down justice, but I shall have this satisfaction if I fail, that when future ills grow out of this high-handed measure, now being enacted, I did what I could to prevent them.

B. H. ROBERTS.

AT WORK ON ROBERTS'S CASE.

Special Committee Meets to Take the Matter Up, but Makes Little Progress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The special committee of the House appointed to investigate the charges against Mr. Roberts, the Mormon Representative from Utah, held its first meeting to-day behind closed doors. The meeting was called for the purpose of determining the method of procedure in the case. It was held in the room of the Committee on Elections, No. 1, and was presided over by the Chairman, Mr. Tayler of Ohio. All the other members of the committee were present, Messrs. Morris of Minnesota, Freer of West Virginia, Littlefield of Maine, McPherson of Iowa, Landis of Indiana, Republicans, and De Armond of Missouri, Lanham of Texas, and Miers of Indiana, Democrats.

Little progress was made at the meeting to-day and an adjournment was taken until to-morrow at 10 o'clock. It has not yet been decided whether Mr. Roberts is to be allowed counsel or whether the hearings will be open or private. The determination of the latter question, it is believed, will depend upon Mr. Roberts's wishes. Mr. Roberts will also doubtless be allowed counsel.

The question as to whether the committee will go to Utah to take testimony was also raised, but it was not decided at the meeting to-day. Almost all the time was occupied in a general exchange of ideas as to methods of procedure.

In the House to-day Mr. Meyer (Dem., La.) announced that he had been incorrectly recorded as voting "aye" on the Roberts resolution on Tuesday. He had voted "no."

Mr. Roberts, despite the adoption of the resolution, which in terms deprives him of his seat during the pendency of his case in committee, was in the House throughout the session to-day and occupied the seat he selected on Monday.

FIVE PROFESSORS ROBBED.

Chicago Burglars Invade Homes of Dr. E. B. Hulbert and Four Others in "Professors' Row."

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—"Professors' Row," as the residence district in the vicinity of Fifty-eighth Street and Lexington and Kimbark Avenues is called, has been invaded by night and day prowlers.

Burglars paid a visit to the residence of Dr. E. B. Hulbert, Dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, to-day, and carried away a valuable watch and a sum of money.

The homes of Prof. G. E. Vincent and Prof. W. G. Hale also have been disturbed by burglars. Altogether, five professors' homes have been robbed within a week.

FEARS FOR ALASKA EXPLORERS.

Lieut. J. S. Herron and His Party Were Deserted by the Guides.

Special to The New York Times.

SEATTLE, Washington, Dec. 7.—Great apprehension has been caused by the fact that returning steamers from Cook Inlet and St. Michael have brought absolutely no tidings of the missing Herron party of explorers in Alaska.

In June last Lieut. Joseph S. Herron, United States Army, led a party of twelve men, including three Indian guides, on an expedition up the Sushitna River, and thence by way of the Yetno River to the head waters of the Tanana. On the steamer Duchesnay Lieut. Herron's party was taken to the upper waters of the Sushitna last June. He had orders to proceed to the Tanana and thence to the mouth of that stream and down the Yukon to St. Michael.

When he reached the divide Lieut. Herron's guides deserted him, leaving the little party in an untracked and unmapped wilderness. It is feared that Lieut. Herron got into the Kuskokwim Valley by mistake, and came out on Bering Sea, remote from settlements or transportation lines.

Train De Luxe for Cleveland.
Leaves New York every day at 5:30 P. M., arrives Cleveland next morning for breakfast via New York Central—Lake Shore. No excess fare.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland! Poland!
Recommended by eminent physicians for purity. —Adv.

Unequaled Service.
The New York Central has eight trains every day to Chicago; six to Cleveland, three to St. Louis, two to Cincinnati, two to Toronto, four to Montreal, five to Detroit, twelve to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, including the famous Empire State Express, sixteen between New York and Albany and Troy.—Adv.

THE NEW YORK HERALD'S Christmas Edition.
Out Sunday, December 10. 32 Full Size High Art Pages An Incomparable Holiday Edition.—Adv.

PE[C]ULIAR HABITS OF MOLINEUX

Breaks in Words the Subject of Expert Kinsley's Testimony.

HARPSTER LETTER EXAMINED

One Signed "H. Cornish" Declared to be in the Prisoner's Hand—John F. McIntyre a Witness.

There was but a three hours' session of the Molineux trial yesterday. Mr. Edgar, one of the jurors, desired to attend a funeral, and Recorder Goff had put down the trial for 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour it was announced that the Recorder was detained at a board meeting, and the trial was further put off until 2 o'clock.

Handwriting Expert Kinsley, who was on the stand most of the afternoon of Wednesday, continued his evidence yesterday, and is yet to be cross-examined by Mr. Weeks the number of cases since then. He finally told Mr. Weeks that he had testified thirty-four times this year.

"Does that mean thirty-four cases?"

"No, thirty-four times."

"And the six times you have testified in this case are included in that number?"

"Yes."

"You also consider yourself something of an expert in inks and chemicals, do you not?"

"Yes."

"Where did you acquire your knowledge of chemistry?"

"In a general way, in school, and from reading."

"How old were you when you left school?"

"About seventeen years."

"And when did you study chemistry?"

"During the first years of a four-years' course in the high school."

RECOGNIZES NO AUTHORITIES.

"Have the main points of your knowledge of handwriting come from your experience as a teacher of handwriting?"

"That probably paved the way for my study."

Mr. Kinsley said that there was no recognized school of handwriting, but that they were all eclectic. The Spencerian school, he said, had been swallowed up by modifications.

"Do you recognize any authorities in your profession, any published works?" he was asked.

"There are two works. I don't know that I recognize them as authorities."

"Have you read them?"

"Yes."

"And you only know of two?"

"Only two in the English language. I never read any in any other language."

"Do you apply the same rule or method in determining the authorship of all disputed handwriting?"

"Practically the same."

Recorder Goff interposed at this point and said that Mr. Weeks had gone far enough on the subject of qualification. Mr. Kinsley told the Court that in all he had testified from 100 to 150 times, and the Recorder said he would permit him to testify as an expert.

Mr. Kinsley then testified, in reply to a question asked by Mr. Osborne, that in his opinion the bogus Cornish letter and the writing made by Molineux at the witness's dictation were the work of the same hand. Mr. Weeks interposed an objection, making the points that the matter was not a case of disputed handwriting within the provisions of the laws of 1880 and 1888; that the expert was not qualified; that the standard of comparison was not sufficiently proved, and was not the genuine and natural handwriting of the defendant, and that Chapter 555 of the laws of 1888 and Chapter 36 of the laws of 1889 were unconstitutional in taking from the jury and investing in the Court the authority to determine the standards and genuineness of handwritings.

MR. WEEKS IS OVERRULED.

"Do you dispute the standard?" asked the Recorder.

"There are three or four," answered Mr. Weeks.

"Will you answer my question?"

"I am unable to do so while it is in that form," said Mr. Weeks.

The objections were overruled.

Mr. Kinsley then explained his reasons for believing that the samples he held were written by the same hand—that of Molineux. In the "Harpster" letter, he said, there were two styles of the letter "f." One formed an angle and the other a loop. The capital "A" was formed like a small "a" enlarged. There was a distinct break between the "I" and the "d" in "consider." In "confidential" there was a break between the "n" and "t" and also between the "i" and the "a." There were also breaks between the "e" and "a" in "greatly," and between the "e" and "c" in "appreciated."

Exhibit No. 38 for identification, a letter written by Molineux to Dr. Austen, was then put in evidence. It is as follows:

New York Athletic Club.

My Dear Austen: This will be handed to you by my friend, Mr. Charles Allen, a young gentleman who wishes to find some position where his knowledge of chemistry will be of service to him. Anything you can do or suggest for him will be appreciated. He has been with me for a year or more and I have found him competent and obliging. Most cordially yours,

ROLAND MOLINEUX.

July 28, 1898.

With the introduction of this letter Mr. Kinsley pointed out that there was a break between the "e" and "c" and between "i" and "a" in "appreciated." There was a break between the "n" and "d" in "handed" and "friend"; between "i" and "c" in "service," and between "i" and "a" in "cordially." The witness also pointed out that there was a break between the "n" and "d" in "Roland." Mr. Kinsley also said that in the word "Allen" the capital "A" was made like a small "a" enlarged.

"In other words, you find the same characteristics in this letter to Dr. Austen as in the disputed writing to Stearns, signed 'Cornish.' Is that right?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"That is right," said Mr. Kinsley.

"To what do you attribute that?"

"It involves the same pen habit."

MR. McINTYRE ON THE STAND.

Assistant District Attorney McIntyre was introduced as a witness while Mr. Kinsley was on the stand.

"Did you know Katherine J. Adams in her lifetime?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"I did," replied Mr. McIntyre.

"And did you see her dead?"

"Yes."

"When and where?"

"At 61 West Eighty-sixth Street on the night of Dec. 28, 1898."

"Was any one else there at the time?"

"Yes; Dr. Weston, several police officers, Mrs. Rogers, and Mr. Adams, the son and daughter of the deceased; Mr. Hovey, and Mrs. Hovey."

After much argument, it was decided to call Mr. McIntyre on Wednesday for cross-examination.

Dr. Lederle was called to the stand to testify as to his making the photographic copies of the letters in evidence, and the session closed with Mr. Kinsley still on the stand. The trial will be continued at 10.30 this morning.

After the court had adjourned Mr. Carvalho said that the reasons for his belief put forth by Mr. Kinsley were of absolutely no avail in determining the authorship of disputed writings. He said that 77 per cent. of all the people in the world who wrote failed to connect the preceding letter with either "a," "o," "d," or "g."

Some idea of the nature of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton's testimony for the defense can be gained by his statement to a reporter that handwriting experts paid no attention to the pathological questions involved in handwriting or the conditions of mind under which certain writings were made. These pathological questions played a large part in the Dreyfus trial in France, when Prof. Bertillon was on the stand for the State. Dr. Hamilton would not say what line his testimony in this regard would take.

Alleged Counterfeiters Held.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—William Davis, alias William Williams, and Annie Hubert, known as his wife, arrived from Oklahoma to-day in custody of United States Marshal Thompson and Deputy Fossett of Guthrie, where they had been arrested on behalf of officers of this district on the charge of counterfeiting Canadian bank notes. Both were arraigned before Judge Colt in the United States Court, the indictment charging the prisoners with counterfeiting on nineteen counts. Bail was placed at $7,000 each, and in default of the same the prisoners were remanded to jail.

New Michigan Copper Company.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Dec. 7.—The Champion Copper Company filed articles of incorporation here to-day. The capitalization is $2,500,000, with a cash capital of $100,000. William A. and Charles H. Paine, Frederick Stanwood, George E. Leonard, and Frederick Hall of Boston, with John H. Rice and Albert R. Gray of Houghton are the Directors of the new company. The mining property, which is valued at $500,000, is located twenty miles south of here, and is now being opened. One hundred men are employed.

Omaha Jeweler Says He Was Shot.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 7.—In an altercation to-day between G. C. Porter, a newspaper correspondent, and Albert Edholm, a leading jeweler, in the latter's store, Edholm was seriously wounded in the face. He says Porter shot him, but Porter insists that a hole under the eye was made by the hammer of a revolver with which he admits having struck Edholm. Porter was arrested and released in $1,000 bond.

Starved Herself to Death.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Sarah A. Lansdowne of Stanbury, Mo., died at the home of her stepmother, Mrs. Dr. Doane, in this city to-day, from forced starvation. She had become crazed over religion, and refused to eat or drink. For the past fourteen days, save for a little nourishment forced down her throat, she had not partaken of a mouthful of food or a drop of water.

RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION FATAL.

Old Man Assaults a "Divine Healer" and Drops Dead.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 7.—A special dispatch from Butte, Montana, says that Prof. Malachy Dwyer, an old resident of Butte, formerly of Ogdensburg, N. Y., during a heated religious discussion with J. S. Charlebois, the divine healer, attempted to strike the latter. Charlebois called on God to protect him, and Dwyer dropped dead. The men were in the public library at the time.

Charlebois, who is from Helena, is editor of a publication called The Living Truth. During his discussion with Dwyer, he made a statement with reference to the Pope which Dwyer resented. Dwyer called Charlebois a liar and made a rush for him with upraised hand to strike him. Charlebois says he stood up and called on God to protect him, and before Dwyer could strike he dropped dead. Dwyer was sixty-eight years old.

The Coroner's inquest this evening developed the fact that death was due to heart failure, produced by excitement.

STUDENTS ABANDON BOSTON.

They Object to the "Rabid Rationalism" Taught at the University.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 7.—Nine students of the School of Theology, Boston University, have just transferred their allegiance to Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., owing to what they term the "rabid rationalism" which is taught in the institution here. Hinckly G. Mitchell is the instructor against whose teachings they protested.

The protestants asked that Prof. Mitchell be not reappointed when his term expired, which will be in the course of a month. A counter petition signed by 240 students was also filed. The Trustees replied that they had investigated the matter and gave Prof. Mitchell his re-election a month ahead of time to show their confidence in him. Thereupon the nine students appealed to the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and were told by that body, that they must either cease their agitation or leave the school.

At the head of the agitation was the Rev. W. W. Schenck, who was supplying the pulpit at a church in Franklin, Mass. On Friday last he resigned the pastorate, and later publicly explained his reasons as follows:

"Coming from the West to Boston University School of Theology no years ago, he was shocked to find the most rabid rationalism being taught as Old Testament exercises, under cover of a leading Universalist school. Believing it his duty, not alone as a personal matter, but in the interest of Methodism at large, he antagonized the offending professor by demanding proof, which was not forthcoming.

"Coming to Messianic prophecy only half a truth was taught. Further on Jesus Christ was authority on Old Testament Scripture. The miraculous conception was set aside and the atoning blood made non-essential."

Mr. Schenck then explained the disagreements at the university, at which he was a divinity student, and that the young men, himself included, would withdraw to Drew Seminary. Mr. Schenck was accorded a vote of thanks for his labors in the parish.

President Warren of the university confirms the story of the dissensions, and says that the matter cannot be further considered until the next meeting of the Bishops. Prof. Mitchell declines to be interviewed.

It is claimed that only strong discipline has prevented the student body from making a demonstration in behalf of the Faculty.

COUNTRY RESIDENCE BURNED.

Loss to Owner, Camiele Weidenfeld, a Manhattan Broker, May Be $30,000.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Dec. 7.—The handsome residence on the property of Camiele Weidenfeld, a New York broker, was destroyed to-night by a fire which, it is believed was due to incendiary origin. The house was on what was known as the Edwin S. Cowles estate. It was purchased last Spring by Mr. Weidenfeld for $40,000, and was being entirely refitted and improved.

The house was of Colonial style, and very large. There was much fine furniture in it, but a large portion of this was saved. Atlantic Engine and the Hook and Ladder Company went to the scene, but there was no water available in sufficient quantities to be of any use. The firemen and many volunteers aided in saving the furniture. It is estimated that Mr. Weidenfeld's loss on the house and the furniture burned, will be between $25,000 and $30,000.

William Velsor, Superintendent of the estate, who lives in the lodge at the entrance to the ground, was absent to-night, but his daughter said that there had been no furnace fire in the building. None of the workmen who were overhauling the building had been in for several hours before the fire was discovered.

The house was situated on a knoll midway between Oyster Bay Village and Gov. Roosevelt's residence. The Travers residence and the homes of the Morris's, Montaunts, and Townsends are close by. The house overlooks the two bays, Long Island Sound, and Connecticut shore.

MAY CURE TUBERCULOSIS.

Prof. Crotte's Electrical Remedy Being Tested at St. Luke's Hospital.

The medical staff of St. Luke's Hospital, One Hundred and Thirteenth Street and Amsterdam Avenue, are watching an experiment with Prof. Francisque Crotte's electrical cure for tuberculosis, which has been in progress for several weeks. It is said that the results thus far obtained are encouraging. The fact that the experiment was being made has been kept very quiet, for the reason that the medical staff of St. Luke's, who are acting as a jury, while the cure is on trial before them, are very loath to render a verdict until a fair and impartial test has been given.

Prof. Crotte's electrical machine which furnishes the static currents that, he declares, kills the microbes of consumption in the lungs of the patient, is guarded very carefully, and few have seen it. The currents from the machine pass through sponges into the lungs of the patient, while the jury carefully watch and note the progress of the cure.

Prof. Crotte thus describes his method: "By static currents of electricity I convey to the organism of persons afflicted with diseased lungs formic aldehyde that kills the microbes of disease in the lungs. I am proving to the world, day by day, that in a period of one to three months, my method of treatment cures every case of tuberculosis in the first degree. It cures in two or three months three-fourths of the cases of tuberculosis in the second degree, and in the third degree thirty in a hundred are cured. I cannot replace a lung, I cannot restore a life, but I can aid nature."

The Rev. Dr. Baker, Superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital, when seen yesterday afternoon, said: "I am very sorry that this matter has been made public at the present time, for the reason that it will undoubtedly raise hopes in the hearts of many unfortunates. We would much rather have kept the matter a secret until a thorough test has been given to the method."

Baptist Social Union Dinner.

Frederick William Holls, Secretary of the American Commission to the Peace Conference at The Hague, Sergt. Fritz Andrae, and Private William H. Reeves, Jr., late of the United States Signal Corps at Manila, were guests and speakers at the monthly dinner of the Baptist Social Union of New York at Sherry's last night. Mr. Holls delivered an address on "America at the Peace Conference." The two Philippine war veterans united in a lecture on "Manila, Luzon, and Its People," illustrated with stereopticon views.

Brooklyn Church Calls a Pastor.

The Rev. Dr. John Reid, pastor of a Presbyterian church in Detroit, was unanimously chosen last night to succeed the Rev. T. A. Nelson as pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, at Seventh Avenue and St. John's Place, Brooklyn. The Rev. Mr. Nelson resigned on account of poor health six months ago after a pastorate of twenty years. The salary of the new pastor will be $5,500 a year.

Russian Paper on British Friendship.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—The Novoe-Vremya, commenting upon President McKinley's message to Congress, says: "The statement that the United States declines all alliances serves as a reply to Mr. Chamberlain. Great Britain's feelings of kinship with the United States will last as long as it is to the advantage of England. The present feeling of kinship is one of the most singular episodes in contemporary history."

The Philadelphia at San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Philadelphia has arrived at San Francisco.

Sleeve Buttons.

We direct especial attention to our assortment of Diamond Link Sleeve Buttons.

Dumb-bell Buttons, .	$3.00 to 11.00
Etruscan Link Buttons, .	$4.50 to 18.00
Amethyst Link Buttons, .	$4.50 to 14.00
Enamelled Link Buttons, .	$6.00 to 75.00
Diamond Link Buttons, .	$7.50 to 100.00

Theodore A. Kohn & Son

JEWELERS

56 West 23d Street

MAY HOLD UP NEW BRIDGE.

Rival Franchise Alleged to be Behind Bills Offered by Senator Platt and Mr. Sulzer.

Two bills which have been introduced in Congress this week are said to have a considerable bearing on the bridge situation in this city. These measures, which are alleged to be identical, were presented in the Senate by Mr. Platt of New York and in the House by Mr. Sulzer. They provide for the extension of the time in which "the East River Bridge, now in course of construction" must be built, for five years from Jan. 1, 1900. According to Commissioner Boyle of the East River Bridge Commission, the bills are in the interest of the Raney bridge franchise, which will expire on Jan. 1 next unless the time is extended.

This franchise is for a bridge extending from Manhattan Island to Blackwell's Island and thence to Long Island City. The routes of the proposed Raney bridge and the projected Manhattan-Queens bridge, for which bonds were authorized on Tuesday, are practically identical, so that the extension of the franchise for the former would necessitate, it is stated, the purchase by the city of all rights under it before the projected Manhattan-Queens bridge could be built.

For years the owners of the Raney franchise have been endeavoring to sell it to the city. When the site for the Manhattan-Queens Bridge was selected, Bridge Commissioner Shea said that the Raney franchise would expire before work could be begun, hence there would be no need for the city to acquire any private rights conferred under it. He also declared that he was opposed to any such purchase by the city, either at that point or any other.

Rumors have frequently been current for some time that the Raney franchise had passed into the hands of politicians; that these politicians intended to force the city to buy them out. Little credence was given to these rumors, however, until the introduction of the franchise extension bills called attention to them. The introduction of these measures, following so closely upon the action of the Board of Estimate in authorizing bonds to begin work on the bridge, which will traverse the site of the proposed Raney structure, caused considerable comment in municipal official circles yesterday, though no one was prepared to express any opinion as to the responsibility.

NATIONAL BUSINESS LEAGUE.

F. W. Peck Declines Re-election as President—Programme Next Year.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Ferdinand W. Peck has declined re-election as President of the National Business League. His duties as Commissioner General to the Paris Exposition will make his presence in Paris necessary during the coming year, and he has notified the Directors of the league that he will not be a candidate for another term.

At the annual meeting of the league, which will be held here two weeks hence, an effort will be made to elect some prominent Eastern business man to the place.

The league has outlined for the coming year and for its campaign before the present session of Congress two important subjects. The one is the extension of the civil service rules to the Consular Service, and the other is the addition of the pooling privilege to the inter-State Commerce act.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE ALUMNI.

The Annual Dinner at Delmonico's—Dr. Slicer on Trusts.

The Williams Alumni Association, some 120 strong, met for its annual dinner in Delmonico's large ballroom last night. Good music, feasting, and college songs breathing the old campus spirit helped to make the occasion a pleasant one, and the speeches were entertaining. One anxiously expected guest, President Franklin Carter of Williams College, who is also a graduate of the class of '62, was detained by recent family bereavement from attending, so that the Faculty was not represented. Henry L. Nelson, '67, President of the association, acted as toastmaster.

Among those present were: Hamilton W. Mable, '67; A. V. W. Van Vechten, '47; J. Edward Simmons, '62; Francis L. Stetson, '67; H. D. Nicoll, '83; C. B. Hubbell, '74; the Rev. Dr. Abbott E. Kittredge, '54; Eugene Delano, '66; Dr. Vanderpool Adriance, '90; C. T. Barney, '70, and Rufus R. Graves, '91.

Dr. J. L. Canfield, '68, was the first speaker introduced by Mr. Nelson. He deprecated the custom of putting the college Professor on a pedestal and hesitating to replace him when a better man could be found for the position. The Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Slicer, the next speaker, said in part:

"Some one came to me the other day with a question as to what feature in my career I regarded as most important, or words to that effect—some fool question like that. [Laughter.] I said: 'I haven't any career. I've been too busy to have a career. I've not been unfortunate enough to have a biography, and I wouldn't perpetuate an autobiography if I could. But if you ask me what there is in my make-up that I would be least willing to let go, it is the power of sustained effort, the power of getting hold and not letting go—especially if it's a public office.'" [Laughter.]

Dr. Slicer went on to treat of the importance of sociology and adverted to the President's reference to trusts in his message. "The trust," said he, "is only an aspect of commercial development due to the social state. It can no more be treated as a disease than can the rounding out of a muscle in the human body. The mistake of the labor union is the mistake of the near-sighted view. The mistake on the other side is that of the doctrinaire. One is too immersed in present events. The other is divorced from the contemporary."

Dr. Slicer also dwelt on the value of patriotism, and condemned an expression of Tolstoi, written by the author to a man in this city in the last six months, namely: "Patriotism is a vice, and belongs to the tribal condition."

Michael O'Donnell Adjudged Insane.

Michael O'Donnell, alias John Williams, who stabbed Charles Scanlon on Oct. 22 so seriously that he died three days later, was adjudged insane yesterday afternoon. O'Donnell served over ten years of a thirty-year term in Sing Sing on conviction of a robbery, afterward confessed by his brother, and was pardoned Dec. 14, 1898, after the real criminal had confessed the crime on his deathbed. It is believed that his long incarceration affected his mind.

WALTHAM WATCHES

The best and most reliable timekeepers made in this country or in any other.

The "Riverside" (trade-mark) movement is jeweled throughout with rubies and sapphires.

For sale by all jewelers.

PAIN'S FIREWORKS FAILURE.

The Company Makes an Assignment, Owing to a Sham-Battle Accident and a Fire.

Pain's Fireworks Company, which maintained branches in Chicago and Boston, in addition to its headquarters at 12 Park Place, this city, made an assignment yesterday in Brooklyn to Bertram Gardner, a lawyer of 82 Nassau Street. The following statement in regard to the matter was given out:

"The assignment is stated to be principally due to complications arising from an accident occuring at Columbus, Ohio, during a sham battle, resulting in a large number of suits for damages for injuries, as well as the disastrous fire which occurred at the company's factory last Summer. The fireworks trade has also been depressed for some months past. The amount of the liabilities is stated to be about $70,000, with assets which are believed to fully cover the indebtedness if carefully handled. Mr. Pain stated that the company was compelled to file the assignment owing to the threatened action of certain creditors, who sought to obtain preference by suit, his desire being that all creditors should share alike because he felt confident that the company would come through all right and without loss to any of the creditors. The assignee is now preparing the necessary schedules."

Henry J. Pain, the President of the company, comes from a family famous in England and throughout Europe as pyrotechnists, and he himself has been in the business for about fifteen years. The present company was incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in March, 1898, with a capital of $200,000, which, however, was reduced to $135,000 in September, 1896. William W. Yard is the Treasurer of the concern and James F. Graham is the Secretary. Mr. Pain makes his home at the Gilsey House, but neither he nor the other officers could be found last evening. The fire referred to occurred on June 8 at Parkville, near Coney Island.

The company is best known in the vicinity of New York for the fire spectacles which have been among the leading attractions at Manhattan Beach for a number of years.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE BRONX.

The Borough Board Takes Action in Regard to New Parks.

The Board of Public Improvements of the Borough of the Bronx held a lively meeting yesterday afternoon at the Municipal Building, One Hundred and Seventy-seventh Street and Third Avenue. President Haffen presided.

Among those present was Councilman Herman Sulzer, whose district laps into the Borough of the Bronx, and who is thereby entitled to sit at the meetings of both the Bronx and Manhattan local boards. Councilman Sulzer offered a recommendation providing for an elevated approach to the new Willis Avenue bridge, in One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street. Alderman Geiger took exception to this and asked why Mr. Sulzer came to the Bronx Board with such a resolution, when it appertained to the Borough of Manhattan. "Simply as a matter of courtesy," replied Mr. Sulzer.

In executive session the board decided to recommend the establishment of a public park at the Willis Avenue approach of the bridge, providing the cost be assessed on the city at large. Similar action was taken in regard to Bensonia Cemetery, 6th St. Ann's Avenue, near One Hundred and Fifty-sixth Street.

HOPEFUL FOR TUSKEGEE FUND.

Mr. Washington to Speak at Yonkers and East Orange.

Booker T. Washington, Principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, was in excellent spirits when a TIMES reporter saw him at the Grand Union Hotel last night and asked about the prospects of raising the $500,000 needed for the institute's endowment fund.

"The outlook is most encouraging," he said. "In addition to the munificent gift of $50,000 by Mr. and Mrs. Collis P. Huntington, another New York gentleman to-day donated $2,000. I am not at liberty to give his name. We have already secured $124,000, and there is the contingent $25,000 referred to by ex-President Cleveland in his letter. Yes, I am very hopeful of success.

"I am to speak in the Rev. Dr. Behrends's Central Congregational Church in Brooklyn to-morrow night on the Tuskegee Institute appeal. On Sunday afternoon and evening I shall speak on the same subject in Yonkers, N. Y., and East Orange, N. J."

TO FIGHT HER FATHER'S WILL.

Mrs. Hupfel Sues Her Stepmother, Widow of Michael Kuntz.

Mrs. Lena Hupfel, wife of the brewer, Adolph Hupfel, and daughter of the late Michael Kuntz, who established the American Brewing Company's plant, has brought suit against her stepmother, Mrs. Augusta Kuntz, in an effort to break her father's will, in which he cuts her off with $1,000. Mrs. Hupfel brings the suit on the ground that the will filed for probate on Nov. 6, 1899, was not her father's last will, that undue influence was used, and that the testator was not in his right mind when the will was drawn. The estate is valued at about $190,000, and consists of a second mortgage on the plant of the American Brewing Company for $110,000, real estate valued at $45,000, and $54,000 in other mortgages.

Mr. Kuntz's first wife died about ten years ago, and almost immediately afterward he married again, against the wishes of his family. His daughter refused to visit him, and they did not speak for years. A conference looking toward a settlement of the case was held yesterday, but little was accomplished, as Mrs. Hupfel expressed her intention to fight the case. She is represented by Guggenheimer, Untermyer & Marshall.

TALK OF A NEW BOAT LINE.

Rumored Pennsylvania Plan to Compete with the New Haven.

It was reported in Wall Street yesterday that a company was being formed, in which Pennsylvania Railroad interests are largely identified, to operate a line of express steamboats between New York and Boston in competition with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. The capitalization of the new company was set down as over $10,000,000, and it was said that the new boats would make close connections with the Pennsylvania terminals in this city and would proceed direct to Boston.

Wall Street, however, paid little attention to the report. In the first place it is known that the relations between the Pennsylvania and the New Haven systems are very harmonious at present; while in the second it is pointed out that the New Haven does not cater to boat passengers direct to Boston. It has various boat lines to different points, but none to Boston; and it is recalled that it is really taking off some of its boats, not finding their operation profitable. The Pennsylvania system might be able to operate successfully a direct Boston line, but if it did it would not be in opposition to the New Haven system. As a matter of fact, however, the Street has no specific knowledge of any such intention as that intimated on the part of the Pennsylvania system, nor can any information on the subject be learned from inquiry.

Dr. Dixon Plans New Church.

The Rev. A. C. Dixon is planning for the construction of a new church in Brooklyn, to cost $125,000. His idea is to have a large auditorium for evangelistic services, capable of seating 2,000 persons. He also contemplates a roof auditorium for Summer services. Work on the new church may be begun next Spring.

"Standard of Highest Merit."

FISCHER PIANOS.

Attention is called to the large assortment of Fischer Pianos now on exhibition at our warerooms. Cased in rare and choice woods and artistically designed.

Also several styles expressly designed for the Holiday season.

Especial attention is called to our new small Grands.

Open evenings from Dec. 18th to 23d inclusive.

FISCHER PIANO WAREROOMS
33 Union Square—West,
Between 16th and 17th Streets, New York.

MANY MEETINGS IN NEW HAVEN.

Ten Leading Societies to Hold Annual Gatherings There.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 7.—Beginning Dec. 28 ten of the leading scientific societies of the country will hold annual meetings in this city. The societies are the American Society of Naturalists, the Association of American Anatomists, the American Morphological Society, the American Physiological Society, the American Psychological Society, the American Folk-Lore Society, the Society of Plant Morphology, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Chemical Society, and the Archæological Society of America.

There will be a large number of well-known scientific and literary men here at the meetings. Prof. Charles Eliot Norton of Harvard will address the Archaeological Institute. Prof. Tracy Peck of Yale will speak on "The Roman Forum," Prof. Thomas D. Seymour of Yale on "Homeric Wars," and among speakers will be Prof. Goodman of Harvard, Prof. F. W. Putnam of Harvard, and Profs. Wright, White, and Chase of Harvard.

With the American Society of Naturalists will be Prof. Eddison E. Verrill of Yale, Prof. Thomas Dwight of the Harvard Medical School, Prof. R. H. Chittenden of Yale, Prof. W. B. Scott of Princeton, and Prof. Joseph Jastrow of Wisconsin.

FISH, GAME, AND FOREST LEAGUE

Action on Proposed Changes in Game Laws—Officers Elected.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The New York State Fish, Game, and Forest League, in annual session to-day, adopted twelve amendments reducing penalties for violation of the fish and game laws, recommended a law to punish severely those who shoot hunters by accident, and voted down a law to license hunters from outside the State. The following officers were elected:

Robert B. Lawrence of Flushing, President; W. E. Wolcott of Utica, Vice President; Ernest G. Gould of Seneca Falls, Secretary, and A. C. Cornwall of Alexandria Bay, Treasurer.

The Chairman of the Law Committee, to succeed C. R. Lapham of Canandaigua, is Walter S. MacGregor of this city.

STATE EDUCATIONAL BILL.

ALBANY, Dec. 7.—Commissioner Lincoln of the statutory revision commission completed to-day the draft of the bill decided upon by the special educational committee which recently had under discussion the question of uniting the State Board of Regents and the department of Public Instruction. The bill is on the lines decided upon by the commission. It reduces the regents to nine, and gives them power to name a Commissioner of Public Instruction.

The bill in its present form is not expected to go through, and will have to be revised again when the educational commission meets, on Dec. 14. Neither the Regents nor the Department of Public Instruction like it now that its various provisions have been regularly tabulated, and Commissioner Lincoln has had an opportunity to critically examine the completed draft.

GAS EXPLOSION AT RYE.

RYE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—A gas stove exploded in the St. Benedict's Home here last night in a room where fifteen sisters were seated at the supper table. The stove was shattered. None of the sisters was hurt, though Sister Mary John was hit on the heel by a fragment of the stove.

The gas was turned off promptly and no fire resulted. All the glass in the windows and every bit of china on the table and walls were smashed by the concussion.

Pere Marquette Consolidation.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Dec. 7.—At the adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and West Michigan and the Detroit, Grand Rapids and Western Railroad, held here to-day, the transfer of both roads to the Pere Marquette Railway Company was ratified by the unanimous vote of all the stock represented. The action was merely formal. It is generally expected that Charles M. Heald will retain the presidency.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF—W. N. McMillan, London; J. Graham Wright, Glasgow; M. E. Ingalls, President of the "Big Four" Railway Company, Cincinnati.

SAVOY—Robert Gross, Berlin.

BUCKINGHAM—Clara Butt, the singer; William D. Beck, Indianapolis.

NETHERLAND—A. Saltren Willett, England.

MANHATTAN—Judge Henry Dykman, White Plains.

MURRAY HILL—Gen. Amasa J. Parker, Albany.

HOLLAND—Harry Whitney, New Haven.

IMPERIAL—R. E. McKisson, Cleveland.

ALBEMARLE—Edwin T. Atkins, Boston; A. H. Taylor, London.

ASTOR—W. F. Dunn, Havana; Dr. Hugh Pitcairn, United States Consul at Hamburg, Germany.

GRAND—Benton C. Decker, United States Navy; E. M. Hoffman, Elmira.

FIFTH AVENUE—Thomas C. Noyes, Washington, D. C.

MAJESTIC—Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Madison; Miss Bardon, Locust; Archbishop Ryan, Philadelphia; Mrs. Norhill, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Hempty, C. Thomas, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Corbin, New Haven; T. King, Boston; Robert Lyle, New York.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST—Fair, brisk southwesterly winds.

The barometer is low over the Northern districts from the Pacific Coast to the Upper St. Lawrence Valley. Rain has fallen in Texas, Southern New Mexico, and in the Pacific Coast States, and rain or snow from the extreme Upper Mississippi Valley over the lake regions. The temperature is below the seasonal average in the Atlantic Coast States and the Southwest, and is generally above the normal in the central valleys, the lake regions, and the Northwest.

The weather will moderate in the Atlantic Coast States to-day, with rain or snow in Northern New York and Northern New England. Rain is indicated for the Southwestern States and on the Middle and North Pacific Coast districts. Rain is likely to occur to-morrow in the Gulf States. Along the New England Coast the winds will be fresh from the southwest to-day. Along the Middle Atlantic Coast brisk southwesterly winds will prevail. Along the South Atlantic Coast the winds will be mostly light to fresh from the northeast. The display of storm signals will be discontinued for the season on Lake Michigan after Dec. 9, on Lake Huron after Dec. 11, and on Lakes Erie and Ontario after Dec. 14. The display of storm signals will be discontinued on Lake Superior with the closing of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES's thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau— 1898.	1899.	TIMES. 1899.
8 A. M.	31	22	34
6 A. M.	32	22	28
9 A. M.	37	26	30
12 M.	39	30	35
4 P. M.	36	33	37
6 P. M.	35	34	37
9 P. M.	35	36	37
12 P. M.	31	37	36

THE TIMES's thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	34
Weather Bureau	30
Corresponding date 1898	35
Corresponding date for last twenty-five years	37

The maximum temperature yesterday was 37 degrees at 10 P. M. and the minimum 22 degrees at 5 A. M. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 62 per cent. and at 8 P. M. 66 per cent. The barometer at 8 A. M. read 30.54 and at 8 P. M. 30.39.

BURST A BLOOD VESSEL.

Injury to G. Reis the Result of Trying to Sing High C.

G. Reis, a tenor and member of what is known on the vaudeville stage as the Verdi Trio, while engaged yesterday afternoon on the roof of the New York Theatre in demonstrating his ability as a singer in anticipation of obtaining a position in the forthcoming production of the new extravaganza, "Broadway to Tokio," to be produced early in January at the New York Theatre, burst a blood vessel. An attack of paralysis followed.

Arrangements were made by Manager William L. Lykens, a vaudeville agent, early in the week for the members of the trio to visit the roof garden and submit their services to a test and demonstrate if their ability warranted the management in engaging them for the new production.

August Wagner, a basso, and Mme. Del Costo, soprano, are the other members of the trio. After the trio had rendered several selections, Reis asked the privilege of singing a solo. He selected the aria "Di Quella Pira," from Verdi's opera of "Il Trovatore," which he mastered in a clear and clever manner, until he attempted to reach the high C.

It was during this effort he was seen to grasp for a chair. He was carried to the office of Manager Lykens on the floor below. A physician discovered that the tenor had burst a blood vessel, which accounted for the stroke of paralysis.

An ambulance took the singer to the Walton Oxygen Hospital, on Fifth Avenue, near Forty-third Street, where, it was said late last night, his condition was unchanged.

The Verdi trio was engaged to sing next week at Keith's Union Square Theatre, but it is thought by the manager that the engagement will have to be canceled unless the tenor's condition should greatly improve between now and Monday.

OLD BROOKLYNITE'S PRIZE.

Mr. Jones's Little Daughter Brings Him a Loving-Cup.

The Society of Old Brooklynites met last night in the Surrogate's Court, Hall of Records, and debated with spirit the pros and cons of the expansion question. A majority favored expansion. Among those who opposed it was Thomas B. Jones, who has achieved local fame as the winner of the society's prizes.

Some time ago the society offered a silver spoon to the member who should first become thereafter a happy father. To Mr. Jones there came a bright little boy and he got the spoon. Then the society offered a silver loving cup to the member who should first become the father of another child. On Nov. 6 a pretty little daughter was born to Mr. Jones. At last evening's meeting he was the recipient of hearty congratulations.

A special committee was appointed to select the cup, to have it properly inscribed, and to present it to Mr. Jones.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

QUINCY, Mass., Dec. 7.—The car house of the Boston and Quincy Street Railway was burned this morning, together with a large number of cars, causing a loss of about $60,000.

NORWOOD, Mass., Dec. 7.—The oil cloth factory of Chandler & Gay was burned to-day. About forty workmen will be thrown out of employment. The loss is estimated at $25,000; fully insured.

OSHAWA, Ont., Dec. 7.—Fire this morning destroyed the plant of the McLaughlin Carriage Company here. Nearly 400 men are thrown out of employment. The loss will be heavy.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

From 12 o'clock Wednesday night until 12 o'clock Thursday night.

12:50 A. M.—432 Forest Avenue; Charles Burger; damage, $1,000.

2 A. M.—464 Eighth Avenue; James Waterman; damage, $150.

2:15 A. M.—754 Eighth Avenue; John Miller; damage, $35.

10:05 A. M.—600 Ninth Avenue; Bernard Curry; damage, $2,500.

10:30 A. M.—310 West One Hundred and Seventeenth Street; Elizabeth Hall; damage, $35.

10:35 A. M.—Libert Street and Pelham Avenue; Miss Ada Moore; damage, $500.

11:30 A. M.—163 Allen Street; Bernard Schwartz; damage, slight.

11:30 A. M.—494 Pearl Street; Rosa Philgiar; damage, slight.

11:40 A. M.—125 Forsyth Street, Abraham Golberg; damage, slight.

2:45 P. M.—131 West Third Street; Vita Bondilanu; damage, slight.

3:45 P. M.—254 West Thirty-eight Street; Sadie Grey; damage, $25.

4 P. M.—698 East One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street; S. Hecht; damage, $100.

4:00 P. M.—577 Broadway; Pacific Novelty Company and others; damage, $75,000.

4:10 P. M.—32 Warren Street; Keller Publishing Company; damage, $700.

5:45 P. M.—507 Greenwich Street; John Clancey; damage, $75.

6:10 P. M.—220 Ninth Avenue; owner unknown; damage slight.

6:45 P. M.—582 Fifth Avenue; John J. Mason; damage, $25.

7:15 P. M.—738 Sixth

BULLER READY TO FIGHT

Leaves for the Front, and a Big Battle Is Expected.

METHUEN AGAIN IN COMMAND

Dead Boers Pollute the Water of the Modder River, Causing Sickness Among British Soldiers.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A dispatch, dated Pietermaritzburg, Dec. 5, says that Gen Buller and his staff have started for the front.

This is held to indicate that all the preparations for an advance to the relief of Ladysmith are complete, and that stirring news will soon be received. The fact that Lord Methuen is announced as resuming his command at almost the same moment is interpreted in some quarters to mean that battles will be fought simultaneously in Natal and Spytfontein. It appears doubtful, however, whether Gen. Methuen's force is yet ready for what will evidently be a heavy encounter.

The construction of the temporary bridge across the Modder River has entailed enormous labor, and even now the structure is liable to be washed away should a heavy storm come. Gen. Methuen has been obliged to move his camp a mile north in consequence of the unsanitary state of the stream, due to the presence of the bodies of dead Boers. As the railway bridge was completely destroyed, he was compelled to leave a considerable force to protect his communications.

A special correspondent sends the interesting information regarding Boer tactics that Commandant General Joubert has given general orders to reserve fire until the British are within the close range of 400 yards. At the Modder River battle the Free State burghers became nervous, opened fire prematurely, thus revealing their position, and frustrated the Boer plans.

The Daily Mail publishes a dispatch from Julian Ralph at Modder River, who says:

"The Kimberley people are troubled by the necessity of feeding 10,000 Basutos in the diamond fields, whom the Boers refuse to allow to depart, and who, should they fail to get enough meat, would become discontented and restless.

"On the night of the battle at Modder River, Kimberley, missing the accustomed signals from there, was in great anxiety, fearing that we had been defeated. The fact was that we did not use our searchlight for fear the Boer guns would wreck the apparatus. Five hundred and thirty Boers were killed or wounded in the battle here. That number has already been accounted for, and the enemy losses were probably much heavier."

The Morning Post publishes an article warning the British public that "the disillusionment already experienced respecting the Boer forces in Natal is likely to be repeated on the Western border."

It says that men are wanted everywhere and asks why the splendid body of 20,000 Royal Marines is now being employed in sweeping floors and washing paint in England and is not sent out to handle the naval guns, instead of the hurriedly trained men, unfamiliar with these weapons, who have gone.

The Government has decided to dispatch to South Africa at the earliest possible moment a cavalry brigade of about 4,000 men.

Baron Loch, ex-Governor of Cape Colony and British High Commissioner for South Africa, lecturing in London last evening, related some of his experiences with President Krüger. He said the remarks of the Transvaal President years ago showed that he contemplated just the state of affairs which had now arisen. Mr. Krüger even expressed a desire to have a seaport, and said the Transvaal hoped to have a navy some day.

The Times, commenting upon Lord Loch's reminiscences, says that they prove up to the hilt the Dutch ambition for Dutch supremacy in South Africa.

The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "The German steamer Konig has just arrived at Loranzo Marquez with the German and Dutch Red Cross contingents. She has also thirteen German, two French, and one Swedish officers who are going to join the Boers."

A story was current at Durban Dec. 5 to the effect that the Boers made what is thought to have been their final effort to capture Ladysmith Dec. 4, and were defeated and retreated. As the story was brought by runners, it should be received with caution, as the unreliability of these "Kafirgrams" is notorious. According to this report, the Boers opened a furious bombardment during the morning of Dec. 4, continued it for hours, when the British finally silenced the Boer guns, made a sortie, and hard fighting followed, the Boers retreating after very heavy losses, estimated in hundreds.

The dispatches from Frere Camp partially confirm a retirement of Free State burghers from the vicinity of Ladysmith, but do not indicate that the retreat was the result of a defeat on the previous day, while the statement in the same dispatch that the Boers were firing into Ladysmith, shows the Boer guns were still active. It is also pointed out that all suggestions of weakening refer to the Free Staters. Apparently the Transvaal Boers are still full of fight, though it is reiterated that they are short of supplies.

According to a dispatch from Gen. Schalk Burger's Laager, dated Dec. 3, the French and Austrian military attaches had arrived there, while the German attaches had gone to join the Boer forces along the Tugela River, where a collision was momentarily expected.

Perhaps an explanation of the retirement of the Burghers from Natal can be found in a dispatch from Modder River, Dec. 3, saying a strong Boer force, estimated to number 3,000 men, was reinforcing Gen. Cronje from Natal. The same dispatch says everything points to the fact that a great engagement will be fought at Spyfontein. The Boers are massing on the hills there, are vigorously building stone defenses, and are digging rifle pits in every direction.

The Boers' redoubts on Lazaretto Ridge, west of Kimberley, are also being extended and strengthened, showing that the rumors of the intentions of the Boers to abandon the attempt to stem Gen. Methuen's advance are unfounded. The British have shifted their camp a few hundred yards away from the battle field and are settling down for a week. There are some cases of fever among the troops. Much depends on Gen. Gatacre's advance. There is undoubtedly a large concentration of Boers ahead of Gen. Methuen. Practically the whole of their Mafeking forces have joined the Kimberley besiegers.

An official account of the sortie at Kimberley Nov. 28, when the British casualties, as cabled yesterday, occurred, says:

"The British demonstrated toward Wimbledon Rifle Range. The enemy's guns were positioned from the ridge at Spitskop to Wimbledon siding. Major Scott-Turner, with the mounted troops, attacked the enemy's right flank, capturing a laager and three redoubts. The enemy, in a fourth redoubt, made a stubborn resistance, when Major Scott-Turner was killed. The British captured many shells and destroyed other stores."

The same dispatch gives reports from Col. Kekewich, dated Dec. 3 and 4, showing the Boers were increasing in numbers around Kimberley.

The Boer advance in the northeastern part of Cape Colony is becoming remarkable. The local farmers are flocking to the Boer laagers, the townspeople, in many instances, welcoming the invaders with every demonstration of joy. The annexation of British territory proceeds daily.

Advices from Pretoria say the Government has allowed two cable messages to reach Winston Churchill. The mint at Pretoria is coining a hundred thousand sovereigns monthly.

The War Office has been notified that the British had five killed and twenty-five wounded in the sortie from Kimberley Nov. 25, including three colonial officers.

Special dispatches from Lorenzo Marques, dated Tuesday, Dec. 5, say President Kruger is only prevented from going to the front by objections of the members of the Executive Council. Mrs. Kruger, it is added, is ill.

CONSUL MACRUM IS SILENT.

American Representative at Pretoria Sends No Word.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Since the notice received about two weeks ago of the objection interposed by the Boer Government to the attempt of United States Consul Macrum, at Pretoria, to disburse certain sums of money provided by the British Government to afford the British prisoners there with small necessities and luxuries during their confinement, the State Department has heard nothing on this subject.

Upon being informed of the objection, the department instructed Mr. Macrum to protest against it, but it is not known how he has fared since then. In fact, the department has been unable to obtain answer from him to any of its communications of recent date, and it does not know even if he has received notice of the granting of his leave of absence.

KIMBERLEY HAS AMPLE FOOD.

Commander There Says He Has Provisions for Forty Days.

MODDER RIVER, Dec. 4.—A searchlight message from Col. Kekewich at Kimberley says the town is provisioned for forty days, with forage for thirty days, and has a plentiful water supply.

Everything there has been quiet during the last three days. The theatre and the convent have been fitted up as hospitals. A number of cattle have been captured by the Boers.

PRESIDENT STEYN IN COMMAND.

Free State Executive Joins the Boers at Modder River.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The announcement is made in a special dispatch from Bloemfontein, dated Sunday, Dec. 3, that President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, has joined the Boer forces at the Modder River. His appearance, it is added, caused great enthusiasm among the Boers.

BRITISH TERRITORY ANNEXED.

Orange Free State Takes a Strip North of Queenstown.

PRETORIA, Dec. 6.—The Orange Free State has proclaimed the annexation of Bordrecht, about fifty miles north of Queenstown, Cape Colony.

The Tugela Bridge, it is also announced, is so completely ruined that it will be a work of great magnitude for either belligerent to restore it. The British fired on some Republican scouts south of the Tugela this morning. There were no casualties.

A newspaper correspondent named Lynch, who entered the Boer lines at Ladysmith on Monday with the alleged purpose of exchanging newspapers, has been made a prisoner, and will be brought to Pretoria.

Many Dead Boers Carried Away.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—It is reported from Orange River to-day that 107 dead Boers were taken to Kaffirskop after the battle of Belmont.

Doctors Honor American Nurses.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The British Medical Society gave an at home this evening to the American nurses who will accompany the hospital ship Maine when she sails for South African waters Dec. 17. Miss Hibbard, attired in white corded silk with gold brald, made a brief address. Referring to the growth of the army nurse movement in the United States, she said that the great honor done those who were going out to nurse the British wounded would always live in their hearts, making them feel that love should ever be their greatest motive.

Gen. Methuen Resumes Command.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The War Office here has received the following message from General Forestier-Walker, the British Commander at Cape Town: "Wednesday, Dec. 6, Gen. Methuen wires to-day that he has resumed command and is nightly in communication with Kimberley. The health of the troops is excellent."

Many German Boys Join the Boers.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The Hamburg police have received thus far seventy requests from various parts of Germany for the detention of boys going to join the Boers.

Great Britain to Buy 10,000 Mules.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 7.—Purchases of mules in America for the use of the British Government seem likely to upset the calculations of American live stock men. It is said orders have been received to purchase 10,000 more animals. Almost this number have already been shipped from Southern points.

CHURCH PLATE AND POLITICS.

American Protective Tariff League Asks Pastors for Statistics.

The American Protective Tariff League has sent out requests to the pastors of churches throughout the country to furnish to the league reports of plate collections for the six months ending June 30, 1895, and the six months ending June 30, 1899. An officer of the league, in speaking of the matter last night, said:

"The general prosperity of the people is well illustrated by the plate collections in churches. We have made this request with a view to securing a comparison between the condition under the free-trade Wilson tariff and the protection Dingley tariff. These reports we expect to have ready within a short time."

THEFT TIED UP TROLLEY ROAD.

Hoboken, Jersey City, and Paterson Line Robbed of Feed Wire.

PASSAIC, N. J., Dec. 7.—One thousand feet of trolley copper feed wire were stolen from the Hoboken, Jersey City, and Paterson trolley road last night while the cars were still in operation. As a result the road was tied up for a time.

This makes the fifth theft of the kind from which the road has suffered within the last two weeks. More than 12,000 feet of copper wire, worth 20 cents a pound, is the aggregate loss.

GEORGIA WOMAN IS MURDERED.

Body Found in the River and a Negro Is Arrested.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 7.—The body of Mrs. Eugenie Potte, widow of the late Judge Joseph Potte, one of the most prominent men in this section, and daughter of Col. John Hamilton, who took a prominent part in the border troubles in Missouri and Kansas before the war, was found in the Ocmulgee River just above the city this afternoon.

Mrs. Potte disappeared while on the way from Macon to her Jones County plantation on Monday, Nov. 20, and the search for her that followed was unavailing up to to-day. An investigation of the case led to the belief that she has been the victim of foul play, and circumstances strongly pointed to Allen Fuller, a negro, as her probable murderer. Fuller has been arrested and lodged in Bibb County jail, where he will await a more thorough investigation of the case.

Mrs. Potte was well known throughout the State.

WANAMAKER'S HOUSE ROBBED.

Thieves Secure Coil of Wire from His Country Home.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—The country residence of John Wanamaker at Jenkintown was entered by thieves recently and a quantity of copper feed wire used in supplying the electric lighting was taken. The wire, which had been left in the basement in a coil, was valued at $60. Two men who had been employed to make repairs about the place were suspected of the theft, and one of them, John Knox, was arrested by a Montgomery County constable, and is now awaiting trial. The other man, James Madden, was arrested to-day and held in $500 bail for his appearance at Norristown for trial.

Madden and Knox, according to Special Policeman Sell, were alone in the house at the time of the theft. Mr. Wanamaker and his family were in their city home, on Walnut Street, and the men had free access to the house. Going into the cellar, they found the wire and carried it away. Madden successfully eluded the Montgomery County authorities, and the warrant was turned over to the Philadelphia police to serve. It was not until this morning that Madden returned to his home. He was promptly taken into custody.

South Dakota Election Returns.

PIERRE, S. D. Dec. 7.—Complete returns from the November State election show the following totals: Republicans—Corson, 24,201; Haney, 24,064; Fuller, 23,690. Fusion—Smith, 17,970; Kennedy, 18,035; Bennett, 18,001.

Service for Business Men.

At St. Paul's Chapel, Broadway and Fulton Street, there will be a thirty-minute noon-day service for business men to-day at 12:05 P. M., consisting of Litany, hymns, and a brief address.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

"Vive L'Empereur"
WATERLOO,
JUNE 18th, 1815.
By Francois Flameng.
The Remarque Proofs of this great painting, etched by Auguste Boulard, will be received about December the 12th.
A very fine trial proof is now on exhibition at our gallery.
WILLIAM SCHAUS,
204 Fifth Ave. (Madison Square).

FIERCE FIRE IN BROADWAY

Occupants of a Mercantile Building Narrowly Escape Death.

FIVE GET OUT BY THE ROOF

The Flames Spread to Adjoining Building—Girl Tenants Faint—Big Car Blocked.

Damage to the amount of $75,000 was the result of a serious fire which started on the second floor of the five-story brownstone mercantile building, 577 Broadway, yesterday afternoon, and blazed fiercely for a short time. Rumors that all the tenants had not escaped were current after the firemen had put it out, but there is no evidence to prove that any one was injured.

The flames spread to the five-story brownstone building adjoining on the north, 579 Broadway, but did not nearly so much damage there as in the other structure. Both buildings are part of the Astor estate. The first fire was first noticed about 3:45 o'clock P. M., starting from some undiscovered cause, and although it burned clear through to the Mercer Street side, pretty nearly gutting 577 Broadway, it was put out in a little over an hour and a half. It was the occasion of some extremely narrow escapes from death, and cable cars were blocked for a long distance on Broadway, while the firemen were fighting it.

The building, 577 Broadway, in which the fire started, adjoins on the north the store of Rogers, Peet & Co. at the northwest corner of Prince Street and Broadway. The roof of the store took fire after a while, but was soon put out without serious damage. Customers and employes made a rush for the door at first, but got back soon when they found nothing to fear. Henry Newman & Co., clothiers, occupy the first floor of 577 Broadway. The second floor and the rear part of the three upper floors was tenanted to the Pacific Novelty Company, while Julius Friedlander, cloak manufacturer, was installed on the third and fourth floors, while H. Hohenstein, maker of silk lamp shades, is on the fifth floor. The three last-named concerns all employ girl hands. Smoke was first noticed issuing from the extension of the second floor, and immediately something of a panic followed. The girls were badly frightened. Some climbed out of the windows and got down by the fire-escapes on the Mercer Street side. Meanwhile Patrolmen Dennin and Pratt of the Broadway squad, an alarm having been turned in, rushed into the building, went up to the top floor, and then all through every floor, getting out the inmates. The last woman to leave was the forewoman of Friedlander's place, who did not think the danger was sufficient to warrant deserting her post, but the policemen insisted on her going. One of the girls, Etta Diamond, twenty-two years old, employed by Mr. Hohenstein, fainted, and had to be carried down by her companions.

The firemen arrived promptly and dragged a line of hose up to the second floor. They had hardly got to work there when the flames touched a stock of celluloid goods belonging to the Pacific Novelty Company, and a loud explosion was heard, followed by the sudden outburst of a sheet of flame, which drove the firemen out in short order. The girls had just managed to get clear away before this happened. The firemen realizing what a job they had to tackle promptly turned in a third and a fourth alarm.

There were four men on the fourth and top floor who did not get away before the outbreak of the flames, although Patrolman Dennin had been up to warn them, and they now found themselves cut completely off from escape by the stairs or windows. The elevator boy saved their lives and his own by conducting them to a trap-door in the roof. Here they emerged, and made their way over the roofs of 579 and 581 Broadway to the tall building, 583 and 585, in which State Superintendent of Elections McCullagh has his offices. They were pulled in through the windows, and made their way to the street.

Deputy Chief Cortright and Inspectors Cross and Brooks soon got to the scene, and they had out the reserves of the Macdougal Street, Mulberry Street, Fifth, Charles, and Mercer Street Stations to preserve order. Chief Croker of the Fire Department arrived promptly. A water tower was soon installed in front of the burning building, which the firemen also attacked from the rear. The flames spread to the upper part of 579 Broadway, but were prevented from eating their way lower than the second floor of either building. The stocks of Oestereicher & Meyer, caps, and Velleman & Co., women's hats, in 579 Broadway, were considerably damaged. The loss is covered by insurance. The fire was soon under control after the water tower got to work, and before 5:30 o'clock it was practically out. Chief Croker estimated the damage to all buildings at $20,000 and that to the stock at $55,000.

Miss Diamond had fainted a second time in a store to which she was taken and had to be taken to her home. Several other girls from 577 Broadway went into a café up the street, and some of them fainted there, one having a violent attack of hysterics.

The horses attached to Engine No. 35 were stampeded by the sudden burst of flame which occurred early, and started to run, but were stopped promptly.

The cable cars were blockaded down Broadway during the fire as far as the Battery. To the north they were soon stretched out in a line as far up as Thirty-second Street. As soon as word could be got to the stables, teams of horses were hurried down to the different switches at Houston, Twelfth, and Fifteenth Streets, and by 5 o'clock the cars above Houston Street were slowly running again. The blockade, occurring at the rush hour, led to unusual congestion of traffic on the Sixth Avenue and Madison Avenue lines.

Shortly after 9 o'clock fire occurred again in the building at 579 Broadway, in débris piled up on the fourth floor. It was speedily put out, and without any additional damage.

STRAW AND CARD BOARD UNION.

Representatives of the straw and cardboard interests of the United States met at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday for the purpose of organizing an association for protective purposes. J. H. Parks of this city and Charles Loring of Boston are the moving spirits in the undertaking. Little was accomplished yesterday, and the opinion was expressed last night that the sessions would continue for several days.

There has been an organization of strawboard manufacturers for some time, but it has not fulfilled expectations. Now it is proposed to take in the cardboard makers and effect, if possible, an association that will be able to control the prices and output.

Senator Martin Renominated.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec 7.—The joint Democratic Legislative caucus to-night nominated the Hon. Thomas S. Martin to succeed himself as United States Senator. The vote stood: Martin, 105; Gov. Tyler, 27. This nomination is equivalent to election.

TO-MORROW.

A SELECTION FROM THIS YEAR'S PUBLICATIONS, WITH SHORT DESCRIPTIVE REVIEWS, AND AN INTRODUCTORY ESSAY ON BOOKS AS GIFTS, PAST AND PRESENT. SEE THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART OF THIS WEEK TO-MORROW. IN THESE LISTS HISTORY IS REPRESENTED BY 20 BOOKS; BIOGRAPHY BY 18; POETRY AND ESSAYS BY 9; DRAWINGS AND OTHER ILLUSTRATIONS BY 8; RELIGION BY 3, OUTDOOR BOOKS BY 4; TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE BY 3; FICTION BY 19; MISCELLANEOUS BY 5, AND BOOKS FOR THE YOUNG BY 11. AMONG THE CONTRIBUTORS OF SPECIAL ARTICLES WILL BE RUSSELL STURGIS, JOEL BENTON, AND COL. RICHARD J. HINTON, AND AMONG THE SPECIAL FEATURES OUTSIDE THESE HOLIDAY LISTS WILL BE ARTICLES ON RUBENS, EMERSON, LANIER, ELBERT HUBBARD, AND THE ROYCROFT SHOP, INDIA, BURMA, AND MANILA, AND NEW WORKS OF FICTION BY BRET HARTE, HOPKINSON SMITH, JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, AND ISRAEL ZANGWILL.—Adv.

WEBER PIANOS
"A harmonious creation of art."
"An inspiration to a musical temperament."
"Supports the voice most admirably."
"The achievements of Albert Weber, Senior, in the realm of tone production, like the violin masterpieces of Cremona, still stand unrivalled."
In addition to the regular styles of Grands and Uprights in the choicest woods, we are displaying some special designs in LOUIS XIV., RENAISSANCE, and COLONIAL cases, and will give estimate on other designs conforming to any architectural requirements.
Inspection Invited. Correspondence Solicited.
Old instruments taken in exchange.
WEBER WAREROOMS,
Corner Fifth Ave. and 16th St., N. Y.
605 Fulton Street, Brooklyn.

TAYLOR EXPECTED TO WIN.

Kentucky State Board Likely to Decide for the Republican Candidate for Governor on Saturday.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 7.—The decision of the State Board of Election Commissioners covering the Gubernatorial contest will be handed down on Saturday morning. The general expectation is that certificates of election will be given to William S. Taylor, the Republican candidate for Governor, and to the Republican candidates for the other offices on the State ticket. The vote will probably be two for the Republican and one for the Democratic State ticket.

It is possible, in case the decision is given to Taylor, that the Democrats may secure an injunction restraining him from taking his seat, and in this manner inaugurate the fight that will be carried into the Legislature and fought out there to the bitter end. Some such step has been considered, but not definitely determined upon. It is believed the board in handing down its decision, will say that, while frauds and irregularities were undoubtedly committed in the election, the powers of the board do not permit it to go behind the returns. It is expected that upon this part of the decision, granting it is made, a Democratic contest will be given ground to stand. Neither of the candidates would talk about the matter.

Mr. Taylor said: "I have nothing to say. I am still in the thick woods, and as long as I see trees I can't talk. My friends tell me this and that, but I will wait until Saturday before I do any talking."

In the course of his argument to-day Judge Hargis, for the Democrats, made the statement that the election officers of Jefferson County had certified under the stress of a writ of mandamus for returns which were false. In one precinct in Louisville, he declared, 990 votes were cast for State representatives when only 170 ballots were used, and the election officers so certified. He added that ten or fifteen writs of mandamus were issued in the city.

The Republican attorneys, all of whom came from Louisville, were aroused by the assertion made by Judge Hargis, and this afternoon they took the record of all alleged frauds in Louisville, prepared by Democrats, and went through it. At the close of their work they announced: "Judge Hargis says his record shows ten to fifteen writs of mandamus were issued. We claim that the Democratic record shows but three such cases."

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Committee to Meet on Tuesday Is Already Under Pressure from Many Cities—New York's Chance.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Republican National Committee will meet here next Tuesday to decide upon the time and place for holding the next National Convention. Already some of the members, including those who are in Congress and H. C. Payne of Washington, are here, and they are being solicited on behalf of persons anxious to have certain cities preferred as the convention place. Philadelphia, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco, St. Louis, and New York promise to be in the competition.

Denver was heard from this evening through Senator Wolcott, and it is believed that a strong effort will be made to locate the convention there in consequence of representations that it would help the Republicans to recover the State. Senator Wolcott is earnestly in favor of Denver, as a matter of course. The San Francisco boomers have not made a great "push" for their town, but some Republicans who hear the talk about Denver say that if the convention is to be carried to the Rocky Mountains it might just as well go clear to the coast.

Mr. Payne says that Milwaukee will not make any effort to be chosen, but that he, governed by considerations of convenience, will prefer Chicago. Senator Platt said to-night that the men in New York who consider it important to have the convention in that city considered it settled that it is to go there, and he was bound to help them out. He had no opinion to express about any other place. New York was going to get it.

Western Republicans seem disposed to insist upon a Western city, and intimate that there is some likelihood of a combination of Western votes against New York or Philadelphia.

Mr. Payne says he has heard from Republican State organizations representing more than 5,300,000 voters for McKinley, who favor his plan to rearrange representation so as to diminish the Southern delegations in the convention. Several States, representing about 1,800,000 voters, are yet to be heard from, and he expects that some of them will approve the proposition. If the National Committee approves it it will go to the next convention to be adopted or rejected, in whole or in part.

Working for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Common Council to-day voted unanimously to support the movement to bring the Republican National Convention to this city next year, and appointed a joint committee of twenty members to co-operate with outside organizations in the work. It is expected that councils will appropriate $10,000 or $15,000 toward the fund of $100,000 which is being raised.

CO-OPERATIVE PUBLIC OFFICE.

Register-Elect Howe of Brooklyn to Let His Men Fix Salaries.

It was announced yesterday that Register-elect James R. Howe of Brooklyn had selected his deputies and counsel. The names of the deputies, it was said, would not be made public until Dec. 15. Bert Reiss is named as counsel at a salary of $5,000. The Deputy will receive the same amount, and the Assistant Deputies $2,000. It is said that forty copyists will be hired, and that each will receive $20 a week instead of $12, as heretofore.

Mr. Reiss, it was announced, has been traveling about the country studying systems of recording, and is of the opinion that the Boston scheme is the best. This plan probably will be tried in Brooklyn. It will necessitate an entire change in the department, but will involve no additional expense. Brooklyn's present system, it is said, is far behind the systems in use in other cities.

It is said that the salaries of the office as fixed at present are only tentative. A meeting of the appointees of the Register-elect will be held soon to discuss the question of how much money can be paid out in salaries and yet leave a reasonable salary for the Register himself. The men, it is said, will be allowed to have their say in this matter, and the Register's office will be run on the co-operative plan.

Guggenheimer for Vice President.

President Guggenheimer of the Council has been placed in the field as a possible nominee for the Vice Presidency by the Lynchburg (Va.) News. The News printed a long dispatch from this city setting forth the demands of the New York State Democrats for the second place on the ticket, and suggesting Mr. Guggenheimer as the most desirable candidate for the position. The paper editorially indorsed the suggestion.

NO STATE CONSTABULARY

Senator Platt Decides This Before Meeting the Governor.

TO CONFER ON OTHER MATTERS

Taxation, Charter Amendments, and Court of Appeals Designations—Mr. Kelsey Cities Chairman.

Positive announcement was made last night by Chairman Odell of the Republican State Committee that the proposed State Constabulary bill would not be introduced in the Legislature at the coming session. Mr. Odell returned late Wednesday night from Washington, where he had a long talk with Senator Platt, and last night the former made the following official statement:

"The State Constabulary bill and the advisability of enacting it were among the first topics discussed by the Republican leaders in considering the work of the Legislature this Winter. From the very outset it was considered carefully, and at conferences between Senator Platt and Gov. Roosevelt the question of taking up this as a police reform measure was thoroughly gone over.

"At their last conference it was determined to ascertain the sentiment of the State, so far as possible, as to whether it would be wise and beneficial to introduce and pass such a bill. Since then it has been clearly shown that should the Republican leaders favor it there were enough votes in both Assembly and Senate to pass it. Senator Platt ascertained the opinions of a large number of Republican leaders throughout the State—men who are strong in the organization and his most loyal supporters. He found among these men a belief that it would not be wise to enact such legislation, and acknowledging the force of their opinions, he decided that he would not stand sponsor for the bill, and that the Republican State organization would not favor its introduction.

"Gov. Roosevelt, in his conferences, has always been in full accord with us, and I have no doubt his views as to the expediency of the bill will coincide with those of Senator Platt when the matter is taken up at the next conference."

Mr. Odell was asked what had caused the change of attitude on the part of the organization. He replied:

"The change is made on the principle that a wise man sometimes changes his mind; a fool never. We run politics here according to the best judgment of a majority of the persons who make up the organization. Senator Platt is always in favor of doing the things which he believes to be in the interests of good government and for the best interests of the organization. We hope to improve the system of government in New York by amendments to the charter. At the conference Saturday morning we shall no doubt discuss the proposed amendments to the charter. We also probably shall talk over other legislative matters."

Gov. Roosevelt arrived in New York last evening, accompanied by his secretary, William J. Youngs. The Governor went first to the home of his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, 500 Madison Avenue, where he was a guest at a small dinner party. Later he went to the Liederkranz in company with some friends. He denied himself to all interviewers, and said he would not have any information to make public until to-day.

The decision of the State leaders to abandon the Police bill was not altogether a surprise to those who knew of the strong opposition to the measure on the part of many Republicans. Many protests were received from organization men in the up-State cities, who feared the effect such radical legislation would have upon the elections next year. When Mr. Odell's statement was issued there were those who asserted that all was not perfect harmony between Senator Platt and Gov. Roosevelt. These persons pointed to the announcement of the organization leaders on the day of the Governor's arrival in the city, and before they had consulted him, as evidence that Senator Platt did not intend to take the Governor fully into his confidence regarding legislation. These rumors were eagerly discussed by politicians at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, but were regarded generally as guesswork.

Senator Platt is expected to come over from Washington to-night. With Chairman Odell he will hold a conference with the Governor to-morrow morning. This conference may be held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel instead of at Mr. Robinson's home, as was the original purpose. It is understood that one of the matters which will come up for discussion will be the question of taxation legislation, to which the Governor has devoted considerable attention. Many Republicans have expressed the opinion that the franchise tax law should be amended at the next session. The Governor has said that he would approve any amendments to the law which would not weaken it as a whole, but he still adheres to his belief that franchises should be taxed.

The question of what amendments to the New York City charter shall be pushed this Winter will also form one of the topics of discussion. Among the suggested changes are the shortening of the Mayor's term, the abolition of the office of Borough President, or the enlargement of his sphere of usefulness, the curtailment of the powers vested in the Board of Public Improvements, and the abolition of one house of the Municipal Assembly.

Another matter which is expected to occupy the attention of the conference is the designation of Supreme Court Justices to act as Associate Judges of the Court of Appeals. The friends of almost every Supreme Court Justice in the State have been at work advancing the interests of their favorites. Under the amendment the Governor can appoint not more than four Judges. It is his reported intention to designate at least one Democrat, in which event he is expected to name Justice Edgar M. Cullen of Brooklyn. Among the other names heard in connection with the designations are those of Justices Michael H. Hirschberg of Newburg, Peter B. McLennan of Syracuse, Walter Lloyd Smith of Elmira, Frank H. Hiscock of Syracuse, and William E. Werner of Rochester.

It is understood that the question of who is to be Chairman of the Cities Committee in the next Assembly has been solved, and that the place is to go to Assemblyman Otto Kelsey of Livingston. Mr. Kelsey is expected here within a few days for a talk with the leaders.

Gov. Roosevelt will confer this morning with Gen. Francis V. Greene Chairman of the Canal Advisory Commission, and others who are interested in the subject.

Congressman's Overcoat Stolen.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Representative John J. Fitzgerald of New York went into the Democratic cloak room of the House to-day and hung up his overcoat. A man who was a judge of overcoats wandered in and exchanged his coat for Mr. Fitzgerald's. The porter in charge of the coat room saw the thief making off, and gave chase. The man was overtaken and arrested, and Mr. Fitzgerald will not be obliged to buy a new coat or wear a tramp's legacy.

Where Is Gen. Wheeler?

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—There is some curiosity in the House as to what has become of Gen. Joe Wheeler. He is supposed to be on his way home from Manila, but his whereabouts are not definitely known. When the members of the House drew for seats on Monday, no one asked leave to draw for Gen. Wheeler, so that if he returns to take his seat he must take what is left, the choice being extremely limited.

Blow to Child Insurance in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—Attorney General Taylor, in an opinion given to the Auditor of the State to-day, holds that assessment insurance companies cannot insure persons under twenty-one years old, as it is a violation of the law governing such companies. The opinion has especial reference to companies that have been insuring children from one to two years of age.

New Fire Department for Havana.

Fire Commissioner John J. Scannell has obtained leave of absence from Mayor Van Wyck to go to Havana, Cuba, at the request of a number of merchants in that city, and reorganize the Fire Department as nearly as possible after the New York Fire Department.

Higher Pay for Southern Mill Hands.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 7.—The Manufacturers' Association which includes the cotton mill owners in Augusta and those in Bath and Langley, S. C., have determined to make a substantial increase in wages on Jan. 1. This action is voluntary, and not the result of any demand from operatives.

In 24 Days 1900.
In 17 Days Xmas.
As to the price of Diamonds. It is well known that during the last few months they have rapidly advanced and those that are imported now cost 30 per cent. more than in the spring, with a further rise in prospect. Having early in the year secured an ample supply, we shall make no change whatever in our prices for this holiday season. As we only use stones of the best quality and have a very extensive and complete stock, inspection and comparison will certainly be found advantageous.
Howard & Co
264 Fifth Avenue

HOME FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Peter A. B. Widener, the traction manager of this city, to-day announced that he has purchased thirty-six acres of land at Logan, a suburb of Philadelphia, on which he intends to erect and endow a home, hospital, and school for crippled children at a cost of $2,000,000.

The announcement was made in a letter from Mr. Widener to Mayor Ashbridge. Mr. Widener states that the object of the institution is the care of helpless children. The home is to be a place "where they can receive such medical and surgical attention as will cure or allay their deformities, and where they can receive not only a general education, but an education and instruction in such industrial lines as will assist them toward self-support."

The institution will be known as the Widener Industrial Home for Crippled Children.

BOY DEFENDS HIS HOME.

Kills One Man and Wounds Another Who Tried to Enter Forcibly.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 7.—Word reaches here from Crenshaw County that the fifteen-year-old son of Widow Rhodes shot and killed William Jones and mortally wounded John Pruitt while they were attempting to force an entrance into his mother's home.

The men were battering down the door with a fence rail when the boy fired.

GIRL CAUSES A SENSATION.

Father Malone's Niece Shouts "Murder!" in the Priest's House.

Considerable excitement was caused in the neighborhood of the home of the Rev. Sylvester Malone, the venerable rector of the Church of Sts. Peter and Paul, at 69 South Third Street, Williamsburg, on Wednesday evening by cries of "Murder!" "Police!" which came from a top-story window of the house. A crowd gathered and policemen entered the house to see what the trouble was. The cries, it was learned, were made by Miss Marcella Malone, a niece of Father Malone and daughter of the late Dr. Edward Malone. The police were told that the cries had been uttered by Miss Malone while she was laboring under great nervous excitement, probably caused by the illness of Father Malone.

There were rumors yesterday that some of Father Malone's relatives had been debarred from seeing him. An assistant priest, however, denied this. Miss Malone was seen, but refused to talk. Father Malone's condition is said to be unchanged.

A CHILD CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

Begged That a Doctor Be Not Called When a Car Hit Her Brother.

Special to The New York Times.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—Emmet Rodde, a ten-year-old boy, was struck by a street car near his home to-day, and was probably fatally injured. The lad, with his sister, was on his way to school. They were playing and chasing each other. The little girl pursued her brother into the street. He did not see the approaching car, and ran directly in front of it. The motorman was unable to drop the fender, and the car struck the boy in the head.

The boy's sister ran to his aid, and pleaded with the crowd not to send for a physician. She said the family were Christian Science advocates, and would be offended should a physician be called. Her wish was granted, and Dr. Hendley, who was in the crowd, did not treat young Rodde. The latter was carried to his home.

Congressmen May Visit Puerto Rico.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Representative Pearce of Missouri is endeavoring to arrange an excursion by a number of members of Congress to Puerto Rico during the holidays. The object of the visit is to familiarize members with conditions on the island, to enable them to act intelligently when the occasion arises in the House. It is the intention to use a Government vessel for transportation, with the understanding that the members of the party shall pay their own expenses.

Clergyman Killed by a Train.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 7.—The Rev. George Peterson of Rome, Ga., was killed to-day at Poncador, near here. He was crossing the railroad at that place and was struck by a swiftly moving train. He died in a few minutes.

BEST & CO
LILLIPUTIAN BAZAAR
Boys' Suits and Overcoats
Made by Boys' Tailors, look so much better, and wear so much better than the other kind, that the slight difference you may possibly pay will prove to be the best kind of an investment. It does not cost any more in the end to have your boy well dressed.
All Wool Chinchilla Reefers, sailor collar, 2½ to 7 yrs., $3.00 to $6.75. Blue Cheviot 3-Cape Overcoats, 3 to 8 yrs., $6.75. Double-breasted Box Overcoats, friezes, kerseys and heavy, rough cheviots, 5 to 14 yrs., $11.00 to $16.50.
Double-breasted Suits, fancy cheviots, all wool, $5.00 to $6.50. Youths' Suits, (Long Trousers), newest designs, cheviots and worsteds, $10.00 to $16.50.
60-62 West 23d St.

EAST ORANGE TO BE A CITY.

Its Voters, at a Special Election, Have So Decided.

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 7.—The voters of East Orange, at a special election to-day, decided to change from a township form of government to that of a city. There was practically no opposition to the change, which will go into effect on Saturday at noon.

Under the act of incorporation the present township officials become officers of

The Wanamaker Store

Busier, Brighter, Handier Than Ever

THE store seems to smile at the throng, and to lend itself so readily to rearrangements of counters and fixtures that, in effect, it is bigger than ever, because handier.

Busier, too—but never crowded. We heard a visitor say yesterday that she never dreamed of going to the big stores during the holiday rush, but it seemed different at Wanamaker's and she liked it all.

If you knew the care we exercised for your comfort and safety, you'd marvel. Somebody knows every point that shows tendency to congestion. In half hour stockmen and mechanics have effected a cure.

There is never a crowd at Wanamaker's, though it is probably the busiest as it is the most interesting store in all New York.

The New York Tribune says of Mr. H. Halsey-Stirling's exhibition—Half Hours at the National Gallery of London—

"The remarkable feature of the pictures was that they were not photographic reproductions, but miniature copies, painted on glass, with the most marvelous faithfulness and exactness. The work was done by Frank Dixon, and how he ever got through it and lived and retained his reason is no easy thing to understand. Perhaps it is yet more wonderful that he retained his eyesight, for he has taken canvases of many square feet and copied them in the space of a few—very few—square inches, and with such absolute fidelity that, when they are enlarged again to much more than their original size by a pitiless mechanical instrument, they show no blemish."

Half hour exhibitions to-day at 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. and 3 and 4:30 p. m.

To-day's Picture Programme

Bacchus and Ariadne, . . . Titian.
Admiral Pulido Pareja, . . Velazquez.
Alexander Receiving Darius, Paul Veronese.
Portrait of Napoleon I, . Horace Vernet.
Portrait of Rembrandt, . . Rembrandt.
Three Heads of Richelieu, . Champaigne.
A Frugal Meal, . . . J. F. Hering.
The Valley Farm, . John Constable, R.A.
Portrait of Himself, . . Frank Dixon.
For He Had Great Possessions, George Frederick Watts, R.A.
Death Crowning Innocence, George Frederick Watts, R.A.
Hope, . . George Frederick Watts, R.A.

Handkerchiefs The average handkerchief store is a mere department—depended on for Christmas business chiefly, and presided over by whoever has aptitude and time.

Do you wonder that this different store is busier? Its daily sales run into thousands of dollars and we send the buyer all over Ireland and Germany and into Switzerland and France to gather stocks. He's off now, laying plans for next year.

Every handkerchief here is absolutely pure linen—unless it's silk.

Men's hemstitched from $1 a dozen.
Women's hemstitched from 60c a dozen.

And the finest plain white hemstitched handkerchiefs are $78 doz.

Broadway.

Table Damask Snow-white Irish Damask in ten good patterns. Two grades—50c and 65c a yard. We believe no better qualities, no finer finished goods, nor damask in better patterns, are procurable anywhere at such low prices. Both kinds are 67 in. wide.

Fourth avenue.

Tissot's Life of Christ

Christendom owes a wonderful debt to James Tissot, the disciple-artist, who gave ten of the best years of his life to study and travel in the Holy Land that he might paint The Christ and His earth-walks as befitted the Man of Sorrows—his King. These pictures, over a hundred, faithfully reproduced in wonderful richness of color, with Tissot's notes and memoranda and the Gospel Text, form Tissot's Life of Christ. Bound in four sumptuous volumes.

Through the Wanamaker Tissot Club joiners get the work on their acceptance as members and payment of $1 initial fee; obligating to make a stated number of monthly payments of $3 each.

Call at the Book Store.

Overcoats for Men

You've noticed it often—in your own clothes or the clothes of some man you are interested in—the new suit gets to look like an old one in a few weeks. Why? It was a sewed-up suit—the too-common kind. A suit that is tailored is braced as carefully as a bridge—every likely strain is guarded against by a stay, while the shape is not all the cutting but is kneaded into the garment by the tailor as he pulls the stitches home. Even the machine-stitched collar is made right, has this shapeliness worked in.

We talk of suits because you notice them most. The Overcoats are made the same way. This clothing store is getting bigger each month—deserves to.

Frieze Overcoats, Oxford-gray or black, plaid lined, $8.50.
And all safe sorts up to the luxurious Sedan Montagnac at $55.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

More of the Next-Spring Silks

The classical plaids have come—brightest and most charming of the new silks. There was a temptation to hold the cases shut until February, for by that time these silks will be worth $1.35 a yard. But there was the rock of store principle to stop that. All the mercantile advantages we get we share fully with Our Public.

These new silks are on sale to-day at $1 a yard.

Nine yards will make a girl's dress—and these silks fit children as song befits a bird.

Rotunda.

Laces for Draperies and Bed Adornment This upholstery store stands for something—not merely a hodge-podge of curtains and drapery stuffs. It is directed by men whose artistic pride is centered in the business—who spend summer months abroad studying old and present schools of decoration.

What does it all amount to? This: good taste characterizes the stocks. One's only danger is in over-doing. Let decorative effects be simple—use fewest colorings. But one may skip even that worry—we are prepared to carry out any decorative plan or to formulate plans to suit your requirements.

Some simple, effective laces are told of in the fine type that follows—

Muslin Ruffled Curtains, plain centers; $1 a pair.
Irish Point Curtains, white or cream, $5 a pair. And $6.50 and $7.50 and $9.
Novelty Curtains—butter color—$8, $10, $10.75 and $11.50 a pair.
Bed Sets, ruffled, $6.75 to $12.50.
Of tamboured muslin, $5 to $8.
Of Irish Point, $7 to $15.

Third floor.

Taborets Seventy-five sorts—$1.75 to $20. Some are made of ebony, inlaid with pearl; but there are more kinds than you'd have time to read about. They are safe gifts—gifts that fit. The taborets at $1.75 are of oak, in the new golden finish; hexagon top; fancy legs. Those at $6.50 are of sycamore, finished to look like mahogany.

Fourth floor.

Silk Suspenders Really good silk webbing made up with mountings of solid silver—we thought you'd want them for giving. Black, white, colors. The silver offers space for monogram.

One Dollar a Pair

Men's Store, Ninth and Broadway.

Women's Garters We made these in our own work-rooms, and they're as pretty as those sent here from Paris. Of silk frilled elastic, in delicate colors, trimmed with satin bows. Some have fancy metal clasps. $1 to $2 a pair.

Tenth street side.

In the Lamp Store Some of the new lamps are works of art—with meritorious paintings after Rembrandt and other artists. Then there is the new trick of turning queer, quaint or handsome vases into lamps. Some of the Japanese pottery lends itself to this adaptation; so do some of the Royal Bonn vases. Lamp prices run up to $150, starting at just a few dollars for prettily decorated affairs with fine round-wick burners.

Onyx Tables are in the lamp store—only those with all-brass frames. We could save money and fool you with iron tables brassed over—but they soon lose their brightness. $3.75 to $50.

The newest tables are composite—wood column; brass trimmings; onyx top. They're called York-Lyn. $16.50 to $22.50. Basement.

Perfumed Ribbon Thank Paris for conjuring new daintiness. Now it is Imperial Ribbonette—silk and satin ribbon so perfumed as to give off a pleasant scent for many months. For running through baby's clothing and articles of lingerie—for any personal use that baby ribbon has served.

Narrow is 8c a yard, 75c for 10-yard piece.
Wide (nearly ½ in.), 15c a yard, $1.40 for 10-yard piece.

All the usual colors. Two perfumes—heliotrope (light odor); Peau d'Espagne (heavier).

This is so good that it will be counterfeited. It's worth remembering that the real true thing is wound on heart-shape blocks and marked "Imperial—H. & Co." with a little crown.

Tenth street.

Women's Wrappers and Sacques The best news first—We've some regular $3.75 Eiderdown Wrappers to sell at $2.75. Not a thing lacking—the wrapper maker had a little over-stock. Pretty striped fabric made up in approved style. Two silk frogs at front.

Some Flannelette Dressing Sacques (fancy figured fabric) at 75c instead of $1.50.
Some Cashmere Wrappers at $3.75 instead of $5.

But these are mere accidents of trade—bits of special good luck. The finest Cashmere Wrapper is $20 and the most liberal Eiderdown Wrapper is $13.50.

The Little French Store holds such dainty underwear that it must have a day's talk to itself

Maids' House Dresses Neatly made dresses of percales and ginghams—mostly in stripes of quiet colorings. We sell many of these each holiday time—they're popular in gift-making. They're put up suitably in boxes for that purpose. $1 each, and up to $2.25.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Men's Scarfs Some of the new imported ties are of silk rich enough to stand alone. Finest are De Joinvilles at $4.50. They start at $1.

Imperials are 50c.
The English Square Ties are $1 to $2.50.

Very fine styles—gifts that even dressy men can't find fault with. Just came.

Men's Store, Ninth and Broadway.

Swiss Music Boxes Finest. Everybody knows that—but they stand poor chance against the good and popular American music boxes; that is, poor chance in a busy store. So, we'll sell the few we have at about half price. And we congratulate everybody who gets one. Cheapest is $20 at the reduced price; finest is $150 from $300.

Basement.

In the Candy Store

Here's a 50-lb. cake of chocolate with figures in bas-relief, as on the doors of the National Capital—but these figures are of Santa Claus and his friends.

No wonder this candy store is busy—it holds so much of toothsomeness and beauty. These snapping mottoes are bunched a dozen in a holder—regular bouquet—$1.30 for the group. Other snappers 6c to $5 a dozen.

But candies. The finest Chocolates are 60c a pound. So are the Bon-Bons—some at 50c. Maroons are 80c a pound. French Caramels and Glace Nuts are also 80c.

Glace Fruit is 50c a pound, but you can buy an original import box of 5 pounds for $1.50.

There are more queer things to hold candy than you ever dreamed of. But come see them.

All candy expensive? Not a bit of it—here are pure and really delicious Mixed Candies at 20c a pound.

Basement.

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co.,

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Ave., Ninth and Tenth Streets.

THE SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE.

Nearly Nineteen Hundred Miles Now Covered and Miller and Waller Still in the Lead.

The Score at 1:30 A. M.

	Miles.	Laps.
Miller-Waller	1,890	3
Maya-McEachern	1,890	2
Gimm-Pierce	1,890	1
Fischer-Chevalier	1,889	9
Stevens-Turville	1,889	6
Babcock-Stinson	1,889	5
Schinee-Forster	1,886	1
Pastaire, (individual)	604	4
Walthour, (individual)	966	8
Aronson, (individual)	919	0

Lap after lap and mile after mile the seven teams and Pastaire, Aronson, and Walthour, the individual riders in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, are rolling up, and by this morning the effect of the long ride is beginning to tell on even the veterans. They went on like so many automatons all day yesterday, and Miller and Waller still held their lead. A spill or a break in a wheel in the chase around the Garden oval now would prove serious to any of the leaders, but up to midnight there was no accident and nothing to change the order of the teams when the day broke.

Pierce and Turville both showed that the strain was telling on them by complaining of unfair treatment at the hands of the scorers. There were rumors last night that Pastaire, the Frenchman, was taking strychnine to stimulate him, but his trainer denied the reports.

The attendance yesterday was better than on any of the previous days, especially in the evening. Almost every seat in the Garden was filled, and there was a big crush in the middle ring.

George Banker and "Al" Newhouse were among the teams that made matters interesting in the afternoon. They raced at mile heats, best two in three, and Banker won in two straight heats. John Lake also beat George Schofield two out of three heats, and Harry Elkes, paced by the Frenchman, Fournier, on his motor single, rode a two-mile exhibition in 3:53 2-5. The second mile was a very fast one, the timers catching it in 1:56 1-5.

Henri Meyers, the champion of Scotland and Holland, won a five-mile pursuit race at the evening show from Harry Caldwell of Waltham, Mass. Tomaselli, the champion of Europe, and Owen S. Kimble of Louisville, Ky., the one-third-mile champion, raced at mile heats, and Tomaselli won in straight heats, the second heat being made in 2:50 3-5.

Roy Duer and George H. Collett started in an unlimited pursuit race, which was won by Duer in 4:27 2-5, after a mile and 9½ laps had been covered. The evening features wound up with a half-mile exhibition by Walter Smith, a fourteen-year-old boy of Brooklyn. He made the distance in 1:01 4-5.

NEW HORSE RACING RULES.

Provided For in Amendments Which The Jockey Club Will Be Urged to Adopt.

When the Jockey Club meets for the first time in 1900, on Thursday, Jan. 11, F. R Hitchcock will move the adoption of several amendments to the racing rules which are intended to materially change them. The amendments will deal first with the disposition of cases of jockeys, owners, trainers, and others who transgress the rules of racing.

The unusual amount of scandal that the last season's racing brought out is in a measure responsible for the contemplated changes. By one of the proposed amendments the power to punish such cases is taken from the stewards of the meeting and is vested in the stewards of the central body—the Jockey Club.

Another change that is contemplated is that which refers to the early racing of two-year-olds. It is an amendment to rule 4, and provides that before June 1 in each year no two-year-old shall run in any race in which more than $1,000 is added. If the amendment is adopted it will not apply to horses entered in races closed or advertised to close, so it will not interfere with the running of two-year-olds in the early two-year-old stakes. After 1900, however, it will mean that all two-year-olds that promise to be of stake class will be reserved for racing until after May 31. The racing associations will not offer more than the amount named and owners of what appear to be stake colts or fillies would not be likely to race them for small purses, and thus incur weight penalties which would impair their chances in rich stakes later in the season.

Another amendment that is to be proposed is that which refers to dead heats in racing. It is as follows:

In races not of heats a dead heat for the first place is to be run off on the same day, at the time the Stewards appoint, but at an interval of not less than twenty minutes, unless the race admits of division and the owners agree to divide, but if any one of the horses running a dead heat be two years old, the dead heat shall not be run off, and owners shall divide. If either owner refuse to run off the dead heat, the race shall be divided.

This amendment, if adopted, will settle two questions that have previously caused much trouble in a manner satisfactory to all who want to see a horse used humanely. It does away with the running off of dead heats between two-year-olds, for one thing, and with the enforced running of a tired older horse, in order to save the purse for an owner.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—The San Francisco results:

FIRST RACE.—Selling; maidens. Three-quarters of a mile. Hindoo Princess, 95 pounds, (T Walsh,) 2½ to 1, won; Heartless, 109, (Spencer,) 3 to 1, second; Red Cherry, 95, (Henson,) 12 to 1, third. Time—1:15. Miss Soak, Blooming Chance, St. Isidor, My Dear, J. V. Hayes Urchin, Ella De Foy, Illiloutte, Maid of the Hills, and Mida also ran.

SECOND RACE.—Selling. Five-eighths of a mile. St. Cuthbert, 111 pounds, (E. Jones,) 5 to 1, won; Valencienne, 109, (L. Turner,) 3½ to 1, second; Espirando, 109, (Conley,) 2½ to 1 third. Time—1:00¼. Mainstay, Rosalbra, Spry Lark, Credo, Lucid, Uncle True, and Maxello also ran.

THIRD RACE.—Selling. One mile and a sixteenth. Lothian, 100 pounds, (Henry,) 2 to 1, won; Esplonage, 100, (Vittatoe,) 7 to 5, second; Dare II., 110, (Bullman,) 4 to 1, third. Time—1:49¾. Grady, Billy McCloskey, Silver State. Castake, Tom Calvert, and Ledaea also ran.

FOURTH RACE.—Purse. Seven-eighths of a mile. Flamora, 91, (J. Walsh,) 9 to 5, won; King Carnival, 113, (J. Martin,) 2 to 1, second; Anjou, 89, (Phelan,) 3 to 1, third. Time—1:27½. Mike Rice, Tom Cromwell, and The Echo also ran.

FIFTH RACE.—Purse. Three-quarters of a mile. Geyser, 109 pounds, (Thorpe,) 8 to 5, won; Loving Cup, 109, (J. Weber,) 9 to 1, second; Dr. Hembula, 107, (Bullman,) 7 to 5, third. Time—1:13. San Venado, True Blue, Hard Knot, Ventoro, and Romany also ran.

SIXTH RACE.—Handicap. One mile. Hohenzollern, 95 pounds, (Ross,) 5 to 1, won; Merry Boy, 81, (T. Walsh,) 6 to 1, second; Napamax, 115, (Thorpe,) 1 to 3, third. Time—1:41½. Ringmaster also ran.

TUG-OF-WAR ROPE BROKE.

Columbia Sophomores and Freshmen in a Lively Battle.

The annual tug-of-war between the sophomore and freshman classes of Columbia College was held yesterday afternoon in the field opposite the college. It was attended by exciting incidents that were not on the programme.

Two kegs of beer had been provided for the occasion. One of these was raided by a foraging party of juniors, who got away over the south fence with it.

The tug-of-war, however, proceeded, but did not last long. While the rival teams, which were each one hundred strong, were straining on the rope it broke, and precipitated them in struggling heaps to the ground. The freshmen were the first to recover themselves, and, uttering their war cry, they seized the larger portion of the rope and rushed with it out upon Broadway. The sophomores were not slow in following, and came up with the freshmen between One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth Streets.

A fierce struggle ensued which stopped traffic, and the opposing forces were cheered on to victory by several women, who stood up in their carriages enjoying the scrimmage. The fight waged for half an hour, by which time the rope had been torn and hacked into small pieces. Then interest was transferred to the remaining keg of beer, and around this the sophomores rallied. They easily repulsed the freshmen, who consoled themselves singing college songs.

IN THE BOWLING ALLEYS.

The series in the Bank Clerks' League at Reid's Alleys last night was productive of a new record for the tournament. In the third game Miles of the Mechanics and Traders' Bank rolled a score of 248, the best score made in the tournament this year. He made his score on eight strikes and two spares. Miles made an average of 216½ for two games. The scores of the three games decided follow:

FIRST GAME.

Mechanics and Traders'—Schneider, 162; Holmes, 114; Neumann, 134; Spratt, 102; Miles, 185. Total, 697.

Eleventh Ward—Mehling, 110; Ewing, 90; Weyness, 115; Nestell, 121; Williamson, 115. Total, 551.

SECOND GAME.

Eleventh Ward—Mehling, 140; Ewing, 154; Weyness, 185; Nestell, 123; Williamson, 142. Total, 694.

J. P. Morgan & Co.—McMoran, 138; Tierney, 125; Hamilton, 104; Horn, 149; Hopper, 156. Total, 672.

THIRD GAME.

Mechanics and Traders'—Schneider, 185; Holmes, 131; Neumann, 126; Spratt, 133; Miles, 248. Total, 823.

J. P. Morgan & Co.—McMoran, 169; Tierney, 180; Hamilton, 131; Horn, 147; Hopper, 127. Total, 754.

In the Fire Insurance League series, at Reid's Alleys, last night, the Underwriters defeated the Home and Union Company's teams and the Home won from the Union bowlers. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Home—Benenger, 123; Cotter, 111; Collinson, 138; Quitzow, 95; De Rosset, 132. Total, 602.

Underwriters—Enderley, 139; Block, 164; Clark, 170; Whittaker, 138; Long, 149. Total, 760.

SECOND GAME.

Underwriters—Enderley, 125; Block, 170; Clark, 136; Whittaker, 128; Long, 169. Total, 728.

Union—Tauchert, 144; Van Ness, 169; Cannon, 127; Seeley, 123; Heines, 145. Total, 708.

THIRD GAME.

Home—Benenger, 106 Cotter, 134; Collinson, 153; Quitzow, 142; De Rosset, 179. Total, 713.

Union Tauchert, 162; Van Ness, 119; Cannon, 110; Seeley, 155; Heines, 151. Total, 697.

Three interesting games were decided in the Harlem League last night. The Friendships downed the Standards in the first game, but the latter retrieved themselves in the next game by defeating the Phoenix Club bowlers. In the final game the Friendships were beaten by Phoenix. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Friendship—Botts, 222; Jarchow, 179; Brown, 142; Higbie, 157; Dewes, 173. Total, 873.

Standard—Ellison, 187; Holt, 146; Mertz, 147; Tobin, 165; Thompson, 176. Total, 846.

SECOND GAME.

Standard—Olsson, 180; Tobin, 146; Holt, 180; Wells, 153; Ellison, 182. Total, 841.

Phoenix—Pearse, 180; McLean, 155; Bolrath, 167; Gross, 168; Young, 155. Total, 826.

THIRD GAME.

Phoenix—Pearse, 175; McLean, 170; Bolrath, 186; Gross, 167; Young, 197. Total, 895.

Friendship—Botts, 165; Jarchow, 163; Brown, 112; Higbie, 155; Dewes, 181. Total, 776.

In the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum bowling tournament, at Trainor's alleys, at Reid and Gates Avenues, the East New York Council won two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Washington Irving—Thieringer, 144; Waterberry, 193; Cordeau, 154; Noll, 186; Campbell, 142. Total, 819.

Iolanthe Council—Benners, 110; Carey, 150; Smith, 95; Niemeier, 104; Kay, 184. Total, 643.

SECOND GAME.

East New York—A. Kiefer, 209; Haase, 155; G. Moore, 197; W. Moore, 181; C. Kiefer, 180. Total, 922.

Iolanthe Council—Low, 116; Carey, 92; Smith, 108; Niemeier, 115; Kay, 173. Total, 604.

THIRD GAME.

Washington Irving—Thieringer, 135; Waterberry, 163; Cordeau, 135; Campbell, 191; Glendenning, 145. Total, 769.

East New York—A. Kiefer, 156; Haase, 168; G. Moore, 155; W. Moore, 164; C. Kiefer, 201. Total, 844.

The Brooklyn Bicycle Club made the best showing in the tournament of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Dunham, 127; Beach, 157; Roulson, 138; Boyce, 133; Jordan, 137. Total, 682.

Brooklyn Bicycle Club—Gelhaus, 117; Worth, 141; Grant, 152; Joslyn, 122; Anderson, 172. Total, 704.

SECOND GAME.

Nassau Wheelmen—Teare, 131; Hughes, 107; Sparks, 166; Lamy, 152; Smith, 117. Total, 673.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Dunham, 103; Beach, 135; Roulson, 110; Boyce, 139; Jordan, 123. Total, 510.

THIRD GAME.

Brooklyn Bicycle Club—Gelhaus, 152; Worth, 140; Grant, 153; Joslyn, 178; Anderson, 157. Total, 780.

Nassau Wheelmen—Teare, 179; Hughes, 106; Sparks, 122; Lamy, 136; Smith, 125. Total, 668.

In the two-men team tournament at the Lincoln Club Alleys, Brooklyn, last night the following games were rolled:

FIRST GAME.

Losee, 145; Allen, 202. Total, 347.
Pomeroy, 171; Halsted, 146. Total, 317.

SECOND GAME.

Lovell, 152; White, 123. Total, 274.
Ritchie, 161; Overton, 178, (17 pins handicap.) Total, 356.

THIRD GAME.

Weeks, 151; Holdridge, 199, (4 pins handicap.) Total, 354.
Stoutenburge, 155; Rossen, 177. Total, 332.

The crack Washington Club of Harlem suffered two defeats at the hands of the Empires and Corinthians in the National League at Starr's tournament hall last night. The team's defeat in the second game was due to D. Shiman, being confronted with a difficult spare in the last frame, which he failed to make. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Empire—Linden, 184; Hoff, 160; Wyman, 189; Diederich, 160; Helles, 178. Total, 877.
Washington—Zenn, 186; Boehn, 153; Ochs, 127; Kahlsdorf, 166; D. Schiman, 149. Total, 781.

SECOND GAME.

Corinthian—S. Walter, 190; Baker, 168; Niles, 164; Holden, 168; Schaeffer, 160. Total, 850.
Washington—Zenn, 167; Boehn, 233; Ochs, 143; Kahlsdorf, 163; D. Schiman, 137. Total, 843.

THIRD GAME.

Corinthian—S. Walter, 167; Baker, 183; Niles, 194; Holden, 169; Schaeffer, 202. Total, 915.
Empire—Linden, 160; Hoff, 198; Wyman, 174; Diederich, 163; Helles, 131. Total, 826.

The scores made by the Amitys last night in the Arlington National Tournament were the best that the team has rolled this season, but they were beaten in two games by the Holschen and Welcome teams. The Holschens won a close game from the Welcomes. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Holschen—Martens, 181; Luhrs, 130; Jentzen, 116; Hey, 163; Witte, 149. Total, 744.
Amity—Stryker, 141; Snyder, 174; Singer, 122; Mackey, 169; Carroll, 116. Total, 722.

SECOND GAME.

Welcome—Bernet, 139; Wenderoth, 212; Mathies, 119; Schmidt, 128; Schulze, 169. Total, 767.
Amity—Stryker, 157; Snyder, 164; Sorenson, 121; Mackey, 127; Carroll, 151. Total, 720.

THIRD GAME.

Holschen—Martens, 187; Luhrs, 112; Jentzen, 147; Hey, 155; Witte, 136. Total, 737.
Welcome—Bernet, 153; Wenderoth, 128; Mathies, 115; Schmidt, 162; Schulze, 169. Total, 727.

The Orchards, Columbias, and Morningsides each won and lost a game in the American National tournament at the Germania alleys last night. The Columbia's score of 958 in the third game was the best of the night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Orchard—Bullwinkel, 167; Bucholz, 198; Schroder, 171; Schwacke, 182; Wilkens, 187. Total, 905.
Morningside—Clinch, 171; Madden, 204; Eiche, 182; Demmler, 175; Kling, 135. Total, 867.

SECOND GAME.

Morningside—Clinch, 172; Madden, 155; Eiche, 152; Demmler, 222; Kling, 189. Total, 890.
Columbia—Taylor, 193; Drew, 177; Brophy, 148; Hartley, 155; Roche, 171. Total, 847.

THIRD GAME.

Columbia—Taylor, 201; Drew, 179; Brophy, 208; Hartley, 157; Roche, 213. Total, 958.
Orchard—Bullwinkel, 193; Bucholz, 163; Schroder, 167; Schwacke, 164; Wilkens, 181. Total, 868.

The Landwursters was the only team that bowled in the Arcade head-pin tournament last night. The Lotus Club was scheduled to bowl, but its team failed to appear. Score:

Landwurster—C. Brinkama, 89; Behrmann, 61; Wedemeyer, 64; Sibberns, 48; F. Brinkama, 90. Total, 352.

Tournament Games To-night.

Columbia League—Morningside, Empire City, Mercury.
American National—Golden Rod, Fidelis, Oriental.
Harlem League—Grove Hill, Cyclone, Premier.
Arlington National—Oradell, Black Bass, Homestead.
Royal Arcanum League—De Vinne New York No. 1, Harlem, Defendum.
Brooklyn Royal Arcanum League—Lefferts, De Witt Clinton, Ridgewood.
Brooklyn Royal Arcanum Sub-Tournament—J. F. Price, East New York, Fulton.
National League, at Starr's Tournament Hall.
Twenty-sixth Ward Tournament of Brooklyn—Star vs. Twenty-sixth Ward, at Umla's alleys.

BILLIARD TOURNEY'S PROGRESS.

Results in the Inter City and Club and Class B Contests.

At Daly's Academy, where the Intercity and Interclub handicap amateur billiard tournament is in progress, and at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, where the A. A. U. tournament is being played for the championship of Class B, there was a large attendance yesterday and last night. In both places it was "ladies' day."

At Daly's, in the afternoon game, Poggenburg suffered his first defeat at the hands of Townsend. Stark won the evening contest from Muldaur and now has a clean lead. Servatius, by losing the afternoon game to Tobias in the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, has no chance in the finals next week, and is withdrawn. In the evening Kellogg defeated Hevner and Cutler won from Hendrick.

The preliminaries in this tournament will probably be finished to-morrow and the finals will begin on Monday.

W. W. Kellogg of Chicago defeated George E. Hevner of Philadelphia in a very slow, uninteresting game. The score:

Kellogg—1 2 1 0 0 4 8 7 1 0 3 0 19 24 6 7 0 1 0 2 0 14 3 1 16 2 0 2 17 2 9 1 0 0 0 4 1 8 3 0 0 0 0 3 1 1 1 21 1 1 0 0 0 17 0 0 1 0 2 1 0 20 20 2 10 0 2 2 10. Total, 300. Average, 4 28-68. High runs, 24 17 21.

Herner—1 3 0 1 2 4 0 0 11 1 2 1 0 8 2 11 0 0 0 0 18 9 2 0 0 0 12 0 7 0 0 0 18 15 8 1 2 17 1 0 1 2 4 1 14 0 6 0 2 2 4 1 28 2 2 1 0 0 1 6 3 14 8 3 0 1 2. Total, 256. Average, 3 55-67. High runs, 18 17 23.

In the final game last night, Albert G. Cutler of Boston, beat Dr. W. G. Douglas of the New York Athletic Club by 300 to 174. His average was 6 18-47, while Douglas made an average of 3 30-46. Cutler made a break of 74, which ties the best run made in this tournament.

Florian Tobias and L. A. Servatius, both members of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club, played in the afternoon game, and the former won easily. The score:

Tobias—12 8 2 0 0 20 0 3 0 0 0 1 1 0 17 0 1 5 13 3 1 2 0 16 25 0 1 1 3 1 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 7 0 1 0 5 1 21 21 8 16 2 5 13 4 2 5 1 2 1 1 4 38 0 3 2. Total, 300; average, 4 44-64; high runs, 25, 21, 38.

Servatius—5 9 0 4 0 1 1 0 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 5 4 0 1 1 3 0 1 1 0 7 3 0 1 4 0 3 1 3 5 0 0 0 1 1 2 0 3 0 0 0 2 1 1 1 7 5 1 5 0 1 2 1 4 1 0 0 0 0. Total, 123; average, 1 59-64; high runs, 9, 11, 12.

Referee—George Heywood.

J. Byron Stark won the evening game at Daly's from Mark H. Muldaur. The score:

Stark, (300)—4 1 0 5 4 2 1 3 0 1 1 0 4 12 2 4 8 0 2 6 3 27 2 2 10 0 0 2 1 9 1 4 4 0 1 7 1 9 0 1 1 8 3 1 1 0 2. Total, 300; average, 7 13-41; high runs, 48, 63, 27.

Muldaur, (220)—0 6 4 2 2 9 4 0 0 2 0 4 8 2 2 0 7 0 16 19 2 6 0 19 3 0 0 2 19 6 1 11 1 1 1 3 1 0 0 12. Total, 174; average, 4 14-40; high runs, 19, 19, 19.

In the afternoon game Arthur Townsend defeated Ferdinand Poggenburg. The score:

Townsend, (280)—23 0 0 8 1 12 4 26 11 0 0 15 11 1 2 0 3 1 3 1 12 0 0 14 8 0 0 12 0 1 1 17 2 0 14 8 6 0 0 0 1 4 2 3 4 0 1 0 16 6. Total, 280; average, 5 30-50; high runs, 23, 26, 48.

Poggenburg, (300)—4 0 0 0 35 0 0 0 2 2 10 1 10 2 27 24 0 4 1 5 20 0 6 6 0 10 0 0 5 1 1 6 0 0 13 0 9 2 0 2 0 35 4 3 0 0 0 0 0 5 23. Total, 268; average, 5 15-50; high runs, 33, 27, 35.

Referee—Edward McLaughlin.

Hobart College Football Captain.

Special to The New York Times.

GENEVA, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Norman O. Hutton of Garden City, L. I., was unanimously elected Captain of the Hobart College football team for 1900. Hutton is a member of the freshman class. He prepared for college at St. Paul's School, Garden City.

Football Championship Won in Snow.

OGDENSBURG, Dec. 7.—On a gridiron covered with snow and with the mercury near the freezing point, Watertown defeated Ogdensburg here to-day in twenty-five minute halves by a score of 12 to 5, thus winning the football championship of Northern New York.

WEDS WHITE HOUSE FOOTMAN.

Washington Colored Belle Marries Mrs. McKinley's Attendant.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Charles A. Reeder, the colored footman of the President, was married last night to Frances Belle Lee, daughter of Albert Lee. Reeder has been with the President ever since he entered the White House, and for many years was a waiter at the Ebbitt House, and a favorite with Mr. McKinley when he was in Congress. He attends Mrs. McKinley on her daily drives.

Both Reeder and his bride are well known in colored circles in Washington, and the wedding was largely attended. Among the presents received was a handsome set of china from the President and Mrs. McKinley and a fine clock from the ushers, guards, and other attaches of the White House.

LAWTON AND WHEELER.

Recklessness of Both Officers Under the Fire of the Filipinos.

Pasay, (P. I.) Letter to Indianapolis News.

I could not help but be amused when I examined the church at Paranaque. The reports sent out had spoken of the total demolition of it by the bombardment of the fleet. But, nevertheless, it is standing there peacefully, used as barracks by the soldiers. It is true a few stones here and there are misplaced, a stairway to the choir damaged, and a sacrilegious shell has utterly destroyed the "heaven" above the altar. The insurgents used a small cannon from the belfry, and it can serve the same purpose for us yet if needed.

Gen. Lawton's orders are very explicit. He insists that there be no firing of any kind until we have been fired upon. Amigos are all around us, and they are in great danger from careless firing. The General is now riding a beautiful white horse, and in this connection a good story is told of him, how last week, when a detachment of marines were ashore to assist in an assault they themselves were assaulted by the insurgents, and while the marines were hugging the ground and wishing every blade of grass were a stump, up rides Gen. Lawton.

The men say that it seemed he was on the largest white horse that ever was, and with a large white hat, too, and making a tremendous amount of noise. He was laughing as gayly as the Mausers that were singing about him, and nodded and chatted with his staff. It was a revelation, so the marines say, of what all absence of fear is, even when under the most dangerous conditions. Shortly afterward one of his staff was shot through both knees, but Lawton did not ride away until he completed his work. He has the headquarters of his division here in town in a modest house on a quiet side street. I found it so crowded that the clerks were compelled to do their work on the porches. He often takes his son out with him on his rides along the front, and it is an all-wise Providence that has spared them, for his bravery is splendid in its daring.

Gen. Wheeler expects to get fat now, as he is getting his fill of fighting. The fore part of this week he was sitting on top of one of the intrenchments enjoying the cool of the evening. While sitting there dangling his feet like a schoolboy and with his back to the front the insurgent rifles began their evening tune. The men around him were horrified to have him thus expose himself, but unwilling to stoop down themselves as long as he was sitting on top. On one side of him a bullet took out the seam from a man's trousers, on the other side a canteen strap was cut in two. The old General got excited, and yelled to the men to lie down at once, never thinking of his own safety until one of the officers pulled him down.

Prof. Lockwood of the Navy Dead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Henry H. Lockwood, formerly Professor of Mathematics at the Annapolis Naval Academy, who was retired with the rank of Commodore in 1876, died here to-night in his eighty-sixth year. The deceased leaves several children, one of whom is the wife of Capt. Sigsbee of the navy.

NEGRO LOSES THEATRE CASE.

Washington Manager Justified in Excluding Wetherless.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A jury trial of P. B. Chase, manager of the Grand Opera House, for ejecting from his theatre N. E. Wetherless, colored, who had occupied seats in the orchestra with his wife on Nov. 18, ended to-day with a verdict of not guilty.

The charge was not of violation of the civil rights act, but of assault. The defendant represented that the complainant did not hold coupons for the seats occupied by himself and wife, and refused to show coupons when they were demanded, whereupon he was ejected with the aid of the police.

What Say You TO A KNABE PIANO ?

You can think of nothing more pleasing, more substantial, more permanently satisfactory than a Knabe Grand or Upright as a Christmas gift.

WM. KNABE & CO.
154 Fifth Ave., cor. 20th St.

The Green Label bottling is 10 years old. A Pure Rye Whiskey. Unequalled for Family, Medicinal or general use. Get the best.

Ask for Trimble Green Label

of all First-Class Dealers.

WHITE, HENTZ & CO., Phil. & N.Y.
Sole Proprietors. Established 1793.

To cure that Gout drink
Londonderry
Lithia Water.

Kinnedy
12 CORTLANDT ST.

Swell Winter Shoes,
2.97 pair.
(Hand Welt) Broad Extension Soles. Equal quality sold elsewhere at 4.00.
Fox Calf
Wax Calf

Look out for Coming Cauchois!

BUBONIC PLAGUE COFFEE
in ships from infected ports.
Coffee comes overland from Mexico.
CAUCHOIS COFFEE NEVER COMES TO THIS MARKET.
IT'S A COFFEE IS GETTING POORER EVERY YEAR.
The Finest Coffee Grown Comes From the "PRIVATE ESTATE" of The President of Mexico.
SELLS ON GROUND 32¢ PER POUND AT CAUCHOIS
42d STR. OPPOSITE DEPOT

LARGEST CUSTOM TAILORING HOUSE IN THE WORLD.
ARNHEIM,
BROADWAY, & 9TH ST.

The Saturday Evening Post
Philadelph

This Is Overcoat Week Here.

We are determined to sell a vast quantity of Fine Overcoats

This Week.

To move them quick we will give you the choice of a thousand or more high-class Overcoats that you'd expect to pay $25 to $30 for—and they are worth it, too.

AT

$15.00

Made of Vicunas—Melton—Kerseys—Irish Frieze and several new fashionable cloths, in Blue, Black, Brown and Oxford mixtures. Silk, Satin, Serge and Wool lined, strictly high-class custom finished and up to date in every detail.

Included in this sale are a lot of Paddocks, Newmarkets and Raglans.

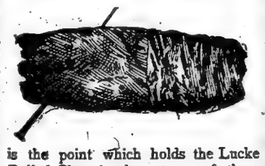
Never before at the opening of the winter season has such an opportunity been presented.

At $22.50 your choice of $40 to $55 Overcoats—the finest it's possible to make.

BIERMAN, HEIDELBERG & CO.

Broadway, cor. Chambers St.
(Stewart Bldg.)

Rich-ness



is the point which holds the Lucke Rolled Cigar in the esteem of those who know what it is. No amount of antagonism can shake the consumer's affection for a thing which pleases highly.

The intelligent smoker finds a rich, pleasing, tropic-grown leaf in the Rolled Cigar—and he can smoke them without trouble to his nerves.

The same gratification is not found in anything costing less than 2 for 25c. A QUARTER BUYS TEN.

MILLER MAY BE ARRESTED.

Agents of a Detective Bureau Declare He Is in Canada and Is Under Surveillance.

Superintendent Sutherland of the Chicago branch of the Mooney and Boland Detective Agency, who arrived in this city yesterday, stated positively that William F. Miller, the Franklin Syndicate fugitive, has been located in Montreal, Canada, and that his arrest is only a matter of a short time, possibly twenty-four hours. He will be arrested, it is said, on a Canadian warrant charging him with having in his possession stolen goods. The charge is made to hold him until extradition can be arranged, when he will be brought to New York.

It was rumored yesterday morning that Miller had reached this city at 7 o'clock yesterday morning on the New York Central Montreal express in custody of Superintendent William J. Sutherland of the Mooney and Boland Detective Agency, Chicago headquarters, and Captain Reynolds of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau. Superintendent Sutherland and Captain Reynolds were seen to alight from the train and with them was a young man thought by many to correspond to Miller's appearance. This led to the report that the missing syndicate financier had been captured.

This was positively denied later by both the officers mentioned. Captain Reynolds admitted that he had been in Albany three times within the last few days but would not disclose the nature of his errand there.

"Miller has not been arrested," said Superintendent Sutherland. "I did not bring him from Montreal with me. I will say, however, that Miller is in Canada under the surveillance of my men, and his arrest will follow at an early day."

Superintendent Wagenfuhr of the New York office of the agency, referring to the case yesterday afternoon, said:

"Miller has been located in Montreal, and his every movement is being watched by our men. His arrest will follow in a few days at most; maybe within twenty-four hours."

It was ascertained that the young man accompanying the officers to this city yesterday was a reporter on a local paper, which is employing the Mooney & Boland Detective Agency to find Miller.

Col. Robert Ammon, Miller's attorney, when seen yesterday, said: "I guess they haven't got Miller yet. When they do I think I'll know something about it."

Louis H. Miller, brother of the syndicate manager, was arraigned before Magistrate Brenner in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, yesterday on a charge of having on the day of his brother's disappearance attempted to secrete $8,000 of the syndicate's money. Another adjournment of the case was ordered to Dec. 11.

Mrs. Elizabeth Timmons of 173 Stanhope Street, who had furnished $1,000 bail for Miller's appearance, asked Magistrate Brenner to cancel her bond, as she did not care to be responsible any longer for Miller's appearance.

FUGITIVE MILLER IN MEXICO?

Man Answering Description of Brooklyn Manager Seen at Monterey.

MONTEREY, Mexico, Dec. 7.—A man answering the description of William F. Miller, the fugitive manager of the Franklin Syndicate of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived in this city five days ago. He registered under an assumed name at the Hilaggo Hotel, but aroused suspicion by the close guard which he kept over two large valises which he carried.

He was identified by the likeness of Miller published in American newspapers which reached here after his arrival. The police communicated with the New York police, asking if the man should be held pending identification.

Before an answer had been received the man left for Tampico. He is said to have sailed from that port on a coast steamer for Central America.

MAZET AND HIS COUNSEL

Rumored Disagreement About the Calling of Senator Platt.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE INQUIRY

Mr. Moss Declares It Cannot Be Laid at His Door and that Mr. Mazet Cannot Speak for Him.

The sudden collapse of the Mazet investigation has been explained in various ways by the members of the committee and Frank Moss, its counsel. In some quarters these explanations have been regarded as proof that the closing days of the inquiry were marked by strife between the Republican members of the committee and Mr. Moss, and that the subject upon which they disagreed was the question of calling United States Senator Platt as a witness. Mr. Mazet denied yesterday, to the best of his knowledge, that the calling of Mr. Platt had been suggested by the committee's counsel, and added that if Mr. Moss had had any such intention, he, as Chairman, would have known of it. Mr. Moss, after positively refusing to give a categorical answer to the question as to whether or not he had intended to subnoepa Mr. Platt, repudiated Mr. Mazet's statement, saying: "Mr. Mazet is qualified to speak for the committee, but not for me."

Assemblyman Fallows, when asked about the matter, said that the question of calling of Mr. Platt had nothing to do with the sudden final adjournment of the committee. According to Mr. Fallows the question of an early adjournment was discussed by the Republican members of the committee on Tuesday of last week. After the session on that day, Mr. Fallows said, the committee decided that it would be useless to hold further public sessions. "I made the suggestion myself," said Mr. Fallows, "because I needed what little time there was between then and the opening of the Legislature to clear up my private business, which I have neglected because of the work of the committee. I afterward told Mr. Mazet that unless there was an adjournment I would have to remain away from the committee's sessions. The only way I can explain the absence of a quorum on Wednesday is that Mr. Mazet failed to inform Mr. Moss of our decision."

Mr. Moss, on the other hand, said that it was understood last week that this should be the last week of the inquiry. The sessions were to begin on Tuesday and extend through to-day, and Mr. Moss had 150 witnesses subpoenaed to attend, but after some correspondence with Mr. Mazet, Mr. Moss agreed to begin the sessions on Wednesday, and limit the taking of testimony to three days. Afterward, Mr. Moss said, Mr. Mazet wrote him asking him to cut off Friday and to use only Wednesday and Thursday for taking testimony. "I have it in black and white," Mr. Moss said, "so the sudden closing of the testimony cannot be laid at my door."

On Wednesday each of the Republican members of the committee received a letter from Mr. Moss. It is said that this letter informed them that the counsel to the committee felt that the charge of partisanship would lie at the committee's door unless Senator Platt was called as a witness. When asked about this letter yesterday, Mr. Moss declined to talk. At Wednesday's session of the committee, at which Mr. Mazet, Mr. Costello, and Mr. Hoffman were present, Mr. Moss, in outlining his plans for the week, alluded to an "important matter concerning which I have written a letter to the Chairman." Mr. Mazet, too, declined to discuss the contents of this letter.

Mr. Moss appeared yesterday to be deeply hurt by the action of the committee in adjourning without consulting him. "Though I was prepared to make the week one of the most important in the investigation, the committee was adjourned and no consideration was given to me," Mr. Moss said. "There were certain matters that could have been closed up which would have been productive of important results, but the untimely ending of the sessions has prevented that. I don't desire to appear as criticising the committee and I wish to correct any impression that has gone abroad to the effect that there has been a break between the committee and its counsel. There canot be any break, for I took up the work as a public duty and I will carry it to the end. The committee will meet to-morrow and discuss the subject of the report to the Legislature."

Under no pretext could Mr. Moss be induced to say anything in regard to the subpoenaing of Senator Platt, but he declared most emphatically that so far as he was concerned the inquiry had been conducted in an impartial and non-partisan manner. It is known that Mr. Moss has been extremely anxious to put Senator Platt on the stand to testify in regard to his influence over legislation at Albany and to be interrogated respecting his knowledge of the Ramapo water scheme. On every possible occasion Richard Croker, while on the stand, demanded that Mr. Platt be called, and several times Mr. Moss intimated that he had no desire to shield Mr. Platt.

Other Republican members of the committee besides Messrs. Mazet and Fallows denied that the investigation had been suddenly stopped because Mr. Platt either had been or was to be subpoenaed. T. M. Costello said: "We had to adjourn simply because we want to get our report signed and presented before Jan. 1. We want it signed by Mr. Mazet while he is still a member of the Legislature, although this would not make any real difference, as he would have the right to sign it anyway. Personally I was opposed to calling Senator Platt, because, under the resolution by which we were appointed to investigate the city departments, I could not see that he had anything to do with our work, for he is not a voter here, and not even a resident.

"We called his son, you remember, and Frank Platt answered every question that was put to him, with the exception of one or two about the amount of stock he held in certain companies. Then we examined Gen. Tracy more fully than any other man was examined. He answered every question, and, personally, some of them, I think, we had no right to ask. I do not know that Mr. Moss had any intention of calling Senator Platt, and do not remember that he ever spoke to me on the subject. Anyway, it was Mr. Moss's own fault that we did not go on with the investigation yesterday. Mr. Mazet, Mr. Hoffman, and myself were the only ones present yesterday, but we were perfectly willing to go on without a quorum, as we had often done before."

Harris Wilson said: "The proposition to call Mr. Platt has not been brougnt up by the committee since Mr. Hoffman talked about it about six months ago. I don't see why he should have been called, or what we could have got out of him."

J. B. McEwan of Albany said that the committee might as well have called Queen Victoria as Mr. Platt. "Had he been called," he said, "it would only have been gratifying the desire of certain persons to hold him up to scorn and ridicule, which he didn't deserve. The matter has not been mentioned in the committee since the time Mr. Croker insisted that he be placed on the stand. Had we been called to investigate the conduct of political organizations, then it would have been our duty to have called not only Senator Platt, but Mr. Danforth, David B. Hill, and all 'the boys.'"

Chairman Odell of the Republican State Committee said last night that Senator Platt had no knowledge of Mr. Moss's intention to call him as a witness. Mr. Odell added that before he left the city in the early part of the week, he knew that no further open sessions of the committee were to be held.

PLATT WISHED NOT TO APPEAR.

Senator Says He Had No Desire to Testify Before the Mazet Committee.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator Platt had read in the evening papers the announcement that the Mazet Committee had finished taking testimony and would prepare its report. When asked if he had anything to say about the work of the committee or its failure to call him as a witness, he replied that he had not.

"Were you subpoenaed as a witness by Mr. Moss?"

"No; nor by anybody else. At least, if I was subpoenaed the summons never reached me."

"Did you not desire to testify as to the matters considered by the committee?"

"If I had desired to testify, I would have volunteered to appear. I did not care to volunteer to place myself in a position in which mud could be flung at me with great advantage to my assailant and without public, personal or political advantage to be gained. It does not appear that I was in any way necessary to the committee. None of the witnesses at any time suggested that I could be of any use to the committee in its work. Even Gen. Tracy did not connect me in any way with any subject in which the committee appeared to be interested. No, I did not consider it politically wise to insist upon being a witness."

"Do you think, Senator Platt, that the committee accomplished a good work?"

"Oh, I cannot express any opinion about that. The report will be a better thing to judge the committee by than any impression expressed now. I think, however, that it discovered many things worth knowing."

Senator Platt intends to go to New York to-morrow.

LEGAL NOTES.

CHIEF CLERK JANSEN REINSTATED.—Carl Jansen, a veteran soldier, who was Chief Clerk or Secretary of the old Fire Department, and who was removed by Fire Commissioner Scannell when the Greater New York charter went into effect, yesterday was granted a peremptory writ of mandamus by Justice Nash of the Supreme Court, commanding the Fire Commissioner to assign him to a position like the one he held on Jan. 1, 1898, with the same salary as he formerly received, and with damages of $4,800 a year, from Jan. 1, 1898, to the present time. Justice Nash holds that the finding of the jury in the case was conclusive that the position Mr. Jansen held under the former charter was not a confidential one, and did not involve official acts which were secret, nor cover official acts involving trust and confidence personal to the Commissioner; and that the position was that of a regular clerk.

***

CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE.—Peter Henavie's suit, as administrator, to recover damages from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company for the death of his son, who, on April 5, 1895, was struck by an engine drawing freight cars while attempting to cross Eleventh Avenue at Forty-fifth Street, and killed, resulted on the first trial in judgment for the plaintiff. A reversal was directed by the First Appellate Division, on the ground that where a person injured while crossing a street upon which there was a steam railroad, failed to look for approaching trains after leaving the curbstone, which was 22 feet from the railroad track, he was guilty of contributory negligence. On the second trial, upon a stipulation, part of the printed case on the former appeal was used, and was supplemented by testimony of one witness. A judgment, then directed for the defendant, was recently affirmed on appeal. It was claimed on the part of the plaintiff that the oral testimony of the witness, named Harrigan, established freedom from contributory negligence. His evidence was that he noticed Henavie after he left the curbstone, and during his progress to the track where he was hurt, and that when about half way from the track to the curb, he looked up and down, and that at that time a passenger train was in sight. The Court now holds that if Henavie looked while between the curbstone and the track, he must have seen the train.

***

BROOKLYN MUNICIPAL JUSTICES.—Municipal Justice Adolph Goetting, who was appointed on Jan. 4, 1898, as Justice of the Fourth District of the Municipal Court, in the Borough of Brooklyn, brought suit against the city, in the Supreme Court, for his salary for that month. The payment had been withheld upon the ground that by the new charter all the Justices' courts and the office of Justice of the Peace in Brooklyn were not abolished until midnight of Jan. 31, 1898, and the Municipal Court Justices, who were to exercise on an enlarged plan powers of the superseded officials, were not to have possession of the rooms assigned for holding their courts until Feb. 1, 1898, when the machinery of these tribunals was to go into full and active operation; and it was claimed the salary belonging to the office did not commence until that day. Justice McAdam, before whom the case was tried, yesterday awarded the plaintiff judgment for $451.66, with interest. Such a result as was contended for on the part of the city, Justice McAdam said, could follow only the mistaken notion that a fixed salary belonging to a judicial office must be earned by the incumbent before it is recoverable by him. "Such a salary," Justice McAdam said, "is not measured by the duties the official actually performs or is called upon to perform, and is recoverable without regard to the labors imposed, or the manner of their performance." Section 1,374 of the charter, providing that after the 1st of January, 1898, the Municipal Justices were to become a Board of Justices, to elect a President and establish rules, showed, Justice McAdam said, that whatever duties were connected with the organization of the board, devolved upon the plaintiff and his associates during January, and these duties were performed by them, and added: "There is no variation in official salaries on account of light or heavy work, or the total absence of work, a feature that may perhaps have attracted some to official life and led to the repeated use of that much abused term 'sinecure.'"

***

NEGLIGENCE IN THE CARE OF A CHILD.—Albert Frank, six years old, who on Sunday afternoon, June 16, was in the care of his married sister, at 104 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street, was left by her on the doorstep, with instructions to remain there while she went into the house. The child started down the street to the corner of Lexington Avenue, where he met his sister Blanche, thirteen years old, and asked her for a penny. Receiving it, he started with two other boys to cross the street, when he was injured by being run over by a Lexington Avenue car of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company. On the trial of the child's suit, by guardian, against the company for damages, the testimony tended to show that the three boys were proceeding across the street to a candy store, and that the other boys got over safely, but the plaintiff, who had dropped his penny, stopped for the purpose of finding it, and while in that position was struck by the advancing car. It was contended on the trial, on the part of the defendant, that plaintiff failed to prove freedom from negligence in the care of the child, and that the preponderence of evidence exonorated the road from negligence. The trial Court left it to the jury to determine whether, upon the conditions existing at the time, that the boys were on or near the track, the gong should have been rung by the gripman. The judgment on a verdict for the plaintiff for $750, has been reversed by the First Appellate Division. Justice O'Brien, giving the opinon of the Court, said in part: "If we assume the version of the occurence supported by the weight of evidence, that the boy was running across the track, and could have crossed in safety but for his stopping to pick up the penny, it cannot be inferred that the gripman was negligent because he devoted his energies to the brake, and failed to ring the gong. With the boy suddenly stopping in front of the car, he could not be saved by ringing a gong, and the duty of the gripman was to give his attention to stopping the car. That he did not so devote himself is not made to appear, although that was a burden resting upon the plaintiff. To sustain this judgment we must be satisfied to have it rest on the purest speculation and conjecture, rather than, as the law requires on proof that the defendant's employees were guilty of negligence which was the sole cause of the injuries."

CONVENTIONS IN 1900.

New York's Fight for the Great Gatherings Formally Opened.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Citizens' Committee appointed by the Board of Trade and Transportation to secure either or both of the National political conventions of 1900 for New York held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the board, and devised plans for the raising of funds. Lewis Nixon, presided.

It was decided to collect money for the securing of both conventions, but to devote more attention at this time to the Republican gathering. Frank Tilford, President of the Bank of New Amsterdam, was agreed upon as Treasurer. He has signified his willingness to act. The following form of subscription blank was sent out last night to men prominent in local circles:

We, the undersigned, subscribe and agree to pay to Frank Tilford Treasurer, the amounts set opposite our respective names, toward defraying the expenses of holding either or both of the National political conventions of 1900 in the City of New York. The sums subscribed by us, respectively, we agree to pay upon call by the Treasurer in the event of New York City being selected for the holding of either or both of the National political conventions of 1900, and not otherwise.

Mr. Nixon said that it would be necessary to open headquarters in Washington a few days before the meeting of the Republican National Committee.

The committee will hold another meeting to-morrow afternoon.

THE STATE CHARITIES AID

Mr. Choate's Resignation as Head of the Association.

ELECTION OF NEW OFFICERS

Address of Charles S. Fairchild—An Improvement in Manhattan Institutions Reported.

At the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the State Charities' Aid Association, held yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the United Charities Building, the resignation of Joseph H. Choate as President was announced by the Board of Managers. In accepting Mr. Choate's resignation, which was caused by his necessary absence from the city as Ambassador to Great Britain, the Board of Managers placed upon its minutes an expression of its appreciation of his services to the association.

Upon a motion of Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler the minutes of the Board of Managers was adopted by the association, and it was also resolved that Mr. Choate be requested to allow his name to stand as a member of the Board of Managers. Mr. Choate was one of the incorporators of the association, and has been its President since 1895. He was for several years up to the time of his departure for England Chairman of the Committee on Children.

The annual address was made by Charles S. Fairchild, Treasurer of the association, who occupied the chair. He said in part:

"This association does not come in as a rival or a competitor of any charitable work whatever. It has been since its inception the wise critic and observer of charitable work. It has been the suggestor of charities where the public needed charities not already in existence. But it has not stopped with its criticism; it has not stopped with its study. It has gone on wherever it has found that there is a public need, and has done its utmost, and in almost every instance with success, to provide the means of meeting that public need. It is not dependant on any public appropriation for its pecuniary resources. They come from the contributions of those who wisely appreciate the work that it does. It is a great aid to the right-meaning and right-minded public official."

Mr. Fairchild's address closed with an appeal for liberal financial support, of which he said the association stood in need for the enlargement of its work.

The reports of the various sub-committees were presented at the meeting. Mrs. Tunis G. Bergen, President of the Kings County Committee of the association, commended the general management during the past year of institutions under the Department of Public Charities in the Borough of Brooklyn. The need of a new nurse's home and infants' hospital, and of repairs and alterations to some of the existing buildings was declared to be urgent.

Homer Folks, Secretary of the association, reported the year in the Borough of Manhattan to have been one of marked improvement. He spoke of the work done by the association in securing legislation. Two bills were proposed by the association. The first brought about a repeal of the special law under which in Montgomery County the poor had been cared for by contract awarded to the lowest bidder. The second bill proposed the re-establishment of a system of cumulative sentences in commitments to the New York City Workhouse. This latter bill passed the Senate, but failed to reach a vote in the Assembly.

Mrs. Henry Oothout reported that during the past year 354 situations had been provided for homeless mothers with infants. A total of 462 mothers and babies were under the care of the committee during the year, of whom only one mother and four children died. The total expenses of the committee in charge of this work were only $2,026.48.

In the absence of Dr. George C. Wheelock, Chairman of the Committee on Hospitals, Mr. Folks stated that the committee hoped to secure at the next session of the Legislature the passage of a bill establishing a State Sanitarium in the Adirondacks for the treatment of consumptives.

Charles H. Marshall, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that the income during the past year had been $12,035.18, of which $9,160.54 was received from donations and subscriptions. The expenditures amounted to $10,714.58.

The following members were unanimously chosen to constitute the Board of Managers for the following year: Mrs. Tunis G. Bergen, Miss Helen C. Butler, Mr. George F. Canfield, Joseph H. Choate, Charles S. Fairchild, Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton, Dr. Charles Hitchcock, Charles H. Marshall, John A. McKim, Mrs. Henry Oothout, Mrs. William B. Rice, Carl Schurz, Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler, Dr. George G. Wheelock, and Alfred T. White.

A resolution was adopted that, in view of the increased work of the association, the number of managers be increased from fifteen to twenty-one. At the close of the meeting the newly elected Board of Managers chose the following officers for the ensuing year: President—Prof. George F. Canfield; Vice President—Mrs. William B. Rice; Treasurer—Charles S. Fairchild; Librarian—Mrs. Henry Oothout.

FOOTBALL IN THE SENATE.

Senator Chandler Suggests that Cadets Study It Instead of Mathematics and Languages.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The proceedings of the Senate to-day were enlivened by a colloquy between Mr. Chandler (Rep., N. H.,) and Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.,) over a bill introduced by the former to promote athletic sports at the Military Academy at West Point and the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Both Senators became facetious and at times sarcastic over the growth of athletics at American colleges, and Mr. Chandler advanced the proposition that the cultivation of such sports as football and similar sports at the Government academies ought to be given the sanction of law.

Mr. Chandler's bill provides for systematic athletic exercises at the West Point Military Academy and the Annapolis Naval Academy. The title of the bill sets forth its object to be "To increase the efficiency of the West Point Military Academy and the Annapolis Military Academy, and to qualify and stimulate the American youth for actual military service by suitable physical training instead of excessive mental education."

It provides that the course of instruction at the academy shall dispense with the study of higher mathematics and the foreign languages and substitute a course in athletics to embrace especially golf, bicycling, football, and baseball. The bill also provides for annual athletic contests between the students of the Military Academy and the Annapolis Naval Academy at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Richmond, Atlanta, New Orleans, Omaha, and San Francisco, at which suitable prizes shall be awarded. An appropriation sufficient to pay the prizes is provided for, but the railroads are required to carry free the cadets to the places of contests and also the representatives of such reputable newspapers as the Secretaries of War and Navy may designate.

Mr. Chandler asked that the measure be referred to the Committee on Education and Labor.

Mr. Hale took it, he said, to be a bill to encourage football and other similar games, and he could hardly stand as sponsor for such a proposition as the Senator from New Hampshire had stood.

He was inclined to think the boys did not need stimulation in athletic sports. He declared that the famous college men of to-day were those who were excellent in football and other branches of athletics, rather than those who were excellent in the old-fashioned studies upon which men were rated as great. So far as he was concerned, he did not care to have the measure referred to the Naval Committee of which he is Chairman.

In a facetious speech Mr. Chandler replied that he thought athletic contests among the college men ought to be encouraged.

"The proposition I present is," said he, "that these athletic contests shall be regulated by law, and that international and intercollegiate contests shall occur at salient points. Free trains are run by the railroads to these affairs, in order to increase the interest and attendance, and I propose that this shall be done without violating the inter-State Commerce law."

The bill was referred as desired by Mr. Chandler.

NAVAL BATTLE IN COLOMBIA.

Steam Dredger, Fitted as a Man-of-War, Rammed and Sunk with 250 Men on Board.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Government has received through one of its agents an account dated the latter part of November, of the inception and growth of the present revolutionary movement in Colombia. The revolution, according to this statement, is an attempt on the part of the Liberals to oust the Conservatives, who have been in power for many years.

The principal engagement so far has been a naval one, and the agent gives a graphic account of this. It took place on the night of Oct. 24, at Los Obispos, some 300 miles up the Magdalena River, below Puerto Naccional. The revolutionists were embarking on seven river steamers, which they had seized, and were coming down the river presumably with the hope of capturing Cartagena or some other coast town, in order to get possession of the Custom House and revenues. Their steamers were unprotected and unarmed, while the Government troops were on two vessels which had been protected by plating and railway iron, and were armed with gatlings and one Hotchkiss gun. The two fleets met in the dark, one steaming up the river at a speed of seven knots, the other coming down the rapid current at twelve to fourteen knots. The Government vessels, the Hercules and Colombia, were charged by the Helena and others of the insurgent force, and the Hercules was rammed by the Helena, but the blow struck her on the paddlebox and did no material damage. The General on the Helena then ordered his pilot to ram another vessel, which the pilot assured him was one of his own squadron, but with a revolver to the man's head, the General insisted on his command being obeyed. The result was that the Cristobal Colon, a steam dredger and his best ship was struck amidships and went down, carrying with her 250 men. This loss so disheartened the insurgents that they put about, ran their vessels along shore, and deserted them. Other than the one great disaster, there were only eight or ten casualties in all, including the General's pilot, who was promptly shot to cover the mistake of his superior.

It was reported that since then the insurgents had lost Cigarero, one of their ablest Generals in a recent engagement, and rumors were current without confirmation, that the insurgents had captured Bogota.

CARRIERS TO REGISTER LETTERS.

System to be Inaugurated in Residence Sections of Large Cities.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Postmaster-General has issued an order announcing the determination of the Department to provide for the registration of valuable letters, or first class matter, by letter carriers on their routes in free delivery cities. This new service will be inaugurated in some of the leading cities and extended to others as rapidly as possible. At first it will be confined to the purely residential districts, excluding business houses and individuals who have large numbers of letters for registration at any one time. The extension of the system to the business districts is left to the sound discretion of the Postmaster.

The Postmaster-General has received information that some Postmasters and employes, in order to avoid the labor involved, are advising the public that registered mails are not a safe means of transportation of valuable matter and he has given warning in a vigorous order issued to-day that such disregard of duty will be sufficient for removal from office.

WILL HEAR QUAY CASE DEC. 16.

Pennsylvanian's Attorneys Agree to Submit Arguments Then.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections to-day arranged the preliminaries for the consideration of the protests against Senators Quay, Clark, and Scott. In the Quay case it was decided to hear counsel on Saturday, the 16th inst., and that the hearing should be concluded on that date. Ex-Senator Edmunds and Jeremiah Wilson, of counsel for the remonstrants, were present, and stated that the time selected would be satisfactory to them. Only legal questions are involved in this case, and no witnesses will be heard.

The preliminary preparation for the Clark and Scott cases was placed in the hands of Senators Chandler and Pettus. They were authorized to decide for the committee what persons should be summoned when they should be heard. The usual resolutions were agreed upon for securing authority to send for persons and papers, and sit during the sessions of the Senate.

Senator Harris, the new member of the committee, was present at the meeting.

ISTHMIAN CANAL AND SCALPERS.

Bills in the House to Build One and Control the Other.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Representative Hepburn of Iowa reintroduced in the House to-day his bill of the last Congress to appropriate $140,000,000 for the construction of the Nicaragua Canal.

Representative Sherman of New York reintroduced the Anti-Scalping bill.

Mr. Sprague of Massachusetts introduced a bill to retire army officers below the rank of Brigadier General who served in the civil war as of the grade next above that which they held at the time of retirement.

Minor Bills in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Among the bills and joint resolutions introduced in the Senate to-day were the following:

Mr. Foraker, (Rep., Ohio)—To increase to $100 per month the pension of Nelly Young Egbert, widow of the late Col. Henry Clay Egbert of the Twenty-second Infantry, who was killed in the Philippine war.

Mr. Harris, (Pop., Kan.)—Joint resolution providing for the limitation of the time a President shall be elected to one term of six years, and making the terms of members of the House four years.

Mr. Tillman, (Dem., S. C.)—A bill giving soldiers of the Spanish war the same preference in civil service appointments given to soldiers of the civil war.

Mr. Stewart, (Rep., Nev.)—A bill appropriating $175,000 for the purchase of the submarine torpedo boat Holland.

Mr. Harris, (Pop., Kan.)—A bill granting pensions to persons who served in the Confederate service and afterward in the Army and Navy of the United States.

Presidential Nominations Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed the following appointments: Joseph W. Fifer of Illinois to be a Commissioner of Inter-State Commerce; Frederick W. Wines of Illinois to be Assistant Director of the Census.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

The House yesterday, on motion of Mr. Grosvenor, (Rep., Ohio,) voted to print 5,000 copies of the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of the Addyston Pipe and Steel Company et al., appellants, vs. the United States, for the use of the House. This is the anti-trust decision of the Supreme Court.

The House was in session only half an hour yesterday, adjourning at 12:35 o'clock on the announcement of the death of Representative Greene of Nebraska.

An invitation was extended to the Senate yesterday, through President Pro-tem. Frye, to attend the George Washington centennial memorial services to be held in this city on Thursday, Dec. 14, under the auspices of the Improved Order of Red Men. Senator Depew is to deliver the oration upon the occasion.

Mr. Berry, (Dem., Ark.,) offered a joint resolution in the Senate yesterday in favor of the election of United States Senators by the people, and gave notice that at a later date he would address the Senate upon the subject.

The Senate will not be in session again until Monday.

Mrs. Sampson's Mother Dead.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Mrs. C. A. Burling, mother of Mrs. William T. Sampson, died at her home on Park Avenue in this city last night, aged seventy-six years. Her children, all of whom are living, are Mrs. William T. Sampson, wife of Admiral Sampson of the United States Navy; Mrs. Max Schopp of Bavaria, Germany; George W. Burling, and Mrs. Joseph Walker of this city. The arrangements of the funeral have not yet been completed. Admiral and Mrs. Sampson will come on from Boston to attend the funeral.

Ashes of Lynched Negro Buried.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 7.—Crowds of relic hunters and sightseers to-day crowded the Cricket Grounds, where Coleman was burned by a mob yesterday, but there was no disorder, and rumors that the militia would be called out were discredited. Coleman's ashes, incased in a baking powder can, were buried in Potter's Field to-day. Citizens of Maysville say that they do not believe the Grand Jury will attempt to indict the members of the mob.

OUR HOLIDAY OFFERING

Everything Pretty and Useful.

Handkerchiefs
Wool and Down Comfortables,
Real Lace Bed Spreads,
Tapestry Table Covers,
Portieres and Panels,
and a great variety of Silk Squares for Fancy Work.

McGibbon & Co.
Broadway and Nineteenth Street.

Electricity Is Life,

And silk being a non-conductor of electricity makes the best underwear as it retains the electric fluid in close contact with the body, increasing vitality, soothing the nerves, and acting as a strong but gentle tonic to the entire system.

KOTEDSILK

Is pure wool, knitted on the finest cotton, and forms the most hygienic underwear on the market.

KOTEDSILK UNDERWEAR CO., MILLBURY, MASS.
76 Leonard St., N. Y. City, and All Leading Stores.

The Fact—

is indisputable:

Roxbury Rye

is pure whiskey.

To-morrow Don't Fail to get a copy of THE NEW YORK TIMES and its SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

One hundred best books of this year will be classified and every one of them reviewed.

Forty pages in THE SATURDAY REVIEW alone to-morrow.

Here will be seen an extraordinary newspaper for One Cent.

ORDER IT TO-DAY. NEWSDEALERS ALWAYS SELL OUT EARLY.

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, DEC. 8, 1899.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
LONDON: Trafalgar Buildings, Trafalgar Sq., W. C.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Libraire Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.
GERMANY, Mainz: Saarbach's News Agency, Agency for Germany and Austria.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
SATURDAY, with Review of Books and Art, per Year	1.00
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

THE BANKER IN THE TREASURY.

The position of Secretary GAGE at the present time is somewhat peculiar and very interesting From the moment he took office he has been a consistent and eager advocate of legislation to establish beyond all question the gold standard and to maintain it with perfect steadfastness. On this vital subject he has been in advance of his chief, the President, and of the leaders of the majority in Congress. But he has not been in advance of the ground he has held for years, in common with all the intelligent members of his own calling, that of the banker. In his report this year he refers vigorously but briefly to the gold standard and devotes far the greater part of his space to the discussion of a bank currency. He is convinced that by virtue of the force of education to which he has largely contributed the country and its representatives are now ready to lay firmly and sustain unshaken the foundation of our currency. He turns to consider the structure that shall be erected thereon.

Regarded simply in its relation to any probable legislation at the present session, Mr. GAGE's study of the origin, nature, functions, and needs of the bank in modern society, and particularly in our own society, will have no immediate effect. No measures such as he shows are necessary, though he does not specifically recommend them, will be undertaken, and none would have any chance of success. Possibly the authority of the National banks to issue notes may be slightly increased by the removal of the absurd restriction to 90 per cent. of the par of bonds deposited, taxation may be reduced, and banks of smaller capital may be permitted, but these measures would not even approach the rational system that the Secretary of the Treasury has in view. They would admit only of a very limited advance toward the functions which he thinks that bank circulation can and should perform. They would not even touch the outer edges of the field that he believes banks should fully occupy. It is not with reference to these that he addresses Congress, nor is it with reference to any near action. He is planning for the future, and he takes this opportunity to lay before the country the fundamental facts and ideas which he thinks ought to control the policy of the future. To this task he brings the ample experience and the ripe judgment of the successful banker.

We have no hesitation in saying that Mr. GAGE's general idea of the work of the banks in our highly developed commercial organization is sound and that the full realization of the advantages of our enterprise and resources depends on a currency such as he outlines. With the standard of value exactly defined and solidly established and all the money issued or coined by the Government made equal to gold, we shall and do need a credit currency of absolute safety capable of meeting readily and surely the changing requirements of trade. As Mr. GAGE points out, far the greater part of the work of such a currency is performed by sight drafts on the credit of the banks, which credit is constantly adjusted to the values actually being exchanged. The function of this kind of currency practically covers all transactions between the producer and the consumer, as for instance in the case of grain, between the farmer and the retail seller of flour or bread. At every step of this progress the draft or the check is freely taken in payment. But there remain the transactions involved in the payment of labor and in direct purchases of relatively small amount in which money is required. At certain seasons these are greatly increased. The money is drawn from the banks for the purpose, the credit for which this money is the basis is contracted, and an artificial stringency is often caused. Mr. GAGE thinks that at such seasons the banks should possess the right to issue notes under conditions of entire security. On this point he is sustained by the experience of other countries and by the best judgment of the best authorities.

There is only one suggestion to be made as to the views of the Secretary as he presents them. In his eagerness to enforce the need of a bank currency at the present time he lays too much stress on its capacity to expand. That is important and valuable. It is not all, and it is not the most essential quality. A sound bank currency will also contract with the lessening of real use for it. If it will not it is not sound. No bank currency should be thought of for an instant in our country that does not possess in absolute certainty this quality. The gravest evil of our present rigid currency is not that it cannot be expanded to meet the annual requirements of the moving of the crops, but that it does not contract when there is no legitimate demand for it. It flows to the centres and causes an inflation of credits, and when it has again to flow out those credits must be contracted suddenly. The real mischief is in their too easy creation. The real remedy is in a currency that will not stimulate them. Nor is this difficult to devise. Mr. GAGE refers with admiration to some of the systems of State bank currency. The best of them was that of New England, with its note clearing at the Suffolk Bank. The simple and perfectly effective principle of this was that no bank was allowed to pay out over its counter the notes of another bank, and all kept with the Suffolk Bank a fund sufficient to redeem their notes when sent in, as they were sure to be, since no other bank could use them. The notes remained in circulation as long as they were employed in actual exchanges and no longer. That is as near a perfect bank currency as the history of trade reveals. In due time we shall reach it.

VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

The Constitutional functions of the Vice President are to preside over the Senate and to be handy by in case anything happens to the President. To these the late Vice President HOBART added the exercise of police powers of high utility. He took charge of cases of political vagrancy in the Senate and House. He laid down the law of wisdom to wavering members of the Chief Magistrate's official household and guided unsteady feet by the light of his business experience. He was a man used to large affairs placed among men used only to politics and the public service, and he did good.

There is much talk about the candidate to be nominated for the Vice Presidency to run with Mr. MCKINLEY next year. It is assumed that a New York man will be chosen. Secretary ROOT is mentioned, and so are Gov. ROOSEVELT, and ex-Secretary BLISS.

The Governor, it is insisted, would not accept the nomination. The place is too quiet for a man of his stirring habits. It would be a frightful solecism for the Vice President to get into a fight with anybody; and Col. ROOSEVELT is happiest when he fights. It is a necessity of his strenuous being. Besides, everybody believes that he has fixed his ambitious and expectant gaze upon the year 1904, and it is a tradition that the Vice Presidency is not a good place to start from in a Presidential race.

But why should anybody suppose that Mr. ROOT would be any more willing than the Governor to accept the nomination? A man elected to the office of Vice President is practically put away on the shelf. ELIHU ROOT is not a man to be shelved. It doesn't suit his temperament, his age, or his capacity. He is too active, too young, too able. Moreover, there is no law to restrain him, too, from looking ahead to 1904.

With Mr. CORNELIUS BLISS it is different. He loves a quiet life and is not known to be giving himself any uneasiness about the first place in 1904. He and Mr. PLATT appear to be on pretty good terms, so that he might expect to have the support of the New York delegation. Mr. MCKINLEY got along with him in the Cabinet—he would have no trouble in getting along with him in the remoter relation of Vice President. Altogether, there would seem to be a greater probability that the ticket will be MCKINLEY and BLISS than that either the Governor or Mr. ROOT will be the running mate.

The political necessity of coming to New York for the candidate for Vice President is not at present supreme. With BRYAN in the field at the head of an erring and impenitent Democracy, this State is surely Republican, even without a place on the ticket. It may be thought better politics to give the nomination to some fairly doubtful State than to waste it on a sure one.

GERMANY AND THE MESSAGE.

The reception, by official and unofficial Germany, of the cordial language of the President's message in respect to that power, must be as gratifying to Americans as the language itself has been to Germans. If there were no other reason for cordiality than that supplied by the large number of excellent citizens of German birth in this country, that would be quite sufficient. And even if it sometimes seems that a certain proportion of these citizens, by no means the majority of them, have been unable to rid themselves of the habit of looking at American politics from a German point of view, that is not the case with their children. These are as thoroughly American as if their ancestors had landed on these shores from the Mayflower or the Half Moon, while they still retain an affectionate interest in the "Forefatherland."

The suggestions which the President makes about the settlement of the question raised by Germany respecting our food exports are practical and sensible. But it would be rather innocent to assume that these objections are the real or the chief objections to the admission of these products. The sanitary objection is a pretense which the German Agrarian Party may believe to be a reality, but only because it will not take the trouble to investigate it. The real strength of the exclusion is the anger of the German industrials, who are in turn excluded from our markets, joined with the anger of the agriculturists, who are undersold in their own.

A concession, or a series of concessions, in our tariff to leading articles of German export would do more for the unobstructed admission of the leading articles of our export than the most complete system of sanitary precautions the human intellect could devise. Happily we have not shut ourselves off from such concession. The total absence of any reference to the tariff from the President's message, for nearly the first time within the memory of man, not only denotes a just perception, on the part of the President, that expansion and McKinleyism do not go together. It has the advantage of giving us something to trade with when we want commercial concessions from foreign nations. And it would not be surprising if we should conclude that the duties on some German goods are too high, nor Germany in turn should come to perceive that the rigor of her sanitary inspection of American products can safely be relaxed.

TUNNELS AND BRIDGES.

The natural action to have been taken by the Board of Estimate on the statement of the Controller, and on the engineering reports adduced by him in support of it, would have been the appointment of a commission as impartial as was compatible with competency to go into the whole matter. Such a commission, taking into view the prospective as well as the present needs of the greater city, could not fail to shed some very needful light upon the whole subject. The expert evidence adduced by the Controller went to show that to wait for such light, so far from being a waste of time, might result in an economy of time as well as of money.

What the Board of Estimate declined to do, the Controller alone dissenting, the Board of Public Improvements has now asked it to do, with no substantial opposition. A special consideration which had much weight with the Assembly, and which might have been expected to have much weight with the board, is the desirableness of some quicker and more direct communication between Manhattan Island and South Brooklyn, including the whole region from Gowanus Bay to the Narrows. Nobody has even proposed to make a bridge which will meet this requirement. But it is pointed out that a tunnel, on the line of the present Hamilton Ferry, can be readily constructed, at a cost which is loosely estimated at three millions, and that this line can be readily extended to Fort Hamilton, and thence, under the Narrows, to Staten Island. Without question, this would afford a more direct transit than can now be had to the region proposed to be reached. It was not only good sense, but "good politics" for the advocates of the investigation of the possibilities of tunnels to put this suggestion for the employment of them prominently forward.

But the aspects of the matter which concern the other transit between Manhattan Island and Long Island are even more interesting. It is certain that a great part of the longitudinal traffic of this island will within a few years be carried underground. It is evident that an underground system of lateral communication with the underground road would offer many important advantages. Some of these are adverted to in the reports of the engineers invoked by Mr. COLER. That we should use up all our available credit in building two bridges at a cost of thirty millions is not an attractive proposition in itself, except to persons who may have a private interest in the construction of these works. Certainly, if the result to be attained by them can be attained as efficiently and more cheaply, or as cheaply and more efficiently, by another means, it is to our interest to know that. And the Controller's engineers seem to make out at least a prima facie case for bridges as against tunnels, which should arrest the attention of the authorities and of the public. In one of the reports it is set forth that "the even distribution of traffic is better accomplished by multiplying the points of crossing than by the expenditure of huge sums on the construction of a few great structures designed to accommodate travel." Anybody can understand that. If it be true that we can have a tunnel at every highly eligible crossing for the same price for which we can have a bridge at a distance so far from another bridge as to concentrate and to congest traffic by diverting it from the most direct lines, then, other things being equal, we should be very unwise to prefer two bridges to four or more tunnels of an equal aggregate capacity.

Mr. PARSONS and Messrs. JACOBS and DAVIES insist that other things are not equal. The former has a standing as a special student of tunnels under ground and not under water, while the latter have actually built a tunnel under the East River, which, though not primarily intended for traffic, is to some degree available for traffic. The reports of these engineers constitute a prima facie case in favor of tunnels as against bridges and a conclusive case in favor of investigation. Backed up as these are by the action of the Board of Public Improvements, it is to be expected that the Board of Estimate will withdraw as gracefully as possible from the position which even the Mayor, at whose instance it was taken, must now perceive to be untenable.

THE KENTUCKY LYNCHING.

The murder by burning of the negro COLEMAN at Maysville, Ky., is an outrage so terrible and so shameful that it can only be explained as an outbreak of popular delirium.

Maysville is the county seat of Mason County, on the Ohio border, only some fifty miles from Covington and Cincinnati. It is a considerable town in a prosperous agricultural region, with a colored population of less than one in six. The negro had committed and confessed the double crime of assault and murder, he had been arrested, and was being taken to trial by the officers of the law when he was seized by a mob and burned at the stake amid demonstrations of brutality and barbarity of the most revolting character. There was, of course, not the slightest occasion or possibility for doubt that he would have been convicted of his crimes and would have received with the utmost promptness the full penalty fixed by law. His murder at the hands of the mob was not needed or intended to make sure that justice would be done. It was due in part to the feeling that the penalty fixed by law was inadequate to the offense and in part to a wild and uncontrollable thirst for vengeance aroused by the most infuriating of crimes. Underlying these motives and rendering them more savage was the mysterious and subtle and venomous race hatred instilled in the days of slavery. These motives in combination produced what must be called temporary insanity.

Whether this outrage will be followed by efforts to bring the authors of it to justice or in any way to prevent like occurrences in the future depends solely on the public opinion of Kentucky. Obviously nothing can be done by a trial before a jury of the vicinage. It is doubtful, whatever their legal powers, if the disposition of the State authorities will be such as to secure trial and punishment in another part of the State. Yet we cannot believe that a people like that of Kentucky will suffer in utter indifference the injury to their reputation among civilized communities which must follow the ignoring of such an event.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—When Mr. CHARLES MACRUM, late United States Consul at Pretoria, gets out into the open again he will have a lot of explaining to do, and as things look now he will have considerable difficulty in convincing the State Department officials and the general public that he has acted like a good American citizen. By clamoring for leave of absence at a time when an efficient representative at the Transvaal capital could serve high National interests, Mr. MACRUM has made what looks much like needless trouble, and has complicated a situation already sufficiently complex. He had an opportunity to do great things, to win for himself a name as honorable as that so well earned by the English Consul at Santiago in circumstances almost identical. Instead, he has been sending home frantic telegrams asserting the necessity of his presence in Washington. It is too soon, of course, to judge the motives which led to this singular action on Mr. MACRUM's part, for his restlessness may have been entirely creditable to him, but it is certainly a very queer case, and he cannot begin too soon the clearing up of the mystery. Meanwhile, it is only fair to say that the utmost confidence in Mr. MACRUM's courage and patriotism is expressed at his home in East Liverpool, Ohio, where he seems to be well known and liked. The theory held there is that the ex-Consul acted as he did because he had some information of vast importance to the Government which he did not dare to send even in cipher through the hands of the Transvaal and British censors. Mr. N. G. MACRUM, his father, a bank cashier, says: "I do not think my son left his post through fear; not one man in a thousand would do that. The statement that he wished to get leave of absence for domestic reasons would seem to be an error. His wife wrote at the beginning of hostilities that the hospitalities of two Consulates in Cape Colony had been offered them, and declined, and that she intended to stay and see the war through. My last letter from my son was dated Oct. 15. He said nothing about coming home, but said he had laid in provisions for a long siege." Altogether, the case is a most remarkable one, and it is still possible, though not easy, to hope that the country has not been disgraced by a cowardly or treacherous representative.

—It is distinctly unfortunate—to speak well within bounds—that a New York doctor should have reported the death of a child as due to "blood poisoning, superinduced by vaccination." Such a statement is obviously inaccurate, from a scientific point of view, and it is sure to be used as ammunition in the campaign which certain misguided individuals are conducting against a most beneficent operation. The blood poisoning of which this child presumably died may have followed vaccination, just as it might have followed any other abrasion of the skin, but after is not because, and Dr. COLE might well have worded his report in a way to prevent the ignorant and the fanatical from drawing a false and dangerous deduction. Statements lending themselves to such misinterpretation have been so numerous of late that it is becoming somewhat difficult to avoid the suspicion that they are the result of something less pardonable than carelessness. Only a few weeks ago there came a dreadful tale from up Yonkers way of a "death from vaccination" that turned out on investigation to have been due to stupid neglect of the most ordinary precautions against infection. More recently two children died in Malden, Mass., and again the report went forth that they were victims of the compulsory vaccination law. It turns out that one of these children died of pneumonia and the other of cerebro-spinal meningitis, and both before the vaccination had even begun to "take." Every one of these cases will figure as a murder in the anti-vaccination pamphlets, and many people of weak or misguided intelligence will be deceived by them, simply because some doctor misused the English language.

—A Berlin dispatch makes the interesting announcement that, by order of the Kaiser, everything governmental, from regimental flags to postal cards, will on Jan. 1 next be decorated in honor of the new century. Remembering the frequency and emphasis with which we have asserted that the day mentioned is the beginning, not of the new century's first year, but of this century's last year, we are naturally much disturbed by the receipt of a piece of news from which no other deduction can be drawn than that the Emperor of Germany and ourselves entertain divergent convictions as to what the word "century" means. The situation is a most embarrassing one—for us. Either we must admit that a century is a period of ninety-nine years—and really that is a horribly difficult thing to do—or else we must hold to our old opinion that a century is a period of 100 years, and what is that but to hint in the plainest way that we think the Kaiser has made a very stupid mistake about a very simple matter? It is not enough that we have on our side facts and reason, the authority of all dictionaries, and the support of every chronologer and historian that ever lived, to say nothing of the invariable understanding and custom of all lands and ages; against us there stands the solemn dictum of one who speaks—unless, awful thought! he is laboring under a somewhat ludicrous delusion—less as a mortal than as a divinity, and with a specially delegated right to claim instant and humble acquiescence from ordinary humans in all he deigns to tell them. We have firmly held our ground in regard to the beginning of the next century against dozens and scores of correspondents who, perhaps on advance information from Berlin, have sometimes ordered and sometimes implored us to ignore the plain facts in the case and join with them in pretending that ninety-nine years are a hundred. We never expected to confess that the question was one open to discussion. But now we are all at sea. The mighty Kaiser has issued his commands, and it would be distinctly impious to trust any longer to unassisted common sense.

—Boston's offer to permit there the landing of the coffee which so alarms the health officials of this city is a matter of considerable significance, from a commercial point of view, for it is obviously inspired by a desire to acquire a profitable business hitherto practically monopolized by New York. This complicates the situation, and beyond question should lead the Health Board to review its action with care; but to review is not necessarily to rescind, and the point to determine is not whether we are threatened with the loss of a certain amount of trade, but whether the public health would be appreciably endangered by the admission of coffee from a port where there have been several cases of the bubonic plague. The problem is not an easy one. The plague is a malady little less mysterious than terrible, and nobody can deny offhand the possibility that this or that article of merchandise may carry infection. But caution can be excessive as well as inadequate. The plague is distinctly a disease of places, and an epidemic of it is by no means the inevitable sequence of its importation into a given city. All the indications are that it cannot spread or even persist where the rules of modern sanitation are even moderately well observed. In Vienna direct contact with plague germs resulted in two or three deaths, but nobody else contracted the disease. In Oporto it gained a firmer foothold, but even there and in Santos its ravages have been comparatively slight. Cleanliness and good habits, municipal and personal, undoubtedly give vastly better protection than the strictest of quarantine regulations, which at best are relics of barbarism and ignorance, and only to be justified as a temporary substitute for something better. Of course we don't want to keep our coffee trade if we must take the plague with it; on the other hand, we should not pay a heavy price for safety we could have for nothing.

GENERAL NOTES.

The Canadian Department of Militia has recently sent fifty-three medals to Chicago to be distributed among ex-Canadians there who served in the Dominion's militia during the Fenian raids between 1866 and 1870.

* * *

The Baltimore Society of the Sons of the American Revolution has determined to erect a twenty-thousand-dollar monument in that city to the Maryland patriots who fought in the Revolution.

* * *

Frank R. Johnson of New Orleans has offered to be one of forty citizens to make up the sum of $100,000 for the improvement of the city's beautiful and extensive Audubon Park, notable especially for its magnificent oaks.

* * *

An old man of seventy years, a widower, who advertised for a wife in a Pennsylvania rural paper, is said to have received over a thousand replies from women in all parts of the country who were willing to become No. 2. He had lived apart from his first wife for forty years. She died two years ago.

* * *

It is the ambition of Iowa people to make their State the leader in manufactures in the Union. It now ranks thirteenth. "The State," The Chicago Tribune says, "has many advantages—a productive soil, great fields of good coal, and it is the centre of the world's greatest and best food-producing area. What Iowa needs is capital."

* * *

Two thousand persons sat all unconscious and listened to a lecture by Burton Holmes in a Chicago hall the other night while the firemen hastily put out a fire in a drug store immediately beneath them. The firemen were ordered to work quietly, but all the plate glass in the windows and doors of the store were cracked, and other loss to the amount of $5,000 was incurred.

NUGGETS.

Spry About It.

He—They say his wife drove him to drink.
She—Yes—and he lowered the record.—Chicago News.

Quite Ready to Acknowledge It.

"Clara, when you are in the wrong you never will acknowledge it."
"Yes, I will; only I'm never in the wrong."—Chicago Record.

Strong Proof.

Hettie—So you really think that George is in love with you?
Edith—Oh, I am sure of it. You should hear some of the mean things he says about you and the rest of the girls in our set.—Boston Transcript.

Mutual Quest.

Mrs. Speakermind (at a chrysanthemum show)—Why is there such a furor over such a commonplace flower as the chrysanthemum?
Everybody Else—That's just what we came to find out.—New York Weekly.

To Start the Conversation.

"Dear! Dear!" exclaimed the perplexed hostess. "I've got a whole roomful of guests who don't seem inclined to notice each other. Can't you suggest something to start a general conversation?"
"Yes," responded the cynical friend, "get somebody to sing."—Philadelphia Record.

TOMMY ATKINS TO MR. KIPLING.

From London Truth.

You've done us lots of kindness, Mr. Kipling, in the past;
You've taught that we are human, any how,
But I do not like the things as you have said of us the last—
No! it's jolly hard of you to slate us now.
I am a bloomin' Tommy, but I've saved a pound or two,
And I'm spliced to my old woman on the square;
So I take my pen in Africa to write those lines to you
For to say I do not think your words is fair.

Our job! Your job! Yours may bring most praise;
(Get two-fifty down for a song and give it all away!)
But whether one writes, or sings, or fights in these advertising days,
To boom yer work is the way to make it pay—pay—pay!

We're not all absent-minded, and our weaknesses is not Always those as you have pointed out so kind;
For lots of us is steady chaps, and some of us had got
Good characters, d'ye see, to leave behind.
There's some of us is rips, no doubt, there's some what drinks their pay,
And some what leaves their girls behind them, too,
But most of us is fair and square, whatever you may say,
Not a bit like that darned "Tommy" drawn by you.

Our job! Your job! Yours may bring most praise;
(Gets a hundred quid a week, and gives it all away!)
But whether one writes, or recites, or fights in these advertising days,
To boom yer job is the way to make it pay—pay—pay!

You're a kindly-hearted beggar, and your influence is great,
And there's thanks, I don't mind owning, due to you,
But it hurts a man who loves his shop, when them whose words has weight
Says things you know as well as him ain't true.
We thank you all for giving—whilst we're getting nasty raps,
It's well to know our wives and kids is right;
But you're giving, please remember, not to rips but honest chaps,
As is not a bit the worse because they fight.

Our job! Your job! Yours may bring most praise;
(Get what you like to ask for a tune, and give it all away!)
But whether one writes, or paints, or fights in these advertising days,
To boom yerself is the way to make it pay—pay—pay!

MUSIC HEARD YESTERDAY.

Mr. David Bispham's Song Recital at Mendelssohn Hall.

Mr. David Bispham, the popular baritone, gave a song recital yesterday afternoon at Mendelssohn Hall, with the assistance of Mr. Walter Damrosch, who presided at the piano. It is hardly necessary to say that the audience was one of large size. It would be remarkable, indeed, if two such favorites as Mr. Bispham and Mr. Damrosch could appear before a local audience of small number. The audience was not only large, but it was prolific in its applause, and it showed its pure humanity in no unmistakable manner by becoming tired when the concert wound up with a long and dreary piece of composition which is not likely to be heard again.

The programme consisted of Schumann's lovely cycle of songs called "Dichterliebe," Mr. Damrosch's "The World Well Lost," "First Love Remembered," "The Deserted Plantation," and "Danny Deever," and Liza Lehmann's cycle from Tennyson's "In Memoriam." The first and third of the songs by Mr. Damrosch were presented at the concert of his own works which he gave last Spring at the Astoria. The setting of Mr. Kipling's verses is familiar, and so is the setting of "Mandalay," which Mr. Bispham sang yesterday as an encore number to it. Of the songs of Mr. Damrosch heard yesterday, the present writer still confesses to a preference for the two settings of the Kipling poems.

The cycle of Liza Lehmann is an attempt to repeat the success of her "Persian Garden," but the attempt is not a successful one. It would be difficult to conceive anything more monotonous than this string of songs. The musical mood is the same throughout and the utter absence of fluent melody is remarkable. It can be accounted for only by supposing that the composer was desperately afraid of writing a phrase that some one had used before. This search after originality should no doubt be commended, but its results were so tiresome that one longed for the utterance of some old familiar musical thought, handed down the centuries from one master to another, and made respectable by age if not by anything else. Such music as "In Memoriam" is not to be endured, and it probably will not be. Mr. Bispham sang throughout the afternoon with intelligence and warmth, but it cannot be said that his declamation of the lines which Miss Lehmann set to a bit of melodrama at the close of her work was praiseworthy. The lines naturally suggested the cantillation treatment of Mr. Effangcon-Davies, but as a cantillator Mr. Bispham did not prove a shining success. But perhaps no one can succeed with this thing. The most satisfying portion of the concert was the performance of the Schumann cycle. In this Mr. Damrosch played the accompaniments in a manner altogether lovely, and in the presentation of Schumann songs such accompaniment is an essential factor.

THE NEW YORK STRING QUARTET.

Its First Concert Last Night at Knabe Hall.

The New York String Quartet, an organization which has played in other cities, but only once in any concert in this one so far as we can recall, gave its first concert last night at Knabe Hall. The members of the quartet are Bernard Sinsheimer, first violin; John Spargur, second violin; Jacob Altschuler, viola, and Modest Altschuler, 'cello. In the performance of the second number of their programme last night they had the assistance of Constantin von Sternberg, pianist. The list was composed of Beethoven's quartet in C major, Opus 59; Davidoff's quartet, Opus 40, for piano and strings, and the Tschaikowsky quartet in E flat minor. It is difficult to foretell the future of this young organization, though it may at once be said that its work last night showed earnestness and careful preparation.

In quality of tone the organization leaves something to be desired. The first violinist played out of tune a good deal of the time, and the 'cello was rough and heavy in timbre. The second violin seemed to be the best instrument of the four, and next to it ranked the viola. Thus the quartet presented the singularity of being weak at the top and bottom and strong in the middle. In dynamics the tone was well balanced, and the four players performed with unanimity of sentiment, though not with perfect precision. A little more individuality on the part of the first violin would give greater character to the playing. But perhaps the future performances of the four will show them in a better light.

Miss Wanda Koppel's Concert.

A very young singer named Wanda Koppel gave a concert last evening at Mendelssohn Hall, with the assistance of the Kaltenborn Quartet. Very young musical performers of all kinds are unnecessary and usually objectionable. They are perhaps more tolerable when they attempt anything other than singing. Adelina Patti sang in public when she was very young, and her example has produced unhappy results. Miss Koppel seems to be a child whose voice might in time come to something, but it is not likely to fulfill its promise under its present guidance. Her immaturity was displayed in a really painful manner last night, and the applause which she received could not fail to make the judicious grieve. It is an old and wise saying, which is nowhere more significant than in the world of music, that little children should be seen and not heard. In the intervals between the girl's songs the Kaltenborn Quartet played some light numbers. The "Declaration" from Raff's suite, Opus 192, was played neatly, but "The Mill," from the same work, was given roughly and in a muddled style.

Joseph K. Emmet a Bankrupt.

Joseph K. Emmet, the actor, who resides at 1,919 Seventh Avenue, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $17,070, and no assets except clothing, valued at $100, which is exempt. The debts were contracted from 1891 to 1896, and are for printing, royalties, salaries, borrowed money, clothing, and merchandise. There are thirty creditors, among whom are the Thomas & Wylie Lithographing Company, $3,598; Gillin Printing Company, $3,000; George H. Hart, $2,500, note and professional services; Sidney Rosenfeld, $900, royalties; Henry C. Miner, $616, borrowed money and a judgment; Eugene B. Savage, $678, on two judgments; Louise Sinnott, $200, salary; McGown sisters of Minneapolis, $300; Harry Stanwood, $350, yacht supplies. There are nine judgments against Mr. Emmet.

SOME CLEVER PHOTOGRAPHS.

Miss Zaida Ben-Yusuf, who has won deserved reputation during the past two or three years for her photographic work, has been giving an exhibition of some of her recent portraits, illustrations, and interiors at her new studio, 578 Fifth Avenue. Miss Ben-Yusuf, whose parentage is Algerian and English, is a woman of remarkable artistic temperament, and has, through cultivation of a natural love of the beautiful and a careful and close study of the technical side of photography, acquired an ability to select subjects, whether human or inanimate, and to so present them through the medium of the photographic lens as to make them more than mere records, as are most of the productions of the camera.

It is impossible to describe Miss Ben-Yusuf's work in detail. Among some hundreds of studies shown in her studio there are certain portraits, notably those of Gov. Roosevelt, Jacob Riis, and other well-known public men and artists and writers, and of prominent New York society matrons and maidens, which are not only good likenesses, but in their posing, expression, and a certain tonal quality are more pictures than photographs. Miss Ben-Yusuf is also happy in her rendering of interiors and her management of light and shade is skillful. She shows two views of her apartment that are especially good. Several of her best exhibits are familiar to readers and students of the magazines, and some figure subjects, for the most part Oriental maidens in clinging draperies and with dark lustrous eyes, are especially familiar, and will be viewed with renewed pleasure for their decorative and artistic effect.

To characterize Miss Ben-Yusuf's work as a whole, it may be said that she puts her soul into it, and that it thereby acquires a certain indefinable but yet unmistakable quality, which lifts it above ordinary photography.

Chinese Governor Dismissed.

PEKING, Dec. 7.—The Governor of the Province of Shan-Tung has been dismissed in consequence of his inability to deal with the anti-missionary troubles which have been rife throughout that Province. Yuan Shiska, formerly commander of the foreign-drilled brigade, has been appointed to succeed him.

German Labor Bill Passed.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The Reichstag to-day passed the third reading of the bill repealing the law prohibiting workmen's associations.

HOPES FOR CHINA'S FUTURE.

Chinese Minister in London Says New Appointment for Li Hung Chang Should Lead to Great Results.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Lo-Feng-Luh, the Chinese Minister, who presided this evening at the monthly dinner of the Article Club, at which Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, many other members of Parliament, and the Servian, Chilean, and Uruguayan Ministers were present, responded to the toast "The Development of British Trade in China."

"For the first time in 6,000 years," said the Chinese diplomatist, "commerce is represented in the Chinese Cabinet. I congratulate the Nation enjoying the largest share of Chinese trade upon the appointment of Li Hung Chang to this department, which, I believe, will lead to great and good results. Newspapers, steamships, and other modern innovations have grown upon China like the opium habit, until now the Chinese could not exist without them. I am confident that the foreign trade of China will soon reach £350,000,000 annually."

Lord Charles Beresford, who pointed out the "unlimited opportunities offered by the Chinese market," said that Great Britain's policy ought to be to maintain the "open door"—not to try to gain an advantage, but to secure equal opportunities for all. China's present weak state he characterized as a menace to the peace of the world." Lord Charles urged the necessity of reform in China, and deprecated an alliance with Germany, or with any other country, except, perhaps, Japan.

RUSSIA FOILED IN CHINA.

Great Success Has Attended Japanese Diplomacy Recently.

SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 9.—There is a radical change in the balance of power at Peking. It was the expectation in the East that Russia would seize the opportunity afforded by the British-Boer war to bring unusual pressure to bear on the effete Peking régime.

This was attempted, but thus far it has utterly failed, for a third party has appeared on the scene. Japan is undoubtedly in the confidence of the Empress Dowager, and Japan is utilizing the opportunity.

During the past week there has been a gathering of Japanese statesmen at Peking. Baron Hishi has been appointed Minister from Japan. He has had fifteen years' experience as Japanese Minister at St. Petersburg, and is in the first rank of Japanese statesman. M. Yano has resigned as Minister to Peking, and, at the direct request of the Empress Dowager, he has been appointed "Foreign Adviser" to the Chinese Government. Prince Konoye of Japan, a man of mark, is also in China, being feasted by the leading Viceroys.

In this connection it is well to bear in mind the name of Prince Tuan of Peking, known as the "Fifth Prince." He seems to be a Manchu who has brought about this cordial co-operation with Japan. He is the brother of the late Prince Kung, who was known as the "Sixth Prince."

There are at Peking two opposing factions, each striving for the Dowager's goodwill. Jung Lu, the famous General, who was instrumental in dethroning the Emperor, heads one faction, and Prince Ching, who is President of the Tsung-li-Yamen, is the leader of the other. These men are at swords' points. But Prince Tuan now looms up as the neutral between these factions, and the man who has been able to bring Japan into the Peking councils to such effect that Russia is at present checkmated.

BERLIN COMMERCIAL MUSEUM.

Movement to Establish One on the Philadelphia Model.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Since the return of the German delegates to the Philadelphia Exposition deep interest has been manifested here in the plans for founding a commercial museum in Berlin upon the Philadelphia model. The Bureau for the preparation of Commercial Treaties, which is a private organization of manufacturers, held a meeting to-day and decided to draw up a plan for presentation to the Government, expecting to get a large appropriation.

Herr Rosbergrekow, the Bureau's General Manager, said in the course of an interview this afternoon that three divisions were intended, namely, management, collections and information. The promoters will try to establish relations with the Philadelphia Museum. It is estimated that the annual expense will be about 250,000 marks.

Other organizations are moving in the same direction. On Dec. 15 the Industrial League will hold a meeting, representatives of the Government attending, to deliberate regarding the establishment of a museum.

Herr Rosbergrekow has delivered an address before the Society of Berlin Merchants and Manufacturers upon the Philadelphia Congress and Museum, in the course of which he spoke with enthusiasm of American achievements in manufacturing and in the export trade. The invention and organizing talent of America," he said, will play an enormous role in the world's trade. We Germans must bestir ourselves in order to keep even.

"American manufacturers, however, have developed one-sidedly. Many branches are neglected. But when the Americans once take up a new branch they will knock out European methods. The Information Bureau of the Philadelphia Museum is most admirable, and already exercises an influence upon the whole world, although only founded in 1894."

NEW PERUVIAN CABINET.

Old Ministers Insist Upon Resigning, Despite President's Wish.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 7.—The Ministry, which tendered its resignation Dec. 2, owing to the attitude of the Chamber of Deputies, and which resignation President Romana refused to accept, insists upon resigning. Therefore it is now probable that the President will to-morrow appoint the following Cabinet:

President of the Council of Ministers and Minister of Justice—Dr. Garcia Calderon.
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Senhor Eleodoro Romero.
Minister of Home Affairs—Senhor Mariano Belaunde.
Minister of War—Senhor Meliton Carbajal.
Minister of Finance—Senhor J. H. Pena Costas.
Minister of Public Works—Senhor Augustin Tovar.

FRENCH CHURCH FUNDS VOTED.

Socialists Opposed Public Worship Credits Unsuccessfully.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day there was a lively discussion on the subject of the credits for the Ministry of Public Worship. The Socialists opposed the various credits. M. Bernard, Nationalist, amid tumult, moved the separation of Church and State. The Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, opposed the motion, which was defeated by 328 to 128 votes.

M. Chauviere, Socialist, then proposed to suppress the entire credits, which motion was rejected by 388 noes to 189 yeas, and M. Waldeck-Rousseau's motion to re-establish the credits for the stipends of the Bishops and Clergy, which the Budget Commission suppressed, was then adopted, by 322 to 194 votes.

FRENCH TREASON TRIAL.

M. Lepine Testifies that the Three Leagues Acted in Concert.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—In the Senate, sitting as a high court to-day, M. Blanc, the former Prefect of Police, testified that M. Deroulede and M. Guerin received money from the Royalists, at which M. Guerin vehemently protested, and asked M. Blanc to give instances of such payments. The witness thereupon admitted that he only possessed moral proofs.

The former Prefect of Police, M. Lepine, testified that the investigations he had made convinced him that the three leagues acted in concert in their demonstrations, which, he added, were very dangerous, as arms had been found on the demonstrators.

M. Millerand and the Socialists.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—After a stormy debate, lasting two days, on the subject of the acceptance by M. Millerand of the portfolio of Minister of Commerce in the Bourgeois Cabinet, the Socialist Congress has adopted a compromise resolution admitting that it might under certain circumstances, be advisable for a Socialist to accept such a portfolio, but that, as a general rule, Socialists should only hold posts to which they are elected.

AGUINALDO GOING SOUTH

Said to be Planning a Campaign in Cavite Province.

THREE AMERICANS DESERT

Now with the Insurgents—The Operations in the North—Major Batchelor's Daring Expedition.

MANILA, Dec. 7.—The expectation of catching Aguinaldo in the north has been practically abandoned, and the probability now is that he will turn southward, if he is not already there, with his destination Cavite Province, his home, where the insurrection began and where it still has its greatest strength.

The Filipino soldiers in Cavite Province have recently been showing increased enthusiasm and boldness, and captured insurgents say that Aguinaldo is coming to join them with a large army. The same belief prevails among the natives at Manila and elsewhere that Aguinaldo intends to make his headquarters in Cavite Province.

There are 3,000 insurgents before Imus and Bacoor, keeping the Americans sleeping on their arms and nightly awaiting attack. The Filipinos have several cannon. The first Mayor of Imus under the American régime, who ultimately deserted, is their leader in the assaults, and is ambitious to take the town.

Three soldiers of the Fourth Infantry have deserted, and are now with the enemy.

Most of the inhabitants of Imus are so strong in their sympathies with the insurgents that it is necessary to use a part of the regiment to patrol the streets and to prevent shooting from houses whenever an attack begins.

The American forces in the north have separated into many small commands, and are pursuing bands of Filipinos. Gen. MacArthur is engaged in clearing the mountain country west of the Manila-Dagupan Railroad. Gen. Grant is moving from Angeles toward Subig with 400 men. Col. Bell is sweeping south from Mangatarem. Thus far the American commanders have been unable to locate large bodies of insurgents, although there were about five hundred in San Clementine, nine miles south of Mangatarem, early in the week.

Col. Hood, with the Sixteenth Regiment and cavalry, and Gen. Lawton, with a force from San Isidro, are operating against Gen. Pilar's army in the San Mateo Valley.

Major Batchelor, with a battalion of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, is making a daring expedition. He left Bayombong, Province of Nueva Viscaya, a week ago, to march through Cagayan Valley to the north coast of Luzon, intending to reach Aparri, at the mouth of Cagayan River, the most important northern seaport of the island. While no large forces are known to be in his path, it may be that he has had some fighting, although the friendliness of the inhabitants is counted upon to help him. When he arrives at Aparri he will find a gunboat awaiting him.

The Spanish prisoners in the Benguet region are escaping from the Filipinos and are flocking into Vigan. Several hundred are there already, and a steamer will go to bring them to Manila.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Gen. Otis has cabled to the War Department as follows, under date of Dec. 5, respecting the military situation in Luzon:

"In Central Luzon there is no insurgent force of importance except in Bulucan Province, near the mountains, where Gen. Pilar holds together 1,000 or more men, who will be attacked soon. Gen. Grant has moved a small column down the east coast of Bataan Province, encountering little opposition.

"A column moving westward from the mountains is expected to reach the western coast of Luzon on the 10th inst. Many small insurgent armed bands are in the country robbing and in some instances, murdering the inhabitants, which are being pursued by troops quite successfully. To the south of Manila the insurgents still maintain their positions, but the necessary force to scatter them will be sent there soon."

GEN. YOUNG HEARD FROM.

He Found a Force of Insurgents at Harbacan and Drove Them Back.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—To the relief of the War Department Gen. Young has been heard from after a week's absence in the interior of Luzon. Gen. Otis cabled this morning as follows:

"Gen. Young reports his arrival at Vigan on the evening of the 5th, having encountered the force of the enemy at Narbacan, twelve miles out of the city, whom he drove to the eastward of the same into San Quentin Canyan. His troops are now pressing them back. Country is extremely rough and strongly intrenched. About 600 prisoners who escaped reported that the insurgents allowed all but the American and prominent Spanish prisoners to escape from Bangued. Later the insurgents were driven back into the mountains. Will send transportation with subsistence and medical supplies to Vigan to-morrow to bring the prisoners to Manila and to supply Young's troops with necessary quartermaster's supplies.

"Our casualties were one killed and twelve wounded; wounds mostly slight. Enemy left in trenches twenty-five dead, a few rifles, several thousand rounds small ammunition and forty shrapnel. Young has sufficient trepos to meet all difficulties."

MANAUENSE NOT REPAIRED YET.

The Rosario Goes Ashore on Rocks Near Mampulugan.

MANILA, Dec. 7.—The transport Manauense, which arrived here from San Francisco Nov. 28, after a terrible voyage, was scheduled to start for home to-day with discharged and sick soldiers. A large force has been employed in repairing her machinery, but it was impossible to get her in condition to leave to-day, and her departure was postponed until next week. Her Captain has secured a crew of Chinese at Hongkong to take her to San Francisco.

The steamer Rosario, chartered by the Government to bring a load of cattle from the Island of Mampulugan to Iloilo, left Iloilo on Monday, and went ashore on the rocks near Mampulugan. Her crew and passengers were saved and taken to Negros.

The transports Olympia and Pennsylvania arrived to-day.

AMERICAN OFFICER KILLED.

Mutiny of Native Police in One of the Towns of Negros.

MANILA, Dec. 7.—There has been a mutiny of native police in one of the towns of the island of Negros. An American officer was killed.

No particulars have yet been received.

Filipino Boy Lost from Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 7.—Former Lieutenant Colin H. Ball, who swam the Bagdad River with Gen. Funston, is in the city searching for the little Filipino boy who came from Mayia as the Twentieth Kansas mascot. Lieut. Ball took the young insurgent to his home in Sedan for the purpose of educating him, but the boy tired of school and ran away the day before yesterday. It is thought that he is headed for Washington, and if he is not found here a watch will be kept for him at Chicago and St. Louis. He is a remarkably bright lad and speaks English a little.

GEN. WOOD MAY GOVERN CUBA.

Believed that He Will Succeed Gen. Brooke—General Officers to be Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Gen. Leonard Wood had a conference with the Secretary of War to-day respecting his future. While neither of the principals had anything to say for publication as to the conclusions reached, it is gathered that Gen. Wood is to be the next Governor of Cuba, succeeding Gen. Brooke, who will return to the United States.

It is expected that the military force in Cuba will be greatly reduced in the near future, so that, while Gen. Wood will, by commanding the troops remaining, be a Military Governor, there will be so little left of the military establishment that his office will be much more civil than military, in fact. The reduction in force will enable the War Department to withdraw some or perhaps all of the general officers of the regular army in Cuba.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 7.—The report of the promotion of Gen. Wood to the rank of Major General, and of his probable appointment as Governor of the island, was bulletined at the Cosmopolitan Club this afternoon. The Americans and foreigners are much gratified. The Cuban patriots, however, express a fear that this new move may mean permanent occupation. At a meeting of the Cuban clubs, held after the news was received, several speakers complimented Gen. Wood highly, but criticised the President's policy.

A meeting of the Antonio Maceo Club is being held to-night to discuss the situation. This club represented the colored party, the strongest political organization in the island. Gen. Quintin Bandera, leader of the party, is President.

CHORUS GIRLS IN BONDAGE.

Action Brought Against Sire Brothers by a London Firm Discloses a System of Virtual Servitude.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—A suit just brought before Judge Cole in the United States Circuit Court, in this city, and dismissed for want of jurisdiction, has all the elements for a sensational hearing if it ever comes to trial. It was in the nature of a bill in equity brought by John Tiller and George Sheldon of London, under the firm name of Tiller & Co., praying that Sire Brothers be declared indebted to the complainants in the sum of $3,710 for the alleged breaking of an agreement relative to the employment of eight girls known as "mascots," who are appearing at the Columbia Theatre, in this city, and who are in the employ of Sire Brothers.

The Tiller Company has an establishment in London for the fitting of girls for the stage. They are taught dancing and singing, and as soon as they are considered competent to perform the duties required of them, the company secures engagements for them individually, or in groups, in theatres all over the world. Hundreds of theatres are said to be thus supplied. The girls are in a state of virtual servitude, subject to the will of their masters, and compelled to go wherever they send them. When employment is obtained for them a large percentage of their salaries goes to the masters, and is paid directly to them by the person who contracts for the girls' services.

The arrangement is one sanctioned and protected by law, and care is taken to accept only such pupils as are either by themselves or their guardians competent to make contracts for the sale of their services.

L. S. Sire of Sire Brothers, when seen at the New York Theatre last night, said that sometimes girls are hired from masters and brought over to this country in numbers. "In England," he said, "there are schools for chorus and ballet girls, and these girls are bound to the masters for certain periods. The masters give the girls enough to live on, and get all of the money. They practically own the girls for the time. The girls get some advantage, as they are poor girls, and in this way are able to get an education.

"The system is common in England, and the hiring of girls from these masters for the purpose of bringing them to the United States does not conflict with any contract labor law, as it comes under the artists' law.

"The Boston suit was dismissed, partly because the plaintiff did not properly represent the London firm, and partly because we did not owe the latter anything."

"BARBARA FIDGETY" A "GO."

The Weber and Fields Travesty of Fitch's Play.

There is a great deal of real fun in the travesty of Clyde Fitch's "Barbara Frietchie," which was presented for the first time at Weber & Fields's Music Hall last night, as the second part of the entertainment. Some of the fun is of the simplest and most obvious sort, of course, but nearly all of it hits the mark. The "slippery day" stairs of the old comic pantomimes are used, with extraordinary effect, in the scenes in the hallway of the old Maryland mansion, and the acting of Charles Ross in this episode, as the defeated carpet-bagging candidate for Mayor, who returns from electioneering much the worse for alcohol, has the mocking spirit of true parody.

The scene in the parson's house, in which Mr. Weber and Mr. Fields are stationed at the windows to throw the furniture at opposition voters on the sidewalk, is equally amusing. In the first scene the sidewalk and stoops, the moon, and the piano playing of Barbara, which drives the neighbors frantic, are reproduced with appropriate touches of caricature. The drinking saloon next door but one to the Frietchie house is an original feature, of much value to Mr. Fields and Mr. Weber, as the thirsty deserters from the Republican cause.

The girls are as dainty and pretty as those in the original play, but they say some very queer things. Their disposition to walk in the cemetery is made much of.

Warfield imitates the mad boy with surprising results. Peter Dailey and John Kelley are very rummy old "Colonels," and Mabel Fenton looks something like Miss Marlowe and imitates her acting as well as need be.

The chorus, as political boys in blue and boys in gray, is both useful and ornamental, while Stromberg's music is as good as ever.

Edgar Smith wrote the parody of Clyde Fitch's dialogue, and his burlesque is called "Barbara Fidgety." It will be a great "go."

RICHARD MANSFIELD'S PLANS.

To be Seen in Six Plays During the Next Four Weeks.

Richard Mansfield has definitely announced his plans for the next four weeks of the engagement at the Garden Theatre. His first revival will be "Beau Brummell." There will be seven performances, beginning Monday evening.

The following week, beginning Monday, Dec. 18, the first three nights will be devoted to "The Merchant of Venice," on Thursday evening "Prince Karl," Friday "A Parisian Romance," Saturday matinée "Prince Karl" again, and for the Saturday evening performance "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Christmas week "The First Violin" will be revived, with the probabilities of the play being given for an additional week.

OPERATIC NOVELTIES PROMISED.

American Theatre to be Closed a Week for Their Preparation.

Manager Kingsbury has decided to close the American Theatre during the week of Dec. 18 in order to make the necessary preparations for a series of novelties which the Castle Square Opera Company will produce early in the new year.

A spectacular presentation of Milloecker's "Beggar Student" will be the Christmas week attraction, and the first metropolitan production of Jakabowski's "La Tarantella" has been postponed because of the delay in the manufacture of the scenic settings and costumes.

Carver B. Cline in a Hospital.

Carver B. Cline, theatrical manager, who disappeared from his home, 128 West One Hundred and Fourth Street, last Monday, has been found, and is now lying in Flower Hospital. For many weeks past Mr. Cline has suffered from overwork, and a disease located in his ankle. The dread of an impending surgical operation and prostration are believed to have unbalanced his mind. He walked into Flower Hospital late Wednesday night and asked to be admitted. He had been there before, and Mrs. Cline was notified of her husband's arrival at the hospital.

DROVE FAR TO BE MARRIED.

Virginia Couple Flees to Escape Parental Opposition.

Special to The New York Times.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 7.—A marriage at midnight at the leading hotel here last night was witnessed by many guests of the house. Charles Viar and Miss Maggie Hall of Charlotte, Va., a member of an old Virginia family, drove thirty miles over the Blue Ridge to escape parental opposition. A clergyman was aroused from bed to marry them.

The bride is a typical Virginia beauty. They started for home to-day to seek forgiveness.

Reception to Americans in Berlin.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Miss Norfolk gave a reception to-day in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Chisholm of Cleveland, who with their three daughters are in Berlin on a pleasure trip.

WAR ON SUNDAY PAPERS

Seven-Day Journalism Called Foe of Church and State.

REFORM ASSOCIATION'S BELIEF

A Formal Resolution of Condemnation at the Close of the Annual Convention.

The convention of the National Reform Association, which has been in session at the Broadway Tabernacle, closed yesterday. A resolution condemning "Seven-Day Journalism" was unanimously adopted. It formed one of a series of resolutions denouncing alleged evils and grew out of a discussion of that particular topic, the chief feature of the day. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That one of the most insidious and dangerous foes of the Sabbath in the life of the individual, the family, the church, and the State is the seven-day journalism with which our land, more than any other portion of the earth, is cursed; and that it is the present imperative duty of our Christian citizens and the American churches to unite in a determined effort to render our land as free as is Great Britain from this acknowledged evil.

The addresses introducing the newspaper phase of the question of "Sabbath desecration" were delivered in the afternoon by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Burrell of this city, and the Rev. J. M. Foster of Boston.

Dr. Burrell declared that where there was no Sabbath there was no home, and that the increasing tendencies toward a European Continental Sunday evident in this country boded ill for religious life, and was a danger that every influence should be exerted to check.

The Rev. Mr. Foster said that the Sabbath was the very heart of the decalogue; without it the moral order would fall in confusion. The speaker insisted upon the necessity of this weekly day of rest. He thought that work on the railroads, in the Post Offices, and elsewhere on Sundays was quite unnecessary, and that Sunday newspapers ought to be boycotted. "If," said he, "the Christian people would not buy and read the Sunday newspaper on the Sabbath, and would refuse to advertise in it, the paper would die here, as it did in London."

The General Government, he thought, should sustain the States in suppressing the Sunday newspaper, the Sunday excursion, the Sunday parades, the Sunday theatres, and the Sunday art gallery.

At the evening session the discussion was confined entirely to an onslaught on Sunday newspapers. The Rev. Dr. H. H. George of Beaver Falls, Penn., in beginning the discussion, said he had had letters from 300 colleges and from 150 ministers opposing Sunday newspapers.

"Those who are forcing the Continental Sabbath upon us," he continued, "are atheists, and infidels, and Socialists, and Anarchists, and restless, greedy, money-loving lawbreakers generally, and as a working force in breaking down a Christian Sabbath, we do not hesitate to put a Sunday newspaper.

"No greater foe has the Church, the Sabbath school, and religious services to-day than the Sunday newspaper. It breaks the law of Christ. It breaks the law of the Apostles. It breaks the law of the Church. It breaks the law of the State."

Dr. M. D. Kneeland, Secretary of the New England Sabbath Protective League, said that the Sunday newspaper was an unnecessary nuisance. He advocated the organization of an anti-Sunday newspaper association.

Dr. I. W. Hathaway, General Secretary of the American Sabbath Union, said he had tested the question before the councils of the great Christian bodies and found that they were unanimously against the Sunday newspaper.

Dr. David McAllister of Allegheny, Penn., said: "I charge upon the Sunday newspaper the crime of being one of the greatest agencies in overcoming the fear of the living God."

At the morning session addresses were delivered by Prof. D. B. Wilson of the Theological Seminary of Allegheny, Penn.; the Rev. Dr. R. C. Wylie of Pittsburg, Penn., and by the Rev. Dr. A. C. Dixon on "The Liquor Traffic Before the Throne of Christ."

Dr. Dixon said that the real solution of the question is the salvation of the voter, of the man who votes the liquor ticket.

Among the resolutions adopted by the convention were those against lynch law, polygamy, and the suppression of control of the marriage relation by ecclesiastical authorities in the Philippine Islands.

The convention adjourned after a vote of thanks to Dr. Jefferson, pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle; the newspaper reporters present, and those newspapers which had published accounts of the convention's work.

FIFTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIANS.

Congregation May Vote Next Sunday on the Call to Mr. Morgan.

The meeting of the session of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church held last night did not result, so far as could be learned, in the expected definite conclusion to put before the congregation for approval the name of the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of London for pastor to succeed the late Rev. Dr. John Hall. Instead, it was announced, a committee was appointed to "look further into the matter" and report at some future time.

At the close of the meeting H. Edwards Rowland said that the special committee would either report to the session at its next meeting or to the congregation direct. The latter course, he said, might be taken next Sunday. The names of the members of the committee were not made public. It was intimated by Mr. Rowland that the duty of the committee would be to gauge the sentiment of the congregation as a whole in the matter and learn the precise extent of the reported opposition to Mr. Morgan. It is generally believed that the congregational vote will be taken next Sunday.

WAR SURGEON SENT TO PRISON.

Dr. H. Baxter Wilson Placed Among the Criminal Insane.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Dr. H. Baxter Wilson was sent to-day to the Chester Asylum for Insane Criminals. Dr. Wilson was recently convicted of burglary. He was alleged to have broken into rooms at the Saratoga Hotel and to have stolen an overcoat. He had been, just prior to that, released on a suspended sentence, having been arrested for the theft of a trunk from the same hotel. He escaped to California with the trunk, which belonged to a traveling man, but a detective brought him back. He had opened an office in a small town and began practice of medicine.

Dr. Wilson acknowledged he has been confined in an asylum for the insane in New York because of his use of morphine, but he was released with the understanding that friends in the East would take care of him. He did not return to New York, and was soon arrested for the second theft. Dr. Wilson was once a well-known physician in New York.

He had in his cell in the county jail a letter which he was fond of reading and re-reading daily. It was written to him by Gov. Roosevelt, and certified to the fact that the bearer had been a surgeon in the Rough Riders.

TURNS OVER HER PROPERTY.

Mrs. Haskell Gives It for Charities, Reserving a Life Interest.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—An instrument was recorded with the Cook County Recorder to-day by which Caroline E. Haskell of Michigan City, Ind., conveys to the Chicago Title and Trust Company of Chicago, as trustee, property at 236 and 238 Monroe Street, in consideration of $1, and the fulfillment of several conditions. The company is to see to the care of the property and pay to Mrs. Haskell the net income therefrom during the course of her natural life.

Upon her death the proceeds are to be distributed as follows: The Congregational Church Building Society of Chicago, $10,000; the Congregational Church of Michigan City, $10,000; the Humane Society, $10,000; the Seven Day Adventist Medical Missionary and Benevolent Association of Battle Creek, Mich., $10,000, for the purpose of endowing the Haskell Orphanage Home of that city; Mrs. Caroline Reed of Chicago, $10,000; the Rev. John Henry Barrows and wife or descendants, $10,000; the University of Chicago, $10,000; to promote and extend the study and teaching of the Bible and preferably the study of Oriental literature in relation to the Bible and Christian teaching; the residue to the Trustees of Oberlin College for the use of the college.

The property is valued at $100,000 for the land and $47,100 for improvements.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

Coming-out receptions, teas, and recitals and fairs were the order of the day again yesterday. The day brought less of incident than its predecessors of the week. The season has certainly begun with a rush of small events, and a study of the character and atmosphere of these events and a list of those who attend them would seem to evidence that the Winter is to be one in which the members of numerous little sets are to enjoy entertaining and entertainment by and for each other.

***

It is already clearly evident that, as in past Winters, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday will be the days most favored for entertaining, and that society will rest as far as possible on Mondays and Fridays. For to-day there are no receptions of any note scheduled, and the only event will be the annual fair for the Throat, Nose, and Lung Hospital in the Astoria Ballroom this afternoon and evening. The title of this affair recalls one of Du Maurier's most amusing dialogues, topped of course by a characteristic illustration, in which one London belle says to another, "Are you going to the Eye and Ear to-night?" to have the latter reply, "No; we are going to take in the Throat and Nose." The hospital, however, for which the fair of to-day is to be held, despite its suggestive but appropriate name, is one of the most deserving in the city, and it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance, and that a consequent goodly addition will be made to the hospital's funds.

***

The fair held yesterday in the small ballroom of the Waldorf for the benefit of the New York Diet Kitchen Association was successful. Mrs. E. M. Cook and Mrs. Joseph W. Tilton were at the cake table, Mrs. S. Y. Brown and Mrs. B. Cary had the candy table, and at the fancy table were Mrs. August Lewis, Mrs. Adolph Lewis, Mrs. Kuhne, Mrs. Degener, Mrs. McMichael, Mrs. Frank Russak, Mrs. Rusch, and Miss Schweib. The Alaskan table was presided over by Mrs. Henry Villard, Sr., assisted by Mrs. Henry Villard, Jr., and Mrs. C. A. Spofford. At the table for toys were Mrs. William R. Brown, Mrs. Worrall, Mrs. Hinsdale, Mrs. Pomeroy, and Mrs. Pilkington. Miss Metcalf, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Cary, and Mrs. I. B. Cook had the "useful" table. The two little Misses McMichael had charge of the Christmas tree. The Diet Kitchen Association, of which Mrs. Henry Villard is President, furnishes pure milk and other dietary food to the suffering poor, and is indorsed by leading physicians. Mrs. Myrick Plummer was the manager of this fair.

***

Mrs. C. Du Bois Wagstaff gave yesterday afternoon at her residence, 15 West Twenty-first Street, a coming-out reception for her daughter, Miss Mary Wagstaff. With Miss Wagstaff there received Miss Harriet Delafield, Miss Pansy Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Du Bois, Miss Jean Brown, Miss Hopeton Atterbury, Miss Florence Bates, and Miss Hittie McL. Fowler. Mrs. Henry Gribble, Miss Wagstaff's aunt, also assisted in receiving. Miss Wagstaff's gown was of white mousseline de soie, with white satin, and Mrs. Wagstaff's costume was of gray satin and white lace. The decorations were principally of pink roses. Baskets as well as bouquets of them were scattered about the parlors.

***

Mrs. Beverly Robinson of 42 West Thirty-seventh Street gave a reception yesterday afternoon to introduce her daughter, Miss Pauline Robinson, who was among the dancers at the Junior Cotillon on Tuesday evening, and who, from her family's name and position, is one of the most prominent débutantes of the Winter. A number of young girls, also débutantes, received with Mrs. Robinson and Miss Robinson.

***

The Thursday Evening Club held its first meeting for the season at the residence of Mr. James H. Dunham, 37 East Thirty-sixth Street, last evening. The guests were received by the Misses Dunham, daughters of the host. It is the custom of the Thursday Evening Club to give a different entertainment at each meeting. This is arranged by the host or hostess, members of the club, who entertain the club in turn. Last evening at Mr. Dunham's M. Paul Wiallard gave several French monologues and recitations, including selections from Eugene Manuel, Victor Hugo, de Jussieu, Ed. L'Huillier, and Paul Bilhaud. Afterward the Mannes String Quartet rendered Schumann's movement in A minor, Op. 41, No. 1, and from Haydn Op. 74, No. 3, in G minor. The attendance, which is always a representative one, was much larger than usual at the first meeting of the season.

***

The wedding of Signor Roderico Lanti de la Rovera, son of the Duca Lanti de la Rovera, and Miss Susan Tilghman, daughter of Mrs. Richard Tilghman of Philadelphia, will be celebrated at the country residence of Mrs. Tilghman at Bryn Mawr, near Philadelphia, about Jan. 16 or 17. As the Tilghman family are in deep mourning, the wedding will be a quiet one, and the bride and bridegroom will immediately after the ceremony sail for Italy, where they will reside at the country place of Signor de La Rovera's mother, about thirty miles from Rome, and one of the show places of Italy. The mother of the bridegroom was an American, Miss Davis of New York, and his father, the Duke, married also for his second wife an American. The family of de la Rovera is one of the oldest in Italy, and has had two Popes and several Cardinals in its history. It has always been renowned for its loyalty to the Papal See, and is entirely identified with the "blacks" in Rome. The bride is to become a Roman Catholic before the wedding. The Tilghman family to which she belongs is one of the oldest in America. They trace their descent as far back as the reign of Edward III., and came first to America in 1664. The founder of the Philadelphia family—for the original Tilghmans originally landed in Maryland—was Edward Tilghman, cousin of Chief Justice Tilghman, who came to Philadelphia in 1760, and married a daughter of Chief Justice Chew.

***

A "poppy" fête will be given at the Holland House this afternoon and evening from 2 to 10 P. M. The fête will be under the auspices of the Daughters of the King, and the proceeds will be given to the foreign and city mission work of the society. Christmas articles of all sorts will be for sale. Thousands of poppies will be used in ornamenting the rooms, and the many young women who will manage the affair will all be dressed in white, and wear hats trimmed entirely with poppies.

***

Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer gave a large musicale at their residence, 257 Madison Avenue, last evening. The musicale began at 10 P. M. Miss Clara Butt, Mrs. MacDougall, David Bispham, and Victor Beigel were the artists, who interpreted a well selected programme. A supper followed the musicale.

***

Mr. and Mrs. William Macneven Purdy, who were married last winter, have issued cards for a reception at their residence, 32 East Sixty-third Street, on Thursday afternoon next, Dec. 14. Mrs. Edward Hastings Ripley, who was Miss Amelia Van Doren, and who married Gen. Ripley of Vermont, will give a reception at her residence, 76 Park Avenue, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 16, to introduce her daughter, Miss Alice Van Doren Ripley.

***

Mr. Heber R. Bishop, it is reported, has sub-let from Lord Wilton the English property known as Houghton Hall in Norfolk, owned by Lord Cholmondeley. The preserves of Houghton Hall, which is near Sandringham, are said to be among the best stocked in England, and the Prince of Wales will probably visit Mr. Bishop and enjoy the shooting with him.

***

The sudden death of Mrs. Frederick J. Kingsbury, which occurred at the residence of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Curtis, 14 West Twentieth Street, yesterday, throws a large family connection into mourning. Mrs. Kingsbury, who lived in Waterbury, Conn., was an aunt of Dr. Holbrook Curtis, Mr. Kingsbury Curtis, who married Miss Hare, and Mr. William E. Curtis, and the mother of Mr. Frederick Curtis, who married Miss Adele Townsend. Her daughter married Dr. Charles Stedman Bull.

***

The goods and chattels belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin and Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs Sherman, and which for some time past have been packed in the houses 20 and 22 West Twentieth Street, were yesterday removed preparatory to their shipment to London. This is the final step in the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin from New York.

***

The Trave, which arrived yesterday from Bremen, brought among other passengers Hon. Lucien L. Bonheur, Capt. N. de Chrapovitzky of St. Petersburg, Dr. J. D. C. Hoyt and Mrs. Hoyt, Charles W. Parker, Edgar Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Arnout and E. P Wetmore.

***

Christmas shopping has begun, and the carriages of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Gerry, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, and Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs were among the long line of other equipages in the shopping district yesterday. To-morrow will bring quite a number of teas, and several débutantes will be introduced. Among the more prominent of these will be Miss Ella de Peyster, daughter of Sir Frederic de Peyster; the Misses Gurnee, who have just returned from Europe, and who will be introduced at the old William Waldorf Astor house, on East Thirty-third Street; Miss Eleanor Swayne, who will make her début at a tea to be given by her mother, Mrs. Wager Swayne, at the Renaissance; Miss Lucille Weeks, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Weeks; Miss Mildred Dix, the daughter of Mrs. Alfred P. Dix; Miss Cornelia Helen Merrill, the daughter of Mrs. Payson Merrill, and Miss Enid Alden, the daughter of Mrs. Robert Fulton Weir. Receptions will also be given by Mrs. Frances Schroeder, 137 Madison Avenue; Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, 451 Madison Avenue, for the Peace Commission, and Mrs. Schuyler Quakenbush, 142 West Fifty-seventh Street. In the evening Mrs. Philip Sands's dancing class will meet at Delmonico's, and the first De Coverly dance will take place at Sherry's.

***

Mrs. George Gould and her family have arrived in New York from Lakewood for a brief stay at their Fifth Avenue residence. Mrs. Gould will return to Lakewood for the Christmas holidays. She will attend the opera in New York and meet her guest, Lady Mary Sackville, who is now due from London. There are hints that there will be private theatricals at Lakewood during the holiday season.

***

The hasty sailing of Mr. Fernando Yznaga and the reported recall of the Duke of Manchester to Europe to make the trip to Davos to be with his mother at the bedside of his dying sister, Lady Alice Montague, were not matters for much surprise. As has been from time to time stated in this column, the cure of Lady Alice Montague has seemed hopeless for a long time past. For over a year she has not been able to live anywhere except in the vry dry atmosphere of the Engadine. Two months ago this was even found impossible for her, and the Duchess of Manchester took her to Davos. Here she was given the open-air treatment. This is considered almost a last resort in cases of consumption. About a month ago her grandmother, Mrs. Yznaga, was in New York, the guest of Miss Leary. A few days before she left for Louisiana she received a cable message stating that Lady Alice Montague had pleurisy, and little hope was then expressed for her recovery. The death of Lady Alice Montague would make the loss of a second daughter to the Duchess of Manchester in a few years. A twin sister to Lady Alice died in Rome of the Roman fever four years ago. Lady Alice made her début in London two seasons ago. She is a beautiful girl and extremely clever. She reached her twentieth birthday in October last. The Duke of Manchester will be twenty-three years old in March. He and Lady Alice Montague are the only surviving children of the Duchess of Manchester. The Duke, his father, died in 1892.

***

A musicale was given last night by Alta Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, at the home of her parents, 4 West Fifty-fourth Street. About sixty guests were present.

Debutantes in Plainfield.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Dec. 7.—The "coming out" of Miss Fanny Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Cox of West Seventh Street, and Miss Louise G. Fisk, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, also of West Seventh Street, took place this evening at a largely attended reception given at the home of Mrs. Cox. Preceding the formal function, an "anteco ming-out" dinner was given for the débutantes at Mrs. S. L. Schoonmaker's home on Central Avenue. A "white luncheon" will be given in their honor tomorrow by Mrs. George Wharton Edwards of Franklin Place. In the evening a formal dance will take place at the Casino. Miss Fisk will give a theatre party in New York Saturday, to be followed by a dinner at the Waldorf.

A Coming Dinner.

Mr. Louis Stern will give a dinner at his residence, on Fifth Avenue, Saturday evening. Among the guests will be Gov. Roosevelt, Senator Thomas C. Platt, Justice William E. Werner, and ex-Judge William N. Cohen.

Braun—Ettinger.

WATERLOO, Ia., Dec. 7.—The marriage of Miss Rose Alice Ettinger to Francis Braun of Liverpool, England, took place to-day in St. Stephen's church, South Kensington, London, and was announced by the bride's parents, who reside in this city. The bride is well known all over Iowa as a singer. She has been traveling through Europe.

NEW YORK'S OLDEST LAWYER.

Benjamin Douglas Silliman, in 95th Year, Resumes Active Practice, and Is Congratulated.

The return to active legal practice of Benjamin Douglas Silliman, the Dean of the New York Bar and one of the founders of the Bar Association, who is in his ninety-fifth year, was yesterday an interesting topic in down-town clubs and in lawyers' offices and banking circles. Mr. Silliman, who fully retains his mental faculties, and who is remarkably active for a man of his years, was ailing last March and was compelled to abandon active practice in his offices in the Bank of Commerce Building. He rested until June at his home, 56 Clinton Street, Brooklyn, when he went to his country seat, Hokum, near Babylon. He returned to Brooklyn last week and on Wednesday went to his New York office ready to transact the business of his clients, among whom is the National Bank of Commerce. He was congratulated by many friends.

It was commented upon as a marvelous circumstance that a man who was born at Newport, R. I., Sept. 14, 1805, was graduated at Yale in 1824, and who studied law with Chancellor James Kent and his son William until 1829, when he was admitted to the bar, should yet be following his profession. Mr. Silliman came of Puritan stock. In his ancestry figure John Alden and Priscilla Mullins. Judge Ebenezer Silliman, his great great grandfather, was graduated at Yale in 1727, his grandfather, Gen. Gold Selleck Silliman, the famous Revolutionary soldier, was of the class of 1752, and his father, of the same name, who was Crown Attorney for Fairfield County, Conn., was graduated in 1756. Several other relatives of Mr. Silliman were Yale graduates and identified with the college. Among the men who graduated in his class and became prominent were Chief Justice Origen S. Seymour of Connecticut, Willis Hall, formerly Attorney General of New York State; Gen. Elias W. Leavenworth, formerly Secretary of State, New York, and the Rev. Richard F. Cleveland, father of ex-President Grover Cleveland.

Seventy years ago Mr. Silliman opened a law office in this city, and for the past half century he has been the chief legal adviser for the Bank of Commerce. Ten years ago the bar of the city gave him a banquet to celebrate his sixtieth anniversary of active practice.

In his earlier years he took a prominent part in politics. He was elected to the Assembly of this State in 1838 as a Whig, and served a term with J. S. T. Stranahan in that body. In the following year he was a member of the Harrisburg Convention which nominated William Henry Harrison for the Presidency. When in the Assembly he introduced the bill incorporating Greenwood Cemetery. He ran for Congress in the Whig interest in 1843, but was defeated. The Congressional district whose suffrages he then sought consisted of the Counties of Kings, Richmond, and Rockland. He threw himself with earnestness into the Republican Party on its formation, and President Lincoln appointed him United States District Attorney for the Eastern New York District, in which office he was succeeded by Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy.

Mr. Silliman was an active member of the commission that revised the State Constitution in 1872. He ran for Attorney General in the following year, but was not elected. The honorary degree of LL. D. was conferred on him in 1873 by Columbia College, and in 1874 by his Alma Mater, Yale. He is a member of the Lawyers' Club and of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Henry Rawle.

Henry Rawle, a former State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, died at his home at Villa Nova, near Philadelphia, yesterday, aged sixty-six years. He was a son of Francis W. Rawle and Louisa (Hall) Rawle, and was born in Mifflin County Aug. 1, 1833. At the age of seventeen he entered the engineer corps of the Pennsylvania Railway under J. Edgar Thomson, and later was in charge of the construction of the lines of the Western Division and the Williamsport Division. Subsequently he left the employ of the railroad company, became an iron master and established the Sharon furnace, the Erie blast furnace, and the Erie rolling mills.

He married the daughter of Gen. Charles M. Reed, formerly member of Congress from Erie. From 1874 to 1876 he was Mayor of Erie. In 1875 he was nominated for State Treasurer of Pennsylvania on a ticket with Gen. Hartranft, and was elected. During the last five years of his life he had lived at Villa Nova. Mr. Rawle was one of the Commissioners appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania for the building of the Huntingdon Reformatory.

James Moir.

James Moir, for more than half a century identified with the business interests of this city, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 26 West Tenth Street. Mr. Moir was born in 1817, in Edinburgh, Scotland. He came to New York in 1836. He became identified with the firms of Andrew Mitchell & Co., dry goods importers; Wilmerding, Priest & Mount; Crafts & Steil; Stavert, Zigomala & Co., of Manchester, England, and Aborn, Moir & Co. Mr. Moir served as Civil Service Examiner under Mayor Edson.

At the time of his death he was a Director in the Bank of New York. He was at one time a President of the St. Andrew's Society. He was a member of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Geographical Society, and the Museum of Natural History. He leaves these children: James McElroy Moir, Minnesota; Arthur Duncan Moir, and the Rev. William Wilmerding Moir, assistant rector of the Church of the Holy Communion of this city, and Mrs. Henry T. Lee of Los Angeles, Cal.

Obituary Notes.

CHARLES A. BUSH, proprietor of the Clinton House, at Ithaca, N. Y., died yesterday of hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been in the hotel business here for twenty-five years or more.

CHARLES CALDER FOWLER, the architect and contractor who built old Farwell Hall and other notable buildings in Chicago, died at Chicago Wednesday of pneumonia. He was born in Kingston, Ontario, in 1839.

ERNEST MEYERS, who was drum major of Gilmore's Band of New York during the civil war, died at Attleborough, Mass., yesterday. He was nearly seventy years old and was prominent in Grand Army circles.

HENRY T. MITCHELL, who con

OXALIC ACID ON THE BAR.

Customer Who Mistook It for Soda Water Gets $100 Damages.

A case has recently been decided in the Supreme Court in a way which establishes the principle that it is unlawful to serve oxalic acid as a complementary beverage with a drink of whisky. Patrick Flannagan obtained judgment for $100 damages in a suit against Mrs. Mary Sullivan, who owns a place of refreshment at 831 Western Boulevard, because he got a drink of that sort there.

Mr. Flannagan entered Mrs. Sullivan's place some two years ago and called for a drink of whisky. He expected a draught of some milder beverage to follow the whisky, and after gulping down the drink laid hands on a bottle of what appeared to be soda water, poured out a glass of it, and tossed it off. This act was immediately followed by sensations of the most unpleasant kind, and it required two doctors and a stomach pump to restore him to anything like the state of health he had enjoyed before taking this libation.

When he learned that the supposed soda water was oxalic acid, which had been used for cleaning faucets about the bar, Mr. Flannagan's ire was stirred. He brought suit through Joseph I. Green, contending that his throat and his general health had both been injured by the acid. The defense adduced testimony to the effect that Mr. Flannagan had gone to the other end of the bar after the oxalic acid. The jury failed to believe this, and gave him $100 damages, which his counsel says is inadequate, and which Mrs. Sullivan has so far omitted to pay.

APPEALS FOR INDIAN MISSIONS.

Made Before the Women's Auxiliary of the Niobrara League.

The service yesterday afternoon in connection with the "Missionary Week," which began last Monday at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth Avenue and Forty-seventh Street, was under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Niobrara League, and the addresses were upon Indian missions.

The first speaker, the Right Rev. W. H. Hare, Bishop of South Dakota, who, at Bishop Potter's request, has taken his place during the week, gave an account of the work that is now being done to educate and Christianize the Indians, declaring that most of the missions in his own diocese were the result of the grouping together of women to aid the work. A large percentage of the South Dakota Indians were, he added, now members of the Episcopal Church.

Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia, Secretary of the Indian Rights Association, made at the close of his address an appeal for the Rev. Luke Walker's Indian mission, the chapel belonging to which was destroyed by fire several months ago.

The last speaker, Hamilton W. Mabie, began by referring to a speech of Lord Salisbury in which the latter, "with almost brutal frankness," had referred to the dangers to the rest of the world from dying nations. "When," Mr. Mabie said, "I speak of the Indians as a dying people I do not mean that they are dying from lack of endowment, but from lack of opportunity. When I look back at a century of dishonor in our dealings with the Indians I am almost tempted to believe that our spreading over this continent is itself dishonorable. But it is only in the manner in which we have occupied the country that there is dishonor. A great race has got to express itself. It does not have any choice in the matter of extension.

"A man of genius, or a race of genius—each is bound to give out the power that is within. We were bound to spread over this continent. The fault was that we did not do so with a sense of our responsibilities. But that is all past. What is wanted now is the appearance of teachers for the Indians. And the highest of all teachers is the priest teacher, because Christianity is the highest, most precious thing that we have to give them."

WILL OF MR. SCHROEDER.

Estate Valued at Over a Million Left to His Family.

The last will of Frederick A. Schroeder, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn, who died on Dec. 1 at the Hotel Margaret, was filed yesterday in Surrogate Abbott's Court, Brooklyn, by William A. H. Stafford, Mr. Schroeder's son-in-law, who is one of the executors. The will is dated Aug. 9, 1893, and was signed by the testator at 178 Water Street, in the presence of William Geery of Bayonne, F. M. Arguimbau of 288 De Kalb Avenue, Brooklyn, and Frank Dokez. All of the will is in the handwriting of Mr. Schroeder.

The estate is estimated to be worth more than $1,000,000. To Mrs. Jane Schroeder, his wife, Mr. Schroeder bequeaths all his real estate, jewelry, furniture, and works of art. He also bequeaths to her $20,000, to be paid out of the proceeds of his personal property. To each of his children, Leonora, Harriet, Louise Arguimbau, Adelaide, Amos, Alice, McLane, and Frances Schroeder, he bequeaths $25,000. To his sister Sophia Joost, residing at Stapleton, S. I., he bequeaths $5,000, and to her daughter Josephine $1,000. To his sister Josephine, widow of Christian Wagenfuller, he bequeaths $5,000, and to her daughters, Josephine and Augusta, $1,000 each. Josephine, "on account of her three children," receives an additional $1,000.

The residuary legatees are the testator's children, Leonora, Edwin, Harriet, Louise, Adelaide, Alice, and Frances, share and share alike. One share is to be equally divided between Wilfrid and Mildred Anderson. If the shares amount to more than $50,000 each, then there is to be paid to the testator's sister Sophia, or her daughter, and to his sister Josephine or her daughters together, an additional $1,000.

In a codicil, dated at Hempstead Hotel, Hot Springs, on Sept 28, 1898, the testator directs that in the event of the death of any of his children the share shall go to the remaining children. All sums coming to his daughters Mary Jane, Adelaide, or Frances in excess of $5,000, are to be invested by his executors, W. H. A. Stafford and Alice McLane, in mortgages or improved real estate, the children named to receive the interest for ten years, and then to receive the principal. By a second codicil the testator bequeaths the share given to his daughter Mary Jane Anderson, who died after the execution of the will, to his son Edwin and his daughters, in trust for the support and education of Mrs. Anderson's children, Wilfred and Mildred Anderson, until they attain the age of twenty-four years, when they are to receive the principal.

Famous Checker Player Dead.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 7.—James P. Reed, the famous checker player, formerly champion of the world, died at the Homeopathic Hospital from an epileptic fit. Reed was forty years old and unmarried.

His death removes one of the most prominent figures in American sporting circles. As a checker player he had few equals. He was recognized as the greatest player in America and claimed the championship of the world by forfeit, as Champion Wiley, whom he challenged, refused to meet him. Reed won the championship of the United States from Barker, by whom he was defeated in a second match some time ago. This was his last match of importance, although he afterward took part in a contest in England.

To Work for a "Greater Chicago."

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Representative citizens comprising the Committee of One Hundred appointed by the Civic Federation met to-day and launched a movement to unite the numerous taxing bodies in Cook County under one responsible head, and to create a greater Chicago. An Executive Committee of Fifteen will be named to carry on the details of the work and arrange for a campaign. An amendment to the State Constitution authorizing the consolidation of the City and County Governments will be prepared for presentation to the Legislature of 1901.

May Be a Corner in Flaxseed.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Talk of a corner in flaxseed was started in some quarters here to-day by the bulge of from 4½ to 6½ cents, which carried the market to the top figure for the present crop. The surface causes were the light receipts and the Duluth advance, but the December seed is said to be almost exclusively in the hands of a few Northwest firms.

Woman Bucket Shop Keeper Held.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Marion La Touchon was to-day bound over to the Criminal Court on two warrants charging her with keeping a bucket shop at 107 Dearborn Street. All the witnesses in the case are women.

Clubbed His Wife, Shot Himself.

ADELE, Iowa, Dec. 7.—Joseph Huttheus to-day beat his wife to death with a club and then blew his brains out with a shotgun. He was sixty-five years old and had been married forty years. Six children survive the couple. Jealousy caused the tragedy.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.		P. M.		P. M.
Sun rises...	7:12	Sun sets...	4.33	Moon sets..	11:03

High Water This Day.

A. M.		A. M.		A. M.
S. Hook...	11:42	Gov. Isl'd..	11:59	H. Gate.....
P. M.		P. M.		P. M.
S. Hook...	.....	Gov. Isl'd..	.....	H. Gate....	1:55

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (FRIDAY,) DEC. 8.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Iroquois, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Origen, Jamaica	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Rio Grande, Brunswick	.....	3:00 P. M.
SATURDAY, DEC. 9.
Alene, Jamaica, &c	10:00 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Auguste Victoria, Naples, &c	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
British Empire, Antwerp	.....	.....
Cherokee, Turk's Island, &c	1:00 P. M. *1:30 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
El Norte, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Grenada, Trinidad	11:00 A. M.	.....
Havana, Havana	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Knickerbocker, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Launenburg, Nuevitas, &c.	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Lampasas, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Marquette, London	.....	9:00 A. M.
Ohio, Hull	.....	.....
Pretoria, St. Thomas, &c.	9:30 A. M. *10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Pretoria, Hamburg	.....	9:00 A. M.
Rotterdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Salerno, Newcastle	.....	.....
Seminole, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Talmi, Glasgow	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Umbria, Queenstown and Liverpool	6:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, Japan, and China, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 8, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Coptic. Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 8, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Australia. Mails for Australasian Colonies, (except West Australia, which go via Europe, and New Zealand, which go via San Francisco,) Hawaii, and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Nov. 25 and up to Dec. 9, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Warrimoo. Mails for China, Japan, and Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 16, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship America Maru.

†Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (FRIDAY,) DEC. 8.

Canadia, Stettin, Nov. 18.
Charing Cross, Gibraltar, Nov. 23.
El Dorado, New Orleans, Dec. 2.
Galileo, Hull, Nov. 25.
Indraghira, London, Nov. 22.
Jerseymoor, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Lyell, Gibraltar, Nov. 21.
Manica, Shields, Nov. 23.
Mayfield, St. Michael, Nov. 24.
Palatia, Hamburg, Nov. 27.
Pawnee, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Nov. 26.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9.

Bordeaux, Pauillac, Nov. 27.
Lucania, Liverpool, Dec. 2.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 2.

SUNDAY, DEC. 10.

El Sud, New Orleans, Dec. 5.
La Gascogne, Havre, Dec. 2.
Manhattan, London, Nov. 28.
Paraense, Ceara, Nov. 28.
Tainui, Glasgow, Nov. 27.

MONDAY, DEC. 11.

Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Nov. 30.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 1.
Heathdene, St. Michael, Nov. 30.
Mesaba, London, Dec. 11.
Wordsworth, St. Lucia, Dec. 4.

TUESDAY, DEC. 12.

Bath City, Swansea, Nov. 28.
Chateau Lafite, Havre, Nov. 29.
Dunblane, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Karamania, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Southwark, Antwerp, Dec. 2.

Arrived.

SS Willehad, (Ger.,) Former, Bremen Nov. 25, with mdse. and passengers to Oelrichs & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 8:20 P. M.

SS Elise Marie, (Ger.,) Dalldorf, Gestemunde Nov. 21, in ballast to Philip Ruprecht. Arrived at the Bar at 10 P. M.

SS City of Augusta, Daggett, Savannah, with mdse. and passengers to the Ocean Steamship Company.

SS America, (Nor.,) Evjenth, Montego Bay Dec. 1, with fruit to J. M. Ceballos & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 10:30 P. M.

SS Trave, (Ger.,) Christoffers, Bremen Nov. 28 and Southampton 29th, with mdse. and passengers to Oelrichs & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 11:50 P. M. 6th.

SS City of Washington, Knight, Tampico Nov. 30 and Havana Dec. 3, with mdse. and passengers to James E. Ward & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 5:50 A. M.

SS Salerno, (Br.,) Bearpark, Newcastle Nov. 17, with mdse. to Sanderson & Son. Arrived at the Bar at 7:15 A. M.

SS Belvernon, (Nor.,) Hansen, Cape Haiti Nov. 20 and Philadelphia Dec. 6, with mdse. to Cameron Steamship Co. Arrived at the Bar at 6 A. M.

United States transport Buford, Martens, Havana Dec. 3, with passengers to U. S. Quartermaster's Department. Arrived at the Bar at 9 A. M.

SS City of Birmingham, Burg, Boston, to Ocean Steamship Co. Is bound to Savannah.

SS Origen, (Nor.,) Hegge, Mornant Bay, &c., Nov. 25, with mdse. and passengers to the Tweedie Trading Co. Arrived at the Bar at 12:30 P. M.

SS Jamestown, Davis, Norfolk and Newport News, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steamship Co.

SS Elsie Marie, (Ger.,) Dalldorf, Bremerhaven Nov. 22, to F. Ruprecht. Southeast of Fire Island at 3:45 P. M.

SS Willehad, (Ger.,) Volger, Bremen Nov. 25, with mdse. and passengers to Oelrichs & Co. Southeast of Fire Island at 5:45 P. M.

SS (supposed) Chester, (Dutch,) Julfs, Amsterdam Nov. 23, to C. H. Randebrock. South of Fire Island at 4:30 P. M.

WIND—Sandy Hook, N. J., Dec. 7, 9:30 P. M., southwest, light, cloudy.

Sailed.

SS Patria, (Fr.,) for Naples, &c.
SS Hubert, (Br.,) for Para, &c.
SS Corinthia, (Br.,) for Marseilles.
SS La Champagne, (Fr.,) for Havre.
SS Darmstadt, (Ger.,) for Bremen.
SS St. Bede, (Br.,) for Manila, &c.
SS Hamilton, for Norfolk and Newport News.
SS El Mar, for New Orleans.
SS Tyrian, (Br.,) for Perth Amboy, N. J.
SS Saratoga, for Nassau, &c.

Notice to Mariners.

COLUMBIA RIVER LIGHT VESSEL NO. 50.—Notice is hereby given that Light Vessel No. 50 has broken away from her station, off the mouth of the Columbia River, about 7⅞ miles S. S. W. ⅝ W. from Cape Disappointment Lighthouse, and gone ashore near McKenzie Head, about one mile to the northward of the mouth of the river. It is impossible to state now when the vessel can be returned to her station.

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Pacific Coast, 1899," Page 22, No. 70, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Pacific Coast, 1898," Pages 33 and 44.

By order of the Lighthouse Board.

GRAND TRAVERSE LIGHT STATION.—Notice is hereby given by the Lighthouse Board that on or about Dec. 20, 1899, a 10-inch steam whistle will be established at this station, on the northwesterly extremity of Lighthouse Point, westerly side of the entrance to Grand Traverse Bay, northeasterly part of Lake Michigan, to sound, during thick or foggy weather, alternate blasts of 3 and 6 seconds' duration, separated by alternate silent intervals of 12 and 24 seconds, thus: Blast, 3 seconds; silent interval, 12 seconds; blast, 6 seconds; silent interval, 24 seconds. The fog-signal building is a buff-brick house, with red roof and a tall chimney, and stands 160 feet S. 42° W. (S. W. ¼ S.) from the light tower.

This notice affects the "List of Lights and Fog Signals, Northern Lakes and Rivers, 1899," Page 78, No. 398, and the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Northern Lakes and Rivers, 1899," Page 111.

JERICHO BAY—HALIBUT ROCKS BEACON.—Notice is hereby given by the Lighthouse Board that a white, triangular, pyramidal structure, 65 feet high, and 60 feet wide on each side of its base, covered with close boarding for a height of from 6 to 18 feet above the rock on the northerly and westerly (channel) faces, and with horizontal slats above and on the other faces, has been erected on the northerly of the three rocks, about 10 feet above high water in the southeasterly part of Jericho Bay, and about 1⅝ miles southwesterly from West Point, Swan Island. Bearings and distances of prominent objects from the beacon, as taken from Chart No. 308 of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, are: Egg Rock Beacon, N. N. E., 9-16 E., 3⅛ miles; Left tangent to Marshalls Island, S. ¼ W., 1 11-16 miles; Haycock Rock Spindle, N. W. ¾ N., 3 7-16 miles. Bearings are magnetic and given approximately; miles are nautical miles.

This notice affects the "List of Beacons and Buoys, First Lighthouse District, 1899," Page 49.

EAST RIVER—TWENTY-SIX-FOOT CHANNEL RANGE FRONT.—Notice is hereby given by the Lighthouse Board that on or about Dec. 15, 1899, a white post, 10 feet high, surmounted by a white target 3 feet square and having a square black centre, will be erected on the northwesterly corner of the roof of the Central Elevator (yellow) on Pier 9, East River, to form the front mark of the range for the twenty-six-foot channel of the river between Governors Island and the Battery. The rear mark of the range will be the centre of the northwesterly tower of St. Margaret's Hotel, Brooklyn.

This notice affects the "List of Beacons and Buoys, Third Lighthouse District, 1899," Page 126.

By Cable.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—SS Teutonic, (Br.,) Capt. McKinstry, from New York, arr. at Liverpool yesterday.

SS Pennsylvania, (Ger.,) Capt. Spliedt, from New York via Plymouth, arr. at Hamburg at 2 A. M. to-day.

SS European, (Br.,) Capt. Bertie, from New York for London, passed Scilly to-day.

SS Kaiser Wilhelm II., (Ger.,) Capt. Hogemann, from Genoa, &c., for New York, passed St. Michael's to-day.

SS Wells City, (Br.,) Capt. Hunter, from New York for Bristol, passed Brow Head to-day.

SS Statendam, (Dutch,) Capt. Boujer, sld. from Rotterdam for New York at 7 P. M. to-day.

SS Thingvalla, (Dan.,) Capt. Laub, from New York via Copenhagen, &c., arr. at Swinemunde Dec. 3.

SS Betty, (Aust.,) Capt. Bleecich, from New York via St. Michael's and Lisbon, arr. at Trieste Dec. 4.

SS Werra, (Ger.,) Capt. Weyer, from New York, arr. at Naples to-day and proceeded for Genoa.

SS Cymric, (Br.,) Capt. Lindsay, from New York for Liverpool, passed Brow Head to-day.

SS Pomeranian, (Br.,) Capt. Fairful, from New York for Glasgow, passed Malin Head to-day.

SS Anchoria, (Br.,) Capt. Wilson, from New York, arr. at Glasgow yesterday.

SS Potomac, (Br.,) Capt. Anderson, from New York, arr. at Avonmouth yesterday.

SS Alsatia, (Br.,) Capt. Warda, from Naples, &c., for New York, passed Gibraltar to-day.

SS Drummond, (Br.,) Capt. Chubb, from Calcutta for New York, passed Malta to-day.

SS Advance, from New York, arr. at Colon at 2 P. M. yesterday.

SS Alliance, sld. from Colon for New York at 12 o'clock noon yesterday.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Supreme Court of the United States:

56—The Erie and Western Transportation Company et al., petitioners, vs. the Union Steamboat Company, claimant of the propeller New York.—Ordered that the decree entered herein Nov. 20, 1899, be vacated and set aside. Announced by Justice Brown.

56—The Erie and Western Transportation Company et al., petitioners, vs. the Union Steamboat Company, claimant of the propeller New York.—On writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Decree reversed with costs of the Consumenga, and the claimants of the New York each to pay one-half of all costs in the cause, and cause remanded to the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Michigan, with directions to enter a decree in conformity with the opinion of this court, with interest from July 3, 1896, until paid at the same rate per annum that decrees bear in the courts of the State of Michigan. Announced by Justice Brown.

158—A. J. Daggs et al., appellants, vs. the Phoenix National Bank.—Motion to pass submitted by A. J. Daggs for the appellant.

225—Shirley T. High et al., appellants, vs. F. E. Coyne, as collector, &c., et al.

387—Eben J. Knowlton et al., executors, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. Frank R. Moore, United States Collector, &c.; 471—The Fidelity Insurance Trust and Safe Deposit Company, executor, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. Penrose A. McClain; 458—George F. Murdock, executor, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. John G. Ward, United States Collector, &c., and 459—George T. Sherman, plaintiff in error, vs. the United States.—Arguments concluded by John G. Carlisle for the appellants in No. 225, and plaintiff in error in No. 387. Leave granted to the Solicitor General to file additional brief within one week, and to Charles E. Patterson for plaintiff in error in Nos. 458 and 459, to file reply thereto within one week thereafter.

59—The United States, appellant, vs. John R. Gleason et al.—Reargument commenced by George H. Gorman for appellant, and continued by Temple Bodley for the appellees.

Calendar for Friday: Nos. 70, 36, 73, (and 74,) 79, 21, 53, 81, (and 82,) and 83, (and 84 and 85.)

Calendars for Friday, Dec. 8.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Opens in Room 124, Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M.

3—Florida Central R. R. vs. Am. Surety Co.
4—Hunt vs. Fidelity & Casualty Co.
8—Morrin vs. Edison E. L. Co.
9—Morrin vs. Lawlor.
10—Morrin vs. Edison Elec. Ill. Co.
34—Am. Sugar Refining Co. vs. United States
35—Same vs. same.
44—Wardroper vs. City of Portsmouth.
45—Same vs. Manice Ins. Co. vs. Chicago.
46—Fosbinder vs. same.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J.—Opens in Room 43, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Jury calendar.

136—Whelen vs. Manhattan Ry.
128—Fairbanks vs. Met. St. Ry.
9—Lanier vs. Rowell.
68—Sansol vs. Compagnie Generale Transatlantique.
113—Anderson vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.
75—Prunier vs. Ash.
132—Canada Bank vs. Waydell.
141—U. S. vs. Hy. Bonnard Bronze Co.
142—Same vs. same.
143—Same vs. same.
144—West vs. Bennett.
145—Prats vs. City of New York.
146—Williams vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.
147—Child vs. N. Y. Times Co.
148—Ullrich vs. Miner.
149—Weinstein vs. Kroder.
150—Nat. Gum and Mica Co. vs. Shelby Mill Co.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Lacombe, J.—Opens at 2 P. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building. Motion calendar.

1—Lamb vs. McDonald.
2—Campbell vs. Mayor, &c.
3—Same vs. same.
4—Baille vs. Lynch.
5—Chappell vs. Fidelity and Deposit Co.
6—Gebest vs. Dunne.
7—Leiber Pub. Co. vs. International Cable Co.
8—Cook & Bernheimer vs. Clarmont Co.
9—Fayerweather vs. United Dressed Beef Co.
10—Wyckoff, Seamans & Benedict vs. Wagner Typewriter Co.
11—Lamb vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
12—Chappell vs. Fidelity and Deposit Co.
Cases noticed.
13—Plant vs. Harrison.
14—Murdock vs. Oceanic Steam Nav. Co.
15—Lamb vs. McDonald.
16—Allis vs. Standard Nat. Bk.
17—Brown vs. Wagner Typewriter Co.
18—Brill vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
19—Hoag vs. Hoag.
20—Welsbach Light Co. vs. Rex Incandescent Gas L. Co.
21—Same vs. Daylight, &c., Co.
22—Same vs. N. Y. Chemical Co.
23—Same vs. Union Co.
24—Taintor vs. Franklin Nat. Bk.
25—Veselovsky vs. Cons. Ice Co.
29—Matter of Inwood Av.
30—Clinch vs. Henck.
31—Matter of Brown.
32—N. Y. Life Ins. Co. vs. Broadbelt.
33—Campbell vs. Smith.
34—McCarey vs. Hall.
35—Watson vs. Stillman.
36—Hoyt vs. Mayor, &c.
37—Vollstadt vs. Schwartz.
38—Medole vs. Penn. R. R.
39—Ghiloni vs. Ghiloni.
40—Associazione Fraterna Italiana vs. Gobbi.
41—Garfunkel vs. Yonowsky.
42—Bloomingdale vs. Hoffman.
43—Matter of Marble & Enamel Mosaic Co.
44—Van Keuren vs. Van Keuren.
45—Flagg vs. Parke.
46—Venner vs. Farmers' L. & T. Co.
47—Farquhar vs. Wisconsin Condensed M. Co.
48—Atlantic Trust Co. vs. Thompson.
49—Sterry vs. Sterry.
50—Matter of Tomasi.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

To-day's calendar: 76, 164, 165, 167, 119, 125, 169, 174.

New York Calendars This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Patterson, O'Brien, Ingraham, and McLaughlin, JJ.—Opens at 1 P. M. Motions.

1—People, &c., vs. Koerner.
2—Mehrbach vs. Mayor, &c.
3—Bopp vs. same.
4—Masury vs. Masury.
5—O'Connor vs. Brady.
6—Deering vs. Reilly.
7—Worcester vs. Pierce
8—McKean vs. Tradesmen's Nat. Bank.
9—Watson vs. Stillman.
10—Appleby vs. Sewards
11—Same vs. same.
12—Thurber vs. Washburn & Moen Mfg. Co.
13—Goodwin vs. Coddington.
14—Black vs. 2d Av. R. R.
15—Sarsohn vs. Workingmen's Pub. Assn.
16—Morse vs. Press Pub. Co.
17—Stanislaus vs. Algemeine Verein.
18—Pringle vs. Long Island R. R.
19—Meyer-Sniffen Co. vs. Youmans.
20—In re Georgi. Non-enumerated motions.
8—Socy. of the War of 1812 vs. Socy. of the War of 1812 of State of New York.
6—Wagner vs. Hagen.
8—Watson vs. Stillman.
11—McEvoy vs. Coler.
12—Reese vs. Reese.
13—Matter of Mayor, &c.
14—Day vs. Dow.
15—Hess vs. Sloane.
16—Haffey vs. Lynch.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from City Court and Municipal Courts. Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—Cohen vs. Harris.
2—Folwell vs. Potter.
3—Talcott vs. Wabash R. R.
4—N. Y. Breweries vs. Reilly.
5—Palmer vs. Western Union Tel. Co.
6—Matter of Donnellan.
7—Foley vs. Foley.
8—Treadwell vs. United Verde Copper Co.
9—Vivian vs. Crow.
10—Waring vs. Parker.
11—Cohen vs. Krotosky.
12—Matter of Watson.
13—Matter of Hovell.
14—Reid vs. Reid.
15—Blankenstein vs. Yachnin.
16—Chicopee Falls Wheel Co. vs. Holden.
17—Watson vs. Garquillo.
18—Kennelly vs. Kennelly.
19—Legnite vs. North German Lloyd.
20—Matter of Kortright.
21—Mintz vs. Barth.
22—Matter of Honee.
23—Matter of Wright.
24—Yates vs. Volkening.
25—McLean vs. Gilon.
26—Goldstein vs. Goldstein.
27—Merrill vs. Berger.
28—Barnes vs. Barnes.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex-parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Giegerich, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Case on. Motion. 1—Meyer vs. Meyer. Note—All causes set down for Dec. 8 stand adjourned until Dec. 11.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Day calendar To be called in Part IV. Room at 10:30 A. M. Cases will be assigned to the several parts of Special Term for trial. Law and fact.

4055—Robinson vs. Adams.
4059—Durant Lamp Imp. Co. vs. Farmers' L. and T. Co.
4061—Mackentosh, vs. Mackentosh.
4145—Demmerle vs. Demmerle.
3734—Zaring vs. Starin.
3794—Armstrong & B. Co. vs. Farrell.
4091—McMahon vs. McMahon.
3842—Wilcoxson vs. Wilcoxson.
3279—Stokes vs. Stokes.
3723—Cooke & C. Co. vs. Lochmann.
3749—Marvin vs. Bernheimer.
3875—Tyrrell vs. Kiest.
3883—Same vs. same.
3921—Manwaring vs. Manwaring.
2752—Lewisohn Imp. & T. Co. vs. Nellenbogen.
3931—Elsworth vs. Elsworth.
3788—Schaarel vs. Hebrew Inf. Asylum.
2684—City of N. Y. vs. Randolph.
3000—Langnaar vs. Stayback.
4032—Augino vs. Riccardi.
4037—Borger vs. Borger.
4068—Schwergier vs. Grasser.
4086—Bayer vs. Bayer.
4057—Lazarus vs. Lazarus.

Highest number reached in regular call, 4204.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—Truax, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Sewell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—Russell, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Beekman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—(Criminal Term.)—Furman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre, Henressy, and Schwarzkopf for the People.

1—Michael Dooley.
2—Edwin O. Dietz.
3—Byron W. Cohen, J. W. Dasken, and Hy. W. Belcher.
4—Alexander Newman.
5—Geo. B. A. Busche.
6—Wm. Thornton and Hugh A. Thornton.

SUPREME COURT—Extraordinary Trial Term—Held in Criminal Court Building—Werner, J.—Opens at 10 A. M.

1—Thomas J. Reilly.
2—Max Lang.
3—Wm. H. Lewis.
4—Wm. H. Lewis.
5—Hyman Waters.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—Mc-Adam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Case on. Preferred causes.

5105—August vs. O'Brien.
10380—McClenahan vs. same.
6480—Butler vs. Mail & Express Pub. Co.
10381—Hansen vs. same.
9350—Maloney vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
10382—Sahlen vs. same.
10383—Sire vs. same.
10375—Norris vs. City of New York.
10413—Bars vs. same.
10414—Cushman vs. same.
10879—Helmke vs. same.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar.—To be called in Part III. Room at 10:15 A. M. Cases will be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts III., IV., and VI., for trial.

6291—Kiernan vs. Tile Grate Mantle Co.
4688—Kerns vs. Macholdt.
5793—Lendle vs. Robinson.
4107—Broccoli vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
4759—Lacy vs. James Everard's Breweries.
6704—Standard Structural Co. vs. City of New York.
6738—De Lamos vs. Moran.
10300—Wamsley vs. Atlas S. S. Co.
3967—McHugh vs. Manhattan Ry. Co.
11313—Kister vs. Manhattan Ry. Co.
5885—Bennett vs. Geo. Borgfeldt Co.
5817—Babbitt vs. Gibbs.
4021—Gribben vs. 2d Av. R. R. Co.
5322—Rimmler vs. Cons. Gas Co.
2936—Lewis vs. Conn. Mut. Life Ins. Co.
4114—Kappan vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
4065—Mussadeh vs. Met. St. Ry.
3855—Reynolds vs. Met. St. Ry Co.
5439—Johns vs. Ruben.
4446—Yerkes vs. N. Y. Prese Co.
5539—Loeb vs. Bein.
4881—Mamaroneck Grocery Co. vs. Lima.
5540—Newgass vs. same.
4382—Same vs. same.
6282—Weeks vs. Rector, &c., of Trinity Ch'ch.
4028—Harrison vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
6223—Caro vs. Stein.
5538—Houghtaling vs. Gillig.
4096—Sheehan vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
3957—Goetz vs. same.
10293—Witherow vs. Slaybach.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 7166.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:15 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Andrews, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar.—To be called in Trial Term, Part VII. Room, at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VII., IX., X., and XI. for trial.

Inquest, 7021—Gillig vs. Voss.
5134—Wallis vs. Nassau Elec. R. R. Co.
5043—Ficken vs. Pulitzer
5196—Atwood vs. Bache.
1926—Rosengarten vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
5197—Milner vs. same.
6936—Linkert vs. Muller.
5245—Kiernan vs. Man.
2220—Towers vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
5259—Brickelmaier vs. Schulkind.
6655—Lewinsky vs. Fitzgerald.
5200—O'Neill vs. McMullen.
6879—Schwarzbaum vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
3900—R. T. Davis Mill Co. vs. Duryea.
6538½—Flagler vs. Hearst.
1626—Farrell vs. N. Y. Press Co.
7056—Good vs. Rumsey.
4156—Agwan Mfg. Co. vs. Warner.
8404—Kelly vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
751—O'Connell vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
8097—Cunliffe vs. Cram.
6079—Di Lorenzo vs. Aetna Ins. Co.
6715—Greer vs. Kraft.
6080—Same vs. same.
4067—Hart vs. McLaughlin.
841—A. Blum, Jr., & Sons vs. United Firemen's Ins. Co.
2674—Conolly vs. Smith.
6557—Faccini vs. Cegliostro.
1828—Carr vs. Ebling.
4673—Lent vs. Lenane.
2312—Ullmann vs. Chambers.
4229—Hope vs. French Co.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—Bischoff, Jr., J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned until Dec. 11.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IX.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part X.—Dugro, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XI.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part XII.—Adjourned until Dec. 18.

SURROGATE'S COURT—Chambers — Fitzgerald, S.—Motion calendar called at 10:30 A. M.

1—Mary McGill.
2—Mary A. Edson.
3—Mary A. Edson.
4—William B. Appleby.
5—Thomas J. Havemeyer.
6—Charles C. Backus.
7—John J. Gorman.
8—James R. Melvin.
9—Anthony Gorman.
10—James Johnston.
11—

BANK STATEMENTS.

[No. 376.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE CENTRAL NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Saturday, December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$8,902,571.19
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		5,398.77
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		60,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		710,000.00
U. S. bonds on hand		107,089.62
Premiums on U. S. bonds		6,476.50
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,233,810.43
Furniture and fixtures		35,922.80
Other real estate and mortgages owned		174,785.28
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)	$1,439,791.65
Due from State banks and bankers	74,160.32
Checks and other cash items	149,459.41
Exchanges for Clearing House	982,094.96
Notes of other National banks	35,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	6,150.84
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $2,274,709.16
Legal-tender notes ... 794,504.00
U. S. ctfs. of deposit for legal tenders 20,000.00
	3,089,273.16
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation)	2,700.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, (other than 5% redemption fund)	2.50
		5,778,632.34
Total		$17,014,686.93

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund	400,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	134,541.39
National banknotes outstanding	54,000.00
United States bond loan account	500,000.00
Due to other National banks $4,719,325.52
Due to State banks and bankers	1,268,679.43
Dividends unpaid	3,027.16
Individual deposits subject to check	8,192,062.88
Demand certificates of deposit	51,810.66
Certified checks	32,164.27
Cashier's checks outstanding	24,868.48
United States deposits	500,000.00
Deposits of U. S. disbursing officers	134,017.14
Liabilities other than those above stated	200.00
	14,926,145.54
Total	$17,014,686.93

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, C. S. YOUNG, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
C. S. YOUNG, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899.
WILLIAM H. CHAPMAN, Notary Public.
Correct—Attest:
WOODBURY LANGDON,
COURTLANDT D. MOSS,
HENRY SAMPSON, } Directors.

[No. 5,112.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASTOR NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, December 2, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,585,698.54
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		22.08
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		300,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		450,000.00
Premium on U. S. bonds		25,367.25
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,191,371.45
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		154,836.21
Due from State banks and bankers		2,637.28
Checks and other cash items		17,190.58
Exchanges for Clearing House		157,916.15
Notes of other National banks		11,235.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		671.18
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $712,179.25
Legal-tender notes 26,310.00
	738,489.25
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		13,500.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5 per cent. redemption fund		10,000.00
Total		$4,606,895.27

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$350,000.00
Surplus fund	100,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	91,416.98
National banknotes outstanding	270,000.00
Due to other National banks	23,235.34
Due to State banks and bankers	1,105.60
Individual deposits subject to check $3,294,912.94
Demand certificates of deposit 20,802.86
Certified checks 25,421.55
United States deposits 430,000.00
	3,771,137.35
Total	$4,606,895.27

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, GEORGE W. PANCOAST, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
GEO. W. PANCOAST, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899.
FRANK ALLSTROM, Notary Public.
Correct—Attest:
F. D. TAPPEN,
CHARLES A. PEABODY, JR.,
A. H. STEVENS, } Directors.

[No. 1,261.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NATIONAL BUTCHERS AND DROVERS' BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$994,570.53
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		53.50
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		5,252.80
Stocks, securities, &c.		53,014.88
Other real estate and mortgages owned		15,333.44
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		156,061.37
Due from State banks and bankers		3,233.33
Checks and other cash items		13,998.50
Exchanges for Clearing House		62,046.92
Notes of other National banks		963.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		1,213.69
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $309,622.50
Legal-tender notes 50,119.00
	359,741.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		2,250.00
Total		$1,722,733.46

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$300,000.00
Surplus fund	60,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	40,995.04
National banknotes outstanding	43,450.00
Tax account	615.15
Due to other National banks	15,108.68
Dividends unpaid	903.70
Individual deposits subject to check	1,252,004.07
Demand certificates of deposit	1,407.23
Certified checks	8,249.59
Total	$1,722,733.46

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, WM. H. CHASE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of December, 1899.
JOS. E. KEHOE, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.
Correct—Attest:
GEO. F. JOHNSON,
HENRY HOPHEIMER,
HENRY W. KENNEDY, } Directors.

[No. 4,581.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NATIONAL BANK OF NORTH AMERICA,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business, December, 2, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$9,332,561.20
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		6,338.11
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		359,300.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		940,700.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		117,500.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		784,249.26
Other real estate and mortgages owned		25,616.17
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		1,854,008.13
Due from State banks and bankers		189,912.05
Checks and other cash items		51,864.07
Exchanges for Clearing House		725,311.99
Notes of other National banks		6,805.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		281.02
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $2,104,288.75
Legal-tender notes ... 656,199.00
	2,760,487.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		16,168.50
Total		$17,170,553.82

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund	500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	133,312.74
National bank notes outstanding	323,370.00
Due to other National banks	6,075,320.24
Due to State banks and bankers	3,316,589.25
Dividends unpaid	684.00
Individual deposits subject to check	4,481,151.10
Demand certificates of deposit	36,631.98
Certified checks	175,091.03
Cashier's checks outstanding	234,821.32
United States deposits	893,575.00
Total	$17,170,553.82

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, WARNER VAN NORDEN, President of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
WARNER VAN NORDEN, President.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899.
A. H. GRAHAM, Notary Public, N. Y. County.
Correct—Attest:
DANIEL A. HEALD,
HENRY H. COOK,
W. F. HAVEMEYER, } Directors.

[No. 4,645.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE LIBERTY NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,802,942.66
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		107.10
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		500,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		571,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		79,277.34
Stocks, securities, &c.		933,581.02
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		255,148.82
Due from State banks and bankers		20,513.64
Checks and other cash items	$5,870.67
Exchanges for Clearing House	160,080.59
Notes of other National banks	8,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	870.02
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $1,241,859.95
Legal-tender notes 62,506.00
	1,304,365.95
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)	22,500.00
		1,501,687.23
Total		$6,664,257.81

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	445,944.04
National bank notes outstanding	449,997.50
Due to other National banks $1,265,169.84
Due to State banks and bankers	548,597.82
Individual deposits subject to check 2,681,487.29
Demand certificates of deposit	7,272.40
Certified checks	10,909.49
Cashier's checks outstanding	204,879.43
United States deposits	550,000.00
	5,268,316.27
Total	$6,664,257.81

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, HENRY P. DAVISON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
HENRY P. DAVISON, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899. RICHARD T. DAVIES, Notary Public, New York County.
Correct—Attest:
HENRY GRAVES,
CHARLES A. MOORE,
T. A. GILLESPIE, } Directors.

[No. 1394.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE AMERICAN EXCHANGE NATIONAL BANK,
at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$20,414,419.07
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		55,291.21
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		4,850,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		550,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		651,000.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,588,418.45
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		428,746.35
Other real estate and mortgages owned		47,411.03
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		2,053,896.33
Due from State banks and bankers		333,498.32
Checks and other cash items		361,930.84
Exchanges for Clearing House		3,064,021.71
Notes of other National banks		3,988.00
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $2,899,382.59
Legal-tender notes ... 846,000.00
U. S. certificates of deposit for legal tenders 460,000.00
	4,205,382.59
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation)		218,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5% redemption fund		31,000.00
Total		$38,857,253.90

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$5,000,000.00
Surplus fund	2,250,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	401,834.84
Reserved for taxes on circulation	20,000.00
National bank notes outstanding	4,305,000.00
Due to other National banks	4,841,290.95
Due to State banks and bankers	3,133,560.33
Dividends unpaid	10,676.00
Individual deposits subject to check	17,798,854.25
Demand certificates of deposit	166,831.56
Certified checks	338,195.77
Cashier's checks outstanding	43,510.20
United States deposits	547,500.00
Total	$38,857,253.90

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, EDWARD BURNS, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. EDWARD BURNS, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899.
WM. IVES WASHBURN, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.
Correct—Attest:
JNO. T. TERRY,
J. K. MAXWELL,
DUMONT CLARKE, } Directors.

[No. 4,893.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF
THE NATIONAL UNION BANK, NEW YORK, N. Y., at the close of business, Dec. 2, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$11,159,806.63
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		600,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		239,100.00
U. S. bonds on hand		1,500.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		54,523.12
Stocks, securities, &c.		1,408,986.98
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		848,381.42
Due from State banks and bankers		39,154.22
Checks and other cash items		342,279.02
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,441,602.88
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		564.34
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie $2,470,575.75
Legal-tender notes ... 357,990.00
	2,828,565.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		27,000.00
Total		$18,793,861.46

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,260,000.00
Surplus fund	1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	301,728.14
National bank notes outstanding	535,340.00
Due to other National banks $4,519,452.71
Due to State banks and bankers	774,187.70
Individual deposits subject to check 10,078,738.78
Certified checks 157,426.63
Cashier's checks outstanding 667.50
United States deposits 226,320.00
	15,756,793.32
Total	$18,793,861.46

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
I, E. O. LEECH, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. E. O. LEECH, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899.
D. NEVIUS, Notary Public.
Correct—Attest:
S. D. BABCOCK,
R. SOMERS HAYES,
JOS. C. HENDRIX, } Directors.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE UNION SQUARE BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,962,931.08
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$273,394.45
Due from approved reserve agents	318,275.76
	591,670.21
Stocks and bonds	27,000.00
Specie	51,128.58
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	256,070.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$170,031.48
Other items carried as cash	12,111.68
	182,143.16
		$3,070,943.03

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	250,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	69,604.65
Due depositors	2,549,031.38
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends $2,247.00	2,247.00
	$3,070,943.03

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
FREDERICK WAGNER, President, and JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier of the Union Square Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 5 Union Square, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere, and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
FREDERICK WAGNER, President.
JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. LOUIS A. FAHS, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.
[Seal of Notary.]

WINTER RESORTS.

VIRGINIA HOT SPRINGS,
ON CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RY.
A DISTINCTIVE HEALTH RESORT,
combining a perfect Fall climate, an elevation of 2,500 feet, picturesque mountain surroundings, and HOTEL OF THE HIGHEST CLASS.
The fine course of the Virginia Hot Springs Golf Club adjoins the hotel. Through compartment car from New York. Excursion tickets at C. & O. offices, 362 and 1,354 Broadway, and offices Pennsylvania R. R. New York; also offices N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., throughout New England. FRED STERRY, Manager,
Hot Springs, Bath Co., Va.

BANK STATEMENTS.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF
THE MOUNT MORRIS BANK
at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,706,963.31
Overdrafts		816.85
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$17,988.28
Due from approved reserve agents	188,360.00
	206,348.32
Banking house and lot	$200,000.00
Other real estate	55,193.17
	255,193.17
Mortgages owned	68,500.00
Stocks and bonds	5,450.00
Specie	59,871.28
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	132,307.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$129,727.21
Other items carried as cash	6,524.79
	136,252.00
Assets not included under any of the above heads:
Internal revenue stamps	4,302.37
		$2,578,009.80

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$250,000.00
Surplus fund	50,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	3,601.27
Due depositors $2,120,975.18
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers and savings banks	153,212.49
	2,274,187.67
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	220.86
	$2,578,009.80

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
THOS. L. WATT, President, and F. W. LIVERMORE, Cashier, of Mount Morris Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 85 East 125th Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the fourth day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
THOS. L. WATT, President.
F. W. LIVERMORE, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the seventh day of December, 1899, before me. GEO. H. LIVERMORE, Notary Public, [Seal of Notary.] New York County.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE GERMAN AMERICAN BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,596,983.56
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers		266,774.62
Real estate		5,200.00
Stocks and bonds		185,842.08
Specie		590,965.57
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks		230,060.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$2,429,905.46
Other items carried as cash	11,423.32
	2,441,328.78
Assets not included under any of the above heads:
Internal revenue stamps	229.28
		$7,317,353.89

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$750,000.00
Surplus fund	250,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	68,517.51
Due depositors	5,730,078.77
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	518,744.61
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	18.00
	$7,317,353.89

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
JASPER TAG, President, and J. F. FREDERICHS, Cashier, of the German American Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 23 Broad Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere, and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made. CASIMIR TAG, President.
J. F. FREDERICHS, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. JOHN A. WILLIAMS, Notary Public, Kings County.
[L. S.] Certificate filed in New York Co.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE HOME BANK, NEW YORK,

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$446,338.92
Overdrafts		3.34
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$17,875.76
Due from approved reserve agents	78,077.36
	95,953.12
Banking house and lot	$50,000.00
	50,000.00
Stocks and bonds	203,423.75
Specie	51,461.53
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	41,611.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$65,342.81
Other items carried as cash	1,561.27
	66,904.08
		$955,695.74

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	70,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	11,741.87
Due depositors	773,904.78
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	49.09
	$955,695.74

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
GEO. E. KETCHAM, President, and J. P. DUNNING, Cashier, of The Home Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 303 West 42d Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere, and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
CLINTON W. STARKEY, President.
NELSON G. AYRES, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. JAS. E. KEHOE, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

THE PLAZA BANK,

5th Avenue and 58th St., New York.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,825,079.16
Overdrafts		378.31
Stocks and bonds		86,912.50
Specie		29,054.97
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks		149,081.00
Cash items, viz., bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$156,873.57
Other items carried as cash	132,847.63
	289,721.20
		$2,381,127.14

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	100,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	45,787.23
Reserved for taxes	2,000.00
Due depositors	1,908,617.66
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	224,722.23
	$2,381,127.14

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
W. McMASTER MILLS, President, and C. W. PARSON, Cashier, of The Plaza Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 753 Fifth Avenue, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks, designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
W. McMASTER MILLS, President.
C. W. PARSON, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. E. H. COOK, Notary Public, New York County.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE PACIFIC BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,055,784.98
Overdrafts		6.86
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers		433,354.97
Banking house and lot	$120,000.00
Other real estate	4,500.00
	124,500.00
Bonds	430.65
Specie	186,036.34
United States legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	337,765.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$406,702.43
Other items carried as cash	27,762.60
	434,465.03
United States Red. Agency	9,000.00
Total		$4,629,263.83

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in in cash	$422,700.00
Surplus fund	205,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	287,155.46
Due depositors	3,713,537.26
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends $761.00
Tax div. account 110.11	871.11
Total	$4,629,263.83

BANK STATEMENTS.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF
THE TWENTY-THIRD WARD BANK
at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$817,785.73
Overdrafts		861.80
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$19,211.08
Due from approved reserve agents	108,617.09
	127,828.17
Banking house and lot	46,880.00
Mortgages owned	35,000.00
Stocks and bonds	106,273.75
Specie	$51,614.96
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	107,165.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	80,161.70
Other items carried as cash	4,527.02
	243,468.68
Assets not included under any of the above heads:
Furniture and fixtures	2,600.00
Total		$1,380,698.13

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	20,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	44,566.90
Due depositors $1,184,230.41
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks 31,900.82
	1,216,131.23
Total	$1,380,698.13

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
CHAS. W. BOGART, President, and GEO. E. EDWARDS, Cashier, of Twenty-third Ward Bank, a bank located and doing business at the corner of 3d Av. and 135th St., in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the fourth day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
CHAS. W. BOGART, President.
GEO. E. EDWARDS, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. GEO. C. GOELLER, (39,) [Seal of Notary.] Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE NASSAU BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,446,507.62
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		723.28
Due from banks and bankers for collections		295,464.09
Real estate		51,900.00
Stocks and bonds		248,168.33
Specie		227,562.88
U. S. legal tenders and notes of National banks		421,072.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for next day's exchanges	$224,991.19
Other items	1,500.00
	226,491.19
Vault and fixtures	3,560.00
	$3,921,389.29

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$500,000.00
Surplus fund	250,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	14,756.21
Due depositors	3,145,825.90
Due banks and bankers	5,553.10
Unpaid dividends	516.00
Cashier's check	4,500.00
Special tax account	238.08
	$3,921,389.29

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
FRANK H. RICHARDSON, President, and EDWARD EARL, Assistant Cashier, of the Nassau Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 9 Beekman Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chapter 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks, designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
F. H. RICHARDSON, President.
EDWARD EARL, Ass't Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. RAPHAEL M. MATTESON, Notary Public, N. Y. Co.
[Seal of Notary.]

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE ORIENTAL BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,553,460.17
Overdrafts		239.31
Due from approved reserve agents		240,439.52
Banking house and lot	$80,000.00
Other real estate	48,400.00
	128,400.00
Stocks and bonds	552,074.35
Specie	286,087.92
United States legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	111,509.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$133,878.62
Other items carried as cash	50,572.75
	184,451.37
Total		$3,056,661.64

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$300,000.00
Surplus fund	300,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	95,578.66
Due depositors	2,053,684.81
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	305,880.49
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends	1,522.68
Total	$3,056,661.64

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
CLINTON W. CLARKE, President, and NELSON G. AYRES, Cashier, of the Oriental Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 122 Bowery, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chapter 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks, designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.
W. McMASTER MILLS, President.
C. W. PARSON, Cashier.
Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents the 7th day of December, 1899, before me. E. H. COOK, Notary Public, New York County.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE PACIFIC BANK

at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,055,784.98
Overdrafts		6.86
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers		433,354.97
Banking house and lot	$120,000.00
Other real estate	4,500.00
	124,500.00
Bonds	430.65
Specie	186,036.34
United States legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	337,765.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$406,702.43
Other items carried as cash	27,762.60
	434,465.03
United States Red. Agency	9,000.00
Total		$4,629,263.83

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in in cash	$422,700.00
Surplus fund	205,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	287,155.46
Due depositors	3,713,537.26
Amount due not included under any of the above heads, viz.:
Unpaid dividends $761.00
Tax div. account 110.11	871.11
Total	$4,629,263.83

BANK STATEMENTS.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE TWELFTH WARD BANK
at the close of business on the 4th day of December 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,125,444.21
Overdrafts		1,826.51
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$59,069.09
Due from approved reserve agents	145,914.74
	204,983.83
Banking house and lot	$231,410.78
Other real estate	68,243.67
	349,654.35
Mortgages owned	29,663.80
Stocks and bonds	3,100.00
Specie	28,368.89
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks	165,117.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$117,456.86
Other items carried as cash	8,926.40
	126,383.26
Assets not included under any of the above heads:
Revenue stamps	349.87
		$2,034,891.72

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	75,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses

FINANCIAL DIRECTORY.

Chemical National Bank
270 Broadway.

National Bank of Commerce
CAP. AND SUR. $8,500,000.
31 Nassau St.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $1,000,000. Surplus and profits, $2,500,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $1,500,000.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G.
222 B'way.

Continental Trust Company
30 Broad St.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

PHILADELPHIA.

Fourth Street National Bank
Capital, $1,500,000. Surplus, $1,500,000.

BANKERS' CARDS.

Holmes & Co.,
EMPIRE BUILDING,
71 Broadway, New York.
Members { N. Y. Stock Exchange. N. Y. Cotton Exchange. Chicago Board of Trade.
Branch Office:
Lakewood Hotel, Lakewood, N.J.

The Corn Exchange Bank,
William and Beaver Sts., New York.
WILLIAM A. NASH, President.
Capital and Surplus . . . $3,000,000.00
Deposits 20,000,000.00
BRANCHES:
Broadway Branch, Broadway & Spring St. — Astor Place Bank, Astor Place.
Hudson River Bank, 72d St. & Columbus Ave. — Queens County Bank, Borough of Queens.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS,
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission.
DEAL IN
High-Grade Investment Securities.
Lists of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS,
GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.,
BANKERS.
11, 13, 15, & 17 Broad St.
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.
Orders executed for investment or on margin. Interest allowed on deposits subject to check at sight. Railroads reorganized and trade combinations effected. Act as Financial Agents for Corporations and Investors.
U. S. Bonds, all issues, bought and sold.
Branch Offices: 202 FIFTH AV., cor. 25th St. 487 BROADWAY, Silk Ex'ge Bldg 56 WORTH ST. & 39 Thomas St. 87 HUDSON ST., Mercantile Ex. 16 COURT ST., Brooklyn.

36 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK.

Fisk & Robinson
BANKERS
Investment Securities
HARVEY EDWARD FISK,
GEORGE H. ROBINSON.
Member New York Stock Exchange.

Sutro Bros. & Co.,
BANKERS.
Members New York and Philadelphia Stock Exchanges.
56 Broadway, N. Y. 121 S. 5th St., Phila.
Investment Securities
PRIVATE WIRE CONNECTION TO
Phila., Baltimore, Washington, Atlantic City.

New York Telephone, 4914 Cortlandt. — Brooklyn Telephone, 3391 Brooklyn.

Geo. H. PRENTISS & Co
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
37 William St., New York. — 298 Montague St., Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

HAVEN & STOUT
Bankers and Brokers.
Nassau Street Cor Wall St.
Members of
N. Y. Stock Exchange, N. Y. Cotton Exchange, N. Y. Produce Exchange, Chicago Board of Trade.
Branch Offices:
302 Broadway, cor. Duane St., New York.
84 Broadway, cor. Berry St., Brooklyn.

SIMON BORG & CO.,
BANKERS,
No. 20 Nassau St., New York,
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

A. J. DE KANTSTEIN & CO.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange.
30 West 23d St.
STOCKS and BONDS bought and sold for cash and carried on margin.
SPECIAL LADIES' DEPARTMENT.
DAILY MARKET LETTER ON APPLICATION.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

FINANCIAL.

N. Y. SECURITY & TRUST CO.
46 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus . . . $3,000,000
CHARLES S. FAIRCHILD, President.
Wm. L. Strong, 1st V.P.; Abram M. Hyatt, 2d V.P.; Osborn W. Bright, Sec.; Zelah Van Loan, Asst. Sec.

The Trust Co. of America,
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $5,000,000.
ASHBEL P. FITCH . . . . . President.
WILLIAM H. LEUPP, Vice-President. — WILLIAM BARBOUR, Vice-President.
RAYMOND J. CHATRY, Secretary. — HENRY S. MANNING, Vice-President.
ALBERT L. BANISTER, Treasurer. — LAWRENCE O. MURRAY, Trust Officer.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE TRUST CO.
STANDARD OIL BLDG., 26 B'WAY, N. Y. CITY.
Capital $2,500,000
Surplus & Undivided Profits. $2,630,334
TURNER A. BEALL, President.
EDWIN GOULD
THOMAS A. McINTYRE, } Vice Presidents.
S. D. SCUDDER,
S. L. CHAMBERLAINE, Sec'y and Treas.
WILLIAM M. LAWS, Asst. Sec'y and Treas.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS, AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

REDEMPTION
OF
General First Mortgage Bonds
OF THE
NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.
TRUSTEE'S (FINAL) CALL NO. 25,
Maturing January 1, 1900.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Eight Hundred and Ninety-eight (898) of the General First Mortgage $5,000 REGISTERED BONDS of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, or a total par value of $4,490,000, were this day drawn for the Sinking Fund in accordance with the requirements of Articles 11 and 12 of the Trust Mortgage, numbered as follows, viz.:

$5,000 REGISTERED BONDS.

1034	1628	1883	3778	4541	5324	6875
1035	1629	1884	3779	4542	5325	6876
1036	1630	2024	3798	4543	5388	6877
1037	1631	2100	3804	4544	5389	6878
1143	1632	2136	3805	4545	5371	6906
1219	1633	2137	3806	4546	5372	6907
1220	1634	2138	3808	4547	5373	6908
1223	1718	2139	3826	4548	5374	6915
1252	1724	2140	3827	4549	5375	6933
1253	1744	2141	3828	4551	5376	6934
1301	1715	2148	3829	4552	5377	6936
1344	1746	2240	3859	4553	5378	6937
1345	1747	2241	3831	4564	5379	6938
1346	1748	2242	3832	4555	5380	6939
1347	1749	2243	3837	4556	5382	6948
1355	1750	2244	3838	4557	5383	6951
1409	1751	2303	3876	4558	5384	6981
1453	1752	2322	3982	4559	5385	6982
1486	1753	2324	3995	4560	5386	6991
1487	1754	2495	4037	4561	5387	6992
1488	1755	2535	4067	4562	5388	6998
1483	1756	2536	4085	4563	5390	6999
1490	1757	2839	4090	4564	5391	7163
1491	1758	2860	4091	4565	5406	7164
1492	1759	2872	4107	4566	5407	7165
1493	1760	2873	4112	4567	5416	7166
1494	1761	2874	4113	4568	5417	8099
1495	1762	2875	4114	4569	5448	8618
1496	1763	2876	4115	4570	5449	8619
1497	1764	2877	4116	4571	5450	8724
1498	1765	2878	4117	4572	5464	8725
1499	1766	2879	4118	4573	5468	8728
1500	1767	2880	4119	4574	5505	8905
1501	1768	2881	4120	4615	5518	8915
1502	1769	2882	4121	4617	5518	9023
1503	1770	2883	4122	4631	5519	9224
1504	1771	2884	4123	4632	5534	9025
1505	1772	2885	4124	4633	5538	12327
1506	1773	2886	4125	4634	5539	12329
1507	1774	2887	4126	4647	5540	12334
1508	1775	2888	4127	4719	5541	12335
1509	1776	2889	4128	4720	5542	12405
1510	1777	2890	4129	4728	5583	12394
1511	1778	2891	4130	4805	5614	12407
1512	1779	2892	4131	4806	5615	12408
1513	1780	2893	4132	4807	5685	12409
1514	1781	2895	4133	4808	5651	12410
1515	1782	2896	4134	4809	5670	12411
1516	1783	2897	4135	4810	5671	12412
1517	1784	2898	4136	4811	5687	12413
1518	1785	2899	4137	4812	5688	12414
1519	1786	2900	4138	4813	5689	12416
1520	1787	2901	4139	4814	5747	12416
1521	1788	2902	4140	4815	5749	12417
1522	1789	2903	4141	4816	5761	12418
1523	1790	2904	4142	4817	5762	12419
1524	1791	2905	4143	4818	5907	12423
1525	1792	2906	4144	4819	6204	12424
1526	1793	2907	4145	4820	6217	18802
1527	1794	2908	4146	4821	6218	18804
1528	1795	2909	4147	4822	6280	18080
1530	1796	2910	4148	4823	6281	18081
1531	1797	2911	4149	4824	6282	18082
1532	1798	2912	4150	4875	6302	18095
1533	1799	2913	4151	4902	6315	18096
1563	1800	2914	4152	4927	6316	18099
1564	1801	2915	4153	4928	6308	18174
1565	1802	2916	4154	4935	6441	18208
1566	1803	2917	4155	4938	6465	20463
1567	1819	2918	4156	4939	6466	20464
1583	1820	2919	4157	4940	6470	20495
1569	1825	2920	4158	4941	6472	20496
1570	1826	2921	4159	4955	6474	20502
1571	1827	2922	4160	4964	6479	20503
1572	1828	2923	4161	4965	6574	20509
1573	1829	2924	4162	4980	6575	20510
1574	1830	2925	4163	4991	6576	20517
1575	1831	2926	4164	4992	6577	20518
1576	1832	2927	4165	4993	6620	20519
1577	1833	2928	4166	4994	6621	20520
1578	1834	2929	4218	4995	6626	20521
1579	1835	2930	4219	4996	6627	20532
1580	1836	2931	4240	4997	6628	20534
1581	1837	2953	4260	4998	6629	20533
1582	1838	3000	4261	4999	6668	20536
1583	1839	3001	4322	5010	6669	20537
1584	1840	3002	4436	5029	6673	20538
1585	1841	3003	4442	5030	6707	20539
1586	1842	3004	4443	5439	6708	20540
1587	1843	3005	4446	5032	6710	20541
1588	1844	3006	4447	5033	6711	20683
1589	1845	3038	4448	5034	6712	20684
1590	1846	3046	4449	5035	6713	20859
1591	1847	3050	4450	5036	6723	20870
1592	1848	3060	4451	5037	6724	20871
1593	1849	3098	4452	5048	6725	20872
1594	1850	3099	4453	5049	6750	20873
1595	1851	3100	4454	5050	6774	20874
1596	1852	3100	4455	5051	6775	20881
1597	1853	3107	4456	5074	6781	20882
1598	1854	3108	4457	5076	6782	20883
1599	1855	3109	4458	5114	6783	20884
1600	1856	3110	4459	5127	6784	20900
1601	1857	3111	4460	5150	6799	20901
1602	1858	3112	4461	5151	6800	20902
1603	1859	3113	4462	5152	6802	20903
1604	1860	3114	4463	5183	6803	20904
1605	1861	3115	4464	5184	6804	20905
1606	1862	3116	4465	5193	6805	20906
1607	1863	3117	4487	5242	6806	20907
1609	1864	3306	4521	5250	6809	20908
1610	1865	3392	4522	5251	6810	20909
1611	1865	2397	4525	5252	6816	20914
1612	1867	3398	4526	5253	6811	20915
1613	1868	3560	4527	5297	6825	20917
1614	1869	3575	4528	5298	6826	20918
1615	1870	3579	4529	5299	6827	20919
1616	1871	3590	4530	5300	6824	20936
1617	1872	3591	4531	5301	6835	20937
1618	1873	3595	4532	5302	6836	20939
1619	1874	3616	4533	5303	6840	20941
1620	1875	3617	4534	5304	6841	20942
1621	1876	3680	4535	5305	6842	20943
1622	1877	3681	4536	5306	6843	20944
1623	1878	3685	4537	5312	6844	20845
1624	1879	3735	4538	5313	6845	20946
1625	1880	3776	4539	5320	6871	20947
1626	1881	3777	4540	5321	6872	20948
1627	1882

All the outstanding bonds (both coupon and registered) issued under said mortgage have now been called for redemption.

The bonds above designated will be paid at 110 and accrued interest on presentation at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, No. 54 Wall Street, New York, and should be assigned to "CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE, FOR REDEMPTION."

The interest on the above bonds will cease on and after January 1, 1900.

Any holder of any of the bonds above designated, upon presentation and surrender thereof, may receive payment at any time prior to January 1, 1900, at the rate of 110 and interest accrued to date of presentation.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.
By G. SHERMAN, Vice President.
New York, November 13, 1899.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the 898 Registered Bonds were designated by lot in our presence as above stated.
FRED C. RANDALL, With Central Trust Company of New York.
A. H. KENT, Of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.
FRANK B. SMIDT, Notary Public, New York County.

REDEMPTION
OF
First Mortgage Bonds of the Equitable Illuminating Gas Light Company of Philadelphia.

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage of the EQUITABLE ILLUMINATING GAS LIGHT COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA, dated February 1, 1898, One Hundred and Twenty-one (121) Bonds were this day drawn in accordance with the requirements of Article Third of the Mortgage:

143	2048	2991	3904	5269	6276
212	2064	3064	3905	5298	6309
218	2166	3100	3913	5299	6317
223	2250	3134	3926	5491	6387
232	2282	3168	3927	5368	6402
257	2443	3220	4003	5624	6508
301	2478	3248	4018	5710	6568
319	2548	3290	4087	5740	6696
411	2551	3325	4154	5742	6901
483	2576	3334	4159	5754	7046
537	2584	3399	4239	5809	7126
1132	2939	3403	4337	5813	7200
1270	2670	3423	4431	5862	7205
1417	2681	3470	4435	5872	7206
1432	2694	3496	4445	5904	7241
1478	2695	3500	4547	6016	7288
1500	2718	3530	4801	6069
1504	2743	3542	4923	6080
1658	2766	3699	4960	6158
1782	2844	3795	5012	6195
1895	2986	3801	5221	6206

These bonds will be paid at 105 and accrued interest to January 1, 1900, on presentation at the office of the NEW YORK SECURITY & TRUST COMPANY, 46 Wall Street, New York City, on and after January 2, 1900.

Interest will cease on the above bonds on January 1, 1900.

December 1, 1899.

FINANCIAL.

28 Wall Street,
New York, October 12, 1899.
To the Holders of the

First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF THE
PITTSBURGH & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY
(DATED JULY 1, 1887):

Referring to our notice of December 14, 1898, we have to announce that holders of more than 80 per cent. in amount of the First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the Pittsburgh and Western Railway Company have deposited these bonds with us in accordance with the terms of said notice.

We have further to announce that we have made arrangements with the Reorganization Managers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company whereby, in case they issue any Plan of Reorganization of the Pittsburgh and Western Railway Company prior to December 14, 1899, they undertake to give all our depositors whose bonds shall not have been sold to them for cash, as stated in the next paragraph, an option for at least thirty days after such Plan is issued, to take par and interest in cash, or to have their bonds included in the Plan on the basis of new securities. They also agree that at the expiration of such option they will purchase from us for cash at par and accrued interest up to the time of delivery all bonds held by us in respect of which the option to take new securities shall not have been exercised, we agreeing to sell them such bonds. If no Plan shall have been issued by that date, the foregoing arrangements will continue in force thereafter until said Reorganization Managers terminate the same by notice to us.

If any holder of our receipts or certificates, rather than await such Plan, desires and shall elect to sell his bonds for cash, (thereby losing his right of election to take either cash or new securities after issuance of the Plan,) said Reorganization Managers further agree that, at any time prior to December 14, 1899, (and also thereafter until notice from them to us,) such holder may present his receipt or certificate at our office for proper annotation of such election thereon, and that, at the expiration of thirty days from the date of such annotation, he shall receive par and accrued interest in cash therefor at our office upon surrender of his receipt or certificate properly indorsed.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.

INDIANA BLOCK COAL RAILROAD CO.
In accordance with the terms of the Deed of Trust of the Indiana Block Coal Railroad Company, the following bonds have been drawn for account of the sinking fund, viz.:
Nos. 71-94 and 95, three of $1,000 each, and No. 100, one of $500.
The principal and accrued interest of the above bonds will be paid upon presentation at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, 16, 18, 20, and 22 William Street, New York.
The interest on the above bonds will cease on and after January 1st, 1900.
THE FARMERS' LOAN & TRUST CO.,
By E. S. MARSTON, President.
New York, December 1, 1899.

MORTON TRUST CO.
38 NASSAU ST., NEW YORK.
Capital & Surplus, $2,500,000.
LEVI P. MORTON, Pres't. EDWARD J. BERWIND, V.-Pres't.
JAS. K. CORBIÈRE, 2d V.-Prest. WM. REDMOND CROSS, Sec.

"OUTSIDE" SECURITIES
DEALT IN.
DAVID PFEFER IF18 Wall St.

ESTABLISHED EXPORT HOUSE SEEKS A partner with from $10,000 to $20,000 for the development of important and valuable foreign connections which have just been made; principals only. B. O. H., Box 140, Times Office.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

PRICE, McCORMICK & CO. CERTIFICATE OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP.

The undersigned, being desirous of forming a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the statutes of the State of New York, do hereby certify as follows:

1. That the name or firm under which said partnership is to be conducted is PRICE, McCORMICK & CO., and the county wherein the principal place of business is to be located is the County of New York.

2. That the general nature of the business intended to be transacted by such partnership is that of General Commission Merchants and Brokers, including buying, selling, and dealing in stocks, bonds, and other corporate securities, commercial paper, cotton, grain, oil, or other products, or other manufactured articles, or contracts for the purchase or sale of any of the same.

3. That the names of all the general and special partners interested therein and their respective places of residence are as follows: THEODORE H. PRICE is a general partner, whose place of residence is No. 154 West 58th Street, in the City, County, and State of New York; WILLIAM G. McCORMICK is a general partner, whose place of residence is Number 157 Rush Street, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois; RALPH G. M. STUART WORTLEY is a general partner, whose place of residence is Number 65 West Sixty-eighth Street in the City, County, and State of New York; WALTER W. PRICE is a general partner, whose place of residence is in the City and State of New York, and GEORGE CROCKER is a special partner, whose place of residence is at No. 1,100 California Street, in the City and County of San Francisco, and State of California.

The said general partners and the said special partner are all of full age.

4. That the amount of capital which the said GEORGE CROCKER, the special partner above named, has contributed to the common stock is Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000) in cash.

5. That the time at which the said partnership is to begin is the first day of December, 1899, and the time at which it is to end is the thirty-first day of December, 1900, both inclusive.

In witness whereof we have made and severally signed and acknowledged this Certificate the 29th day of November, 1899.

THEO. H. PRICE,
WILLIAM G. McCORMICK,
RALPH G. M. STUART WORTLEY,
WALTER W. PRICE,
GEORGE CROCKER.
U. S. I. R. Stamp. 10 cts.

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
On this, 29th day of November, 1899, before me, the subscriber, personally came Theodore H. Price, William G. McCormick, Ralph G. M. Stuart Wortley, Walter W. Price, and George Crocker, to me known and known to me to be the individuals described in and who executed the foregoing certificate and severally acknowledged that they executed the same.
JAY E. LAWSHE, Notary Public No. 136, New York County.

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:
WILLIAM G. McCORMICK, being duly sworn, says that he is one of the general partners named in the foregoing Certificate of Limited Partnership, and that the sum of $500,000 specified in said Certificate to have been contributed by GEORGE CROCKER, as special partner, to the common stock of the said partnership, has been actually and in good faith paid in cash.
WILLIAM G. McCORMICK.
Sworn to before me this 29th day of November, 1899.
CALEB A. BURBANK, Notary Public, (No. 161,) New York County.
d1-law6wF

DIVIDENDS.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company.
New York, December 6, 1899.
The Board of Directors have declared a dividend on the Preferred Stock of this company of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) per share, payable February 1, 1900, to stockholders, as registered at the close of the transfer books on January 10, 1900. The transfer books for the preferred stock of the Company will be closed from three o'clock P. M. on January 10, 1900, until ten o'clock A. M. on February 2, 1900.
Dividend checks will be mailed to Preferred Stockholders whose dividend orders are on file at this office.
H. W. GARDINER, Assistant Treasurer, 59 Cedar Street, New York.

Rubber Goods Manufacturing Co.
The Directors have this day declared a quarterly dividend (No. 3) of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. on the Preferred Stock of this Company, out of the earnings, payable on the 15th day of December, 1899, to stockholders of record on December 8th, 1899. The Transfer Books will be closed December 8th, at 3 o'clock P. M., and will reopen December 15th, at 10 A. M.
Checks will be mailed to registered holders on the 14th day of December, 1899.
BARING, MAGOUN & CO., Transfer Agents.
New York, Dec. 1st, 1899.

Columbus, O., November 24, 1899.
A dividend of One and One-half Per Cent. has this day been declared on the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable January 10, 1900, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 4, 1899.
The Preferred Stock transfer books will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, New York, at 3 P. M. on Monday, December 4, 1899, and will reopen at the same place at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, December 13, 1899.
THE HOCKING VALLEY RAILWAY CO.,
By N. MONSARRAT, President.

DIVIDENDS.

New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company.
Office of the Treasurer, New York, Dec. 8, 1899.
A dividend of FOUR PER CENT. on the capital stock of the NEW YORK AND HARLEM RAILROAD COMPANY will be paid by the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, lessee, (under the provisions of the contract between the two companies,) at this office, on the 2nd day of January next, to stockholders of record at the close of business on the 15th inst. E. V. W. ROSSITER, Treasurer.

Republic Iron and Steel Co.
November 27, 1899.
A dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. upon the preferred stock of this company has been declared, payable on and after January 1, 1900, to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 15, 1899.
The transfer books will close on December 15, 1899, at three o'clock P. M., and reopen on January 2, 1900, at 10 o'clock A. M.
S. J. LLEWELLYN, Secretary.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

UNION SQUARE BANK,
8 UNION SQUARE.
The annual election for Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12TH, 1899, at the Banking House, between the hours of 1 P. M. and 3 P. M.
JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier.

THE PEOPLE'S BANK
of the City of New York.
393 and 395 Canal St.
November 27th, 1899.
ELECTION.—The annual election for Directors of this Bank and Inspectors of Election will be held at the banking house, Nos. 393 and 395 Canal St., on Tuesday, December 12th, 1899, between the hours of 12 M and 1 P. M. By order of the Board of Directors.
WILLIAM MILNE, Cashier.

THE BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.
New York, Dec 4, 1899.
The annual meeting of the Stockholders of this bank for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held at the Banking House, 33 William Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and noon.
R. L. EDWARDS, President.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

Henderson Bridge Company.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Henderson Bridge Company will be held at the Company's Office, Louisville, Kentucky, on the 1st of January, prox. The stock transfer books will close at 3 P. M. on the 22d inst., and reopen at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 2d of January, 1900.
J. H. ELLIS, Secretary.
Louisville, Ky., Dec. 5th, 1899.

The Merchants' National Bank of the City of New York,
December 7th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 42 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

THE NATIONAL BUTCHERS AND DROVERS' BANK,
New York, December 7th, 1899.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 124 Bowery, on TUESDAY, Jan. 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.

NOTICE.
New York, Nov. 25, 1899.
To Stockholders and Directors of Brock's Commercial Agency, Limited:
There will be an annual meeting, to transact such business as may be brought before you, at the above office, on Saturday, December 9th, at 11 o'clock A. M. HENRY BROCK, President.

EDEN MUSEE AMERICAIN COMPANY, (Limited.)
A quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. has been declared, payable on December 15th, 1899. The transfer books will be closed from December 9th to December 16th, 1899.
FREDERIC VIEWEG, Secretary.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF THE REPUBLIC.
New York, December 7th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking House on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
C. H. STOUT, Cashier.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST.—Ctf. No. A20396 for 50 shares Union Pacific R. R. Co. Pfd. stock in the name of Mary Bowditch Forbes. A new certificate will be issued in lieu of such lost or stolen certificate unless on or before the 1st day of Jan., 1900, cause be shown why such new certificate should not issue. Miss MARY BOWDITCH FORBES, care J. Murray Forbes, Sears Building, Boston.

NOTES OF INSURANCE INTERESTS

Commissioner Scofield of the Connecticut Insurance Department has authorized the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation of London to transact a general casualty and accident business in that State.

The New England Fire Insurance Exchange has adopted a recommendation of its Committee on Chemical Hazards, to the effect that an additional premium of 5 cents per $100 of insurance be charged on barns and other buildings in which automobiles having gasoline or naphtha for their motive power are stored.

The insurance on the property at 393 Pearl Street, which was considerably damaged by fire Tuesday, was distributed as follows: On Alberene Stone Company, Phœnix of London, $5,000; Continental, $5,000; live anywhere except in the very dry at Lancashire, $5,000; London and Lancashire, $5,000; Phœnix of Hartford, $4,250; British America, $2,500; Niagara, $2,500; National of Hartford, $1,500. On Common Sense Manufacturing Company, Queen, $2,250; Norwalk, $2,000; Scottish Union and National, $2,000; Norwich Union, $1,425. On E. M. Waring, Caledonian, $1,500; Lancashire, $500. Miller & Maltbie will adjust the losses.

A complimentary dinner will be tendered by prominent local fire underwriters to Henry E. Bowers, who retires shortly as manager of the American branch of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company of London and Edinburgh. The dinner will be given at Delmonico's on the evening of Dec. 28.

The New York Fire Insurance Exchange, at its meeting yesterday, discussed for more than two hours the resolution offered by President Moore of the Continental Insurance Company in regard to the distribution of reinsurance. The resolution was defeated by a yea and nay vote of 21 to 26, about half of the foreign managers voting with Mr. Moore, and only one agency office casting a favorable vote. The Brokerage Committee was instructed by a unanimous vote of the Exchange to charge a license fee of $2.50 when the outstanding brokers' certificates are called in for renewal. A few minimum rates were also adopted.

The syndicate of Omaha and Eastern capitalists, which purchased a controlling interest in the stock of the Farmers and Merchants' Insurance Company of Lincoln, Neb., has now bought the Home Insurance Company of Omaha, and the consolidation of the two companies is now announced as pending. The Home of Omaha was bought to prevent it from passing under the control of D. E. Thompson, who formerly conducted the Farmers and Merchants' of Lincoln.

Judge Wheeler of the United States Circuit Court yesterday handed down a decision in the action brought by George Gadd, a policy holder, against the Equitable Life Assurance Society, to get what he considered to be his share of the society's surplus fund. The decision is to the effect that if the Equitable Life Society will tender to Mr. Gadd the sum of $2,558.85, known as the undisputed money, with interest from May 15, its demurrer to the complaint will be sustained. The plaintiff, however, is allowed twenty days to amend his complaint, and if he does not do so, the defendant will get an absolute judgment on the demurrer. If Mr. Gadd accepts the money, Judge Wheeler further says, his action shall not prejudice his rights, if he has any, to recovery of a further sum under the policy.

A MORTGAGE OF MILLIONS.

Given by Guayaquil and Quito Railway to Secure Bonds.

A mortgage for $12,282,000 given by the Guayaquil and Quito Railway Company to the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of this city was filed with the Clerk of Hudson County in Jersey City yesterday. The railway company is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey. The mortgage is to secure an issue of bonds to be used in completing the mortgagee's railroad between Chimbo Ridge and Quito, Ecuador. The bonds are payable in thirty-three years and are to bear six per cent. interest payable in gold.

Sixty-five miles of the road have been constructed. It is to be extended 230 miles to Quito, according to the statement of E. Hope Norton given out yesterday. The mortgage covers the railway plant and factories and other property it may acquire. The company is to receive a large share of the Government Custom House receipts. The company has now four locomotives and thirty-six cars in use. The road will furnish an outlet for extensive coal deposits.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks irregular.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 7	457,536
To date this year	157,585,333
Corresponding date last year	103,089,366

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 7	$1,302,300
To date this year	$796,250,090
Corresponding date last year	$826,622,230

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 5@7 per cent.; at three months, 6 per cent.; at six months, 6 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 5½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Cotton Oil	½	Den. & Rio Grande	½
Am. Malt. pf	2	Laclede Gas	1
Am. Steel & W. pf.	⅝	N. Y. Central	½
Am. S. H. pf	1	Rep. Steel pf	½
Anaconda Copper	¾	St. Paul & Om.	1¾
Canada South.	½	Texas & Pacific	½
Chi. & East. Ill.	½	Un. B. & P. pf.	1¾
C. G. W. pf., A	¾	Union Pacific	1

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

In yesterday's market for outside securities declines were more numerous than advances. Much irregularity showed throughout the day, and the market was probably more unsettled than it had been any day recently. Demand appeared for a certain number of issues, but in most cases sellers of stocks found a poor market, and could dispose of their holdings only at recessions from the previous day's figures. Trading was fairly active, although it continues to be true that most of the business done is supplied by a very few issues. No disposition appears at present to accumulate stock, and brokers report that it is much easier to buy than to sell. Few of the net changes appearing at the close were the result of news developments, and the day's course of prices was rather the result of the general indisposition to buy stocks than of special influences.

STORAGE POWER led the list in activity. It was much more irregular than on any day since it began to attract attention, a condition due to the efforts of traders end to profit taking, induced by the sharp advance which the stock has enjoyed during the present week. Announcement of the election of W. Seward Webb as President of the company was favorably received, and at the opening the stock sold up very sharply. It went to 17¼, an advance of about 2 points over Wednesday's closing bid, but here a good deal of stock appeared, some of which was put out by bear traders, and the price quickly reacted to the previous day's closing price. On fairly large buying by inside interests it recovered more than a point of this decline, but later sold off again and closed at 14⅜ bid, a net loss of five-eighths of a point.

NEW AMSTERDAM GAS was again under pressure, and both the common and preferred stocks sold at a decline from the previous day's figures. Sales of the preferred stock in fairly large amount were made as low as 45, a several-point decline from recent figures. This stock recovered a point from the lowest and ended the day at 46 bid. A fractional net loss was recorded in the common stock, which closed at 25 bid. Weakness in the stock was reflected in the price of the bonds, which went to 95½. Intimations have been had of late that the company would have serious difficulty in meeting the interest due on its bonds next month, and these intimations had been used to bear the stocks. Aiming to put these rumors at rest, a representative of New Amsterdam Gas interests yesterday offered to discount at 6 per cent. the coupons due in January. This action strengthened slightly the market for the gas issues, but was not reflected by any net gain in the bonds.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA common was still offered quite freely, but a little better demand appeared, and a fractional net gain was recorded. Rumors of dissatisfaction on the part of a certain number of stockholders witht the present management of the company were again heard, but met with denials by an officer of the company.

ELECTRIC AXLE was exceptionally strong early in the day, and sold up to 7⅝. Later it followed the general course of the market and lost practically all its early advance. Closing bids of 7 for the stock showed a gain of an eighth of a point. No news was had in regard to the company's affairs.

ELECTRIC BOAT showed the largest net advance for the day, closing at 26 bid, against 24 on the previous day. Trading in the stock amounted to only a few hundred shares.

AMALGAMATED COPPER was given very little support, and liquidation in the stock brought about a further decline of 1¼ points. It closed at 83¼ bid, the lowest sale for the day being 83½. Several of the other copper stocks were offered considerably below recent prices.

NEW YORK TRANSPORTATION suffered a net loss of 1 point, closing at 11 bid. Not much stock came upon the market, but the little that was offered was sufficient under the conditions prevailing yesterday to bring about this rather sharp decline.

SLOSS-SHEFFIELD was strong, and in the preferred stock, on transactions amounting to 400 shares, made a net gain of half a point. It closed at 73½ bid, while the common stock closed unchanged at 35 bid, but with no stock offered under 37.

ELECTRIC VEHICLE sold in odd lots at 68. Within the last few days there has been no change in the market for full lots, which have been offered at 75 without a bid.

FLEMINGTON COAL AND COKE sold at 27½ and 28. Transactions amounted to only 200 or 300 shares.

Closing quotations were as follows:

ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Gas Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Bay State Gas	1⅝	1¾
New Amsterdam	25	25⅜
New Amsterdam pf.	46	47
New Amsterdam 5s, with interest	95	96

Industrials.

American Agricultural Chemical	35	36
American Agricultural Chemical pf.	78	79
American Bicycle	18	20
American Bicycle pf.	58	60
American Bicycle bonds	90	91
American Hide & Leather	..	35
American Hide & Leather pf.	..	80
American Woolen Goods	24	25
American Woolen Goods pf.	80	81
American Writing Paper 5s	87	..
Beet Sugar	..	28
Beet sugar pf.	..	79
Distilling Company of America	9⅛	9⅜
Distilling Company of America pf.	..	32½
Electric Axle Light & Power	7	7¼
Electric Boat	26	..
Electric Boat pf.	42	45
Havana Commercial	16½	18
Havana Commercial pf.	59¾	60½
International Pump	15	17
International Pump pf.	64	66
National Gramophone, ex. div.	70	74
National Salt	..	47½
National Salt pf.	78	79¼
National Tube	46½	47
National Tube pf.	94½	95¼
Otis Elevator	25	27
Otis Elevator pf.	88	91
Pittsburg Coal subs.	96	..
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	94½
Rubber Goods Mfg.	..	30
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf.	81½	83
Sloss-Sheffield	37	37
Sloss-Sheffield pf.	73½	74
Standard Oil of New Jersey, ex div.	468	470
Union Steel & Chain	20	25
Union Steel & Chain pf.	60	65
U. S. Pneumatic Horse Collar	⅝	½

Miscellaneous.

Amalgamated Copper	83¼	83¾
American Air Power	45	50
American Cotton	..	50
Arizona Copper	9⅞	10¼
Asphalt Company of America	14¾	15
British Columbia Copper	10½	11
Chicago & Alton sub.	108¼	108½
Chicago & Alton 3s, (new)	95	96
Electric Vehicle	..	75
Electric Vehicle pf	..	100
*Electro-Pneumatic, assessment paid.	1	1⅜
Flemington Coal & Coke	27	28
Illinois Transportation	2¾	3½
Manhattan Light & Heat	2	5
*Markeen Copper	..	⅞
Mexican 5s	..	98½
New England Transportation	6¾	7¼
New York Gas & Electric 4s	90½	91
New York Gas & Electric 5s	102¾	103
New York Transportation	12	14
Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie	22¼	24
St. Louis subs.	..	128
St. Louis common, when issued	26	31
St. Louis preferred, when issued	..	93
St. Louis 4s, when issued	..	94¼
Storage Power	15	18
Tennessee Copper	12½	14
Trust Company of America	226	230
Virginia Coal, Iron & Coke	30	31
Whipsaw Copper	12¾	13½

*Selling dollars per share. Par value, $10.

LESS ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Street Railways.

	Bid.	Asked.
Broadway & Seventh Avenue	230	240
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 1st	104	105
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 2d	110	112
Broadway Surface 1st 5s	115	117
Broadway Surface 2d	104	105
Brooklyn City Railroad	238	240
Brooklyn, Bath & West End 5s	102	103
Central Park, N. & E. River	195	..
Central Park, N. & E. River 7s	107	109
Chicago Union Traction	28	28¾
Chicago Union Traction pf.	79	79½
Columbus Railway	22	23½
Columbus Railway pf.	86	90
Con. Traction of N. J.	64	65
Con. Traction of N. J. 5s	112	113
Eighth Avenue Railroad	400	410
Kings County Elevated 4s, (new)	87½	88½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av.	72½	77½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 1st	116½	118
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 2d	89	91
Nassau Electric 4s	94	95
Nassau Electric 5s	110	113
New Orleans Traction	30	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	104	..
Ninth Avenue Railroad	190	205
North Jersey Street Railway	32½	..
North Jersey Street Railway 4s	92	94
Orange & Passaic Valley bonds	103	104
Steinway Railway Co. 6 p. c. 1st	117	118
Second Avenue Railroad consols	115½	117
Sixth Avenue Railroad	215	230
Syracuse Rapid Transit	12	18
Syracuse Rapid Transit pf.	25	35
Union Railway 1st 5s	115	117
Union Railway stock	190	200
United Traction, Providence	112	113
Worcester (Mass.) Traction	30	32
Worcester (Mass.) Traction pf.	104	107

Gas Companies.

Buffalo (N. Y.) stock	7	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st, with interest	74	78
Central Union 5s guaranteed	103½	106
Consolidated Gas of Newark	56	..
Consolidated Gas of Newark bonds	101	106
Consolidated bonds of N. J.	87½	89½
Consolidated Gas of N. J.	21¾	23½
Consumers' Gas (Jersey City) bonds	102	105

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Thursday, Dec. 7, 1899.

	—Closing.— Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
	112	113	13	American Express	111½	111½	111½	111½	.....
	15⅝	16	315	Am. Car & Foundry	15¼	15¼	15¼	15¼	.....
	61	62	350	Am. Car & Found. pf.	61	61	61	61	.....
	33	34	350	American Ice	33⅞	33⅞	33½	33½	— ⅛
	75½	78	130	American Ice pf	76	76	76	76	.....
	34¾	35	830	American Cotton Oil	34¼	35	34¼	34⅞	+ ⅛
	95	97	100	Am. Cotton Oil pf.	96	96	96	96	.....
	12¼	12½	1,300	American Linseed	12¼	12⅜	12¼	12⅜	+ ⅛
	53⅞	54⅝	220	Am. Linseed pf.	53⅝	54	54	54	— ⅛
	41	43	500	Am. Malting Co. pf.	43½	44	43	43	+2
	37½	38	2,270	Am. Smelt. & Ref.	39	39	37⅝	38½	— ⅝
	90	90	590	Am. Smelt. & Ref. pf.	89⅝	89⅝	89	89½	+ ⅛
	45¼	45⅝	8,785	American Steel & Wire	45	46	44½	45⅝	— ⅛
	94½	95	1,410	Am. Steel & Wire pf.	94½	94⅝	94½	94½	+ ⅛
	152	152½	38,665	Am. Sugar Ref. Co.	153	153	151¾	152⅝	+ ⅛
	29½	29½	2,155	American Tin Plate	30½	30⅝	29	29¼	— ⅝
	76¼	77	900	Am. Tin Plate pf.	79½	79½	77⅝	78	—2
	111½	111⅝	45,110	American Tobacco	114⅝	114⅝	110¾	111½	—2½
	43½	44	2,650	American Steel Hoop	46	46	43	43⅞	+ ⅛
	82	83	270	Am. Steel Hoop pf.	83	83	83	83	+1
	42¾	43⅜	940	Anaconda Copper	43½	43⅝	43¼	43⅜	+ ⅛
	22⅜	22½	210	At., T. & S. F.	22⅜	22⅝	22⅜	22⅝	+ ⅛
	65¼	65⅝	11,720	At. T. & S. F. pf.	65¼	65⅝	64⅝	65	.....
	55⅞	56	1,375	Baltimore & Ohio	56⅛	56¼	55¼	55½	— ½
	82½	82½	2,865	Baltimore & Ohio pf.	82½	82½	81⅝	82	.....
	82⅞	83	34,365	Brooklyn Rapid Tran.	83¾	83¾	82	82⅞	— ½
	138	141	10	Brooklyn Union Gas	140	140	140	140	.....
	15⅝	15¾	100	Brunswick City	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	— ⅛
	53¼	54	100	Canada Southern	53¼	53⅜	53½	53½	+ ⅛
	30¾	30⅞	12,100	Chesapeake & Ohio	30⅛	31⅛	30¾	30⅝	+ ⅛
	132⅛	132½	5,180	Chi., Bur. & Quincy	132¾	132⅞	131¾	132½	+ ⅛
	96¾	97	400	Chicago Eastern Ill.	96	96½	96	96½	+ ½
	14	14¼	4,410	Chicago Great West.	14⅜	14⅝	14	14	— ⅛
	81	82	150	Chi. Gr. West. pf. A.	82	82½	82	82¼	+ ⅛
	39½	41	100	Chi. Gr. West. pf., B.	41½	41¼	41¼	41½	+ ⅛
	123¾	124	5,390	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul.	123⅞	124	123¼	123⅞	+ ⅛
	173¼	173½	410	Chi., Mil. & St. P. pf.	173¼	173¼	173	173	—1¼
	160½	169½	1,555	Chicago & Northw.	167	169½	167	169½	+3½
	112⅜	112⅝	2,360	Chi., R. I. & Pac.	112½	112½	111⅞	112½	.....
	11⅝	12½	1,292	Chi. Term. Trans.	12	12	11⅞	12	.....
	39	39½	435	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	40	40	39½	39¼	+ ⅛
	62⅜	63	1,913	C., C., C. & St. L.	62⅞	63	62¾	62¾	.....
	106	106	500	C., C., C. & St. L. pf.	106	106	106	106	.....
	1⅞	2¼	100	Colorado C. & I. Dev.	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	— ⅛
	54	54½	1,330	Colorado Fuel & Iron.	54	54¼	52½	53	— ⅝
	10⅛	10⅜	400	Colorado Midland	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	+ ⅛
	22½	22¾	100	Colorado Midland pf.	22½	22½	22½	22½	— ½
	5¾	6¼	1,200	Colorado Southern	5¾	6¼	5¾	6	.....
	17⅞	18⅛	100	Col. & H. C. & I.	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞	— ⅛
	193	194	2,840	Consolidated Gas	193	193⅞	192¼	192½	+ ½
	37⅝	38	15,315	Continental Tobacco	40	40	37¼	37⅝	—2
	89¼	89⅞	2,255	Continental Tobac. pf.	90⅜	90⅜	89¼	89¼	—1⅛
	119½	119⅝	4,020	Delaware & Hudson	120	120	117¾	118½	—1
	186	187	2,600	Del., Lack. & West.	186½	186½	184	185½	.....
	20½	21	200	Denver & Rio Grande.	20½	20½	20½	20½	+ ⅛
	74½	74½	310	Denver & R. G. pf.	74⅜	74⅜	74¼	74¼	+ ⅛
	6⅞	7¼	225	Du., S. S. & At.	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞	.....
	15	16	200	Du., S. S. & At. pf.	15¼	15¼	15	15	—1
	36⅝	36⅞	600	Erie	37	37	36	36⅝	— ⅝
	42	42¼	200	Erie 1st pf.	18¼	18¼	18	18	—1¼
	27,360			Federal Steel	60⅜	61	59½	59⅞	— ⅝
	80	82	2,735	Federal Steel pf	80¼	80¼	79¾	79¾	— ⅛
	125⅜		500	General Electric	125⅜	125⅝	125	125	— ⅛
	50		1,095	Glucose Sugar Ref.	50	50	49½	.....	.....
	99	102	110	Glucose Sugar Ref. pf.	99	99	99	99	.....
	176½	177½	1,810	Great Northern pf.	177½	178	176¾	177½	.....
	63¾	64	200	Hocking Valley pf.	63¾	64	63¾	64	.....
	114¼	114¾	700	Illinois Central	114¼	114¼	114	114	.....
	22	22	1,110	International Paper.	22	22	21½	21⅝	— ⅛
	68	68	640	International Paper pf.	68	68	67	67	—2
	56⅝	56⅝	100	Iowa Central pf.	56⅝	56⅝	56⅝	56⅝	+ ⅛
	9½	9¾	700	K. C., Pitts. & Gulf.	9½	9¾	9⅜	9½	.....
	3⅞	4⅛	100	Keokuk & D. M.	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞	— ⅛
	83⅜	84	216	Laclede Gas	83⅜	84	83⅜	84	+1
	19½	19⅝	50	Lake Erie & West.	19½	19⅝	19¾	19⅝	.....
	81⅞	84¼	4,160	Louisville & Nashville.	81⅞	84¼	83¾	84¼	+ ⅛
	103¾	103½	12,795	Manhattan Con	103¾	104	103	103½	— ⅛
	81½	82¼	200	Met. W. S. El., Chi., pf	81½	81½	81¼	81¼	— ¼
	192¾	192⅝	1,225	Met. Secured Railway	193¼	193½	192	192½	— ¼
	12⅜	12⅝	840	Mexican Central	12⅜	12¾	12⅜	12⅜	.....
	4½	4⅝	100	Mexican National ctfs.	4½	4½	4½	4½	.....
	66	66	1,010	Minn. & St. Louis	66	66	65	65	—1½
	97	98	900	Minn. & St. L. 2d pf.	97	98	97	97½	.....
	38⅜	38½	1,600	Mo., Kan. & Texas pf.	38⅜	38½	37¾	37⅞	— ⅛
	47¾	47¾	2,970	Missouri Pacific	47¾	47½	46¾	47¼	.....
	182½	182½	42	Morris & Essex	182½	182½	182½	182½	.....
	39½	39½	220	National Biscuit Co.	39½	39½	39	39	.....
	92¾	93	50	Nat. Biscuit Co. pf.	92¾	92¾	92¾	92¾	.....
	28¾	29	210	National Lead Co.	28¾	28⅞	28¾	28⅝	— ⅜
	105½	108	10	Nat. Lead Co. pf.	108	108	108	108	.....
	42	42¼	4,285	National Steel	43½	44	42	42¼	—1
	92¼	94	685	Nat. Steel pf	94	94	92⅝	92⅝	— ⅞
	118⅛	118½	4,150	New Jersey Central	120½	120½	117½	120½	—1
	148	150	437	New York Air Brake.	149	150	148	148	—1
	133½	133⅝	1,400	New York Central	133⅞	134	133⅜	133⅝	+ ⅛
	5	5½	10,369	N. Y. Central, rights.	5	5½	4⅞	5	.....
	80½	83	100	N. Y., C. & S. L. 1st pf	80½	80½	80½	80½	—2½
	132½	132½	5,180	N. Y., Lack. & West.	132½	132½	132½	132⅜	— ⅛
	25¼	24⅞	10,285	N. Y., Ont. & West.	25¼	25⅜	24½	24⅝	— ⅛
	26⅜	26½	2,400	Norfolk & Western.	26⅜	26½	26¼	26½	+ ⅛
	70¼	70½	625	Norfolk & West. pf.	70¼	70¼	70¼	70½	.....
	15⅝	15⅝	1,100	North American	15⅝	15	15	15¼	— ⅛
	56	56¼	5,410	Northern Pacific	56	56¼	55⅝	56⅛	— ⅛
	76½	76¾	2,593	Northern Pacific pf	76½	76¾	75⅞	76⅜	— ¼
	8⅝	8¾	100	Ontario Mining	8⅝	8¾	8⅝	8⅝	.....
	50½	50¾	200	Pacific Coast	50½	50¾	50¼	50¼	.....
	47⅝	47⅝	3,650	Pacific Mail	47⅝	47⅝	45⅝	45⅞	—1⅝
	134⅝	135	3,204	Pennsylvania R. R.	134⅝	135	134¼	134⅞	+ ⅛
	111¼	111¾	3,600	People's Gas, Chicago	111¼	111¾	110½	110⅝	— ⅝
	4	4	200	Peo., Dec. & Evans	4	4	4	4	+ ⅛
	72	72	1,610	P., C., C. & St. L.	72	72	70	70¾	—2⅛
	89	89	120	P., C., C. & St. L. pf.	89	89	89	89	.....
	56¼	56½	310	Pressed Steel Car	56¼	56½	56¼	56¼	+ ¼
	89½	89½	45	Pressed Steel Car pf.	89½	89½	89	89	.....
	194¼	194¾	300	Pullman Pal. Car Co.	194¼	194¾	192¼	192½	— ⅝
	19⅞	20	2,730	Reading	19⅞	20	19½	19½	— ¼
	58½	58½	6,110	Reading 1st pf.	58½	58½	56½	57	—1
	29¾	30	2,000	Reading 2d pf.	30	30	29¼	29⅝	— ⅝
	23½	23½	1,160	Rep. Iron & Steel	23½	23½	22⅜	23	— ⅝
	69¼	69¼	750	Rep. Iron & Steel pf.	69¼	69¼	69¼	69¼	+ ½
	7¼	7¼	200	St. J. & G. I.	7¼	7¼	7¼	7¼	.....
	10⅜	10⅝	250	St. L. & San Fran.	10⅜	10⅝	10⅜	10⅜	.....
	11⅜	11⅝	260	St. Louis Southw.	11⅜	11⅝	11¼	11¼	.....
	30½	30½	1,210	St. Louis Southw. pf.	30½	30½	30⅜	30⅜	— ⅛
	119	120½	1,100	St. Paul & Omaha.	119	120½	119	120¼	+1⅜
	171	171½	500	St. Paul & Omaha pf.	171	171½	171	171½	—3½
	42	42¼	25,797	Southern Pacific	42	42¼	41⅜	42	+ ⅝
	12⅞	12⅞	2,340	Southern Railway	12⅞	12⅞	12⅝	12⅝	.....
	57⅝	57⅞	3,559	Southern Railway pf.	57⅝	57⅞	57¼	57⅝	+ ¼
	11	11¼	500	Standard R. & T.	11½	11½	11¼	11¼	+ ¼
	112¾	113	1,690	Tenn. Coal & Iron	113	113	111½	112¾	— ⅝
	17¼	18	100	Texas Pacific	18	18	18	18	+ ½
	13½	14½	50	Texas Pacific Land Tr.	14	14	14	14	.....
	145½	147½	200	Third Avenue	146	146	146	146	.....
	136	137½	210	Twin City R. T. pf.	137	137	137	137	.....
	24	24½	600	Union Bag & Paper.	25	25¼	24½	24½	+ ¼
	79	79¼	500	Union Bag & Paper pf.	78	79	78	79	+1½
	50¼	50⅝	26,040	Union Pacific	49⅞	50⅝	49¼	50⅝	+1
	76¾	77	4,350	Union Pacific pf.	76¼	77	76	77	+ ½
	12½	30	100	U. S. Flour Milling pf.	15	15	15	15	+3
	13	13¼	26,895	United States Leather.	12⅜	13⅜	12⅜	13	+ ⅛
	79	79¼	1,080	U. S. Leather pf.	79¼	79½	78¾	79½	+ ⅛
	44⅜	45	1,020	United States Rubber.	45⅝	45⅝	44¾	44¾	— ½
	108¼	109	402	U. S. Rubber pf.	109	109	109	109	—1
	7⅞	8	100	Wabash	8	8	8	8	.....
	22⅞	22¼	950	Wabash pf.	22¾	22⅜	22¾	22½	— ¼
	87¼	87¾	1,190	Western Union Tel.	87¼	87¼	87¼	87½	— ⅜
	10⅜	10¼	2,210	Wheeling & Lake Erie.	10⅜	10⅞	10¼	10¼	— ⅜
	56	57	325	Wheel. & L. E. 1st pf.	57½	57½	56½	57½	+1
	29¼	29⅜	1,922	Wheel. & L. E. 2d pf.	29½	30	29	29⅜	+ ¼
	19	19¼	123	Wisconsin Central	19¼	19¼	19¼	19¼	— ¼
	54½	55	770	Wis. Central pf.	55	55	54½	54½	— ½
	Sales.....		467,536

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—United States Oil led in interest in the stock market, declining from 38½ to 37, with a rally to 38¾, against highest of 55 recently. Sympathetically, Central Oil fell ⅞, to 20⅝. Boston and Montana was 6 lower, at 304; Santa Fé, ½ off, at 6; Parrot, ½ lower, at 39½. Old Dominion lost 1, to 25, with rally of ½. Elm River sold at 6@5½. Osceola lost 1½ more, to 73½; Isle Royale, ½ to 28½; Wolverine, 1, to 39, with ½ rally. Boston Water Power reappeared and was bought actively, selling up 3½, against 2 bid at the close yesterday. Mergenthaler was 1 better, at 207½, and Bell Telephone tallied 1, to 346. Michigan Telephone was offered at 100, with no bid, a surprising condition in view of current volume of business, earnings, and dividend payments. Santa Ysabel was 1 lower, at 8; Bingham was up ⅛, at 13; Mohawk off 2, at 17.

Call loans, 6@7; time money, 5@6; commercial paper, 5½@6. At the Clearing House balances between the banks loaned at 6 per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	6	6½	Old Colony	4	6
Allouez	3	3½	Old Domin.	25¼	25½
Arcadian	28½	..	Osceola	73	74
Arnold	6½	7½	Parrot	39	40
Ash Bed	..	1	Pioneer	2⅜	2⅞
Atlantic	25	26	Quincy	150	153
Baltic	21½	22	Rhode Isl'd.	5½	5⅝
Bost. & C. C. .30	.40		Santa Fé	5⅝	6⅛
Bost. & Mon.	304	305	Santa Ysabel	7⅜	..
Butte & Bost.	67	71	Shoe	33	33½
Cal. & Hec.	737	740	Tamarack	208	212
Centennial	20	..	Utah Cons.	33⅛	33⅜
Franklin	15½	16	Washington	1⅞	1⅞
Humboldt	1½	2	White Knob	10	12
Isle Royale	28½	29	Winona	7½	8
Mohawk	17½	18	Wolverine	38½	39½

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	250	252	C. Mass. pf.	..	70
Bost. & Low.	241	..	Fitchburg pf.	120	..
Bost. & Me.	..	208½	N. Y. & N.	..	..
Bost. & Prov.	299	300	E. 6s	111	112¼
Bost. Elev.	..	1¼	N. Y. & N.	..	..
Bost. Gas 5s.	1¾	85	E. 7s	115¼	116⅝
Cent. Mass.	17	..	West End	..	93

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. Bell T.	346	347	Mex. Tel.	3⅛	3¼
Chi. Sk. Yds.	..	145	N. Eng. Tel.	..	144
Dom. Coal	..	39	U. S. Oil	38½	39
D. Coal pf.	118	..	West. Elec.	..	44
Erie Tel.	..	107	West. El. pf.	..	67

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The stock market possessed no new features of importance to-day. In Linseed the trading was comparatively light. It opened at 12⅜ and sold to 12⅝, after which it declined to 11⅞ and closed at 12⅛. The preferred advanced from 54½ to 55, but dropped to 53½ and closed at 54. Match opened at 126 and gained a point, but closed where it started. The close of Tin Plate preferred at 77 showed a loss of two points during the day. The common sold down from 30¼ at the start to 28½, but closed one point higher than the latter. Biscuit could not hold the opening at 40 and declined to 38⅜, and closed at 38¾. Metropolitan Elevated preferred ranged from 81⅝ to 82¾, the latter being the close and 82 the opening. The bonds brought 95¼@95½.

	High.	Low.	Close.
3,405 Linseed	12⅝	11⅞	12⅛
3,490 Linseed pf	55	53½	54
1,065 Tin Plate	30¼	28½	29½
1,210 Tin Plate pf	79	77	77
25 Chicago Brewing	2½	2½	2½
100 Chicago Brewing pf	13	13	13
50 Union Traction	30¾	30¾	30¾
50 Union Traction pf	80	80	80
225 Diamond Match	127	126	126
1,220 Met. Elevated pf	82¾	81⅝	82¾
2,205 National Biscuit	40	38¾	38¾
55 National Biscuit pf	94	94	94
120 National Carbon	17½	17	17
50 National Carbon pf	83	83	83
900 National Steel	42	42	42
10 National Steel pf	93¾	93¾	93¾
50 North Chicago	236	236	236
100 South Side Elevated	104	104	104
4 West Chicago	117	117	117

BONDS.

	High.	Low.	Close.
$18,000 Met. Elev. gold 4s	95½	95¼	95¼

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—The Philadelphia market continues to suffer from various ills resulting from an overdose of new stocks. The only remedy is time. The worst of the trouble is over, but convalescence after a serious illness is usually tedious. In an irregular and humdrum market to-day Warwick Iron and Steel was in good demand up toward 11 on continued large earnings, and the approach of another quarterly 2½ per cent. dividend. Susquehanna Steel was bought for its approaching 6 per cent. declaration. Cambria Steel and Union Traction were fractionally heavy. Philadelphia Electric is in statu quo, pending the dissolution of the injunction. When this takes place interest will no doubt revive.

Closing bid and asked:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Cambria	21	21⅛	Union Trac.	40¼	40⅝
Choctaw	36	37	Un. Gas Imp.	159	161
El. Co. of A.	13⅞	14⅛	Welsbach Lt.	47	48
Leh

QUEENS TEACHERS' FIGHT.

City Officials Must Show Cause Why Salaries Should Not Be Paid—Suffering Alleged.

Walter J. Foster of the law firm of Foster & Foster of Long Island City yesterday obtained an order requiring the auditor of the Board of Education, Controller Coler, and Mayor Van Wyck to show cause on Dec. 11 why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not issue requiring them to pay to the Principal and teachers and other employes of the school known as No. 9 of the Queens Borough system, the Long Island City High School, the amount of money due them for their work in October.

The action is brought in the names of Peter E. Demarest, Principal of the school, and Annie E. McAuliffe, Maude O. Clyde, Lizzie Rector, John F. Garrity, E. M. Herrmante, Margaret K. Acker, Michael McMahon, and Charlotte M. Vincent. The total amount required for the October pay roll is about $55,000.

Some of the teachers in Queens are badly in need of their money. Few of them have any money outside of their salaries. Some of them complain they are almost without covering for their feet, and say that owing to lack of money they have been unable to ride to and fro from the schools, thereby wearing out their shoes, and now have no money to buy new ones. They also say they are behind in their board bills and without money to pay for the things absolutely needful for life and comfort.

TYPEWRITER OPERATOR KILLED.

May Harley of Brooklyn Fell Down an Elevator Shaft.

May Harley, eighteen years old, a typewriter operator, employed at 118 Duane Street, by the American Boot and Shoe Company, and who lived with her father and brothers and sisters at 98 Underhill Avenue, Brooklyn, was killed yesterday at her place of employment by falling down an elevator shaft. Her skull was fractured. She was picked up unconscious and removed to Hudson Street Hospital, where she died without recovering consciousness.

She was in the habit of going to all of the five floors in the building. Some of the employes think that she was answering a telephone call near the elevator shaft at the back of the building on the second floor and that she accidentally stepped into the shaft under the impression that the floor of the elevator was at the landing where she stood. Miss Harley was in the habit of taking herself up and down on the elevator.

Willish Dennett, an employe of the company, was on the ground floor and saw her body falling down the shaft. He found her in the sub-cellar. Her body was removed to her late home.

OLD MAN FOUND ALONE, DIES.

The Victim, George M. Hinchman of Brooklyn, Was Reputed Wealthy.

George M. Hinchman, sixty-five years old, who was found unconscious in the flat he occupied on the third floor of 957 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, late on Wednesday night, having been stricken with apoplexy, probably last Thursday, after preparing his Thanksgiving meal, died yesterday in St. Mary's Hospital, where he had been removed. He did not regain consciousness. Mr. Hinchman, it was learned yesterday, had been a widower for twenty years. He had several children, all married, excepting one son, who is living with one of his sisters at Springfield, L. I.

Mr. Hinchman owned the house in which he lived, and had lived alone for ten years. His daughters are Mrs. Cecilia Noah of 419 East Seventeenth Street, Manhattan; Mrs. Georgiana Ferry of 504 West Forty-fourth Street, and Mrs. Henrietta Gordon of 345 West Seventeenth Street, who called at the Ralph Avenue Police Station yesterday and had a talk with Capt. Velsor. They said that their father, after their mother's death, had preferred to live alone.

The doctors at St. Mary's Hospital are puzzled as to how Mr. Hinchman, if he really was stricken on Thanksgiving Day, lived six days without food. After Mr. Hinchman's removal to the hospital, Capt. Velsor placed a policeman in charge of the premises, with instructions not to permit anything to be disturbed until Coroner Delap takes charge of the man's effects today.

It is said Mr. Hinchman had an estate of nearly $200,000. An autopsy will be made on the body to-day, after which it will be removed to the Gates Avenue house.

WOMAN FIGHTS A BURGLAR.

Grapples with the Intruder in Her Room and Is Badly Beaten.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Mrs. L. Schurtzenberg, a National delegate from the Red Cross Society to the Philippines, and a personal friend of President McKinley, is lying at the home of Mrs. S. S. Wise, 401 Thirty-third Street, under a physician's care, with her face bruised and swollen and her arms and body black and blue as the result of a struggle with a burglar last night.

Mrs. Schurtzenberg is a member of a prominent family, and was on her way to Washington after being in the Philippines since last May. Early this morning she was awakened by hearing some one in her room. She jumped up, and, grappling with the burglar, screamed for help. In the struggle for the possession of her jewel case she was struck time and again. The burglar finally plunged through a window and escaped. Mrs. Schurtzenberg saved her money and jewelry.

IN THE REAL-ESTATE FIELD

Hotel Royal Site Sold—Deal in Twenty-eighth Street Near Broadway —Other Transactions.

John B. Cole, owner of the former site of the Hotel Royal, a plot 50.7 by 100, at the southeast corner of Sixth Avenue and Fortieth Street, said yesterday that a contract had been signed for the sale of that property to Elizabeth M. Anderson of Greenwich, Conn. The instrument was also filed for record in the Register's office, and, according to it, the consideration in the deal is $175,000. Mr. Cole acquired the Hotel Royal site several years ago from Hyman Israel, giving in part payment flats adjoining the Hotel Marie Antoinette at Broadway and Sixty-sixth Street.

Samuel Goldsticker has sold for Lewis S. Wolff the four-story dwelling 40 West Twenty-eighth Street, south side, 227 feet west of Broadway, 25 by 98.9. The buyer, Martin H. Gundkind, will alter the building immediately for business purposes.

The Lightstone estate has sold the plot, 100 by 175, at the northeast corner of Broadway and One Hundred and Forty-seventh Street.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for Joseph Spears to a client for investment the five-story building, with stores, at the northeast corner of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-first Street, lot about 25 by 100.

Bryan L. Kennelly & Co. have sold for the estate of Ellen McDonald to Dr. Peter J. Murray the three-story stone-front dwelling, 159 West Seventy-first Street, 20 by 102.2. Kennelly & Co. were also the brokers in the sale of the northwest corner of Broome and Varick Streets to Mandelbaum & Lewine.

It is reported that F. N. Goddard has bought the three four-story 16-foot dwellings, 239, 241, and 243 East Thirty-fourth Street.

Mrs. Josephine N. Cowperthwait is the buyer of the dwelling, 150 Riverside Drive.

The two lots on the north side of Seventy-seventh Street, 50 feet east of Madison Avenue, sold recently through Douglas Robinson & Co., were bought by Paul Leicester Ford, the author.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. have sold to Lowenfeld & Prager the three-story dwelling, 235 East Thirty-ninth Street, 19 by 100.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

29 and 31 Ridge Street, 40 by 75, two three-story brick tenements, with stores; partition sale, to the American Mortgage Company $22,800

By James L. Wells.

124 to 130 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, each 20 by 100.11, four three-story stone-front dwellings; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiffs, Oppenheimer & Metzger 77,500

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co.

126 East Eighty-fourth Street, 25.6 by 102.2, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to Peter Schaeffler 19,750

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

33 Bowery, 25 by 81.4 and irregular, six-story stone-front building; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiffs, W. Irving Clark and another, executors 25,800

48 West One Hundred and Fourth Street, 38.4 by 100.11, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, John T. Terry, trustee 42,000

598 Courtlandt Av, 29.8 by 100, five-story brick flat, with stores; foreclosure sale, to H. Metzler 24,000

By John T. Boyd.

Brook Avenue, east side, 236 feet south of One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Street, 75.3 by 104.5 by 75 by 100.6, three four-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Charles Unangst 23,000

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By L. J. Phillips & Co., foreclosure sale, J. P. Solomon, referee, 319 West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, north side, 275 feet west of Eighth Avenue, 25 by 99.11, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $15,912.

By William Kennelly, foreclosure sale, David R. Daly, referee, 861 and 863 Elton Avenue, west side, 50 feet north of One Hundred and Sixtieth Street, 50 by 100, two four-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $2,869; subject to other mortgages for $20,700.

By Herbert A. Sherman, foreclosure sale, Charles G. F. Wahle, referee, 57 and 59 Ann Street, north side, 144 feet west of William Street, 28 by 122.11 and irregular, four and five story brick factory buildings. Due on judgment, $50,731.

By Herbert A. Sherman, foreclosure sale, John M. Stoddard, referee, 147 West One Hundred and Eighth Street, north side, 250 feet east of Amsterdam Avenue, 25 by 100.11, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $19,396.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., sale by order of the Sheriff, 428 Columbus Avenue, west side, 102 feet north of Eightieth Street, 25.6 by 100, leasehold, one-story frame building, all title and interest of John Thomas on Dec. 19, 1893.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Wilber McBride, referee, 575 Mott Avenue, west side, 50 feet south of One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, 25 by 98, four-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $12,388.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, John J. McCauley, referee, Mosholu Parkway, south side, the block front between Decatur and Hull Avenues being 246.9 on the parkway, 50 feet on Decatur Avenue, and 122.7 feet on Hull Avenue, vacant. Due on judgment, $993; subject to another mortgage for $8,500.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Jacob Marks, referee, Railroad Avenue, Unionport, north side, extending from Washington to Jackson Street, 21.6 by 265, two-story frame building, with hall. Due on judgment, $2,225; subject to another mortgage for $7,000.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street, west side, 131 feet south of Fordham Road, for four two-story and basement brick and frame dwellings, 18.9 by 36; Mary Mapes, University Heights, owner; S. H. Mapes, architect; cost, $12,000.

No. 37 Parker Avenue, for a two-and-one-half-story frame dwelling, 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger, architect; cost, $2,500.

Nos. 39 and 41 Parker Avenue, for two two-and-one-half-story frame dwellings; 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger, architect; cost, $5,000.

Nos. 94 and 96 Grace Avenue, for two two-and-one-half-story frame dwellings, 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger, architect; cost, $5,000.

No. 124 St. Raymond Avenue, for a two-and-one-half-story frame dwelling, 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger, architect; cost, $2,500.

No. 128 Lafayette Street, for a two-and-one-half-story frame dwelling, 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger architect; cost, $2,500.

Nos. 102, 104, and 107 Grace Avenue, for three two-and-one-half-story frame dwellings, 18 by 30; Hudson P. Rose, owner; B. W. Berger, architect; cost, $7,500.

No. 1999 Tinton Avenue, for a one-story frame shed, 20 by 10; Peter Olssen, owner; cost, $40.

No. 314 East Twenty-fifth Street, for a six-story and basement brick flat, with store, 25 by 85.10; Jacob Kassewitz of 45 Avenue A, owner; G. E. Pelham, architect; cost $25,000.

Sheriff Street, southeast corner of Stanton Street, for three seven-story brick flats, 25 by 70 and 61.11; J. Fischel of 216 Clinton Street, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $75,000.

No. 129 Perry Street, for a six-story and basement brick flat, 25 by 85.10; Elias Kempner of 55 East Sixty-first Street, owner; G. F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $23,000.

No. 88 Bedford Street, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 55; Leister & Dohrenwend of Eighth Street and First Avenue, owners; Schneider & Herter, architects; cost, $23,000.

Alterations.

Third Avenue, west side, 50 feet north of Seventeenth Street, to a four-story brick dwelling and store; William Allaire of 192 Third Avenue, owner; J. J. Hearn, architect; cost, $200.

Seventieth Street and Third Avenue, northeast corner, to a four-story brick tenement; J. F. Malcolm, owner; C. H. Richter, architect; cost, $75.

No. 91 Grand Street, to a four-story brick tenement; Morris Safran of 126 West Ninety-sixth Street, owner; C. H. Richter, Jr., architect; cost, $2,000.

Ninety-first Street, northeast corner of Lexington Avenue, to a three-story and basement brick dwelling and store; Ludwig Fromm of 124 East Forty-fifth Street, owner; C. M. Youngs, architect; cost, $4,000.

No. 156 Second Avenue, to a three-story brick store and meeting room; W. Walter, premises, owner; cost, $150.

No. 6 Maiden Lane, to a four-story brick store and lofts; Henry Marquand, owner; Joseph Branson, architect; cost, $108.

No. 239 Madison Avenue, to a four-story and basement brick and stone dwelling; G. A. Shelton of 91 East Tenth Street, owner; S. E. Gage, architect; cost, $20,200.

No. 87 East Broadway, to a four-story and basement brick dwelling and store; John Davis of 7 Pine Street, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $500.

No. 886 One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, to a four-story brick factory; Louis Ricca, premises, owner; A. Vendresco of 160 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $250.

Nos. 58 and 60 Worth Street, to a six-story brick store and lofts; New York Real Estate Association, owner; R. Berger, architect; cost, $3,000.

STREET OPENINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

ASSESSMENTS COMPLETED.—Acquiring of site for Twelfth Ward Park—Report to be filed in Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, First Department, Jan. 5, 1900. Opening of Morris Avenue, between the Concourse and Tremont Avenue—Report to be filed in Part III. of the Supreme Court, Jan. 15, 1900. Opening of Tiffany Street, from Longwood Avenue to Intervale Avenue—Report to be filed in Part III. of the Supreme Court, Dec. 28, 1899. Opening of East One Hundred and Sixty-second Street, from the Concourse to Morris Avenue—Report to be filed in Part III. of the Supreme Court, Dec. 28, 1899.

New Home for the Whist Club.

The Whist Club of New York, which now occupies, as tenant, 11 West Thirty-sixth Street, has bought from the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, acting as trustee, the adjoining property, 13 West Thirty-sixth Street, a four-story dwelling, on a lot 24 by 98.9. The club will renovate the house, and will also build a three-story extension running to nearly the full depth of the lot. The purchase was made through Brokers Wilmerding & Field.

Recorded Real Estate Transfers.

Thursday, Dec. 7.

ACKERMAN ST, w s, 263.11 ft n of lands of Spuyten Duyvil and Port Morris Railroad Company, 37.6x100; Joseph Flanagan to Bridget Flanagan 1

CLAREMONT AV, w s, 157.7 ft s of High Bridge St, 25x114; Louisa Bechleau to Hugo W. and Anna M. Classen 1,550

CLAREMONT AV, s w corner of 122d St, 100x100; Matilda Well to James and William Bradley 1

CLINTON ST, 14, 20x100.2; Simon Jacobs to Samuel Wacht 1

CROTONA AV, e s, 36.7 ft n of 181st St, 81.6x49.8x77x65.1; Mary A. Campbell to Frederick Pirk and another ..... Nominal

CROTONA AV, w s, 75 ft n of Oakland Place, 25x100; Frederick Pirk and another to Mary A. Campbell 1

GRAND ST, 283 and 287, 50x100; Mayer Eisemann to Harry Fischel 1

HESTER ST, w s, 23.6 ft w of Orchard St, 42.1x62.10x42.3x63.5; Gerson Hyman to Sender Jarmulewsky 1

HUDSON ST, 71, 25x91x25x90.4; New York Condensed Milk Company to Borden's Condensed Milk Company 1

INTERIOR LOT, begins 77.2 ft s of Cliff St and 195.4 ft e of John St, runs w 2.8x s 11.6x e 2.9x n 11.4; Susanna E. Cary and others to Isaac H. Cary 1

LAWRENCE ST, 12, 20x irregular; William McReynolds to Christian D. Uffelmann, correction deed 1

LORILLARD ST, e s, 105.4 ft s of 188th St, 25x97.10; Ola L. Smith to George P. Wetmore 1

LOTS 86, 87, 88, 89, and 90, map of land of Philip Milledoler, 12th Ward; Cornelius Brett to Theresia Binzen, quit claim

OLD MACOMB'S DAM ROAD, w s, 295 ft s of 170th St, new line, 25x112.6; Daniel Brady to George and Katie Belmler 5,000

PARK AV, s w corner of 88th St, 25.2x82.3; James King to George Marbach and another 100

PARK AV, s e corner of 180th St, 116x135.10; New York Condensed Milk Company to Borden's Condensed Milk Company 1

ST. NICHOLAS AV, e s, 124.11 ft n of 145th St, 20.11x100; Thomas Allison, referee, to Juliet M. Livingston 25,700

UNION AV, 674, e s, 21x95; Mary T. Cosgrove to Edward H. Kelly 1

WEST ST, s w s, east ½ of Lot 8, map of Wardsville, 25x109.6x25x103; Fannie Metz to Anna Proebsel 950

8TH AV, s e s, Lot E and part of Lot 22, map of land of John Ireland; 8th Av, s e s, Lot F, map of land of John Ireland; 8th Av, s e s, Lot G and part of Lot H, map of land of John Ireland; Abraham Levy to Louis Sroka 1

81ST ST, s s, 174 ft n e of Lexington Av, 21x98.9; Charles E. Lansing to Emma A. Stivers 1

81ST ST, s s, 174 ft n e of Lexington Av, 21x38.9; George E. W. Stivers to Charles E. Lansing 1

84TH ST, n s, 225 ft w of 2d Av, runs n 98.9x w 161.5x s 98.9 to 84th St x 23.1x n e 18.6x s e 94.4 to 84th St x e 41.8; New York Condensed Milk Company to Borden's Condensed Milk Company 1

85TH ST, 330 West, 30.9x100.5; Earl G. Pier to Cornelia B. Page 100

85TH ST, s s, 163.6 ft e of 9th Av, 38.6 x100.5; Mary L. Downey and others, executors, to Mary Mackey 35,500

85TH ST, s s, 163.6 ft e of 9th Av, 38.6 x100.5; Mary L. Downey to Mary Mackey 1

85TH ST, 330 WEST, 30.9x100.5; Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to Earl G. Pier 1

52D ST, 527 West, 25x100.5; James Murray and Robert Hill to Edmund Bittler 28,000

52D ST, 60 West, 20x1⅛ block; Horace C. Skelly to Seymour P. Kurzman 1

73D ST, 434 East, 25x102.2; Karl M. Wallach to Meta S. Geils 100

74TH ST, 59, 15 ft w of Park Av, 20x102.2; Gustavus C. Weber and another to Jacob Bernheim 1

76TH ST, 157 West, 18x102.2; Mary J. Thiery to Joanna Balkam 34,000

76TH ST, n s, 200 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 19x102.2; Herman Wronkow to Harry Wolfe 1

86TH ST, 68, s s, 139.9 ft w of Park Av, 31.11x102.2; Theodore B. Willis to George A. St. John 47,500

99TH ST, n s, 50 ft w of Park Av, 75x100.11; Isaac M. Bernstein to Samuel J. Ruth and another 1

103D ST, 164 East, 27x100.11; Charles Lassall to Dora Hayman 100

109TH ST, 245 and 247 West, 50x100.11; Chase Mellen, referee, to Hugh King 9,150

111TH ST, n s, 125 ft e of 5th Av, 25x100.11; also 111th St, n s, 125 ft e of 2d Av, 75x100.11; New York Condensed Milk Company to Borden's Condensed Milk Company 1

121ST ST, 351 West, 16x100.11; George H. Balkam to Mary J. Thiery 17,000

133D ST, n s, 295.7 ft w of Willow Av, 16.6x100; Mary J. Brown to Therese W. Eldred 1

133D ST, n s, 312.1 ft w of Willow Av, 16.10x100; Mary J. Brown to Therese W. Elderd 1

133D ST, n s, 262.5 ft w of Willow Av, 16.7x100; Mary J. Brown to Therese W. Elderd 1

133D ST, n s, 287.6 ft w of Willow Av, 16.8x100; Mary J. Brown to Therese W. Elderd 1

133D ST, n s, 275.11 ft w of Willow Av, 16.8x100; Mary J. Brown to Therese W. Elderd 1

133D ST, n s, 150 ft w of 10th Av, 125x99.11; Rachel Juster to James Murray and another 35,000

135TH ST, s s, 250.8 ft e of Lenox Av, 17.2x99.11; Jordan J. Rollins, referee, to Sophia E. Beach 9,000

175TH ST, 747 East, 17.6x103; Dora Hayman to Charles Lassall 100

179TH ST, 521 East, 16x75; J. Alfred Mohlt to Virgilio Fofeti 1

201ST ST, n s, 96.8 ft e of Marion Av, 25 x100; Peter Scrymgeour to Elizabeth Scrymgeour, 1-5 part 1

Recorded Leases.

BEEKMAN, Gerard, and another, trustees, to Peter Hynes; 3d Av, w s, 50.5 ft s of 63d St, 25x90, 2d years $950

BOLLT, Rebecca, to Solomon Katz; 114 Ludlow St, 3 3-12 years 1,550

DUNN, James, to Ernst Meiching; 225 East 44th St, 3 years 360

P. LENANE & Brother to George Kalkbremer; 59 North Moore St, 5 years 480

STARK, Tobias, to John J. Kinnealy; 481 Willis Av, 4 5-12 years $600, 660

STIMMEL, Barbara, to H. W. Illwitzer; 291 and 293 Bowery, 3 years 3,000

Recorded Mortgages.

BALKAN, Joanna, to Mary J. Thiery; 157 West 70th St, 1 year $13,000

BALKAN, Joanna, to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 157 West 70th St, 1 year. 15,000

BEMLER, George, and wife to Daniel Brady; Old Macomb's Dam Road, w s, 295 ft s of 170th St, 3 years 2,000

BIGOT, Eliza, to Mary E. Smith; Walton Av, n w s, 398.7 ft s w of 164th St, 5 years 7,500

BROOKS, Elizabeth, to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 128th St, n s, 535 ft w of 5th Av, 1 year 2,500

CERVANTE, Mary A. A., to Matilda B. Brown; 134th St, s s, 234.6 ft w of Lenox Av, 1 year 22,500

COLT, Harris D., Henry R. Steele; 100th St, n s, 475 ft e of 3d Av, 2 months 10,000

FINCH, Mary J., to Emma F. Chiraey; 8th Av, e s, 57 ft s of 29th St, 1 year 2,288

FOGARTY, Elizabeth, to Citizens' Savings Bank; 2d Av, w s, 18 ft s of 132d St, installments 11,000

FRIEDGGEN, Henry, to Irving Savings Institution; 167th St, s s, 175 ft e of Washington Av, 1 year 7,000

GEILS, Meta S., to Karl M. Wallach; 434 East 73d St, 3 installments 4,000

GEILS, Meta S., to Hannah Strouse; 434 East 73d St, 5 years 13,500

HOGAN, James P., to John J. Cox; Marmion Av, w s, 150 ft s of 176th St, demand 250

KALBRENNER, George, to Obermeyer & Liebmann; 59 North Moore St, saloon lease, demand 900

KELLY, Edward H., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 674 Union Av, 1½ year 3,500

KLEIN, Benedict A., to American Mortgage Company; 231 and 233 East 24th St, 1 year 15,000

KLEIN, Benedict A., to Joseph L. Buttenwieser; 231 and 233 East 24th St, demand 14,000

LASSALL, Charles, to Dora Hayman; 747 East 175th St, 2 years 1,500

LITTENBERG, Solomon, to Gustav H. Schwab, executor, &c.; 417 Grand St, 5 years 40,000

MACKEY, Mary, to Mary L. Downey and others, executors, &c.; 51st St, s s, 163.6 ft e of 9th Av, 3 years 23,075

MACKEY, Mary, to Lewis A. Mitchell; 51st St, s s, 168.6 ft e of 9th Av, 3 years 7,000

MAHRBACH, George, and Gustav Eckert to James Higgins, executor, &c.; Park Av, s w corner of 88th St, 5 years 35,000

MAHRBACH, George, and Gustav Eckert to James King; Park Av, s w corner of 88th St, 3 years 5,000

MARMORSTEIN, Joseph, to Hewlett Scudder, Jr.; Pierce Av, s s, 100 ft e of Deane Place, 5 years 1,500

MILLER, Catherine L., to Peter Miller, guardian, &c.; 126th St, n s, 16.8 ft e of 7th Av, widened, 5½ years 6,000

MITCHELL, Donald, to Harold Brown; 47th St, s s, 512.6 ft e of 7th Av, 3 years. 85,000

MOORE, John H., to Bernheimer & Schmid; 1,355 Boston Road, saloon lease, demand 500

MURRAY, James, and Robert Hill to Charles H. Dugliss; 133d St, s s, 150 ft w of 10th Av, 1 year 7,000

NOBLE, John W., Jr., to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; Broadway, n w corner of 108th St, 201.10 to 109th St x 100, 1 year 500,000

NOBLE, John W., Jr., to Jacob D. Butler; Broadway, n w corner of 108th St, 201.10 to 108th St, 100, 1 year 96,463

NOBLE, John W., Jr., to Jacob D. Butler; Broadway, n w corner of 108th St, 201.10 to 109th St x 100, ½ year 22,000

O'BRIEN, John J., to Miguel Alvarez; Southern Boulevard, e s, 60 ft s of Valentine Av, 5 years 7,000

O'BRIEN, John J., to Ida B. Iden; Southern Boulevard, e s, 85 ft s of Valentine Av, 5 years 7,500

OGREN, Anna, to Frederick W. Beale; 152d St, n s, 150 ft e of 8th Av, 2 years. 4,000

OGREN, Anna, to Frederick W. Beale; 152d St, n s, 100 ft e of 8th Av, 2 years. 4,000

PIER, Earl G., to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 51st St, 330 West, 2 years 35,000

PIRK, Frederick, and Charles Diamond to Mary A. Campbell; Lot 58, map of Village of East Tremont; also, Crotona Av, e s, 836.7 ft n of 181st St, 1 year 2,000

RUSSELL, Samuel, to German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company; 100th St, s w corner of Park Av, demand 5,000

RUTH, Samuel J., and Rachel Hoffman to Abraham Ruth and Isaac M. Berinstein; 99th St, n s, 50 ft w of Park Av, demand 7,072

RUTH, Samuel J., and another to Abraham Ruth and another; 99th St, n s, 50 ft w of Park Av, demand 53,000

SANGER, Rebecca, to Jacob Frees; 151st St, s s, 100 ft w of Courtlandt Av, 2 years 1,500

SCHAWE, John C. and Catherine, to George A. St. John; 142d St, n s, 334.6 ft e of Grand Boulevard or 11th Av, 1 year. 2,500

SEARLES, Sarah W., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 59 West 62d St, 3 years 3,000

SROKA, Louis, to Abraham Levy; 8th Av, or Abingdon Square, s w s, 142.7 ft n e of Bleecker St; 8th Av, s e s, 106.7 ft s w of 12th St; 8th Av, s e s, 97.6 ft n e of Bleecker St, ½ year 14,500

SROKA, Louis, to Samuel Greenbaum, trustee; 8th Av, or Abingdon Square, s w s, 142.7 ft n e of Bleecker St; 8th Av, s e s, 106.7 ft s w of 12th St; 8th Av, s e s, 97.6 ft n e of Bleecker St, ½ year. 12,000

TARBELL, John J., to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 595 East 139th St, 1 year 3,500

WACHT, Samuel, to Simon Jacobs; 14 Clinton St, secures notes 4,500

WOLFE, Harry, to Augustus T. Gillender; 76th St, n s, 200 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 1 year 10,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

AMERICAN MORTGAGE COMPANY to Pompeo Maresi $16,008

AMERICAN MORTGAGE COMPANY to New York Security and Trust Company. 50,132

CARRINGTON, Augustus B., to Charles H. Van Hise 2,000

DECKER, Kate B., to J. L. Mott Iron Works 1,200

DOOLING, John T., to Frances Van Vechten, 17-60 part 3,400

DOUGLAS, Archibald, administrators, &c., to John Vincent, executor, &c. 13,000

GREACEN, Thomas E., to Margaret A. Denarest 2,000

HARRINGTON, John J., to William P. Dickson ..... Nominal

HENCKEN, Albert C., to John D. Heins. 11,000

JACOBS, Simon, to Isidore Jackson and another ..... Nominal

MANDELBAUM, Harris, and another to Morris Morrison 3,000

ROSENBLUM, Jacob C., to Jacob B. Grifenhagen and another 1,500

ROSENBLUM, Jacob C., to Jacob B. Grifenhagen and another 1,500

STILLWELL, William M., trustee, to Produce Exchange Trust Company, trustee, &c., (four assignments) ..... Nominal

THE CITY TRUST, SAFE DEPOSIT and Surety Company of Philadelphia to Robert Caterson 9,725

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to the House of Mercy, New York. 14,000

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to the House of Mercy, New York. 10,000

WILKENS, Polka M., and others, trustees, &c., to Paul Fuller and another, trustees 1,818

Mechanics' Liens.

AMSTERDAM AV, 1,980; Charles Kanzler against Mary E. Larkins, owner; John C. Fagen, lessee; McConologue Brothers, contractors $160

AMSTERDAM AV, 1,930; Henry Undutsch against Mary E. Larkins, owner; John C. Fagen, lessee; McConologue Brothers, contractors 63

BOSTON ROAD, e s, 50 ft n of 169th St, 187x100; Brady & Haverty against William Ueckermann, owner and contractor. 2,706

BOSTON ROAD, e s, 50 ft n of 169th St, 187x100; George Friencke & Son against William Ueckermann, owner and contractor 9,674

BOERCK ST, 23 and 25; Anna Kapelsohn against Paulina Aronowitz, owner; Paulina and Louise Arnowitz, contractors 400

JACKSON AV, s e corner, 163d St, 72x75; John Kelly against Frank W. Steele, owner and contractor 1,550

WASHINGTON ST, s e corner of Rector St, 21.6x58; the Prince & Kinkel Iron Works against Moses J. Wolf and Emanuel Hellner, owners; A. A. Shibley, owner and contractor 449

7TH AV, 1,855; Semon Bache & Co. against Seaboard Realty Company, owner; Warren Woodworking Company, contractor 77

8TH AV, 2,057; Hookey & Mueller against S. P. Longiglio, owner and contractor. 702

8TH ST, 319 to 323 East; Mandel Stern against George Hoffman, owner and contractor 71

9TH ST, 7 East; Samuel H. Stein against Joseph S. Auerbach, owner; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, contractor 123

14TH ST, s s, 250 ft e of 6th Av, 75x206.6 to 13th St; Milton Schnaier against Bernard J. Ludwig, owner and contractor 428

19TH ST, 39 East; Jacob S. Haft against John F. Scannell, owner and contractor. 260

22D ST, 126 East; Samuel H. Stein against George A. Freeman, owner; Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, contractor 18

54TH ST, 145 to 153 East; B. Goetz Manufacturing Company against Rosamund Herter, owner; Frank W. Herter, contractor 600

54TH ST, 52 East; Samuel H. Stein against John D. Wing, owner; the Hudson Heating and Ventilating Company, contractor 1,470

112TH ST, 318 to 324 East; John H. Scully against G. Fusco, owner and contractor. 810

158D ST, s s, 200 ft w of Courtlandt Av, 50x100; John W. Rapp against Frank J. Graffite, owner and contractor 25

163D ST, s s, 350 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 100x100; Charles Reilly against W. H. Daly, owner and contractor 52

Dispute the Amount of a Lien.

Wolf Reiss, owner of the property on the east side of First Avenue, 50 feet north of Ninety-first Street, against which a mechanic's lien was filed on Tuesday, together with Contractor Halpern, asserts that the amount of the claim as alleged by John Phillips, $889, is unjust and largely in excess of the sum actually due him. The owner and contractor say that they have always been willing to pay the amount actually due and that they will now bond the lien and carry the matter to court, if necessary.

Lis Pendens.

BOSTON ROAD, s e s, 50 ft n e of 169th St, 100 x100; Thomas Hugres against William Ueckermann and others, (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorney, B. J. Kelly.

BROADWAY, n w s, Lots 58 and 59, map of farm at King's Bridge of Mary C. P. Macomb; John Weber against Katharine Weber and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Simpson & Werner.

BROOK AV, s w corner of Westchester Av, 104x44.10x87.8x20; John A. Philbrick against Charles Maarden and others, (amended foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Sackett & Lang.

LINCOLN ST, lot begins 149 ft w of 3d Av, and 90 ft n of 118th St, runs n 61.5x w 45x s 50.8x w 5x n 10.11x e 50 to beginning; Herbert Vandyke, trustee, against Virginia Wood and another, (action to set aside deed, &c.;) attorney, F. C. Cantine.

ST. NICHOLAS AV, w s, 59.2 ft n w of 119th St, 32.3x88.6x27.6x106.5; Eveline H. Brainerd against Louise V. Weber and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, T. Davenport.

UNION AV, w s, 50 ft s of old s s of 156th St, 100x100x irregular; Luigi Marino against Mathew F. Riley and others, (action to declare partnership interest, &c.;) attorneys, Menken Brothers.

41ST ST, s s, 269 ft e of 2d Av, 16x98.9; Anna W. Salius against Abraham Frankel and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, F. S. Walt.

83D ST, s s, 315 ft e of 5th Av, 45x102.2; John P. Kane Company against Edward M. Knox and others, (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorney, J. W. Shepard.

104TH ST, s s, 162.8 ft e of Columbus Av, 31.4x100.11; the United States Life Insurance Company against Edgar Coles and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, D. B. Toucey.

113TH ST, s s, 250 ft e of Boulevard, 18.9x100.11; Frederick H. Von Stade, executor, &c., against Samuel Steinmetz, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, G. B. & E. Goldschmidt.

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH PRICES FOR STAPLES.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.74⅝
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.39¼
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.40⅝
Flour, Minnesota patents	$3.90
Cotton Middling	.7 11-16
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.06⅞
Sugar, granulated	5.18
Molasses, O. K. prime	.36
Beef, family	12.75
Beef hams	23.75
Tallow, prime	.04⅞
Pork, mess	9.75
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.05¾
Lard, prime	5.57½
Iron, Northern No. 1 foundry	23.00
Butter, Western creamery	.27

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Flour, steady; No. 3 Spring wheat, 62@64½c; No. 2 red, 66½@68c; No. 2 corn, 30¼@30⅝c; No. 2 yellow corn, 30¼@30⅝c; No. 2 oats, 23c; No. 3 white, 24½@25½c; No. 2 rye, 53c; No. 2 barley, 37@48c; No. 1 flax seed, $1.41; prime timothy seed, $2.40; mess pork, per bbl, $8.15@$9.70; lard, per 100 lb, $4.92½@$5.22½; short ribs, sides, (loose,) $5@$5.25; dry-salted shoulders, (boxed,) 5⅜@5½c; short clear sides, (boxed,) $5.25@$5.35; whisky, distillers' finished goods, per gallon, $1.23½; sugars, cutloaf, unchanged; clover, contract grade, $7.75.

COTTON.—There was considerable strength manifested by the market for cotton futures. Within the first hour the loss suffered yesterday was entirely wiped out, and a net gain of several points established on Tuesday's closing figures. Influenced by firm cables from the English market and the assurance that receipts would fall several thousand bales below predictions, the market opened firm at an advance of 3@8 points. Shorts appeared to lose the confidence gained yesterday, and turned for cover, giving special attention to the January

LEGAL SALES.

Sioux City & Northern Railroad.

Pursuant to a decree made by the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of Iowa, Western Division, entered October 3, 1899, in a certain cause entitled "Manhattan Trust Company, Complainant, vs. The Sioux City & Northern Railroad Company, Defendant," and a decree made by the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Minnesota, entered October 4, 1899, in the cause bearing the same title, and to a decree made by the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of South Dakota, entered October 7, 1899, in a cause bearing the same title, the undersigned Master Commissioner, appointed for the purpose in and by each of said decrees, will sell at public auction, at the Sioux City & Northern Round House, located in the angle between the intersection of Division and Fourth Streets, on Block One, (1,) in Felt's Addition to Sioux City, in the City of Sioux City, County of Woodbury, State of Iowa, at 12 o'clock noon on the 12th day of December, 1899, in the manner hereinafter described: All the mortgaged premises and property, rights, and franchises in the said decrees described or mentioned as subject to the lien of the mortgage from the Sioux City & Northern Railroad Company to Manhattan Trust Company, dated January 1, 1899, a brief description of which is as follows:

All and singular the line of railroad of said company extending from Division Street, in Central Sioux City, in the City of Sioux City, northerly through the Counties of Woodbury, Plymouth, Sioux, and Lyon, in the State of Iowa; thence northerly through the County of Rock, in the State of Minnesota, to the Town of Garretson, in Minnehaha County, State of South Dakota, and all extensions, continuations, and branches of said railroad, and all property, rights, and franchises owned by said company at the date of said mortgage, or thereafter conveyed or acquired, including rolling stock, and also including specifically the following-described real estate in Woodbury County, Iowa, to wit:

Lot seventeen (17) in Block fifty-two, (52,) Central Sioux City; Lots nine (9) to sixteen, (16,) inclusive, in Block one, (1,) Fort Addition to Sioux City; a strip of land about forty-four (44) feet in width, lying between Block one (1) in Felt's Addition to Sioux City, and Block one, (1,) in Chase's Addition to Sioux City; Lots seven (7) to fourteen (14,) inclusive, in Block one, (1;) Lots one (1) to four, (4,) inclusive, and Lots fourteen (14) to sixteen, (16,) in Block five, (5;) Lots one (1) to six, (6,) inclusive, in Block six, (6,) and Lots one (1) to nine, (9,) inclusive, in Block eleven, (11,) all in Chase's Addition to Sioux City; Lots seven (7) to twelve, (12,) inclusive, in Block five, (5;) Lots seven (7) to twelve (12,) inclusive, in Block four, (4;) Lots seven (7) to twelve, (12,) inclusive in Block three, (3;) Lots seven (7,) to twelve, (12,) inclusive in Block two, (2;) Lots seven (7,) eight (8,) nine (9,) and eleven, (11,) in Block one, (1,) and Outlots five (5) nine (9,) ten (10,) eleven (11,) fifteen (15,) and sixteen, (16,) all in Cole's Addition to Sioux City, together with all other real estate which the said Sioux City and Northern Railroad Company then owned or might thereafter acquire.

Also 1,998 shares of the capital stock of the Sioux City Terminal Railroad & Warehouse Company of the par value of $100 each.

The above-described being all the property, rights, and franchises directed to be sold in and by said decrees, for a more particular description of which reference is made to said decrees. The said property, pursuant to the provisions of the said decrees, will be sold in two parcels, namely: (1) 1,998 shares of the capital stock of the Sioux City Terminal Railway & Warehouse Company, as one separate parcel; and (2) all of the railroad and property, real and personal, and franchises of the defendant company, except such capital stock, as one other parcel.

It is provided in each of said decrees, among other things:

(1) That the Master Commissioner may either personally or by some person to be designated by him, and acting in his name and by his authority, adjourn said sale from time to time without further advertisement, but only on the request of the complainant or its solicitors, or by order of the court or a Judge thereof.

(2) That no bid shall be received by the Commissioner at such sale unless the bidder shall first deposit with him in money or by certified check on some responsible bank the sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000.) All moneys so deposited by unsuccessful bidders shall be returned to them after the property shall have been knocked down.

(3) That if any bid shall be accepted by the court, and the person or persons making the same shall fail to comply with all the conditions of sale, and all orders which may be made in respect thereof, then the sum so deposited on account of such bid shall be forfeited, and shall be applied as therein provided, but in case such bid shall be rejected by the court, the deposit so made shall be returned to the bidder.

(4) That the balance of the purchase price be paid at such time or times as the court may direct, upon or after the confirmation of the sale, and such portions thereof shall be paid in money as the court shall direct, and the remainder may be paid in money or in first mortgage bonds, and the interest coupons thereon falling due after July 1, 1905.

(5) That the purchaser shall, as part consideration of the purchase price of the property purchased and in addition to the sum bid, take the same upon the express condition that he or they, or his successors or assigns, shall pay and discharge any unpaid compensation which shall be allowed by the court to the receivers, and any indebtedness and obligations or liabilities which shall have been contracted or incurred by the receivers before the delivery of possession of the property sold, and subject to the performance of all binding contracts theretofore lawfully made by the receivers.

HOWARD S. BAKER,
Master Commissioner, Sioux City, Iowa.
STRONG & CADWALADER, 40 Wall Street, New York, Solicitors.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—LUTHER L. BARNEY, individually, and as a member of the firm of Barney & Co., Bankrupt.—No. 1,633.

Notice is hereby given that Luther L. Barney, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated November 29, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

GEORGE C. HOLT,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 7, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—EDWARD P. COE, Bankrupt.—No. 1,678.

Notice is hereby given that Edward P. Coe, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 7, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

GEORGE C. HOLT,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 7, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—In the matter of JACOB COHEN and JACOB COHEN, individually and as members of the firm of Mark H. Cohen & Bro., Bankrupts.—No. 1,600.

Notice is hereby given that Mark H. Cohen and Jacob Cohen, bankrupts, have filed their petition, dated December 6, 1899, praying for a discharge from all their debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

GEORGE C. HOLT,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 7, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of IDA M. HAMILTON, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.—No. 1,707.

To the creditors of Ida M. Hamilton of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Ida M. Hamilton was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 34 Pine Street, New York City, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

GEORGE C. HOLT,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 7, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—ADOLPH LANDES and WILLIAM I. WEINBERG, Bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that Adolph Landes and William I. Weinberg, bankrupts, have filed their petition, dated November 29th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all their debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the United States District Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupts thereon.

F. K. PENDLETON, Referee.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of HERMAN LANGE, Bankrupt.—No. 1,339.

To the creditors of Herman Lange of the City and County of New York and district aforesaid, bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 2d day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Herman Lange was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, Number 71 Broadway, in the City of New York, on the 22d day of December, A. D. 1899, at 12 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
Dated December 7th, 1899.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—GUSTAVE S. RATKOWSKY, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Gustave S. Ratkowsky, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 4th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the United States District Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

F. K. PENDLETON, Referee.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—ADOLPH LANDON ROEDER, Bankrupt.—No. 1,658.

Notice is hereby given that Adolph Landon Roeder, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 2, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

GEORGE C. HOLT,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, December 7, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—ISAAC SOLLFREY, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Isaac Sollfrey, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 2d, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

F. K. PENDLETON, Referee.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, SOUTHern District of New York.—In the matter of WILLIAM W. VAUGHAN, Bankrupt.—No. 1,676.

Please take notice that Charles H. Hough, Trustee in Bankruptcy in this proceeding, will sell at public auction at the yards foot of 37th Street and East River, on December 19th, 1899, at 10 A. M., by Marlin F. Hatch, Auctioneer, the following-described property, to wit: Office furniture, 233 barrels common lime, 195 bags prepared lime, 159 barrels Rosendale cement, 27 barrels Heckla Portland cement, 41 barrels Windsor cement, 67,000 brick, 63 bags of hair, 5 tons slate, 22 barrels of plaster, and at 12 o'clock, at 141st Street and Harlem River, the following-described property: 895 barrels common lime, 243 barrels Rosendale cement, 22 barrels Heckla Portland cement, 10 tons slate, 245 barrels finishing lime, 5 barrels plaster, belonging to the estate of William W. Vaughan.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
Dated December 7th, 1899.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

BAILEY, ELLENE A.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, dated September 25, 1899, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ELLENE A. BAILEY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 256-257 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York, on or before the first day of April next.—Dated New York, the 25th day of September, 1899.—OSCAR F. GUNZ, Executor. ANDERSON PRICE, Attorney for Executor, 80 Broadway, New York City. s29-1aw6mF

PONVERT, LOUIS J.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LOUIS J. PONVERT, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Lawrence & Hughes, No. 120 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 28th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 12th day of August, 1899. AMY K. PONVERT, Executrix. LAWRENCE & HUGHES Attys. for Executrix, 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. au26-1aw6mF

HARDENBERGH, EMILY IRENE.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of EMILY IRENE HARDENBERGH, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, viz., the office of Vernon M. Davis, No. 220 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the tenth day of January next.—Dated New York, the first day of July, 1899. HENRY J. HARDENBERGH, FRANK M. BARNUM, Executors. VERNON M. DAVIS, Attorney for Executors, 220 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. je30-1aw6mF

LINLEY, HARRIETT.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against HARRIETT LINLEY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, the office of Arthur A. Michell, No. 220 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the twelfth day of May, 1900, next.—Dated New York, the 2d day of November, 1899. WILLIAM J. LAWRENCE, Administrator. ARTHUR A. MICHELL, Attorney for Administrator, 220 Broadway, New York City. n3-1aw6mF

LYMAN, THOMAS C.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against THOMAS C. LYMAN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 420 West Thirty-eighth Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 8th day of May next.—Dated New York, the 27th day of October, 1899. ROBERT M. LYMAN, Administrator. ROBERT W. TODD, Attorney for Administrator, 229 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. n3-1aw6mF

MARTIN, HENRIETTA.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against HENRIETTA MARTIN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, Room 101, No. 22 William Street, Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York, on or before the 2d day of June next.—Dated New York, the 22d day of November, 1899. THOMAS M. MARTIN, Executor. MURRAY, BENNETT & INGERSOLL, Attorneys for Executor, 22 William Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York, N. Y.

NEVILLE, CATHARINE, OR KATE G.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Jennie Neville, Thomas Neville, Elizabeth Schaf, Ellen Baker, and George Nicholas McElroy, if living, and if dead, to the widow, heirs, and next of kin, if there be any of said George Nicholas McElroy, whose names and places of residence are unknown to the petitioner and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained, all of the foregoing being the heirs and next of kin of CATHARINE NEVILLE, also known as KATE G. NEVILLE, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Joseph H. Fargis of the City of New York has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing, bearing date the 23d day of August, 1899, relating to personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of Catharine Neville, also known as Kate G. Neville, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 19th day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament. And such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 19th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.
CAMPBELL & CLARKE, Attorneys for Petitioner, No. 149 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. o27-1aw6mF

OLMSTEAD, JOHN F.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Louise O. Wheeler, James F. Olmstead, and William Rolfe, the heirs and next of kin of JOHN F. OLMSTEAD, deceased, send greeting.

Whereas Ida Leora Olmstead of the City of New York has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to both real and personal property duly proved as the last will and testament of John F. Olmstead, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 15th day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 19th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.
CAMPBELL & HANCE, Att'ys. for Petitioner, 220 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City. n27-1aw6mF

SURROGATE NOTICES.

CONLON, JOHN P.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOHN P. CONLON, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of Lewis S. Goebel, his attorney, No. 41 Park Row, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the 15th day of February next.—Dated New York the 26th day of July, 1899. MICHAEL J. DWYER, Temporary Administrator of the estate of John P. Conlon, deceased. LEWIS S. GOEBEL, Esq. Atty. for Temporary Administrator, No. 41 Park Row, New York City Borough of Manhattan. s4-1aw6MF

RHOADS, GEORGE B.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against GEORGE B. RHOADS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Benjamin Wright, No. 38 Park Row, in the City of New York, on or before the 13th day of April next.—Dated New York the 2nd day of October, 1899. ELIZABETH RHOADS, Administratrix. BENJAMIN WRIGHT, Attorney for Administratrix, 38 Park Row, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. oct6-1aw6mF

SMITH, MARGARET J.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Lucy Ann Ordway, James H. Mullen, Charles W. Hanks, Azel Hanks, Estelle Faulkner, Susan Buckley, Alonzo Buckley, Edward H. Peck, Jennie Weed, Estella Clark, Thurlow Weed, Lucille Demarest, Ella Bradshaw, Jennie Charles, Samuel Hanks, Ruth Curry, Mr. Reynolds, C. E. Kibbey, Wallace Weed, Veturus Buckley, Nellie Hanks, Susan Hanks, Mary Hanks, Chas L. Hanks, Effie Hanks, Myrtles Tomlins, and to all persons interested in the estate of MARGARET J. SMITH, late of the County of New York, deceased, as creditors, legatees, next of kin, or otherwise, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York, at the Surrogate's Court, of said county, held at the County Court House, in the County of New York, on the 5th day of January, 1900, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend a judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of Charles W. Hanks, as executor of the last will and testament of said deceased, and such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 16th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
OTTO H. DROEGE, Attorney for Executor, World Bldg., New York. n24-1aw6mF

TAYLOR, JEANNE L.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. James M. Varnum, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JEANNE L. TAYLOR, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of Frayer, Smith, White & Seaman, No. 141 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 10th day of December next.—Dated New York, the 8th day of June, 1899.—MORTON J. TAYLOR, Executor, &c. FRAYER, SMITH, WHITE & SEAMAN, Attorneys for Executor, 141 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. je8-1aw6mF

SUMMONSES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —CITY REAL ESTATE COMPANY, Plaintiff, against LOUISE WEBER, Howard D. Hamm, Joseph Woods, Michael Mahoney, Margaret Mahoney, his wife; Katherine Mahoney, Daniel Mahoney, Elizabeth Moore, Margaret McCarthy, Pauline Rinaldy, Margaret Bachmann, David Barry, David J. Barry, William J. Barry, John F. Barry, Nellie A. Cael, Margaret Miller, Ann Cashman, William Daly, Catherine Daly, his wife; John Daly, Elizabeth Maher, Mary E. Daly, Margaret T. Daly, Michael Daly, Margaret Daly, his wife; Charles P. Daly, James A. Daly, Ann Daly, Mary Keefe or O'Keefe, if living, or if dead, her husband, heirs at law or devisees, or those who may have succeeded such heirs at law or devisees, all of whom are unknown to plaintiff, and Patrick Burns, Defendants.—Summons.

To each of the above-named Defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the Plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New York, October 2d, 1899.

WILLIAM H. STOCKWELL, Plaintiff's Attorney, 149 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To the defendants, Ann Cashman, Elizabeth Maher, William Daly, Catherine Daly, John Daly, Mary E. Daly, Margaret T. Daly, Charles P. Daly, James A. Daly, Michael Daly, Margaret Daly, and Mary Keefe or O'Keefe, if living, or if dead, her husband, heirs at law or devisees, or their successors: The foregoing summons is served on you by publication, pursuant to an order of the Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the twenty-ninth day of November, 1899, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the twenty-ninth day of November, 1899.—Dated New York, November 29th, 1899.

WILLIAM H. STOCKWELL,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
Office and Post Office Address, 146 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. d1-1aw6mF

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—LILY W. BERESFORD, (formerly LILY W. CHURCHILL,) George G. Williams, and Jacob K. Lockman, trustees under the last will and testament of Louis C. Hamersley, deceased, plaintiffs, against LOUISA C. FRIEDLINE, Esther Levy, Arthur Levy, and Mary Levy, his wife, (the name "Mary" being fictitious the true first name of said last-mentioned defendant being unknown to the plaintiffs), Leon Freidenrich, and Maurice B. Freidenrich, The Freidenrich Company, Max Kaufmann, Arthur Rosenberg, and William Sauermann, doing business under the firm name and style of Rosenberg & Sauermann, Tobias Markowitz, defendants.—Summons.—Trial to be had in the County of New York.

To the above-named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiffs' attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated New York, September 15th, 1899.

GEORGE G. DE WITT,
Plaintiffs' Attorney,
Office and P. O. address, No. 88 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To the defendants, Arthur Levy and Mary Levy, his wife, (the name Mary being fictitious, the true first name of said last-mentioned defendant being unknown to the plaintiffs.)

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Francis M. Scott, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 24th day of October, 1899, and filed on the 25th day of October, 1899, with the complaint, in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York.

Dated New York, October 25th, 1899.

GEORGE G. DE WITT,
Plaintiffs' Attorney,
No. 88 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. o27-1aw7tF

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—DANIEL ROSENBERG, plaintiff, against EMIL GOLDNER and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date the 17th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 11th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, on that day, by Peter E. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land situate, lying, and being in the 24th Ward of the City of New York, known and distinguished on a certain map, entitled "Map of 176 lots of the Bathgate estate, lie property of Charles B. Beck, deceased, sold under the direction of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, executor and Trustee," dated New York, November 6th, 1897, surveyed by Cornelius J. L. Lynch, City Surveyor, and filed in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, on the 13th day of December, 1897, as to the numbers (13) thirteen, (14) fourteen, (15) fifteen, (16) sixteen, and (17) seventeen, Block No. 2,912.

Dated New York, November 18th, 1899.

MOSES J. SNEUDAIRA, Referee.
ERDMAN, LEVY & MAYER, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 320 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

The approximate amount of the lien or charge, to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $16,874.70, with interest thereon from the 15th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowance amounting to $333.74, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $2,524 and interest. The property will be sold subject to a mortgage of $35,000, and interest from July 12, 1899, at 6%.

Dated New York, 18th day of November, 1899.

MOSES J. SNEUDAIRA, Referee.
n20-2aw3wM&F&d11.

REFEREES' NOTICES.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff, against LURY ANN MOORE, GEORGE SCHAETTLER, and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 16th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 14th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter E. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Park Avenue distant one hundred and thirty-four feet two and one-half inches northerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the said easterly side of Park Avenue with the northerly side of Ninety-second Street, running thence easterly parallel with Ninety-second Street sixteen feet nine inches; thence northerly parallel with Park Avenue one hundred feet; thence westerly again parallel with Ninety-second Street and part of the way through another party wall, eighty feet to the easterly side of Park Avenue; thence southerly along said easterly side of Park Avenue sixteen feet nine inches to the point or place of beginning.

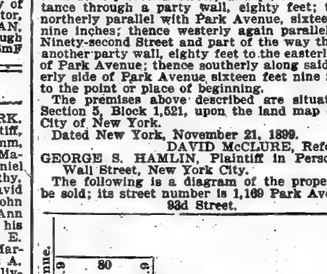
The premises above described are situated in Section 5, Block 1,521, upon the land map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, November 21st, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff in Person, 18 Wall Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 1,171 Park Avenue:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $13,433.33, with interest thereon from the 10th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowance, amounting to $405.63, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $255 and interest.

Dated New York, 21st day of November, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.
n22-2aw3wW&F&d14

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff, against LURY ANN MOORE, Carl Gutmann, and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 16th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 14th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter E. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Park Avenue, distant one hundred and seventeen feet five and one-half inches northerly from the corner formed by the intersection of said easterly side of Park Avenue with the northerly side of Ninety-second Street, running thence easterly parallel with Ninety-second Street and part of the way through another party wall, eighty feet; thence northerly parallel with Park Avenue, sixteen feet nine inches; thence westerly again parallel with Ninety-second Street and part of the way through another party wall, eighty feet to the easterly side of Park Avenue; thence southerly along said easterly side of Park Avenue sixteen feet nine inches to the point or place of beginning.

The premises above described are situated in Section 5, Block 1,521, upon the land map of the City of New York.

Dated New York, November 21st, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

GEORGE S. HAMLIN, Plaintiff in Person, 18 Wall Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 1,169 Park Avenue.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $13,433.33, with interest thereon from the 10th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowance amounting to $403.53-100, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the Referee, is $245 and interest.

Dated New York, 21st day of November, 1899.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.
n22-2aw3wW&F&d14

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —CHARLES J. COULTER, plaintiff, against THOMAS C. LISK and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date 14th day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the Exchange Salesroom, now located at No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Tuesday, the 12th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, on that day, by D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

All those two certain lots of land in the Twenty-fourth Ward of the City of New York, with the building thereon, designated by the lot numbers 16 and 17 on a map entitled "Map of eighty-seven choice lots, situated at Bedford Park, Twenty-fourth Ward, New York City," October, 1889, George C. Hollerith, civil engineer and city surveyor, and filed in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, which said two lots are bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northwesterly side of Bainbridge Avenue distant 244 feet and 57-100 of a foot northeasterly from the intersection of the northeasterly side of Travers Street and the northwesterly side of Bainbridge Avenue, running thence northwesterly at right angles to Briggs Avenue 133 feet and 61-100 of a foot; thence northeasterly parallel with Briggs Avenue 50 feet; thence southeasterly at right angles to Briggs Avenue 149 feet and 4-100 of a foot to the northwesterly side of Bainbridge Avenue; thence southwesterly along the northwesterly side of Bainbridge Avenue 52 feet and 100 of a foot to the point of beginning, be said several distances or dimensions more or less, being the same premises conveyed by the said plaintiff to the said defendant Thomas C. Lisk, by deed bearing even date with said mortgage, and said mortgage being a purchase money mortgage given to secure part of the purchase price or consideration in said deed expressed.

Dated New York, November 18, 1899.

THOMAS B. ODELL, Referee.
AGAR, ELY & FULTON, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 31 Nassau St., New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $5,259.03, with interest thereon from November 3, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $407.79, with interest from November 14, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens, which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee, is $183.82 and interest.

Dated New York, November 18, 1899.

THOMAS B. ODELL, Referee.
n20-2aw3wM&F&d12

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —THOMAS B. WATSON, Plaintiff, against WILLIAM J. JACKSON and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 22d day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned

Mistakes in selecting cloths will out at this time of year.

Discovered one to-day—a medium light gray overcoat, beautiful cloth, silk-lined, made to sell at $40. Doesn't seem to catch on.

No mistake about your good luck, for we've cut the price in two; now $20.

Every sort of good overcoat in all the asked and to-be-asked-for cloths and colors; $15 to $55.

ROGERS, PEET & Co.

850 Broadway, cor. Leonard.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
Thirty-second and Broadway.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Charter Reform Demanded in the Interest of the People.

ON WATER FRONT PROPERTY

Discussion of the Question of Municipal Ownership—Chinese Trade Matters—The Dewey Arch.

President Morris K. Jesup called the December meeting of the New York Chamber of Commerce to order yesterday. The meeting was of more than ordinary importance, several measures of vital interest to New York being considered, among them the revision of the Greater New York charter and municipal ownership of water-front property.

For the Executive Committee Chairman Charles Stewart Smith presented these preambles and resolutions on municipal ownership of water-front property:

Whereas, It appears that the rentals received by the Dock Department for leases of property acquired by the city are largely in excess of the interest on the bonds issued to pay for the land taken and the construction of the necessary bulkheads and piers; and

Whereas, The excess of rentals thus received over the annual interest charge incurred to pay for the property acquired serves to amortize the principal of the bond issued at or before maturity thereof, thus enabling the city to add to its income-producing property without expense and without any resulting burden upon the taxpayers; and

Whereas, In addition to the distinct business advantage of extending the property interests of the City of New York over its water front, the interests of the Port of New York and of its commerce would be subserved by the substitution of municipal ownership for private ownership of water-front property on Manhattan Island where the same has not been heretofore acquired by the city; and

Whereas, The present and more particularly the future commercial interests of the Port of New York require and demand that such substitution of ownership should proceed more rapidly than is possible with the limitation of three million dollars ($3,000,000) per annum provided for by the Greater New York charter in regard to the issue of bonds for such purposes; and

Whereas, The issue of bonds for such purposes in amounts sufficient to enable the City of New York to acquire dock property with the speed demanded by its commercial interests is impossible without interference with the necessary issue of bonds required for ordinary governmental purposes in view of the limitation on such issues contained in Section 10 of Article VIII. of the Constitution of the State of New York;

Resolved, That said section of the Constitution should be amended so as to except from its limitation bonds issued to acquire and improve the water-front property of the City of New York, so long as and to the extent to which the rentals received from the leasing of said property exceed the amount required for the annual interest charge on said bonds, and for the amortization of the principal thereof within a period not exceeding forty years.

Resolved, That this preamble and resolution be referred to the Committee on the Harbor and Shipping for report as soon as practicable for future action of the Chamber.

John Harsen Rhoades said that as a savings bank officer he would be derelict in duty if he did not oppose the resolution and that at the proper time he would do so. He added that the savings banks are carrying about one-half of the debt of the city made up of the savings of thrifty wage earners and that he feared for the future when he saw propositions to separate county from city debt and schemes like the Ramapo water deal, the tunneling of the rivers and rapid transit railroads.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on the Harbor and Shipping.

Chairman Smith reported the following on the revision of the Greater New York charter:

Whereas, In the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce, experience with the working of the charter of Greater New York has demonstrated that it should be most carefully revised in the interest of the public welfare, and especially of economy in public expenditure; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this body be appointed, whose duty it shall be to represent to the Legislature the urgent necessity of enacting a law empowering the Governor of the State to appoint a commission of eminent and suitable citizens of Greater New York, with power to send for persons and papers, to revise the charter and to report to the Legislature of 1901.

The resolution was adopted.

For the Committee on Foreign Commerce and the Revenue Laws Chairman Gustav H. Schwab reported on the communication of the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce on the improvement of the Wang Poo River, and the bar at Woosung, which was referred to the committee in October. The committee presented these resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York favor the concerted action proposed by the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce looking toward the appointment of a Conservancy Board in Shanghai, for the purpose of improving the Wang Poo River and the bar at Woosung; and, further

Resolved, That the Chamber address a memorial to the State Department, drawing the attention of the Honorable the Secretary of State to the large interests involved and the advantages to be gained by the proposed improvements in the river approaches to the Port of Shanghai, with the suggestion that the Honorable the Secretary of State instruct the United States Minister at Peking to lend his aid and influence in favor of the proposed plan, in concert with the representatives of the other treaty powers.

A resolution favoring the establishment of an up-town Post Office was offered by Leopold Stern, and it was referred to the Committee on Internal Trade and Improvement.

Louis Windmüller offered a resolution that the members of the Chamber co-operate with the committee to perpetuate the Dewey arch.

The resolution was referred to the Executive Committee, with power.

Henry W. Peabody offered a resolution that the Committee on Harbor and Shipping review and report upon the Frye-Payne Shipping and Subsidy bill for reviving the American merchant marine. It was adopted.

Transportation Club's "Ladies' Day."

The first "Ladies' Day" of the Transportation Club at its quarters in the Hotel Manhattan yesterday was an unqualified success. The attendance was so large that some of the rooms were uncomfortably crowded. Edwin Hollis Low was Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. Among the guests were Rear Admiral Farquhar, Capt. Train of the Massachusetts, Lieut. Victor Blue, Lieut. Benson, Lieut. Delano, Lieut.-Commander Niles, Capt. Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Mous Vedder, Miss Roosevelt, Lieut. Rush, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, and M. Paderewski. An excellent programme was very satisfactorily rendered. It is the intention of the Transportation Club to give similar entertainments monthly and to interlard them with "smokers."

LEATHER GOODS.

Finger Purses. Real seal, morocco or pig-skin,—with brass initial, 65 cents each.

Combination Pocket-book. Misses' size. Alligator, monkey-skin or real seal,—lined with calf, 95 cents

Combination Pocket-book. Ladies' size. Morocco, seal or monkey-skin,—plain or mounted with silver gilt, 95 cents

Men's Bill Folds,—real seal, 50 cents

Men's Card and Letter Cases,—real seal,—lined with calf, $1.00; Formerly $1.75 to $2.50

Men's Suit Cases,—sole leather,—steel frame,—brass trimmings,—lined with linen. Russet or olive,

22 inch	24 inch	26 inch
$4.25	$4.50	$4.75

Men's Suit Cases,—sole leather,—steel frame, brass trimmings,—lined with leather. Russet or olive,

22 inch	24 inch	26 inch
$5.25	$5.55	$5.85

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

Men's Furnishing Dep't.

HOUSE COATS, Reversible and novelty cloths,—latest Tuxedo shapes. Reversed collar and pockets. Medium or bright colors, $3.00 to $8.50

75 Japanese Quilted Coats,—hand-embroidered,—lined with scarlet silk, $5.50; Formerly $7.50

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

MISSES' SUITS.

TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

Cheviot and Homespun tailor-made Suits. Various colors and designs.

SIZES
8—14 yrs $5.00 Formerly $9.00
10—18 " $7.50 " $12.50
14—16 " $10.00 " $15 & $18

Reefer Coats,—made of double faced or covert cloth,—sizes 4 to 14 years,—various colors, $5.00

Reefer Coats,—Kersey Cloth,—finished with braiding, stitched velvet or fur,—lined with silk. Colors:—brown, blue, red and mode. Sizes 6 to 14 years, $9.75; Former prices $15.00 to $19.50

Jackets,—Kersey or Cheviot,—double breasted "dip" fronts,—blue, mode, tan and black, $9.75; Formerly $12.50

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

SOLD THE SAME BERTH TWICE.

Sleeping Car Conductor's Error Costly for the Wagner Company.

Judgment for $750 against the Wagner Palace Car Company was obtained by Marcus Braun on Wednesday as the result of a mistake made by one of the company's conductors in allotting a berth already sold to Braun to a woman passenger. Through the error Braun was compelled to sit in a day coach all night on a trip from Cleveland to New York.

In his complaint Braun alleged that the conductor gave him his seat in lower berth No. 10. Leaving his luggage in his seat he went into the smoking compartment. He remained there for two hours, and on returning to his berth he found it occupied by a woman. After looking again to see if his ticket corresponded with the berth number, he told the woman that she must have got in the wrong berth. The woman, however, produced a coupon similar to the one held by Braun. Thereupon Braun demanded another berth of the conductor, but there was none unoccupied, and he asserted that the conductor forced him to leave the car.

He immediately brought suit against W. Seward Webb, as President of the Wagner Palace Car Company, for $2,000. The judgment for $750 carries with it costs, amounting to $142.

Ladies' Jackets.

Oxford Coats, $12.50, regular retail value $19.00.

Evening Wraps and Long Coats, from $28.50 to $87.

Lord & Taylor, Broadway & 20th St.

Sale of Men's Neckwear & Mufflers.

Scarfs, made in English square shape, 95 cts., value $1.50 & $2.00.

Silk Mufflers, of English manufacture, $1.50, $1.75, $2.65 & $2.95.

Lord & Taylor, Broadway & 20th St.

Christmas Hints—to help Holiday shoppers:

SILK MUFFLERS, white and black—plain and fancy colorings, $1, $2 & $3.

HOUSE COATS, fancy plaids—solid colors—including English double-faced cloth, $5, $6, $7 to $18.

BATH ROBES, $4, $5, $6 & $7.

NECKWEAR (all shapes), 50c., $1, $1.50 & $2.

Hand loom English squares, $3.

GLOVES—Fownes', Dent's, and the best American makes.

SILK and SATIN SUSPENDERS, 50c. to $2.50.

UMBRELLAS, pure silk, silver tip and boxwood handles, $3 to $10.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

Three BROADWAY Stores. Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

All pure linen,—square, round or with fancy scalloped edges. Embroidered and hemstitched,—embroidered, with lace edge, or with lace insertions and border, 25 cents each.

Women's or men's sizes,—with hand embroidered initial, Irish and French linen. In box of half dozen, $1.50 per box.

Children's Initial Handkerchiefs,—box containing three, 25 cents per box.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

Mrs. Jones Forgives Cabman.

Mrs. Herman Leroy Jones of 6 East Twelfth Street, who caused the arrest of Cabman John Downey of 413 Lexington Avenue on a charge of intoxication and using insulting language toward her, yesterday refused to prosecute him in the Jefferson Market Court provided he would apologize. He did so, and was discharged by the Magistrate. Mrs. Jones gave him a dollar which she owed him.

To Pay the Harpers' Employes.

On the application of George L. Rives, Justice Gildersleeve, in the Supreme Court, yesterday, signed an order permitting the State Trust Company, temporary receiver of Harper & Brothers, to issue receiver's certificates to the amount of $75,000, for the purpose of paying the wages of employes and other expenses.

Untrimmed Millinery.

French felt, untrimmed models,—a variety of fashionable shapes, 75 cents each; Formerly $1.50 and $2.95

Velvet toques, turbans and picture hats, $1.50 each

Trimmed "stiff" hats,—suitable for travelling, cycling or golf, $1.25

English, stitched felt and cloth hats,—trimmed with fancy silk scarfs,—breasts and quills, $3.50; Former price $7.00 to $9.50

James McCreery & Co., Twenty-third Street.

J. Jacquin & Co.

28 West 23d St., New York.

OUR GREAT SALE continues an immense success, and crowds of Ladies have availed themselves of this opportunity to buy the Finest quality MILLINERY at bona fide HALF PRICES. Splendid bargains in Trimmed Hats, covered Velvet Toques, Fine Fur Felts, Ostrich and Fancy Feathers, Flowers, Laces, trimming effects, Lace Scarfs, Ribbons and made up bows, all at prices representing but half their value. LONDON OUTING and GOLF HATS at 2.50 and 3.00, formerly sold at double these prices. Remember our entire stock must be sold during this month.

Interesting Items in Dress Goods.

We will sell to-day 200 pieces Broadcloths in all shades at $1.00 Yard. Our celebrated quality 8,000. Cannot be duplicated under $1.25 yd.

Also the Eclipse Cloth, 58 inches wide, at $1.98 Yard, regular value $2.50.

Cut lengths, this season's goods, to be cleared at half price. Waist and Skirt lengths.

Dress Patterns of six, seven and eight yard lengths from $1.75 to $7.00.

Daniell's, Broadway, 8 & 9 Sts.

ENGINEERS IN SESSION.

Mechanical Experts May Meet in Cincinnati in the Spring—Robert Fulton Memorial Fund.

A large audience attended the fourth session of the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers yesterday in their library in West Thirty-first Street. Six hundred and thirty members were in their seats when Herman Poole mounted the platform and began to read a paper on the use of gasoline gas for boiler heating. "Gasoline compared with coal as a fuel is too costly to be generally adopted for a large plant," said the speaker, "and from the result of experiments I feel sure that unless some cheaper liquid fuel is discovered, coal will not be superseded where expense is to be considered."

He was followed by Charles Henry Benjamin of Cleveland, who read a paper entitled, "Friction of Steam Packings." "Friction tests of a locomotive slide valve" was the title of the next paper, which was prepared by Frank C. Wagner of Terre Haute, Ind. This was followed by "A note on fly-wheel design," read by A. J. Frith of this city. Other papers discussed were "A broken flywheel and how it was repaired," by James McBride, and "An efficiency test of a 125 horse-power gas engine" by C. H. Robertson of Cincinnati.

The session was brought to a close by J. F. W. Harris of Terre Haute, who presented some reliable data of the actual breaking strength of steel balls, which in this era of ball bearings was considered of great value.

The afternoon was employed by a number of out-of-town members in visiting the power plant of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, through the courtesy of Henri De Buren, the chief engineer. The evening was devoted to a reception at Sherry's.

The closing session is scheduled for this morning and the programme consists of four of the most interesting papers of the gathering. Cincinnati is being considered as the probable place for the Spring meeting of 1900.

Assistant Secretary Hoadley reported that up to noon yesterday the funds for the Robert Fulton Memorial amounted to $970.

JERSEY CITY'S POLICE BOARD.

The Legislative Committee of the Hudson County Republican Committee has agreed on a new bill providing for a bipartisan Police Board for Jersey City. It will be presented early in the coming session of the Legislature, and the members of the committee say they have received assurances that the bill will pass. It must, however, be submitted to a vote of the residents of the municipality interested before it can become law.

The bill provides that in all cities in the State where a Police Board is part of the Municipal Government, such board shall be composed of four persons, to be chosen by the legal voters of such city. They shall take office at noon on the first Monday in May, 1900, two for one year and two for two years. Each party is to nominate two candidates at the charter election in April, and those on the two tickets receiving the highest vote shall be declared elected.

Vacancies from any cause except expiration of term shall be filled by the Governor. They shall receive the same compensation that Police Commissioners now receive, which in Jersey City is $1,000 a year.

Ladies' Blouses.

Second Floor.

French,—tailor made, of the latest mercerized sea island cotton. Fine silk finish.

White and the fashionable "shot" colors, including lavender and white, black and pink, black and blue, red and white, blue and white, green, rose, iron and dove.

Washable. Substantial weight for winter dress, $5.00 each.

James McCreery & Co., Twenty-third Street.

Registered Trade Mark.

A Stock of Handkerchiefs Abundantly Inclusive

In fascinating new combinations of fine, sheer linen lawn, with exquisitely modish French embroideries and elegantly artistic laces, handmade in Europe and the Orient, is now ready at

"The Linen Store."

Whatever is most tempting to æsthetic and elegant tastes, as well as to those sensible people who while appreciating beauty are always practical regarding usefulness and value, will be found here. All absolutely pure linen.

James McCutcheon & Co., 14 West 23rd Street, New York.

FOUND WIFE DEAD ON THE SHIP.

Isaac Waldheim Had Boarded the Vessel to Welcome Her.

When the North German Lloyd steamship Trave was docked at Hoboken yesterday, Isaac Waldheim was on the pier to meet his wife, Dora, who was returning from Germany, where she had gone six months ago. Mr. Waldheim was accompanied by his wife's parents. Each carried a bouquet for Mrs. Waldheim. When the passengers trooped off, Mrs. Waldheim's mother expressed a fear that her daughter had not come.

"Oh, yes, she has," said Mr. Waldheim, "but I wrote to her to remain in the cabin until I came aboard."

Unable to find her in the cabin, Mr. Waldheim asked the purser to find her. That officer referred him to a stewardess, who told Mr. Waldheim that his wife had died on Dec. 1, and that the body was embalmed. Mr. Waldheim hurried back to the pier and broke the news to his wife's parents. The body was removed to Mr. Waldheim's home in this city.

TROTTING ASSOCIATION CASES.

Expulsions and Reinstatements Made by Its Board of Review.

The Board of Review of the National Trotting Association, at its third day's session yesterday, at the Murray Hill Hotel, considered in executive session the cases of alleged violations of racing rules on which evidence had been taken.

W. M. Halsted, New York, was before the board to answer a charge of having started his bay gelding Cinder Alcyoner, in a class to which the horse was not eligible. It developed that in a race in 1898, at Troy, N. Y., the horse took a record of 2:19¼, but owing to a clerical error the record was entered in the judges' report as 2:19. Mr. Halsted, after obtaining affidavits from the judges of the race certifying to the accuracy of the 2:19¼ record, started the horse in the 2:20 class at the Grand Circuit meeting here last September. The object, Mr. Halsted explained, was to enable him to bring a test case before the board.

E. M. Gilliss, Boston, Mass., who was expelled a year ago for alleged complicity in a "fixed" race at Sagus, Mass., was reinstated.

The pacer, Night Hawk, 2:16¼, was expelled from all National Trotting Association tracks. It was alleged that the pacer had been raced on numerous occasions under the name of Victorine. The cases of the persons said to be implicated in the "ringing" are now under investigation.

Ernest S. Williams, Boston, Mass., expelled nine years ago for alleged "ringing" of the horse Edgewood as Tony, at Waterbury, Conn., was reinstated. Williams claimed that he was impersonated by his brother, J. E. Williams.

James A. Pierce and R. T. McGeer of Auburn, N. Y., with the horse Norval M., alias Tar Tartar, alias Little Joker, alias Tim Spillinger, were expelled. W. W. Robbins of Bridgeton, N. Y., the complainant charged the men with "ringing."

Useful Holiday Gifts. | Useful Holiday Gifts.

O'Neill's.

Useful Christmas Gifts in the Girls' and Misses' Dept.

Children's Dresses in Cashmere and fancy Plaids, trimmed with Reveres over shoulders and a pretty combination yoke, 6 to 14 year sizes, Formerly 5.50 Special 2.00.

Children's Reefers. Children's Box Reefers in Kersey and Covert Cloth, Navy Blue, Brown, Tan, and Black, 6 to 14 year sizes, Formerly 10.00 Special 5.98

Children's Long Coats. Children's Long Box Coats of Kersey, Covert and two tone cloths, lined and unlined, at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Misses' Jackets. Misses' Tailormade Jackets of Kersey, Covert, or Fancy Mixed Cloth, Tan, Brown and Blue, double breasted, with large buttons, Formerly 10.50 Special 7.50

Misses' Tailormade Suits. Oxford Cloth, double breasted, with inlaid velvet collar, Jacket lined with Taffeta, Habit back Skirt lined with Percaline, Formerly 13.00 Special 8.98

Misses' Tailormade Suits. Tan or Gray Covert Cloth, Jacket and Skirt lined throughout with Taffeta, Formerly 28.00 Special 18.00

LATEST NOVELTIES IN INFANTS' COATS AND CAPS AT VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES.

MAIL ORDERS RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st St.

Brain Workers. Horsford's Acid Phosphate. Strengthens the exhausted and confused brain, relieves nervous headache and induces refreshing sleep. Genuine bears name HORSFORD'S on wrapper.

AMUSEMENTS.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE, SUNDAY AFTERNOON, DEC. 10, AT 3:30 O'CLOCK. By EX-JUDGE W. G. EWING of Chicago. Subject: "CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. THE RELIGION OF JESUS CHRIST." PUBLIC CORDIALLY INVITED. Admission Free. DOORS OPEN AT 2 O'CLOCK.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St.....at 8:15. Daniel Frohman.....Manager. Matinées WED. and SAT. DANIEL FROHMAN'S STOCK COMPANY. FIRST ANNUAL SEASON at this theatre. HENRY ARTHUR JONES'S COMEDY, The Maneuvers of Jane

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....at 8:30. Daniel Frohman.....Manager. Matinées Thursday & Sat., 2. FOURTH MONTH. CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS Annie Russell in Miss Hobbs

AMERICAN 42ND & 8TH AVE. CASTLE SQ. OPERA CO. Entire First Act of Beethoven's FIDELIO at 8:15. CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA at 9:30. Evs. 8:15. 25c. to $1. Mat. Wed. & Sat., 2:15. Adm. 25c. Nxt. wk, Mon., Tues., Il Trovatore. Wed. Mat. & Ev., Romeo & Juliet. Thu. Fri. Carmen. Sat. Mat. Ev. Aida

HOTEL WALDORF-ASTORIA, Friday Evg., Dec. 8, at 8:30 o'clock, MR. POULTNEY BIGELOW Will Lecture on "THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA." Tickets, $1.00. On Sale at WALDORF-ASTORIA.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Ev'gs, 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. Matinées Wednesday and Saturday. JOHN DREW | THE TYRANNY OF TEARS

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs, 8. Mat. Sat. "A GREAT SUCCESS."—HERALD. Wm. Gillette In His New Play, Sherlock Holmes

Charles Frohman's CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St. Ev'gs, 8:15. Matinées Wednesday and Saturday. JULIA MARLOWE | BARBARA FRIETCHIE. Dec. 11—50th Time, Julia Marlowe Pictorial Souv.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St. & B'way. Last 2 nights. Last Mat. Sat. Ev'gs, 8:30. MAKE WAY FOR THE LADIES. Mats., 2:15. Dec. 11—"Wheels Within Wheels." Seats Ready.

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Madison Av. Evenings, 7:45. Saturday Matinée at 2. MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD. FAREWELL WEEK. CYRANO DE BERGERAC. Week of Dec. 11, BEAU BRUMMELL. Seats now on sale.

PROCTOR'S 23d St. 15, 25, 50c. MARIE TAVARY. Mov'g Pictures (new). DE FORREST'S WILSON FAMILY, &c. Cont. Perf.

PALACE 58th and 3d Av. 15, 25, 50c. EZRA KENDALL, HALL & STALEY. Moving Pictures, Clarice Vance, others. Cont. Perf.

HAMMERSTEIN'S 42d St. B'way-7th Av. VICTORIA To-night, 8:20. Mat. Sat., 2:15. No smoking or drinking at matinées. THE ROGERS BROS. IN WALL STREET. 50c ADMISSION TO PROMENADE 50c

KNICKERBOCKER B'way & 38th St. Evs., 8:20. Mats., 2. MR. & MRS. KENDAL Extra Wed. Mat. Dec. 13. In Their London Success, Regular Mat. Sat. The Elder Miss Blossom.

WALLACK'S. Broadway and 30th St. Evgs. 8:15. Mat. Sat. 2:15. In Victor Herbert's New Comic Opera, FRANK DANIELS THE AMEER.

CASINO! TO-NIGHT, 8:15. MAT. TMRW, 2. Souv. Nght, Dec. 22. 100th Performance. 7TH THRONGED WEEK! ALICE NIELSEN OPERA COMPANY in The Singing Girl!

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH. EDEN MUSEE. NEW GROUPS. CHARMING MUSIC.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Mat. Sat. The great hit, HOFGUNST (at Court.)

MURRAY HILL THEA., Lex. Av. & 42d St. MATINEE EVERY DAY, 25c. THIS WEEK—THE CHARITY BALL.

HERALD SQ. Thea. Evs. 8:15. Mat. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. Great London Success A GREEK SLAVE.

HARLEM OP. HOUSE Louis Mann & Clara Lipman in The Girl in the Barracks. 8:15 Sat. Mat. 2:15. Nt. Wk.—Denman Thompson—The Old Homestead.

14th St. Theatre cr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat. LAST TIMES of the Quaint Rural Drama, THE DAIRY FARM

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. James O'NEILL in The MUSKETEERS. Saturday Night, "MONTE CRISTO." Next week, "SPORTING LIFE."

HURTIG & SEAMON'S Music Hall. 125th St. & 7th Av. Res. Or. 50c. Bal. 25c. Mats. Wed. & Sat. THE ORIGINAL BROADWAY BURLESQUERS.

AMUSEMENTS.

CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Ave. Marvellous Exhibition, Wonderful Demonstration, Illustrated Lecture, Deaf Cured Free. This Afternoon and Evening, December 8, 1899, at 2 and 8. Admission Free.

CARNEGIE HALL. PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York. EMIL PAUR.....Conductor. FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, at 2 P. M. SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, at 8:15 P. M. PROGRAM. Overture, "Freischuetz".....Weber. Concerto for Piano: E flat major.....Liszt. MR. MARK HAMBOURG. Symphonic Prologue to Heine's "William Ratcliff" (first time in N. Y.) conducted by the composer, MR. FRANK VAN DER STUCKEN. Symphony, No. 3, A minor, "Scotch".....Mendelssohn. Tickets at Carnegie Hall and Tyson's. Seats 75 cts. to $2; Boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1. AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

PADEREWSKI. CARNEGIE HALL, 57TH ST. & 7TH AV. Dec. 12, 16, Jan. 6, 20, at 2:30. SEATS $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1.00. At Schuberth's, 23 Union Square. Steinway Piano used.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE. GRAND OPERA SEASON 1899-1900. Under the direction of MR. MAURICE GRAU. The season will be inaugurated on MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 18TH. REPERTORY OPENING WEEK. Mon. Ev'g, Dec. 18, at 8.....ROMEO ET JULIETTE. Tues. Ev'g, Dec. 20, at 8.....CARMEN. Fri. Ev'g, Dec. 22, at 8.....TANNHAUSER. Sat. Mat., Dec. 23, at 2.....FAUST. Sat. Ev'g, Dec. 23, at 8 (at Popular Prices).....LOHENGRIN. Sun. Ev'g, Dec. 24, at 8:15. Grand Popular Concert. SALE OF SEATS FOR FIRST WEEK OPENS THURSDAY, DEC. 14TH. List of operas and further particulars will be announced Sunday, Dec. 10th. WEBER PIANO USED.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE. Sunday Evening, December 10th, at 8:15, Mendelssohn's Grand Sund. Concerts at popular prices. Schumann-Heink, Vladimer de Pachmann, Campanari, Walter Damrosch, and his Symphony Orchestra at 50c. Box office now open.

ST. NICHOLAS SKATING RINK. West 66th St., near Columbus Av. Open to the public daily except Monday. HOCKEY MATCH. To-night at 8:15 o'clock. N. Y. Athletic Club vs. Columbia University. Admission 50 cents. Skates free.

CARNEGIE HALL. Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. GERICKE.....Conductor. Wed., Dec. 13, at 2:30. Soloist, Thurs., Dec. 14, at 8:15. Soloist, Erwin Schroeder. Frank Kneisel. Tickets at Box Office and Tyson's, (Fifth Ave. Hotel,) at regular prices.

KEITH'S. CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE. FELIX MORRIS & CO. in "KERRY." THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR.

FOSTER & BIAL'S. Mat. Sat. to all parts of house. "Round New York" & Sherlock Holmes Burlesque. JEFFRIES & SHARKEY in living pictures as Gladiators.

BROADWAY Theatre. 41st St. & B'way. Evs. at 8. Nxt. Mat. Tmrw at 2. THE GREAT SUCCESS, BEN-HUR. Seats on sale for every perf. to March 1st.

IN NEW YORK. Eve., 8:15. Popular Prices. MATINEE DAILY at 2:15. BIOGRAPH PICTURES. JEFFRIES-SHARKEY CONTEST

THE NEW. Weber & Fields' Matinee To-Day. HURLY-BURLY CO. 1st 14th St. Capitaine, Binns & Binns, Cook & Somers.

5th Ave Theatre. B'way and 28th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. at 2. Mrs. Fiske in Becky Sharp. Mon., Dec. 11th—101st Time—Souvenirs.

Theatre Comique Broadway and 29th St. Mat. Every Day. Orch. 50c. Own Stock Burlesque & Chorus of 40, in Hoddy Dotty

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. The Great Oral Drama, "WAY DOWN EAST" Prices 25-50-75-1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8:10.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evgs. 8:15 sharp. Sat. Mat. only. ANNA HELD in PAPA'S WIFE.

YOU. B'way & 30th St. Ev. 8:15. Mat. Sat. only. MAY IRWIN Phone 2224 Mad. Sq. IN SISTER MARY. Biggest hit of all.

Weber & Fields' MUSIC HALL. Mat. Wed. & Sat. Whirl-I-Gig & BARBARA FIDGETY

LECTURES.

THE HON. JOHN BARRETT WILL LECTURE on "America in the Philippines and the Far East" Tuesday evening, Dec. 12, 1899, eight o'clock, at the Baptist Church of the Epiphany, Madison Avenue and 64th Street. Admission, 75 cts. Tickets for sale at Pond's music store, 3 Fifth Av.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Fair; variable winds becoming easterly.

COPYRIGHT, 1899, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. XLIX...NO. 15,575. NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1899.—16 Pages and Supplement. ONE CENT in Greater New York and Jersey City. Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

TO-DAY:
SIXTEEN PAGES, WITH
40-PAGE
HOLIDAY NUMBER
OF THE
REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

THE NEWS CONDENSED.

Stocks under pressure.

Cash wheat, No. 2 red, 75c; cash corn, No. 2 mixed, 40½c; cash cotton, 7 1-16c.

CONGRESS.—In the House yesterday the Committee on Rules brought in a special order providing for a limit to the debate on the Currency bill, so that a vote may be taken Dec. 18, it was adopted, in spite of Democratic protests. Representative Berry of Kentucky reintroduced in the House a joint resolution proffering the thanks of Congress to Admiral Schley and his men. A new committee was provided for in the lower house, to have supervision of all measures for the new possessions and for Cuba. Among the bills introduced yesterday was one providing for a territorial form of government for Hawaii.—Page 3.

FOREIGN.—The Boers cut the railroad and telegraph wires in Gen. Methuen's rear, but they were restored after sharp fighting. It is estimated that 16,000 Burghers oppose the British advance to Kimberley. It is reported again that Mafeking has been relieved. Gen. Buller is advancing on Colenso and a battle is expected there. Communication with Ladysmith has been restored by heliograph. The Boers say that the battle of Modder River was one of the fiercest ever experienced by them. In the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday several members urged that the colonial defenses and army be strengthened. Mr. Chamberlain's language in his Leicester speech, said one, was a sufficiently grave cause for such a course. Sydney Oliver has been appointed British Colonial Secretary for Jamaica. It is stated in London that Great Britain has no desire whatever to purchase the Galapagos Islands. An Italian Deputy has been arrested charged with bringing about the murder of a former Director of the Bank of Sicily. A German expert says the restrictions on the entry of American fruit should be removed, inasmuch as the fruit pests cannot survive in Germany.—Pages 3 and 8.

Page 1.

It is practically assured that the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky will be given the certificate of election by the State Board to-day.

Bartow S. Weeks, counsel for Roland B. Molineux, admitted that the latter at one time used blue tinted paper with a crest of intertwined crescents in writing for a patent medicine. Expert Kinsley testified that the poison package address and many other writings were in the prisoner's hand.

Page 2.

Gov. Roosevelt held several conferences yesterday with men interested in State affairs, and will meet Senator Platt and Chairman Odell to-day for a general discussion of proposed legislation.

The Republican members of the Mazet committee would not talk about their reported trouble with Mr. Moss, and the latter refused to affirm or deny that it was caused by his desire to call Senator Platt as a witness.

Page 3.

It is thought that a local syndicate, at present negotiating for the purchase of 500 acres of land at Flemington, N. J., will reopen the Flemington copper mines, abandoned in 1866.

Page 4.

Roberts expressed the wish yesterday that his case be heard in public.

Company H of the Eighth Regiment has withdrawn its petition in behalf of ex-Capt. Solomon, and will apologize to superiors.

Page 7.

Magistrate Flammer, to teach a lesson, caused the arrest of two men who reluctantly obeyed his order to move on.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has decided that the municipal court in any district has jurisdiction of a defendant in any part of the greater city.

Leonard Rusby, the Postmaster of Nutley, N. J., is accused of negligence by a local paper, and letters and other mail matter are alleged to have been found in his cellar.

Justice Gildersleeve, in the Supreme Court, yesterday handed down two decisions denying the applications made by taxpayers to continue temporary injunctions restraining the Board of Public Improvements from passing upon the Ramapo Water Company's contract.

Page 8.

The steamer Albano, which arrived last night, reported that on Dec. 2 she had left the British steamer Manica disabled with a broken shaft 1,000 miles from Halifax.

Page 10.

The Board of Review of the National Trotting Association yesterday sustained the judges of races in four out of five appeals, suspended several horse owners, and reinstated a dozen others.

Page 12.

A company of capitalists headed by Thomas A. Edison, have purchased a site at Stewartville, N. J., for the erection of what, it is said, will be a million-dollar cement plant.

Page 13.

The Appellate Division refused to compel the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company to connect its wires with a ticker in the office of a person not designated by the Stock Exchange to receive such service.

Page 16.

The annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers came to an end yesterday.

Holders of stock in the Franklin National Bank have asked Judge Lacombe to appoint a receiver for the institution.

Hoboken's Health Board has reduced the fine for expectorating in public conveyances from $10 and $25 to $3 for each offense.

New York Masons have made a change in the date of the annual meeting from the first Tuesday in June to the first Tuesday in May.

The American Woolen Company voted yesterday to increase the wages of its employes 10 per cent. Over 20,000 employes are affected.

It proved to be a difficult task yesterday to get a jury, in the suit of P. J. Kiernan against the Tile Trust, which was unopposed to trusts.

The theft of many championship trophies in the world of sports was prevented yesterday by the prompt action of the cashier in the repository for the emblems.

The Directors of the Standard Gas Company omitted to declare a dividend. The common stock of the company declined 14½ points and the preferred 10 points.

Mrs. Margaret Sharp has reported to the police that her apartment in the flathouse at 77 West Sixty-eighth Street was robbed on Saturday last of jewelry, checks money, and Government bonds, estimated to be worth from $8,000 to $10,000.

Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Business Troubles.—Page 10.
Court Calendars.—Page 11.
Insurance Notes.—Page 14.
Losses by Fire.—Page 2.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 10.
Markets.—Page 14.
New Corporations.—Page 14.
Real Estate.—Page 14.
Society.—Page 9.
Weather Report.—Page 2.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 2.

The Evening Post
of to-day will be remarkable in many ways. Thirty-six pages; list of holiday books, and many interesting holiday announcements, special articles, etc., etc. The handsomest issue of the year.—Adv.

BIG DISSENSIONS IN SUGAR TRUST

F. O. Matthiessen Withdraws from the Directorate.

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW HIM

Sensation in High Trade Circles and Reports of Serious Competition.

New phases appear in Sugar Trust affairs—and they are not unlikely to develop into what even in Wall Street may be regarded as sensational.

For the first time in the history of the biggest American trust, inside disturbances get beyond control. At various times, and from various quarters, reports have been heard occasionally of dissensions in Sugar Trust management, but never hitherto have tangible results followed to give rumors consequence, it being the fashion, generally, to consider such stories speculative inventions. Now, however, the facts become clear enough.

F. O. Matthiessen, who has been prominent in the management of the trust ever since its organization, refuses to remain any longer in the Board of Directors. A letter to this effect has been addressed by Mr. Matthiessen to the company. In it he says that his name must not be used at the coming annual election.

Even in highest sugar trade circles this action by Mr. Matthiessen creates astonishment. Mr. Matthiessen is a man of large means, and hitherto he has been credited with being the largest inside holder of Sugar Trust common stock. His relations with the late Theodore Havemeyer were especially intimate, and in so far as ordinary observation has disclosed Mr. Matthiessen and H. O. Havemeyer until recently have had similar agreeable relations. However this may be, Mr. Matthiessen yesterday himself verified the statement that he is determined to withdraw from the Sugar Trust. It can be stated with explicitness that Mr. Matthiessen does not intend to go out of the sugar refining business.

MR. MATTHIESSEN'S INTERESTS.

Among other business relationships, Mr. Matthiessen has large financial interests in the Glucose Refining Company—the Glucose Trust. He took an important part in the formation of that corporation, and he is credited in Wall Street with having made profits thereby approaching $5,000,000.

Coincident with the reports crowding Wall Street yesterday regarding Mr. Matthiessen's retirement from the Sugar Trust, there were rumors that other Directors would also withdraw, but only in the case of Mr. Matthiessen was there personal verification of such statements.

Some circulating reports had it that Mr. Matthiessen is forthwith to become the head of a new opposition to the Sugar Trust, a corporation of tens of millions of dollars having been already arranged in furtherance of far-reaching plans. Mr. Matthiessen declined to discuss such stories, as, indeed, he showed indisposition to consider any of the gossip touching his present relations with Sugar Trust insiders.

It is stated in Wall Street that Mr. Doscher and Mr. Matthiessen, for a long time close associates in Sugar Trust management, may have mutual interests in the future. Friends of Mr. Matthiessen did not hesitate to say that he can, if he chooses, begin at once an active competition with the trust; that he will not have to wait for the delivery of machinery; that he has manufacturing plants immediately available. This may signify plans for the taking over of the new Doscher works, which have capacity much larger than their current output, and it may even signify something more important than the mere acquisition of the Doscher Refinery.

CONFIRMS HIS WITHDRAWAL.

Discussing his withdrawal from the Sugar Trust, Mr. Matthiessen yesterday said:

"It is a fact that I have written to the American Sugar Refining Company stating that my name must not be used next month in the election of Directors. I sent the letter on Wednesday because there was a special meeting on that day, and I did not know what might be done. As to why I wrote the letter—well, that is purely a private matter. I simply wanted to get out—not to stay in.

"However, all this concerns my private business and I don't see what interest the public can have in it.

"As to reports of internal dissension within the Board of Directors of the American Company I cannot say anything about it. I have not been near the meetings for a considerable time.

"In respect to my relations with the Glucose Company, they naturally are friendly. My nephew is the President of that company."

H. O. Havemeyer, President of the American Company, was out of the city yesterday, and at his office it was said he would not be down to business until Monday.

James H. Post of B. H. Howell, Son & Co., representing the Mollenhauer and National companies, who not very long ago expressed himself as somewhat hopeful, and certainly desirous, of a settlement of the sugar war, said yesterday:

"There is no sign of any weakening on the part of any of the companies, and a settlement now seems further off than ever. None of our people can see any end in sight. Some time ago we thought that something could be done toward a settlement, but we are losing hope in that respect.

"As for the action of the American Company in refusing to continue guarantee contracts after Jan. 1, it seems to me now that instead of this being a hopeful sign it is quite the reverse. I think it is but a preliminary step toward a further reduction of prices in the New Year, and that the American Company is taking this method of tying up the trade at any cost.

"All the sugar refining companies are losing money, but the American Company most of all, for the reason that that company is paying dividends which aggregate between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000, while the independent companies are not paying any, and therefore are in that much better position. There is not the slightest doubt that the dividends lately declared by the American Company have been paid out of the surplus, for it is not earning anything.

"Of course, I am only giving my opinion as to the outlook, but that opinion, you can see, is not very hopeful. The independent companies would be glad to follow any advance made by the American Company that would give them a small profit, but at present it looks as if there would be a further reduction instead of an advance."

ARBUCKLE BROTHERS' ATTITUDE.

James N. Jarvie of Arbuckle Brothers said:

"I don't believe in discussing these matters in the newspapers. I know nothing, however, of any solution of the difficulty, and, so far as we know, a settlement is as far off as ever. We simply are going about our own business."

During the day the movement of the Sugar stocks was so much out of the ordinary that the Wall Street news agencies put out a number of bulletins on the subject. One of these was to this effect:

"The sharp decline in Sugar is accompanied by positive statements that the war between the refiners will be resumed after Jan. 1, with greater bitterness than ever. This report led to the liquidation of some long stock. In the sugar trade it is said that there has always been the possibility of a resumption of hostilities, and that the refusal of all the refiners to make contracts beyond Jan. 1 may have been simply to put themselves in better condition for the fight, by freeing themselves from obligations for future delivery at a price."

Another bulletin called attention to the fact that Arbuckle Brothers have issued a notice to customers who have contracts for sugar for shipment before Jan. 1, 1900, that, owing to the change in the classification of freights on sugar on that date, it will be necessary to have assortments here not later than Dec. 15, 1899, in order to allow ample time to complete shipments according to contract.

There is no Train for St. Louis and Cincinnati leaves Grand Central Station every day at 9:20 P. M. via New York Central-Big Four Route.—Adv.

LILIAN KNOTT IMPRISONED.

Minneapolis Judge Finds Her Guilty of Stealing a Woman's Cloak—She Protests Her Innocence.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 8.—Lilian Marion Knott, well known on the operatic stage, having been understudy for Camile Darville in "Madeleine, or the Magic Kiss," and having with the Corinne and Duff Opera Companies, is in the workhouse here charged with petit larceny.

Her case is a singular one. She is the daughter of the manager of the Wabash Iron Works at Terre Haute, but she has been out of work and penniless, and finally became ill with typhoid fever at the city hospital in St. Paul. Upon recovery she wrote to her father, to whom she had hitherto been too proud to apply, for assistance. He promptly replied that he had sent money and a ticket to take her home.

There was some error in the issuing of the ticket, and while waiting for it to be remedied by wire, she was arrested for stealing a cloak from a colored woman.

She explained to the Police Judge that the woman's husband had loaned her the cloak in her great need, and she had no intention of stealing it. The Judge gave little credence to her story, and sent her up for forty days. Miss Knott tearfully asserts her innocence, and seems on the verge of nervous collapse. In private life she is Mrs. Joseph Barrett, having married Mr. Barrett when he was musical director of "McGinty the Sport," and she was in the company. Her husband, however, has left her.

CHICAGO PROFESSOR ACCUSED.

His Teachings, It Is Charged, Are Not Entirely Orthodox.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chicago Theological Seminary last night, Prof. George Holly Gilbert of Iowa, Professor of New Testament Literature and Interpretation, was criticised because of the doctrines contained in his books, "The Revelation of Jesus" and "Students' Life of Christ." The Congregational ministers of Chicago and many cities of the West debated the case, but no formal charges were preferred.

"The Revelation of Jesus" has caused a notable stir. It is said that the author of the book argued that the entire inspired teachings of the Bible are contained in the words of Christ. Prof. Gilbert's critics say he negatively discredits the works of the Apostles, and holds that the Saviour did not teach that he was of inspired origin. The view held by some theological students who studied under Prof. Gilbert, it is said, were stronger even than his writings and teachings justified. The examination papers of some students showed such a reflection of his teachings that they were submitted in the consideration of the questions before the Directors at the present inquiry.

Prof. Gilbert refused to discuss the meeting or the questions involved. One Director said: "We decided that Prof. Gilbert's views must come in better accord with the creed. He is given time, and we have not yet severed his connection with the seminary: The action was not meant as a reprimand. His teachings were thought to be harmful to students. Prof. Gilbert has declared that his doctrines do not conflict with the teachings of the Church, but the Directors did not so construe the teachings in his books and in his lectures."

WASHINGTON'S MAD DOG SCARE.

Residents of Fashionable Dupont Circle Live in Fear.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—There is a mad dog scare in the neighborhood of Dupont Circle, one of the fashionable sections of the town. Somebody has spread a report that mad dogs have been seen in that locality, and so the residents of Dupont Circle never leave their mansions without first looking warily around for wild animals. The District Commissioners, under a law passed in 1878, have the right to increase the pound master's force whenever there is hydrophobia in Washington, and to-day they authorized such an increase, giving Pound Master Einstein three additional teams and instructions to impound tagless dogs. The Commissioners say, however, that there are no mad dogs in the District. It is thought that the precaution was taken simply to soothe the nerves of Dupont Circle residents.

MANITOBA LIBERALS ROUTED.

Conservatives Win by a Majority of Nearly 2 to 1.

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—The latest returns to The Star from yesterday's Legislative election in the Province of Manitoba show the election of twenty-four Conservatives and fourteen Liberals, with two districts in doubt. The Liberal party under Thomas Greenway has been in power for many years and yesterday's result is a surprising turnover. The Conservatives had as their leader Hugh John Macdonald, son of the late Sir John Macdonald, for many years Premier of Canada.

The elections in Manitoba were regarded as unusually important, as they were expected to have a bearing on the dissolution of the Canadian House of Commons, which, it is claimed, will take place some time this Winter.

The Conservative opposition in the last Manitoba Legislature numbered only five.

The Liberal papers claim that the defeat was largely due to the personal popularity of Mr. MacDonald, the great prestige his father's name carried in Manitoba and to dissensions among a number of Winnipeg Liberals. It is also stated that the settlement of an undesirable class of immigrants from Russia in Manitoba injured Mr. Greenway, although he was not responsible.

The situation had a religious aspect also, as the French-speaking portion of the population was opposed to the Greenway Government owing to the latter's stand against Roman Catholic schools.

NO FRANCHISE TAX IN 1900.

First Payments Not Due Under the Law Until 1901.

ALBANY, Dec. 8.—The general impression that has prevailed to the effect that corporations taxable under the franchise tax act would pay their first taxes to the boards of assessors in the districts where there franchises operate during the year 1900 is a mistake, as the statute will not be in full operation so far as results are concerned before January, 1901.

The valuations of the franchises which the State Board of Tax Commissioners are required to determine and the material to form the basis of which is under consideration will not, with the exception of the corporations operating in New York City, be certified to the local assessors for some months. It was supposed that these valuations had to be certified to the local assessors within a few weeks. It now develops that the certifications may be made any time before Sept. 1 next, when the tax rolls for the following tax year are required to be completed.

In New York County, however, the certifications must be made before May 1, when the New York tax rolls close. These rolls form the basis for the taxes to be collected in 1901 so that apparently there will be no special franchise taxes collected during the year 1900.

Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Washington and return on Dec. 13, 14, and 15 at rate of $8.65 for the round trip, good to return until 18th, upon occasion of the Masonic 100th anniversary of the death of Washington. Round trip tickets, Alexandria to Richmond, $4.00, good to return until Dec. 18th, inclusive.—Adv.

LIVES WITH BROKEN NECK.

Hod Carrier Injured Five Weeks Ago Astonishes Yonkers Physicians—His Walk of Six Miles.

YONKERS, N. Y., Dec. 8.—A man dragged himself into St. Joseph's Hospital here this afternoon and asked to be admitted. He gave his name as Bartholomew Moriarity and said he was sixty-five years of age and a resident of Dobbs Ferry, a hod carrier. He said he had fallen from a scaffold and had broken his neck. The fall, he said, occurred five weeks ago. Dr. O'Neil, the house surgeon, doubted that the man's neck was broken, but later found the statement was strictly true and X-rays showed the bone pressing against the spinal cord.

The case is considered a most remarkable one. The fact that the man has lived five weeks, most of the time without adequate care, and that to-day he walked six miles from Dobbs Ferry to this city adds to their astonishment.

After Dr. O'Neil had listened to the man's story he asked Moriarty to walk across the room. The old man arose, and then it appeared that his left side was paralyzed. The leg on that side was totally useless. Dr. O'Neil caused him to be placed in bed, and made an examination. He found the paralyzed side was sensitive to feeling, almost abnormally so, while the side which still retained power of locomotion was without feeling. The way Moriarty walked was to place the cane he carried in advance of his body and then hop forward upon his right foot, the one devoid of feeling.

The X rays were applied and the condition ascertained. The picture shows the break to be a bad one, and the pressure upon the spinal cord is continuous.

Moriarty says that after he fell he was taken to his boarding house, where a physician put his neck and head into a plaster cast. He was unconscious for two weeks, and then he appeared to recover. He suffered no pain, and dismissed the doctor. Recently the pain was intense in his left side until it became paralyzed. He says he now suffers pain in the back of his head.

The doctors will to-morrow attempt an operation, and then, if he survives, will put him in a plaster cast. He says he is confident he will recover.

CAR CARRIED BY ASSAULT.

Big Police Battle with Iron Workers Who Disturb Passengers.

John Marquardt, thirty-two years old, of 455 West Twenty-seventh Street; Edward Wendt, nineteen years old, of 228 East Seventy-third Street; Robert Laurie, forty-four years old, of 421 West Thirty-ninth Street, all ironworkers, and each under the influence of liquor, boarded an Eighth Avenue trolley car in Harlem last night to ride down town. Each man sprawled himself out on two seats, and then, deliberately filling a pipe, proceeded to emjoy himself. There were several women in the car, and they, with the other male passengers, made protests. They were subjected to insults. The conductor and motorman viewed the odds and declined to interfere.

The car was stopped at Sixty-eighth Street and the gong sounded until Roundsman McCullagh and one of his men appeared. They attempted to arrest the ironworkers, but were thrown out of the car on their heads. McCullagh sent for reinforcements, and five men came. The car was then carried by assault, and after much vigorous clubbing the three men were subdued and dragged off to the station. But when it was all over four of the policemen presented a very miserable appearance. Their helmets were stove in, their uniforms torn, and their faces cut and bruised.

CHICAGO'S FINANCIAL CRISIS.

A Special Session of the Legislature May Have to be Called.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—A special session of the Legislature is looked upon by a number of Chicago public men as the only means whereby relief can be obtained from the financial crisis which threatens Chicago's City Government next year owing to the increased needs for revenue.

As if to emphasize the necessity for relief, intelligence was received in the office of the Corporation Counsel from Springfield to-day indicating that the city's revenue from the tax levy will be even less next year that it was this year, despite the predictions of vast increases expected from the operation of the new revenue law. Major Marshall's report was filed at Washington yesterday and its showing as to how navigation in the river is obstructed has also served to again call attention to the decayed condition of the city's bridges and the immediate necessity for new structures at over a score of crossings.

This year Chicago received $4,420,000 for corporate purposes from the tax levy—not enough to maintain the city and Fire Departments—and the city had to depend upon saloon licenses and other special sources of income for its maintenance. It has been supposed heretofore that the city would obtain at least $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 from the levy.

NORWALK BOY BURGLARS.

Two More Youngsters Arrested—Dime Novels and Plunder Found.

Special to The New York Times.

NORWALK, Conn., Dec. 8.—The arrest of Walter Smalley, the leader of a gang of boy desperadoes, yesterday, was followed today by the arrest of two accomplices, Sidney Sill, better known as "Inky," and George Harris, aged fifteen and fourteen years respectively. Harry Platt fourteen years old, another alleged member of the gang, escaped by jumping from the second-story window of his home. Their rendezvous was in a storehouse on the Norwalk and New York Steamboat Company's dock, where plunder, tobacco, liquor, and dime novels were found. Smalley was armed with a revolver and had a complete kit of burglar's tools in his possession.

Among the houses robbed by the gang was the Summer home of the Trinity Church, New York, at Strawberry Hill. The boys have confessed to numerous burglaries, chicken stealing, and other depredations. They will have a hearing to-morrow. Smalley is a ticket-of-leave boy from the State Reform School at Meriden.

BOSTON ART MUSEUM TO MOVE.

Large Tract of Land Purchased in the Back Bay Fens.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—It was announced today that the Trustees of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts had purchased a large tract of land in the Back Bay Fens for the purpose of erecting a building that will meet the present and future needs of the institution. Agreements have been signed for the sale. The land includes more than 600,000 square feet and is near the Huntington Avenue entrance to the Fens.

Since Copley Square and its immediate vicinity became built up with tall apartment houses the desirability of the early removal of the treasures of the Art Museum to a location where they would be safe from fire has been uppermost in the minds of the custodians.

Fund to Aid Unfortunate Teachers.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—The Massachusetts Institute of Technology announces a recent gift of $50,000 from Mr. Augustus Lowell, which, according to the express wish of the donor, is to serve as the nucleus of a fund, the income of which shall be used for the benefit of the teaching staff of the institute in cases of illness, death, or retirement, subject to such regulations as the government may from time to time see fit to adopt.

Mark Twain's First Lie
And how he got out of it. Told by him for the first time in The Great Christmas World, out Sunday, Dec. 10. Special Mark Twain Section and many holiday features. Leaders of Thought in Editorial Forum. Five cents, of all newsdealers.—Adv.

TAYLOR WINS IN KENTUCKY

The State Board of Elections Gives Him the Certificate.

CERTIFIES TO ENTIRE TICKET

Decision Is Based on the Theory that the Face of the Returns Must Be Accepted as Final.

FRANKFORT Ky., Dec. 8.—The State Board of Election Commissioners of Kentucky to-day decided to issue certificates of election to William S. Taylor and the other candidates on the Republican ticket. The decision is a very long one, but the essential parts are as follows;

"In reaching a conclusion in this case we are compelled to construe for the first time the statute under which we act. The capital question on the threshold is, What are the powers and jurisdiction of the State Board of Election Commissioners sitting as a canvassing board, which is the capacity in which it now acts? There is one other material question involved in this proceeding. It is this: If we find, under the law, that this board, sitting as a canvassing board, is clothed with judicial powers, the question is, Are the papers and documents tendered for our consideration competent evidence for any purpose, or are they merely ex parte statements which under the rules of evidence are inadmissible to establish any facts?"

After quoting extracts from the new election law, defining the powers of the board, the opinion reads:

"It is evident, from the law, that the State Board of Election Commissioners, when sitting as a board of contest, is clothed with powers and jurisdiction which it does not possess and cannot assume to exercise when sitting, as at present, in a mere ministerial capacity. This board, under the present law, as a canvassing board, possesses no other or greater powers than those conferred on the Governor, Attorney General, and Secretary of State.

"This question is not of supreme importance in this proceeding when we come to consider the papers and documents offered as testimony and upon which we are requested to act. These papers are clearly incompetent testimony for any purpose, and it would be so held, we apprehend, not only in all courts, but it would be so held by us if we were now sitting as a board of contest.

"It is contended by counsel for the Democratic candidates that the military force of the State was wrongfully and illegally called out on the day of the recent election with a view of intimidating the citizens and voters of the City of Louisville. Our answer is that we cannot, as a mere canvassing board, consider the grave and constitutional question which they seek to enforce upon our consideration. The Governor of the Commonwealth was in fact present in the City of Louisville personally in command of the State troops as argued, that presents a condition which does not meet the approval of this board and which in our opinion the law unqualifiedly condemns.

"But for reasons already discussed this board may not now sit in judgment on the question, nor does it intend by what it has said to commit itself to any hard and fast line of action in the future. Once more counsel for the Democratic candidates urged upon this board that it ought to reject the vote of the City of Louisville on account of official acts of a Circuit Judge who, as counsel contend, with writs of mandamus and mandatory injunctions, not only forced, as it is claimed, the officers of election to admit persons to the polling places who legally had no right to be there, but who, by mandatory process, required election officers to certify returns which it is suggested to us were not in fact true.

"It is enough, in this connection, to say that this is not a government by injunction, and when the question is properly presented before a tribunal having jurisdiction to deal with the subject we predict with confidence that the judgment of such tribunal will be swift and certain, and that it will be distinctly held that such performances on the part of any judge in this land, whether of high or low degree, are usurpations which cannot and will not be sanctioned by law.

It results from what has already been said, that the certificates, in face of the returns before us, should be issued to William S. Taylor, the Republican candidate for Governor, and the other candidates on the ticket with him, and it is so ordered."

The Democratic candidates for the minor offices on the State ticket have already decided to fight before the State Contesting Board for the positions to which they believe themselves entitled. They held several conferences during the day, but it was not definitely determined until 3 o'clock in the afternoon to make the contests.

The politicians of both parties departed from Frankfort in great numbers during the day, and the town to-night is practically deserted. The Democratic and Republican attorneys left for home, the former going this morning, and the latter this afternoon. Col. "Jack" Chinn, who has been attached to the Goebel headquarters, left this afternoon, remarking, with a laugh, as he passed through the hotel door: "I guess it is all up with us for this time." There is no indication of any trouble.

There has been a large amount of money bet on the election throughout Kentucky as to who would be the next Governor of the State, and the bettors are trying to decide whether if Taylor is declared Governor, and later ousted by the Legislature as not being a legal incumbent, he was in fact actually Governor at all in the eyes of the law. The Taylor bettors construe it one way, and naturally the Goebel men see the question differently. There has been so much money wagered on the outcome that the matter has really a serious side to it.

The story that Judge Pryor will resign at the conclusion of the board's session is untrue. Both he and Commissioner Ellis have lost all love for the position of Election Commissioner, and both will retire after a time, but neither will offer his resignation until all contests arising from the late election have been disposed of.

STEWART A FREE LANCE.

The Senator Denies that He Has Rejoined the Republican Party.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A report has found its way into some of the newspapers that Senator Stewart of Nevada has abjured free silver, thrown down all his idols, and been received into full fellowship in the Republican caucus. Senator Stewart has heard the report himself. He says it is a lie.

"I am still a silver man," said he, mildly. "I have not been 'received back' anywhere. I am willing to go into anybody's caucus, or to receive committee appointments from any party. All I ask in return is that the party taking me up shall vote with me. If one party calls me in and says it desires to have me serve on a committee, I will grant the favor, provided I can get the assurance that for my favor I am to have help in return. I am ready to vote with any party that will vote with me. I am so good-natured about it that I will vote for either party if it votes with me."

THE NEBRASKA SENATORSHIP.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 8.—Gov. Poynter has been called from the Capitol to Albion by the illness of his father and this has caused a slight break in the fight for the appointment of a Senator to succeed Hayward. The friends of both former Senator William V. Allen and G. M. Hitchcock, publisher of The Omaha World-Herald, are busy organizing their forces, however.

The fusion members of the last Legislature are practically unanimous in urging Allen's appointment. As they are practically all Populists and Gov. Poynter is also a Populist, this is counted upon to have its effect. The Democrats are apparently united on Hitchcock, and are making their strongest fight on the plea that the Democrats have not heretofore received their share of offices under the fusion arrangement. The Governor has announced that the appointment would not be made before the middle of next week, in order to give all parties ample time to be heard.

Before leaving, Gov. Poynter received a letter from Orlando Tefft, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, petitioning him to call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of filling the Senatorial vacancy, or, if that be deemed inadvisable, to appoint some well-known Republican agreeable to the majority in the Legislature.

For Deputy Register of Kings.

It was announced yesterday that Warren C. Treadwell had been selected as Deputy Register of Kings County by Register-elect James R. Howe. Mr. Treadwell is at present connected with the office of the Commissioner of Records.

CHOOSES CANNON FOR A DUEL.

Gov. Bradley and Judge Tarvin Exchange Compliments Over the Burning of the Negro Coleman.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 8.—Gov. Bradley to-night gave out his first public utterance on the burning of the negro, Dick Coleman, at Maysville. This came in reply to an interview by Judge James P. Tarvin of Covington, criticising the State authorities and holding them responsible for the Maysvile mob.

The Governor this afternoon wired Tarvin, asking him if he had been correctly reported, and received the following reply:

"The penalty given Coleman may be considered just, but the failure of the State authorities to protect him after he was in custody is wrong, and any citizen has a right to criticise it. The fact that he was a negro, hardly above a brute, is only the more reason for protecting him. If your telegram means fight I have the choice of weapons, and choose cannon, you to stay at Frankfort and I at Covington. Please don't send the militia."

The Governor on commenting on it said: "This dispatch is characteristic of the man. If the penalty given Coleman by the people was just, why should Tarvin object? As to his proposition to remain in Covington and fight a gentleman in Frankfort, persons who know him will be astonished to learn that he is willing to fight, even at that distance." The Governor closes his statement by saying:

"As Governor I have done everything in my power to protect human life and enforce the law. If I had known, as Judge Tarvin knew, that this man was about to be taken to his death at the hands of a mob, I would not have kept a cowardly silence, as he did, but would have protected him. Ever since Judge Tarvin was seized with the insane thought that he was Vice Presidential timber his friends have kept constant watch on him. This last effusion is additional evidence that he is irresponsible."

LIEUT. BRUMBY CRITICALLY ILL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Lieut. T. M. Brumby, the Flag Lieutenant to Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila, is lying critically ill at the Garfield Hospital in this city. He is suffering from a fever contracted as a result of his long stay in the tropics, and has been at the hospital for about two weeks. The physicians at the hospital express the belief that he will recover.

FEARS FOR CANADIAN STEAMER.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Dec. 8.—It is believed here to-night that the Canadian steamer Niagara has foundered on Lake Erie and that all hands were lost. The crew probably comprised sixteen persons all told. Of these Capt. Henry McGlory, master of the lost steamer, is the only one known here. The Niagara had a cargo of lumber and shingles, bound from Georgian Bay to Buffalo.

On Tuesday the Niagara was sighted off Long Point in the heavy gale and snowstorm. The steamers Orion and M. T. Greene arrived this afternoon from Buffalo and report passing through a great quantity of wreckage. It consisted of lumber, shingles, and pieces of a wooden steamer. No name was visible on any of the wreckage. The Niagara is the only boat known to be missing. She is operated by the Matthews Line of Toronto, Ontario. Mr. Matthews to-day telegraphed that he had heard nothing from the boat since she passed Detroit on Monday.

Capt. McGlory lived in this city. He leaves a widow and several children. All of the crew were probably Canadians, and it is thought that a number of them lived at St. Catharines.

PHYSICIAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Dr. Stewart B. Carlisle, fifty-one years old, living at 240 South Fifth Avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y., died in the Harlem Hospital last night of heart disease.

An hour before his death Dr. Carlisle was found at One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street and Third Avenue by Policeman Robert Cleary of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street Station, sick. He was removed to the hospital and attended by Dr. Miller. His body was taken to the Morgue.

MARRIED LIFE NOT WORTH $1.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Seasoned as he is to queer experiences, Frederick O'Connell, the Washington marriage license clerk, was rather staggered yesterday by a man named Edward J. Morgan. Morgan is about fifty years old, and some days ago he obtained a license to marry a widow named Emma R. Remy, thirty-seven years old, of Chester, Penn.

After a while Morgan discovered that the lady was too fond of having her own way. He accordingly called on Mr. O'Connell yesterday, and demanded his money back. He also requested that the names be erased from the record. Mr. O'Connell was compelled to decline both requests. The license fee is a dollar, and Morgan claims that married life is not worth it.

CAPT. J. C. AYERS KILLED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Capt. J. C. Ayers, United States Army, of the Ordnance Department, was killed here to-day by a fall from his bicycle and being run over by a team.

Capt. Ayers was born in Wisconsin, and was appointed to the army from that State. He was graduated from the Military Academy in 1871, and, after three years' service in the infantry, was transferred to the Ordnance Department, where he remained up to the time of his death. He was stationed in New York City for several years, and about a year ago was transferred to this city for duty as an Assistant to the Chief of Ordnance. His wife is the daughter of Gen. Rodman.

New Professor for Chicago University.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Prof. F. M. Warren of Adelbert College, Ohio, has been called to be head of the Romance department at the University of Chicago Prof. Warren has a wide reputation as a French scholar. The Romance department of the university has been without a head professor except for a short time during the first year of the university.

Married Wednesday, Suicide Friday.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 8.—Herbert C. Vincent, who was married Wednesday night, committed suicide by shooting, in the presence of his wife, last night. Temporary insanity is believed to have caused the act. Vincent was twenty-four years of age.

THE NEW YORK HERALD'S Christmas Edition.
Out to-morrow, Sunday. 32 Full Size High Art Pages. An Incomparable Holiday Edition.—Adv.

See the Calendar for 1900 Given with TRUTH for December—out to-day.—Adv.

ADMISSIONS BY MOLINEUX

He Wrote on Blue-Tinted Paper for a Patent Medicine.

EXPERT KINSLEY'S TESTIMONY

Poison Package Address and Other Writings Declared to be in the Prisoner's Hand.

For the first time in the trial of Roland B. Molineux for the murder by poison of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams Bartow S. Weeks, as counsel for the defendant, made an admission yesterday. He conceded that Molineux had at one time used blue tinted paper bearing the crest of three intertwined crescents and had written to a patent medicine firm for remedy.

To those who had followed the trial from the first this acknowledgment by Mr. Weeks was a surprise. There was nothing new in the existence of the letter, but it had always been understood that it would be declared a forgery by Mr. Weeks, although signed in the name of his client. Mr. Weeks made his admission lightly, and seeming in the belief that it was not important. It may be that the defense has something in reserve in reference to this letter, but whatever it is will not be made patent until the defense has its inning in the trial.

The letter which Molineux's counsel admits the prisoner wrote was addressed to James Burns of 350 Columbus Avenue, this city, who formerly dispensed patent medicines at that address, but is now out of business. The letter is as follows:

Please send enclosed 25 cents, for which send me a remedy, and oblige ROLAND MOLINEUX,
6 Jersey Street, Newark, N. J.

At the inquest held by Coroner Hart into the cause of death of Mrs. Adams Molineux, the, not formally accused of the murder, swore that, to the best of his knowledge, he had never seen or used blue-tinted paper bearing a crest made up of three entwined crescents, and that to the best of his recollection he had never written a patent medicine firm for any remedy. District Attorney Osborne said yesterday that if Molineux should claim that his memory was defective on those points, when he gave that evidence then he fitted a description given in the diagnosis blank sent by some one in the name of "Barnet" to a firm in Cincinnati, in which the writer said one of his symptoms was partial loss of ors, while the expert called their attention to the same "pen habits" in each, consisting of the breaks between the letters "i" and "g" in "oblige."

Mr. Weeks objected to the comparison by the witness of different samples of disputed handwriting. He said that it had been held by Justice Williams that the comparisons could be made only between admitted and disputed writings, and wanted to hand up a brief on the subject. His request was not granted.

After Recorder Goff had ruled again that the specimen of handwriting made by the defendant in the office of the expert was a standard and would be used as such with his approval, Mr. Osborne handed to Mr. Kinsley the diagnosis blank, which, he says, contains a description of Molineux. On account of the form of Mr. Osborne's questions in connection with it, the Court ruled that only the writing should go to the jury.

"And the printed portion be cut off?" put in Mr. Weeks.

"Yes," said the Recorder.

Mr. Osborne urged the Court to reconsider its ruling. He said he had bound himself to furnish a description of the poisoner written by the poisoner himself, and unless the diagnosis blank went in he could not do it. He said he would surely connect the matter with other evidence, and after an argument of over half an hour the Recorder finally admitted the entire document as competent to describe a person alleged to have written a series of letters.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT.

Then Mr. Weeks interposed a brand-new objection. He said that the diagnosis was a privileged communication between doctor and patient, and then hastened to say that he claimed no privilege, but referred the court to the statute containing an inhibition against making public such a communication.

Recorder Goff ruled, after examining the blank, that there was nothing to show that the person to whom the communication was addressed had ever been authorized to practice physic or surgery, and the paper went in at last, Mr. Kinsley swearing that it was filled out in Molineux's handwriting.

"I desire to instruct the jury," said the Recorder, "that they are not to entertain the slightest prejudice against the defendant on account of any questions or answers made in this document. The question is one only of the identity of handwriting, and nothing else is to be allowed to cloud this issue."

After the introduction of more letters, Mr. Osborne turned suddenly to the Clerk and asked him for Exhibit A and Exhibits 3 and 4 in the case. The first is the original poison package address and the others are the standards of comparison admitted by the Court.

"You know the defendant's handwriting?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"I do," said Mr. Kinsley.

"You have seen Exhibit A before?"

"I have."

"Were the other exhibits written by the defendant in your presence?"

"They were."

"Have you made a study of the poison address?"

"Yes."

"And of the standards?"

"Yes."

"From your knowledge of his handwriting, did the defendant write Exhibit A, the address on the poison package?"

"It is my opinion that he did."

Mr. Kinsley was taken from the stand for a moment to allow several witnesses from Moodus, Conn., to testify. The only one called was George William Hall, who said he was the Superintendent in the factory of a patent medicine maker whose remedy "cured everything." He examined the Burns letter, and while he was being questioned about it, Mr. Weeks made the admission that it had been written by the defendant. Mr. Hall said the letter had come to his firm through purchase from Burns, who was now out of business. The court adjourned after the testimony of Mr. Hall.

In dismissing the jurors, Recorder Goff complimented them upon their patience. He said that he felt now, as he did when the trial opened, that he could safely repose confidence in them and allow them to go home. Until that confidence was destroyed, he said, he would continue to allow them to depart every day and not submit them to the hardship of being locked up. He warned them that they must not allow any one to approach them on the subject of the trial; that they must not speak of it or express any opinion, and that they must not read any newspaper accounts of it.

Yesterday's proceedings ended the fourth week of the trial. It will be resumed Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

MAMIE MULLANDA IN CUSTODY.

Woman Who Took Care of Molineux's Room to be a Witness.

Mamie Mullanda, a young woman who took care of the rooms occupied by Roland B. Molineux in Newark, N. J., was taken to the office of District Attorney Gardiner yesterday by Capt. McClusky. She is considered an important witness in the Molineux trial, through her knowledge of the papers in Molineux's room at the time of the death of Mrs. Adams.

It was said that Assistant District Attorney Osborne had taken down a statement of hers, but he declined to give out anything concerning it. The woman was taken to the House of Detention. She was arrested Thursday night at Suffern, N. Y., on a warrant signed by Recorded Goff.

MR. BRYAN'S INVESTMENT.

His Purchase of Gold Bonds for the Benefit of His Wife.

From The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, (Dem.)

It occurs to us that Mr. Bryan has put himself into all sorts of an embarrassing position by a recent act. He has saved up $60,000 from the profits of his books and lectures, and this he has invested in United States 4 per cent. bonds, placed in his wife's name. Now, there are two or three inconsistent phases of this transaction. The Chicago platform—by implication, at least—and all the Chicago platformers, denounce bonds and bondholders as tools of Wall Street and enemies of the people, but this act puts the Bryan family in the ranks of the muchly anathematized "bloated bondholders." Further than this, it must be remembered that the interest on these bonds is paid in gold, and thus the great apostle of cheap money becomes the beneficiary, by proxy, of the gold standard.

He may try to slide out of it by claiming that it is not he but his wife who receives the pestiferous money, but he will not be allowed to do the Adam in the garden act and rid himself of the odium in that style. Mrs. Bryan is a splendid woman and a good wife, and no doubt is willing to bear all the blame of the business, but the country will not submit to it. He must stand pilloried in the eyes of the country as one of the hated tribe of bondholders.

And what makes this transaction all the more unpardonable, these bonds are part of the Cleveland-Carlisle issue, put out, virtually, to perpetuate the gold standard! If there has been a free-silver speech made in three or four years which failed to denounce that "iniquitous surrender to Wall Street," the speech was not reported. It is one of the phrases kept in stock for all occasions, and worked for all it is worth, but Bryan has practically condoned and indorsed the act of Mr. Cleveland. Just see what a climax we have here! Bryan is a bondholder; he is a gold bondholder; he is a Cleveland-Carlisle gold bondholder! Can apostasy go further?

Teachers Want Better Pay Schedule.

The Male Teachers' Association held a largely attended meeting in the lecture room of the City College yesterday afternoon. President H. H. Goodrich of Public School 98, William's Bridge, was in the chair. The Committee on Local Legislation was requested to call upon the School Board's Committees on Salaries and on By-Laws and Legislation and favor a better salary schedule than the present one for male teachers. The Committee on State Legislation was asked to keep a sharp lookout for bills to be introduced at Albany affecting male teachers.

Cost of the Teachers' Fight.

The Board of Directors of the Teachers' Association met at the City College yesterday to consider the question of retainer for Lewis L. Delafield, who is conducting the suit again city officials for the withheld salaries of the teachers of Manhattan and the Bronx. It was agreed to pay $2,000 out of the funds now in the association's treasury, and to make up the difference between that amount and about $6,000, which it is understood Lawyer Delafield charges for his services, by amending the association's constitution so as to permit the transfer of the $4,000 from the building fund.

Money Goes to Pay Teachers.

ALBANY, Dec. 8.—In response to a communication from Superintendent of Public Schools Maxwell, asking whether certain funds appropriated by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment without deducting the amount appropriated from the free school fund by the State department should or should not be credited to the fund for paying teachers, Deputy Superintendent Ainsworth says that such amounts should be turned over to the Board of Education for the teachers' payment.

We Recruit Our Ranks

in woolen variety from the century established looms of Her Majesty's domain;—fabrics whose high standard was known long before the present generation, and whose honest value is to-day as then beyond criticism.

Yet we charge what others do for ordinary productions.

Burnham & Phillips

Custom Tailoring Only.

Temple Court Annex, 119 Nassau St.

MAZET COMMITTEE STRIFE

Members Will Not Talk, but Moss Admits They Surprised Him.

LAWYER'S MYSTERIOUS LETTER

He and Fallows Say It Was Important, but Mazet Will Not Admit It Was About Platt.

The sudden adjournment on Wednesday of the Mazet investigating committee continued to cause considerable talk yesterday, but the members of the committee and Mr. Moss had little to say in regard to the trouble between them. It is evident that the differences, especially between Mr. Mazet and Mr. Fallows on one side and Mr. Moss on the other, are more than superficial.

The conference called for 11 o'clock yesterday at Mr. Mazet's office lasted but fifteen minutes. There were present Messrs. Mazet, Hoffman, and Costello of the committee, together with Mr. Moss, John Proctor Clarke, and Francis E. Laimbeer. Mr. Fallows sent word that he would not attend, as he did not see the necessity for his presence. It was given out afterward that nothing was done except to outline a general scheme for the report and call a meeting to consider it. Mr. Moss expects to have the draft of the report finished by Dec. 28.

When asked later as to the cause of the sudden adjournment of the investigation Mr. Moss said that he had stopped talking. He was asked if a determination on his part to put Senator Platt on the stand had caused the friction in the committee. Mr. Moss said he would neither affirm nor deny this report. He did not care, he said, what inference was drawn about this matter. Mr. Moss spoke with some show of feeling, and added:

"I've got nothing to say now. I may have something to say later, and if I do I propose to say it. I cannot help what is thought now. There is always more or less friction in a work of this kind, but I am determined to remain perfectly cool and collected. I will say, though, that the adjournment came as a surprise to me. I had, as I have stated, considerable work planned and had a great many witnesses subpoenaed for several meetings."

A statement was shown to Mr. Moss in which Mr. Fallows was quoted as having said, when Mr. Moss notified him by messenger last week of the meeting which he then intended to hold on Tuesday: "I am not going to be run by the paid assistant of the Mazet committee now or any other time. Tell Mr. Moss that the committee has adjourned for good."

"I never got any such message from Mr. Fallows," said Mr. Moss. "I had no idea then that the hearings had been decided closed and I certainly would have heard it. The statement is not true. Does it not seem queer, if I knew it then, that I would subpoena my witnesses and have a roomful in the Astor House on Wednesday?"

Mr. Fallows refused to confirm or deny the truth of the quoted statement when it was shown to him.

Regarding the so-called Platt letter, Mr. Moss subsequently said that he had sent an "important letter" to every Republican member of the committee, and if any one wanted to know what it contained he could go to Mr. Fallows or Mr. Mazet. Mr. Fallows admitted the existence of an "important letter" and referred all inquirers to Mr. Mazet. Mr. Mazet said he knew nothing about a letter containing a reference to Mr. Platt. "I am not going to talk about this matter any more," he said. "It has gone far enough. No one will get anything from me."

Assemblyman Costello expressed his opinion of Mr. Moss when the statement was made to him that the latter had neither affirmed nor denied that the trouble arose from his intention to call Senator Platt to the stand.

"Nonsense," said Mr. Costello. "Mr. Moss is making a fool of himself with a bluff like that. He ran the whole investigation in his own way, and the committee never interfered with him. If he wanted to call Mr. Platt, why did he not do it during the Summer? He certainly had a long enough time in which to do it. We never knew who was to testify until the witness took the stand. Mr. Moss called Gen. Tracy and the Senator's son. Nobody objected, although it was only intended to investigate the administration of the city. For my part, if I had been consulted, I would have objected to calling either Gen. Tracy or Mr. Platt's son, and in any event I should have protested most strongly against having Senator Platt examined. That was wholly unnecessary."

Mr. Costello said he thought considerable good had been accomplished by the investigation. It had shown some serious shortcomings in the charter and some flagrant abuses, he said, and these would be corrected.

No one connected with the committee would outline yesterday the scope of the report, but some of its general features are already understood. The report, if Mr. Moss's counsel prevails, will recommend that the Mayor's term be reduced to two years and that he be eligible for re-election. Mr. Moss holds that if the incumbent has but one four-year term he is not likely, under the great temptations of office, to conduct as careful an administration as he would with a two-year term and a possibility of being re-elected.

Another radical change that will be advocated is to make the Mayor responsible for the acts of his Commissioners. As it is now, a Commissioner is politically independent. He cannot be removed after six months, except on charges. It has been proposed to change the charter so that the Mayor shall have the right of removal at any time. A recommendation will also probably be made that the power of the Corporation Counsel in the matter of confessing judgment for the city be curtailed.

Mr. Hoffman, one of the Democratic members of the committee, was seen by a reporter last night regarding the letter sent by Mr. Moss to the Republican members. Mr. Hoffman had not received a copy, though he had been informed that the Republican members of the committee had each received a letter from Mr. Moss.

"I don't think Mr. Moss had any right to single out the Republican members of the committee for his communications, which concerned the whole committee," said Mr. Hoffman. "I am sure Mr. Boland did not get a letter, as in that case he would have notified me by wire.

"What were the reasons for the dissolution of the committee? Being one of the minority, of course I can't undertake to explain the reasons. Indirectly, it would seem that Mr. Moss wanted the committee adjourned to avoid the necessity of calling Senator Platt as a witness. It is true that there was no quorum present Wednesday, but the same thing had happened at least twenty-five times before, and the minority raised no objections.

"In fact, Wednesday morning, when the committee adjourned until afternoon on account of the lack of a quorum, I said that the Democratic minority would raise no objection on that point. The only other occasion when the question was raised was when Mr. Croker came before the committee, and the no-quorum point was raised by Mr. Moss. It seems to me that the work of the committee, from start to finish, was political."

From another source, the history of the last day's session was learned more fully. At 11:30 o'clock there was no quorum, and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock in the hope that a fourth member of the committee could be found. After luncheon, when the three members were standing in the Astor House, Mr. McEwen, the member from Albany, came upon the party, but without a word turned on his heel and walked away, evidently desiring to leave the committee without a quorum.

DR. LOCKWOOD A SUICIDE.

Member of Old Connecticut Family and Once of High Reputation as a Physician.

Dr. William A. Lockwood, who at one time was well known as a physician, committed suicide yesterday morning at his lodgings, at 21 Clinton Street, Brooklyn, by taking carbolic acid. William Gemmitt, who is employed in the house, found the doctor sitting in a chair at the foot of his bed. His eyes were open, and he appeared to be deep in thought.

"Good morning, doctor," said Gemmitt, as he entered the room.

Receiving no answer, Gemmitt shook the doctor, and discovered that he was dead. The police found four vials of carbolic acid, several cocaine tablets, one vial of digitalis, and another of strychnine on a dresser in the room. On a prescription blank, which lay near by, was written: "Dr. Lockwood's son, S. St. John Lockwood, 197 Garfield Place. Friday, December 8—rest."

Among the doctor's effects was found a letter of recommendation written by Dr. Lewis A. Sayre, under whom Dr. Lockwood had served.

Dr. Lockwood was a widower. At the home of Dr. Lockwood's son it was said that the doctor's affairs were in good shape, and that there appeared to be no reason why he should kill himself.

Special to The New York Times.

NORWALK, Conn., Dec. 8.—The death of William A. Lockwood in Brooklyn this afternoon removes a man who was at one time the leading physician of Norwalk, and who had the reputation of being one of the best physicians and surgeons in Connecticut. He was born in Norwalk, being the son of William S. Lockwood of the wealthy Lockwood family, whose ancestry dates back to the founding of Norwalk. He received a college education, and when a young man went to New York to work for the wholesale dry goods house of Mygat & Co. of Chambers Street.

Later he expressed a desire to study medicine, and was graduated with honors. He secured a position upon the staff at Bellevue Hospital, which he held for several years, resigning to go to Paris to finish his medical training.

ASK PLACE FOR MRS. PALMER.

Women Urge the President to Place Her on Paris Commission.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The Times-Herald tomorrow will say:

"President McKinley is being asked by club women all over the country to appoint Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago as one of the Commissioners to the Paris Exposition of 1900.

"There is a rumor that President McKinley hesitates to place the name of a woman on the commission on the ground of legality. The act of Congress creating the commission, it is claimed, does not contain the word 'woman.' Thereupon the women, who declare it does not contain the word 'man,' for that matter, unite in urging that their sex have representation on the commission."

MILLER STILL AVOIDS CAPTURE.

Police May Be Censured for the Syndicate Man's Escape.

There was no tangible proof forthcoming yesterday that William F. Miller, the missing Franklin Syndicate financier, was practically within the clutches of detectives, as was confidently asserted on the previous day by the officers of the Mooney and Boland Detective Agency. Manager Magenfuhr of the New York office of the agency, who on Thursday said that Miller was positively located in Montreal, yesterday said the agency was investigating the report that a man answering Millers's description had been seen in Mexico.

It was understood yesterday that the District Attorney's office of Kings County, realizing that if Miller is caught in Canada proof of swindling should be presented to the Dominion authorities, has been trying to get sufficient evidence in shape to prepare extradition papers, but thus far has not been able to get the necessary information under oath.

There was a rumor yesterday that the Committee on Rules and Discipline of the Board of Police Commissioners, which has been inquiring into the details of Miller's escape, will render a report decidedly unfavorable to several heads of the Brooklyn police. It was further rumored that Captain Reynolds, Chief of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau, would be deposed and that Police Captain George F. Titus of the Sixth Precinct would succeed him.

BOOM OF EX-SECRETARY BLISS.

Wilbur F. Wakeman on His Chances for the Vice Presidency.

Friends of well-known New York State Republicans, whose names have been brought forward in connection with the nomination for the Vice Presidency, are busy these days in talking of the claims and chances of their respective favorites. One of the most active of the men who are engaged in booming Vice Presidential possibilities is Appraiser Wilbur F. Wakeman, who favors the nomination of Cornelius N. Bliss, ex-Secretary of the Interior in President McKinley's Cabinet. Mr. Wakeman last night said:

"Mr. Bliss's friends are enthusiastic for his nomination, and, personally, I am willing to wager on Bliss against the field. While he was Secretary of the Interior he made many friends, especially among members of Congress from Western States. His businesslike administration of the affairs of the Interior Department were commended by everybody who had business with the department.

Several members of the United States Senate favor the nomination of Mr. Bliss, and are working with this end in view. Among the Senators who are for him I might name Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, Thomas H. Carter of Montana, Henry C. Hansbrough of North Dakota, John M. Thurston of Nebraska, and George W. McBride of Oregon. When the time comes I believe the demand for Mr. Bliss's nomination will be general throughout the country."

Senator Carter was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night, and when asked about the movement to nominate Mr. Bliss, he said: "This is the first I have heard of it, but I am for Mr. Bliss for anything he wants."

Board of Docks and Ferries.

President Cram, at the meeting of the Board of Docks and Ferries yesterday, recommended that $125,000 be offered to the Consolidated Gas Company for its bulkhead and pier rights on the East River between Twentieth and Twenty-second Streets. No action was taken. The company values the property at six times the appraised amount. The matter will go, it was said, to the Corporation Counsel for his action. The request of the Anchor Line for permission to extend sheds to the pier line was granted. The cost of the work will be $3,000.

New Proprietor for the Gilsey House.

The younger member of the firm of T. E. Roessle & Son, of the Arlington Hotel at Washington, D. C., will take possession of the Gilsey House in this city on May 1, 1900, when the lease of James H. Breslin & Bro. will expire. It is reported that extensive improvements will be made to the house. The papers were signed yesterday.

Booker T. Washington in Brooklyn.

The chapel of the Central Congregational Church of Brooklyn, of which the Rev. Dr. A. J. T. Behrends is pastor, was crowded last evening, when Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, delivered an address. Dr. Behrends, in introducing him, said that the speaker of the evening was doing more than any other man in the country toward the solution of the negro problem.

Argentine Crop Prospect.

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 8.—The wheat prospects in the Argentine Republic are excellent. There will probably be an exportable surplus of 2,000,000 tons. The linseed crop will reach 350,000 tons, and the total wool clip is about 225,000 tons, which guarantees an exportable surplus.

Hornellsville City Hall Burned.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The City Hall, on Broad Street, caught fire at 8 o'clock this evening and was gutted. Most of the records of the City Clerk's and Chamberlain's offices were saved. The fire caught in the shaft of the tower and blazed fiercely.

Tiffany & Co.

Clocks and Bronzes

Traveling clocks, $12 upward; with alarm, $14 upward.

Marble mantel clocks, $15, $16, $20 upward.

Hall clocks, in mahogany or oak cases, $120 upward; with chimes, $200 upward.

Bronze statuettes, with electric lights, $55, $70, $90 upward.

Bronze busts for cabinets, $4, $5, $6 upward.

Bronze statuettes for cabinets, $6, 14, $15 upward.

Tiffany & Co.

UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK

SOUTHERN'S EXTENSION OPENED.

First Through Train from Washington Runs Over New Line.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 8.—An event of unusual importance to the commercial and financial interests of this part of the country was the formal opening to-day of the Southern Railway's extension to Savannah.

At noon to-day the first through train of the Southern Railway from Washington rolled into this city. It was an official train consisting of six private cars and one dining car. The party comprised the managing officers of the Southern Railway and representatives of the press from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, and other cities.

The occasion of the trip was an inspection of the line which the Southern has constructed from Columbia to Berry, S. C., thence to Allendale, S. C., where it forms a connection with trackage arrangements into Savannah, using for this purpose the Plant system terminals here. On Dec. 10 the passenger and freight traffic of the Southern will be brought into Savannah from New York, Washington, and the East, also from Cincinnati, St. Louis, Louisville and the West in Southern railway trains. The South Carolina Railroad Commissioners have pronounced the new road the finest they have ever seen.

Negro Hanged in Maryland.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 8.—Samuel Johnson, colored, aged twenty-two years, was hanged in the jail yard here to-day. The crime for which he paid the death penalty was an assault in July last upon Annie Kerfoot, the fourteen-year-old daughter of a farmer living near Williamsport, Washington County, a few miles from Hagerstown. The negro was arrested soon after committing the crime and sentenced to be hanged under the law which makes his offense a capital crime in this State.

George W. Horton Hanged.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—George W. Horton was hanged in the District jail to-day for the murder of Jane Nicholson. Horton was an ex-member of the police force, and Mrs. Nicholson was a divorced woman. He met the woman in a park one evening and attacked her with a pocket knife. In a frenzy of rage he stabbed her again and again, almost severing her head from her body. Nearly 100 persons witnessed the murder, but were too paralyzed with horror to interfere.

American Yacht Exhibit at Paris.

Commissioner General Ferdinand W. Peck has appointed John R. Buchan of the New York Yacht Club expert in charge of the yachting and marine exhibit at the Paris Exposition of 1900. This exhibit will include all classes of vessels used in coast, river, and harbor transportation. Mr. Buchan has succeeded in making a fine collection of yacht models, including those of the cup defenders. This exhibit will be shipped to Paris on the United States ship Prairie about Jan. 15.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST—Fair; variable winds, becoming easterly.

The pressure is generally high except from Texas northward to the British possessions, which is covered by a trough of low pressure with distinct centres at its extremes and also in Western Kansas. Rains have been general over the lower half of this depression, extending into the Lower Missouri Valley and the West Gulf States.

Heavy rain has fallen in Eastern Texas, and as a result the rivers in that section, which are still quite high, will probably reach flood stages to-day and to-morrow. Warnings to this effect were issued yesterday. During Thursday night there were light snows and rains from the lower lake region eastward, followed by clearing weather.

Temperatures have generally risen east of the Rocky Mountains, except in the Ohio Valley, and are from two to sixteen degrees above the seasonal average. In the Pacific Coast and plateau regions the pressure is high, except in the southern portions, and rains were quite general, changing to snow in the higher portions of the plateau region.

The trough of low pressure before mentioned will move slowly eastward, causing showers to-day in the entire Mississippi Valley, the eastern portion of the slope region, and the Gulf States. This rain will reach the Atlantic Coast generally by to-morrow, while clearing conditions will prevail throughout the Mississippi Valley by that time. In the extreme West fair weather will prevail to-day and to-morrow, preceded by snow to-day in Western Colorado and Western Wyoming. It will be colder to-morrow in the Mississippi Valley, West Gulf States, and the slope region.

On the New England and Middle Atlantic Coasts fresh westerly winds will become easterly to-morrow, while on the south coast they will remain fresh from north to east.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES's thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau—		TIMES.
	1898.	1899.	1899.
3 A. M.	34	32	35
6 A. M.	33	30	34
9 A. M.	33	33	39
12 M.	33	41	44
3 P. M.	38	47	48
6 P. M.	37	45	45
9 P. M.	37	42	43
12 P. M.	38	40	40

THE TIMES's thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	41
Weather Bureau	39
Corresponding date 1898	37
Corresponding date for last twenty-five years	37

The maximum temperature yesterday was 48 degrees at 3 P. M., and the minimum 30 degrees at 6 A. M. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 77 per cent., and at 8 P. M. 52 per cent. The barometer read at 8 A. M. 30.13, and at 8 P. M. 30.19.

Telephone Service

IN MANHATTAN
from $75 a Year
36,000 STATIONS
NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY.

18 Cortlandt St. 15 Dey St. 952 Broadway. 115 W. 38th St.

THE GOVERNOR'S BUSY DAY

He Discusses Questions of State at Breakfast and Dinner.

WILL MEET MR. PLATT TO-DAY

General Programme of Legislation to be Talked Over by the Republican Leaders.

Gov. Roosevelt passed a very busy day in New York yesterday. In the morning he breakfasted at the home of Douglas Robinson in company with Gen. Francis V. Greene, Chairman of the Canal Advisory Commission; Austen G. Fox, Frank S. Witherbee, and Grant La Farge. The talk hinged on the pending report of the Canal Advisory Commission. Gen. Greene is understood to have told the Governor that the commission would not be ready to make its report until the middle of January. The Governor will then send a special message to the Legislature embodying his views.

While it is understood that the commission favors further improving the canals, it is not expected that any large appropriation for this purpose will be asked for at the coming session. It is estimated that between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000 will be needed to complete the improvements which were begun in 1895 with an appropriation of $9,000,000. The Governor declined to say what the nature of Gen. Greene's report would be, and will not make any part of it public until it is officially received by him. One of the things that the Governor is said to have in mind is to remedy certain defects in the canal contract system.

Mr. La Farge talked with the Governor about forestry matters. One of the things being considered is the advisability of having the present Forest Commission abolished and having a single Commissioner in its stead.

The Governor took luncheon at the Hardware Club in company with Paul Goepel and Hubert Cillis. Later in the afternoon he returned to Mr. Robinson's house, where he saw several persons with whom he had appointments.

Last evening the Governor was the guest at dinner of Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, Chairman of the Council of the City Club, and talked over with Prof. Butler and other members legislation in which the City Club is interested. The City Club wants the Election law amended, and will put forward a bill to prohibit the assessment of candidates for judiciary positions in political campaigns. It is understood that the charges preferred against District Attorney Gardiner by members of the City Club were talked over. The Governor will not make anything public in regard to this matter until after he receives the report of Special Commissioner Wilcox. When asked about the adjournment of the Mazet committee and the abandonment of the State Constabulary bill, the Governor refused to talk, beyond saying that he was in accord with Senator Platt and other Republican leaders.

This morning at the Fifth Avenue Hotel the Governor will meet Senator Platt and Chairman Odell. This is expected to be the most important political conference of the year. The general legislative programme will be talked over, and some decisions are expected to be reached. The amendments to the city charter and the question of taxation legislation will occupy part of the discussion. Senator Frank W. Higgins of Olean, member of the joint committee appointed to investigate the tax question and suggest revision of the tax laws, was a caller at State headquarters yesterday. The committee will meet in this city next Monday. In speaking of the matter Senator Higgins said:

"We are well along in our work, but we have not yet begun to prepare any general tax bill. We will probably submit a preliminary report early in January, and then go to work on a bill. We have collected a good deal of information, and I think we will be able to frame a just bill. It is our object to make the tax laws more just and equal."

Assemblyman Otto Kelsey of Livingston saw Chairman Odell last night. Mr. Kelsey will head the Cities Committee in the next Assembly. He said he had not been officially informed of his selection, and that while he might be classed as a "hayseed," he had no prejudice against cities. "Why," said he, "in my district there are several towns with a population of 2,000 each, and I was born in Rochester."

DEATH OF EDWARD C. STONE.

Mr. Slater Says It Does Not Affect the Assembly Contest in the Thirty-first District.

Edward C. Stone, whom the Board of County Canvassers found to have been elected member of Assembly for the Thirty-first District, died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 265 West One Hundred and Twenty-first Street. He had been a sufferer from consumption and heart trouble for many months, and the worry and excitement of the campaign exhausted his strength. About two weeks ago his physicians ordered him to bed, and he gradually grew weaker until he died.

He was born Feb. 12, 1867, in this city, and was a graduate of Columbia University. He had practiced law for several years, as a member of the firm of Wahle & Stone. Early this Fall Leon W. Goldrich was nominated for the Assembly by the Democrats in the Thirty-first District, but he was disqualified, and Mr. Stone was nominated to fill the vacancy, much against the wishes of his father, Elias Stone, who said last evening that the campaign had killed his son. The official canvass gave Mr. Stone a majority of 69, but the result was contested by his Republican opponent, Samuel Scott Slater.

Isaac A. Hopper, the Democratic leader of the Thirty-first Assembly District, when seen at the Harlem Democratic Club last evening, said: "There is not the slightest doubt but what the Board of County Canvassers will formally declare Stone's election on Dec. 20. If the matter is contested and carried to the courts they will undoubtedly support the Board of County Canvassers, but if the matter goes to the Legislature I am very much afraid that partisanship would be so strong that Slater would be seated. There is no doubt, however, that Stone had a majority of sixty-nine votes in the district. If the Legislature installs Slater that ends the matter. If the figures of the County Board of Canvassers are accepted the Governor will order a special election."

Mr. Slater, when interviewed at the Central Republican Club, said: "The death of Mr. Stone, which is a very sad affair, does not alter my position in the least. I have claimed the election, and continue to do so. The County Board of Canvassers substituted police returns for the County Clerk's returns, which it had no authority to do. The County Clerk's figures elected me, while the police figures elected Mr. Stone. However, I should much prefer a special election, for I fully believe that I could carry the district."

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

New York Committee to Begin Work in Washington on Monday.

Gen. E. A. McAlpin, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee appointed to obtain the Republican and Democratic National Conventions for New York next year, had a talk with Senator Platt last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The Senator told him that he had talked the matter over with Senator Hanna and other members of the Republican National Committee while in Washington, and that Senator Hanna had given him some encouragement for New York.

Gen. McAlpin announced after seeing Mr. Platt that the New York Committee would open headquarters at the Arlington, in Washington, on Monday. The opinion of most of the people at Republican headquarters is that their convention will be held in Chicago.

Canned Beef Shipped to South Africa.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Libby, McNeil & Libby have shipped 750,000 pounds of canned beef to the British Army in South Africa. Twenty-four cars were required to carry it. This is the largest shipment of canned beef ever made from this city.

Brick Manufacturer Bankrupt.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 8.—William H. Dennis of Newington, brick manufacturer, to-day filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court. His liabilities are $30,579, with assets of $30,000.

OUR Scotch Whiskeys,

Bonnie Briar Bush
(VERY OLD)
AND SOUVENIR
(MEDIUM AGE)

are NOT vatted or blended, but are from the best distillery in the imported in cases or casks. For sale from store or in bond. They are the best we have ever seen.

GLENLIVET DISTRICT,

H.B. KIRK & CO., NEW YORK

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING CITY

Investigation by Cleveland Council Leads to Several Arrests.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—Samuel G. Brooker, who was a clerk in the City Auditor's department during the last city administration, under Mayor McKisson, was arrested to-day on indictments charging him with obtaining money from the city upon false bills.

This is the fifth arrest caused by the City Council investigation now under way. Three secret indictments were returned by the Grand Jury to-day.

AT THE HOTELS.

GRAND—Rear Admiral James Entwistle, United States Navy.

IMPERIAL—Prof. Leonard Waldo, Bridgeport; Gen. A. G. Greenwood, United States Army, retired, Washington.

FIFTH AVENUE—Ex-United States Senator Frank Hiscock, Syracuse; State Senator E. T. Brackett, Saratoga; United States Senator Thomas H. Carter, Montana; Dr. Diedy, Havana.

CAMBRIDGE—Congressman R. R. Hitt of Illinois.

ASTOR—Rear Admiral A. S. Crowninshield, Washington.

ALBEMARLE—Cyrus H. McCormick, Chicago.

PLAZA—Charles E. Patterson, Troy.

HOFFMAN—United States Senator John P. Jones of Nevada; B. S. Cramp, Philadelphia; Chief Justice Holmes of Massachusetts.

BUCKINGHAM—Joseph H. Weber, Indianapolis.

MURRAY HILL—William Easton, Albany.

HOLLAND—Ex-United States Senator David B. Hill, Albany; W. H. Damsel, Chicago; ex-State Senator Henry Russell, Albany.

WALDORF—A. E. Curren, Halifax; Henry C. Brewster, Rochester.

STURTEVANT—Dr. Pitcairn, United States Consul to Hamburg.

MANHATTAN—Oakes Ames, Boston.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Wanamaker, John, Philadelphia, Penn.; A. B. Lovejoy, carpets; Broadway and Tenth Street; Albermarle Hotel.

Lewis, O. J., Mercantile Company, St. Louis, Mo.; G. H. Lewis, notions and clothing; Hotel Imperial.

Stearns, R. H., & Co., Boston, Mass.; E. E. Wakefield, dress goods; St. Denis Hotel.

MacInnes, J. C., Company, Worcester, Mass.; C. A. Homer, furnishing goods; 57 White Street; St. Denis Hotel.

Field, Marshall, & Co., Chicago, Ill.; W. B. Chapman, ribbons; 104 Worth Street; Stuart House.

Arbuthnot, Stephenson & Co., Pittsburg, Penn.; C. N. Hanna, notions; 95 Franklin Street; Hotel Imperial.

Hunter, A. S. & J., Utica, N. Y.; W. H. Milne, carpet; 57 White Street; Hotel Albert.

Rosenbaum, M., & Co., Richmond, Va.; M. B. Rosenbaum, notions and white goods; 34 Thomas Street; Hotel Imperial.

Lowenstein, B., & Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.; B. Landstreet, dress goods; 51 Leonard Street; Park Avenue Hotel.

Garson, Meyer & Co., Rochester, N. Y.; T. Meyer, woolens and tailors' trimmings; Hoffman House.

Chapman, T. A., Company, Milwaukee, Wis.; R. A. Williams, silks; Hoffman House.

Hirsch, A., & Co., Owensboro, Ky.; A. Hirsch, notions and furnishing goods; Hotel Marlborough.

Halle, Schwartz & Skall, Cleveland, Ohio; S. H. Halle, furnishing goods; Hotel Normandie.

Epstein, J., Baltimore, Md.; W. A. Applewaite, underwear; Hoffman House.

Hollander, L. P., & Co., Boston, Mass.; T. C. Hollander, silks and dress goods; 290 Fifth Avenue; Holland House.

Goldstein, L., & Sons, New Orleans, La.; J. Goldstein, notions, linens, and white goods; 377 Broadway.

Johnson, Boyd & Co., Baltimore, Md.; L. Lewis, furnishing goods; Westminster Hotel.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Thursday night until 12 o'clock Friday night.)

12:50 A. M.—125 Chrystie Street, J. F. Bailey & Co.; damage, $50.

8:25 A. M.—1,853 Second Avenue, John Kress; damage slight.

9 A. M.—1,401 Park Avenue, M. Brown; damage, $100.

9:50 A. M.—353 and 355 West Forty-eighth Street, Charles Blackberry; damage, $4,000.

12:20 P. M.—146 Attorney Street, Maurice Cooper; damage, $50.

12:30 P. M.—311 East One Hundred and Sixth Street, A. Hirschman; damage slight.

3:45 P. M.—21 Carmine Street, J. Winters; damage, $100.

5:15 P. M.—193 St. Nicholas Avenue; no damage.

5:25 P. M.—10 Prince Street, D. M. Flynn; damage, $50.

6:30 P. M.—209 East Ninety-eighth Street, Davis Kedelstein; damage, $150.

8:40 P. M.—223 West Forty-third Street, R. August Witthaus; damage, $1,500.

AN EARLY SELECTION OF

HOLIDAY GIFTS IN SILVER

is especially desirable, as, having completed our Fall stock, we are in a position to offer at this time an unusually large variety of goods at such a range of prices that a satisfactory selection may easily be made.

Articles Selected Now May Be Held for Future Delivery.

MERIDEN COMPANY
International Silver Company

FIGHT ON CURRENCY BILL

House Democrats Assail Methods Adopted by Republicans.

DEBATE GETS WARM AT TIMES

Richardson Taunts the Majority with Having Effected a Change of Base on the Financial Question.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The House to-day adopted a special order for the consideration of the Currency bill, beginning next Monday. By the terms of the order the general debate will continue until Friday. On Saturday amendments may be offered under the five-minute rule, and on the following Monday the vote will be taken. The Democrats, Populists, and Silverites presented a solid front against the adoption of the resolutions and every Republican voted for it.

The order was presented to the House by Mr. Dalzell (Rep., Penn.,) of the Committee on Rules. Mr. Dalzell said there was no disposition upon the part of the majority to unduly press the bill. It presented single propositions which had already been debated in the House. The Committee on Rules was of opinion that the rule offered ample time for debate.

Mr. Richardson, (Dem., Tenn.,) upon behalf of the minority, said he dissented most emphatically from the proposition advanced by Mr. Dalzell that the bill to be considered contained nothing radically new. For the first time in the history of the country it was proposed by statutory provisions to fasten the gold standard upon the country. If such a suggestion had been made two or three years ago, he said, half the other side would have been up in arms against it. He considered the rule unusual and unjust to the minority. But one day was to be given the minority to study the bill, while members of the majority had six months in which to prepare themselves. Mr. Richardson taunted the majority for their sudden change of base.

Mr. Bailey (Dem., Texas,) declared that the proposed course of the majority was without precedent or defense. He made an elaborate argument to prove that it was a proposition to hastily determine a question to which the best and most careful consideration should be given.

The minority, he added, was entitled to present its objections, after mature deliberation, in order that at the proper time the appeal could be taken from the American Congress to the higher tribunal, the American people. Furthermore, the special order denied the right of the minority to recommit, a privilege hitherto never denied the minority.

Mr. Grosvenor, (Rep., Ohio,) in support of the rule to limit discussion, argued that it could not be justly said that it would unduly curtail debate and consideration. As to the charge that members of the majority would find it difficult to explain their change of front, he said it was one of the proudest boasts of the Republican Party that it was wiser now than it was a good many years ago. He said he would be sorry for any public man who had gone into public life a young man and had remained in it until he was an old man without knowing more than when he began.

"The Democratic Party," said he, "was the only well-recognized demonstration of a great organization which had survived a long period without learning anything." [Applause and laughter.]

If gentlemen on his side were obliged to apologize, said Mr. Grosvenor, he predicted that gentlemen on the other side would find it dicult to hold themselves together.

"The past of the Republican Party," said he, "is behind it; of its present it is proud, and its future is assured. Can the gentleman from Tennessee say as much?"

"Was the future of this bill assured until after the caucus had been held?" asked Mr. Richardson, amid Democratic applause.

"There never was a caucus in this House," replied Mr. Grosvenor, "which came together with such unanimity of purpose as that which indorsed this bill." [Republican applause.]

Mr. Cannon, (Rep., Ill.) in response to the thrust of Mr. Richardson, frankly said that he had voted for free coinage of silver in 1878, but he had done so because of the impending resumption of specie payments when the Democratic Party was howling for fiat money But specie payments had been resumed without disaster, despite the Democratic howls. Since then the country had been on the gold standard.

Mr. Dalzell (Rep., Penn.,) closed the debate by recalling some of the rules under which the Democrats had forced through important bills in the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses.

He referred particularly to the adoption of the conference report in the Fifty-second Congress upon the Tariff bill, which "the greatest Democrat since Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland [derisive laughter on the Democratic side,] had pronounced a piece of party perfidy and dishonor." He described this procedure as a rape of all precedents" and cited other cases where he said "gag rule" had been employed.

Mr. Richardson attempted to reply to these statements, but Mr. Dalzell refused to yield, and at the conclusion of Mr. Dalzell's remarks the previous question was ordered, and the roll was called on the adoption of the special order.

The special order was adopted, 163 to 144—a strict party vote.

Mr. Robertson (Dem., La.,) then announced the death of the late Representative S. G. Baird of Louisiana, and, after the adoption of the customary resolutions, at 1:30 P. M., as a further mark of respect, the House adjourned until Monday.

TREASURY ESTIMATES ANALYZED.

An Increase of $114,298,578 Over Appropriations Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—An analytical comparison of the estimates for this year, the appropriations of last year, and the various increases was issued to-day by Messrs. Cleaves and Courts, the clerks of the Senate and House Appropriation Committees, respectively. It shows total estimates this year of $738,855,248, against $694,006,489 last year.

The estimates this year are $114,298,578 more than the amount actually appropriated last year. The chief increases are: Army, $47,281,929; fortifications, $6,819,036; navy, $26,145,539; Post Office, $5,143,661; sundry civil, $21,686,777.

The total estimates for this year exceed the total estimated revenue for 1901 by $71,081,994, but, counting the sinking fund, this excess is reduced to $18,081,994.

ASKS THAT SCHLEY BE THANKED.

Congressman Berry Will Press Resolution in the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Berry of Kentucky said to-day that he would use every effort to secure early consideration for his joint resolution giving the thanks of Congress to Rear Admiral Schley. The resolution is the same as that introduced by Mr. Berry last year, and tenders the thanks of Congress and the American people to Rear Admiral Schley and to the officers and men of his command for their heroic and distinguished conduct in destroying the Spanish fleet in Cuban waters on July 3, 1898.

Mr. Berry says that he appreciates that there will be some delay and possibly some difference of opinion, in view of the recommendations of the Navy Department on this subject, but he hopes to have the Naval Committee set a time in the near future for taking it up.

NEW POSSESSIONS IN CONGRESS.

Committee to Have Jurisdiction Provided For by the Rules.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—In the House to-day Mr. Daizell (Rep., Penn) from the Committee on Rules, presented the amendments to the rules agreed upon by the committee for the creation of a committee on insular affairs, to "consist of seventeen members, to have jurisdiction "over all matters (except in those affecting the revenues and the appropriations) pertaining to the islands which came to the United States through the treaty of 1899 with Spain, and to Cuba," and to increase the membership of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Public Lands, Military Affairs, Naval Affairs and District of Columbia from fifteen to seventeen members and the Committee on Territories from 13 to 15.

Mr. Bailey (Dem., Tex.) said the minority of the Rules Committee held no difference of opinion as to the propriety of the creation of the proposed Insular Committee, but it did dissent from the idea that the committee should be created for the purpose of "permanently dealing" with the Islands which came into possession of the United States through the Spanish treaty.

Mr. Dalzell replied there was nothing in the resolution or what he had said which intimated that the proposed committee was to deal with our new possessions permanently.

The resolution was adopted without division.

NEW BILLS IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Hitt (Rep., Ill.) to-day introduced a bill to provide a Territorial form of government for Hawaii. It is similar to the measure reported to the House last year, providing a Territorial Governor appointed by the President and a Legislature of two houses.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., N. Y.) introduced a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to contract with an American cable company to send official messages to Hawaii, the Philippines, Japan, and China, for twenty years and not to exceed $400,000 a year.

Mr. Joy (Rep., Mo.,) by request, introduced bills granting right of cable connection with Cuba and Puerto Rico to the United States and West Indian Direct Telegraph Company, and to authorize the West Indian Development Company to acquire franchises in Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Mr. Corliss (Rep., Mich.) introduced a bill for the construction of a regulating dam at the foot of Lake Erie, for controlling the level of the lake, Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, and St. Clair River.

Other bills are by Mr. Little (Dem., Ark.) to prevent monopolies and trusts, and for the free coinage of gold and silver; by Kerr (Rep., Ohio) admitting veterans of the war with Spain to the homes for disabled soldiers; by Flynn (Okla.) for additional homestead lands for those who participated in the war with Spain or with the Philippines; by Corliss (Rep., Mich.) for a bridge over the Detroit River at Detroit; by Hill (Rep., Conn.) authorizing the establishment of national banks in Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines; by McRae (Dem., Ark.) extending the contract labor laws to Hawaii; by Rodenberg (Rep., Ill.) to create a commission to pass on claims of United States citizens growing out of the war with Spain.

NEW YORK MEN INDICTED?

It Is Said John and E. F. Gaynor Are Under Charges Arising Out of the Carter Court-Martial.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 8.—The Morning News will say to-morrow morning: "The Grand Jury of the United States court for the Southern Division of Georgia, in session here, has found indictments against John Gaynor, B. D Greene, and E. F. Gaynor of New York, co-partners in the Atlantic Contracting Company, and others, for conspiracy to defraud the Government. This is an outcome of the conviction of O. M. Carter, late Captain of Engineers of the army.

"Greene and Gaynor are alleged to have been in conspiracy with Carter to defraud the Government in the improvement works in Savannah River and harbor and Cumberland Sound, and to have wrongfully collected from the Government sums of money variously estimated at an amount from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. The indictments have not yet been made public, as it is the custom of the Federal courts to have its defendants in custody or under bond before publishing the indictments."

FLEMINGTON'S COPPER MINES.

New York Syndicate, It Is Thought, Will Reopen Them.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Dec. 8.—It is reported that the Flemington copper mines, abandoned in 1868, are to be reopened. A New York syndicate is at present negotiating for the purchase of 500 acres of land, embracing the farms of James J. Losey, C. B. Davis, and William J. Suydam, beneath which the deposits lie.

It is believed with the prevailing high price of copper, with every chance of its increase in value, and the improved methods of mining and extracting, these mines will once more pay. They did not pay after the opening of the Michigan copper deposits and the resulting cheapening of the material.

AUTOMOBILE WAR IN CHICAGO.

New Company to Put Out Many Vehicles at Once.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—An "automobile war" is in prospect in Chicago next week. The Illinois Electric Vehicle Transportation Company, which has heretofore enjoyed a monopoly of the cab service of the city, will have a rival. The Woods Motor Vehicle Company, of which C. E. Woods is President, is preparing to enter the field, and as a beginning, representatives of this corporation say twenty-five cabs and broughams will soon be running about the streets in active competition with the Illinois Company, of which Samuel Insull, also President of the Edison Electric Company, is the head.

"Twenty-five vehicles will start running next Wednesday," said Mr. Woods to-day. "Within thirty days the number will be increased to fifty, and so on, as fast as we can put them out of our factory, until we shall have not less than 200 automobiles in use and ready for hire."

GOVERNMENTS REFUSE TO SETTLE

Insurance Company Receivers Cannot Recover Deposits in Full.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 8.—The receivers of the Massachusetts Benefit Life Association announce that they have received from the Mexican Government $3,500 out of the $20,000 in Mexican currency deposited to protect the association's policy holders. The $20,000 represented about $9,400 in American coin.

In Peru the receivers have not been able to recover anything. In Venezuela, Argentina, Cuba, and Puerto Rico the receivers have had more or less success. They expect to finish their work by March. The final dividend is expected early in the year, and the total will aggregate about 40 per cent., although the size of the last amount depends on the court settlement of several claims and the disposition of some real estate.

The Duke of Manchester Ill.

The Duke of Manchester is confined to his rooms in the Waldorf-Astoria with a severe attack of nervous prostration, and will be unable to sail for England this morning as he had planned. The cablegram received a few days ago summoning the Duke home to his sister's deathbed completely prostrated him. He also has a severe cold. He will sail next Wednesday if he is able.

Pope's Gift for Her Golden Jubilee.

The feast of the Immaculate Conception, which was celebrated in all Roman Catholic churches yesterday, was also the anniversary and the golden jubilee of the admission to the order of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Flushing of Mother Austin. The feast and anniversary observed with a solemn mass at St. Joseph's Convent and School. Dean Connelly announced that Pope Leo XIII. had sent the Papal benediction to Mother Austin. The Pope also sent Mother Austin an oil painting representing him in the act of imparting his blessing.

ADAMS ON BRYAN.

At the recent monthly meeting of the Reform Club in Boston, Mr. Charles Francis Adams thus referred to Mr. Bryan: "I will say frankly I cannot support Mr. Bryan. I mention the name of Mr. Bryan. I am going to speak of him with all possible moderation here, exaggerating nothing, and setting down naught in malice. Mr. Bryan, until three years ago, was unknown, except as I knew him as a Platte River orator in Nebraska. Since then, heaven knows, I have heard enough to consider the workings of his mind. He has inundated us with his words. I don't understand how a man can talk so much. In all of what he has said I have looked for one incisive thought. I have looked in vain for one terse expression which a man coins in speaking."

Later he said: "The course this club should pursue is to keep in close touch with that large element of the Republican Party which means to do right, and keep the Democratic Party severely in opposition until it learns its own mind. When the gold Democrats left the Democratic Party, all the virtue in the party left with them. It is now Mr. Bryan and his gang. Under the circumstances our position is a very difficult one. We are in the position of those who are wandering in the wilderness, and have no way to turn. I don't see anything left for us in the existing condition of political parties in this country except, so to speak, to take to the political woods."

Diamond Crescents.

We invite an inspection of our unexcelled showing of diamond crescent brooches, directing especial attention to a new line of small crescents, set with large diamonds. These are unusually attractive.

Crescent Brooches $50.00 to $750.00

Theodore A. Kohn & Son

JEWELERS

56 West 23d Street.

FOIL LYNCHERS IN NEBRASKA.

Sheriff Spirits Wife Murderer Out of Kearney to Avoid Violence by a Mob.

OMAHA, Dec. 8.—The wife of Fred Laue has made a confession which clears up the Odessa (Neb.) murder mystery. It is to the effect that Dinsmore first poisoned his wife in the rooms of the couple up stairs. He then went into an adjoining room, where Laue was sleeping, and shot him, killing him instantly.

After shooting Laue Dinsmore brought the body of his dead wife down into the kitchen and left it where it was found afterward. The motive for the crime was infatuation for Mrs. Laue. She states that Dinsmore had repeatedly urged her to elope with him, but she had refused. She affirms that Dinsmore was gifted with hypnotic power and that under its influence she did as he directed. The brothers of Mrs. Dinsmore also say that he exercised the same influence over the wife.

KEARNEY, Neb., Dec. 8.—The confession of Mrs. Laue caused great excitement, and threats of lynching Dinsmore were freely made to-night. Extra guards were on duty at the county jail, armed with repeating Winchesters, and Sheriff Funk was determined to protect the prisoner regardless of consequences.

The situation looked so ominous for the safety of Dinsmore that Sheriff Funk decided to take no chances, and accordingly took his prisoner to North Platte for safekeeping. Dinsmore was terribly frightened and wanted the guards to keep close to the cab that took him to the railway station.

DIED AFTER AN ANGRY TALK.

Fate of John J. Jackson of Newark Attracts Police Attention.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 8.—John J. Jackson, a wealthy manufacturing jeweler, whose place of business was at 91 Mechanic Street, and who lived at 521 Summer Avenue, died suddenly this afternoon at his factory. Death was apparently due to heart disease, but the events preceding it caused the police to question several persons.

Mr. Jackson occupied the basement and second floor of the building. The first floor was occupied by Christian Sleissner as a leather working establishment. The smelting of the jewelry establishment was done in the basement. The fumes from the process annoyed the leather workers, and Mr. Sleissner and Mr. Jackson had had frequent disagreements over the matter.

Because of the fumes this afternoon the leather workers quit work. There was an angry interchange of words between Mr. Sleissner and Mr. Jackson. The latter's son claims his father fell to the floor, but this is denied by Christian and John Sleissner and their workmen. They say he tripped, but was caught before he could fall. Mr. Jackson also says his father was taken by the throat by one of the Sleissner's, but that is denied by them. Although the elder Jackson's collar was torn, there are no marks on the throat.

After the scuffle Mr. Jackson went to his office, and two or three hours later died. The Sleissners and several of their employes were sent to Police Headquarters, where they told their story. County Physician Washington thought that the men need not be held. He will perform an autopsy to-morrow. Mr. Jackson was fifty-five years old, and weighed more than 300 pounds.

SAINT'S IMAGE THIEF'S MASCOT.

Mrs. Barrows Scoffs at Warning and Her Boarders Suffer.

Mrs. Marie Barrows of 53 West Thirty-fifth Street rented a room on Monday to a well-dressed Englishman with a decided accent. His trunks were held by the customs officers, he said. Mrs. Barrows asked no questions.

A servant in cleaning the man's room Welnesday morning discovered on the dresser a small image of St. Bartholomew. She ventured the opinion to her mistress that the new lodger was a thief. She said thieves carry such an image as was found as a mascot. But Mrs. Barrows believed in the stranger.

The other boarders gathered in the parlor last evening and informed Mrs. Barrows that their rooms had been visited and articles ranging from rings to overcoats taken. They wanted an explanation. Mrs. Barrows remembered the servant's warning and hastened up to the Englishman's room. He was gone.

The West Thirtieth Street Station police are looking for him. He left his image behind him.

HABEAS CORPUS FOR REESE.

Court Grants Writ in Case of United Mine Worker in Jail.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—Judge Thayer, in the United States court, to-day granted a writ of habeas corpus in the case of John Reese, one of the members of the Executive Council of the United Mine Workers' Association of Iowa, who is now in jail in Fort Scott, Bourbon County, Kansas, for contempt of court.

The writ was made returnable Dec. 27, when arguments as to the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court of Bourbon County will be heard. Bail was fixed at $3,000.

TIFFANY FAVRILE GLASS

Gifts entirely individual in character are made in the following forms:—

Lamps	Parting Cups
Globes	Decanters
Shades	Stamnos
Loving Cups	Cantharus

Many pieces, many prices

TIFFANY STUDIOS

333 to 341 Fourth Avenue

"Vive L'Empereur"

WATERLOO,
JUNE 18th, 1815.

By Francois Flameng.

The Remarque Proofs of this great painting, etched by Auguste Boulard, will be received about December the 12th.

A very fine trial proof is now on exhibition at our gallery.

WILLIAM SCHAUS,

204 Fifth Ave. (Madison Square).

METHUEN FACES BIG ODDS

His March to Kimberley Is Opposed by 16,000 Boers.

BRITISH ESTIMATED AT 11,000

Railroad and Telegraph Wires in the Latter's Rear Are Cut, but Reopened After Sharp Fighting.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Gen. Forestier-Walker has sent the following dispatch, dated at 9 o'clock last (Friday) evening, to the War Office from Cape Town. It explains the report received earlier in the day that the Boers had blown up a railroad culvert at Gras Pan and had cut the telegraph wires in the rear of Gen. Methuen:

"Telegraph and railway communication to Modder River has been reopened. A battery of field artillery and a battalion of infantry were dispatched from Modder River against Commandant Prins Loo's force of 1,000 Boers, with one gun, who had destroyed the railway. Our losses were fourteen in wounded.

"Belmont has been strengthened by infantry and two guns, and a cavalry regiment and troops from Naauw Poort occupied Arundel yesterday (Thursday.)"

"The enemy's forces near Gen. Gatacre are reported as follows: At Dordrecht, 800; marching from Jamestown to Dordrecht, 700, with 6 guns; at Stormberg, 1,500; at Waterfall, a large force, strength unknown, and at Molteno, about 400.

"Lord Methuen reports casualties, Dec. 6, on patrol duty—missing, Lieut. Tristram and 4 men of the Twelfth Lancers; wounded, 4 men."

It is gathered from the brief official dispatch that Commandant Prins Loo's contingent was taken between forces acting from Belmont and southward from Modder River. It is quite possible, however, that reinforcements were sent to Belmont merely as a precautionary measure

The dispatch received by the War Office relative to the Boer operations in Gen. Methuen's rear reads:

"The following has been received from Orange River Station:

"'A railroad culvert was blown up near Gras Pan this morning. The telegraph was also cut. The guides report heavy firing of guns to the north.'"

Some interesting light on the condition of affairs along the Western frontier is thrown by a dispatch issued by a Boer agency last evening in Berlin. The dispatch says:

"Commandant Prins Loo's force is near Jacobsdal, between Modder River and Riet River. Gen. Cronje is still on the northern bank of Modder River, his rear being protected by fortified positions at Spytfontein. The hills between Modder River and Spytfontein and those between Jacobsdal and Riet River are occupied by Boers. Commandant Delarey's force is stationed between Gras Pan and Honey Nest Kloof."

If this Berlin dispatch be correct—and it is especially significant when judged in connection with Gen. Forestier-Walker's advices to the War Office—there must be some 15,000 Boers around Lord Methuen, who is believed to have 11,000 men. Kimberley, however, possessing an armored train, can materially assist Methuen by harassing the Boers from the rear.

The following are the latest direct advices from correspondents with Gen. Methuen's force at Modder River and are sent under date of Dec. 5:

"Boers are seen daily passing between Spytfontein and Jacobsdal laagers. They frequently fire on patrols. Mounted infantry received a severe fire, while patrolling six miles towards the north, from a hill. There was no casualty. An hour's cannon firing has been heard at Kimberley."

The Times has the following from Modder River, dated Tuesday, Dec. 5:

"The river is low, and the railway bridge is rapidly approaching completion. The first train will cross to-night. After extraordinary exertions the pontoon bridge has been completed."

Reports were again current at Orange River Tuesday, Dec. 5, that Mafeking had been relieved. It is known through dispatches from Magalapye that preparations were completed there to advance in force Nov. 15 from Rhodesia, for the purpose of repairing the railroad line and restoring communication with Col. Baden-Powell. The Boers, however, were strongly intrenched near Gaberones, midway between Magalapye and Mafeking.

Reinforcements are rapidly arriving at Sterkstroom to strengthen Gen. Gatacre, including the much-needed artillery. The authorities expect speedy news that Gen. Gatacre has taken the offensive, thus diverting a portion of the Orange Free State forces now obstructing the advance of Gen. Methuen.

A detachment of Cape police had a skirmish with the Boers Thursday, Dec. 7, near Indwe, while Gen. French reports important reconnoitrings Wednesday, Dec. 5, from Naauwpoort, showing preparations to attempt the recapture of some of the British towns occupied by the Burghers.

A War Office dispatch from Gen. Buller confirms the statement that heliographic communication has been fully established with Ladysmith, and that Gen. Buller and Gen. White have been conferring as to their future movements.

BRITISH ADVANCE ON COLENSO.

Boer Advices from Pretoria Seem to Indicate that a Great Battle Is Imminent.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—A correspondent at Pretoria telegraphs under date of Dec. 7:

"The following dispatch, dated to-day, has been received from the head laager near Ladysmith:

"'The British are advancing on Colenso, but last night passed without an attack. There was a desultory cannonade this morning, the naval guns in Ladysmith replying vigorously to our fire.'"

A dispatch dated Ladysmith Dec. 7 says:

"The total British casualties since Nov. 1 are 5 officers and 26 men killed, and 15 officers and 130 men wounded, with 8 missing.

"The Boer force is still around us in large numbers, but all within the town are well and cheerful."

LADY WILSON IS A PRISONER.

Aunt of Winston Churchill in the Boers' Clutches.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—According to a special dispatch from Pretoria, Gen. Joubert recently proposed an exchange of prisoners, especially Lady Sarah Wilson for a Boer lady, taken prisoner at Mafeking. Lady Wilson is an aunt of Winston Churchill, and the wife of Capt. G. C. Wilson of the Royal Horse Guards. This was the first definite news that she was a prisoner. Lady Wilson had been acting in the double capacity of newspaper correspondent and Red Cross nurse, and there has been much anxiety about her. When last heard from, Lady Wilson had left Mafeking on horseback with her maid as her sole companion. She was reported to have reached Setlagoli.

Lady Sarah Isabella Augusta Wilson is the fifth daughter of the seventh Duke of Marlborough, who died in 1883. She was married in 1891 to Capt. Gordon Chesney Wilson of the Royal Horse Guards, who is the eldest son of Sir Samuel Wilson, M. P. Lady Sarah has inherited the love for adventure of the Churchills. She was the favorite sister of Lord Randolph Churchill, and is a great favorite of Lieut. Winston Churchill, her nephew.

Neither want of money, for her husband's father is one of the richest men in England, nor any other reason except love of adventure and the desire to be with her husband induced Lady Sarah, when the war with the Boers seemed certain, to leave her home for South Africa. Capt. Wilson is with the besieged force at Mafeking, and Lady Sarah, in order to have the right to go wherever she desired, secured the post of correspondent for The Morning Post. She reached Mafeking, but insisted on taking risks which ultimately caused her to be taken prisoner by the Boers.

BOER STORY OF MODDER RIVER.

Battle Described as One of the Fiercest Ever Experienced.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—According to a special dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, the Modder River battle is described by a Boer correspondent with Gen. Cronje as "one of the fiercest the Boers ever experienced." The correspondent goes on to say:

"Gen. Cronje's wing sustained almost solely the fearful attack of the British right throughout the day. The Transvaalers tenaciously held their positions until 7 in the evening, when the Free State burghers were forced to retire by the heavy British shell fire. Gen. Cronje then retired under cover of darkness, after facing the concentrated fire of all the British batteries.

"The Boers freely acknowledge the herculean assaults of the British and the death-dealing fire of the attacking infantry, but they held their position for thirteen hours against the flower of the British Army, replying solely with their Mausers and maintaining an uninterrupted rifle fire. The Boer artillery was silenced early in the battle through the overwhelming number of the British artillery."

MACRUM HEARD FROM AT LAST.

Consul at Pretoria Announces that He Is Coming Home.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Mr. Macrum has broken his long silence, and in a cabl message received at the State Department to-day, dated Pretoria, he announces that he will sail on the 18th inst., via Naples, for the United States. This is an indication that he has received the department's telegram granting his application for leave of absence.

Mr. Adelbert Hay, who is going to Pretoria to replace Mr. Macrum, will leave Washington to-morrow to begin his journey.

STEAMER FROM NEW YORK SEIZED.

Mashona, Flour Laden, Captured by a British Cruiser.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A special dispatch from Cape Town announces that the British gunboat Partridge has captured the British steamer Mashona, Capt. Johnstone, which left New York Nov. 3, via St. Vincent, Nov. 16, for Algoa Bay, laden with flour for the Transvaal. The cargo will be landed at Cape Town and the ship will be released.

The steamship Mashona is owned by Bucknall Brothers of London. The agents here are Norton & Son, who send vessels regularly to South Africa. At their office yesterday it was said that no advices had been received, and it was not known on what grounds the vessel could be held subject to arrest or her cargo to confiscation. She carried general merchandise for Algoa Bay and no munitions or explosives. The agents have for some time had a notice posted that no dynamite or other explosives would be accepted for Algoa Bay.

Iowa Farmers to Join Boers.

HOLSTEIN, Iowa, Dec. 8.—William and Daniel Davis, prosperous farmers, have sold their property and will go to South Africa. Their father is a large farmer at West Barkley, Cape Colony, and has sent for them to join the Boer forces. Eight weeks ago they received a letter from him saying all the farmers in that section were planning an uprising in Boer interests and asking them to come.

Dissension Among Boer Forces.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Reports continue to come from Ladysmith that dissension exists among the Boers, and especially that the Orange Free State troops are discontented. There are all kinds of rumors of movements of commandoes from place to place, but the fact is that little is known here regarding the actual position of the Boer forces.

British Arming the Natives.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 6.—It is announced that Major Elliott, commanding in the native territories of Griqualand East, is arming the natives by imperial authority, with a view of assisting the defensive forces.

Boers Use Dynamite Gun.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The latest advices from Frere camp show that the bombardment of Ladysmith was continued Thursday, Dec. 7. A pneumatic dynamite gun on Umbulwana Hill commenced the work.

FEELING AND TASTE GONE.

Alleged Result of Trolley Accident—Mrs. Caton Gets Verdict.

Mrs. Winfield Caton of Jackson Avenue, Long Island City, received a verdict of $1,617 against the New York and Queens County Electric Railroad in the Queens County Court in Long Island City yesterday. She sued for $25,000 for injuries she claimed to have received while a passenger on one of the cars of the company on July 14 last. Mrs. Caton and a friend asked the conductor to stop at Jackson and Steinway Avenues, and she alleged that before she had alighted from the car to the street, the car was started and she was thrown violently to the ground.

It was brought out at the trial, which was begun before Judge Moore and a jury Thursday afternoon, that Mrs. Caton's foot had been injured so severely that she now walks with a limp. It was also claimed that the accident has resulted in Mrs. Caton's losing the senses of feeling and taste. Electric batteries were applied to her hands, but she did not feel the current, and next a hot iron was placed against one of her fingers, but she did not feel a burning sensation, she said. Next sugar and salt were given to her, but she could not tell the difference between them, she declared.

A number of similar experiments were made with the same result.

The jury was much interested in the proceedings, and the spectators in the courtroom also eagerly watched the doings of counsel, but Mrs. Caton appeared unconcerned.

JOHN I. BLAIR'S WILL.

May Be Probated Soon—Speculation as to His Bequests.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Dec. 8.—Speculation is active as to the disposition of his vast estate by John I. Blair, who recently died at Blairstown. The will cannot be probated before Dec. 12, and it need not be probated for several weeks or even months.

The will, as it originally stood, was written by the late Judge J. G. Shipman of this place, some twenty-five years ago. As the will stood originally, the bulk of the great estate went to his son, D. C. Blair, who has had oversight of his father's affairs for years. It is believed here that the testator gave liberally to the cause of education, as well as to religion. His pastor, the Rev. Dr. Butler, and his physician, Dr. Johnston, will, it is thought, be generously remembered. The will it is said, will be probated in Warren County next week.

GERMEA

(FOR BREAKFAST.)

You can't help liking GERMEA if you will only try it once. It is the ideal breakfast food for old and young the whole year round. Ask your grocer for trial package.

M. Knoedler & Co.

invite attention to their unusually important collection of

Paintings, Water Colors, and Engravings.

All suitably adapted for Holiday Presents.

355 FIFTH AVE., COR. 34TH ST.

FORSYTHE'S WAISTS.

SPECIAL SALE TO-DAY

1200 Silk Tailor Made Waists at $7.00

reduced from $12.00 $15.00 $20.00

JOHN FORSYTHE,

"The Waist House,"

865 Broadway,

BETWEEN 17TH AND 18TH STREETS.

THE SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE.

Over Twenty-three Hundred Miles Covered—Miller and Waller Still a Lap Ahead.

The Score at 2 A. M.

Teams.	Miles.	Laps.
Miller-Waller	2,385	7
Maya-McEachern	2,385	6
Zimm-Fiesce	2,385	4
Fischer-Chevalier	2,385	3
Stevens-Turville	2,385	0
Babcock-Stinson	2,384	8
Schinzer-Forster	2,321	5

When the members of the seven teams and the three individual riders in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden realized at midnight last night that they were entering upon the last day of their trial of speed and endurance, they settled down to the work before them with a grim determination to grind out as many miles as possible before 10 o'clock this evening, when their long ride will come to an end. The race has been the closest six-day contest the Garden has ever known, for from the start there has not been more than half a mile between the first four teams, and if the expectations of the men who make up the second, third, and fourth teams are realized, this distance will be lessened to-day, for each team expects by hard riding to get into first place.

Miller and Waller still held the lead throughout yesterday, but not a lap could they gain on their determined followers. The men, under the hard strain of the last five days, have begun to develop the queer mannerisms of all six-day riders. Waller was the first to show any crankiness. He accused the scorers, the management, and the referee of being in a conspiracy to beat him at all hazards, and he kept continually asking for an additional two laps to which he thought he was entitled. He quarrelled, too, with his partner, accusing him of not being prompt in relieving him.

Walthour, the plucky Georgian, who is riding for the high individual score, still holds the individual lead by a good margin. He issued a challenge yesterday to any of the middle distance paced riders for a race of from ten to twenty-five miles, and said that he preferred Harry Elkes as his opponent.

Walthour and Aronson had made individual scores at 1 o'clock this morning of 1,212 miles and 4 laps and 1,045 miles and 1 lap, respectively.

AT THE BILLIARD TOURNEYS.

Miller, Hevner, Hendricks, Keeney, and Townsend Win Games.

The Amateur Athletic Union billiard tournament at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club for the championship of Class B and the inter-city and inter-club handicap tournament at Daly's Academy were continued yesterday.

Dr. Walter G. Douglas of the New York Athletic Club forfeited the afternoon game at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club to Dr. A. B. Miller, after nine innings had been played and the score stood 61 to 24 in the latter's favor. As Douglas had already lost two games, this disqualifies him from further participation in the tournament.

In the evening George E. Hevner of Philadelphia won the first game from Florian Tobias of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club. The score: Hevner, 300; average, 3 21-93; high runs, 16, 31, 19. Tobias, 215; average, 2 91-92; high runs, 22, 16, 16.

John A. Hendrick of New Haven defeated Albert G. Cutler of Boston in the final game by a score of 300 to 238. Hendrick's average was 6 12-48 and his highest run 32. Cutler made an average of 6 5-48, his best run being 34.

Frank A. Keeney of the Crescent Athletic Club won the evening contest at Daly's Academy from Mark H. Muldaur. The score: Keeney, 280; average, 6 34-41; high runs, 29, 39, 29. Muldaur, 179; average, 4 19-40; high runs, 17, 15, 17.

Arthur Townsend and William Arnold met in the afternoon game and the former won. Score: Townsend, 289; average, 4 28-63; Arnold, 191; average, 3 5-62.

BOOKMAKERS WIN IN COURT.

Missouri Judge Overturns That State's Breeder's Law.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—In the cases of Sol Stein and W. F. Hogaman, bookmakers, charged with violating the breeders' law, Judge Clark of the Court of Criminal Correction to-day ruled that the State failed to make a case by not proving that the bets were registered in a real book, with leaves and binding.

The information pleaded that the bets were made by means of a "book," and the Court held that this was not sufficient. The State attempted to show that a "book" could be made without a sheet of paper or a cover, but the Court said he could not take judicial cognizance of a cant expression, or gamblers' phrase, and he would have to hold that the word "book" meant a book.

Noted Stallion, Mambrino King, Dead.

Mambrino King, one of the best stallions at the Village Farm of C. J. & Harry Hamlin, near Buffalo, N. Y., died on Thursday. He was the sire of more performers in the 2:10 list than any other stallion in the country, and some of his get, notably Heir at Law, 2:07¼, and Dare Devil, were rated as the best show horses in the country. Mambrino King was bred in Kentucky by Dr. Levy Herr of Lexington. He was by Mambrino, out of a daughter of Alexander's Edwin Forrest, and was purchased from Dr. Herr by C. J. Hamlin as a ten-year-old for $10,000. The stallion was a championship prize winner whenever he appeared in the show ring, and by a commission representing the French Government several years ago he was declared to be the handsomest horse in the world.

Pittsburg Buys Louisville Players.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 8.—The Pittsburg Baseball Club bought the pick of the Louisville team to-day for a sum said to be $25,000 cash. Under the terms Mr. Dreyfus gives up all connection with the Louisville Club and becomes President of the Pittsburg Club. Mr. Pulliam will remain with the Louisville Club, and has been awarded the following players: Gould, Dowling, Wilhelm, Chesbro, Magee, Fox, Deal, Wills, O'Brien, Madison, Clingman, Ketcham, Hoy, and Dexter.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8.—President Pulliam telegraphed to-night: "This deal does not mean that Louisville is off the baseball map, but was made simply to lighten the burden of our men who have provided high class League ball for Louisville at great expense to themselves."

SIEGEL COOPER CO.

100 Cases of Men's Woollen Underwear

At just about the present price of the wool alone—truly a magnificent bargain!

The tardy coming of winter has greatly affected the sale of warm winter underwear. The stock of a certain manufacturer was altogether too large for this time of the year, and we bought it from him at a price that means a loss to him, but a gain to the purchaser, and, of course, you're "in it" if you wish to share our bargain.

This underwear comes in natural wool, camel's hair, blue, tan and flesh colors, every garment doubly sewn; double gusset in drawers and heavy pearl buttons, ribbed or plain, all sizes.

Worth $1.25 per garment; your choice to-day at . . . 75c

Also to-day:

20 Case more of Men's Heavy Fleece Lined Shirts and Drawers, all sizes; worth 65c. each; special at 39c

200 Dozen Men's Fine Neckwear

At about Half Price.

There's many a man of extreme good taste in dress who would wear finer ties if he had but "the price." Here's that man's opportunity, for price won't stand in his way this time.

This fine line of seasonable neckwear was made for one of New York's high-priced exclusive haberdashers. They were delivered too late, however, and were returned to the manufacturer. We bought them on him at a very low price for cash, and now offer them to you on the same basis. They come in English Squares, Four-in-Hands, Imperials, Puffs and

23,206 Pairs of New Shoes

FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

WE turn aside from the Christmas talk, this morning, to tell of some good fortune—ours and yours.

When the Spanish war broke out the Government needed army shoes in great quantities, and in a hurry. Our shoe chief, who is a leather merchant and shoe planner as well as the responsible head of the largest retail shoe business you or we know of—this shoe chief said he could meet the demands. And he did. Shoemakers who never made army shoes were set to work, as well as those who had—factories at several points were practically turned over to us. And we learned some things—chiefly, how great producers count odd cases of shoes, as we do odd pairs—a nuisance. And we thought out a plan to help them and you—with profit enough to us to serve as a commission. We'd buy these lots—not army shoes, but civilian's dress shoes—as they accumulated, and while still new.

Hence, the very great shoe sales that we hold at times—with

Prices Half or a Third Less Than Regular

Sometimes little inattentions to detail of finish lead merchants to reject shoes ordered—as black soles instead of white, or vice versa; little inequalities of surface, and so on. These lots come, too.

In general style these shoes are up-to-date. The savings are real and as stated. All the shoes are just received from the makers, except an overplus of russets, on which we take the loss because russets are less popular this winter than we expected them to be. Here's the list of shoes—

Women's black Kidskin Shoes, good shapes, $2.35, instead of $3.50. And $1.85 instead of $3.
Some others, lace and wanted sorts—$1.60. Some quite good values at $2 are to be sold at $1.40.
Men's Shoes—$3 to $4 Russets at $1.75.
$3.50, $4 and $5 Shoes—from well-known makers, $2.30. All black; good shapes. Patent leather, calfskin, kidskin.
"Usual $3 Shoes" the maker of this lot said. We mark them $1.80.

Boys' Shoes, with heels, 11 to 5½, at $1.50. With spring heels, 9 to 13½, at $1 and $1.25.
Girls' Shoes, spring heels, 50c, 75c and $1—depends on size.
Slippers for Men—brown and black kidskin, 90c.
Women's Fancy Felt Slippers, low and high, 70c.
Women's Overgaiters, 25c.
Women's and Children's Leggings—just half price—50c and 75c.
Turkish slippers at 50c a pair.

Sale Begins this morning. Take Express elevators to the Fifth floor.

Half-hour exhibitions to-day—10:30 and 11:30 a. m. and 3 and 4:30 p. m.—of the Halsey-Stirling reproductions of Great Paintings. New programme.

Smoking Jackets---For Gifts

A house coat or smoking jacket is a safe thing to give a man. He'll like it, and use it. Maybe he has one, but he will think the one he gets new is really better suited to him—just warm enough; hardly knows why—about as reasonable as changing his brand of cigars. But he likes to.

Eighty-six styles to choose from—several hundred—if you count the color plays.

Tricot, six styles—$4.50 to $7.50.
Reversible—plain outside; plaided inside, and plaid shows at cuffs, collar and pockets—fifty-four styles, $5 to $9.
Broadcloth, seven styles, $9 and $13.50.
Velvet, eighteen styles, $10 to $16.50.
Venetian cloth—navy blue, brown and maroon—fancy lining, $7.50.

There'll be hundreds bought here to-day for gifts.

Men's Goods, Ninth street side.

Umbrellas for You---and Others

The handsomest umbrella we have is marked $28. Handle is responsible for most of the cost—tortoise shell stick ending in an enamel ball with gold cap. Cheapest umbrellas we have are 50c—they are 24-inch size, for children; handles of pretty or ugly sticks, bent or ending where some root started.

For a gift to a man, this set will be fine—umbrella with white ivory handle, oxidized silver trimmings; cane matches. Packed in a satin-lined case. $36.

Here are two sorts of everyday Umbrellas for women—

26-in. umbrellas of union-taffeta—part cotton, part silk—horn, ivory, Dresden or pearl handle or natural stick tipped with silver. $2.
26-in. umbrellas, all-silk; same variety of handles. $2.50.

Men can get umbrellas at same prices—they'll choose 28-in size. Not quite the same styles of handles.

Umbrellas, Broadway front and in aisle near by.

Important Glove News Women's Kid Gloves for evening wear—12, 16 and 20-button lengths — are to be sold to-day at 75c, though they came with regular lots valued at $2 to $3.25: Tans, mode, pearl, pink, straw, buff and yellow. Eight hundred and sixteen pairs.

Women's 2-clasp Glace Gloves—the new Russian lambskin gloves, made with the Cluze patent thumb, 75c.

Women's Gloves, Tenth street side.

Men's Walking Gloves—outseam and pique—tans and red tan, 75c—usual $1 and $1.25 values.

Men's Gloves, Ninth and Broadway.

Chatelaine Bags Something very gracious for a gift? A chatelaine bag. We found some really elegant ones in Paris. $32 for the very finest one; several styles at $25, others down to $10.

This merely to hint of the elaborate ones—there are many at $1.75 and by short steps upward.

Just a word of two or three of these Paris pieces—

$25—Chatelaine Bag of gray suede, elaborately but very tastefully mounted with cut-steel beads. The belt hook is a mass of cut-steel diamonds (shall we call them?) many-sided, just as diamonds are cut.

$25—Chatelaine Bag of white leather; interior is of green silk, and so the beautiful cut-steel bead designs that ornament the outside are allowed to let green peep through here and there.

$3.50—American made Chatelaine Bags of fine selected alligator skin. Almost no metal showing—belt hook is leather covered.

Broadway, toward Tenth street.

Men's Scarfs Some of silk, some of satin—puffs, tecks, four-in-hands and imperials. Good enough to be 50c in any one of a hundred stores you might think of. They are 25c.

It's simply to help Mr. ——— get rid of the last of his winter silks—he's making spring-time ties now.

Men's Store, Ninth and Broadway.

Silk Waists Take it for granted that we have as pretty silk waists as Paris has conjured—that we bring them over by scores (not scores alike—just ones, twos or threes), and that this is a very interesting every-day silk waist store, but to-day this word of—

Five styles of Black Taffeta Silk Waists—some corded all over, some with corded yoke, others with fine plaits. All have dress sleeves with flare cuffs. The price is five dollars

With the regular stocks, Second floor.

In the Fifth-floor Christmas store:

$6 Silk Waists at $4.75. Light and dark colorings and black. Body, top of sleeves and collar are corded.

And with them—

Silk-finish Floreen Petticoats—satin striped, for prettiness sake; light colorings. Umbrella ruffle, corded and velveteen bound, $2.75 instead of $4.75.

Gram-o-phones One great advantage of the Gram-o-phone is that the "records" are made on hard rubber and can be handled without danger of injuring them.

The Gram-o-phone is a jolly entertainer—sings, talks, imitates a whole band—is grave or gay or silent at your pleasure.

$18. Records 50c apiece.

Basement.

Men's and Women's Handkerchiefs No matter how little the price, the handkerchief should be made entirely of flax. No cotton admixtures can pose here as linen, nor get in at all. Now here are some inexpensive sorts—illustrative.

Men's all-linen hemstitched handkerchiefs at $1 a dozen. A quality equal to this is not obtainable anywhere at so low a price; size 16½ in. And initialed handkerchiefs for men, hemstitched, too, at $1.50 a dozen. These are a trifle larger.
An unusually fine grade at $3 a dozen—a kind that sells regularly at $4.20. These only for a few days.
For women—hemstitched and initialed handkerchiefs at $1 a dozen.
Some that are prettily embroidered, $1.50 doz.
Every sort here mentioned, as is every handkerchief in the large collection, is a proper style. Narrow hemstitching is popular.

Broadway.

Corset Bargains The Lillian Corset is our notion of corset perfection. It has been made for us for many years by the best corset maker we could find in all Europe. Almost all imported corsets are called "French,"—by the law of perversity, maybe, for France has no monopoly—although Paris sets styles and we go there for them.

The principle on which the Lillian is made is right, beyond question. Many dressmakers have thanked their customers for the help they gave by wearing them.

There are enough variations of model to furnish corsets for all normal figures, and we are having work carried on much of the time to produce new shapes and forms.

That accounts for closing out certain lines once in a while. To-day

$5.25 Corsets for $2.90

Real whale bone; long waist, bias gored at bust and hips. White, drab and black.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Dresses and Wraps for Girls Authoritative styles—no wonder mothers have come to lean on this store—do you know that, important as this is as a woman's store, it is almost more important as a store for supplying outer-wear for girls and misses.

Suits
Wraps
Whatever is needed.

Here are some special lots—
At $8.50—Tailored Suits for girls of 8 to 18 years. Various pretty fabrics. Left from full lots at $13.50 to $16.
Some at $13.50—from lots up to $22.50 in value. All these are new, remember—here only a few weeks.
Others at $18—values up to $26.

Second floor.

Clothes for Men

A half truth is greatest falsehood. We have known cheap tailors to seek glory by saying that famous tailors' work was as good as theirs—by inference that their work equalled the best. The advertisers try to make you think the lie. There are degrees in tailoring—there are best tailors in any organization. The man who pays a great many dollars for a suit gets more than a mere fancy's worth—he gets the carefulest work of the carefulest tailor in the shop (it's so here or anywhere). You've heard of an artist so careful of detail that he devoted three days to touching up a broom in one of his pictures. Well.

The Overcoat you pay $80 for will have more tailoring put into it than the one at $55—you can't get something for nothing, or all of all the best for a little. Now, do we understand each other? Dollar for dollar's worth this clothing store is giving values that win it new friends each day. That's all.

Overcoats of all-wool black velour; satin shoulder lining; black diagonal body lining—garments that should look well for three seasons. Fifteen Dollars.
Suits of stylish pure-worsted stuffs (neat stripes); medium colors—for wear from now till late next spring—Fifteen Dollars.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.,

Broadway, Fourth Ave., Ninth and Tenth Streets.

REPLY TO ROBERTS'S PLEA

Gentile Residents of Utah Assail His Public Statement.

CHARGE THAT HE WAS A FELON

Assertion Made that the Congressman-Elect Is Now a Fugitive from Justice and a Lawbreaker.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—An answer to Brigham H. Roberts's address to the American people was issued to-day by a delegation representing the Gentile element in Utah, who are here to oppose Mr. Roberts. The answer is as follows:

"In this morning's papers Mr. Roberts makes an appeal for sympathy, in which are many statements needing correction, while many facts are suppressed.

Mr. Roberts claims that the precedent made by his exclusion is both new and dangerous. That it is not new was conclusively shown by Mr. Taylor in his able legal argument before the House, and not a single precedent to the contrary was cited where the ground of objection was ineligibility. Neither is the precedent dangerous. Whenever a "prima facie" case is made against a member's citizenship by showing that under a conviction of felony against the laws of the United States he is disfranchised, and further that by reason of his present maintenance of the status of a polygamist he is again suffering from civil disability under the Edmunds anti-polygamy act, such a member refusing even to deny the charge should be excluded. Nor is this dangerous, for it is not likely, as Mr. Roberts seems to assume, that an entire minority or all the representatives of a large State are coming to Congress carrying such a burden. In other States men who flaunt their violations of these laws of decency in the face of the public are sent to the penitentiary. It is only in Utah where such indecency ever added to one's eligibility and served as a recommendation to political preferment.

"Mr. Roberts's contention that no evidence of his guilt can be received except a judicial record of his conviction in Utah, as a matter of law is erroneous, and as a matter of practice dangerous, because Mr. Roberts and his all-powerful and inspired priesthood can prevent such conviction if they consider it worth while.

CITIZENSHIP IN QUESTION.

"Mr. Roberts claims that whatever were his civil disabilities before Statehood, they were removed by the adoption of the State Constitution. If at the time of the passage of the Enabling act Mr. Roberts was, as he seems in his appeal to admit, disfranchised by act of Congress, and therefore not a full citizen of the United States, as by the Constitution he must be to become a member of Congress, then he is still in that same condition, because the Constitution of Utah could not restore him to Federal citizenship, and the Enabling act did not do it. The Enabling act of Utah, unlike that of some other States, required citizenship of the United States as a qualification for voting, and did not confer that citizenship upon those then not such citizens. Hence Mr. Roberts's statement that by Utah becoming a State, he was rehabilitated with the wanting attributes of citizenship, is unwarranted.

"Mr. Roberts says he has not been convicted since Statehood. It does not follow that he is innocent. He is now a fugitive from justice in Salt Lake County on a charge of unlawful cohabitation, and in Davis County, Utah, where resides one of his polygamous wives with her illegitimate twins, born Aug. 11, 1897, a charge of adultery (a felony under the laws of Utah) has been for two months pigeon-holed by a Mormon prosecuting attorney.

FELONY, NOT MISDEMEANOR.

"Mr. Roberts, in his attempt to belittle his crimes, insists that he is only charged with a misdemeanor. He knows better. He knows that he has been under oath and before the proper prosecuting officers charged with the felony of adultery, as well as the misdemeanor of unlawful cohabitation. He asserts that in 1889 he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor only, and also says that if he were guilty of the same acts in the District of Columbia, even flagrantly so, that as a member of Congress he could not be arrested therefor, because it is only a misdemeanor. Here again Mr. Roberts states what is not true, and he ought to know it. Unlawful cohabitation under the Edmunds act, under which he pleaded guilty, was a felony, as also is adultery, with which Mr. Roberts is charged in Davis County, Utah. In the District of Columbia both unlawful cohabitation and adultery are felonies, as defined by the Utah statutes, and it is only in Utah that the former is a misdemeanor.

"These charges, in view of the Edmunds and Edmunds-Tucker laws of the United States still in force, warrant Mr. Roberts's exclusion. They are aggravated, however, because his is not an isolated case, but one representative of a system.

"Many sentimental people are being misled by Mr. Roberts's very ingenious suggestions, from which some people infer that he took his polygamous wives when it was lawful to do so. This is a mistake. Adultery was a crime in Utah when Mr. Roberts was born, and at the time of the passage of the Cullom Anti-Polygamy act Mr. Roberts was only six years old. His plea for sympathy therefore amounts only to this, that he should be allowed to continue his criminal practices, notwithstanding he took his polygamous wives in defiance of law. We demand that he should support his families, but also demand that he shall cease the begetting of further illegitimate offspring, and this is our only bone of contention, the only thing demanded which he refuses to yield. In this matter we disclaim any desire to have him declared ineligible because he is a Mormon, but solely because he is violating and defying the laws of our State, of the United States, and of common decency.

FORMER MEMBER A MORMON.

"Ex-Congressman W. H. King was and is a Mormon, and no claim of ineligibility was ever made against him. We point to this fact as showing that we oppose Mr. Roberts not upon the ground of any religious opinions entertained by him, but because of his criminal practices. Neither is this a matter of religious or political persecution or prejudice. The undersigned include men of different churches and men who belong to no church; those who are Republicans and those who are Democrats.

"Mr. Roberts denies and we assert that the compact between Utah and the other States has been violated.

"That compact was evidenced by many public acts as follows:

"First.—By the manifesto of the Mormon Church in 1890, which by their leading men was interpreted under oath to prohibit the continuance of polygamous relations as well as the contracting of new marriages.

"Second.—By the Utah Legislature, which in 1892 made unlawful cohabitation, as well as polygamy, crimes against the territory.

"Third.—By the solemn pledges of the apostles of this alleged church that these laws would be obeyed and enforced, which pledge was made in a petition to the President praying for a general amnesty proclamation.

"Fourth.—By the declarations made by prominent citizens of Utah before the Congressional Committee having the Enabling Act under consideration, where also the foregoing evidences and declarations were used to secure statehood.

"Fifth.—By the declaration in the constitution of Utah that polygamous marriages shall be forever prohibited.

"Sixth.—The act of the Constitutional Convention continuing in force, the territorial laws punishing unlawful cohabitation as well as polygamy, of which convention Mr. Roberts was a member.

"All these public acts combined show conclusively that the compact includes the discontinuance of old polygamous relations, as well as the prevention of new ones.

EVIDENCE OF BROKEN FAITH.

"As evidence that this compact has been broken, we point to the following:

"First—That in Utah 1,000 illegitimate children have been born to polygamous wives since Statehood.

"Second—That about 2,000 polygamous households now exist in Utah, and that the attempt to secure a punishment of these offenders is denounced by the majority, as we believe, of Utah's citizens.

"Third—That the circumstantial evidence unmistakably points to the existence of new wives in polygamous households, the most conspicuous examples of which are the cases of Apostles Abraham H. Cannon, John W. Taylor, and Apostle Teusdale, in at least the first of which the organ of the dominant Church refuses to deny the marriage and the new polygamous wife is employed as teacher in a church academy.

"Fourth—That the very men who interpreted the manifesto of 1890 to prohibit unlawful cohabitation with prior acquired wives now publicly justify its continuance.

"Fifth—That most of the same men who, in a petition for amnesty, pledged their sacred honor for the obedience of the law by their people are now by example and precept encouraging to commission of the crime of unlawful cohabitation.

CHURCH MEMBERS GUILTY.

"Sixth—As a further evidence of this bad faith, we call attention to the fact that men holding high Church office have plead guilty to the crime of unlawful cohabitation before the State courts without having their Church standing affected, even in some cases having their fines paid by sympathetic friends.

"Seventh—All this is by necessary implication indorsed by a majority of Utah's people in the election of Brigham H. Roberts, who during his campaign for election was publicly charged with being a violator of the laws, as evidenced by his illegitimate progeny, and in spite of those undenied charges he was elected by an overwhelming majority.

"That Mr. Roberts himself understood that compact to mean the discontinuance of unlawful cohabitation we point to his registration oath of 1895, in which he swore it to be his intention to obey the law prohibiting unlawful cohabitation."

This is signed by T. C. Iliff, Salt Lake; G. W. Martin, Manti, Utah; C. H. Owen, Salt Lake; J. M. Coombs, Brigham City, Utah, and A. T. Schroeder, Salt Lake.

ROBERTS ASKS OPEN HEARING.

Utah Representative Expresses a Wish that No Testimony Be Kept from the Public.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The committee which is to inquire into the status of Mr. Roberts of Utah held a protracted session behind closed doors to-day. During the early hours of the meeting Mr. Roberts was present accompanied by his secretary, and made a statement as to his general wishes in connection with the inquiry. He said he was specially desirous of having the committee first to go into his prima facie right to a seat, afterward taking up the general merits of the subject.

He said he favored open sessions, as he did not wish any of the testimony kept from the public. He indicated also that he desired to present testimony relative to the manner in which the charges against him were prepared. Mr. Roberts then retired, and the committee continued in private session until 12:30, when a recess was taken until 2 P. M.

The 2 o'clock meeting was brief, and was adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. No announcement was made, except that Chairman Tayler (Rep., Ohio,) said the work was progressing satisfactorily and smoothly. It is understood that some question exists as to whether Roberts shall be treated as a contesting member, or be asked to plead as in a trial, and the committee probably will hear him further before reaching a conclusion.

MARINE CORPS APPOINTMENTS.

Six Second Lieutenants Named—Another Examination Next Month.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The President has appointed the following-named Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps: Herbert Mather of New Jersey, H. L. Roosevelt of New York, Jay M. Salladay of Illinois, Rush R. Wallace and Fred A. Eslick of Tennessee, and Macker Babb of West Virginia. These young men were the only successful competitors in the recent examination out of a list of over twenty candidates. There are still twenty-one vacancies in the list of Second Lieutenants of marines, and another examination will be held at the navy yard in this city Jan. 2, for the purpose of filling the complement of the corps.

SILVER FOR LAFAYETTE DOLLARS

Ordered Purchased by the Treasury—Minting to Begin Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Secretary of the Treasury to-day ordered the purchase of silver bullion for the special mintage of the Lafayette souvenir dollar. Arrangements are making to mint them on Tuesday, Dec. 12, and it is almost certain that coins will be delivered to subscribers before Christmas.

A specimen coin was submitted by Mr. Gage to the Lafayette Memorial Commission some days ago, and upon the recommendation of a special expert committee, composed of Artists Frank Millet and C. A. Coolidge, who pronounce the coin the most artistic piece of work turned out by the United States Mint, was approved.

The Secretary of the Lafayette Memorial Commission says subscriptions, which have been opened to the public, are coming in rapidly at the headquarters in Chicago, and that the coins are likely to be all subscribed for before the first of the year. Secretary Thompson to-day received official advices from President McKinley of his agreement to present the first coin struck of the 50,000 to President Loubet of France. Subscriptions for coins at $2 each are being received at the American Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

WORLD'S PRODUCTION OF SUGAR.

Carefully Prepared Statistics Place It at 8,000,000 Tons This Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The world's crop of sugar cane and beet for 1899-1900 will amount to about 8,000,000 tons, about the same amount as last year, according to carefully prepared statistics submitted to the State Department by United States Consul Deiderich at Magdeburg, Germany. Of this amount the United States uses about one-fourth. The Consul's figures show that so far as beet sugar is concerned, while the beet product in Europe this year is larger than last, perhaps by 250,000 tons, the sugar extracted amounts to about the same, owing to defective sweetness. The total product of beet sugar is placed at 5,300,000 tons, against 4,947,000 for last year.

The total product of cane sugar this year is set down at 2,700,000 tons, as against 2,851,134 last year. A peculiar estimate is that in the case of Cuba and Puerto Rico, where a smaller crop is predicted. In Cuba the yield is set down at 300,000 tons, against 315,175 tons last year, and in Puerto Rico at 50,000 tons, as against 55,295 last year.

The Sandwich Islands product is increased by 10,000 tons to 250,000, and the yield for the United States is placed at 370,000, as compared with 275,000 last year.

THE IDAHO MINING TROUBLES.

Congressman Lentz Charges Gen. Merriam with Brutality.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Lentz of Ohio to-day introduced a joint resolution, reciting the charges growing out of the presence of United States troops under Brig. Gen. Merriam at the centres of mining troubles in Idaho, and asking for an investigation by a special committee of nine members, to be appointed by the Speaker.

The resolution says that it is a matter of general information that United States troops were sent to Idaho in defiance of and contrary to the Federal Constitution, at the individual request of the Governor, when no riot or insurrection existed, and without consulting the Legislature or the local Sheriff.

It is asserted that Gen. Merriam declared martial law, and "arbitrarily and without warrant of law arrested hundreds of citizens" and held them under "most brutal and tyrannical conditions." The arrests, it is charged, included many members of the miners' union, and the local Sheriff. It is asserted that many men were imprisoned in a "bull pen," a place unfit for human habitation. Allegation is made that one prisoner became insane from the treatment, and, escaping, was shot as he jumped into a river. In another case, it is charged, a dying prisoner was denied spiritual consolation.

Specific acts of cruelty are given, including compulsory standing erect for seven hours each day in the hot sun, under penalty of death if attempt was made to move or sit down. It is alleged also that a Captain under Gen. Merriam "amused himself by calling prisoners 'cowardly curs' while these punishments were being inflicted." The resolution also recites that the wives and families of miners were insulted by soldiers, and, it is alleged, that responsibility for the various actions recited rests with the mining companies of the locality.

ATTACKED IN BROADWAY.

Highwayman, Mr. Mossler Says, Robbed and Injured Him—Police Charged Him with Intoxication.

Henry L. Mossler, a middle-aged well-to-do liquor dealer, is ill at his home, 311 West One Hundred and Twelfth Street, as a result of an encounter with a footpad, who, he says, attacked him at Broadway and Warren Street in the shadow of the scaffolding surrounding a new building shortly before 11 o'clock on Thanksgiving Night as he was returning from Brooklyn to his home.

The robber, according to Mr. Mossler's story, as told by Mrs. Mossler last evening, struck him in the mouth, knocking him down, and in falling he struck the back of his head upon the sidewalk, causing a scalp wound and a concussion, which is the cause of his present suffering. The man then tore his diamond stud, valued at $150, from his shirt front and ripped open his waistcoat, but fled at the approach of two citizens, who ran up from different directions, before he had possessed himself of Mr. Mossler's gold watch and chain and about $12 which he had in his pocket.

Mr. Mossler, who is unable to give any description of his assailant, lay unconscious where he had fallen for several minutes and then the men whose advent had frightened away the robber, one of whom was G. J. Persina, of 629 Ninth Avenue, a foreman on the elevated railroad, led him to the City Hall Police Station. He was still in a dazed condition.

The police say Dr. Sherrill was summoned with an ambulance from Hudson Street Hospital and dressed Mr. Mossler's wounds, but did not find him a fit case for hospital treatment, and Sergeant Frank Kelly put him under arrest on a charge of intoxication. He was discharged by Magistrate Pool in the Centre Street Police Court next morning.

Capt. Copeland of the City Hall Precinct put several detectives on the case, but though there is an almost constant procession of foot passengers between the bridge and the west side transportation lines at the point where the man was hurt, they could find no one who had witnessed the alleged assault, and the station house blotter entry is that Mr. Mossler probably received his injuries by falling.

Mr. Mossler is still in the care of Dr. M. Louis Weil of 115 East Eighty-second Street. He left his house yesterday for the first time since he was released in court last Saturday. He suffers from frequent dizziness and severe pains in his head.

COMPANY H TO APOLOGIZE.

Men of the Eighth Regiment Withdraw Their Protest in Behalf of ex-Capt. Solomon.

Col. Jarvis has taken action in the case of Company H, Eighth Regiment, in the matter of the petition of the company to Gen. Roe in behalf of ex-Capt. Joseph Solomon, whom the company re-elected to command it. Col. Jarvis and Gen. George Moore Smith disapproved the election. The men then protested to Gen. Roe and Gov. Roosevelt that Capt. Solomon was being persecuted through motives of "jealousy, bigotry, and prejudice."

This document was promptly returned to Col. Jarvis, who set on foot an investigation to determine the genuineness of the signatures to the paper. He concluded his investigations on Thursday, and after the battalion drill in the evening, at which Company H turned out twenty-six men under Lieut. Ehman, Col. Jarvis sent word to the company that he wished to address them.

"This is very serious business, men, you have been engaged in," said Col. Jarvis, "and I have not proceeded hastily in this matter. I have investigated the signatures to your petition and the records of each one of you. I do not forget that when volunteers were called for every man of you signed the muster roll but one—"

"That was Capt. Solomon," broke in a private in the rear of the room.

Col. Jarvis then went on to explain the absurdity of attributing jealousy or other wrong motives to their superior officers, and especially to officers outside of the regiment. This reference, the men knew, was to Gen. Smith. "I think you men are all fair and want to do the square thing," said the Colonel, "and if you have done anything unsoldierly you will be ready to acknowledge it. I know this company well enough to know that if it could restore itself to its old place in the esteem of its superiors by signing an apology you would all sign it."

"That we would," said several of the men.

Col. Jarvis then told the company that the apology could not be too strongly worded to fit the situation, and left the room.

The company held a meeting and a committee was appointed to frame the apology, consisting of Sergts. Landauer and Lally and Corp. W. J. Heron. A number of the men signed a paper embodying the points of the apology on the spot, without waiting for the formal draft. A committee has been appointed to select a Captain in place of Solomon, and will report in a few days. The apology is expected to go as high up as the original paper went. It will contain declarations that the company was misled by Solomon, who, as alleged, drew up the petition himself.

GAS ENDS TWO LIVES.

Accidental Asphyxiation of an Aged Woman and Her Daughter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Summerville, aged eighty-three years, and her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsay, aged fifty years, were found dead in their apartments on the fourth floor of a tenement house at 334 West Forty-ninth Street at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The deaths were due to asphyxiation, an open gas jet being found in the kitchen. The fatalities were evidently due to accident. Mrs. Summerville was found dead in bed, while her daughter was sitting on the floor, leaning against a chair.

The women had been occupying the rooms for the last five months. Mrs. Lindsay is reported to have been mentally unbalanced. Her mother went in and out daily, but Mrs. Lindsay rarely left the house. According to the statement of Mrs. Jennie Abell, a friend of the family, Mrs. Lindsay was the divorced wife of Henry Lindsay, a clothing merchant at 290 Eighth Avenue. When seen last night, Mr. Lindsay stated that he lived with his wife in Thirty-first Street, but as to his alleged relations with the dead woman, he would say nothing beyond admitting that he knew her.

Policeman and Woman Asphyxiated.

Patrolman Charles L. Hensle of the Macdougal Street Station and Mary Jackson, twenty-five years old, of 11 North Moore Street, were asphyxiated last night in a room in a hotel at Houston and Crosby Streets. When the room was broken into in the morning it was full of gas, and two jets of a chandelier were found to be turned on. The case appeared at first to be one of suicide, but this theory was dismissed later. Hensle was twenty-five years old. He was appointed to the police force in 1897.

Manslaughter Indictment Dismissed.

The indictment against Nelson S. Weeks of Hackensack, N. J., who was charged with having caused the death of Aimée Smith in this city on March 8, 1897, was dismissed yesterday by Justice Fursman, in the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court. Justice Fursman explained that as there was no chance of convicting Weeks, he would not put the county to the expense of the trial.

Steamship Rotterdam Injured.

The sailing of the Holland-America Line steamship Rotterdam, which was to have left here to-day for Rotterdam, has been postponed two weeks. The Rotterdam touched bottom in the harbor of Boulogne-sur-Mer, where she calls regularly, and it was not discovered until after her arrival here that some of her plates had been buckled.

Robbery on a Pleasure Yacht.

WASHINGTON, N. C., Dec. 8.—A robbery occurred on the pleasure yacht The Senator, owned by Charles Fuller of Pawtucket, R. I., last night. The perpetrators secured $1,900 in cash and a diamond stud valued at $350. There is no clue to the robber.

Fourth-Class Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The following fourth-class Postmasters were appointed to-day:

CONNECTICUT—West Norwalk, Coleman Roscoe.
NEW YORK—Constantia, H. F. Talcott.
NEW JERSEY—Bradley Beach, Mrs. H. Bennett.

$3.00 Monarch Pats

The Patent Leather Shoe That Won't Break Thro'

"Monarch Pats" have more real shoe life than any patent leather shoes you ever wore. They will wear you longer and more evenly. They are a better, surer, safer patent leather shoe than any other you can find. We know this. You will know it too when you wear a pair. $3.

For sale in New York by

Beckett, Carhart & Co.

Sole Agents

The Broadway Stores: Cor. 13th St., cor. Canal St., near Chambers.

Monarch Shoe Co., Makers, 51 W. 14th St., N.Y. Factory, Randolph, Mass.

Upon request we send our book, "Monarch Styles."

America's Largest CREDIT CLOTHIERS AND TAILORS.

CAREY & SIDES

56-58 4TH AVE.
COR. NINTH ST.

MEN'S AND BOYS'

CLOTHING

ON CREDIT

READY MADE AND TO ORDER.

From time to time we publish in these columns the many features embodied in our "NO-EXTRA-CHARGE" CREDIT system, which, at a glance how easy Co-operative Finance facilitates the working of a perfect CREDIT system, the same that does not carry with it any of the usurious rates of interest that have so much abused the word CREDIT. CASH or CREDIT values are the same here.

WEEKLY AND MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

Read-Made Suits and Overcoats, $10, $12, $15 to $25. TO ORDER, $16, $20, $25 and $30. Boys' Suits, $3 to $12. Men's Hats. Tuxedo and Full Dress Suits, silk lined, to order, $30, $35, $40, $45 and $50.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY. Write for terms and particulars.

OPEN SATURDAYS UNTIL 10:30; MONDAYS, 9.

Kennedy

2 CORTLANDT ST.

RICH SCARFS,

25c and 98c.

Imported and English Squares.

The patterns are the newest, richest and most fashionable.

Suspenders, Silk Worked Elastic Web, 49c.
White Laundered Shirts, 68c.
Percale Laundered, 49c.
Madras Laundered, 98c.
Mufflers, 49c. to $1.98.
Men's Silk and Satin Protectors for evening dress wear, $1.49.

Health Food Co.'s

WHEATENA

The Best Health Food for Breakfast the Whole Year

ALL GROCERS.

"Cluett"

Look for BUBONIC PLAGUE COFFEE

Ships in ships from infected ports. Coffee comes overland from Mexico.

"MOCHA COFFEE NEVER COMES TO THIS MARKET. JAVA COFFEE IS GETTING POORER EVERY YEAR."

The Finest Coffee Grown Comes from the "PRIVATE ESTATE" of the President of Mexico.

Usually 40c Per Pound at 32c

CAUCHOIS'

42d STR. OPPOSITE HOYT

DESKS.

Great Variety of Style and Price.

I. G. SELLEW

111 Fulton St., N.Y.

For Scholars and Plain People.

President McKinley says: "I can commend Ridpath's History of the World to the scholar as well as to the plain people generally."

What more would you have?

For the scholar it is reliable and accurate, convenient for reference, sound for study.

For the plain people it is clear and interesting. Open it at random, you will read page after page. Or, if you'll begin at page 1 and read the 9 volumes through, you'll know more about this old world than the average college graduate knows.

A new volume, just added, brings the history down to this very year, including all the great triumphs of peace and war during these past few years. The first volume begins with earliest times. In between is the complete story of the whole world.

If you buy this greatest of histories for your boy or girl you will surely end by reading it yourself.

If you purchase it for yourself you'll catch your children reading it.

Fortunately, the volumes are substantially made as they are delightfully written.

A Great Book Bargain.

Over 50,000 sets of Ridpath's Great History of the World have been sold at prices just about double the Wanamaker History Club price.

It is selling by subscription to-day at double our price.

By taking an entire edition, we bring the books direct from publisher to reader, and save you one-half WHILE THE EDITION LASTS.

Our edition is identical in all respects with the regular subscription edition; the saving comes about by manufacturing on a large scale and by cutting out all middlemen's profits.

The half price is only half the story—here is the other half. By joining the Club and paying $1 membership fee, you may have the entire set sent you at once and pay for it in $2 monthly payments.

A magnificent Christmas Present, and an easy way of paying for it.

If you want a set held for Christmas delivery, order at once, It's no trouble for us, and may save you from disappointment. The binders can only deliver us books about so fast, and the Christmas rush is beginning already.

Just the Thing for Christmas.

John Wanamaker is selling Ridpath's History of the World at half price and on payment of $1 down and $2 per month. A big set of books at a little price.

Nine massive volumes, nearly 7,000 large double column pages (equivalent of 70 ordinary volumes), over 4,000 engravings, 35 historical maps in color, 10 chronological charts in color, 9 race charts in color, 14 colored plates depicting types of the races, 33 genealogical diagrams, 8 colored reproductions of etchings on tint blocks. A picture to every page or two.

Cut this Coupon off, Fill in Blank Mail TODAY. T 9

CUT HERE.

DATE.....

JOHN WANAMAKER, N. Y.

Enclosed is $1 club fee. Send me one set Ridpath's History of the World in 9 volumes, half Russia binding. I agree to pay to your order $34 additional (instead of regular price $66) in monthly payments of $2 from date. It is agreed that title to books shall not pass to me until total amount is paid.

NAME.....

BUSINESS ADDRESS.....

.....

HOME ADDRESS.....

SEND BOOKS TO.....

Cut This Corner

CUT HERE.

off, if you wish further particulars before ordering, and fill in the blank and mail to-day to

John Wanamaker, New York City.

You may send me specimen pages of Ridpath's History of the World and full particulars of the Wanamaker History Club.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

.....

T9

This Coupon Enables You to Save $31.

Marcus & Co.

Jewelers and Silversmiths

Have removed to Fifth Avenue, Corner 45th Street.

They have opened a Department for Silversmithing, where everything in silver suitable for gifts or household use is to be found. The same high standard of excellence which created their prestige as Jewelers is maintained in their silverware.

Marcus & Co.

Fifth Ave., Cor. 45th St.

PRECIOUS STONES AND PEARLS. . . .

All cars transfer to Bloomdale's.

Bloomingdales 3d Ave. & 59th St.

Come to-day and save $4.05 on a Camera. Every dealer in these goods will tell you this is a true statement. A regular $10

Monroe Camera, 5.95

Monroe Cycle Camera, complete with plate holder, fitted with selected single achromatic lens, Monroe royal shutter, iris diaphragm; can be operated with either bulb or finger release, speed regulating device, rising and falling front, reversible back, with hinged door and ground glass for focusing. The covering is best quality selected leather, full highly polished finder, all brass work highly finished and lacquered; and while this camera is capable of doing the best possible work, is both light in weight and highly finished. Listed at $10.00, 5.95

Main Floor, 59th St. Section.

And after you read all of the book advs. published in this paper today you can come here and buy the same books at a saving of from 25% to 50%. Try it.

The Right Thing at The Right Time at The Right Price at BYCK BROS

As Applied to Overcoats

The right thing is the thing that exactly suits your taste. The right time is the time when that garment is in the height of fashion—not a back number. The right price is Byck's price, always and invariably.

Soft Oxford Vicunas, Chinchillas, Meltons, Kerseys,

$15.00 to $18.00.

Have you seen our Oxford Frock Overcoat?

Good Patent Leather Shoe	$3.00
Good Derby Hat	1.00
Warranted Gloves	1.00

BYCK BROS

Downtown,
S. W. Cor. Fulton and Nassau Sts.
Uptown,
158 to 164 East 125th St., n'r 3d Ave

The Particular Man

is just a little bit more particular about his Evening Dress than other matters. We're pleasing particular men right along with our

FULL DRESS SUITS (to order) $30,

(Full satin lined).

WE CAN PLEASE YOU.

Nicoll.

771 Broadway, 145-147 Bowery

Choice Oriental Pearls

all sizes, of the extremely fine quality now so much desired but so difficult to obtain.

264 FIFTH AVENUE

Howard & Co.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

The week ends, as did its predecessor last Saturday, with a number of coming-out receptions, which will keep the members of the gay world busily employed all the afternoon and into the evening. There will also be two dances this evening—the first De Coverley at Sherry's and the first of Mrs. Philip Sands's dancing class at Delmonico's. Cotillions will be danced at both these affairs. At the De Coverley the guests will be received by Mrs. Edward L. Keyes and Mrs. James H. Benedict. The cotillion there will be very short, and only one figure will be danced. The patronesses this year of Mrs. Sands's class are Mrs. Lewis Livingston Delafield, Mrs. Sackett Barclay, Mrs. John Irving, Mrs. Robert Dun Graham, Mrs. Charles Huntington, Mrs. James Higginson, Mrs. Frederick Goodridge, Mrs. James B. King, Mrs. John Clarkson Jay, Mrs. Stuyvesant Morris, Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Walter C. Taylor, and Mrs. Leopold Francke.

***

The long list of passengers on the Auguste Victoria, which sails to-day for Mediterranean ports, affords good evidence that the Winter exodus to sunnier climes has set in, and at an unusually early date. Among those booked to sail on the Auguste Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Barnwell and son, Mrs. S. S. Marlé, Mrs. Morris Barnewell, W. G. Barnewell, Mrs. H. P. Baldwin and daughter, Mrs. Charles J. Baldwin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Dulles, William C. Dulles, and Miss Dulles Irwin of Philadelphia; Mrs. A. L. Devens, Mrs. H. Devens, and the Misses Devens; W. B. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Faye and son, Miss Grinnell, Miss Louise Grinnell, Miss Mary Greenough, Miss E. M. Hoppin, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison of Philadelphia, Mrs. James Hartshorne, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hartshorne and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Jordan and daughters, Capt. John C. Kafer, United States Navy; Mrs. George De Forest Lord, Mrs. Craig Lippincott and the Misses Lippincott of Philadelphia, the Misses Lea, Mrs. R. Hall McCormick and the four Misses McCormick of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. D. Neustadter, Count F. Prat, Italian Vice Consul at New York; Alexander Proudfit, Miss Mary Proudfit, Alexander C. Proudfit, Miss M. E. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Phillips and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. William Renshaw, Miss Renshaw, and Master Renshaw of Baltimore; Mrs. William E. Strong, Miss Strong, and Miss Alice Strong; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Stillman and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan Totten and daughter, John D. Toppen, United States Navy; Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer and Miss Van Rensselaer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Wheeler, Edgar H. Wells, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Woodward and Miss Woodward, and W. Bourke Cockran, who has the cabin de luxe.

***

On the Umbria, which sails to-day, there are booked among others Frank Andrews of Washington and Newport, Baron Henri Cottu, Prince Basil Kolchoubey, Miss MacTavish of Baltimore, Mrs. R. E. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, Miss Florence Russell, and James Russell. On the Pretoria, sailing for Hamburg via Plymouth to-day, there are booked among others C. W. Erdman, United States Consul General at Breslau, Mrs. and Miss Erdman, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dawson. The St. Louis, due to-day from Southampton, is said to have on board among others Mrs. R. R. Converse, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Borie of Philadelphia, Mrs. W. D. Harper and Miss Violet Harper, Mrs. Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens, and Count and Countess Raoul d'Oyley.

***

The coming-out receptions to-day will include those of Miss Ella de Peyster, daughter of Sir Frederic de Peyster, who will be introduced at her father's residence, 7 East Forty-second Street; of Miss Gurnee, daughter of Mr. Walter S. Gurnee, Jr.; Miss Mildred Carruth Dix, daughter of Mrs. Alfred P. Dix, at 822 Madison Avenue; Miss Eleanor Swayner, daughter of Gen. Wager Swayne, at the Renaissance; of Miss Lucile Weeks, daughter of Charles R. Weeks of 232 West Seventy-fifth Street; of Miss Enid Badgley Alden, daughter of Mrs. Robert P. Weir, at 37 West Thirty-third Street; of Miss Cornelia Helen Merrill, daughter of Mr. Payson Merrill of 41 East Sixty-seventh Street, and of Miss Marguerite Quackenbush, daughter of Mrs. Schuyler Quackenbush of 42 West Fifty-seventh Street.

***

To-day at Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster's reception, where her fourth and youngest daughter, Miss Ella Morris de Peyster, will make her début, those who will assist the débutante in receiving will be her sisters, the Misses de Peyster, Miss Louise Gallatin, Miss Lucy Kearny, Miss Augusta Shippen West of Philadelphia, Miss Harris, and Miss Helen Kountze. The reception will be followed by a dinner.

***

With Miss Mildred Carruth Dix, whose mother, Mrs. Alfred P. Dix, gives her a coming-out reception to-day at 822 Madison Avenue, there will also receive Miss Pratt of Boston, and the Misses Cecil Boardman, Violet Stewart, Polly Sloane, Muriel Gould, Helen Dominick, Ruth Emmons, Isabella Curtis, and Miss Jenner.

***

Mrs. Wager Swayne will give a "rose tea" this afternoon at the Hotel Renaissance, 2 West Forty-third Street, at which her daughter Miss Eleanor Swayne will be introduced. Miss Virginia Swayne, Miss Emily Trowbridge, Miss Edna Loew, Miss Helen Bulkley, Miss Lena Fanshaw, Miss Julia Edwards, and Miss Pansy Roosevelt will assist in receiving.

***

At the tea to be given this afternoon by Mrs. Robert Fulton Weir for the coming-out of her daughter, Miss Enid Badgley Alden, Mrs. Weir will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Edward La Montagne, who was Miss Weir; the Misses Tomlinson and Miss Esther Kennedy. There will be an informal dinner after the reception.

***

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid will give to-night at her residence, 451 Madison Avenue, a dinner and reception to the Commissioners who negotiated the treaty of peace with Spain and their wives. The anniversary of the signing of the peace treaty is to-morrow, and Mr. and Mrs. Reid have the entire party of Peace Commissioners as guests. They will remain with them until Monday. As Sunday will be the actual anniversary of the signing, the dinner is given to-night. The Commissioners who are stopping with the Reids are Senator Cushman K. Davis, Judge William Day, Senator George Gray, and Senator Frye. All are accompanied by their wives.

***

Mrs. John M. Bowers of 15 West Twenty-first Street gave a dinner last evening to her daughter, Miss Mary S. Bowers, who is to be married on Tuesday to Mr. Arthur Coppell. The guests consisted of the members of the bridal party.

***

A "poppy fête" was given yesterday at the Holland House under the auspices of the Daughters of the King of the Marble Collegiate Church. The young women who assisted at the tables wore white dresses with bunches of poppies in their hair. There were fortune telling, graphology, and a sale of Christmas gifts. Among those at the tables were Mrs. Joseph Waller, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Midland, Mrs. Galloway, Miss Paxton, Miss Burrill, and Mrs. Halbert Payne.

***

The Women's Auxiliary of the New York Throat, Nose, and Lung Hospital held their seventh annual fair in the grand ballroom of the Astoria yesterday afternoon and evening. There was a sale of Christmas articles. Mrs. Edward J. Bermingham is the President, and she was assisted by the Misses Bermingham, Mrs. Henry Griffen, Mrs. Allan S. Apgar, Mrs. Charles H. Parmelee, Mrs. A. M. Snedeker, Mrs. Charles E. Pell, Mrs. Hamilton V. Meeks, Mrs. J. Romaine Brown, Mrs. Henry D. Brewster, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Robert N. Disbrow, Mrs. Charles E. Haydock, Mrs. Everett L. Mathewson, Mrs. George Castegnier and the Misses Castegnier, Miss Alice Hedges, Mrs. Charles Kimball, Mrs. Robert C. Morris, and Mrs. Amelia E. Barr. Among the novelties were the original manuscript of Mrs. Barr's "Trinity Bells." This manuscript was in a hand-painted cover of pale gray watered silk, tied with yellow ribbons. The women were charmingly gowned, and the fair was a great success.

***

Dec. 21 will be the date of the private theatricals at Mrs. George Gould's at Lakewood. Lady Mary Sackville is expected to be here in time for them, and she and Mrs. Gould are to take parts. Two short plays, "The Marble Arch" and "The Twilight of the Gods," will be acted. Mr. Boyd Putnam, a professional, will impersonate the heroes. Mrs. Gould will give a large house party for the occasion and there will be many guests from the Lakewood cottages and hotels and from New York for the evening.

Governor to be Mr. Stern's Guest.

Gov. Roosevelt and Senator Thomas C. Platt will be among the guests at a dinner to be given to-night by Louis Stern at his residence, 903 Fifth Avenue. Among other guests will be Judge M. S. Isaacs, ex-Justice William N. Cohen, Judge J. A. Blanchard, Justice W. E. Werner, Lemuel E. Quigg, Gen. H. E. Tremain, Gen. Butterfield, Col. C. F. Homer, E. B. Odell, Jr., Edward Lauterbach, Louis Adler, Frank Tilford, J. H. Hoffman, S. H. Stern, Morris Phillips, and R. E. A. Dorr.

W. K. Vanderbilt Goes West.

W. K. Vanderbilt left Jersey City on his private car yesterday for Hot Springs, Ark., where he goes for the benefit of the spring water. He will return to the city in about ten days.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Commander Charles P. Howell.

Commander Charles P. Howell of the United States Navy, who was Chief Engineer on the battleship Maine at the time of its destruction in Havana Harbor, died suddenly Thursday at his home, 126 East Thirty-fourth Street. Death was due to apoplexy. Commander Howell had been stationed since last Summer at the Brooklyn Navy Yard as Chief Engineer, with the relative rank of Commander. He was born at Goshen, N. Y., fifty-one years ago, and was a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. His total naval service was twenty-seven years and five months, of which he was on sea duty seventeen years and ten months. He was attached to the Baltimore when several of her sailors were attacked in the streets of Valparaiso, Chile, several years ago. After the destruction of the Maine, Engineer Howell remained with Capt. Sigsbee in Havana until the latter left just before the outbreak of the war with Spain. He leaves a wife.

Joseph Christoffel Hoagland.

Joseph Christoffel Hoagland, president of the Royal Baking Powder Company and the New York Tartar Company, died at his residence, 27 West Fifty-first Street, yesterday afternoon. He was fifty-eight years old. His death was due to kidney trouble superinduced by a stroke of paralysis. He leaves a wife, one daughter, Miss Frances L. Hoagland, and two sons, John A. and Raymond Hoagland. Mr. Hoagland was a member of the Holland Society, Ohio Society, Union League Club, Suburban Riding and Driving Club, Law Club, Seabright Golf Club, and the Down Town Association. Mr. Hoagland was a millionaire. He founded the Royal Baking Powder Company in 1866. In 1880 he served as a Presidential Elector. Mr. Hoagland was born in Miami County, Ohio, June 19, 1841, and was educated in Troy, N. Y. He served in the war of the rebellion.

Elias M. Greene.

Elias M. Greene, an Assistant Quartermaster General during the civil war and later active in the organization of the Freedman's Bureau, died yesterday at the Colonnade Hotel from a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Greene was born in this city, in a house near Bowling Green, about seventy years ago. Gen. Nathaniel Greene of Revolutionary fame was his great-grandfather. Mr. Greene spent a year in Bowdoin College, and then went into business in this city. He volunteered in the Mexican and civil wars. At one time he was Provost Marshal of the District of Columbia. For the last twenty years Mr. Greene had made his home in this city and had been engaged in the promotion of various business enterprises. He married during his residence in Washington Miss Helen Powers, who died several years ago. He leaves no children.

Louis Straus.

Louis Straus, of the firm of Louis & Gus Straus, one of the leading clothiers of Lexington, Ky., died there last night, after a protracted illness, of Bright's disease, dropsy, and heart trouble. His estate is valued at over $500,000. Louis and Gus were the chief backers of John E. Madden, the noted race-horse man, and are said to be responsible in a large measure for his success. Louis Straus was a large owner of thoroughbreds and served as judge of various courses throughout the country. He was interested in Hamburg, Plaudit, and David Garrick, of Madden's string, and many other valuable thoroughbreds.

Obituary Notes.

Capt. BENJAMIN DOXSEE died at his home at Bay Shore, L. I., Thursday, in his eighty-sixth year. He was born near Great River. Many years ago he conducted a freight line between New York and Bay Shore, first with a sloop, and later with a schooner. He leaves a wife, a son, and a daughter.

JAMES S. WHEATON, a retired carriage-maker, died of paralysis at his home, 703 Lexington Avenue, Brooklyn, after a week's illness. Mr. Wheaton was born in Boston ninety years ago. For eighteen years he was a member of the old Volunteer Fire Department of Brooklyn. He leaves four daughters and one son.

Mrs. FRANCES DAVENPORT RHINELANDER, wife of Frederic William Rhinelander of this city, died in Washington yesterday. Mrs. Rhinelander was the daughter of the Rev. Thomas H. Skinner, who was a professor at the Union Theological Seminary. Besides her husband Mrs. Rhinelander leaves three sons—Frederic W., Jr., Thomas Baldwin, and the Rev. P. M. Rhinelander—and four daughters, two of whom are Mrs. William C. Rives of this city and Mrs. Le Roy King of Newport, R. I.

ARMY MEN'S APPEAL.

Military Service Institution's Annual Celebration and Project to Build a City Home.

The Military Service Institution, which since its organization, twenty-one years ago, with Gen. Hancock as its President, has been domiciled on Governors Island, made the occasion of its annual celebration at the Seventh Regiment Armory last night the beginning of a movement for the enlarging of its scope and the establishing of itself in a more suitable home centrally located in the city.

Gen. Miles, who is President, could not be here, and Gen. Wesley Merritt presided, among those in attendance being Gen. Francis V. Greene, Gen. Daniel Butterfield, Gen. Daniel S. Sickles, Gen. J. W. Clous, Gen. G. L. Gillespie, Gen. T. F. Rodenbough, Lieut. Col. W. H. H. Benyaurd, Col. W. H. Powell, Capt. Zalinski, Gen. C. A. Roe, Gen. Horatio C. King, Major J. G. Butler, Gen. George W. Wingate, Col. A. L. Mills, Superintendent of the Military Academy, and Admiral Erben, Whitelaw Reid, and John Bigelow.

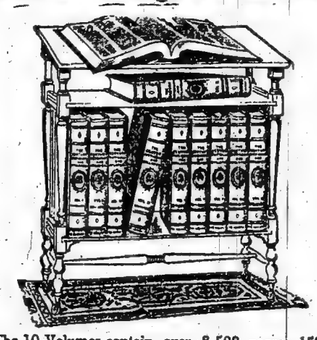
Col. Charles F. Woodruff, Purchasing Commissary of the New York depot of the army, made the principal address.

"With our increasing responsibilities," he said, "however we regard the situation, conscience, civilization, and patriotism demand that we bravely meet it. To do so will require greater preparation and broader military education among the people. The mission of this institution is to aid in preserving and disseminating such education and to encourage such preparation for war as will enable our Government to call out our great armies in time of public danger and to improve and perfect the methods by which such armies are to be rapidly brought into a state of mature strength and effective action, to the end that the rank due the United States among nations may be maintained."

"The principal object of this meeting is to convince the public-spirited citizens of New York that our achievements in the past are an earnest of our ability to fulfill this vitally important mission in the future, and that the military service institution is of public benefit and deserving of their cordial, hearty encouragement and practical support."

The Colonel said that the institution now had in its library 12,000 volumes, which, if properly housed and made accessible to the general public, would be of great value to the military student.

Short addresses were made by Gens. Greene, Plume, Sickles, and Butterfield, and by Whitelaw Reid and John Bigelow commending the project and giving assurance of support.



The 10 Volumes contain over 8,500 pages, 150,000 Encyclopedic Articles, 500,000 Encyclopedic Definitions, 300,000 Quotations, 200,000 Indexed Geographical Entries, 8,000 Superb Illustrations, 310 Maps—in colors. $1,500,000 was spent in producing the first set of 10 volumes. $5,000,000 worth, at retail, sold already in this country alone. $150,000 worth sold in England during the first 30 days of sale.

The Ideal Xmas Gift of the Year is The Century Dictionary & Cyclopedia & Atlas

About the BOOKS themselves and the new Half-Price

Six of the Reasons

Why The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas should be first on your list of Christmas purchases.

1. Because it is the most useful present you can give to your own self and every reading member of your household.

TO THE HUSBAND IN HIS BUSINESS—For it is consulted daily as the acknowledged authority on matters of trade and commerce by thousands of business men, bankers, lawyers, everybody.

TO THE WIFE IN HER HOME—with its quick, clear answers to the thousand and one questions that come up constantly.

TO THE MOTHER, with the health-cares of her children.—Your family physician owns a set with hardly a doubt, for it is the best medical work of reference ever compiled, yet losing no technical authority through its simple, easily understood explanations.

TO THE STUDENTS—All of them—the soon-to-be musicians or the porers over mathematics, the searchers in literature, past and present; the many-tongued linguists, the aspiring artists and architects—no less than the child at school whose daily lessons seem to him quite as complex as the more advanced studies of his elder brothers and sisters. For The Century is equally as perfect in its help to the college professor as to the boy at grammar school. Both use it to-day, every day—to consult its marvellous astronomical charts, its thousands of botanical engravings, its wonderful modern maps, which are histories and encyclopedias in themselves, and through all the realms of the birds and beasts and fishes.

TO THE READING FOLKS—With its clear, concise treatment of each word, giving as it does its derivation, its word-history, its differing forms in every language, ancient, medieval, and modern, (if it has lived so long,) every shade of its every meaning, and examples from the literature of all ages to show how each of the master writers used the word or its sister synonym, (there are 300,000 quotations of this sort in The Century—just ten times as many as in any other work.)

Too, its complete biographies of all the writers, old and new, with the dates of issuance of all their books or plays or poems; its countless characters from fiction, descriptions of famous places, and places that you don't think are famous but that you turn to doubtfully to its pages for. They are all there, with hardly a miss in a month of its daily using.

2. Because you can buy these volumes (a complete set) at HALF PRICE.

3. Because you can pay that half price in the easiest of monthly instalments (only 15c. a day.)

4. Because you need pay only $1.00 down, which means your Christmas money is thus left almost intact, while you have secured the most sumptuous of gifts to present, to—somebody.

5. Because if you don't put it FIRST on your list it will most likely be no Christmas gift at all, for we have only as many promised from the binders before the holidays to supply the present rate of application for the sets. These volumes are bound by the most expert handworkers. Machinery does not know such goodness. The very few leaders in this country capable of producing the standard of quality insisted upon by The Century Co., publishers of this work, have been diverted to their utmost efforts in their attempt to supply quickly enough the sets demanded for Christmas giving by the members of the Wanamaker Century Dictionary Club. It is not as though the volumes were all boxed ready for shipment. We get a few—too few—each day. Already the cloth sets are all gone.

6. Because we could go on almost indefinitely giving plain, common-sense reasons why this Christmas sale of The Century at the Wanamaker Store is the one great opportunity for you and for every one who reads or writes or thinks in our language—but you don't need any more reasons, do you? and the reading might make you late in ordering.

TO-DAY PLEASE—the coupon in the other corner—and a dollar, and—a Merry Christmas!

Cut off this Coupon, fill in the blank and mail it TO-DAY to the Wanamaker Store.

Enclosed is $1 membership fee. Reserve in my name one set of The Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia and Atlas in half morocco binding and send me illustrated booklet of specimen pages, including sample of maps, terms of purchase, etc., pending my prompt decision on receipt of same.

Name.....

Address.....

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co. JOHN WANAMAKER Broadway, Fourth Ave., Ninth & Tenth Sts., N. Y.

THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

A New Work by Mr. Van Der Stucken Produced Yesterday.

The second public rehearsal of the Philharmonic Society yesterday afternoon at Carnegie Hall was an entertainment which had more than the usual number of attractive features. There was a further opportunity to study the peculiarities of that interesting young bundle of nerves, Mark Hambourg, and that in itself was not a feature to be overlooked. Then there was the production of a large work by an American composer, one who long ago taught his countrymen to think well of him, and who was present yesterday to conduct his own music. The men whom he conducted were no strangers to him, for New York was long the scene of his activities, and this public has not now to be made acquainted with the fact that Frank van der Stucken is a pretty considerable figure in the musical activities of the United States. And finally there was a chance to hear a symphony of Mendelssohn conducted by Mr. Paur, who has a way of making the grave and reverend seniors of the Philharmonic pay as they had renewed their youth.

The programme, then, consisted of the overture to "Der Freischütz," the E flat concerto of Liszt, with Mark Hambourg at the piano; Mr. van der Stucken's symphonic prologue to Heine's tragedy of "William Ratcliffe," and Mendelssohn's Scotch symphony. This was a programme which promised a plenty of variety, and gave food for thought in the startling transition from Mr. van der Stucken's intensely modern and dramatic work to the classic purity and gentle romanticism of Mendelssohn's style. In these days, when one naturally wonders where music will tend next, these contrasts are found in suggestions, which cannot be readily dismissed within the space of a passing criticism.

Mr. van der Stucken's prologue is something more than an overture. It is a symphonic poem, embodying the moods of the drama to which it is designed as an introduction. The form of the work is strictly the result of romanticism and music. It is not a typical form. It is not one of those which the teachers of form use in illustrating principles to their classes. It is a form made to suit the succession of mood pictures which the composer wished to make. That it is clear and symmetrical shows that Mr. van der Stucken is a master of the fundamental principles of form, and not a mere copyist of accepted patterns.

One must, indeed, know the tragedy in order to get the highest satisfaction from a hearing of this work, but since the tragedy is historical, this cannot be urged as against the music. The composition is in method and feeling intensely dramatic, and the thematic material, while symphonic in its nature, has something of the character of the leading motives of the Wagnerian drama. The working out of the themes is ingenious, and the climax of the composition is reached in a most effective manner. The scoring, which employs two harps and a piano, and all the available battery, including large bells and gong, is masterly. The composition was excellently played, and was received with favor.

As might have been expected by those who have watched the doings of Mr. Hambourg, he was happy in his treatment of the Liszt concerto. This is a piece of most congenial piano writing, and, while it cannot be accused of subtlety or emotional profundity, it is melodious and brilliant, so that a pianist who has technic and abandon is not likely to fail with it. Mr. Hambourg revealed unexpected command of himself in the slow movement, and in the scherzo. The latter he played with fascinating delicacy. In the finale, however, he ran away with himself as usual, and there were many false notes. But it was a brilliant piece of piano playing, on the whole, and the audience was so enthusiastic about it that the soloist had to give an extra number.

The fathers covered themselves with glory throughout the afternoon. They played the overture of Weber in a manner truly delightful. Mr. Paur's reading of it is not unfamiliar, and the orchestra was perfectly responsive to his wishes. After the stormy music of Mr. Van der Stucken the Mendelssohn symphony came like a Summer sunset. It was so clear, so transparent, so suave, so reposeful, and so very, very pretty. This is one of the symphonies that can be played at the end of a programme without tiring the hearer. On the contrary, it rests him. And how charmingly the Philharmonic played it yesterday! The performance was all clarity and élan. It was as fresh as if the men had never played the work before, and were enjoying their first holiday in the sunny pastures of the good Felix.

Mr. Paur, good German as he is, treated Mendelssohn with as much respect as he shows to Brahms. What a comfort in these days, when it is fashionable to sneer at Mendelssohn! But there are tons of music of later date which we could spare much better than that dear old Scotch symphony.

NEW ROLE FOR WILLIAM H. CRANE.

To Appear in "David Harum" Under Charles Frohman's Management.

William H. Crane, who recently severed his relations with his former manager, has signed a contract with Charles Frohman to appear under the latter's management in a dramatization of Edward Noyes Westcott's novel, "David Harum."

When Mr. Frohman obtained the dramatic rights for this book he decided to shelve the manuscript and delay the production of the play until an important star could be had to play the title rôle. In singing Mr. Crane for this part he thinks he has an ideal actor. In perfecting this arrangement Mr. Frohman has planned that Mr. Crane will continue at the head of his own organization, and that the production of "David Harum" will be made some time during the present season, the first performance to be given in Syracuse, the late home of the author.

J. W. ALBAUGH, SR., TO RETIRE.

Veteran Actor Will Act No More After To-night's Performance.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—The drop of the curtain to-morrow night at the Lyceum Theatre will signalize the permanent retirement from the stage of John W. Albaugh, Sr., the veteran actor-manager.

Mr. Albaugh, the lessee of the Lyceum, has occasionally taken a part in the plays produced by the Lyceum stock company at the house for several seasons, this week pleasing his many friends and admirers as Shylock. He has been connected with the stage as an actor or manager for forty years, and during that period has been associated in an artistic or business way with all the prominent stars.

ACTOR ILL; DEBUT IN DOUBT.

German Comedian, Herr Schweighofer, a Victim of Coal Gas.

Manager Conried of the Irving Place Theatre, who has been making elaborate preparations for the début in this country on Christmas Day of Felix Schweighofer, a German comedian and character actor, who was to have sailed for this country Tuesday as a passenger on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, received a cablegram from his representative in Berlin yesterday setting forth that Herr Schweighofer was seriously ill, being a victim of coal gas, and under the circumstances would be unable to leave for this country as previously arranged.

Manager Conried last night said that if the reported accident to his star was true, it would prove a very serious matter to him, as the stock company has for the last two weeks been rehearsing all the plays he was to appear in.

"Furthermore," Mr. Conried declared, "the subscription of patrons, which closes to-day, is so large that Herr Schweighofer's non-appearance would be a great disappointment and a large financial loss to me. For many years various managers, including myself, have endeavored to bring Herr Schweighofer to this country, and I only succeeded in obtaining the contract last June. He has always had a superstition about crossing the Atlantic Ocean, and if his reported accident should prove false, I certainly shall hold him to his contract or cause him to forfeit a guarantee of 100,000 marks."

WOMEN IDENTIFY HORRLICH.

Policeman Brings Witnesses to Prove He Could Not Have Annoyed Mother and Daughter.

The Police Commissioners yesterday heard testimony in the case of Patrolman Henry Horrlich of the Jefferson Market Court squad, who is charged with annoying and insulting Amanda Florant and her mother of 600 Macon Street, Brooklyn, on the morning of Nov. 21.

The charges are that the patrolman was on the rear platform of a Sixth Avenue surface car when the young woman and her mother got on; that he annoyed the young woman by smiling and hissing at her; that the conductor and a man passenger remonstrated with him; that he was intoxicated, and that he followed the young woman and her mother after they had left the car to get rid of him; that they went into a store, where he pursued them and continued his annoying conduct.

Miss Florant and her mother identified Horrlich, but he produced witnesses who swore that he was in the Jefferson Market Court until noon on Nov. 21, and that he went from the court to a restaurant with friends, where he remained until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

It was before noon, the complaint against the policeman alleges, that he annoyed the young woman and her mother. Among the witnesses for Horrlich were Capt. England, Sergt. Foody of the court squad, who swore that the policeman did not leave the court until noon, the janitor of the court, and other officers of the court squad, who corroborated the janitor.

No one but the young woman and her mother would positively identify Horrlich, and the Commissioners did not announce their decision. It was admitted that a policeman annoyed the women as their annoyer displayed a badge, but they did not have any witnesses to back them up in a complete identification of the accused patrolman as the man who annoyed them.

LASHED WITH HIS OWN WHIP.

Jealous Husband Attacked Another Man and Was Worsted.

Edward Bissinger, a carpenter and contractor, with a shop at 567 Eagle Avenue, was locked up last night in the Morrisania Police Station, charged with assault by Michael Murray, a builder of racing shells. Mr. Murray recently had some trouble with his wife, who lives next to Bissinger's shop. Mrs. Murray claims that he is jealous of the contractor without cause.

She rents a part of her house, and desiring to have some repairs made, she claims, she called in the contractor last night. While he was there talking over the necessary repairs in the presence of some of her tenants, her husband rushed into the house, accompanied by several other men, and, flourishing a horsewhip, was about to thrash the contractor. The latter resisted, and the two men rolled together down a flight of steps. Bissinger got possession of the whip and struck Murray over the head, cutting a large gash.

When the police came in the supporters of Murray departed, and Mrs. Murray tried to protect the contractor from arrest, but could not convince the police that her husband was responsible for the trouble. The tenants in the house took the wife's part. Both men are said to be wealthy.

Gold Spectacles and Eyeglasses, Gold Silver and Shell Lorgnettes, Aneroid Barometers, Fancy Thermometers, Opera and Field Glasses.

E. & J. Meyrowitz

TWO STORES
104 EAST 23D ST. One door east of 4th Ave
125 WEST 42D ST. Bet. B'way and 6th Ave.

WIGS

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

The proper construction of a wig, so that it may be stylish and absolutely proof against detection, is a science that few have mastered. Our wigs are absolute perfection in fit and finish. We never permit work to leave our establishment unless thoroughly satisfactory to our patrons and perfect in every detail in our expert opinion.

Hair Dyes and Hair Tonics.

L. SHAW

LARGEST HAIR STORE IN THE WORLD.
54 W. 14th St., Next to Macy's, N. Y.

BASTINE'S

Absolutely Pure and Full Weight.

FLAVORING EXTRACTS

Highest Grade Made. Ask Your Grocer.

Enameled Steel Cooking Utensils, durable, guaranteed to be absolutely free from poisonous composition, and perfectly safe for use.

LEWIS & CONGER,

130 AND 132 WEST 42D ST.

"BUY CHINA & GLASS RIGHT"

HIGGINS & SEITER,

FINE CHINA-RICH CUT GLASS

ALL PRICES THE LOWEST. 48 & 50-54 West 22d St. WEDDING GIFTS A SPECIALTY

RAMAPO INJUNCTIONS OFF

Justice Gildersleeve Denies Applications for Permanent Restraint.

SEES NO PROOF OF FRAUD

Holds as Unsupported Allegations of Conspiracy Against City and Corrupt Political Combination.

Justice Gildersleeve, in the Supreme Court, yesterday handed down two decisions denying the applications to continue the temporary injunctions which have been restraining the Board of Public Improvements from passing upon the contract with the Ramapo Water Company.

The suits were brought by Charles E. Keator, a taxpayer, and by the Press Publishing Company, as a taxpayer. Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson were counsel for the Ramapo Company; Bowers & Sands appeared for the Press Publishing Company; Delos McCurdy was counsel for Keator, who brought the suit on behalf of Controller Coler.

Justice Gildersleeve, in his decision in the first case, says that it appears to be conceded that neither the Municipal Assembly nor the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has yet acted upon the contract. The claim of the defendants that there has been a great scarcity of water to meet the demands of this large city is fully supported by the evidence. This is especially true of the Boroughs of Kings, Queens, and Richmond.

The Justice says that this condition of things has existed for years, and that there is evidence of the defects of the present system as far back as 1883.

The decision then deals with the steps taken by Commissioner Dalton to secure an additional water supply, and the adoption, on Aug. 30, by the Board of Public Improvements, of the resolution that it was not in the public interest or necessary for the city to enter into a contract with a private corporation for its water supply. The Justice says:

"The allegation that promoters and persons interested in the Ramapo Water Company and certain persons in the City of New York have confederated and conspired to cheat and defraud the city by means of the proposed contract is made upon information and belief. I am unable to find in the moving papers a particle of evidence disclosing the source of the information or grounds of belief.

"The plaintiff, if he knew, very carefully concealed the names of the persons who, he says, are promoters of and interested in the Ramapo Water Company. He is equally silent as to the names of the persons in the City of New York whom he charges with confederating and conspiring with said promoters to cheat and defraud the city. In the large volume of papers handed up there is absolutely no evidence to support this charge. The facts constituting the fraud, the acts done in pursuance of the conspiracy, and the names of the conspirators are all left to surmise and conjecture. Such a form of allegation is entirely insufficient and useless and may well be disregarded.

"Assuming that it appears in the papers before me that, had the Board of Public Improvements approved of the proposed contract, the Commissioner of Water Supply would have executed it, no case for injunctive relief is here made out, for the reason that it is not shown that any injury to or waste of the city's assets would be imminent.

"There is no evidence to sustain the assertion that Commissioner Dalton intended to procure, or now contemplates procuring, an additional water supply otherwise than in accordance with the law.

"The allegations of the complaint that the contract is a wasteful one is not the statement of a fact. No facts are stated showing ground for apprehension of future injury. The contract is before the Court, and a careful perusal shows it to be quite harmless. It is a simple one. By its terms the Ramapo Water Company is to supply water, provided the city needs it. If the city does not need the water it need not take it.

"Again, should the Commissioner of Water Supply and the Board of Public Improvements do what this action is brought to prevent in respect to the contract, no injury to the city's estate is imminent.

"The Controller's indorsement can alone give validity and effect to the contract. The Controller states in his affidavit that this indorsement 'has not and will not be made upon the contract.'

"Furthermore, there is no evidence to support the claim that any of the administrative officers of the city, defendants herein, are attempting the commission of an illegal act."

Justice Gildersleeve, in denying the application of the Press Publishing Company for a continuance of the preliminary injunction obtained by that corporation, goes over the same grounds as in the first case, but points out that the plaintiff claims that the attempt to grant the Ramapo Company the proposed contract "is the result of a fraudulent political combination, in violation of law and of the plaintiff's rights as a citizen and taxpayer," and that the present supply of water is adequate.

Justice Gildersleeve says: "The allegation, upon information and belief, that the proposed contract 'is the result of fraudulent political combination,' is unsupported by any averment of the source of the information, or the grounds of the belief. None of the affidavits before me contains any evidence tending to establish the truth of this allegation, and it may, therefore, be dismissed without further comment."

The allegation of the plaintiff that it is an illegal act for the Board of Public Improvements to authorize Commissioner Dalton to execute the proposed contract before it has been approved by the Municipal Assembly is then dealt with, as is also the claim that the Mayor has a veto power. The Justice says he thinks this is substantially the correct view.

"My understanding of the foregoing provisions," Justice Gildersleeve says, "leads me to conclude that the administrative officers and administrative departments of the municipality of the City of New York have not the power to acquire a supply of water and furnish it to the inhabitants, without authority, conferred by previous legislative enactment for that purpose, by the Municipal Assembly."

Justice Gildersleeve says the principal grievance of the plaintiff is the alleged presumption of the Board of Public Improvements to authorize the Commissioners of Water Supply to execute the contract, and the declared or apparent intention of Commissioner Dalton to execute the same. He deals with this question at considerable length, and says:

"It cannot be said that the execution of the contract was at any time imminent. Certainly there is no proof to support the claim that an execution of the contract is being undertaken by the defendants, without due regard to the provisions of the charter, and in violation of law. It cannot, therefore, be held that a legal fraud is attempted."

MR. COLER OFFERS AID.

Addresses Merchants' Association—Simon Sterne on Ramapo Decisions.

The committee of the Merchants' Association which is preparing to thoroughly investigate the water supply conditions surrounding New York held a meeting yesterday, and was addressed by Controller Coler and Simon Sterne.

The Sub-Committee on Engineering suggested certain names in addition to that of James R. Croes for retention as experts, and recommended that they be employed. The committee also stated that it had received proffers of assistance from several quarters, including J. W. Birdsall, Chief Engineer of the Water Supply Department, and Silas B. Dutcher, President of the Ramapo Water Company.

Mr. Coler, in the course of his address, said:

"I will be glad to give you all the assistance within my power, and to furnish you all the data in my department. Mr. John R. Freeman, one of the most eminent engineers of this country, was recommended to me by Mr. Moore, President of the Continental Fire Insurance Company. Mr. Freeman is examining into the water question very exhaustively. He is taking all the levels and measures around the whole system of the water supply of this city. His report, which will be ready in four to six weeks, will be placed at your disposal."

After Mr. Coler had finished, Simon Sterne of the committee said of Justice Gildersleeve's decisions, handed down yesterday, dissolving Ramapo injunctions:

"Justice Gildersleeve adopts, most unfortunately, I think, the view of the contract which Mr. Lauterbach so strenuously contended for before the Mazet committee, that it was a mere option given to the city; that the city could take the water if it saw fit; and that it was a one-sided contract, with the favorable side in the hands of the City of New York.

"The decision does give judicial sanction to the view, which is an important judicial sanction, that the contract cannot be put in force by the action of the Board of Public Improvements alone, and the executive action, in the way of signing the contract, on the part of the Water Commissioner.

"Even though the other injunction in Brooklyn should be dissolved, there is a great protection owing to the existence of the committee of the Merchants' Association, and we are now, through this committee and the work it will do, in a very much better position than we were ever before."

TO EXTEND WATER SUPPLY.

Commissioner Dalton Asks for $10,000,000—Brooklyn's Serious Shortage.

Commissioner Dalton of the Department of Water Supply will soon make application to the Board of Estimate for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to extend and repair water works already in existence and to construct new works. The larger part of the money will be expended in Brooklyn, where, according to Deputy Commissioner Moffett, there is already a serious shortage, consequent upon the light rainfall of the last few months.

According to plans and estimates prepared by Chief Engineer Birdsall of the Department of Water Supply, the money, if appropriated, will be used for the following purposes: The construction of a new pumping station east of the Milburn reservoir, the laying of new mains and the building of storage reservoirs and a distributing reservoir at Forest Hill Park, in Brooklyn; the addition of several pumping engines to the plant at the One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street station, in Manhattan; the construction of a new pumping station at the Jerome Park reservoir, and the laying of large mains from that work, in the Bronx; new mains and improving the pumping stations and the digging of more wells in the Borough of Queens, and similar improvements in the service in the Borough of Richmond.

Much of the work has been begun, but the pumping station near the Milburn reservoir is new.

NUTLEY POSTMASTER ACCUSED

Letters and Other Mail Matter Alleged to Have Been Found in His Cellar—His Statement.

Special to The New York Times.

NUTLEY, N. J., Dec. 8.—Under the heading "Big Post Office Scandal," the Essex County News, a local newspaper, published to-day an article containing serious charges of carelessness and negligence against Leonard Rusby, Postmaster of Nutley. The article alleges that a short time ago, when the Postmaster moved from one house to another, he employed a young man to clean out the cellar of the residence he was leaving, and told him to burn all the papers and other rubbish he might find. Continuing, the article says:

The young man, thus detailed, proceeded with his work. But he was surprised to find a number of things that were very much like unopened mail matter. He investigated things, and found letters, books, and packages, all addressed to people whom they had never reached. One package was for W. R. Wright, the Principal of Franklin schools. Instead of burning what he had discovered, he saved it all, and turned it over to other responsible citizens, who immediately attempted to unravel the mystery.

It was learned to-day that the mail matter found in the cellar finally reached the hands of Parker Norton, editor and proprietor of The Essex County News, who turned it over to his attorneys, Clymer and Johnson of Newark. George E. Clymer, senior member of that firm, said in regard to the matter:

"I received yesterday the mail said to have been found in Postmaster Rusby's cellar, and turned it over to-day to Post Office Inspector Snow, whose headquarters are in Jersey City. I suppose that the matter now will take the usual course of investigation, and have no means of knowing what action the authorities will adopt. The matter which I delivered to the Inspector consisted of about twenty letters, ten or fifteen newspapers, and half a dozen or more catalogues and advertising pamphlets, together with one package addressed to Mr. Wright, the School Principal."

Parker Norton, who is responsible for the publication of the charges, has resided for about two years in Nutley, where he runs a drug store in connection with his editorial duties. He has taken quite an active part in Republican politics, and was opposed to the appointment of Mr. Rusby as Postmaster. The appointment was made last February, and Mr. Rusby took charge of the office April 1. Two communities which are practically separate villages are served by the Post Office, and some time ago Mr. Rusby suddenly moved the office from Nutley proper, where Mr. Norton's drug store and editorial office are located, to the other part of the town. The people awoke one morning and found the office established in the new place, and there was considerable indignation.

Postmaster Rusby, when seen this evening, said that he had heard of the attack upon him in Mr. Norton's paper, but had not had time to read it. He declared that he was still in full possession of the office, and that Inspector Snow had not yet communicated with him in regard to the charges. After reading the published article Mr. Rusby said:

"It is quite possible that there may have been some second-class mail found in the cellar. Often when people move away they tell me not to forward such mail, but to destroy it, and when it accumulates in the office I sometimes take it home to dispose of it. But I am sure that no letters were found. I was Postmaster once before, sixteen years ago, and neither then nor during my present term has any fault been found by the patrons of the office, as far as I know. I certainly know enough not to destroy letters, or withhold them from delivery, and the charge that I have done so is ridiculous. I have been unfortunate in business, and have some political enemies, but I don't think anybody here will believe these charges.

"No, I shall not sue Mr. Norton for libel. I haven't any money to waste in lawsuits, and I don't care enough about what he says to pay any attention to it."

J. D. Donaldson, station agent of the Erie Railroad, who was a candidate against Mr. Rusby for appointment as Postmaster, spoke kindly of his successful competitor when interviewed in regard to the charges. "Some people are down on Rusby," he said, "because he moved the office, but I never heard any other complaint against him. I think most people would believe him sooner than the young fellow who is said to have found the letters. That fellow used to work for Rusby, and now he works for Norton."

Inspector Snow of the Post Office Department was seen at Jersey City yesterday. He said that he did not go to Nutley yesterday, because a more important matter delayed him until too late. As to what will be done in the case of Postmaster Rusby, he cannot say until he has completed his investigation.

ARRESTS MEANT FOR A LESSON.

Prisoners Reluctantly Obeyed Magistrate Flammer's Order to Move.

As Magistrate Flammer was leaving the Harlem Police Court Thursday evening he saw two boys fighting on the pavement. He ordered a group of men who were watching them to move on. Stephen Murphy and Owen Meehan, employes of a Third Avenue dry goods store, moved off slowly, the former mumbling something which the magistrate did not hear distinctly.

By his order a policeman arrested the two men, and, returning to the court, the magistrate reopened it and made out papers and committed the prisoners to the jail.

When they were arraigned before him yesterday Meehan was discharged and Murphy was fined $5. His employer, who was present, declared the magistrate's act that of a Czar, not a judge.

The clerk of the court, knowing the prisoner's employer and not having change for the $20 bill which he offered in payment of Murphy's fine, told him to send the $5 to the court. Magistrate Flammer, however, called the men back and made change from his own pocket. He said that he wished to give the men a lesson.

It is said to be the first time in the history of the police courts that court has been reopened to sign a commitment paper.

New Morrisania Police Court Clerk.

At a meeting of the City Magistrates, held in the West Fifty-fourth Street Court Building last night, Moses McKee of 2,284 Seventh Avenue, was appointed Chief Clerk of the Morrisania Police Court to fill the vacancy caused by the dismissal of Eugene H. Healey.

Old-Time Minstrel Passes Away.

John Herman Simonson, seventy years old, who was at one time a member of Hooley's Minstrels, singing under the name of John Herman, died at his home in Union Course, Queens Borough, on Thursday. He was born in Brooklyn. For several years he had lived in retirement. He leaves a son.

RELIGIOUS NEWS AND VIEWS

Criticism of Protestant Missionary Methods in Puerto Rico.

NATIVES BEWILDERED BY ISMS

Frank L. Smith Says that the Only Way to Get a Foothold There Is by Educating the Children.

Frank L. Smith, for more than a year Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at San Juan, and just returned from there, said yesterday, in speaking upon Puerto Rican conditions, that the Protestant missionary bodies are making a mistake in their methods of entering that island.

"San Juan and Ponce," he said, "are already overcrunched. The Puerto Rican, brought up with no knowledge that there is anything else than the Roman Catholic Church, is unable to understand the isms of Protestant sects. Just now the people down there are bewildered with a multitude of religions. The different theories of this and that body mix the poor folks there all up, and in the general maze of religious teaching, there is danger of driving the people away from everything.

"What ought to be done, and that without a moment's delay, is to get these different denominations together, agree upon a policy, and then present to these people a Church of Jesus Christ and Him crucified. Unless this is done, and done quickly, I cannot say what the outcome may be. But the difficulties of doing this are great, probably insurmountable. Different denominations here have probably not reached the point where they can bring themselves to a course so liberal. Just now some progress is being made by the various religious attempts there, but it is a progress largely possible because of poverty.

"The only way that Protestantism will ever get a foothold in Puerto Rico, in my judgment, is through the education of the children. Grown people, who leave the Church of Rome, will go nowhere for any length of time, and unless we present something better than our isms they will not, I fear, long permit their children to come to our churches."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Notes on the International Series Selection for Dec. 17.

Copyright, 1899, by John R. Whitney.

SUBJECT.—Fruits of Right and Wrong Doing. Malachi, iii., 13, to iv., 6.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. Galatians, vi., 7.

The prophecy of Malachi looks both backward and forward. In the one direction it gives us the final results of God's dealings with man for about 4,000 years. It thus closes the "Dispensation of the Law" as it is revealed in the Old Testament. In the other direction it foresees—some 400 years distant—the beginning of the "Dispensation of the Gospel" as it is revealed in the New Testament. In this lesson we have to deal with these results and with this promise.

The record of these more than 4,000 years, in which God has dealt in various ways with His people under "The Law," is a very sad one. All through that long period they had been instructed and admonished by patriarchs, priests, and prophets, and now at the end of it this last of the prophets sees them no better than at the beginning. They are rather worse. The result shows the inherent weakness of man. He cannot keep God's law.

In the beginning he stood before God as an individual. All future generations were to be represented in him, to stand or fall in their relation to God, as he stood or fell. Mankind could not have had a better representative, or one placed in more favorable conditions. He was created in the image of God, and inbreathed with His Spirit. He had no hereditary bias to sin, and no evil companions of his kind to tempt him to sin. Day by day he walked with God. But he was under law. That law contained but a single commandment. Implicit and continuous obedience, however, to that commandment was required. Then penalty for disobedience was separation from God in his daily life, and in the end, eternal death, or separation from Him forever.

In this condition he was tempted by Satan, and was "beguiled." In his fall, "by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin," and so "by the offense of one, judgment came upon all men to condemnation." (Romans, v., 12, 17.) "Adam lived an hundred and thirty years," but time did not change his character. He was a sinner—cast out of Eden and separated from God—to the day of his death, and his children were begotten "in his own likeness, after his image," and not after the image of God. (Genesis, v., 3.) In the end "God saw that the wickedness of man was great upon the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." (Genesis vi., 5.) So that whole generation was swept away by a flood.

FAMILY AND NATION CHOSEN.

Then a family was chosen. It was the family of Noah, who "was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God" (Genesis, vi., 9.) But Noah's children were no better than those of Adam, for Noah himself was a child of Adam. When the flood subsided they peopled the earth, "and the whole earth was of one language and of one speech." (Genesis xi., 1.) Then they rebelled against God, and thought that they could so build that He could never again overthrow them. So "the Lord scattered them abroad upon the face of all the earth" (Genesis xi., 8.) as the wind scatters chaff, and they could not even hold communion with each other.

Then in Abraham a nation was chosen. He was "the Friend of God," (James ii., 23.) and his children, were to be God's "peculiar people," (Deuteronomy xiv., 2.) kept separate from all other nations. With them a covenant was made, special and significant religious services were appointed, a law given, and an inheritance in "a land that floweth with milk and honey." (Joshua, v., 6.) But even all of these gracious provisions of God were not sufficient, "for their heart was not right with Him, neither were they steadfast in His covenant." They "dealt unfaithfully, like their fathers." (Psalms lxxviii., 37; lvii., 58.)

Therefore they were punished by a long captivity in Babylon until they learned to abhor their idols. Then they were restored to their own land. They rebuilt the Temple, which had been destroyed, and again they entered into covenant to be God's faithful children. But they soon became satisfied with their own righteousness, and "forgat God their Saviour." They judged one another after the judgment of men, and not according to the law of God. In fact, they became so blind that they could not even see that they had separated themselves from Him. So now this last of the prophets comes to them with this last word of rebuke and warning.—(iii., 13-15.)

The record of history thus shows that man, under "The Law," had every opportunity given him, every advantage of position and surroundings, and ample time for development, and yet he was never able to conquer sin in himself, or in any way make himself better in the sight of God. Neither the individual, nor the family, nor the nation, kept "The Law."

Thus "The Commandment," which was "holy, and just, and good." (Romans, vii., 12.) had no power to control conduct or to form character acceptable to God. Under it men became either more and more corrupt, or more and more self-righteous. It rested upon the argument of obligation—that men ought to do this or that. This has always commended itself to the natural man, as the strongest motive to right conduct, and it has always proved the weakest. For all men have, in a great measure, a natural perception of what they ought to do or to leave undone, but every man can say with St. Paul, "how to perform that which is good, I find not." (Romans, vii., 18.)

DR. CHALMERS'S EXPERIMENT.

The celebrated Dr. Thomas Chalmers says in an "Address to the inhabitants of the Parish of Kilmany," published in 1815: "I can but record the effect of an actual, though undersigned, experiment which I prosecuted for upward of twelve years among you. For the greater part of that time I could expatiate on the meanness of dishonesty, on the villainy of falsehood, on the despicable arts of calumny, in a word, upon all those deformities of character which awaked the natural indignation of the human heart against the pests and the disturbers of human society. I certainly did press the reformations of honor and truth and integrity among the people; but I never once heard of any such reformations having been effected among them. I am not sensible that all the vehemence with which I urged the virtues and the proprieties of social life had the weight of a feather on the moral habits of my parishioners. It was not until I got impressed by the utter alienation of the heart, in all its desires and affections from God; it was not till I took the Scriptural way of laying the method of reconciliation before them; it was not till the free offer of forgiveness through the blood of Christ was urged upon their acceptance, and the Holy Spirit given through the channel of Christ's mediatorship to all who ask Him was set before them as the unceasing object of their dependence and their prayers, that I ever heard of any of those subordinate reformations which I aforetime made the earnest and the zealous, but I am afraid at the same time the ultimate object of my earlier ministrations."

So in all of the more than four thousand years—the record of which is closed by the prophet Malachi—in not a single instance was there ever found an individual who loved God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself. Upon each and every one was written Belshazzar's sentence of condemnation, "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin—Thou art weighed in the balances and art found wanting." (Daniel v., 25-27.)

But now the prophet turns from this sad scene of continual failure and gives us a glimpse into a glorious future. It is a foresight of "The Gospel of Dispensation," a dispensation which does not rest upon the argument of obligation, but upon the constraining power of love; whose basis is not "Do," but "Done."

In the midst of the degeneracy which he reproves, the prophet sees some "that feared the Lord and that thought upon His name," (iii., 16.) They have been found in every age. Their great characteristics are not what they do, but what they are. They fear God. They think of Him. They speak to one another of Him. They are not so much concerned about their standing among men as about their standing with God. "And the Lord harkened and heard" what they said. He knew what they thought and why they feared, "and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord and that thought upon His name. And they shall be Mine, saith the Lord of Hosts, in that day when I make up My jewels; and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked—between him that serveth God and him that serveth Him not." (iii., 16-18.)

And all this would be done, he says, "for"—or because—"the day cometh," (iv., 1,) because a new era, or dispensation, is to be inaugurated. It is called "the great and dreadful day of the Lord," (iv., 5)—the day "that shall burn as an oven—and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be as stubble—and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of Hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch." (iv., 1.)

In that day a new way would be opened by which men could find acceptance with God. It would be a very narrow way, but it would be broad enough for all who fear God to walk therein. It would not abrogate in any degree "the law of Moses," which God "commanded unto him in Horeb, for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments." On the contrary, God Himself says: "Remember ye the law of Moses, My servant." (iv., 4.) But it would provide a new way of satisfying that law, even by God's own Son. For "behold, the Lord whom ye seek shall suddenly come to His temple, even the messenger of the covenant whom ye delight in; behold, He shall come, saith the Lord of Hosts." (iii., 1.) He is to be the great Separator of men, for in that day they will be judged by their relation to Him, and there will be no other name under heaven given among men whereby they must be saved. (Acts iv., 12.) That relationship will mark the difference "between the righteous and the wicked," (iii., 18,) "for He is like a refiner's fire and like fuller's soap—and He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver," (iii., 2-3)—whose fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly purge His floor and gather His wheat into the garner, but He will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire." (Matthew iii., 12.)

THE DAY OF GOD'S GRACE.

To all who are trusting in themselves, therefore, this day of God's grace will bring no joy or gladness, "but unto you that fear My name," God Himself says, "shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings—and ye shall go forth and gambol as calves of the stall." And not only so, but to all such, victory over sin is assured. "Ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet, in the day that I do make, saith the Lord of hosts." (iv., 2-3, R. V.)

To all others, however, when this "great and notable day of the Lord" (Acts ii, 20) shall close, the vision of John in Patmos will be fulfilled—they "hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains, and said to the mountains and rocks—Fall on us, and hide us from the face of Him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb. For the great day of His wrath is come—and who shall be able to stand?" (Rev. vi., 15-17.) Or, as the prophet states it, "Who may abide the day of His coming? and who shall stand when He appeareth?" (iii., 2.)

To inaugurate this day of grace, God says, "Behold, I will send My messenger, and he shall prepare the way before Me." (iii., 1.) "I will send you Elijah, the prophet, before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord." (iv., 5-6.)

Four hundred years later this prophecy was fulfilled in the birth of John the Baptist. Then his father, Zacharias, "filled with the Holy Ghost, prophesied, saying: Thou, child, shalt be called the Prophet of the Highest, for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways." (Luke, i., 67-79.) He was not "the Sun of Righteousness," but was sent to bear witness of that "Light," (John, i., 8,) that Light which, having "healing in His wings," is "the Life of the world." (John vi., 51.)

Then came Jesus of Nazareth. Standing in the synagogue of Nazareth He said: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord." And He added, "This day is the Scripture fulfilled in your ears." (Luke iv., 18-21.)

So "what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God, sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh that the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit." (Romans viii., 3-4.) Thus "The Law" gave way to "The Gospel." The one could give no peace, and its record closes with the warning, "Lest I come and smite the earth with a curse." (iv., 6.) The other gives peace, and its record closes with the benediction, "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen." (Rev. xxii., 21.)

Bryn Mawr, Penn.

QUESTIONS ON THE LESSON.

To what characteristic of the prophecy of Malachi is attention called, and with what have we to do in this lesson?

What does the history of more than four thousand years under "the law" show?

How did man stand in the beginning before God, and what was the result?

What family was then chosen, and what was the result?

What is said of the nation chosen in Abraham, and what was the result?

What does the record of history thus show, and what is the explanation?

How is this illustrated in the case of Dr. Thomas Chalmers?

How is it illustrated in the history closed by Malachi, to what does he now turn, and on what does it rest?

What is said of those "that feared the Lord," and why would they be blessed?

What is said of the new way to be opened for men to find acceptance with God?

What is said of those who trust in themselves and are not found in this new way?

How would this new way be inaugurated, and how was the promise fulfilled?

In conclusion, how is "The Law" and "The Gospel" contrasted?

Talk on "The Christ of Theology."

"The Christ of Theology" will be the subject of the Rev. Julian K. Smyth's sermon at the vesper services in the Church of the New Jerusalem, East Thirty-fifth Street, near Park Avenue, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. During the service there will be sung "It Is Enough," from "Elijah," and Stainer's "What Are These?" At the regular morning service Mr. Smyth preaches on "Oshea: Joshua; or, The Double Power of Salvation."

To Protect Telephone Cash Boxes.

Because of the frequent thefts from the cash boxes of the automatic telephones of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company the company has decided to equip all such boxes with alarm gongs. The gong will be placed in the store or room in which the telephone is located, and will ring violently when the cash box is taken from its place.

MUNICIPAL COURT UPHELD.

Has Jurisdiction of a Defendant in Any Part of the City.

The question whether the municipal court of the City of New York, in any of the municipal districts of the greater city, since the consolidation, has jurisdiction of a defendant residing in any portion of the greater city, has finally been unequivocally decided in the affirmative by the Appellate Division of the First Department.

The decision of the Appellate Division was in the case of the Philip Semmer Glass Company against the Nassau Show Case Company, tried in the First Municipal Court. The sole defense was the fact that the defendant was a domestic corporation having its place of business in the Borough of Brooklyn, in the County of Kings. The Appellate Term reversed a judgment given for the plaintiff by Justice Wauhope Lynn, upon the ground that the court's jurisdiction did not extend beyond New York County. The Appellate Division now reverses the Appellate Term and affirms the judgment of the municipal court.

DAVID BARRIE, LIFE SAVER.

Rescues Child and His Yacht Columbia in the Park.

David Barrie, the personal representative of Sir Thomas Lipton in America, has recently developed into a life saver. Last Wednesday afternoon Mr. Barrie and George Kreiger, his private secretary, were strolling through Central Park. When in the vicinity of Conservatory Pond, near the East Seventy-ninth Street entrance, where the younger generation sail their model yachts, Mr. Barrie was startled by a scream and turned in time to see Alfred Dunn, a boy of eight years, floundering in the shallow water and his toy boat sailing merrily just beyond his reach. Mr. Barrie at once jumped to the rescue, fished the boy out of the water, and sent him home in a cab, while Mr. Kreiger captured the boat and placed it alongside the much-bedraggled owner.

"What is the name of your boat, my boy?" asked Mr. Barrie, as the boy grasped his prize.

"Columbia," lisped Alfred, "just the same as the one that beat the Shamrock."

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH, (UNITARIAN,) 4TH Avenue and 20th Street.—Sunday school, 10 A. M. The pastor, Rev. Thomas R. Slicer, will preach at 11 A. M. The public cordially invited.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH, MADISON AVENUE and 66th Street.—Service 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Rev. R. Heber Newton will preach in the morning.

ARCHANGEL, CHURCH OF THE, REV. George S. Pratt, Rector.—Services in crypt of the cathedral at 11, morning prayer, litany, and sermon.

AT BRIGHT GOSPEL MEETING, 4 O'CLOCK Sunday Afternoon, Jane St. Church, East of 8th Av., below 13th St.—Rev. J. D. Bush will speak, Mme. Flavelle sing, Mr. Radcliffe lead. Come.

At Church of the Strangers,

57th St., near 8th Av. Rev. D. Asa Blackburn, pastor, preaches to-morrow. Subjects: At 11 A. M.—"Discouraged on Every Side." At 7:45 P. M.—"Failures of Great Men." Strangers cordially invited.

AT LENOX AV. UNITARIAN CHURCH, COR. 121st St.—Rev. Merle St. C. Wright, pastor, will preach at 11; subject: "The Problem of Evil," (continued.) Sunday school, 9:45 A. M.

AT METROPOLITAN TEMPLE, 7TH AV. & 14th Street.—Dr. Cadman will preach morning and evening. Choir will sing morning. Meetings every night. Prayer conference and experience Wednesday night. Strangers in city and all welcome.

AT REFORMED CATHOLIC SERVICES IN Christ's Mission, 142 West 21st St.—Evening, 7:45; Rev. James A. O'Connor, pastor, preaches; subject: "Why Protestants Become Roman Catholics—Dr. De Costa's Case—Work of the Jesuits."

AT SOUTH CHURCH, MAD. AV. & 38TH ST., Rev. Roderick Terry, D. D., Pastor.—Services at 11 A. M. and 4 P. M.; the pastor will preach.

AT THE CHURCH OF THE DIVINE PATERnity, Central Park West and 76th St.—Charles H. Eaton, D. D., pastor, will preach at 11, "What Is a Christian Church?" and at 7:45 P. M., special musical service, "American Church Music," with brief address by pastor, "America and the Religious Life."

BAPTIST CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY, Madison Av. and 64th St., Rev. Howard L. Jones, Pastor.—Services, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

BLOOMINGDALE CHURCH, BROADWAY, 68th.—Madison C. Peters preaches, 11, "Napkins." 8, "Deborah: The Ancient Forerunner of the Modern New Woman." All cordially invited.

BRICK CHURCH, Fifth Avenue and 37th Street, Henry van Dyke, Pastor. Services Sunday, December 10th: Dr. van Dyke will preach at 11 A. M. Rev. James M. Farr, Jr., at 4:30 P. M. Sunday school, 9:45 A. M. Young Men's Bible Class, 10 A. M. At 8 P. M., Special Service for Students and their friends, By request of the Students' Club. Dr. van Dyke will preach. All seats free. Weekly evening service Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

BROADWAY TABERNACLE CHURCH, Corner Broadway and 34th St. Regular services at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. The Pastor, Rev. Chas. E. Jefferson, D. D., will preach morning and evening; at 4 P. M., Song Service; at 3 P. M., Bible Class conducted by Wm. H. Thomson, M. D.; prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8.

CALVARY CHURCH, 4TH AV. AND 21ST ST., Rev. J. Lewis Parks, S. T. D., Rector.—Holy communion, 8 and 10 A. M.; morning prayer, sermon, and holy communion, 11 A. M.; evening prayer, 5 P. M.; choral service and sermon, 8 P. M. Rev. C. C. Tiffany, D. D., Archdeacon of New York, will preach in the morning; the rector in the evening.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, 230 Amsterdam Av., Between 70th and 71st Sts. Rev. William Lloyd preaches; morning: "The Mystery of Suffering"; evening: "Tennyson's Idylls of the King."

CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN.—DEDIcation octave. Masses for communion, 7:30, 8:15, 9. Solemn mass and sermon, (Rev. Father Huntington, O. H. C.,) 10:45; solemn vespers, 4; services and sermon, (rector,) 8.

CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION, Fifth Av. and 10th St. Rev. Percy S. Grant, Rector. Rev. Lester Bradner, Jr., officiating. Morning service, 11 A. M. Children's service, 3 P. M. Musical service, 8 P. M. Anthem, "See, the Conquering Hero Comes"..... Haendel Offertory, "Advent Hymn"..... Schumann Sittings in this church are free.

CHURCH OF THE ETERNAL HOPE, 81st St., Between Columbus and Amsterdam Avs. Dr. Crowe preaches, 11 A. M. "Why We Buried Our Creed." Lecture on "Episcopalians," 8 P. M.

CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST, FIFTH Av., above 45th St., Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Rector.—8 A. M., holy communion; 11 A. M., litany and holy communion; sermon by the rector; 4 P. M., evening prayers; sermon by the Rev. John Williams.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, 28TH Street and 9th Avenue, Rev. B. E. Backus, D. D., Rector.—Morning service, 10:45. Choral evensong, 7:45. Rev. Arthur H. Judge will preach. Special music.

CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH, 34TH ST., COR. Park Av.—Services, 11 A. M. Dr. Minot J. Savage will preach. Subject: "Who Are Christians?" Sunday school, 10 o'clock, in chapel; entrance, Park Av.

CHURCH OF THE NEW JERUSALEM, EAST 35th St., Between Park and Lexington Avs., the Rev. JULIAN K. SMYTH, PASTOR.—Sunday school, 9:45 A. M. Church service, with sermon, 11 A. M. The pastor will preach on "Oshea: Joshua; or, The Double Power of Salvation." Vesper services at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor, on "The Christ of Theology," being the second of a series of Advent sermons on "The Christ of Yesterday and To-day."

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, WEST 57th St., Between Broadway and 7th Av.; Rev. Wilton Merle Smith, D. D., Pastor.—Preaching to-morrow at 11 A. M. and at 8 P. M. by the Rev. G. L. Curtis of Baltimore; Sabbath school at 3 P. M. Christian Endeavor Monday at 8; devotional meeting Wednesday at 8.

COME AND SING

Every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the SONG SERVICE in the BROADWAY TABERNACLE, 34th Street and Broadway. Cecilia Bradford Trio. Address by Rev. Thos. C. Hall, D. D.

COUNTESS SCHIMMELMANN.

Carnegie Hall, to-morrow, 2:30. Soloists, Dr. Carl E. Dufft, Harper C. Smythe. Everybody welcome.

DR. R. S. MACARTHUR

preaches in Calvary Baptist Church, West 57th St., near 6th Av. Services, 11 and 8.

EVANGELIST E. E. FRANKE.

Chickering Hall, 5th Av. and 18th St. Sunday evening, 8 o'clock, subject:

Christ's Marching Orders to the Church

Questions answered. Admission free.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF the Advent, 2,307 Broadway, above 83d St., Rev. G. F. Krotel, D. D., Pastor.—Service, 11 A. M. Sunday school, 9:30 A. M.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST. REV. B. Q. DENHAM, First Church, 322 W. 56th St. Sunday, 10:45 A. M., 8 P. M. Seats free. Installation of pastor, Monday, at 8. You are invited.

EGLISE DU SAINT-ESPRIT, 30, 22e. RUE ouest.—Services religieux le diamache a 10h. ½ du matin et a 8h. du soir. Rev. Witimeyer, Recteur.

FIFTH AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, 6 WEST 46th St., Rev. W. S. Richardson, Assistant Minister.—At 11 A. M. the Rev. Charles Cuthbert Hall, D. D., will preach. At 8 P. M., preaching by the assistant minister; prelude by Mr. Shelley at 7:50 P. M.; Bible school at 9:45 A. M.; prayer meetings Monday and Friday evenings at 8.

FIFTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Corner 55th St.—Services Sunday, 10th inst., at 11 A. M., and communion at 4 P. M. The Rev. Robert Russell Booth, D. D., is expected to officiate. Sunday school and adult Bible classes meet at 9:30 A. M. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, 187-143 West 48th St., Between 6th and 7th Avs.—Christian Science service Sundays at 10:45 A. M. and 8 P. M. Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Reading rooms open daily from 9 to 5.

FIVE POINTS HOUSE OF INDUSTRY, 155 Worth St., William F. Bar

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1899.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
LONDON: Trafalgar Buildings, Trafalgar Sq., W. C.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.
GERMANY, Mains: Saarbach's News Agency. Agency for Germany and Austria.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
SATURDAY, with Review of Books and Art, per Year	1.00
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES,

With 40-Page Holiday Number of the Review of Books and Art.

PUBLIC MONEY AND PUBLIC WORKS.

The remarks of Mr. J. HARSEN RHOADES at the Chamber of Commerce meeting upon the proposition to issue bonds for buying water-front property were timely and valuable. The resolution offered by Mr. CHARLES STEWART SMITH, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Chamber, favoring an amendment to the Constitution to permit the city to issue bonds for dock purposes which should not be considered in determining the debt limit, opens the way to a plan of public improvements of very great value to the city. The resolutions recite that the income from the new piers and docks would pay the interest on the bonds issued to acquire the water-front property, the cost of the piers, and provide a sinking fund which would retire the bonds in forty years. Nobody can show that this would not be a good business operation for the city. It ought to own its water front, and the present high rentals for pier accommodations indicate a scarcity of dock room. At the present permitted rate of issuing bonds, $3,000,000 a year, it would be a long while before any considerable progress could be made in buying up private water-front property. The removal of the debt limit so far as bonds for dock purposes are concerned is necessary if the work is to be pushed; and if it is retarded the city loses the income from the new docks and the commerce of the port suffers from the lack of facilities.

As these bonds would add nothing to the burden of taxation, and as the money spent for docks would be sure to bring in a large return, permanently increasing the wealth and the revenues of the city, to say nothing of the great incidental benefits of affording scope for the growth of the commerce of New York, it is evident that the improvements proposed in the Chamber of Commerce resolutions would promote the public welfare and would be likely to receive the approval of the taxpayers if the matter were submitted to a vote. Nevertheless, it is vitally necessary that in these days every proposition to spend the public money and in particular every proposition to raise or remove the debt limit should be scrutinized with unusual care.

That is the effect of Mr. RHOADES's words of caution and objection. He is entitled to speak upon the subject. As a representative of the savings banks, which hold about one-half of the outstanding bonds of the city, he is in the position of a Trustee for the wage-earners whose savings are held and invested by the banks. It is his plain duty to be vigilant for the protection of the credit of the city. He would be called upon to oppose with all his influence any proposition for extravagant expenditure or the removal of necessary safeguards. Everybody, sooner or later, runs against the debt limit. Yet it is the rock of our defense against many evils. Improvident use of the city's credit is only one of these. There is a craze for municipal ownership and operation of "public utilities" nowadays. If the debt limit did not stand in the way, the city might be loaded down with gas works, street railways, telephone and electric light plants, and a hundred other enterprises that belong to private effort. The Constitution forbids. Let us do nothing that would impair the salutary preservative power of the debt limit section.

Mr. RHOADES is reported as saying that with the air full of such schemes as the Ramapo job, plans to bridge rivers and tunnel them and to build rapid-transit railroads, he "looked with dread to the future." Of course he didn't mean that. The future of this city would be dark and would fill us all with foreboding if the air were not at all times more or less full of schemes to improve New York and make it easier and more pleasant to live and do business in it. We cannot suppose that Mr. RHOADES meant that the only state of the city that would leave his mind completely at rest would be the state of entire stagnation and death of public enterprise, with nobody proposing to do a thing or spend a cent. Better unbridled extravagance than that. A rapid-transit railroad that vastly increases the realty valuation of the city increases the security behind the bonds held by Mr. RHOADES's savings bank. So of tunnels that bring outlying parts of the big city nearer to the centre. And so, too, in all probability, with the plan for improving the water-front proposed in Mr. SMITH's resolutions.

It is due caution, sufficient scrutiny, that is required, not an arrest of development. If at any time or for any reason the people of the city doubt either the capacity of their public servants or their probity, the initiative of a body so respectable as the Chamber of Commerce in proposing public improvements or in criticising those already proposed by the authorities becomes a function of very great utility.

THE MAZET FIASCO.

The ending of the Mazet Committee throws light on its beginning. It has plainly fallen to pieces. Why this has come about is revealed by what its counsel, Mr. Moss, refuses to say. He insisted on calling Mr. PLATT, and his committee saw no way to prevent him but to adjourn sine die. The petty evasions, fibs, equivocations, and untenable excuses that have accompanied the break-up or break-down of the committee are in keeping with its origin and history. They deceive no one and only reveal more plainly the intent to deceive.

At the last and for the moment Mr. Moss occupies a position of apparent superiority. It is only apparent and must be temporary. Exactly what was his motive in raising an issue on Mr. PLATT at this time we cannot say. We can only be sure that it was not the desire he professes, that the work of the committee should not seem partisan. Had that been his real motive, it would have forced him to act long ago in this matter and to act in other matters very differently. The author of the miserable partisan "report" which Mr. Moss issued on the eve of the election, intended and solely intended to promote the election of Mr. MAZET and the defeat of the strictly independent candidate for MAZET's seat, cannot now be credited with any impartial devotion to the public good. He has from the first conducted his examination in a manner so clearly prejudiced and unfair that it would have been in the last degree mischievous had it not been made ludicrous by his ineptness and petty, irresolute, groping habit of mind. His position at this moment is the more discreditable because he, far more than any of his committee, has assumed the garb of righteousness. He has paraded his high purposes in the church organizations and laden the weary air with unctuous appeals to civic virtue. He has challenged contemptuous condemnation by his sweeping and yet partisan criticism of his party opponents only. His last attitude of superiority cannot be long sustained, for the facts are too strong against it.

When the Mazet committee took up its work, THE TIMES predicted that it would fail in doing any serious good unless it was ready and able to expose evil wherever that could honestly be established. We warned its members that a one-sided inquiry would leave the troubles of this city worse than it found them, for it would tend to convince the people of New York that both parties were equally sordid and corrupt and would spread that atmosphere of discouragement in which the political schemer always thrives the most. At one time it looked as if the committee shared this conviction. When the Ramapo job was taken up, which all familiar with its history knew was of Republican origin, there was some hope that the searchlight of official investigation was to be turned on full, no matter what or whom its rays might disclose. The hope was quickly dispelled. So soon as it became clear that the inquiry must lead straight to the Republican organization, it was first restricted and then diverted and finally stopped. From that moment the proceedings of the committee lost all interest for intelligent observers.

It cannot be said that the failure of the committee to disclose important new facts regarding the Tammany rule in this city is in the least a vindication of Tammany. The testimony taken has certainly confirmed and established the previous well-founded impression of the Tammany turpitude and greed. It has also deepened the impression of the cynical contempt of the leader of Tammany for the opinion of all who oppose him or his objects. The worst effect of the Mazet fiasco is that it justifies this contempt. And it destroys all confidence that Tammany can be curbed or turned back by the men and the party responsible for the committee and its failure. This, however, is not an unmixed misfortune. When the people of New York are convinced that they cannot get relief from the evils they now suffer through a selfish and unscrupulous party machine by setting up the rival machine, they will be ready to turn to the principle of an independent citizens' organization seeking the good of the city alone. That is their only hope, and the experience that induces them to realize it, though it is costly and disagreeable, is wholesome.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN CAMPAIGN.

The dispatch given out yesterday by the British War Office shows the real danger of the operations in which the British forces are engaged on the Cape Colony side of the Orange Free State. It explains and justifies the tone of anxiety and apprehension which the British press has been taking, even after engagements that upon the face of them were British victories. The danger of the situation has been continually pointed out by the military critic of The London Morning Post, whose comments upon the progress of the campaign have secured for him an extraordinary authority among his countrymen.

The dispatch sets forth that the Boers have succeeded in cutting Lord METHUEN's communication with his base even while the sound of artillery makes it believed that a battle is in progress. The railroad has been severed at Gras Pan, where the British commander reported a successful engagement some days before the fight at the Modder River. Gras Pan is some fifteen miles south of the Modder, and a station upon the railroad which is the only line of retreat or supply for the British force. The telegraph has been cut as well as the railroad, and Lord METHUEN is thus deprived of all communication with Cape Town, his base of supplies. That is to say, it appears that he has failed in a vital condition of his campaign, which was to keep his line of supply intact as he advanced. The further away from his base an invader goes, the larger detachments from his effective fighting force must he make in order to secure his communications. Thus does he Drag at each remove a lengthening chain.

As he advances fighting, his force is weakened by the detachments as well as by the casualties of battle, while the defenders are weakened by casualties alone, and become relatively stronger as they fall back. If, in the meantime, the detachments for the protection of the line become insufficient, his condition is very serious, and that is what seems to have happened to Lord METHUEN. How important, or rather how easily replaceable, the bridge over the Modder may be which was destroyed by the Boers before they fell back, it is not easy to make out. But evidently the British commander must have left at the Modder a force large enough to secure his workmen from raids. And this news that a critical point to the south of the Modder is vulnerable must be very unwelcome in England.

The Boer plan of campaign, on the western edge of the Orange Free State, now becomes very intelligible. It is to retire slowly, and doing in the meanwhile all the harm they can, toward the place where they shall be strongest and the invader weakest, and there to deliver the decisive battle. If we accept this theory of the campaign, it becomes evident why the Boers should have withdrawn after the battle of the Modder River. Lord METHUEN reported, and doubtless in perfect good faith, that they had been "forced to quit their positions." But suppose they had been actuated by the desire to draw the enemy on, he all the time becoming weaker and they all the time becoming relatively stronger. In that case it seems likely that they should have abandoned the position voluntarily. It was certain that they could fight to the northward of the river at a greater advantage than to the southward after they had severed the enemy's communications by destroying the bridge, as it seems they succeeded in doing. There was nothing about the manner of their retirement to suggest defeat, and still less to suggest panic. Neither was there anything in Lord METHUEN's report to suggest the belief on his part that he had passed the worst of his troubles. It can be readily understood from this latest news that the attitude of the reflective part of the British public must more than ever be one of seriousness and of anxiety.

TO-DAY'S PAPER AND ITS SUPPLEMENT.

THE NEW YORK TIMES seeks a word to-day with its readers concerning THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART. With the main part of the paper in itself very large in size, readers are presented with the literary supplement issued as a paper of forty pages. They scarcely need be told that, when white paper costs over 2 cents a pound, a publication weighing over half a pound, and sold by the retailer for 1 cent, does not yield a profit on sales to the producer.

Three years and two months ago THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART was started as an eight-page supplement to THE NEW YORK TIMES. Some of our best friends—men thought to be wise in their generation—viewed the enterprise with eyes half closed and heads at the angle of doubt. Even the book publishers, who might have been expected to welcome its appearance, and probably did, were shy of it as a medium for their announcements. But what does not to-day's paper reveal—not only the largest amount of publishers' and booksellers' advertising ever printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES—the largest by nearly 60 per cent.—but more than eleven times as much as THE NEW YORK TIMES ever printed in one issue before the supplement was started. May we not say, with some honest pride, that the world of publishers, in EMERSON's phrase, has "come round to us"?

But these are not the sole reasons for satisfaction. The influence of the supplement has been in other directions than advertising. It has done a distinct work in diffusing knowledge of good books and promoting the reading of them. Free and higher education has raised up in this country thousands of men and women interested in books where, two generations ago, there were only hundreds. For such as these THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART has become a guide and a stimulant. We take nothing to ourselves that seems unduly our own when this statement is made. Evidence of this truth constantly reaches this office.

This influence has extended to journalism itself. Probably nothing in the nature of a newspaper supplement has been more widely commented on in newspaper offices or more carefully read. In San Francisco, for example, an eclectic publication has appeared in which a very large percentage of the matter printed came bodily, without even the courtesy of credit, from THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART. From its pages an old and well-esteemed paper in Central New York very recently took enough matter to make up the entire contents of one of its large pages. A Boston paper has issued a literary supplement clearly modeled after it. Meanwhile, we hear of other newspapers that contemplate steps in similar directions, and requests from many quarters come to us asking for proofs of matter which may be printed simultaneously. Thus has widened the influence of this supplement, and who shall say how far it has penetrated into centres and enterprises of which note has not been taken?

In spreading knowledge of good books a newspaper concerns itself with one of its legitimate functions. News of books belong as much to the day's news as news of Congress, of wars, of churches, of court trials, of yachting and golf. This news THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART has aimed to give and will continue to give. While we cannot hope to offer a paper that is any larger than the one now regularly printed (at least for 1 cent) we may, with confidence, promise to maintain the standard already fixed. The probability is that this standard will be advanced, rather than lowered, even at 1 cent. Readers and publishers alike have bestowed upon us every possible encouragement in that direction.

Sixteen broad news pages and a forty-page supplement overflowing with interesting and timely news of books and their makers, all for one cent—this, as one of our admirers has well said, is certainly "cheaper than ignorance."

ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

It cannot be said that the reception of the President's message in England, so far as we can judge from the English press, is exactly unsatisfactory. But there does seem to be some disappointment that the President took more pains to express our National good feeling toward Germany than toward England, to which neither any Englishman nor any American doubts that we owe much more.

There is, however, the obvious answer that there was more need of assuring Germany than there was of assuring Great Britain of our kind regards. We have more "burning questions," practically speaking, outstanding with Germany than we have with England. And we have sentimental questions, or we have had, which in all countries are apt to produce quite as serious practical consequences as practical questions. Germany has done all that we could decently demand or expect toward allaying our sensibilities on that score. It was the least we could do to assure her that her efforts had been successful, and that these sentimental questions were not regarded by us as any longer outstanding. The most authoritative way of conveying such an assurance is in a message of the President. Add that the German people are reputed to be more sensitive than the English to what is said or thought of them by foreigners, and we have the complete justification of the President's carefully weighed words.

It is not necessary to add that we have outstanding questions with England which might be compromised by too great an effusiveness on our part while they are still pending. The main fact is that the English and American understanding is too well established and understood on this side of the water to make it necessary to keep on talking about it. The good understanding which we hope to establish with Germany is by no means as yet on the same footing. Wherefore it is entirely intelligible why a President of the United States should just now go a little out of his way to say pleasant things to Germany while he felt under no compulsion whatever to do the same by England.

Those of our friends who have a liking for figures may be interested in learning that this issue of THE TIMES contains more than 36,000 lines of advertisements.

NUGGETS.

That Boston Man.

"A Boston man says he would rather be Aguinaldo than McKinley."

"Well, he evidently has more confidence in his legs than in his head."—Indianapolis Journal.

Good Start in His Profession.

Dasherly—How's that young doctor getting along in his profession?

Flasherly—Splendidly! He's discovered three new diseases already.—Kansas City Independent.

Located.

Little Mike (who has an inquiring mind)—Eyther, phwere was Solomon's timple?

McLubberty (promptly)—Solomon's timple, is ut? On the soide av his head, av coorse.—Judge.

Domestic Affairs.

"Our wars," said the South American, have one distinct advantage over the wars that are waged on other parts of the globe."

"What is that?" he was asked.

"When you go to war," he replied, "you make it necessary for some other country to be at war. We don't."—Chicago Times-Herald.

THE OCEAN.

J. E. Hutson in Richmond Religious Herald.

How awful is thy might, O Sea!
Whose breathing shakes the land.
And why shouldst thou a prisoner be,
And bound with ropes of sand?

Like molten thunderbolts of wrath,
Thy waves the shore attack,
Which, giantlike, obstructs their path,
And, shattered, hurls them back.

Revolving spheres, which thee surround,
No grander music make
Than when thy billows loud resound,
With mighty anthem quake.

And men have stained thy crystal broast
With crimson human gore,
When mighty fleets fought on thy crest
For sovereignty on shore.

The vapors which from thee arise
And shroud the sultry sky
The famished earth with rain supplies,
Which else of thirst would die.

And when the sun retires beneath
Thy waves to seek repose,
Dost thou to earth the night bequeath,
With sleep which it bestowes?

I love to breathe thy briny air
And watch thy leaping spray,
And see the ships like castles fair
If the distance melt away.

And yet the fogs which dismal dwell
Above the ghostlike moans
Remind of Dante's smoking hell,
And lost men's hopeless groans.

It sads my soul to see thee toil
With all thy mighty frame,
And mark each wave at length recoil,
Returning whence it came.

I sympathize with thy unrest,
And pity thy distress,
For mirrored in thy troubled breast
I see my heart's impress.

HARE CHASES AGUINALDO

Rebel Leader and 300 Men Are on the Road to Bontoo.

YOUNG HAS ANOTHER FIGHT

Defeats Gen. Tino Near San Quinto—Negros Uprising Due to False Reports of Filipino Victories.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Gen. Otis to-day cabled the War Department in regard to the uprising in Negros as follows:

"Manila, Dec. 8.

"I am informed the outbreak of natives in the district of South Negros was the result of reported recent great insurgent victories in Luzon and Panay, which the natives believe. The extent of the outbreak not ascertained. Lieut. A. C. Ledyard, Sixth Infantry, killed; two privates wounded. One of our chief difficulties arises from circulation of falsehoods among the natives, defamatory newspaper articles of United States and Europe, promptly published in Spanish in San Francisco, Madrid, and by Hongkong Junta and circulated in Philippines; insurgents have based all hopes upon false rumors."

A second dispatch from Gen. Otis says:

"Hospital ship Relief, just returned from Vigan bringing 272 sick soldiers, 232 Spanish prisoners, reports several hundred Spanish prisoners at Vigan, for which we send transport this evening.

"Col. Hare, Thirty-third Infantry, took Bangued 5th inst., and now, with portion of regiment and battalion Thirty-fourth Infantry, in pursuit of insurgents on road southeast to Lepanto, thence to Bontoc, on which Aguinaldo and 300 insurgents supposed to be retreating with American prisoners. Inhabitants of western Luzon coast friendly and give assistance."

The town of Bontoc, toward which Aguinaldo with his body guard is said to be retreating, lies in the mountain fastnesses about fifty-five miles southeast of Vigan, and fifty miles almost due north of Bayonbong. If this last report as to Aguinaldo's whereabouts is true, it indicates that he has been headed off to the northward for the first time and is being compelled to retrace his steps toward the south.

If he is striving to regain his old stronghold in Cavité Province, his chances of success are very slight. Directly in his line of march is a considerable American force at Bayonbong, to the westward of that point is Wheaton's force, and to the east of Bayonbong is an almost impassable mountain range.

So with Young behind him, with Col. Hare close in his rear, and his front obstructed, the War Department officials feel that Aguinaldo has little chance of escaping to the southward.

Major Batchellor is said to be making rapidly for Aparri, about the only port on the extreme north end of the island, so as to reduce the outlet in that direction. The best chance remaining to Aguinaldo is believed to be to abandon the escort of 300 now traveling with him, in which case he could easily insure his personal escape in disguise.

Gen. Otis also reports the arrival of the transport Olympia with the Thirty-ninth Infantry, one battalion of the Forty-fifth Infantry, and some recruits. There were no casualties during the voyage.

MANILA, Dec. 8.—There was considerable relief in Manila when the news was received to-day that Gen. Young's small force had arrived safely at Vigan, Province of South Ilocos, Dec. 6. Anxiety had been felt for Gen. Young and the garrison at Vigan since it was known that Gen. Tino had a large, aggressive body of insurgents operating in the vicinity.

Gen. Tino made a stand in the mountain pass between Narvacan and San Quinto. The natural strength of the position was augmented by trenches and pitfalls. The fight lasted five hours. Gen. Young had three companies of the Thirty-fourth Infantry, under Lieut. Col. Robert L. Howze, and two troops of the Third Cavalry, Capt. Swigart commanding, and one troop under Capt. Chase. He was reinforced during the fight by Col. Luther R. Hare, with a battalion of the Thirty-third, en route to Vigan.

Gen. Young ended the fight by charging and routing the enemy, who left twenty-five dead, several rifles, and thousands of rounds of ammunition in the trenches. The enemy employed artillery. Only one American was seriously wounded.

The uprising in the Island of Negros was led by the police of La Corlata District, where there is a small American garrison. The police inspired false reports of insurgent victories in Luzon and Panay. There are 250 native police in Negros, uniformed, and armed with Springfield rifles.

Lieut. Ledyard, the American officer killed, was a son of the President of the Michigan Central Railroad and a popular officer.

DEFENDS ARMY RATIONS.

Surgeon General Sternberg Acts in Reply to Criticisms.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—In view of the recent criticisms upon the composition of the army ration, directed to the presence of so large a portion of fat meats for use in tropical climates, Surgeon General Sternberg has caused to be prepared a report upon this subject by Deputy Surgeon General Charles Smart. Col. Smart shows it is the most liberal ration for the far northwest of this continent and it is the best for the tropics, when intelligently utilized.

Col. Smart in his report says: "It is the product of the experience of several generations of army officers, and it is the part of wisdom to be slow in urging alterations at the suggestion of people who know that an excess of fatty food is not suitable for a dietary in the tropics, and who have just discovered that there are twelve ounces of bacon in the soldier's rations."

The key note of Dr. Smart's article is that flexibility and interchangeability of the component parts of the ration; the ability of the soldier to take almost any kind of fresh meat within his reach in lieu of bacon, and his ability to plentifully supply himself with vegetables, and even luxuries, by the commutation into cash of the considerable portion of the ration over and above that required for his dietary.

CAREER OF LIEUT. LEDYARD.

Dead Officer Left Yale to Enlist in the War with Spain.

DETROIT, Dec. 8.—The news of the death of Lieut. August C. Ledyard, who was killed in Negros, was broken to-day to his father, Henry B. Ledyard, President of the Michigan Central Railroad, while the father was en route home from New York. It was decided to send an intimate friend to meet the President's car and endeavor to soften the blow.

The Lieutenant was Mr. Ledyard's second son. He was at Yale at the outbreak of the Spanish war, and had outlined for himself a railroad career. Joining the patriotic rush of students, he enlisted in a New York battery, and spent most of his time as a volunteer in camp life near Tampa.

Later, on July 9, 1898, at his own and his father's desire, he entered the regular army as Second Lieutenant. He was a grandson of the famous Gen. Lewis Cass, and a nephew of Gen. Ruggles, formerly Adjutant General of the Army. In the Puerto Rico campaign he was attached to Gen. Miles's staff.

SOME DISSATISFIED CUBANS.

Violent Remarks Made at a Colored Club at Santiago.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 8.—A meeting, held at the Antonio Maceo Club last evening to celebrate the anniversary of the death of Maceo, developed a violent patriotic demonstration against the Americans. This club represents the National Party, and is composed of colored people. There were about 1,000 persons present.

One prominent colored politician said during the proceedings that the time was nearly ripe for the spirit of free Cuba to leap from the grave of Maceo and to drive the intruders from the island. All criticised President McKinley's Cuban policy, and Gen. Quinten Bandera disappointed his hearers by a mild speech, in which he advised patience until the American policy had been fully defined.

In the course of an interview to-day Bandera said he feared the Cubans would finally accept annexation, although they had fought long years for independence, and not to become an appendage of the United States.

The local press criticises President McKinley's message. Americans and foreigners are hoping that the prominence given to the color question in insular politics will lead ultimately to annexation.

WOULD ENLARGE MEDICAL STAFF

Surgeon General Sternberg Asks for Many Army Assistants.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Surgeon Gen. Sternberg has prepared a bill for presentation to Congress providing for a material increase of the Medical Department of the army to meet the greatly increased demands of the existing military organization by the addition to the corps of four Assistant Surgeon Generals, with the rank of Colonel; ten Deputy Surgeon Generals, with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel; thirty Surgeons, with the rank of Major, and eighty Assistant Surgeons, with the rank of First Lieutenant, who shall have the rank of Captain at the expiration of five years of service.

It is provided that the vacancies thus created in the grade of Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, and Major shall be filled by seniority promotion, in accordance with established laws and regulations. Acting Assistant Surgeons to the number authorized are to be appointed, subject to the usual examination, for a probationary period of six months, during which they will attend the Army Medical School in Washington, at the end of which time, if their standing is good, they are to be commissioned to fill existing vacancies. This probationary service is waived in the case of candidates who have rendered satisfactory service as Acting Assistant Surgeons or as commissioned medical officers in the volunteer army for a period of six months or more.

Cuban General Thanks Mr. Root.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Gen. Demetrio Castillo Duany, Civil Governor of the Province of Santiago, called on Secretary Root at the War Department to-dy in company with Mr. Quesada, Cuban Commissioner, and personally thanked him in behalf of the people of Santiago for the kind words in reference to them contained in his annual report. Gov. Duany said that at a recent mass meeting of the people of Santiago resolutions were adopted thanking President McKinley for his message and Secretary Root for his report. He said that he had been personally authorized by the people of the province to congratulate Gen. Wood, the Military Governor, on his promotion. Mr. Duany will pay his respects to the President to-morrow.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The cruiser Detroit has sailed from Carthagena for Colon, where she will await orders from the Navy Department, the revolutionary movement in Colombia being regarded as at an end. The Captain of the Detroit reports, however, that the Colombian Government is massing troops on the Venezuelan border, and the understanding is that they are about to attack Gen. Castro's forces, in revenge for the assistance which the General is supposed to have extended to the Colombian revolutionists.

The cruiser Philadelphia is at San Francisco, and Rear Admiral Kautz has transferred his flag to her from the Iowa. While at the navy yard the Philadelphia was completely overhauled, and her old six-inch guns replaced with rapid-fire guns of the same calibre. The Iowa will be coaled on Saturday, and Tuesday or Wednesday she and the Philadelphia will sail for San Diego. There they will meet the Marblehead, and the warships will go to Magdalena Bay for gun practice.

The Machias, which it was originally intended to send to Manila, has instead sailed from Boston for Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, to look after American interests in that quarter.

The Brooklyn arrived at Singapore on her way to Manila yesterday. No word has been received of the New Orleans since she left Colombo, Ceylon, but she must be close behind.

THE GALAPAGOS ISLANDS DEAL.

It Is Stated Great Britain Does Not Want Them—One American Is Their Sole Inhabitant.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—So far as can be ascertained, Great Britain is not negotiating for the purchase of the Galapagos Islands from Ecuador, nor has she any intention of securing the islands. Official ignorance is professed on the whole matter, and there is some astonishment at the action of the Senate in passing Senator Lodge's resolution requesting President McKinley to inform the Senate regarding Ecuador's proposed sale of the islands.

It is stated that Ecuador has no intention of parting with the islands at any price. Whether or not unofficial steps were taken by Great Britain with the view of their possible purchase is a mere matter of surmise. But it is certain that, according to the highest British officials, these steps never reached the stage of official negotiations.

Special cable dispatches from the United States interpreting the Senate's action as emphasizing the United States' adherence to the Monroe doctrine have caused no stir in official circles here, as it is believed the international relations between the two countries have been so changed since the Venezuela affair that Monroeism will never again cause a misunderstanding.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Senator Lodge called at the State Department to-day to talk with Secretary Hay about his Galapagos Islands resolution. As to the basis of his resolution of inquiry, he said that all the information he had as to the reported attempt of the English Government to secure the islands was derived from newspaper sources. The State Department itself has no direct information of any recent movement looking to the acquisition of the islands, but will refer the resolution of inquiry to United States Minister Sampson, at Quito, for a response.

It would not be at all surprising, it is said here, if the ultimate result of the broaching of the subject were the acquisition of a coaling station on these islands by the United States Government. In fact, the Navy Department has within the past year been making a quiet investigation into the facilities there existing, with that object in view.

Commander Tanner was dispatched to the Galapagos Islands just after the conclusion of the war with Spain to make a personal examination of the conditions existing. He found that the Ecuadorian Government had some years ago abandoned its penal station on Charles Island, leaving behind a large number of domestic animals in a half-wild state, and these flocks had enormously increased. Only one of the half-dozen islands was inhabited—namely, Chatham Island, and that island had but one inhabitant, in the person of a Mr. Coboss. He was of Ecuadorian birth, but was a naturalized American citizen.

MR. FRICK'S RETIREMENT.

Denial of Partnership in Jones, Laughlin & Co.

In down-town circles the alleged friction between Andrew Carnegie and H. C. Frick is one of the chief topics of conversation. It is conceded that Mr. Frick has retired from the Carnegie Company, and rumor has it that he will associate himself with the Union Steel Company, Jones, Laughlin & Co., and others, and compete with Mr. Carnegie in the iron and steel business.

Mr. Carnegie is at his home, 5 West Fifty-first Street, but he absolutely refused yesterday to discuss his business affairs with reporters.

A member of the firm of Jones, Laughlin & Co. is in the city, and he said to a TIMES reporter:

"Any story that Mr. Frick is to become interested in our concern, or that Jones, Laughlin & Co. will join the Union Steel Company, or any other firm, to fight Carnegie is absolutely untrue. Jones, Laughlin & Co. have always managed their own affairs. They have not gone into any combinations, and will not do so. They will go it alone. This is authentic."

DISABLED IN MIDOCEAN.

Steamer Manica Has a Broken Shaft—Albano Tried to Tow Her.

The German steamer Albano, Capt. Kudenholz, which arrived last night from Hamburg, reported that on Dec. 2, in latitude 48.06 north, longitude 41.49 west, she fell in with the British steamer Manica, from Shields for New York, with her shaft broken. She requested to be taken in tow. After several ineffectual attempts a line was finally got to her and the Albano succeeded in towing her for two hours. All of the lines were finally parted, however, owing to the heavy seas and wind and the Albano was compelled to abandon her. She was about 1,000 miles from Halifax and in the track of steamers coming west.

The Manica is a steel screw steamer of 2,733 tons and is owned in London by Bucknall Brothers. Her New York agents are Norton & Son, 115 Produce Exchange, New York.

FRENCHMEN WANT DEFENSES.

Deputies Urge, in View of Chamberlain's Speech, that the Colonial Army Be Strengthened.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—During the debate in the Chamber of Deputies to-day on the Colonial Budget M. Firmin Faure, anti-Semite urged the necessity of strengthening the defenses of the colonies and the colonial army, in addition to a system of French-owned cables. He pointed out that while Mr. Chamberlain's Leicester speech was, perhaps, only his personal views, the fact that a British Minister had indulged in such language toward France was sufficiently grave cause for its consideration by the Chamber and, he added, it was high time to take notice of Mr. Chamberlain's warning.

M. Lasserre also intimated that British emissaries were overrunning Tunis, disguised as Protestant missionaries, and selling ammunition to the Arabs.

The anti-British remarks were heartily cheered.

M. Bestournelles, Republican, dwelt on the danger of colonial expansion, especially the risk of foreign complications, since France, he asserted, had neither a colonial army nor navy.

M. Etienne, Republican, supported the colonial policy, pointing out that even the United States was making colonial conquest. He urged the building of colonial railroads and the laying of submarine cables.

M. Decarais, the Minister of the Colonies, replied that the Government intended shortly to introduce a submarine cable scheme.

FAVOR AMERICAN FRUIT.

German Experts Say Restrictions Should Be Removed Because Pests Cannot Spread in Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The seizures and vexatious inspection of American fruit have begun again. The Nation to-morrow will contain a timely article by Dr. Dohrn, the well-known expert, based mainly on a book by Dr. I. Krueger, to which a prize was recently awarded by the Stettin Pomological Society, in which the writer furnishes strong evidence that, owing to climatic differences between the United States and Germany, particularly the severe American Winters, American insects cannot spread here. Dr. Dohrn emphasizes Dr. Krueger's demolition of the long-held hypothesis that the Colorado bug and the San José scale did severe damage here.

Summarizing his conclusions, Dr. Dohrn expresses astonishment that Prof. Frank, in a book issued last year by the Imperial Health Bureau, should have totally ignored the acknowledged deductions of Marlatt, the entomologist, showing the manner of exterminating the scale and also the climatic conditions amid which alone it can flourish.

"Since our Government experts themselves," says Dr. Dohrn, "now acknowledge that the scale cannot spread here, it is high time to abolish measures that are still enforced against American fruit, measures which heighten the price. There are instances in which the cost of inspection amounts to one-eighth of the market value of the fruit. If the imperial Government, of its own accord, will not stop this nuisance, let us hope that the Reichstag will."

A Foreign Office official made the following statement to-day regarding several timely matters:

"A proposition to appoint a joint commission for investigating export foodstuffs has been made, and is very favorably received in Germany. The Government faces it sympathetically. But, before committing ourselves definitely, we must consult the various State Governments."

A bill has just reached the Bundesrath imposing a number of restrictions on imports, because of the pest danger. Details of the measure have not yet been made public, but, according to the Foreign Office, it will in no case affect American interests.

ITALIAN DEPUTY ARRESTED.

Accused Man's Sons Accuse Him of Ordering Their Father's Death.

ROME, Dec. 8.—A great sensation has been caused throughout Italy by the trial of two railroad men on the charge of murder and robbery in a railroad car near Palermo. Signor Notarbartolo, a former Director of the Bank of Sicily and one of the most notable citizens of Palermo, was the victim.

The trial was attended with a number of dramatic incidents, the murdered man's son accusing Signor Palizzolo, a member of the Chamber of Deputies from Palmero, of giving the order for the murder of Signor Notarbartolo.

As a result of this accusation, the Chamber of Deputies met to-day in special session and authorized the prosecution of Signor Palizzolo, who was arrested in Palermo this evening.

NEW SECRETARY FOR JAMAICA.

Sydney Olivier of the British Colonial Office Appointed.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Sydney Olivier of the Colonial Office, has been appointed Colonial Secretary for Jamaica.

Mr. Olivier, an Oxford graduate, entered the Colonial Office in 1882. From 1890 to 1895 he was Acting Colonial Secretary for British Honduras, and in 1895-6 he was Auditor General of the Leeward Islands. He was private secretary to the Earl of Selborne, 1896-7; was Secretary to the West Indian Royal Commission, 1896-7, and was sent to Washington in 1898 to assist in the reciprocity negotiations in behalf of the West Indian colonies. He was appointed C. M. G. on Queen Victoria's Birthday, in 1897, in connection with services relating to the West Indian colonies. He has written a number of magazine articles on Socialism, economics, and other matters.

Germans Want Better Consular Service

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The Berlin Chamber of Commerce has presented a memorial to Prince Hohenlohe, the Imperial Chancellor, asking reform in the Consular service. The memorialists urge an increase in the number of professional Consuls, the making of Consular education more practical, and the establishment of export sample commercial museums, like that in Philadelphia.

German Steamer Runs Aground.

ANTWERP, Dec. 8.—The North German Lloyd steamer Koenigin Luise, bound for Australia, grounded to-day on Walswoords Bank, in the lower Scheldt. Her condition is critical. Tugs are assisting in the work of attempting to float her.

Maracaibo Closed to Trade.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Dec. 8.—Troops have left here for Maracaibo, which had been declared blockaded to trade. The city, it is said, will surrender at once. The situation, from the Government standpoint, it is announced, is improving daily.

Samoans Think Little of Annexation.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Dec. 8.—Advices received here from Apia, Samoa, dated Nov. 28 say that the news of the German annexation of the islands, as a result of the Samoan agreement, was received by the natives with apparent indifference.

The Pope Celebrates Mass.

ROME, Dec. 8.—In spite of rainy weather and the advice of his physicians, the Pope celebrated mass in his private chapel to-day.

Fatal Train Wreck at Crewe.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—In a wreck of the North mail at Crewe, thirty-four miles southeast of Liverpool, to-day, one person was killed and three were injured.

Newark Gets a Plainfield Pastor.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 8.—The Rev. Lester Leggett of North Plainfield has accepted a call to the North Reformed Church of this city. He will enter upon his duties as pastor on Dec. 19. The North Reformed Church has had no regular pastor since the Rev. Donald Sage Mackay resigned to accept a call in New York.

REPORT ON PLAGUE SHIP.

Cultures Developed Disease in Animals—Other Ships Waiting.

Passed Assistant Surgeon H. D. Geddings of the Marine Hospital Service yesterday made public his report to the Surgeon General regarding the plague ship J. W. Taylor. He reported that cultures taken from the patient gave negative results, but afterward developed the disease in guinea pigs. He then relates how the ship had been frequently disinfected and the coffee so bestowed on lighters as to admit abundant circulation of air.

He holds that no danger to the public health need be apprehended.

Work was continued yesterday lightering the cargo from the damaged steamer Lassel. The agents of the Roman Prince expect to send that vessel to Boston. The Ragusa will be sent to Boston unless the Board of Health after the public hearing this morning permits her to dock here.

The Coffee Exchange yesterday appointed as a committee to appear before President Murphy of the Board of Health to-day at 10:30 o'clock A. M., President J. H. Taylor, James N. Jarvie of Arbuckle Brothers, and Herman Sielcken of W. H. Crossman & Brother.

INDEX TO ADVERTISERS IN TO-DAY'S ISSUE OF THE SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

	Page.
American Baptist Publication Society	834
American Union League Society	830
Anderson, John, Jr.	836
Appleton, D., & Co.	849
Baker's Book Shop	859
Baker & Taylor Co.	832
Barmore, Charles	852
Barnes, A. S., & Co.	846
Barrie, George, & Co.	861
Bartlett	857
Blake, W. W.	858
Bonnell, Silver & Co.	832
Burton Society	858
Casino Book Company	856
Cassell & Co.	848
Century Company	864
Clarendon Press	846
Clarke, Robert, Company	834
Crowell, Thomas Y., & Co.	828
Dodd, Mead & Co.	837
Doubleday, McClure & Co.	847
Dressler, William A.	859
Dutton, E. R., & Co.	859
Ess Ess Publication Company	857
Estes & Co.	832
Everitt, Charles P., & Co.	854
Franklin Head Book Shop	860
Fraunce	857
Funk & Wagnalls Co.	858
Goodspeed Book Shop	836
Hanfstaengl, Franz	836
Harper, Francis P.	838
Harper & Brother	839
Hill, George M., & Co.	852
Holt, Henry, & Co.	856
Houghton, Mifflin & Co.	831
Jenkins, James A.	855
Jenkins, William R.	848
Kavenaugh, J. A.	835
Klackner, C.	836
Lane, John	835
Lauriat, Charles E., Company	854
Lee & Shepard	861
Leggat Brothers	857
Life Publication Company	850
Lippincott & Co.	857
Little, Brown & Co.	851
Longmans, Green & Co.	850
Macmillan Company, The	845
Macy & Co.	863
Malkan, Henry	854
Mansfield & Wessels	888
Mendoza, Isaac	855
Meyer Brothers & Co.	856
Miller, Henry	858
Mosher, Thomas B.	828
New Amsterdam Book Company	867
O'Shea	856
Page & Co. L. C.	853
Putnam, G. P., Sons	835
Rains, S. G.	856
Rector Street Book Store	848
Revell Company, Fleming, H.	842
Rohde & Haskins	860
Russell, R. H.	838
Scott, Leonard, Publication Co.	860
Scribner's Sons, Charles	829
Small, Maynard & Co.	833
Stokes, F. A., & Co.	843
Taylor, J. F., & Co.	852
Thomson, William	857
Truth Company	832
Walf Company	855
Wilde, W. A., Company	840
Williams, Max	838
Wright & Co.	832
Young, E. & J. B., & Co.	828
Youths' Companion	827

BUSINESS NOTICES.

GREVE'S OINTMENT is needed in every home. It cures all skin troubles, burns, humors, &c.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM is life to the hair.

DIED.

AIKEN.—At Tientsin, China, Oct. 28th, of scarlet fever, Maud Lockwood Aiken, wife of Rev. Edwin Edgerton Aiken, and daughter of George and Sarah R. Lockwood of 828 West 57th St., New York City.

Memorial service will be held Sunday, 10th inst., at 4 o'clock P. M., at Church of Zion and St. Timothy, West 57th St., between 8th and 9th Avs.

Baltimore (Md.) and Rutland (Vt.) papers please copy.

BURNETT.—At her residence, The Strathmore, 52d St. and Broadway, on Dec. 7, Sara M., wife of the late William J. Burnett.

Funeral services will be held at the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, 57th St., near 8th Av., on Saturday, Dec. 9, at 2 P. M.

EMERY.—Friday, Dec. 8, 1899, Francena E. Emery, wife of Charles G. Emery, in the 56th year of her age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services Saturday evening, 9th inst., at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Tracy, 332 West 71st St. Interment private.

HOAGLAND.—Friday, Dec. 8, at his residence, 27 West 81st St., Joseph C. Hoagland, in the 59th year of his age.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

KINGSBURY.—Sept. 7, Alathea Ruth Scovill, wife of Frederick J. Kingsbury.

Funeral at St. John's Church, Waterbury, Conn., Saturday at 11:30 A. M.

MOIR.—At his home, 26 West 10th St., on Thursday, Dec. 7, in the 83d year of his age, James Moir, Esq., of this city.

Funeral services on Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Presbyterian Church on University Place and 10th St. The family particularly request that no flowers be sent.

RHINELANDER.—In Washington, D. C., suddenly, on Friday, Dec. 8, Frances Davenport, wife of Frederic William Rhinelander of New York.

RUSSELL.—Suddenly, on Dec. 6, at New Rochelle, Frederick Bernard Russell, son of the late Ambrose Spencer and Elizabeth White Russell.

Interment at Hudson, N. Y., Saturday, Dec. 9.

RUSSELL.—Frederick B. Russell, on Dec. 6, 1899, in the 42d year of his age.

Interment at Hudson, New York.

TAYLOR.—On Wednesday evening, after a short illness, Gertrude B., wife of the late William B. Taylor.

Funeral services from her late residence, No. 88 West 50th St., on Saturday, Dec. 9, 1899, at 11 A. M.

WALLIS.—At East Orange, N. J., on Dec. 7, 1899, Alice Waldron, wife of Hamilton Wallis.

Funeral from her late residence, 90 Prospect St., East Orange, on Sunday, Dec. 10, at 2 P. M. Carriages will be at Brick Church Station on D., L. & W. R. R. on arrival of train leaving from foot of Barclay and Christopher Sts. at 1 P. M. Interment at convenience of family. Please omit flowers.

WALTER.—Suddenly, on Friday morning, Dec. 8, 1899, at her late residence, 7 East 62d St., Gertrude Cochrane Walter, daughter of the late Rev. William H. Walter and Ellen Cochrane.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

DEATHS REPORTED DEC. 8.

Manhattan and Bronx.

Ages of one year or under are put down one year.

Name and Address.	Age in Yrs.	Date Dth. Dec.
BOCKS, Bruno, 588 Broome St.	28	6
BLAMM, Abraham, 244 W. 18th St.	1	7
BROWN, Lottie, 715 E. 11th St.	1	8
BRANDER, Celia, 241 W. 33d St.	40	4
BUTLER, Thomas, 103 Greenwich St.	50	6
BUCKLEY, Honora, 417 Cherry St.	71	6
CRAIG, John, 590 W. 52d St.	49	7
CRONIN, Honora 9 Peck Slip	86	6
CURLEY, James C., 426 W. 36th St.	35	7
CHARY, Jacob, 258 West St.	60	2
COLES, Jennie, 139 W. 25th St.	20	5
CARROLL, Ellen, 50 Jefferson St.	55	6
CONROY, Hugh, 1,105 3d Av.	23	5
COTTER, Hannah, 401 E. 18th St.	80	5
CAPORALE, Luigi, 15 Minetta Lane	19	8
COLONNA, Giuseppe, 124 Mott St.	1	8
CASO, Graziela, 57 Spring St.	23	7
CARSON, Honora, Evelyn Place and Pilgrim Av.	62	5
DARAGH, John E., 500 W. 166th St.	39	5
DOLEZAL, Tereza, 443 E. 74th St.	68	7
EMERY, Francesca, Hotel Netherland	55	8
EUSTICE, William, 626 E. 13th St.	27	7
ELLERS, Charles D., 185 Amsterdam Av.	1	7
EREIJE, Shafeek, 28 Rector St.	2	7
FINK, Mary, 599 E. 133d St.	34	5
FISCHER, Frederic, 86 Bowery	55	5
FRIEDMAN, Fannie, 365 E. 4th St.	39	7
FRIEND, Nathan, 278 Bowery	45	5
FERRIS, Susan E., 417 Jumel Place	64	7
FOSO, Mary A., 452 9th Av.	43	6
FRARY, Ellen A. P., Glencoe, L. I.	63	7
FINN, Annie, 360 W. 51st St.	25	7
FUGZZI, Mary, 150 Sullivan St.	24	8
GREENE, Mary, 317 W. 35th St.	48	7
GENTILESCHI, Frank, 165 Hester St.	3	7
GILBERT, Maria, 418 W. 52d St.	80	6
GAHN, Amanda, Port Chester, N. Y.	45	7
GOLDSTEIN, Jacob, 126 E. 108th St.	32	7
GERBGHTY, Mary, 313 E. 70th St.	36	7
HOWSER, William H., 394 Manhattan Av.	69	7
HARRIS, Thomas H., 324 E. 123d St.	77	7
HORRWITZ, Mary, 69 Forsyth St.	1	7
HESCHION, Mary, 247 Mulberry St.	12	7
HARLEY, Mary, Brooklyn	18	7
HUTCHINSON, Amanda, 19 W. 125th	80	6
HENDERSON, James A., 360 W. 123d	70	7
JACOBY, Selma, 1,452 2d Av.	30	6
JOHNSTON, Thomas H., Greenpoint	29	6
KELLY, Sarah, 246 E. 54th St.	55	6
KITROSSER, Clara, 377 E. 4th St.	20	7
KUHLMANN, Mary, 504 E. 16th St.	43	7
LACANFORA, Donato, 173 Mulberry	2	5
LAW, Robert F., 233 W. 15th St.	70	5
LYONS, Jeremiah, 115 Chrystie St.	1	6
LEM, Morris, 377 E. 4th St.	1	7
LITTLE, Isabella, 28 W. 118th St.	1	7
LEWIS, Mary E., 229 W. 61st St.	1	7
LEO, Loretta, 513 E. 70th St.	1	7
MOORHEAD, Lucille, 328 W. 53d St.	1	7
MILLER, Mary C., 891 Amsterdam Av.	75	6
MONAK, Loulas, 1,359 Amsterdam Av.	28	7
MALCOLM, John W., 725 11th Av.	45	6
MURKIN, William F., Kingsbridge	23	7
MAAS, Gerhard D., 111 E. 58th St.	73	7
MENKIZER, Mary, 9 Birmingham St.	57	7
MORGAN, John M., 242 W. 10th St.	28	7
McENTEE, V., 254 W. Houston St.	21	6
McPAUL, W. J., 2,159 Washington Av.	74	4
McMAHON, James, 268 10th Av.	34	8
NEEDMAN, Reuben, 100 Monroe St.	1	8
MOUNROWSKY, B., 246 Monroe St.	1	8
O'NEIL, Elizabeth, 223 W. 62d St.	51	6
PECUPILO, Gildo T., 520 3d Av.	1	7
POLSKI, John, 119 Norfolk St.	55	6
PRIOR, Maria, 228 E. 22d St.	46	6
RISI, Giuseppa, 845 Columbus Av.	1	8
RUFFMAN, Simon, 39 E. Broadway	68	8
RITTER, Ellen, Van Nest	1	6
REEVE, Luthers C., 479 St. Ann's Av.	77	6
REILLY, Mary, 311 E. 22d St.	38	6
RECCHIA, Rocco, 39 Madison St.	50	8
SCHNEIDERMANSTER, Sarah, 388 E. Houston St.	24	6
SAMPSON, C. M., Mills Hotel No. 1.	77	7
SPRING, Isaac, 92 Norfolk St.	71	6
SPITZBERG, Julius, Little Rock Ark.	2	7
SCHICK, William, 325 E. 75th St.	1	7
SCHMIDT, Elizabeth, 2,416 1st Av.	4	6
SEIZMAN, Israel A., 82 Orchard St.	3	7
SWANSON, P. G., 1,903 Lexington Av.	4	5
STONE, Edward C., 265 W. 121st St.	31	8
SULLIVAN, John H., 84 King St.	34	6
SCHAUZ, Hazel M., 58 E. 105th St.	1	7
TRESHAM, J. H., 38th St. and 3d Av.	25	6
TAYLOR, G. B., 38 W. 50th St.	70	6
VOLPE, G., 108 W. Houston St.	1	8
WALSH, George, 219 W. 46th St.	32	6
WEISE, Katherine, 309 E. 83d St.	1	7
WOOD, Susan C., Newburg, N. Y.	70	8
WASSERMAN, Sadie, 8 Pitt St.	1	8
WRAY, Harriett, 346 W. 41st St.	18	8

Brooklyn.

ACKERMANN, G. F., 308 Melrose St.	1	7
ALMOND, Agnes, 292 Court St.	3	7
BIANCHO, Santo, 229 Palmetto St.	1	8
BRUER, Marie, 649 Belmont Av.	64	7
BULKLEY, O'K., 200 President St.	89	6
BEISELE, Philip, Evangelical Home	77	6
BRENNER, Adam, 2,062 Pacific St.	71	6
BROWN, Carrie A., 41 Halsey St.	61	6
BERGEN, Catharine J., 149 Baltic St.	82	7
CLUNE, Honorah, 16 Berkeley Place	35	7
CONNOLLY, Anne, 157 49th St.	60	6
CONNERS, Mary, 183 Tillary St.	46	7
COSGROVE, Maggie, 47 Warren St.	2	7
DOWLING, Thomas, 67 4th Place	60	3
DASEY, John St. Peter's Hospital	30	8
FLYNN, C., 634 Metropolitan Av.	76	6
GUARINO, J., 134 Norman Av.	48	6
GUIDER, Johanna, 1,205 Carroll St.	37	6
GREELEY, John, 195 Java St.	1	6
GRAUBNER, Theresa, 50 So. 3d St.	1	6
GATESON, Charles, 474 Wythe Av.	1	7
GERNANDT, C., L. I. State Hospital	78	7
GILLMAN, Fred E., 707 6th Av.	33	6
HOPKINS, M., 17th Av. & Benson Av.	60	6
HEINSER, Lilly, 285 Himrod St.	1	6
HOHWIESNER, A., 1,227 Broadway	33	7
HALL, Charles, 21 Rush St.	39	6
JORDAN, Carl C., 439 10th St.	71	6
JOHNSTON, William W., L. I. State Hospital	32	7
KECKENEL, William, St. Peter's Hos	52	5
LEGGETT, Abraham W., 587 Carlton Av.	85	6
MILLS, Elizabeth, 330 8th St.	83	6
MANN, Mary C., 261 Clinton St.	62	7
MANSING, Dora, 170 Himrod St.	58	7
MITCHELL, Henry T., 752A Lafayette Av.	65	6
McGUIRE, Marie, 261 Jay St.	40	5
NICHOLS, Florence M., 253 Kosciusko	14	5
OLANDT, Mary E., 676 Leonard St.	67	5
PASSE, Sophia, 165 Meserole St.	59	5
PFEIFFER, Henry, 358 Warwick St.	72	6
REHSE, Anna M., 129 Lorimer St.	74	6
RYDER, Joshua M., 267 Atkins Av.	85	6
RULFFS, Phillip A., 217 Frost St.	1	6
SCHUTZ, Flora, Bay 19th and Bath Av.	14	7
SHERIDAN, Terence, 263 3d Av.	1	7
STOCKS, Charlotte, 432 Marcy Av.	1	6
SMITH, Ann, 41 Skillman St.	65	8
SHAUGHNESSY, John, 78 Amity St.	1	7
SCHLEGEL, Hilda, St. Catharine's Hospital	42	6
SALIMENA, Marie, 85 Degraw St.	1	6
SPOUL, Rose, Kings Co. Hospital	63	6
SAMETZ, Mary, 433 Berry St.	76	8
THOMAS, Dorothy R., 139 Myrtle Av.	1	6
TALBERT, Thomas, 317 Hewes St.	75	6
WINANS, Joseph H., 500 6th Av.	69	5
WHEELER, Henry E., 223 Washington Av.	25	6
WHEATON, James S., 793 Lexington Av	90	7
WATERMANN, Henrietta, 381 5th St.	62	7
WILEY, Samuel B., Washington Av. and 1st St.	78	7
WILSON, Anna C., 694 Dean St.	1	6
WORTMANN, Anna, 15 Bristol St.	68	6
YATES, William, 186 22d St.	24	5

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AMERICAN ART GALLERIES,
Madison Square South, New York.
On Free View 9 A. M. Until 6 P. M.
THREE HUNDRED
FOREIGN PAINTINGS
AND
WATER COLORS
Mostly Cabinet Size Genre Subjects, to be sold absolutely without reserve or restriction by order of
W. F. LAMORINIERE,
On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings next, December 12, 13 and 14, at 8 o'clock.
THOMAS E. KIRBY, Auctioneer.
AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION
MANAGERS.

Established 1854.
GABLER
PIANOS
To Rent or for Sale on Easy Terms.
214 to 224 EAST 22d STREET.

The Man with 4 Eyes.
Don't trust your Eyesight to a mere dealer in Eyeglasses. Consult an Oculist. Then have the Lenses prescribed specially ground by W. T. Georgen, 32 E. 23d St., N. Y., who is an Optician of established reputation.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Christmas List Recent BOOKS OF MUSIC

VOCAL.

ETHELBERT NEVIN'S
Album of Songs $1.25
WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE
The Art of Singing, 3 vols, each 1.00
Children's Song Serial, 5 nos., each .15
Song Echoes from Child-land, 2.00
WILLIAM ARMS FISHER.
Posies from a Child's Garden of Verses 1.00
Patriotic Songs from School and Home 60
Soprano and Tenor Duets . . 1.00
La Tarantella Opera Vocal Score 1.00
La Tarantella Opera Vocal Gems 50

PIANO.

HENRY K. HADLEY,
Six Tone Pictures 1.00
L. E. ORTH,
Mother Goose Songs Without Words 1.25
JEAN PARKMAN BROWN,
Intervals, Chords and Ear Training 1.00
Piano Classics. Vol. III. . . 1.00
L. E. ORTH.
Four Character Sketches in F .60

ORGAN.

Modern French Organist . . 1.00

Send for descriptive circular A for contents of books of vocal music. Descriptive circular B for contents of books of piano music. Descriptive circular V for information on new music.

GUITARS,
MANDOLINS,
BANJOS,
AND ALL MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC AND MUSICAL LITERATURE.

The largest and most complete and varied stock of musical merchandise in New York.

CHAS. H. DITSON & CO.
867 BROADWAY (18th St.)

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

NEW BOOKS
PUBLISHED TO-DAY.

Romance of the Feudal Chateaux

By ELIZABETH W. CHAMPNEY. With 40 photogravure and other illustrations. 8vo, gilt top. $3.50.

Mrs. Champney's volume does not give dry history, but romance. It is, of course, not possible to present all of the chateaux in one volume. The author has chosen only a few as typical: Angers, with its traditions of Roland and the peers of Charlemagne; Mont St. Michel, with souvenirs of Rollo and the Vikings; Caen and Falaise, which tell the story of William the Conqueror; Chinon, the cradle of the Plantagenets; Avignon, Carcassonne, Gaillard, and others.

Tales of the Heroic Ages

By ZENAIDE A. RAGOZIN, author of "Chaldea," "Vedic India," etc. Fully illustrated. 12°, each, $1.50.

I.—Comprising Siegfried, The Hero of the North, and Beowulf, the Hero of the Anglo-Saxons.

"It is a pleasure to have these famous legends told so clearly and in such a charmingly story-like manner."—New York Times.

II.—Comprising Frithjof, the Viking of Norway, and Roland, the Paladin of France.

In her new volume, Mme. Ragozin presents, first, the Saga of Frithjof adapted from the epic poem of Esaias Tegner, the national poet of Sweden, who lived in the first part of the present century. The second division of the volume is devoted to the French national epic of the eleventh century describing the retreat of Charlemagne and the heroic struggle of the rear-guard of Roland and his friend Oliver, who were trapped in the narrow gorges of the Pyrenees.

Christus Victor

Poem by HENRY N. DODGE, M. D. 16°, gilt top, flexible leather. $1.25.

The theme of the poem is the final triumph of supreme love; the victory of justice over oppression, of harmony over discord; in short, of good over evil. Dr. Dodge has considered his subject in many aspects, scientifically as well as emotionally. He has been remarkably successful in presenting scientific suggestions without dropping out of poetry into mere rhymed prose.

A copy of our new Illustrated Holiday Catalogue of 48 pages sent on request.*

G. P. Putnam's Sons,
27 AND 29 WEST 23D STREET, NEW YORK.
24 BEDFORD ST., STRAND, LONDON.

Supply Exhausted.

THE CHRISTMAS SCRIBNER'S is entirely sold out by the publishers. They can supply no more copies; and, owing to the difficulties of color printing, they will not attempt to print the number again before Christmas.

If you can find a copy at your news-stand
BUY IT AT ONCE.

100 Books for The HOLIDAYS

Brentano's will supply The List Recommended by "THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW" at Reduced Prices.

BRENTANO'S, 31 Union Sq.

Safe Delivery by Mail Guaranteed Throughout the World.

Ulric the Jarl.
A Story of the Penitent Thief.
By WILLIAM O. STODDARD.
Illustrated. Crown 8vo. $1.50.

John Sel en and His Tab e-Talk.
By ROBERT WATERS.
Portrait. 12mo. $1.00.

Men and Things I Saw in Civil War Days.
By General JAMES F. RUSLING.
Portraits. Crown 8vo $2.50.

Sent carriage prepaid, on receipt of price, by EATON & MAINS, Publishers,
150 Fifth Ave., New York.

Bangs & Co.,
91 and 93 Fifth Avenue,

WILL SELL AT AUCTION MONDAY AFTERNOON AT 3 O'CLOCK,
An interesting collection of curious and SCARCE BOOKS. Art Works—First Editions, etc.

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY at 3 P. M., AMERICANA—Books and Pamphlets; Local Histories: Genealogies; N. Y. State and City Items; Regimental Histories; Confederate Publications, etc.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY Afternoons,
A fine collection of Scarce and Interesting Books, including many valuable Works on Art, Architecture, etc.; valuable first editions and a collection of Autograph Letters.
Sales of Books every afternoon except Saturday.

"MY SMOKING-ROOM COMPANIONS"
By WILLIAM HARVEY KING.
12mo, Cloth, Illustrated. Price $1.00.

"There is much amusement to be derived from reading 'My Smoking-Room Companions.'"—Boston Times.
"A most entertaining book, in which the reader will find amusement on every page. . . . Scenes as fresh as they are comical abound in it."—Living Church.
"It is written in a very humorous way and cannot fail to commend itself to the public."—Boston Courier.

THOMAS WHITTAKER, Publisher,
2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

A New Book for Old and Young.
TODD'S BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW YORK CITY.
Cloth, 12mo, 299 pages, with maps and illustrations. $.75.
BY CHARLES B. TODD,
Member of the New York Historical Society, Author of "The Story of the City of New York."

Accurate, concise, impartial, at the same time containing many romantic and picturesque incidents, with details of manners, customs, and domestic life. Special attention paid to the early growth of the city.

Send price in stamps and receive copy of this choice book.

AMERICAN BOOK CO.,
Washington Square, New York.

The Story of the Pennsylvania Germans,
—BY—
WILLIAM BEIDELMAN,
Of the Pennsylvania Bar and a member of the Pennsylvania German Society.

Rev. J. Stahr, D. D., President of Franklin and Marshall College, writes: "You have done much to vindicate the character of the Germans of this Commonwealth, and to set forth their history in its true light."
The book contains 250 pages, and will be sent postpaid on receipt of the price of $1.50.
Write for testimonials.
EXPRESS BOOK PRINT,
Easton, Pa.

MAPS
ATLASES
GLOBES
GUIDES

of all sizes and description, showing the latest changes in political boundaries and discoveries in all parts of the world. In addition to our own extensive manufacture we carry a full assortment of the leading makers of Europe. Catalogue free. Correspondence solicited.
RAND, McNALLY & CO.,
142 Fifth Ave., New York.

UNITARIAN LITERATURE SENT FREE ON application to 104 East 20th St. Address P. O. M., All Souls' Church.

Equitable Loses Income Tax Case.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Appeal Court today dismissed the appeal of the Equitable Assurance Society of New York from the decision of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, rendered last May, confirming the decision of the lower court assessing the company for income tax.

JUST READY.
A New and Interesting Gift for the Young.
Stories From Shakespeare.
By M. SURTEES TOWNSEND. With upwards of 120 illustrations by the author. Small medium 8vo, handsomely bound in cloth, stamped in gold and colors, gilt edges, $2.50.

Simplified by conversion, as far as possible, to narrative form, and beautified by copious illustrations, this selection of the immortal dramas should meet with a hearty welcome from all who are in search of something that will interest the young of "all the ages."
For sale by all Booksellers, or mailed free on receipt of price by FREDERICK WARNE & CO.,
103 Fifth Ave., New York City.

When calling ask for Mr. Grant.
SAVE ON BOOKS. Whenever you need any book, or information about books, write for quotations. Catalogues and special slips sent for 10-cent stamp.
F. E. GRANT, Books,
23 West 42d Street, New York City.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"Comparisons may be ODIOUS, but ARE INEVITABLE."

THE LONDON DAILY STANDARD: "Comparisons may be odious, but when a work of reference is concerned they are inevitable. The Funk & Wagnalls STANDARD DICTIONARY, in the wealth of its vocabulary, leaves the Century far behind, and not only in comprehensiveness, but in exactitude of definition, its merits are unquestionable."

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, Boston: "'A STANDARD DICTIONARY' [Funk & Wagnalls] is, from its fullness and general plan, to be compared rather with the Century than with the International (Webster's), and we shall accordingly confine ourselves to this view. . . . It introduces far wider attention to what is, on the whole, the simplest and best method of phonetic representation yet devised, and one distinctly better than that used by the Century, which is more difficult to be understood by the people. As to the spelling of words in general, a subject of far more practical interest than that of strict phonetics, hearty praise may be bestowed upon 'A Standard,' which moves farther toward the proper goal than does the Century. Of the definitions themselves, it must be said that they are often clearer and more comprehensive than their correspondents in the Century."

THE CHRISTIAN COMMONWEALTH, London: "As regards accuracy, there can be no doubt about its superiority. . . . It is perfection in itself." (Also, in another review):

"In every respect it is a decided improvement on even such dictionaries as Webster's and the Century."

THE LITERARY WORLD, London: "In spite of wholesale exclusion of obvious compounds, the STANDARD includes 19,734 words and phrases in A, against the Century's 15,621, and all other dictionaries always excepting the great Oxford one, still in progress [to be completed in 1909]—are so far in the rear in this respect as to be almost out of sight."

THE NEW YORK HERALD: "We are free to pronounce it the most complete and most satisfactory dictionary yet printed. . . . This is high praise, to be sure, but well merited."

NEW YORK OBSERVER says: ". . . It must be conceded a place before unclaimed of and till now unfilled."

THE ARENA, Boston: "Without desiring to disparage the excellent Century, the International, or Webster's, it is simple justice to the STANDARD to say that in this case the latest is unquestionably the best dictionary of the English language."

The LONDON TIMES: "There is no rivalry in the case of the [Funk and Wagnalls] STANDARD DICTIONARY of the English Language. The merits of the dictionary are indisputable, and are abundantly attested by a large number of unimpeachable authorities."

REMEMBER: Every one of these opinions was written while the Century Dictionary, Webster's International, Worcester, the Encyclopedic, Imperial, Johnson's, and all other Dictionaries were in the field for comparison. No dictionary of the English language has been completed since these opinions were written.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS

HAS ARRANGED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE
Introduction in America and Great Britain of the Edition for 1900
OF THE WORLD-FAMOUS

FUNK AND WAGNALLS STANDARD DICTIONARY

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS has sought the world over for some fitting memorial to signalize the close of the nineteenth century, and now takes great pleasure in announcing to its hundreds of thousands of friends in Europe and America that it has found a truly ideal work in the new thoroughly revised edition for the year 1900 of that world-famous American masterpiece, the FUNK & WAGNALLS STANDARD DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE—beyond comparison, the masterpiece of English lexicography. Its colored and other pictorial illustrations are superb works of art—the kind that THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS delights to help distribute throughout the world.

The complete control in America and Great Britain of this greatly improved edition for 1900 has been obtained by THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS, and it will have the work ready for distribution on or before December 18, 1899, IN AMPLE TIME FOR THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. It is now offered on specially advantageous terms to those who send their early acceptance—the price being the lowest cash price at which the publishers would have sold the work had they handled it direct. By the special payment plan this marvelous work of reference is placed by THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS within the reach of every one, no matter how slender his purse.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS would deem it unworthy of itself and trifling with the common business sense of the American public, were it to talk of selling this work at a losing or half price. It is positive that here (as it has proved it to be in London) it is the soundest business sense to tell the public the exact truth. In this case, it is telling the exact truth when we say that we are selling this superb dictionary, 1900 edition, at the lowest price at which such a work can be placed on the market in large quantities, and allow a reasonable profit.

The success during the past few weeks of our offer of this great American work in England has been marvelous and instantaneous.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS invites the American public to give special attention to the following three points:

(1) Signed Subscription Forms will be entered and the books supplied in the order in which the subscriptions are received, and as there is reason to believe that the stock which our binders can have ready before the 18th inst. WILL BE QUICKLY EXHAUSTED, intending subscribers are advised to SEND AT ONCE the Subscription Form, duly signed, to THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS New York branch office, as below.

(2) NO MONEY IS TO BE SENT until the person ordering is notified that his copy is ready for delivery. The signed Subscription Form only is to be sent now.

(3) THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS GUARANTEES ENTIRE SATISFACTION. That is, if for any reason the work does not prove satisfactory, it can be sent back to our New York branch office at our expense, and the money paid will be returned.

☞CHRISTMAS PRESENTS: Special arrangements have been made for the delivery of the work to the carrying company on the day DESIGNATED BY each purchaser.

Read every word of this announcement and then sign and return the Subscription Form below.

No Money to be Sent Now. Satisfaction Guaranteed. See Special Terms.

AN ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

Conservative Critics of both countries write in boundless praise of this great work.

ENGLAND'S ADMIRATION.

THE ST. JAMES'S BUDGET, London: "To say that it is perfect in form and scope is not extravagance of praise, and to say that it is the most valuable dictionary of the English language, is but to repeat the obvious. The STANDARD DICTIONARY should be the pride of literary America, as it is the admiration of literary England."

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH, London: ". . . It is difficult to praise too highly this important contribution to the past history and present use of the English tongue."

THE SATURDAY REVIEW, London: "In substantial merit we think the STANDARD DICTIONARY decidedly preferable to the much-advertised Century."

ENGINEERING, London: "THE STANDARD DICTIONARY is beyond comparison the superior of all its predecessors."

GLASGOW HERALD: "It is impossible to speak in other than the highest terms of praise of this work."

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY: Prof. J. E. SANDYS: "It is an admirable work, and deserves to become famous on both sides of the Atlantic."

RIGHT HON. F. MAX MÜLLER, LLD, "It is a rich mine of information and shows how much can be achieved by co-operation if under careful supervision."

BRITISH MUSEUM: F. G. KENYON, Asst. Keeper of MSS.: "Invaluable as a book of reference."

AMERICA'S PRIDE.

U. S. PATENT OFFICE—A. G. WILKINSON, Principal Examiner since 1869: "The Funk & Wagnalls STANDARD is the most perfect dictionary ever made in any language, and I have them and consult them in six different languages almost daily. . . . I should give it the preference on all disputed points."

FAVORITE IN U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINT. OFFICE.—C. M. ROBINSON, Foreman Proof Division: "We have in constant use in our room all the modern dictionaries, but the most thoroughly thumb-worn of all is the STANDARD. It is not only the most accurate, consistent, and complete, but its typographic excellence makes it the favorite among men engaged in book-making. It is 'up to date.' Hundreds of useful words and helps are found in the STANDARD which can be found in no other publication of the kind."

JUDGE W. K. TOWNSEND, Professor of Law, Yale University: "I have carefully compared the STANDARD with the Century and Webster's International Dictionaries, and as a result have already purchased two copies of the STANDARD DICTIONARY, and take pleasure in giving an order for a third copy. The plan, the execution, and the scope of the work make it indispensable."

HARVARD UNIVERSITY, U. S.—PROF. N. S. SHALER, D. S.: "The STANDARD DICTIONARY will remain an enduring monument to the labor of its editors."

EDUCATION, Boston: "It surpasses any other dictionary extant."

NEW FEATURES IN THE 1900 EDITION.

The New Edition of the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Dictionary for the Year 1,900 and which can be had only through this Offer, contains Many Exclusive Features, as a number of New Exquisitely Engraved Lithographed Color Pages, Thousands of New Words, etc. See that the copy you purchase has on the title page the date 1900.

☞REMEMBER: This 1900 Edition is brought absolutely down to date.

Special Terms for Introductory Edition Offered by the "Illustrated London News."

The Illustrated London News is now enabled, by special arrangement with the Funk & Wagnalls Company, New York, to offer, in the United States and England, to its readers a limited Introductory Holiday Edition of this new revision of the STANDARD DICTIONARY, on a very easy subscription-payment plan of only TWO DOLLARS PER MONTH after an initial payment of $3.00, WHICH INITIAL PAYMENT NEED NOT BE MADE UNTIL WE NOTIFY YOU THAT THE DICTIONARY IS READY FOR

Carnegie Lyceum Rush and Crush

Thousands Unable to Gain Admission.

Truly Marvellous Exhibitions, Wonderful Demonstrations and Highly Interesting and Instructive Lectures. Many Deaf Cured, to the Astonishment of the Great Audiences.

Such a rush and crush to obtain seats in any auditorium probably was never before known in New York as was seen yesterday, both afternoon and evening, at Carnegie Lyceum. Not only were every seat and every available space for standing room fully occupied both afternoon and evening by the great audiences which greeted Dr. Wilson, but thousands upon thousands of people anxious to obtain admission were turned away.

A large percentage of those present were more or less deaf, but notwithstanding this fact both audiences were appreciative, and fully enjoyed the truly Marvellous Exhibition and Wonderful Demonstrations, as well as the highly entertaining and instructive illustrated lecture given by the great aurist.

All sorts of electrical instruments and machines, from the largest to the smallest, were operated with great skill, not alone in the treatment of deafness, but also in the wonderfully beautiful electrical fireworks produced by the almost magical juggling of millions of volts of electricity. Of special interest was the exhibition by the great Edison X-Ray machine, the largest and only one of its kind ever used for exhibition purposes in New York.

DARIUS WILSON, M. D.,
The World's Greatest Aurist.

Dr. Wilson fully demonstrated his polypathic treatment for deafness, which is bloodless, painless, and harmless, and includes many improvements on the methods of the best aurists or ear specialists of the world, together with his own most wonderful and original treatment, perfected several years since. This treatment embraces electricity in many forms and other means almost too numerous to mention. This combination has enabled the Doctor to cure deafness for many years, but now that his latest and greatest invention, the Biochymic generator, has been brought into use, he finds that he can not only cure many cases of deafness and blindness that were heretofore incurable, but many persons have their sight and hearing restored in less than half the time previously required.

The Doctor was at his best, and handled his subject in such a masterly manner as to convince all that he is not only familiar with every portion of that intricate and complicated organ, the ear, but also with every kind of treatment that has ever been employed for diseases of that important organ.

A committee consisting of Alan Hanson, 98 Sands st., Brooklyn; C. D. Danforth, 520 Warburton ave., Yonkers, N. Y., and Benj. Bernstein, 1,833 Seventh ave., New York, were selected at the afternoon lecture, and another by the audience at the afternoon lecture, and another committee, consisting of George Oberbeck, 459 West 155th st.; George Brooks, 242 East 82d st., and P. N. Lange, 96A Cooper st., Brooklyn, were selected by the audience present in the evening. These committees in turn occupied seats upon the stage, and at each meeting the Doctor requested all persons in the audience totally deaf in one or both ears to rise and hold up their right hands until the committees had opportunity to select from the most hopelessly deaf cases all who could be treated at one time upon the stage. After those selected by the committee of the afternoon had been treated they were carefully examined by the Doctor and committee with results as follows:

George Crooks, age 65, 205 West 124th st., New York, was totally deaf in left ear for 15 years. Understood low conversation and even the finest whisper after treatment. John Spiers, age 46, New Rochelle, was totally deaf in both ears for 15 years. On examination the Doctor pronounced his case probably incurable, but after treatment he was able to hear a whisper and understand moderately loud conversation in one ear. Florence Smith, age 26, 352 East 119th st., New York, totally deaf in left ear for three years. Could hear a low whisper and everything else after treatment. J. W. Philbrook, age 70, 206 East 57th st., Grand Army veteran, lost his hearing in Civil War—was totally deaf in both ears. Could hear a whisper and understand low conversation after treatment. Mrs. A. Henry, age 30, 302 West 154th st., New York, totally deaf in left ear for three years. Heard and understood low whispers and everything else after treatment. Charles Edwards, age 35, 67 West 36th st., totally deaf in right ear. Could understand the lowest possible whisper and everything else perfectly after treatment. Stella Hirsch, age 12, 1,286 Lexington ave., New York. Her mother stated to the audience that the little girl had been so deaf for the past two years that she could not hear any sound whatever. Understood a whisper after treatment. F. J. Seybold, age 59, 102 West 24th st., totally deaf in right ear for 20 years. Understood low whisper and everything else after treatment. Said he was satisfied that he was entirely cured of his deafness

The results in the evening were as follows:

Miss Louisa Lange, age 19, 96A Cooper st., Brooklyn, total paralysis in both ears for 6 years. Could hear low conversation and understand what was said after treatment. Mrs. A. Schmidt, Jr., age 25, 280 Hooper st., New York, was totally deaf in both ears for 15 years. Was pronounced a very bad case by the doctor, but could hear a whisper and understand everything else after treatment. Charles Williams, age 44, 220 East 70th st., New York, was totally deaf in the right ear for 6 years. The doctor stated that there needed to be an operation, but after treatment could hear a whisper and understand ordinary conversation. Mrs. Clara Quigg, age 29, 455 West 4th st., deaf mute for 27 years. Could not hear a sound or speak a single word intelligibly, but after treatment she was able to hear a whisper and pronounced words to the satisfaction of the committee and audience. John J. Sullivan, age 30, 249 West 29th st., had been totally deaf in left ear for 30 years. Could hear the very lowest whisper after treatment and ordinary conversation at a long distance. Thomas Neacy, age 26, 460 Washington st., New York, was born deaf and had never heard a sound. Could hear the tuning fork and understand ordinary conversation after treatment. Harry Holmes, deaf mute, age 15, 802 9th ave., New York, could hear a whisper after treatment and pronounce words after the doctor. Samuel Bramson, 590 Clinton st., Jersey City, born deaf and dumb, heard loud sounds and spoke words after the doctor.

During the evening Dr. Wilson gave names and addresses of some of the many thousands of his patients who had been permanently cured of deafness, and incidentally remarked that hundreds of deaf-mutes who were born without hearing had been made, under this treatment, to hear more or less perfectly. He presented to each audience a young lady, Miss May Atzbach, 504 Columbus Ave., Boston, who was for 8 years at the Northampton School for Deaf-Mutes, and who had been examined by many of the best aurists in New York and New England, all of whom had pronounced her incurable and said that she could never hear anything. She had been treated by Dr. Clarence J. Blake of Boston, until he was satisfied that she could never be made to hear, and likewise by Dr. Farlow, another Professor of the Harvard Medical School, with no better results. One hour of Dr. Wilson's treatment enabled her to hear a whisper. That was several months since, and she is still able to hear a whisper, and everything else, which was proven to the entire satisfaction of the committee and audiences.

The Doctor invited all who have any disease of the eye or ear to call for free examination at the office, 240 Fifth Avenue, New York, or at the Boston office, 18 Boylston Street, at any time during the regular office hours, which are 10 to 4 week days, 10 to 12 Sundays and Holidays, and 7 to 8 Wednesday and Friday evenings. Lectures and free treatment will be continued every Thursday evening at 7:45, at the New York office, 240 Fifth Avenue.

IN THE BOWLING ALLEYS.

The America Club of Newark scored a double victory in the National League at Starr's Tournament Hall last night, defeating two of the best clubs in New York. The Empires were the first to fall before the Jerseymen in the first game, and in the third game the Phoenix team was beaten. The Empire and Phoenix teams furnished the best sport of the night. The game was in doubt until the last man had bowled, the Empires winning by eleven pins. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

America—Hertzman, 168; Friedenthal, 179; Cooke, 200; Slee, 153; Manners, 173. Total, 875.
Empire—Linden, 160; Heiles, 152; Williamson, 185; Diederich, 178; Wyman, 150. Total, 805.

SECOND GAME.

Empire—Linden, 157; Heiles, 144; Williamson, 201; Diederich, 176; Weyman, 180. Total, 858.
Phoenix—Pearse, 161; Lawrence, 171; Young, 188; Gross, 168; Clute, 159. Total, 847.

THIRD GAME.

America—Hertzman, 195; Booth, 148; Cooke, 157; Friedenthal, 179; Manners, 136. Total, 815.
Phoenix—Pearse, 156; Lawrence, 143; Young, 170; Gross, 139; Clute, 153. Total, 761.

There was a good attendance at the games in the Royal Arcanum League at the Tennis Club alleys last night. The three games decided were rather one-sided. De Vinne Council won the first two games easily from the New York No. 1 and Harlem Councils. New York No. 1 had everything its own way in the third game against the Harlems. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

De Vinne—Frankle, 203; Hull, 141; Strack, 135; Haar, 144; Detlef, 181. Total, 804.
New York, No. 1—Grunninger, 142; Crum, 153; Dorland, 150; Kitchell, 159; McLean, 158. Total, 762.

SECOND GAME.

De Vinne—Frankle, 136; Hull, 148; Strack, 99; Haar, 172; Detlef, 124. Total, 669.
Harlem—Wagner, 127; White, 134; Searles, 99; Holt, 142; Cowles, 156. Total, 658.

THIRD GAME.

New York, No. 1—Dorland 147; Crum, 148, Grunninger, 149; Kitchell, 126; McLean, 141. Total, 711.
Defendam—Henrichs, 127; Mastin, 80; Frank, 150; Burdett, 114; Warner, 82. Total, 553.

The Oerels and Glendales first team rolled good scores in the Arcade head-pin tournament last night. R. Fuchs of the Glendales made the best individual showing. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Glendale No. 1—Schneider, 85; Schreyer, 101; Laine, 66; R. Fuchs, 105; A. Fuchs, 92. Total, 449.

SECOND GAME.

Glendale No. 2—Lehr, 94; Engiert, 80; Dreiman, 71; Erb, 86; Hugel, 67. Total, 398.

THIRD GAME.

Oerel—Helmers, 76; C. Schultz, 90; Monsees, 104; Otten, 90; P. Schultz, 95. Total, 455.

FOURTH GAME.

Glendale No. 3—Koechling, 36; Cohn, 54; Zimbelman, 40; Eichler, 49; Kissel, 64. Total, 243.

The Oradells won games from the Black Bass and Homestead teams in the Arlington National League last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Oradell—Schmidt, 198; Bellmer, 134; Kaempf 132; Dippel, 151; Reichard, 170. Total, 785.
Black Bass—Schultz, 176; Bassler, 127; Zimmerman, 90; Seiling, 107; Maier, 161. Total, 664.

SECOND GAME.

Homestead—Duncan, 148; Landry, 124; Lask, 127; Cotte, 125; Moore, 162. Total, 686.
Black Bass—Schultz, 161; Bassler, 162; Zimmerman, 83; Seiling, 109; Maier, 165. Total, 680.

THIRD GAME.

Oradell—Schmidt, 128; Bellmer, 171; Kaempf, 163; Dippel, 147; Reichard, 178. Total, 787.
Homestead—Duncan, 156; Landry, 156; Lask, 156; Cotte, 142; Moore, 151. Total, 761.

The Fidelias bowled in good form in the American National tournament last night, defeating the Golden Rods by 107 pins in the first game, and downing the Orientals by 29 pins in the third game. The second game, between the Golden Rods and Orientals, was interesting throughout. The Golden Rods won through the fine work of Starr in the last frame. In the first game for the Golden Rods Dormagen bowled two frames, and was then replaced by Schroeder. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Fidelia—Timm, 149; Kibbel, 187; Koster, 186; Folge, 226; Amann, 171. Total, 919.
Golden Rod—Dormagen, 25; Eck, 178; Meier, 164; Sherwood, 156; Starr, 191; Schroeder, 103. Total, 812.

SECOND GAME.

Golden Rod—Dormagen, 139; Eck, 171; Meier, 178; Sherwood, 189; Starr, 193. Total, 870.
Oriental—Mitchell, 168; Dent, 178; Kreynberg, 167; Rothermel, 200; Gildhaus, 151. Total, 864.

THIRD GAME.

Fidelia—Timm, 204; Kibbel, 164; Koster, 192; Folge, 156; Amann, 134. Total, 850.
Oriental—Mitchell, 153; Dent, 115; Kreynberg, 178; Rothermel, 195; Gillhaus, 180. Total, 821.

The games decided in the Columbia League last night resulted as follows:

FIRST GAME.

Morningside—Armstrong, 151; Hymer, 156; Dorn, 182; Demmler, 169; Klingelhoffer, 123. Total, 781.
Empire City—Messing, 128; Gilham, 155; John, 123; Partridge, 134; Braisted, 206. Total, 751.

SECOND GAME.

Empire City—Messing, 162; Gilham, 127; John, 170; Partridge, 120; Braisted, 199. Total, 778.
Mercury—Mooney, 136; Johnson, 184; Beck, 194; Manson, 167; Steeves, 165. Total, 846.

THIRD GAME.

Morningside—Armstrong, 169; Hymer, 146; Dorn, 169; Demmler, 167; Klingelhoffer, 143. Total, 794.
Mercury—Mooney, 171; Johnson, 136; Beck, 148; Manson, 145; Steeves, 158. Total, 758.

The Grove Hills and Cyclones were the winners in the Harlem League last night, the former winning two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Grove Hill—Potts, 156; Robitzek, 178; Wiegand, 160; Schneider, 167; Strack, 156. Total, 817.
Premier—Davison, 180; Levy, 117; E. R. Moses, 131; Ullman, 146; L. Moses, 192. Total, 766.

SECOND GAME.

Grove Hill—Potts, 154; Robitzek, 149; Wiegand, 193; Schneider, 177; Strack, 180. Total, 853.
Cyclone—Johnsmeyer, 160; Le Beau, 117; Miller, 148; E. Boettjer, 202; C. Boettger, 195. Total, 822.

THIRD GAME.

Cyclone—Johnsmeyer, 201; Pryor, 137; Miller, 149; A. Boettjer, 178; C. Boettjer, 156. Total, 841.
Premier—Davison, 193; Levy, 173; E. R. Moses, 108; Ullman, 202; L. Moses, 157. Total, 833.

The Twenty-sixth Ward team was twice a winner in the Twenty-sixth Ward League tournament of Brooklyn last night in Umla's Alleys. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Twenty-sixth Ward—Johnson, 182; Riterhorn, 224; Baker, 175; Stizmore, 181; Aberle, 222. Total, 994.
Star—A. Kiefer, 160; Bordman, 223; G. Moore, 152; W. Moore, 205; C. Kiefer, 171. Total, 991.

SECOND GAME.

Twenty-sixth Ward—Johnson, 199; Riterhorn, 169; Baker, 166; Stizmore, 176; Aberle, 185. Total, 885.
Star—A. Kiefer, 148; Bordman, 176; G. Moore, 170; W. Moore, 205; C. Kiefer, 173. Total, 872.

East New York Council won two games in the Royal Arcanum sub-tournament at the Elephant Club last evening. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

East New York Council—Rockefellow, 126; Hamcke, 148; Douglas, 143; Bierhausen, 135; Senior, 133. Total, 685.
Justin F. Price—Lorentz, 118; Traver, 111; Campana, 102; Oestraicker, 154; Hempel, 163. Total, 648.

SECOND GAME.

Fulton Council—White, 220; D. Miller, 122; Wilson, 116; W. Miller, 146; Silvera, 138. Total, 742.
Justin F. Price—Lorentz, 150; Traver, 141; Campana, 113; Oestraicker, 103; Hempel, 163. Total, 667.

THIRD GAME.

East New York Council—Rockefellow, 200; Hamcke, 160; Douglas, 139; Bierhausen, 139; Senior, 222. Total, 860.
Fulton Council—White, 115; D. Miller, 147; Wilson, 175; W. Miller, 93; Silvera, 137. Total, 667.

In the Brooklyn Royal Arcanum Tournament at Trainor's alleys the De Witt Clinton Council won two games. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Lefferts Council—Taylor, 201; Brand, 153; Jewell, 116; Smith, 159; Sellers, 152. Total, 781.
De Witt Clinton—Quinn, 164; Houghton, 186; Page, 211; McElroy, 121; Butler, 178. Total, 860.

SECOND GAME.

Lefferts Council—Taylor, 177; Brand, 135; W. Smith, 155; C. Smith, 168; Sellers, 150. Total, 785.
Ridgewood Council—Brown, 189; Lister, 125; Lither, 103; Murphy, 110; Mayer, 161. Total, 688.

THIRD GAME.

De Witt Clinton Council—Quinn, 162; Houghton, 141; Page, 162; McElroy, 143; Butler, 165. Total, 773.
Ridgewood Council—Brown, 89; Lister, 75; Van Wyck, 135; Murphy, 113; Mayer, 144. Total, 556.

The championship tournament of the Thirteenth Regiment Athletic Association was continued last night. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Company M—Langsdaff, 63; Leake, 120; Prendergrast, 127; Rosen, 55; Hedges, 92. Total, 459.
Company A—George, 128; Van Nest, 111; Scott, 118; Watson, 107; Hutchinson, 164. Total, 618.

SECOND GAME.

Company L—Lewis, 128; Storey, 87; Nevin, 93; Fischer, 74; Reid, 114. Total, 496.
Company M—Hendricks, 90; Leake, 177; Prendergrast, 93; Rosen, 93; Hedges, 95. Total, 566.

THIRD GAME.

Company A—George, 138; Van Nest, 131; Scott, 112; Watson, 124; Hutchinson, 142. Total, 647.
Company L—Lewis, 113; Storey, 82; Nevin, 96; Fischer, 76; Reid, 177. Total, 484.

FOURTH GAME.

Company K—Wallace, 101; Bodin, 120; Van Hasslacher, 112; Rogers, 169; Nash, 174. Total, 676.
Company D—Forster, 112; Case, 113; Craig, 140; Newman, 148; Hulstart, 97. Total, 604.

FIFTH GAME.

Company B—F. Hubbs, 162; Jennings, 113; Williams, 133; H. Hubbs, 114; Robertson, 126. Total, 648.
Company D—Forster, 127; Case, 96; Craig, 109; Newman, 120; Hulstart, 66. Total, 518.

SIXTH GAME.

Company B—Robertson, 138; Jennings, 157; H. Hubbs, 115; Williams, 123; F. Hubbs, 125. Total, 652.
Company K—Wallace, 146; C. Bodin, 121; Van Hasslacher, 122; F. Rogers, 112; Nash, 170. Total, 641.

Twenty-third Regiment bowlers turned out in force at the Armory last night at the Armory alleys and three interesting games were rolled. Scores:

FIRST GAME.

Company A—Forster 167; Perkins, 134; Nicholson, 72; Carhart, 116; Merchant, 175. Total, 662.
Company D—Lacroix, 97; Poole, 131; Hoffmann, 162; Brown, 160; Varrellmann, 115. Total, 665.

SECOND GAME.

Company I—Perry, 124; George, 121; Martins, 89; Helmsted, 106; Millard, 163. Total, 603.
Company F—Whitlock, 158; Longnecker, 124; Wiley, 176; Zeidler, 150; Lambert, 183. Total, 721.

THIRD GAME.

Company F—Whitlock, 137; Longnecker, 140; Wiley, 161; Lambert, 148. Total, 719.
Company I—Perry, 118; George, 109; Martin, 111; Helmstedt, 136; Millard, 218. Total, 617.

Tournament Games To-day.

Wholesale Drug Trade Association—R. W. Robinson & Son, National Lead Company, Parke, Davis & Co., Colgate & Co., General Chemical Company, Roessler & Hasslacher Chemical Company, at Reid's Alleys.

Fire Insurance League—Palatine, Atlantic Mutual, Germania, at Reid's Alleys.

Bank Clerks' League at Reid's Alleys.

Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island—Pierce, Greater New York, Defender.

Twenty-sixth Ward Tournament, Brooklyn—Yellow Kid, Annex, Eccentric, at Roessle's.

Harvard to Have a Skating Rink.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 8.—Prof. Hollis and the Athletic Committee of Harvard have just been granted permission and given funds to build an open-air skating rink on Soldiers' Field. This will save the students from making a long trip to the ponds. The rink will be 400 feet long, 135 feet wide, and will contain two inclosed spaces for match polo games, as it is expected that Harvard will join in the intercollegiate polo, and that the games will be played here.

Manhattan Lightweight Won Fight.

George McFadden of Manhattan and "Tim" Kearns of Brooklyn fought twenty-five rounds at the Broadway Athletic Club last night before a large crowd. The men are in the light-weight class. Referee White gave McFadden the decision on points.

MORE TURF CASES SETTLED.

Judges Sustained by the National Trotting Association's Board.

In secret session the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association at the Murray Hill Hotel yesterday suspended several owners who had neglected to make good their entrance fees and reinstated a dozen others who paid the penalties assessed against them. The board sustained the judges in each of the following cases:

A. B. Brunel of Worcester, Mass., against the judges of the free-for-all at Barre, Mass., Sept. 29, 1899; S. A. Regan, Portland, Me., against the judges of the 2:20 class at Monroe, Me., Sept. 12, 1899, and also against the judges of the 2:20 class at Gray, Me., Aug. 3, 1899; G. C. Wheelock of Port Henry, N. Y., against the judges at Porandon, Vt., Oct. 3, 1899.

The board sustained the appeal of C. W. Wright, Yonkers, N. Y., against the judges of the Coblesville Agricultural Association meeting, Sept. 22, 1899. The race in dispute was given to Mr. Wright's horse.

John H. Shults, New York, discussed with the board the status of the "ringer," Bertie R., which he recently purchased.

Racing Results at Tanfaran.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—The races at Tanfaran to-day resulted as follows:

FIRST RACE.—Eleven-sixteenths of a mile; selling. St. Cassimir, 105 pounds, (Vittatoe,) even, won; The Lady, 99. (Spencer,) 2½ to 1, second; Silver Tail, 105, (E. Jones,) 12 to 1, third. Time—1:09½. Floridian, Prestome, The Scott, and Zizka also ran.

SECOND RACE.—Eleven-sixteenths of a mile; selling. Amasa, 109 pounds, (Ross,) 3 to 1, won; White Fern, 104, (Vittatoe,) 25 to 1, second; Elsalado, 109, (Spencer,) 5 to 1, third. Time—1:10½. Yule, Silver Maid, Skirmish, New Moon, Melkarth, Panamint, and Zurich also ran.

THIRD RACE.—One mile and a quarter; selling. Meadowthorpe, 112 pounds, (Bullman,) 8 to 5, won; Owyhee, 94, (Henson,) 20 to 1, second; Stromo, 94, (Fauntleroy,) 5 to 1, third. Time—2:14. G. B. Morris, Billy McCloskey, Silver State, Ulm, and Master Lee also ran.

FOURTH RACE.—One mile; selling. Malay, 102, (Vittatoe,) 2½ to 1, won; Mariato, 111, (J. Walsh,) 8 to 5, second; Topmast, 112, (Spencer,) 4 to 1, third. Time—1:45. Imp. Mistral II., Wyoming, El Estro, Judge Wofford, and Oraibee also ran.

FIFTH RACE.—One mile; selling. Lena, 107 pounds, (J. Martin,) 3 to 1, won; Tempo, 110, (Conley,) 2½ to 1, second; Hohenlohe, 110, (Ross,) 12 to 1, third. Time—1:46¼. Schiller, Pongo, Duke of York II., Inverary II., and Grand Sachem also ran.

SIXTH RACE.—Seven-eighths of a mile; purse. Timemaker, 106 pounds, (Bullman,) 6 to 5, won; Dunblane, 90, (Phelan,) 6 to 1, second; May W., 104, (Ross,) 7 to 10, third. Time—1:30½. Three starters.

PROHIBITION DEAD IN GEORGIA.

Senate Kills the Willingham Bill by a Vote of 26 to 14.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 8.—By a vote of 26 to 14 the Willingham bill was killed in the Senate to-day and State prohibition defeated. The various roll calls consumed an hour, a great many Senators rising to explain their votes.

The debate in the Senate commenced two days ago and was carried on with great vigor. Had the measure passed the Senate it would have been so amended as to make it ineffective. It is believed that the question is now settled for some time.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.		P. M.	A. M.
Sun rises	7:13	Sun sets	4:33
		Moon sets

High Water This Day.

A. M.		A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook	12:23	Gov. Isl'd	12:45
H. Gate	2:41
P. M.		P. M.	P. M.
S. Hook	12:40	Gov. Isl'd	1:00
H. Gate	2:56

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (SATURDAY,) DEC. 9.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Alene, Jamaica, &c.	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:30 A. M.
Arkadia, San Juan	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Auguste Victoria, Naples, &c.	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
British Empire, Antwerp	.....	.....
Cherokee, Turk's Island, &c.	.....	3:00 P. M.
	*1:30 P. M.
Capri, Pernambuco, &c.	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
El Norte, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Grenada, Trinidad	11:00 A. M.	.....
Havana, Havana	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Knickerbocker, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Lauenburg, Nuevitas, &c.	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Lampasas, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Marquette, London	.....	9:00 A. M.
Ohio, Hull	.....	.....
Pretoria, St. Thomas, &c.	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:00 A. M.
Pretoria, Hamburg	.....	9:00 A. M.
Salerno, Newcastle	.....	.....
Seminole, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Tainui, Glasgow	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Umbria, Queenstown and Liverpool	6:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

TUESDAY, DEC. 12.

Algonquin, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Belvernon, Inagua, &c.	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Hildur, Curacao	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
	*11:30 A. M.
Trave, Bremen	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Winifred, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13.

Alamo, Galvestbn	.....	3:00 P. M.
Athos, Colon	9:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
	*10:30 A. M.
City of Washington, Tampico	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Friesland, Antwerp	10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Oceanic, Liverpool	11:00 A. M.	2:00 P. M.
	*12:30 P. M.
St. Louis, Southampton	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
	*9:00 A. M.
Yucatan, Havana and Mexico	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Australasian Colonies, (except West Australia, which go via Europe, and New Zealand, which go via San Francisco,) Hawaii, and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Nov. 25 and up to Dec. 9, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship Warrimoo. Mails for China, Japan, and Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Dec. 16, inclusive, for dispatch per steamship America Maru.

‡Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (SATURDAY,) DEC. 9.

Bordeaux, Pauillac, Nov. 27.
Canadia, Stettin, Nov. 18.
Charing Cross, Gibraltar, Nov. 23.
Galileo, Hull, Nov. 25.
Indraghire, London, Nov. 22.
Jerseymoor, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
Manica, Shields, Nov. 28.
Palatia, Hamburg, Nov. 27.
Pawnee, Gibraltar, Nov. 22.
St. Cuthbert, Antwerp, Nov. 26.
St. Louis, Southampton, Dec. 2.

SUNDAY, DEC. 10.

Algonquin, Jacksonville, Dec. 7.
City of Macon, Savannah, Dec. 7.
El Sud, New Orleans, Dec. 5.
La Gascogne, Havre, Dec. 2.
Manhattan, London, Nov. 28.
Paraense, Ceara, Nov. 28.
Yucatan, Havana, Dec. 6.

MONDAY, DEC. 11.

Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Nov. 30.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 1.
Concho, Galveston, Dec. 6.
Heathdene, St. Michael, Nov. 30.
Mesaba, London, Dec. 11.
Ponce, San Juan, Dec. 5.
Wordsworth, St. Lucia, Dec. 4.

TUESDAY, DEC. 12.

Bath City, Swansea, Nov. 28.
Chateau Lafite, Havre, Nov. 29.
Dunblane, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Karamania, Gibraltar, Nov. 28.
Southwark, Antwerp, Dec. 2.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13.

Allianca, Colon, Dec. 6.
Curaco, Greenock, Dec. 1.
Hudson, New Orleans, Dec. 7.
Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Gibraltar Dec. 4.
Ras Elba, Gibraltar, Nov. 29.

THURSDAY, DEC. 14.

Buffalo, Hull, Dec. 2.

Arrived.

SS Tainui, (Br.,) Baxter, Glasgow Nov. 27 and Moville 28th, with mdse. and passengers to Henderson Bros. Arrived at the Bar at 6:43 P. M.

U. S. transport McClellan, Nye, San Juan, &c., Nov. 29, with soldiers and civilians to U. S. Quartermaster. Arrived at the Bar at 8:15 P. M.

SS Lucania, (Br.,) McKay, Liverpool Dec. 2 and Queenstown 3d, with mdse. and passengers to Vernon H. Brown & Co. South of Fire Island at 11:45 P. M.

SS Mayfield, (Br.,) McDonald, Batoum, &c., Nov. 7, with manganese ore to order—vessel to master. Arrived at the Bar at 5 P. M.

SS Albano, (Ger.,) Kudenhoid, Hamburg Nov. 24, with mdse. and passengers to Funch, Edye & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 5 P. M.

SS Tainui, (Br.,) Baxter, Glasgow Nov. 27 and Moville 28th, with mdse. and passengers to Henderson Bros. In Quarantine at 8 P. M.

SS Ruby, (Br.,) Sheppard, Sourabaya, &c., Sept. 25, with sugar to Funch, Eddy & Co. Arrived at the Bar at noon.

SS Jefferson, Hulphers, Norfolk and Newport News, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steamship Co.

SS Ardanrose, (Br.,) Walker, Havana Dec. 3, in ballast to W. D. Munson. Arrived at the Bar at 11:30 P. M. 7th.

SS Vincenzo, (Ital.,) Rizzo, Girgenti, &c., Nov. 1, with mdse. to Phelps Bros. & Co. Arrived at the Bar at midnight 7th.

SS Lyell, (Br.,) Davidson, Stratoni (Turkey) Nov. 13 and Gibraltar 24th, with manganese ore to order—vessel to master. Arrived at the Bar at 9:45 A. M.

SS Asia, (Ger.,) Segelken, Sourabaya, &c., Sept. 21, with sugar to the American Sugar Refining Company—vessel to the United States and Australian Steamship Co. Arrived at the Bar at 9:40 A. M.

SS El Dorado, Baker, New Orleans, La., Dec. 3, with mdse. to J. T. Van Sickle.

WIND—Sandy Hook, N. J., Dec. 8, 9:30 P. M., west, light, clear.

Sailed.

SS Hexham, (Br.,) for Port Royal, S. V.
SS Kansas City, (Br.,) for Bristol.
SS Excelsior, (Ger.,) for Flushing.
SS Jamestown, for Norfolk, &c.
SS Iroquois, for Charleston, &c.
SS Rio Grande, for Brunswick.
SS La Grande Duchesse, for Savannah.

By Cable.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—SS Campania, (Br.,) Capt. Watt, from New York for Liverpool, arr. at Queenstown at 1:51 P. M. to-day and proceeded.

SS Fuerst Bismarck, (Ger.,) Capt. Barends, (from Genoa,) sld. from Naples for New York at 4 P. M. to-day.

SS Ethiopia, (Br.,) Capt. Wadsworth, (from Glasgow,) sld. from Moville for New York to-day.

SS Kensington, (Br.,) Capt. Albrecht, from New York for Southampton and Antwerp, passed the Lizard to-day.

SS Ems, (Ger.,) Capt. Harrassowitz, from New York for Naples and Genoa, passed Ponta Ferraria to-day.

SS Statendam, (Dutch,) Capt. Bonjer, from Rotterdam for New York, passed Isle of Wight to-day.

SS Thingvalla, (Dan.,) Capt. Laub, from New York via Copenhagen, &c., arr. at Stettin Dec. 4.

SS Mozart, (Br.,) Capt. Ellis, from New York, arr. at Macelo yesterday.

SS La Normandie, (Fr.,) Capt. Pencelet, from New York, arr. at Havre at midnight to-day.

SS Peninsular, (Port.,) Capt. Hettencourt, sld. from Lisbon for New York Dec. 2.

SS Burgermeister Petersen, (Ger.,) Capt. Stege, sld. from Hamburg for New York Dec. 5.

SS Deutschland, (Ger.,) Capt. Schierhorst, sld. from Rotterdam for New York Dec. 6.

SS Cymric, (Br.,) Capt. Lindsay, from New York, arr. at Liverpool to-day.

SS St. Andrew, (Br.,) Capt. Fitzgerald, from New York, arr. at Antwerp to-day.

SS Werra, (Ger.,) Capt. Weyer, from New York via Naples, arr. at Genoa at 2 P. M. to-day.

SS Pawnee, (Br.,) Capt. Cartwright, (from Trieste, &c.,) sld. from Gibraltar for New York Dec. 1, not previously.

SS Tuscarora, (Br.,) Capt. Payne, from New York, arr. at London to-day.

SS Pomeranian, (Br.,) Capt. Fairful, from New York, arr. at Glasgow to-day.

SS Gairloch, (Br.,) Capt. Craig, from New York via St. Vincent, C. V., arr. at Melbourne previous to to-day.

SS Queen Olga, (Br.,) Capt. Harris, from New York via St. Vincent, C. V., arr. at Adelaide previous to to-day.

SS St. Regulus, (Br.,) Capt. McMullen, from New York for Aden, Singapore, &c., arr. at Port Said to-day.

SS Snowflake, (Br.,) Capt. Harwodd, from New York for London, passed the Lizard to-day.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York City.

LIBERTY CYCLE COMPANY.—Franklin Leonard, Jr., assignee of the Liberty Cycle Company of 4 Warren Street, has obtained leave from Justice Beach of the Supreme Court to file a provisional bond of $50,000 until schedules can be prepared. It will require considerable time to prepare them, as the company has a large plant at Bridgeport, Conn.; a large quantity of manufactured and unfinished parts and merchandise, as well as a large number of outstanding accounts and bills due; and various offices and storerooms in Boston, Chicago, and other cities. Mr. Leonard estimates the value of the assets at not more than $45,000. The outstanding accounts are nominally $50,398, but the actual value is estimated at $15,000. The other assets consist of machinery, tools, &c., finished and unfinished parts, 2,000 wheels, raw materials, and merchandise in process of manufacture. As there are between 40,000 and 50,000 wheels manufactured by the company in use throughout the United States, and applications for parts ahe being daily received, Mr. Leonard thinks the sale of these parts will materially increase the assets.

IL PROGRESO ITALO-AMERICANO NEWSPAPER COMPANY.—The Sheriff yesterday sold out the right, title, and interest of the Il Progreso Italo-Americano Newspaper Company in the presses, type, office furniture, books, papers, &c., at 42 Duane Street, under an execution of $1,150 in favor of David C. Bourquin. The sale realized $300.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

HOTCHKISS & WILLCOX.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed yesterday against Hotchkiss & Willcox, stock brokers of 50 Broadway, by the following creditors: Walter S. Bigelow, $1,428; Ernest H. Wands, $417; and James A. Minor, $360. The claim of Mr. Bigelow is for damages for the conversion of the following securities: Thirty shares People's Gas Light Company of Chicago, fifty shares Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, twenty shares Union Pacific Railway Company, twenty shares Northern Pacific Railway Company, and fifty shares Southern Pacific Railway Company. The claim of Mr. Wands is for damages for the conversion of forty shares of Northern Pacific Railway Company. The claim of Mr. Minor was assigned to him by T. Moore for the conversion of thirty shares of Southern Pacific Railway Company. They allege that the firm committed an act of bankruptcy by making a general assignment on Nov. 21.

ARNDT & WIESNER.—Paul H. Arndt and Rudolph Wiesner, composing the firm of Arndt & Wiesner, grocers, at 545 Columbus Avenue, have filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $7,218, to fifty-six creditors, for merchandise purchased from May to December, and assets of $3,402, consisting of merchandise, $1,750; fixtures, $750; book accounts, $555; horse and wagon and harness, $335; cash, $12. They have been in business three years.

JOHN J. HICKEY.—John J. Hickey, residing at 564 Second Avenue, manager of a liquor store, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $10

WILL FIGHT ASTORIA GRANT.

Mr. Whalen Holds that State Land Board Acted Illegally.

The action of the Commissioners of the Land Office in granting land under water around Berrian's Island to the Astoria Heat, Light, and Power Company will be contested by the local authorities, according to Corporation Counsel Whalen, who said yesterday:

"It was the intention of the framers of the charter to give home rule to the greater city, and that means in its larger sense that none of its property shall be given to any private corporation by the State Board, as has been done in the present instance to the Astoria Heat, Light, and Power Company, without its full consent and approval. The City of New York is entitled to receive all the benefit for these valuable privileges. I propose to maintain this contention, and feel assured that the courts will sustain me. I intend to fight it to the bitter end."

The lands affected by the grant amount to about 16.31 acres in extent, and were appraised at about $3,500. They lie within the limits of the City of New York, and the Law Department contends that the Land Commissioners exceeded their authority and violated Section 86 of the charter by issuing letters patent to the Astoria Company.

Lawyer in Contempt Now in Jail.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 8.—Judge Fort, in the Orphans' Court to-day, adjudged William J. Linnihan, a lawyer, in contempt and ordered his arrest. Linnihan had been ordered by the Court to surrender $367.86, which he held as assignee of the Mary B. Brown estate. He was removed as assignee last Friday, and was nominally placed under arrest in court. He promised to turn over the money if permitted to go and get it, but failed to do so. He is now in the county jail.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

Calendar for Monday: 167, 119, 169, 174, 130, 170, 175, 176.

Appellate Division Decisions.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in this city yesterday handed down the following decisions:

John McQueen, as receiver, plaintiff, vs. Tobias Newland and another, impleaded, defendants.—Exceptions sustained and motion for new trial granted, with costs to plaintiff to abide event. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

William P. Douglas, respondent, vs. New York Elevated Railroad Company and another, appellants.—Judgment modified as directed in opinion, and as modified affirmed, without costs to either party. Opinion by Ingraham, J., Van Brunt, P. J., and McLaughlin, J., dissenting.

Mary Kelly, appellant, vs. Supreme Council of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, with leave to plaintiff to withdraw demurrer on payment of costs in this court and in the court below. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Fanny M. Bedlow, respondent, vs. Sarah A. Stilwell, appellant.—Judgment and order reversed, with costs to appellant to abide event, and motion denied, with $10 costs; but on payment of such costs, with leave to plaintiff to demur or take such other action as she may be advised. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

Henry N. Booz, respondent, vs. Cleveland School Furniture Company, appellant.—Judgment reversed, with costs, and demurrer sustained, with costs, with leave to the respondent to amend on payment of costs in this court and in the court below. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Anthony Schaffer, respondent, vs. William F. Helwil, appellant.—Judgment reversed, with costs, and motion denied, with costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Russell Johnson and another, appellants, vs. Howard T. Alexander et al., respondents.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellants to abide event. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

People ex rel. Elizabeth W. Lester, appellant, vs. Bird S. Coler and another, respondents.—Writ dismissed, with costs. Opinion by Van Brunt, P. J.

In the matter of Francis McCabe, deceased.—Decree modified as directed in opinion, and as modified affirmed. The costs of the infant on this appeal to be paid from the estate. Opinion by Patterson, J.

William C. Uptervove and another, respondents, vs. William O. Schwartzwaelder et al., appellants.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellants to abide event. Opinions by Ingraham, McLaughlin, and O'Brien, JJ. (O'Brien and Patterson, JJ., dissenting.)

Frederick C. Clark et al., respondents, vs. William O. Schwartzwaelder et al., appellants.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by Ingraham, J. (O'Brien and Patterson, JJ., dissenting.)

Mary C. Morrell, appellant, vs. Ernest H. Hall, as assignee, impleaded, respondent.—Judgment reversed, with costs, and demurrer overruled, with costs, with leave to defendant to withdraw demurrer and answer on payment of costs in this court and in the court below. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

David Bachrach and another appellants, vs. George W. Leventritt, as assignee, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Patterson, J.

H. Augusta Davidson, plaintiff, vs. John J. Crooks and another, defendants.—Judgment ordered for plaintiff, with costs. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Philip Semmer Glass Company, appellant, vs. Nassau Show Case Company, respondent.—Order reversed, with costs, and judgment of the Municipal Court, affirmed, with costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Simon Christiansen, respondent, vs. Louis B. Mercheim, impleaded, appellant.—Order affirmed, with costs. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

Eugene C. Peixotto, plaintiff, vs. Fabian Sachs, defendant.—Judgment ordered for plaintiff, with costs. Opinion by Van Brunt, P. J.

American Box Machine Company, plaintiff, vs. Charles F. Zentgraf, defendant.—Judgment ordered for plaintiff, with costs. Opinion by Patterson, J.

In the matter of Augustus M. Purdy, deceased.—Decree affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Robert S. Howard, appellant, vs. Ira Van Gieson, respondent.—Order affirmed, with costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Albert von den Driesch, respondent, vs. Annie Rohrig and another, impleaded appellants.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs. Opinion by Patterson, J.

Frank M. Van Horn, appellant-respondent, vs. Kittitas County, Washington, respondent-appellant.—Order affirmed, with costs, on opinion of Justice Beekman in the court below.

Ella J. Fox, respondent, vs. Julia Mayo, appellant.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinions by Ingraham and McLaughlin, JJ., McLaughlin, J., and Van Brunt, P. J., dissenting.

Mary W. Livingston, respondent, vs. William S. Livingston, appellant.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

George Eckhard, respondent, vs. Alfred W. Jones and another, appellants.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion denied, with $10 costs. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

Rose Kreiser, appellant, vs. City of New York, respondent.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements against the city, and motion denied, with $10 costs. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Abraham Israel, appellant, vs. Tillie B. Israel, respondent.—Tillie B. Israel, respondent, vs. Abraham Israel, appellant.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

In the matter of Joseph P. Hale, deceased.—Order modified as directed in opinion and as modified, affirmed, without costs. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

People ex rel John Lang, Jr., respondent, vs. Bernard J. York et al., appellants.—Order reversed, with costs, and motion denied, with costs. Opinions by Van Brunt, P. J., and O'Brien, J. (O'Brien, J., dissenting.)

In the matter of George G. Renville.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Mary Moccia, as administratrix, appellant, vs. New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Ingraham, J. (O'Brien, J., dissenting.)

Virginia Ballard et al., appellants, vs. Alven Beveridge, respondent.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinions by Barrett and Patterson, JJ. (Patterson J., dissenting.)

Max Kalish, appellant, vs. Julius Kalish et al., respondents.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Patterson, J.

Insurance Company of Pennsylvania, respondent, vs. Jacob E. Telfair, as receiver, appellant.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

Benjamin F. Kraft, respondent, vs. Samuel M. Rice, appellant.—Judgment reversed, with costs, and demurrer sustained, with costs, with leave to plaintiff to amend on payment of costs in this court and in the court below. Opinions by O'Brien and Barrett, JJ.

People ex rel. John S. Sutphen, appellant, vs. Thomas L. Feitner et al., respondents.—Order affirmed, with costs. Opinions by Patterson and Barrett, JJ. (Barrett, J., dissenting.)

James A. Sproull, appellant, vs. Star Company, respondent.—Order affirmed, with costs. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

People ex rel. William J. Chamberlain, respondent, vs. Charles H. Knox et al., appellants.—Order reversed and writ denied, without costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

People ex rel. Albert G. Wilson, respondent, vs. Charles H. Knox et al., appellants.—Order reversed, with costs. Opinion by Patterson, J.

Theodore W. Stemmler and another, respondents, vs. The Mayor, &c., appellants.—Order reversed, without costs, and motion granted on the conditions stated in opinion. Opinion by O'Brien, J.

William E. Dean, appellant, vs. The Mayor, &c., respondents.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinions by Ingraham and Barrett, JJ. (Barrett and Rumsey, JJ., dissenting.)

Timothy Mahoney, respondent, vs. George Bernhard et al., appellants.—Judgment modified as directed in opinion, and as modified affirmed, with costs, to abide event. Opinion by Barrett, J.

William E. Sabin, respondent, vs. William A. Kendrick, appellant.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Anna J. Lennon, appellant, vs. Daniel Farrett and another, respondents.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

People ex rel William E. Streubel, appellant, vs. Bernard J. York et al., respondents.—Determination of Commissioners annulled, with $50 costs and disbursements. Opinion by Barrett, J.

Sarah Lazarus et al., respondents, vs. Bernhard J. Ludwig, appellant.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Barrett, J.

Elizabeth Meesman, appellant, vs. Annette Egenberger, impleaded, respondents.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Lenard Kahn, appellant, vs. Henry R. Mount, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinions by McLaughlin and Barrett, JJ.

James C. Fargo, as President, appellant, vs. William C. Browning et al., respondents.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

Broadway Theatre Company, appellant, vs. The Dessau Company, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Barrett, J.

George W. Crossman et al., appellants, vs. Theodor G. Lurman et al., respondents.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Mina Hirschman, appellant, vs. Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery Railroad Company, respondent.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

Frances Seipp, administratrix, respondent, vs. Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery Railroad Company, appellant.—Judgment and order reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by Barrett, J.

Mary L. Rusk, respondent, vs. Manhattan Railway Company, appellant.—Judgment and order reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Jennie J. Mandeville, as guardian, plaintiff, vs. Jane E. Campbell et al., defendants.—Order affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

In the matter of the Mayor, &c., in re Whitlier Street.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and report of Commissioners confirmed. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

Patrick Treacy, plaintiff, vs. Anthony Ellis et al., defendants.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinion by Barrett, J.

Jacob Paul, appellant, vs. City of New York et al., respondents.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinion by Ingraham, J.

William T. Gilbart, as receiver, appellant, vs. Edward L. Finch et al., respondents.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Chilton B. Allen, respondent, vs. Fowler & Wells Company, appellant.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion denied, with $10 costs. Opinion by Rumsey, J.

Harriet Nugent, an infant, respondent, vs. Metropolitan Street Railway Company, appellant.—Order reversed and motion granted, with costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Abraham Westheimer et al., respondents, vs. Moses Musliner et al., appellants.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs. Opinion by McLaughlin, J.

Patrick B. McEntyre, appellant, vs. Clarence Tucker, respondent.—Order modified by disallowing the costs and disbursements of first appeal, and as so modified affirmed, without costs. Opinion per curia.

People ex rel. John J. Sachs, appellant, vs. Bernard J. York et al., respondents.—Writ dismissed, with costs. No opinion.

People ex rel. Robert Clifford, appellant, vs. Bernard J. York et al., respondents.—Writ dismissed, with costs. No opinion.

People ex rel. Henry Foster, appellant, vs. Bernard J. York et al., respondents.—Writ dismissed, with costs. No opinion.

People ex rel. William Hickson, appellant, vs. Frank Moss et al., respondents.—Writ dismissed, with costs. No opinion.

John H. Spellman, respondent, vs. F. Muehfeld, appellant.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Ada McCobb, appellant, vs. Simon Christiansen, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Timothy J. Sullivan, appellant, vs. Metropolitan Street Railway Company, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

John G. Hassard, appellant, vs. United States of Mexico, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements on opinion of the court below.

Abraham Israel, respondent, vs. Tillie B. Israel, appellant.—Order affirmed, without costs. No opinion.

Emily A. Bryant, appellant, vs. Arthur A. Seaver, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Emily A. Bryant, appellant, vs. Arthur A. Seaver, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Emily A. Bryant, appellant, vs. Arthur A. Seaver, respondent.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

In the matter of John F. Talmage and another.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Charles Mulford vs. S. Sergeant Cram et al.—Motion granted, with $10 costs.

Thomas Kennedy vs. The Mayor, &c.—Motion denied, with $10 costs.

Caroline Krall vs. City of New York—Motion denied, with $10 costs.

In the matter of Thomas F. Gibbons.—Reference ordered.

New York Calendars This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SURROGATE'S COURT—Chambers—Fitzgerald, S.—Wills for probate at 10:30 A. M.: William A. Barder, Henry Mellough, Louisa Hillebrecht.

CITY COURT—Special Term—O'Dwyer, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Motions.

Referees Appointed—New York.

SUPREME COURT—Beach, J.—Williamson vs. Williamson—Augustus C. Brown. Citizens' Savings Bank vs. Saloman—Francis B. Delehanty. Friedlander vs. Hess—Delano C. Calvin. Baker vs. Chaffe—Wilbur McBride.

A Holiday Present

which will save doctor's bills and add to the comfort of the recipient, not this Winter only, but all next, will indeed be a welcome one.

Why not buy some

KOTEDSILK

underwear for gifts? It is beautiful, luxurious and durable.

KOTEDSILK UNDERWEAR CO., MILLBURY, MASS.

76 Leonard St., N. Y. City, and All Leading Stores.

Saves Stumbles and Bumps. Lights you to bed safely.

WHAT DOES THE FRIENDLY BEACON ELECTRIC LAMP DO?

Gives a bright ray of light when you want it.

United States Battery Co., 253 BROADWAY.

552 State St., Brooklyn. 256 Dearborn St., Chicago.

HARDMAN PIANO

"The Only Piano that Improves with Use."

See the new Hardman Baby Grand

HARDMAN, PECK & CO., 136 & 138 Fifth Ave., New York.

ANDERSON & CO., 470 FULTON ST., BROOKLYN.

NEW STYLES.

We now have a complete stock of our elegant, new designs in Upright Pianos, in various fancy woods, at our warerooms.

The discontinued styles we will dispose of at greatly reduced prices, cash or monthly payments. Call and examine, or send for ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE. Pianos to rent.

KRAKAUER BROS., WAREROOMS, 113 EAST 14TH ST.

THE OPERA PIANO.

New and elegant designs also several slightly used WRITE FOR BARGAIN LIST.

Warerooms, Broadway, Cor. 47th St.

"Had I ever tasted Abbey's Effervescent Salt, I should never have said, 'Throw physic to the dogs.'"

Abbey's Salt makes a pleasant, invigorating, effervescing tonic drink, more like a beverage than a medicine.

But it is a medicine and a good one. It aids digestion, promotes a regular action of the bowels, purifies the blood and clears the complexion. It not only cures diseases but prevents them by keeping the whole system in good order. Try it.

At druggists'. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 the bottle.

There are some people who never do anything until they have to. Don't be one of them. Take care of your health while you have it. Retain your health by the daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

WINTER RESORTS.

VIRGINIA HOT SPRINGS, ON CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RY. A DISTINCTIVE HEALTH RESORT, combining a perfect Fall climate, an elevation of 2,500 feet, picturesque mountain surroundings, and HOTEL OF THE HIGHEST CLASS.

The fine course of the Virginia Hot Springs Golf Club adjoins the hotel. Through compartment car from New York. Excursion tickets at C. & O. offices, 362 and 1,354 Broadway, and offices Pennsylvania R. R., New York; also offices N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. throughout New England. FRED STERRY, Manager, Hot Springs, Bath Co., Va.

The Laurel in the Pines, LAKEWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

NOW OPEN.

More than one hundred rooms in bath suites added since last season.

LOUIS P. ROBERTS, Manager.

THE LAKEWOOD, Lakewood, New Jersey.

M. C. WENTWORTH of Wentworth Hall, Jackson, White Mts., N. H., Lessee and Manager.

JAMES N. BERRY, formerly of Laurel-in-the-Pines, Assistant Manager.

Hamilton Hotel, Bermuda.

OPEN DECEMBER TO MAY.

Situated on high elevation in the centre of the city of Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda. Send for booklet. A. C. BROOKS, Manager, Hamilton, Bermuda.

BOARDERS WANTED.

38TH ST., 40 EAST.—Large second floor room, with board; parlor dining room; reference.

50 WEST 55TH ST.—Single room, with board; refinement; references.

179 MADISON AV.—Fine rooms, handsomely furnished; second floor; for rent, with board.

THE NEW YORK TIMES. "All the News That's Fit to Print."

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALES.

Chambermaids.

CHAMBERMAID.—Assist with plain sewing; willing and obliging; first-class references. Goodwin, 126 West 109th St.

Cooks.

COOK.—By competent young woman as cook in private family; good reference. 242 East 25th St.

COOK.—By first-class cook; city or country; best city references. J. G., Box 346, 1,269 Broadway.

Dressmakers.

DRESSMAKER.—Bl Frencr dressmaker; excellent cutter and fitter; out by day or week; highest references. E. G., 306 West 22d St.

Nurses.

NURSE.—Lady wishes to secure situation for French Protestant nurse for young child. Call Monday and Tuesday mornings, 45 East 68th St.

Miscellaneous.

EXPERIENCED ENGLISH WOMAN TAKES butler's place; permanent or otherwise. H. E., 530 6th Av.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALES.

Butlers.

BUTLER—VALET.—By an Englishman, just disengaged; city or country; good city references; wages moderate. G. M., 981 6th Av., care Simpson.

Coachmen.

COACHMAN.—Swede; age, 29; understands the care of fine horses, harness, and carriages; strictly sober and trustworthy; excellent references from last and former employers. C. A. Anderson, 244 East 35th St.

Miscellaneous.

CARPENTER.—Experienced, reliable, and sober; hotel, apartment house, or estate; references; wages moderate. John, Box 20, 1,242 Broadway.

HELP WANTED—FEMALES.

WANTED—Fifty saleslades. F. W. WOOLWORTH & CO., 259 6th Av.

HELP WANTED—MALES.

PARENTS WHO ARE SINCERE IN THEIR desire to promote the welfare of their sons, (who are naturally bright and have been reasonably well educated,) by securing for them the opportunity of obtaining, without expense, a practical business experience in one of the largest concerns in this country, may learn something to their advantage by addressing A. B. C., Box 190, Times Office. All inquiries treated in the strictest confidence.

BANK STATEMENTS.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE RIVERSIDE BANK, at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$635,994.27
Overdrafts		310.43
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers and brokers	$49,591.90
Due from approved reserve agents	119 494.69
		169,086.59
Real estate		37,191.48
Mortgages owned		58,000.00
Stocks and bonds		233,925.00
Specie		10,333.88
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks		43,982.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for next day's exchanges	$52,069.19
Other items carried as cash	749.45
		52,818.64
		$1,241,651.29

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	90,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	24,461.30
Due depositors	1,015,056.75
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, and savings banks	12,118.24
Unpaid dividends	15.00
	$1,241,651.29

BANK STATEMENTS.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$20,506,094.82
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		442.37
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		50,000.00
Bonds and stocks		2,315,444.21
Banking house		250,000.00
Other real estate		57,260.59
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		1,793,000.32
Due from State banks and bankers		486,795.66
Checks and other cash items		247,637.08
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,517,082.47
Notes of other National banks		146,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		16,754.58
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.: Specie	$5,143,206.00
Legal-tender notes	1,762,249.00
		6,905,955.00
Assistant Treasurer, (Collector of Customs)		41,745.23
Total		$34,334,212.33

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$300,000.00
Surplus fund		6,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		560,058.63
State banknotes outstanding		10,860.00
Due to other National banks	$5,095,196.34
Due to State banks and bankers	2,009,535.51
Dividends unpaid	980.00
Individual deposits subject to check	20,203,091.11
Demand certificates of deposit	13,022.45
Certified checks	105,408.76
Cashier's checks outstanding	35,164.53
		27,463,293.70
Total		$34,334,212.33

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, FRANCIS HALPIN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. FRANCIS HALPIN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899. EDW'D P. BROWN, Notary.

Correct—Attest:
FREDERIC W. STEVENS,
W. EMLEN ROOSEVELT,
G. G. WILLIAMS,
Directors.

[No. 341.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE FIFTH NATIONAL BANK, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,145,057.68
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		604.27
U. S. bonds to secure circulation, 4 per cents		200,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits, 4 per cents		200,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds and others		25,726.07
Stocks, securities, &c.		647,463.83
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		100,000.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		48,188.33
Due from State banks and bankers		22,071.83
Checks and other cash items		9,255.99
Exchanges for Clearing House		147,679.41
Notes of other National banks		4,610.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		911.68
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.: Specie	$591,086
Legal tender notes	67,066.00
		658,752.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treas'r (5% of circulation)		9,000.00
Total		$3,219,321.09

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$200,000.00
Surplus fund	50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	281,778.20
National banknotes outstanding	178,220.00
Due to State banks and bankers	$124,452.90
Individual deposits subject to check	2,133,695.74
Demand certificates of deposit	12,652.35
Certified checks	34,144.65
Cashier's checks outstanding	4,377.25
United States deposits	200,000.00
	2,509,322.89
Total	$3,219,321.09

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, A. THOMPSON, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. A. THOMPSON, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899. F. H. ROSS, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
S. KELLY,
DANIEL D. WYLIE,
WM. N. ROBERTSON,
Directors.

[No. 1,290.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL CITIZENS BANK, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business December 2d, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,701,441.15
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		199.74
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		200,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		16,875.00
Stocks, securities, &c.		15,200.00
Banking house		276,600.00
Due from National banks, (not reserve agents)		203,444.81
Due from State banks and bankers		15,723.43
Checks and other cash items		75,821.22
Exchanges for Clearing House		217,913.77
Notes of other National banks		2,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		510.68
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.: Specie	$584,769.90
Legal-tender notes	70,000.00
U. S. certificates of deposit for legal tenders	10,000.00
		614,769.90
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5 per cent. of circulation)		9,000.00
Total		$4,348,601.73

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$600,000.00
Surplus fund	120,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	263,191.92
National banknotes outstanding	176,970.00
Due to other National banks	107,459.10
Due to State banks and bankers	85,200.87
Dividends unpaid	728.80
Individual deposits subject to check	2,920,672.18
Demand certificates of deposit	122.00
Certified checks	37,624.10
Cashier's checks outstanding	32,750.65
Contingent fund	3,872.84
Total	$4,348,601.72

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, D. C. TIEBOUT, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. D. C. TIEBOUT, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of December, 1899. WM. V. A. POE, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
ELKAN NAUMBURG,
PEARSON HALSTEAD,
FRED'K SOUTHACK,
Directors.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE BANK OF NEW AMSTERDAM, New York City, at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,174,033.59
Overdrafts		893.21
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers		124,895.02
Stocks and bonds		386,201.83
Specie		777,067.02
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks		245,577.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$171,522.29
Other items carried as cash	22,504.44
		194,026.73
Assets not included under any of the above heads: Safe deposit vaults		35,000.00
		$4,937,694.40

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$250,000.00
Surplus fund	250,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	147,431.29
Due depositors	$3,974,929.75
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	315,333.36
	4,290,263.11
	$4,937,694.40

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

FRANK TILFORD, President, and GEORGE J. BAUMANN, Cashier, of the Bank of New Amsterdam, a bank located and doing business at Broadway and 39th Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for Himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks designating the fourth day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made. FRANK TILFORD, President. G. J. BAUMANN, Cashier.

Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 8th day of December, 1899, before me. JOHN G. HEMERICH, Notary Public, N. Y. Co. [Seal of Notary.]

INSTRUCTION.

PENNINGTON SEMINARY.—Thorough education, good home, and nobility of character our constant aim. Address Thomas O'Hanlon, D. D., Pennington, N. J.

HOW TO GET STRONG. Wood's Gymnasium, 6 East 28th St.; handball, boxing, fencing, baths, &c. Entrance, $5; monthly dues, $2.

LADIES.—Private instruction, reading, grammar, history, literature, penmanship, French; moderate. Miss S., 46 West 99th St.

MISS EVERDELL'S CLASSES FOR GIRLS, 53 WEST 45TH ST.

INSTRUCTION—DANCING.

T. GEORGE DODWORTH, 12 and 14 East 49th Street. CLASSES AND PRIVATE LESSONS. Commencing Saturday, Oct. 21st.

BANK STATEMENTS.

[No. 4,567.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE HIDE & LEATHER NATIONAL BANK, at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Dec. 2, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$1,848,080.26
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		2,204.62
U. S. bonds to secure circulation		380,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		22,597.49
Stocks, securities, &c.		82,491.75
Other real estate and mortgages owned		10,000.00
Due from National banks (not reserve agents)		243,344.71
Due from State banks and bankers		18,274.19
Checks and other cash items		16,188.81
Exchanges for Clearing House		165,515.17
Notes of other National banks		2,430.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		360.58
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.: Specie	$220,312.00
Legal-tender notes	203,307.00
		423,619.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		17,100.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer, other than 5% redemption fund		4,497.35
Total		$3,237,303.93

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$500,000.00
Surplus fund		50,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		202,519.93
National bank notes outstanding		342,000.00
Reserved for taxes		5,000.00
Due to other National banks	$175,720.15
Due to State banks and bankers	150,071.70
Individual deposits subject to check	1,780,788.48
Demand certificates of deposit	5,082.33
Certified checks	26,121.34
		2,137,784.00
Total		$3,237,303.93

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, CLARENCE FOOTE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. CLARENCE FOOTE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of December, 1899. JAS. D. ARNOLD, Notary Public N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:
WM. G. HOOPLE,
D. S. RAMSAY,
RICHARD YOUNG,
Directors.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE STATE BANK, at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$2,259,160.33
Overdrafts		1,521.09
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$4,800.86
Due from approved reserve agents	245,215.28
		250,016.14
Banking house and lot	$36,500.00
Other real estate	105,270.26
		141,770.26
Mortgages owned		65,928.90
Stocks and bonds		847,245.97
Specie		217,123.25
U. S. legal tenders and circulating notes of National banks		85,604.00
Cash items, viz.: Bills and checks for the next day's exchanges	$188,078.42
Other items carried as cash	28,210.44
		216,288.86
Assets not included under any of the above heads: Furniture and fixtures		2,981.75
Total		$3,587,640.55

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in, in cash	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	75,000.00
Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	109,378.43
Due depositors	3,310,374.78
Due trust companies, banks, bankers, brokers, and savings banks	1,887.34
Total	$3,587,640.55

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

OSCAR L. RICHARD, President, and A. I. VOORHIS, Cashier, of the State Bank, a bank located and doing business at No. 378 Grand Street, in the City of New York, in said county, being duly sworn, each for himself, says that the foregoing report, with the schedule accompanying the same, is true and correct in all respects, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and they further say that the usual business of said bank has been transacted at the location required by the banking law, (Chap. 689, Laws of 1892,) and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Superintendent of Banks, designating the 4th day of December, 1899, as the day on which such report shall be made.

OSCAR L. RICHARD, President. A. I. VOORHIS, Cashier.

Severally subscribed and sworn to by both deponents, the 8th day of December, 1899, before me. WILLIAM B. ROTH, Notary Public, N. Y. Co., No. 49. [Seal of Notary.]

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE FOURTEENTH STREET BANK at the close of business on the 4th day of December, 1899:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$881,233.37
Overdrafts		273.70
Due from trust companies, banks, bankers, and brokers	$63,833.91
Due from approved reserve agents	218,640.57
		282,474.48
Other real estate		6,934.98
Stocks and bonds		200,662.50
Specie		50,173.

FINANCIAL DIRECTORY.

Chemical National Bank
270 Broadway.

National Bank of Commerce
CAP. AND SUR. $8,500,000.
31 Nassau St.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $1,000,000. Surplus and profits, $2,500,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL & SURPLUS, $1,500,000.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G.
222 B'way.

Continental Trust Company
30 Broad St.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Real Estate Trust Co.,
30 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, Surplus, and Undivided Profits $900,000.
Receives Deposits, Allowing Interest. Acts as Trustee, Transfer Agent, Registrar, &c.

PHILADELPHIA.
Fourth Street National Bank
Capital, $1,500,000. Surplus, $1,500,000.

BANKERS' CARDS.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Transact a general banking business; act as Fiscal Agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies. Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Branch Offices: 45 State St., Albany.

Holmes & Co.,
EMPIRE BUILDING,
71 Broadway, New York.
Members: N. Y. Stock Exchange. N. Y. Cotton Exchange. Chicago Board of Trade.
Branch Office:
Lakewood Hotel, Lakewood, N.J.

Hurlbutt, Hatch & Co.,
BANKERS.
MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
71 Broadway, N. Y. City.
STOCKS and BONDS bought and sold for cash or on margin.
Interest allowed on Deposits subject to check. Telephone No. 1239 Cortlandt.

New York Telephone, 4914 Cortlandt. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.

Geo. H. PRENTISS & Co
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
37 William St., New York. 298 Montague St., Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

TUNSTALL & CO.,
MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
52 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Stocks and Bonds bought and sold for cash or carried on margin.
Market Letter on Application.
Telephones No. 1492 and No. 830 Bread.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
38 WALL STREET.

LEHMAN BROS.
NOS. 16-22 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.
Deal in investment securities, and execute orders on New York Stock Exchange.
Members of the Stock, Cotton, Coffee, and Produce Exchanges, New York.

FINANCIAL.

KNICKERBOCKER TRUST CO
234 FIFTH AVE., COR. 27TH ST.
BRANCH OFFICE, 66 BROADWAY.
CAPITAL $1,000,000.00
Legal Depository for State, City and Court Moneys.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON TIME DEPOSITS.
Separate Department with special facilities for Ladies.
Checks Drawn may be cashed at either office.
Takes entire charge of Real Estate, Mortgages, etc.
CHARLES T. BARNEY, President.
FRED'K L. ELDRIDGE, 1st Vice-President.
JOSEPH T. BROWN, 2d Vice-President.
ALFRED B. MACLAY, Sec. and Treas.
FRED'K GORE KING, Ass't Sec. & Ass't. Treas.
WILLIAM B. RANDALL, Trust Officer.

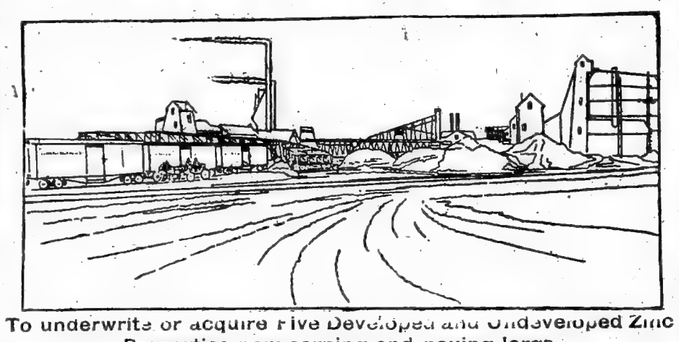
$37,000
New York City Gold 3½
COUPON BONDS.
EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.
DUE NOVEMBER, 1918.
FOR SALE BY
ALLEN SAND & CO.,
7 PINE ST., N. Y.

INDIANA BLOCK COAL RAILROAD CO.
In accordance with the terms of the Deed of Trust of the Indiana Block Coal Railroad Company, the following bonds have been drawn for account of the sinking fund, viz.:
Nos. 71-94 and 95—three of $1,000 each, and No. 106, one of $500.
The principal and accrued interest of the above bonds will be paid upon presentation at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, 16, 18, 20, and 22 William Street, New York.
The interest on the above bonds will cease on and after January 1st, 1900.
THE FARMERS' LOAN & TRUST CO.,
By E. S. MARSTON, President.
New York, December 1, 1899.

Did you observe what happened to the shorts in GENERAL CARRIAGE recently? Have you read "THE MARKET PLACE," by Harold Frederic?

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

Proposed $500,000.00 Zinc SYNDICATE



To underwrite or acquire Five Developed and Undeveloped Zinc Properties now earning and paying large DIVIDENDS MONTHLY.

Proposition to include 4,480 acres of Mineral Land in Fee, also one of the most Famous Mines of the Joplin, Missouri, District.

NET PROFITS over $20,000 per month assured.

THIS PROSPECTUS is intended to describe a combination of active, producing, dividend-paying zinc properties, and undeveloped mineral lands of such intrinsic value and assured worth as to command the confidence of conservative investors.

To acquire these properties AT FIRST COST, i. e., $500,000.00 (less $25,000.00 to be held for development purposes), a syndicate is to be formed and to be composed of men of recognized integrity and financial standing, who may subsequently incorporate a company to develop and operate the mines, mills, leases, and lands hereinafter described.

As will be seen, the proposition submitted has been earning and paying cash dividends of more than two (2) per cent PER MONTH upon the purchase price FROM A SINGLE MINE; that another mine with mill of GREATER CAPACITY, and believed to be equal to MORE than two (2) per cent. per month additional earnings within ninety days, is now in active operation; and other mines are in course of development.

With four (4) per cent. dividends PER MONTH upon the purchase price thus practically assured in advance FROM THE PRESENT DEVELOPMENT, and A FURTHER PROFIT from royalties to be received from sub-lessees in sight, it is not only possible, but probable, that the EARNINGS MAY MORE THAN PAY FOR THE ENTIRE PROPERTY WITHIN A PERIOD OF TWO YEARS, should the price of ore in future equal the average price paid for it in 1899.

But the most important part of this undertaking, and that which is conservatively calculated to enrich the syndicate even more rapidly than by the dividends earned and paid from month to month, will be found IN THE ENHANCED VALUE BY DEVELOPMENT of the vast tracts of mineral land included in this proposition and to be acquired free from encumbrance in fee simple.

By the judicious use of drills in prospecting the land and locating the ore bodies thereon (and for which the $25,000.00 working capital is provided) miners will be quickly induced to take up leases and pay a royalty of from ten (10) per cent. to twenty-five (25) per cent. for the privilege of mining on it, thus adding to the syndicate's income and profit, WHILE THEY DEVELOP THE MINES AT THEIR OWN EXPENSE, and open up mining camps, villages and cities, and CREATE VALUES FOR THE SYNDICATE OF BOUNDLESS POSSIBILITIES.

The proposition is, therefore, not only attractive as a MONTHLY DIVIDEND EARNER FROM THE START, but is based upon A SOLID STRUCTURE, WITH 4,480 ACRES OF MINERAL AND FARMING LANDS AS ITS FOUNDATION, the future value of which can be fairly judged by the experience of every zinc and lead producing centre between St. Louis and Indian Territory.

As a permanent and profitable investment this proposition will bear the closest scrutiny, which is solicited.

PROPERTIES TO BE ACQUIRED.

No. 1 consists of a ten (10) year (from August, 1897,) ten (10) per cent. royalty lease on fifty-nine (59) acres located two miles from Joplin, Mo., with a valuable producing mine and a modern concentrating plant located thereon.

Upon this tract there is one great mine fairly opened up and developed; another, equally good, partially developed; and several others in course of development.

The first mine alluded to has a phenomenal record as the largest producer, with same mill capacity, of its age in the Joplin district, to wit:—

From February 19, 1898, to October 1, 1899, it has produced 10,830,845 pounds of Jack or Zinc blend, which sold for $183,108.49, yielding a net profit of $110,100, of which $105,000 was paid out in Cash Dividends.

During the LAST SIX MONTHS ending October 1, its net earnings were $60,624.00, or at the rate of over $120,000 per annum, all of which CAME FROM A SINGLE SHAFT and two drifts therefrom. One of these drifts is twenty feet wide and now in a fifteen-foot face of ore, and the other about thirty feet wide, with a twenty-five-foot face of ore of extraordinary richness.

Although diminished earnings will necessarily follow the recent decline in the price of ore, the output and profit should be INCREASED by a judicious use of the capital provided. New mines are being opened up and new mills can be started.

No. 2 is another equally phenomenal, if not already famous, mine. Although only just in its infancy, ore of extraordinary richness and vastness of body has been penetrated by shaft to the extent of thirty-eight feet, and the floor of the first level is still in the same ore-bearing ground.

A mill run of less than fifteen full working days from the first ore raised yielded 463,010 pounds of Jack or Zinc blend, which sold for $10,221, yielding a net profit of over $4,000, or at the rate of about $100,000 per annum. As the main ore body grows in richness as we go down, it is believed that this mine will soon eclipse the record of No. 1, and yield a weekly profit of $2,500 or thereabout, or at the rate of about $130,000 per annum. This mine has a superior mill of 100-ton capacity.

No. 3 consists of a twenty per cent. sub-lease on the same ground, which is believed to be a valuable prospect. A shaft is already down to the 100-foot level, but not yet in ore.

As Nos. 2 and 3 are on the No. 1 lease, the royalties will be reduced to 10 per cent. when all of the properties shall have been acquired.

No. 4 is a forty (40) acre ten (10) per cent. lease adjoining the ground and mines above described, about twenty acres of which are now undergoing development through the sub-lease system. Ore has been found in numerous places and several shafts are being sunk, and one new mill is being erected.

This ground will soon yield a handsome income in the way of royalty, which will add to the divisible profits hereinbefore alluded to.

No. 5 consists of 4,480 acres of undeveloped mineral land, located in the counties of Jasper, Laclede, Texas and Wright. It is entirely free from encumbrance and to be acquired in fee simple. It is all located on the "10-o'Clock" or "Ozark Range," and contains the usual mineral outcroppings, and some of it is good for farming purposes.

To develop this land or to prospect it with drill to locate ore bodies is one of the objects sought to be obtained. Miners will gladly occupy the land and pay from ten (10) per cent. to the twenty-five (25) per cent. royalty for the privilege of mining on it when the ore has been located.

By this method of development a large revenue or profit will not only be obtained IN ADDITION TO THE PRESENT EARNINGS, but the land thus developed AT THE OPERATORS' EXPENSE will RAPIDLY INCREASE IN VALUE FROM A FEW DOLLARS TO ONE OR MORE THOUSAND DOLLARS PER ACRE, AS DEVELOPMENT PROGRESSES.

RECAPITULATION.

The foregoing proposition may be summarized as follows:—

First—The property offered has been paying a clear average net profit of over $10,000 per month from a single mine, as shown by the last six months' output referred to.

Second—It should pay an additional profit of $11,000 per month within ninety (90) days from the new mill and mine described in the No. 2 offering, as an immense body of ore has been exposed.

Third—It is also earning a still further profit from royalties received from sub-leases, which will increase rapidly as mining lots and lands are leased out and operated in the future.

Fourth—With the $25,000 working capital provided, other mines can be opened up, to add to the foregoing profits.

Fifth—The final and CROWNING PROFIT WILL COME FROM THE ENHANCED VALUE OF OUR LANDS year by year, as development work proceeds and mining camps are established.

With an earning capacity from the mines now in operation believed to be equal to $250,000 per annum in the near future, and with the certainty of an INCREASING VALUATION of the lands acquired, it is submitted that the combination of properties thus offered affords an opportunity for an EXCEPTIONALLY SAFE AND PROFITABLE investment.

That the present earnings and future prospects will justify a capitalization far in excess of the cost is apparent.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.

The past earnings and future prospects would seem to justify the immediate acquirement of these combined properties, and the subsequent incorporation of a company to manage and operate the same.

To that end SUBSCRIPTIONS to this syndicate will be received at THE OFFICE of C. L. RATHBORNE & CO. until Tuesday noon, Dec. 19, 1899 (unless the requisite $500,000 is sooner subscribed), upon the following terms and conditions, to wit:—

First—No call to be made until the full $500,000 shall have been subscribed.

Second—When subscribed all moneys to be paid to the Knickerbocker Trust Co., as trustee, to accept title, &c.

Third—No payment to be made by said trustee to the grantor of said property until a committee of three, to be sanctioned by the majority in interest, shall have visited the mines and examined the books and records and verified all statements herein and found titles perfect.

KNICKERBOCKER TRUST CO., Trustees, 66 Broadway, New York.

C. L. RATHBORNE & CO., BANKERS, 20 BROAD ST., N. Y.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13TH, 1899,
At 12½ o'clock, at the N. Y. Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATORS.
$37,500 Terminal Warehouse Co. Gold Bds., 1942.
$94 000 Express Coal Line Equipment Co. "Class B" Bonds, 1917.
$20,000 Deutscher Verein 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1911.
$1,500 Deutscher Verein Redeemable Scrip, 1911.
$5,000 New York & New Jersey Fireproofing Co. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1905.
42 shs. St. Andrew's Co.
5 shs. Brooklyn Wharf & Warehouse Co.
100 shs. American Enamel Brick and Tile Co.
50 shs. National Union Bank.
250 shs. Terminal Warehouse Co.
80 shs. John B. Stetson Co., common.
80 shs. John B. Stetson Co., pref'd.
50 shs. St. Nicholas Skating & Ice Co.
40 shs. North Side Bank of Brooklyn.
750 shs. Universal Lasting Machine Co.
144 shs. Sprague Electric Co., common.
56 shs. Sprague Electric Co., pref'd.
500 shs. New York & New Jersey Fireproofing Co. pfd.
$7,500 Eastern Plaster Board Co. Bds.
$60,000 Lackawanna & Southwestern R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1929.
100 shs. United States Butter Extractor.
20 shs. Oesterreichisch-Ungarisch Zeitung Co.
400 shs. Michigan Grape Sugar Co.
5 shs. Livestock Association of America.
1,400 shs. East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia R. R. Co.
100 shs. American Extractor Co.
500 shs. Eastern Plaster Board Co.
120 shs. Bay State Gas Co.
100 shs. Texas Pacific Land Trust.
BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS.
11 shs. Home Insurance Co.
$4,500 Equitable Gas Co. (Memphis) 5 p. c. Bds., 1929.
50 shs. Equitable Gas Co., (Memphis.)
100 shs. Consolidated Telephone Co.
75 shs. Hampton Roads Hotel Co.
20 shs. do., Knickerbocker Trust Co. Ctfs.
$5,000 Hampton Roads Hotel Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Sinking Fund 5 p. c. Bds., 1914.
$2,500 Deutscher Verein 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1911, $125 Scrip.
5 shs. Rider & Driver Publishing Co.
10 shs. National Dredging & Construction Co.
$1,000 Arion Society (City of N. Y.) 2d Mtge. 5 p. c. Reg. Bd., 1917.
32 shs. Galland Henning Pneumatic Malting Drum Co. of Buffalo.
25 shs. do. of Milwaukee.
20 shs. Jos. Ladue Milling & Dev. Co.
100 shs. Ball Electric Light Co.
2 shs. U. S. Cremation Co.
1 sh. Arion Society, (City of N. Y.)
FOR ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
10 shs. People's Trust Co. of B'klyn.
$1,000 Certf. of L. E. Waterman Co., due Feby, 1898.
3 shs. Chemical National Bank.
50 shs. United States Guarantee Co.
83 shs. Adirondack Land & Investment Co.
$2,000 Utica Belt Line Street R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1909.
100 shs. The American Cotton Co., common, (round bale system.)
137 shs. New Jersey Zinc Co.
10 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
25 shs. Colonial Trust Co.
50 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
25 shs. Westchester Trust Co. of Yonkers.
5 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
10 shs. Trust Co. of America.
350 shs. City & Suburban Homes.
50 shs. Des Moines & Ft. Dodge R. R. Pref'd.
10 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
20 shs. Goshen Natl. Bank.
20 shs. Corn Exchange Bank.
6 shs. Gallatin National Bank.
50 shs. 12th Ward Bank.
10 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
10 shs. Bankers' Trust Co.
$6,000 American Type Founders' Co. 6 p. c. Skg. Fund Bds., 1926.
100 shs. Bond & Mtge. Guarantee Co.
15 shs. Morton Trust Co.
25 shs. Audit Co. of New York, Pfd.
5 shs. Audit Co. of New York common.
100 shs. American Exchange Natl. Bank.
10 shs. Manhattan Trust Co.
10 shs. Trust Co. of America.
10 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
20 shs. International Banking & Trust Co.
6 shs. Woodlawn Cemetery Co.
5 shs. The Associates Land Co.
$10,000 Hecker-Jones-Jewell Milling Co. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds.
30 Proprietary shares Santee Club of S. C., (Hypd.)
49 Privilege Membership shares Santee Club of S. C., (Hypd.)
100 shs. Jos. Ladue Gold Mining & Dev. Co. of Yukon, Pfd.
200 shs. New England Phonograph Co.
10 shs. Colonial Trust Co.

Bankers' Trust Co.
OF NEW YORK,
10 Wall Street.
CAPITAL - - - - $1,500,000
SURPLUS - - - - $1,500,000
Transacts a general Trust and Banking business and allows interest on daily balances subject to check on sight.
OFFICERS:
George W. Ely, President.
Francis H. Leggett, Louis V. Bright, } Vice-Presidents.
Alfred H. Swayne, Secretary.
John H. Allen, Ass't Secty.
DIRECTORS:

Louis V. Bright,	Wm. H. Hollister,
D. Crawford Clark,	Percival Knauth,
George Coppell,	Francis H. Leggett,
Bayard Dominick,	Almeric H. Paget,
John F. Dryden,	William G. Park,
Benjamin N. Duke,	Gilbert M. Plympton,
George W. Ely,	William Schall, jr.,
Albert E. Goodhart,	John W. Simpson,
Edwin Gould,	Francis S. Smithers,
Edmund T. Halsey,	Ransom H. Thomas.
J. Walter Wood, jr.

CITY TRUST CO
OF NEW YORK.
36 WALL STREET.
CAPITAL.....$1,000,000
(Entirely invested in City of New York Bonds.)
SURPLUS.....$1,000,000
Allows Interest on Daily Balances.
Subject to check, payable at sight or through the New York Clearing-house and on Certificates of Deposit.
Acts as Fiscal and Transfer Agent; Registrar of Stocks and Bonds; Trustee for Corporation Mortgages; Guardian; Executor; Administrator; Trustee; Committee; Receiver; Assignee, etc.
Loans Money on Bonds and Mortgage.
TRAVELLERS' LETTERS OF CREDIT.
Transacts a General Banking Business
OFFICERS:
JAS. ROSS CURRAN, President.
JOHN D. CRIMMINS, Vice-President.
GEORGE R. SHELDON, 2d Vice-Pres't.
ARTHUR TERRY, Secretary.
WALTER W. LEE, Asst. Secretary.
DIRECTORS:

John D. Crimmins,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Wm. B. Grace,	Elverton R. Chapman,
Wm. H. Gelshenen,	Peter Doelger,
Frank H. Platt,	Chas. W. Morse,
James Roosevelt,	Charles V. Fornes,
Eugene Kelly,	Wm. Halls, jr.,
George R. Sheldon,	Bernard M. Shanley,
Ed. N. Gibbs,	Frank R. Lawrence,
Edwin Warfield,	James D. Layng,
Edward Eyre,	Hosmer B. Parsons,
	Jas. Ross Curran.

Provident Savings Life Assurance Society,
ORGANIZED 1875.
346 and 348 Broadway.
EDWARD W. SCOTT, President.
Issues All Desirable Forms of Policies.
Assurance in force.... $100,000,000
Paid Policyholders.... $16,500,000
Assets to Liabilities 132½ per cent.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS, AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

FINANCIAL.

CONSOLIDATION COAL COMPANY
(OF MARYLAND)
First Mortgage Bonds dated January 1st, 1897.
Notice is hereby given, as provided in the mortgage of the above-named company to the undersigned as Trustee, dated December 15th, 1896, that bonds of the following numbers have been drawn for the Sinking Fund and will be paid on presentation on and after January 1st, 1900, at the office of the GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK at 105%, with accrued interest to that date, after which interest on each of the said bonds will cease:

76	140	290	321	354	477
77	145	293	332	355	556
83	185	316	353	475	559

Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.
GEO. R. TURNBULL, 2d Vice Prest.
Dated New York, December 1st, 1899.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE Buffalo City Gas Company.
The plan of consolidation and merger heretofore ratified by the stockholders of this Company having become effective, stockholders are requested to present their certificates to the CONTINENTAL TRUST COMPANY, No. 30 Broad Street, New York City, properly indorsed in blank, receiving therefor common stock certificates of the BUFFALO GAS COMPANY, share for share, in accordance with the terms of the articles of consolidation.
ALEXANDER C. HUMPHREYS, President.
December 7, 1899.

DIVIDENDS.

Columbus, O., November 24, 1899.
A dividend of One and One-half Per Cent. has this day been declared on the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable January 10, 1900, to stockholders of record at the close of business December 4, 1899.
The Preferred Stock transfer books will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, New York, at 3 P. M. on Monday, December 4, 1899, and will reopen at the same place at 10 A. M. on Wednesday, December 13, 1899.
THE HOCKING VALLEY RAILWAY CO.,
By N. MONSARRAT, President.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY, 52 Wall Street, New York, December 8th, 1899.—A dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS PER CENT. on the Preferred Stock and THREE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of this Company will be paid at this office on Friday, January 5th, 1900. Transfer books will close on Tuesday, December 12th, 1899, and reopen on Monday, December 18th, 1899.
S. O. MOWE, Treasurer.

The Commercial Cable Company,
NEW YORK, December 5, 1899.
DIVIDEND NO. 42.—The Board of Directors has declared a quarterly dividend of one and three-quarters per cent. and a bonus of one per cent., payable January 2, 1900, to stockholders of record on December 22, 1899. The transfer books will be closed December 22, 1899, to January 2, 1900, inclusive.
E. C. PLATT, Treasurer.

Eden Musee Americain Company, (Limited.)
A quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. has been declared, payable on December 15th, 1899. The transfer books will be closed from December 9th to December 16th, 1899.
FREDERIC VIEWEG, Secretary.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

UNION SQUARE BANK,
5 UNION SQUARE.
The annual election for Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year will be held TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12TH, 1899, at the Banking House, between the hours of 1 P. M. and 3 P. M.
JACOB W. SCHEU, Cashier.

New York National Exchange Bank,
S. W. Cor. Chambers St. & West Broadway.
Organized 1851. Capital, $300,000.
NEW YORK, Dec. 8th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking office, West Broadway and Chambers St., on TUESDAY, January 9th, 1900, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
LEWIS E. PIERSON, Cashier.

The Chemical National Bank of New York.
December 9, 1899.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank for the ensuing year will be held at the banking house, No. 270 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, on TUESDAY, the 9th day of January, 1900, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock P. M.
FRANCIS HALPIN, Cashier.

The Mechanics' National Bank of the City of New York,
Dec. 9th, 1899.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 33 Wall Street, on TUESDAY, Jan. 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
G. W. GARTH, Cashier.

The Hanover National Bank of the City of New York,
NEW YORK, December 8th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 9 and 11 Nassau Street, on TUESDAY, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 1 o'clock P. M.
WILLIAM HALLS, Jr., Cashier.

The Bank of New York,
National Banking Association.
New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.
The annual election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking house, No. 48 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900.
The polls will be open from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The Merchants' National Bank of the City of New York,
December 7th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this bank will be held at the banking room, No. 42 Wall Street, on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M.
JOSEPH W. HARRIMAN, Cashier.

East River National Bank,
New York, Dec. 5th, 1899.
An Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, No. 682 Broadway, New York, on Tuesday, January 9, 1900. Polls open from 2 to 3 o'clock P. M.
Z. E. NEWELL, Cashier.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF THE REPUBLIC.
New York, December 7th, 1899.
The Annual Election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the Banking House on Tuesday, January 9th, 1900, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M.
C. H. STOUT, Cashier.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST.
$12,000 Reading General Mortgage 4 Per Cent. Coupon Bonds, Series M, Numbers 27,823, 53,023, 14,481, 53,299, 6,407, 9,809, 24,928, 2,155, 15,511, 25,560, 52,763, 3,209. All persons are cautioned against negotiating same. Liberal reward if returned to HARRISON SNYDER & SON, Drexel Building, Philadelphia, Pa., or DE HAVEN & TOWNSEND, 40 Wall Street, New York.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, BALTIMORE, MD.
Baltimore, Nov. 16th, 1899.
LOST.—Certificate No. 18,392, dated July 7th, 1899, ten shares stock Canton Company of Baltimore; name Alex. C. Nelson. All persons are warned to show cause why a new certificate should not be issued. ALEX. C. NELSON.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

IT IS HEREBY MUTUALLY AGREED BETween AUGUSTUS B. WILGUS, Jr., and J. D. LINDSAY that the firm or partnership existing between them under the name of "Lindsay & Wilgus" shall this day cease, it being understood that all debts of said firm to this date shall be assumed equally by both parties, and all assets due the firm to this date shall be equally divided. J. D. LINDSAY.
Nov. 17th, 1899. A. B. WILGUS, Jr.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT JAMES J. Fitzpatrick has totally severed his connection with the business carried on under the name of Conrad Troxler & Co., at No. 705 East 164th Street, in the City and County of New York; and that the aforesaid business shall hereafter be carried on solely by Marie Troxler, under the name or style of M. Troxler.—Dated New York, Dec. 5, 1899. JAMES J. FITZPATRICK.

BIG CEMENT PLANT PROJECT.

Thomas A. Edison and Associates Buy a Site in New Jersey.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Dec. 8.—A company of capitalists, headed by Thomas A. Edison, has purchased the John W. Cline farm at Stewartville, five miles from this place, and has obtained options on several adjoining farms.

The company has been prospecting for cement rock for some months past, and Mr. Edison has been here several times. It is said that an excellent quality of rock has been found, and that a million-dollar plant, with a capacity of 5,000 barrels a day will be erected at once.

Germany and the "Open Door."

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—A Foreign Office official, when asked to-day regarding Germany's intention as to the policy of the "open door" in China, said: "Germany has already given assurances of her willingness to maintain the 'open door' in Far Asia, and she will also undertake to give a written assurance to that effect as soon as all the other powers interested agree to do the same."

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks under pressure.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Dec. 8	747,382
To date this year	158,332,715
Corresponding date last year	103,630,690

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Dec. 8	$1,706,000
To date this year	$797,956,090
Corresponding date last year	$833,749,230

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 5@12 per cent.; at three months, 6 per cent.; at six months, 6 per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 5½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Ice pf	1	Int. Paper pf	½
Canadian Pacific	½	P., C., C. & St. L.	¾
Gen. Electric	½	St. Paul & Om. pf.	3¼
Hocking Valley	1	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	¾

Stocks Declined.

Am. C. & F. pf	1	Manhattan Con	⅞
Am. Ice	½	Met. Street Ry	4¾
Am. Cotton Oil	⅞	Mexican Central	⅝
Am. Linseed	⅞	M., St. P. & S. S. M.
Am. Linseed pf	1	pf.	3½
Am. Malt pf	2½	Mo., K. & T. pf	1
Am. S. & R.	1⅞	Missouri Pacific	1⅜
Am. S. & R. pf	1¼	Mobile & Orio	2
Am. Steel Hoop	1⅞	Nat. Biscuit	2⅝
Am. S. H. pf	1½	Nat. Biscuit pf	2¼
Am. S. & W.	5	Nat. Lead	1½
Am. S. & W. pf	2	Nat. Steel	1⅝
Am. Sugar Ref	4½	Nat. Steel pf	1⅞
Am. Tin Plate	1¼	N. J. Central	2
Am. Tin Plate pf	3	N. Y. Central	1¼
Am. Tobacco	2¾	N. Y., N. H. & H.	2
Am. Tobacco pf	1½	N. Y., C. & St. L.	2
Anaconda Copper	2¼	N. Y., C. & St. L.
Ann Arbor pf	1	1st pf	½
At., T. & S. F.	⅝	N. Y., C. & St. L.
At., T. & S. F. pf	1½	2d pf	2¾
Balt. & Ohio pf	1¼	N. Y., Ont. & West	½
B'klyn Rapid Trans.	1	Norf. & West	½
Brunswick City	⅝	Norf. & West. pf	1
Ches. & Ohio	⅝	Northern Pacific	1⅛
Chi., B. & Q.	1⅞	North. Pacific pf	1
Chi. & East. Ill.	1½	Pacific Coast	½
C. G. W. pf., A	⅝	Pacific Mail	2¼
C. G. W. pf., B	1	Penn. R. R.	1¼
Chi., I. & L.	½	People's Gas, Chi.	1⅛
C., M. & St. P.	1½	Pressed S. Car	1¼
Chi. & N. W.	1	Pressed S. Car pf	1⅝
Chi. & N. W. pf	2	Pullman Car	1½
C., R. I. & P.	¾	Reading	½
C., C., C. & St. L.	1½	Reading 1st pf	⅞
C., L. & W. pf	3⅝	Rep. Steel	1½
Col. Fuel & Iron	2	Rep. Steel pf	1½
Col. Mid. pf	1½	St. L. & S. F.	½
Col. So. 1st pf	1½	St. L. & S. F. 1st pf.	1
Col. So. 2d pf	1½	St. L. S. W. pf.	⅝
Consol. Gas	2	St. Paul & Duluth pf.	¾
Cont. Tobacco	2½	Southern Pacific	1¼
Cont. Tob. pf	2½	Southern Ry. pf	1
Del. & Hudson	½	Stand. R. & T.	¾
Del., L. & W.	1½	Tenn. Coal & Iron	6½
Den. & R. G. pf	¾	Texas & Pacific	1
Erie	⅝	Third Avenue	⅞
Federal Steel	3⅜	Union Bag & Paper	1
Federal Steel pf	1¼	Union Pacific	1⅜
Glucose Sugar	½	Union Pacific pf	¾
Great North. pf	2	U. S. Express	½
Int. Paper	1½	U. S. Leather pf	1¼
Int. Silver	2	U. S. Rubber	4
Iowa Central	½	U. S. Rubber pf	1
K. C., P. & G.	½	Wabash pf	⅝
Louis. & Nash.	1¼	Wis. Cent. pf	½

***

Net changes in bonds of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Mo., K. & E. 1st	1	R. G. South. 1st	1½

Bonds Declined.

Cent. of Ga. 1st pf., inc.	1⅛	Manhattan 4s	1¼
D., M. & M. 1st	⅞	Mex. Cent. 2d inc	2¼
Ft. W. & D. C. 1st	1	San A. & A. P. 4s	1
K. C., P. & G. 1st	2	West Shore 4s	1¼

MARKET CONDITIONS.

Wall Street yesterday was fairly bombarded with depressing tales. Gold shipments were freely forecast, incidental to predictions that to-day's weekly bank statement will make an exceptionally bad showing, it being represented that losses by the banks through payments to the Treasury and remittances West have reached figures big enough to do grave damage to surplus reserves. On account of much paraded blue views the entire Stock Exchange district seemed to take on a gloomy aspect, and quotations for the whole list were knocked down. Some recessions were large, and final figures for the day showed in many cases declines of from two to four points.

Much short selling was in evidence, but honest observation could not be blind to the fact that toward the end of the day substantial liquidation was under way. The industrial stocks were most conspicuous among the sufferers, and Sugar Trust was the one in that group which was hurt worst. It fell from above 152 down close to 147, Wall Street having an extensive variety of reports and theories to account for a decline which seemed to disclose liquidation of long stock. What really may be taken to account amply for the weakness was the discovery that disturbances intrude upon the management of the trust, and that at least one important Director has served notice of withdrawal from the Board of Directors. Some reports have it that Mr. F. O. Matthiessen, a Trustee of the property since its organization, is to become the head of a new and aggressive competing corporation. This, though, may be wrong, or at least premature. What professional Wall Street evidently sees in the fact that insiders are drifting apart is that Sugar Trust securities hitherto lodged in the hands of strong inside interests will be given to the public. If, really, Mr. Matthiessen quits the trust to become its active competitor, a trade war may be expected quite beyond anything yet approached, for aside from Mr. H. O. Havemeyer himself there is nowhere any one with such experience and practical ability.

***

Significant of the senselessness of the spasm which Wall Street yesterday exhibited was the market course of Chicago and Northwestern stock. That security has for years been prominent in the list of shares rated as gilt-edged by most conservative investors. Yesterday, in reflection of prosperity bestowed by National good times, the Northwestern dividend was increased. And the immediate result was that Northwestern stock dropped four points. Try to find out why or how this could be, and from almost every active speculator on the Stock Exchange was to be met the remarkable statement that increased dividends do not count when Wall Street chooses to be nervous. Nervous over what? Not over any business development in any part of the country—for every sign visible or suggested points with uniformity toward improvement. Wall Street, though, affects worry over the money market situation, and yesterday was ready to accept most improbable yarns, provided only that they were gruesome.

***

Some exceptional apprehensions get currency as to the outlook for industrial shares—for the "trusts," as Wall Street likes to designate them. It is not unlikely that litigation against some such conspicuous properties may be started on the basis of United States Supreme Court findings in the Addyston Pipe case; reports to such effect are current, but they are vague.

INCREASED DIVIDENDS.

As had been confidently predicted, the Directors of Chicago and Northw reads reporting in the amount of $5,443,995, or 10.72 per cent.

EXPANDING BUSINESS.

The reports of the commercial agencies in respect to business conditions throughout the country are again inspiriting.

As Bradstreet's points out, the last month of the year has opened auspiciously, finding trade and industry generally well employed, demand treading close upon and even passing supply, labor troubles averted in some instances by widespread advances in wages, of small importance except in one or two cities, and with the general level of values of staples at the highest point reached for eight years past. More seasonable weather conditions, not, however, extending throughout the entire country, have improved the distribution at retail at many markets. Holiday demand has opened well, and collections from retail trades, therefore, show some improvement. The rise of staple values, a notable feature in the month of November, has apparently been projected into the current month, and some lines, notably cereals and pork products, which failed to share in the improvement last month, have strengthened perceptibly since Dec. 1. Textiles in November, as in October, led the upward movement of prices, but as ten out of thirteen classes of products advanced, less irregularity in the general movement is noted than for some time past.

***

Dun's review along the same lines says that the approach of a new year usually brings so much of hesitation in business that the small shrinkage this year is surprising. Probably never before have the productive forces of the country been so largely covered by contracts at this date, insuring employment and profit far into the coming year. This results, not from any mere speculative excitement, but from actual demands for consumption running far beyond the producing capacity heretofore, and pushing it to remarkable expansion. The increase in foreign trade has been insignificant compared with the increase of $21,000,000 in payments through Clearing Houses. For the week the payments have been 20.3 per cent. larger than last year, and 38.1 per cent. larger than in 1892.

***

Of iron, steel, and coal Bradstreet's comments that after a year of unprecedented activity and advancing prices iron and steel are quiet, with few significant changes, partly because the season of the year does not favor new work, and partly also owing to the fact that producers are very generally sold up to the middle of next year. Prices show no marked change, plates and sheets being relatively weakest among finished products, while bars are strong. The doubling of iron ore prices as compared with a year ago unquestionably constitutes a strengthening feature of no small account. Copper shows little change, but tin is lower again, reflecting decreasing speculative interest and smaller consumptive demands. Activity in hardware is largely confined to holiday specialties, which are experiencing an active movement at most markets. The feature of the coal trade has been the increasing scarcity of bituminous grades East and West, some markets being reported practically bare of supplies. Anthracite is in active demand and holds to its early advance, with intimations that steam grades will be advanced after Jan. 1.

***

Dun's, referring to the same matters, notes that prices of pig iron are strongly maintained, though extraordinary efforts promise increase of over a quarter in producing capacity within a year, because the entire output of most furnaces for the first and in part of the last half of next year has been sold already. Sheet bars are a shade lower owing to closing of many tin plate works, and the completion of orders leaves a fraction of the bar, plate, and sheet mills competing for business and reducing quotations, so that the average for finished products has declined 3.3 per cent. since Nov. 1. This in no way affects the profits secured for most of such works or for rail and structural mills by contracts far ahead. Demand for cars and other railway equipment is enormous, and also for shipping, both lake and ocean. Tin is weak at 27½ cents, and copper declined to 16¾ cents, but lead and spelter are stronger.

***

The strength of wool, Bradstreet's declares, is apparently unimpaired, though demand is quieter. London prices have again moved higher, and the small available supply of fine grades supports the belief that prices may still move upward. Intimations in this column a week ago that a widespread advance in cotton mill operatives' wages was imminent have been more than confirmed this week by the granting of a 10 per cent. advance at nearly all the large mills throughout New England, which, on the basis of census figures, would point to an increased purchasing power being secured by nearly 100,000 persons.

***

Dun's, including cotton as well as wool, notes that wool has advanced further, with much speculative buying, though most manufacturers have supplied wants for the present, and are less disposed to purchase at prices now averaging higher than at any time since June 15, 1891. Higher prices for washed Ohio and New York fleece, for combing and delaine, and unwashed light, have raised the average, according to Coates Brothers' quotations, about 1 per cent. this week, and 37.17 per cent. since May 15. Higher prices demanded in the interior and rising prices abroad give confidence, in spite of the fact that goods have advanced from the lowest point this year only 19.2 per cent. The demand is not now large, but prices have been marked up in order to establish if possible a higher basis for the Fall season. Cotton is weakened by accounts of large quantities held back, and has declined an eighth, but reports are sufficiently conflicting to make speculation active, notwithstanding the decrease of 830,000 bales, or 29.4 per cent., in exports for three months of the crop year. Takings of spinners have been large, the demand for cotton goods is heavy and covers production far ahead in many lines, while fears of important strikes have been dispelled by general advance of wages.

***

Speaking of business in particular localities, Bradstreet's says that holiday trade activity is well-nigh universal, and some stimulation to retail demand is noted in the Central West, the South, and Atlantic Coast cities. Northwestern demand, however, is reported retarded by unseasonably mild weather. Chicago reports holiday trade business at its height, hides at the highest prices reached in years, hardware active, but white-pine lumber less active and building practically at a standstill, with the smallest business done since 1880. Winter weather has helped trade at St. Louis, Omaha, Cleveland, and Louisville. At the latter city increase is in good demand from Southern buyers. Kansas City reports packing-house products in good demand from South America, and the mule market is active on British demand for South Africa. Southern trade is generally ahead of last year. Some New Orleans authorities look for a 9,000,000-bale crop, and direct shipments of American cotton to Japan and India are understood to mean that the shortage in the Indian crop is serious. Atlanta reports trade the best in years. Southern cotton mills are all running full time. The only disturbing feature is Philadelphia is strikes for higher wages in the weaving industry. Baltimore reports trade stimulated by cooler weather, and there is a 10 per cent. increase in the oyster business. The settlement of the cotton-mill labor situation is regarded as a favorable feature at Boston.

***

Dun's says that hides are again stronger at Chicago, although receipts of cattle at the four chief Western markets in eleven months have been 3 per cent. larger than in the previous year, as the demand for consumption in manufacture has evidently increased much more. Thus Western production of boots and shoes has gained more than Eastern, and yet shipments from Boston for the year have been 372,000 cases or 9.3 per cent. more than last year, and 637,000 cases or 27.8 per cent. more than in 1892, when cattle receipts were 7.8 per cent. larger than this year. Leather holds strong, with demand apparently exceeding supply, and while recent advances in prices of boots and shoes check new orders, the urgent demands for deliveries ahead of contracts indicate a consumption never before approached.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Election of Marshall P. Field a Director of the Chicago and Northwestern, succeeding the late John I. Blair.

Declaration of an annual dividend of 5 per cent. on Omaha common stock, an advance of 1½ per cent from the last annual payment.

Increase of $45,621 in Illinois Central's net earnings for October, making an increase of $775,761 since July 1.

Stocks of the Bethlehem Iron and the Bethlehem Steel Companies, $7,500,000 of the former and $15,000,000 of the latter, listed on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange.

Great Northern expected to purchase the Sioux City and Northern Railroad from Sioux City to Garrettson, S. D., at the foreclosure sale next Thursday, with a view of reaching Omaha over the projected Omaha Northern Line.

According to Chicago advices, grain traffic on Western lines in November was 50 per cent. less than in October.

Increase of $340,387 in imports of dry goods for the week, as compared with the previous week, and increase of $620,034 as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Reduction of half a cent in posted rates for long sterling exchange.

Shipment of 435,000 ounces of silver to Europe by to-day's steamer.

Increase of ½ per cent. to 3 per cent. in the semi-annual dividend rate on Chicago and Northwestern common stock.

Chicago Great Western preferred "A" stock placed on a 5 per cent. dividend basis by the declaration of a semi-annual payment of 2½ per cent.

Statement that President Horace G. Burt of the Union Pacific Railroad Company's presence here is merely to present his plans and specifications for improvements for the coming year and getting the authorization of the Directors for the expenditures needed.

Southern dispatches stating that the Republic Iron and Steel Company has begun the erection of a bloom mill in the country adjacent to the fifty-ton steel plant of the Birmingham Rolling Mill, and will also build two more large iron furnaces at Thomas.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call was 5@12 per cent., closing at 5 per cent.

Time money, 6 per cent. for all periods. Mercantile paper, 5½ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 5½@6 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $191,060,757; balance, $7,1..,093; Sub-Treasury credit balance, $254,890.

Money on call in London, 5 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 5⅜@5⅝ per cent. for both short and three months' bills.

Foreign exchange firm. Nominal rates were $4.82 for sixty days and $4.87½ for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.81⅛@$4.81¼; demand, $4.86⅜; cables, $4.87⅛@$4.87⅝. Commercial bills were $4.80⅜@$4.82.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.22½ less 1-16@5.23⅛, and 5.19⅜ less 1-16@5.20; reichsmarks, 94 1-16 and 94 9-16; guilders, 39 15-16 and 40¼.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston—Par @5c premium. Chicago—20c premium. New Orleans—Commercial, $1.30@$1.75 discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 5c premium, and telegraphic, 7½c premium. Charleston—Buying par; selling, ⅛c premium. Savannah—Buying, ⅛c off; selling, par. St. Louis—Par @25c premium. Cincinnati—Between banks, par @ 25c premium; counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The market for American securities, after declining somewhat, was quiet, with a hardening tendency. Business was very restricted. The final tone was steady.

Consols for money, 102; consols for the account, 102⅜; Canadian, 97½; Erie, 13½; Erie first preferred, 38; Illinois Central, 117¾; Union Pacific preferred, 78⅝; St. Paul, 127; New York Central, 142; Pennsylvania, 69¼; Reading, 10¼; Northern Pacific preferred, 78⅜; Atchison, 22⅛; Louisville, 80⅜; Grand Trunk, 7⅛; Anaconda, 8⅝.

Bar silver steady at 27 3-16d per ounce.

Spanish fours, 67¼.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £656,000. Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 131.70; Madrid, 27.40; Lisbon, 42.50; Rome, 6.15.

Money, 5 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 5⅝@5¾ per cent.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Prices were weak on the Bourse to-day, the withdrawal of gold from the Bank of England, the scarcity of money, and the events in the Transvaal creating a depressing influence on the market. International securities were decidedly easier. Spanish 4s declined on heavy realizations, closing at 68.30. Rio Tintos were easier. De Beers relapsed. Kafirs were offered for London account. Three per cent. rantes, 100f 62½c for the account. Exchange on London, 25f 31c for checks.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Prices opened weak on the Boerse to-day, owing to the money situation, a large withdrawal of gold being announced from the Bank of England. Later they became firmer, on covering purchases. Spanish 4s and Mexicans were lower. Exchange on London, 20 marks 48½ pfennigs for checks. Private rate of discount, 5⅞ per cent.

FRANKFORT, Dec. 8.—On the Boerse today business was hesitating, owing to the strained condition of the international market. Prices closed better, however, on buying orders from Berlin.

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 59½@60. There were no sales.

Bar silver in London was quoted at 27 3-16d per ounce, and in New York at 59c. Mexican dollars at 47¼c.

On the Stock Exchange, 700 shares of Phoenix sold at .10.

On the Consolidated Exchange, 400 shares of Best and Belcher sold at .43, 500 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .16, 3,500 Cosmos at .02, 500 Comstock at .04½, 300 Consolidated Imperial at .03, 1,000 Croesus at .01½, 300 Elkton at 1.15, 100 Iron Silver at .55, 500 Jack Pot at .60, seller 10; 300 Mollie Gibson at .25, 100 Moulton at .30, 100 Mexican at .44, 100 Ontario at 5.00, 500 Work at .31, seller 10, and 500 Yellow Jacket at .15.

***

Closing quotations for mining stocks on the Consolidated and Industrial Exchanges were as follows:

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Alice	.40	Quicksilver	2.00
Adams Consol	.14	Quicksilver pf	7.50
Belcher	.25	Savage	.10
Best & Belcher	.40	Sierra Nevada	.50
Breece	2.00	Standard	2..
Brunswick Consol	.23	Small Hopes	1.00
Caledonia, B. H.	.50	Union Consol	.30
Challar	.17	Utah	.07
Crown Point	.15	Victor	1.00
Chrysolite	.07	Yellow Jacket	.12
Con. Cal. & Va	1.05	Argentum Juanita	.18
Com. T. Co. stock	.03½	Alamo	.11¾
Com. T. Co. bonds	.03¼	Anaconda	.42
Com. T. Co. scrip	.06	Crip. Ck. Cons	.15
Crescent	.15	Creede & Crip. Ck	.10
Catalpa	.20	Croesus	.01
Dunkin	.08	Golden Fleece	.18
Deadwood Terra	.55	Isabella	1.35
Eureka Consol	.30	Mollie Gibson	.22
Father De Smet	.08	Mount Rosa	.38
Gould & Curry	.10	Pharmacist, new	.13
Hale & Norcross	.35	Pharmacist, old	.06
Homestake	65.00	Portland	2.35
Horn Silver	1.05	Specimen	.18
Iron Silver	.55	Union	.32
Julia Consol	.01	Work	.28
Kingston & Pemb	.60	Damon	.28
La Crosse	.16	Elkton	1.10
Leadville Con	.07	Findlay	.13¼
Little Chief	.17	Garfield	.16
Mexican	.40	Jackpot	.58
Moulton	.35	Pinnacle	.27
Ontario	7.50	Tornado	.46
Occidental	.12	Ala. Fdy. No. 2	16.80
Plymouth	.10	Ala. Fdy. No. 3	15.60
Phoenix G. M. Co.	.11	Ala. Fdy. No. 4	14.75
Potosi	.22	Grey Forge	15.10

INDUSTRIAL EXCHANGE.

Ariz. Cop. S	15½	Gold C., Crip. Ck.	2.30
Empire Copper	15.00	Golden Fleece	.30
High Five Gold	.75	Isabella	1.39
Ind. G. C. & I	.75	Justine	.00 3½
Jennie Blanche	.04½	Monterey G.M. Co.	.35
Morenci Cop. pf	1.81½	Markeen Cop	7.50
Anaconda	.46	Mollie Gibson	.22
Anchoria	.70	Mount Rosa	.41½
Cannon Ball	.00 3	Old Gold	.01½
Clifton Cop., Ariz.	3.75	Pande Basin	.03
Copper Rock	.00 1	Portland	2.45
Crip. Ck. Con	.16	Sentinel	.00 1½
Elkton	1.17	Union Gold	.34½
Garfield Con	.18	Work	.30½

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Nearly every stock traded in at all yesterday in the market for outside securities ended the day with a net loss. Stock pressed for sale and traders worked on the bear side, succeeding in a number of cases in bringing about substantial declines. Transactions were in larger amount than has been usual of late, and the business was not s omuch, as has been the case recently, restricted to a very few issues. Some net gains, one or two of them of importance, were recorded, but the general tendency of the market was toward lower prices.

NEW AMSTERDAM GAS was notably weak and both issues of the stock, as well as the bonds, ended the day with substantial net declines from Thursday's closing bids. Trading was most active in the common stock, which sold down to 23⅝ and closed at 23 bid, a decline of 2 points for the day. Closing figures showed a net loss of 1 point in the preferred stock, while the bonds showed a loss of 1½ points. Chief among the influences affecting these securities was the announcement that the Directors of the Standard Gas Company would pass the dividend which in regular course would have been declared during the day. This was generally taken as indicating that the situation in the local gas industry was even more unfavorable than had been thought, and this led to a good deal of selling of the New Amsterdam Gas issues. The offer made on the previous day to discount the coupons falling due in January had not sufficient influence to check the selling of the bonds, for it seemed to be the opinion that even if the coupons are promptly met, which it is thought they will be, payment will be made with borrowed money, and not from the earnings of the company.

STANDARD GAS common sold at 102 and closed at 98 bid, a decline of more than 14 points from the quoted price of the stock at the close of the previous day. Sales in the preferred stock were made at 135, after which 130 was bid, showing a decline of 10 points. Trading in both the common and preferred stocks amounted to less than 200 shares.

AMALGAMATED COPPER lost 1¼ points net, selling down to 82½ and closing at 82 bid. This is the lowest price yet recorded for the stock. Traders were active in working for a lower price, and their efforts met with much success, as little support was given. Transactions were not in large amounts, but in yesterday's market very little stock was needed to considerably depress quotations.

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER closed at 10½ bid, a fractional decline. None of the copper stocks was in demand.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA shared the general condition of the market, and showed losses in both issues of the stock. At one time the common stock was offered as low as 8½, but it rallied later and closed at 8¾ bid, a loss of five-eighths of a point. Sales of the preferred stock were made at 60, and this issue ended the day at 30 bid, which was about 2 points below the lowest sale of the previous day.

ELECTRIC BOAT was one of the few stocks that showed strength. It advanced to 28¾, and closed at 27 bid, a net gain of 1 point. Strength in the stock was attributed to the belief that favorable action would be taken by the Government in regard to the Holland submarine boat. A bill is now before Congress which authorizes the purchase of the boat, but it will probably be some weeks before final action on the bill can be looked for.

STORAGE POWER was active, and, notwithstanding the generally weak condition of the market, held steady, closing with a small net gain. It opened at 15, and on fairly large transactions advanced to 16. Later it dropped back a point and ended the day at 15 bid, against 14⅝ bid on the previous day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER preferred sold down to 93, and closed with a net loss of 1¼ points.

ELECTRIC AXLE was active, and sold off with the general list. It was strong early in the day, but the unfavorable conditions brought about a good deal of selling of the stock, which forced it down, a result which was worked for by bear traders. It went to 6⅝, and ended the day at 6½ bid, a loss of half a point.

Closing quotations were as follows:

ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Gas Companies.

	Bid.	Asked.
Bay State Gas	1⅜	1¾
New Amsterdam	23	24
New Amsterdam pf	45	47
New Amsterdam 5s, with interest	93½	94½

Industrials.

American Agricultural Chemical	35	36
American Agricultural Chemical pf	78	79
American Bicycle	..	20
American Bicycle pf	..	60
American Bicycle bonds	90	91
American Hide & Leather	..	35
American Hide & Leather pf	..	80
American Woolen Goods	24	25
American Woolen Goods pf	80	81
American Writing Paper 5s	87	..
Beet Sugar	..	28
Beet Sugar pf	..	70
Distilling Company of America	8½	8¾
Distilling Company of America pf	30	..
Electric Axle Light & Power	6½	6¾
Electric Boat	27	28¾
Electric Boat pf	42	45
Havana Commercial	16	17½
Havana Commercial pf	59½	60½
International Pump	15	17
International Pump pf	64	66
National Gramophone, ex div	70	74
National Salt	44½	47
National Salt pf	78	79½
National Tube	45½	46½
National Tube pf	95	96
Otis Elevator	25	27
Otis Elevator pf	88	91
Pittsburg Coal subs	96	..
Royal Baking Powder pf	92½	93½
Rubber Goods Mfg.	28½	29
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf. ex div	80	81
Sloss-Sheffield	35	37
Sloss-Sheffield pf	73½	74
Standard Oil of New Jersey, ex div	468	470
Union Steel & Chain	20	25
Union Steel & Chain pf	80	85
U. S. Pneumatic Horse Collar	..	½

Miscellaneous.

Amalgamated Copper	82	82¼
American Air Power	45	50
American Cotton	..	50
Arizona Lead	..	10¼
Asphalt Company of America	..	13½
British Columbia Copper	10	10½
Chicago & Alton sub	108¼	108½
Chicago & Alton 3s, (new)	95	96
Electric Vehicle	..	68
Electric Vehicle pf	..	100
*Electro-Pneumatic, assessment paid	1	1¼
Flemington Coal & Coke	27	28
Illinois Pneumatic	2¼	2¾
Manhattan Light & Heat	2	5
*Markeen Copper	..	7¾
Mexican 5s	..	98½
New England Transportation	..	6½
New York Gas & Electric 4s	90¼	91
New York Gas & Electric 5s	102¾	103
New York Transportation	10½	11¼
Pittsburg, Bessemer & Lake Erie	22¼	24
St. Louis subs	127	129
St. Louis common, when issued	26	28
St. Louis preferred, when issued	..	98
St. Louis 4s, when issued	..	94½
Standard Power	15	15¾
Tennessee Copper	12½	14
Trust Company of America	..	227
Virginia Coal, Iron & Coke	30	31
Whipsaw Copper	..	12¾

*Selling dollars per share. Par value, $10.

LESS ACTIVE SECURITIES.

Street Railways.

	Bid.	Asked.
Broadway & Seventh Avenue	230	240
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 1st	104	105
Broadway & Seventh Avenue 2d	110	112
Broadway Surface 1st 5s	115	117
Broadway Surface 2d	104	105
Brooklyn City Railroad	238	240
Brooklyn, Bath & West End 5s	102	103
Central Park, N. & E. River	195	..
Central Park, N. & E. River 7s	107	109
Chicago Union Traction	28	28¾
Chicago Union Traction pf	70	70½
Columbus Railway	22	23½
Columbus Railway pf	86	90
Con. Traction of N. J	64	65
Con. Traction of N. J. 5s	112	113
Eighth Avenue Railroad	400	410
Kings County Elevated 4s, (new)	87½	88½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av	72½	77½
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 1st	116½	118
42d St., Man. & St. Nicholas Av. 2d	89	91
Nassau Electric 4s	94	95
Nassau Electric 5s	110	113
New Orleans Traction	80	..
New Orleans Traction pf	104	..
Ninth Avenue Railroad	190	205
North Jersey Street Railway	32½	34
North Jersey Street Railway 4s	90	92
Orange & Passaic Valley bonds	103	104
Steinway Railway Co. 6 p. c. 1st	117	118
Second Avenue Railroad consols	115½	117
Sixth Avenue Railroad	215	230
Syracuse Rapid Transit	12	18
Syracuse Rapid Transit pf	25	35
Union Railway 1st 5s	115	117
Union Railway stock	190	200
United Traction, Providence	112	113
Worcester (Mass.) Traction	30	32
Worcester (Mass.) Traction pf	104	107

Gas Companies.

Buffalo (N. Y.) stock	7	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st, with interest	74	77
Central Union 5s guaranteed	103½	106
Consolidated Gas of Newark	56	..
Consolidated Gas of Newark bonds	105	106
Consolidated Gas of N. J	87½	89
Consolidated Gas of N. J	21¾	22½
Consumers' Gas (Jersey City) bonds	100	100
Denver Gas	43½	44½
Denver Gas 5s	84½	85½
Essex & Hudson Gas	45	47
Fort Wayne Gas	41	43
Fort Wayne Gas 6s	60	64
Indianapolis Gas	102	108
Indianapolis Gas bonds	103	105
Lafayette Gas Co	42	50
Lafayette Gas Co. 1st 6s	64	70
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas	42	48
Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas 6s	64	70
Mutual Gas of New York	300	..
Madison (Wis.) stock	81	83

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—The stock market today in many ways was a repetition of the previous days of the week. There was continued heavy liquidation, and values dwindled in a way that was discouraging. Loans were called and fresh margins demanded, and this operated against prices. Few securities on the list escaped.

The coppers, perhaps, fared the worst, and the selling of some of them reached large proportions. Montana was down to 299½, Butte from 68 to 66, United States to 30½, Utah to 33, Centennial to 20, with 1 per cent. bid to put it at 17 next week; Osceola to 71, Baltic to 20½, Calumet to 735, Arcadian to 28, Parrot to 38¼, Old Dominion to 25, and Quincy to 150. It was sell, sell, sell pretty much all day, and every slight temporary rally only served as a signal for fresh unloading. There seemed to be no bottom to prices for the moment, and the lambs who had been carrying heavy loads on narrow margins were ruthlessly shorn.

In the general list it was the same story of extensive liquidation and softening prices. United States Oil, still under the bear pressure, dropped below 37. Bell Telephone was off to 346 and Erie to 10½. Boston Elevated was down 101, and one-fourth of 1 per cent. was offered to put it at 95 in sixty days. The trading in Water Power was restricted, but the price was held firm at 3⅞ and 4 for the new stock and at ⅞ for the old. Federal Steel, Sugar, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy were active features of the list. The closing came with prices only a shade above the lowest.

Call loans, 6@7 per cent; time money, 5@6; commercial paper, 5½@6. At the Clearing House balances between the banks loaned at 6 per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	6	6¼	Old Colony	4½	5½
Allouez	3	3½	O. Dominion	25½	26
Arcadian	27	..	Osceola	69	70
Arnold	6	6½	Parrot	37½	38
Ash Bed	1	..	Pioneer	2½	3
Atlantic	25	..	Quincy	148	151
Baltic	20½	21½	Rhode Island	5¼	5¾
B. & Cr. C.	.30	.40	Santa Fé	6	6½
Bos. & Mont.	295	298	S. Ysabel	7¾	8
Butte & Bos.	..	65	Shoe	33	..
C. & Hecla.	730	..	Tamarack	208	..
Centennial	20½	21	Utah Con	33¼	34
Franklin	15	16	Washington	1¼	2
Humboldt	1½	2	White Knob	9	11
Isle Royale	27½	28	Winona	7	8
Mohawk	16	17	Wolverine	38	39

Railroad Stocks.

Boston & A.	249½	249¾	C. Mass. pf.	..	70
Boston & L.	241	..	Fitchburg pf.	..	120
Boston & Me.	208	208½	N. Y. & N. E. 6s	..	111
Boston & P.	300	..	N. Y. & N. E. 7s	..	115½
Boston Elev.	101	102	N. Y. & N. E. 7s	..	115¾
Bos. Gas 5s.	..	85	West End	..	92
Cent. Mass	17	..

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. Bell T.	347	350	N. E. Tel.	..	144
C. Stk. Yds.	..	145	West. Elec	..	43
Erie Tel	105½	106	W. Elec. pf.	..	67
Mex. Tele	3⅛	3¼

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Prices for Linseed dropped to-day to 11 for the common and 51 for the preferred. The common opened at 12 and closed at 11¼; the preferred started at 54⅜, but declined to 51½ at the close. Biscuit oommon opened at 38¾, and on heavy selling for both long and short account was sent off to 35¾, the preferred in the meantime declining to 92½. Diamond Match broke to 124½ on the selling of about 200 shares. Tin Plate, which was influenced almost entirely by the quotations made on it in New York, opened at 28 for the common, declined a point, and closed at 27¼; the preferred dropped from 77 at the start to 74½, and closed at 76. Metropolitan Elevated preferred opened and closed at 82, having sold during the day at 81½. The bonds were in demand at 95⅜@95¼. Union Traction dropped a point, from 80, at the start and closed at the lower price.

		High.	Low.	Close.
2,470	Linseed	12⅜	11	11¼
4,435	Linseed pf	54⅜	51½	51½
100	Alaator	50	50	50
985	Tin Plate	28	27	27¼
335	Tin Plate pf	77	74½	76
885	Union Traction	31¼	30⅜	30¾
57	Union Traction pf	80	79	79
292	Diamond Match	125⅜	124½	125
70	Lake Street Elevated	16½	16	16
150	Lake St. El. certfs	15½	15	15
100	Metropolitan Elevated	28¾	28¾	28¾
1,216	Met. Elevated pf	82	81½	82
10	Milwaukee Brewing	15	15	15
6,227	National Biscuit	38¾	37⅜	38½
749	National Biscuit pf	94	92¼	92½
180	National Carbon	17	16⅜	16⅜
50	National Carbon pf	83½	83½	83½
420	National Steel	41½	40¼	41½
50	South Side Elevated	104	104	104
150	Street's Stable Car	22	22	22
155	Union Elevated	103¼	103	103
$85,000	Metropolitan Elevated bonds, gold 4s	95⅜	95¼	95⅜

INDUSTRIAL EXCHANGE BIDS.

Amalgamated Copper	$86½
American Biscuit bonds	109
American Hide	36
American Hide pf	80½
Arizona Lead	10
Bay State Gas	1⅝
Binghamton Gas 5s	100
British Columbia Copper	10¼
Empire Copper	15
Flemington C. & C	28½
Fern. Coal Co	15
Journeay & Burnham	5
Journeay & Burnham pf	15
Marsh & Mills	65
N. Y. Biscuit bonds	111
National Tube	48
N. Ams. Gas	25½
Retsof bonds	75
Retsof stock	20½

STOCK EXCHANGE AND TICKERS.

The refusal of the Special Term of the Supreme Court to grant a peremptory writ of mandamus to George G. Renville to compel the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company to connect a ticker in his office with its telegraph wires, and to furnish to him quotations of transactions upon the New York Stock Exchange, in the same manner and for the same price as they were furnished to others, was sustained yesterday by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Justice Ingraham, who gives the unanimous opinion of the court, says:

"Under the agreement between the Stock Exchange and the respondents certain information is given to the telegraph company to be communicated to individuals or corporations designated by the Stock Exchange. Whether we call this information a special dispatch, or general information which the Stock Exchange desires to communicate, seems to me to be entirely immaterial. The fact that the telegraph company pays to the Stock Exchange a certain sum of money for the information which it receives to transmit is also immaterial."

Window Glass Plants to Fight.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Dec. 8.—The Chronicle Telegraph says this afternoon: "The American Window Glass Company is reported to have made a cut of 33⅓ per cent. in the price of all window glass, effective last Wednesday, and to have ordered fires lighted in all its factories, the purpose being to resume operations about Jan. 1. This move is considered a declaration of war on the independent manufacturers."

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Friday, Dec. 8, 1899.

Closing Bid.	Closing Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
111	113	200	Adams Express	112	112	112	112	..
14½	15	1,100	Am. Car & Foundry	15¼	15⅝	15	15	—⅛
60	61	1,342	Am. Car & Found. pf	61	61	60	60	—1
32½	33	585	American Ice	33⅜	33⅝	33	33	—⅛
77	78	850	American Ice pf	75½	77	74⅝	77	+1
34	34½	585	American Cotton Oil	35	35	34	34	—⅛
11	11¾	1,345	American Linseed	12	12	11¼	11¼	—⅛
51½	52¼	602	Am. Linseed pf	54⅜	54⅜	53	53	—1
41½	43	410	Am. Malting Co. pf	40½	40½	40½	40½	—2½
36	36½	2,025	Am. Smelt. & Ref	37⅝	38½	35½	36¼	—1⅝
88	88½	823	Am. Smelt. & Ref. pf	89	89	88	88¼	—1¼
3¼	4½	200	American Spirits Mfg.	4	4	4	4	..
40⅜	41¼	22,195	American Steel & Wire	43⅜	44½	40	40⅜	—3⅜
92½	94½	1,560	Am. Steel & Wire pf	94½	96	92½	92½	—2
147⅜	147⅞	91,870	Am. Sugar Ref. Co	152	152¼	147½	147⅝	—4½
118⅜	119	200	Am. Sugar Ref. Co. pf	118⅜	118⅜	118⅜	118⅜	..
42	42½	2,900	American Steel Hoop	43	43	41½	42	—1⅞
80½	81⅞	370	Am. Steel Hoop pf	82½	82½	81½	81½	—1½
27½	28	4,075	American Tin Plate	28⅜	28⅜	27	28	—1¼
75	77	2,020	Am. Tin Plate pf	76½	76½	74⅞	75	—3
109	109⅜	49,185	American Tobacco	110⅜	110⅜	108¼	109⅛	—2⅜
141	143	610	American Tobacco pf	143	143	142½	148	—1½
41⅞	42	1,985	Anaconda Copper	43	43	41½	41½	—2½
44	46	200	Ann Arbor pf	44½	44½	44	44	..
21⅝	21⅞	6,395	At., T. & S. F.	22½	22½

About the heaviest loss was 1½, in United Gas Improvement. Union Traction dropped below 40, and Electric Company of America and Asphalt below 14. Electric Storage Battery fell to 11½. Marsden sold at 13. Danville Bessemer sold at 3, a new low record, probably on disappointment because it is not to be taken into the Atlantic. American Railways was firm around 5½. Asphalt 5s were yielding, and so were Choctaw 5s. Pensylvania sold at 67.

Closing bid and asked:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Cambria	21	21½	Phil. Trac.	96	96⅛
Choctaw	35½	35⅝	Union Trac.	39⅝	39¾
El. Co. of A.	13½	13¾	U. Gas Imp.	157½	159
Lehigh Val.	25⅞	26	Welsbach Lt.	46	47
Marsden	12⅞	12½	W. N.Y. & P.	5¾	6

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows:

	Friday.	Thursday.
Alta	.06	.06
Alpha Con	.03	.04
Andes	.13	.12
Belcher	.26	.27
Best & Belcher	.45	.42
Bullion	.04	.05
Caledonia	.59	.61
Challenge Con	.18	.20
Chollar	.18	.19
Confidence	.84	.86
Con. Cal. & Va	1.90	1.75
Con. Imperial	.01	.01
Crown Point	.20	.20
Gould & Curry	.15	.15
Hale & Norcross	.40	.39
Julia	.02	.02
Justice	.07	.08
Kentucky Con	.01	.01
Lady Washington Con	.06	.06
Mexican	.46	.43
Occidental Con	.16	.16
Ophir	1.00	.95
Overman	.10	.16
Potosi	.23	.25
Savage	.12	.14
Sav. Belcher	.04	.04
Sierra Nevada	.56	.56
Standard	2.70	2.75
Syndicate	.05	.06
St. Louis	.08	.08
Union Con	.36	.34
Utah Con	.08	.08
Yellow Jacket	.16	.16
Silver Bars	58⅜@59	58⅜@59
Mexican dollars	47½@48¼	47½@48¼
Drafts, sight	.05	.05
Telegraph	.10	.10

COLORADO SPRINGS, Dec. 8.—Gardner & Co. report closing quotations as follows:

	Friday.		Thursday.
	Bid.	Asked.	Bid.	Asked.
Acacia	35¼	36	36⅞	38
Aalamo	12¾	13	13½	13½
Anaconda	42	44	44⅜	46
Anchoria	75	85	70	80
Argentum	19½	19⅞	19½	20
Bankers'	12½	13	12⅝	13
Battle	33	33	31½	33
Blue Belle	11¼	11⅜	11	11½
Coin	229	243	230	240
Columbine	19½	20	18½	21
Consolidated	15⅜	15⅞	16	16⅛
Damon	27⅜	27½	20½	20⅝
Elkton	117½	120	117	120
El Paso	29½	30	29	30
Findlay	13⅞	14¼	14¼	15
Fleece	30	35	30	35
Garfield	19½	19⅞	18	20
Gibson	25	28	23	26
Gould	36¼	36⅜	37½	37⅜
Isabella	133⅜	133⅝	129	129½
Independence	41	41½	47	48½
Jackpot	59½	60	59½	60
King	92	95	92	95
Moon Anchor	50	56	50	59
Matoa	27½	28	28	30
National	13¼	13½	13½	14½
Ophir	60	64	60	65
Pharmacist Con	14½	14⅝	14½	14⅜
Pinnacle	28¼	28⅜	28⅜	29
Portland	245	249	245	248
Raven	74⅜	75	74	75
Rawlings	32	32	32	33
Rosa	40	41	41½	45
Sovereign	14⅝	14⅜	15½	15½
Tornado	48½	50	48½	50
Union	35	35½	34¼	34½
Vindicator	174	180	170	175
Work	30¾	31	30½	31
Zenobia	20	22	19	20

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dividends are announced by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company and the Commercial Cable Company.

Statements as to the condition of the following banks will be found in another column: Fifth National, Bank of the State of New York, Fourth National Bank, Fourteenth Street Bank, National Citizens', Hide and Leather, Riverside Bank, and Bank of New Amsterdam, of New York City; Globe National of Boston, and Girard National of Philadelphia.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

The Manhattan Weather Strip Company of New York; capital, $10,000. Directors—Simon Henry, Henry Henry of Brooklyn, Matthew Snowden, John Bergfalk of New York City.

The Consumers' Home Club of Buffalo, to sell, exchange, and lend books, periodicals, and magazines; capital, $5,000. Directors—Charles D. Blackhall, Katherine Buddenberg, William S. Rann of Buffalo.

The Westminster Heights Company of New York City, to deal in real estate; capital, $150,000. Directors—Cornelius E. Donnellen, Charles K. Robinson of Brooklyn Eversley Childs of Sayville, N. Y.; Henry W. Poor of New York City.

The Manhasset Medical Association of New York City, to carry on a general drug, pharmaceutical, and surgery goods business; capital, $2,000. Directors—Lazarus S. Sobel, Adolph Cohn, Fannie Sobel of New York City.

A copy of the agreement of consolidation of the Utica Electric Light Company and Trenton Falls Electric and Power Company, forming the Utica Electric Light and Power Company, was filed yesterday with the Secretary of State. The new company will furnish light, heat, or power, and light the streets of Utica, Rome, and the villages of Prospect, Trenton, Holland, Patent, Oriskany, Whitesborough, New Hartford, Clinton, Frankfort, Ilion, Mohawk, and Herkimer and other villages and towns of Oneida and Herkimer Counties. The amount of capital stock is $1,000,000. Directors—Henry D. Pixley, Daniel N. Crouse, T. Solomon Griffiths, H. Jesse Brayton, William E. Lewis of Utica, William G. Phelps of Binghamton, and Joseph Fox of New York City.

New Jersey Corporations.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 8.—Among the companies incorporated here to-day were:

The Bankers' Audit and Finance Company, to deal in stocks, bonds, and franchises; to furnish money for all kinds of construction work, and own and operate all kinds of public and private corporations. Capital, $150,000.

Ocean City Real Estate and Investment Company, to develop Ocean City, Cape May County, and tracts of land in Atlantic, Cumberland, and Camden Counties; capital, $125,000.

Mexican Tropical Agricultural Company, to purchase and develop lands in Mexico; capital, $60,000.

Incorporated in Delaware.

Special to The New York Times.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 8.—The Guarantee Security Company of Brooklyn was chartered at Dover to-day to deal in stocks, bonds, and cotton. Capital, $200,000.

NOTES OF INSURANCE INTERESTS

The following Russian fire insurance companies are reported to be making preparations for admission to this State: The Moscow Insurance Company, the Salamandra Insurance Company, and the First Russian Insurance Company. The New Zealand Insurance Company of Auckland is also reported to be engaged in preparations for entrance to the State of Massachusetts.

The insurance on the property of the Pacific Novelty Company at 577 Broadway, which was nearly destroyed by fire Thursday, was distributed as follows: On stock, Atlanta Home $3,000, Phoenix of Hartford $2,500, Merchants' of Newark $2,500, American of Philadelphia $2,500, Fire Association $2,500, Western of Toronto $2,500, National of Hartford $2,500, Manufacturers and Merchants' Mutual of Illinois $2,500, Merchants' of New Orleans $2,000, Delaware $2,000, Imperial $2,000, Milwaukee Mechanics', $2,000, Victoria $1,500, Buffalo German $1,500, Buffalo Commercial $1,500, New Orleans Insurance Association $1,500, Michigan Fire and Marine $1,500, Rochester German $1,500, Grand Rapids $1,500, Virginia State $1,500, Thuringia-American $1,500, Mechanics and Traders' $1,500 Commerce $1,500, Western of Pittsburg $1,500, Hamilton $1,500, Associated Manufacturers' Mutual $1,500, British American $1,500, Nassau $1,500, Artisans' of Pittsburg $1,250, National Union of Washington $1,000, Firemen's of Baltimore $1,000, Hanover $1,000, New England Underwriters' $1,000, Caledonian $1,000. On fixtures: Stuyvesant $3,000, Lyons, Stadholz & Co. will adjust the loss. The loss on the stock of Velleman & Co. at 579 Broadway, which will be adjusted by H. A. Landgraff & Co., was insured as follows: Williamsburg City $2,500, British America $1,000, Western of Toronto $1,000, Firemen's of Baltimore $1,000, Newark $1,000, Hanover $750, American of Philadelphia $750. Other insurance as follows: On Oestreicher & Mey r, at 579 Broadway: Continental $3,500, Agricultural $1,500, Imperial $1,500, Caledonian $1,000, New York Underwriters' $1,000.

Chicago advices state that, despite the assertion of Commissioner O'Shaughnessy of the Minnesota Insurance Department that he will not change his ruling against the discriminatory clause of the graded commission rule of the Western Union, the matter is still under consideration in the office of the Attorney General.

The insurance on the building of Bernard Curry, at 600 Ninth Avenue, which was considerably damaged by fire Thursday, was distributed as follows: Phoenix of London $12,000, Caledonian $4,000. C. R. Young & Co. will adjust the loss.

Western marine underwriters report that the lake season, which closed this week, has been comparatively profitable, there having been no large disasters.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Yesterday's Dealings by Brokers and at Auction—Fifth Avenue Corners Transferred.

Leopold Well has sold for the Franke estate to a client, for cash, the three five-story apartment houses at the southwest corner of Fifth Avenue and One Hundred and Seventeenth Street, 45, 40, and 40 feet front, respectively, by 100.11.

Foley & Sniffin have sold for A. Reinheimer to William Ripley, for $17,000, the three-story dwelling 17 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, 16.6 by 100.

Palmer & Macdonald have sold for Maximilian Morgenthau to John A. Holmes of Glenbrook, Conn., the four-story dwelling 150 West Eightieth Street, 22 by 80 by 100.

Bernard Smyth & Sons have sold for M. F. Carmichael to Lowenfeld & Prager the old buildings 2,207 Second Avenue, 25 by 100. The same brokers also effected the sale of the Lightstone estate's plot at Broadway and One Hundred and Forty-seventh Street, reported yesterday. The buyer of the latter is John J. Mahoney.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. have sold for the Equitable Life Assurance Society to Henry W. Unger the three-story brick dwelling 239 East Thirty-ninth Street, 19 by 98.9.

No decision has been reached regarding the future of the former Hotel Royal site, at Sixth Avenue and Fortieth Street, but it is understood that the improvement will be in the nature of a studio and apartment building.

Weil & Mayer have also bought from Harry Fischel 283 to 287 Grand Street, 50 by 100.

Charles L. Ritzman has sold the two five-story flats 827 and 829 Southern Boulevard, each 25 by 100.

W. C. White has sold for Joseph Rittweller the two-story frame dwellings 625 East One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street, 18.6 by 125.

Jacob D. Butler transferred yesterday to Leo Wise the property at the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Sixteenth Street, 49 by 141.10, for a nominal consideration. The revenue stamps on the deed indicate a price of $390,000. The purchaser has given mortgages aggregating $680,000 on the property, one to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for $500,000 at 6 per cent., and a second mortgage for $180,000 to Mr. Butler bearing 5 per cent. interest.

Margaret S. Kingsland recorded two instruments yesterday deeding as gifts to Phineas C. Kingsland the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Forty-fifth Street, 25.5 by 60, and the parcel on the south side of Sixty-first Street, 25 feet west of Madison Avenue, 23 by 73.5.

Le Grand K. Pettit took title yesterday to the eight lots on the north side of One Hundred and Eighth Street, 100 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, recently purchased from William Waldorf Astor. Mortgages on the property to the amount of $84,000 given by the purchaser to Mr. Astor and Gibson Putzel—$60,000 to the former and $24,000 to the latter—were also recorded.

According to a mortgage filed yesterday, Benjamin Altman has borrowed $200,000 from the Mutual Life Insurance Company on the apartment house at the southeast corner of Madison Avenue and Twenty-fifth Street. The mortgage is made for a period of three years and bears 4 per cent. interest.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By L. J. Phillips & Co.

319 West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, 25 by 99.11, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to William F. Buckley..$17,550

By William Kennelly.

861 and 863 Elton Avenue, 50 by 100, two four-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Charles Unangst..... 22,166

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

428 Columbus Avenue, 25.6 by 100, leasehold, one-story frame building; all title and interest of John Thomas on Dec. 31, 1893; sale by order of the Sheriff, to G. H. Rudolph 80

575 Mott Avenue, 25 by 98, four-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Charles E. De Grauw..... 13,025

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

No. 63 Market Street, for a six-story brick flat, with stores, 25 by 47.6; Morris J. Gardner of 301 East One Hundred and Second Street, owner; Sass & Smallheiser, architects; cost, $15,000.

Cauldwell Avenue, west side, 51.10 feet south of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, for a three story frame dwelling, with stores, 48.2 by 20; George P. Arbogast of 840 East One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, owner; M. J. Garvin, architect; cost, $6,000.

Union Avenue, east side, 376 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, for three three-story frame tenements, 17 by 68; Howard Menn of 876 East One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Street, owner; M. J. Garvin, architect; cost, $16,500.

One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street, south side, 325 feet west of Bronx Park Avenue, for a one-story frame dwelling, 18 by 40; Thomas F. Gallagher, owner; Charles Knauf, architect; cost, $2,500.

Crotona Park South, south side, 50 feet west of Clinton Avenue, for five three-story frame dwellings; 20 by 65; H. White of 1,046 East One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, owner; Hunter & Murgatroyd, architects; cost, $30,000.

St. Nicholas Avenue, northwest corner of One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, for a seven-story brick and stone apartment house, 120 by 105.5; Frank A. Seitz of 143 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, owner; Frederick C. Burne, architect; cost, $125,000.

One Hundred and Sixtieth Street, southeast corner of Courtlandt Avenue, for two five-story brick flats, 25 by 87; Charles Brogan of 1,165 Washington Avenue, owner; Neville & Bagge, architects; cost, $43,000.

Clinton Avenue, east side, 27 feet south of One Hundred and Seventieth Street, for four three-story frame dwellings. 20 by 70; George Beckman of 904 East One Hundred and Seventieth Street, owner; Edward Wenz, architect; cost, $22,000.

Seventy-third Street, north side, 248 feet east of Avenue A, for three six-story and basement brick flats, with stores, 25 by 88.8; A. A. Schorsch of 240 East Seventy-ninth Street, owner; G. F. Pelham, architect; cost, $66,000.

Grove Street, north side, 70.11 feet east of Bedford Street, for a six-story and basement brick flat, with stores, 25 by 94.4; Elias Kempner, owner; G. F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $25,000.

Gouverneur Street, northeast corner of Madison Street, for two six-story brick flats, 37.2 by 69 and 25 by 60.5; Max Hamburger, owner; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $55,000.

Thirty-second Street, southwest corner of Eleventh Avenue, for a one-story brick office, 30 by 19; New York Central Railroad, owner; G. S. Nichols, architect; cost, $600.

Raymond Avenue, north side, 100 feet west of Parker Avenue, for two two-story and basement brick dwellings, 18 by 38; C. W. Miller of 971 East One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, owner and architect; cost, $4,700.

Twenty-fourth Street, between Eleventh and Thirteenth Avenues, for a one-story iron shop, 137 by 42; Metropolitan Street Railway Company, owner; A. V. Porter, architect; cost, $2,500.

One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street, northeast corner of Locust Avenue, for a one-story frame shed, 16.6 by 45; Central Union Gas Company, owner; A. F. A. Schmidt, architect; cost, $300.

Bryant Street, north side, 100 feet south of Jennings Street, for two two-story frame dwellings, 21 by 50; John Toelberg of 1,256 Brook Avenue, owner; N. Toelberg, architect; cost, $8,000.

Prospect Avenue, southwest side, 30 feet northwest of Boston Road, for two two-story frame dwellings, 19.6 by 57; Peter J. Stumpf of 1,209 Hoe Street, owner; N. Toelberg, architect; cost, $8,000.

Alterations.

Intervale Avenue, east side, 200 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-second Street, to three three-story frame tenements; Herman Knabe, owner; Moore & Landsiedel, architects; cost, $1,500.

No. 145 West Houston Street, to a three-story brick dwelling; Eleanor M. Gilliat, owner; Norwood & Dilley, builders; cost, $100.

Tinton Avenue, east side, 50 feet south of Cedar Place, to two two-story frame dwellings; Konrad Krass of 772 Tinton Avenue, owner; W. Werner, architect; cost, $2,000.

No. 2,354 Third Avenue, to a three-story brick store; P. Tiederman of 2,316 Third Avenue, owner; B. & J. P. Walther, architects; cost, $1,000.

No. 76 Franklin Street, to a four-story brick store; Flake & Dowling, owners; A. Wohlpart, architect; cost, $150.

West Broadway, northeast corner Lispenard Street, to a three-story brick store; Catherine A. Anglemont, of 3 Mercer Street, owner; H. Klein, architect; cost, $1,000.

Hester Street, northeast corner of Norfolk Street, to a five-story brick tenement, with store; M. and J. Laroo, premises, owners; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $1,000.

No. 9 Oak Street, to a five-story brick tenement; Golden & Rosenberg, owners; M. Bernstein, architect; cost, $500.

Nos. 4 and 6 East Twenty-eighth Street, to a three-story brick stable; Henry Elderd, owner; Bannister & Schell, architects; cost, $8,000.

No. 217 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, to a two-story frame dwelling; E. F. Bruch, owner; cost, $400.

Twentieth Street, southwest corner of Third Avenue, to a four-story brick dwelling and store; estate of B. M. Winthrop, owner; James Stroud, of 1,267 Broadway, architect; cost, $250.

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Supreme Court, United States:

59—The United States, appellant, vs. John R. Gleason et al.—Reargument continued by Temple Bodley and H. N. Low for the appellees and concluded by George H. Gorman for the appellant.

4—Daniel Wiley, plaintiff in error, vs. D. L. Sinkler et al.—Argued by Charles A. Douglass for the plaintiff in error and by W. A. Barber for the defendant in error.

70—The Telluride Power Transmission Company et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the Rio Grande Western Railroad Company.—Argument commenced by Arthur Brown for the plaintiffs in error and continued by James H. Hayden for the defendant in error.

Call for Monday: 70, 36, 73 and 74, 79, 21, 53, 81 and 82, 83 and 84 and 85, 86, 87.

Deals in Brooklyn Real Estate.

A big purchase of Brooklyn realty by the Jere. Johnson, Jr., Company was announced yesterday. The property consists of several plots of land in the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Wards. The land is situated in Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, and Forty-fourth Streets and Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Sixteenth Avenues. The property is to be improved, and will probably be placed in the market next Spring. The Johnson company has also purchased a plot of seventy-five lots on Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth Streets and Sixteenth Avenue.

Recorded Real Estate Transfers.

Friday, Dec. 8.

BOULEVARD LAFAYETTE, w s, at centre of 156th St, produced, runs w 447.8x n 30x n w 218.2x w 67x n 83.4x e 33x n 20x e 502.2 to Boulevard x s to beginning, with parts excepted; George B. Grinnell and another, executors, &c., to Lansing Investment Company..... 60,000

BOULEVARD LAFAYETTE, w s, at centre of 156th St, produced, runs w 447.8x n 30x n w 218.2x w 67x n 83.4x e 33x n 20x e 502.2 to Boulevard x s to beginning, with parts excepted; William M. Grinnell and others to Lansing Investment Company..... 1

BOWERY, 33, e s, 25x81.4x irregular; Lansing W. Walsh, referee, to W. Irving Clark and others..... 35,800

BROOK AV, e s, 149.7 ft s of 166th St, 26.6x146.11x25x155.11; Charles Gerlich and wife to Catharine Bescher..... 1

CARMINE ST, 78, s s, 25x60; John A. Holmes to Alice K. Webb..... 1

CENTRAL AV, s e s, Morris St, 128.8x116.3x125x85.11; William E. Brooker and Charles H. Schroeder to John M. Plauvelt..... $100

CENTRAL PARK WEST, w s, 40.11 ft s of 108th St, 24x100; Patrick McMorrow to Edward Lafferty..... 1

CENTRAL PARK WEST, 475, w s, 24x100; Patrick McMorrow to James E. McLarney..... Exchange

COURTLANDT AV, e s, 148 ft n of 150th St, 29.7x100; William L. Turner, referee, to John H. Metzler..... 24,000

DALY AV, widened, e s, 125.9 ft n of 177th St, 50x44.9x50x43.5; Charles P. Hallock to Frank McCabe..... 1

EDGECOMBE AV, e s, 83.6 ft n of 39th St, 16.6x90; Ellen P. Kellogg to Patrick McMorrow..... 1

FORDHAM AV, Lots 216 and 217, map of Central Morrisania, part of the Bathgate farm; Anna H. Gerding and another to Daniel A. Mowry, ½ part..... 1,000

FULTON ST, 200, 22x77; Charles G. Meeker to Eliza Van Nemee, 11-140 part..... 2,357

JANE ST, n s, 87.2 ft w of 8th Av, 26.6x87.7; 165th St, s s, 165 ft w of 3d Av, 25.6x96; Edgar Ketchum and wife to William S. Bogert..... 1

LOT 252, map of portion of Hunt estate; Ralph Mazziotta to Edward J. Cahill.. 1

LOT 52, map of portion of Hunt estate; Catherine M. Schierenbeck to Eliza Schneider..... 1

LOT begins 75 ft e of 12th Av; also 302.1 ft w of Public Drive, Boulevard, or French Boulevard, and 99.11 ft n of 158th St; runs e 61.10 to said drive x w 63.11x s 15.11; George B. Grinnell to Lansing Investment Company..... 100

MADISON AV, s w corner of 31st St, 30.9x95; Elizabeth A. Wilcox to Joseph Alexander..... 1

MADISON ST, 257 and 259, 47.2x68.2x47.4x68; Jacob Fischel to Samuel Golde and others..... 1

MADISON AV, s w corner of 31st St, runs w 120 x s 98.9 x e 25 x n 68 x e 95 x n 30.9; 38th St, s s, 266 ft e of 6th Av, 21x98.9; Robert R. Stewart and another, executors, and others, to Harris Mandelbaum and another..... Omitted

MADISON AV, s w corner of 31st St, 30.1x 95; Harris Mandelbaum and another to Elizabeth A. Wilcox..... 1

MANHATTAN AV, 487, w s, 15x80; John J. Egan and another to P. W. Higmann.. 100

STANTON ST, 177, s s, 25x100; Elkan Kahn and others to Anna Markwitz..... 1

STANTON ST, 257 to 261, s e corner of Sheriff St, 74.7x75.2x75.2x75.1; Samuel Golde and others to Jacob Fischel..... 100

ST. NICHOLAS AV, 406, e s, 25x100; William Nylin to Frank Koch..... 1

TELLER AV, s e s, 689 ft n e of 169th St, 50x78.8, irregular; G. Pasquale D'Auria and wife to Katharine S. Haynes

WHITE PLAINS AV, w s, 300.7 ft s of Westchester Av, 31.4x175x20.4x166; August Meyer to Dommikus Schneider, ½ part..... 1

2D AV, n w corner of 9th St, 40x125x irregular; Isidore Jackson and wife to Simon Jacobs..... 3,000

3D AV, e s, 75.5 ft n of 48th St, 24.5x95; Benjamin F. Terwilliger, executor and trustee, to Benedict A. Klein..... 18,550

3D AV, e s, 50.5 ft n of 48th St, 25x90; Benjamin F. Terwilliger, as executor and trustee, to Benedict A. Klein..... 16,000

3D AV, n w corner of 148th St, 63x92.11x 51.9x56.11; August Kuhn to George F. Moody..... 1

3D AV, n w corner of 148th St, 63x92.11x 51.9x56.11; George F. Moody to August Kuhn..... 10

5TH AV, 85, n e corner of 16th St, 49x 141.10x irregular; Jacob D. Butler to Leo Wise..... 1

5TH AV, n e corner of 45th St, 25.5x80; Margaret S. Kingsland to Phineas C. Kingsland..... Gift.

6TH AV, s e corner of 40th St, 59.6x100; John B. Cole and wife to Elizabeth M. Anderson..... 2

1ST ST, n s, Lot 1,151, map of the village of Wakefield; 6th St, s s, Lot 103, map of Unionport, 100x216; Sarah R. Machelite and another to Catherine E. Allison..... 1

7TH ST, s s, 318 ft e of Avenue B, 25x 90.10; Daniel Mahoney and wife to William Bachrach and another..... 1

10TH ST, n s, 375 ft w of 8th Av, 24.10x 92x irregular; Louis B. Hasbrouck, referee to Hans Lumbye..... 29,500

11TH ST, s s, 80 ft e of 5th Av, 22x84.2x 27.4x68; Annie B. Langdon to Robert Langdon..... 1

13TH ST, s s, Lot 239, map of Village of Wakefield, 100x114; Edward J. Cahill to Ralph Mazziotta..... 1

31ST ST, s s, 95 ft w of Madison Av, 25x 98.9; Harris Mandelbaum and another to Robert A. Sasseen..... 1

27TH ST, 244 to 248 West, 60.5x98.9x62.2x 98.9; Allen L. Smidt, referee, to Lawrence P. Kerr, (corrects error in issue of Dec. 7)..... 21,000

29TH ST, s s, 125 ft e of 2d Av, 25x75; Thomas Conville to Emily Lyon..... 1

39TH ST, s s, 300 ft e of 10th Av, 25x 98.9; Leonard Renz to Elizabeth Renz and another, (quit claim)..... 1

39TH ST, s s, 300 ft e of 10th Av, 25x98.9; Elizabeth Renz and another to Benedict A. Klein..... 1

61ST ST, s s, 25 ft w of Madison Av, 23x 73.5; Margaret S. Kingsland to Phineas C. Kingsland..... Gift.

62D ST, n s, 251 West, 25x100.5; Simon Adler to Rose Appel..... 1

62D ST, s s, 150 ft e of 11th Av, 25x100.5; John C. Barth and wife to Nellie A. Murphy..... 1

80TH ST, 130 West, 22x102.2; Maximilian Morgenthau to John A. Holmes..... 100

83D ST, n s, 117.11 ft e of 3d Av, 20x 102.2; Benjamin F. Terwilliger, executor and trustee, to Albert L. Adams..... 10,200

92D ST, s s, 175 ft w of 1st Av, 50x100.8; George Ringler & Co. to J. Edward Jetter..... 1

107TH ST, s w corner of Park Av, 25x 100.11x irregular; John T. Rowehl and wife to Nicholas C. Seedorf, ½ part..... 1

107TH ST, s s, 25 ft w of Park Av, 50x 75.11; Nicholas C. Seedorf to John T. Rowehl, ½ part..... 1

108TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 200x100.11; William W. Astor to Le Grand K. Pettit..... 1

112TH ST, s s, 150 ft w of 7th Av, 17x 100.11; Nathan Mayer to Henry McCabe..... 16,500

113TH ST, 73 West, 16x100.11; Simon Hosch to Rachel Hosch..... 1

121ST ST, 137 West, 20x100.11; Hallet D. Wilcox and wife to Tennessee C. Cook and another..... 1

125TH ST, s s, 175 ft e of Boulevard, 104x100.11; Jobst Hoffmann to Andrew Brose..... 10

135TH ST, n s, 250 ft e of Willis Av, 25x 100; Rachel Juster to Libbie E. Cahn.... 1

136TH ST, n s, 275 ft e of Willis Av, 25x 100; Rachel Juster to Libbie E. Cahn.... 1

155TH ST, n s, 437 ft w of Broadway, 0.6x199.9 to 156th St; also all title to Broadway, corner Boulevard, &c.—Lansing Investment Company..... 1

158TH ST, n s, 152.1 ft w of Boulevard Lafayette, runs w 150x n 99.11x e 61.7 to Boulevard x s e — x s 84.8; Boulevard Lafayette, s e corner of 158th St, 165.5x124x108.11; Boulevard Lafayette, s w corner of 158th St, 637.1 to 156th St produced x w 149.9x irregular to 155th St x 550; Broadway, w s, Boulevard Lafayette, e s, and 157th St, produced n linely to Lansing Investment Company and others to Lansing Investment Company. 1

158TH ST, n s, 152.1 ft w of the Boulevard Lafayette, runs w 150 x n 99.11 x e 61.7 to the Boulevard, x s e — x s 84.8 to the beginning; Boulevard Lafayette, s e corner of 158th St, 168.5x124x109.11, gore; Boulevard Lafayette, s w corner of 158th St, runs w 181.6 x s 99.11 x w 200 x s 129.11 to 157th St, produced, x e 535.2 to the Boulevard, x n w 305; Boulevard Lafayette, w s, at w s of Broadway and s s of 156th St, produced, runs w 449.9 x n 30 x e 447.8 x s 30; 155th St, n s, 437.6 ft w of Broadway, runs w 237.6 x n 376.4 x e 67 x s e 218.2 to the n s of 156th St, produced, x irregular; 155th St, n s, 125 ft w of Broadway, runs w 312.6 x n 199.10 to the s s of 158th St, produced, x e 287.6 x s 99.11 x e 25 x s 99.11; also all title to Broadway, w s; Boulevard Lafayette, e s, and 157th St, produced, n line, —x—; Henry De F. Baldwin, referee, to the Lansing Investment Company..... Order of Court

167TH ST, s s, 95 ft e of Audubon Av, 25x85; Mary W. Merrigan to Eva Merrigan..... 1

Recorded Leases.

GERMAN-AMERICAN REAL ESTATE Title Guaranty Company to Maurice J. Fitzgerald; Lexington Av, n w corner of 100th St, 5 years..... 1,500

LADINSKY, Louis J., to Abraham B. Schleimer; 243 East Broadway, 3 years.. 564

MILLER, Alexander B., to August Schmidt; 120 East 28th St, 5 years..... 2,000

STEIN, Bertha, to Louise Matterson; 159 East 61st St, 1 5-12 years..... 1,350

Recorded Mortgages.

ARONOWITZ, Pauline and Lewis, to Emma A. C. Partridge and another; 25 Goerck St, 5 years..... 21,000

ARONOWITZ, Pauline and Lewis, to Laura S. Hasbrouck; 23 Goerck St, 5 years..... 21,000

ARONOWITZ, Pauline and Lewis, to William M. Peters; 25 and 25 Goerck St, 1 year..... 4,000

ADAMS, Genevieve, to Benjamin F. Terwilliger, executor, &c.; 3d Av, e s, 75.5 ft n of 48th St, 1 year..... 10,000

ALDERS, Claus, to F. & M. Schaefer Brewing Company; 2d Av, n e corner of 117th St, 1 year..... 2,000

ALTMAN, Benjamin, to the Mutual Life Insurance Company; 25th St, s e corner of Madison Av, 3 years..... 200,000

BRAGDON, Mellie C. and Mabel E. Bishop to George S. Carter; Broadway, s w corner of 20th St, 2 years..... 2,000

CARROLL, Daniel J., to Mary Conlon; 10th Av, e s, 88 ft s of 34th St, demand.. 1,500

DUFFY, John J., to Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company; 225 West 120th St, 3 years..... 15,000

DUFFY, Ann, to Oscar H. Vaupel, as committee, &c.; 12 West 70th St, 3 years... 12,000

FARRELL, Daniel, to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; Prospect Av, widened, e s, 208.11 ft n of Westchester Av, 5 years..... 5,500

FARRELL, Daniel, to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; Prospect Av, widened, e s, 228.11 ft n of Westchester Av, e s, 208.11 ft n of Westchester Av, 5 widened, 5 years..... 5,500

FARRELL, Daniel, to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; Prospect Av, widened, e s, 249.11 ft n of Westchester Av, widened, 5 years..... 5,500

FARRELL, Daniel, to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; Prospect Av, widened, e s, 182 ft n of Westchester Av, widened, 5 years..... 5,000

FARRELL, Daniel, to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; Prospect Av, w(dened, e s, 188.11 ft n of Westchester Av, widened, 5 years..... 5,000

FITZGERALD, Agnes E., to Louise E. Bettens; 814 and 818 6th Av and 71, 73, and 75 West 46th St, 1-6 part of all, 3 years..... 2,000

FITZGERALD, Maurice J., to Bernheimer & Schmid; 1,570 Lexington Av, demand, saloon lease..... 4,000

GABAY, Henry G., to Citizens' Savings Bank; Broadway, n w corner of 109th St, 1 year..... 170,000

GABAY, Henry G., to Jacob D. Butler; Broadway, n w corner of 109th St, 1 year..... 66,257

GLASS, John, Jr., to Isabella Glass; 14th St, n s, 475 ft w of 8th Av, demand.. 13,550

GOLDE, Samuel, and others to Jacob Fischel; 257 and 259 Madison St, 2 years. 10,000

HAIGHT, Catharine, to Dry Dock Savings Institution; 83d St, s s, 231.1 ft w of 3d Av, 5 years..... 15,000

HERBLAY, Emilie L. D., to the Mercantile Trust Company; 12 East 13th St, 3 years..... 16,000

HERBLAY, Emilie L. D., to Pauline May; 12 East 13th St, 1 year..... 1,500

HEUER, Dorothea, to Fanny E. Brooks; Anthony Av, w s, 50 ft n of Minerva Place, 3 years..... 2,500

JACOBS, Simon, to Charles Jackson; 2d Av, n w corner of 9th St, 1 year..... 50,000

JACOBS, Simon, to Isidore Jackson and another; 2d Av, n w corner of 9th St, 1 year..... 28,000

JUSTER, Rachel, to Charles H. Dugless; 681 East 136th St, 1 year..... 1

KAPELANSKY, Samuel, and Herman Kronenberg to Cullman Roure; 101st St, s s, 155 ft w of 4th Av, demand..... 3,000

KLEIN, Benedict A., to Elizabeth Renz; 39th St, s s, 300 ft e of 10th Av, 1 year. 1,250

KLEIN, Benedict A., to Jonas Weil and another; 436 West 39th St; demand..... 7,000

KLEIN, Benedict A., to Joseph L. Buttenwelser; 781 3d Av, demand..... 14,000

KLUBER, John C., and others to James H. Brewster, trustee, &c.; 338 West 4th St, 3 years..... 40,000

KLUBER, John C., and others to the Gansevoort Bank; 338 West 4th St, due..... 4,800

KLUBER, John C., and others to the Vermont Marble Company; 338 West 4th St, installments..... 3,500

KRAUSS, Henry, to Anna A. Bradford and others; trustees Bleecker St, s e corner of Mulberry St; also Bleecker St, s s, 27 ft e of Mulberry St, 5 years.... 65,000

LANGDON, Robert G., to Annie E. Langdon; 14th St, s s, 80 ft e of 8th Av, 1 year..... 4,000

LANSING INVESTMENT COMPANY to Richard M. Hoe and another, trustees; Boulevard Lafayete, s w corner of 158th St, runs w 131.6x s 99.11x w 200x s 109.11 to centre line, 157th St produced, 2 years..... 90,000

LEVENSOHN, Isidore, and Joseph Spector to the State Bank; 37½ Gr

PUBLIC NOTICES.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

AN ORDINANCE granting to the Fort George and Eleventh Avenue Railroad Company the right or franchise to construct and operate a street surface railroad in, upon and along certain streets, avenues, parkways, and highways in the City of New York.

Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, as follows:

WHEREAS, THE FORT GEORGE AND Eleventh Avenue Railroad Company has duly presented to the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, by presenting and filing with each house thereof, its application in writing, for a grant of the franchise or right to use the streets, avenues, parkways, and highways in the City of New York, hereinafter mentioned, and for the construction, maintenance, and operation of a double-track street surface railroad in or upon the surface of the same; and

Whereas, The said Municipal Assembly, by resolution adopted November 22, 1898, approved by the Mayor on the 5th day of December, 1898, gave public notice of such application, and that at the Councilmatic Chamber, in the City Hall of the City of New York, on the 22d day of December, 1898, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, such application of said railroad company would be first considered and a public hearing had thereon, which notice was published daily for at least fourteen days prior to the hearing in two daily newspapers published in the City of New York, viz., in the "New York World" and in the "New York Journal and Advertiser," which papers were first designated in writing by the Mayor of said city, on the said 5th day of December, 1898; and

Whereas, After public notice given as aforesaid and at a public hearing duly held in pursuance of such notice, whereat all persons so desiring were given an opportunity to be heard and were heard, such application was first considered by the Railroad Committees of both houses of said Municipal Assembly; and

Section 1. The Municipal Assembly of The City of New York hereby grants to the Fort George and Eleventh Avenue Railroad Company, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter set forth, the right and franchise to use the streets, avenues, parkways, and highways in The City of New York, hereinafter mentioned, and for the construction, maintenance and operation of a double-track street surface railroad in or upon the surface of the same; and to construct, maintain, and operate a double-track street surface railroad in and upon the following streets, avenues, parkways, and highways, viz.:

Commencing at the intersection of One Hundred and Thirtieth Street and the Boulevard, or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, and connecting there with the railroad of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company at present constructed on the Boulevard, running thence northerly along said Boulevard, or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, to the intersection of One Hundred and Seventy-fifth Street and Eleventh Avenue, including that portion of the Boulevard or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, which is situated between One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street and One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Street, which was also known as the Boulevard Lafayette; and also from the junction of said Boulevard, or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, with One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street; running thence easterly through, upon, and along One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street to the Harlem River; all in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, together with the necessary connections, switches, sidings, and turnouts required for the accommodation and operation of said railroad.

Sec. 2. The grant of said franchise or right to use said streets, avenues, parkways, and highways is made subject to the following conditions:

First—That the said right, privilege, and franchise to construct and operate its said railway shall be held and enjoyed by said railroad company, its lessee or successors for the term of twenty-five years, with the privilege of a renewal of said grant for the further period of twenty-five years upon a fair revaluation of the right, such revaluation to be of the right, privilege, and franchise to maintain and operate said railroad by itself, and not to include any value derived from the ownership, control or operation of any other railroad, line or tracks by the grantee, its successors or assigns; provided, however, that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on such streets, avenues, parkways, and highways shall be first obtained, or in lieu thereof the favorable determination of three commissioners, approved by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, that such railroad should be constructed and operated.

Second—Upon the termination of the said franchise or right, whether original or renewed, there shall be a fair valuation of the plant and property of the grantee in the streets, avenues, parkways, and highways aforesaid, with its appurtenances, and the said plant and property shall be and become the property of the city on the termination of the grant on paying the grantee such valuation. Such payment shall be at a fair valuation of the said plant and property, as property, excluding any value derived from the franchise.

Third—The mode of determining the valuations and revaluations herein provided for shall be as follows: One disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment; one disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the railway company; these two shall choose a third disinterested freeholder; the three so chosen shall act as appraisers, and shall make the valuations and revaluations aforesaid. Such appraisers shall be chosen at least sixty days prior to the expiration of the grant, or of the renewal thereof, and their report shall be filed with the Controller of the city not more than thirty days thereafter. They shall act as appraisers, and not as arbitrators; they may base their judgment upon their own experience and upon such information as they may obtain by inquiries and investigation without the presence of either party; they shall have the right to examine the books of the railway company. The valuations so ascertained, fixed, and determined shall be conclusive upon both parties.

Fourth—The said Fort George and Eleventh Avenue Railroad Company shall for and during the first five years after the commencement of the operation of any portion of its railroad annually, on November 1st, pay into the treasury of the city, to the credit of the Sinking Fund thereof, three per cent. of its gross receipts for and during the year ending September 30th next preceding; and after the expiration of such five years make a like annual payment into the treasury of the city to the credit of the same fund, of five per cent. of its gross receipts, as required by section 95 of the Railroad law.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment having among other things made inquiry and determined said above-mentioned percentage to be inadequate, and on December 5th, 1899, fixed and adopted as the money value of said privileges or franchises, as follows:

Four percentum of the gross receipts during the first five years of operation;

Six percentum of the gross receipts during the second five years of operation;

Eight percentum of the gross receipts during the third five years of operation;

Ten percentum of the gross receipts during the remaining years of operation.

For and during the first five years one per cent. of such gross receipts.

For and during the second five years three per cent. of such gross receipts, and thereafter five per cent. of such gross receipts.

That but one fare shall be exacted for passage over the railroad constructed under this grant, and over the lines of any railroad system operated in connection therewith, and that the gross receipts from joint business shall be divided in the proportion that the length of said railroad operated hereunder shall bear to the entire length of the railroad system which shall be operated in connection therewith, and of the railroad to be constructed thereunder.

Fifth—The said railroad may be operated by underground electrical power substantially similar to the system of underground electrical traction now in use on the railroads in Second, Sixth, Eighth, Lenox, and Madison Avenues, in this city, and by any other motive power except locomotive steam power, which may be approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners and consented to by the owners of property, in accordance with the provisions of the Railroad Law.

Sixth—The said railroad shall be constructed and maintained subject to the supervision and control of the Commissioner of Highways and the Commissioner of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies of the City of New York, in all matters with respect to which said Commissioners are respectively invested with the power of regulation and control by the Charter of said city.

Sec. 3. The said grant is also upon the further conditions, namely:

First—The said railroad shall be constructed and operated in the latest improved manner of street railway construction, and the railroad and property of said company shall be maintained in good condition throughout the full term of this grant.

Second—The rate of fare for any passenger upon said railroad shall be five cents; and said company shall not charge any passenger more than said fare for a continuous ride from any point on its road, or any road, line, or branch operated by it or under its control, to any point thereon or any connecting branch thereof within the limits of the City of New York. The cars on said railroad shall be run as often as the public convenience may require.

Third—The said railroad company shall apply to each car a proper fender and wheelguard conformably to such laws and ordinances as may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or city authorities.

Fourth—All cars of said railway company shall be heated during cold weather conformably to such laws and ordinances as are now in force or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or city authorities, and each car shall be well lighted, either by the Pintsch gas system or by electricity, or by some system of lighting equally efficient.

Fifth—In case of any violation or breach of or failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section this grant may be forfeited by suit brought by the Corporation Counsel on notice of ten days to the said railway company.

Sec. 4. This grant is also upon the further and expressed condition that the provisions of Article IV. of the Railroad Law applicable thereto be complied with.

Sec. 5. The said company shall at all times keep the street between its tracks, and for a distance of two feet beyond the rails upon either side thereof free and clear from ice and snow.

Sec. 6. The said railroad company, so long as it shall continue to use any of its tracks upon said streets, avenues, or public places, shall have and keep in permanent repair that portion of such streets, avenues, and public places between its tracks, the rails of its tracks, and two feet in width outside of its tracks, under the supervision of the proper local authorities and whenever required by them to do so and in such manner as they may prescribe.

Sec. 7. This grant is also upon the further condition that if the right to construct and operate a railway on the Boulevard, now known as Broadway, between Manhattan Street and One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, shall also be acquired by any other railroad company under a grant for which application was pending on the 22d day of November, 1898, such other company shall have an equal right in and to the railway tracks constructed thereon and to the structure appertenant to the tracks upon paying one-half of the cost of construction; the said companies to adjust and arrange their respective rights and interests in said property and the ownership thereof as they may deem most beneficial to their interests and convenient for the operation of their respective railroads, it being the intent and purpose of this provision to restrict the number of tracks on said portion of the Boulevard now known as Broadway to two, allowing, however, to each company its separate slot and conduit construction with necessary switches and connections.

Sec. 8. This grant shall not become operative unless, within ten days after the passage thereof, the said railroad company shall duly execute under its corporate seal an instrument in writing, wherein said company shall promise, covenant, and agree on its part and behalf to pay the compensation and to conform to, abide by, and perform all the conditions and requirements in this ordinance fixed and contained, and file the same in the office of the Comptroller of The City of New York.

Sec. 9. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Published in accordance with resolution adopted by the Municipal Assembly of The City of New York on the 5th day of December, 1898, and approved by his Honor the Mayor on the same day.

New York, December 6, 1898.

P. J. SCULLY,
City Clerk.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

AN ORDINANCE granting to the Kingsbridge Railway Company the right or franchise to construct and operate a street surface railroad in, upon and along certain streets, avenues, parkways and highways in The City of New York.

Be it Ordained by the Municipal Assembly of The City of New York, as follows:

WHEREAS, THE KINGSBRIDGE RAILWAY Company has duly presented to the Municipal Assembly of The City of New York, by presenting and filing with each house thereof, its application, in writing, for a grant of the franchise or right to use the streets, avenues, parkways, and highways in The City of New York, hereinafter mentioned, and for the construction, maintenance and operation of a double-track street surface railroad in or upon the surface of the same; and,

Whereas, The said Municipal Assembly, by resolution adopted November 22, 1898, approved by the Mayor on the 5th day of December, 1898, gave public notice of such application, and that at the Councilmatic Chamber, in the City Hall of The City of New York, on the 22d day of December, 1898, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, such application of said Railway Company would be first considered and a public hearing had thereon, which notice was published daily for at least fourteen days prior to the hearing in two daily newspapers published in The City of New York, viz.: in the "New York World" and in the "New York Journal and Advertiser," which papers were first designated, in writing, by the Mayor of said city, on the said 5th day of December, 1898; and,

Whereas, After public notice given as aforesaid, and at a public hearing duly held in pursuance of such notice, whereat all persons so desiring were given an opportunity to be heard, and were heard, such application was first considered by the Railroad Committees of both houses of said Municipal Assembly:

Section 1. The Municipal Assembly of The City of New York hereby grants to the Kingsbridge Railway Company, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter set forth, the right and franchise to use the streets, avenues, parkways and highways of the city, and to construct, maintain and operate a double track street surface railroad in and upon the following streets, avenues, parkways and highways, viz.:

Commencing at the intersection of the southerly side of Manhattan Street and the Boulevard or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, and running thence with double tracks through, along and upon said Boulevard or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, to the Kingsbridge Road at or near One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, including that portion of the Boulevard or Eleventh Avenue, now known as Broadway, which is situated between One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street and One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Street, which was also known as the Boulevard Lafayette, and connecting with the proposed tracks on the Kingsbridge Road and Broadway.

Also commencing at the junction of the Kingsbridge Road and the easterly side of Amsterdam Avenue at or near One Hundred and Sixty-second Street and extending thence with double tracks through, along and upon the Kingsbridge Road to its intersection with Broadway at or near One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street and extending thence with double tracks through, along and upon said Broadway upon the bridge over the Harlem Ship Canal and upon the proposed bridge when constructed over Spuyten Duyvil Creek to the northernmost point of intersection of West Two Hundred and Thirtieth Street (formerly known as Riverdale Avenue) with Broadway; thence westerly from the junction of Broadway with Two Hundred and Thirtieth Street (formerly known as Riverdale Avenue), through, along and upon West Two Hundred and Thirtieth Street (formerly known as Riverdale Avenue), to Riverdale Avenue; thence northerly through, along and upon Riverdale Avenue to the northerly boundary line of the City of New York; together with the necessary connections, switches, sidings, and turnouts required for the accommodation and operation of said railway.

Sec. 2. The grant of said franchise or right to use said streets, avenues, parkways, and highways, is made subject to the following conditions:

First—That the said right, privilege, and franchise to construct and operate its said railway shall be held and enjoyed by said railway company, its lessee or successors, for the term of twenty-five years, with a privilege of a renewal of said grant for the further period of twenty-five years upon a fair revaluation of the right, such revaluation to be of the right, privilege and franchise to maintain and operate said railroad by itself, and not to include any value derived from the ownership, control, or operation of any other railroad, line or tracks by the grantee, its successors or assigns; provided, however, that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on such streets, avenues, parkways, and highways shall be first obtained, or in lieu thereof, the favorable determination of three commissioners, approved by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, that such railroad should be constructed and operated.

Second—Upon the termination of the said franchise or right, whether original or renewed, there shall be a fair valuation of the plant and property of the grantee in the streets, avenues, parkways, and highways aforesaid, with its appurtenances, and the said plant and property shall be and become the property of the city on the termination of the grant on paying the grantee such valuation. Such payment shall be at a fair valuation of the said plant and property, as property, excluding any value derived from the franchise.

Third—The mode of determining the valuations and revaluations herein provided for shall be as follows: One disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment; one disinterested freeholder shall be chosen by the railway company; these two shall choose a third disinterested freeholder; the three so chosen shall act as appraisers, and shall make the valuations and revaluations aforesaid. Such appraisers shall be chosen at least sixty days prior to the expiration of the grant, or of the renewal thereof, and their report shall be filed with the Controller of the City not more than thirty days thereafter. They shall act as appraisers, and not as arbitrators; they may base their judgment upon their own experience and upon such information as they may obtain by inquiries and investigation without the presence of either party; they shall have the right to examine the books of the railway company. The valuations so ascertained, fixed and determined shall be conclusive upon both parties.

Fourth—The said Kingsbridge Railway Company shall for and during the first five years after the commencement of the operation of any portion of its railroad annually, on November 1st, pay into the treasury of the City to the credit of the sinking fund thereof, three per cent. of its gross receipts for and during the year ending September 30th next preceding; and after the expiration of such five years make a like annual payment into the treasury of the City to the credit of the same fund, of five per cent. of its gross receipts, as required by section 95 of the railroad law.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment having, among other things, made inquiry and determined said above-mentioned percentage to be inadequate, and on December 5th, 1899, fixed and adopted as the money value of said privileges or franchises as follows:

Four per centum of the gross receipts during the first five years of operation;

Six per centum of the gross receipts during the second five years of operation;

Eight per centum of the gross receipts during the third five years of operation; and

Ten per centum of the gross receipts during the remaining years of operation.

The said Kingsbridge Railway Company, in addition to the percentages first herein set forth, as required to be paid by the Railroad Law, after commencement of the operation of any portion of its railroad, shall pay into the treasury of the city, to the credit of the Sinking Fund, percentages of its gross receipts as follows:

For and during the first five years one per cent. of such gross receipts.

For and during the second five years three per cent. of such gross receipts, and thereafter five per cent. of such gross receipts.

That but one fare shall be exacted for passage over the railroad constructed under this grant, and over the lines of any railroad system operated in connection therewith, and that the gross receipts from joint business shall be divided in the proportion that the length of said railroad operated hereunder shall bear to the entire length of the railroad system which shall be operated in connection therewith, and of the railroad to be constructed thereunder.

Fifth—The said railroad may be operated by underground electrical power, substantially similar to the system of underground electrical traction now in use on the railroads in Second, Sixth, Eighth, Lenox and Madison Avenues in this city, and by any other motive power, except locomotive steam power and overhead electrical power, except as hereinafter provided, which may be approved by the Board of Railroad Commissioners and consented to by the owners of property, in accordance with the provisions of the Railroad law. Provided, however, that the portion of said railway which lies between the south side of the bridge over the ship canal and the city line, upon Kingsbridge road (now known as Broadway), Two Hundred and Thirtieth Street and Riverdale Avenue, may be operated by the overhead trolley electric system, upon double tracks or upon single tracks, with turnouts, only until the grade of said streets now undetermined shall have been finally determined and the roadbeds thereof shall have been regulated, graded and paved according to such determination; the reconstruction of said railroad to be simultaneous with such grading and paving, which reconstructed system shall conform to the system in operation south of the said ship canal.

Sixth—The said railroad shall be constructed and maintained subject to the supervision and control of the Commissioner of Highways and the Commissioner of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies of The City of New York, in all matters with respect to which said Commissioners are respectively vested with the power of regulation and control by the Charter of said city.

Sec. 3. The said grant is also upon the further conditions, namely:

First—The said railroad shall be constructed and operated in the latest improved manner of street railway construction, and the railroad and property of said company shall be maintained in good condition throughout the full term of this grant.

Second—The rate of fare for any passenger upon said railroad shall be five cents, and said company shall not charge any passenger more than said fare for a continuous ride from any point on its road, or any road, line or branch operated by it or under its control, to any point thereon or any connecting branch thereof within the limits of the City of New York. The cars on said railroad shall be run as often as the public convenience may require.

Third—The said railroad company shall apply to each car a proper fender and wheelguard conformably to such laws and ordinances as may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities.

Fourth—All cars of said railway company shall be heated during cold weather conformably to such laws and ordinances as are now in force or may hereafter be enacted or adopted by the State or City authorities, and each car shall be well lighted either by the Pintsch gas system or by electricity, or by some system of lighting equally efficient.

Fifth—In case of any violation or breach of or failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section, this grant may be forfeited by suit brought by the Corporation Counsel, on notice of ten days to the said railway company.

Sec. 4. This grant is also upon the further and expressed condition that the provisions of Article IV. of the Railroad Law applicable thereto be complied with.

Sec. 5. The said company shall at all times keep the street between its tracks, and for a distance of two feet beyond the rails upon either side thereof, free and clear from ice and snow.

Sec. 6. The said railroad company, so long as it shall continue to use any of its tracks upon said streets, avenues, or public places, shall have and keep in permanent repair that portion of such streets, avenues, and public places between its tracks, the rails of its tracks, and two feet in width outside of its tracks, under the supervision of the proper local authorities and whenever required by them to do so and in such manner as they may prescribe.

Sec. 7. This grant is also upon the further condition that if the right to construct and operate a railway on the Boulevard, now known as Broadway, between Manhattan Street and One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, shall also be acquired by any other railroad company under a grant for which application was pending on the 22d day of November, 1898, such other company shall have an equal right in and to the railway tracks constructed thereon and to the structure appertenant to the tracks upon paying one-half of the cost of construction; the said companies to adjust and arrange their respective rights and interests in said property and the ownership thereof as they may deem most beneficial to their interests and convenient for the operation of their respective railroads, it being the intent and purpose of this provision to restrict the number of tracks on said portion of the Boulevard now known as Broadway to two, allowing, however, to each company its separate slot and conduit construction with necessary switches and connections.

Sec. 8. This grant shall not become operative unless within ten days after the passage thereof the said railway company shall duly execute under its corporate seal an instrument in writing, wherein said company shall promise, covenant, and agree on its part and behalf to pay the compensation and to conform to, abide by, and perform all the conditions and requirements in this ordinance fixed and contained, and file the same in the office of the Comptroller of The City of New York.

Sec. 9. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Published in accordance with resolution adopted by the Municipal Assembly of The City of New York on the 5th day of December, 1898, and approved by his Honor the Mayor on the same day.

New York, December 6, 1898.

P. J. SCULLY,
City Clerk.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, No. 57 Chambers Street, (Stewart Building,) New York, December 2d, 1899.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all persons who have omitted to pay their taxes for the year 1899 to pay the same to the Receiver of Taxes at his office in the Borough in which the property is located, as follows:

Borough of Manhattan, No. 57 Chambers Street, Manhattan, N. Y.;

Borough of The Bronx, corner Third and Tremont Avenues, The Bronx, N. Y.;

Borough of Brooklyn, Rooms 2, 4, 6, and 8, Municipal Building, Brooklyn, N. Y.;

Borough of Queens, corner Jackson Avenue and Fifth Street, Long Island City, N. Y.;

Borough of Richmond, Richmond Building, New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.;

before the first day of January, 1900, as provided by Section 919 of the Greater New York Charter, (Chapter 378, Laws of 1897.)

Upon any such tax remaining unpaid after the first day of December, 1899, one per centum will be charged, received, and collected, in addition to the amount thereof, and upon such tax remaining unpaid on the first day of January, 1900, interest will be charged, received and collected upon the amount thereof, at the rate of seven per centum per annum, to be calculated from the second day of October, 1899, on which day the assessment rolls and warrants for the taxes of 1899 were delivered to the said Receiver of Taxes, to the date of payment, pursuant to Section 916 of said act.

DAVID E. AUSTEN, Receiver of Taxes.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—SIGMUND BACH and HEINE BACH, bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that Sigmund Bach and Heine Bach, bankrupts, have filed their petition, dated July 17th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all their debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupts thereon.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, December 8th; 1899.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN District of New York.—SIMON BERGMAN, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Simon Bergman, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated November 21st, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

PETER B. OLNEY, Referee.

New York, Dec. 8, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—NATHAN B. BLUM, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Nathan B. Blum, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 7th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.

NO. 1,564.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of JOHN T. DICKINSON, Bankrupt.

To the creditors of John T. Dickinson of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1899, the said John T. Dickinson was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Theodor Aub, referee, No. 149 Broadway, in the City and County of New York, on the 22d day of December, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

THEODOR AUB,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, December 9th, 1899.

NO. 1,569.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of WILLIAM GRUPE, Jr., Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of William Grupe, Jr., of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 2d day of November A. D., 1899, the said William Grupe, Jr., was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of John J. Townsend, No. 45 Cedar Street, in New York City, on the 20th day of December A. D., 1899, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

JOHN J. TOWNSEND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 8, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of EDWARD JUDSON, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Edward Judson of New York, in the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Edward Judson was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Peter B. Olney, Referee, 31 Nassau St., New York City, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. PETER B. OLNEY,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dec. 8, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of JOHN B. PASCA, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of John B. Pasca of New York, in the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said John B. Pasca was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Peter B. Olney, Referee, 31 Nassau St., New York City, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

PETER B. OLNEY,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dec. 8, 1899

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—SOLOMON HARRIS, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Solomon Harris, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 1st, 1899 praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—SIGMUND HAUSER, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Sigmund Hauser, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 4th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—KALLMAN HITTNER, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Kallman Hittner, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 4th, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, Dec. 8th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of HENRY LASHANSKY, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Henry Lashansky of the City of New York, in the County of New York and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 20th day of November, A. D. 1899, the said Henry Lashansky was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at 52 Exchange Place, in the City of New York, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 8th, 1899.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ISAAC WINDHOLZ, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Isaac Windholz of the City of New York, in the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 2d day of December, A. D. 1899, the said Isaac Windholz was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at 52 Exchange Place, in the City of New York, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1899, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MORRIS S. WISE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

December 8th, 1899.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN District of New York.—HENRY VILLAUME, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Henry Villaume, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated December 2d, 1899, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, December 20th, 1899, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

PETER B. OLNEY, Referee.

New York, Dec. 8, 1899.

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW York, County of New York—Place of Trial.—ERNEST EHRMANN, Plaintiff, against DANIEL J. MURPHY and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the twenty-ninth day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 11th day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Bryan L. Kennelly, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, and parcel of land, together with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, and which is bounded and described as follows, viz.: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of One Hundred and Thirty-second Street, distant ninety feet easterly from the northeasterly corner of Fifth Avenue and said One Hundred and Thirty-second Street; thence northerly parallel with said Fifth Avenue ninety-nine feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Thirty-second and One Hundred and Thirty-third Streets; thence easterly along said centre line of the block twenty feet; thence southerly again parallel with the said Fifth Avenue and part of the distance through a party wall ninety-nine feet and eleven inches to the northerly line or side of One Hundred and Thirty-second Street; thence westerly along the said northerly line or side of One Hundred and Thirty-second Street twenty feet to the point or place of beginning.

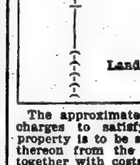
Said premises being now known as and by the street number Three East One Hundred and Thirty-second Street, New York City.

Dated New York, November 16, 1899.

THOMAS F. DONNELLY, Referee.

MEYER AUERBACH, Attorney for Plaintiff, 56 Pine Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold; its street number is 3 East 132d Street:



132d Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $14,462.28-100, with interest thereon from the 16th day of September, 1899, together with costs and allowance amounting to $314.75, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $838.20 and interest. Sale is made subject to monthly hirings by tenants.

Dated New York, 16th day of November, 1899.

THOMAS F. DONNELLY, Referee.

n30-6aw8w(M&Sdec6)

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY of the City of New York, as guardian, &c., plaintiff, against JOSEPH K. E. POYNTON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the twenty-second day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the twenty-fourth day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

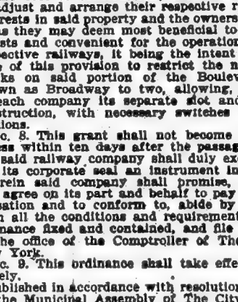
All that certain lot of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street distant three hundred and seven feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street with the westerly line of Lenox Avenue, running thence southwardly and parallel with Lenox Avenue and part of the way through a party wall one hundred (100) feet and eleven (11) inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Eighteenth and One Hundred and Nineteenth Streets; thence westwardly along said centre line and parallel with One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighteen (18) feet; thence northwardly and parallel with Lenox Avenue one hundred feet and eleven inches to the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street, and thence eastwardly and along the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighteen (18) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, November 27, 1899.

DANIEL O'CONNELL, Referee.

PARSONS, SHEPARD & OGDEN, Attorneys for Plaintiff, 111 Broadway, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold is $15,712.50, and interest thereon from the 18th day of November, 1899, together with costs and allowances amounting to $327.06 with interest from the 24th day of November, 1899, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $370.30 and interest.

Dated New York, November 29, 1899.

DANIEL O'CONNELL, Referee.

n29-2aw8wW&Sd20

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—METROPOLITAN TRUST COMPANY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, as trustee, &c., plaintiff, against JOSEPH K. E. POYNTON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the twenty-second day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the twenty-fourth day of November, 1899, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the twentieth day of December, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street distant three hundred and seven feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the southerly line of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street with the westerly line of Len

NO STANDARD GAS DIVIDEND

Directors of the Company Meet and Take No Action.

THE EFFECT IN WALL STREET

Common Stock Declines 14½ Points and the Preferred 10—Other Gas Securities Fall.

At their dividend meeting yesterday the Directors of the Standard Gas Company, acting in agreement with the views of Russell Sage, chief owner of the company's securities, omitted the declaration of the usual dividend. This was in accordance with the forecast by Mr. Sage, published in THE NEW YORK TIMES yesterday. An official statement was to the effect that this did not mean that the dividend was "passed"—that it should be considered "deferred." The essential fact, however, was that the dividend was passed. A Wall Street comment on the action of the Standard's Directors was: "Although the dividend was not exactly passed, still the stockholders don't get anything." President Sage said that at the meeting the dividend was not "officially" but "informally" talked about, and that the Directors were unanimous in resolving not to do anything.

The Directors met in the offices of the company, which adjoin those of President Sage, and they were in session less than half an hour. None was disposed to talk when the meeting broke up. John T. Terry simply announced: "We did nothing. As to a dividend, I don't know when we shall act." Secretary W. G. Hoyt was even curter, saying: "What was done? Won't take long to tell it. Nothing."

Before the meeting Russell Sage would talk on every phase of the gas war and the affairs of the Standard Company except the question of passing or declaring a dividend, and he went over the familiar story of the loss of money the present competition was causing to all interests and the ease with which all differences could be adjusted. "Only three men have got to get together and agree to follow the rules of common sense and everything would be settled," he said. "I am ready for any such negotiations, but I have not been invited to any conference or notified that any one is coming to see me about this silly business. As to the Standard, while I am not anticipating anything that may happen at the meeting, my judgment is that dividends should be earned and that surplus should be devoted to legitimate purposes or held for emergencies. All the companies are losing money and the Consolidated has cut its dividend rate. The declaration of a dividend by New Amsterdam surprised every one."

After the meeting Mr. Sage was disposed to refer all who wanted to know what was done at it to Secretary Hoyt. He said he was too busy to discuss the subject and that the Secretary was the voice of the board. Later in the afternoon Mr. Sage talked a little about the proceedings.

"We did nothing," he said, "except routine business, informing ourselves about the company, and all that. All was harmonious and a very friendly feeling was exhibited among us. Practically the gas situation is unchanged. Every one deprecated the war that was forced upon us, and expressed opinions that it should and could be ended. But we did nothing."

"About the dividend, Mr. Sage, was it passed?"

"No, nothing was done. The subject of the dividend was not taken up officially. It was informally. We discussed it among ourselves, and the consensus of opinion was that it would be better to take no action as to a dividend at present. So we did nothing. You see, it was a weekly meeting. Yes, we meet next week, but I can't say, of course, what we will do then. What we did do was to receive and examine reports about our company. They were very satisfactory. The property is in a splendid condition, and my idea is to keep it up and do the best we can for our customers until the situation changes. As to a story that the Standard is going to pass a dividend to head off legislation, I know of no reason for such an insinuation."

Wall Street fully discounted the passing of a dividend by the Standard Company. Standard fives closed even with Thursday, at 116 bid. Standard common closed on Thursday at 112½ bid, and yesterday at 98, a loss of 14½ points, and preferred closed at 130 bid, against 140 on Thursday, a decline of 10 points. New Amsterdam fives closed on Thursday at 95 bid, with interest, and yesterday at 94½ bid. The common closed at 24 bid, against 25 on Thursday, and preferred at 45, against 46. Consolidated Gas closed at 190½, a net decline of 2 points.

ENGINEEPS' LAST SESSION.

Description of Boston's New Railroad Station—Manner of Construction.

The annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was brought to a close shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the society's library. Yesterday's session was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock by Rear Admiral Melville, United States Navy, the retiring President. An exhaustive description of the mechanical equipment of the new South Railroad Station at Boston was a feature of the day. It was prepared by Walter C. Kerr of this city, assisted by Henry J. Conant, William W. Churchill, Francis Blossom, J. P. Coleman, and Calvert Townley, who were associated in the engineering department in the construction of the station.

Mr. Kerr spoke of the difficulties to be overcome in designing the plant, and said, in part:

"The growing tendency of purchasers to concentrate the responsibility of design and construction has further led to the placing of large engineering work in the hands of contractors who first design and then construct to their own designs and specifications. There seems to be no doubt as to the good results of its practice, and the conduct of much work in this line has led the writer and many others to believe that it is one of the best methods yet adopted."

Mr. Kerr stated that the work was satisfactorily completed within the estimates at a good profit.

The closing paper was prepared by George I. Rockwood of Worcester, Mass., and entitled, "On the Value of a Horse Power."

There was little discussion on the papers read at the last session, and after the routine business had been completed the convention was adjourned.

ODD ROBBERY IN UP-TOWN FLAT.

Big Theft Reported by Mrs. Margaret Sharp Puzzles the Police.

A robbery of jewelry, checks, money, and Government bonds, estimated to be worth from $8,000 to $10,000, and belonging to Mrs. Margaret Sharp, a widow, who resides in a flathouse at 77 West Sixty-eighth Street, has been puzzling the police since Saturday last. Capt. McClusky, Chief of the Detective Service, who had lived in this house, but moved out shortly before the robbery was reported, had heard of the case but would not discuss it yesterday.

Mrs. Sharp, who lives alone, having recently discharged her servant, went out on Saturday afternoon and did not return home until the evening. Then she found that her flat, which is the rear flat on the second floor, had been entered, bureau drawers ransacked, and the jewelry and other property stolen from a safe in her bedroom. What she thought were burglar's tools were lying by the safe. She complained to the police at once. Detective William Deering returned to the house with her and began an investigation.

What Mrs. Sharp took for burglar's tools consisted of two icepicks, one with four prongs, a screwdriver, and a table knife. The detective found that the picks were rusty, and that there were no marks on them or on the other implements. The door of the flat had not been forced, all the windows were properly fastened, and the lock of the safe was intact.

Mrs. Sharp expressed the opinion that the thief or thieves had entered the flat by means of a duplicate key. She said that the lock of the safe was a combination one, and that the combination was known only to herself. Mrs. Sharp could not remember whether or not she had locked the safe door before going out. She added that she had taken steps to stop payment on the bonds and to notify banks about the checks.

"It goes right to the spot" where the rasping cough hurts and cures it—Jayne's Expectorant.

Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

The Royal is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is cheaper at its price than any similar article.

Samples of mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food, and in many cities their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive poison, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK

MR. GILL-MARTIN'S DENIAL.

Will Not Divide Possible Damages for Alienation of Former Wife's Affections with Her.

A suit for $100,000 damages, claimed by Joseph Palmerston Gill-Martin, a landscape painter, for the alleged alienation of his former wife's affections by Patrick McInerney, a dry goods merchant of Brooklyn, which was begun before Justice Fitzgerald, in the Supreme Court, several days ago, was closed yesterday, with the exception of the summing up by the counsel on both sides, which will take place Monday.

Mr. Gill-Martin was placed on the stand again, to deny a charge which had been made by witnesses for the defendant, to the effect that the artist will divide whatever he may get from the defendant with his former wife.

"Did you ever speak to your former wife about bringing this suit?" asked Mr. Hummel, counsel for the artist.

"Never in my life," shouted the artist.

"Was any arrangement to bring the suit and divide the money with your former wife ever made?"

"I was never made," shouted the artist, rising in the witness stand, "and I challenge anybody to contradict the statement."

"Have you had anything to do with your former wife since you secured a divorce from her?"

"Never," replied the witness. "I have always spurned her."

Mr. Pollack of counsel for the defendant made a motion to dismiss the case, on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to establish the inducement of Mrs. Gill-Martin by McInerney. Justice Fitzgerald denied the motion. Mr. Pollack then moved to dismiss on account of the uncontradicted evidence of the plaintiff's own witness. This was denied.

Justice Fitzgerald adjourned the case till Monday, instructing the jurymen not to converse among themselves about the case and not to read the newspaper accounts of it, upon request of counsel.

JURY UNOPPOSED TO TRUSTS.

Hard to Get One in P. J. Kiernan's Suit Against Tile Combine.

It proved to be a difficult task yesterday to get together a jury the members of which are not opposed to the principle of trusts in some way or other. The jury was needed in the suit for $25,000 damages of P. J. Kiernan against the Tile, Grate and Mantel Association of New York, whose members, he contends, have practically ruined his business by imposing a general boycott against him because he had incurred their displeasure.

The case was called up yesterday morning before Justice Fitzgerald, in Part III., Supreme Court, and was transferred in the afternoon to Justice Andrews, in Part IV. Counsel for the defense, foreseeing the difficulty of getting jurymen unbiased against trusts, claimed the right of making seventy-two peremptory challenges. Ex-Judge Alfred Steckler, who represented the plaintiff, was entitled to only the usual six challenges. His protests were overruled.

Among the talesmen who were challenged was August C. Ohle, dealer in trimmings at 537 Broadway. He was opposed to combinations of capitalists to raise prices. M. Odell, a carpenter of 790 Greenwich Street, did not think much of trusts, and he thought that his feelings in that regard might influence him in rendering a verdict. Abraham Rosenstein, milliner at 2,783 Third Avenue, did not object to combinations for the purposes of resisting strikes or to collect debts, but did not want combinations to go too far.

The case was then adjourned until 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Russell Not in Debt to the Club.

The statement that Frederick B. Russell, manager of the Pelham Manor golf links, who committed suicide in a hotel at New Rochelle on Wednesday, was worried over his inability to raise $65 which he desired to pay to the club, has elicited from George K. Perry, Secretary of the club, a statement that nothing was owing to it by Mr. Russell. Mr. Perry says the dead man left the club's employ at the termination of the Summer season with his accounts correct.

Against the Sale of Cigarettes.

The Board of Aldermen yesterday adopted an ordinance prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to persons under eighteen years old. Alderman Velton was the author of the ordinance, which was voted on at the request of Mr. Burleigh. The ordinance provides a fine of $10 for each violation.

RISE IN WOOLEN MILL WAGES.

The American Company Votes an Increase of 10 Per Cent., Affecting Over 20,000 Employes.

The Executive Committee of the American Woolen Company decided, at at meeting in Boston yesterday, to increase the wages of all the employes of the company 10 per cent. The rise is to go into effect on Jan. 1. It will affect over 20,000 employes, and it is estimated that the number of persons who will derive advantage from the increase is about 100,000.

William N. Wood, Treasurer of the American Woolen Company, said that it was exceedingly gratifying to the officers of the corporation that conditions were such as to warrant the increase. The woolen business, said Mr. Wood, was never in a more flourishing condition in this country, and the outlook for the future is a bright one.

All of the twenty-six mills of the company, located in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, and other States, are, according to Mr. Wood, as busy as possible. There is, he said, only one thing which tends to decrease the confidence of manufacturers. That is the rapid rise in the price of raw material due to the small crops this year here and abroad.

"Fine wool," said Mr. Wood, "that only last Spring sold for 62 cents a pound, is today quoted at 95 cents to $1 a pound. This great advance in the value of the raw material, together with the increase in wages, means, of course, higher prices for cloth. Up to now the advance in goods has not kept pace with the wool market, so rapid has been the rise in the latter.

"The woolen mills of the United States have not materially increased in capacity in the course of the last decade. For this reason, perhaps, the present state of the industry is the most flourishing ever known. It is a great change in the situation from that of less than a year ago, when the woolen trade reached the lowest point known under the protective tariff. I look for much higher prices in both wool and woolen goods very soon."

WANT RECEIVER FOR BANK.

Holders of Franklin National Stock Apply to Judge Lacombe.

Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court has been appealed to several times during the last few weeks to settle the differences between the officers and Directors and the Liquidating Committee of the Franklin National Bank. Yesterday C. H. Taintor and others, representing that they hold 325 shares of the bank's stock, made petition before Judge Lacombe for the appointment of a receiver for the bank.

The complaint charges that the Liquidating Committee and the officers and Directors of the bank are at war among themselves, and that a state of affairs has resulted which makes a receivership imperative if the stockholders are to be protected. The complaining stockholders, in the petition now before Judge Lacombe, charge that on Jan. 1, 1899, the defendants—Charles F. James, William James, Theodore P. Hoffman, Washington L. Jacques, and George West—gave to the bank their notes for $3,000 each to make up an impairment of $15,000 of capital, as required by the Controller of the Currency as a condition of allowing the bank to continue business.

When the motion to show cause why the receiver petitioned for should not be appointed, counsel for President James and his associates said that he had not had sufficient time to prepare an answer to the allegations contained in the petition. He asked for a week's time to draw up the answering papers. This was consented to, and the motion went over for one week.

Fire Department Case Compromised.

Superintendent J. Elliott Smith of the Telegraph Bureau of the Fire Department has forwarded his resignation to Commissioner Scannell, as a result of a compromise between the Corporation Counsel and Mr. Smith's counsel. When Commissioner Scannell took charge of the Fire Department, he abolished the office of Chief of Telegraph and Mr. Smith was dropped from the rolls. He went into court and won, but the Corporation Counsel appealed the case for the Commissioner. According to the terms of the compromise, Mr. Smith will receive his salary up to the time of his resignation and withdraw his fight in the upper court.

CHANGED THEIR MEETING DATE.

New York Masons Will Hold the Annual Session in May Instead of June.

By an edict issued recently by Wright D. Pownall, Grand Master of Masons in the State of New York, a radical change in the date of the meeting of the Grand Lodge has been promulgated to the members of the craft throughout this jurisdiction. Heretofore, and for a period beyond the recollection of any member of the fraternity in this State, the Grand Lodge has met in annual communication on the first Tuesday in June, and despite the discomfort from which the representatives to the Grand Lodge annually suffered from the torrid weather which almost invariably prevails at that season of the year, no persistent effort was made until recently to change the meeting time, the conservatism of the membership being opposed to any innovation. Last year, however, the weather was unusually hot and oppressive, and the brethren suffered more than ever in consequence.

The acoustics of the Grand Lodge room at the Masonic Hall, Sixth Avenue and Twenty-third Street, in which the sessions of the Grand Lodge are held, are not of the best, and the roar of traffic on Twenty-third Street and along Sixth Avenue compels the closing of the windows on the Twenty-third Street front of the building so as to enable the representatives to hear what was going on. The discomfort last year in consequence therefore became almost unbearable.

It was apparent to all that something must be done for the comfort of the representatives, and several propositions were considered. An amendment to the constitution changing the date of the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge from the first Tuesday in June to the first Tuesday in May was proposed by R. W. George W. White, Grand Treasurer, and met with general favor. After being formally considered by the Committee on Constitution, it was recommended for adoption by the Grand Lodge. The vote on its adoption was unanimous.

There were two ways open under the constitution to carry the amendment into effect. The constitution requires that an amendment must be adopted by two successive Grand Lodges, unless after its first adoption the question is submitted to and approved by a majority of the lodges in the jurisdiction. Grand Master Pownall favoring the change and desiring it to take effect at the next annual communication of the Grand Lodge, caused the amendment to be submitted to the lodges, and on receiving the reports of its approval by a majority of the lodges, at once issued his edict carrying the change into effect. The annual communication of the Grand Lodge for 1900, which is the one hundred and nineteenth in its history, will therefore be opened on the first Tuesday in May next.

THEFT OF TROPHIES BALKED.

Men Taking Championship Emblems Arrested at Point of Pistol.

By prompt action yesterday morning Adolph Chudoba, cashier of The New York Police Gazette, prevented the theft of the five-thousand-dollar diamond-studded belt, the pugilists' trophy of the heavyweight championship of the world, also the silver sculling, bowling, baseball, bicycle racing, and other championship trophies.

Mr. Chudoba, while opening the safe in The Police Gazette office at 9 o'clock, heard a noise in Mr. Fox's private office, which adjoins the business office. Looking through a glass door, the cashier saw within two strange men helping themselves to the trophies, which in all are valued at about $10,000. He slipped back to his desk, seized a revolver, and returning to the door of the private office stood guard. Meanwhile he sent an office boy to the police station.

Two local pugilists strolled into the office, and with their help the intruders were captured. Three detectives took the prisoners to the Centre Street Police Court, where Magistrate Pool committed them to the Tombs for trial. Each was held in $1,000 bail. They said they were John W. Tracey, thirty-nine years old, and Martin Flannigan, thirty-seven years old, of 29 Cherry Street.

Brooklyn Postal Employe Promoted.

William S. McGinniss, who has been in charge of the Post Office inspection branch in Brooklyn since May last, yesterday received from Washington his appointment as Assistant Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service. He was immediately sworn into his new office by Judge Thomas, in the United States Circuit Court.

There's a time for everything—even Christmas shopping.

Now you've time to choose, time to be waited on, time to change your mind.

The big and little things for sock or stocking gifts.

HOUSE-COATS	PAJAMAS
SMOKING JACKETS	NECKWEAR
BATH-ROBES	HANDKERCHIEFS
SWEATERS	UMBRELLAS
MACKINTOSHES	JEWELRY
GLOVES	CANES
RUGS	SUSPENDERS

ROGERS, PEET & Co.

350 Broadway, cor. Leonard.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
Thirty-second and Broadway.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

BATH ROBES.
Made of imported Terry cloths or handsome wool blankets. Light or dark colors. Exclusive designs, $3.25 to $8.50

LOUNGE ROBES.
Made of figured English cloths, and silk matelassés,—various colors.

Japanese,—quilted Silk Robes,—full length,—hand embroidered,—lined with scarlet silk, $11.00 each; Formerly $15.00

Men's link cuff buttons,—Roman and polished gold plate, 25 Cents; Value 50 cents to $1.00

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

HOSIERY.
Samples and odd sizes.

400 dozen French Lisle Thread,—plain colors,—fancy woven silk stripes and figures or with instep and "all over embroideries."

Fine cotton,—plain and fancy designs.—A very large variety of colors and black.

For men, women and children, 25 and 38 cts. per pair; Value 50 cents to $1.50.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

EXPECTORATION FINE REDUCED.

Hoboken's Health Board Makes Each Offense Cost $3.

Hoboken's Health Board, several months ago, adopted an ordinance imposing a fine varying from $10 to $25 upon any person who expectorated upon the floor of a trolley car, ferryboat, or any other public conveyance or public building. The law was frequently violated, but no arrests were ever made.

At a meeting of the board yesterday the matter was discussed and it was generally conceded that the police refrained from making arrests because the public considered the penalty too severe for the offense. The fine was made uniform at $3. The reduction will not go into effect until the minutes of yesterday's meeting are approved.

CIVIL SERVICE DECISION.

Appointee Under the Old Law Needs No Certificate Under the New.

The Appellate Division yesterday reversed an order obtained by Albert G. Wilson granting a writ of peremptory mandamus to compel the issuance of a certificate under Section 19 of the civil service law passed at the last session of the Legislature. Mr. Wilson was appointed a police clerk's assistant by the Board of City Magistrates on the 28th of last February to fill an unexpired term which extended to the 30th of June. The appointment was made under the civil service law of 1895, then in force. The present civil service law did not take effect until the 19th of April last. On June 26 Mr. Wilson was reappointed by the Board of City Magistrates for two years, ending June 30, 1901.

Justice Patterson, who gives the unanimous opinion of the court, says the question is whether in such circumstances, on a reappointment, it was necessary for Mr. Wilson, under the provisions of the act of 1899, to submit to another examination in competition with others in order again to be put upon the eligible list. The court says there is nothing in the act demanding it, and the relator therefore neither needed nor was entitled to the certificate he asked for, showing that he had been appointed in accordance with the law, and consequently the writ of mandamus should have been denied, for he had the ordinary action to recover his salary, whether the payroll bore the certificate required by the act of 1899 or not.

New Ninth Regiment Captain.

At a meeting of Company C, Ninth Regiment, at the armory last night, for the purpose of electing a successor to ex-Capt. Quinby, dismissed, First Lieut. Charles A. Meyer, Jr., of Company I, was elected without opposition. The First and Second Lieutenancies of the company, now vacant, will be filled shortly. Members of the company said after the meeting that steps would be taken at once to get possession of the company furniture and other property, which was placed in a Columbus Avenue storage warehouse by Capt. Quinby at the outbreak of the Spanish war.

Sale of Sterling Silver Articles.

Sterling silver mounted Emeries, 25 cts. each.
Salve Boxes - - - - - 35 " "
Manicure and sewing scissors - 50 " "
Nail Files, Button Hooks & Cuticle Knives, 45 and 95 cents each.

Cologne Bottles,—cut glass with sterling tops, Glove Stretchers, and Whisk Brooms, 95 cents each.

Puff Boxes,—cut glass with sterling silver covers, including puff, $2.00 each.

Militaire Brushes - - $3.00 per pair.
Hair Brushes, - $1.50, $2.00 and $3.75 each.
Cloth Brushes - - - - - $1.95 each.
Bonnet Brushes - - - 95 cents each.
Hat Brushes - - 50 and 95 " "

A variety of leather goods,—with Honeric silver mountings. Silk velvet or leather bags, with antique silver Dutch frames,—Desk sets, clocks, letter cases, engagement pads with Greek gilt corners. Silk opera glass bags,—imported frames. Lace, hand-painted and novelty fans.

James McCreery & Co., Twenty-third Street.

Overcoats for the economical man who wants dashiness—comfort—style—and wearing qualities.

Gray Mixed (2 shades), Cheviot, $12
Black Soft Cheviot, $15.00.
Black & Blue Kerseys, half silk lined, $15.00.
Black and Blue Kersey, $14.00.
Black Cheviot, $18.00.
Black, Blue, Gray and Brown Mixed Kerseys, $18.00.
Dark Gray Mixed Cheviot, $18.00.
Gray Mixed (2 shades), $20.00.
Black, Gray & Blue Kerseys, $22.
Both Gray & Green Mixed Meltons, half silk lined, $25.00.

Stores open this evening.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.
Three BROADWAY Stores. Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE
For the Book-Worm's Christmas.

The essence of giving is to suit individual tastes. It is not difficult to please the bibliophile. First of all, a domicile for his treasures, a bookcase—ascertain the size needed and you will have no difficulty in choosing one just right from among our many hundreds of designs. If he already has a large bookcase, he will appreciate handy and convenient revolving bookshelves. Is he artistic as well as literary? If so, a moderate sized Oriental rug for his study will please him. Is he comfortable? If not, here are easy chairs; couches and a host of other comfortable gifts at comforting factory prices, as you "BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.
43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

AMUSEMENTS.

CARNEGIE HALL.
Boston Symphony Orchestra. Wed. aft., Dec. 13, at 2:30. Programme: BEETHOVEN, Overture, "Egmont"; DVORAK, Concerto for violoncello; BERLIOZ, three movements from "Romeo and Juliet"; LISZT, Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Soloist Mr. ALWIN SCHROEDER.
Mr. Gericke. Thurs. Evg., Dec. 14, at 8:15. Programme: MENDELSSOHN, Overture to the Legend of "The Fair Melusina," Op. 32; LOEFFLER, Concerto for violin; "Nights in the Ukrain," (first time); R. STRAUSS, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," Op. 28; BEETHOVEN, Symphony No. 2, in D major, Op. 36. Soloist Mr. FRANZ KNEISEL.
Schroeder Kneisel. Tickets $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and at Tyson's (Fifth Avenue Hotel) at regular prices. Admission, 50 cents.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, at 8:15 P. M.
PROGRAM.
Overture, "Freischuetz".....Weber
Concerto for Piano, E flat major.....Liszt
MR. MARK HAMBOURG.
Symphonic Prologue to Heine's "William Ratcliff," (first time in N. Y.) conducted by the composer.
MR. FRANK VAN DER STUCKEN.
Symphony, No. 3, A minor, "Scotch".....Mendelssohn
Tickets at Carnegie Hall and Tyson's. Seats 75 cts. to $2; Boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

PADEREWSKI
CARNEGIE HALL, 57TH ST. & 7TH AV.
Dec. 12, 16, Jan. 6, 20, at 2:30.
SEATS $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1.00.
At Schuberth's, 23 Union Square.
Steinway Piano used.

AMERICAN 32ND & 8TH AVE CASTLE SQ. OP. CO.
Entire First Act of Beethoven's CAVALLERIA RUSTICANA FIDELIO at 8:15, at 9:30.
Evs. 8:15. 25c. to $1. Mat. To-day, 2:15. Adm. 25c. Nxt. Wk. Mon., Tues., Il Trovatore. Wed. Mat. & Ev., Romeo & Juliet. Thu. Fri. Carmen. Sat. Mat. Ev. Aida

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.
Sunday Evening, December 10th, at 8:15, Wolfsohn's Grand Sund. Concerts at popular prices Schumann-Heink, Vladimir de Pachmann, Campanari, Walter Damrosch, and his Symphony Orchestra of 75. Admission 50c. Box office now open.

PROCTOR'S 23d St. MARIE TAVARY. 15, 25, 50c. Mov'g Pictures (new) DE FOREESTS, WILSON FAMILY, &c. Cont. Perf.

PALACE 58th and 3d Av. EZRA KENDALL. 15, 25, 50c. HALL & STALEY. Moving Pictures, Clarice Vance, others. Cont. Perf.

WALLACK'S. Broadway and 30th St. Evs. 8:15. Mat. To-day, 2:15.
FRANK DANIELS
In Victor Herbert's New Comic Opera, THE AMEER.

CASINO! TO-NGT, 8:15. MAT. TO-DAY at 2. Souv. Nght. Dec. 22. 100th Performance
7TH WEEK! ALICE NIELSEN OPERA COMPANY in The Singing Girl

HAMMERSTEIN'S VICTORIA 42d St. B'way-7th Av. To-night, 8:20. Mat. To-day, 2:15. No smoking or drinking at matinées. Cl
THE ROGERS BROS. in WALL STREET
50c ADMISSION TO PROMENADE 50c

KNICKERBOCKER B'way & 38th St. Evs., 8:20. Mats., 2.
MR. KENDAL Extra Wed. Mat. Dec. 13
MRS. In Their Regular Mat. To-day.
London Success. The Elder Miss Blossom.

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evs. at 8. Mat. To-day at 2.
THE GREAT SUCCESS. BEN-HUR
Seats on sale for every perf. to March 1st.

THE DEWEY. Matinee To-Day. Weber & Fields' HURLY-BURLY CO. East 14th St. Mlle. Capitaine, Binns & Binns, Cook & Sonora.

KOSTER & BIAL'S. 50c Mat. to all parts of house. "ROUND NEW YORK" & Sherlock Holmes Burlesque. JEFFRIES & SHARKEY in Living Pictures as Gladiators.

5th Av. Theatre, B'way and 28th St. Evs. at 8. Mats. Wed. & To-day at 2.
Mrs. Fiske in Becky Sharp
Mon., Dec. 11th—101st Time—Souvenirs.

THE NEW YORK. Eve., 8:15. Popular Prices.
MATINEE DAILY at 2:15. BIOGRAPH PICTURES.
JEFFRIES-SHARKEY CONTEST

KEITH'S CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE. FELIX MORRIS & CO. in "KERRY."
THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR.

MANHATTAN THEATRE, 33d & B'way. Evgs. 8:15 sharp. Sat. Mat. only.
ANNA HELD in PAPA'S WIFE.

Weber & Fields' MUSIC HALL, B'way & 30 St. Matinées Tues. & Sat.
Whirl-I-Gig & BARBARA FIDGETY

Elliott Schenck Wagner Recitals.
Berkeley Lyceum, Tuesday, at 11:15.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl.
The Great Rural Drama, "WAY DOWN EAST"
Prices 25-50-75-1.00. Mats. to-day & Wed. 2. Ev. 8:10

BIJOU. B'way & 30th St. Ev. 8:15. Mat. To-day.
MAY IRWIN IN SISTER MARY
Phone 2224 Mad. Sq. Biggest hit of all.

Theatre Comique Broadway and 29th St. Mat. every day. Orch. 25c, 50c.
Our Own Stock Burlesque Co. & Chorus of 40, in Hoddy Dotty

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH.
EDEN MUSEE
NEW GROUPS. CHARMING MUSIC.

14th St. Theatre cor. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
LAST 3 TIMES of the Quaint Rural Drama, THE DAIRY FARM

MURRAY HILL THEA., Lex. Av. & 42d St. MATINEE EVERY DAY, 25c.
TH..3 WEEK—THE CHARITY BALL.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. To-day, Mat. & Eve. Last times. "HOFGUNST" at 2 o'clock.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE. Nos. 19 and 21 West 44th St. America, England, France and Germany Represented. INTERNATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION. Open Daily, 10 A. M. to 10 P. M., Dec. 4th to Dec. 24th.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE. James O'NEILL. Mat. To-day, The MUSKETEERS. To-night, MONTE CRISTO. Next week, "SPORTING LIFE."

Herald Sq. Thea. Evs. 8:15. Mat. Wed. & to-day, 2:15. Great London Success A GREEK SLAVE.

HARLEM Opera House. Louis Mann & Clara Lipman in The Girl in the Barracks. Evs. 8:15 T'day Mat., 2:15. Nt. Wk.—Denman Thompson—The Old Homestead.

DALY'S Broadway & 30th St.....at 8:15. Daniel Frohman.....Manager. Matinées WED. and SAT.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S STOCK COMPANY. FIRST ANNUAL SEASON AT THIS THEATRE. HENRY ARTHUR JONES'S COMEDY,
The Maneuvers of Jane

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....at 8:30. Daniel Frohman.....Manager. Matinées Thursday & Sat., 2. FOURTH MONTH.
CHARLES FROHMAN PRESENTS
Annie Russell in Miss Hobbs

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Ev'gs, 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. Matinées To-day and Wednesday.
JOHN DREW | THE TYRANNY OF TEARS

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs, 8. Mat. To-day, 2:15.
"A GREAT SUCCESS."—HERALD.
Wm. Gillette In His New Play, Sherlock Holmes

Charles Frohman's Criterion Theatre B'way & 44th St. Ev'gs, 8:30. Matinées To-day and Wednesday.
JULIA MARLOWE | BARBARA FRIETCHIE
Dec. 11—50th Time, Julia Marlowe Pictorial Souv.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE. 24th St. & B'way. Last Matinée. Last Night. Ev'gs, 8:30. Mats., 2:15.
MAKE WAY FOR THE LADIES.
MONDAY—"WHEELS WITHIN WHEELS."

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Madison Av. To-night, 7:45. Matinée To-day at 2.
MR. RICHARD MANSFIELD.
Last 2 performances. CYRANO DE BERGERAC
Week of Dec. 11, BEAU BRUMMELL Seats now on sale.

DEC 1899

Holiday Number—100 Best Books for Gifts.

The New York Times.

SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Copyright, 1899,
THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1899. FORTY PAGES.

CONTENTS.

ONE HUNDRED BEST HOLIDAY BOOKS.
A Selection from This Year's Production, with Short Descriptive Reviews.....828-849

Introduction: Books as Gifts, Past and Present . 828

History 828

"Famous Homes of Great Britain."
"Holland and the Hollanders." By D. S. Meldrum.
"The Stones of Paris." By B. E. & C. M. Martin.
"A History of American Privateers." By E. S. Maclay.
"Salons Colonial and Republican." By A. H. Wharton.
"Bohemian Paris of To-day." By W. C. Morrow.
"Historic Towns of the Middle States." Edited by L. P. Powell.
"Romance of a Feudal Chateau." By E. W. Champney.
"The New Pacific." By H. H. Bancroft.
"The River War." By W. S. Churchill.
"Some Colonial Mansions." Edited by T. A. Glenn.
"A History of English Romanticism." By H. A. Beers.
"A General Survey of American Literature." By Mary Fisher.
"Music and Musicians." By Albert Lavignac.
"Historic Mansions Around Boston." By S. A. Drake.
"Montcalm and Wolfe." By Francis Parkman.
"The Works of Lord Macaulay."
"The Dutch and Quaker Colonies in America." By John Fiske.
"Twenty Famous Naval Battles." By E. K. Rawson.
"Child Life in Colonial Days." By A. M. Earle.

Biography 832

"Browning, Poet and Man." By E. L. Cary.
"Lights and Shadows of a Long Episcopate." By H. P. Whipple.
"The Life and Letters of Sir John E. Millais." By J. G. Millais.
"The Many-Sided Franklin." By Paul L. Ford.
"The Life and Letters of Lewis Carroll." By S. B. Collingwood.
"The True William Penn." By S. G. Fisher.
"Reminiscences of a Very Old Man." By John Sartain.
"The Life and Works of the Bronte Sisters."
"The Life of W. M. Thackeray." By Lewis Melville.
"The Memoirs of Victor Hugo."
"The Life of William Morris." By J. W. Mackail.
"Recollections of An Old Musician." By Thomas Ryan.
"Famous Actresses of the Day." By L. C. Strang.
"The Art Life of William Morris Hunt." By H. M. Knowlton.
"Beacon Biographies."
"American Statesmen Series." Edited by J. T. Morse, Jr.
"Lowell and His Friends." By E. E. Hale.
"Reminiscences." By Julia Ward Howe.
"Letters of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett."
"The Letters of R. L. Stevenson." Edited by Sidney Colvers.

Poetry and Essays 838

"Laus Veneris." By A. C. Swinburne.
"Pomes of Cabin and Field." By P. L. Dunbar.
"My Study Fire." By H. W. Mable.
"Meditations of Marcus Aurelius."
"Philobiblon." By Richard de Bury.
"Aucassin and Nicolette." Translated by A. R. Macdonough.
"In Friendship's Name" and "What Makes a Friend." Compiled by Volney Streamer.
"Backlog Studies." By Charles Dudley Warner.
"For Love's Sweet Sake." By G. H. Wesley.
"Fisherman's Luck." By Henry Van Dyke.

Drawings and Other Illustrations 840

"The Education of Mr. Pipp." By C. D. Gibson.
"Great Pictures Described by Great Writers."
"Life and Character." Drawings by W. T. Smedley.
"The Madonna in Legend and History." By E. C. Vincent.
"Saints in Art." By C. E. Clement.
"For Thee Alone." By Grace Hazthorne.
"Pompeii: Its Life and Art." By August Mau.
"The National Gallery." Edited by Sir E. J. Poynter.

Religion 842

"Great Books as Life Teachers." By N. D. Hillis.
"The Oxford Prayer Books and Hymn Books."
"Light from the East." By C. J. Ball.

Outdoor Books 842

"The Natural History of Selborne." By Gilbert White.
"A Guide to Wild Flowers." By Alice Lounsberry.
"Outdoor Pictures." By T. De Thulstrup.
"Dickey Downy." By V. S. Patterson.
"The Trial of the Sand Hill Stag." By E. Seton-Thompson.

Travel and Adventure 843

"The Yang-tse Valley and Beyond." By I. L. Bird.
"The Log of a Sea Waif." By F. T. Bullen.
"The Unchanging East." By Robert Barr.

Fiction 846

"Hugh Wynne." By S. Weir Mitchell.
"Janice Meredith." By Paul L. Ford.
"In Connection with the De Willoughby Claim." By F. L. Burnett.
"Stalky & Co." By Rudyard Kipling.
"The King's Mirror." By Anthony Hope.
"The Half-Back." By R. H. Barbour.
"Nephale." By F. W. Bourdillon.
"The Gentleman from India." By Booth Tarkington.
"Santa Claus's Partner." By T. N. Page.
"Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."
"The White King of Manoa." By Joseph Hatton.
"Mistress Content Cradock." By A. E. Trumbull.
"The Legionaries." By H. S. Clark.
"The Black Wolf's Breed." By Harris Dickson.
"The Three Musketeers." By A. Dumas.
"The Queen's Twin." By S. O. Jewett.
"Dorothy and Her Friends." By E. O. Kirk.
"Via Crucis." By F. M. Crawford.
"Sarcinesca." By F. M. Crawford.
"Vanity Fair." Becky Sharp Edition.

Miscellaneous 848

"Under the Microscope." By A. C. Swinburne.
"Fables in Slang." By George Ade.
"Talks to Teachers and to Students." By William James.
"Naval Yarns." Edited by W. H. Long.
"An Alphabet of Celebrities." By Oliver Herford.

Books for the Young 848

"The Boy's Book of Invention." By R. A. Baker.
"St. Nicholas Christmas Book."
"Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes."
"Pictures and Rhymes." By Peter Newell.
"The Life-Savers." By James Otis.
"Alice in Wonderland." By Lewis Carroll.
"Captain Kodak." By A. Black.
"Father Goose, His Book." By L. F. Baum.
"Drake and His Yeomen." By James Barnes.
"Wabeno the Magician." By M. O. Wright.
"Soldier Riddale." By E. M. Dicks.

How to Judge a Book.
Readers: Wise, Indifferent, and Foolish..... 844
Emerson and Lanier, By JOEL BENTON..... 825
India and Burma..... 854
New Fiction..... 852
Other Reviews of Books:
Mrs. Earle's "Child Life in Colonial Days". 851
"Mr. Dooley's "The Hearts of His Countrymen" 826
Dr. Hillis's "Great Books as Life's Teachers". 826
Barr's "The Unchanging East"..... 850
"Ancient and Modern Lace"..... 803
"Bohemian Life in Paris"..... 863
Elbert Hubbard. By Col. RICHARD HINTON.... 850
Notes and News..... 855
Coaching 860
"Les Miserables"..... 858
Facts About Dickens..... 862
The Week in Art..... 856
Topics of the Week..... 826

Topics of the Week.

An important biographical work, giving a picture of the first decade of the present century, when all eyes were turned toward France, will be published early in 1900 by Henry Holt & Co. It is "The Memoirs of the Baroness Cecile de Courtot," Lady in Waiting to the Princess de Lamballe, Princess of Savoy-Carignan. The text, which is translated from the German by Miss Jessie Haynes, has been compiled from the letters of the Baroness to Frau von Alvensleban and the diary of the latter by her great-grandson, Moritz von Kaizenberg, (Moritz von Berg.) The work will be one of charming intimacy, for events are not treated from the historian's point of view, but simply as they affected the lives of two very interesting women. One feature of the work that will doubtless assert itself upon the mind of the reader is the individuality of the correspondents—the extravagant sentimentality and intense devotion to home of the one, contrasted with the lighter touch and charming fancy of the other.

Mr. John Kendrick Bangs has assumed the editorial chair of Harper's Weekly. The fact, it is said, gives him much satisfaction—almost as much as when he was appointed to conduct the Literary Notes of Harper's Magazine. Mr. Bangs has for some time been striving to clear himself of the sole title of humorist. His tastes, his education, his style—as we know it in Literary Notes—all seem to belong to the serious man of letters. But fate has been against him. Once upon a time he wrote some funny sketches for Editor's Drawer in Harper's Magazine. Then he wrote some more. His very name helped the public to identify his humor, and with the appearance of "In Camp With a Tin Soldier," "The Idiot at Home," "The Enchanted Typewriter," and "Ghosts I Have Met," the reputation of "Bangs the humorist" completely obscured Bangs the littérateur. Fame of any kind is a hard thing to combat. The Oxford don who wrote "Alice in Wonderland" found it so when he craved to be remembered by his erudite volumes on mathematics. Jerome K. Jerome found it so, and felt himself obliged to write in a preface to one of his books: "I wish distinctly to state that 'John Ingerfield,' 'The Woman of the Saeter,' and 'Silhouettes' are not intended to be amusing." It is difficult to pronounce an opinion in the case of Mr. Bangs. When we recall his serious work in Literary Notes, we admit with some enthusiasm that we should like more of the same kind. But, then, what is to become of the thousands of persons who have felt the burdens of life made lighter and have had care turned into mirth by his humor? Are they to have no more fun? It seems to us that the only satisfactory solution is for Mr. Bangs to make a compromise with his very natural ambition and write his serious literature over a pseudonym. Then, with a clear conscience, "Bangs the humorist" could keep right on.

It seems necessary to emphasize the point that "Richard Carvel" was conceived, mapped out, and mostly written several years before "Hugh Wynne" was published. To be exact, Mr. Winston Churchill had his work as it now stands, with the exception of the last chapter, in the Autumn of 1895. Of course, there must be some resemblance between historical romances based upon the same epoch. As a matter of fact, there should be resemblances, but these are questions of things known, which the novelist is at liberty to treat in any manner that pleases him. It was once the custom of certain historical novelists to give an account of the material consulted in the preparation of their work. This was done that the reader might find ready proof that certain essential things were not the work of the imagination or intended to be presented as such. A bibliography of the documents and books consulted by Mr. Churchill in the preparation of his work would form a valuable supplement to "Richard Carvel," and, at the same time, tend to confuse certain of its detractors.

It is rumored in London literary circles that St. George Mivart, the distinguished Lecturer on Zoology at St. Mary's Hospital Medical School, and Professor at the University of Louvain, has a novel in preparation, which will see light some time in the Spring. St. George Mivart is probably the most liberal Roman Catholic writer in England, so liberal, in fact, that he has often been called to account by the prelates of the Church. His constant effort has been to apply the principle of evolution to religion as well as to natural science, and to make them coincide. The mere intimation, therefore, that such a serious writer has in hand a piece of fiction has not only stirred up literary circles, but Roman Catholic and Anglican circles as well. The theme, it is said, will have for a background the present ritual controversy in England. The treatment of the subject is declared to be in keeping with the au- [illegible] is expressed in [illegible] articles.

EMERSON AND LANIER.

New Volumes of Letters—Emerson's to One Friend, Lanier's to Many Friends.*

Reviewed for THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW by

Joel Benton.

New utterances from a master mind now forever silent are among the most welcome of literary revelations, and come none too often. The messages they bear may have been long ago written; but no matter what history has ensued or what perspectives have changed, they seem, when the broken bond of privacy suddenly brings them to us, alive and palpitating, and they thrill us in the old enchanting way. This is particularly true of the series of letters here offered. They have different notes, but the one on Friendship naturally dominates them. Mr. Norton remarks on this subject (using Emerson's own phrase) that their writer was fond of idealizing this theme in "fine lyric words." Though friends "such as we desire are dreams and fables," says Emerson, there was nothing held by him more divine than friendship.

To whom the letters were written is not divulged, but their recipient was younger than the writer of them by nine years. The friend had been in Europe, and when their acquaintance began Emerson had not been there. The era of their meeting was not much before the date of the famous Cambridge Divinity School address, in 1838, so that each had, as it were, a new continent to bestow on the other—one the Old World, the other a new Spiritual One. In August of the year named the first letter opens thus:

Miss Fuller thinks you have so much leisure that you can come to Concord if you would. I am particularly at leisure now, disposed to be grateful for all good influences, and especially curious of information on art and artists, of which, however, I warn you I know nothing.

It is evident from a later letter that art, when the visit was made, was one of the topics discussed by the two friends; and when their talks ended, the unknown one left with Emerson a portfolio of his gathered Italian pictures. The echo therefrom came, not long after, in Emerson's "Ode to Beauty" as follows:

I turn the proud portfolios
Which hold the grand designs
Of Salvator and Guercino
And Piranesi's lines.

In return for the view of this portfolio, Emerson sends his friend Thoreau's poem of "Sympathy." But he writes:

* * * There are fewer painters than poets. Ten men can awaken me by words to new hope and fruitful musing for one that can achieve the miracle by forms. Besides, I think the pleasure of the poem lasts me longer.

Admitting that "the expressive arts ought to go abreast," and that there is as much genius in design as in song, he adds: "* * * The eye is a speedier student than the ear; by a grand and lovely form it is astonished or delighted once for all and quickly appeased, while the sense of a verse steals slowly on the mind, and suggests a hundred fine fancies before its precise import is finally settled."

Notes upon friends and friendship follow thickly now, and the famous "Essay on Friendship," which was just about coming out, accentuated the topic. Occasionally no striking special theme arises, and we read:

What can I tell you? Not the smallest event enlivens our little sandy village; we have not even rigged out a hay cart for a whortleberry party. If I look out of the window there is perhaps a cow; if I go into the garden there are cucumbers; if I look into the brook there is a mud turtle. In the sleep of the great heats there was nothing for me but to read the Vedas, the Bible of the tropics, which I find I come back upon every three or four years. It is sublime as heat and night and a breathless ocean. * * * It is no use to put away the book; if I trust myself in the woods or in a boat upon the pond, nature makes a Brahmin of me presently—eternal necessity, eternal compensation, unfathomable power, unbroken silence, this is her creed. Peace, she saith to me, and purity and absolute abandonment; these presences expiate all sin and bring you to the beatitude of the Eight Gods.

On another occasion he writes what was always one of his favorite thoughts:

Not in his goals, but in his transition, man is great, and the truest state of mind rested on becomes false. Our admiration accuses us. Instead of admiring the Apollo, or the picture, or the victory at Marengo, we ought to be producing what is admirable, and these things should glitter to us as hints and stints merely.

It is of nature in October that he says this:

In our brown lowlands, in our parti-colored woods, the passenger finds nothing but sparrows, crows, partridges, and, though nature has no rood of meadow so empty but to the purged eye she can crowd it with

*LETTERS FROM RALPH WALDO EMERSON TO A FRIEND, 1838-1853. Edited by Charles Eliot Norton. Boston and New York: Houghton, Mifflin & Co. 1899.

*LETTERS OF SIDNEY LANIER. Selections from His Correspondence. New York: Charles [illegible] quaintments—yet where to find the saltpetre and rue that shall make the purgation?

And he concludes the letter, writing on as follows to his friend, now in the city:

You and I, my friend, sit in different houses, and speak all day to different persons, but the difference, make the most we can of them, are trivial; we are tapped at last in the same Idea, we are hurried along in the same material system of stars, in the same immaterial system of intercourse, to the same untold ineffable goal. Let us exchange new and then a word or a look on the new phases of the Dream.

Iterant to the last is the note of fevered persons, which is so variously struck and played upon in these choice epistles. It in fact underlies everything and suffuses the whole body of intermingling comment and criticism. He writes at one point as follows:

Jean Paul says rightly it is easy to love—but to esteem! It is strange how people act upon me. I am not a pin ball nor raw silk; yet to human electricity is no piece of humanity so sensible.

Some of the references to noted English authors can be omitted, interesting as they are, since these were repeated in substance in the volume on "English Traits." For further quotation from the letters this paragraph shall suffice:

I find myself, maugre all my philosophy, a devout student, and admirer of persons. I cannot get used to them. They daunt and dazzle me still. I have just now been at the old wonder again.

All of which recalls this from his early lecture on "Manners," (now titled "Behavior," in "The Conduct of Life":)

> Grace, Beauty, and Caprice
> Build this golden portal;
> Graceful women, chosen men
> Dazzle every mortal.

He has no ecstasy more absorbing than this—thinking over the richness of the world in persons and in personal nobility. The telescope of Calvin here, as always, he turned around, and saw things good and large where the stern dogmatist saw them miserable and small. These letters none the less are permeated by purity and conscience. They come to us as alert and inquisitive as the detective's eye, and fluid and solvent as of old. We seem to breathe the enchanting fragrance of high thoughts, and feel the uplifting influences of the loftiest ideals in every sentence of them. The period they represent is from 1838 to 1853. To say that they are admirably presented, with not a word too much by way of comment, and with a treatment that is delicate and faultless, is nearly equivalent to mentioning the name of their intelligent and painstaking editor. They once more enforce the true aim of life, which Goethe's epigram so well expresses—"to live resolutely in the true, the beautiful, and the good."

The epistolary art at its best—the production of letters that become literature—is not the gift of all persons who write well in other ways. A certain versatility and nimbleness of pen and spirit seem to be required to make the good letter writer. Charles Lamb had the requisite qualifications for this art's unconventional style, and so had James Russell Lowell—merely to pick at random two pleasing examples. But there are others, like Walpole and Cowper, who were pre-eminent in addressing their friends, and whose work in this exercise has become classic and lends itself to perpetual quotation. It needs sometimes, it would seem, a person at the other end of the line thrown out, to make vivid and coruscating, or appealing and humorous, certain things that arise to be said; as there must be two poles in connection to secure a live and active electric current.

Mr. Sidney Lanier, whose broken, varied, and pathetic life furnished unlimited rich, if sometimes sad, experience, knew how—as this volume shows—to pen epistles that were true spiritual reports; that lay hold of life; that breathe aspirations, as well as voice regrets, and that may be read, now that we have them collected in permanent form, with touching and enduring interest. To quote from the preface: "In Sidney Lanier's case several things combined to insure the presence of this human interest in his letter writing. His mind was almost preternaturally alert, his sympathies ready and keen, his gift of expression facile, and naively daring. Picture such a young man of genius, confident of his genius, coming fresh from the provinces to hear for the first time Wagner and Theodore Thomas—to meet for the first time the men whose god was his god. There was not a sophisticated fibre in his being to cheapen the joy of the new sensations as he wrote of them exuberantly to his wife and his friends."

To Mr. Gibson Peacock, who reviewed in Lippincott's his poem titled "Corn," he writes Jan. 26, 1875: "Permit me to say that I am particularly touched by the courageous independence of your review. In the very short time that I have been in the hands of the critics nothing has amazed me more than the timid solicitudes with which they rarely in one line any enthusiasm they may have condensed in another—a process curiously analogous to those irregular condensations and rarefactions of air which physicists have shown to be the conditions of producing an indeterminate sound. Many of my critics have assured—if I may change the figure—to be forever conciliating the yet unarisen ghosts of possible mistakes."

This poem in celebration of "Corn" struck a new note—several notes, in fact, and caused various comment, but it elicited from wide and varying sources marked praise.

A little later Lanier wrote to this same friend as follows:

About four days ago a certain poem which I had vaguely ruminated for a week before took hold of me like a real James River ague, and I have been in a mortal shake with the same day and night, ever since. I call it "The Symphony"; I personify each instrument in the orchestra, and make them discuss various deep social questions of the times in the progress of the music. It is now nearly finished; and I shall be rejoiced thereat, for it verily racks all the bones of my spirit.

As early as January of the Centennial year he writes that the Centennial Commission had invited him to write the words for a cantata which Dudley Buck was to compose for the gerat exhibition at Philadelphia, and which was to be given under the direction of Theodore Thomas. Of it he says:

Of course I shall not expect that this will instantly appeal to tastes peppered and salted by Swinburne and that ilk; but one cannot forget Beethoven; and somehow all my inspirations came in these large and artless forms in simple Saxon words, in unpretentious and purely intellectual conceptions; while nevertheless I felt all through the necessity of making a genuine song, and not a rhymed set of good adages, out of it. I adopted the trochees of the first movement because they comped a measured, sober, and meditative movement of the mind; and because, too, they are not the genius of our language. When the trochees cease and the land emerges as a distinct unity, then I fall into our native iambics.

Probably no American poet could have half so well performed this task Lanier was set to do as he who was chosen for it. His knowledge of the two arts invoked and his fine instinct for details and for ensemble effect pointed him out as a fit heir for this service.

The sadness of his brave duel with hopeless disease crops steadily out in these letters, that treat it with light but courageous touches all along. He says in one place: "I long to be steadily writing again. I'm taken with a poem nearly every day, and have to content myself with making a note of its train of thought on the back of whatever letter is in my coat pocket." But he had to wait without condensing these fancies for "that repose which ought to fill the artist's firmament while he is creating." Again he said: "My whole soul is bursting with chaotic poems, and I hope to do some good work during the coming year."

The acquaintance with Bayard Taylor, which came on the reception by the latter, through Mr. Peacock's action, of the "Symphony" verses, was a keen delight and rare refreshment to Lanier. These two poets were calculated to be twin spirits, where Beauty and the Muse prevail, and to strike harmonious and mutally inspiring chords. The younger poet turns a hint from Taylor into a sonnet, and asks much that Taylor was well fitted to tell. He says to Taylor: "I find that, spiritually, we are cannibals, all; we feed upon each other; soul assimilates and makes tissue of soul." It must be said here that there was never a more kind and sympathetic welcomer of genius than Bayard Taylor, who deserved, as few do, the precise encomium that Halleck poetically bestowed on his friend Drake. It is to be understood, of course, that the certificate of genius needed to be authentic. In Lanier's case there was no doubt that it was authentic. A new singer of peculiar felicity had come, and the elder bard held up the anointed hands of welcome and pointed to an awaiting wreath.

This volume is too full of rich observation and keenly critical comment, and luminous, playful humor, to make quotation from it easy. One can pick nuggets from a drift of sand and pebbles, or sever flowers from stalks, but with every page thick with gold and flowers there is the aggravation after quoting at all that so much you wish to select must be left behind.

A considerable space is allotted in the book to Lanier's "Musical Impressions" of "the really great orchestral music" that he was made acquainted with in the large cities. These are embodied in letters which he wrote to his wife. Although his musical training "did not go beyond a few piano lessons in early childhood," he had a genius for music in all forms that was believed to make certain and fix without choice his career. The discernment and enthusiasm that accompany his utterances on melodic themes were never wanting, and they are well exhibited here.

Some letters to his friend Paul Hamilton Hayne, with a preface and introduction by Hayne, conclude the volume, in which there are two portraits of Lanier and two facsimiled pages of a letter to Bayard Taylor written when he had become Minister to Germany. Mr. Hayne had introduced himself by a letter Lanier on seeing in a Southern periodical one of his poems. "It was a brief lyric," says Hayne, "distinguished by a peculiar and scarcely definable quality of fancy, which affected the reader much as a loving observer of nature might be affected by the strange golden remoteness of an October horizon." Hayne, in speaking of Lanier's letters just followed, says: "The quaintness of thought and phraseology seemed at first to indicate affectation—an affectation of archaism; but soon I learned to understand that this style was as natural to Lanier as breathing. He had steeped his imagination from boyhood, in the writings of the earlier English annalists and poets—Geoffry of Monmouth, Sir Thomas Mallory, Gower, Chaucer, and the whole head-roll of such ancient English worthies."

He hints that he had supped upon "The Canterbury Tales" and "The Romaunt of the Rose." They were his daily food, as also were "Piers Ploughman" and scores of old English and Scotch ballads. With Shakespeare, too, he had chummed, and "went down into his depths." Of the Shakespearean sonnets Hayne says "few have written so subtly as he did."

But the story carried on the thread of these letters is that of a most promising life brilliantly lived, but cut short in thirty-nine years. Through the maturer part of it no full life was had—but this pathetic struggle is now too familiar to need retelling. Perhaps what Lanier aspired to may be found delicately symboled in this second passage and fragment from his "Rose Morals":

> Soul, get thee to the heart
> Of yonder tuberose, hide thee there.
> There breathe the meditations of thine Art,
> Suffused with prayer.
>
> Of spirit grave, yet light,
> How fervent fragrances uprise
> Pure born from these most rich and yet most white
> Virginities!
>
> Mulched with unsavory death,
> Grow, Soul, unto such white estate
> That art and virginal prayer shall be thy breath,
> Thy work, thy fate.

JOEL BENTON.

Great Books as Teachers.*

We believe these "Studies of Character, Real and Ideal," were delivered in the form of lectures to Dr. Hillis's congregation of Plymouth Church. They are of a slight and ephemeral character; as a contribution to literature rather disappointing. Indeed, viewed even as discourses, it seems needless at this late day to tell at length to a congregation of intelligence the stories of "Romola," "The Scarlet Letter," and "Les Miserables."

The volume seems to be not so much "Studies" as a succinct presentation of well-known books and facts, with conclusions therefrom that have long been obvious to the general reader.

Such a collocation, however, has its value, especially when enriched, as in the volume before us, with copious quotation. The mature reader will find no new criticism of life, no fresh illumination of familiar themes; but young people who are still standing upon the threshold of the great books of which it treats will do well to read these books under Dr. Hillis's guidance. They will learn to look beneath the story for the very soul of the book and to become elevated in thought and in character by their deeper insight.

Those, for example, who have not read "Les Miserables" will find in Dr. Hillis's condensation of that vast and profoundly religious study of humanity a valuable introduction to the work itself, enabling the intending reader to take a bird's-eye view of it, to grasp something of its scope and purpose, before entering the fascinating maze of its multitudinous detail.

While, therefore, "Great Books as Life Teachers" is scarcely more than a compact presentation of these books—fiction, biography, poetry—and will add nothing to what they have already spoken to the thoughtful reader, it is a volume that has its mission to the young.

Its ethical quality is deserving of the highest praise. Every word "makes for righteousness," and if it lure its readers to make their own the books it discusses it will more than justify its existence.

Mr. Dunne's Mr. Dooley Once More.*

Mr. Dooley has so thoroughly taken his place in the hearts of his countrymen, and the sketches here collected are so well known, that any notice of them seems superfluous, except a few words of welcome as they are presented in their permanent form. Autres temps, autres moeurs. It is interesting to compare the invective of Junius with the methods of the barroom philosopher, who penetrates the weak places of our National self-conceit with a good-humored sarcasm that amuses while it wounds. Indeed, there is danger that we shall enjoy the skill with which the shafts are aimed too well to wince when they strike home.

There is matter for shame as well as for merriment in such talks as those on "Expansion," "A Hero Who Worked Over-Time," "Hanging Aldermen," "Lexow," "When the Trust Is at Work," "Making a Cabinet," and the like. The fun of "The Divided Skirt," "The Hay Fleet," "The Performances of Lieut. Hobson," &c., may however, be tasted without a qualm. Our naval heroes, by the bye, seem, one and all, to reverse the fable of Antaeus, and to lose their strength when they touch mother earth. The humor of the Dreyfus case is less delicious than that brewed of American ingredients, but we find bits of it very laughter provoking.

Mr. Dunne is too modest in saying: "The *GREAT BOOKS AS LIFE TEACHERS. By Newell Dwight Hillis. New York: Fleming H. Revell Company. $1.50.

*MR. DOOLEY: IN THE HEARTS OF HIS COUNTRYMEN. Boston: Small, Maynard & Co. $1.25.

author may excuse the presentation of these sketches to the public on the ground that, if he did not publish some of them somebody would, and, if he did not publish the others, nobody would." Having effectually "discovered to the world" the "secluded gayety of Archey Road," he may be very sure that if he does not himself gather together all the shrewd wisdom of Mr. Dooley, somebody and many somebodies will. We are grateful to him for giving us the rare society of laughter holding both its sides, and we think his countrymen would be saner and better if they should heed as well as laugh.

"Crusoe's Cave" Again.

To The New York Times Saturday Review:

My esteemed critic in your SATURDAY REVIEW of Nov. 18 clearly misunderstands my purpose in rehearsing the experiences of a voyage around the world. Many things in this age must necessarily go untouched. It is true that in my own poor narrative I had quite overlooked the hole in the ground on the Island of Tobago. I visited that spot when a lad on my first voyage to the West Indies. It was very disappointing! The cave referred to in my narrative was found cosy and comfortable.

No one needs to be told that Defoe founded "Robinson Crusoe" on the self-imposed exile of Alexander Selkirk on the Island of Juan Fernandes. Nothing is more natural than the giving of his hero's name to the lookout, bay, and cave that bear it. In speaking of Crusoe's Cave, I but adopted the popular nomenclature, feeling under no obligation to argue for or against its literal correctness.

When your various editors and correspondents have done with me, Sir, it is evident that I shall stand exposed as a sailing master who knows nothing of navigation and a traveler wholly ignorant of the world.

JOSHUA SLOCUM.

New York, Nov. 28, 1899.

He and Mr. Choate Make the Same Error.

To The New York Times Saturday Review:

I have read with interest and pleasure the address of our distinguished Ambassador to Great Britain delivered at the sixth annual dinner of the Edinburgh Sir Walter Scott Club, and published in your SATURDAY REVIEW of the 25th inst. I am a friend to the Ambassador, and an admirer of his great gifts as an orator and statesman. Referring to the humanity of Sir Walter, Mr. Choate said: "This humanity was godliness, and the Good Book tells us that next to godliness is cleanliness."

Some years back a movement was made and consummated, to provide improved sanitary regulations for the City of Nashville. A public meeting was called, and largely attended. Addresses were made by Archbishop Feehan of Chicago, Bishop Fitzgerald of the Methodist Church, the Rev. T. A. Hoyt of the Presbyterian Church, and others, including the writer. My address was a brief one, but I told the large assemblage of people that "the Good Book tells us that next to godliness is cleanliness." I was unfortunate in exploiting my biblical reading in the presence of so many distinguished clergymen, and one of them, who followed me, said my doctrine was good, but that the "Good Book" was silent on that point, and playfully advised a study of the sacred volume. The Edinburgh clergy are too polite to arraign Mr. Choate, and he doubtless believes that his auditors gave him credit for biblical learning. Bishop Fitzgerald attributed the text to John Wesley, but I found that it had been used many times before his day, but I failed to fix its authorship. Will THE SATURDAY REVIEW enlighten the American Ambassador and myself and perhaps others as to the origin of the words quoted?

JAMES D. PORTER.

Paris, Tenn., Nov. 28, 1899.

The Original Edition of Lamb.

To The New York Times Saturday Review:

Your issue of the 25th inst. contains the following startling communication signed "Laudator Temporis Acti."

In your late very elaborate article on the editions of Lamb's works I am surprised to find you have overlooked what I believe was the original edition printed by Ollier, two volumes, 12mo. (18mo?) 1816. I owned a copy forty years ago.

Lo, a man with a biographical "find," indeed! And note the simple ingenuousness of "Laudator T. Acti!" He is surprised (only surprised—no violent language) to find you have overlooked (simply overlooked) what he believes (Heaven save the mark!) the original edition, and which is most unlikely to have been owned by him (or any one else) forty years ago, for the plain reason that the volumes referred to were dated 1818, and not 1816, the title thereof reading: "The Works of Charles Lamb. In Two Volumes. Vol. I. (II.) London: Printed for C. and J. Ollier, Vere Street, Bond Street. 1818."

No, my dear "L. Temporis Acti," there is already in the field an ample supply, and to spare, of bibliographical obscurities, puzzles, delusions—even frauds, alas! Let us be spared the addition of blunders due to flagrant carelessness.

For, sub nos and inter rosa, it does seem inexcusable that one "who lived on his writings * * * in the third decade of this century," &c., should deliberately—and actually in print, too—misstate a cardinal date of one of his favorite authors.

As you pertinently remark at the close of your communication, "The contemporaries of Charles Lamb are all gone, and almost all of his early readers and admirers. The very few now living, if any remain, must be classed (really this would seem almost impertinent if it were not your own words) among octogenarians and fossil critics!"

So you must excuse us, friend "L. T. Acti," from believing in your 1816 till "we read it in the book with our doubting eyes."

New York, Nov. 29, 1899. BOGO.

1899

VICTOR MAUREL.

The Youth's Companion

Fifty-Two Weekly Issues. $1.75 a Year.

THE Volume for 1900 will again exemplify the endeavors of the publishers to increase the attractiveness of the paper for general reading. Among the features of the new volume of exceptional value, will be the following:

A Baritone Among Famous People,	Victor Maurel
Mary Dari, Heroine,	Elizabeth Stuart Phelps
How I Acted the Missionary,	Henry M. Stanley
How Rosamond Made Up Her Mind,	Margaret Deland
The Habit of Thrift,	Andrew Carnegie
Are There Too Many College Men?	Pres. James B. Angell
Ambitions: True and False,	Bishop Henry C. Potter
Houses of the Future,	Felix L. Oswald
The Rebellion of Anne,	Mary E. Wilkins
Country Boys Who Come to New York,	S. A. Nelson
The Stage Tavern,	Sarah Orne Jewett
Story of a Highland Industry,	Duchess of Sutherland
Photographing Stars,	Prof. C. A. Young
Can We Prolong Our Lives?	Dr. Cyrus Edson
My First Survey,	Prof. John Trowbridge
About Lawyers,	Atty.-Gen. John W. Griggs
An Incident in South African History,	Rider Haggard
Taste in Music,	Reginald de Koven
Pulpit Eloquence,	Dean Farrar

Send your address on a postal card and we will mail you our illustrated Announcement Number, containing a full prospectus of the Contributors and Contributions engaged for the new volume.

A Christmas Gift for All the Family.

A subscription to The Companion is a gift that preserves its freshness and power to delight all the year through, till Christmas comes again. It is a gift in which all the household have a share. In more than half a million American homes it is now a welcome weekly visitor, a constant source of pleasure and of inspiration.

Free Every Week From Now to 1900.

THOSE who subscribe at once, sending $1.75 with this slip or the name of this magazine, will receive all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1899 FREE from the time of subscription, and then all the issues for the 52 weeks of the new year, until January 1, 1901.

This offer includes the gift of the New Companion Calendar for 1900—the most beautiful one ever presented by The Companion.

OT 22

The Companion Calendar.

The New Calendar for 1900 is exceedingly attractive, both in conception and as a work of art. The three exquisite figure pieces given are from designs painted for The Companion exclusively. Reproduced in twelve colors, the lithographed panels of the Calendar preserve all the character and beauty of the original paintings. The Calendar is given to every one paying the subscription for the 1900 volume.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Boston, Mass.

Handy Books of Reference

IMPORTANT EVENTS

A Book of Dates, Historical, Biographical, Political, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Industrial. Compiled by GEORGE W. POWERS. In one volume, 18mo. 321 pp., index, cloth, 50c. Fourth Thousand.

By means of a few easily understood abbreviations, occasionally employed, Mr. Powers condenses usually into one short line a vast amount of information covering the six thousand years of the world's authentic history. It is history in a nutshell.

"Will be a convenience even to those who have an encyclopedia at hand. . . . full and accurate."—Christian Register.

"Practicable and handy."—New York Tribune.

THE MISTAKES WE MAKE

A Handbook of Common Errors in Speech, Writing, etc. Edited by NATHAN HASKELL DOLE. 18mo. 50c. Fourth Thousand.

Contains in small compass a remarkable array of valuable information, and will prove invaluable for the busy writer or business man.

"The whole book is interesting enough to read at a sitting. It should be in every library."—Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier.

Facts I Ought to Know About the Government of My Country

By WILLIAM H. BARTLETT. 18mo. Cloth, $0.50; flexible leather, $1.00. Seventh Thousand.

"I volunteer the statement that no such condensation of facts has been made with such admirable classification for instantaneous reference as in this little volume. Because everybody ought to know the facts, everybody ought to have the book."—Bishop John H. Vincent.

For sale by all booksellers, or sent postpaid by the publishers on receipt of price. Send for catalogue.

THOMAS Y. CROWELL & CO
NEW YORK AND BOSTON.

NEW GIFT BOOKS.

PYRAMID AND PROGRESS
By JOHN WARD, F. S. A.

A New and Beautiful Art Book, printed upon fine paper, being a popular account, profusely illustrated, of

Egypt, Ancient and Modern

A permanent Handbook to the Tourist as as well as the Egyptologist and Expert. With Introduction by Professor SAYCE, LL. D.

The author, Mr. John Ward, the well-known archæologist, has been five years in Egypt gathering illustrations of all the chief monuments and objects of interest in this most interesting country. These include photographic and other plates, some being from delightfully executed drawings by "Varley" made specially for the work on the spot.

Small 4to, cloth, $4.00.

LIGHT FROM THE EAST
Or, the Witness of the Monuments

By Rev. C. J. BALL, M. A., Member of the Council of Biblical Archæology. With 12 illustrations in colors, and 13 collotypes, all full-page, and over 250 illustrations in the text, many of which are original with this book. Small 4to, cloth, gilt edges, $6.00.

This comprehensive work furnishes the chief results of Oriental research and discovery. It brings together for the first time, within the compass of a handy volume, a large number of cuneiform and other texts and translations, also accurate reproductions of hundreds of Babylonian, Egyptian, Assyrian, North-Syrian and Phœnician antiquities. Translations of ancient texts made specially for this work contain many suggestive references to the Old Testament.

For sale by booksellers generally or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by the publisher.

E. & J. B. YOUNG & CO.,
7 and 9 West 18th St., New York.

"The Mosher Books."

"With the approach of the holiday season and the turning of the mind to the inevitable Christmas presents the thought immediately suggests itself: 'What is Mosher going to do this year?' Thomas B. Mosher of Portland, Me., is the one publisher in the country who devotes himself to the production of beautiful books and never fails. Other publishers bring out good-looking books and some that are trying to the eyes and wearing on the disposition, but Mosher never fails below his standard in beauty of design, in excellence of typography, in everything that makes a volume not only attractive but positively seductive."—CHICAGO EVENING POST, Nov. 25, 1899.

MR. MOSHER'S LIST

IS A CHARMING BIBELOT IN ITSELF OF 64 PAGES, EXQUISITELY PRINTED IN RED AND BLACK, WITH SPECIAL COVER DESIGNS, AND COMPRISES OVER 90 TITLES, RANGING IN PRICE FROM 25 CENTS TO $20.00.

SENT FREE ON APPLICATION.

THE VEST POCKET OMAR
The Most Exquisite Hand-made Paper Edition Ever Issued.

Blue paper wrapper, postpaid..... .25 net
Limp cloth, postpaid..... .40 net
Flexible leather, gilt top, postpaid.. .75 net
Japan Vellum edition, postpaid.....$1.00 net

THOMAS B. MOSHER,
XLV Exchange St., Portland, Maine.

One Hundred Best Books

Chosen from the Publications of This Year in All Departments of Literature—The Lists Classified.

INTRODUCTION: BOOKS AS GIFTS, PAST AND PRESENT.

The rapidly approaching Christmas season, with its gifts to be selected for so many varying tastes, brings with it the difficulty of deciding upon what articles will give the most pleasure to their recipients. This is, of course, a matter for personal consideration and decision; the chief qualification being that the gifts selected shall in some way express the individuality of the giver and also of the friends to whom they are to be presented. "The gift without the giver is bare," so that, whether the object finally selected be a mere trifle, or some costly ornament or other personal belonging, its individuality, the care shown in its selection, rather than the amount spent on its purchase, becomes of the greatest importance.

Happy is the man who, the possessor of bookish tastes himself, can send such tokens of his friendship at this season without fearing something else might have been more highly valued. For, whether one's Christmas purse be full or decidedly empty, there would seem to be nothing which offers so wide a field for selection as do the Autumn books. For the friend who simply cares for reading for reading's sake, we may select the last new poem, the latest novel, or a volume of essays whose style may have captured our own fancy, and whose author we wish to introduce to our friends. For another who cares for the binding as well as for the contents of a volume, we may choose some old favorite whose garb is as costly as our purse can well afford. For a third, a volume can be found which is in the line of his pet collection, filling acceptably a gap we know to exist.

For instance, for the Stevenson collector what could be more suitably chosen than the new Stevenson Letters? Those who particularly care for the Brownings will welcome either the Browning Letters or Miss Lillian Whiting's "Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning." Or perhaps the last new Kipling may be more to our taste, or the first edition of one of his older stories will be chosen. The friend interested in the development of the arts and handicraft or in art only will be delighted with the Burne-Jones or William Morris volumes. Fortunate, indeed, would be the boy or girl to whom some discriminating friend introduces "Treasure Island," the "Jungle Books," "The Trail of the Sandhill Stag," "Wild Animals I Have Known," or some book of equal literary value, which, while interesting as a story, yet is not the milk and water, trashy stuff so often found masquerading as books suitable for children or young people.

It would seem that nothing could make so charming a gift at the Christmas season as a well-selected book—"not a bargain book bought from a haberdasher, but a beautiful book, a book to caress, peculiar, distinctive, individual; a book that hath first caught your eye and then pleased your fancy, written by an author with a tender whim, all right out of his heart."

A few years ago our book shops were filled at this season with so-called Christmas books and holiday editions. There were big, ungainly "table books," an oasis of poem or story in an acre of margin, the whole sprinkled with pretty pictures bearing no special relation to the text. Occasionally, of course, some of these books had great artistic beauty, but how seldom were they taken down from our shelves and read a second time! More, even, than that, how seldom from their very size and shape could we find suitable places for them in our bookcases! This criticism is not intended to apply to the new edition of some favorite novel or book of poems, with striking and appropriate illustrations, but to the short story or still shorter poem, where by the aid of heavy plate paper and the use of only a line or two of text the book is made to assume respectable proportions.

Happily the day for this class of books has gone by and we are no longer given such costly and useless volumes, these so-called books given by friends who used to write us that "knowing our love for books, they are sending something they feel sure we will care for." After all, is there any gift harder to select than a book or to receive gracefully when not at all to our taste?

To assist us, then, in choosing suitable books, a carefully prepared list of one hundred of the best of the season's output has been prepared, each with its appropriate notice, so that using THE TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW in its capacity of book taster we may ascertain at a glance just what each new volume's most striking characteristics really are, so that our choice may be carefully made, and the books go, so far as possible, to the right people.

All printed matter between board covers may be entitled to the name of books, but varied indeed are their characteristics, and it is quite true that a man might almost as well read trash as a book which, good in itself, yet has no special charm or interest for him individually. As Bronson Alcott says in his "Tablets":

Next to a friend's discourse, no morsel is more delicious than a ripe book; a book whose flavor is as refreshing at the thousandth tasting as at the first—books, when friends weary, conversation flags, or nature fails to inspire. The best books appeal to the deepest in us and answer the demand. A book loses if wanting the personal element and gains when this is insinuated.

But it must also be remembered that books must be suited to the individual taste of the recipient rather than to that of the giver. The one hundred best books for any of us cannot be the list arbitrarily chosen by any one, no matter how pure his taste or good his judgment. In this matter we must make our own selection. The best book for us is the one we personally can get the most out of. The book read entirely as a task or because recommended by some Guide to Reading or by some reading circle, or even by a friend who selects the book entirely from his own standpoint, may, in reality, although of the highest literary merit, be positively harmful in its tendency, because not making the direct appeal to us a carefully selected book should and will lead in time to the formation of a positive distaste for books in general. On the other hand, a book which we thoroughly enjoy is a constant delight and a growing source of pleasure to us.

There, perhaps, lies one of the greatest charms books possess. Many things give us pleasure for a time, but perhaps other times, other manners, and our delight in some pet possession ceases. A vase may be broken; our taste in pictures may utterly change; some pretty trifle may be quite worn out or grow too shabby for further use, so that a treasured gift may utterly disappear, associations and all. But our books are the more precious to us if the wise choice of our friends remain with us always. "Age cannot wither them nor custom stale their infinite variety." Indeed, the longer our books are on our shelves, always provided they have been wisely chosen, the greater the charm they reveal. Let us quote a wise man:

Good books, like good friends, are few and chosen; the more select, the more enjoyable; and, like these, are approached with diffidence nor sought too often, having the precedence only when friends tire. The most mannerly of companions, accessible at all times, in all moods, they frankly disclose the author's mind without giving offense. Like living friends, they, too, have their voice and physiognomies, and their company is prized as old acquaintances. We seek them in our need of counsel or of amusement, without impertinence or apology, sure of having our claims allowed. A good book justifies our theory of personal supremacy. * * *. What were days without such friendship? We were alone in the world without it. Nor does our faith falter, though the secret we search for and do not find in them will not commit itself to literature; still we take up the new issue with the old expectation, and again and again, as we try our friends after many failures at conversation, believing this visit will be the favored hour and all will be told us.

Let us, then, make careful choice of the books we shall send our friends; the new publications from the following list of the season's books; the old favorites from our personal knowledge of their merits; remembering that the choice of a poor or weak book works evil in two ways; first, from its own character, and, second, because the valuable time spent over a worthless volume is so much waste time, which can never be redeemed; for we quite agree with Frederic Harrison, when, in his "Choice of Books," he says:

Men who are most observant as to the friends they make or the conversation they join in are carelessness itself as to the books to which they intrust themselves, and the printed language with which they saturate their minds. Yet can any friendship or society be more important to us than that of the books which form so large a part of our minds and even of our characters? Do we in real life take any pleasant fellow to our homes and chat with some agreeable rascal by our firesides; we, who will take up any pleasant fellow's printed memoirs, we who delight in the agreeable rascal when he is cut up into pages and bound in calf?

HISTORY.

FAMOUS HOMES OF GREAT BRITAIN AND THEIR STORIES. Edited by A. H. Malan. Illustrated. Royal 8vo. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. $7.50.

In this elaborate and beautiful volume, edited by A. H. Malan, the original dwelling places of some of the greatest families of England are described, in most cases by their present owners. Hence among the writers are found the names of the Duke of Marlborough, the Duchess of Cleveland, Lady Dudley, Lady Newton, and Lady Warwick. The twelve "Famous Homes" described are Blenheim, Warwick, Belvoir, and Cawdor Castles; Battle Abbey, Charlecote, Penshurst, Holland House, Chatsworth, Hardwick, Alnwick, and Lyme. Of course, with such subjects there is a broad field of illustration opened, and this has been taken advantage of by the presentation of beautiful photogravures of the buildings and their most interesting interiors. One may judge of the value of the information conveyed to the reader by the following extract taken from the preface: "The articles are based upon material to a large extent beyond the reach of the average guide-book scribe; whether they have emanated from the pens of members of the houses described or have been supervised and supplemented by an owner or some erudite relative. Naturally, there will be found a difference in style and point of view. But differ as they may in treatment, the writers have been at one in endeavoring to make their contributions bright, though historical, and sufficiently diversified in points touched upon to suit the palate of the general reader."

HOLLAND AND THE HOLLANDERS. By David Storrar Meldrum. Illustrated. 8vo. New York: Dodd, Mead & Co. $2.

This book by the author of "The Story of Margredel" will find plenty of readers at this time among the people, who, because of the war in South Africa, may have a curiosity concerning the present-day Dutch whose ancestors sprang from the common stock which produced the Boers. But in a broader sense the book will appeal to people who have had their interest in the people of the dikes revived by the appearance on the political stage of Europe of Holland's young Queen. Holland has much of interest for observing persons, whether they be students of sociology, artists, or men of affairs. Without being statistical, Mr. Meldrum presents a lot of interesting and valuable information on his subject, while his style is both graphic and picturesque. The author has had unusual opportunities to study his subject at close range. He deals with the land in its ordinary aspects, and of the people and institutions with the full knowledge of intimate acquaintance. While "Holland and the Hollanders" is said to possess all the charm of De Amici's sketch on the same subject, Mr. Meldrum's point of view is perhaps less poetic but more concentrated on practical affairs.

THE STONES OF PARIS, IN HISTORY AND LETTERS. By Benjamin Ellis Martin and Charlotte M. Martin. Illustrated. Two volumes. 12mo. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. $4.

Paris seems to be an almost inexhaustible source of treasures that appeal not only to the artist, the littérateur, and the historian, but to the architect and to the students of the mechanical arts as well. The text of the two volumes by the Martins is visualized and made intimate to the reader by the illustrations that are the work of Fulleylove, Delafontaine, and the photographer. Even to the student who has spent many years in Paris there is invariably something new in articles that appear from time to time in the magazines headed "A Corner of Old Paris" and similar titles, and it is presumed that such appeals will continue to be made and will meet with ready response. It really seems, nevertheless, that the Martins in their two beautiful volumes have exhausted the subject. By their sympathetic appreciation, their labor, and their suggestive style, the wealth of reminiscence, literary and artistic, in which the "Stones of Paris" abound, is laid before the reader with proper accuracy and with an inviting touch. The stones are interpreted, and in the interpretations one learns the meaning of the Merovingian period, as well as the social life and culture that made La Fontaine, Corneille, Racine, and Molière possible, as well as the conditions that brought forth Balzac, Hugo, and their contemporaries; and there is reproduced among the rapidly disappearing vestiges of the great literary and artistic periods of Paris the places of habitation and frequentation of these men as dim yet eloquent eye witnesses of their achievements.

A HISTORY OF AMERICAN PRIVATEERS. By Edgar Stanton Maclay, A. M. Illustrated. 8vo. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1.50.

The subject treated of in this book might be called the story of the American irregular navy. Privateering very often combined the romance of the old buccaneers with the discipline and exactness of the regular sea power. No one doubts that the author of "A History of the United States Navy" is adequately provided with material for his theme, for, in order to become the distinguished historian of American sea power that he is, he must have been aware of the causes that brought this particular sea power into being and stimulated it in action and development. Mr. Maclay's book may be regarded from two points of view equally important: the

(Continued on Page 830.)

TEN SUCCESSFUL BOOKS.

We would call the attention of The Times Saturday Review readers to the following list of ten books, all of which have been eminently successful. No more satisfactory Christmas gift could be found than one of the below-mentioned books, which represent the highest achievements in modern book-making and which are worthy of a permanent place in any library.

1. Stevenson's Letters.

They have been pronounced "an invaluable contribution to English literature," and "the work of the greatest literary interest of the year." They are edited by Sidney Colvin, Stevenson's literary executor, and contain so much valuable matter that one reviewer (The Academy) speaks of them as leaving little for the so-called "authorized" biography. The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "There is but one great letter-writer in the English tongue who may be ranked with Stevenson in this class; to follow personal predilection we should call Stevenson, indeed, the greatest letter-writer in the English language." The fourth large edition is now ready. (2 vols. Illustrated. Net $5.00.)

2. Page's Santa Claus's Partner.

This has had everything in its favor—authorship, the story itself, unique colored illustrations, and an old-fashioned red and gold binding. It has everywhere been pronounced the great Christmas story of the year, and promises to rival "Red Rock," which is steadily nearing the 100,000 mark. The Outlook says: "Thomas Nelson Page has done a bold thing and done it successfully. He has brought back the old-fashioned Christmas story—the story which our fathers loved, and which we still love. . . . It is a lovely story, beautiful in conception and beautiful in execution; and the publishers have made a charming old-fashioned book of it." Although published only one month, it is already in its 30th thousand. (Illustrated in color by W. Glackens. 12mo, $1.50.)

3. Fisherman's Luck.

Another "out-of-door-classic" by the author of "Little Rivers." It has the same breeziness, the same flavor of the woods and fields, and is full of the same stimulating freshness. The Detroit Free Press says that "it deserves to be included among English classics." Dr. Van Dyke's new book has been beautifully illustrated with the most perfect half-tone reproductions of pictures by such artists as Sterner, Smedley, Relyea and French, making it one of the most attractive of the season's gift-books. (Crown 8vo. $2.00.

4. Mrs. Burnett's New Novel.

The extraordinary success of "The De Willoughby Claim" is not surprising when it is remembered that two of her other novels have sold over 100,000 copies each, and "Fauntleroy" over 250,000. The new book has been received with great enthusiasm by both the press and the public. The New York Times's Saturday Review, in last week's issue, compares the leading character with Thackeray's most lovable creations, saying: "The hero of the softer side of the story, nay, the hero of both sides, is Big Tom De Willoughby. We begin to follow his career with a passion of pity; we close it with a passion of reverent love. We are happier and better for knowing him. He deserves a place beside those other heroes of unselfishness, William Dobbin and Thomas Newcome." (12mo, $1.50.)

5. For the Freedom of the Sea.

A new romance, by Cyrus Townsend Brady, author of "For Love of Country." It is a stirring story of the War of 1812, and depicts some of the most dramatic and thrilling scenes in American history. For vigor and action, hair-breadth escapes, and danger by sea and land, the tale takes rank with the very best of American stories of adventure. Besides being a novelist the author is also an accurate writer on historical subjects, and his work is as veracious as a chapter of history. (Illustrated by Gibbs. 12mo, $1.50.)

6. A Stirring Tale of College Life.

Jesse Lynch Williams, (whose "Princeton Stories" is now in its eighth edition), has written a new book—"The Adventures of a Freshman." It is a story of the ordinary college man, not the college man of romantic fiction, and tells how Freshman Young ("The Deacon") was hazed, how he got even; how he was a hero, how he was not; how he failed and how he succeeded as student, as athlete and as a college man full of human nature. The scene of the story is laid in Princeton, but the characters are such as every college man in every college will meet. The Philadelphia Press declares that "Such a story is worth a hundred romances of impossible achievements." It has illustrations by Fletcher Ransom. (12mo, $1.25.)

7. "An American 'Jungle Book.'"

Mr. Seton-Thompson's "Wild Animals I Have Known" was published just a year ago and has had in that period a remarkable success. It has taken its place as an American classic, and it now bids fair to be more popular this Christmas season than it was last, 1150 copies being ordered in one day this week. It is illustrated by the author, whose pictures are as remarkable as his text. A more satisfactory gift for a lover of animals or a lover of literature could hardly be found. (Square 12mo, $2.00.)

8. By the Author of "Wild Animals I Have Known."

"The Trail of the Sandhill Stag" is Mr. Seton-Thompson's new book. It is a worthy successor to his first. It is a story of the joys of the chase, and is full of beauty and poetry. The Chicago Evening Post says of it: "It is a reproof of the blood thirst in the hunter, a plea for the harmless and gentle denizen of the forest and mountain, a sermon which Buddha might have preached, and a marvel of artistic creation all in one." This charming story has been issued in a form worthy of it; having a colored frontispiece, seven full-page half-tones and numerous marginal illustrations from drawings by the author. The Boston Herald declares that "the book is a joy to reador even to look over." (Square 8vo, $1.50.)

9. A Uniquely Illustrated Book.

An interesting story is connected with the illustrations to "Bob," Sidney Lanier's delightful story of his pet mocking bird. Mr. A. R. Dugmore secured last spring several newly hatched mocking birds, and, making them his daily companions for several months until they reached maturity, took numberless photographs of them in attitudes corresponding with Mr. Lanier's description of his pet. Selecting finally sixteen of these photographic studies, Mr. Dugmore proceeded to color them. These studies, thus colored, have been reproduced, and form a unique and beautiful series of illustrations. It is a book all bird-lovers will want. (12mo, $1.50.)

10. The Land of the Long Night.

That well-known traveler, Paul Du Chaillu, has taken his young readers on a journey to the far North in his new book, "The Land of the Long Night." The story of his adventures moves swiftly, and is marked by great buoyancy of spirits, having the stirring quality of adventurous autobiography. One reviewer says of it "that no more interesting book for young people has been published in the present season." It is profusely illustrated, Mr. M. J. Burns having made for it twenty-four full-page illustrations which depict with remarkable accuracy the life and scenery of these far Northern climes. (Square 12mo, $2.00.)

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, Publishers.

Longmans, Green & Co.'s NEW BOOKS

The English Radicals.

An Historical Sketch. By C. B. ROYLANCE-KENT. Crown 8vo, $2.50.

The purpose of the book is to trace the descent of the Radicals from their origin in the early years of the reign of George III. to the present time. It contains some account of the character and political opinions of the famous Radicals of history, a comparison of the new Radicals with their predecessors, and some analysis and discussion of the causes which have brought about the condition of the Liberal party as at present constituted.

England in the Nineteenth Century.

By C. W. C. OMAN, Fellow of All Souls' College, Oxford, author of "A History of Greece," "A History of England," etc. With 5 maps and plans. Crown 8vo, pp. xii—276, $1.25.

Some Experiences of an Irish R. M.

By E. OE. SOMERVILLE and MARTIN ROSS, Authors of "An Irish Cousin," "The Silver Fox," etc. With illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

These experiences of a RESIDENTIAL MAGISTRATE in Ireland are very amusing and written in a bright conversational style. The many humorous scenes and original characters are illustrated with pen-drawings by Mr. Somerville.

Drake and the Tudor Navy.

With a History of the Rise of England as a Maritime Power. By JULIAN S. CORBETT. With portrait, illustrations and maps. New and cheaper edition. Two vols., crown 8vo, $5.00.

The Homeric Hymns.

A New Prose Translation, with Essays Literary and Mythological. By ANDREW LANG. Illustrated with 7 photogravures and 7 half-tones after the antique. Crown 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $2.00.

The River War.

An Account of the Discovery of the Soudan.

By WINSTON SPENCER CHURCHILL, Author of "Savrola," "The Malakand Field Force," etc. Edited by Col. F. Rhodes, D. S. O. With 35 maps and 60 illustrations; and with photogravure portraits of Slatin Pasha, Gen. Rundle, Gen. Sir Archibald Hunter, Gen. Wingate, Col. Macdonald, Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, and Lord Cromer. Two vols., medium 8vo, $10.00.

South African Recollections.

By FLORENCE PHILLIPS (Mrs. Lionel Phillips). With 37 full-page illustrations from photographs. 8vo, $2.50.

In this book Mrs. Phillips gives a record of her recent experience of life in Johannesburg, and also her recollections of the events connected with the Jameson Raid. A feature of the volume is its pictures of Transvaal scenes and people.

Shakespeare's Sonnets.

Reconsidered, and in part Rearranged, with Introductory Chapters and a Reprint of the Original 1609 Edition, by SAMUEL BUTLER, Author of "Erewhon," "Life and Habit," "The Authoress of the Odyssey," "Life and Letters of Dr. Samuel Butler," etc. 8vo, $3.50.

Peaks and Pines.

Another Norway Book. By J. A. LEES, Joint Author of "Three in Norway," etc. With 63 illustrations and photographs by the author. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

Jane Austen.

Her Contemporaries and Herself.

An Essay in Criticism. By WALTER HERRIES POLLOCK. Crown 8vo, $1.25.

Books for Younger People.

The Red Book of Animal Stories.

Edited by ANDREW LANG. With many illustrations by H. J. Ford. Crown 8vo, cloth, ornamental, gilt edges, $2.00.

This volume is uniform with Mr. Lang's previous Christmas books for children, "The Blue Fairy Book," "The Animal Story Book," etc.

The Prince's Story Book.

Being Historical Stories Collected out of English Romantic Literature in Illustration of the Reigns of English Monarchs from the Conquest to Victoria. Edited, with an Introduction, by GEORGE LAURENCE GOMME. Illustrated. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, gilt top, $2.00.

G. A. Henty.

Two Books of Adventure for Boys.

Edited by G. A. HENTY and containing stories by J. Bloundelle-Burton, David Ker, George Manville Fenn, Kirk Munroe, Harry Collingwood, G. A. Henty, and others. Each volume fully illustrated, 8vo.

1. YULE TIDE YARNS. With 45 illustrations, $1.50.

2. YULE LOGS. With 61 illustrations, $1.50.

The Golliwogg in War.

Illustrated in color by Florence K. Upton. Words by BERTHA UPTON, Author of "Two Dutch Dolls and a Golliwogg," etc. With 31 full-page plates and numerous illustrations in the text. Oblong 4to, boards, $2.00.

LONGMANS, GREEN, & CO., Publishers,
91-93 Fifth Ave., New York.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES

Judge Charles T. Saxton, Promoter of Ballot Reform, N. Y., says: "I consider it an important contribution to our political history. It is written in the spirit of true Americanism."

Bishop John H. Vincent, Chancellor of the Chautauqua System of Education, says: "There never was a time in the history of the Republic when such a book was so much needed as now."

Mark well-nigh every page of that Wonderful New Book, entitled

"Facing the Twentieth Century"

By JAMES M. KING,

General Secretary National League for the Protection of American Institutions.

Gen. THOMAS J. MORGAN, LL. D., says: "It will be a great service in diverting public attention to the essential elements of our national life, their origin, progress, perils, and protection."

Dr. GEORGE E. VAN DE WATER, Rector St. Andrew's P. E. Church, New York, and former Chaplain of Seventy-first Regiment, says: "I wish I could compel every voter of this country to read this book."

The Political Revelations in this work will cause it to be widely read and quoted during the coming National Campaign . . . . . .

IT TELLS—How the Republican National Platform at St. Louis was secretly changed on a telegram from Archbishop Ireland (giving copy of telegram).

IT TELLS—How an organized Romanist Lobby is maintained at Washington to secure appropriations, and to influence legislation (giving their names and portraits).

IT TELLS—How the Knights of Columbus are designed to be the forerunner of a distinctive Roman Catholic political party in America.

BEAR IN MIND The author does not attack Romanism as a religion. He simply believes, with hundreds of thousands of the most intelligent of his fellow-citizens, that ecclesiasticism and politics should be absolutely divorced. He fearlessly denounces the activity of Romanism in politics. He cites numerous instances never before revealed of the persistent intermeddling of the Roman Catholic Hierarchy in the affairs of State.

IT TELLS—How an undue proportion of Catholics are kept in Government, State and Municipal offices.

IT TELLS—How school books and cyclopedias are changed so as to inculcate Catholic doctrine and pervert history.

IT TELLS—How the Roman Catholic Church has been and is persistently opposed to our public school system.

IT TELLS—How a safe and rational restriction of immigration is necessary to our National welfare.

IT TELLS—How the ballot should be safeguarded so as to protect our institutions.

FACING THE TWENTIETH CENTURY—Bound in one large octavo volume, wide margins, 640 pages. Over one hundred illustrations, maps, charts, etc. Bound in Buckram, $2.75; Half Russia, Gilt Top, $3.25, sent on receipt of price, prepaid.

RELIABLE AGENTS EMPLOYED. EXCLUSIVE TERRITORY.

AMERICAN UNION LEAGUE SOCIETY, 156 Fifth Ave., New York.

One Hundred Best Books

(Continued from Page 828.)

significance of the privateer as a medium of national attack and defense, and the graphic description of its history, so teeming with adventure and romance. The importance of the subject is particularly significant at this time, for it is not generally known that the value of prizes and cargoes taken by privateers in the Revolution was three times that of the prizes and cargoes taken by naval vessels, while in the war of 1812 the Americans had 517 privateers and only 23 vessels in the regular navy. As to the romantic side, the book is filled with episodes of the courage of American seamen, of which a memorable example is the fight of the Armstrong at Fayal against overwhelming British odds.

SALONS, COLONIAL AND REPUBLICAN. By Anne H. Wharton. Illustrated. New York: J. B. Lippincott Company. Crushed buckram, $3.50; half levant, $6.

This is a handsome volume, which makes a valuable companion book to the author's "Heirlooms in Miniatures." A graphic picture is presented of the artistic, literary, and purely social life of that period in which the American Revolution had its birth, was fostered, maintained itself, and from which it finally emerged, together with biographies of the social leaders of the times, their aspirations, and their achievements. Numerous illustrations, consisting of a frontispiece in colors, and several reproductions of portraits and miniatures of men and women prominent in colonial life and in the early days of the American confederation, enhance the value of the text. Besides sketches that reveal the individuality of the "leaders" of the various phases of society, the purpose and National effects of their efforts are drawn. Among the subjects treated of by the author, besides those indicated by the title of the book, are "The Drawing Room," "A Great Social Leader," "Social Life in the Federal City," "Literature and Art in the Republic," "A Nineteenth Century Salon," and "A Ball and a Mystery."

BOHEMIAN PARIS OF TO-DAY. By W. C. Morrow; from notes by Edouard Cucuel. Illustrated. New York: J. B. Lippincott Company. $3.50.

As most students who have lived in the Paris of to-day know, the Latin Quarter described by Murger in his "Vie de Bohème" is a thing of the past. Still, even now there are poets and artists and boulevardiers, who live by their wits or talents, as the case may be, and it is of their life and environment that Mr. Morrow tells in graphic style from notes made by the French artist Cucuel. The text is illustrated with 106 pen drawings by M. Cucuel. The Bohemia of modern Paris, with its cafés and boulevards its balls and pastimes, is fully set forth and pictured with pen-and-ink sketches made on the spot, containing all the artistic atmosphere that surrounds Montmartre of this day. It is a unique volume of its kind. It cannot fail to be of interest to the foreign tourist in the gay French capital who had imagined that he "knew it all," and yet felt that there was something lacking. And then, too, in the light of the forthcoming exposition of 1900 it should be of interest as well as of value to prospective visitors.

HISTORIC TOWNS OF THE MIDDLE STATES. By several authors. Illustrated. (In the American Historic Towns Series, edited by Lyman P. Powell.) New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. $3.50.

This volume is the second contribution to the American Historic Towns Series, the first being "Historic Towns of New England." As was the case in the selection of the authors who wrote the latter, the persons to whom the chapters of "Historic Towns of the Middle States" were assigned are not only known to be perfectly familiar with their subjects, but they are authors who have also gained more or less fame in literature. The introduction to the book is the work of Dr. Albert Shaw. That the books of this series fill an important and hitherto vacant place in American history is shown by the appreciative reviews that the volume concerning New England received. And it is owing to the favorable reception of this book by the reading public in general that other books in the series are now in preparation. One aim of the series is well set forth in the editor's preface: "To those who have to stay at home, the illustrated volumes should present some compensation for the sacrifice, and would help to satisfy a recognized need. The volumes should quicken public interest in our historic past and contribute to the making of another kind of patriotism than that Dr. Johnson had in mind when he defined it as the 'last refuge of a scoundrel.'"

ROMANCE OF A FEUDAL CHATEAU. By Elizabeth W. Champney. Large 8vo. Illustrated. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. $3.50.

Every student of the history of the Middle Ages is aware of the importance played by the feudal castle of the period, either as the base of operations to carry on war or the centre of culture and society of the noblesse. In her new book, "Romance of the Feudal Château," Mrs. Champney deals with her subject something after the fashion of several recent writers of the American colonial period who have sought to bring the epoch of our country's infancy near us by describing colonial mansions and the social and artistic customs of their inmates. Mrs. Champney's book is beautifully illustrated with over forty photogravures and reproductions of photographs, by which are depicted some of the châteaux as they appear to-day as well as they did in former times. There are, too, pictures of old armor, tapestry, and statuary. In the text are described some of the more famous châteaux of France, and pages are devoted to the legends that are connected with them. An attempt is made on the part of the author to make the reader live in the old times, with all their romance, mystery, and carelessness of human life. The illusion is said to be complete. But the volume has a more practicable value than the mere transmitter of legends. The author has collected an immense amount of information concerning not only the actual life in the châteaux, but how and why these structures were erected, how they were maintained and for what purpose, and how they were defended from their enemies.

THE NEW PACIFIC. By Hubert Howe Bancroft. New York: The Bancroft Company.

This major work, covering a great topic, has to do with the past and the present of those continents and islands whose shores are washed by the Pacific Ocean. Questions social, commercial, political, and racial, are all exhaustively treated. Beginning with the first discoveries, Mr. Bancroft traces step by step subsequent European colonization. Where two and a half centuries ago a single galleon made its slow and clumsy way from Acapulco to Manila once a year, a dozen lines of steamships now cross the Pacific between America and Asia. With a commerce on the Pacific now amounting to $5,000,000,000, what will be industrial evolution when there is a ship passage uniting the two oceans? In "The New Pacific" the author presents all the arguments for and against American expansion. The struggle between the Anglo-Saxon and Latin races is discussed, and, referring to our late troubles with Spain, Mr. Bancroft writes that there can be no American "who can be called a man who is not morally better and stronger by reason of our war with Spain." Some of the leading topics in the volume are "Interoceanic Communication," "Resources of the Pacific," "The Climate of the Pacific," "The South Sea Islands," "The Philippine Islands," and "The Race Problem." "The New Pacific" is the most opportune of volumes.

THE RIVER WAR. An Account of the Reconquest of the Soudan. By Winston Spencer Churchill. Edited by Col. F. Rhodes, D. S. O. With thirty-five maps and sixty illustrations from drawings by Lieut. Angus McNeil. Also with photogravure portraits of Sir Rudolf Slatin, Gen. Rundle, Gen. Sir Archibald Hunter, Major Gen. Wingate, Col. Macdonald, Gen. Lord Kitchener of Khartoum, and Lord Cromer. 2 vols., medium 8vo. Longmans, Green & Co. $10.

Despite peace conferences, the spirit of war is not downed. With our contest with Spain, the fighting in the Soudan, the battles now raging in the Transvaal, books treating of the military art, of campaigns, form to-day no small portion of the works which interest readers. Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill's two volumes describe Gen. Kitchener's campaigns in the Soudan. The expedition to Dongola, the advance on Khartoum, and the operations on the Blue Nile are explained. The previous history of the Soudan, with the cause, beginning, and progress of the Mahdi rebellion are presented. There is much space devoted to Gen. Gordon's most unfortunate mission. So far the book is impersonal, but in Chapter XIV. Mr. Churchill describes the battle of Omdurman from his own point of view, for he was in the battle as an officer attached to the Twenty-first Lancers. There is a full and straightforward account of the Fashoda incident, and in the final chapter the professional soldier will learn much of practical usefulness. The book is edited by the brother of Cecil Rhodes, who is now in service in the Transvaal. Lieut. Churchill's recent capture when wounded, and the gallant defense made by him, will give additional interest to the work. The original drawings, made by Lieut. Angus McNeil, are most characteristic. With the thirty-five maps and plans, what were precise strategic conditions during the Soudan expedition can be readily understood.

SOME COLONIAL MANSIONS AND THOSE WHO LIVED IN THEM, WITH GENEALOGIES OF THE FAMILIES MENTIONED. Edited by Thomas Allen Glenn. First and Second Series. Illustrated with twenty full-page photogravures and over three hundred half-tone illustrations. Two volumes, small quarto, cloth, gilt tops, with cloth jackets, each $5; two volumes small quarto, half blue Levant morocco, gilt tops, each $10. Philadelphia: Henry T. Coates & Co.

Historical periods are substantially indicated, so far as the United States is concerned, in great measure, by the stone,

(Continued on Page 832.)

Houghton, Mifflin & Co.'s Holiday Books.

FICTION—HISTORY—BIOGRAPHY—POETRY—ILLUSTRATED.

Backlog Studies
12mo, $2.00.
By CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER. Holiday Edition. With 12 illustrations and 13 head-pieces by Edmund H. Garrett. A beautiful edition of one of Mr. Warner's most delightful books.

The Marble Faun
2 vols., 16mo, $3.00.
By NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Roman Edition. Illustrated with 48 pictures of famous sculptures, paintings, and historic localities.

The Tent on the Beach
12mo, $1.50.
By JOHN G. WHITTIER. Holiday Edition. With rubricated initials and 12 full-page illustrations by Charles H. and Marcia O. Woodbury.

Reminiscences
Crown 8vo, gilt top, $2.50.
By JULIA WARD HOWE. With many portraits. Mrs. Howe's unusually rich experience, her acquaintance with illustrious persons, and her active interest in great questions combine to make her Reminiscences a book of intense and permanent interest.

The Dutch and Quaker Colonies in America
2 vols, crown 8vo, gilt top, $4.00.
By JOHN FISKE. With 8 maps. Two delightful volumes, describing the origin and growth of New York and Pennsylvania.

The Life of Edwin M. Stanton 2 vols., 8vo, gilt top, $6.00.
By GEORGE C. GORHAM. A work of remarkable interest on Lincoln's great War Secretary. Illustrated.

James Russell Lowell and His Friends
8vo, gilt top, $3.00.
By EDWARD EVERETT HALE, D.D. A fascinating book of biography and reminiscence. With 48 portraits and other illustrations.

Memoirs of a Revolutionist Crown 8vo, gilt top, $2.00.
By PRINCE KROPOTKIN. With 3 portraits. Aside from the fascination of Kropotkin's story, the book is of great value for its views of European social and political conditions.

Letters and Recollections of John Murray Forbes
2 vols., 8vo, $5.00.
Edited by His Daughter, SARAH F. HUGHES. The story of a princely American. With portraits, map, and fac simile.

The Story of Jesus Christ Crown 8vo, $2.00.
By ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS. With 24 fine illustrations. A remarkable book, peculiarly suited for a Christmas gift.

The Life of Our Lord in Art Crown 8vo, $3.00.
By ESTELLE M. HURLL. With about 100 excellent illustrations.

Corona and Coronet
Crown 8vo, $2.50.
By MABEL LOOMIS TODD. With many illustrations. A charming account of a trip to Japan to observe a Solar Eclipse.

The Other Fellow
12mo, $1.50.
By F. HOPKINSON SMITH. Illustrated. Eleven short stories, told with great dash and dramatic effect, and finely illustrated.

Loveliness; A Story.
Sq. 12mo, $1.00.
By ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS. With illustrations.

The Queen's Twin and Other Stories
16mo, $1.25.
By SARAH ORNE JEWETT. Some of Miss Jewett's best stories. Two of these include scenes and characters connected with "The Country of the Pointed Firs."

A Pretty Tory
Crown 8vo, $1.50.
By JEANIE GOULD LINCOLN. Illustrated. A story of the Revolution, of Marion's men, the Battle of Cowpens, including a charming love story.

An Unknown Patriot
Crown 8vo, $1.50.
By FRANK S. CHILD. Illustrated. An absorbing story of the "Secret Service" in Connecticut during the Revolution.

The Wife of His Youth and Other Stories
Crown 8vo, $1.50.
By CHARLES W. CHESNUTT. Illustrated. "The Wife of His Youth" was one of the most successful short stories of last year. Mr. Chesnutt has taken high rank among American writers of fiction.

Under the Cactus Flag
16mo, $1.25.
By NORA ARCHIBALD SMITH. A story of Mexico. With illustrations.

A Jersey Boy in the Revolution
Crown 8vo, $1.50.
By EVERETT T. TOMLINSON. With illustrations. A capital story, founded on the heroic deeds of some humble heroes of the Revolution.

Dorothy and Her Friends
16mo, $1.25.
By ELLEN OLNEY KIRK. With illustrations. A charming continuation of "Dorothy Deane."

The Boys of Scrooby
12mo, $1.50.
By RUTH HALL. Author of "In the Brave Days of Old." With a frontispiece illustration.

Betty Leicester's Christmas
Square 12mo, $1.00.
By SARAH ORNE JEWETT. With decorative cover and illustrations. A charming book for girls.

Plantation Pageants
Square 8vo, $2.00.
By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS. Fully illustrated by E. Boyd Smith. Another book of delightful Thimblefinger stories.

SQUARE PEGS.
A Novel. By Mrs. A. D. T. WHITNEY, author of "Faith Gartney's Girlhood," etc. 12mo, $1.50.
"A strong, pure, and noble piece of fiction."—The Independent.

THE HELPERS.
By FRANCIS LYNDE. 12mo, $1.50.
This is a story of the New West of to-day. It deals with engineers, silver and gold mining, and love. There is an uncommonly strong human interest in the story.

A YOUNG SAVAGE.
The Story of a wild Western girl civilized in New York. By BARBARA YECHTON. 12mo, $1.50.

PRISONERS OF HOPE.
An historical novel of rare power and literary mastery. By MARY JOHNSTON. With a frontispiece illustration. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

A TENT OF GRACE.
By ADELINA LUST. 12mo, $1.50.
"Deserves to be placed among the foremost novels of the close of this century."—San Francisco Chronicle.

TIVERTON TALES.
Charming Stories of New Hampshire Country Life. By ALICE BROWN, author of "Meadow Grass." 12mo, $1.50.

THE CONJURE WOMAN.
By CHARLES W. CHESNUTT. 16mo, $1.25.
"They take an exceptionally high place both as a study of race characteristics and for genuine dramatic interest."—Christian Register, (Boston.)

THE LITTLE FIG-TREE STORIES.
Nine capital stories. By MARY HALLOCK FOOTE. With a decorative cover. Square 12mo, $1.00.

NANNIE'S HAPPY CHILDHOOD.
A delightful story of and for children. By CAROLINE LESLIE FIELD. With a pictorial cover and other illustrations. Square 12mo, $1.00.

THE END OF AN ERA.
A very interesting book on Southern Life and the Confederacy, by JOHN S. WISE. Large crown 8vo, $2.00.

THE WIRE-CUTTERS.
A Dramatic Story of Texas. By Mrs. M. E. M. DAVIS, author of "Under the Man-Fig." Crown 8vo, $1.50.

BEYOND THE HILLS OF DREAM.
By W. WILFRED CAMPBELL. 16mo, $1.25.
This book will be heartily welcomed by lovers of true poetry.

ECHOES OF GREEK IDYLS.
By LLOYD MIFFLIN, author of "The Slopes of Helicon," and "At the Gates of Song." 12mo, $1.50.

THE POETIC AND DRAMATIC WORKS OF ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON.
New Household Edition, from new plates. With a Biographical Sketch, Numbered Lines, Indexes to Titles and First Lines, a Portrait, and 127 Illustrations. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

COMPLETE POETIC AND DRAMATIC WORKS OF HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW.
Illustrated Octavo Edition. With a Portrait and over 300 Illustrations 8vo, $3.50.

THE COMPLETE POETICAL WORKS OF SIR WALTER SCOTT.
Illustrated Octavo Edition. Revised, Corrected, and Edited, with Notes and Commentaries, by WILLIAM J. ROLFE. With 350 Illustrations 8vo, $3.50.

GERALDINE. A SOUVENIR OF THE ST. LAWRENCE.
By A. A. HOPKINS. New Edition. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

RELIGIO PICTORIS.
Problems of life and religion from the viewpoint of an artist. By HELEN BIGLOW MERRIMAN, author of "What Shall Make Us Whole?" Artistically printed and bound. 12mo, $1.50.

CONTEMPORARIES.
A delightful book on famous men and women. By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON. 12mo, $2.00.

THE AMERICAN IN HOLLAND.
By WILLIAM ELLIOT GRIFFIS, D.D., author of "The Pilgrims in Their Three Homes," etc. With a map and Illustrations. Crown 8vo, $1.50.
Dr. Griffis's five journeys in Holland. This book gives the rich results of his tours.

The Atlantic Monthly 1900

It is the aim of The Atlantic Monthly to present each month as varied a table of contents as possible. Arrangements have been made to print contributions of greater variety and more permanent interest during 1900 than ever before. A few of the more important features for the coming year follow.

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF W. J. STILLMAN.

Mr. Stillman's life has been crowded full of striking experiences, and he has known many of the men worth knowing in his time. Mr. Stillman devoted himself at first to painting, and made acquaintance with such men as Ruskin, Rossetti, and Turner, as well as Millet and other French artists. At twenty-four he joined the Hungarian revolutionists, and went on a dangerous mission for Kossuth. He was United States Consul at Rome during the Civil War, and afterward took part in the Cretan insurrection. For more than twenty years he was the correspondent of The London Times at Rome. The first installment of his reminiscences, describing the peculiar environment of a New England boyhood, will appear in January.

THE RACE PROBLEM IN THE SOUTH.
BY WALTER H. PAGE.

I. The White Man and the Negro.
II. The Race Problem and Education.
III. Politics in the South.

JOHN FISKE.

During 1900 The Atlantic will present several papers from Mr. Fiske, among which will be one upon THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE IN THE FIFTIES and another upon THE LIFE AND WORK OF HUXLEY.

ZITKALA-ŠA (Red Bird).

Zitkala-Sa, a young Indian girl of the Yankton Sioux Tribe of Dakota Indians, who received her education in the East, has written
